The annual business meeting of the Historical Society of Carroll Co., was held Thursday evening, January 18th. The chief subject for discussion was whether or not to lease the home to the Red Cross for emergency purposes. It was decided to let the Red Cross have it for a period of one year. Following the business session a very interesting paper was read by Mr. Millard Lescallet, of Western Maryland College. His subject was "Secret Confederate Agents Operat-ing in Maryland." Refreshments were served. Those present from Taney-town were: Mrs. Ernest Ritter, Mrs. Chester Neal, Miss Anna Galt, Miss Amelia Annan and Miss Beulah Eng-

Tuesday night, between midnight and morning, a robber or robbers, broke a window in the men's rest room of Wagner and Sharrers (now Wagner) Service Station at the end of town, and ransacked the office carrying off much goods. So far the loss is not yet known. Among the things taken were cigars, cigarettes, 27 boxes Valentine candy, other candy, chewing gum, flashlights, mirrows, tail pipe extensions, radio aerials, clock, book of three cent stamps, box with two dozen eggs, razor, small amount of money, etc. The above articles were all from the office. A watch dog was in the warehouse, and from marks on the door leading into the office, prove the dog made a desperate effort to get the door open. State Trooper Poteet and other officers are investigating the case.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NEWS

The January meeting of the Elementary school Parent-Teacher Association was held on Tuesday in the school auditorium with approximately 300 patrons in attendance. No regular business was discussed and the evening was devoted to a program designed to point out the vital importance of the elementary reading program. A play "Our Book Friends" was given by the combined third grades under the direction of Miss Case and Mrs. Koutz. Numerous familiary beat characters. familiar book characters, such as Pied Piper, Red Riding Hood, Tom Sawyer, and many others were rep-resented in the three scenes. Particularly appealing was the scene showing the wedding of the Painted Doll. A strip film "Cinderella" was also introduced to show the use of visual aids.

After the play, Miss Ruth DeVore, county elementary supervisor, spoke on "Recreatory Reading in the School." She traced the program from its inception in the first grade with the use of nursery rhythmes to the upper grade use of hero stories. The program also includes nursery tales, fairy tales, myths, Bible stories, and poetry. The talk was very well received by those in attendance.

ANNAPOLIS LETTER FROM SENATOR HOFF

Activities of the Legislators at the State Capitol

With your cooperation I will attempt this year, as in past years, to give your readers a factual report of the activities of the State Legislature during the current 90 days session.

The Session opened on January 3 and, aside from the introduction of the Bills recommended by the Legislative Council, most of the time has been spent in the organization of the Honse and Senate and in preparing for the inauguration of Governor McKeldin. The real legislative work was begun this week. On January 4, sixty-nine bills and one resolution were introduced representing the major portion of the work of the Legislative Council during the past year. This Council, composed of the ten Senators and ten members of the House of Delegates, meets regularly during the time that the Legislature is not in session to prepare recommended legislation and to submit these Bills to the Legislature at the beginning of each session.

In addition to the Legislative Council other committees appointed by the Governor have been at work studying specific problems of the State and making recommendations concerning

Notable among these committees is the Maryland Tax Survey Commis-sion (also known as the Case Commission) which has made an extensive study of Maryland tax administration, license laws of all types, income taxes, gross receipt taxes, highway use taxes and property assessments. Many of the Bills submitted by the Legislative Council have resulted from the findings of this Commission.

Also worthy of particular men-tion is the report made by the Com-mission on Revision of the General Corporation Laws of Maryland. This Commission has reviewed and com-pletely revised the corporation laws of the State in order to eliminate obsolete provisions, consolidate subject matter and make required substantive changes. The last revision of our laws pertaining to corporations was made in 1908. The revision rec-ommended by this Commission is empodied in Senate Bill 26.

In this and successive weekly letters I will discuss many of the more important Bills presented to the Legislature. A Bill designated as "SB" will refer to a Senate Bill. "HB" will designate a House Bill.

