YOUNG MAN DIES FOLLOWING BURNS

One of the two men injured in a mysterious explosion last Friday at the Town and Country Gas Service Inc., near Taneytown, died early on Saturday afternoon of second and third degree burns about the head and body.

Carroll L. Eckard, 26, Taneytown, husband of Mrs. Louise Smith Eckard and son of Charles W. and Valie Frock Eckard, died at Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Saturday at 1:10 p. m., while his co-worker Edward Sauble, 20, suffering first and second degree burns from the blast, was reported recovering rapidly from his injuries.

Death of Eckard came while the owners of the firm for which he worked and insurance investigators strove in vain over the week-end to discover what set off the explosion.

Sunday night, James T. Hays, of Emmitsburg, said "We have been working on the problem all day again today. Definitely there was no moving part of any machinery to cause a spark when the explosion occurred. Perhaps the insurance investigators may have some theory or statement to announce when they have completed their investigation."

The 26-year old victim of the blast was a graduate of the Taneytown High school with the Class of 1944 and a member of the Taneytown Alumni Association. He was also a member of Grace Evangelical and Reformed church and of the Brotherhood of the church.

Besides his parents and wife, he is survived by these sisters: Mrs. Henry L. Miller, Ellicott City; Miss Evelyn D. Eckard, Pasadena, California; Mrs. Glenn Matthias, near Westminster. The bearers were: Chester Cartzendafner, Glenn Bollinger, John Eckard, Kenneth Smith, Richard Swope, Murray Baumgardner, C. O. Fuss and Son funeral directors, had charge of arrangements.

THIS 'N' THAT

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Burning leaves give out a delightful odor to any atmosphere and as we drive along the county sides, we can see the smoke rushing skyward before we sense the smell. There is nothing like the country in any state, Maryland has always been Your Observer's favorite State for many reasons. First of all it is the climate and you know it is neither too hot nor too cold for any length of time. Then there are the many fine homes, the many places of Historical interest—the excellent country sides in any of it's counties. There are the Maryland oysters and the crabs of which I wrote in a previous column about those "Baltomah crabs". The delicious fried chicken dinners in any home or hotel. The people with their wonderful hospitality—not just down South but right here, folks! Thanks for the lovely letters—they are appreciated, dear Readers and you make me do just what I am doing—keeping on writing this column!

Many people in West Va. are complaining about the places in which they reside calling them Alleys instead of Lanes! Well, according to a dictionary—an alley is a narrow street with no through passage. Lane does give it a boost. Eh? Don't blame them no how! Hope Lane is the word for it!

What a cute little home out the 71 Highway by "Stuller" just the kind Your Observer wants. Paging Mr. Stuller!

And now comes the new "IBM Electric Typewriter" which has just fifteen outstanding advantages over any typewriter. It appears in comparison with yester year Lizzie to the grand Lincoln or Cadillac car! And you have your favorite color with contrasting key colors to choose to harmonize with your office or home interior, Nice? So if it's "IBM" it is electric!

What a delightful programme of The Ted Mack Amateur show last Tuesday night (16th). Every act was excellent.

Do you know which President of these United States read five chapters of the Bible daily? The answer is John Quincy Adams. Some of his finest observations on the Bible were made while he was American Minister to Russia!

The groom came home! Uncle Sam's nephew arrived from Korea to California, then to Camp Meade and then to Westminster. Never has Your Observer seen such real love these days of any young couple when they were united. Hearts that were full of joy and thanking God every minute of it for the safe return. Then my thoughts were of the little wife whose doctor husband was killed in action in Korea and now she is in the hospital with a breakdown. Then the mother of the boy who died in Korea and who sat in the church pew last Sunday morning with tears streaming down her cheeks. So there you have it, folks, we never know. That is life in any country.

Now, here's a real and true one which is most unusual. An excellent builder of a home for his own could not live in it when it was finished as he could not get his handsome heirlooms of huge pieces through the front door or any window so he was compelled to sell the place. He makes the most beautiful violins and plays beautifully and has been a teacher of this wonderful (my favorite instrument). That musical instrument with a soul! As I looked at this elderly man, I said to myself, "It would be wonderful if he could live for ever".

To those with arthritis! Keep away from any dampness and always have the electric pad when that disease first starts. Your Observer cured my left elbow where it was just beginning and actually wrapped the large pad around my entire arm each night for three months. Many keep a woolen bandage on the aching parts during the day.

Have you noticed these days, folks that your doctor does not prescribe an abundance of medicines as in the 'good old days'?

Thinking of medicines, did you read that article in the Reader's Digest, the story of Hadacol? That sure was a laff. It shows how the public can be fooled.

