He emphasized the necessity of the church being awakened to its practical mission in a new day, and that the bringing of people within the fold of the church is a two-fold task in which both ministers and laymen must work unitedly. The reason that not all men have been brought into the family of the church is because Christians have not labored diligently enough at their task. After the speech a discussion was entered into by both laymen and pastors.

The meeting was closed with the singing of "Bless Be the Tie that Binds."

BALL TEAM HONORED

Players Were Dined at Taney Inn

On Oct. 29, 1951 the Taneytown Recreation Association honored the 1951 Pen-Mar League Champions at a banquet at the Taney Inn. The entire squad was present with their guests, along with the officers of the Taneytown Recreation Association, officers of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce, Mayor and members of the City Council, the Baseball committee, and loyal fans.

Mr. E. L. Baumgardner, chairman of the baseball committee, presiding as toastmaster, duly recognized each member of the team, its management and their guests.

Mr. M. C. Fuss, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presented on behalf of the chamber to each member of the team a token of that body's appreciation for the fine sportsmanship, their excellent teamwork, and for bringing the championship to Taneytown. Mr. Fuss pointed out that this team has been a credit to our community.

Mr. Bailey Goss, well known sports and television personality then addressed the team and stated that a team of championship caliber must possess an important qualification and that being "the will to win". The decision of the league management to vacate the pennant for 1951 due to a technicality was brought up at this time and Mr. Goss pointed out that he had through previous telecasts stated his opinion that the decision of the league was very small and narrow, and to joke about the situation he made the statement that "Taneytown didn't win the pennant by a mile but they lost it by 9/10 of a mile". Mr. Goss went on to say that this country has volumes and volumes of laws, and if all decisions were made as in this case there would be no reason for judge or jury. It would be sufficient to look up the law for any violation, discover the penalty applying to this violation and apply this penalty without going to the trouble of fining out the intention behind the breaking of the law.

Mr. Goss gave a very interesting discussion on sports in general and then turned the meeting open to a question and answer program. In this he amazed the group by having answers ready for all questions that were put to him from the floor.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PLAN DANCE

Committees have been announced for the third annual Thanksgiving Dance which will be held in the Taneytown High School auditorium on Thanksgiving night, Thursday, November 22nd.

This dance, which is sponsored by the Alumni Association is traditionally one of the largest dances of the season, and this year's should be no exception with the return of "The Tones", of York, Pa., who will furnish the music. Those who have heard these musicians know what is in store for them and those who have never heard them should not miss the chance this year. They seem to be one of the most popular groups in this section, being booked for engagements months in advance. They also have a daily radio broadcast and have appeared on TV. The music will please young and old, those who dance every dance, or those who enjoy good music.

Committees to have charge of this affair are: Tickets, Joseph Shaum, Mrs. Catherine Myers, Mrs. Virginia Sanders, Miss Helen Bankard, Miss Phyllis Smith and Miss Anna Sanders. Invitations: Mrs. Elwood Harner, Mrs. John Harner, Miss Janet Royer and Miss Anne Wilson. Advertising: Leo Sanders, Miss Minnie Ingram, Miss Shirley Null, Miss Dolores Frounfelter and David Wilhide. Decorating: George Sauble, Francis Myers, Mr. and Mrs. William Rittase, Miss Pearl Bollinger and Miss Betty Hahn. The refreshment committee has not yet been completed and anyone who could help that night can still volunteer their services.

Tickets are now available from any member of Senior High School or member of the Alumni Association. Dress will be optional and there will be dancing from 9 till 12.

KEY CLUB NEWS

The Taneytown High School Key Club held its regular meeting Tuesday, Oct. 30, 1951, during our lunch period.

President Peterson opened the meeting by the group singing of "America" which was followed by the flag salute.

Following our lunch, the group discussed ways in which our club could make money. One way in which we plan to make money is by having a basketball team, on which the members of our faculty will play.

