Letters Describe Death of
Lt. Cmdr. Null

The many friends of the late Lt. Cmdr. Cleveland Null expressed their interest in learning some of the facts leading up to and resulting in his sudden death. Among the letters received by his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Thurlow W. Null, near town, were two very fine letters attesting to the high esteem in which he was held by his fellow officers and his untimely passing. The letters follow:

12 October 1952

Mr. and Mrs. Null:

You must be wanting to know so many things about Cleve's accident. I am sincerely sorry that this thing has happened and that you must hear from me under such a shadow.

Cleve and I have been flying and working together since he joined this squadron and we were sent to the USS F.D. Roosevelt as members of the same team. On Thursday night Cleve was riding in one of our F3D's as Radar Operator, while I was riding in another, also as Radar Operator. We had finished our flight and the pilot of Cleve's plane, Lt. Burttschell, led the flight back into the landing pattern. Just after entering the landing pattern their plane struck the water. One of the plane guard Destroyers arrived at the scene of the crash before the plane completely sank and began searching for survivors. Two other Destroyers, and their whaleboats, arrived within five minutes and also began searching. The area surrounding the plane was completely searched by the three Destroyers, their searchlights, and their small boats. Lt. Burttschell was pulled from the water and he stayed in one of the whaleboats to help with the search. Eventually, due to his own injuries, he had to be taken aboard one of the Destroyers for medical treatment. The boat then returned to the area and continued to search for Cleve. I am sorry that I must tell you that nothing more was recovered from the crash. The only thing that we can conclude from our experience with these things is that Cleve was killed by the first impact with the water.

Your son was much admired by all of us and we will participate in a Memorial Service by the Protestant Chaplain tomorrow. Each of us extend our sympathy to you both and each will pray, in his own manner, for Cleve and for each of you.

Sincerely,

R. C. HUNT.

15 October 1952

My Dear Mr. and Mrs. Null:

One of the most outstanding aviators whom it has been my pleasure to know and with whom to serve was your son who was lost from my ship last week. His courage, ability and steadfast devotion to duty marked him as an officer who cannot be replaced. I want you to know that because there is there is little that I can say to cushion the shock that you must have over his loss.

I was on the bridge watching the plane in which he was riding at the time of his crash. It is my firm conviction that his end came with the swiftness of a flash of lightning and that he felt no pain.

If there is anything that this ship can do to be of assistance to you or for his widow please do not hesitate to call on me. I stand anxious to serve you.

We in the Roosevelt mingle our sorrow with yours.

Sincerely,

GEORGE W. ANDERSON, JR.

REFORMED LAYMEN MEET

The annual Fall Laymen's Conference of the Evangelical & Reformed Churches of Carroll County was held in Trinity Church, Manchester, on Oct. 16, at 7 P. M.

The meeting was opened by the President of the Laymen group, Mr. Preston Yingling. The invocation was given by Rev. Ray Abbott, of Silver Run, after which the 91 members and guests enjoyed a very fine turkey supper supplied by the women of the church.

After the meal, group singing was led by Rev. Morgan Andreas of Grace church, Taneytown. The roll call of churches was conducted by Rev. Harvey Schlichter, of Manchester.

The Rev. J. Edmund Lippy, president of Potomac Synod, introduced the speaker, Rev. Alfred C. Bartholomew, of the Lancaster Seminary where he is Professor of Rural church work.

Rev. Bartholomew's topic, "If the Foundations Be Destroyed," was taken from Psalm 11 of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible. The theme of his topic was that the men of the church, who actually are the church, should be Christians in their daily lives as well as on Sunday. If this were done the church would have no need to fear that its foundations were falling.

A few announcements were made by Rev. Morgan Andreas, the President of the Carroll County Ministerium after which the meeting was closed with all members singing, Bless Be the Tie That Binds.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, Ernest Brilhart, of Manchester; Treasurer, Preston Cauffman, of Westminster; Secretary, George Motter, of Taneytown.

The next dinner meeting will be held on Thursday, April 16, at Baust church when Dr. Bela Vasady, Professor of Systematic Theology at the Lancaster Seminary will be the speaker.

WITH THE 2d INFANTRY DIV.