Have you recently examined, folks, the wonderful volumes of the Encyclopedia Britannica? They are without a doubt the foremost books of education down through all the years and each year they are getting to be further improved (if that is possible) in every detail. Every home should boast of these wonderful set of complete books and a very special offer is added—you get the nice bookcase which holds the entire set. They can be purchased on monthly payments and you can contact the company by either calling SA2166 or writing direct to Mr. J. J. Carey, Room 69, 100 S. Gay St., Baltimore, Md. What a lovely Christmas present for the entire family!

So long, folks. Have a nice week end. Be good and be careful. In next week's column will write about "Libra" which date is from Sept. 20 to Oct. 20. Until then D. V.,

I am,
Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

READING, MICH., HUSTLER: "Lincoln's deathless words, this government of the people, by the people and for the people" expressed exactly the intent of the founders of this citizenry, passing necessary restricting measures through duly elected representatives. Thus was the greatest degree of personal freedom to be maintained that was consistent with an orderly society."

GOVERNEUR, N. Y., TRIBUNE PRESS: "We have embarked on a campaign to save the rest of the world from bankruptcy, social injustice and Communism, but we cannot hope to pursue it successfully, unless government generally is prepared to reduce its costs to the point that we can afford to make the extraordinary contributions the times demand of us."

NEWBERRY, S. C., OBSERVER: "Statistics bear out the fact that we Americans have boosted our total annual income considerably from the year 1929. In fact the actual figures show that in 1929 the total annual income was about $87 billion, but last year a total of $239 billion, or a 175% increase was grossed by wage earners of this nation. But back of it all is the fact that the government has been doing some increasing on its own account. Factually, it has increased appropriations from $4.7 billion to more than $52.8 billion, and it has run up the national gross debt from less than $17 billion to more than $257 billion."

GREENVILLE, TEXAS, EVENING BANNER: "On the average, only 10 per cent of the nation's forest fires are started by lightning and other natural causes. Most of them are caused by burning cigarettes. The rest are started by smoldering camp fires."

BEDFORD, VA., BULLETIN: "That section of the Constitution which limits authority of the government at Washington by leaving with the states all powers and authority not specifically reserved to the Federal government has for a long time been ignored. The truth of this is seen in the increasing projection of Federal interference into practically every field of business and public life."

LE MARS, IOWA, GLOBE POST: "Every person in America from the day old child to the 100 year old man, has an average tax load of a dollar a day. The cost of government is far more than the cost of food."

FOREST CITY, PA., NEWS: "We have been reading this week of the prospect that first class postage is to be increased from three to four cents, and the venerable postal go up from a penny to two cents. Then we go to the post office and get a couple of pieces of mail from the Price Stabilization organization. Both are news releases. One, a single letter-sized sheet is housed in a ten inch envelope; the other two small single sheets of paper come in a big catalogue envelope that would cost at least $10 a thousand at wholesale. This at a time when every newspaper is learning to its sorrow that all paper products are going up in price by leaps and bounds. Won't some one please page the Hoover Economy-in-Government committee?"

The land belongs to all of the people of this State. All of us have an obligation to see that it is used wisely so that it will continue to provide the "good things of life" for our children and our children's children.

The increased application of scientific farming methods would help to increase and maintain the productivity of our agricultural land.

Plastic Eyeglass Frames Attractive and Durable

Plastics improve on nature in their variety of colors, their beautiful textures, and their design. But the plastics that are used for making eyeglass frames are much more than merely attractive. They are soft and smooth, yet tough and almost unbreakable. They can be accurately tailored to give just as scientific a fitting and placing of lenses as do metal frames. But they, like metal, must go through many complex processes before they can meet the exacting standards of spectacle frames.

Optical plastic is called zylonite. The raw material for it is either cotton or clean wood pulp. This is dissolved to make a sort of cellulose jelly, which can be dyed or tinted and given decorative effects by mixing with it wood-flour or pigments or, sometimes, aluminum powder. In this stage it is plastic and can be formed into any shape. Then it is baked and becomes permanently hard, strong and transparent.

Flat sheets of this plastic are run through a series of precision machines. The first one drills holes that are very accurately located where the optical centers of the lenses will later be put. Then another machine cuts out the entire frame to make any one of a wide variety of fashionable shapes. Next the frame moves to a machine which cuts tiny slots and holes where the hinges for the earpieces are to be inserted. Still another precision cutter takes out pieces that have exactly the shape of the lenses, and then makes grooves to hold the lenses.