Miss Peggy Brown, member of our faculty, was the guest at our meeting for the day.

Here's an interesting one for the young Mother! When your baby is sleeping and you don't want the door bell sound to awaken him just place a little sign upon the front door, "BABY SLEEPING". It will take the edge off your nerves, too if you know that baby can sleep undisturbed.

And before I forget—better hurry and purchase the doll with a heart beat for that very special youngster for her Christmas gift. Think of it, there have been dolls that walk, talk, sleep, cry, wet—a skin you love to touch and now actually the HEART BEAT! Your youngster will say it is the best Christmas ever.

Thinking of nice clean schools—that Elementary Janitor around our town is simply "TOPS" and never have I seen as clean a school as that one! Immaculate is the word!

Did you hear one of the latest tunes called, "I'VE GOT HER OFF MY HANDS"? Sh—but the rest of it goes something like this—"BUT I CAN'T GET HER OFF MY MIND". It will be sweeping the country soon! How small the world is. Here's the cute love story of the daughter of our former Pharmacist around the town!

My youngest son has been rooming near Charles Street with an elderly lady who has had several roomers for a number of years. My son arrived there in June. Just this September, a most attractive young girl was walking from the kitchen into the living room and my son said, "Who are you?" (quite startled). "I'm the granddaughter of the lady with whom you live." This sweet girl was driven up to have dinner with us and so there it is—you never know when that Mr. Dan Cupid will strike. So when I told her that I knew her father—the short time he was in our town (the one who owned a lovely dog) and I was an admirer of the fine dog they had, she was just as much surprised as I!

Are you an October born, that is from the 20th of October to the 20th of November?

It is the sign of "Libra" meaning the "Scales", thus you are given to balancing and comparing in other words looking at both sides of whatever matters in which may arise and interest you. These people love music in fact become quite prominent in musical circles. They have the capacity of doing great things if they will but the severe test for them is they do not like to follow a routine laid out for them to remain content in subordinate places. They will do their work well and contentedly in their way and are usually successful if allowed to follow their own inclination. The men in this sign are usually extremely shrewd in business matters and capable of managing large enterprises. Their judgement is excellent. There are no kinder hearted people than the "Libra" born! In their friendships they are always attracted by personality and mental gifts than attracted by wealth or by social position. They often make changes in life through enthusiasm and ambitious desire to make improvements. They like excitement and always attracted toward the busiest throng. Patience, humility, repose, self-control, purity of thought and desire should be their constant aim and keen perception there is no human attainment beyond their capacity if they become spiritualized. More inharmonious marriages are contracted by those of this sign than any other of the Zodiac with the exception of Taurus and Sagittarius. They do not need a partner in any business venture in life.

So long, folks. Have a grand week end this lovely weather. Drive slowly and carefully for then you will be able to see more.

Until next week D. V.

Faithfully,

YOU AND YOUR CONGRESS

THE NEXT SESSION of Congress won't look much different but it will sound considerably shriller than the one that has just ended.

The second session of the 82nd Congress, which will open shop at noon on Tuesday, January 8, will debate just about the same things that were discussed during the first session. Unless, that is, a new world war should erupt in the interim.

The discussion, however, can be expected to be at a higher pitch because of 1952 being a national election year. Many a page of the Congressional Record will be filled with campaign speeches or material for same. Discussions of most issues will be weighed more carefully as usual for their political effectiveness.

A CHECKLIST of items that the next session will consider includes the following:

Appropriations: These are a perennial item because they are made only for a year at a time. Next year the requests will be larger than this, because the plan is for spending to rise. The protest will be louder next year than this because federal spending will be a major political issue. Spending for the current fiscal year is estimated at slightly over $68 billion, compared to between $80-$85 billion in the next fiscal year.

Economic Controls: Assuming a state of national emergency still exists, the Administration will seek renewal of price-wage-credit controls under the Defense Production Act, which expires June 30. It also will renew its fight to eliminate from the DPA the amendments which permit manufacturers to pass along legitimate increases in regular overhead costs and allow retailers to receive their historical profits.

