BOY SCOUT

ACTIVITIES REPORTED

Public Demonstration to be Held

Spring is here, and minnows leap and run, or at least they did so last Saturday night in the Westminster Armory, where Scouts from Troop 348, Taneytown, were displaying camping, cooking, and pioneering skills in the third annual merit badge exposition of Carroll District, Boy Scouts of America. Conceived in the minds of its junior leaders, among them Senior Patrol Leader Stanley Frock, and Patrol Leaders Andrew Alexander (Foxes), Robert Harner (Pine Trees), Thomas Van Patten (Flying Eagles), and Robert Bowers (Raccoons), the project proved one of the most enjoyable ever undertaken by that half the troop which really had a significant hand therein.

Credit for the idea of a path winding through the forest, passing by a rustic fireplace presided over by Patrol leader Bowers and Donald Lawyer making pancakes must really go to the imagination of Andrew Alexander. The "forest" of several red cedars set in tubs was the contribution of his father's and brother's ancestral acres. Gathered by Frock, Harner, and Alexander the evening before, they and the pup tent and forester tent fastened to frames were set up Saturday afternoon by all the foregoing, together with Van Patten and his assistant patrol leader, Robert Coshun; Phillip Lawyer, assistant Fox leader, Ray Slaybaugh, and Miles Stonesifer; Fern Bachman, Pine Tree second in command, Kenneth Frock and Robert Sentz.

Past the forester tent, low-slung and widespread for greater roominess, this path led to the main pioneering feature, a long bridge of two ramps looking in the center over trestle supports, the whole cut from separate pieces of sapling and lashed together with binder twine. A portion of these had come from the land of John Fuss, at Kump's Dam, where the troop camped last summer, but many more had to be cut for this project. Under the able direction of Senior Patrol Leader Frock, he, Alexander, Harner, and Phillip Lawyer were the engineers, the first three named having got these sections together the week-end before. Frock and their Scoutmaster had the job of saving the cross-pieces to exact size for greater neatness. These boys all should eventually earn pioneering merit badge for their work.

When the evening was half gone, the bridge was pretty well set up, and the venturesome spectator might mount it and stop at the central peak to glance down at the dark water below. Yes, there was water. And there it was, amid moss-lined banks, and in sand-strewn depths, that the aforesaid minnows were sporting. This creation, made possible by a

CAS MEETS

Report Made by Director, Miss Custenborder

The Carroll County Children's Aid Society branch of the Maryland Children's Aid Society, held its business meeting on Monday, April 25, at the Historical Home, with Mrs. Landon Burns, President, presiding.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer, and reports of committees submitted. Mrs. Anna C. Kreiger, Executive Secretary of the Maryland Children's Aid Society spoke on the "Present Trends of Child Welfare Work."

The service report of Miss Bonnie M. Custenborder follows:

In a recent meeting of social workers the speaker Judge Joseph Sherbow, of the Supreme Court of Baltimore City emphasized some of the unmet needs of the people and stated it is the job of the private agency to meet these needs. He described two in particular, the first being the need for a marriage counseling service for persons of every economic status, and second that the private agencies should be of service to unmarried mothers and fathers who should and probably would get married except for adverse outside influences. For three years the Children's Aid Society worked with James and Mary who could not come to any definite plans for themselves and their child; a few weeks ago they were married, took the child from the foster home and have established their own home plans. Two thirds of the children under care come from broken homes; of the remaining one third about half are illegitimate children, and the balance are half-orphaned, of those in boarding homes one third of the board is paid by the parents and two thirds paid by the county; clothing is furnished by the parents or by the agency.

Molly, a feeble minded motherless girl was living with a married sister who could not manage her; she was about to be sent to an institution when the agency learned of an older married sister in another state who was willing to take her and give her a chance to live there. Molly was happy to go with this sister rather than to a "School".

Mrs. Brown came to ask the CAS to take her 13 year old brother whom she cannot keep in her home. Ralph is an orphan and a nice friendly boy whose foster parents provide well for him so that he has the feeling of being wanted and he is very happy. More than a year ago Betty and her infant daughter were stranded in a distant state and this agency was asked to contact relatives since she is from this county; they could not take her baby but were willing to take Betty; she finally decided it would be best for the baby if it were placed in a family where it will have the love and security every child should have; the C A S helped her find such a home and now the baby is legally adopted.