TEACHERS AROUSED
BY SALARY ACTIONFacilities of Taneytown Schools
Express Dissatisfaction

The faculties of the Taneytown Public Schools have expressed strong dissatisfaction with the salary adjustments made by the Carroll County Commissioners. An increase of $400. per teacher had been requested by the Carroll County Teachers Association for the school year 1952-53, due to the increased cost of living and rising costs in college preparation for teaching. The teachers in Taneytown alone were forced to expend the sum of approximately $1680 during the past year for college courses leading to improvement of instruction, as is required by the State Department of Education.

In place of the $400 salary increase for 1952-53 and 1953-54 requested by the teachers association, and approved by the County Board of Education, the Commissioners voted to give each teacher only a $50 bonus in January, which will be the only adjustment during the year 1952-53, and a $100 increase for the year 1953-54. After taxes and teacher retirement deductions, the adjustment will mean approximately a 2c an hour raise in 1952-53 and another 2c an hour increase in 1953-54.

Due to the dissatisfaction with this decision, the Taneytown Faculties have recommended that further action be taken by the Carroll County Teachers Association.

THIS 'N' THAT

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!

I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The first cool days have come upon us, and then a warm one and then Visa versa and many would complain about the changes. What's the difference, folks for you know as well as I that the fine days in each month out number the bad ones. Must be some Gypsy in Your Observer for I always did like to walk in the rain properly clothed for it!

Hoschild Kohn & Co. having their 55th Anniversary! That is the one big Department Store that I have the utmost confidence in all of their departments and when they have sales, you know it is really a SALE! The legitimate merchandise is marked down direct and not bought just for the great Anniversary sale. Your Observer around and enjoyed every minute of it, and recalled way back when I was visiting Baltimore for the first time and I was taken for a trip to the shopping district and that store was the one that my friend said, "Now, this store is just different from any department store in our town because there is no red tape in exchanging any article as their motto is that the customer is always right!"

I immediately thought of our big stores in Philadelphia and what it meant and all the detail in bringing any article back even for an exchange! I found that store to be just "tops" all down through the years! That store has not changed its fine policy in every detail. I buy everything there regardless of the item.

Did you know, Ladies that knitted hats in all colors are back again? They are cute, too with their shapes and sizes and fit on the head so beautifully. You can wear them at any angle with just a little flip of your finger.

And, Gentlemen if you own one of those old-fashioned SHAVING MUGS do start using it this minute for they are truly back to stay for many a year.

In a previous column, Your Observer stated how nice it would be while running for the Presidency to state what he was going to do without always slamming the opponent. It really is not necessary to blackguard any individual. When selling a car, a wise salesman does not run down other makes but he will state of the superior features of the car he is representing and the firm where it is manufactured.

There are so many fine ways of doing things instead of being unkind and thoughtless! But it seems all the way back to our very first President according to The American Weekly that George Washington was called a "HYENA" like for his dating as far back as his Cadet days at West Point, Stevenson because he was divorced and yet he does not believe in divorce but there have been many

I LIKE IKE

Because I want a change, a complete change from top to bottom, at Washington. The election of Dwight D. Eisenhower as President will accomplish this.

I want to get rid of the tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect cynicism that has too long misruled this country. I want to help clean out those who condone Communism in high places, like Dean Acheson. I want to change a situation where a cocky little product of Pendergast can sell out the decent working people of this country, the service men, and the general public by his dealings with Phil Murray, Walter Reuther, Dave Dubinsky and their ilk. I want a MAN we can trust and be proud of in the highest office in the land to replace Harry S. Truman, who has finally shown his breeding by his guttersnipe tactics and use of the "big lie" tactics in his present political tour. Ike is the man who can do this.

I want a change because I am convinced it is the only way we can expect to clean up and punish the graft and corruption constantly being exposed and then covered up or ignored in the present administration. Ike is the man, and I firmly believe the only man now available, who can and will do this.

I want a military man for President. I think that with world affairs as they are a military man represents the best chance to secure sound peace. I wouldn't vote for Dugout Doug or Harry Vaughan for dog catcher but I admire everything about the record of Ike Eisenhower. His acquaintance and friendship with rulers of other countries of the free world and their respect for him would immediately strengthen the opposition to Communism and go a long way toward keeping the peace.

The radical New Deal, Fair Deal "liberals" who showed their contempt for the real, old-time Democrats at the national convention have caused men like Governor Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina to call upon all good citizens to put their loyalty to our country above loyalty to a party.

