Miss Catherine Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clotworthy Hill, spent the week-end with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dockett, of Washington, D. C. As part of the entertainment, Miss Hill was taken on a fishing trip on Sunday with a party of eight. They caught about two hundred fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hesley, of Philadelphia, spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hiltbrich. Those visiting on Sunday at the same place, were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Keefe and sons, Larry and Douglas, of Warfieldburg; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dodder, Littlestown, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. William King, Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. William Teeter were hosts at an "Open House" Sunday afternoon and evening, August 24th, at their new home at Twin Lakes Park, Gettysburg. About 125 guests enjoyed seeing their charming home. They were from Taneytown, Washington, Fairfield and Gettysburg. In the lovely grove of oaks in the rear of the house refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, cookies, punch and mints were served.

Mr. J. Elmer Wantz, of Hermosa Beach, Calif., is spending about two months in the East visiting with relatives. Part of this week he was in Taneytown. He is a half brother of Mrs. Mabel Smith and a nephew of Mr. Thomas Wantz, and he also has a number of other relatives here. Mr. Wantz was born in Taneytown, leaving here in 1900 when he went to Waynesboro. For twenty years he worked for the Southern California Edison Co. and was in the same department that H. Clay Englar was in. Both are retired from the company.

KIWANIS NEWS

The Kiwanis Club of Taneytown met Wednesday evening at Taney Inn with President, Howell Koyser presiding. Prayer was offered by Clyde L. Hesson. Group singing was led by Raymond Wright with Mrs. Wallace Yingling as piano accompanist.

James Lantz and Ralph Hoffman, of the Westminster Club were guests. Mrs. Hoffman and two children were also present.

Charles R. Cluts, member of the committee on Support of Churches, had charge of the evening's program and presented a quartet composed of Miss Mary Shriver, accordionist, Kenneth Nussbaum, 1st trumpet, Charles Conover, cornet and Robert Fuss, trombone who rendered four sacred numbers.

Mr. Cluts introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Dixon Yaster, pastor of the Union Bridge Lutheran Parish who selected as his subject "The Church a Factor of Freedom."

Felix Westine reported the success of the swimming instruction being given by the Red Cross to the children of Taneytown and community the past two weeks. Mr. Westine reported that due to the cool weather the number taking advantage of this opportunity to learn to swim was smaller this week than last week. Transportation to the swimming pools at Crouse's, near Littlestown and Meadow View, near Silver Run, was furnished by the Kiwanis Club of Taneytown.

Edward Reid reported on the organization of the Ballot Battalion last Monday evening at the Taneytown Recreation Park. The purpose of this organization which is non-partisan and composed of the service clubs and other interested persons in Taneytown is to get out the vote. Mr. Reid reported that of the 1900 persons in Taneytown District eligible for voting only about 1400 are registered. Another meeting to which everyone is invited will be held in the Firemen's Building next Tuesday evening at 7:30.

David Smith will have charge of next Wednesday's meeting which will be a Ladies Night held at the Taneytown Recreation Park at 6:30 p. m.

TANEYTOWN B. B. TEAM WINS PLACE IN PLAYOFFS

New Windsor topped Fairfield 9-3 Sunday on the Union Bridge baseball field to clinch first place in the Penn-Maryland League for the Shaughnessy playoffs which are scheduled to start next Sunday.

The teams had finished the regular season with identical records of 10-4. Seifert and Carson pitched for Fairfield and Dick catching.

Harney nosed out Taneytown 3-2 at Taneytown in a playoff for third place. The teams had ended in a tie with eight wins and six losses each.

The best of three semi-finals will find Harney at New Windsor, and Taneytown at Fairfield in the openers. "Slim" Deatherage, manager of Fairfield, has announced he will seek to have his game postponed due to many of his players being on vacation over the coming week end.

Odd pieces of cheese may be grated and used in potato soup. Keep the soup over the fire just long enough to melt the cheese.

Salt should not be kept above the kitchen stove. Steam and heat often cause the salt to harden, and iodized salt to lose its iodine content.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TOUR SUCCESSFUL

Journey Made August 20th by Carroll County Group

A long caravan of cars assembled at Eldersburg on the afternoon of August 20 for the purpose of joining the Carroll County Historical Society Tour of Carroll County. Before starting the journey, the members of the tour looked at the site of Welshes Tavern of 1756 or earlier and were interested to learn that the home now standing there is a reproduction of the original. Almost directly across the road a few tombstones on the hill-top mark the site of the historic old Chapel of Ease. The group listened with interest as Mr. Frank Dorchy related the story of the buried church. Then the cars proceeded east on Liberty road for several miles to Branton Manor, a very attractive home built in 1745 by Baptist Snowden from St. Mary's County. It was built of clay and cut straw and extends 86 feet in length. But it is only one room in depth. A feature of added interest is the Queen Anne's boxed-in stairs. Mrs. Bolton, the hostess and present owner, graciously permitted the Historical Society to visit the home. A member of the tour informed the group that the crippled son of Francis Scott Key once lived here.

The caravan noted in passing a stone house erected in 1813 by members of Governor Brown's family and also the site of Owings Outland Plains, survived April 3, 1723. Many of the group braved a rough road to see the Elias Brown House believed to be around one hundred and forty years old. Family silver unearthed recently bears the date of 1793.

The road of the tour now wound through what seemed almost like a wilderness trail, revealing a section of Carroll County completely unknown to most of the group. The little houses clinging to the steep hillside suggested Kentucky rather than Maryland. The road went farther and farther down until at last it led to the site of a stone quarry and mill. The sojourn here proved so interesting that the tourists lingered to gather souvenirs of soapstone, quartz, and Swedish granite.

By the simple crossing of a bridge the group found itself in Howard County approaching Delaware Bottom, a picturesque little valley which carries the name of a survey of 300 acres for Elizabeth Jones on September 28, 1717, and patented on August 6, 1719. It is located on the divide between the waters of the Potomac and the Patuxent and includes some of the head springs of each branch. In the early days this was probably a great swamp where numbers of animals attracted Indian hunters. The Delaware tribe gave its name to the entire neighborhood. The western falls of the Patuxent was Delaware Falls and the subdivision of Baltimore County was Delaware Hundred.

Returning by way of the old Frederick Road to Route 34, the caravan paused at the site of the old Patterson mansion, now the home of the Superintendent of Springfield Hospital. Here Mr. Henry Koller narrated the mingled stories of the famous Brown and Patterson families.

The tour ended at dusk in the picnic pavilion of Strawberry Home for Boys. The Rev. Charles E. Niner, superintendent, was on hand to extend a personal welcome to the travelers as they unpacked their suppers and spread them on the waiting tables. The meal was enlivened by so many expressions of enthusiasm over the adventures of the afternoon that the decision to continue the annual historical tours was resolved without the need of vote.

BALLOT BATTALION Organization Formed to Get Out the Vote

Taneytown's Register-and-Vote campaign was launched on Monday evening of this week through the cooperation of several non-partisan, community organizations. The campaign, entitled "BALLOT BATTALION" is expected to result in the largest turnout at the polls in the history of General Elections in this area. Several committee duties were taken by volunteer persons which included the canvass committee, Mr. Norman Graham; Laws and Regulation committee, Mr. David Smith; Parade Committee, Mr. Richard Haines; Secretary, Mr. Howell Royer. Mr. Edward Reid was elected General Chairman of the Battalion.

General chairman Reid said that the drive to register every eligible voter will get under way within the next two weeks. The figures were given out to the fact that there are at least 3,000 potential voters in Taneytown District. However, a check of registration records shows that only 1230 persons are registered to vote. In its intensive drive to attain a record vote in Taneytown district, the Ballot Battalion will conduct an extensive canvassing campaign, a house to house drive if possible, and a parade on the evening of September 30, which is the date for the first registration in Taneytown.

The BALLOT BATTALION will meet again on this Tuesday evening, September 2, 1952, at 7:30 p. m., in the Firemen's Building. Every citizen who is at all interested in seeing our representatives elected by a vast majority instead of only 53% of our country's voters, let them come out to this meeting and join with this group in their efforts. It is estimated that it will take at least a 100 persons to do the job, men and women and there is far from that number who have joined thus far.

EXPLORER SCOUTS TO COLLECT PAPER SEPT. 6th

The Explorer Scouts, older members of Troop 348, Taneytown, will stage a paper drive on Saturday, September 6, and they will appreciate a continuance of the fine cooperation extended by the citizens of Taneytown and vicinity in the past. Because paper is down at the moment, the demand for rags, mattresses, and scrap iron is particularly stressed.

If there are such items available in the surrounding country-side and it is your desire to aid in this effort by donating them for the coming collection, the Scouts would be glad to arrange for picking them up at your home if they cannot otherwise be brought to town on September 6th. Just address a postcard to Boy Scout Troop 348, Taneytown, Md., to insure such pickup.

Last Monday the Troop engaged in a softball game on the high school grounds until dark after which the meeting continued in the Scout hall under the leadership of Robert Bowers, Senior Patrol leader. Kenneth Frock assisted the Scoutmaster in lashing and splicing for pioneering merit badge being finished up by William Abrecht, Jr., Robert Fuss, and others interested in starting work for that badge.

