TANEYTOWN CUB PACK Holds Second Annual Blue-Gold Dinner

The second annual Blue-Gold Dinner was held by Cub Pack 714 of Taneytown, Thursday evening, Feb. 28 at the Trinity Lutheran church. Approximately 65 persons were present including the Cubs and their families, the Cub Committee and guests. Rev. Stahl presided as toastmaster.

The tables had been set up and tastefully decorated in a large U by the den mothers. The decorations were in blue and gold streamers and each person had a blue or gold paper hat. The tables were arranged to seat the members of each den and their families on the sides, with the committee and guests seated at the head table. A large bell which had been covered with silver paper and decorated with a blue and gold handle was placed on a small table in the middle of the group; and in the center of the head table was a large birthday cake decorated in blue and gold.

The dinner had been prepared in advance by the mothers of the Cubs and was served by the girls of the Luther League.

A sterling silver set of earrings and a pin was presented to Mrs. Ellsworth Parks in appreciation of her untiring efforts in behalf of Cubbing.

Mr. Ernest Dunbar told some of his experiences with the Boy Scouts in New England and advised the boys of today "to be prepared" and ready to meet all experiences.

After the dinner everyone participated in singing Cub songs, under the direction of Henry Reindollar with Jimmy Fair accompanying them. After the singing, the older Cubs arranged themselves around a simulated campfire at the open end of the U, and an induction was held for the new members of the pack. Cubmaster Franklin Fair conducted this ceremony with the lights out, and the parents of the new cubs were lined up in double file holding lighted candles. The boys filed between this double line and lighted their candles as they passed through the group; then they lined up in front of Cubmaster Fair. During the induction ceremony, candles representing different ideals of Cubbing were lighted at different points during the ceremony. There were six new boys inducted: Larry Weishaar, Bobby Poole, Dickie Airing, Dickie Clingan, Geary Myers and Jimmy Coronet. At the end of this ceremony, the boys' parents lined up behind the boys and received bobcat pins which they pinned on their sons' lapels. The boys were also presented with their wolf books.

The older boys, upon completion of this induction ceremony, were presented with their wolf merit badges. These boys were Ronald Hopkins, Douglas Gunther, Ronald Putman, John Omer, Ronnie Dayhoff, Eugene Eyster, Leon Fritz, Robert Lambert, Arthur Meyers and Guy Parks.

The evening closed with the singing of America.

BOARD OF EDUCATION REGULAR MEETING

Resignation of Teachers Accepted. New Ones Appointed

The regular meeting of the Carroll County Board of Education was held in the Offices of the Board on March 4, 1952 at 3:00 p. m. with vice-president Mr. Norman Hunter presiding. The Board approved the minutes of the February meeting and bills as submitted for approval at this time. Resignations were accepted from Barbara Pfoutz, Lathrum, Sykesville High School; Gwendolyn Seemer, Westminster Elementary School; Mrs. Evelyn Townsend, Mount Airy High School; Mr. Kenneth Sampson, Instrumental Music Teacher, Westminster Schools. The Board gave approval to the appointment of the following teachers for the remainder of the school year: Jane Babyion, Sykesville High School; Mrs. Julia Larkin, Westminster Elementary School; Mrs. Dorothy Etzler, Mount Airy High School. The Board considered several matters related to the janitorial service in the schools of the county and made some temporary appointments in connection with janitorial service. Library aid was voted to several of the county schools who had requested aid in this area. The Board discussed briefly the problems connected with the expansion and further introduction of agriculture into the high school curriculum and after consideration it was directed that further study be given to the problems connected with this question and further recommendations be made to the Board at a future meeting.

The Board considered a number of items in connection with the purchase of equipment for the summer and for school year 1952-53 and the superintendent was directed to proceed with these purchases as materials are available.

The Board considered correspondence with the Carroll County Senator and Delegates related to the problem of providing additional funds for buildings in the county at this time, and after consideration the superintendent was directed to proceed with the planning of improved and increased facilities as rapidly as funds are assured for this purpose. By a motion the superintendent was directed to continue his negotiations in connection with the securing of a teaching staff for 1952-53. A brief report was given on the progress of building planning at Sykesville and Manchester. Some consideration was given to the information related to teachers who will not be in service for various reasons during 1952-53 and the approval was given for several contracts in connection with teachers for the coming school year. The superintendent was directed to make arrangements for the advertising of summer work projects at several of the schools as soon as plans for these projects can be completed. He was further directed to make arrangements for the purchase of materials of instruction for 1952-53 following the usual channels in this work.

The Board was advised of the legislative developments in the present session of the Maryland General Assembly and action was taken to adjust the planning of the school program to include any changes made necessary by new legislation.

The Board was notified that the New Windsor School had invited the Board to be guests of the school for the April meeting when an inspection of the improved facilities at New Windsor will be made, and the Board was entertained at dinner by the school. The Board accepted the invitation and directed that the planning of the April meeting be left to the principal of the school and the superintendent.

The Board directed that continued effort be made to keep parents and citizens aware of the serious problems to be confronted during the next year and the following year because of the increased school population and the inability at this time to continue with any expanded school building programs. Many of the school centers will be quite crowded in 1952-53 and there exists some possibility of requiring double sessions in the elementary school at some locations. It is hoped that this move will not be necessary, and the superintendent was directed to avoid any change of this kind unless absolutely required.

The Board adjourned at 5:00 p. m.

THIS 'N' THAT (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

No doubt, Queen Elizabeth in the future days will be in contact with her romantic uncle, The Duke of Windsor and become closer friends as the years come on assigning him to one of the Provinces. Let's just watch the step of Her Royal Highness!

Gowns will be returning; Ladies (so says those artistic men) to the Elizabethan Mode of Queen Elizabeth I. That means very tight bodices with the added material to the front as an apron affect. That is all right for the tall girl but for five feet-three or under it cuts the height right in half! Was sitting in a MD's office (waiting room) on Madison Street lately in the big city where the walls were done for many years in dark brown tapestry which in days of long ago was considered the "grandest". The room was quite dark and dismal and soon I was making comparisons with the bright and cheerful rooms and offices of today.