So I am going to continue to be my own kind of a Democrat and vote for Spessard Holland, Dan McCarthy and all the other Democrats right down the ticket but I am going to vote for Ike Eisenhower for President and urge all my friends to do likewise.—(M. J. Lee, in the Haines City, Florida Herald).

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

DENVILLE, N. J., HERALD: "It really surprised us to read in the New Jersey Power & Light Company magazine that 'If the Company had been forgiven its tax bill for the year 1951 it would have been able to provide FREE electric service to every residential customer for five months of the year.'"

HOOD RIVER, OREGON, NEWS: "In this, the greatest tax collecting year in the history of the world, the United States Federal government is claiming to be exacting much of its 'extra tax dollars' from the rich. This can't be true. The 'little guy' is suffering. The Oregon Business and Tax Research reports if the U. S. government took all the taxable income in excess of $6,000 from all individuals that would raise less than $6,000,000,000."

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., INDUSTRIAL PRESS: "We cannot understand why the leaders of organized labor have not been able to recognize their duty to their members and the American public. We believe that any intelligent worker knows that what he and every other American needs most is a decrease in the cost of living instead of an increase in pay. Why the leaders refuse to see this is a mystery."

ELKTON, MD., CECIL WHIG: "Mr. Murray, the union leader, orders the members of his union to work or not to work, as he sees fit. For any one individual to be vested with and exercise the authority to tell thousands of American citizens, from day to day, whether they shall or shall not go forth to win their daily bread is extremely difficult to fit into the pattern called 'American.'"

ELECTRIC POWER COSTS REDUCED

Consumer cost of electric power in Taneytown has decreased during the past ten years, while the cost of living has skyrocketed, it was reported this week by President R. Paul Smith of the Potomac Edison System, of which the Potomac Edison Company is a part.

This decreasing consumer electric utility dollar has been maintained, he said, while the Potomac Edison System has been embarking upon an expansion program to meet the demands of its customers here and in other communities and rural areas in its service area. This expansion program, he pointed out, has been a factor in giving more value for each consumer electric dollar.

Mr. Smith said that his company's average rate to residential users of electric power in 1942 was 4.42 cents, and this year it is 3.11 cents, representing a decrease of approximately 30 per cent.

Over the same ten year period, the PE president said, the cost of living has increased by 67 per cent, according to the June 15 index of the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The Potomac Edison System, from the end of World War II to the end of 1952, will have spent over $47,000,000 nearly doubling its generating capacity—154,000 kilowatts to 294,000 kilowatts—and improving its transmission and distribution facilities.

CARROLL COUNTY 4-H'S ATTEND NEPCO

Four members of the Woodbine 4-H Club attended the North East Poultry Producers Convention at Syracuse, New York on September 29, 30 and 1st of October.

Elwood Pickett, Kenneth Pickett, Jack Conaway, and Benjamin Boone accompanied by William M. Allenberg, Assistant County Agent exhibited the miniature poultry booth which won the Championship at Timonium and captured first place at NEPCO. They also participated in the Youth program. The exhibit and trip was sponsored by the Harry T. Campbell Sons Corp. of Towson, Md.

The booth entitled "Brood Healthy Chicks" scored 95 out of 100 points over Connecticut with 91 points. The booth showed proper construction of brooder house, proper litter, good ventilation and lighting and brooding and feeding practices.

ANTELOPE HUNTING

Shorty Smith, rancher in the Reva community, was a Buffalo visitor in Buffalo, N. D., Tuesday. He was accompanied by Martin Smith and Warren Wantz, both of Taneytown, who were visiting Shorty at the ranch. The boys had been out in Wyoming on an antelope hunting trip before coming here. Shorty remarked that some of the antelope hunters in his area must have thought the deed to the land went with their hunting licenses. He had posted the pasture where his cattle were being held pending shipment, but the hunters made straight for this small part of Shorty's range, left gates open and started shooting among the cattle, scattering them all over the place.

Shorty says he with the pickup and his nephew Marvin with the airplane, took in after the hunters and chased them out of the pasture, but Shorty says he only got close enough to see that it was a tan car with a Butte county license. We'd advise hunters to stay out of Shorty's little pasture next year unless they want to find out how it feels to be an antelope instead of a hunter.

