LETTER FROM

SENATOR HOFF

No Incentive Fund Increase for Schools

March 28, 1949.

To the Editor,

Dear Sir:

All hope of obtaining an increase of the School Incentive Fund was abandoned this week when the Administration refused to sanction the measure. The proposed plan would have provided $274,680.00 annually for school building purposes for a tax levy of 20c on the county tax bill.

No change will be made in the present plan that provides approximately $70,000 for the County schools at a charge of 5c on the tax rate.

Governor Lane, upon his refusal to accept the increased incentive fund plan, proposed a substitute plan to help meet the current emergency requiring a large scale school building program throughout the state.

The Governor's proposal involves two separate issues of state bonds for building purposes. The first issue to be for $20,000,000 to be given to the political sub-divisions of the state as an outright grant on a 3 to 1 matching basis.

Carroll County's share of this fund would be $412,000. The county could use, as matching funds, $1,236,000 of the 1 1/2 million dollar bond issue authorized by the voters of the county last November. The County tax rate would not be increased to obtain this fund.

The other state bond issue would be for $50,000,000. This fund would be available as a loan to the counties at the favorable interest rates obtainable by the state. Any money borrowed by any of the counties from this fund would have to be repaid to the state within 13 years.

This $50,000,000 fund was proposed primarily to help those counties which have already expended their safe borrowing limits and which would be required to pay excessively high interest rates on any local bonds which they might issue for school building purposes. The state rate of interest is anticipated to be around 1 1/4%.

LOCAL BILLS

SB. 457 amends the charter powers of Mt. Airy to permit voters in local elections to register 15 days before any special election. A special election will be held in Mt. Airy in the near future on the question of Sunday Movies. This bill will permit unregistered citizens of the community to register prior to the referendum and to vote on the question.

SB. 458 increases the maximum taxing limit in the town of New Windsor from 30c to 75c.

I wish to express my regret that, because of illness, I was unable to furnish to this publication a report for the preceding weeks. I hope that the usual "last week" rush in the Legislature will not prevent the preparation of a letter for next week's issue.

Sincerely,
STANFORD HOFF.

The Taneytown Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Monday March 28, in the Municipal Building. The committee reported on its meeting with the Maryland State Roads Commission, regarding the request of the widening of the Keymar-Littles-town road.

The Special Committee appointed to study the annual Christmas festivities was read and accepted.

The Special Committee appointed to poll the members to find just what the membership wanted in the way of a program for the 1949 Annual Banquet reported its findings. The report was accepted and the committee discharged. Mr. Robert Lease of the Westminster Office of the AAA spoke to the membership and presented a moving picture on "Driver Education Program" for the High School. A motion was made and carried that the Chamber advise the Carroll County Board of Education that inasmuch as Carroll is the only county in Maryland which has not adopted the Driver Education Program, that we of Carroll County consider our children to be as valuable as the children of the other counties, we therefore urge the Board of Education of Carroll County to adopt this "Driver Education Program."

12th ANNUAL HOUSE
& GARDEN PILGRIMAGECarroll County Tour May 9th.,
10 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Recently we published information concerning the twelfth Annual Maryland House and Garden Pilgrimage, April 29th through May 9th. The date for Carroll Co. is May 9th. We give below the tour planned for our county.

Hold it, Driver! Right where you are. Reisterstown turning left on Route 140. Here's where I hop in to do some back seat driving for you. And who am I? Oh, just your Animate Road Map of Carroll County. All set? We're off. Two and a half miles. Here's that new concrete bridge across the North Branch of the Patapsco.

You're right, it is Indian—means River of White-Capped Waves—marks the Baltimore-Carroll County line—been here since 1837—before that there wasn't any Carroll. How come? Well, the old timers had to drive too far to pay taxes. Old Dobbin couldn't take it. So the legislature took a slice off Baltimore County and one off Frederick. Carroll made the sandwich.

Now let's go on about a mile and a quarter to Finksburg, then turn left on Route 91 and go almost a mile to Cold Saturday Farm. Granted to Michael Huff by the third Lord Baltimore in 1765. Used to hold an annual steeple chase and horse show in these meadows. Now Angus cattle have taken over. Hop out. Judge and Mrs. Hamilton Hackney, the owners, are waiting to greet you.

Back to Finksburg village where you continue on route 140 with Westminster only seven and one-half miles away. But wait, as you enter the town, turn left at the foot of the hill on Route 32 (Sykesville road) and drive a good half mile until you come to Braeburn, home of Mr. and Mrs. Landon C. Burns. He's our Carroll County Agricultural Agent. Walk right in.

Drive on about 300 yards until you see a dirt road, then follow it exactly one mile. All out for Friendship Valley Farm. The house was built in 1795 by General Mordecai Gist, brother of General Monrode Gist. Here you are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ary J. Lamme, Jr.

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Many will be glad to know that a nice letter arrived from the Lt. Col. of Camp Pickett where 'Frankie' is convalescing stating that that boy is being given the very best of care in a big way and will not be dismissed until he is in perfect condition as he is constantly under observation for he will be assured of good health by the time he leaves there. Nice Government of ours! Frankie has been transferred to Fort Dix, N. J.

