HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Pupils Are Busy With Varied Projects

Under the supervision of Mrs. A. MacDonald, the Senior problems of Democracy class sponsored a mock election, Oct. 21, 22 and 24th. The purpose of the project was to familiarize students of the Jr.-Sr. High School with the proceedings which will be followed in the National election on November 4th. Nearly authentic conditions were prepared beginning with registration at which time 85% of the students signed up with parties of their choice. The second day, campaign speeches, introducing the principal candidates listed on the ballot and the issues they represented, were given in "whistle stop" form. Speaking in behalf of the Democratic and Republican parties were: Jane Gills, Shirley Forsythe, Georgia Ingram, Nancy Pennington, Dottie Hartsock, Phyllis Salley, Bill Gillespie, David Reifsnider and Merritt Copenhagen. Of those registered, 76% of eligible voters cast ballots on the third and last day of the campaign. Although 76% seems relatively low it is surprising to note that this figure surpasses the national percentage of adult voters by some 25%, for only 51% of eligible voters went to the polls at our last National election. Must high school students set an example for adults in such a vital issue? The Senior P.O.D. class, particularly, urges you to vote this coming Nov. 4th.

Last Saturday, the High School PTA held its annual turkey and oyster supper. The estimated number of supper served surpassed last year's 620 by more than one hundred. Typical of the cooperative effort given by numerous members of the PTA was Mr. Franklin Baker's volunteer dishwashing from 3:30 till 10 p. m. Many others could be cited for similar contributions.

Tuesday, Oct. 28, was a holiday for students only as teachers traversed the country side taking census of children who are under school age at present.

The first quarterly issue of the Taneytown, the high school publication edited entirely by students, is now on sale. Copies may be purchased from any Senior. Also, yearly subscriptions are available.

Rehearsals are now under way for the production of the Gilbert & Sullivan operetta, "H. M. S. Pinafore", under the direction of Mrs. W. Yingling and Mrs. U. Shipley. The performance cast entirely from the school, will be presented on the evening of Nov. 21, in the high school auditorium.

"Safety on the Highways" was the theme of a demonstration sponsored by the Farm Bureau Insurance Co. October 27, Young drivers were encouraged to be cautious "under the wheel." An actual test was staged on the street near the high school, illustrating the reaction time required to bring an automobile under control when a complete stop is necessary. Students Yvonne Foreman and Dean Brown were tested at 20 m.p.h. Mr. N. Musser and Officer Vincent Boose drove 30 and 40 m.p.h. respectively. Phyllis Sally acted as recorder, while Billy Gillespie, Donald Lawyer, Robert Sell, Raymond Reifsnider, and Charles Haley acted as spotters.

Mrs. Berchok, girls' physical education teacher, chose eighteen girls, Kitty Dale, Yvonne Foreman, Julia Humbert, Dorothy Foglesong, Shirley Forsythe, Ruth Ridinger, Shirley Koonz, Pat Wantz, Vivian Davidson, Alice Frock, Joan Miller, Elizabeth Miller, Mildred Bowling, Oneida Myers, Barbara Eckard, Yvonne Lambert, Pat Smith, Helen Humbert, Margaret Fair, Jean Wilson, Roberta Garvin and Rosalie Sharrer to participate in the second playday of the season which was held at Hampstead on Oct. 29.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF C. OF C. TO BE HELD

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin to be the Speaker

An important event will be held in Taneytown on Thursday evening, Nov. 6, at 6:30 p. m., in the High School auditorium. Do you know what it is? The annual banquet of the Taneytown Chapter of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee for the banquet was honored in obtaining this year the Honorable Mr. Theodore R. McKeldin, Governor of the State of Maryland, as the speaker. He is a national representative and is known by all citizens of the nation. His services are in demand and our community needs no introduction to this man who is a friend to all men.

The banquet group will also be honored with the Hanover Elk Chorus which is recognized as the nation-wide best of the Elks. These selections for the entertainment of the evening will be one of the greatest the Chamber has been able to obtain for many years.

The membership committee wishes to remind all former members that the membership dues should be sent in immediately in order to know the amount of food to provide for the event. The dues must be in by not later than Monday. This is an important item for the Chamber officials to know how to prepare for the event.

