GRADUATION EXERCISES AT TANEYTOWN H. S.

Largest Class in the History of the School

The closing exercises of the High School, observed this week in Taneytown, proved an outstanding event in the community. For one thing this was the largest class in the history of the school and the last class under the 11 year plan. Next year, due to the operation of the 12 year plan, there will be no graduating class.

The events of the week began Sunday night with the Baccalaureate Service in the High School auditorium. The pastors of the town participated in the program. Father Chas. Walker, in the Baccalaureate Sermon, spoke to the Seniors in particular and the audience in general concerning the value of religious faith in life.

Last Monday evening Class Night was observed with the house packed to the door. Following the custom of last year a delightful program in three parts was presented by the Seniors. The first part was in the form of an Old-fashioned Melodrama entitled, "He Ain't Done Right by Nell". Part two was in the form of a Musical Revue entitled "We Embark" being a survey of the musical presentations of the class during the past four years. Part Three consisted in the presentation of the Key by Geo. Baumgardner, President of the Senior Class, to Betty Jane Hahn, President of the Junior Class, followed by the farewell song.

Wednesday evening the Commencement Exercises were held in the auditorium, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Thurlow Null former Principal of the Grades, offered the invocation. Mrs. Wallace Yingling, talented musical teacher in the school, directed the chorus numbers in the gifted manner with which she is so well accustomed. Dr. Lowell S. Enzor, President of Western Maryland College, gave the Commencement address. He pointed out how educated young people, such as the Senior Class represented were America's first line of defense and hope of security.

Clyde Hesson, gracious friend of all and President of the Carroll County Board of Education, presented diplomas to the 48 Seniors who adorned the platform in their maroon caps and gowns.

This year two awards were added. One was by the American Legion to be given to the boy and girl who exhibited the best type of citizenship. This award, presented by Neal Powell, Post Commander of the American Legion, went to Jo Ann Gillespie and Ray Copenhaver. The other new award was given by the Alumni Association to the boy and girl who proved to be the best all around student. This award, presented by Edmund Morrison, went to Marian Martin and Eugene Vaughn.

The Scholarship Award for the highest scholastic average during the four years, went to Estelle Hess. The activities medal for the student who participated in the most activities of the school, given by the P. T. A. and presented by Mrs. Carel Frock, Vice-President, went to Caroline Shriner. And the Commercial Award for the most outstanding commercial student, was presented by Mrs. Homer Myers to Betty Jane Motter.

The evening's exercises were concluded with the benediction by Rev. Charles S. Owen followed by the recessional.

One sad note colored the week's activities. That was the absence of one member of the Senior Class who otherwise would have made the number of graduates 49 for 1949. That was James Albert Wilhide, popular member of the class, who graduated from his earthly duties and was promoted to that higher class above on April 1, 1949. "To live in the hearts we leave behind is not to die."

—By REV. CHAS. S. OWEN.

U. S. TREASURY'S COVERED WAGON COMING TO CARROLL CO.

One of the original covered wagons which carried many a party of Americans to the far West in the historic gold rush of 1849, is coming to Westminster, it is announced by the Carroll County U. S. Savings Bonds Committee.

The ancient vehicle, with its canvas top, which will come to this area on Monday afternoon, June 13, will be at St. John's School yard, Westminster, from 4 to 5 P. M. every 100% American will want to see this covered wagon of 1849 as it is the symbol of the Opportunity Bond Drive, which ends June 30th.

While on tour the old wagon will be transported by a special truck and trailer which is donated by International Harvester Company and the Fruehauf Trailer Company. It will be "dressed" up in Red, White and Blue as a Bond sales booth.

The covered wagon often called "the vehicle of empire" was first designed and built by the Pennsylvania Dutch in the rich Conestoga Valley in Lancaster County, Pa. in the mid 1700's.

America is still the world's great land of opportunity. The coming of the covered wagon is to remind us that the Opportunity Bond Drive now under way, is our chance to start saving the U. S. Savings Bonds way for future security and opportunity to better ourselves.

Don't miss seeing the Covered Wagon, Monday, June 13th.

A slight oversight occurred in the write-up of the recent Birthday Party concerning the May table, in part. We failed to tell of the decorations and wish to say here, that the table was just as lovely as a May table could be. May was reflected in the flowers, fancy table cover and dainty platters of pink, green, blue and yellow aside from the birthday cakes and candles, etc. Those in charge of May were: Mrs. David Smith and Miss Nettie Putman.

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Never saw a Maryland Policeman smoking. Did you?
Congratulations to Col. Ober by the way!

If I had my way would call back that movie "Chicken Every Sunday" so as every husband could gaze upon it and think and think and think!

Thinking about wonderful farmers. Those initials could stand, too for "Right and Smart" R. S. Betcha, he will be the richest farmer in Carroll County one of these days. He sure knows his stuff!