OCCUPATIONAL LICENSES SB. 1: This is one of the series of Bills recommended by the Case Commission relating to licenses. It provides for the repeal of the following state licenses: Billard table, bowling alley, carnival, circus, cleaning, dying, construction firm, garage, horse and jack, laundry, motion pictures, music box, pinball machines, plumbers and gasfitters, show, soda water fountain, storage warehouses, theater, trading stamp company, vending machine and wholesale dealers in farm machinery.

As a substitute for these present State licenses the Bill authorizes the counties of the State to impose a license or privilege tax for revenue on these activities when located within their respective boundaries. Incorporated towns will be permitted to impose these licenses on the particu-lar objects or activities within the town limits. Outside of these limits the county would have the sole taxing or licensing authority.

The Case Commission points out in its report that since the passage of the Sherbow Bills in 1947 the towns and counties have received the revenues from these licenses and that it should logically follow that the same towns and counties should be imposed with the responsibility of levying and collecting the fees posed and with the responsibility for the enforcement of the law.

If this Bill should pass as now written the only licenses of this type that would remain under the control and administration of the State would be trades, chain stores, restaurants and cigarettes.

What a mob on New Year's Eve in the big city of New York and we enjoyed it all on T.V. at midnight at the stroke of 12 when 51 was ushered in! Thinking of T.V. the sweetest show is "Carnation Time" with Gracie Allen and her husband George Rurns. The latter surely has come in Burns. The latter surely has come inburns. The latter surely has come into his own prominence with the T.V. show as the public did not realize what a sweet man he was while on radio. With "The Show Goes On" with the toastmaster none other than R. Q. Lewis trying to convince the buyer with his telept which he has a proceed. with his talent which he has engaged for the evening and before the buyer makes his decision, R. Q. Lewis holds up one of the lighters to present to that individual first saying, "If this lighter for the lighter saying the saying of the lighter for the lighter saying lighter fails to light, we will present your favorite charity with fifty dollars." Believe it or not, twice now the lighter failed and that Ascot Company had to make good the promise! Ugh!

Was in a store recently where an elderly man was trying to make up his mind to purchase a T.V. set and I stood there fascinated by his expression. "This", said I, "Is a beautiful set and a grand piece of furniture for your room but the small table model does just the same!" "Well, the only reason I hesitate about purchasing one is that I rise a 6 A. M. and I am afraid it will keep me up at night!"
"Well, Mister you have only one hour on me as I rise at 7 and T.V. shows do not appear all hours of the night. The nice part, you can switch to any you like and the youngest show is one hour! Besides, you will never is one hour! Besides, you will never regret the buy for all the pleasure it brings to any household and for all ages!"

Have you noticed these days very little mistletoe is sold around the holidays as in former years and you know the answer to that one! The young men of today are bolder but not braver! Eh?

Early in the Fall, Your Observer saw an old stable just filled to the roof with old newspapers tied in neat bundles. I had never seen so much paper in my life at one time and the man who was the owner was com-plaining to me that he did not know what to do with it to get rid of it. Your Observer smiled and said, "Mr. if you save that paper for three or four more months, you won't be sorry for it will be worth plenty then"! Old newspapers have surely taken a jump! IS THE WORLD IMPROVING

We think it is. Once during the Civil War, so the story goes General Grant was holding a council of war with his subordinate officers when one of them asked if there were any ladies present as he had a risque story to tell when General Grant said no, but there are gentlemen. The story was never told.

We spend much time in idle gossip which might be used to better advantage. All humor is not found in loudness. There is humor on every side if we but turn our attention and tune our ears to its reception. The funny thing however is that we think every misfortune that befalls another is funny. This especially so of the hard of hearing but never of the blind whom we all pity.