The October meeting of the Chamber was held this past Monday night at the Taney Inn and the First Vice-President, Mr. David Smith, presided. The dinner was well prepared which was the beginning of the evening. The meeting opened with singing of one verse of "America", followed with the invocation by Rev. A. W. Garvin.

The reading of the minutes were read by the secretary, Mr. Bernard J. Arnold, and were approved as read. The Christmas events were then discussed after Mr. Edward Reid spoke for the merchants of Taneytown. The Merchants held a meeting at noon and suggested plans for the different parties which is sponsored for the merchants of the town through the Chamber.

The suggestions were as follows: The merchants were to stay open for the evenings each night beginning Friday, Dec. 12th until Christmas Eve. Then the Christmas parties were discussed and it was suggested that the adult party be held on the street on Thursday, Dec. 18th, and that the Children's party be held on Monday, Dec. 22nd, and that party be held in the High School auditorium. These events will be worked out later and the final report will be made of what will transpire for the Christmas events by the Chamber.

The different committees for Christmas will be appointed and notified to arrange for the Christmas events a little later by the Executive committee.

The nominating committee reported for the Chamber's voting in November with the following nominees: For President, Merwyn C. Fuss and Harry Mooney; 1st Vice-President, David Smith and Howell Royer; 2nd Vice-President, Carroll Wantz and Harman Albaugh; Secretary, Bernard J. Arnold and Edward Reid; Treasurer, Charles Arnold and James Myers.

A movie was furnished by the Potomac Edison Co., "Living Like a King", and was shown by Mr. Merle Ohler. This picture was in technical and many beautiful scenes were shown.

The next month's meeting will be held at the Firemen's Building at 7:30 p. m. The final report given was the Treasurer's which was read by the secretary as Mr. Charles Arnold is recuperating from sickness.

Last suggestion offered to the members and friends of the Chamber of Commerce is that if you wish to attend the banquet on Thursday, Nov. 6, at 6:30 p. m., send to Mr. Bernard Arnold your membership dues immediately.

Tail Twister "Restless" Riffe then appeared on the scene and in his own inimitable manner operated on the pockets of the members not in costume.

Master of ceremonies Jester then introduced Mr. Fred Lodge, Ralston-Purina salesman for Carroll and Frederick counties. Mr. Lodge then presented pictures of the Ralston-Purina Experimental Farm near St. Louis and gave a running commentary of the raising and feeding of live stock. This program was of particular interest to farmers and was very educational to all.

President welcomed Delmar Riffe back from his sojourn in the hospital and expressed the wishes of all the Lions that he would soon return to his former good health.

Congratulations, Harvey.

SCOUT AND EXPLORER ACTIVITIES SEPARATED IN TROOP 348, TANEYTOWN

A line of demarcation between Boy Scout and Explorer activities is now in process of being drawn among members of Troop 348, Taneytown, the former for boys in the age group 11 to 13 years under the Scoutmaster, the latter for young men 14 years and over, supervised by Stanley F. Frock, explorer adviser. Too great a disparity of ages makes a unified program difficult to compose that will appeal at once to both these groups, and this shift has long been advocated by the National council, Boy Scouts of America.

The explorers reorganized on October 20 and elected officers for the next quarter. Besides Adviser Frock they are: Senior crew leader, Robert Bowers; Deputy senior crew leader, Larry Eckard; Crew leaders, Kenneth Frock and John Perry; Assistant crew leaders, Robert Rock and Ray Slaybaugh; Secretary, Romanus Haines. Their first project, an outdoor event taking advantage of the October 28th school holiday and depending on suitable weather, consists of wood cutting for the Scout hall stoves from fallen timber generously made available by A. D. and Henry Alexander. Explorer meetings are held on Mondays.

The October Board of review was called to order by Francis E. Lookingbill, Commander of Hesson-Snyder Post 120, American Legion, assisted by Neal W. Powell, Stanley W. King and Stanley F. Frock, and advancements were granted to the following Scouts and Explorers: Second class rank, Lee Rock, Harold Slaybaugh, Donald Tracey, Jr., and Peter Westine; First Class, Larry Martin and George Shriver, Jr.; Star rank, Kenneth Frock, Robert Fuss, Ronald Markle, and Robert Rock; Eagle rank, Stanley F. Frock and Wilbur O. Thomas. Merit badges were awarded to Ronald Markle in public health and George Shriver in wood work.