Taxes: This is a touchy election year subject. But there is no indication that less-essential spending will be cut enough to offset defense spending increases. The alternatives are borrowing or taxing. The only remaining large and untouched revenue producer is a sales tax, which would be as welcome in Congress next year as ants at a picnic. Any new tax bill in 1952 probably will be aimed mainly at corporations. They can't vote.

Housing: Legislation in the session just ended concentrated on increasing housing in defense areas. In the next session there will be moves to increase federal aid to housing generally. For example, Chairman Maybank (D-S. C.) of the Senate Banking Committee has ready a bill (S. 2342) that would permit up to 20% of the National Service Life Insurance money to be invested in government-guaranteed mortgages on veterans' homes.

Tidelands Oil Dispute: Who owns the oil under the tidelands of the coastal states? The House this year passed a bill which says the states do. But the Administration feels differently, so the House bill has been bottled up in the Senate Interior Committee under the watchful eye of Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) The argument will continue, with strong political overtones, in 1952.

Foreign Aid: The Administration has said it will request about the same amount next year as this—$8.5 billion. This year Congress granted about $1 billion less than that. It probably will be less generous next year than this—provided conditions remain about the same—because there will be more emphasis on spending reductions and foreign assistance will be a prime target. But politicians will keep in mind the need for maintaining friendly relations with the nationality groups in an election year.

St. Lawrence Seaway: This has been a controversial project for years. Now, however, Canada has announced she'll build it alone if the U. S. doesn't want to help. There were strong but futile Administration efforts during the past session to get a bill through Congress. The House Public Works Committee will reopen its hearings on the project as soon as Congress reconvenes and the argument will resume.

COOLIDGE SET A FINE PRECEDENT

Recent disclosures of shocking irregularities in high places in the government have turned the minds of millions of Americans back to the scandals of the Harding Administration. President Coolidge came to the White House shortly after these crimes began to be exposed. He ordered a sweeping investigation, regardless of whom it touched or where it might lead. Relentless prosecution of the malefactors followed. The President's full weight was behind this all the way, even though some of the men involved had been prominent in his own party.

The country now has a right to ask: Will similar action be taken in the present case? Or will a few of the lesser crooks be thrown to the wolves, and the remainder covered up.

The current scandals have gone deeply in government bodies which should be conducted on the highest conceivable plane of honor, decency and ethics—notably the Internal Revenue Bureau and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. They have run all the way from clearly illegal acts to the use of "influence" and "connections" which are reminiscent of the most flagrant Tammany ward-healing. To put it bluntly, the whole mess stinks to high heaven.

President Truman can perform, one of the greatest services of his career if, as President Coolidge did before him, he orders that the current scandals be completely investigated and completely made public—and makes that order stick.—Industrial News Review.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ANAHEIM, CALIF., BULLETIN: "An interesting sidelight on political thinking of organized labor's membership was provided at the national convention of the AFL in San Francisco.... it was announced that the 8 million AFL men and women would be asked to contribute $1 each toward a political war chest.... Last year's war chest, for which $2 per capita was asked, amounted to $550,000. This means that only one member in every 30 cared to endorse the political program of AFL leadership, in advance and en toto, even to the mere extent of $2 in cash support! Which also means that the overwhelming majority reserved the right to support or oppose any and all issues, with votes or cash, as independent individuals."

PLATTSMOUTH, NEBR., JOURNAL: "Our citizens are guaranteed freedom, and freedom of the press is freedom of the people. But, constitutional guarantees can be abrogated and the newspapers of the United States are battling today to preserve a free press. To win a fight requires determination and courage to see it through no matter what the sacrifice."

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "There is something about a church which inspires reverence. It matters little whether it is a one-room building with hard-backed benches or a great cathedral with tall spires which point heavenward.... It may be so because.... people lower their voices when they enter, and greed and avarice are forgotten at the door. Inside the church are spoken the words and thoughts which have guided men for centuries. Inside it a person instinctively turns his eyes and his heart toward the altar of greater power and wisdom."