Radioactive phosphorus from the Oak Ridge laboratory of the Atomic energy commission is aiding research on insect pests, the U.S. department of agriculture reports. A first field test of the "tagging" of insects with radioactive material developed information of practical value, and also showed that radio isotopes can make much easier and more definite essential studies of the flight range and distribution of insects.

Preliminary experiments explored ways of "tagging" insects. In Oregon, federal and state entomologists devised two ways of getting the radioactive phosphorus into the bodies of flies and mosquitoes reared in the laboratory. The first practical application was the release near Corvallis, Ore., of groups of thousands of tagged flies. This was followed by recoveries in baited traps set in various directions and at varying distances.

The "tagged" insects included houseflies and two common species of blowflies. The scientists found it relatively quick and easy to go over the catches with a device that registers radioactivity and so identify the radioactive flies. Houseflies were trapped in all directions and at distances up to 12 miles.

These results may prove of practical value in fly control. Since entomologists have learned that some strains of flies have developed resistance to DDT poisoning, they have wanted more information as to how far resistant flies were likely to spread. The 12-mile flights revealed by this first "tagging" experiment show that resistance is likely to spread widely as resistant breeders scatter into areas where DDT has destroyed non-resistant

Reliable information as to flight of mosquitoes is wanted as an aid in establishing the size of control zones for protection either by poisoning or by drainage. Another field in which entomologists need more exact knowledge than they have is on flight of blowflies.

New Drug Fails to Stop Tropical Animal Disease

They said it might become one of the most spectacular drugs of all time - a drug that would enable farm animals to live and stay healthy in insect-ridden tropical

That's the way "antrycide" shaped up when British scientists first tested it as an injectable medicine for preventing trypanosomiasis, a deadly blood disease caused by microscopic parasites. These parasites are spread from animal to animal mainly by tsetse flies.

But the blood parasites found a way to fight the medicine, and they seem to be getting the upper hand. They have built up resistance to flies have acquired resistance to

In one of the most recent tests, conducted by research veterinarians in East Africa, injections of the drug failed to prevent the disease in a test herd of 60 cattle kept in a fly-infested area. All but two of the cattle died of trypanosomiasis with-

From 1/2c to $3750

A famous coin collector once advertised an offer of $75 for every 1913 Liberty-head nickel sent to him. During the 1920's and 1930's it was common practice for one to look at his change to see if such a nickel turned up. Finally the public came to realize that 1913 was the year the Liberty-head design was changed by the U.S. Treasury to the buffalo pattern. Strangely enough six Liberty-head nickels with 1913 date were struck off at the mint which didn't show up in cent exchange of one of these nickels was made for $3750. This is a high price for a coin of 25 per cent nickel 75 per cent copper content whose intrinsic value at the time of issue was about half a cent.

Lard Exports to Cuba

United States exports of lard to Cuba last year accounted for 21 per cent of the total lard exported from this country. Shipments of United States lard to Cuba have been larger than those to any other country in each of the last three years, 1947, 1948 and 1949. Cuba imports about 95 per cent of its lard requirements and, during the period 1939-1948, about 95 per cent of these imports came from the United States. In addition to providing an outstanding market for lard, Cubans are also important purchasers of other pork products from the United

Riboflavin in Milk

Keeping milk covered while heating helps save riboflavin, an important B-vitamin. Riboflavin is destroyed easily by light and this destruction is hastened by heat. Tests show that milk boiled in the light lost considerable riboflavin, but milk boiled in the dark lost very little. It is important for the housewife to take every precaution against losses of this vitamin in milk, because milks is the food on which children and adults depend for most of the riboflavin they need for best health.

FLUID BREATHING

Radical New Test Planned

CHICAGO - Can humans breathe a fluid instead of air? Sounds fantastic, but that is what scientists are experimenting with in one of the boldest projects being pushed at the Illinois College of Medicine. The U.S. Navy is supplying the funds.