These are only a few examples of children who are being provided with free, wage or boarding home care besides several who are waiting to be adopted.

The agency is rendering service to several persons paroled from state institutions who are now back in the county and self-supporting; but in need of some supervision; and in the Family Department there are twenty families, with forty-eight children, receiving some material as well as advice with their problems.

Respectfully submitted,
BONNIE M. CUSTENBORDER,
Director.

BRETH ADDRESSES LIONS

At Taney Inn, on Tuesday, April 26, the Taneytown Lions Club, Vice-President, Harry E. Dougherty, presiding, heard Samuel E. Breth speak on electricity. Manager of the Taneytown headquarters for the Potomac Edison system, Kiwanian Breth brought greetings from the elder sister service club and recalled doubtless palmier days when he had himself been a Lion.

After his introduction by program chairman, Merwyn C. Fuss, Mr. Breth warmed to his vast subject by an opening remark that this electrical industry, with a history of but seventy years, already comprehended an outlay of $4,000,000,000, of which 20% goes for taxes. With 7% of the world's population the United States produces 45% of its electricity, six times that of its nearest competition, Soviet Russia.

In the East, here, land values make hydroelectric power prohibitive in cost, with the result that 90 per cent of this labor-saving agent is manufactured by steam. Potomac Edison too followed this percentage. Useful though it is, electricity requires a lot of harness. Current of 12,000 volts stepped up to 66,000 at Williamsport for transmission to Frederick is then stepped down to 33,000 for shipment to Taneytown. Mr. Airy or Brunswick; then down to 12,000 or 6900 or 2300; finally, a transformer near your home lowers it to the 110 or 220 volts of residence or factory use.

A man by his own work can be the equivalent of 1/10 of one horsepower; transformed into electricity this represents 12 hours work for 2c. We wouldn't want to work for that, but "Reddy" Kilowatt does.

Lion Curtis G. Bowers was honored with a small gift for securing our only new member to be enrolled during the recent Lions contest (in the month of January) following which one verse of "America" served to close the meeting.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MET MONDAY EVENING

Plans Were Made for Annual Banquet June 11

The regular meeting of the Alumni Association was held in the High School, on Monday evening, April 11, at 7:30 P. M.

The giving of an award at graduation time was again discussed. After hearing the recommendations of the awards committee it was decided to present engraved cups, to the Best All Around Boy and the Best All Around Girl in the Senior Class, at the graduation exercises. The recipients of the awards to be selected by the faculty on the following basis: (1) scholarship; (2) loyalty and cooperation; (3) extra-curricular activities; (4) obedience.

The Association considered the purchasing of some equipment for the school. It was suggested that a film strip machine and a portable record-radio set would be quite useful in classroom instruction. A committee was appointed to investigate the cost and types of machines that are available.

A copy of the letter, which was sent to the Board of Education and others concerning the need for the improving of the conditions which exist on the playground and in the school water system, was read to the group. The reply which was received by the Association was also read.

The approaching of the time for the Alumni Banquet was mentioned and plans were made for this annual function. It was decided to hold the banquet on Saturday evening June 11 in the High School Auditorium. It is the hope of the Association that every class will be represented at this banquet and that as many classes as possible strive for 100% attendance.

It was decided to invite the members of the Senior class as guests of the Association. The possibility of having the girls in the Junior class act as waitresses is being investigated. The speaker for the evening will be Rev. Nevin Smith, of Hanover, Pa. There will be other numbers of interest to everyone on the program. A dance will be held after the banquet.

The following committees were appointed: Music, Elizabeth Baumgardner, Virginia Sanders, Menu, Shirley King, Doris Harner, John Harner; Program, Mary Clingan, Audrey Fair, James Fair, John Chenoweth; Advertising, Helen Bankard, Elwood Baumgardner, Murray Baumgardner.

The next meeting of the Association will be held on Monday evening, May 16, at 7:30 P. M., at the High School.

CHORUS WILL SING AT DUNDALK

The Brotherhood Male Chorus of Trinity Lutheran Church, who will give their concert Thursday night, May 12, in the Taneytown High School, will sing Sunday evening in St. Timothy Lutheran Church, Dundalk, Md. They will sing for the charter night observance of their brotherhood. This will make the third time the chorus has sung for ceremonies of newly organized Brotherhoods in the past year. Mr. Merwyn Fuss, President of the Synodical Brotherhood and Mr. Franklin Fair, Secretary of the Synodical Brotherhood and also a member of the chorus, will be present. The chorus was also invited for the fellowship supper but because of the distance and early hour at which they would have to leave, this had to be cancelled. They will meet at the church no later than 5:45 D. S. T.