Scouts of the Troop met Thursdays, and last week the theme on physical fitness was presented by Explorer, Larry Martin, while games were conducted by Explorer, Kenneth Frock. Ronald Hopkins was welcomed as a candidate for membership in the Raccoon patrol on his eleventh birthday soon to come. This week's meeting is in the form of a Halloween party, while on Saturday Liberty bell door-knobs will be distributed throughout the Taneytown area as a reminder to all citizens of their privilege in voting on November 4—just as Scouts all over the nation are also putting out these Freedom Foundation symbols.

BROTHERHOOD OF GRACE E. & R. CHURCH MET

The Churchmen's Brotherhood of Grace E. & R. Church met Oct. 23 in the S. S. room of the church. The meeting opened by singing "Near the Cross," and "Stand Up For Jesus." Scripture as recorded in Luke 12:20-27, was read by George Motter followed in prayer by Murray Baumgardner; song "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us."

The minutes were read and the treasurers report given both being approved. Nominations for officers for the coming year was then held. The rest of the meeting was spent in discussion and preparation for the annual turkey supper, Nov. 8, in the Firemen's building. They also discussed the annual laymen's day, which is to be held on Sunday morning, Nov. 9, during the worship.

The meeting closed by praying the Lord's Prayer. A social period followed with refreshments consisting of sandwiches and coffee.

THIS 'N' THAT (Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!

I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Well, folks "Honest Abe" our Civil War President returned to Gettysburg, Saturday 18, 1952 at the hour of 1:30 arriving at The Western Maryland Railroad station and Your Observer was right there to meet him along with thousands of others in that little quaint and historic town plus the out of towners. Ray Middleton (The Broadway Actor impersonated our Sixteenth President of these United States just as he did years ago in the Movie called, Lincoln). He looks so much like Lincoln that you could hear the "Oh's" and "Ah's" and "He is wonderful!" as the applause became louder as Lincoln stepped from the train to the platform!

It was also the occasion of the 100th Anniversary of the Western Maryland Railway Company.

The day was ideal just cool enough with a delightful warmth of the Sun! The Pageant began with the arrival at the Carlisle Street station (which appears very old) as Lincoln and his party from the Capital on the train called, The Thatcher Perkins—the 1863 locomotive and cars for that year loaned to the Western Maryland Railroad by the B. and O. Railroad.

Members who met the great Lincoln appeared in traditional costumes of that period.

A very charming lady, Mrs. Horace Ports from York was standing near me with her husband and she was most gracious inviting Your Observer in the Bus in which she came with a group so as I would not have to walk down to the Cemetery where the immortal 157 word, "Gettysburg Address", took place.

So very enthusiastic was the huge crowd that the Boy Scouts with their leader attempted to hold back the mob by a Human Chain as the whistle of the train with "Lincoln" aboard was heard. Ray Middleton resembles our sixteenth President not just the height but every feature and expression and the entire affair was most impressive.

The fancy garments of the days all held the wisp like waists which were so prominent in those days (no wonder there were so many fainting women!) The Dunkards were there at the platform, too and their garments of that period and of today have changed very little.

As we were seated in the cemetery on the special chairs arranged for "special guests"—the 21 gun salute took place and one of our soldiers of today stood very erect near us almost as if a statue.

The T.V. of WGAL was right there. As Lincoln walked slowly up the steps to the platform on the spot where the real Lincoln stood just 90 years before, the audience arose (Why is it that the Public will always speak and feel greatly toward a famous man after he is dead?) The grand voice which was so deep, rich in volume rang out in the still air which was most effective and impressive of Ray Middleton. The atmosphere was one of sacredness and, no doubt will leave a greater impression than the years before, when a group of inebriates appeared in those days below the window on November 18th singing, "We'll Hang Abe Lincoln From a Sour Apple Tree!"

The Battle Hymn of the Republic" was sung, the flags of each State held aloft concluded the ceremonies, a sudden quietness prevailed thinking of the days of long ago which, too were critical ones.