A regular meeting will be held on Labor Day Monday, September 1st, with the probability that swimming at Crouse's Mill will start off the program—since not many more weeks of water work can be expected. There will be no Green Bar leaders' meeting on Saturday, August 30th, but the evening of September 6th, following the paper drive, an overnight trip of Green-Bar members to Natural Dam has been scheduled—to plan the fall activities.

SCHOOLS WILL RE-OPEN TUESDAY, SEPT. 2nd

Plans Complete for Taneytown Pupils and Teachers

T.H.S. will open its doors at 8 a. m., next Tuesday as the school year gets under way throughout Carroll county.

Several new faces have been added to the staff—which at this writing is still incomplete. Mr. Brammer, shop instructor, left for the higher pay of Montgomery county. Mrs. Young, cafeteria manager will not return due to her health. Both these positions are vacant although unstinted effort is being made to find replacements. Parents and pupils should not plan on the cafeteria lunch at the opening of school although milk, sandwiches and ice cream will be available.

New to the school and the Taneytown community will be Mrs. Berchok from Bethlehem, Pa., teacher of girls' physical education.

Mr. Donald Feaser, another newcomer to the staff, will teach 8th grade general education. Mr. Feaser is a graduate of Gettysburg College. He lives in Littlestown.

Mrs. Wright, until recently Miss Elizabeth Shubert, 1952 Western Maryland College graduate will have charge of 7th grade general education. Mrs. Wright and her husband, a student at Westminster Theological Seminary are living in Westminster.

Mr. Robert Leiter, agricultural instructor, has been transferred from Westminster High School to replace Mr. Allenburg who secured a better paid position.

Pupils new to the community who plan to enroll at T. H. S. will report to the office after 8 a. m. next Tuesday for registration and assignment to classes.

Preparations for the opening day of school on September 2 are nearing completion at the Taneytown Elementary School. The school plant has been completely cleaned and conditioned during the summer and repairs made as necessary. The faculty of the school has spent the entire week in preparation for the opening, with nine of the teachers attending an art institute in Westminster and all teachers attending preliminary conferences. The newest addition to the faculty, Mr. Kermit Faulkner of West Virginia, has arrived and has been attending the indoctrination for new teachers.

The school cafeteria will be open on the first day, under the management of Mrs. Charlotte Shorb. The menu for Tuesday will be: spaghetti and meat balls, cole slaw, apple sauce, and milk. Prices will remain the same as last year and meal tickets will be sold immediately. Milk and ice cream will also be on sale. Menus for the first month will be passed out as soon as possible.

All first grade children will be excused at 2:00 during the first two weeks of school. Parents may call at the school to take them home at that time if so desired. A recent ruling effecting first graders was to the effect that children who reach the age of six on January 1 may enter school in September. All first graders who were not registered in May, must be registered on the first day of school. Parents must bring a birth certificate and certificate of vaccination.

The first day for all other pupils will include a full day of work, with the same schedule of bells as last year. Pupil room assignments have been placed on the room doors to facilitate placement. All new pupils should report to the office.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Parent-Teacher Association has been called by the new president, Mrs. George Gunther. The committee will meet in the school library on Thursday, September 4 at 1:00 for the purpose of formulating a program for the year.

LIONS CLUB NEWS

The Taneytown Lions Club met in regular meeting, on Tuesday evening, August 26, 1952, 6:29 P. M., at Taney Inn with President Singleton Rensburg, presiding.

The meeting opened with the regular ceremonies. Lion Harry Dougherty had as his guest Ted Gardner. President Rensburg introduced Archie Conner as a new member and he was welcomed into the club.

Lion Merwyn C. Fuss introduced Colonel Thomas Frailey, of Emmitsburg as the speaker of the evening. Colonel Frailey presented a very interesting and instructive address on "Character" which was very much appreciated by all members.

In his very timely remarks President Rensburg stressed the fact that all Lions should attend Charter night which will be celebrated September 9, 1952. Place to be decided later.

President Rensburg and Lions Robert Feaser and Merwyn C. Fuss attended the initial committee meeting for the promoting of the 100 anniversary of the Western Maryland Railroad. The committee were very enthusiastic over the program that was outlined and the events that would take place at Westminster and Gettysburg at the time of this celebration and requested that all attend if at all possible.

Meeting adjourned at 8:15 P. M. 35 members present.

Use the wrapping paper from lard or other fats to grease baking pans. Keep dried and candied fruits in tightly covered containers on shelves where the temperature is fairly cool.

THIS 'N' THAT (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

As I type this column, the beautiful Hereford Cattle in the opposite field stand close to the fence.
From El Paso comes this—"We visited the most beautiful church on Sunday for the service which was built last year. It is air-conditioned, has loud speakers, the seats are individual plush ones and has 2,000 seating capacity!"

The First Auto Show will be held since the War in February in The Armory in Baltimore. That, Your Observer never misses!

Betcha, that Rita-Aly Kahn affair will never be cited!
Congratulations to that "Butcher Boy"! Nice boy! Lucky Girl!
Whatever you do—don't miss, "The Greatest Show on Earth!"—when it comes to your local theatre. You will enjoy and be thrilled with every minute of it, Betty Hutton—what a gal! If you liked her in "Annie Get Your Gun" you will love her in this great show which is a full two hour and a half affair. I'll leave the rest to you! Of course there is a beautiful love story combination! You will think the story wreck real! Nuff Sed! If you like the Circus, you will see it in this picture just different than you ever saw before.

This does seem odd and all the State of Maryland. In Harford County the opening date of School in September is the 8th and in Carroll County it is earlier. In Baltimore it is also the 8th. How come?

Lancaster—that quaint little thrifty town is just one hour's drive from here. There were a great number of Dunkards and Mennonites. The shopping basket in the arm of every housewife. One of those slat square baskets of dark brown—the kind Your Observer bought at the Farm Sale a few weeks ago. And, believe it or not—bread was 9 cents a loaf! The Vienna kind, too, from the local bakery!

Have you noticed the days getting shorter?

That Wrestling Match at the Coliseum last week of the Manchurian with that awful "Clutch" Kim is his name. That, too, should be barred. Eh, Gen, tlemen?

Who said the Scotch were tight? Just read this—as a token of regard by the Scotch people for their great achievements in World War II—like gets Culzean Castle! And to think all he desires in life is to settle down all overlooking the Battle Ground of Gettysburg with his wife! Why should a man be nominated for President when he does not want that big job? That is one thing Your Observer will never be able to understand.

If you desire to paint your car, folks, just go ahead and do it your self if you cannot afford to have the expert do it. Just buy "Nu—Enamel" in any wanted or desired shade plus a new paint brush. It will require just one quart or perhaps a little more depending upon the size of your car. There won't be any brush marks. Be sure and do the job under cover where no particles of dust will mar the beauty as you continue to paint. You will be pleased with the result. It is best to paint on the same color as your car as it will "take" better!

There were just 250 "Teen-Age" traffic cases! Fifty licenses were suspended! That is something to think about, folks! A wise adult will not allow the family car or any car to be handled by a Teen-Age! Just think what it would mean—those accidents and the individual who drinks?

Your Observer drove down on the Bay Bridge which should be named for our former Governor Lane. He was the instigator and promoter and the only man who did not have any fear. In just one hundred years individuals thought about it but did not have the confidence as Governor Lane did. It is always after death that one of these projects is named for a prominent person. Why not give out the bouquets while our former Governor lives? Every one knows that it is the Chesapeake Bay Bridge so why not call it THE LANE BAY BRIDGE?

So long, folks. Have a grand week end. Drive carefully and slowly for then you can see more of the beauty all around you. Until next week. D. V.

I am, Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

NEW DRIVE-IN THEATRE

The new Monocacy Drive-in Theatre that opened for business last Sunday has been showing to capacity crowds. High praise from the patrons indicate the popularity this new Theatre will enjoy.

Kenneth Clem, the manager, stated that already plans are being made to increase the present capacity for accommodation of 334 automobiles to take care of the demand that is apparent.

The modern restaurant also came in for a lot of praise from the patrons with a promise by Mr. Clem for improvements in this department.

With a showing of high-grade pictures this Theatre will add to the pleasure and enjoyment of the people of Taneytown and surrounding community.

To save much washing later on, rinse your egg beater and fruit juicer under running cold water right after you have used them.

A piece of cut onion will help remove the scorch stain from linen.

TIME TO HOLLER

A recent editorial in the Portland, Oregon, Journal cited some facts that should make the weary, beaten taxpayers of the country sit up on their hind legs and holler.

There is a school teacher for every 132 people in Oregon—but there is a Federal civilian employee for each 85 persons.

Total government payrolls—Federal, state and local—came to $1,895,000,000 last April alone. This was a rise of 16 per cent from the same month in 1951 and marked the biggest April-to-April jump on record.

In that month, the number of public employees, all supported out of Federal, state or local taxes, was just under 7,000,000.

The Journal said, "No wonder the taxpayer groans." He's going to groan a lot louder unless drastic action is taken to cut out government waste and extravagance in every department of government.

The demand for that must have its origin in the grassroots—in every town and city and rural area in the country. And we must demand economy in matters that affect us—not just the other fellow. The lead must be taken by chambers of commerce and every kind of business, civic, labor and consumer groups. Then, and only then, will Congress and legislatures listen and do something beside talk.—Industrial News Review.