Now, this is only to the "Expectant Mother"! And a real joke on Your Observer! Last year at the very end of the season there was a big dress sale and regardless of price every dress had to be sold. I purchased one at below cost and did not remove it from its package until the other day when I wanted to have it ready for the summer. It is a lovely print on deep rose back ground plus a Bolero. The tags were still on it. As I opened the package and tried it on discovered it was a "Maternity Dress." So, I am calling a size 18 or 20 Expectant mother so as I can present her with the dress.

That cute young couple who are so beautifully mated in "The Beauty Box" simply grows and grows and grows on acquaintance. Each time I talk to them, I find them sweeter all the while!

Did you know how that catchy tune called, "Sailing Down The River" came to pass? Here's the story which I recently read. Two elderly Spinster ladies in England wrote the lyrics and the words and placed it in a contest—the winner to get $4,000. This was only a few months ago. They won the contest and about $60,000 since with all its sales. It sure did make a big hit immediately over here in America. What a wonderful thrill those Spinster ladies received at their time in life when one needs security. That surely meant a Policy of "Happiness Endowment" and paid in the event of everything and the two beneficiaries were "Them Alone" and their address is "Easy Street" and calls for increasing dividends of joy with every year!

On Tuesday night, my Minister drove me as far as the square where I alighted and walked to the Auxiliary meeting of The Legion Post. It was a beautiful night—a little later then twilight. The atmosphere was quiet and peaceful "Around The Town." A few sat on porches relaxing to whom I bid the time of day. Never have I noticed before "The Town" as I did that night. Sitting in a car driving and walking slowly around makes all the difference in the world. It was full of tranquility. As I walked on those real red bricks of the house on the corner of George Street with the big lawn, I thanked God for so many things—first my health and then because I am An American walking through that peaceful evening when there were thousands in other countries torn and in constant bitter strife. I, having so much while those poor souls without even a place to lay their head! Somehow, I lowered my head, tears came as I thought of those people with only the Sea to separate us! Take a walk, folks—alone when you can commune with the God in the twilight just before the darkness even if it is only "Around The Town". For Gold is Where You Find It!

Now, here's something that may surprise all parents. If a child becomes cross and irritable it may be fear of giving him trouble. Recently, a child had a tooth pulled (first tooth) and the child's disposition changed practically overnight. That Surgeon Dentist "Around The Town" can solve the problem in so short a time that it will amaze you.

Calling all filling stations especially where there are accommodating mechanics! It pays to please any lady driver of course with nice courteous attentions to the car! Women are the best advertisers in any business! Ask any business man!

That nice chubby Manager of the Movies "Around our Town" surely can explain things beautifully. I was against showing those wild shooting western pictures of which I have seen the prevues and he gave me all the answers. Things I never quite imagined!

The "Clock Man" sure can fix any type of a clock. Lately he adjusted "The Ship Clock" and then a Pre-War miniature Cuckoo inexpensive affair and it is now running perfectly. As some people have likes for various items, I have always been an enthusiast about clocks. The most beautiful one I possess is one that I have had for many years, a solid mahogany mantle cathedral model with the beautiful Westminster Chimes striking every fifteen minutes. Somehow there is always a feeling of home when the clock strikes. Home and Mother! The very first thing any house wife does in moving to new quarters is to "start the clock" check back and see!

So long, folks until next week when I will be seeing you. Have a great week-end and always remember that you positively can "Push to the front because you think you can!"

Faithfully,
Your OBSERVER.

FLAG DAY

Flag Day—June 14, should be celebrated by every citizen by displaying the American flag from sunrise until sunset.

There is a beautiful legend that has come down to us about the birth of the flag. This legend states that it was Washington's custom each evening to go out in the open to pray, and on one such occasion while kneeling and facing west at a distance in front of him was a tall pine tree from which the upper branches had been blown, and as he prayed the evening star came out beside the upper part of the tree, in a field of pure blue sky, and from this field clouds streamed out which the setting sun tinted a beautiful red in places while others remained white. Thus was said to be born the idea of a flag. This idea was commemorated by Washington to Madam Betsy Ross a seamstress who made at his direction the first American flag later memorialized by Francis Scott Key of Maryland in his great poem—"The Star-Spangled Banner" at the time of the British storming of Ft. Mchenry, Key was on board a British vessel and detained until after the battle. Over Ft. Mchenry flew a large flag made by a Mrs. Pickersgill who then lived in a small house, now known as the Flag House, when the flag was made.

Anxiously thru the night of the battle Key watched the rockets red glare, and bombs bursting in air but was rejoiced in the morning to find that "the flag was still there."

There is no more appropriate name for the flag than Old Glory, for then we are but a young nation as time is reckoned our flag is the oldest in the world.

"My country's flag unfurled shall be in every land, on every sea, The emblem of true liberty To all the world.

"My nations praise shall e'er be sung In every land by every tongue For deeds of good and lack of wrong That we have done.

"My native land shall be the best Because it is the Lord's behest That here upon this soil shall rest His sovereign will.

W. J. H.

Don't miss "Laff It Off" when it comes to town. It's a review with pep. As modern as the new Jet propelled planes. As up to date as tomorrow's headlines.

Sylvester Says:

"If new home costs would burden you — just wait till you get your bill for public housing."