SEBASTIAN, FLA., INDIAN RIVER NEWS: "Truman's time would be better spent policing government bureaus directly, than by putting a ban on all information concerning government bureaus, except that which the head of the bureau deems fitting."

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to

END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?

They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?

Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $.34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?
The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?

The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employees in yard service. The employees can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?

The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still refuse.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed

With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

"Some things we are likely to forget; the value of preparation. That personal charm can be cultivated. The virtue of controlled temper. Prosperity begins with economy. The value of a good name. No cause is ever won without enthusiasm. Nothing is gained without perseverance. Every one should attend church on Sunday. Our country was founded on the teachings of the Bible. Socialism is the first station on the road to Communism. There is nothing wrong in the world but what an adherence to the Golden Rule would correct."

FEESERSBURG

Farm land prices advanced another 17 per cent during the past year. About one-third of the farms sold went to non-farm buyers. Around a fourth of the land bought has been by farmers enlarging their farms to make more efficient use of machinery. Land prices in some parts of the United States have increased over 100 per cent from the 1935 average. The greatest advance has been in the upper Southern States. Maryland farm land prices have increased about 14 per cent while Pennsylvania's has stepped up to 19 per cent.

The water shortage this year is a good reminder that conserving the forests conserves the water supply. Also building a good size pond on one's farm is insurance against dry streams for watering stock.

This happens to be National Apple Week and by all the evidence this has been a bumper year for the fruit. Everywhere one goes there are red apples, yellow apples, striped apples and just apples. There are so many ways to fix them to eat that one could fill a book with recipes. Probably the most popular dish is baked apple dumpling with apple pie a close runner-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Broadwater and son, Brian, have been ill for the past week with a new virus infection which seems to be contagious.

Word came today that Earl Shriner, of Frederick, and formerly of Union Bridge died suddenly Monday afternoon of a heart attack at his home in Frederick. He had been in good health and his sudden death was a great shock to the community. While death must come to each of us in turn, when it comes so swiftly, the emotional shock to relatives is one that is hard to bear.

We visited a sawmill this week and watched trees from our woods being turned into lumber for a barn. This is fascinating work, but it takes an expert to do it. One can easily understand why a man would want to do this kind of work. Situated deep in a woods, seemingly far from civilization, with the silence and beauty of nature all about and only the buzz of the saw biting against wood to disturb the stillness, it is a place of contentment. The rhythmic function of the saw, and the ever increasing pile of lumber, gives the lumbermen great pride in their day's work. Each man knows his job so well at a sawmill that there is hardly a word spoken between them from the time the tree leaves the pile until it is loaded on the truck cut into specified pieces of lumber. There is neither hurry or excitement; no movement is wasted for the men know their job will last as long as nature grows trees. A sawmill may not be the most glamorous place in the world but it is the most peaceful one that I have visited for a long, long time.

Farmers growing corn will be glad to hear that the U. S. Department of Agriculture have found the answer to the corn borer. It is a fly named Lydella. It does no harm to crops and attacks no insect except the corn borer. The females tenderly place their infant maggots at the entrance of the corn borers' tunnels. Then the maggots, guided by the peculiar genius of their kind, crawl into the tunnels, find the borers and destroy them by eating them. Simple, isn't it, although it doesn't sound very neighborly.

The celebration of Halloween lasted five nights this year. Beginning Friday evening in Union Bridge with a parade, continuing Monday evening in Taneytown, Tuesday night at Hanover and ending Wednesday night at Westminster. Surely this year the goblins, witches and ghosts have been worn out. By the combined efforts of the citizens and parents vandalism was held to a minimum. There is a certain amount of pressure inside each small fry and teenager that must explode and if this excess energy is directed into the right channel no harm is done, but if left on its own, the explosion is that of a miniature A bomb and the results about as damaging. One example of this is the way the school children of Union Bridge responded to the generosity of some of the business men in that town. They gave their store windows to the children to finger paint instead of marking them up with soap. Prizes were given for the best scenes and some of the pictures were very pretty. It was characteristic of the children to use soap on the store windows they were forbidden to paint on. This is a lesson in something or other, what, I hesitate to say.