IT'S HAPPENED BEFORE

The Labor Day story for 1952 is not a story of strikes, wildcat or otherwise, of the ten day "memorial" work-stoppage of John L. Lewis' miners, or even CIO President Philip Murray's $15,000 raise.

It's the story that came out of Washington on August 17th, when the Bureau of Labor Statistics released a survey showing that the average US city family is spending $400 a year more than it is taking in. And the same week BLS announced another hike of 6 percent in the cost of living.

Traditionally, small town people and farm people, who are far more self-reliant, and might even be a shade more thrifty, fare better than their city cousins when the economic going gets rough. But the present poisonous price-spiral will track its victim from the big city pent-house to the sod-house on the prairie and the cabin in the hills. If you run your own business, whether it's a farm, a flap-jack foundry or a pharmacy; if you work for commission or a salary; if, in short, you are not the ward of a high-powered union, you have the choice, as the cards are stacked, between abandoning those widely touted "American standards of living", or going broke.

There is, of course, as always, a way out. But it must be adopted as national policy. Collectively, under strong leadership, the American people can stop inflation in its tracks, but that leadership has not yet emerged from hiding. It must recognize the fundamental on which Henry Ford established the then fabulous five-dollar-a-day minimum wage thirty years ago... that no wage is too high that pays a profit. No one questions that the laborer is worthy of his hire. We have merely stopped expecting him to be worthy. There is no limit to what a man may properly be paid... if the work he does is worth still more. But a dollar-a-day is ruinous pay for a man who turns out 95 cents worth. Unless higher wages provide higher production, and hence cheaper goods, we are headed down the sunset trail beaten by the ancient Greeks, the noble Romans, and the Lord only knows how many other once proud civilizations.

On Labor Day, let's put the accent on labor... with a small "l".—National Industries News Service.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "American farmers are better customers for petroleum products than any other group in the United States, including the armed forces, an oil industry information group revealed recently. The fact seems surprising but it helps to illustrate the interdependence of all economic and occupational groups in the United States."

ST. JOHN, KAN., NEWS: "If there is any statement which burns this writer to a sizzling point, it is one used so many times by officials who wish to pass off huge expenditures with the glib explanation: 'Oh, well, it doesn't cost us anything; the government pays most of it.' I don't care if it is a bridge, a false mustache, a recreation park or a monument to the flea that bit the dog that bit the burglar—nothing we get costs quite so much as that which is bought with 'government funds.'"

ANTIGO, WISC., DAILY JOURNAL: "New Zealand socialists, now out of office, find themselves hard pressed to present a program with sufficient appeal to the voters to return them to power, according to Albert E. Norman, Australian news chief of the Christian Science Monitor. One reason why New Zealanders are getting fed up is that the bills have come in. They already are paying $280 per head for every man, woman and child in the country, the highest figure in national history."

MORRISON, ILL., NEWS: "Is the government going to go broke? Probably not this year or next, but there's no use kidding ourselves. If we keep on covering this country and most of the world with a shower of greenbacks, the bubble is going to burst and we'll all be flat broke; all monetary values of every kind and character will be entirely wiped out. Then what? Your guess is as good as mine."

ALMA, MICH., JOURNAL: "There are two great principles which are derived from religion, the two pillars on which rest American freedom; the sovereignty of God in the stream of history and the sacredness of the individual... And right here it becomes pertinent to repeat the old biblical admonition 'Remove not, the ancient land marks, which thy fathers have set.'"

MEBANE, N. C., ENTERPRISE: "When the average American's income begins to shrink, he looks for a way to cut expenses. But not so in Washington. Every time Congress suggests a small appropriation for any purpose, a bureaucratic howl rises. 'Tax and Spend' is still a popular song on the Potomac."

BROWNSVILLE, PA., TELEGRAPH: "We advocate an immediate and drastic reduction of government expenditures by abolishing useless commissions and offices, consolidating departments and bureaus and eliminating extravagance, to accomplish a saving of not less than 25 per cent in the cost of the Federal government." To refresh your memory, that was a plank in the Democratic platform just 20 years ago when FDR was nominated for his first term as President.

LOGAN, KAN., REPUBLICAN: "Patrick Henry said: 'Give me liberty or give me death.' His descendants now must say 'Gimmie'."

GREENVILLE, ILL., ADVOCATE: "Never in the history of a nation has prosperity been subsidized so lavishly and so wastefully. A false prosperity does exist, but it is built on pillars of sand and no sound economic development. It is bred of inflation and two decades of phenomenal government spending."

Cahow Turns Up

Only two specimens of the cahow, a Bermuda sea-bird, had been seen since 1622 when Dr. Robert Cushman Murphy of the American Museum of Natural History, and Louis I. Mowbray, curator of the Bermuda Aquarium located five on a rocky islet off Castle Harbour, Bermuda, early in 1951. The cahow is a nocturnal petrel the size of a pigeon, grayish-brown above and black-and-white underneath. Colonists killed it for food from 1600 to 1622 and was reported exterminated by man. Cahow fly far to sea, live on squid, and return in midwinter for nesting. Dr. Murphy photographed, banded and released the cahows.

Whale Steak

Since the romantic days of New England whaling that ended almost a century ago, the succulent flavor of whale steak has been unknown to most Americans. Today, the Norwegian whale steak is a best-selling item in many of the nation's finest restaurants and food stores. How come this revival of whale steak eating? The whale steak is economical, it's nutritious, it's non-fattening, it looks like beef and tastes like it. Whale steak has more protein content than any other meat—and has 10 times less fat than beef. Coupled with the fact that beef is high, the whale steak has made a comeback in the American eating habits.

Britons Can no Longer Mail Themselves Home

The English post office has abandoned one of its most colorful—and sometimes useful—services. A bewildered Briton can no longer mail himself home.

Until recently it was possible for anyone in the United Kingdom who had lost his way to go to the nearest post office and ask for a messenger to lead him home. In short, he could send himself to his proper destination by mail.

It is still possible to follow the time-worn custom of asking a postman for directions in a strange neighborhood in Britain, as it is everywhere. The service is free, while a postage charge was made for a special messenger.

Shipment of live persons once was widespread. Women going west across America to meet husbands or husbands-to-be in the last century were entrusted to the express companies, which acted much as the Travelers' Aid Society does today. They saw to it that the ladies reached their goal.

Children were and sometimes still are tagged with their destinations and entrusted to employees.

Aircraft Industry's Growth Fantastic in Past 25 Years

Even Charles A. Lindberg probably didn't envision the scope of aviation that he helped to enlarge when he flew the sturdy "Spirit of St. Louis" from New York to Paris 25 years ago this month.

Since that historic solo flight, U.S. aircraft manufacturers have built nearly a half million airplanes.

Speeds and size of aircraft have changed fantastically since the Lindberg flight. The time required to span the Atlantic has been cut by nearly four-fifths, and aircraft has been built that can carry loads equal to 20 times that of the "Spirit of St. Louis."

The tremendous growth of the plane manufacturing industry in the same quarter-century is reflected in the swelling employment rolls of the companies. Only about 4,000 Americans worked for the industry when Lindberg made his crossing. This number increased to 500 times that many during World War II. Today, with employment well below the wartime peak, more than 600,000 persons are employed in the aircraft and parts industry.

New Atomic Tool

Atomic scientists have added another tool to their kit. A new device now makes microscopic study of deadly radioactive materials—heretofore an impossible task—possible. The new instrument is a combination of special microscope, camera, periscope, and an illuminating system, in such an arrangement that light can get in an out through the test chamber's thick walls. But dangerous radiation from the radioactive specimens are completely blocked. Mechanical hands permit atomic researchers to work in complete safety. In using the microscope, which extends into the test chamber, an operator places the specimen on the microscope stage. Looking through a single eyepiece, he employs the remote controls to get the specimen adjusted and properly focused. Then, the visual eyepiece is exchanged for a photographic one, and the camera is swung into position to make the specimen photograph for leisurely study.

Evaluate Dairy Sires

Artificial breeding associations in Pennsylvania are conducting bull evaluation surveys, according to Clyde Hall, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. Local bull committees in each county are checking on the type and production of daughters in evaluating the sires used in breeding.

Painted Indians

Navajo Indians still follow a centuries-old habit of scraping canary-yellow uranium ore from lonely rock faces on the Colorado Plateau and daubing it on their faces for ceremonial dances.

Camels Carry Load

Camels are used as trucks to haul goods in the big cities of Egypt. When there is a traffic accident, there is no difficulty getting the license number, for each animal moving van has a license plate dangling from under one ear!

Airwaves Opera

NBC began broadcasting Grand Opera in 1931, and in 1940, when Metropolitan Opera needed a million dollars to keep going, the radio audience was sufficiently large to contribute a third of the funds raised.

Miniature Trees

The Japanese produce miniature trees, called "bonsai," by an art that was developed in China and Japan many centuries ago. In some cases, naturally dwarf trees that grow in the mountains near the timber line are dug up and planted in pots or tubs. However, almost any tree, when it is young, may be placed in a small pot so that the root system is restricted and this checks the growth of the upper parts. As the tree grows, it is transplanted into slightly larger pots. Both the roots and the top are occasionally trimmed to keep the growth under control.