Meanwhile, in other machines strips of zylonite are cut into the right length for earpieces and ground on a lathe to give them the proper thickness and curvature. In the next operation, holes are drilled in these earpieces for attaching the hinges. Now the entire frame is ready to be put together.

Nitrofurant Chewing Gum Users Develop Fewer Dental Cavities

Another development in research on tooth decay was made known recently when two scientists reported on a preliminary experiment with a sugar-free chewing gum containing a nitrofurant.

Nitrofurants are substances used principally as anti-bacterial agents in dressings for wounds to prevent infection.

Writing in The Journal of the American Dental Association, Dr. Samuel Derizen and Dr. Thomas D. Spies, of the department of nutrition and metabolism of Northwestern University, Chicago, said that a group of individuals who chewed the specially-prepared gum immediately after eating showed a substantial reduction in dental decay.

"Because of the relatively small number of patients included in this study," the scientists cautioned, however, "these findings must be considered as preliminary in nature."

Their report was based on a one-year study of 80 persons between the ages of six and 38 at Hillman Hospital, Birmingham, Ala.

During the test period, an experimental group of 30 persons chewed the gum for at least 10 minutes directly after each meal. A second group of 25 persons chewed a similarly-prepared gum not containing the nitrofurant. The third group did not chew any gum.

X-ray examinations at the end of the year revealed that the experimental group had developed an average of only .8 new cavities compared with an average of 3 new cavities for the group that chewed the specially-prepared gum without the nitrofurant. In the third group an average of 3.8 new cavities developed.

Congo Mines

Belgian Congo tin output ranked behind that of Malaya, Indonesia, Bolivia, Thailand and Nigeria before the war. As wartime needs of the Allies reached, to all unimagined corners of the world for the humble metal of many uses, the Congo production rose to stand second only to Bolivia. If the Far East were once again cut off from the West, the tin arsenal in deepest Africa would again be vital. Katanga Province is a treasure chest of many minerals. One of the lost regions of the Congo to be explored and conquered, its wealth cannot yet be estimated in dollars and cents. The Manono field also produces columbium and tantalum, valuable alloys for steel. Cobalt, industrial diamonds, zinc, coal, cadmium, lead, silver, and precious metals such as platinum, palladium and gold are mined in the Congo.

Key Deer

Scientists labeled the Key deer Odocoileus virginianus clavium. The name is translatable as "Virginia whitetail of the keys" and indicates that it is a subspecies of the Virginia white-tailed deer, its widespread mainland neighbor. The conviction grows, however, that the virginianus should be dropped, since the Key deer can stand alone as a species. The Key variety does not change color in summer, as does the larger whitetail. Its horns are quite different, and other characteristics make it more like some western species than like its common eastern neighbor. Adult Key deer, on the average, weigh 35 pounds and measure less than two feet high at the shoulder.

Police Captain Confesses Spent Time Shooting Bull

PADUCAH, Ky.—Police captain Gerald Stewart was quick to admit to townfolk that he spent a whole morning "just shooting the bull."

A large bull escaped from a local packing company and left a trail of wreckage and frightened people for several blocks. Police were called.

Stewart shot the animal, but the bull continued to charge him. He started to fire again, but found he was out of ammunition. Dodging the mad rushes of the infuriated animal, the police captain began to reload his pistol. Another officer rushed to his aid. After some time and nine "bull's eyes" they managed to kill the animal.

Uncle Sam Says

We are living today in the automatic age, the era of automatic home appliances, of gadgets. Your government has made available an automatic way of saving by the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank. The purchase of U. S. Defense Bonds spells financial protection for your family and for your country. "Security is not only a matter of individual concern, the security of all is America's security." One way you can provide double security is to start buying U. S. Defense Bonds today.

Scientist Studies Region of First Landing in America

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Archaeology and ethnology of the region where Columbus made his first landing on the mainland of the Americas in 1502 has been studied intensively during the past six months by a joint Smithsonian Institution—National Geographic Society expedition led by Dr. Matthew W. Stirling, director of the Bureau of American Ethnology.

The country concerned is northwestern Panama and contains the drainage system of three rivers between the Canal Zone and Costa Rica. Largely because it is a land of dense rain forests and is quite difficult of access, the region has remained almost unknown to anthropologists; little has been written of its people since Columbus' original description.

By and large, Dr. Stirling, who was accompanied by Mrs. Stirling, was able to confirm the observations of Columbus, although the great navigator may have exaggerated a trifle when he wrote of Indians wearing plentiful gold ornaments. Stirling found none of these.

The Spaniards were impressed by the fact that these Indians did not live in fairly large settlements, as did those with whom they had been in contact before in the West Indies, but in isolated huts in the forest. Dr. Stirling did not find any village sites but plenty of single house sites, which were excavated.

