Those who cannot come for the meeting come for the supper. The supper is planned and prepared by a committee. Just bring your silverware and dishes.

The Keysville Evangelical Lutheran Missionary Society will meet on Tuesday evening, August 8, at 8 o'clock. The leaders for the evening are Mrs. Robert Stine and Mrs. Floyd Wiley and the theme "Sharing Ideas" will be discussed. Brave the hot weather and come out; a special program is being planned. Just a reminder, the memory hymn is "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

By request of the Men's Bible Class of the Meadow Branch Church of the Brethren, Noah Arbaugh, Roger Wolfe, Scott Garner and Rev. William E. Roop gave a good cheer program, July 26, 8 p. m. in the Hale Old Folks Home, Finksburg, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tressler and family of Woodsboro, Md., called at Mr. George I. Harman's on Sunday and took them a nice drive from Taneytown through Emmitsburg to Gettysburg over some of the Battlefield down to Spangler's Spring then on to Littlestown to Silver Run, then across to Mayberry, on to the Taneytown road, then to Pine Mar camp, then to Pipe Creek Park for supper. Surely had a fine supper and a nice time. Hope it might happen again.

The Church of the Brethren brought 200 German high school students to the United States in mid-July, entertained them for several days at their Service Center in New Windsor, Md., before "distributing" them to their foster homes. Half of the 70 girls and 130 boys will stay with Brethren families, the others with families of other denominations. Predominantly Protestant, the group includes Catholics. The youngsters will stay a year "to promote better international understanding through learning an insight into American church, school and home life."

Members of the Church of the Brethren and friends gathered at the pond on the Willow Brook farm for a Galilean twilight service, Sunday evening. There in the quietness of the evening all sat around the pond. Those who took a special part were in a boat, back from the shore. The service was opened with the singing of one verse, by memory, of several appropriate hymns. The scripture lesson was read and prayer was offered. William Copenhaver, Lloyd Bowers and Robert Rinehart sang "Fair Galilee." The poem "Trees" was read by Mrs. Charlotte Sentz. The message was brought by the Rev. C. H. Royer, the pastor of the Church of the Brethren, Thurmont. Joan Koons and Shirley Koons sang "More Like The Master." As the sun was setting the trio sang "Day is Dying in the West." The service was closed with prayer.

S. S. PICNIC

About Two Hundred and Seventy Persons Present

Trinity Lutheran Sunday school had its annual picnic at Big Pipe Creek Park, Thursday evening. About 6 o'clock the cars came rolling in with young time, and they had it. Quite a number of families brought their supper; these all sat around the tables and shared their good things, such as fried chicken, nam and the usual picnic "goodies", with each other.

Games were played until dark when all gathered in the dance hall for the program which had been prepared.

The program took the form of an Arthur Godfrey Talent Scout Radio Show. Although Arthur was on vacation, his position was filled most adequately by James Fair. Archie Bleyer's Orchestra was gone, too, but Bill Lawrence and Jeanette Davis, in the persons of Mary Louise Alexander and Dorothy Alexander entertained the audience before broadcast time. They performed a duet, "Let's Take An Old Fashioned Walk" most convincingly. Miss Pat Koons accompanied them. Group singing led by "Bill" and "Jeanette" warmed up the audience before the show began.

At 8:30 promptly, the show came on the air with Ken Shorb, the station announcer, introducing James Fair as the M. C. In traditional manner, talent scouts, after being interviewed by the M. C., introduced their talent discoveries who then performed for the audience. Getting underway, the first talent scout, Mrs. Hilda Hopkins introduced her talent find, Diana Skiles, who charmed the audience with her vocal solo. Mrs. Mary Clingan, the next talent scout announced that her discovery, Doris Baker, would play "Favorite Polka" on the accordion. An acting team, Betty Hess and Ruth Anna Kiser, discovered by David Wilhide, then presented a skit "In The Best of Families." "Battle Hymn," "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party" were the numbers chosen by the quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bowers, Shirley Null and Ted Jester. They were the talent find of Franklin Fair. The half-way mark in the program was given over to the sponsor of the show, Mr. Robert Thomas who then gave a short talk. The first number in the second half of the program was a piano duet by Hazel Hess and Louise Shorb who were introduced by Mrs. Margaret Nail. Mrs. Naomi Baumgardner, the next talent scout, presented her talent discovery, Mrs. Mildred Stine who gave a reading. Mrs. Olive Martin and Mrs. Ethel Wilhide, introduced by Mrs. Lydia Ohler, sang a vocal duet. Janice Naylor, Alma Bair and Stanley King combined their talents to present a skit, "It Happens Every-day." Mrs. Bill Smith was their talent scout. The next big feature on the program was a talent find of Mrs. Harry Dougherty who introduced the Brotherhood Chorus which sang several selections. Mrs. Dorothy Stahl, the last talent scout introduced as her find, a speech instructor, Glenn L. Stahl who proceeded to demonstrate his talent. After a commercial given by the announcer, each talent discovery was brought back on the stage and the audience instructed to applaud for the one they wanted to win. The applause was recorded on the applause meter, but in the process of determining the winner the meter met with mechanical difficulties. Due to circumstances beyond the control of the producers of the show, Mr. Fair declared each participant a winner. Arthur Godfrey's Talent Show went off the air, exactly an hour after broadcasting time. At the conclusion of the program, Pastor Stahl pronounced the Benediction and the assembly sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

After the program all went down stairs and were served ice cream, cake, potato chips and ice tea, a treat from the school. Refreshment committee was Mr. Percy Putman, Mrs. Norman Reindollar, Walter Hahn and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Baker.

CHURCH PICNIC HELD

The Women's Guild of Grace Evangelical and Reformed church held its congregational picnic on the church lawn on Thursday evening, August 3, with a very nice attendance. Rev. Morgan Andreas led us in prayer, and a most delicious family style picnic supper was served. Entertainment for the evening consisted of a soft ball game for the men, and a "What Not Auction" for the women, with Mrs. G. Emerson Rue acting as auctioneer. This was truly most interesting and entertaining as the children were most enthusiastic, also after playing games that were conducted by Miss Fairy Frock. Later the men also enjoyed some of the surprise packages.

After the excitement neared an end, Mr. Edward Reid showed us a series of colored pictures of recent events that took place in our church and community. One of the highlights of these pictures was the "Pageant of Brides." Truly an evening of fellowship and fun was had with the cooperation of the president of the Women's Guild, Mrs. Murray Baumgardner, picnic committee chairman; Mrs. Glenn J. Martin, assistants; Mrs. Harold Anders, Mrs. Charles D. Baker, Mrs. Augustus Crabbs, Mrs. Carroll Eckard, Mrs. Ellsworth Lambert, and the many more who were so kind in time of need.

SUPPORT TANEY-TOWN'S PARK

A Write-Up Extolling its Recreational Facilities

In as much as the writer has written about many places and things elsewhere during the past year someone has suggested this: Why not write also about the attractive features of Taneytown? A number of people have already written about the new park now being constructed in our community. This writer would like to add the following comments about the undertaking:

First of all here is a suggestion: That the Park have a name, and that the people be invited to send in names for this purpose, and that a suitable reward go to the person whose suggested name is chosen. An attractive park such as this promises to be, ought to have a beautiful name to match its splendor.

The second suggestion is that when the park is completed an appropriate service of dedication be planned in such a manner as to attract a large number of people.

Here a qualification and clarification should be added. This is an endorsement of the baseball facilities in the park, and a good baseball team or teams in which to play the game. All these facilities are conducive to a healthy community spirit. This, however, is not an endorsement of Sunday baseball for the commercial purpose of raising money. The pastors of the modern trends with disfavor of the Lord's Day for commercial gain. Neither do they favor the so-called Blue Laws, many of which never existed in reality, but are being exploited to help destroy the sanctity and heritage of a holy day. Why should Sunday be singled out as the day to exploit for these purposes? Is Sunday the only day ball can be played to a successful and profitable advantage?

With this qualification, the completion of the park, with the support of those who are sponsoring it, is commended to the community as a worthy undertaking. Below are sketched some of the reasons for it. Taneytown is fortunate indeed to have a group of public minded men with vision and foresight to dream the dream of an elegant park for our community, and the ability to translate this dream into a reality. To date these men have worked day and night with no profit to themselves. They are worthy of our deep appreciation and generous support. When one looks into the record of what has already been accomplished, he is surprised to see how every dollar received, has been made to provide two dollars worth of results. Perhaps the day will come when those who have sponsored this movement, will be looked upon as benefactors of the community.

ONE BUT NOT FORGOT

(To my Friend—P. B. E.)

My friend has gone, but will not be forgot. Out into the unknown is now his lot. A great soul in the distant past Encased its Soul within his body—stayed till last And when the Fates with shears in hand His thread of life sever, he did stand Well poised for the great flight That Souls must take who enter darkest night.

The soul he bore for four score years and four To him it came incarnate free from fear, Will onward move, and find a place In a new form its future course to trace.

How fortunate that unborn child will be Who born at instant of his parting Will take upon itself that life Set free from care and earthly strife.

Do souls that fly to unknown bourne Return to earth which they left so forlorn? None yet has e'er appeared to say That he had returned e'en for a day; So there is scarce a hope that we Again on earth shall see his soul again.

Until we too attain incarnate state To be united and our pasts relate. So farewell Friend, until we meet again In realms unknown to mortal man. W. J. H. 5-2-42

HOBBY NIGHT

Observed by Taneytown Kiwanis Club

The regularly scheduled meeting held on August 2 at Taney Inn was devoted to the discussion of hobbies and their importance in tempering the attitudes and personalities of individuals. The meeting was called to order as usual by President Crum-packer, with the invocation being given by Al Baldwin.

The meeting was officially in charge of Walter Bower, member of the Public Relations Committee, who arranged for the speaker. However, he had Kiwanian Raymond Wright handle the introductory portion of the program for him. It was the privilege of the club to hear one of its honorary members, the Rev. Miles Reifsnnyder, discuss the topic for the evening.

Rev. Reifsnnyder is very much interested in the pursuit of hobbies, having developed several hobbies in the course of his busy life. He stated that the secret of real happiness is to make each task or responsibility a hobby, and thus greater enjoyment will be found for the task by approaching it from a different light. He has adopted this as his policy in life in that he endeavors to work and enjoy his work by considering it one of his hobbies.

He stated that certain types of crafts can and do have a therapeutic value and that much can be done by working on a hobby such as this. There are many types of hobbies, such as collecting stamps, antiques, and a variety of items such as outdoor hobbies as well as other types of indoor hobbies. It is felt, according to Rev. Reifsnnyder, that the release received from the daily strain and tension of our busy lives can be and is most helpful to those who pursue hobbies.

Next week several of the members and their wives will journey to Charlestown, West Virginia to attend the 9th Division Picnic. Those who are not able to attend this picnic will assemble as usual at Taney Inn for an inspirational meeting. The attention of those present was directed to the annual crab feast which will be held on Wednesday, August 30 at Big Pipe Creek Park.

A CORRECTION

July 31, 1950

The Editor
The Carroll Record
Taneytown, Maryland

May I, as a regular reader of The Carroll Record, raise a good-natured protest over a statement by Pastor Owen in last week's issue (page 8, column 1)? Under the sub-head "Presbyterian Life" he says "Presbyterian Life, the official magazine of the Presbyterian Church, won the National Award for 1950 over 98 other papers as being the best religious journal in America this year."

In the competition to which the pastor refers, awards were given by the Associated Church Press in 3 classifications: 1) make-up and general effectiveness; 2) news section; and 3) editorials.

In the first category, The LUTHERAN was rated FIRST. Presbyterian Life shared honorable mention with four other publications. In the second group, The LUTHERAN and Presbyterian Life tied for FIRST place. In the third, Presbyterian Life did not place; The LUTHERAN was not entered.

We of The LUTHERAN staff are not jealous of our rating but we are very proud of it, especially in light of the stiff and excellent competition from such splendid magazines as Presbyterian Life. Hence, the good-natured protest!

Keep up the good work on The Record.

Sincerely, Dick

SOCIAL AT PINEY CREEK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On Tuesday evening, August 1, members of Piney Creek Presbyterian Church School gathered in the grove for the annual summer social. Much ice cream, cake, potato chips and pretzels were consumed by the more than one hundred present. After which the new movie based on the story by Faith Baldwin, reminding us of our daily second chance to make our lives count for Christ was shown by Luther Ridinger. The screen was placed near the church and the seats for the audience arranged so that all could be comfortable and have an unobstructed view. The actors, being Hollywood trained brought to us very clearly the message of the "Second Chance."

NOT A SLACKER

I have not been a slacker. I have been visiting friends in Pennsylvania. It was a real pleasure to us (my wife and me) to meet again with old friends we had not seen for many months.

Eastern Pennsylvania, where we dwell is very level and the farms seem productive and the cattle alert. There are many orchards, especially peach orchards which yield large crops of fruit. WJH

BROTHERHOOD PICNIC

Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood held a picnic for its members, families and friends, Monday evening, July 31, at Big Pipe Creek Park. During the early part of the evening games for old and young were enjoyed under the direction of the Game Committee. When the Refreshment Committee had had ample time to spread the table with good things, to please the taste of all present, they were called to the pavilion for a buffet lunch.

The fun of the evening was topped with a program consisting of several selections by the Brotherhood Chorus with Henry Reindollar directing. Rev. Glenn L. Stahl gave his version of the why and wherefore of the odd looking members of the Chorus and Brotherhood. He also challenged the members of both that with the cooperation of their families as was shown that evening, they could attain greater heights than they have heretofore. A picture "Dannie Boy" was shown by Mr. Merle Ohler which kept the complete audience spell-bound and was a good lesson for haters of dogs. The president of the Brotherhood closed the meeting with a few remarks emphasizing the program undertaken by the Brotherhood and expressing his appreciation for interest shown.

FOUR-STATE FARM TOUR

Farmers from this area are now making plans to attend the fifth annual Four-State Farm Tour to be held August 18 near Martinsburg, West Virginia.

With a full-day program arranged by the Farmers' Committee, which includes several local farmers, the 1950 Tour is to be on the adjoining farms of Marion Welsh, John Welsh and Dan Folk. These farms are east of Martinsburg.

Because of the large crowds at previous Farm Tours, arrangements have been made to park all cars in an area between the farms. There will be no need for moving the cars from one location to another once the Tour gets underway.

Among the features of the August 18 Tour will be the filling of a trench soil with grass, field harvester dusting to control Japanese beetles and corn borers, grain drying, pasture irrigation, power take-off manure spreaders, stone pickers, various types of tillers for stubble land preparation, and several pieces of home made equipment.

Farm and advisory Committeemen from this area who are assisting in the Tour planning program are: County Agent Landon Burns, Joseph Horn and Paul Herring.

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEET

Miss Clara Devilbiss was hostess to the Pythian Sisters Past Chiefs Club of Taneytown Temple No. 23 on Tuesday evening, August 1, 1950. The meeting was opened by singing "Faith of Our Fathers." Scripture was read by the hostess. The Lord's Prayer; Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved as read. Roll call was answered by 15 members naming their favorite month of the year. The president, Mrs. Gladys McNair presided during the meeting. The next regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George DeBerry on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, 1950. A happy birthday to you was sung in honor of the birthday of one of the members and she was presented with a beautiful gift. The annual reunion or outing which was held at Big Pipe Creek Park on Sunday, July 30 was well attended. About 64 members and friends were present. All seemed to enjoy the fellowship. No further business, a motion was made and carried to close the meeting after singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer," closing with the Mizpah Benediction. The hostess served refreshments.

ARE OUTSIDERS WELCOME?

Yes, if they would do unto others as they would be done by. When there is an unimproved vacant lot why not park in front of that instead of parking directly in front of the entrance to a house next door? Not that the home owner wants to park in front of his home, but because he wants it free for the use of a guest who may come to call or a tradesman who comes to deliver.

Why park in front of a driveway when parking space is provided elsewhere? Lack of consideration is a great objection to having cars parked in front of one's house. Empty cigarette packs, ice cream boxes, Kleenex, parts of lunch, banana peels, candy wrappers, banana peels, orange skins, and numerous other things are left behind to be picked up by the property owners. Each day something.

Yes, "we are unselfish enough to want Taneytown to be progressive" but let's make it progressive in man-but let's make it as well as otherwise.

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTOR

If our annual government deficits are continued, they will inevitably undermine the entire private enterprise system and destroy the essential incentives to progress. THE TREE Trees are God's monuments created for man's use and pleasure. There are great trees and small trees found in all parts of the world from the giant Sequoia trees of California down to the tiny scrubs found in our forests. The giant Sequoia trees found in California and towering 300 or more feet in the air are the oldest living things on earth and were a thousand years old when Jesus trod the earth. In my youth the chestnut tree was one of the most useful, but the blight about 60 years ago, destroyed this specie and now scarce any of the specie exists. This specie furnished the rails that enabled man to divide the farm into fields so that cattle could be pastured in season therein. The dogwood is said to have once been a mighty tree from which the wood was taken that made the cross on which Jesus was crucified, but that after that it became a mere shrub whose blossom endures in the shape of a cross.

Maybe these things are true, maybe not, I don't know. Do you?

THE WHITE HOUSE VERSUS CONGRESS

The Constitution of the United States very clearly defines the duties of the President and Congress. There is nothing in our plan of Government that concedes to President Truman the powers of the Congress of the United States. The President has not changed his position.

Former President Herbert Hoover agrees that the United States and the United Nations must stand together. Unfortunately, the U.N. has failed to be a strong force in the World Peace movement.

Don't overlook the fact that Secretary General Trygve Lie served official notice on the 52 members of the United Nations that they must get busy, because conditions demand "urgent need of additional effective assistance to the United States," which is carrying too heavy a load in Korea.

Senator Taft, the Republican leader in the Senate, hasn't minced words with Mr. Truman whom he says grabs "complete usurpation of power." He insists that the President's position is NOT AMERICAN DEMOCRACY.

Congress gives plenty of evidence that it does not agree with the White House. But, apparently the two top branches of the Government will patch up their differences.

You've got to take your hats off to top columnists and editorial writers of metropolitan newspapers for the courage and efforts they have shown to patch up the unfortunate differences between the White House and Capitol Hill.

Don't overlook the fact that the Russian Communists are back and behind the North Korean army. In short, the row right up to this moment is with Stalin and his Russian slaves.—J. E. Jones.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

Even Wiser than He Seems

PLAINLY, here travels a man wise in the ways of fine motorcars.

You know that, by the four Ventiports and the rich sweep of chrome which mark his car
as a ROADMASTER.

You know it, should you trail him on the highway, by the smooth lift of the big Fireball

Only BUICK has power plant at his toe's command, by the obvious levelness of the ride he enjoys, the swift ease with which Dynaflow Drive solves his traffic problems.

What is not so plain from what you see is that here also is a man very wise in what today's dollar should buy!

For this man has all that a fine-car owner can ask for—brilliant performance, a ride without equal for gentle softness, finger-easy handling, abundant room all around him, styling that is easily the most distinguished on the highway.

Yet he paid considerably less than comparable merit costs
elsewhere:

He found fewer extra charges in his delivered price, with such things as Dynaflow Drive, foam rubber cushions, windshield washers, electric clock, even non-glare rear-view mirror included in the price.

If you know fine cars, it won't take fifteen minutes behind a ROADMASTER wheel to see that here is one of the finest.

If you have inquired about prices,
a single glance at the delivered figures establishes this as the big buy of the field.

Why not make both checks —
especially since your Buick dealer will be glad to arrange a trial run in a ROADMASTER any time you care to call on him?

FEESBURG

Some of the old country customs are slowly dying out and it seems too bad for some of these were greatly enjoyed. Among them was the tradition of giving a supper or picnic dinner after the harvest was gathered. Not every one has forgotten these friendly family gatherings for last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Mehle Wilhide held a harvest treat at their home, Tobacco Box Farm, near Keyville. Those who enjoyed an evening of fun with all kinds of good things to eat were: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide and son Fred; Mr. and Mrs. John Harner; Mr. and Mrs. William Ritter; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide and children; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilhide and children; Mrs. Maurice Yoder; Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Haugh; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haugh; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Haugh of Clear Spring, Md.; Mrs. Daycee Heb of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minnick and daughter Shirley; Miss Charlotte Breiden; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schnapinger of Baltimore; Mrs. Maurice Wilhide and Mrs. Dillinger and four children.

When I was in the Penny candy stage I spent many long minutes picking out my sweets, and sometimes even longer deciding whether to eat or save them. One day my grandfather, who often accompanied me on these pilgrimages took out his watch and told me hereafter my decisions must be made before the second hand had started on its next lap. Grandfather explained that life is one choice after another, and that decisions should be made promptly and always with an earnest resolution that there would be no regrets if they turned out poorly. At first 59 seconds would tick away before I could take a breath and shout out my decision. But we played that game for years, and eventually my mental process was stepped up to a point where important decisions could be made instantly. Equally valuable to me has been the strength I have acquired in deciding "the die is cast; there shall be no regrets." George Patton.

Arthur Crum of Baltimore spent several days last week at Merry Knoll as the guest of Paul Roelke. Miss Mary Margaret Baumgardner of Westminster spent last week with the Mehle Wilhides.

Some of the Union Bridge girl scouts are enjoying two weeks of camp life at the Scout Camp Pine Grove, near Caledonia, Pa. They are Judy Wilhite, Carolyn Myers and Kitty Jo Schlee.

A friend of mine who is a skillful primary teacher says that when she is tempted to scold she looks at the little feet before and thinks of the long, hard way they might have to travel, and somehow she always follows a different course.

The corn borer is not only in the corn this year but also in the tomato, potato and dahlia plants.

The Francis Scott Key Grange will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday evening in their hall in Keyville.

Mr. Folger McKinsey, better known as the "Bentztown Bard" died July 22 at his home on the Magogy River. He was 83. His "Good Morning" column in the Baltimore Sun was widely read because he wrote of the things and places that interested the average person. He especially loved Frederick and Carroll counties and was always referring to a familiar land mark here and there. He justified being alive by giving so much poetry and beauty to his fellowmen. No one could ask for more.

The secret of being miserable is to have the leisure to bother about whether you are happy or not.—Bernard Shaw.

The Mt. Union Sunday School picnic will be held this Thursday evening at Rocky Ridge. The children will meet at the parish house and transportation will be furnished. Through an error it was reported the picnic would be held Sunday. We regret the mistake.

This clipping was handed to me so I'm passing it on to you as follows.

The following parody by Gaston Foote was quoted in Grace Church Bulletin in Savannah, Georgia. The Gov't is my shepherd, I need not work. It allows me to lie down on good jobs; it leadeth me beside still factories. It destroyeth my initiative; it leadeth me in the paths of the parasite for politics sake. Yea, tho I walk thru the valley of laziness and deficit spending, I will fear no evil; for the gov't is with me; its doles and its vote-getters, they comfort me. It prepareth an economic Utopia for me by appropriating the earnings of my grandchildren. It fillet my head with bologna; my inefficiency runneth over. Surely, the Gov't shall care for me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in a fool's paradise forever."

STARLIGHT

Starlight! Starlight!
How I miss you tonight!
The night is dark,
The stars are nil,
The darkness is heavy,
Against my will.

Not always absent
Are the stars above,
They're usually kind
To those in love;
Even the moon shares her light,
To cheer lovers in their plight.
Thus the heavens acquiesce
That love might have a fair test.

A JOURNEY TO THE NORTHWEST

I left York, Pa., at 6:45 EST, on Wednesday evening, June 28, and arrived in Portland, Oregon, at 6:50 PST, Sunday morning, July 2.

The journey from York to Chicago was over the Pennsylvania Railroad, from Chicago to St. Paul, Minnesota, on the Vista Dome, one of the Twin Zephyrs, and thence to Portland by the Northwest Limited of the Northern Pacific. All were streamlined, Diesel-powered trains.

Some of the more important places through which the Liberty Limited passes from York to Chicago are: in Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Altoona, Canton, Wooster, Lima and Van Wert. The latter two felt the effects of the recent tornadoes. Then it crosses into Indiana and proceeds by the way of Ft. Wayne, Valparaiso, and Gary, arriving at Union Station, Chicago, the following morning at 7:30 CST. At Ft. Wayne, westbound passengers turn their watches back one hour to CST.

The Northeast Limited bound for the Northwest leaves Chicago at 11 P. M. A ticket agent in Chicago said to me, if you do not want to remain over until that train leaves, you can catch a train out of here in 15 minutes, going to St. Paul, where you can get an earlier train for Portland. I accepted his suggestion and on arriving at St. Paul at 2:30 that afternoon, I discovered that the earlier train was a slower one. Therefore, I decided to remain over and take the 9:00 o'clock train the next morning out of St. Paul. This was the same train I would have taken had I stayed in Chicago until 11:00 o'clock the night before. So I had a wait of nearly 19 hours between trains in St. Paul, Minnesota. Then I began to appreciate more fully "the patience of Job."

Could I not have made better train connections in Chicago for Portland? you ask. Yes, I could, but I wanted to take a different route from those taken the two previous summers. Each route offers a different scenery.

There were 19 passenger coaches and Pullmans attached to the Northeast Limited when it pulled into Spokane, Washington. The morning it left St. Paul, the Great Northern Railroad Company, on account of the switchmen's strike, took off its second train to the West Coast, and so many additional passengers were transferred to the Northeast Limited. A pusher—a steam locomotive—helped our train over the mountains.

In future articles, interesting and significant information will be given of places through which one passes enroute to the Northwest.

Carl W. Feucht of Elkton, Md., has just received his first Constructive Breeder Award from the American Jersey Cattle Club with national headquarters in Columbus, Ohio.

More cattle are on feed than a year ago.

The fly-control this summer cannot be completely successful without the active cooperation of everyone.

A Ton of Gold Certificate has been awarded a registered Jersey cow owned by William Fahnestock, Jr., of Centerville, Md.

Learn and Obey Farm Safety Rules.

It's important to have some supplementary feed available, such as grass silage, when pastures get short this summer.

Removing cows from the pasture a few hours before milking will help eliminate objectionable milk flavors which are caused by some pastures.

Unless forage is made into silage within safe moisture content ranges, preservatives will need to be added.

Sprays are better than dust for corn borer control.

WHY GO TO CHURCH

Some go to church to look about
And note who did not come;
While others go to church it seems
To chew chewing gum.

The way they work at the task
One thinks their jaws would tire;
As strenuously they work as firemen,
Putting out a fire.

How can THEY help the preacher man
His sermon to apply!
They get the attention, not he,
Of people like you and I.

Others go to church to worship God,
To sing and to pray,
To learn about the Golden Rule,
So to practice it in the Christian way.

is the same type of engine that powers America's costliest cars—yet it sells for hundreds lower than most sixes. And Ford's "Six" costs even less.

pays off in savings and smoothness of operation. It's an auto-

God Give Us Men!

Lesson for August 6, 1950

THERE ARE WAYS of saying "No" without using that short and ugly word. A writer in the Christian Century has pointed out three of these. One is to say, "This is not the time . . ." Another is to say, "I agree with you in principle, but . . ." and the third is to say, "I am with you—but don't quote me!" What we need nowadays is men who are willing to stand up and be quoted, quoted for good and against evil. All men are "against sin" in general; it takes a braver man to be against it in particular.

Dr. Foreman

In a large town in Kentucky recently the grand jury indicted the whole police force. In the course of the jury's report they said they had heard a good deal of testimony about rotten places and practices in and around town, but most of those who had come before the grand jury had said, in effect, "Don't quote me." It is hard to make any indictment stick if people who know damaging facts are not willing to come out in broad daylight and testify. So abuses go on and on, all because every one is too shy to point an accusing finger.

Man of Courage

WE NEED more men like the prophet Elijah. God providentially removed from him all the usual temptations to keep his mouth shut. He had no investments to protect—all he had he wore on his back, and that was not much. No family depended on him. He did not represent any institution. He could speak his mind—he could speak God's mind—without worrying about the effect it might have on investors, or his family, or some institution. Of course Elijah had Elijah to look after; but for himself he was not afraid in the least. Lone figure though he was, he stood out against lies and exploitation in varied forms. He stood out against popular opinion, and that is not easy for any normal man.

So many thousand votes or voices must be right we think. But Elijah did not think so. He knew that "one man with God is a majority." He stood out against official opposition; this was more dangerous still. The crowd's favor or dislike comes and goes, the crowd soon forgets; but a tyrant like Ahab (and still more like Jezebel) neither forgives nor forgets a man who has stood up to contradict and condemn him.

Then Elijah stood out against the most difficult enemy of all; organized religious leadership, that is, the false prophets. Even in the Christian era that organized church has sometimes taken the wrong side of some important questions and persecuted men who were on the side of right. But church tyranny is at least as bad as any other kind, and it takes a brave man to face it.

In Our Time

THANK GOD for all the Elijahs! Every generation has seen a few, and we have them in our time. They have not all had the spectacular success of the original prophet of Carmel, but they are here all the same.

In public life one thinks of those senators—and your state is fortunate if it has even one who stands up for persons against profits, for the advantage of all against benefits for a few, true representatives of the people as against invested privilege.

In church life we need more men like that pastor down in Alabama who was recently "fired" because he would not take his stewards' advice and use more "tact" in his sermons against sin in general and drinking in particular. It takes courage to do such things. And Elijahs are needed in the business and professional worlds, not only in the pulpit.

Is Liquor a Sacred Cow?

THE LIQUOR traffic alone, to name but one public evil, is doing our fellow-citizens a vast amount of damage. What other business makes necessary wards in hospitals to cure its customers?

But how few men will stand up and be quoted for the facts! Newspapers will editorialize against gambling when they won't against liquor; gambling doesn't advertise but liquor does. Count the big newspapers or magazines which for the benefit of their readers are willing to go without the income which liquor advertising produces.

park system for our country. These great national parks. These are visits of the nation. Today there are 169 great national parks. These are visited by millions of people every year who are thrilled to look upon the natural beauties and grandeur of what God and man, working together have fashioned.

And likewise one of the chief prides of our modern American cities, are the beautiful parks that adorn so many attractive spots. And now the park system is reaching down to small communities like Taneytown. It is no longer uncommon to see a community, no larger than ours, with a beautiful park, the pride of the people.

This undertaking for Taneytown reminds us of the most famous lecture in American history by Russell Conwell, a noted divine of some years ago. He named it, you recall, Acres of Diamonds. For 50 years he gave the famous lecture all over America. He gave it more than 5000 times. Many people heard it over and over. It enabled them to see that their greatest wealth lay in abundance at their doorsteps. It was based on the story of a merchant who loved diamonds, the congealed sunlight. This merchant sold his farm and roamed the earth in search of the precious gems which lay in abundance at the doorstep he had left behind.

This story serves to remind us that one of the attractive gems at our doorstep today, is the park now under construction. It will be a part of the intangible wealth of Taneytown. It will remain as an emblem of the culture and good taste of the people of our community.

Everyone can have a part in this undertaking. One way to help is by joining the Recreation Association. The membership is so small that even the children can afford it out of their allowance. Many people have not only sent in their membership fee but have inclosed a generous contribution in addition. Others have donated labor. The ways by which each one can help is suggested by the imaginary conversation between two dew-drops:

"Help one another," the dewdrop cried,
Seeing another dewdrop right at its side.

The warm summer breeze will drive me away
And I shall be gone ere the close of the day.

But if I help you and you help me,
We'll make a brook and run to the sea."

So let us help one another and we'll make a park that beautiful to see.

We are proud of the reputation we hold for serving our community. We honor the confidence our friends have in us and pledge to all the highest quality merchandise at fair prices.

As stockholders in our own wholesale company (American Hardware Supply Company, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania) whose normal inventory is more than $2,000,000 we are in a position to draw from as we need -- regardless of quantities we purchase -- nationally advertised merchandise at the lowest competitive prices.

By owning an interest in our own wholesale company we are assured at all that we will not unjustly raise prices due to scarcities nor will we deal in the so-called gray or black market.

We are hopeful that present world conditions will not necessitate the closing of many factories that might cause runaway prices but whatever the future holds we intend to do everything within our power to serve our community well at the lowest possible price.

THRILL SHOW
AT FAIR GROUNDS, TANEYTOWN

A stock automobile with an intrepid daredevil at the wheel will soar more than 70 feet through the air from a highly elevated rampway and crash head-on into two cars parked on the track in the dive bomber crash, one of the 27 thrilling features the Joie Chitwood Auto Daredevils will attempt when they present their two-hour circus of death at the Taneytown Fair Grounds, August 10. Bill Allen of Boston, Mass., a youngster trained in the art of stunting by the inimitable Chitwood, has been given this dangerous assignment for the program here. Allen broke into the stunt business just a year ago, progressed so rapidly that Chitwood allowed him to have one of the major roles in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature "To Please a Lady" starring Clark Gable and Barbara Stanwyck. This picture will be released this fall, and Allen's daring will be one of the highlights of the film.

Allen's hazardous rides is one of the more dangerous stunts ever devised for man and motor. Allen knows the exact speed necessary to insure himself of a perfect flight from the elevated runway to the parked machines, but once his car crashes into the objective cars there is no telling which course his mount will take. It often lands with a resounding thud on the two machines and settles down in a cloud of escaping steam. On other occasions the crash rolls end over end or side over side down the raceway.

A steel crash helmet and a safety belt are the driver's only protective equipment. The greatest danger lies in the possibility of his motor cutting out after starting up the runway for a short leap is the most damaging, because if his car strikes the ground before hitting the parked machines the result is the same as if an auto were piled into a concrete wall at 70 or 80 miles an hour.

Allen also will take other daring chances with his 22 thrill-producing companions in the 27 stunts here.

Three stock sedans of an ancient vintage will be completely demolished in the sensational dive bomber crash, one of the 27 daring stunts the Joie Chitwood Auto Daredevils will attempt at the Carroll County Fair Grounds, near Taneytown on August 10. The dive bomber crash is one of the most hazardous feats ever designed for man and motor and makes a fitting climax for the two-hour circus of death.