BREEZES...

At the close of each day, the SUN sinks down and hides himself from a gazing world.

America's most intermittent disorder: "flying saucer fever."

The effects of inflation are apparent on every side. At eating places even gravy is getting scarcer.

No one can pull himself up by trying to pull another down.

Jealousy will even dwarf a midget.

You measure yourself when you measure your neighbor. "With what measure you mete, it shall be measured to you again."

America's foremost traveling salesmen will soon take to the road, selling themselves and their parties to the American people: Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon, Adlai Stevenson and John J. Sparkman.

Today's Chuckle:

In Montana there is a town named Eureka. Trainmen differ as to the pronunciation of the name. Passengers are often startled, upon arriving at this station, to hear the conductor yell: "You're a liar! You're a liar." Then from the brakeman at the other end, comes the cry: "You really are. You really are."—Butler Eagle.

There is an interesting article in this Week Magazine of The Pittsburgh Press, Sunday, August 24, entitled: "The Collision Racket—why your insurance rates are sky-high."

The following corrective measures are stated by the author of the foregoing article to put the Collision Racket out of business:

1. Prosecute all fraudulent claimants.
2. Prompt inspection of all car damages.
3. Examine the other car.
4. Better trained, more honest adjusters.
5. Central repair shops.

USE CARE IN DRIVING

Paul E. Burke, Executive Director of the Md. Traffic Safety Commission stated that over the forthcoming Labor Day Holiday all records of travel on the highway will be broken, and also all records for death and injury, unless definite precautions are taken by the motorists and pedestrians throughout the State of Maryland. He appealed to all the citizens of our State to help save the lives of our fellow-men by driving and walking in a safe and sane manner. Governor Theodore R. McKeldin offered the following message to the people of Maryland in an effort to enlist their aid in preventing fatalities over the Labor Day weekend.

"At the approach of each holiday, since I have been Governor of Maryland, I have come before you with this plea—a plea for safety on our highways—for your safety and the safety of your friends and neighbors on our roads.

I believe those pleas have done some good. I believe, from what I have been told, that many of our citizens have taken thought, and have either stayed off the highways on holidays, or have driven more carefully. Even if I were convinced that all of my past appearances had been wasted—had done no good whatever—I would keep trying. It is very important that all of us keep trying. You know that our highways are intended for your use—for the pleasure of our people and for the moving of our commerce. They are not meant for carnage, death and destruction.

You know the rules; you know the laws; you know the importance of intelligence and caution above and beyond the laws. You know that the open white line, for instance, permits you to pass the car ahead of you, but it does not give you a guarantee of safe passage. You must look beyond the line, beyond the car ahead of you. You must decide as to whether the passing is safe.

You know that a sign may permit a certain speed, but it cannot assure you that speed is safe at the moment. Conditions on the road ahead of you, behind you and beside you must govern your decision—must control your foot on the accelerator.

You are free Americans. You have a right to celebrate this Labor Day as you see fit within the law, but again I must urge as I have urged so often before: "If you drink, don't drive; if you drive, don't drink."

I have not the time here to review all of the rules of the road, all the laws and regulations of driving. I cannot go into the ways of caution and the paths of danger.

But you have the God-given ability to think—to exercise your intelligence. You have your lives and the lives of others in your hands. Use that intelligence.

Don't desert it for a moment. Don't let it desert you. That moment could be the fatal moment. Drive your car as though you were the only safe driver on the road. Don't depend on the other fellow.

Heed the signs, warnings and markers but don't depend on them alone. Depend on yourself. Make this a safe Labor Day!"

HEALTH FOR ALL Off to School

In a short time, thousands of children, starched and scrubbed, eager and maybe a little scared, will be trooping into the school room for the first time in their short lives.

Parents will have done their best to prepare them for the big day. Brother has a new white shirt and a hair cut and Father has helped him with the real man's tie. Sister has a new plaid dress and a bright ribbon bow. They will walk in the door as clean as soap and water and Mother's elbow grease can make them, ready and willing to learn.

But will they be able to learn? Have Mother and Father done their best? Will Sister lean forward at her desk, screwing up her eyes, peering, trying to see what the teacher is doing at the blackboard? Will Brother fidget in his seat and "act up" because he can't catch all the words of the story that's being told? Will that child with the pretty blonde curls sit quietly with a dull, uncomprehending expression because she came to school without breakfast, and without a good night's sleep?

Preparation for the first day of school means much more than new clothes and a scrubbing behind the ears. A visit to the family doctor is more important than a session with the barber.

A complete physical check-up should be routine for every child entering school. This is the time to find out if a child has any physical defect which may hinder a happy and successful adjustment to school. Glasses may be needed. There may be a hearing deficiency which can be checked before it gets worse. There may be faults in his eating and sleeping habits which must be corrected. Heart and lungs should be tested to make sure that he can carry a full program of work and play. The dentist should examine his teeth and begin any necessary work. And, of course, it is vital to find out whether the child has any contagious disease or skin condition which his school mates might catch.

With the doctor's assurance that the children are sturdy and well and have good physical equipment for the life ahead of them, Father and Mother can watch with pride those first steps into the halls of learning.

THE SALT OF THE EARTH

HARVESTING A BETTER CORN CROP

Best Borer Control Methods

Corn's worst enemies, the European corn borer, the ear worm and the Fall army worm are apt to hit hardest just before harvest time. The strong advice of two of the U. of Maryland's best-known entomologists, Dr. L. P. Ditman and Dr. George S. Langford, therefore, is don't let up on spraying and dusting until the last minute. Consult your county agent or canner field man on the best spray or dust formula for your locality. He will advise you also on what danger there is, if any, in residue. Aside from persistent spraying and dusting, growers are advised that clean plowing, either in the Fall or in the Spring before April 15, will eliminate most borers.

Cover Stubble Carefully

Cut your stubble, if possible, shorter than six inches above the ground. Then use a wide bottom plow to cover the stubble, and be sure to cover it completely. No refuse should be left above ground after April 15, when the moths begin to appear, because the moths cannot make their way to the surface. Feed the cut stalks to cattle directly, or as silage.

Disking and tramping down may be effective, but clean plowing is preferable. Neither disk nor plowing, however, will take the place of constant spraying or dusting next year.

If wheat or other small grain is to be sown, care should be taken not to expose the plowed-under roots and stalks.

Ear Worm Up 85%

Infestation of the ear worm

The best reason for plowing under your corn stubble.

seems to be above normal this year. It is 85% higher on corn and tomatoes, and will spread to beans and 100 other host plants. Consult your county agent for the emulsion best for your locality.

While the corn is being harvested, we are warned, the ear worm will spread very fast to snap beans and lima beans. It is important to apply the insecticides throughout September. No plowing under or diskings will reduce the ear worm infestation, nor will it affect the Fall army worm.

If your corn crop suffers this year from smut, be sure to consult your county agent or canner on more resistant hybrids before planting next Spring.

FEESERSBURG

The two words, "purebred" and "thoroughbred" are used daily in reference to farm animals and are often used incorrectly. They both refer to animals that have been bred from the best blood through a long line and whose pedigrees have been recorded for a number of generations. Pureblooded, registered and pedigreed are used in a similar sense. All of these words, when used in the popular and general sense, apply to domestic animals of all kinds. It is correct to speak of purebred sheep, cattle, hogs and even chickens. Farmers often refer to such animals as blooded stock. However, "thoroughbred" is the term used to refer to horses and has a specific meaning. Horse breeders restrict the term to breeds of race horses eligible to registration in the American Stud Book, the General Stud Book of England and affiliated stud books for thoroughbred horses in other countries. A thoroughbred horse must have a pedigree, but every pedigreed horse is not necessarily a thoroughbred. A thoroughbred horse must be of one breed and of unmixed strains. Its ancestors must be recorded in the studbook for five generations in America and seven in England. Many human individuals take great pride in tracing their ancestors back for several generations, but the thoroughbred horse can put to shame even the Cabots and Lodges of New England because his ancestors are recorded for fifteen and twenty generations.

Miss Diane Thomas, of Taneytown was selected to be Maryland's Farm Queen over the contestants from the other 22 counties and will reign over Timonium Fair. Miss Thomas will be crowned by the president of the fair, in front of the racetrack grandstand during the 4-H parade Saturday. Mrs. Randolph Spoor, of New Windsor served as one of the judges in selecting the Farm Queen but abstained from voting during the finals. This is the second time that a queen was selected from Carroll county. Several years ago Mrs. Jean Johns nee Mabel Nusbau was crowned and presided over the Timonium Fair.

Mrs. Earle Shriner has given her farm near Union Bridge a fascinating name. It is "Hard Lodging". Driving through the country one is pleased and impressed to see so many farm owners naming their farms and having it printed on their mail box or on an attractive sign post. Some of the names have a poetic ring, while others are amusing or descriptive. Naming one's farm emphasizes pride of ownership and love of individuality.

William Main who suffered injuries when he fell last week at Feeser's Canning Company is responding to treatment and rest satisfactorily.

The cool, bright weather we have all been enjoying the past week was a welcome relief from the hot, humid weather we have endured most of the summer. While there was more than a hint of autumn in the chilly mornings and a warming in the bright, red glowing sunsets, most people welcomed the change. We can still look for some hot days, but not the unbearable humid nights that kept one wandering through the house until the wee small hours of the morning in search of a cool place to snatch a couple hours of sleep, before the sun came up to begin the broiling process all over again.