From the Atlantic coast the country is extremely difficult to enter. There are no harbors. The rivers empty into the sea between beaches and high, rocky cliffs. Small banana boats anchor a mile off shore and natives bring out their produce through the surf in dugout canoes. It is possible to enter on foot over high mountain trails from the Pacific side—much the safest and easiest way.

At the mouths of each of the three rivers visited, the Rio Salud, Rio Indio, and Rio Cocle del Norte, there are small Negro settlements. The Indian inhabitants are encountered about 5 miles up these streams, and practically all their contact with civilization is across the mountains.

Actually, There Are Only Seven Marines in Corps

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Despite record numbers of new recruits there are yet only seven "Marines" in the Marine Corps.

The seven, all named Marine, range from a master sergeant to a private first class. They have a total of almost 40 years Marine service.

They are: Master Sergeant Noel G. Marine, Haverlock, N.C.; Technical Sergeant Joseph N. Marine, Springfield, Mass.; Sergeant John D. Marine, Oakland, Calif.; Corporal Edward E. Marine, Oshkosh, Wis.; Sergeant Victor J. Marine, Downingtown, Pa.; Corporal Alonzo W. Marine, Jr., Cambridge, Md.; Private First Class Houston D. Marine, Hurlock, Md.

Crippled War Vet Hopes For Wheel Chair Vacation

LONG BEACH, Calif.—A crippled war veteran from Tennessee, here for a checkup, intends to prove to the people that "paraplegics can't be counted out until they are dead."

The 30-year-old veteran served in the infantry for almost five years without receiving a wound and was injured in a tractor accident on a farm in Tennessee. He once hitchhiked from his home in Monterey, Tenn., to Venice, California, where he now lives. The trip was so easy he did it three times, in fact.

He intends to cross the country after his checkup, rolling his wheel chair "just to show people that we are not helpless."

Reading Devices Donated To Milwaukee Vets Home

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—To help speed the recovery of tubercular comrades, the Army and Navy Union has donated to the soldier's home here four devices to let them read without moving.

Operating on a magic lantern principle, they project book pages on the ceiling above the patient's head. The only physical movement needed is the pressing of a button that automatically turns the pages of the book the patient is reading. The devices are intended for patients encased in iron lungs.

FEESERSBURG

This may be a tip for local farmers to install radios in their milking barns. Ellis county farmers in Kansas are getting good results by using music to induce their cows to produce more milk. F. F. Wasinger, said his cows are happier and more generous with their milk when they hear the strains of soft music. What would happen if they listened to off beat music he declined to say. They would probably give buttermilk.

Mr. and Mrs. William Main are building a new home along the Feesersburg-Union Bridge road. They recently made sale of their stock and machinery and plan to rent their farm.

The Executive Committee of the Elmer Wolfe PTA met at the school for its regular monthly meeting, on Monday evening. Earline Alexander president of the PTA presided with all areas represented by elected members. The chief topic of discussion was the new rule regarding abuse of students. Few parents misunderstood the ruling and objected to their children having to make the time up they missed. However the majority of parents approve of the new rule, knowing that it was made in the interest of the children.

A child absent from school for several days must be briefed by the teacher on the lessons he has missed if the student is to keep up with his class. This means extra work for the teacher and boredom for the other pupils in the class, for there is nothing more tiring than for a bright child to sit through a repetition of class work. Some parents have the mistaken idea that because they live on farms, they should have the privilege of keeping their children out of school to help with the seasonal work. This may have been condoned before modern machinery came to the farm, but not today. In fact, some years ago boys from the farm never came to school at all until after Christmas, when the work on the farm was all done. But that day is over, thank goodness. The school laws have been made so that children can no longer be exploited by their parents. The Elmer Wolfe school has always had a poor attendance record—in fact, the worst in the county. This tends to give the school authorities the idea that the parents are not too much interested in education, and that is one reason why the school for so long was on the bottom of the list when it came time for improvements.

We have in our present principal a person sincerely interested in our school and in the community. He is anxious to give our children the best education within his power, and the very least we parents can do is to see that our children are in school and that they obey the rules and regulations set down by the principal. Children take their cue from their parents. They are smart enough to know when they must obey and when they can do as they please. We do not want our school to sink back into the dismal state it was several years ago. But unless we allow the teachers disciplinary action over our children we may just as well shut up the school, keep our children home and make farmers and laborers out of all them. We can take a lesson out of Washington and see how a McCarthy can undermine the faith and loyalty of the people in their government. We as parents can play the role of McCarthy right in our home and community and undermine the faith and loyalty of the children in their teachers and school, by belittling and finding fault with what goes on in the schools. Let us all look beyond our own selfish wants and bring our children up, not to hate discipline but to welcome it as a means of peaceful and tolerant living.