Now, here's to those nice men around the town that take special interest in the Dr. (Dentist) for I know that he appreciates all the visits. He is a grand person and a loyal one beyond describing! After all it shows that we care.

Did you write a letter to Senator Hoff to aid in passing that bill Number 53 for the protection of dumb animals and pets along the highway?

It is nice to have the meters around the town for it will eventually mean that people desiring to shop will remain right here because they really can park! Have heard that remark quite often. One would rather pay a nickel for one hour than more money and time shopping elsewhere. There will be several who will not agree but that is always the case until they become accustomed to the convenience. Nice going, Mr. Mayor! Betcha, many put their nickels in ahead of time!

Now, here's to the growing lad. Henry Ford always hired men that were forty years old or over stating those men were more substantial. So always, remember that, young man and convince your boss that you are just as much so in these days!

Do you know the real story of that cute song called "Powder Your Face with Sunshine"?—Well, here it is. Due to back injuries a Vet—Stanley Rochinski lying in a hospital in Washington, D. C. of World War I spent much time in fact many hours writing lyrics—one after the other being refused by publishers. The Vet did not become discouraged but still desired to write a hit tune—that is a happy song. As he was in his room he happened to glance up and look toward the open door hearing a low whistle of a fellow trying to attract a girl's attention. He saw a pretty nurse in the doorway with a little mirror powdering her nose with a puff.

For half a minute the Vet watched, fascinated as the nurse ran the powder puff over her nose and cheeks. Bright rays of sunshine sprinkled her face as she smiled in satisfaction. The injured Veteran almost shouted, "That's it—that's my song! Powder Your Face with Sunshine!" His song was born! Cue? Have you ever noticed. Folks the lovely approach our little town has especially coming from the big city? It appears as a lovely suburbs—with the houses back a good piece from the road and the nice spacious lawns in front. Since the roads have all had the 'new look' our town sure is tops and the transformation has made the biggest difference. Thinking about roads—that Middleburg road which is used so much should have shoulders on it instead of having a little patch placed in a hole now and there.

Now, this is to that Frederick town and Your Observer sure hopes something is done about it very quickly. A number of times, I have called at the radio station WFMD in that little town and the first time, I'll never forget it as a sign in that awful building struck me right in the face "BUREAU OF HEALTH!" Such a dirty, filthy, dilapidated building to (Continued on Fifth Page.)

DON'T GET EXCITED ABOUT CONGRESS

President Truman blasted the 80th Congress as one of the "worst" in history. Now, the 81st Congress is stubborn about endorsing the recommendations and demands of the President.

As a matter of fact Congress seems to "want to" defend its rights as a distinct and independent branch of the Federal Government. Congress seems likely to refuse to levy an increase of $4,000,000,000 in taxes.

Holy Moses, haven't we been unreasonably taxed long enough?

There is a yard of subjects and problems before Congress, and the indications are that the Senate and the House are doing fairly well because that branch of our Government is in a fighting mood.

If the Senate and House of Representatives doesn't get down to horse sense on labor legislation there will be a continuation of strikes in our Nation. The Democrats expect to make an all-out fight to scuttle the Taft-Hartley Act, and the Senate Labor Committee has already taken a long step—backward—in approving the bum idea of digging up the old Wagner Act.

The outstanding performance of the Wagner Act was pulled off by President F. D. Roosevelt. He named his own stooges, arbitrators, etc. They framed new notions of their own, which in the end made it possible for Roosevelt to end the strikes in favor of the Labor Bosses.

The crusade against the Taft-Hartley Law is Truman politics. So far as the Act itself is concerned, it is a proven success. Even the President applied it in a half-a-dozen or more instances and won out against the Labor Bosses. He shifts with the winds.—J. E. Jones.

A STEER ISN'T ALL STEAK!

The American Meat Institute has published a chart called "The Saga of the Steer" which is designed to help consumers understand why there is such a wide spread between what packers pay for beef on the hoof, and what is charged for such luscious cuts as steaks at the butcher's on the corner.

If steers are selling at 26 cents per pound, the packer pays $260 for a thousand pound animal. It dresses out to 600 pounds of beef and, curiously enough, he sells the meat to the retailer for $252. That is not accomplished by financial legerdemain—the difference between what he paid for the animal and what he got for the beef is made up by the value of by-products, such as fats, hair, hides, etc.

The butcher sells his $252 beef to consumers for $309. That may look like a big profit, but it isn't. The $57 he grosses has to cover rent, labor, depreciation, shrinkage in weight of the carcass when converted into retail cuts, and so on. So the retailer, like the packer, earns a very modest profit for the service rendered.

Finally, nobody has been able to produce a steer which is all steak. The porterhouse section of the animal which weighed 1000 pounds on the hoof amounts to only 40 pounds—and obviously must bring a high price. Other cuts, due to consumer preference and other such factors, must be sold for a low price.

The force which determines the price of meat on both wholesale and retail levels is supply and demand—as the very sharp price drops which have recently taken place prove.—Industrial News Review.

Let's Think

by
G. H. ENFIELD
BE YOURSELF

Be yourself! For that purpose were you meant when created different from everybody else. But since man is also gregarious there is a disposition to be like the rest of the flock, to become like the other members of the social group. This tendency makes for monotony, staleness, and drab. The difference between people is responsible for advancement and progress. The person who is different becomes our inventor, discoverer, specialist.