Public housing in the Federal Government are asking Congress for the right to spend over 17 billion dollars and construct one million, fifty thousand public housing units in the next 3 1/2 years. At this rate each public housing unit will cost you, the American citizen, approximately $17,000. None of this money will be repaid and it does not include cost of land, architects, and other fees.

This public housing will cost more than Americans paid to buy the over two million, two hundred thousand homes constructed by the private building industry during the last 3 1/2 years. The average sales price of homes produced by private industry was about $8,000, or less than half the amount being spent to produce each public housing unit.

Swap Talk

Other day two of your friends were swapping talk. One was Mr. Ernest N. Welloff. He claims no great genius, but does know something of what America has meant to him. Born of immigrant parents, he learned as a boy to work hard. Saved his money, later put it to work for other people. His business is manufacturing. He boosts the American Way, not so much for what it has done for him as for what it has enabled him to do for himself.

His employee, Willie B. Secure, is not so sure. He always thought "security" was simply saving up for the "rainy day." That is, until certain persons got hold of him. They just about convinced him that capitalists are his enemies. Willie's no Communist. He is just one of the 29 per cent of our population that believes company profits are 30 cents and more per dollar of sales. (Actually, they're less than 10 cents!)

Squeeze Play

This scene began as Willie met up with his idea of capitalism, Mr. Welloff. Neither of them are stuffed-shirts. They are quite on speaking terms.

Welloff: How're you getting along, Willie?

Willie: Pretty good, but not making as much as I'd like to.

Welloff: Neither is the company. We've got caught between prices and costs. Equipment is sky-high. Materials are sky-high. We can't increase prices much more. What's your trouble?

Willie: Same thing. Can't make ends meet.

Welloff: If only we could get more production, Willie, we might raise wages. Without more production, it would be tough on us. A tax cut would help, too.

Willie: You mean the company couldn't pay an increase? I thought it was plenty able to pay.

Welloff: What we get comes from customers, Willie. We'd have to pass it on to the public. Your wages are part of our production costs. We collect your wages from our customers. Our workers got 90 per cent of our sales dollar last year.

Willie: You mean that the union is asking for wage increases from the people?

Welloff: You know those new automatic machines we've been planning on? They cost plenty. Should we pay raises out of money we put aside last year for those?

Willie: Well, no, Mr. Welloff. Just let me get my hands on one of those beauties. Betcha I can impress the foreman plenty!

Welloff: Sure. And your production will go up. Your higher production will help us get more income out of which we can gladly pay increases.

Willie: But, Eddie over there says the stockholders are taking us for a ride. They're rolling in dough, you know.

Welloff: Well, we paid them a dividend last year, but it didn't make them rich.

Good Security
Willie: What did they do to deserve it?

Welloff: This big building we're in, and that annex we're putting up—our stockholders let us have money they'd saved. Their money has created jobs in this town.

Willie: They're Wall Street bankers and wealthy big-wigs, aren't they, Mr. Welloff?

Welloff: No. Most of our stock is owned by people like yourself, professional men and women, and small businessmen. People who have saved up a nest-egg.

Willie: You make it sound pretty good, here in America, Mr. Welloff. Guess I ought to be happy to have the kind of chance you had. That's pretty good security!

Let's Think

by
G. H. ENFIELD

June is a busy as well as a beautiful month. June is a month of roses, weddings and commencements. June looks two ways—backward and forward. It will soon close the door to spring and open another to summer.

Weddings and commencements are closely related. Frequently, one follows the other in quick succession. And roses beautify both. As one is a beginning so is the other. Education is a continuing process. It is ever a peephole through which one may look to behold how little one does know. How absurd for any graduate to assume the attitude that he possesses all knowledge, that there is nothing more to learn. Knowledge will not die with any man.

Wedding bells are heard all about us. It is to be hoped that the marriage will prove as glorious as its anticipation. How graciously the high school girl flaunts her diamond in the face of her teacher! To talk to her of the coming event is, for her, far more delightful than any prescribed subject in the school curriculum. She gladly yields a study of theoretical problems for a study of practical problems. For her the "good days" are ahead.

So here's a Rose for each Graduate, and a Bouquet for the Newly Weds!

Spray for Apple Trees

Spraying with a naphthalene acetic solution is said to keep ripened apples on trees for 10 days to two weeks, so they may be harvested all at once.

Milk Drinkers

Butter production in the United States is lower than it was prior to the war because more milk is used as liquid milk.

Tibetans Drink Most Tea

Natives of Tibet probably drink more tea than any other people. Each Tibetan drinks an average of 30 to 50 cups a day.

Fat 'Peps Up' Arabs

The Arabs of East Africa anoint themselves with lion's fat in order to gain courage and impress the animals.

Reasons For Paint Failure

Too much oil causes paint to dry slowly, become dirty and fade. Too little oil causes it to wear off rapidly. Cracking is caused by hard, quick-drying paints. Wrinkles show up because of improper brushing of heavy, oily mixtures. Chalking usually comes about because too much thinner is used or by skimping on the number of coats.