Richard Pfoutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Pfoutz has enrolled at Mercersburg Academy, Pa., and leaves this month to begin his freshman year.

Miss Shirley Roop is enrolled in a school for secretaries in Baltimore and Miss Katherine Booher leaves next week for Harrisburg, Pa., where she will take up her studies as a student nurse.

This could be the year of decision by women. Thirty-two years ago this week, women won the right to vote and I do not personally believe they have made the most of that right. Up until the present time women have failed to understand how much their lives are governed by what happens in politics. They have failed to understand the importance of their position in world events and even today there are only a few women who appreciate the power and prestige they hold in shaping future policies. When women unite together and set their minds to it, there is very little they cannot accomplish. With the future of their children at stake in regards to peace and war it is time that women studied politics, economics, and social reform so that they can talk intelligently on these subjects, understand them from every point of view and raise their voices so that their opinions are heard and listened to with respect. American women, for all their privileges have never been given equal opportunity with men in the field of government simply because they have never demanded it. Since women must live under the laws and bear the results of such laws and policies of these United States, it is time they demanded an equal share in forming these policies. The Russian women have far more political aspirations than we do and have been given more power in local government than we enjoy here. It is time that we became less interested in next season's fashion in clothes and took a more realistic approach to politics. There is more to good government than voting every four years.

A bride twenty-five years ago who quarreled with her husband threatened to go home to mother, but the bride of today threatens to go see a psychiatrist.

At the present time the two presidential candidates seem to be about even. Gov. Stevenson won and lost votes on his stand against the states owning the oil tidelands, and General Ike won and lost votes when he said the Korean War was necessary and to enlarge the war against China would be impractical. We hope that both men will continue to tell us the truth, even though it is going to be painful. It may be, that the average American will mature politically this coming election. We already know that intellectually mature leaders can spur the immature to accomplish wonders.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bell, and Mrs. William Bell, Westminster, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Strevig.

HARNEY

No services in St. Paul's church, on Aug. the 31st.

Don't forget the Mt. Joy picnic supper in Benner grove Saturday, Aug. 30th. This supper is sponsored by the S. S. of Mt. Joy church and is an annual affair. A great place to meet old friends and enjoy a big supper of chicken and ham in the Parish House 4 P. M. Benner's opposite Mt. Joy parsonage, Taneytown and Gettysburg road.

And then another supper is coming up Sept. 6 which you ought not forget and it is at the Tom's Creek Methodist just off Taneytown-Emmitsburg road. The menu consists of fried chicken and ham, vegetables, pickles and fruit, cake, etc. The serving will begin at 4 p. m., and the price. So let's go and see our friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bower and son, Samuel, spent the week-end with his mother and sister. Their daughter, Mary Janet, spent several weeks with her grandma and aunt, in Pottsville, Pa., returned home with her parents Sunday eve.

Miss Marie Snair, is spending a months vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earlington Shriver, Taneytown R. D. 2, Miss Marie's home is in Lebanon, Pa.

Capt. & Mrs. J. Shaffer had as their house guest the past 10 days, a sister of Mrs. S., from Baltimore. She returned home over the week-end.

Mr. Morris Haines has been doing some remodeling to his home here the past month and now giving it a coat of paint which will make a vast improvement to any home.

Mrs. Hannah C. Eckenrode is spending Wednesday afternoon and night with her grandson, Thomas E. Eckenrode, wife and children.

Mrs. Eugene Vincent Brewer, of Washington, D. C., is spending an indefinite time here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Moose and son. Her husband has been recalled in U. S. Army for service.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Raycob entertained Mrs. Raycob's mother, Mrs. Estella McAdow and Mr. and Mrs. Urban P. and Francis Jr. and family, all of Towson to dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Hannah C. Eckenrode returned home on Sunday evening after several days visit in Emmitsburg with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Eckenrode.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Selby had as week-end visitors. Mr. Dick Crabbs and mother and daughter, May and grandson, Junior and friend, of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Claybaugh and daughter, Littlestown, Pa., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Claybaugh, of this place, Sunday.

The flowers (Gladioli) in vases in St. Paul's church last Sunday were placed there by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fream in memory of their son, Elwood, a soldier in the U. S. Army. They and family also presented to the church in Elwood's memory, a baptismal stand basin cover and all which was dedicated by the Rev. Chas. Held at this service. After this dedication the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith Harner was baptized, he was given the name of John Stephen Harner. A number of relatives witnessed this baptismal service, greatgrandmother, Mrs. Ernest Ritter, Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide, Keysville; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harner, Taneytown R. D. 2, grandparents; Major and Mrs. Horace Whorley and daughter, Patricia Ann, Harrisburg, Pa.

Mrs. (Carrie Hess) Manahan, of Westminster, was among a group of relatives and friends entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sprinkle and Atwood Hess, Sunday and she was accompanied by Mary Catherine Schildt, visited one of her school mates (Goldie Schildt) Ridinger, and not having met since school days, was a surprise when Goldie did not recognize her. Then she stopped to call on Ruth Snider and again was not recognized. Ha! Well you should come more often. Mrs. Manahan was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Millard Hess and lived for some years with the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shoemaker. Her address is Westminster R. D. 7, Mrs. Carrie Manahan.

UNIONTOWN

Miss Florence Selby and Mrs. Whaley, of New Jersey, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tagg, of Hagerstown, visited the Lawrence Smith family, over Sunday and attended the Rowe-Selby reunion.

Rev. Hoch is spending the week at Camp Misty Mount, above Thurmont, where the young people of the Church of God have their camp.

Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Will were Misses Mildred Ashworth, Edith Bankert and Oneta Slonaker, all of Waynesboro, Pa.

Mrs. Harvey Clem, daughter, Mrs. Anna Burrer daughter Connie, Rocky Ridge, visited Mrs. Clem's mother, Mrs. Etta Hamburg.

Nancy and Myrna Mae Myers, of Mayberry, spent several days with their cousin, Doris Putman.

Mrs. John Heck and Mrs. Charles Garver, spent Friday in Baltimore, visiting relatives.

Saturday visitors of Mrs. John Heck were: Mr. and Mrs. John Lofgren, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arsenault and son, of Silver Springs.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Snyder and twin daughters are spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hymler. All were dinner guests of Mrs. Heck, on Monday.

The Bethany Circle of the Church of God, Uniontown, met in the church basement Aug. 21, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Elizabeth Corbin was the leader of the devotional period. A Bible quiz and a Biblical spelling bee was enjoyed by all. An interesting talk was given by our return medical missionary from India, Dr. Fidelia Gilbert. After discussing business, refreshments were served to 28 members and visitors by the hostess, Miss Evelyn Crouse and Mrs. Melvin Fritz.

Miss Gloria Brown, who has spent the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brown, will only be with us a few days. She goes home to go to school.

Callers at the Burall home were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boone, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Snyder, of Union Bridge; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brooks, of Baltimore, and Rev. and Mrs. Breakiron and daughter, of Pa. Rev. Breakiron is serving a Pennsylvania conference. They at one time lived in Union Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Devilbiss, grandson, Russell Eugene and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Devilbiss, daughter, Emily Lu, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Hahn and sons, of Emmitsburg. Mr. Hahn had the misfortune to have his ankle broken.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of John M. Hoagland gratefully acknowledges all expressions of sympathy, and deeds of kindness shown by our friends and neighbors during our recent sad bereavement.

Lemon juice adds flavor to both hot and cold vegetables, especially green string beans, spinach, asparagus, and broccoli.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my neighbors and the members of the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company for their assistance in extinguishing the fire at my place last week.

TANEYTOWN GIRL CHOSEN AS FARM QUEEN

stand at Timonium during the 4-H parade next Sunday afternoon.

After the coronation she will reign as Queen of the Fair, through Sept. 6th.

In the judging pavilion on the fair grounds Mrs. John Flook, president of the Associated Women of the Maryland Farm Bureau, spoke for her audience of about 500 in poetry of her own composition.

She stood at the microphone on the pavilion stage before a painted background of palm trees and blue sea and sky and recited:

We have come from over the mountains, across the bay and around the river's bend;

Another Farm Queen Contest here to attend.

Twenty-three girls from the counties of our State.

Each one is anxious to know how she'll rate.

Behind her sat the girls, one from every Maryland county. They were all between 16 and 18 years old, all from farms of not less than three acres.

Most of them were members of 4-H clubs. Many wore cotton dresses that they had made themselves.

They look as wholesome as pasteurized Grade A. Never was it more difficult to select a beauty queen, the judges said.

Mrs. Flook continued to give credit where it was due:

Now there's Mr. Schluderberg, Mr. Heil, Mr. Phelps and Mrs. Gretzinger, too.

And the Maryland State Fair, for which you work.

To make this a success, none dare shrink.

There was no exposure of limbs.

The girls just walked sensibly down a ramp, half way through the audience, turned and went back to their chairs. They did this as a group, singly, and as a group again.

Then each girl was subjected to a two-minute interview. Mrs. Flook asked the questions—"What do you do on the farm?" "What are your plans for the future?" "Do you want to tell me any more about yourself?"