If you are not willing to be yourself, the short stop on the ball-team may insist upon being placed in the pitcher's box, and the first baseman may think that he should be given the catcher's position. There are all kinds of mix-ups when we get out of our place. A fellow can become ludicrous by getting into somebody else's stall.

The writer knew a minister several years ago, who went to hear a famous evangelist who was holding tent-meetings in Hagerstown, Md. The following Sunday evening when this same minister conducted the young peoples' meeting, he was not himself, he had become a Biederwolf in gestures, and facial expressions. We had many miniature Billy Sundays during the heyday of the great evangelist.

There is nothing more natural than being yourself. There is nothing more unnatural than being somebody else. However, the writer had a school mate in a higher institution of learning, who was most natural when he was unnatural. He was by nature so different from the ordinary fellow that it was natural for him to be unnatural in comparison with the other students. It is possible to be different from others and still have much in common, and thus we are most human.

You need not stop growing, developing, or polishing the rough edges to be yourself. The most refined, and cultured gentlemen and women, are still themselves. They have not lost their identity. You still recognize them as the Smiths and the Joneses. You may know people who wouldn't be anybody else if they could.

Dare to be different. Respect your own individuality. Appreciate your own personality. There is nobody else like you in the whole world. But do not make a fool of yourself by trying to show how different you can be. You have no duplicate. You are the only one of your kind. Are you proud of the pattern?

Be yourself! Do not attempt to be who you are not, else you may end up by being neither yourself nor anybody else.

"To your own self be true, and then thou canst be false to any man".

Caution In Using 2,4-

In fighting weeds in lawns there may come a time when most of the turf is free of them and only a few individual dandelions or plantains are to be found here and there, and small patches of the low persistent pennywort and chickweed. When 2,4-D is used as a spray it is likely to kill or damage the clover, which is often desirable in the mixture, and it may drift to other sensitive plants. To use 2,4-D effectively on small patches of the spreading weeds, says L. W. Kephart, weed specialist of the U. S. department of agriculture, a paint brush is a practical applicator that will not spread the herbicide beyond the spot to be treated. Unless the brush is reserved for this use (and not used for sprinkling other broad-leaf plants about the place with insecticides and fungicides), it should be thoroughly washed out with soap and warm water and left to stand overnight in a quart of water to which a teaspoonful of ammonia has been added.

Cooling Milk and Cream

Mixing warm cream with already cooled cream is never a wise practice, for the temperature of the cooled cream is raised by the mixture. Cream should be cooled before mixing it with other cream previously cooled. Water is much more effective in cooling milk and cream than is air; consequently, placing milk or cream in a fairly cool place—such as a cellar—does not remove the animal heat rapidly enough. Bacteria begin to multiply rapidly in warm cream or milk. The sooner cooling can be started, the better is the product.

Winter Kill of River Fish

Hundreds of thousands of fish died of winter kill in the upper Mississippi river between Dubuque, Iowa, and Prescott, Wisconsin, during the past winter, according to reports summarized by the biologists of the Upper Mississippi River Fish survey. The length and severity of the past winter were important factors in producing the kill which was, in the opinion of biologists, greater than normal. For a long period the ice was covered with snow, causing deficiency in air content in the water and the fish died by suffocation. Most of the fish were killed in back-water areas and included crappie and other pan-fish as well as rough fish species.

Another Function of Rockets

At the end of World War I the airplane was in just about the same stage of development as the rocket is today at the end of World War II. But the rocket has brought more knowledge about the earth's upper atmosphere in the past year and a half than had been acquired in the previous 20 years.

New K-F "Traveler" Is Two Cars In One

SOMETHING NEW in the automobile industry is the "Traveler," a lower-priced '49 multi-purpose sedan being introduced by Kaiser-Frazer dealers. To all appearances it is a conventional four-door model. But the rear seat cushions fold away and the entire back opens to provide access to more than 130 cubic feet of cargo space. When not in use as a carry-all, the "Traveler" is a deluxe, six-passenger family sedan. The cutaway-view shows how the seat cushions and hinged rear panels function.

YOU WILL LIKE an Electric Range because it's CLEANER

YOU will like the gleaming, easy-to-care-for, cleanliness of an electric range. Because there is no smoke and soot producing flame, pots and pans retain their shining lustre without scouring or scrubbing. And woodwork, walls and curtains stay free of greasy, grimy dirt. But much as you will like this greater cleanliness, you buy a range for cooking and that is where an electric range really "shines".

Automatic time and temperature controls are your assurance of perfect results everytime. Anyone can be a good cook with an electric range—but just as a fine musician produces better music from the best instrument, so a fine cook produces better food with the best range.

Everyone who cooks will like the complete SAFETY, remarkable SPEED, time saving CONVENIENCE, modern BEAUTY and the LOW OPERATING COST of an electric range.

Do you know that the number of electric ranges in use in this area has nearly doubled in just the last two years—that there are now nearly 30,000 nearby women cooking electrically? Eventually you too will become one of this rapidly growing legion of happier housewives—but why wait—why not enjoy it now?