Your Observer will always keep "The Press Card" which states, "Mr. Lincoln Goes to Gettysburg"—please extend all courtesy to Holder of this Working Press Pass—the souvenirs (appropriate ones, I purchased in honor and in memory of the affair as keep sakes, and the most gracious lady—the Lawyer's wife who was most kind and thoughtful, I will see again!

The Police of Gettysburg handled the heavy traffic most beautifully and much credit is due them! Congratulations!

Returning, we stopped by to have a grand turkey dinner which was being served by the Auxiliary of The American Legion in Hampstead.

Tuesday is Election Day so when you go in that Booth to vote, pray that God will give you Wisdom and Guidance before you press down the lever!

So long, folks until next week D.V. Have a grand week-end. Drive slowly and carefully for then you can see more. Until then, I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

THAT ONE VOTE—

The women's division of Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon, through clubs all across the country are going all out during these last few weeks to disprove the 'alibi of the apathetic' that "my vote doesn't count."

Here's the pitch:

ONE VOTE in the electoral college elected Thomas Jefferson, Ruth-erford B. Hayes.

In 1948, Truman carried Ohio and California by less than ONE VOTE per precinct.

In 1884 a switch of less than one vote per precinct in New York would have elected the Republican nominee, James G. Blaine, rather than the Democrat Grover Cleveland.

In 1916 a switch of less than one vote per precinct in California would have elected Charles Evans Hughes over the Democrat nominee Woodrow Wilson.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MONTPELIER, VT., EVENING ARGUS: "Let's take a look at unemployment: On two occasions it was war and only war that saved the country from severe unemployment country from severe unemployment country from severe unemployment in February, 1950, was 4,684,000. This was the highest since August, 1941. Both dates were shortly before the United States went to war. The CIO News commenting on unemployment in April, 1950, said: 'The situation is serious.' Even after the start of the Korean war, unemployment was a serious problem."

EAGLE RIVER, WISC., VILAS COUNTY NEWS-REVIEW: "This newspaper, without reservation, strongly recommends that its readers investigate several of the health insurance plans—and then subscribe to whatever one seems to be the best of them."

SYCAMORE, OHIO, LEADER: "The struggle in which we are now engaged may decide whether we are to continue as a nation of free men or whether the world, including the United States, is to be dominated and enslaved by Communism. Our freedom is placed in danger by excessive government spending and the threat of national bankruptcy, by the inroads of Communism at home and armed aggression abroad."

ST. ANTHONY, IDAHO, CHRONICLE-NEWS: "The cost of government to the individual is fast reaching the prohibitive point. From there it is just a step to confiscation and after that the next step is Totalitarianism, whether you want it or not."

FRIZELLBURG

Ireland has a story about the origin of the Jack-O'-Lanterns carried at Hallowe'en. It seems that a stingy man named Jack was barred from heaven because of his penuriousness, and forbidden to enter because of his practical jokes about Satan. So he was condemned to walk the earth with his lantern until Judgment Day.

Hey, Voter! Do you like the way your country's being run? Have you enough of liberty in all things—work and fun? Or do you find you're handicapped by rules and laws and such, and think some changes here and there would help you very much? Remember, this land's yours and mine, and it's a dirty shame to tolerate what we don't like—that is, when we're to blame. Our nation's one where voters rule, our weapons are elections. If all is right, let's keep it so; if wrong, let's make corrections!

—Lyla Myers
"If you don't vote November 4, probably the world won't fall apart, but you will have passed up your biggest chance to make it better. Every woman should raise her voice for her children's future. That X on your ballot is the loudest 'yes' you can ever say, it reaches around the world."

do. Ike, if elected will owe allegiance to these three men no matter what the cost to the rest of the country in honor or security. Not only must the voter look at the records of the candidates for the presidency, they had better take a second look at the men who will influence the candidate if he is elected. This is the reason this voter is casting her ballot for Stevenson on Tuesday.

Two hundred years ago last month, eleven days were taken off the calendar in England and her American colonies, by Act of Parliament. The day following September 2 was September 14, which caused rioting in the streets. "Give us back our eleven days!" cried the people, believing their lives had been shortened. This was when Great Britain finally adjusted to the gregorian calendar, which had been in use on the Continent since the 16th century—a historical curiosity which we must confess we never knew until we came upon it in the Christian Science Monitor.