Annular Eclipse

A certain type of eclipse of the sun is called an "annular" eclipse. In such an eclipse the moon appears to be slightly smaller than the sun, so that when the moon moves in front of the sun a narrow ring or "annulus" of light is visible around the moon. This is different than a total eclipse in which the moon completely covers the sun.

Uncle Sam Says

Flag Day, June 14, holds significance for every American. Under the waving Stars and Stripes each citizen knows that he still possesses the most cherished of all ambitions—freedom and opportunity. He also knows he can retain these just so long as our country is economically sound, and he knows too that one of the most effective methods ever devised to keep it strong is an investment in U. S. Savings Bonds. Your purchase of Savings Bonds strengthens not only your own economy but your country's as well. If you are not now enrolled for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or, if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank, now is your BIG CHANCE to start.

SHORT STORY
Magic Month
By DYER WILSON

HELEN AND ANDY weren't laughing. They were sitting in metal chairs which were placed at right angles to each other, instead of side by side on the glider, and the glow in their eyes was replaced by anger.

"The trouble is you have no ambition!" Helen was saying as her wide set gray eyes flashed signals, "You act lazy!" The long curls were given a toss as she got to her feet.

3-Minute Fiction

Andy got up too. He gave her the one sided smile he'd brought home from war with him and shrugged his heavy shoulders. Andy had blond curls, too-tight to his well shaped head and the merriest of hazel eyes. "You can say that again," he told Helen, "I act lazy, do I?" He thought: Well, that's that and I'll re-enlist and get as far from Hyville as possible.

When he got home the radio was playing jive and he wound one leg over the other and sat in the big green chair beside it. His mother came into the room and said, "aren't you going to look for a job today, son?"

As he worried for an answer the announcer interrupted the program to tell about a soap contest. "Five hundred dollars for first prize," he said, "just tell in twenty-five words why you like Sudzy-Soap best!"

"I'm trying to think up an entry for the contest, Mom," said Andy directing his hazel eyes up and grinning like an imp, "only I'll have to have the wrappers from three bars of the darned soap."

Andy Tyson tried not to understand that she inferred he had wasted too many afternoons. He made great work of wording his entry and addressed the envelope for mailing.

Habit turned his steps into the corner store where the fellows laughed and teased him about his entry. Half angry again he hurried out of the place and tossed the letter into the near-

In the three weeks that went by he didn't go near Helen nor did he look for a job. One day slipped into the next and a laxness seemed to hold him tight. He was marking time and getting more dissatisfied with every passing hour.

THE NIGHT, a day later, when he got home to find excitement in the very air and Mom holding out a telegram he ripped it open and nearly passed out. SUDZY-SOAP IS PROUD TO ANNOUNCE YOU WINNER OF FIRST PRIZE. STOP. LISTEN TO USUAL SATURDAY PROGRAM. STOP. CONGRATULATIONS.

Next day Andy got a job. It was really easy. He felt so good — so proud of himself and ready for anything that came along he just went right after the mechanics job he saw advertised in the morning paper.

Saturday night the whole family gathered for the radio program telling of the contest and the winners.

He ripped the telegram open and nearly passed out.

"But I didn't win," Andy said helplessly when the program was over, "they didn't mention my name and that Robert Amherst won the five hundred dollars."

The door bell interrupted Andy and when the messenger boy gave him a telegram he glanced at it and ripped it open. "HOW DID IT FEEL TO BE A PRIZE WINNER FOR A FEW DAYS? STOP. THE BOYS."

Andy was half way out the door when Helen caught up with him, "where you going?" she asked. "I'll bust those guys in the nose," Andy cried, "of all the dirty, low down tricks."

Helen laughed as she read the telegram. Tears rolled down her lovely cheeks and still she laughed. Andy couldn't help laughing with her.

"If they hadn't done it we'd still be angry with each other," she pointed out, "and you wouldn't have your job—and we wouldn't be planning on getting married."

President—Harding College

Lesson from Britain

Hard times and doing without—that's still the order of life in Britain. "Austerity" is the official name for it. True, a little sacrificing is not harmful to anyone. But as a political system or way of life, British "austerity" is going to continue looking a bit drab (as a cloak for socialism), when you compare it with the private management and freedom of enterprise we know in America. Britain, in effect, is telling America what not to do.

Fact of Life

But at the moment, the British experience is helping underscore an economic fact that needs more underscoring here in America. That fact is this: increases in wages mean higher prices. Economists in our country have known for a long time that this is true, yet the popular view of it insists that the boss can go on indefinitely granting increases, year after year, without ever raising prices at all. The British know better.

It seems that Sir Stafford Cripps, who is in charge of money matters in England, is right now urging British workers (even they who own industry and run the government) to work harder without higher wages. If the Brits do this, the reasoning goes, there will be more to export to America. Then, Britain will have more dollars with which to buy the things her people need. Shrewd enough!

Another Round?

You see, the British are driving to get into as much of the American market as possible. Sir Stafford recognizes that if British workers should demand increases in wages, prices of British goods would make it impossible to compete successfully on the American market. In other words, the British (even the labor government) know that increases in wages do mean higher prices.