The wheat fields remind one of green velvet carpet, the forthysias have never looked so bright and beautiful with their golden bells, hyacinths and crocus are lovely too. Our sympathy also extends to the family of Charles Franklin who also died on Sunday.

FEESERSBURG

On Friday afternoon the Elementary Grades of the Elmer Wolfe School gave an interesting program to which the parents were invited in honor of Maryland Day. Each Grade gave a history in the form of a dance or skit showing the progress of Maryland from the day it was first settled until modern times. To the tune of "Maryland, My Maryland" all the grades marched to the auditorium and through an arch held by girls dressed in colonial costumes and holding the Maryland colors. After the salute to the flag the following program was given: The Prologue, Paul Johnson; Ernie Colwell, Neil Bohn; the founding of Maryland, reader Babs Rippeon, Mistress Margaret Brent; demands the right to vote, Flora Welch; Fun and Work in Colonial Days, the Virginia Reel, Grade six, the Quilting Bee; Grade Four, the Dixie Land Dance; Grade Three, Tonging in the Chesapeake Bay; Grade Two, reader Doris Buffington; Flowers of Maryland, Mrs. Reikell's Class, reader, Joe Crouse; The Birds of Maryland, Mrs. Green's Class, reader Rose Marie Grabel; the Great Seal of Maryland, Ralph Stambaugh; reader Nellie Scheu; Dance of the Baltimore Orioles and the Black-eyed Susans. On Monday evening a group of twenty-five men and women met in Keysville to organize a Grange. Since its beginning in 1867 the Grange has exerted a highly valuable influence in community development and improvement. This organization has been interested in the churches, schools, roads, playgrounds, marketing facilities and every other agency that makes for a satisfying community life. To carry this out, over 3800 Grange halls have been built. These are logical community centers where marketing Associations, Dairy improvement, poultry, Horticulture, livestock and similar activities center. It is the place where community farmers meet to promote the interests of their calling. There will be another meeting at Keysville, April 18, to which any one interested in the Grange is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Weltzel were guests of the Russell Bohn's Sunday.

Today the man came to spray our fruit trees. Some few years back one never thought of spraying a tree, but today its either do that or have no fruit. One wonders where all the different species of bugs come from. Each year there seems to be a dozen new ones. The airplane is responsible for transplanting bugs of one country into another, since they can store away without being detected, until they are seen eating some farmer's choice garden plants. One must admit that bugs do know what they like and no amount of persuasion will make them eat something else. For instance, one has to wonder why they like to eat the things that man eats, instead of being accommodated and eat up the weeds. As Uncle Joe says "there's a reason for it" but so far one hasn't discovered the reason.

Nancy Roelke spent Tuesday night with her cousin, Sylvia, at Union Bridge.

General Eisenhower's mother bore seven boys. Five are still living. Residents of this area who want to see the annual spectacle of the cherry trees blossoming around Washington's tidal basin will have their first chance this week-end. Already a few trees are in bloom and Washington newspaper photographers have been busily posing pretty girls against a background of the blossoms. Everything is prepared to spray the blossoming trees early next week to keep the blossoms from dying before the scheduled cherry blossom festival April 1, 2 and 3rd.

Miss Betty and Edna Buffington, spent Tuesday in Baltimore. They visited the Hippodrome Theatre and heard Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra.

Taneytown has installed parking meters on main street. (Since the street is very wide parking has never been the problem there as it is in Union Bridge. It would not be a bad idea to try meters on at least one side of the street in Union Bridge or restrict parking to one side without meters. Nearly everyone that has to drive through Union Bridge complain about the congestion of traffic and the disorderly way the trucks have of parking anywhere and everywhere. A little old-fashioned courtesy might help too.

David Buffington, sophomore at Western Maryland College is spending his spring vacation with his father and sisters at Mt. Union.

President Harry S. Truman had to decline an invitation to deliver the Memorial Day address in the National Cemetery at Gettysburg due to the heavy schedule he has the next couple months. However, he expresses the hope that he will be able to make the trip some time in the future. Gettysburg has played host to many Presidents on past Memorial Days.

Sign on a Hollywood Street corner "To avoid that run-down feeling, cross street carefully."

When a bee discovers nectar or pollen, it goes back to the hive and does a dance. This dance tells other bees of the discovery and where to find the pollen. Those who have studied bees say different dances spell out where the flowers are, what kind they are and the distance.

Hating people is like burning down your house to get rid of a rat—Harry Emerson Fosdick.

MARRIED

MORT — FOREMAN

In the living room decorated with white jonquils at "Loves' Retreat" pretty Regina Mort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mort, of Taneytown and Mr. Carroll Foreman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foreman, near Taneytown, were united in marriage by the Rev. Soft music was played throughout the ceremony. The bride was most becomingly attired in a light gray traveling spring suit with a matching chapeau and gray open toe shoes. A three strand necklace of pearls was the bride's only ornament and the corsage was white orchids.

Escaped Bull Stages Classy Rodeo for Busy Detroiters

DETROIT.—A bull staged a 40-minute rodeo all its own in Detroit's packinghouse district, hooking one man in the seat of the pants and terrorizing a woman.

A shot from a deer rifle finally ended it.

The bull broke out of a pen and made a dash for busy Michigan avenue. A few feet behind came George Alexander, chasing the animal in a trailer-truck.