The pros and cons of the Korean war have been discussed these past two weeks by both political parties and by laymen, and so it may interest the readers to learn what a soldier writes who has served six months at the front in Korea and is still somewhere in the fighting zone. His letter reached my desk today and he writes: "The trouble with this war is that our values and those of our enemies are so different. They (the enemy) will lose a thousand men without a bit of concern—we lose ten men and the officers worry for days. The Chinese Reds know this and play upon it to their own advantage. They know the Americans will eventually tire of the war. As one captured North Korean Colonel said: 'The Americans can't go ten years without their bath tub.' That perfectly expresses the traditional oriental patience. It's a characteristic no other race possesses. They build terraces into the mountains that are truly engineering feats—all by hand. It takes thousands of years but eventually it is done—stone by stone—generation by generation. Westerners can't do that. Life and time are too precious to them. Progress to them in anything must be rapid or they lose patience. This trait of ours the Chinese are playing up to the fullest, hoping we will grow tired and leave. They will remain." Unquote.

Since everyone else seems to have a formulae for ending the Korean war and it costs nothing to be an armchair strategist maybe I can set down my idea without fear of being taken seriously. There are two ways—neither will be very popular. Recognize Red China, seat her at the U. N. and make her face her responsibility in world affairs. The other is to wage an all out war no matter what the cost in human lives or material wealth and no real assurance of victory. The American public would support neither plan, but maybe someone else has a better one in which we can have our cake and eat it too.

If you have something to sell or want to buy an article, run an ad in your local paper and you will be swamped with calls from people anxious to get rid of what you want or anxious to buy what you want to get rid of. Sort of complicated, but it makes sense. Our teenager ran an ad for a bike, received a dozen answers and finally selected the bike of her dreams at the price her allowance permitted.

Mr. and Mrs. James Booher are visiting in Tennessee this week.

The Monroe Pfoutz family flew to Virginia this past week end to attend the wedding of Miss Mary Knight and Carroll Cover.

Miss Kitty Booher, student nurse at Harrisburg, spent the week-end with her family.

No matter how silly we Americans may seem at times, our common sense eventually rises to the top. The two candidates are an indication. And the fact that "Stop the Music" has gone off the air. This was the last of the big give-away. Here was a chance for anybody to receive free anything from a portable house to a journey into space. And nobody wants it any more. We're really growing up.

The drought in our state has become serious. The streams are drying up, the winter grain is showing the lack of rain and fire hazard is at its peak in wooded areas. The state game warden is thinking of banning hunting if sufficient rainfall doesn't soon come to eliminate the danger of forest fires. Already Western Maryland reports fires in some portions of the mountains.

Mrs. Russell Bohn and Lewis Bohn attended the Walter Hahn sale in Walkersville on Saturday. The sale drew a large crowd and the antique dishes brought fancy prices.

We venture to make two predictions concerning the election next Tuesday. Regardless of who will win, the sun will continue to rise in the East and set in the West. Winter will come and spring will follow in due season.

COMMUNITY LIFE WELL SUPPORTED BY SMALL BUSINESS

When the community asks for support the small businessman gives more from his profit dollar than any one else, so points out Edward Hardcastle, district manager for the National Federation of Independent Business. He states, "While the large corporations give the most to community charity the small business man gives the largest percentage of his profit dollar. This has been illustrated in a Russell Sage Foundation study.

"The Foundation surveyed 537,000 corporations and found that in 1948 small firms with less than 25% of total net profits gave over 29% of national contributions to charity. That was 1.27% of their profit dollar.

"The same year giant corporations with 38% of total net profits gave 18% of the contributions, about 0.3% of each profit dollar. And medium-size corporations gave 56% of the contributions or 0.8% of each profit dollar."

Mr. Hardcastle concludes with the remark that business gives in a big way and the small business gives with a big heart.