Just as the history of the 2800 year struggle to solve a simple, basic building problem of the window! Webster defines a window as, "an opening in the wall of a building for the admission of light and air." The first peoples known to have used windows were the Egyptians and Assyrians around the 9th century B.C. From the beginning, man struggles to devise ways of covering the window opening to protect against the elements and still admit light and air. Some of the earliest coverings were animal skins, parchment and straw matting. Then the first radical step in window protection was taken by the Romans who used bronze frames or sashes into which they set small panes of various translucent materials. Among the materials used were very thin strips of marble, seashells, horn and mica. And in the ruins of Pompeii, bronze frames were found into which pieces of glass had been set. This was the beginning of the glazed window. The Roman invasion brought the glazed window to England which brought the leaded glass windows commonly used in Cathedrals. In homes and other buildings leaded sections of clear glass were eventually used. All those windows were immovable. Later they were constructed to swing out like doors or to pivot on a center rod thus admitting air as well as light. Finally in the 1400's, the English developed the "double hung" window with the upper and lower sash that slid up and down. Here in America, the double window has been used for centuries with practically no basic change. Then in order for the sash to move up and down freely, it had to be loose and so it was not airtight or water tight and when open it admitted the insects, snow, rain and dust. Man's first attempt at protecting against these shortcomings was to plug up the "cracks" between the window frame and the window sash to keep out cold and drafts. Newspapers were used for this purpose. Then later weather stripping if you recall which is still widely used. The window screen was then devised to keep out insects. This was well over a hundred years ago. The first screens were made of loosely woven cloth net and not very durable. Later methods of weaving wire were developed and the familiar wire screens came into existence. Rusting of sills and staining were inevitable. The next step in window protection was the storm window placed over the regular window to reduce the amount of heat lost through the single thick-

Taneytown's Bond Issue

At a special meeting of The Mayor and City Council of Taneytown consideration was given a letter and information concerning the proposed Bond Issue and Sewer project. The letter and suggested plans received from Whitman, Requardt and Associates follows:

Mayor and City Council
Taneytown, Maryland
Gentlemen:

March 3, 1952

At the last Council Meeting we were authorized by you to prepare a suggested schedule of charges which would be necessary to (1) pay the principal and interest on the $400,000 Bond Issue and (2) to maintain and operate the sewerage system including overhead, expenses and depreciation allowance. These charges were to include the proper levy on assessable property; a front foot charge for all of the property served by a sewer and a service charge for the use of the sewer to be in proportion to the water consumption.

The exact amount of levy cannot be determined for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953 until the bonds have been sold and the actual interest rate is determined by the bankers who will bid on the bonds.

We have discussed these charges with Mr. Yost, your Bond Attorney, and were informed by him that these charges are in accordance with the Act. The basis of determining the recommended levy on assessable property is shown below. The basis of determining the service charges is also shown below. We believe these are self-explanatory, but would like to review them with you before they are released for publication. We will be at the Council Meeting tonight and can make any corrections you may desire to these charges.

Very truly yours,
WHITMAN, REQUARDT AND ASSOCIATES

YOU AND YOUR CONGRESS

The hottest argument in Congress today is nearly forty years old. It is about universal military training.

The late Senator George E. Chamberlain (D-Ore.) started it in 1915 when, as chairman of the old Senate Military Affairs Committee, he proposed that all males between 12 and 23 be liable for military training. The proposal died after considerable furor but has been revived spasmodically in various forms during the intervening years.

Much of the protest to Chamberlain's proposal came from mothers. Today much of the anti-UMT correspondence being received by members of Congress is coming from mothers. The big difference is that while mothers could not vote in 1915, today there are more women than men of voting age in the country.

That is a difference to be considered in connection with current UMT debate in this national election year and many members of Congress are considering it.

Basically, the proposal currently being debated in Congress calls for putting all physically fit men into UMT at age 18 for six months of training, followed by seven and a half years in the reserve forces.

The Senate will be guided largely by what the House does. Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee predicts victory for UMT. Senator Taft (R-Ohio), Senate Republican policy leader, opposes UMT now.

Pro and con, the main general arguments in Congress about UMT run like this:

FOR: Congress in authorizing a commission last year to recommend a UMT program endorsed the principle of UMT.

AGAINST: It did not. Congress only agreed to explore the subject further. FOR: It's every citizen's duty to defend his country and UMT would distribute this obligation most equitably.

AGAINST: There would be no equity when some men were being drafted for 24 months while others were given only six months of UMT. Moreover, UMT means that nearly every American boy at 18 would lose his individual freedom for eight years.

FOR: UMT would help create a strong reserve of non-veterans available for quick mobilization. The alternative is indefinite, expensive maintenance of standing armed forces, indefinite extension of the draft and continued reliance upon veterans as reserves.

AGAINST: There is no guarantee that UMT would bring appreciable reduction of the standing forces. But there are indications that it would require large additional expenditures after the present emergency passed. UMT would only be a procurement program for the reserve forces—with no guarantee of well-trained reserves.

FOR: The duration of the present emergency is incalculable and there is always the possibility that the cold war will get hot. Thus, trained manpower is the key to preparedness.

AGAINST: The threat of total war has been exaggerated to speed acceptance of UMT. If war did come, the atom bomb and other new weapons would preclude the use of large armies. This country's real armed might lies in its superior weapons, equipment and productive capacity.

FOR: In past wars we were inadequately prepared and suffered needless casualties because men had to be sent into combat without enough training.

AGAINST: With only six months of UMT training, a man would require considerable refresher instruction—probably the equivalent of basic training—if ordered to active duty after four to seven years in the reserve. That would be especially true if he was not in an active reserve unit. FOR: The only way to develop a strong reserve of non-veterans—and it would not be fair to continue recalling veterans—is to use UMT in eliminating the present drought of volunteers for the reserve forces.

AGAINST: No reserve plan will be successful until the Pentagon stops regarding the reserve forces as unimportant stepchildren.

FOR: UMT training would be good for young men and every possible safeguard for their welfare is provided in pending legislation.

AGAINST: Regardless of safeguards, military life exposes young men to vice and corruption. It also produces regimented thinking, which is the wrong preparation for free citizenship.