The experiment, employing fluid in which oxygen is dissolved under pressure, will be tried this fall. A monkey will be dunked into a tankful of oxygen-impregnated

Sounds more than fantastic, but not if you remember two things. Lungs use oxygen, not air. And many babies start life with amniotic fluid in their lungs. This is expelled when they take their first breath of air.

A man with liquid in his lungs would be very durable. He could go deep into the ocean. He could survive starts and stops in rockets that would crush the chest of an air breather.

Begun Four Years Ago The university's breathing project was started more than four years ago to investigate the cause of hyperoxic convulsions. This condition results when men are given oxygen at the pressure required for Dep water dives. It causes convulsien and death.

Fluid breathing became an offshot of this study. This possibility was discussed by Dr. S. M. Stein and Dr. Warren S. McCullouch.

They agreed that knowledge obtained from the project had shown that such breathing was theoreticaly feasible. The function vital to ife is to get sufficient oxygen through the membrane coating of the lungs to the lung blood capil-

Ordinary water would not do. It contains traces of dissolved free oxygen-enough to sustain fish with their large gill areas for extracting it-but not enough to prevent suffocation in an air breathing ani-

Program Outlined Dr. Stein has outlined this tentative program: A pressure tank will be filled with a liquid of the same chemical composition as amniotic fluid. Pure oxygen will be forced into the liquid under pressure. This step is similar to carbonating soft drinks with carbon dioxide gas. The test monkey's throat will be sprayed with an anesthetic. This will knock out the reflex center in the throat—the trigger mechanism that causes men and animals to choke when fluids enter the wind-

Then the animal will be immersed. The tank is equipped with devices for checking on all body functions necessary to life. There will be no danger of losing the animal through mishap, Dr. Stein

If the experiment is successful, means will have to be worked out for its practical application to man.

A helmet, with the special fluid surrounding the head and filling the diver's lungs, conceivably could be used for deep sea work. A rocket traveler could be immersed in a tank or breathe the fluid via tube from a container strapped to his back.

Lightning Turns House Into an Electric Toaster

UNITY, N. H.-Lightning entering the home of Russell Schultz through the electric lines, turned the house into an electric toaster.

The first indication that there was something wrong came to Mr. Schultz when he tried to get out of bed. An electric shock threw him back again and again as he placed his feet on the floor.

Finally, he reached the cellar in heavy rubber-soled shoes. He was tossed several feet when he threw a master switch. The lights stayed on. His wife was knocked across the kitchen when she brushed against an oil stove.

"All the wires in the walls were overheated," Mr. Schultz said. "About 2,300 volts of electricity were coming into the house instead of the usual 110."

Electric company officials broke the circuit. Linemen reported lightning was the cause.

Family Keeps Good Luck Coin For Over Century

GERMANTOWN, Wis .- The Kenney family has kept one good luck coin for over a century. During that time it has been rattling around in the pockets of Kenny family members.

The coin was minted in 1818. Its early history has been lost but members of the family know that it was carried more than a century ago by John Blake Kenny, Washington, Pa. After his death, his son, Preston F. Kenny, also of Washington, carried it. When he died, it came into the possession of John F. Kenny of Germantown who has carried it for 35 years. The coin is slightly larger than a present half dollar. Its edge is not milled, but has the words "Fifteen Cents or Half a Dollar" stamped into it. It may be significant, or it may not, but the figure of Liberty on the coin seems a bit plumper than she does on the coins of to-

Bootlegging City Sells the Right

YAZOO CITY, Miss.-For the first time in history it has been admitted that a city and local bootleggers have reached an agreement whereby the bootleg. gers can operate.

An official agreement between the Yazoo City council and bootleggers has been reached under which the whiskey salesmen operate by paying one $100 fine a month.

Acting Mayor P. J. Wallen said, "Yes, that's right. The agreement was made.'

"Unless something unforseen happens I don't think we'll make any change in it. We're going to try and get ourselves some revenue from it."

Mississippi, one of the two remaining states with a prohibition law, has no state enforcement. Policing is left to city and county authorities.

