LETTER TO THE RECORD

Writes- "My Belief vs. God's Word On Divorce"

As I notice an article in the Record on divorce, I wonder why this very important subject is not discussed more and why ministers don't preach a ser-mon on it once in awhile to our young people (Yes, and older ones too) as the Bible gives us many scriptures to study from. I believe if this was done it would help many young couples and keep homes together and children live with both parents instead of one or neither parent. I want to say hereit's not what you nor I believe about divorce that counts, but what God teaches in his word and we are going to be judged by the word. So we should be very careful when we advise young mentle on this subject. I know young people on this subject. I know God wants us to be happy, but I've often heard it said, "A drunk man is the ten neard it said, "A drunk man is the happiest man on earth (and he acts that way) until he becomes sober." God don't honor that kind of happiness. Moses said he'd rather suffer the afflictions of his poor people than to enjoy the riches and pleasures of a Kingdom for a season and Moses certainly pleased God.

STOCKHOLDERS CREATE JOBS

We hear about the importance of labor, which is quite as it should be But we hear little about the importance of the stockholder—the man or woman who make labor's jobs and living standards possible.

As an example, take the food and grocery manufacturing industry-an enterprise which serves almost every American family every day of its life. A study was recently made of 25 representative companies within the industry, ranging from the large to the small. In the majority of cases, there are more stockholders than employees. For the group as a whole, there are 586,150 stockholders and 309,073 employees—close to a two-to-one majority. And 52 per cent of the stockholders are women.

Moreover, these stockholders aren't a bunch of bloated male and female plutocrats, who sit back and rake in fat profits. In the case of one of the largest corporations in the group, 93 per cent of the stockholders own less than 100 shares and more than half own less than 25 shares. The companies average a profit of something like 3 cents on each dollar of saleswhich hardly looks as if the consumer was getting a gouging.

In short, the stockholders, the people who create jobs, are just as important to our national life as the workers, the managers, or any other group. If we discourage investment by unfair and punitive taxation, or in any other way, we will simply dry up the sources of the money which is the lifeblood of the economy. Then dustrial News Review.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MEDFORD, MASS., DAILY MER-CURY: "Herbert Hoover warns against blanketing the present collectors into the civil service, without vigorous investigation into their characorous investigation into their character, loyalty and competence. His reorganization commission did suggest that employees of the internal revenue bureau he placed under civil service to improve their qualifications and character and give them freedom from politics, but simply to draft the present employees into civil service would solidify present incompetence and political favoritism."

CAPE CHARLES, VA., NORTH-AMPTON TIMES: "Although the people of this great country are opposed to increasing non-defense spending and although most of the recently elected public servants in their most recent campaigns promised to cut non-defense spending, we learn that the total Federal non-defense outlay for the first half of this fiscal year has been increased by about one billion dollars over the corresponding six months period of 1950."

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS: There are no real labor unions today -what were called labor unions once are nothing but organized groups aspiring to political power through pressure methods.'

HARFORD, KY., OHIO COUN-TY NEWS: "The Federal administration has been justly criticized for withholding non-military matters of public record, and The Ohio County News joins the American Society of Newspaper Editors in appealing to all public servants on the city, countty, district and state levels to ever keep public records, and sessions of public bodies open to the public and to the press. Secrecy breeds discontent, communism and dictator.

PAWHUSKA, OKLA., OSAGE COUNTY NEWS: "Secretary of the Treasury Snyder favors giving the American people 'a mental rest for a couple of months' from thinking about taxes. For even so short a period, taxpayers would welcome respite from taxes, but this administration is tax and spending mad, so there'll be no rest from taxes ...

BOSTON, MASS., DORCHESTER BEACON: "Washington knew what ne was talking about when he wrote in that Farewell Address: 'As a very important source of stength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible.' Wouldn't it be fine if our Administration would adopt that policy, instead of proposing 85 billion dollar budgets and 14,400,000,-000 deficits?"

CLARK, S. D., COURIER: "An enlightened people, regardless of where they obtain their information, if that information is true and accurate, are are forced into doing the things they know nothing about that revolutions and dissension occur....If we are to maintain our freedoms, of speech and writing, we must take a stand against an absolute centrol of the information that affects each and every one of us. The news of the day must be given publicity whether we are in accord or not. Only in this manner can we lay claim to absolute freedom."

For years car makers thought you couldn't equal the finest cars in quality unless you equalled them in price. This year Ford proves you can have a car that compares with the best ... at a price that compares with the lowest. No wonder Ford is America's most wanted car. No wonder so many folks are insisting on Ford even in cases where it means waiting.