Plans are coming along nicely for the concert which will take place in the High School auditorium. Two rehearsals were held last week with near-perfect attendance. A guest soprano soloist has been obtained and program announcement will soon be made. Be sure and plan to attend.

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

By Fall there will be something new in handbags. A battery with a small electric bulb under the frame work in the interior so as Milday does not have to rummage! For that convenience, prices will advance.

Betcha, when Televisions will not require those expensive outside aerials that every home will possess a Television set. But in the meantime you can be enjoying yours!

Never could understand why many individuals object to Daylight Saving as you really only lose one hour the first night after that it is the same routine and think what it means for the farmer.

One of the most attractive women 'Around the Town' is the little lady on George Street who is the Mother of three children!

Met that nice pleasingly plump Mother from Middleburg not long ago and she was so happy about the latest Blessed Event!

The cutest couple whom I did not know, called one evening at "Loves' Retreat" just before Easter! Now, there is something to think about! And, too they have a sister and brother resemblance. The only difference they appeared very much in love!

That C. C. C. (cute, clever, circular) "The Village Store" is getting more interesting all the time. Now, that man is what I call "Strictly Business" and knows his stuff. Hope an opportunity arises on one of those Saturday nights so as I can mingle with the crowd over there if only to say, "Howdy, Folks!"

Did you know that in the State of New Jersey, any man who has been in the Service of Uncle Sam is exempt from taxes if he owns his own home? Nice Law! EH?

A letter arrived from 'Frankie' in the pink of condition these days and is stationed now at Fort Dix, N. J. Now, that really is news!

Did you know that walking briskly daily is the best type of exercise if one desires to reduce also riding a bicycle?

On the way to Lincoln's mechanic the other day stopped by to see the precious little young old Christian Bachelor Lady of eighty summers and where do you think I found her? Out in her garden really working! Wonderful! She is also a great reader.

An executive of The Great Atlantic and Pacific Co. called upon Your Observer last week in reference to the letter which I wrote months ago stating why I did not like their stores and for which the President of the Company desired opinions from the public. That is another clever idea—I mean the executive calling!

If we notice little pleasures
As we notice little pains;
If we quite forget our losses
And remember all our gains;
If we look for people's virtues
And their faults refuse to see,
What a comfortable happy,
Cheerful place this would be.

So long, Folks. See you next week. Have a grand week-end and enjoy every minute as you gaze out upon Nature as you drive around.

Faithfully,
Your OBSERVER.

"Homemaking is a serious job, and offers a real opportunity for you to serve our country." (Secretary of Agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, in his address to the 3 million rural women carrying on Home Demonstration Work.)

Over 1000 volunteer leaders were trained in 1949 to teach Food and Nutrition to rural homemakers in the state through the Home Demonstration Program.

MAY DAY

May Day in America, is, or used to be celebrated by the schools going to the woods where games were played and a treat of ice cream given to all the children. These festivals were eagerly looked forward to by all as the greatest day in their lives, on the contrary as a day of political scheming the Bolshevik of Russia look to the day as one when they may be able to dominate the world. The one great obstacle in the way of world domination by Russia is the United States of North America. While America endures strong in physical and financial might there is little to be feared from the schemes of a Stalin or his Stooges.

The splendid injunction of Washington to avoid engaging alliances has in our day become outmoded. We are our brothers keeper whether we like it or not.

World peace is a consideration devoutly to be wished, and could be realized if Russia would join forces with the rest of mankind.

Only by the united efforts of Democracy can the future be made safe for all mankind.

But the millennium is not yet here, and is not likely to occur in our time.

PLENTY OF CARS IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

There's no trouble in buying a car in Czechoslovakia, where the automobile industry has been nationalized, and, like practically all other enterprises, is run by the state. All you have to do is to walk into an agency and plunk down the money.

The only catch is the price. The available car, a two door sedan, costs more than 415,000 crowns, which is about $8,300. That sum represents 80 months of the average worker's pay. The car, according to an AP dispatch, is "considerably smaller than the 1933 Chevrolet." If you have a ration permit proving your need for a car, other than a desire to own one, you can get it for about $4,000.