The girls responded properly, telling how they were never happier than when doing their chores on the farm—milking cows, grooming horses, driving tractors, baling hay, cooking, sewing, scrubbing, brushing, sweeping and things like that.

Virginia Shipway, of Flintstone, Allegheny county, said:

"I like preparing meals for the family."

"That's very necessary," Mrs. Flook commented approvingly.

Elsie May Wayson, a vivacious, dark blonde from Jewell, Anne Arundel county, who won second place after the judges went into a final huddle, indicated that her special interests were baseball, swimming, bowling and agricultural statistics. She told the audience how many acres there were in her county and how much tobacco was raised on them each year.

Norma Lee Cusick, of Church Creek, Dorchester county, said:

"My hobby is pickin' tomatoes."

Frances Lucinda Cannon, of Sudlersville, Queen Anne county, has literary aspirations. She said:

"I hope to write a novel and some day, perhaps, eventually, a book."

Catherine Richey, of Valley Lee, St. Mary's county, said that she habitually milks four cows a day, has milked as many as eight a day.

"I do it by hand and they take eight minutes each," she said. "I know—I've timed them."

Mary Lee Callahan, of Queen Anne, Talbot county, won the heartiest applause (and some laughter) with her reply to the question about her plans for the future.

Other contestants had professed eagerness to become nurses, stenographers, teachers. Miss Callahan said:

"I want to be a farmer's wife."

Before the time of decision, Dr. Gordon Cairns, who is dean of agriculture at the University of Maryland, said:

"If this were livestock we were going to judge I know I'd be right. But

CROUSE COMMENTING.....

Well, I've been at this new business of John Deere Sales and Service for about 2 months, and I must say that is has been quite interesting; meeting people, renewing old acquaintances and finding new faces and personalities.

I have not had the time to visit many of you farmers at your farms, but as I get more organized, I will be able to make more calls.

In keeping with my policy of obtaining the latest in new machinery and farming practices, I have taken on the Dealership for Portable Irrigation Systems for the Mathieson Chemical Corporation as well as for their fertilizers. This company has its own chemical plants, and you can be sure that they will have the high analysis fertilizer when it is scarce at other plants. Speaking of fertilizer, those farmers who side dressed their corn and tomato crops are now reaping the rewards.

With extra Nitrogen available, the crops were better able to withstand the hot weather with its dryness. Their corn is still green from the ground up and does not show the burned leaves on the lower sections of the stalks.

The new John Deere AB 20 Fertilizer Side Dressing Attachment which holds 700 pounds of fertilizer allows you to cultivate about 7 acres at 100 lbs. per acre before you have to stop to refill. Then if a fellow would have had an irrigation system set up ready to go this summer when the dry weather had us all worried, he would have been "sitting pretty" provided he had an adequate source of water, whether it be a farm pond, a stream, or a well.

Talk about controlling the corn borer and obtaining a good seed bed for your wheat or barley, you should see the job the new Wood's Rotary Cutter did for Edwin Harget on Clayton Palmer's farm near the Oak Grove School House on the Littlestown-Taneytown Road! Boy, is that the machine for cutting and shredding weeds, grass, and brush! We took one down to Mr. Harold Herr's farm and gave it a work-out.

We mowed pasture, wheat stubbles, shredded corn, and then we took it down into his bottom land to see what it would do in the brush. It cut out of the brush we stirred up a nest of bumble bees, but no one got stung; That's one thing sure in your dealings with CITCO, no one's going to get stung. We deal fair and square for both our customers and ourselves.

One thing about this business, you never know what will turn up next. Take the other day when we took that Wood's Rotary Cutter down to Mr. Herr's for a demonstration, we never even had an idea that we could end up selling him a T-33 Milk Cooler of 8 can capacity. We got to talking about dairying, and one thing led to another, and by golly Mr. Herr bought one the next day. This T-33 is the new milk cooler which eliminates a lot of that heavy lifting of full cans of milk. The T-33 has a side opening door through which the empty cans are placed, and then the milk is strained through individual top openings for each can in the cooler. Another big advantage of this type of cooler is that the only change necessary when bulk handling comes, as it is destined to do before long, is a tank which fits into the side opening door. There is no reason for purchasing a new cooler if you should convert to Milk-Parlor and Bulk Handling of milk.

The cooler which Mr. Herr will get is now at the CITCO display at the Kingsdale Firemen's Carnival and can be seen next week at the South Mountain Fair. Drop in to see us any time you are in the vicinity and if you can make the Kingsdale Carnival or the South Mountain Fair, John LeGore, Joe Clabaugh or I will be on hand to show you the features of our equipment.

these girls. . . . There are 23 ways of being wrong."

Mrs. Randolph Spoerlein, one of the judges, comes from New Windsor, Carroll county, which happens to be the same county as the new queen's.

However, Mrs. Spoerlein announced that she had abstained from voting after the contestants were narrowed down to Dolly Walrath, of Hagerstown, Washington county; Dotty Williams, of St. Leonards, Calvert county; Mary Stuart Gadd, of Cockeysville, Baltimore county (the pre-contest favorite to win); Miss Wayson and Miss Thomas.

Betty Jean Endsow, of Harford county, last year's queen, was present Saturday to congratulate her successor.

Diane Thomas was born in San Pedro, Cal., and lived in Baltimore city and St. Petersburg, Fla., before her family settled on a 110-acre farm near Taneytown about six years ago.

She said she was so nervous during Saturday's judging that she could hardly walk.

On the farm she does "just about anything. When somebody screams," she said, "you go!"

This fall she enters Towson State Teacher's College.—The (Baltimore) Sunday Sun.

DRIVER'S LICENSE TO BE SUSPENDED IF OPERATOR SPEEDS OVER LABOR DAY WEEK-END

"Motorists convicted for speeding during the coming three-day holiday over Labor Day week-end, will have their driving license suspended for a period not less than 15 days," said Thomas B. R. Mudd, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

"It is my opinion as well as the opinion of others interested in reducing accidents on the highways, that speeding motorists are responsible for the major portion of injuries and fatalities happening daily along the roads."

Commissioner Mudd further stated: "These grim three-day holiday stages of highway slaughter that sicken the most hardened wreck investigators is the reason for the adoption of the not less than 15 day license suspension for motorists convicted of speeding during the coming Labor Day holidays."

THE MOVEMENT OF SWINE IN MARYLAND PROHIBITED

The Maryland State Board of Agriculture takes steps to protect the swine population from a very infectious and contagious disease known as Vesicular Exanthema.

This proclamation by the Governor of the State prohibits the movement of swine into Maryland except where a rigid inspection is made and then only for immediate slaughter.

No swine may be brought into Maryland from outside areas for the purpose of feeding, breeding, or for exhibition.

This regulation, according to Mr. L. C. Burns, County Agent, will eliminate the showing of hogs at the Maryland State Fair or any other fall shows. This regulation has been imposed for the protection of Maryland breeders and should be complied with in every way, according to Mr. Burns.

The disease has not been found to exist in Maryland, and farmers with isolated hogs on feed should not rush hogs to market before they are finished.

TAXES CERTAIN ON LABOR DAY—BUT DEATH CAN BE AVOIDED

The Labor Day week-end will be no holiday from taxes, but death can be avoided. A. G. DeWolf, Manager of the Keystone Automobile Club commented in urging motorists to take extra care in the three-day motor spree.

He predicted 584,000 Maryland motorists will drive 73,000,000 miles over the three-day week-end, burn up 4,867,000 gallons of gasoline, and pay $340,700 in state and federal gasoline taxes.

"Even the careful driver won't beat the tax collector, but drive with extra care and you can beat the Grim Reaper."

Female Arrests Outnumber Male F.B.I. Declares

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The "marked increase" of women in crime, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said recently, may indicate that the moral fiber of this nation is becoming weaker.

He said arrests of women during 1951 were 11 per cent greater than in 1950.

The FBI director added that the increase carried over into the first three months of 1952. He failed to cite specific figures, and another FBI official declared these were not ready for public distribution now.

New Trend
"This new trend warrants our close attention," Mr. Hoover stated. "If the condition indicated by the present figures continues for such a period that it clearly becomes more than a temporary fluctuation, we will find ourselves confronted with a new problem in law enforcement, and a dangerous weakness in the moral fiber of this nation."

The brief statement revealed that the involvement of women in crime is nothing that is new in police records, but said their part has been comparatively small as compared with that of men.

Any increase in crime is most serious, and especially so when it involves women, because of the position they have in the home and their relationship to the younger generation," Mr. Hoover declared.

Discouraging Facts
The FBI head said that records received on a nationwide basis divulge that the rate of increase in arrests of women to be nearly three times that of male arrests during 1951 and the first quarter of 1952.

"Among the most significant increases were arrests of women charged with violation of the narcotic drug laws, liquor laws and driving while intoxicated," he explained.

The statistics cited by Hoover come from a law enforcement bulletin issued by the FBI to agencies throughout the country. Much of the information in it is restricted as being confidential.

Night Life Shines In London Shows

LONDON—Insight into the robust life of London can be gained by an evening at a music hall where performances are spiced with lusty audience participation. London's music halls, incidentally, started out as pubs. Tavern theaters, some of which dated to 1580, were encouraged to multiply under the disguise of pubs, owing to an Act of Parliament in the straight-laced 19th century, which restricted unlicensed dramatic performances.