FEESERSBURG

I am a pine tree. Just twenty years ago I was a seedling two inches tall. Now I tower thirty feet high—higher than any tree or shrub in the garden. I am really an alien for I was transplanted when I was three feet tall from Iowa to a garden in Carroll county. I arrived by train express and the people who bought me, loved me from the beginning. They met the train, carefully lifted me down and put me in a car. When I arrived at the farm they carefully planted me. I was never thirtsy, for when there was insufficient rain, I was watered and because of the kind treatment I lived and grew and learned to adjust to my new home. I have never been home sick for Iowa, for I stand within sight of the Thurmont mountains and on each side of me stand other pines and shrubs that keep me company. After I was eight feet tall and until I became too tall, I was decorated at the holiday season with colored lights. I loved to show off. This was good for my ego-so said the pine shrub next to me, who never grew over three feet tall. Because my branches are so thick, the birds build their nests within my arms. In turn, I have held robins, black birds, English mocking birds, doves, sparrows and starlings. have had my share of admiration People came and looked at me and wonder about me. I am not a common pine. I am really an aristocrat for I am a concolor. I thrive best west of the Mississippi, but I personally prefer Carroll county. It is here that I can show off my beauty as I am a specimen and rare. I am not really onceited, only thankful that I am part of God's plan and able to give so much pleasure to mortals and serve as a My greatest delight haven for birds. is storms. When the lightning streaks the sky, the rain falls and the wind screams through my branches, then I am primitive again. I sway and toss about in frantic glee for I know my roots are strong and that I am an equal match for the storm. Some of my ancestors have stood for two hundred years and some for longer. My future is assured. For when I longer stand pointing to the sky, I will fall like a giant and end my days in the framework of a desk, or table or chair, to be cared for lovingly by some soft feminine hand. I am a pine tree. My feet are firmly planted on the breast of mother earth and my head lifts majestically to the sky. I am king here in the garden and it is my destiny to be king until I die.-Ruth Roelke. More and more farmers here in Carroll county are turning to artificial breeding as the means of improving their dairy herd and to eliminate the necessity of keeping stock bulls. In a recent report Frederick county was first in the use of 4800 services, while Carroll county was third with 3500 services. The dairy farmers that have gone in for this method of breeding cows are greatly satisfied with the results as new blood lines can be introduced into their herds by sires with proven records.

Mrs. John Dintaman returned to her home in Brunswick Sunday, after spending three weeks with the Mil-lard Roelkes. Mr. Dintaman who was aken seriously ill at the Roelke home last week remains critically ill at the Frederick Memorial Hospital.

The sale of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blankenship's stock and farm equipment on Saturday was well attended and the prices for most things were good. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jackson who bought the farm will move in the last of this month. The Blankenships leave for Arizona, by trailer around the first of October. The Women's Missionary Society of the Mt. Union Lutheran church held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening with Mrs. Donald Warrenfeltz as leader. A report was given on the lunch stand sponsored by the Society at the Blankenship sale on Saturday and plans discussed for a lunch stand at the Sell sale this coming Saturday.

The executive committee of the El mer Wolfe PTA met at the school last Tuesday to discuss the annual supper sponsored by the PTA for September 20. The supper will be held in the Firemen's social hall from 4 to 8 p.m. Mrs. William Sell fell last week and fractured her wrist. Broken bones are a misfortune any time, but in this instance doubly so as the Sells are having a sale this coming Saturday at their farm near Mt. Union.

There appears in this week's issue of Collier's Magazine one of the most sensible and realistic approaches to the draft question that has ever been published by any newspaper or magazine since the question of the draft has been before the public. Ironically enough, it is the draftees themselves, who could solve the problem if it was left entirely to them. For the majority agree that the best time for a man to begin his stint in the army is eytown with his grandson, Malcolm as soon as he graduates from high S. Stultz. The magazine campaign is in progress at the Elmer Wolfe School and will continue for two weeks. This selling campaign has three aims. First, to earn money for the school with which to buy extra supplies which are not furnished by the Board of Education; secondly, to teach the students sales manship and poise in meeting the public and third, to induce the public to read more and to become better informed. In buying magazines during this campaign it might be well to remember that in helping the local school you are also helping yourself to be a better citizen if you buy the type of magazine that will help make you world conscious and make you do some serious thinking. MRS. ARCHER KOONTZ