An extra tax was put on liquor and cigarettes the first of November. Whether this is fair will always be open to debate. It depends entirely whether you use these two items or not. The non-users will declare that such things are luxuries and should be taxed before necessities. To some persons these two items are necessities—maybe just as much as candy, pop and ice cream are to others. It's all in the point of view of each individual. Who is capable of deciding for another person what is a necessity and what is a luxury? As the old saying goes and it still packs a lot of punch: "What is meat for one person, is poison for another."

Women often endure untold suffering simply because they haven't anybody to talk to.

Every baby born today in the U. S. starts life owing $1,865. That figure represents its per capita share of the $281,000,000,000 debt owed by federal, state, and local governments. No wonder its first sound is a loud wail.

CHARLES U. MESSLER, JR.

Charles U. Messler, Jr., 36, was found dead, Wednesday, at 4:30 p. m., in the dairy of the farm he operated with his father near Union Bridge, victim of an unusual accident. Dr. James T. Marsh, Carroll county medical examiner, attributed his death to drowning.

Mr. Messler had gone to the dairy to prepare milk cans for the evening's work when he apparently fell, striking his head on a concrete ledge, the upper part of his body becoming immersed in water used in the plant. He was discovered about fifteen minutes later by his father. The Union Bridge Fire Company was summoned but the firemen were unable to revive him.

A son of Charles U. and Clara Bankard Messler, he leaves besides his parents, his wife, Mrs. Olive Bohn Messler, and a son, Louis E. Messler, at home. He was a member of the Linwood Church, of the Brethren and was affiliated with Plymouth Lodge 143, A. F. & A. M., Union Bridge.

Messler's body will be removed on Saturday, at 1 p. m. to the Linwood Church of the Brethren where services will be held at 2 p. m. The Rev. Dyall Delotte, his pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in the Pipe Creek cemetery. Friends may call at the Messler home this (Friday) evening. Funeral arrangements are in charge of D. D. Hartzler and Sons.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS WILL MEET

The first countywide meeting of the various services and committees which make up the volunteer services of Carroll County's Red Cross Chapter will take place Nov. 2, 1951, at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the new elementary school, Westminster.

Mrs. A. J. Lamme, Jr., Volunteer services, in announcing the meeting, stated that three speakers with very interesting messages will address the group. These speakers include Dr. Robert Gardner, Springfield Hospital; Miss Isabelle Connor, Librarian at Fort Howard, and Miss Ann Matthews, Maryland State Nutritionist. The members of the canteen, motor, gray ladies and staff aide services throughout the county who attended are due for a very pleasant, interesting and encouraging evening. It is anticipated that these ladies will come from Taneytown, Sykesville, Mt. Airy, Westminster, Woolery's, Hampstead, Manchester, Union Bridge and New Windsor districts. The reorganization of Carroll County Chapter, American Red Cross goes on apace. Its volunteer services have completed organization of its committees and services in practically every district in the county. Instruction and training are preparing these individuals as teams to meet any emergency that chance or an enemy may thrust upon our country. They have already met one disaster recently and acquitted themselves splendidly. This experience, however, pointed up the need for further training in teamwork, and plans to accomplish this will be discussed at the coming meeting.

It is a splendid work these volunteers are preparing for and doing, and it is hoped they will turn out in increasing numbers in the near future. The need for help of this nature is growing, not diminishing. If you are not yet a member of this worthwhile effort, and would like to get in on it, come to the meeting November 2, and make yourself known. You will be welcomed warmly.

Every house where love abides and friendship is a guest, is surely home, sweet home; for there the heart can rest.—Henry Van Dyke.