Is Sir Stafford counting on prices going up in America? Well, at least he is laying plans to compete with American manufacturers—and another round of wage increases over here would do much to help him, according to his own formula. Yes, indeed. Another round of wage boosts would send up prices so high that Sir Stafford would have little trouble in getting rid of everything Britain sells, from pottery to Austin motor cars.

Forced Prices

Foreign trade is good for our nation, just like it is good for the British. It's a two way street. If we fail to get into the competition ourselves, then our goods will stop moving as fast as we know our production lines can move them.

This lesson Britain is teaching us works at home, too. The one thing we want to do is to keep production going, for we know that our people want jobs and have the capacity to consume. But if we are going to keep forcing prices upward, we may one day realize that depression is here just because we have done that very thing. We can have nothing but false prosperity that foretells depression, if we force prices too high.

Have you heard Dr. Benson and the radio drama "Land of the Free"? Check your local station for time.

Sylvester Says:

"Down with dictators — and little housing czars, too." Sylvester wants to leave the room when his friends propose public housing.

He knows official reports show it costs $7. more a month to keep a family in a public housing unit than it costs to rent an average privately owned apartment or house in this country for that same family.

Why not, says Sylvester, you can't add the payrolls for 17,000 government housing agency employees to construction costs and get a cheaper house.

HOW MUCH OF YOUR BUDGET GOES TO PAY Someone Else's TAXES?

Perhaps you never realized that any of it went to pay someone else's taxes—but it DOES.

The reason?

Because certain favored corporations engaged in profit business—such as co-operative corporations, government businesses, and others do not pay federal income taxes like the rest of us. It is estimated that more than a billion dollars is lost each year to our federal treasury because these tax-exempts are permitted to escape payment of that much in federal income taxes.

Naturally, the money HAS to come from somewhere. So it is ADDED on to the tax bill that all the rest of us must pay. We have to pay Uncle Sam his share before we do anything else with our incomes. Co-ops and other tax exempts should be REQUIRED to do the same.

When they pay their full share, the income tax load on the rest of us can be made lighter.)

ALL BUSINESS SHOULD PAY TAXES ON THE SAME BASIS

Right now Congress is talking about more and bigger income taxes on those already paying their full share and more. Every income taxpayer should urge his representatives in Congress to TAX THE UNTAXED FIRST before adding additional income taxes on the rest of us. TAXING THE UNTAXED would make increases on the rest of us unnecessary.

Cotton, Host to Insects

Cotton probably leads all the cultivated crops in attracting a great variety of insect enemies. The plant is usually attractive to insects and thousands occur on every acre. Some are beneficial; others innocuous; but more than 100 species attack the cotton crop in one way or another, including some of the most destructive pests of agriculture. The roll includes the boll weevil, bollworm, cotton leaf worm, pink bollworm, cotton flea hopper, tarnished plant bug, rapid plant bug, cotton aphid, conchuela, southern green stinkbug, cotton leaf perforator, yellow-striped armyworm, fall armyworm, beet armyworm, red spider mite, grasshoppers, crickets, wireworms, and thrips.

Right Line for Clothes

What kind of line is best for hanging up the wash? A stationary rust-proof wire gives excellent service. Wire line should be cleaned occasionally by wiping with a cloth dipped in kerosene; then it is wiped dry. A rope line should be stretched between hooks so it's easy to take down between washings. Wash it in the machine when soiled. Any line should be wiped with a clean damp cloth before using. For best results you want a line that's taut, easy to reach, and, if possible, long enough to dry all clothes at the same time. About six feet is a good height for line used by a woman of average height.

Two New Hybrid Tea Roses Win Jury's Coveted Title

Forty-niner and Tallyho, two new hybrid tea roses, have won the National Rose Jury's coveted title, "All-America Rose Selection for 1949."

Both roses competed with the best new varieties of the nation's leading rose growers during two-year trials in 33 official test gardens.

Judged on the qualities of the ideal rose, Forty-niner and Tallyho achieved near perfect scores and demonstrated that they could flourish in any part of the country.

Forty-niner is probably the most brilliantly hued bi-colored rose ever introduced. Its outstanding feature is the color of its petals—a rich yellow outside which contrasts and yet harmonizes with a vivid red inside.

The yellow color is most evident in the bud which is a chrome yellow, sometimes overlaid with pink. This changes to straw yellow in the open bloom. The inside surface of the petals is an orient red which turns cherry red as the blossom ages.

Tallyho, also bi-colored, has an unusual tint that is entirely new to roses. Its coloring varies according to the weather and planting location.

While the outside of the petals fluctuates from crimson to cardinal red, its inside surface exhibits several shades of pink including Tyrian rose, China rose, phlox pink and neyron rose.

Electric fences take their toll of human lives every year. Most victims are children. Also, many animals are killed. Listed below are some of the safety rules recommended by the National Safety Council.