This is the time of year when the queen of the kitchen has some spare time and begins to look around to see what she can do to add glamour or convenience to her home. We are always having trouble locating small articles in our home and so the other day we made pockets out of left over oil cloth and tacked them inside the closet door to put in gloves, small gadgets, paper bags and anything else one is always looking for. Here is a trick I learned from a friend: When filling salt and pepper shakers use an envelope with the corner cut out as a funnel. No spill, no mess and no loss of temper.

2nd Lt. David M. Buffington, successfully completed the Associate Infantry Company Officers course at Fort Benning, Georgia, last Wednesday. He ranked 7th in a class of 192. After enjoying a five day leave he reported Tuesday at Indiantown

Gap for assignment in the regular army.

There are lots of ways of meeting one's neighbors but did one ever expect to be introduced by cows? This afternoon our cows decided the neighbors fields looked better than ours so they stampeded through the electric fence. While we were rounding them up our new neighbor came across the field with her dog and so we met for the first time—though we hope it won't be the last—but under different circumstances.

Miss Pauline Fuss, who recently broke her arm is confined to bed at the home of Paul and Edna Fuss. We hope she will soon be able to be up and about and enjoy this beautiful October weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Miller are the proud parents of a new baby daughter born Tuesday at the Gettysburg Hospital.

Into a store featuring western clothing—stepped a determined-looking, young man. "I want a cowboy outfit" he said to a clerk. "Hat, shirt, pants, boots, guns, holsters—everything. And I want the kind that will really impress my 4-year-old boy." "Will size four be right?" the clerk asked. "Or does he wear a six?" "No, I want them for myself. I'm tired of playing second fiddle with my son to every cowboy in the movies!"

Endeavor to so live that when you die even the undertaker will be sorry.

HALLOWEEN DANCE AND PARADE WILL BE HELD OCT. 31st.

Plans are being made for the big parade and dance to be held on Wednesday evening, October 31st, celebrating Halloween. The parade will form at the Armory on Longwell Ave., Westminster, and will start promptly at 7:30. We urge that organizations form groups and march in the parade or prepare a float for the occasion.

There will be prizes for both young and old, boys and girls, groups and floats. There will be plenty of music and fun. Following the distribution of prizes at the playground, there will be a promenade and dance in the Armory to which everyone is invited. The price of admission is used to defray expenses.

The awards will be in cash and the money for same has been donated by the City of Westminster, local organizations and merchants. In order to brighten up the streets, the committee suggests that the merchants light up their show windows during the parade. A little touch of Halloween decoration would add to the occasion.

The committee urgently requests that everyone refrain from throwing corn, marking windows or any pranks that would cause injury to persons or property.

Carroll Post No. 31, The American Legion has sponsored this program for a number of years and asks that the public give it every means of support.

Past Commander, J. Albert Mitten is chairman, for further information call 1360 or 231W.

DR. ENSOR STRESSES THE IMMEDIATE NEED FOR SCOUTING

Dr. Lowell S. Ensor, President of Western Maryland College, was the key note speaker before a group of 45 attending the Kick-off dinner for the 1952 Finance campaign, Carroll District (County), Boy Scouts of America held at the American Legion Westminster, on Oct. 15, 1951. Dr. Ensor stressed the immediacy of the need for the program of Scouting is very great. Boys need Scouting now, not next year or the year after that. A boy becomes 8, 11 and 14 years old only once and he hasn't the time to wait for a group of men to give him Scouting in the future. Dr. Ensor brought out the point that many men who would make fine volunteers state that they are busy to help in the various youth programs and will wait until a more convenient time in the indefinite future. The youth cannot wait, if there are no worthwhile programs for youth many become involved in activities that can be very dangerous to their health and welfare.

Scouting, through the leaders, can be most beneficial in helping a possible delinquent. Dr. Ensor also stressed the important part Scouting can play in enriching the lives of good, normal American boys. The most important part of what we are doing is seeing that the program of Scouting reaches into the lives of the boys of Carroll county.

The key note of Dr. Ensor's talk was, "It is better to build boys than to mend men."

John A. Bankert, Vice-chairman of Carroll District Finance Campaign conducted the kick-off dinner in the absence of the campaign chairman, James M. Shriver. The dinner was opened with the invocation given by the Rev. Dr. F. R. Seibel, St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run. Howard E. Koontz, Jr., County Towns Chairman introduced the various town chairmen and they in turn introduced the members of their teams. Duncan H. McIntosh, Field Scout Executive, explained the use of the kits and materials for the drive.