While in the theater circuit, try a bit of Grand Guignol, mildly horrific shows which had their origin in Punch and Judy, usually to be found in outer London theaters at Hammersmith or the Elephant-and-Castle. Still sure of packed houses is "Sweeney Todd, the Demon Barber of Fleet Street," a choice epic about a barber who cuts his customers' throats and tipped their bloody bodies down a trap door convenient to the swivel chair.

On a higher level of culture is the Shakespearean repertory at the Old Vic, an institution which has achieved world renown.

Mysterious Giant Saves Driver of Burning Truck

HOUSTON—A giant ripped open the burning cab of a truck on a highway near here and saved the trapped driver.

The driver fell free into the arms of waiting deputy sheriffs, and the rescuer disappeared as quietly as he appeared.

"No one knows his name," said Deputy Sheriff Don Henry, "but he did a job I couldn't do with six trucks and a wrecker. It was a terrific display of human strength."

The truck driver was Roy Gaby Jr., 26, Houston.

The truck-trailer had been forced off the road by an apparently drunken driver.

Gaby was trapped inside his truck. Fire enveloped it.

Officers, trucks and a wrecker appeared. They had been called by Gaby's wife, who had been driving ahead of her husband's truck in the family car.

But the men were unable to budge the crushed cab. The giant came up and wrenched the door off the cab.

Dented Fender to Be A Thing of the Past?

NEW YORK—Banging fenders may soon be no problem for motorists. Rubber car fenders are on the way.

As a matter of fact, the rubber car fenders already are being tested by the British General Post Office. Britain's post office is trying out experimental trucks of a completely new design which includes the rubber fenders.

These new fenders look like metal, but they're not. And they don't bang like metal. They are made of a very tough but flexible rubber which can absorb shocks and cut down the cost of straightening fenders.

Mailmen's Soles Subject of Study By U.S. Scientists

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The mighty machine has lost a contest to the mailman's foot. Agricultural department scientists have spurned their fancy mechanical testing contraptions for shoe leather and have put their shoes to be tested on the postman's feet.

Postmen in Philadelphia and Montgomery county, Pennsylvania were selected to test the leather. Each is wearing one shoe sole made of leather, tanned with the usual chemicals imported to this country. The other sole is tanned with an extract made 50 per cent from American chemicals. The scientists want to determine which sole will last longer.

The reason for the sole experiment is a fear that in case of war the United States would be too dependent on tanning materials from abroad. Most of America's tannic acid for tanning leather comes from chestnut wood. Disease, however, has virtually wiped out all commercial stands of chestnuts.

So the agriculture department is attempting to extract a suitable tannic acid from canaigre, a sweet-potato-like plant that is native to the southwestern United States and Mexico.

Indians and Mexicans for centuries have used canaigre tannic acid for treating leathers, but only recently has the agriculture department laboratory in Philadelphia developed a way to extract the chemical on a commercial basis.

Each postman participating in the test records how far he walks and over what kind of sidewalks or roads. When the soles wear thin, the shoes are resoled, with the "do-mestic tanned" leather going onto a different foot. This makes up for the variation in wear on the left and right feet.

Third Set of Twins Arrives in Six Years

EFFINGHAM, Ill. — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Selman know pretty well how to take care of newborn twins now. The latest set, born recently, was their third in six years. All the babies have been daughters.

However, the Selmans would like to have some help in acquiring names for the infants. Parents, who always have trouble finding a suitable name for just one baby, can find their list exhausted when comforted with so many babies needing names in such a short period.

The Selmans' only boy, Thomas, Jr., was born October 31, 1946.

The first twins, Cynthia and Deborah, arrived August 11, 1949, followed by Theresa and Peggy, September 2, 1950.

Selman, who said "I was kinda expecting them," will welcome name suggestions for the new arrivals at 606 N. Maple.

Minister Uses Dummy To Further Missions

HOUSTON—A Baptist minister is employing ventriloquism and a dummy to further the cause of home missions.

The Rev. Loyd Corder put in an appearance at a meeting of the Houston Baptist pastors conference and showed how he "has been rolling 'em in the aisles" the past four years while going about the serious task of furthering missions throughout 25 states.

Mr. Corder is a former Houstonian. He deals chiefly with foreigners who want churches in their own tongue.

As secretary of the direct missions department of the home mission board of the southern Baptist convention with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., Mr. Corder also organizes the spiritually underprivileged sections.

He and Joe the Baptist, a dummy who looks quite a bit like Charlie McCarthy of radio fame, have a rapid fire patter full of jokes and wisecracks that puts across their serious purpose.

Judge Upholds Church In Residential Area

TULSA—Leaders of the South Side Christian church here won a second round in their efforts to continue religious activities in the center of one of Tulsa's exclusive residential sections.

District Court Judge Eben L. Taylor sustained a board of adjustment authorization for church activities on a 4½-acre tract owned by the church in the residential area. Twenty-three property owners had protested the authorization.

At the same time, however, Judge Taylor warned church leaders they "may land in court on another action" if they permit "too much noise" by children at a swimming pool located on the church property.

R. L. Davidson Jr., attorney for the property owners, said he will appeal Judge Taylor's decision to the state supreme court.

The protesting property owners claimed the church site was zoned for residential purposes only. They contended that the church will destroy the residential nature of the area as well as create a traffic hazard along the narrow two-lane portion of the nearby avenue. The group also complained that the church's swimming pool was disturbing.

The Statesman

Lesson for August 31, 1952

A POLITICIAN is a man who goes into politics as a man goes into any game—to win. We want office, wants people to vote for him. Popularity is his stock in trade. A statesman, on the other hand, is not remembered for the number of votes he commanded, nor for the number of times he was elected, nor for the particular titles he held. A statesman's claim to fame is not based on what he did for himself, but on what he did for his country. That is why a "statesman is a dead politician." Some time has to go by, before it can be finally said whether any particular politician's career was good for his country or not.

Dr. Foreman

Achieving Unity

DAVID, King of Israel, has been dead long enough now so that we can with great assurance call him a statesman. We saw a few weeks ago (Aug. 10 and 17) that Saul faced much the same problems that face nations today, but failed to solve them, largely because he was the wrong kind of man. David had the same problems; but he solved them.

We must remember that David's times were a thousand years before Christ, so of course he was no Christian. Nevertheless, looking back at his achievements, history can say, Well done! Here lived a man who had what it took to lead his nation to have and to be what it needed to have and to be at that time.

What Israel needed to become a strong nation were unity and security. At Saul's death these were lacking, and of course that spelled national weakness. The split between Judah and the other tribes had never been healed. David secured the unity of the nation in a dramatic way: he captured the city of Jerusalem which had been in enemy hands for hundreds of years, and made that city, for the first time, the capital of Israel. He built his palace there (Saul's had been at Gibeon,) he brought the ark there (see lesson for Sept. 14), and intended building a temple which would be the central shrine for the entire nation. Through creating this new and centrally located capital, David achieved political, military, religious and sentimental unity all at once.

Some Wars Are Not in Vain

AS FOR national security, there are three kinds of it and David developed all of them. First there is military security. The only way to get it, for David, was to beat down the armies that had been beating the Israelites.

It is a blood-stained story; but still the question is a fair one: If David had lost all the battles he won, what would have become of Israel? They would have gone the way of the Hivites and the Gergashites—if any one knows where that is. A few scraps of pottery, perhaps, some fragments of ruined walls, something for professors of ancient history to dig up and wonder about,—that is what Israel would have come down to, if David's wars had not succeeded.

He wound up his series of wars with this happy situation: Every single nation or tribe that had been giving the Israelites trouble, was either welded into the Israelites kingdom, or made into an ally.

Other Kinds of Security

ANOTHER kind of security is commercial. A nation cut off from trade with its neighbors is doomed to be a poor nation, even perhaps a beggar nation. Out of the mass of proper names in these chapters about David's kingdom, four are specially meaningful: Edom and Tyre and Damascus and Hamath. The three latter were great commercial and transportation centers. Edom, with its border on the Red Sea, gave Israel for the first time a seaport on deep water, with all the possibilities that involved.

The reign of David's successor was to be one of unprecedented prosperity and international good will; but it was David's statesmanlike policies that made the prosperity possible.

The third kind of security is more internal, and more a matter of the spirit than of the sword, more of the mind than of money. It is the national security which can exist only where there is a united and uniting loyalty on the part of the citizens.

David had the rare gift which a politician uses for selfish ends; a statesman for the good of his country: the ability to make friends out of potential enemies.

Fabulous Electronic Brain Is Success at Los Alamos

Atomic scientists at Los Alamos have developed a fabulous electric brain which they call the "Maniac." It can feed a number into its memory in as little as eight-millionths of a second.

Its designers say Maniac can work about 100,000 times as fast as a trained computer using a desk calculating machine. Even so, some of the problems to be solved at this birthplace of the atom bomb are so complex that Maniac is expected to require 20 hours or more to solve one.

The machine was designed and built by staff members of the University of California Los Alamos scientific laboratory.

"Maniac" stands for "mathematical analyzer, numerical integration and computer."