Compassion

Lesson for November 9, 1952

ARE Americans becoming brutalized? Some thoughtful people believe we are. As Dr. Charles T. Leber reports, when his father and mother read the account of the sinking of the Lusitania back before World War I, they were so upset they could not eat. Now we can read about the destruction of an entire city and go right on eating breakfast. We in America invented and used the A-bomb and now we conceive the H-bomb. We train men to kill other men with flaming jellied gasoline, with knives, with whatever seems to be most usable and deadly. We kill people on the highways, or we don't do enough to keep them from killing themselves, in such quantities that we don't even read the newspaper reports about it unless some friend of ours happened to be in the smash. If as many people died in your town of polio, or of typhoid fever, as die in accidents, you would all be in almost a panic.

Dr. Foreman

A Word We Need

There is an old English word that is not used often nowadays. Maybe the reason it is seldom used is that the thing it means is seldom met with. It is the word "compassion." Literally, it means "suffering-with." When it is said by Matthew that Jesus had compassion on the crowds, it means literally that he knew how they felt, what they needed, where they hurt; and that in his own heart he suffered with them. Their needs were his needs, their pain his pain. That is compassion; but it is not yet the whole of it. There is something more. An artist (let us say a novelist) has to have compassion, of a sort. Many novels and stories have been written, for instance, about bull-fighters, and some of the story-tellers have shown a high degree of imaginative power. You might almost fancy they had been bullfighters themselves, as to be sure some of them have been. But few if any of these story-writers have done anything to put a stop to the brutal sport of bull-fighting. They feel the tragedy of the whole business yet they do not propose to do anything about it. Compassion, as Jesus felt it, never was a mere emotion. It was emotion harnessed to action.

Harassed and Helpless

The Revised Standard Version translates beautifully Matthew's description of the crowds who moved Jesus to compassion. They were "harassed and helpless," he says. The interesting thing is that it took Jesus to see this. Some could see only that there were a lot of people, and they took up a lot of room, and there was hardly room or time for Jesus to eat. Others—the Pharisees—could see only their ignorance: "This multitude that knows not the law is accursed." Others (as was the case with the disciples on a later occasion) realized only that the crowd looked hungry. Well, the people were numerous, they were no doubt ignorant, and most of them were chronically ill-fed. But the point is, the people who saw them in this light did not have compassion, all they felt was annoyance. The crowds were a nuisance. Jesus felt quite different toward them. He saw them as they were, harassed and helpless. You yourself run into crowds, or you read about them. How do they strike you? Do they frighten you, amuse you, annoy you or make you angry? The masses today are very little different from the masses in Jesus' time. Can you see them as they are, harassed and helpless? And does it stir you to do something about it? Then you know something about the compassionate heart.

The Inmost Need

There is another important fact about Jesus' compassion. One cannot call it unique, for the best Christians have shared it. He was able to see beneath the surface of things to people's real needs. The young man brought by his four friends to Jesus probably was thinking chiefly about his helpless arms and legs. Jesus looked and saw his helpless soul. The publican Matthew may well have felt sorry for himself because business was bad, or because he was not popular. Jesus' compassion went deeper; he felt Matthew's real need—to get away from the publican business altogether. Compassion goes even deeper than sympathy; it is spiritual interpretation.

SOUTHERN STATES MEETING TO BE HELD IN RICHMOND

Harley Holter, will attend the 29th Southern States Annual meeting in Richmond, Va., November 6 and 7, as the official delegate from the Taneytown, Md., area. Also attending will be George C. Flohr, manager of the local Taneytown Southern States Agency.

Well over 1,500 persons will attend the meeting. Highlights of the two-day affair include the annual report by O. E. Zacharias, Jr., General Manager of Southern States, the awarding of the 29 grand prizes in the "Come-N-Win" contest, the confirmation of four newly-elected members of the Cooperative Board of Directors, a general discussion period, two special panel discussions, a talk by Edmund Harding, North Carolina humorist, and tours through the Southern States building and Richmond industrial plants.