Newsmen Hunting For Ghost Report Something Found

LOCK HAVEN, Pa.-Maybe you believe in ghosts and maybe you don't, but a reporter and a photographer for the Lock Haven Express, who checked on a legend that the headless Frenchman of Kettle creek still roams those parts, won't say yes or no.

Legend has it that the ghost belongs to a French explorer who robbed a secret cave of Indian silver some centuries ago. The Indians, it seemed, avenged their loss by beheading the Frenchman.
Reporter Pete Stevenson and photographer Jim Patterson set out to track down the ghost. On a chilly, misty night they parked their car near a bridge spanning Kettle creek at Road Hollow. As they sat waiting, the only sound filling the night air was that of the distant pounding of a gas well drill working the night

Suddenly a flickering, wavering form reared up less than 100 feet away. They edged toward the reddish white figure for a better look. A sound like that of a low, almost painful, moan could be heard. The figure glided away, up the bank and onto Road Hollow. It moved quickly in the faint moonlight. They ran to keep it in sight, but the headless Frenchman was gone.

Some say the Frenchman still roams the wilds of Clinton county looking for his head.

Some scientifically inclined folk scoff at the legend. They say the moan is nothing but methane gas seeping from crevices. A forest ranger offered the suggestion that the ghostlike figure is caused by glowing phosphorus clinging to moss and rotten logs in the damp

And then there's the story of the silver. Woodsman Harry Walters showed Stevenson and Patterson a piece of silver the size of a golf ball. He said he found it in the woods. And there's a lot more of the Indian silver around he said Disbelievers had an answer for that too. They suggest it's some manner of ore that has become silverized over the years.

Maybe so, and then again, maybe

New Device Keeps Food Fresh for Many Years

CHICAGO - A new device that keeps food fresh for years has been demonstrated to the American chemical society.

It is a sterilizing gun that keeps raw or cooked meats and vegetables fresh and appetizing for at least four years.

It fires electrons, negatively charged particles. It does its sterilizing job in a millionth of a sec-

Meat, fish, vegetables, fruits and dairy products are sterilized without changing their enzymes, chemical agent that promotes life pro-

The enzymes once were thought, erroneously, to be the cause of spoiling food. The electrons kill the tiny organisms that cause spoil-

The foods have stayed fresh and tasty, in sealed containers, for as long as four years so far. The electron bombardment is done with a machine called a capacitron.

The electron treatment also can sterilize drugs and produce effective vaccines. One vaccine made this way is highly potent against rabies. The beam of electrons kills the virus causing the disease, but does not damage the virus' ability to produce antibodies.

Calvin Coolidge Saucered Coffee for His Favorite Dog

WASHINGTON-One morning, at the White House, Calvin Coolidge was dining with a distinguished visitor. When the coffee was served, Mr. Coolidge poured it into a saucer and blew on it.

The visitor, somewhat puzzled, did likewise. The President then added milk and sugar. The guest, thoroughly bewildered, went through the same motions. A moment later he turned red with embarrassment when Mr. Coolidge bent down and placed the saucer on the floor for his dog.

FEESERSBURG

There is an old New England adage which is very suitable for these times. It goes like this: "Make it last; wear out." A new version could be: "Use it up, wear it out; make it do and do without."

Men wept when they found in the burned out plane at Philadelphia the 24-year-old Mary Frances Housely dead with a baby clasped in her charred arms. This was to have been her last trip back to the flaming craft. She was the stewardess, a little 24-year old girl, and when the big plane had over shot the runway and ignited, she restrained any incipient panic like a born leader. How many persons she rescued is obscure in the news accounts, but after helping the passengers to jump, she went back "again and again." It was a mother's anguished cry, "my baby" that induc-ed her to make the last trip which caused her own incineration.