FATHER SHAM LEAVES ST. MARTIN'S PLACE TAKEN BY FATHER TOMASCHKO

The prayers and good wishes of the parish follow Father Sham in his new assignment to the faculty of Mt. St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, Md. As announced in the Review he was first appointed to St. John's, Westminster, but found he could not live there because the repairs to the Rectory had not been completed. He will therefore live at Mt. St. Mary's, saying Mass on Sunday at Westminster or at the mission at Manchester. Father Sham will long be remembered at St. Martin's for his directorship of the Senior and Junior Choirs and for the inspiring music they provided for our High Masses. Our Altar Boys too will recall his kindly interest in them and the pride he took in their appearance on the altar, especially on the great feast days.

As his newest assistant, Father Finerty welcomes Rev. Anthony C. Tomaschko, who comes to St. Martin's after two years of service with Father Lane at St. Pauls. The two parishes have close ties from the fact that Msgr. Duggan formerly served there, Father Bradley is Assistant there at present, and Father Mertz was Assistant there for several years.

Although Father Tomaschko was baptized at St. Michael's, he attended school at St. Elizabeth's, the parish of his parents, who now live on North Rose St. He attended St. Charles College and St. Mary's Seminary and was ordained to the Priesthood by Archbishop Keough on May 27, 1950. Father Tomaschko asks your prayers that his ministry in the parish as well as at Bon Secours Hospital and the Good Shepherd Convent may be helpful to all.

Have lightning rod systems properly installed and keep them repaired.

Spray cattle and hogs for lice.

Keep heating plants and chimneys clean. Clean lamps and lanterns. Check regularly on oil stoves in brooder houses.

FEESERSBURG

The Rev. Dr. Jacob Myers, Professor of Old Testament at the Lutheran Seminary Gettysburg, was the guest speaker at the annual Harvest Home (ingathering) service held in the Mt. Union Lutheran church Sunday evening, Oct. 19. Dr. Myers stressed the point that famine and disaster never comes to the whole world at one time. If one section of the land is visited by drought or pestilence, the other sections have crops and produce food. It seems then, both logical and right that the land blessed with production should feed the people from the lands less fortunate in climate or rainfall. God has given man the soil, not to exploit for his own personal gain, but to be held in trust for future generations. Men who love their land and tills the soils know this and accept it. That is the reason for soil conservation programs and fertilizer. The Reifsnider brothers sang several selections and played one instrument. Pastor Warrenfeltz dedicated the donated produce. The church choir under the direction of Mrs. Scott Crabbs sang special music for the occasion. There were 115 quarts of canned fruits and vegetables donated besides pumpkins, soap, apples and nuts. The products go to help maintain the old folks at the National Lutheran Home for the Aged, 18th and Douglas Sts., N. E. Washington, 18, D. C.

Master Steve Narcott, of California, visiting the Mehre Wilhides fell in the barn while playing last Friday and suffered a fractured skull. He was taken to the Gettysburg Hospital for X-Rays and remained two days as a patient. He was released Sunday. After reading so much about apple pan dowdy, and never having tasted it we decided to try making one after the Potomac Edison Company sent the recipe out on the back of their attractive monthly calendar. It turned out fine and the family enjoyed the new treat very much. If you have never tried one before, do so now when apples are plentiful. You will be glad you did.

Solomon, the wise man of Athens, was asked how crime could possibly be abolished in any state. "It will be abolished," he said "when those who are not wronged feel the same indignation as those who are."

A doctor has as many human problems to solve as medical ones but probably the most perplexing question often confronting a doctor is whether or not to tell the patient he can't get well. More than a dozen leading Baltimore physicians and surgeons last week unanimously turned thumbs down on telling a patient he was going to die. The patient that insists on knowing the truth, is the one that can face it least. Most patients, even strong-willed ones go to pieces when told they have an incurable disease. And no one, not even the best doctor in the world can definitely say that someone is going to die. Even a doctor himself does not wish to know that all hope is gone. A patient facing illness without the hope of getting well, becomes mentally depressed and this only adds untold misery to the patient himself and to his family. The best plan is for the patient never to ask and insist on knowing the outcome of his illness. This is one perfect example when it pays to be ignorant.

Just twelve days left to endure the political charges and counter-charges. One thing is sure and certain—by election day the candidates and the voters will be in such a state of oratory fatigue that one wonders if they will have the mental health to reach the voting booth, and if they do will they care enough to mind whether they vote republican or democrat. This could be the year for a socialist victory—or don't they have a candidate this year?