That is an excellent example of how regimented economics, which have abolished all competition and all free enterprise, produce goods for the people. There is no need to improve quality or reduce prices—the customer takes what the government offers him or does without. Absolute monopoly prevails. Only the "elite" class or office holder has sufficient income or political pull to live beyond a subsistence level.

In this country, by contrast, every producer must face the competition of many other producers, every one of which is out to get more business. This can only be done by pleasing the customer. On the retail level, regardless of the kind of goods involved, the competition is particularly intense, with every merchant and dealer looking for new ways to bring the customers in. We get better goods, and a more varied selection. We get them at a price which competition holds to the lowest possible level. And those goods are within the reach of the millions, not of just the few.—Industrial News Review.

A TRANSGRESSOR'S LAMENT

Had I known a train to be approaching, I would have obeyed the sign: "Stop, Look, Listen!" and thus not be haunted by the memory of a needless sacrifice of human lives.

Had I known a car was coming around the bend, I would have kept on my side of the road, and not be guilty of wrecked cars and permanent injuries to innocent persons.

Had I known that smoking cigarettes was like driving nails in a coffin I would not have consent to my son to use them to spite his mother and his teacher.

Had I known that the discarded match would ignite the weeds and produce the destructive forest fire, I would have quenched the match.

Had I known that the lifeless form of my wife would greet my return at the close of the day, I would not have spoken so gruff this morning.

Had I known I would not be qualified to accept and hold the job I cherish, I would not have wasted my time in school, but given more thought to study.

Had I known there were a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, I would not have worn my fingers to the bone and enslaved the family in digging for wealth.

Ah, yes, upon second thought, each transgressor concluded, I did know. But avarice, covetness, and selfishness prompted me to transgress. So, here I am, a sufferer for my wrongs, a loser for what I did.

If society and God forgive me, I shall begin anew, and make a worthy contribution to civilization, for such a purpose was I born.

YOU WILL LIKE
an Electric Range because it's

YOU will like the speed of an electric range, the oven that comes to full heat in a matter of minutes, its remarkably fast baking ability and the surface units that glow with controlled heat almost as soon as a switch is turned.

You'll like the completely insulated oven—so perfectly heat sealed that you can comfortably place your hand on it at full temperature. And you will like its smokeless, sootless, sparking, easy-to-keep-clean beauty, complete safety, amazing convenience, and of course its low operating cost.

But perhaps best of all you'll like the automatic controls that assure perfect cooking results every time—controls that make it possible for you to place a meal in the oven and leave the house for as much as a whole day, knowing that, when you return, your dinner will be perfectly cooked, piping hot, and ready to serve.

The fact that the number of electric range users has nearly doubled in the past two years is impressive evidence of electric range popularity. Nearly 30,000 women in this area, many of them friends and neighbors, are right now enjoying the pleasures of this only modern form of cooking. You too will come to it eventually—why not now?

What is a penny worth these days? Not much when you use it to buy food or clothes, but sometimes a penny can be worth a great deal when spent under certain circumstances. I saw a penny spent Saturday afternoon in Taneytown and neither you nor I will ever know just how much was bought with that penny. This is what happened: A car bearing New Jersey license plates pulled up in front of a parking meter. A man got out and hurried up the street. Either he was unfamiliar with parking meters or he didn't notice the one beside his car for he failed to drop in a coin. A man sitting in a car behind the New Jersey car saw what occurred and evidently noticed the out-of-state license, too, for he got out and dropped a penny in the parking meter. There was a woman and three small children in the New Jersey car and I saw the man rap on the door and evidently explained to her about the meter. She smiled and nodded and when the man got back in his own car and drove off, I saw her write the number of his license tags down. Maybe the New Jersey people will never visit Taneytown again but I am sure they will always remember it with a kindly feeling. The man who dropped the penny in the meter looked like a person you would like to have as a friend or a neighbor. I took down his license number, too, and sometime I will find out his name.