This is the true nature of home—it is the place of Peace, the shelter not only from all injury, but from all terror, doubt, and division.—Ruskin.

The land is basic to all economy and all human endeavor.

God and a Man

Lesson for November 4, 1951

WHEN God created this world he did it Himself. Since that time, where affairs of this planet are concerned, when God wants to do something for mankind or for a man, he seldom does it by himself. He always has assistants.

When God wants to raise a crop of wheat he never raises it alone. When God wants to feed a city he feeds it by the innumerable hands of farmers, merchants, carriers of cargo the world around. When God wants children cured of diphtheria he does so—with the help of the men who discovered and perfected diphtheria anti-toxin.

Dr. Foreman

Doubtless God could work alone; but just as doubtless, he seldom does. Even when God wants to split a granite cliff in the wilderness, he does not use a magic axe; he uses things we can see: the frost-crystals and the sunshine.

God's Man for God's Work

THIS is also the story the Bible tells. Centuries ago there were some thousands of slaves in Egypt, Hebrew slaves, descended from the free man Abraham. God, we are told, wanted those slaves set free.

How would you have expected God to do it? If God is all-powerful, if he can do just anything he wants to do, and he wants these men set free, how will he do it? Will he reach down a mighty hand and lift them as you might lift a handful of the smallest ants, and set them down on some bit of free soil far away from Egypt? Will he send an army of angels to batter down the fortresses of Egypt, destroy her armed forces and set his people free?

Let us waste no time arguing whether God could or could not do such things. Let us assume that he could. The point is: he did not.

He called a man, a man named Moses. Already Moses had gone through a long life, and perhaps he thought of himself as at the end of his trail. If Moses had been asked, he might even have said that all his life's experience had gone for nothing. But God knew better. God knew that everything that had formed Moses' mind and character—his family, his training and education, even the long lonely years as scout and shepherd at the back of beyond—everything in his past life was to be useful in the most important part of his life that still lay ahead. For God's work, Moses was God's man.

Moses Has Many Opposite Numbers

JUST as Moses was God's personal agent in liberating the slaves from Egypt, so down through the centuries Moses has had his "opposite numbers"—men and women who have brought to pass what (religious persons find reason to believe) God intends to bring to pass.

God wanted the good news about Jesus to be spread throughout the world. But this has come to pass only as Paul and a long line of missionaries have gone through one country after another with the message of God. God wanted the records of Jesus' life, or at least some facts about Jesus and his teachings, put down in writing and not left to men's memories.

But he did not write the Gospels—he inspired certain men to write them. God wanted the Christian world, in our time, to awake to the "open sore of Africa" and to send missionaries to that dark continent. But he chose a man, David Livingstone, to do this for him.

Wilberforce was God's agent for freeing the slaves of Great Britain, as Lincoln and many another were in America.

God's Ways Are Not Always Understood

IT is easier to say these things years or centuries after the event than at the time they happen.

Moses at first could not believe he was the man God wanted; tried in fact to talk God out of it. Jeremiah doubted whether he should ever have been a prophet. Lincoln often had moods of the blackest. John Calvin sat up half the night in a Geneva boarding house giving Pastor Farel all the good reasons why he, Calvin, could never be a suitable man for the very job in which he became a famous hero.

Even God's own man sometimes does not realize his greatness. But God knows! And in time we all do.

The Taneytown members of the National Federation of Independent Business, along with thousands of other members throughout the nation, recently voted in one of their monthly polls whether convicted Communists should be allowed to go free on bail until they appeal to higher courts agree to hear their appeals.

Clyde L. Hesson, NFIB chairman for Taneytown, reports that 81% of the voting members of the nation have said that bail should be denied the Communists after they have been convicted. A bill to deny this right of bail has been introduced in Congress as it has been shown that when out on this period of freedom the convicted Communists attempt to further tear down our nation or go underground to continue their plotting.