Millard Roelke lost a brown bill-fold in Union Bridge last week containing driver's license, insurance papers and about twenty five dollars in money. He would greatly appreciate the finder returning the bill-fold and papers by mail. He may keep the money. The papers are of no value to anyone except himself, but the bill-fold was a gift and holds a lot of sentimental value.

Mrs. Earl Wilhide gave a Stanley party Monday evening at her home. Tuesday morning temperatures set a new record here in Maryland for low readings in October. Our furnace was restored to order just in the nick of time to save the collection of African violets and to save this reporter from pneumonia. Fifteen years ago pioneering on the farm was fine, but now that we have become softened by modern conveniences, to do without them doesn't go so good. It is really true that one doesn't appreciate what he has until he doesn't have it any longer.

This will really make the men take notice for this advice was given to them just 50 years ago: "If your wife has no private purse, spare her the embarrassment of asking you for money. Make her a little allowance—even 50 cents a week—for which she will be accountable to no one." Unquote: Hard to believe that things have changed so much.

Flying saucers haven't been mentioned lately and there is a reason: Everyone has eyes only for the lovely skyline of Carroll County, with its outline of colorful trees, the fence rows of brilliant bushes and the sky above so blue that it looks like an indigo sea inverted.

During the next two weeks look out for your property. The witches and goblins are out early looking for mischief to do. The goblins are young and full of energy. The witches are older but know more tricks, which they impart to the goblins. The best way to curb their pranks is to have a party with plenty of food. Stuff them with food around a warm fire and they will be glad to go home and go to bed without carrying away your porch furniture, garden gate or full grown steer. Of course food costs a lot and goblins have enormous appetites. Maybe it would be cheaper to let them take the steer.

The old believe everything; the middle-aged suspect everything; the young know everything.—Oscar Wilde

ANNUAL COUNCIL OF HOMEMAKERS

Approximately two hundred members of the Carroll County Council of Homemakers met in the Westminster High School for their Annual Council meeting on Thursday, Oct. 16. Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Westminster, was elected Vice President and Mrs. Edward Knox, near Smallwood, was elected Treasurer. These newly elected officers will take office January 1, 1953.

Mrs. John Peeling, retiring Vice President, presided at the morning business session. A highlight of the morning program included a skit which portrayed the work and accomplishments of the study and work meeting groups during the past year. Mrs. Robert Lee, Westminster, and Mrs. J. Herbert Snyder, Union Bridge, were the principle characters of the pantomime with Miss Evelyn D. Scott, Home Demonstration Agent, acting as narrator. Two 4-H club members, Miss Barbara Myers of Westminster and Miss Margaret Ann Young of near New Windsor, also appeared on the morning program. Dr. Cook of the Carroll County Medical Service was introduced to the group by Miss Manahan and gave the group a report on the development of the Carroll County Health Center and the services available.

The membership enjoyed a delightful luncheon at 12 o'clock in the Westminster High School Cafeteria and details of the flower arrangement added much to the party like surroundings. The Skyesville, Eldersburg, Berrett and Mt. Airy Clubs were responsible for attractive arrangements and individual corsages for everyone. The afternoon session was presided over by Mrs. Edward Mancha, County President, featured Mrs. Hester Beall Provensen of the University of Maryland in a talk on "Treasure Hunting." Mrs. Provensen delighted her audience with her manner of presentation of inspirational thoughts on identifying ourselves. Following Mrs. Provensen's address the Carroll County Homemakers Chorus presented a delightful concert. The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. James LeFevre, Westminster, with Mrs. Julian Owen, Skyesville, accompanist, presented a thrilling concert which delighted the audience.

The entire day's activities had been planned and arranged for by the county committees with various clubs carrying the responsibility of registration, ushering, stage decorations and dining room arrangements.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 7.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 119: 105-112.