UMT's fate this year will depend upon which of those arguments prevail.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

GREAT FALLS, MONTANA, LEADER: "The National Bureau of Economic Research, an outfit studying long range trends and not given to spectacular statement, calls what has happened to America's average individual incomes in the past 25 years 'one of the greatest social revolutions in history.'... the country which Communists and Socialists too—constantly exorcise as the despoiler of the masses is in fact doing far better by the masses than the enemies of capitalism have any hope of doing."

CHESTER, S. C., REPORTER: "The determination to remain free is a decision that all of us must make. Freedom will be protected not by Congress, heads of businesses, labor leaders, or politicians—but by you and me, working from our own personal pulpits... and by practicing what we preach."

FOREST GROVE, ORE., NEWS-TIMES: "The simplicity of small town living is its strength. Residents of small communities are able to see most of their governmental, economic and social patterns clearly and know how our cherished institutions function. The self-sustaining features of community life are apparent. The citizen of the small community can observe where each individual who performs a useful service is a valuable citizen because he can see how the activities of each affect the whole. Much government is a direct local responsibility and responsive to local control."

OSKALOOSA, IOWA, DAILY HERALD: "During the thirty-nine years of the Federal income tax, the per capita Federal tax burden has grown from $3.38 in the 'pre-income tax' year, 1912, to $328.82 in 1951."

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dutterer announce the birth of their second son, born Monday at the Annie M. Warner hospital.

The Aid Society of Baust E. and R. church met Tuesday evening in the parish house. Mrs. Denton Wantz presided. Mrs. M. S. Reifsnider led the devotion. A conservation service was used with the hymn "Take My Life and Let It Be" sung responsively with scriptures read by Mrs. Noah Warehime, Mrs. Raymond Baker, Mrs. Cecil Greene and Mrs. William DeGroot. Silent prayer and the Lord's Prayer concluded the service. Mrs. Herman Arrington and Mrs. Allen Morelock gave the secretary's and treasurer's report, respectively. Final plans were made for the Father-Son banquet to be served March 17th. A discussion followed on a banquet to be served in April and three in May. Mrs. Kenneth Feaser reported a profit of $66.00 made on products sold during the year. The next meeting will be Tuesday, April 1. The hostesses were Mrs. C. Leonard Gartrell, Mrs. Charles Humbert, Mrs. Richard Hess, and Mrs. Cecil Greene.

Regular services of Baust E. and R. church will be held in the parish house Sunday, March 9 at 11 a. m. The church school will be at 10. Lenten services Thursday at 7:45 with Rev. Edward Hamme as guest speaker.

The Father-Son banquet will be held March 17. A chicken and oyster dinner will be served by the Aid Society. The Rev. Dick Brandt, a missionary to Africa, will show pictures.

The Never Weary Class of Baust Lutheran Sunday school will meet on Tuesday evening at the home of Edna and Audrey Myers. The Women's Missionary Society will meet on Thursday evening at the parsonage.

Regular worship service Sunday morning at 9:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Rev. Donald Warrenfeltz, pastor.

Mr. Sterling Zimmerman, Westminster, entered the Hanover General hospital on Monday evening for observation and treatment.

I want to thank Mrs. Allen Morelock for the fine job of taking over the news letter while I was in the sunny south.

Our party arrived home on Sunday afternoon after spending two weeks in Florida. While there we visited with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warehime of Lakeland, Mr. and Mrs. K. Myers, Avon Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rice in St. Petersburg. We attended the Lenten service and Holy Communion on Wednesday evening at Grace Lutheran church, Lakeland. We drove through the world's largest citrus producing area, beginning near Ocala and extending to near Lake Placid, a distance of more than 100 miles. Florida's citrus groves—550,000 acres of them—produce a hundred million boxes of vitamin-packed oranges and grapefruit annually. The pecan nut groves were interesting as well as the turpentine farming area in Georgia. With Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Myers we called to see Mrs. Beulah Sappington, a patient in the Avon Park hospital. We enjoyed the Highland Hammock State Park, took a cat walk through the jungle. One laurel oak, believed to be about nine centuries old is still pretty for its age. Here we saw hundreds of Sycamore Knees. The reflection in the water was lovely, of tropical plants, flowers and trees that seem to reach to the sky. We crossed the Tampa Bay on the Ferry into St. Petersburg. We remember a Methodist Community church there, where 3500 cars park in the church yard for services every Sunday morning to hear the Rev. Hamilton deliver the worship service over loud speakers.

We enjoyed a sight seeing boat cruise at Miami and the long bridge to Key West, the longest bridge being seven miles long.

At Bonita Springs there were alligators, crocodiles, bears, snakes, other wild life and the beautiful pink feathered flamingoes. The Shell Factory also was interesting. The Mountain Lake Bird Sanctuary and Singing Tower at Lake Wales, is beautiful. It weighs 5,500 tons, has a square base 51 feet wide and rises to a height of 250 feet. It contains a carillon of 71 bells, the largest weighing 23,000 pounds and the smallest bell is but 11 pounds. Beautiful Cypress Gardens, Winter Haven known as the world over as "America's Tropical Wonderland" where the rare and exotic plants gathered from the ends of the earth form a paradise of beauty and a mecca for over a quarter million visitors each year. Azaleas, Camellia, Japonicas, Gardenias, Jasmine, Ginger Lilies as well as stately Palms, Hibiscus, long leaved bananas and over all the lovely cypress trees form a giant background of never-to-be-forgotten beauty. We were thrilled with the action and excitement of the high speed water ski thrill show by the Aquamats and champions, Tom Moor, famed radio star was among them. Silver Springs was our last stopping place of interest. The flowers were lovely and the glass bottom boat ride and the new Silver Springs feature, the Photo-Sub (underwater movie and still camera boat crossed over 14 underwater geological formations were undecipherable). You must see it for yourself. The world is a beautiful place in which to live, yet so many people fail to see the beauty of it.