Do not use home-made fence controllers; they are not safe.
 No fence should be energized from any electric source except through an approved controller, one that meets the safety standards of a recognized agency. It is important that the controller, is properly installed with good ground and lightning protection.
 Do not tamper with the controller. If it needs servicing return it to the manufacturer or have repairs made by a factory-authorized representative.

Teach children not to tamper or play with an electric fence.
 Avoid locating an electric fence where the charged wire and a good ground such as a pipe line, pump, stock tank, pond, irrigation ditch, or other normally wet ground can be contacted at the same time.
 Identify electric fences, especially those near buildings, property lines, or roads with prominent signs.
 Provide insulated gate grips for opening and closing gates.

Candy Tester Gets Pay For Eating Chocolates

NEW YORK.—Peter Laureys is one of those happy men whose childhood dreams came true. He gets paid for eating candy.

There are only a handful of jobs like Laureys' in all the United States. He is a candy taster. Every day he clocks in at 10 a. m. ready for another hard day of nibbling chocolates and licking lollipops.

For the benefit of a curious and envious throng, Laureys, a beaming man of 58, donned the white jacket worn by candy tasters and went through his daily routine. From a conveyor belt he plucked a chocolate, bit into it, raised his eyes dreamily and meditated.

"Gold Coast cocoa bean," he announced. "The fondant (cream base) is a little thick but otherwise all right."

Then he yanked a lollipop from the belt, held it up to the light as a wine connoisseur would do. He flicked it with the tip of his tongue.

"Umm," he said, "should have more clarity—I mean it should be as clear as glass and smooth as a mirror. This is a little clouded."

Instructions went down the line to the operators of the chocolate and lollipop mixtures.

Laureys has been working in candy kitchens since he was 11 and almost five decades of experience have given him the ability to detect any variation in the 11 basic candy formulas.

On any given day, he said he tastes at least 300 chocolates. From the best of the batch he selects one pound and eats all of it down to the last fragment.

"And if I go to the movies at night," he added, "I always take a jar of hard candy with me."

He claims he is losing weight!

High Compression Engines

New high-compression gasoline engines for some models assembled in 1949 are being planned now by some manufacturers. Long-range goal of this development, which has been in the experimental stage for several years, is to cut the automobile owner's gasoline bill with estimates of potential savings running as high as 33 to 40 per cent. However, first models of the new engines will not reach this goal. A higher octane gasoline than is now generally available will be required by the new engines.

Use of Ammonium Nitrate

Ammonium nitrate is one of the new forms of fertilizing materials that is being used on United States farms. Its use in mixed fertilizers began about 1930. It was first used for top-dressing crops in the 1942-43 season. In the 1947 season 374,618 tons was consumed as a top-dressing alone, says the U. S. department of agriculture, which anticipates that in 1948 over 400,000 tons will probably be used for this purpose. About 40 per cent of all the nitrogen in all forms of fertilizers is now supplied by this relatively new material.

Sylvester Says:

"You've got a choice here!"
 The only country in the world where you can still choose your own style of clothing; choose to build a home of your own; choose the materials and location. Take away the right to choose, to select, and to own and you destroy democracy. On a nationwide scale here's how Americans choose to spend their incomes. They spend four times more for food than they do for housing and rent. They spend 1 1/2 times more for clothing and 1 1/2 times more for household expenses. They spend as much on liquor and tobacco as they do on homes and they spend twice as much for liquor, tobacco, travel, entertainment, horseracing, cosmetics and other things rarely referred to as necessities than they do on housing.
 It's a great country. You still have a chance to choose between freedom and government-controlled regimentation.

Britain's Atomic Pile

Britain's first small-scale atomic pile at Harwell is producing a small amount of heat. A select team of scientists at this station has manufactured its first sample of plutonium. A new 2,000 acre "atom factory" at Sellafield will manufacture plutonium on a large scale, produce electric power from uranium and pump it into Britain's unique grid system of electricity.

Santos, Brazilian Port

Santos, Atlantic coast port for Sao Paulo, was founded in 1543. In the downtown section of the Brazilian port narrow streets typical of a colonial city predominate, giving a picturesque air to this seaport. Air travel has brought Santos, which is also a seaside resort, within easy reach of North Americans.

The Inventor and Job Maker Dependent On Gold Coin Standard of Money

by PHILIP M. McKENNA,
 President of Kennametal Inc.,
 Latrobe, Penna.

How do new jobs come up in your town? Somebody has an idea. Very often it's an invention. Sometimes it's what we may call an innovation, that is, trying out something brand new in your town. If the inventor or innovator has enough money on hand, already saved for such an opportunity, he is able to buy what is needed to try it and to pay people to operate the idea to see if it works out and pays off.

When Henry Bessemer in 1856 believed it practicable to make steel by blowing air through molten pig iron he had already earned and saved considerable sums of money by use of his earlier invention, notably the manufacture of bronze paint. "Having thought over thoroughly the risks and powerful opposition I had to fight, I came to the conclusion that it was my duty to settle the sum of $10,000 ($50,000) on my wife, under trustees, so that I could not be ruined absolutely in the further pursuit of my invention or by litigation in defense of my patent rights. After this investment I had still $12,000 ($60,000) to spend in perfecting my process if found necessary."