Test of Faith

Lesson for October 26, 1952

EVERY one who has carefully studied the "Sermon on the Mount" as we find it in Matthew, has run into a peculiar feature of it. The first two chapters (Matt. 5 and 6) move right along in logical fashion, one thought leading into the next, to a climax at the end of chapter 6. But chapter 7 seems to launch out in all directions. The sentences or topics do not follow a single thread of thought. The chapter is very hard to outline. There are various explanations of this. One is that in this chapter we have what might be called the discussion period or forum following the sermon. The various short paragraphs may be explained as being answers Jesus gave to questions which are not recorded. However that may be, we may select verses 12, and 15-27, and see how they answer four very natural questions which Jesus' teaching (especially in Matt. 5 and 6) would raise.

Dr. Foreman

Bible in a Nutshell

Some one might ask: "Can't you make your teaching simpler and plainer? Could you put the whole thing in a nutshell?" So Jesus gives the Golden Rule (7:12), a single sentence that has embarrassed theologian and plain Christian alike. Jesus offers this as a kind of summary of the Bible, for in his time the Bible he had (our "Old Testament") was customarily called "The Law and the Prophets." This bothers the theologian because it always scandalizes a scholar to have everything put into one sentence, and besides, theologians are accustomed to finding a great deal more in the Old Testament than the Golden Rule. It bothers the common everyday Christian because when he looks at this sentence, he knows how right Mark Twain was: "It's not what I don't understand in the Bible that disturbs me; it's what I do understand."

How Can You Tell?

Another question: How do we know you are teaching the truth? How can we tell you from a false prophet? Jesus gives a simple answer: You can tell a tree from its fruits. People who criticize Christianity should keep this point in mind. There is a great deal in "Christianity" which is not good. But Christianity is not Christianity. Not even the church is Christianity. Anything in the church that ought not to be there, we must set down against the account of the church, not against Christ. If the church is weak and sinful it is because and so far as she has failed to follow Jesus, not because she has followed him. The fruits of Christ, of his heart, his spirit, his teachings—these are good fruit. And if any one is disposed to doubt that, let him fairly answer this question: Where would you rather live, in a community in which the citizens were strangely like Jesus, or one in which they were just the opposite?

Is Not Faith Enough?

Another question: Isn't a single act of faith enough? If I believe what I ought to believe, and if I honor Christ as Lord, isn't that enough to make me a Christian? Jesus offers a test of faith, as if in answer to some such question. It isn't just believing; it isn't paying honor to the name of Christ; it isn't preaching in his name, it is not even performing miracles. The question that will be asked at the Day of Judgment is: Did you do the will of God?

Will It Work?

One more question: Your teaching sounds interesting and is idealistic and all that, but is it meant for this world? Will it work? Jesus quite emphatically claims for his teachings an absolutely practical value. They are not for some Never-never Land, they are not for some other time, some other life. They are not some radical upside-down topsy-turvy mess of peculiar notions. They are the bedrock of a life that will endure through storms. Do you want to find out whether these teachings and ideals of Jesus will work? He invites one and all to build their house of life upon them. He does not promise at any time that those who live by his teachings will be free from trouble, sorrow, opposition, tragedy. Storms come to all houses alike. What he does promise is that the life built here shall not fall.

Five-Grass Mixture Popular in Indiana

Pays Off in Higher Quality Hay, Pasture

Farmers in 12 northeastern Indiana counties swear by a 5-grass mixture that pays off in extra tons of high quality hay and pasture. The combination includes timothy, brome, red clover, Ladino clover and alfalfa, reports Walter Rusk, county agent of Huntington county. This legume-grass combination, he said, could profitably be used by farmers in other states.

Five acres of the 5-grass mixture on the Norman Thompson farm near Huntington, Indiana.

cutting on many farms. One farmer in the area insists that 5 acres of the mixture provides more forage than he previously got from about 60 acres of pasture.

Norman Thompson, who farms near Huntington, Indiana, reports that he grazed 27 head of cattle, including 16 milk cows and 11 calves, as well as 100 small pigs and 18 sows for 5 weeks on a 5-acre pasture seeded to the 5-grass mixture.

Rusk points out that the well fertilized legume-grass mixture is doing an important soil building job, besides giving farmers a preferred position in forage supplies. The tap-roots of the legumes drill down deep to keep the soil open and well ventilated. They add organic matter to improve the soil's tilth and drainage. Large quantities of organic matter in the soil mean increased water-holding capacity. They also make it possible to get the best possible efficiency out of every ton of fertilizer used.

Improved Ever-Bearing Strawberry Developed

Strawberries from your garden from June to October are possible with the new, improved ever-bearing strains. Although the biggest crop comes from mid-to-late June, plants will continue to produce enough for breakfast cereal and dinner desserts until frost arrives.