And now a little about Lakeland, the home town of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warehime. The average temperature of Lakeland, Florida is 74 degrees. The year round and has a permanent population of 25,000. Being 227 feet above sea level, it is tempered by breezes from the ocean and the Gulf which are within easy riding distance. Fishing, bathing and boating can be enjoyed on the 15 fresh water lakes which lie within the city limits with a recreational director managing weekly events. Two 18-hole golf courses, a public library, air-conditioned municipal-owned water and electric plant and fine churches are some of its many advantages. The Warehimes own an Allstate Tourist Court that is filled each night. They are enjoying good health and the balmy breezes of Florida. From the land of sunshine and flowers we came home to find the earth covered with snow. The snow is pretty, too, and there is no place on earth that can take the place of home.

Mrs. Ross Heltbride escaped serious injury recently, when she was accidentally run down near her home, by a car driven by Mrs. Harold Wantz of Taneytown. She was treated for cuts and bruises and at this time she is getting along nicely.

UNIONTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. William Caylor are visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Caylor of Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Kipe, Jr., of Gamber visited her sister, Mrs. Floyd Devilbiss on Saturday.

Mrs. Floyd Devilbiss remains on the sick list.

St. Paul's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. LaRue Schaeffer and Mrs. Harry Wilson on Thursday evening, March 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Schaeffer, daughter Linda of Detroit called on Mr. Schaeffer's mother and grandparents, Mrs. LaRue Schaeffer and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heltbride were entertained to dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dutterer of Frizellburg.

The Bethany Circle of the Church of God, Uniontown, met in the church basement Feb. 28, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Robert Goodwin planned the devotional part of the program. A Bible quiz was enjoyed by all. The Bethany Circle wishes Patsy Lambert of Taneytown, a speedy recovery. After a short business period, delicious refreshments were served to all by our hostess, Mrs. Lawrence Smith.

After being bedfast for 12 weeks, Bobby Weller is able to walk about the house a little each day. He entertained the following the past week: Mrs. Nellie Nushbaum, daughter Mary Louise, Billy Garber, A. S. U. S. Navy, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Heltbride, Junior and Charles Zepp, Mr. Clyde Young, Leon and Freddy Young, and Alvie Weller.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Yingling had as supper guests Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mullinix, son Dwight, of Woodbine; Mrs. Levi Goebrecht, Miss Elizabeth Pau and Mr. Maurice Smith, of Hanover.

Visitors on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Yingling were Miss Rosalie Buffington and Herbert Fox, of Union Bridge.

Mr. Charles Grossnickle called on Mrs. Burall Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Wilson Brown has been sick the past week.

"Blessed is the man who can smile even when he is sad."

FEESERSBURG

The annual Red Cross drive is now under way. Give if for no other reason than thousands of servicemen wounded in Korea are alive today because whole blood and plasma, collected through the Red Cross from voluntary donors was flown across the Pacific to the battle fronts. This program is being expanded greatly by the Red Cross and the Department of Defense. To maintain it, so that no fighting man need suffer for lack of blood, make a generous donation to your local Red Cross 1952 Fund Campaign.

Girls may find it easier to get husbands this year (leap year) but harder to get the diamond ring on her third finger. The commerce Department reports diamonds are "scarcer" and higher. A smart girl will figure it's better to have a husband without a diamond on her hand than to wait years for a ring, and run the chance of losing her man to some one else.

Items of interest to farmers: There are fewer people working on farms now than there has been at any time in the last 40 years. Almost 250 thousand left the farm last year for other occupations. About 200 thousand were family workers—50 thousand were hired helpers. The reasons for this migration from the farms were low wages and more used machinery.

The farm land boom is about over. Good farms are not being sold and buyers are no longer as willing to pay the asking price for just any kind of a farm.

The family dairy farm is perhaps the most demanding kind of farm there is but the consumption of fluid milk continues to rise while the number of dairies decrease. Dairy farms will continue to pay off better and better and they will always afford the greatest security of any type of farm in existence.

The 1952 outlook for farmers is good, growing population demands more food. Fewer farms must supply this food. Demand will be high and business good. But, modern farming requires a highly skilled operator who is well equipped. Above all he must be a business man for modern farming is big business.

Mrs. Ida Crabbs, of Linwood, spent Monday with Mrs. Maurice Grider. Mrs. Crabbs is looking forward to celebrating her 85th birthday this year.

Roger Royer, who was a patient for several days at the University Hospital, in Baltimore, returned to his home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles P. Saylor and infant daughter returned home from the Frederick Memorial hospital, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Margaret Devilbiss is spending some time with the Saylor family.

It is interesting to note that my few personal remarks about Universal Military Training has brought me some extra mail this week. It may interest the readers to know that the majority of protests came from women. This is understandable in a way but proves the psychologists theory that American boys are suffering from "Mommism." However, trying to solve the question of U. M. T. through our emotions is not being very realistic and unless we do solve this problem by facts alone, we may not be in a position very long to solve it at all. Probably the main reason I believe we should have U. M. T. is because we can no longer afford to continue the inequality of sacrifice that has up to now characterized the draft system. Some mother's sons have served once, twice and even three times; others have never served at all. This is unfair and undemocratic. The obligation to serve one's country should rest equally on all physically fit youths of these United States. I would not want to meet a Gold Star mother on the street and not be able to look her in the face, knowing her son had made the supreme sacrifice while my brother or son had not even been given military training. It is a terrible waste of men, time and natural resources and it solves nothing. But until all nations and I mean "all" can resolve to live by international law then our country must be ready to meet any threatened danger at any time. All concerned Americans are well aware of the bad effects of our past failures to provide for trained manpower through UMT. In two world wars we have had to rely on our allies to bear the brunt of the conflict until we worked desperately to put an army together. The officers have told us that many boys were killed unnecessarily due to being hastily trained. I shall never forget what my kid brother after just two weeks of training was thrown into the front line in France against veteran German troops. It was a tragic injustice when the Korean war started and the only trained men we had available were veterans of the last war. Of these men we demanded double service to our country since there were no other men to replace them. I am for U. M. T. because I believe in fair play and equality of sacrifice. All of us long for peace and I sincerely believe that U. M. T. will be a step in securing it, for a Nation that is strong physically and mentally causes an enemy to think twice before attacking. The Communist world revolution now dominates, directly or indirectly nearly one third of that human race. And the end religious freedom is not yet in sight. To meet the cold facts we must be realistic enough to adopt measures, however distasteful they may be. I do not see how any citizen deeply concerned with the future of this country can oppose Universal Military Training.