Vacation time is almost here and with the plans for traveling goes that ordeal of packing. Men always complain that a woman needs a truck to carry all the things she feels is necessary for a two weeks vacation but recently I saw an old Swiss guide book dated 1780 which listed necessary items men should take "if so be you are disposed to go a-traveling so that nought will be lacking of that which is necessary for comfort." Articles indispensable to the traveler included: two suits, one coffee coat, the other, light blue, with coat, shirt and breeches. One jabot, one pair leather breeches, two pair long stockings, two pair gloves, two wigs, one hair bag, two caps and two hats, two pair of shoes and one pair of slippers, six undershirts, four shirts, six neckerchiefs, six handkerchiefs, four sleeves, a Bible, a diary, a block of writing paper, pens and ink, a calendar, a mirror, a silver pocket watch, a silver snuff box, spoon, shoe buckles, drinking cup, three pairs silver shirt buttons, a gold seal ring, a couple knives and forks, a sewing box, a telescope, compass, candles, a dagger, a Spanish musket, a clothes brush and a small herb chest. When you consider such things as wigs, daggers and silver shoe buckles that were a "must" for the men who traveled in 1780, the packing problems of the women of today should not frighten anyone.

The chorus made up of fifteen adult members of the Elmer Wolfe P. T. A. which sang the song "These Hats We Wear" won second prize in the amateur talent contest held in the Manchester High School Friday evening. Mrs. Arintha Marsh who directed the chorus was unable to attend due to a death in her family.

When the marriage of the Heiress and the chauffeur come to grief it is not due to the wife's money but due chiefly to differences in education, manners, social background, life habits and philosophy. Crudities (on either side) may seem quaint during the infatuation periods but may get on each other's nerves in being together. Such marriages fail not because one is "better" than the other but because they are different. Like should marry like. Similar background is more important than anything else in marriage.

Mrs. Maurice Grinder has been ill for several days.

The Keysville Grange will install its newly elected officers Friday evening, May 6th in the auditorium of the Elmer Wolfe School 8:30 P. M. D. S. T. in an impressive ceremony. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Here's a tip if that sack of sugar you just took off storage is hard as a rock. Try placing the unopened sack in a hot oven for about 5 minutes. The heat will soften the sugar and you'll find it perfect for immediate use.

If there's anything finer than to step outdoors at sunrise, these clear spring mornings, after a night of warm, gentle rain you'll have to show it to me. The good smell of earth comes up from fresh-plowed fields, and there are blossoms on the trees, where hours before were only buds. Each bird on the farm is singing fit to burst, and rain drops sparkle like diamonds in the grass. The barley on the ridge field has surely grown an inch over night and in the pasture, the newly turned out heifers kick up their heels. Nor can I much blame them; it's a fine thing just to be alive and enjoy such a spring as this. I don't know whether I have a new outlook on life or whether this spring is actually more beautiful than any I can remember. For one thing, maybe I have just taken the time to look and see the beautiful rolling hills of Carroll County, and appreciate all the beauty that surrounds us.

The residents of Feesersburg are busy in their fields and gardens as one can guess after reading this column. No visiting and no entertaining while the farming bug has every one.

The trick of baiting a mousetrap is to use bacon instead of cheese. Try it some time if you haven't already done so.

Next week is "Be kind to animals week." What I would like to see is a week set aside to be kind to children. There are so many ill treated, neglected children right in one's own community that it makes one's heart ache. Yet, there seems to be nothing one can do for the law says children belong to their parents—even if they are irresponsible mothers and fathers.

When a young man from the country came to town to visit relatives, they gave him the works, showing him everything around New York that was calculated to take one's breath away. They took him to Radio City Music Hall, but he never batted an eye at the size and luxury of the place. The sunburst ceiling left him cold; the orchestra came up out of the floor, and he said nothing; a regiment of female legs danced across an acre of stage, and he was not interested. In fact he seemed bored and began looking up toward the balcony. Finally he spoke, "My" he marveled, "this place sure would hold a lot of hay."

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES REPORTED

special trough contributed by George L. Harner, on the earnest representations of son Bob, was really the piece de resistance. "Sonny" Sentez had gathered, and we all helped to place, the real moss; the minnows were succeeded in making a love frog at from the Frock plantation; and Sonny home among the ferns and rocks emerging from the pool beneath the pool beneath the bridge. It really was an attraction, and the banks were continually lined with eager onlookers, one of whom now and then would have to cast back into the "stream" a "fish" who'd overreached himself by leaping out on the greensward. Only a spring peeper was needed to evoke the poignant surge of spring.

On the other side of the bridge was a pup tent with bed all made, and once in a while one would see it occupied. In front of it, however, Miles Stonesifer definitely proved himself champion firemaker by three successful attempts at kindling fire by bow and spindle rubbed against a yucca buttonboard—no matches or other inflammables used except rope and shredded back tinder to catch the spark. He was assisted by Tommy Sell, Ray Slaybaugh, Donald Lawry and others, but no one else got a flame.