On a corner the bull cornered a woman and tore her dress before Alexander and his truck chased him away. The woman wasn't hurt except for the fright.

Charging into the yard of a porcelain company, the bull hooked the seat of a workman's pants and tossed him over a light truck. The workman was shaken but otherwise unhurt.

Then Edward Frass, an employee, drew a bead and put a bullet through the bull's head.

German Family in Berlin Bundles Up With Alligator

BERLIN.—In the Reichelt family, they sleep three in a bed—Poppa Reichelt, Mamma Reichelt and Max, who happens to be an alligator.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reichelt have other pets—dogs, cats, snakes, rabbits and monkeys—but it is only the six foot, 150-pound alligator that sleeps with them every night.

The 25-year old Max was singled out for this privilege because otherwise, say his owners, he would have died of the cold.

"He is a most reliable alligator," says Reichelt. "He's completely clean. He never snores, coughs or makes other noises."

At night, Reichelt relaxes in his easy chair with Max on his lap. Poppa Reichelt smokes a pipe. Max chews a pipe. Max needs a new pipe every month.

Max once went after another member of the household, a hen named Minna.

But that mother of eight squawked so loudly and pecked so fiercely the alligator lost heart.

Sylvester Says:

"You, too, may get back nothing but buttons—campaign buttons—if you put your faith in government bureaus instead of looking out for your own future needs."

More than half (51.4%) of the families in the U. S. haven't waited for a Federal housing agency to build them a home. They own their own. In fact, since the war began there has been an increase of 25% in home ownership.

A year ago, in 1947 for example, two million two hundred thousand people bought homes at an average price of $7500-$8500. 880,000 of these homes were purchased by veterans. Over 4/5 of a million of these new home owners earned less than $3000. per year.

Lightning Rods

The lightning rod was invented in 1752 by Benjamin Franklin. After 180 years of use it is still fulfilling its function. If due care is given to its installation, a lightning rod may be expected to function perfectly in 99 cases out of a hundred on barns and similar buildings where very little metal enters into the construction.

Australian Dingo

The dingo—a dog that does not bark—lives in the forests of Australia. The dingo, however, howls like a wolf. This dog preys on sheep and other animals. After it has been captured and tamed, the dingo often learns to bark like other dogs and frequently becomes a most useful watchdog.

Farm Literature in USSR

More than 10 million copies of popular literature for farmers were issued in the Soviet Union in 1947. This was two and one-half times as many as before the war. Publication of textbooks for collective farms and for elementary agricultural schools was also increased considerably.

Enemy of Oats

Outstanding disease of oats in most of the oat-growing area of the United States in 1946 and 1947 was the helminthosporium blight. Though only known for three years, it causes 25 to 100 per cent loss in fields of oat varieties having Victoria parentage.

Another Isthmian Canal?

Panama canal is the only waterway ever built across Central America—but it is not the only route that was ever considered. Today amid plans to "do something" about improving the canal, the age-old question of an alternate route has been revived.

Diseases of Turkeys

Maintaining good, clean, sanitary quarters is necessary to prevent "blackhead," one of the oldest and most serious diseases affecting turkeys. Chickens and turkeys should not be kept on the same premises without adequate separation.

Argentina

Argentina extends from Bolivia 2,300 miles to Cape Horn and from the ridge of the Andes to the South Atlantic, occupying the greater part of southern South America. Its greatest breadth is about 930 miles.

ARMY DAY

Honors Nation's Fighting Men

With most of its war-making potentials scrapped or left to disintegrate on foreign fields, the American army, on this Army Day, April 6, 1949, observes the anniversary with mixed emotions.

There is, of course, gratitude for peace. Then there is the suspense, the ever-present possibility of war. But over all there is the abiding confidence that the spirit of the army, the spirit of the nation and its people, burns as brightly as it ever burned in wartime, and should disaster threaten, the army will be ready.

History records that it always has been ready—ready in time if not ready at the outset. The army, constant nucleus of protection, always finds its ranks swelled with able, courageous fighting men in sufficient numbers to stem any enemy tide.

April is a fitting month in which to celebrate Army Day in America, for it has always been in April, with one notable exception, that this nation has gone to war against its enemies.

World War II was the only major war engaged in by the United States in which hostilities were not begun in April. The Japanese attack in December precluded a recurrence in that conflict of an April starting date.

America is alert, however, and national planners are fully conscious of the need for the nation to remain strong. That is the reason

U. S. Food in Japan

The United States has supplied practically all the supplementary food Japan has received since V-J Day.

"Police Dog"

German shepherds, in the popular fancy, are all "police dogs." They make good leaders for the blind.

Lima Beans

Lima beans are a cheap, year-round nutritious food, well suited for use as a main dish.

Contour Farming

Contour farming permits water to sink into the soil at, or very near, the spot where it falls, for crop use.

Venezuela's Schools

School attendance in Venezuela has increased 80,000 during the past two years.

Uncle Sam Says

Some of my nephews and nieces want to save regularly and actually do it. Others mean to save but don't always get around to it. These latter are the ones who only think about a budget. The best way to save is to do it on a regular basis, every pay-day. And the best investment is U. S. Savings Bonds.