Mr. Bankert brought out the fact that today there are 2,000,000 boys in the program of Scouting in the United States. This represents one-fifth of the boys who are of the scout age, eight through seventeen. Every effort should be made to have and even exceed this, one-fifth of the boys in scouting, in Carroll county. Mr. Bankert also urged the people of Carroll county to be prepared to make their contribution when they are contacted by one of the community team members.

The meeting was closed with the benediction by the Rev. Dr. Seibel. The following team members attended the dinner: Union Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Starkey, Mrs. Irene Willard, Mrs. Essie Grossnickle, and Mrs. Betty Sawyer; Taneytown, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Myers; Gamber, Philip Beamer; Mt. Airy, R. E. Selby and S. L. Stroh; Manchester, C. Robert Brillhart and Emory A. Berwager; Uniontown, Thomas Devibiss and J. Howard West; Silver Run, Rev. F. R. Seibel; Initial Gifts, John L. Reifsnider, III; Westminster East Side, John R. Byers; Westminster West Side, Stanley H. Tevis, Jr.; Westminster, Dr. R. P. Klinger, Sr.; John C. Shipley, E. O. "LIVING PORTRAITS" PRESENTED Many witnessed "Living Portraits" at the Dublin High School which were arranged and organized by Mrs. Irene deLeon Love.

The scene was shown first of a studio in New York City on 96th Street, the time being the present, of an artist, pianist singer and a model. There were 22 portraits. The huge frame was 7 by 6 feet and made and gilded as a picture frame. The portraits were Springtime, The Boy In Blue, A Yester-Year Child, Huckleberry Finn, Just Boys, Kinship, A Tintype of a Child, Pocohontas, A Ballerina, A French Girl, Girlhood, Whistler's Mother, The Three Dutch Girls, The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady, An Old Tintype, An Old-fashioned Girl, The Red Cross Nurse, Gibson Girls, Another Tintype, Winter, Carmen and Caruso and "Our Very Own" the latter being four men who had been in Korea for Uncle Sam and just returned.

Appropriate music was arranged for the evening for the individual portraits. Mrs. Love gave two readings. There were nine choruses which were sung by the audience, making it a real social affair.

Surely human affairs would be far happier if the power in men to be silent were the same as that to speak. But experience more than sufficiently teaches that men govern nothing with more difficulty than their tongues.—Benedict Spinoza.

Oldtimer mod. Is Key to Longer Living

LEONIA, N.J.—Henry B. Hooke recently celebrated his 102nd birthday, defying the longevity figures of our present age.

Hooke attributed his long life to "moderation" in all things and listed his main interests as reading, strolling and viewing television.

In 1886 Hooke was a member of the Queen's Guard Regiment in the Fenian Raid, and the Northwest Rebellion.

Hooke marks each birthday with additional pride, recalling that doctors once told his parents that he had only a short time to live. That was sometime during his 12th year.

Moslems Collecting Funds To Repair Tomb of Mohammed

CAIRO, Egypt—Collections have been started around the Moslem world to obtain funds for necessary repairs to the holy tomb of the great Islamic prophet, Mohammed.

An Arabic newspaper recently announced that the centuries old tomb—the shrine of millions of Moslems—needed immediate repairs to prevent complete collapse.

King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia ordered that technicians be brought in immediately to begin the repair work.

U. S. Needs Civil Defense

HOME FRONT PROTECTION IS UP - - TO YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

(This is the fifth of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

Civil defense is set up by Federal and State law. But no law will work unless you back it up with action. That's why, in the end, the responsibility for civil defense is yours.

If bombs from enemy planes ever fall on your city or community, they will not fall on an organization, or a system of government. They will fall on you and your family and friends.

A soldier is trained to take care of himself and to keep on fighting. As a defender of your home front, you must learn to protect yourself and keep on working. Despite every precaution, a soldier might be killed. So might you. But the more you know, and the better trained you are, the better your chances for survival.

To help you protect yourself, and to make the best use of your own special ability and skill in an emergency, is the whole idea of civil defense. If you give time and thought to that, then you will be able to save yourself and others if trouble comes.

It is not up to the Federal Government to run civil defense. The Federal Civil Defense Administration does the basic planning, gives technical information to the States, pays part of the cost of equipment and shelters, and provides some kinds of emergency supplies. The operation of civil defense begins at your State line.