Within 5 years of this decision over 1,000 men were employed making Bessemer steel, and in constructing new furnaces and Bessemer converters and within 12 years over 20,000 persons in various companies in England had jobs that hadn't existed before, and steel was plentiful enough to build railways and bridges of high strength compared to wrought iron or to wood.

Now suppose Bessemer and his partner at the start had not had the $12,000 or that it had been in irredeemable paper money deteriorating so that it was only one third enough in buying power in 1856 compared to its value when saved, ten years previously. Bessemer could not have made the attempt and built his first furnace.

At the risk of being personal I'll tell you my own story as an inventor. In 1937 at the little town of Latrobe, Pennsylvania, I had made an invention of a new tool material, which I called Kennametal. I believed it would solve the problem of providing material with a hard carbide tool, lathes, boring mills and milling machines with three times the speed feasible with then known tool steel. I had saved up $71,500 during the many years I had worked as a metallurgist and chemist. I resolved to risk it in trying out my inventions. I rented a storage garage in our small town of 10,000 people and to the amusement of members of the established carbide industry employed 12 men in 1938 and started to make and sell "Kennametal." The first year I did not go "broke" although no profit was made. The second year I had proved the superiority of our steel-cutting metal in so many shops that we had 50 people making tools from it and that year earned enough money to expand operations. By 1940 our sales reached $5,000,000 a year, the cost of cemented hard carbide was reduced to one-third of what it had been when I started and we were employing 300 people who thus had an opportunity to earn and save these jobs before that.

But if I hadn't had the initial cash to risk, in 1938, or if it had been deteriorating in value as rapidly as money has gone down in buying power recently I shouldn't have been able to make the start. Thus jobs may come from savings in the hands of workers and inventors. A grave danger threatens all who earn and attempt to save today. America is not on the gold standard as far as American citizens within the country are concerned. A thousand dollars saved in 1938 is today worth only about one-third as much in buying power as it was then. Suppose my invention had not been thought of until 1949. Then my $71,500 would have been insufficient to pay the workers to construct my furnaces and equipment. I could not have started with only $18,000 in buying power. A deteriorating dollar stops the opportunities for new jobs in America. Restoring the gold coin standard of money in the U.S.A. now will stop deterioration of the buying power of the dollar. This will restore the confidence of savers and enable inventors and innovators to lay aside money for their useful projects which in turn spells jobs and opportunities for many.

What can YOU do about it? YOU can convince Congress! Congress will not re-establish the gold standard until Congressmen can be made to realize that the gold standard is what Americans want. YOU can write to your United States Representatives and Senators. YOU can discuss the subject with your friends, your business associates, your civic groups, your labor unions, your Grange associations, your church groups.

Discussion brings enlightenment! Enlightenment will restore security to the savings of every American. Form your own group for discussion of the GOLD STANDARD. For literature and suggestions, write to The Economists' National Committee on Monetary Policy, One Madison Avenue, New York 10, N. Y., or Philip M. McKenna, Latrobe, Pa.

Why Jesus Died

Lesson for June 12, 1949

THE FACTS of Jesus' death were simple. They are told in the four Gospels without dramatics and without tears. Yet the drama is there, stark and terrible; and only the hard of heart can read it without tears.

There is a deeper question than what happened. Why did it happen? The first Christians were forced to think about the crucifixion. They all knew it was no legend. It was so. But they were hunted, as we are, with the question, Why? Here was a person whose teaching was truth, whose touch was health, whose life was love. You would have thought the world would welcome such a man, and give him the highest honors in its power. But instead, all it had for him were nails and thorns and a cross. Why? If God, who sees all things, knew that even his Son would come to no better end than a death of shame, why did God allow Jesus to be born, much less send him into the world, the world where the cross was waiting?

Dr. Foreman

No Other End

THERE WAS, of course, "historical reasons" why Jesus was killed. If we used the words "murdered" or "lynched" it would be nearer the truth. Jesus' death, from one point of view, was both a tragedy and a crime, and the Gospel stories show this. Jesus died because Pilate was a spineless man.

Jesus died because the priests of Jerusalem saw that if this man won, they would lose, and they would commit murder rather than be defeated. Jesus died because the Pharisees had closed minds and would not listen to truth if they did not think of it first.

He died because Judas was a traitor, because his friends were cowards and even the best of them dared to show their faces only after he was dead. He died because the Jewish people had their minds set on one sort of Messiah, and when Jesus turned out to be quite another sort, they would have none of him. Being altogether the sort of person he was, in that kind of world, at that particular time and place, you could say, as Jesus himself did, that the Son of Man "had to" die. (Luke 24:26.) No other end was possible. There was no help for it... except to turn coward and hide; and if he had been capable of that, he would not have been the Christ we know at all.

The Plan of God

THEN was Jesus simply a victim of circumstances? Was he no better than a fly caught in fate's dark web? Far from it. The Christian church has always believed, even before these stories of the crucifixion were ever written, that the death of Christ was in the plan of God. In fact, it is at the heart of God's plan for mankind.