After four days of cloudy, soupy weather we were happy to see the sunshine this Wednesday morning. The reason people concern themselves so much with the daily weather reports is because it's a rare individual whose temper, mental outlook and physical well being isn't regulated by the elements. Our outlook for the entire day is governed by whether the sun is shining when we awaken in the morning. If it's a cloudy day, keeping physically busy wards off that mental depression that gradually seeps through when its raining gloomy outside. Some people say they can feel a storm coming a couple days in advance by a sort of restless, nervous area residents develop. In a way they become depressed a claim that they become depressed a claim before the storm strikes. No doubt its this perception which enabled the wild animals and birds to know when the weather is going to make a sudden change.

Miss Margaret Roelke is staying with Mrs. H. F. Delaplane near DeTour as companion-nurse for an indefinite period.

Harry Breyer, of Baltimore, who died Monday will be buried in the Lutheran church cemetery at Mt. Union Thursday afternoon. The Breyer family formerly lived at Mt. Union.

 ness of glass. Today all those outmoded methods have been replaced by the all-metal combination windows which give you modern, complete, trouble-free window protection. They contain screen, storm sash and built-in weatherstripping—all in one streamlined permanently installed unit and there's nothing to change—nothing to store—ventilation control permits rainproof, draft-free, filtered-screen ventilation regardless of the weather. That is the real window story of the modern self-storing screen and storm sash which is superior over all else and only those who have had them made for their homes realize that convenience of all sides!

Believe it or not, Ladies "Sailors" are back again and showing in all the stores in every city for the "Chapeau" this spring and as to earrings, the long drop is still very evident to decorate Milady's ear instead of the button type. As spring advances hats are seldom worn just for that errand so be sure that your Hair-do is Super Duper. Plan that visit to your favorite Beauty Salon at once and keep it up regularly for the summer months. Remember always as Florenz Ziegfeld said that a woman's hair was her crowning glory and it always will be like that. Eh? One need not be homely anymore if your hair is properly managed and it takes an expert as your Beautician to do the task properly for after all they attend school just for that purpose.

So long, Folks. Have a grand week end. Be good and be careful. Until next week D. V., I am,

I. O. O. F. TO BANQUET

The local I. O. O. F. Lodge announces that the members, with a guest each, will journey to Harney, Md., Tuesday evening, March 25th, where a banquet will be served by the ladies of the Lutheran church there. In addition to the dinner a program of entertainment is being arranged. Any former member wishing to re-instate should do so immediately so as to be able to bring a guest and enjoy the treat that is in store for those who attend. Also anyone wishing to become an Odd Fellow should file his application immediately for the same reasons. The lodge invites and solicits applications in both categories.

APPLICATION FOR MOTOR LICENSES

All applications for 1952-1953 License Plates for passenger cars and motor cycles have now been mailed out by the Department of Motor Vehicles, says the Honorable Thomas B. R. Mudd, Commissioner.

If you have not received your application for either of these two classes, due to change of address or any other reason, notify the Department in writing, giving your full name, new and old address, together with the number of your large license plate, and title number, if possible which may be found on the lost line of your Registration Card to the far right.

As clips will be issued to validate the large Maryland License plates being used at present on passenger cars, the correct number should be ascertained from the plates and placed in the boxes across the top of the application before it is returned to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

MARYLAND MUSINGS

How's your farm shop? Does it fit your farm today? Now's a good time to make an inventory of the tools you have and the tools you need. Your county agent has a folder recommending tools for the farm shop.

On a warm day take the cover off your beehives to see if they have enough honey to feed them until the spring flow starts. Use equal parts of water and sugar if they need to be fed.

Control cattle grubs with rotenone washes, dusts or sprays.

See your County Agent and get the latest University of Maryland Extension publications.

If a recipe calls for beating both egg whites and yolks, note the time-saving suggestion. Beat the egg white first. Then you can use the same beater, without washing it, to beat the yolks.

When cooking dried fruit, add a few grains of salt to help bring out the natural sweetness.

If the pears you find at the market are hard to the touch, you can expect them to ripen in a few days at home, if properly handled. Keep them at room temperatures (60 to 70 degrees F.) with some moisture to keep them from shriveling.

March, Month of Artists

There are only eight out of March's 31 days that do not mark the birth of one or more lions of arts and letters. This list starts off with Augustus Saint Gaudens, sculptor, on March 1st, and finishes with Nikolai Gogol, Russian writer, and Franz Josef Hayden, on Austrian composer, on March 31. A partial roll call turns up artists Vincent Van Gogh, Sir Henry Raeburn, Michelangelo, Fra Angelico, Nathaniel Currier (Currier and Ives prints), Anthony Vandyke, Rosa Bonheur and Francisco Jose de Goya; and sculptors Gutzon Borglum and Jo Davidson.

Boll Weevil Threat

At the beginning of the 1950 season the boll weevil threat to cotton appears even greater than 1949 when damage amounted to an estimated $470 million. Boll weevil population last season was extremely high even in areas where pests seldom occur. Many went into hibernation and the mild winter has been favorable to their survival. It appears likely, therefore, that in a great many areas there are record number of weevils in the cottonfields and the nearby woodlands.

SHORT STORY
Bright
Sunset
By Frances Rider

ABOVE the brow of grim El Huerfano a pale pink cloud was fluffing out her rose-edged ruffles. Desbah lifted her dark eyes from the blanket she was weaving. For a moment the brown hands were still, then they took up the wool again and the design continued to grow. She must work while there was still light upon the mile high mesa about her, for inside the hogan it was difficult to blend the grays and browns of the sheep's fleece.

A breeze stirred her hair and again her glance sought the cloud. Ah! Just as she had expected, the wind from the north had brought another cloud and although at first the pretty pink cloud slipped behind El Huerfano and pretended to hide, soon the two would touch and merge. Desbah had watched them often.