It is deeds like this that shine like a beacon amid the harrowing story of man's inhumanity to man. Mark Twain in one of his bitter moments pictured mankind as a biped with a knife approaching a grindstone. That is man in the mass—the lowest common denomination of the person. Individually he thrives on kindness to his fellows and on his duty to whatever task he is engaged in, as if in obedience to the law of his personal growth. These qualities were in little Mary Housely, and, on top of that, an occasion proved that she also had greatness and a rare courage. Some people talk because they have something to say, others because they have to say something.

Reading the newspapers these days or listening to the radio any one might conclude that the American people were trying to scare them-selves to death. An innocent by-stander might come to the conclusion that the Reds had already won the war and that Americans were already working for "Uncle Joe". To near the commentators tell it we have no assets, no allies, no equip-ment, no morale and no courage. If I believed one-tenth of what I read or hear, I would certainly be on my way to Siberia. But it is my opinion that, despite the pall of gloom which hangs over the insiders, the mass of Americans, like myself, have faith in their own ability to meet whatever is demanded of them-to face the fuure realistically and determined to act like an American. We want to be sure our leaders will do as well.

SCHOOL DAYS

The feature to follow was written for and published in the December issue of the Eli Whitney school paper,

School days are happy days. They are the days in which boys and girls experience the greatest freedom from cares and feel the least responsibilities. Friends, too, are more numerous, and friendships more real during one's school-days than any other period of life. Many of these friendships continue throughout life. Some of your schoolmates will become a part of you. They will be in your thoughts, their influence will help to determine what you become, and what place you will occupy in world af-

Your youthfulness, and lack of experience and responsibility frequently make you blind to the need of an education. Many who have gone from the classrooms years ago would glad-ly return, if it were possible, for they now know the value of the training, disciplining, and learning which the schools offer. The school takes the child as it finds him and tries to make him what he ought to be. Teaching is the greatest business in the world. And what teacher is not thrilled to hear of the success of one whom he, years before, had taught. Your success in life will be your teachers' chief joy.

Let me ask you not to be satisfied with less than your best. In this age of competition and specialization you must be trained and prepared to know, to be, and to do your best. The best is not too good to set as a goal. And remember that in school you are acquiring habits and attitudes which will carry over into any and every sphere of activity and vocation which you may enter.

Do you not want to be a good docor, a reputable lawyer, an efficient teacher, a sincere minister, a successful farmer, a merciful nurse, a wise home-maker? In school you are acquiring attitudes and laying found-ations which will mean either success or failure in these and other voca-

Your parents can counsel and encourage you, your teachers can instruct you, but you must do the learning. Unless you study and listen, you may be like the little girl who came nome from school very much worried. That night when she went to bed she prayed, "God, please make Boston the capital of Vermont because I said so on my examination paper to-

Yes, school days in America are your happiest days. Do not hate them or waste them for they will never re-

RESOLUTION

Whereas, Almighty God, in His ininite wisdom, has removed from our midst a truly steadfast friend and associate of unsurpassed loyalty and integrity; and Whereas, James Herman Allendar was a distinguished citizen, of inestimable value to his community, and at all times and in every way devoted himself assiduously to the welfare and progress of this Bank, of which he was a Director and Vice-President ever since its reorganization in April 1932. His sound judgment and wise counsel will be missed by all who knew him.

Now therefore, be it Resolved, that in his passing, his colleagues on the Board of Directors of The Detour Bank have sustained an almost irreparable loss, are profoundly affected by a sense of abiding sorrow and distress, and in mourning his death, we extend to his bereaved family our most sincere and heartfelt sympathy. And be it Further Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be published in The Carroll Record, a copy be sent to Mr. Allender's family, and that the Resolution be recorded on the minutes-book of this Bank.

HOME MUSICIAN

The occasion was an amateur musical. The kind-hearted hostess, spying a lonely-looking little man huddled in a corner of the room, paused to make conversation. "Tell me," she asked, "do you play any musical instrument?" "Not away from home," the little man replied.

"How peculiar," remarked the ostess. "What instrument do you hostess.