Mrs. Cordelia F. Koontz, wife of the late Archer Koontz and former resident of Taneytown, died of a heart attack Sunday night at the Spring-field hospital where she was a patient for 35 years. She was 77. Her parents were the late Jesse and Mary Ann (Nusbaum) Fleagle. Mrs. Koontz is survived by four children, Mrs. James Kelley, Miss Rose Koontz and Miss Ann Koontz, Baltimore, and William Koontz, 428 Baltimore street, Hanover, and one granddaughter. #### THIS 'N THAT the exception of Illinois. In the parade which lasted just two hours starting at three o'clock the girls were gowned in beautiful evening dresses. That Georgia Peach topped them all with an all over Sequin affair on light gray georgette! There was only one short hair do-all the rest were shoulder length cut. When I told the Peach that I was positive she would be the Miss America of 1953 she simply beamed radiantly.

Who do you think really led the parade—Marilyn Monroe of "Monkey Business" which was having it's opening Premiere on the Boardwalk. She, too was at the hotel to register as she arrived. She is the volumptuous screen actress and was marshal of the pageant wearing a black revealing low-cut gown as she rode at the head of the procession. Her hair is real blonde, cut short and quite curly.
Miss Philadelphia was quite popular in the Parade and appeared to be a favorite with the throng. She wore an attractive light blue satin gown and was greeted warmly.

The one big feature of each contestant was that they must keep on smiling continuously until it is frozen! All did beautifully! When I talk ed with Miss Puerto Rico who has jet tresses and the blackest eyes (as a Mexican) she was attired in red and on the float she was in pink. Both colors suited her coloring beautifully. The Floats were the most beautiful I have ever seen in this year's parade and there was much competition. The one called, "Spring" topped them all and Spring truly was it to every detail of coloring, flowers and the girl! String Bands played lively tunes such as "The Four Leaf Clover." Yes, this year's Beauty Pageant was not alone colorful and beautiful-it pleased the mob who hummed the tunes as the bands played on!

Movies on the Boardwalk were Joan Crawford in "Sudden Fear" Marilyn Monroe in, "Monkey Business" Lana Turner with Fernando Lamas in "The Merry Widow" and Rita Hayworth in "Affair in Trinidad." The one big picture is "The Merry Widow" with Lana Turner and Fernando Lamas Co-Star. Don't miss it when it comes to the local theatre. The Co-Star is the romantic and handsome Fernando Lamas with whom she has no trouble at all pretending romance for he is her great love of the moment and her future next husband. Lana is beautifully costumed and exquisitely photographed. She has lost poundage and gained expression as a real actress of more stature than previously. Lamas appears dashing in his gold braid and trappings as the Count of the mythical kingdom. The Count of the mythical kingdom. The story is the same old story of "The Merry Widow" which most of us know for this is just the third time it has been translated into celluloid besides it's dozens of performances on stage. All the tunes are melodious and espectably that ever repeating walts of "The story is the same old story of "The story is the story is the same old story of "The story is the story is the same old story of "The story is the story is the story of "The story is the story is the story is the story of "The story is the story is ally that ever romantic waltz of "The Merry Widow" as the story has it, the Count (Lamas) a most romantic figure loves all pretty girls is ordered by his king to marry the widow with the 80 million and thus save Marshovia from becoming a mere province. The widow has seen the Count and has fallen hard and wants the Count to love her for herself alone and not for a mere 80 million. How this finally comes to pass, I'll leave it all to you.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

This represents an increase of 1881 pupils enrolled in a six year period or a 30% increase. The school children of the county were most inadequately housed in 1946-1947 and the constructtion of buildings carried on during the following six years was largely for the purpose of improving existing facilities and providing new accommo dations for pupils who had been poorly housed during the war years. A

30% increase in the number of pupils

which should in some way be made which should in some way be made financially possible.

(a) Immediate study of housing problems connected with the handling of an enrollment of 1100 in the Westminster High School which was constructed originally in 1936 to accommodate an enrollment of 500. An addition completed in 1950 provided classroom space for 200 additional pupils. The construction of a junior high unit in Westminster seems an almost immediate necessity.

(b) Proposed building plans at Sykesville will provide a more adequate auditorium-gymnasium and cafeteria. Alterations to the old exist ing building constructed in 1930 will provide class room space for about 120 pupils. It is hoped that building operations in this project will be under way within the next five weeks.