"For quilted clouds are mating, high above the plains in the summer sky—"

Yazza the Long was a silversmith. Like many Navajo men he fashioned sturdy enduring jewelry from coin silver and engraved it with simple lines signifying good fortune and long life. Desbah looked down proudly at her wrist.

Yazza was different from the others. It was he who had made the bracelet she wore. He had decorated it with the thunderbird. A square turquoise was set on either side and beside them flowering cacti, symbolizing courtship. It meant that Yazza and she would like to marry and build a squat round hogan of their own. If only they had the money for a license.

The winter had been long and cold; and the summer rains scanty. Her father's sheep had died off. The few left were weak because they hadn't enough gamma grass. Desbah looked at them now, grazing at a distance among the sun-baked stones. Among them several children played a game with pebbles.

The blanket was nearly finished but she could not try to sell it. She would have to trade it for overalls and calico and flour. The few remaining sheep needed salt.

El Huerfano's far lone peak was aflame with the sunset as Desbah rose and went to the door. Yazza had gone to the mission that afternoon and soon he would pass on his way back. When Desbah was twelve she had spent a few weeks at the mission school. Only orphans could stay longer. There was too little money. Remembering the services she had attended there she moved her lips in unaccustomed prayer.

When she lifted her head she saw a tall figure black against the flaming sky. It was Yazza. Coming toward her, he held out his hands showing her many bills and much silver. Desbah had never seen that much money all at once.

"Oh, Yazza! Tell me."

Yazza spoke with no excitement in his voice. "At the mission was a letter. The lady read it to me. A store in California wants all my rings, all my pins, all my bracelets. When I make more we will get more money."

Beneath the beaded band his eyes sparkled with the glory of the sunset and his own pride.

"Yazza, Yazza, it is good. Now we can get the license."

"Not yet, my patient one. My parents have debts. I must help them."

"But you said there would be more money when you make more bracelets and pins."

"Yes, my patient one, but first—"

Yazza drew from his pocket a jewel-like piece of petrified stone. "Why do you think I polished and polished this tiny stone?"

Shyly Desbah looked into Yazza's eyes. "For our wedding ring?"

"For our wedding ring. Tonight I will burn the candle low while I make the ring for you."

"Then tomorrow you will make the things to sell?"

"Tomorrow, my patient one, I will make the things to sell."

Shadows slipped along the sides of El Huerfano and filled the arroyo. From behind the tall lone peak slipped into view one cloud with just a tinge of pink ruffles at one edge.

FIRST VILLAGE
Prof Discovers
Site of World's
First Village

CHICAGO, Ill.—Have you ever wondered about the first time when men gathered to live a community life? Where was it? When did it happen? What were the living conditions?

Dr. Robert J. Braidwood, associate professor of old world prehistory and anthropology at the University of Chicago, can answer these questions.

He recently returned to Chicago from northeastern Iraq where he and a group of associates spent a year digging in what they believe to be the earliest settled village in the world.

"The evidence we have collected and brought back with us from the expedition indicates that this community, no bigger than a city block, is a landmark in the world's history. For it was here where the great evolution from the hunting to the agricultural state had taken place," he said.

Atomic Calendar
Braidwood and his colleagues brought back odd objects such as tools, cereal foods, a variety of wheat, a kind of pea, and various pottery pieces. They will be tested on the "atomic calendar."

The calendar measured the articles brought back from the first Braidwood expedition to the place in 1948 and showed it to be the oldest known village in the world. The age of the village, as dated by the "atomic calendar," is approximately 7,000 years, or 5,000 years before Christ.

What was life like in those days? Not bad at all, says Braidwood.

The 300 residents, ancestors of the people living in the Mediterranean area, lived in roomy three or four room houses provided with ovens, and complete with chimneys. Floors were of clean mud, packed over beds of reeds. Remains of some 50 houses were dug up by the expedition.

Used Large Houses
They also found one large house consisting of six rooms, with a courtyard. Braidwood believes the house probably belonged to the chief.

Food came from wheat, barley and a kind of pea, as well as from recently domesticated animals. Bones of sheep, goats, pigs and a small horse were found there.

Tools used were of the stone age. There were no defense barricades around the village and no remains of war weapons were discovered, indicating a lack of enemies, or a peaceful time, Braidwood said.

There already was a beginning of artistic expression in this early community. Braidwood's party found figurines of animals and of "mother goddesses." The party also found portable pottery, which had come into existence in the last third of the village life.

"Although this was only a peasant economy, some trade already existed, as well as a political and moral order," Braidwood said.

Danger Season Arrives
For Rural Pedestrians

CHICAGO, Ill.—Being a pedestrian in country towns and farm areas is more dangerous now than any other time of the year.

A safety engineer pointed out that the death rate for rural pedestrians was 42 per cent higher during the last three months of 1950 than the average of the first nine.

"With more cars on the road, the pedestrian toll may be even worse this year," warned W. Dean Keefe, director of safety for the Kemper group of insurance companies.

He said the factors contributing to the upsurge each year at this time include:

1. The shift from brightly colored summer clothing to darker fall and winter shades. This makes it more difficult for drivers to see pedestrians on dark days and at night, especially on country roads.
2. More traffic in hours of darkness. The accident rate per mile at night is three times higher than in daylight.
3. Holiday travel, shopping and drinking contribute to make December the worst month of the year for pedestrians.

Keefe advised drivers to slow down at dusk, to travel at reduced speed at night and to watch out for persons who are on foot.

He urged pedestrians to walk against traffic on country roads and to get off the road whenever a vehicle approaches. When in town, cross only at intersections after looking both ways.

High School Students
Serve as Town Officials

ALBANY, Wis.—As a part of a better citizenship program and a practical example of how a community operates, Albany high school students recently took over the duties of village officials for two full days.

Ballots were prepared and an election held in the high school. Offices filled by the youngsters included village president, board members, the justice of the peace, chief of police and policemen.

Fire Fighters
Designs Flying Water Wagon

PORT SULPHUR, La.—The Mississippi river is close at hand, but the Port Sulphur Volunteer Fire Department takes no chances of being caught without water.

Because the firemen frequently respond to alarms from other communities, some of which are too far inland to make stringing of hose lines to the river feasible, they take their water supply right with them.