"Second fiddle," the little man replied.

Western Maryland has grown from a small Methodist church founded college with an enrollment of 70 students and six professors to a modern church-related, independent, Christian college of over seven hundred students and sixty professors. Starting

HERE'S THE NEW 51 DODGE

New Inside ... New Outside with a Completely New Kind of Ride

NEW in more ways than cars costing up to 1,000 more

AT A SECRET PREVIEW THESE FAMOUS AMERICANS SAID:

TED WILLIAMS-"When I first saw this new 1951 car, its smart good looks and its new engineering advances made me put it in the expensive car class," says Ted Williams, baseball's great left-handed slugger.

BETTY HUTTON-"It's so big, so roomy, with greater visibility for every passenger," says Betty Hutton,* famous for her own exuberant way of putting over a song. "And so luxuriously appointed, inside and out!"

DALE CARNEGIE-"I think I know what influences people, and this new car will do it," says famous author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People" and "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living."

*Soon to be seen in Cecil B. DeMille's "THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH," a Paramount Release, Color by Technicales

Now YOU can see it! The new 1951 car that thrilled hundreds in secret previews coast-to-coast! Yes, famous Americans and people in all walks of life—engineers, stylists, architects, mechanics—were excited by its stunning new beauty and host of engineering improvements . . . were amazed that any car offering so much sells for so little!

New Riding Principle! New Oriflow shock absorber system brings you a truly new kind of ride . . . lets you "float" down roads that stop other cars. Here's a new kind of smoothness—over the same roads that jarred and "hammered" you in the past! Whether it's cobblestones or country ruts-wheels stay on the ground.

New Watchtower Visibility! Here's visibility for all passengers through the new wider windshield and deeper, wider panoramic rear window—for greater safety, comfort. Here's new spaciousness inside to let you ride relaxed, uncrowded. Yet outside, its new beauty is sleek and trim for easier handling and parking. See the New 1951 Dodge January 20th! Step in at your Dodge dealer's. Learn how you could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get all the new beauty, extra room, famous dependability of this great new Dodge!

The Good Must Fight

Lesson for January 21, 1951

VOU WOULD think that if ever there arrived on this planet a really good person, he would be popular with everybody. People are tired of meanness, they are sick of being lied to and cheated. They are tired of the sins of others, even tired of their own. So if a really good person should appear, one in whom was no shadow, completely transparent to the Eternal Light, Dr. Foreman wouldn't everyone flock to him, wouldn't he have the human race in the palm of his hand, as it were, in a short time?

Agelong War

THE ANSWER is No. It is not well to be too optimistic about human nature. As a matter of fact, some of the best persons history has known met some of the bitterest opposition. Indeed, when One came who was completely good, whose life was all light and no shadow, he was no better treated and no more warmly welcomed than less good persons have been.

Jesus Christ had his enemies, strong and well-organized. The number of those who believed in him was comparatively small; the number who did not believe or ignored him altogether, was enormous.

The history of mankind is the history of a war, the age long war between good and evil, between God and his enemies. The story of Jesus is one chapter in this history, the most important by far-but by no means the first one or the

Why Was Jesus Hated?

THE READER should examine the record in the Gospels and try to think for himself who opposed Jesus, and why they did so. One striking fact is that Jesus' enemies were not what we call the "lower classes," much less the "criminal classes." His enemies were rather from out of the top drawer, as we might say. They were the financial. social and religious leaders of his time. They finally got him executed as a criminal

If there had never been any one to contradict the records of the Sanhedrin, that high court of Jerusalem, and those records had become recognized as the truth. Jesus would have gone down in history, if remembered at all, as a troublemaker, a lawless and worthless man, whose execution was a protection to society.

Why were these leading men, "distinguished" contemporaries, so wrong about Jesus?

"As he is, so are we . . ."