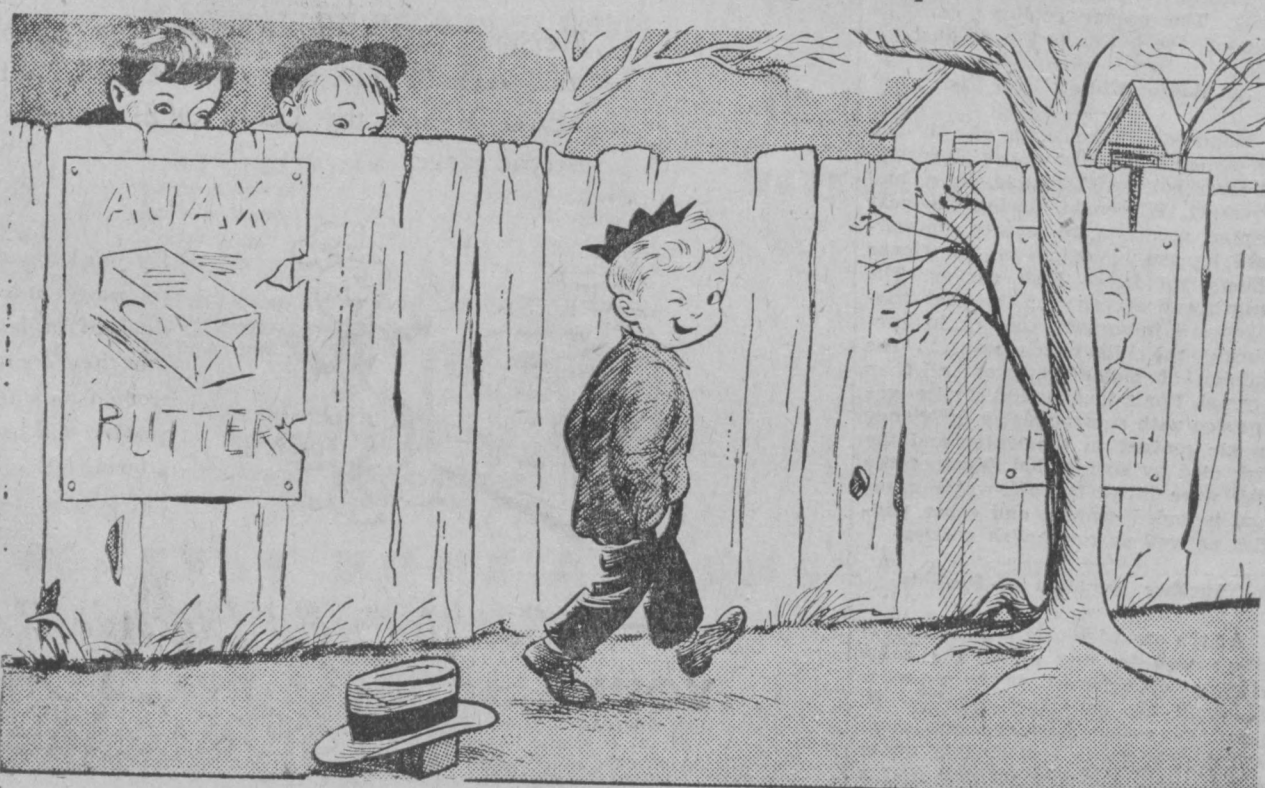

If you're on a payroll, enroll for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or, if self-employed, sign up for the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. Either way, you're building future security in the soundest way possible. And your money increases, four dollars for three in 10 years' time.

12th ANNUAL HOUSE AND GARDEN PILGRIMAGE

built around 1807 by Jacob Sherman. On July 9, 1864 the home served as headquarters for General T. Bradley Johnson of the Confederate Army. For eighty years the place was owned by the family of Colonel James M. Shellman, first Burgess of Westminster. In 1939 the property was purchased by the Historical Society. Here's hoping you'll be interested in seeing samplers woven from linen grown on the place and other exhibits of early days. Also hoping that you'll enjoy the lunch now being served. Your hostesses are Mrs. J. David Baile, Mrs. Arthur G. Tracey, and Mrs. A. Earl Shipley.

Let's walk down the street a few steps until you come to Court Street. Now turn right and walk half a block until you reach the home of Judge Francis Neal Parke. He's expecting you.

Of course you can't miss seeing our old Carroll County Court House right in front of you. If it looks somewhat familiar, perhaps you saw it in the "Maryland" movie put out by 20th Century Fox a few years ago. The Court House was built in 1837. At the same time you can't miss seeing on your right Ascension Protestant Episcopal Church. It would be interesting to walk through the old churchyard, but for lack of time you'll have to get back to that car as soon as possible. You're scarcely one-quarter of your way through the tour.

Now drive down the street over which you have just walked, turn left on Willis Street and follow through until it ends on Longwell Avenue. Believe it or not, that old estate right in front of you is our City Hall. One hundred years ago it was Emerald Hill. Step out of the car long enough to see the Garden and the Rinehart mantels. Your host—the City of Westminster.