Bob Harner demonstrated back and short splicing, while a knot tying race against time was twice run by the following experts at that seaman's, woodsman's, and farmer's useful art: Robert Coshun, Delmont Koons, Donald Lawyer, Ray Slaybaugh, Fern Bachman, Kenneth Frock, Robert Sentez and Richard Frounfelter. We should not forget that our forest floor was adorned with its full coating of leaves, distributed with taste and discrimination by Robert Sentez, assisted by Tom Sell and others. They were oak leaves, and the woods of cedar, but that didn't seem to spoil the harmony.

Acknowledgment is due Mr. A. D. Alexander, Mr. George L. Harner and Mr. Alfred G. Brown for very considerable help in transportation. The entire exhibit could never have been brought off without the preservation of Stanley Frock, who was its prime mover, Andrew Alexander and Robert Harner. The indulgence of their parents and the willing cooperation of the leaders themselves when they may have been needed elsewhere is fully appreciated.

It was an evening well spent, and it has long been the aim of the troop leaders to present something of the sort right in Taneytown, where it can be viewed by more of those who are closely interested or associated with the troop.

Behind the Lutheran Church of Taneytown an outdoor camp layout will be erected embodying all the features of the merit badge show. This will be a public demonstration of varied scout activities on Saturday, May 7th (in the event of a downpour, the following Saturday will be sought). Beginning at ten in the morning, Scouts will actually camp, cook, chop wood, pass tests, play games, and in other ways conduct a camp before your very eyes. Refreshments will be available, the proceeds of which will be used for promotion of the troop's summer program. The affair will be brought to a close by an evening campfire featuring songs, stunts, dual contests, and recognition of 1949 advancement, with the strains of Taps ending a full and eventful day in camp. This is the initial presentation of such a nature, a large and interested public is cordially invited to witness the proceedings at any time between 10 A. M. and 9 P. M.

Jesus Is King

Lesson for May 1, 1949

IT IS A SIN to tell the truth out of season. So declares a famous Protestant creed. It is not always good nor wise to tell everybody everything you know. Keeping your mouth shut may be one of the best things you ever do. Jesus himself knew how to keep a secret till time to tell it. He never uttered an untruth about himself, but for a long time he did not openly declare his conviction, in spite of being pestered to say Yes or No about it.

Dr. Foreman

The question was: Are you the Messiah? This was the same as asking, Are you the King? Jesus would not say Yes, because the mere word would be taken to mean "revolutionist" or traitor. But he would not say No, because he was a king; indeed of all men he had the best right to the title.

Royal Entrance

BUT WHEN the time came, Jesus did declare himself king in a spectacular way. We know the story as the "Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem," the story of Palm Sunday, now so fresh in our minds. Jesus lived in a nation of people who were familiar with the meaning of symbols, both in word and action.

When Jesus rode into the ancient capital where his forefathers reigned, astride a mule colt, the people knew, and he knew they would know, that this was not just somebody riding a mule on a Sunday morning. In the history of the Hebrews, mules were the steeds of kings.

King Solomon was crowned riding on a mule. There was a famous prophecy (Zech. 9:9) that when Jerusalem's great king should come, he would be riding on just such a royal steed. So when Jesus rode into Jerusalem, the people threw their palm branches and shouted their welcome, not to the teacher and prophet, but to the King.

Tears in Triumph

IT WAS NOT altogether a victorious occasion. Jesus knew too well how cheap and easy "demonstrations" can be. In his mind's eye he could see a cross standing outside Jerusalem, and in his inner ear he could hear this same dusty-throated mob, now shouting "Hosanna!", yelling instead "Crucify him!" Tears stood in Jesus' eyes. But they were not tears for himself; he never wasted energy in self-pity. They were tears for that blind city, tears for its coming destruction — the city that did not know the way to peace.

Master of the Temple

BOLDER THAN JESUS' triumphal entry was what he did inside the city. It was one thing to claim royal rights over the nation; but at the temple Jesus' claims reached far higher. It should be remembered that in the eyes of all Jews at that time the Temple was absolutely sacred. It represented the dwelling-place of the invisible God. Now the priests at the time were more profiteers and politicians than priests. They carried on what today we call a "racket," in the sale of animals for sacrifice and in changing the ordinary money of all countries into the local Jewish shekel (in which coin alone could temple offerings be paid).