It's carried in a "flying water wagon," specially designed in the shops of Freeport Sulphur Company here. The apparatus consists of a 2500-gallon tank mounted on a truck and is operated in conjunction with another mobile unit known as a "front pumper." The pump sends water from the tank through the hose at a rate of 400 gallons a minute.

A 25-mile area is served by the fire company, most of whose personnel are Freeport employees who live with their families in a model townsite community developed by the company when it opened its nearby Grande Ecaille sulphur mine 18 years ago.

National Grange Questions
Severe Railroad Regulation

In an historic reversal of attitude the National Grange, largest and oldest farm organization, has questioned the results of federal regulation of railroads, and has urged that national transportation policy be a subject of study at Grange meetings throughout the nation.

H. D. Newsom, Master of the National Grange

Grange, said in a recent letter to Gustav Metzner, chairman of the Eastern Railroad Presidents' Conference. "Recent events have made it all too evident that railroad bankruptcy means eventual government ownership or government subsidy—neither solution is tolerable."

The Grange led the original campaign that resulted in the first Interstate Commerce Act and establishment of the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1887. Since that time it has consistently and militantly campaigned for close regulation of the railroads.

The farm group said it "now feels that our entire transportation policy should be carefully re-examined," adding that "it seems clearly apparent that our total transportation policy must be modernized." Mr. Newsom wrote his letter to Mr. Metzner in response to an inquiry from the railroad chairman.

"Rising transportation costs," Mr. Newsom's letter said, "coupled with financial difficulties of the railroads—particularly of those in the Eastern United States—at the same time that we have an increasing volume of freight, compel us to question the regulations now applied, for in effect often times they prevent railroads from meeting competition from other forms of transportation. The railroads have a vital role in our national economy."

He noted that when the Grange first proposed regulation of the railroads in 1887 they had a virtual monopoly. "Since that time," he continued, "conditions have changed" and the railroads are competing with trucks, buses, airlines, pipelines and even private automobiles.

"It seems clearly apparent," the letter declared, "that our total transportation policy must be modernized. It may be that the declaration of policy in the Transportation Act of 1940 coupled with the subject matter of the Brookings Institution study entitled 'A National Transportation Policy' and the information brought out in the hearings held by the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce can provide the basis of the modernized policy."

Departure of Federal regulatory bodies from the declared policy of the 1940 Transportation Act—which called for fair and impartial regulation of all forms of transportation—came in for severe criticism in both the Brookings Institution study and the progress report of the Senate group.

"The basic weakness of Federal policy," the Brookings study pointed out, "lies in its failure to build up the best possible transportation system . . . partly because of its lack of concern for the development of the railroad system, it has not notably abetted national security."

The interim report of the Senate group studying transportation policy—issued by Senators John W. Bricker, R., Ohio, and Herbert R. O'Connor, D., Maryland—upheld the railroads' contention that they are not getting "fair and impartial regulation" and warned that "further deterioration in the railroads' financial condition would make their nationalization almost inevitable."

The railroads, alone of all forms of transportation, are not subsidized by the government, it was emphasized.

Sword Swallowing Exhibition
Turns Out Poor Performance

GREEN BAY, Wis.—A 22 year old inmate of the state reformatory hospital has lost all ambition to be a sword swallower.

While waiting in the kitchen to carry food to patients, the youth was describing the art of sword swallowing to the kitchen crew, saying that he had once swallowed a three-foot knife and a neon tube at a carnival.

Describing his technique, he lowered the handle of a nine and one-half inch table knife into his throat. At that moment another inmate hurried into the kitchen, accidentally jostling the performer and causing him to loose his grip on the tip of the knife.

The youth was so embarrassed at his poor performance that he did not report the incident until a companion urged him to see the hospital nurse.

Following an X-ray, the youth was rushed to Bellin Memorial hospital where Doctor Wilson Troup removed the knife with a bronchoscope.

Worrying Parents Urged
To Have More Children

CHICAGO—Here is a "sure cure" for worry-bird parents of an only child: "Have at least two more children, preferably girls."

It was suggested by a survey of letters received by The Parents' Consultation Service from parents in 36 states and the Territory of Hawaii.

Of the parents who queried the Service during a 12-month period, only about five per cent stated that they had three or more children. Twenty-nine per cent reported having two children, while more than 49 per cent indicated that they had one child. The remainder of those writing for advice failed to specify the number of children in their family.

About 54 per cent of the children involved were identified by the writers as boys, in comparison to the 37 per cent who were identified as girls. The sex of the remaining nine per cent was not given by the correspondents.

In connection with the survey, Dr. Martin L. Reymert, Ph.D., Consultant for the Service and Director of The Mooseheart Laboratory for Child Research at Mooseheart, Illinois, points out:

"The fact that parents of only children, particularly mothers, probably have more time in which to write to the Service, should also be considered in evaluating the emotional attitudes of these parents."

BROTHERHOOD MEETS

The Churchmen's Brotherhood of Grace E. & R. church met February 28 in the S. S. room.

The Worship service opened under the leadership of Murray Baumgardner, by singing "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" and "The Church's One Foundation". Scripture as recorded in Rev. 2:1-8 and 3:14-22 was read by Sonny Koons followed by prayer by Johnny Perry. Hymn, "I Love Thy Kingdom Lord" was sung.

The topic for discussion was "Statistics of the E. and R. church" and was led by Delmont Koons, Raymond Perry and Murray Baumgardner. The service concluded by singing "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind".

President Fink then had charge of the business meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was read and accepted.

Attention was called to the forthcoming Father and Son Banquet in the S. S. room on Monday, March 10, beginning at 6:30 p. m. This will be in the form of a Covered Dish Supper, with Rev. Frank Reynolds of Littlestown as speaker and special music will be provided.

The meeting adjourned by praying the Lord's Prayer in unison to meet after the Lenten Worship Service on March 27.

SOUTHERN STATES COOP TO MEET IN WESTMINSTER

Approximately 75 members of Southern States Cooperative community advisory boards, directors of affiliated cooperatives, and Cooperative Service Agency managers from this region will attend a meeting in Westminster, Maryland on Wednesday, March 12. The meeting will be held at the Charles Carroll Hotel and begin at 7:00 p. m. EST.