Follow Longwell Avenue back to Main Street (Route 140) and go down across the railroad and several blocks farther until you come to the intersection of Routes 740 and 32 (Forks with a traffic light). Turn right, still keeping 140. Not quite seven miles away you reach The Mills, on the right hand side of the road. Drive down the hill to one of the old brick mills from which the town of Union Mills derives its name. Right by it stands the old Shriver home dating back to 1797. Mrs. Thomas Kemp, your hostess, will show you where Washington Irving slept.

Go back to the highway and cross to St. Mary's Chapel. In 1869 Archbishop Spalding gave permission to Mr. and Mrs. William Shriver to have a chapel in their home. Two rooms of the original part of the home built in 1826 were dedicated to that use. Cardinal Gibbons celebrated the first Mass in the little chapel and his last Mass was there on December 9, 1920. General J. E. Stuart spent the night here when his brigade traveled this highway to the battle of Gettysburg.

Return to Westminster the same route. Don't go all the way to the Forks this time. Turn to your right where the arrow points to Western Maryland College. Founded in 1867, this was the first co-ed college south of the Mason and Dixon Line. Drive slowly to avoid running over some of the eight hundred students coming from classes. At the end of the campus, you reach a boulevard stop. Drive straight across the highway—back of the college administration building (another converted old home) and immediately you come to Uniontown Road Route 22. Turn right and follow the rolling road toward the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Drive almost seven miles. But don't become so absorbed in conversation that you pass through the quaint village of Uniontown without noticing it. Famous for its early history as its boxwood trees. At the end of the village a sharp turn right. Don't rush over the top of that hill without looking at the view. If it's only clear enough and your eyes are only good enough, you can see Round Top in Gettysburg. Stay on the route just a little over a mile and then turn left, following the arrow on the private road to Crookabout. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar G. Barnes are waiting to show you the fascinating way in which they have mingled something old with something new.

Now back to the county road, then turn left and go 200 feet until you're on another private road with Spring Hollow a quarter mile down. This is the home of Roger E. Barnes on Meadow Branch. The clapboard covered log part was built as early as the 1740's or '50's. Restoration began in 1947.

On the county road again, watch the turns. First left and go half a mile to State route 630. Turn left on this route and go two miles to route 32 where you turn left again and go almost four and half miles to Taneytown. Turn left on 620 and only one-tenth of a mile away you reach Annapolis. This property has belonged to the Clabaugh family since 1872. The present owners are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clabaugh Lamberton. The hostesses will be glad to tell you the details of the history and show you the boxwood garden.

While you're parked, visit the old Birnie place, home of the Misses Annan, where refreshments are being served for those who wish.

Back on route 32, turn left and go one-quarter mile to the intersection of routes 32 and 71. (Traffic lights). Now left on route 71 and remain on it for little over four and one-half miles to Terra Rubra sign, turn right and one and one-half miles brings you to the high water mark of your tour, as far as history is concerned. Although the original home of Francis Scott Key was damaged by a storm in 1843, you may be interested to know that the present farmhouse was reconstructed from the salvaged materials. George Washington and Roger Brooke Taney visited here. Taney, as you know, was married to Key's sister Anne. The present owners are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumgardner.

Continue on the same road to Frys-ville almost a mile away. Note The Green to your left. This land was donated by Francis Scott Key for a church and school. Near the site of the present school he is said to have conducted the first colored Sunday School in the United States.

Turn sharp left at this point and drive almost a mile to the entrance of Hollow Rock Farm. A quarter of a mile farther you reach the home of Victor Weybright, biographer of Francis Scott Key. You'll enjoy going through the ancestral home of the owner built around 1750.

Retrace your steps to Keysville, past Terra Rubra to Route 71 again. Turn right and go three-quarters of a mile to Keymar cross-roads. Turn left on country road going straight through the village of Middleburg to Bowling Brook on your left. There you'll be welcomed to the home built by Colonel Tom Hook of the American Revolution. Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Walden are ready to greet you.

Continuing the same route for one and two-fifths miles, turn right to Union Bridge, one and three-quarter miles. Now left on concrete road, Route 75, almost two miles to Linwood. Turn right through village—near which is site of first white settlers in the county—and go two and three-fifths miles to McKinstry Mills and the Zumburn House. Built in 1844 the mill has been in constant use. The present owner Thomas Rinehart Zumburn invites you to see his office with the Catotini stove.

Samuel McKinstry for whom the Mills were named built the fine red brick house in 1849. It was owned by this family until 1915 when it was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Zumburn. The latter, a niece of the sculptor, William Rinehart. The site of his birthplace is nearby and also Marble Knoll, the farm on which the sculptor obtained his marble. The present owners are Mr. Thomas R. Zumburn and the Misses Mildred and Dorothy Zumburn.

Heading now for your last stop, retrace two and three-fifths miles (approaching Linwood, note Priestland Valley to your right) turn right on State Route 75, go almost three miles to New Windsor to intersect Route 31. Turn left and as you leave the village note the former New Windsor college on your left, now the headquarters for overseas relief under Church World Service. Noting the beauty of Wakefield, go three miles to Brookside Garden where Mr. and Mrs. Miller Richardson will greet you.

At last on the home stretch, continue four and three-tenths miles to Westminster. Turn to your right on Main street. Here's where I leave, because all you need do now is follow straight through to Reisterstown. Thanks for coming. Cheerio!