Planting should be done as early in the spring as possible. Said to thrive in any type of soil, is a new high-yielding variety developed by plant breeders of the Westerhauser Nurseries of Sawyer, Michigan. Called the "20th Century", this ever-bearing type is said to fruit in about 60 days and produce large, sweet, full-flavored berries all season long.

Seasoned gardeners recommend picking off the first blossoms so as to enable the roots to develop plenty of strength. They point out that while you may lose the first few fruits, you will gain in much bigger yields later in the summer.

Grand Champion

Time of Plowing Should Depend on Type of Soil

Ohio State University farm experts report type of soil should determine whether a farmer plows his land in fall or spring. Tests over a 14-year period indicate spring plowing is preferable on light soils. If plowed in the fall the ground has a tendency to become compacted by spring. On heavier soils tests show late fall plowing gives as good or better granulation of the soil than spring plowing.

PUBLIC PROFANITY

What is so distasteful as to hear a profane person profaning? Immediately we begin to associate him with the crude, rude, and uncouth. Our language is pure or impure, chaste or unchaste, according to the way people use it. The preceding assertion does not refer to the grammatical correctness of the language but to its morale. The best American people are disgusted of the generous use of profanity by the President of the United States. Does his manner of speech suggest the low level to which decency and morale have fallen in our country? Can you imagine the Ex-President Hoover resorting to profanity, or the late Teddy Roosevelt, or Woodrow Wilson? What kind of influence is a public servant exerting upon the youth of the land by his usage of profanity? Do we wonder at the evidences of disrespect manifested by the children? Respectable people neither condone nor respect the profane.

We have been told many times that a man employs profanity because of his meagre vocabulary. Again, he uses profanity to attract attention to himself. It seems human to want to be recognized, and some seem to believe that swearing will get them that recognition.

Again, profanity is resorted to when one has no explanation to offer for some questionable act, deed or transaction. Thus he uses profanity lest objectors weary him by their persistent complaints. There are those who employ vehemence to stress a contention or an argument when their possession of adjectives is lacking. Here is another instance of a small number of usable words. They must allow swearing to take the place of appropriate words.

Many men in positions of authority curse in order to intimidate the workmen under them. They little care or know that such behavior make many people working for them nervous, and thus less efficient. But these bosses believe that the only way they can exercise authority is to swear at the employees. Many of the best bosses today are the ones who are calm and mild, and who win the love and affection of their employees rather than their fear and hate.

Perhaps you have seen a reproduction of that frieze on the temple enclosure at Nikko, Japan. On that frieze are three monkeys. One of the monkeys is carefully covering his eyes with his hands, another is covering his ears, and the third is covering his mouth. They are resolved to "see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." Are we going to let monkeys be more cautious than we?

The late D. M. Brown of Yale Divinity School wrote: "Of all the raw, senseless, useless habits into which empty-headed men fall, profane swearing has the least to say for itself. There are forms of wrong doing which do yield a certain low grade of satisfaction, but what is to be gained by the coarse and irreverent use of the Deity or the name of Jesus Christ? The man who feels that his natural speech is so weak and futile that he must try to bolster it up by interlarding it with these sacred names is an object of pity as well as an occasion for disgust."

THIS 'N' THAT

big men who have been divorced, then there was Lincoln who during his greatest service to the Nation was called a Gorilla, a traitor, and a teller of obscene stories and I recall distinctly of dear President Theodore Delano Roosevelt being criticized severely as a "cripple" and we should not have a President that was a Cripple! That used to make Your Observer "plenty mad" for all people who are afflicted in some way or other are usually brilliant and outstanding characters. When I walk along down town section of the big city and see so many begging due to some affliction there is a sudden ache in my heart for those people who are so unfortunate. Yet many afflicted people do big things in life and have stronger backbones! Many times disease has left an individual handicapped or perhaps through an accident and a dozen more reasons.

"Spanish" influence in the stores seem to be making a bit hit this Fall. Ladies but the suits as to this trend are very high in price. They are quite glamorous.

That new "ADHESIVE" for mending China, furniture, book bindings and covers even to stopping plumbing leaks in the garden hose or on a boat in fact anything. No house should ever be without it and all the leading Hardware stores are handling it.