An annual event, the meetings are held to give the board members the opportunity to hear a report on the operations of the Cooperative during the first half of the Southern States' fiscal year which ended December 31, 1951, and to discuss problems and policies of the Cooperative as they affect the 252,000 patron-owners of the organization.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Our most distinguished scientists, Albert Einstein, Harold C. Urey, Hans A. Bethe, Thorin R. Hogness, Phillip M. Morse, Linus Pauling, Leo Szilard and Victor F. Weisskopf, quite an impressive list; (if you don't know how impressive, look them up in WHO'S WHO) has warned the peoples of the earth, "That there is no military defense against atomic bombs, and none is to be expected. Preparedness against atomic war is futile and if attempted, will ruin the structure of our social order. If war breaks out, atomic bombs will be used, and they will surely destroy our civilization. There is no solution to this problem except the elimination of war."

Is America wise, is America intelligent, in the face of such warning from such a source to be plunging ahead in preparation for war as she has never done in all her history?

Instead, America with all her churches and all her Universities should be leading the world in "Federal Union", "Law" and "Disarmament". In our own Federal Union we have the pattern and we know how it works.

In these United States we have everything that produces war between nations: sectional differences, religious tensions, racial clashes, class differences, vested interests, selfish men wanting power. Besides, we have a heterogeneous people out of many racial backgrounds with a history of hate and war in Europe. And yet with all that we do not go to war. Why? Because instead of getting ready for war, we have gotten ready for peace.

Yours,

Mrs. Nettie B. Roop

CHOIR NIGHT MARCH 13 IN WESTMINSTER

County wide response to the Westminster Community Chorus "Choir Night" on March 13, at the Westminster High School, has resulted in acceptances from choirs in every district of Carroll County.

Some 350 to 400 singers will participate in the choir workshop which Dr. James Allan Dash will direct on Thursday night at 8 p. m. A nationally known choral conductor and Organist, Dr. Dash directs the Baltimore & Ohio Glee Club of 100 men, and the excellent Women's Music Club. He is also musical director of Radio Station WBAL and WBALT as well as director of Choral music of Goucher College.

Fortunate, indeed, are the choirs of Carroll County to have this noted conductor instruct them. Every interested person should take advantage of this opportunity to profit from the leadership of Dr. Dash.

bonds sell for 4%, it is recommended that the initial assessment be placed at 55c per hundred to allow for contingencies, uncollected taxes and a few properties which may not be assessable.

5—The Levy, of course, will be established each year and as the assessed value of Taneytown increases, the amount of the Levy will decrease in proportion. An amount varying from $21,000 per year in 1953 to $25,000 in 1985 will be required for the life of the bond issue which will be fully paid for, 35 years in the future. Therefore, the Levy would not be made.

6—if the bonds sell for 3% interest, the annual interest charge would be $12,000 per year and the total cost would vary from $17,000 to $16,140 per year. An annual Levy of only 41c per hundred would be required and it is recommended that 45c per hundred be established as the annual Levy if the bonds are sold at 3% interest.

The above is in accordance with Section 3, Senate Bill No. 380 authorizing the $400,000 Bond Issue, which reads as follows:

"And be it further enacted, That the Mayor and City Council of Taneytown shall annually levy upon all the assessable property liable to taxation in the town of Taneytown at the regular tax levying period an amount sufficient to meet and pay the interest on said bonds so issued and outstanding, and to meet and pay the principal of said bonds as they shall severally become due, from time to time, which tax shall be levied and collected, and shall have the same priority rights, bear the same interest and penalties and in every respect be treated the same as other municipal taxes now are, but the said amount so levied and collected shall be kept in a separate fund for the payment of the said interest and principal and for no other purpose whatsoever but should there remain in said account any residue after the payment in full of the principal and interest of said bonds, the said residue shall be used and applied by said Mayor and City Council of Taneytown in the maintenance of said sewerage system in said town."

TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND
$400,000 SEWERAGE SYSTEM BOND ISSUE
RECOMMENDED SERVICE RATES

In order to take care of the annual cost of maintaining and operating the sewerage system and sewage treatment plant including overhead expenses and depreciation allowance, and to allow for the cost of small extension to the system, the following two service charges, which have been suggested by the Council, are hereby recommended for adoption:

1—An annual front foot assessment against all property served by the Sewerage System in the amount of 15c per front foot. A corner house would be assessed on the narrow side and the depth of the lot on the side street would be exempt. Trunk sewers through farm lands would not be assessed. However, all vacant land served by a sewer would be charged on a front footage basis. The estimate assessable front footage is slightly over 30,000 feet which will produce an annual revenue of $4,500 per year at 15c a front foot.

2—in view of the fact that the pumping and treatment costs are in proportion to the volume of sewage flow, it is recommended that a service charge equal to 50% of the water bill be made applicable to all houses and property connected to the sewerage system. This revenue should amount to about $3,500 per year, since some water used for cooling purposes would be exempt from this charge.

3—The combined revenue from the front footage charge and sewer service charge amounts to about $8,000 a year, which is 2% of the value of the bond issue and is the minimum amount necessary for maintenance, operation, depreciation and overhead expense and for sewer extensions.

4—The Mayor and City Council at its discretion may increase or decrease these values in the future if necessary. These charges will not cease when the bonds are paid for but will continue in a manner similar to the water bills.

5—The above charges will be the only ones made since the Legislative Act requires that a sewer connection be made to each property. In the future whenever a house is built on a vacant lot the connection from the street sewer to the lot should be made by the town at no cost to the owner in addition to those outlined above.

The above is in accordance with Section 6, Senate Bill 380 outlining the $400,000 Bond Issue, as follows:

Section 6—And be it further enacted, That for the purpose of providing funds for maintaining and operating the sewerage system and sewage treatment and disposal plant contemplated by this Act, including overhead expense and depreciation allowance, the said Mayor and City Council of Taneytown is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to make such service rates or charges as may be necessary, chargeable against all properties having a sewer connection with any sewer line, sewer outlet or pipe owned, supplied or operated throughout the corporation limits of said town of Taneytown or its vicinity.