It is the job of the States and Territories and their counties and cities to organize civil defense among their own people. They must build the machine and make it run. The person in charge in your State is the State Civil Defense Director. In your city it is the mayor, or your local Civil Defense Director. He and his

When Life Gets Hard

Lesson for October 28, 1951

IN an army training center there is plenty to gripe about. Time was, when sundown came, every one was off duty. Now night only begins the trouble. Night marching, night "village fighting," night everything else, in snow and ice and mud all the same, and never with enough sleep. But the army keeps on rubbing those poor boys' heads in the dirt.

Dr. Foreman

Of course the army knows what it is doing. When the boys get through with camp, most of them will be sent to where some real fighting is going on. The enemy, unfortunately, does not confine his activities to the daytime. He fights at night, in the rain, in zero weather, even on your birthday. He picks some very rough hills to fight on. In the roaring confusion of shifting battle lines the soldier does not always get his chow on time, and the nearest hospital may be too far to reach. He is out where he has to be tough.

It is not only in the army that a toughening-up course is just what the doctor ordered. In real life it happens over and over again. It is not the boys who had the easiest childhood who rise most often to the top. It is the boys who worked, who had to work somehow for a living, who develop the toughness in mind and muscle to carry them through life's long struggle.

When Life Gets Hard

IT is sometimes thought that God should arrange things differently. What most of us want (lazy as we are) is a soft life, something pleasant, big pay and no work if we can help it. When life is easy for us we think, if we are religiously inclined, that God has blessed us; but if life gets hard, we think God must have forgotten us. Quite the contrary.

There is an almost forgotten verse in the New Testament: "The Lord disciplines the man he loves, and scourges every son whom he receives." (Heb. 12:6, Moffatt's translation.)

The man who is undisciplined never grows up, he is a perpetual boy. For the same reasons, no one ever became God's man except through God's discipline.

Forge for a Sword

THIS is as true of nations as of individuals. The story of the Hebrews in Egypt is one case in point. They had it hard, about as hard as any people who ever lived. They became slaves, and remained slaves for hundreds of years.

Humanly speaking, God's total plan would not have succeeded unless the Hebrews had gone through that "furnace of affliction." If Jacob and his family had stayed on in Palestine, there never would have been any Hebrew nation any more than there was an Ishmaelite nation.

Somewhere, some time, those Israelites had to be forged into tempered steel, a sword for God. And the slavery in Egypt was the first stage of the forging. It was a hard life; no doubt many died under the lash. But the hardy ones lived.

If Moses, when the time came, had had to take out into the wilderness a caravan of luxury-loving Egyptians, they would have wilted on his hands. It was because the Hebrews had lived hard in the slave-pens of Goshen that they could live hard in the wilderness when they were free.

Life Goes On

THIS is not the whole story, of course. Life, even the hardest kind of life, is not merely a preparation for battles to come. It can be worth living for its own sake.

The trainee may find friends and happiness even in a very tough camp. And down in Egypt, in all the years of Hebrew hardship, life went on. People fell in love and were married, children were born, were brought up somehow, were taught the difference between right and wrong, were taught about the true God.

People nowadays are sometimes jittery about the prospect of "life as we know it" being destroyed. Well, maybe it will be; who can deny that we have it coming to us?

But life will not be destroyed. Under the harshest of circumstances, life will go on, and those who will accept life's troubles as the sending of God will find a blessing even in what at the moment hurts the most.

Blessings Unlimited

HOW often we hear someone say, "I can't afford it," or "I can't afford the time" to do this or that. The carnal mind insists that mortals are always in need of something—money, health, happiness, or intelligence.

Another comment frequently heard is, "One can't have everything." The general concept of human life is that existence is incomplete; yet the Bible says (Genesis 1:31), "God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good."

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, clarifies this statement on page 518 of the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," where she says, "The divine Principle, or Spirit, comprehends and expresses all, and all must therefore be as perfect as the divine Principle is perfect." She adds on the next page: "Deity was satisfied with His work. How could He be otherwise, since the spiritual creation was the outgrowth, the emanation, of His infinite self-containment and immortal wisdom?"

Because there is only one perfect creation existing within God's infinite self-containment, there can be no room for inharmonious or deficiency of any kind. Should symptoms of lack appear in our daily life, they indicate that we are suffering from the belief that our being is separate from God, good. Such belief is false, because God, Mind, is everywhere; filling all there is of space, and man is the perfect idea emanating from that Mind. As we live in the consciousness of man's unity with his Maker, abundant joy and peace fill our experience.

Most small children believe in giants and fairies; but as the child develops and grows in understanding he finds that what seemed so real to his imagination was not real at all. So our difficulties, whatever form they take, evaporate as we grow in spiritual understanding and gain more knowledge of the kingdom of heaven, the reign of harmonious being.