(c) Increased population and cur-rent industrial development in Manchester-Hampstead area make both school plants inadequate. Neither building is adaptable to further expansion. Both are presently over-crowded. Study should be given to a plan for relieving these conditions perhaps by partial and eventual full consolidation of the two high school groups. Building operations now nearing completion at Manchester provide space for only present enrollment and this is accomplished by overcrowding classrooms. (b) Eventual relief for the Sykesville school must be partially provided by decentralization and the erection of a primary school unit. This school

HAS LINCOLN ROLE AT GETTYSBURG

Ray Middleton, actor and singing star of Broadway, motion pictures, radio and television, will portray the role of Abraham Lincoln in the re-enactment of the Gettysburg address, "Mr. Lincoln Goes To Gettysburg," at Gettysburg National Cemetery on Saturday, October 18, where Lincoln spoke November 19, 1863. The two-hour pageant, including Lincoln's arrival at the Western Maryland Railway Company's historic station on Carlisle Street, Gettysburg, is being presented by the Western Maryland Railway as a re-dedication to the principles of Democracy so well laid down by President Lincoln in his Gettysburg address.

TITE'LL tell you the answer to that one it's the figures on the price tag.

For some reason, lots of people just can't believe they can buy a Buick at a price so close to "the low-priced three."

Maybe it's because a Buick seems so much better and bigger.

Maybe it's because they think Buick has so much more power and room-which is true.

Maybe it is because so many distinguished people own Buicks-which is also a fact.

But the fact remains-if you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick - so let's see what you get.

You get the thrilling power of a Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head-as much power as you can get in cars costing $300 to $400 more.

You get as much room as you'll get in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

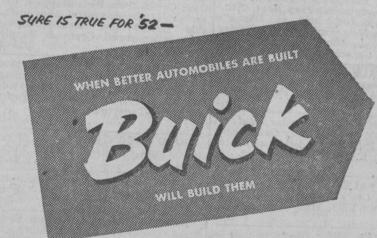

You get a ride that cost an honest-to-goodness million dollars to develop.

You get the silken smoothness of Dynaflow Drive.*

You get big-car comfort, styling, durability.

Don't take our word for it. Come in and see for yourself why so many folks are stepping up to this great car this year.

Legacy of a King

Lesson for September 14, 1952

DAVID did not mention you in his will. But if you are a Christian, you are one of his heirs all the same.

The gold and silver owned have long since been spent; of his palace not one stone is left upon another; his vast holdings in land have gone to strangers far outside his family. But the most valuable part of what he left Dr. Foreman us is still with us, imperishable: his legacy of religion.

Experience of God

ONE THING every one will think of: the Psalms. Bible 'students realize that the titles of the Psalms are not part of the original psalms, but represent later editors' beliefs as to the authors. However, scholars are agreed that David did write some Psalms and may in fact be called the father of the psalm-book.

Now the chief importance of any Psalm is not that it is a hymn or has been the basis of other hymns (as most of them have); it is not simply that it is beautiful and unforgetaable poetry. The main point is that it is a first-hand record of firsthand experience of God.

We do not always realize how much of our own religious experience grows out of the experience of others. We would lack muc of our interest in God and knowledge of him if we had not been waked up, so to speak, by some one else first. Think of the millions of readers of the 23rd Psalm, for instance, from David's time to now,—the millions who have been inspired and comforted by it. How much we owe to

Singing Faith

WE CHRISTIANS owe to David also that blending of beauty with religion which is a mark of our faith. Beauty apart from religion can drag men down and destroy them. Religion apart from beauty is usually a harsh and col daffair. There is a great deal of irreligious beauty and unbeautiful religion in the world, and neither of them does the world much good.

But for David religion and beauty flowed into each other. or rather beauty found its highest level in the service of God. It was not only in the words and music of the Psalms.

While David did not build the Temple, he dreamed it, and before a stone was laid he could see in his mind's eye the fine carvings, the gold inlays, the cypress and the fir, the brillantly woven hangings; all the georgeous gleaming Temple that he never lived to see, was in his mind and heart. He it was who gathered singing men and singing women for the worship of God the Lord. Whatever beauty there is in our church buildings, in our hymns, in our services, we owe much of the original inspiration of it to David.

"Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life"

RELIGION that cannot be applied to daily living, religion that is a purely solitary affair, has never been typical of the best in Christianity. Christianity has something to say to the world, our word, our world, something to do in it. Christianity in retreat, in hiding, is not full Christianity.