"Strawberry Snow" is quite inviting for a change for dessert and served with Lemon sauce it is delicious.

While in Hoshild's went up to the tea room where I use to frequent and have not been there for some time. There is something about that Tea Room that is just different—that's all—there seems a special "Southern Hospitality" in the atmosphere and what a main dish Your Observer had of Shrimp Salad. Delicious is the word!

Now, there will appear the portrait of Queen Elizabeth on the first new stamps of her reign within the next three months and what a price it will be for the Americans for weekly rents to the Coronation next June! Wow! And they talk about Washington, D. C.

So, long, folks Have a grand week end this delightful Fall weather. Be careful and always drive slowly and if the "Racer" wants to get by—give him the road and I think you know just what I mean!

Until next week, D. V.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESS' CONVENTION

A delegation of ministers from Taneytown, are planning to attend a three-day circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in 5th Regiment Armory, Preston St., entrance, Baltimore, Md., this coming week-end, Oct. 24-26, it was announced today by Geo. Myers who oversees the local witnesses' preaching activities.

Purpose of this assembly is to provide Bible instruction, also to learn how to improve each ones' gospel preaching and to make personal calls in a ministerial capacity on residents of the host area, said Mr. George Myers. All this is part of their work to which they have dedicated their lives, that of promoting Bible education publicly and from house to house.

Various speakers assigned parts on the program will handle such subjects as "Come, Let us Serve Together", "Recommending Ourselves in the sight of God," and others. Pantomimes and demonstrations depicting actual occurrences in their ministry will be presented to emphasize important points of interest.

M. H. Larson of Brooklyn, New York, ordained and branch manager of the Watchtower Society, will be the presiding officer and will deliver a free public lecture at 3:00 P. M. Sunday on the subject, "Where is this World Heading?" This talk will furnish the highlight for the week-end's activity, for the speaker will show not only where but how to avoid the fate of this world.

One of the features of the three-day convention will be a delivery of a discourse on the meaning of baptism by a Watchtower representative, on Sunday morning, following which a group of new witnesses will be immersed. These will then join the mature ones as they engage in their ministerial duties throughout Baltimore and its suburbs.

The general public will be invited to attend all the sessions, at which no admission charge will be made, nor will any collection be taken. Volunteers working without pay will serve as cooks, waiters, ushers, traffic guards, medical attendants, etc., in handling the many details of management needed for a smooth-working organization.

The organization of Jehovah's Witnesses is growing rapidly. Last year they experienced a new all-time peak when 442,380 of their ministers, all of whom serve without salaries, were busy in their preaching and teaching work. This represented a 17 per cent increase over the preceding year.

MD. P.-T.A. TO MEET

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Victor J. Ruby, President of the Carroll County Council of Parents and Teachers that many of the local P.-T.A.'s are sending delegates to the 37th Annual Convention of The Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers which will meet in Baltimore, Md., on October 30 and 31st at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. The theme will be "Maryland's Children—What of their Future."

Dr. Paul E. Mort, advisor to New York State Government will speak on "The State's Responsibility for the Education of All its Children". Dr. Mort will also act as moderator of a Symposium to discuss "What Kind of Education Shall an Enlightened State Guarantee its Children". Mr. Arnold L. Wilkes, Director of Public Service and Education for Hearst Corporation has taken as his subject "The Community's Responsibility of Its Children." Mrs. Bonaro Overstreet will speak on "The World's Children—What of their Future." She will also act as moderator of the Youth Panel whose subject will be "Youth's Needs—Are they being met by our homes, schools, churches and communities."

In a recent Maryland Parent-Teacher Bulletin published by the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers it was stated "As Children go, so goes the nation. That the kind of a nation we will have in 1972 will depend not so much upon the action this year of the President, the prime minister of Great Britain and the premier of the Soviet Union as upon the decisions made in 1972 by the 53,000,000 persons who are now kicking at crabs, learning to walk, trying to catch a ball, struggling with fractions, getting used to lipstick and razor, discovering the joy of dating, attending college, being drafted, taking jobs, getting married". It would appear that if we wish a better nation parents and teachers must do a vastly better job in rearing our young. The Carroll County Council of Parents and Teachers feels that the topics selected for discussion at the Convention should give the delegates material to bring back to their locals which will aid them in accomplishing this ideal.