THE READER should think this out for himself. One reason can be mentioned here: It is very easy for wrong to be so long accepted and so strongly entrenched that it is universally taken for right. Then when the right comes along, especially when in the form of an idea suggested by some one not of the upper crust, it actually seems to be wrong. People kept long in a dark room find light painful!

Any one who tries to follow Jesus will find himself up against the same sort of opposition.

Any one who proposes to live as Jesus lived, or to change our accustomed patterns of society in the direction which Jesus pointed out, will be called (as he was) a crackpot, a dreamer, an impractical fellow who does not know enough to go in when it rains.

Our Divine Alliance

CONSIDER one example of this. A Christian who makes up his mind to dedicate his body a "living sacrifice" to God, and therefore not to handicap himself with the drug of alcohol, is certain, in many places, to be considered a sort of crank. It is not that people will laugh at him, though they will: people will be angry with him for his stand. They will do all they can to make him break his pledge. Instead of admiring a clean and free life, many people are not content unless they can soil that cleanness and break down that freedom. So to stand for Christ in any aspect of life is not easy. But we need to remember we fight no lonely fight; our cause is not forlorn.

Just as Jesus in Galilee was always on the side of those who were beaten and battered by sin and evil, but still fighting, so now the ever-living Christ is always on the side of those who in their hearts desire good and not evil, cleanness and not dirt, truth and not lies.

entire congregation saving and giving the old newspapers to the church. I hear that the Christmas tree down in Westminster finally died and some how, Your Observer could not visit the spot where it was planted by man! Betcha, if any soldier could talk back would say, "Place that monument where it would be most appropriate and let the folks have the tree in the original place"!

tree in the original place"!

A nice letter arrived from Germany from "The Butcher Boy" in service. His girl will be awaiting his return who resides in Westminster, and Betcha that when he does return there will be a big wedding!

Down in that little town there are two lovely women who have actually made the store in which they are employed. One has been there for 26 years and the other thirty-two years! Your Observer often wonders if the owners of that store or any store who have employees for such a long period realize that it is just through these women who put forward every effort to sell and are successful have made the store a prosperous one?

How time changes with the charms of women! In our Grandmother's day it was the rage to have tiny feet and brag that they take only size One shoe! Then later it was, "The Eyes Have It!" Later it was the figure and Have It!" Later it was the figure and that figure had to be pleasingly plump—no thin girl was ever admired. Then came Madame's Crowning Glory, then the skin, "You Love to Touch" Now, the hands must never be "dishpan" type and the Glorified hand is often posed for big magazines. Once again, it is the slim girl or woman but not the boyish type.

The Grain Feed Merchant who

The Grain Feed Merchant passed on recently was very kind and had one of the finest reputations of any man in Carroll County. How very interesting his life was from the time he was a youth. He told Your Ob-server his life and the very first job he had held and when he went into business and how it grew! He was very fine in all his habits and was a very fine in all his habits and was a real Christian soul doing always some little act of kindness. One time, he took the time and trouble to drive to "Loves' Retreat" to tell me that the shrubbery had arrived and lay at the station and he had one of his men haul it down here for me that same afternoon!

So you see, Folks what I mean when I say it is nicer to see and know all the good things about every individual as we go along in life! And to express it in this column.

Recently, Your Observer sent a suggestion to the Police Department as to the Reisterstown road and also the Park Heights Ave being made one way streets which would relieve traffic congestion considerably. Here is the replf in part— "At the time plans for channelization of Park Circle were being prepared, serious consideration was given to the plan of designating Park Heights Ave. and Reisterstown Road as companion one way streets. However, our studies showed that in this one case, the max-imum available street capacity could most closely be approached by utilizing the present system of 2 way traffic on both roads. At the present time if this plan were put into affect, the intersection of Park Circle would have to be completely revised. would have to be completely revised. However, your suggestion will be given further consideration!" Now, to that one, Your Observer will reply what to do with Park Circle and am confident that it would go over with the North Bound Public and South Pound with all the residents.

Bound with all the residents.