Merely reading the Bible will not alone suffice, however. We must understand what we read; and practice and proof of what we understand are essential. Christ Jesus was the most practical, as well as the most spiritual, individual who ever lived. He healed sickness, sin, and want.

How often we separate ourselves from happiness because of our ignorance and distrust of the Father's loving care for all His family! In the Bible there is the promise that if we will bring all the tithes into the storehouse, that is, turn away from all material evidence and trust wholly to God's beneficence, the Lord of hosts will "open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it" (Malachi 3:10).

God is illimitable; therefore the supply of good is unlimited. We need never envy another, because every individual child of God has access to all good. God's love and blessings are not limited to a select few, but are now and always available to each one. Our greatest need is for wisdom and understanding to see through the false beliefs of mortal mind and discern the power and goodness of God's law.

As we express more generosity, love, and kindness in our daily life we find them reflected to us in ever greater measure in return. Let us, then, abandon the impoverished thoughts of ingratitude, selfishness, and discontent and supplant them with gratitude, unselfish love, joy, and happiness, and so claim our birthright of abundant good.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Broomcorn History

Originally native to tropical Asia and Africa, broomcorn belongs to the sweet sorghums in the family of Holcus fodore grasses. Tradition has it that Benjamin Franklin planted the first broomcorn seed in America after he discovered it on a brush imported by a neighbor. The first reported U.S. commercial crop was produced in 1797 in the Connecticut River Valley near Hadley, Massachusetts.

THOUGHTS FOR THOUGHT

It may not be so far away in miles from East to West. The actual distance is really known. When the heart makes the test.

The heart is the sounding board. When friends are called to part, it is as painful to separate as for an arrow to pierce the heart.

There are words which conceal thoughts rather than reveal them.

Life is pleasant when there are more cheers than jeers.

Eggs are too expensive so tomatoes are thrown at politicians.

It apparently saves a lot of trouble to drive to the entrance of one's garage and let the car set instead of driving in.

During a conversation yesterday with a Colonel from Fort Bragg, he remarked, "There are two things I despise, a cheat and a liar." Then he continued, "He who lies will cheat, and he who cheats will lie."

One difference between women of the East and West is, the Easterner can curl her cigarette smoke more artistically.

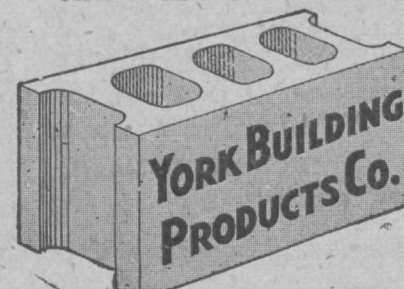

What's in a name? Not much when it comes to coffee in public eating places.

The difference between a zebra and a man is: a zebra is born with stripes and a man acquires them.

You can have your own way if other people don't want them.

It heightens the principal's ego for his teachers to visit the office frequently.

REFORMATION RALLY

"The Reformation Challenge" will be the subject of the address given by the Rev. John L. Deaton, pastor of Christ English Lutheran church, Baltimore, at the Reformation Rally to be held in Grace Lutheran church, Westminster, on Sunday, October 28, at 8 p. m. Dr. Deaton, who has been prominent in church activities in the City of Baltimore and in the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of the State of Maryland, is at the present time a member of the committee on Christian Higher Education of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The Reformation Rally, sponsored by the Lutheran Ministers of Carroll county, commemorates the occasion when Dr. Martin Luther placed his ninety-five propositions for discussion upon the door of Castle Church at Wittenburg, Germany in 1517, thereby instituting a movement which came to be known as the Protestant Reformation.

The choir of Grace Lutheran church, under the direction of Mrs. E. Morgan Leister will sing the anthem "Invocation" by Moore. Mrs. Leister will also accompany Mr. Henry Reindollar, Taneytown, in a vocal solo. She will play "Ave Marie" by Bossi, as a prelude; Sonata No. 5, by Mendelssohn as the offertory and "Postlude" by Stern, as the postlude.

The Rev. J. Leon Haines, pastor of the Hampstead Lutheran Parish will serve as liturgist of the service. The Rev. Glenn Stahl, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown, will receive the offering and offer the prayer and the Benediction. The Rev. Dr. Elwood S. Falkenstein, host pastor, will make the announcements and will introduce the speaker.

Invitations have been issued thru the Churches to all Lutherans in the county to attend this Reformation Rally. All other interested persons are invited to attend. The Rev. Richard S. Shanbrook, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church, Manchester and Rev. Mr. Haines are serving as the committee on arrangements and programs for the Rally.