Lack of such a computer formerly has meant that many complex problems required in the laboratory's atomic weapons development work have had to be worked out by computing machines in other parts of the country.

Tomb-Dwelling Bats Added To Smithsonian Collection

Tomb-dwelling bats found inside the pyramids in the sepulchral chambers of kings and queens of ancient Egypt have just been added to the mammal collections of the Smithsonian Institution.

Noteworthy among the bats is a species of Rhinopoma, or rat-tailed bat. Few bats have visible tails extending beyond the membrane between the rear legs. The particular species of Rhinopoma appears to be exclusively an inhabitant of Egyptian tombs. Very similar creatures, but specifically different, are found as far south in Africa as Lake Rudolph and east to Siam. These, however, are cave dwellers.

These tomb-inhabiting animals were obtained from the Great Pyramids of Gizeh, near Cairo and near the site of ancient Memphis. They are about the size of the ordinary American brown bat. Throughout the day they remain in the darkness of the pyramids, clinging to niches in the roof and walls. After dark they fly abroad seeking insects.

Shuttle Scuttle

A vehicle which operates like an Army tank and looks like a yawning hippopotamus has been developed to shuttle coal from veins to cars far beneath the earth's surface. The shuttle car—as it is called—is powered electrically, its 600 feet of extension cable plugged into an outlet in much the same way as a household appliance. The cable is automatically reeled in or out as the car travels. The tank-like car is loaded by miners or by automatic mining machines. It in turn transfers the load to conveyances which will bring the coal to the surface. A distinctive feature of the car is its snout, which can be raised or lowered, enabling the machine to disgorge its load by means of a continuous conveyor belt. The vehicle can turn on a dime, carry larger loads than conventional type shuttle cars, unload faster, and is built for either left- or right-hand drive.

Book for Our Time

As long ago as the turn of the century, Bible scholars knew that the King James Version needed further revision. Recent manuscripts and archaeological discoveries showed that earlier versions contained thousands of errors. More than 300 words which meant one thing in 1611 meant something entirely different now. A committee of 32 scholars, authorized by 40 denominations, began work in 1937. After 15 years of research, study and debate, they have finished the Bible for our time. It is the Revised Standard Version, authorized by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. The first printing is nearly 1,000,000 volumes—the biggest first printing in history.

The Pyramids

The Pyramids of Egypt are ranked among the oldest monuments in the world. These triangular-shaped crypts, constructed of huge stone blocks, were burial places for the pharaohs. They were built in the epoch of the Ancient Empire (5,000 to 3,000 B.C.) near Gizeh, Egypt. The three most famous pyramids are Khufu (also known as Cheops) which is more than 480 feet in height and 760 feet at the base, with a 50 degree slope; the other two are Khafra (Cephren) and Menkaura (Mycerinus). Khafra is 471 feet high and Menkaura, the smallest, has an altitude of 215 feet. In construction of the largest pyramid, King Khufu employed 7,000,000 men, at forced labor for 30 years.

Famous June Wedding

One of history's most famous June weddings was that of a 12th century Mongol beauty. And she wore a long, white dress. History says the dress was made of felt, and the headpiece of the bride was a cone of birch bark covered with treasured silk and supported over each ear by whorls of braided hair, into which had been worked a profusion of tiny statues and silver coins. The name of the bride? Bowtai. Of the bridegroom? The mighty Genghis Khan!

Coffee, Church Unite Forces, Obtain Converts

COLUMBUS, O. —Thousands of people have been coming back to church, in parishes of all denominations across the country, through an informal movement which has taken hold during the past three years.

"Church-going through fellowship," it might be called, if this were a planned campaign. But it isn't. Individual clergymen have come to bring people together over a cup of coffee. And in every case the results have been similar: people whose church interest had been mild were stirred to active interest, and church attendance has increased.

Fellowship servings have varied with the parish and the problems.

Brought Strangers Together

In populous cities, a serving after Sunday services has brought strangers together and the parishes have grown more cohesive and active. In South Dakota, a Baptist colporteur (Bible distributor) covering an area of 4,000 square miles became an active fire buff, racing to alarms to serve coffee to the fire-fighters and spurring their interest in the church of their own faiths. In a Hudson river suburb, New York-bound commuters were served coffee at the railroad station by a Presbyterian clergyman and his congregation, and the same effect resulted. A new Episcopal congregation in a suburb of Columbus, Ohio, found fellowship servings a big factor in building an enthusiastic new membership.

Crowded Washington was perhaps the first place where fellowship sessions helped strangers to feel at home as newcomers in church. Many parishes, particularly in the downtown section, had adopted the practice during war years to cater to visiting servicemen and lonely government workers. A few years ago the coffee hour after Sunday morning and evening services—except on communion Sundays—was revived by common desire at St. John's Church at Lafayette Square.

Roosevelt's Church

Wives of Supreme Court justices and government girls now stand side by side as hostesses in the church which the late President Roosevelt used to attend, serving a beverage and cookies in the parish house after services.

"It makes the church into a family," one staff member commented, as the barriers of loneliness dropped among strangers present.

At another St. John's in Georgetown, which soon followed suit, the Reverend William Sharp explained: "We fulfill the hope of getting newcomers acquainted quickly. This is a role churches should perform in a city with a transient population."

"People don't rely on formal introductions to meet one another," Dr. Thomas A. Stone of National Presbyterian church pointed out, when a coffee hour after services replaced the traditional minister's practice of greeting congregants at the door as they left.

"We can meet more parishioners in partaking of fellowship than we can as the group files through a doorway to the street," he said.

Spelling Bees Catch Hardest Linguists

WASHINGTON, D. C. —Many elementary schools in English-speaking countries wind up their year with spelling bees, and with good reason. English is about as hard to spell as any language in the world.

Any spelling-bee contestant who drops out of line has sympathizers in all schoolrooms in which English is taught, either as the mother language or as a foreign study.

English is the most widely used language in the world. Traders long ago made it the language of commerce, and it has overtaken German in science and French in diplomacy.

Foreigners studying English find the grammar clear and expressive but the spelling—completely unreasonable. No other European language has such wide differences between spelling and pronunciation.

One reason for the discord between sound and spelling is the political history of England. Few other languages have been so changed by successive invasions. Romans carried the Latin alphabet to England to supplant the ancient Runic brought earlier by the Teutons. Danish invaders, in their turn, left the alphabet alone but altered pronunciation. A hundred years later, Norman conquerors brought hundreds of French words and changed practically all the spelling.

Man Who Orders Birds Gets Boa Constrictors

WELLAND, Ont. — He got four angry boa constrictors in place of some harmless tropical birds from Dutch Guiana. That's the strange story of E. C. Teachout.

Teachout refused the shipment and left the boas with station agent Leo Sullivan, who wired the senders for immediate instructions on what to do with the 42 feet of snakes stored in his station.

Boa constrictors are sold by length, and Sullivan said the footage figure came from the invoice. "I sure didn't pull them out of the box to measure them," he said.

Don't be an Election Wallflower

Male or Female—they aren't pretty!

First let's consider the women—"wallflower" sounds sort of feminine (though in this case it sure isn't).

Ladies, in 1900, before you got the right to vote, 73.5% of eligible U.S. citizens voted. First time you had the chance (1920) you were so bashful about going to the polls that you pulled the national average down to 49.3%.

You have improved. In 1940, the average was up to 53.4%. And in 1948, a record vote was cast—48,680,416 ballots. But the national average was only 51%—still way below 1900.

This year, there's no question about it. Women are excited. They're promising to go to the polls in droves. But the sad fact is, a lot of these good resolves won't materialize into votes, because they aren't registered.

Remind all your friends that they must be registered, or they'll be wallflowers in the big election Nov. 4. If they—or you—have any questions about the WHEN, WHERE and HOW of registering, just phone the office in charge of elections, the City Hall, or County Court House. Do it now.

*And now about the men: You haven't been doing so well either. But this year's election is so important—and exciting—you sure don't need to be reminded to vote. You'll be rarin' to vote come Nov. 4. But you'll be bloomin' wallflowers, just like the ladies, if you aren't registered and can't vote. Don't say we didn't warn you!

WITH OUR ARMED FORCES

Cpl. Maurice E. Garber, whose wife lives on Rt. 1, Union Bridge, Md., recently graduated from a 43rd Infantry Division Leaders School in Southern Germany.

During the month-long course, he received intensive training in field and classroom instruction to qualify him for the duties of a non-commissioned officer. He was picked for the school on the basis of his abilities as a soldier and his qualities of leadership.

Cpl. Garber, a bazooka gunner in the 102nd Regiment's Company C, entered the Army in March 1951 and has been awarded the Army of Occupation Medal for service in Germany.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garber, Rt. 2, New Windsor.

Sgt. John E. Parry, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Parry, Sr., Rt. 3, Westminster, Md., recently graduated from the Seventh Army's Non-Commissioned Officers Academy at Munich, Germany.

The six-week course emphasized the use of weapons, Army administration, tactics, supply, physical fitness and organization. Students were carefully selected by their organization commanders before attending school.

Sgt. Parry arrived overseas in May 1950 and is serving fire direction computer specialist in the 517th Armored Field Artillery Battalion.

Before entering the Army, in Nov. 1949 he was employed by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., in Westminster.