The racket was notorious; every decent Jew hated the priestly profiteers. But no one had ever done anything about it, for that would mean assuming on authority over the temple that no man dared to assume.

But Jesus took it on himself. His direct and even violent action in smashing the racketeering ring was a mark of something more than ordinary self-confidence. He laid claim to being no less than the Master of God's Temple. He was acting in the name of God and with the authority of God.

Master of Man

WHEN THE CHRISTIAN church calls Jesus "Lord" and "King" today, we are making no claim for him which he did not make for himself. What we mean by these titles is that Jesus Christ, for us and for all men, is the authority above all others.

Ever hear of grown-ups believing in fairy tales? Well, perhaps not Cinderella or Jack and the Beanstalk. But when it comes to the economic "facts of life," it is amazing what some folks will accept instead of facts.

One tale of economic nonsense, usually going the rounds, has it that industry is rolling in money and making exorbitant profits. Usually, industry (erstwhile known as "big business" and "bloated capitalists") is the villain. These uncalled-for profits are literally squeezed out of the consumers and the workers, and piled up somewhere by the "soulless corporation," like so much gold guarded by a fire-breathing dragon.

We could go on. But see what I mean? It is high time somebody got a true-to-life story started that shows what our system of free investment and free enterprise has done for the people of this country.

How Much Profit?

National polls, not too long ago, found workers thinking generally that business makes from 25 to 50 per cent profit. Surveys among labor union members have found the workers thinking that 10 per cent profit on sales would be about right. Even a government booklet prepared for veterans says "A business . . . should make at least 10 per cent profit clear." Well, fairy tales to the contrary, one statistician shows that actually business makes on the average only 2.9 per cent profit on sales volume.

Some businesses make less and some make more. In 17 years of sales, the Republic Steel Corporation has made 2 per cent on the company's sales to customers. General Electric has figured its average for 30 years at only 8.9 per cent. You see, it just so happens that industry gets far less than the 10 per cent that everybody seems to think would be fair.

Best Incentive.

But we have been taking a lot for granted! Nobody has shown, fairy tale fashion, why it would be so bad if industry were making a better profit. Actually, nothing would be bad about it. It is good for the welfare of the nation, for the consumer, for the worker, for everybody — if industry makes a good profit. Only if industry makes a fair profit, can we expect plant expansion and more jobs.

Republic Steel, already mentioned, divided each dollar that it had for owners and the workers in 1946. The workers got 91 cents. The owners got 4 cents in dividends, and 5 cents was plowed back into the business. Without profit there's not a chance for good wages to continue. Without dividends, there's no attraction to new venture capital. New investments are important to the welfare of everyone. We need prosperous industries. Yet, who wants to invest hard-earned dollars in a business that can't make a profit? Active production lines, in industries that can show a profit, are the basis of America's prosperity and high standard of living. Profit is our best incentive.

Jamesway barn equipment will save you time and hard work and will boost your profits. Jamesway Carriers make barn cleaning a boy's job. Jamesway stalls give your cows year-round pasture comfort. And drinking cups alone will pay for complete Jamesway equipment! They save hauling cows out-of-doors to drink from an ice-cold, germ-breeding open tank in freezing weather and increase milk yield 1 to 3 lbs. per cow per day! We are your Jamesway dealer. Stop in and see our complete line of profit-making Jamesway equipment.

How Maryland Solves Its Own Health Problems
Without Waiting for Federal Aid

Starting Sunday, May 1st, in The Washington Post

While other States and communities sit back waiting for aid and guidance from Washington, the State of Maryland and the City of Baltimore have gone ahead boldly with health programs of their own. And the plan works! Doctors like its absence of red tape and its lack of compulsion. Patients like the medical service they are getting. Taxpayers appreciate the low cost. In fact, the pioneering in Maryland may well serve as an example to the Nation.

So reports Agnes E. Meyer, in a series of articles starting on Sunday, May 1, in The Washington Post. Mrs. Meyer, nationally known for her interest in health problems, and a vigorous opponent of compulsory health insurance, made an exhaustive study of the Maryland Plan, both in Baltimore and in the counties. She reports with enthusiasm on this wholly American program, urges that it be studied with care by those who tend to look to other countries for their social ideas.

Everyone interested in medical care—and that means every parent and every taxpayer in particular—will find these Washington Post articles well worth reading. Start them in Sunday's Post.