Lunch will be served at the Historical House, Westminster, for $1.10, and sandwiches and coffee will be served at the Birnie House, Taneytown.

Chairmen: Miss Lillian Shipley, 144 Pennsylvania Ave., Westminster; Mrs. Mary Wilt, Taneytown.

house "The Bureau of Health" not alone the radio station. It is a disgrace for a city the size of Frederick and what about the State of Maryland. That nice, big wonderful Dr. down there who everyone loves so much that he is called by his first name, "Dr. Eddie" would put his O. K. on such a thing, I know. The entire building should be "REJUVENATED." If that is impossible by all means "The Bureau of Health" should be moved entirely to another place. That building must be alive with GERMS and that makes me realize that is the reason so many there have had colds who work in those offices. The stores along the main street are being given "The New Look" but that "BOARD OF HEALTH" should have at least "THE CLEAN LOOK!"

Have you been reading, Folks those beautiful letters of our former President Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the Baltimore-News-Post? One can see and understand what a real domesticated man he was an how he loved family and home! Those letters were eloquent!

Met a lovely woman not long ago who loved her husband and yet divorced him! That sad part is that she still loves him and has been a "grass widow" for ten years stating she would never marry again! There really should be a law compelling a couple to seek either the Minister who married them or any clergy of their own Faith before the law can start a divorce. Betcha, that way eight out of very ten marriage would be saved! It would be grand if that was started in our State of Maryland. That mystery tune on "Stop The Music" is the exact tune that I hear from those church bells the day before each Christmas in that old Frederick town which could be called, "Christmas Chimes" which actually haunts me and one of the big reasons that I like to spend even a few hours at such a time each year.

See you next week. So long. Have a grand week-end and try to dine out on Sunday to give Mother a rest which means a little change!

Your

OBSERVER.

Trail of The Cross

Lesson for April 3, 1949

THE TURNING-POINT in Jesus' career was dramatic. But the few friends who were present did not then realize what it meant. On a vacation journey, Jesus put to his most intimate friends this question: "Who do men say that I am?" Peter's answer, "Thou art the Christ," may sound obvious to us, but was not obvious then. It was sensational, so much so that Jesus did not want the publicity that would come to him if that name "Christ" were freely circulated. For the word "Christ" meant nothing less than "King." To the Romans it would sound like treason; but to the Jews it would sound like Judgment Day.

Dr. Foreman

When Peter said, "You are the Christ," he was implying also: "You are immortal. You are the coming conqueror of the world. You are not in the same class with any other man. You will do for mankind what no other hero has ever done."

God's View and the Devil's

ON ALL THAT glowing devotion Jesus' next announcement fell like icy rain. In the ears of those friends of his it sounded like the bell of death. Never before had Jesus told them anything like this, and they must have found it hard to believe. For he had not a word about a throne, nothing about success, nothing about mastering the world. Quite the contrary. He must "suffer many things... be rejected... be killed." If they heard the words "rise again" too, the words made no impression.

For Jesus had announced what to them seemed impossible, absurd: He, the Christ, would be killed! Small wonder that Peter broke out—No, No! But Jesus would not compromise. He even called Peter "Satan" for thinking as he did.

The Christian church agrees with Jesus, not with Peter. We realize today, as Peter himself did afterwards, what the Cross of Christ means.

Buddha, founder of a very different religion, died in old age of over-eating. Can you imagine Jesus doing that? Suppose Jesus had taken Peter's advice and made arrangements to retire comfortably where he would never see a cross? Then we never should have heard of him. He would not have been worth hearing from.

One Cross is Not Enough

YES, WE KNOW now that the Cross of Christ is important. But we are a good deal like Peter, after all. For we do not listen to what we do not like to hear. And the next words of Jesus, on that historic occasion, must have sounded then as they do now, most chilling of all. "Whosoever would come after me, let him take his own cross and follow me." In Jesus' time no one was ever seen carrying a cross who was not already under sentence of death and on his way to be executed.

Translated into modern terms, what Jesus said would sound as horrible as this: Any man who wishes to follow me must take his seat on the electric chair... must take his place in the lethal chamber... must put his neck in a noose... and follow me.

One cross is not enough. There must be other crosses. My road is a death-march. I want for my followers only those who are willing to take the same trail.

Trail of the Cross

SUCH WORDS sounded harsh then; they do still. But in the light of the centuries, we can see what Jesus meant, better than that little band of frightened men around Jesus who did not want to hear the words "suffer... die." Jesus was not advocating pain for pain's sake.

Why did Jesus set his own face toward the cross? The Christian answer is, He did it—for others. Now what is wrong with the world today? It isn't that we don't wish our neighbors well; but the trouble is, we don't want to be bothered, our good-will is too tender to stand any strain, we will do anything for other people provided it doesn't hurt.

But the world can be saved only as men and women imitate and multiply the spirit of the crucified Christ.

Because of the waste in preparation, poor quality produce must be priced considerably below high quality fruits and vegetables to be cheaper in the long run.

A wide variety of whole-grained uncooked cereals is on the market and usually are much cheaper than the ready-to-eat ones.

A careful study of the farm business based on records will show a farmer the weak points of his business. It is important to find and correct these points to improve the business and increase labor income, according to farm economists.