It is by the death of Christ that God reconciles man and brings men back to himself. The Christian church believes and teaches that Christ died for us, that is, for you and for me. We believe that this was not simply Jesus' own idea, something God had not thought of till Jesus suggested it.

We believe that this was the intention of God "from before the foundation of the world." The God who is over all, works through all things, even very evil things, to make his love known.

"That The World... Might Be Saved"

MEN had long thought of God as living in far-off heaven, seated on a throne, high and lifted up. A just and mighty God, one who cannot be touched with any human weakness, a holy and infinite Lord of the universe,—such a God men knew. But on earth there walks and suffers a race of men who are slaves of sin, slaves to evil. How can such a God help such men? Not by staying on his throne and hurling down more curses. Only by doing what men would never have guessed God would dare to do—come into this world, himself as a man, translating himself into the life of man; putting his shoulder under the human load, even bearing "our sins in his own body on the tree" (I Peter 2:24).

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

A Fresh Start for Labor

Our unions have been accused of "Communism" many times in recent years. Sometimes the charge has not stood up under close examination. At other times, labor organizations have faced the music and set about the job of cleaning out dangerous, un-American elements. A recent decision of the CIO rank and file to clean house is an example of the latter. Philip Murray and others helping in this unsavory task surely merit our full support.

Clever but Risky

Most of us little know what masters the Communists are at clever organization. They do make good union workers. If they can find a union whose leadership is untrained, or members uninterested, they know how to take over. The Communists want to use labor unions as outlets for their propaganda. They want new recruits. Naturally, they want to have access to union funds. From union treasuries can come paychecks for faithful, advance-agents of Communism!

Moreover, a union base for operations is just what the agents of Communism want most. This gives them a chance to see what they can do to insure failure of the enterprise system. With the reins of union leadership in their hands, it is no trouble at all to make excessive demands upon employers, to stir up unjustified strikes and slow-downs. Industrial espionage for Russia is easy then, and in case of war, sabotage can be undertaken.

Subversive Boast

These are some of the reasons why we must get behind Phil Murray and the CIO in their effort to oust fifth columnists from their unions. More than that, we must become acquainted with the ways of the Communist. You know, American Communists have boasted that a dozen non-Communists stand ready to do the work and the bidding of each party member. This means that well-intentioned persons may find themselves doing things just the way the Communists want them done.

We must be alert for the Communist attitude, as well as for the Communist himself. In every community, good citizens, we must watch for the fellows that want to sow discord and plant the seeds of strife. If there's honest disagreement, or differences of opinion, we are free to discuss these over the conference table. When we're unwilling to do that, we may be boosting the stock of the Communists in our own America.

Which Team?

Here's what I mean by the Communist attitude. A certain California union organizer said he operated in this manner: No negotiations during a dispute until the management is made to look bad to the public, in every way. This labor official frankly stated he would not begin negotiations until the point is reached where management appeared in the eyes of the public to be selfish, greedy, crooked.

Then, said the organizer, when labor was shown to be helpless and in need of protection, he was ready for conferences. Like this labor man, there are those who sometimes fail to see which team they're on. The pity is that so many lend themselves to the purpose of those who would destroy America and all that labor stands for.

Uncle Sam Says

Everyone will have a part in the U. S. Savings Bonds great "Opportunity Drive" May 16-June 30. The armed forces are responding to the call for volunteer assistance by offering to fly a number of covered wagons to Independence, Mo., for a big ceremony marking opening of the drive. They will then transport the wagons to various States. The covered wagons typify the difference between the terrible hardships the original 49ers went through in their search for riches and security and how easy it is for the modern 49er to build for a secure future. Today you are given the opportunity to invest in U. S. Savings Bonds—the easy way to pile up riches. In ten short years you will receive $100 for every $75 invested.

Of our brave boys who risk their all
That Institutions shall not fall.

That have thruout our history
Proclaimed us as a people free,
Shall we bow down to selfish greed
Shall NAZI haughtiness succeed.

Shall race of monkeys without tail
That in Pacific now prevail
Defy us and our rights assail?
No, not while sanity prevail.

We answer them with strength and might
Because we know that we are right
God meant that mankind should be free
And not reduced to slavery.

We stand erect, sovereign, grand
We fight on sea, in sky, on land,
We'll not return from foreign shore

Tractor and Farm Machinery Owners

There is practically no one who would think of driving their car on the highway without insurance, yet tractors and farm machinery being operated on the highway can become involved in an accident even more quickly than a car. According to statistics hundreds of such accidents occur every year with usually the farmer paying the bills, simply because no such insurance protection was provided.

Our FARM LIABILITY policy not only protects you in case of such accidents but also includes, without additional charge, accidents resulting from cattle straying on to the highway, injury to anyone coming on your farm or even if your kind dog suddenly decides to take a bite at your bread man or other person, and just about every farm accident you can think of, even if you accidentally shoot some one while hunting. Yet the cost for all of this is very much less than for just one car. Any information is FREE if you stop in or call:
