LIONS CLUB NEWS

The Lions Club met on Tuesday evening at Taney Inn with Lion President Robert Feeser presiding. Lion Merwyn Fuss, program chairman for the evening, introduced as guest speaker Rev. Ernest Colwell, of Keymar, Md.

The theme of Rev. Colwell's speech was, "What is America?" The talk was developed around the story of a stranger who came to America and was flown all over our fair land. This person took note of our beautiful land, of our wonderful factories of business (the stock exchange, etc.), our political conventions, and after seeing each of these he asked, "Is this America"? The guide answered no, this is not America, but let us follow this man who is returning from work.

This man, let us call Bill, returns from work to a modest home where he enjoys dinner with his family. After dinner the family get into their automobile and go to the beach and then to a movie. On Sunday morning they go to the church of their choice to worship.

This, the guide informs the stranger is America. In other words, the one charasteristic that makes us different from other Nations (most of them), is liberty. America is not scenery, business, politics, but rather people. It is therefore up to each of us to protect the Liberty of the

CHURCH OBSERVES 200th ANNIVERSARY Program to be Presented

Bicentenary Pageant will be Presented by Trinity Lutheran

The Trinity Lutheran congregation of Taneytown, Md., will re-live two hundred years of history at eight o'clock on the evenings of January 22, 23 and 25, 1951. The bicentenary pageant entitled "The Seven Books of the control of the Trinity" will be presented in the auditorium of the church by a cast numbering about one hundred and sixty members of the congregation.

This event is not a mere matter of local denominational interest. The pages of early Maryland history are turned to depict the coming of the first German pilgrims down the Monocacy Trail in the 1730's as we wently ocacy Trail in the 1730's, as we watch the processional carrying their large family Bibles and bearing axes to clear the wilderness. We see these DP's of early days, Palatinate refugees from the persecution of Louis XIV, as they settle in the vicinity of Taneytown.

The story of the pageant unfolds as the ancient calf-skin bound books of the church are opened for the confirmation class by the Rev. Glenn L. Stahl, the present pastor of Trinity. The first book presents the first recorded incident, the baptism in 1788 of a child named David Nauman. The second book depicts the dedication of a new church September 12, 1813. Since both of these episodes belong to the German language period of the church, they will be presented in that mother tongue. From behind the Iron Curtain has come music for the two hundred year old hymn to be sung by the choir. The score for "O heiliger Geist kehr bei uns" was especially copied for the pageant and mailed to Maryland by a native Luth-eran pastor in the Russian zone of Germany.

The third book, portraying the passing of the German language from the church, reveals the inevitable contact the church and the passing of the older and the youngflict between the older and the young-er generations and features the be-loved old Pastor Grobp who dis-pensed medicine along with religion. A parochial school conducted by the church in the 1830's re-convenes

It was in Tan-eytown that Meade made his momentous decision to join all his friends the attack.

Book Six recalls the dedication of modern Trinity Church and features several of the musical numbers actually presented in a sacred concert on Monday, May 9, 1897.

Book Seven, shining, new, and still to be written, is unwrapped by the Pastor of the church and presented to the young people of his confirma-tion class. As they receive it, they indicate the chapters they hope to

You know that old saying "The eyes have it"? Betcha, that those wise old Scots are holding the bag—that Stone of Scone. Eh? That 458 pound block of sandstone was removed from Westminster in England and that relie is still missing. and that relic is still missing. The Scots have always had it in their craw anyway and have still a bitter taste for that governing country.

In school we were always taught that England had the most wonderful diplomats the world over, knowing just when and what to say at the critical moment. That still stands, that attitude of theirs and in their calm and easy manner they seem to calm and easy manner they seem to get by, Eh?

My dad was in partnership once with a Scotsman and he always said they were the most loyal of people. So that stone is hidden and the Scotsman will die before he gives the

That nice telephone operator who answers to the "O" on your dial phone surprised me with, "Oh, I hear that someone is very happy this morning." It was "Peter Pan" singing as though his little throat would burst.

So at last, we have that cute little store out the 71 highway of which Your Observer has been telling someone to open plus the gasoline station. Now, you just watch that store grow and grow and grow.

the hug was a bear one.

These days, the stores are taking inventory in every city. Why not take inventory of ourselves and replace only fine stock and I think you know just what I mean. Betcha all the electric companies who supply the juice wish it was Christmas all year round. During the holidays, Your Observer was dining in a restaurant and the food was excellent so much so that I asked to see the manager. I then proceeded to tell him how fine the proceeded to tell him how fine the food was and how perfectly it was cooked and how very much I enjoyed it. To my surprise he answered bowing, "Lady, you are the first one who took the time and trouble to tell me that. People come here and I know they enjoy the food but it is nice to have the outsider relate it to us." Such a little thing, folks, to please anyone. As this New Year is upon us let us express our appreciation now let us express our appreciation now and then no matter for whom it may

There it was, General MacArthur's voice speaking to Al Jolson and Al Jolson singing for the soldiers as he has done hundreds of times for the American Stage. What a thrill to hear it all the

LIFE

Life is a link between two eternities-the past and the future. The past is gone and cannot be recalled. Memory alone abides. Thoughts good or bad alone survive, if good all is well, if bad all is ill.

The future is ours to use or abuse. If used aright prosperity is likely to follow, if ill used failure will follow. We are the architect of our own des-

The number of a man's years are three score and ten and if by reason of strength they become four score then those added years are full of sorrow. I have passed the four score mark but have not yet experienced that sorrow. I await the end with patience knowing it must soon arrive. W. J. H.

FIVE YEARS OF SQUANDERING

Senator Byrd has summed up, in telling words, the financial experiences of this government since the end of the last war.

"In these five years," he said, "we have squandered the greatest prosperity ever to come to any nation. The Federal government has collected far more taxes than ever before. It has spent far more money on purely domestic-civilian programs than ever before. It has spent far more money abroad than ever before. It has spent far more money for defense than ever before without achieving preparedness. And we have failed to curtail the greatest public debt any nation has ever known."

This is not a matter of crying over spilt milk. It is true that the ghastly waste of the past cannot be retrieved. But the failures of yesterday can serve as a guide for today and tomorrow.

Pending measures, which have the near-unanimous approval of Congress, will bring the cost of national defense alone to $30,000,000,000 a year and perhaps much more. In the battle for survival in which we are engaged, such costs may continue indefinitely. In the light of this, what conceivable excuse can there be for domestic spending which can either be postponed or abandoned entirely? To take a single outstanding example all the public-power fanatics are still in full cry with their proposals forbillions of dollars for socialized electric plants and facilities. Yet these would not produce a single kilowatt of juice which would not be produced by the heavily taxed, publicly regulated utility industry if it is given the chance.

Many more examples could be cited-including the all-inclusive social security scheme whose cost cannot even be accurately estimated. It is said that the Russians look forward to the collapse of the capitalist nations, particularly the United States. from inner weaknesses. If our criminal governmental waste continues, the Russians will eventually be proved right.-Industrial News Review.

Man May Be Only 50,000 Years Old, Scientist Reports

CHICAGO-A question somewhat like the one about which came first the egg or the chicken has long bothered scientists. They have wanted to know which came first in human evolution: man's body structure or his brain?

A University of Chicago anthropologist has come up with a theory, based on laboratory tests with animals, that the brain came last, a mere 50,000 years ago. Some investigators assume that man has been on earth around 1,000,-000 years. Sherwood L. Washburn, associate professor of physical anthropology, has a different timetable: Trunk and arms-10,000,000 years old.

Leg structure (upright posture) -1,000,000 years. Skull structure and brain-50,000

Washburn has been able to modify drastically the skull form of adult rats by cutting certain muscles in the heads of day-old rats. This surgery parallels evolutionary steps. He said his work indicated that changes in the bony structure of mammals might not have required the many slow evolutionary steps previously assumed.

He said only a relatively few changes in genes—the factors which control heredity-possibly were required to bring the enlarged skull capacity man needs for his brain.

The evidence checks with other recent findings that much of earth's past is not so distant as once sup-

An atomic calendar developed at the university which determines age by the amount of radioactive carbon left in matter tested has fixed the end of the last ice age at 12,000 years ago instead of the 25,000 once assumed.

Also, recent studies of the fluoride content in fossil bones in England have indicated that fossil man is much younger than once thought.

Mascot Wakes Fraternity, But Perishes in Blaze

WASHINGTON, D. C .- Terry, a fraternity house mascot, gave the 30 occupants of the house the first warning of fire and enabled them to escape. But the small dog remained in his master's thirdfloor room and was suffocated.

The dog's coughing roused his owner, Melvin Chrisman, 24, a George Washington University graduate. He gave the fire alarm while his roommate aroused the other occupants

The dog has been credited with saving the lives of the men.

Rumanian Doctor Flayed; He Used American Drugs

VIENNA, Austria - Because a Bucharest physician recently prescribed American drugs for two of his patients he has become a snakein-the-grass to the Communists.

Among other things, the doctor was described as "a submissive servant of the imperialists", a "tool of inveterate reactionaries," "a man without professional honor" "a worshiper of American and specialities."

All this because he prescribed 4,000 tablets of glutamic acid and three bottles of aureomycin made by an American firm for a father and his son.

The official publication of the Rumanian ministry of health identified the offender as Dr. Stefan M. Radulescu and devoted more than 600 words to an editorial pointing out his "errors".

After asking rhetorically where Dr. Radulescu heard about these American "wonder durgs," the editorial said that they aren't necessary in the Rumanian peoples de-

Red Farmers Must Furnish Wool Quota Without Sheep

BERLIN, Germany-The farmers in the Mechlenburg, a Soviet zone state, were angry and bewildered.

They were ordered by the gov-ernment to deliver individual quotas of wool regardless of whether they had sheep to produce it. Sheepless farmers were told to buy their quotas from others. Sheep owners said they had no surplus wool because they needed it for clothing. As wool growers, they had not received a clothing ration from the government.

Russians Claim Discovery May Be Key to Life

now claim a discovery which they say may even help science create life from nonliving matter.

The purported discovery is in how living cells-of plants or animalsare formed. It has been given official Soviet blessing.

However, Robert C. Cook, editor of the Journal of Heredity, published by the American genetic association, says the theory is "complete nonsense and a "part of a gallop back into the middle ages or before" by Soviet party line science.

Russians Add Link

The Russians say, yes, this happens, but that they have found something new in addition. The new thing, they claim, is that some living cells come from tiny living particles which are not cells. The cells generated by these particles are different from ordinary cells and form a vital part of the new plant or anical.

These particles may be "a con-necting link" between living and nonliving matter, claim articles in Soviet newspapers.

Soviet biology is approaching the solution of the great problem of the processes of qualitative changes in nature and the transformation of nonliving matter in living. This problem can be solved by the Marxist-Leninist philosophy and used the methods of materialists dialectics, the articles declare.

Credited to Woman

The theory also offers support to Soviet claims that wheat has been changed into rye by grafting plants together. The strange particles supposedly figure in bringing this

Prof. O. B. Lepeshinskaya is credited with the discovery. The Articles say Prof. Lepeshinskaya has found "proof" that the tiny mysterious particles can become cells, under the right conditions. She is said to have photographed tiny grains of white matter in the yolk of birds' eggs, tracing their development

Prof. Lepeshinskaya first published her findings in 1945. But in 1948 leading Soviet scientists, who believed in cell division, tried to suppress her views, the article said. The articles do not say what happened to these men, but says they "held" leading posts at the time, and "were" the leaders of the Histologists' scientific society.

The articles bitterly attacked "American imperialism" and one hailed Stalin as the "great coryphaeus (chorus leader) or science.'

A neighbor took Brownie to a wooded area and fired one shot at the animal's head. Then he placed the dog in a shallow grave and covered the body with sand.

The next day, Mrs. Herman said, Brownie showed up at her back door-whining. She again rushed him to a veterinarian who soon had him patched up.

Splints were removed from the dog's fractured left hind leg recent-He's frisky and playful-with only a slight limp. The vet said that the bullet fired by the neighbor had ricocheted off Brownie's skull without inflicting serious injury.

Unknown Soldier of Last War Could Be a Woman

WASHINGTON. - Could the unknown American who will symbolize the American dead of World War II be a woman?

Legally, in the Army's opinion, it is possible. The law provides that the person to be enshrined in Arlington national cemetery beside the Unknown Soldier of World War I shall be an unidentified American who lost "his" life in the armed services overseas. But the Army thinks congress did not intend this use of "his" to bar a woman from being honored.

Actually, there seems to be less than a chance in a million that the unknown dead of World War II will be a woman. The army says it knows of no woman buried among the unidentified dead of that war in U.S. military and national cemeteries overseas. It is from those unknown dead that the unknown American will be chosen.

Should the remains of an unidentified woman member of the armed forces, who lost her life during the war be found overseas buried in one of the cemeteries between now and next fall, her code number would be included in the drawing that will start the selection process on or before Octo-

THE SAVED MONEY OF MILLIONS OF PEOPLE PROVIDES THE IMPLEMENTS OF PRODUCTION-THE PLANTS AND MACHINES THAT MAKE AMERICA'S INDUSTRY POTENT IN PEACE AND MIGHTY IN NATIONAL DEFENSE.

A prayer for our Soldiers

BY MAJOR GENERAL ROY H. PARKER

Chief of Chaplains, United States Army

A lmighty God, the Creator and Preserver of all mankind, we commend to Thy special care and keeping those serving in our Army. Though they be in the midst of dangers, do Thou send Thy guardian angels for their protection. Walk beside them as they go through the valley of the shadow of death.

Knowing that all good things come from Thee, grant them courage and loyalty, through a firm faith in freedom's cause, in the present conflict. When sacrifices are called for, let them be made in the knowledge that Thou art the rewarder of Thy servants Enable them to live valiantly and serve nobly, in the full realization that no man liveth unto himself. Grant them clear minds, strong bodies, resolute wills, and pure hearts free from hatred and bitterness, renewing them wills, and pure hearts free from each and every day with strength, like strong men of old, who against enthroned wrong stood with confidence and courage.

Awaken in them a lively faith that will keep them close to Thee.

Enable them to rest their cause upon Thy Word that though the foe be strong, yet knowing the cause as they battle for the right, they can never fail Fill their hearts with the assurance that with Thee nothing is impossible and that all things work together for good to them that love Thee.

If it be Thy will that injuries be sustained, let them experience the touch of Thy healing hand and do Thou bless the means and the ministries employed for the restoration of their health.

In these difficult times, when the forces of evil are running rampant and many hopes seem about to be crushed, fill their hearts with an abiding sense of Thy reality and the certainty of Thy continual presence. Enable them to look to Thee when loneliness and longing overtake them; fulfill their yearnings by granting them Thine own companionship and fellowship. Enable them to realize the full meaning of Thy promise, "Lo. I am with you always."

Thou who are the Protector and Helper as well as the Giver of victory, grant unto them every good gift of body and soul and unite us with them in faith and love unceasing. Amen.

January marks the kick-off for Western Maryland College in launching the initial drive for financial support. The college has set a mark of one million and a half dollars to be raised to secure new buildings and an increased endowment program. Committees have been appointed for each town and district in Carroll county to interest its citizens in the local college and to subscribe funds for the drive. There are quite a number of Alumni in our district which should further the aim of the college a great deal. However, judging by world standards, only a few of Western Maryland graduates can be classified as wealthy and so the majority of the million and a half dollars will have to be subscribed by average citizens. Whether there will be enough of these interested in the college is hard to say, but since West-ern Maryland College does play an outstanding influence in our community, it is hoped that the goal of the college will be made.

The Lions Club entertained the Union Bridge Girl Scouts Tuesday evening and the Girl Scouts in turn entertained the Lions with a short comedy skit pertaining to Scout life. Mrs. Charles Lovell, scout leader presented each girl with a scout pin. The scouts attending the dinner were: Eleanor Baker, Rose Marie Grabill, Carolyn Myers, Kay Luttrell, Judy Williar, Kitty Jo Schlee, Patsy Gray, Geraldine Graham, Francis Bohn, Shirley Picketts, Carolyn Davis, Kathy Roach, Betty Eyler, Teresa Wisberger and Nancy Roelke.

Doors to Harrisburg huge Farm Show building, bulging with every conceivable agricultural exhibit, opened Monday at 8 A. M. for the giant 1951 exposition. If the weather continues favorable all attendance records expect to be broken. The keynotes of this year's show is wartime food production. Also a special fea-ture is the discussion of farm problems before more than 10 thousand farm groups at meetings of 30 state wide organizations. Roy Boone, Ross Wilhide and Walter Ecker were among those attending the show on Tuesday from our community.

Monday evening was P. T. A. night at the Elmer Wolfe school, but evidently only a few people knew about it as the auditorium wasn't half full One grade in particular didn't have a parent present. Miss Ruth Devore and Mr. Wooden were present to answer questions concerning the problems of children and education, and it must have been very discouraging to find such few parents interested. The Elmer Wolfe school has a serious problem to solve—that is, lack of discipline of the students, and it would seem to me to be the problem of the parents. The P. T. A. is supposed to the common meeting. place teachers and parents to get together and solve problems, but if the par-ents stay away, the teachers certainly can't be expected to solve them alone

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilhide attended the Farm Bureau convention in Baltimore on Tuesday. They were impressed with what some of the speakers had to say. Mrs. John Flook, state president of the associated women told of her experience with farm women of European countries, who visiting this country were amazed at the easy life farm women of America lead. They expressed their belief that farmer's wives in the United States could never survive the rugged life of the European farm women. Dr. Symons, who just recent ly returned from visiting many European countries told of the almost primitive farming methods used. The reason being lack of money to buy modern equipment and farms being too small to justify such machinery. The European farmer could produce much more if these handicaps could be overcome, but tradition and man's unwillingness to change causes many unnecessary hardships.

Mrs. David J. Reedy, of Westminster, replaced Miss Barbara Wolfe who resigned from her position as teacher at the Elmer Wolfe school during the holidays. Mrs. Reedy is the mother of three children and had taught previously for a number of years. She is the secretary of Car-roll County's Children's Aid Society, is connected with the Rosewood State Training School and a member of the American Association of University Women. The Union Bridge "March of Dimes" committee are making plans to hold an all day bake sale within the next two weeks. The community is asked to support this project with the same generosity as in the past. If anyone in the community has an original idea on how to raise money for the campaign please get in touch with any member of the committee. All ideas and help will be greatly appreciated. Capitalists

Glossary of Terms

LONDON, Eng.—The Communist newspaper London Daily Worker has printed a glossary of familiar terms in what it called "the new double talk." It says the capitalist press uses the following terms: Aggressor - Anybody who is prepared to resist foreign occupation.

Appeaser-A man who would rather trade with a socialist country than drop atom bombs

Fellow Traveler-Man who does not think every Communist ought to be shot. Free Nations- Satellites of the United States. Patriot-Man who thinks every Communist ought to be shot.

Russian Menace—Soviet offer of trade and peace. Satellite-Country independent of America.

Chimpanzee Learns To Ask for 'Mama'; Gives Bronx Cheer

STATE COLLEGE, Pa — Dr. Keith J. Hayes of Yerkes laboratories of primate biology, Orange Park, Fla., reports he has a chimpanzee that can speak. Viki, says Dr. Hayes, can give whispered versions of "mama," "papa" and "cup"—and can exchange a Bronx cheer with you.

The three-year-old chimp "has been raised as a child in our home," Hayes told the scientific But he said the significance of his experiment did not lie in Viki's learning to say a few words "but rather in the great difficulty with which she learned them, and in the particular nature of this difficulty." He says she has been trained to address a male and female researcher as "mama" or "papa" if she wants something. And she says "cup" when she wants a drink. About that Bronx cheer-Hayes says that chimps are old hands at making such sounds, apparently for their own amusement. But, whereas with your run of the zoo chimp the cheer is just a solo job, with Viki it's a two way deal. You give her a cheer and she'll come right back at you.

Why do chimps ordinarily fail to learn to talk "even when exposed to human speech over a period of years?" Hayes' conclu-

The difficulty is much like that experienced by the human "aphasiac"-a person unable to use articulate speech or comprehend words because of a brain impairment. In the Chimp's case, Hayes figures, it's due to a brain which has not developed "as a typical human brain does."

New Horde of Genghis Khan Plans Paraguayan Invasion

GENEVA, Switzerland - Descenlegendary war lord Genghis Kahn are about to launch another invasion-but this time it will be a peaceful one.

The international refugee organization has announced that 700 Kalmucks, descendants of the war lord, are going to settle in Para-

After three years of waiting in Germany, because countries seeking immigrants passed over them because of their Mongolian origin. Paraguay finally has agreed to settle them on 900 acres of fertile vallev soil southeast of Asuncion.

Oppressed by their Soviet masters and then gathered up by Adolph Hitler for slave labor in Germany during the war, the Kalmucks gravitated to each other in the IRO camps. They have defied and frustrated all efforts to separate them or settle them in smaller groups.

Paraguayan industrialists and financiers have granted enough land to provide approximately 50 acres to each family. With the ground will go a wooden house, a cow, a horse, 12 chickens and farming tools. During their first six months in Paraguay, the Kalmucks will also receive wages to permit them to buy food.

The ancestors of the Kalmucks came out of western Mongolia with Genghis Kahn in the 13th century in his ill-fated effort to subdue western Europe. They settled in Russia, farming and breeding

Heaviest Rocket Zooms Eighty-Five Miles High WHITE SANDS, N. M .- The biggest, heaviest rocket ever launched from White Sands ordnance proving ground has zoomed 85 miles into the stratosphere at a speed of 3,600 miles an hour.

Its war head was four times as big as the one the Germans began rocket work with. It was called a "flying laboratory" because it carried so many instruments. These were tossed clear during the flight and came back to earth by parachute for checking.

It was the fourth big rocket tested, all of which went 80 miles or higher.

The instruments had been under construction for over two years.

Stomach Pumps on Earthworm May be Aid to Biochemistry

Stomach pumps hitched to earthworms may help prevent man from involuntarily poisoning with new drugs, declared Dr. Howard B. Lewis, chairman of the department of biological chemistry at the University of Michigan, in outlining methods by which the body protects itself against toxic substances.

The Michigan biochemist said that a technique perfected by Dr. Stanley Cohen in the university's medical school, whereby worms are fed through a stomach tube and the products of their metabochemists how to render harmless otherwise poisonous substances when they enter the human body.

Dr. Lewis declared that the body protects itself against the accumulation of poisonous compounds by three main methods.

First, he said, injurious substances, such as metallic salts, may be excreted unchanged so rapidly that any marked toxicity is prevented. A second type of detoxication results in a chemical alteration of the substance, such as the neutralization of any strong acid, synthesis by which the harmful compound is converted to a non-toxic product, or destruction, usually by oxidation. The third chemical defense which the body can throw up against any poisonous invader is to combine it with a less toxic product which can be excreted readily.

Through the hitherto neglected study of comparative biochemistry, Dr. Lewis said, we may learn how the human body protects itself by studying the chemical defense of dogs, cats, and that important invertebrate, the earthworm.

At Dixon Springs in southern Illinois, pastures treated with limestone and phosphate yielded 3,164 pounds of dry matter an acre, whereas untreated land yielded only 1,069 pounds.

Scientist Sees Big Future For California's Timber

"I had a glimpse of the future of California's forest development and found it most heartening."

This statement comes from Professor F. S. Baker, dean of the school of forestry on the Berkeley campus of the University of California. He was the college of agriculture representative on a trip through the Carolinas, Florida, and Georgia, arranged for the 'representatives of a dozen forestry schools by the United States forest service and the school of forestry in the University of Georgia.

The southeast, Dean Baker reported, is in an upward cycle. Rapid tree growth has encouraged large timber - using industries; these, in turn, have been the incentive to better management practices to improve tree growth. We can expect a similar development on the West Coast as a result of the demands of a swelling population.

Management practices in the southeast include thinning of forest stands, maintenance of soil fertili-ty, prevention of erosion, and means of eliminating unwanted species. Also appreciated is the fact that properly controlled fire has its place in the management of timberland. They use it to get rid of seedlings, shrubs and unwanted trees; to kill the spores of certain fungus diseases; and to prevent build-up of inflammable material that may result in uncontrolled fires.

Comparing California's forests with those in the southeast, Dean Baker observed, "Our trees are slower in getting started, but once they are on their way, they grow steadier and longer."

JOAN ROBERTS called me the other day. Rather suprisingly, for I hadn't seen her in years, and after the usual exchanges, "How are you? It's too bad we don't see one another more often," she got down to the point.

"Did you know your cousin Ethel was being married next month?" "I was aware of the fact," I replied, rather grimly. "I've already been to three of her showers." "Well, since I'm to be a brides-maid, I simply have to have one, too. I've decided on next Tuesday, and I thought you might like to

This was a "miscellaneous" shower, which, as everybody knows, means that you can bring anything from the bookends Aunt Hattie sent you for Christmas to the pillow slips you picked up during the January sales for $1.98.

Our household, unfortunately, never seems to yield any hidden treasures at the right moment, so I bought a rose bowl at the little gift shop up at the corner.

I didn't get it wrapped until the last minute, as usual, and as usual, I found that there wasn't a bit of fresh ribbon in the house.

BUT I still had the pearls to wrap up. Much as I disliked the idea, I had to pass them along to the next bride in the family-although Ethel didn't seem like family to me, because until recently we hadn't seen her in ages. I didn't even know whether she remembered the pearls, but the shower would provide a good opportunity to give them to her. So I did them up the best I could, not forgetting the little card that always went with them.

You know the old routine by now. When the scout posted at the door to watch for the guest of honor called "Here she comes!" the lights were turned out, and there was comparative silence broken only by a few giggles from the 'teen-agers. Then, as Ethel stood in the doorway, everyone yelled "Surprise!" on went | you vote. the lights, and she put on a fairly convincing display of amazement.

We all sat around in the usual circle, with Ethel opening the gifts and Joan reading the accompanying cards. Then they were passed on to be duly admired and exclaimed over, and returned via the circle to Ethel. The donor of the seventh gift, by tradition to be the next bride, turned out to be a stoutist matron who lived down the street and had three strapping half-grown boys.

TT was getting late, and we were hopefully sniffing the fragrance of the coffee brewing in the kitchen when Ethel reached 'way down for the last package. The white paper and red cord looked rather plain after all the other pretty wrappings, and I was sorry that I hadn't taken time to dress it up a little. "This must be something extra," Ethel said, giving away the fact that all presents had been accounted for in her busy little mind

She gave an embarrassed laugh when she saw the shabby box, anticipating another joke. But when she opened it, there was only the string of small, well-worn pearls. Not real ones, of course, but well matched and graded. As Joan read the card, a burst of incredulous laughter rose throughout the room. "A pearl for every year of bappiness when you wear these on your wedding day.' Why, it isn't even signed." Ethel's voice was shrill over the buzz of comments in the room. "This must be a joke. As if I would wear those-those pearls with my wedding gown. I think the person who did this should own up. And I have a pretty good idea," turning and looking pointedly at me, "who

"Why of course, Ethel, I'll own up," I said quickly.

I stood up. "Why of course, Ethel, I'll own up," I said quickly. "And I did hope that you might wear them at your wedding. But I can see that it was a mistake on my part, and I'm truly sorry for what I did. But there's one consolation," I couldn't help adding when I saw the look of triumph in her eye. "You'll not get a duplicate of these at another shower. You see, they belonged to our grandmother.' Released by WNU Features.

Only the Beginning

Some of the people supporting proposed "federal aid" to education bills admit frankly that these represent only a beginning. Once the principle had been adopted, they say, increasing amounts could be expected. Those acquainted with the way federal projects grow and grow and grow, would naturally expect this to happen. Within a decade the federal government would be carrying the chief burden of public education.

Is this bad? Just to suggest the idea is to show the danger. Decisions of policy for public education would be made on the national level. After such nationalization of the public schools, it would be easy to obtain legislation requiring all students to attend public schools for "national indoctrination" purposes. This is exactly the type of thing we decry in Russia. These were the methods that made millions of school children just like Hitler and Mussolini wanted them.

How to Control To favor federal aid is to argue for the exchange of our present public school system, with locally controlled public schools operating alongside many private and church related schools, for a nationally financed and nationally controlled educational system. No two ways about it, federal aid would mean undesirable federal Controls do go along with financial assistance, and our federal government has no record to the contrary. In fact, the Supreme Court of the United States has already declared, in the case of farm subsidies that the federal government may control that which it subsidizes.

Political Spoils When we recall powerful influences within our own generation to get political influence into nearly every American institution, it doesn't take much imagination to see federal control of the American school system following any general federal aid program. We can all remember when, at election time, WPA workers were told: "Re-'member who your friends are" when

Dependence upon Washington sets up a political system, super-deluxe model. I would look upon the nationalization of American education, which could be expected to follow federal aid bills, as a decisive step in the development of a totalitarian state. Should America nationalize her education, it is my conviction that full nationalization of industry, distribution, and agriculture would follow within a gen-

Let's Keep Freedom We must remember that the one nation in the recent war which was able to arm itself against the axis powers was not a socialized state. The one nation that was able to lend arms to its allies was not a socialized state. The one country now being called upon to help all the rest of the world is not d nation. The one nation nov a socializa providing the greatest educational system the world has ever seen is America. I am not one of those who believe that in order to remain great we must discard suddenly the methods and principles by which we became great. Two years after England started nationalizing her industries she was forced to vote power to the government to tell her citizens where to work and what to do! We want none of this. But, if we nationalize education through so-called federal aid, we will get all of these ills and more!

Life of Action

Lesson for January 14, 1951

SCRIPTURE: Mark 1:21-39.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms
145:10-21.

THEY say that in four regions of the United States there are four different questions which are asked of newcomers. In the New England states they ask a stranger"How much do you know?" In the wealthy northern states they ask, "How much have you got?" In the South where pedigrees are so much treasured, they ask: "Who was your grandfather?" But out in the wide-open West they have only one question: "What can you do?"

Action in Religion

IT is a fair question. If the answer is "Nothing," then it does not make any difference at all what a man can answer to the other three

To be sure, they look at this differently in the Orient. According to the ancient philosophy of the East, it is only the inferior man who rushes around doing things. The superior man sits and thinks. The West's admiration for action, and the Orient's admiration for contemplation, enter into religion itself. The typical Oriental "saint" may be a man who never turned his hand to a piece of work in all his life. The typical western "saint" is likely to be a very busy and active sort of person.

It is all the more interesting that Jesus combined both the western and the eastern ideas of religion. He was a man of prayer and meditation, yet a man of strenuous life

Life of Action

THE Gospel by Mark, reliable tradition claims, actually comes from Simon Peter. During Peter's missionary travels he used to speak often about the life and work of Jesus, and young John Mark would take down notes of what he said. Then later Mark worked up into a connected "gospel" many of those story-sermons. It is easy to believe the tradition, because this gospel sounds so much like what would appeal to Peter, a man of action.

At any rate, in Mark we have very little said about Jesus' teaching, a great deal said about what he did. Jesus does not have a spare minute, not a day off. What about the rest of us? Suppose some biographer were to write up you who read these lines. Supcould use in his story only your actions, not your words or ideas. Would there be enough material for him to write a book?

Words of Power

WHILE Mark almost never tells us what Jesus taught, he does tell us that Jesus was a teacher. In describing the synagogue-service in Capernaum Mark tells us the people were astonished, and even two demon-ridden men were struck down with terror.

What Jesus said that astonished the people and alarmed the demoniacs we do not know. Possibly Peter, who was there, may have been too busy watching people's faces to hear what Jesus was saying. However that may be, Jesus is here introduced to us not only as a doer but as a thinker and teacher.

Life is not all action; it is also thought. Jesus' acts were full of power; so and not less so were his ideas, words, teachings. Look at the rest of us again: We may be full of talk, but how much power is there in our ideas?

Straightway

ONE word is found many times in Mark's stories of Jesus: "Straightway" as the older versions have it,-that is, immediately. It is not just Mark's style. It is his way of bringing out something important about Jesus' life and habits.

There were no blank spaces, no pages unwritten, no empty gaps, no waiting-around, in Jesus' life. In his life one activity followed on the heels of another. He had no time to waste, and he wasted none.

Let the honest reader try to make a realistic budget of his time. At the beginning of a week let him draw up a kind of chart showing how he expects to spend his 16 waking hours each day.—so much for work, recreation, study and so forth. Then at the end of the week let him ask himself: Where did my time go? He will often have to admit that he did not really live the whole day, any day,-only parts of it. Living as a Christian means living one's full time, living one of those 16 hours a

One Stroke of Pen Could Make British King Richest Man

LONDON, Eng.—The British kings could be the richest men in the world with one stroke of the pen -if they so desired. And all because the Socialist government is nationalizing more of his revenue.

This curious situation causes constitutional lawyers to have night-mares whenever they think about it.

For one thing, if the Windsors ever tire of being kings and queens and want out, it would require a final decision on whether George III and subsequent monarchs up to Queen Vichria turned over their estates to the crown for an annual revenue permanently or only as long as Britain had a continuous royal family.

If it isn't a permanent deal, that stroke of the pen from George VI or his descendants would boom the Windsors from the just-enoughmoney-to-scrape-by class to the richer-than-Croesus category. It probably will never happen but no one can stop lawyers from speculat-

In 1760 George III—he lost the American colonies—made a deal for 89,000 pounds ($239,200) a year in return for giving over to the crown certain lands. As succeeding rulers turned over more land, the annual guaranteed income grew until George VI now gets 410,000 pounds (1,148,000) a year.

The crown lands comprise some of the juiciest real estate in Britain today. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of mineral-rich land and priceless chunks of Picadilly Circus (London's Times Square) and its finest shopping street, Regent

The income from these lands is close to 2,000,000 pounds a year (5,300,000) which is a tidy profit on the deal for the people.

The Windsors, theoretically, would get all that and infintely more besides. There is the foreshore of the whole British coast, for example, all the land between high and low tide. Buckingham palace and its art treasures, which include five tons of gold plate, a conservative 6,000,-000 combination, ($16,800,000) and several other great castles.

All this could be had with a stroke of the pen-so the experts believe.

FRENCH LICK, Ind. Police had searched everywhere for $6,-300 worth of watches and jewelry stolen from a local jewelry store but were unable to find it.

The major said yep, all a mistake. Dorsey kept his civilian clothes. The army kept its uniform.

Social Birds Weave Own Apartments, Curator Says

WASHINGTON, D. C.-Dr. Herbert Friedmann, curator of birds of the U.S. national museum, reports birds build apartment houses. One species builds nests as big as fair sized human dwellings as much as 25 feet long, 15 feet wide and 10 feet high. This is the social weaverbird of South Africa. An "apartment house", woven out of sticks and "apartment straws, sometimes over a period of several years, may contain as many as 5 individual nests.

Such a mammoth structure is the community product of a flock consisting of from 75 to 80 pairs.
"The bird," Dr. Friedmann says,

"is about as sociable as any bird could possibly be. It is always found in flocks, feeds in flocks, and breeds in large, many apartmented compound nests. Instead of each pair of birds having its own breeding territory, each flock seems to have a definite territory. The boundaries of these territories are seldom crossed by individuals of other flocks."

Football Players Have Wild Ride On Runaway Bus

a great many wild rides in this history of the world—all the way from Paul Revere to Lady Godiva -but one of the most exciting was taken by 33 football players recent-

The players were on a bus driven by Jerry Tobin, 41 driver for Western State corage of Gunnison, Col. The ride lasted for 17 minutes around near perpendicular mountain cliffs at a 110 miles an hour clip. Tobin was still shaking as he told about the ride. "We had just started down Monarch pass when I noticed my air pressure had dropped from 115 to 30 pounds and I didn't have any

"We kept rolling and gaining speed and I kept pumping my speed and I kept pumping my brakes to try to get up some pressure, but we couldn't."

The perspiring driver pulled on the emergency hand brake, but that was "like trying to stop it with a

"My big concern was a railroad track at the bottom of the pass that usually is blocked on Saturday by ore trains snaking up the mountain," he said.

"I yelled at the guys to start shifting when the bus came to a curve. I told them to shift to the left at a left turn, and to the right at a right turn. They did, but at every curve the bus was swaying so much the fenders were rubbing

Going 110 Miles An Hour

"When we came to the railroad track, there was nothing on it. I looked at the speedometer. It was registering 110 miles an hour.

'Once I heard something whiz past my head. Later, one of the players said it was one of those sexy pocket books he had been reading, but threw it away because he didn't want to be found dead with a book

Tobin said the players appealed to him to smash the bus into the side of a mountain, but he refused because he was going too fast and such a move would have killed most of the passengers.

Tobin managed to bring the bus to a safe halt at Salida.

"But just before that I met two cars on the road," he said. "I guess I was praying when I managed to slip between them. One went off on the shoulder, thank

After the bus was repaired at a Salida garage, the team went on to Canon City, Col., and won over Adams State College, 35 to 14.

New Underwater Camera Needs No Surface Help

LAKE PLACID, N. Y .- Development of the first completely mobile underwater motion picture camera that is entirely independent of surface assistance, has been announced by the navy.

The camera is operated by a diver-photographer, equipped with an "aqua-lung", which is a selfcontained diving unit.

The photographer, with swim fins on his feet, is able to swim with the camera in any direction and to depths of about 200 feet.

The navy reported the camera had external controls for the lens diaphragm, focus and start-stop switch. It weighs 107 pounds in air and can be adjusted to have positive, negative, or neutral buoyancy underwater. It can be released to rise freely to the surface.

Only $70,000 Remains Of Large Overell Estate

It has been three years since she was acquitted of killing her parents in a yacht explosion. At that time the estate was valued at $282,391.18. Included in items reducing the estate's value are: $63,000 for trialattorneys' fees; $19,140 for her support the past three years: $71,399 for state and U. S. taxes; $9,367 for estate-attorney fees, and $10,000 to the executors.

Boy, 12, Is Given $1,000 For Being Kind to Old Man

MIAMI, Fla.—Because he was kind to an old and despondent man, Sammy Yampolsky, 12, is $1,000 richer.

A Russian immigrant, Herman Bush, 62, left Sammy $1,000 from the estate valued "in excess of $5,000". Bush died of an overdose of sleeping pills. He left a note directing that none of his relatives be notified and that no funeral services be held. He said that Sammy had been kind to him. Sammy's father, Joseph, a salesman, had been ill and unemployed for some time. The boy said that he would give the money to his father.

Astonishing Results Produced by New Arthritis Treatment

NEW YORK, N. Y .- A new blood plasma treatment for arthritis victims is reported to be producing astonishing results.

A group of patients crippled with rheumatoid arthritis for several years have been restored to normal buoyant life following the administration of plasma taken from mothers 48 hours after childbirth, it was reported.

The group, seven women and one man, told a tale of suffering for years, many of them spent in wheel chairs or lying helpless in bed. Then they demonstrated their recovery by a series of calesthenics, including rope jumping.

The plasma method, which in many respects yields results even more striking than those obtained by cortisone and ACTH, was originated by Dr. Louis W. Granirer, associate physician in charge of the arthritis clinic at the Queens general hospital, Jamaica, N. Y.

The most remarkable effect of the plasma, Dr. Granirer reported, is its apparent long lasting effect. Whereas the effect of cortisone and ACTH wears off generally in a few days or weeks, the effect of plasma has so far appeared to last for as long as 24 months without recurrence of the disease.

The plasma also appears to have other important advantages over cortisone and ACTH. One is the availability of the plasma in large amounts as compared with the two hormones, which are still relatively scarce—and therefore expensive. The other advantage lies in the fact that the patient does not have to be hospitalized.

Another advantage, is the complete absence of any kind of side effects, such as sometimes result from the prolonged use of cortisone and ACTH.

One-Man Strike Leaves Town in Timeless State

ROME, Italy-The town of San Vito al Torre in northeastern Italy doesn't know what time it is-all because of one man.

He is Ferdinando Miani, 70, sexton and church clock winder, who went on strike for a pay increase. The town's clock on top of the belfry is stuck at 2:45. Laborers sleep late in the morning, husbands arrive home late for dinner. All this for Ferdinando's strike. Explaining why he asks a pay increase, Ferdinando said: "How can the mayor expect that a man of my age and skill should climb 250 steps daily for $1.10 a year?'

Dead Python Vindicates Worker Who 'Saw Snakes'

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. -A number of San Francisco street cleaners still have the shakes.

Recently a couple of cleaners tripped over a big, fat, twenty-foot python at the city dump. It was dead, sears and blisters indicating it had perished from burns received in a recent grass fire near the

Where the reptile had come from was not established. But after its surprised finders, Joe Diaz and Adolph Soldani, had turned it over to the fire department, they got the shakes. They realized it had been in the vicinity for at least two months and perhaps longer.

About two months before Joe Mortesini, working at the dump, came staggering up to fellow employees to gasp:

"A snake, a big green snake, big-gest green snake I ever seen, he chased me and I threw rocks at him and he kept chasing me."

Diaz and Soldani and other workmen remembered that Mortesini had quit his job after being kidded by other workers. That gave the gang working on the dump the City employees recalled also that a half dozen dogs had disappeared recently near the dump. This might explain the sleek appearance of the

Electronic Brain to Help Develop Guided A-Missiles

PRINCETON, N. J.-A $1,400,000 electronic brain designed to help develop guided missiles such as a rocket-borne atom bomb has been unveiled by the navy.

It is the largest and most accurate electronic computer ever built to evaluate the performance of guided missiles and to aid in the air protection of American cities.

Officials at the R.C.A. laboratories, who built the computer for the navy, said it is expected to "save many millions of dollars in the design of guided missiles and also solve many riddles encountered in the air defense of our cities."

$1,500 Venice Lace Cover Adorns a Holiday Table

NEW YORK-What was likely the most elaborate of the many table set-tings exhibited in New York stores during the Thanksgiving season was in Lord & Taylor's linen shop.

The cloth, ten feet long and fashioned of point de Venice lace, was on a table set for thirty-six diners.
Originally made for the United States Embassy in China, the cover, with four dozen matching napkins, was offered for sale at $1,500.

ANNUAL SERVICE REPORT The purpose of the Children's Aid Society is to care for neglected and dependent children by placing them in foster homes if their own homes prove to be inadequate. The children are brought to the attention of the Society by interested citizens, by the schools, by the parents themselves or on commitment by th court. Every effort is made to correct the home conditions and to keep the child in his own home if at all possible.

Most of the children accepted come from broken homes and suffer from all sorts of nervous troubles due to the home environment. During the year 21 cases were brought to the Society. Of these 5 were from broken 3 were deserted by their parents and 2 are from a home where the mother is very ill with tubercu-losis. In the other eleven cases satisfactory plans have been worked out for the children to remain in their own homes or with relatives.

The Society passed from care 4 children who became self-supporting, 10 were returned to their own homes, 3 were adopted by their foster parents, one was placed in an institution and one boy enlisted in the army. 45 and one boy enisted in the army. 45 received physical examinations; 29 were given dental care; 7 were seen in the Child Guidance Clinic; glasses were provided for 5 children; 3 were fitted with shoes in the orthopedic clinic; 5 had tonsils removed and 6 were examined in the chest clinic. were examined in the chest clinic.

It became necessary to help 33 families of low income by supplying shoes and clothing so 97 children might be kept in school. A great deal of time is spent in working with families having domestic troubles: 26 ilies having domestic troubles; 26 families with 78 children have been given counselling and the children have been able to remain in their own homes

Our thanks go to the people of Carroll County who provide the greater part of our funds; to the County Commissioners for their ap-County Commissioners for their appropriation for the board of the children; to the individuals, service clubs and all others who cooperate so well in meeting the needs of the children in foster homes and of the families with all their problems..