Perhaps we owe more of this ideal to David than we realize. For when he came to the throne, the ark-sacred symbol of the presence of God-was in a little out-of-the-way place where few could know of it. David took it ark and brought it to the nation's capital. So wherever today the church stands literally or figuratively at the crossroads of life, challenging, inviting, winning men, a constant reminder og God, we should be thankful to David, who set the symbol of his religion in the very center of his nation's principal city.

Faith Faces Forward

ONE MORE thing must be mentioned, which we owe at least in part to David. It is a characteristic of both Jewish and Christian faith:

Some religions are religions of regret. Their golden age is in the past; as they see it the world is either going around and around in meaningless circle or in hopeless decay. But any one who will read the Psalms with a penetrating eye can see how bright the future is to the Psalmist's mind. Bright, because it belongs to God. If Paul can say that hope is one of the things that endures, along with faith and love, he was not the first to think it. David long ago sang his songs of hope, and for this legacy too we may be

Body Armor Tested In Korea Under Battle Conditions

With medical care of the wounded having reached near the ultimate in efficienty, the next moves to reduce mortality in warfare will be the development of body armor and means of faster battlefield salvage.

This opinion was voiced by Robert H. Holmes, Lt. Col., Army Medical Corps, Washington.

He disclosed that much progress already has been made in the design and production of body armor, which is being tested in Korea under combat conditions.

Although it is too early for final evaluation of its effectiveness, the Marines have recently standardized body armor as an official item of equipment, and both Army and Marines have extensive trials in progress in Korea and in experimental laboratories," he said.

He reported that in June, 1951, a joint Army-Navy mission was sent to Korea to conduct the first controlled fied trial of body armor under combat conditions. The armor, a vest to protect the chest and abdomen, weighed about six pounds and had protective qualities superior to those of the helmet in current use, he said.

Upon conclusion of the trial, it was reported that the vest was desirable, acceptable and could be worn without undue encumbrance or hindrance to job performance. The psychologic effect was also

Panama Has No Currency, Operates on U.S. Money

Panama has no currency. It's only money is coins, the largest of which goes up only to $1. It is named a silver balboa, after the discoverer of the Pacific ocean.

Panamanian balboas and American dollars are at par. They're accepted interchangeable in Panama and the adjacent Canal Zone. The American government accepts them readily except for payment for tolls through the Panama canal. There is a regulation that canal tolls must be paid in American dollars.

When Panamanians go higher than a balboa in their business transactions, they use American paper money.

In effect, Uncle Sam provides the money, all but the small change, with which the republic of Panama operates. This is quite a service, since Panama saves the cost of having money printed.

Nation's Dental Bill

Our nation's dental bill—the greater part of it caused by decayed teeth-runs about three-quarters of a billion dollars a year. Except for the common cold, tooth decay is probably the most prevalent of all diseases. Of the children entering first grade this year, the chances are that one out of three will have a permanent tooth so badly decayed that extraction soon will be necessary. By the age of sixteen at least three out of every four children will have lost one or more of their permanent teeth. One theory about tooth decay is that it is caused by a common bacterium called lactobacillus acidophilus-the same one that causes milk to turn sour-which goes to work on particles of food, sugar or other carbohydrates left between or around the teeth after eating and turns them into acid. The acid then attacks the surfaces of the teeth.

Languages

English is the major commercial, scientific and diplomatic language of the earth, and the most widely used second language in foreign countries. Between 250,000,000 and 300,000,000 speak English in Great Britain and the British Commonweath, the United States and Liberia. More people, however, speak Chinese, including the dialects of China proper and the Mongolian tongues, than any other language; an estimate is 500,000,000. Hindustani, principal language of the Republic of India, has about 160,-000,000 speakers. Russian has over 160,000,000. American is not recognized as a distinct language, but as English with a special voca-bulary that differs from the English of England.

Chapel of Four Chaplains

The Chapel of the Four Chaplains, an interfaith shrine comemorating the heroism of four U.S. chaplains in wartime, was dedicated in Philadelphia in 1951. The chapel was built in the lower floor of Grace Baptist Temple by contributions of 10,000 individuals. The four chaplains were the Rev. Clark V. Poling, a Baptist; Rabbi Alexander B. Goode; the Rev. Joseph P. Washington, Roman Catholic; and the Rev. Geo. L. Fox, Methodist. They gave their life preservers to men who needed them and went down with 600 soldiers when the U.S. Dorchester was sunk of Greenland February 3, 1943.

Experienced poultrymen agree that the egg production of birds depends in great measure on their ability to handle large amounts of feed each day.