A. C. Leatherman will also attend the meeting as the official delegate from the Harney, Md., area.

Also attending will be Wilbur L. Reifsnider, manager of the local Harney Southern States Agency.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

These additions include a general purpose room with stage and cafeteria with a home economics unit. The work also includes remodeling and renovation of the existing building to convert the present small auditorium into usable classrooms, and to make available space now used for cafeteria and home economics as additional classroom space to house the record enrollment in the Sykesville school. Bids were received as follows: general contract, Allen F. Feaser, Taneytown, $212,700; Edward Stuller, Taneytown, $202,000; O. H. Hostetter, Hanover, $204,000; Henry A. Knott, Inc., Baltimore, $225,200; H. H. Mecke, McSherrystown, $122,715.00 Bids on the plumbing and heating were received as follows: Westminster Hardware Company, Westminster, $38,632; George L. Harner, Taneytown, $39,992; Manchester Hardware Company, Manchester, $46,148; J. H. Allender and Sons, Hampstead, $44,750. The bids on the electric contract were J. E. Schaeffer, Reisterstown, $18,000; Hurwitz Electric Company, Baltimore, $24,940; by a motion the superintendent was directed to proceed with the preparation of contracts to the low bidders and to have said contracts signed as promptly as possible so that work begins in the near future. It was noted that by the completion of this project six additional classrooms would be made available for use in the existing Sykesville school as well as providing of more satisfactory auditorium and cafeteria facilities. It is hoped that the project may be begun promptly so that it may be completed for the opening of school in September 1953.

The Board considered plans for the apportionment of funds to the schools of the county for assistance in the purchase of library books and in the conduct of the physical education and athletic program. The Board directed the superintendent to prepare the annual report to the citizens of the county and to have this report distributed as soon as it is possible to complete it.

The Board considered a number of items connected with information regarding the legislative program proposed for the 1953 session of the Maryland Legislature and studied the effect of such legislation on the operation of schools in Carroll county. The superintendent was directed to issue publicity and to hold meetings for the purpose of bringing citizens and parent groups to a more complete understanding of the serious problems confronting the educational authorities in connection with housing of the increasing school population. In this connection information was available to the board to show a growth in total school population from 7300 at the close of school in June 1952 to approximately 8300 on September 30, 1952, a total gain of about 500 pupils. Statistics in hand indicate that an increase from five to six hundred pupils may be expected each year in the county total enrollment. This rate of increase will result in a total school enrollment in September 1952 of nearly 10,000 pupils.

The Board directed that schools be closed on Tuesday, October 28 so that teachers and principals may be engaged in collecting for the school census required by Maryland Law to be taken every two years. It is expected that most of the work on the taking of the census and the tabulating of the information can be done in one school day.

Announcement was made to the Board regarding the plan to bring all high school seniors in the schools of county together for a meeting at the Westminster High School on October 23rd. This plan had been tried in 1951 and results had been found to be very favorable and the superintendent and supervisors wished to continue the program. Interested parents and citizens are invited to attend the meeting if they care to do so.

The Board devoted considerable time to a discussion of the anticipated building needs at various county school centers and directed the superintendent to plan for meeting these needs as adequately as possible so that no interruption to the school program may occur as a result of lack of housing facilities.

The Board considered the problems connected with the maintenance of school bus waiting shelters on the county roads. After full consideration the Board directed that this resolution be included in the minutes of this meeting as follows: Resolved, that the County Board of Education in session on October 21, 1952 has considered the problem of placing and maintaining waiting shelters for pupils transported by school bus within the county. The Board has encountered much expense and considerable difficulty in endeavoring to maintain these shelters because of the vandalism practiced on them in various communities throughout the county. It is therefore resolved that no additional effort is to be made in building new shelters for placement in the county and that no expense is to be incurred in connection with the placing of existing shelters. The superintendent is not authorized longer to incur expense in removing shelters which have been damaged by vandals or in building new shelters. Those now in existing areas, it is hoped, may be maintained by interested groups if they so desire. The Board of Education assumes no further responsibility in connection with the providing of waiting shelters because of the difficulties described and because of the lack of funds for this purpose.

The Board adjourned at 3:00 p. m.

SHORT STORY

Double Mistake

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

IT was convenient thought Martha Sidney that Larry had money. "You see," she confided to Dorice Merton, who was to be maid of honor at the wedding, "Larry could hardly expect me to accompany him on these excursions into the wilderness. After all he has enough money so that this forestry business he's interested in could be classed as a hobby."

Dorice was dubious. "I sometimes wonder, Mart, whether or not you're wise in marrying Larry. Somehow I feel that he expects you'll be eager to follow him into the woods."

"Absurd! How could he expect me to get a thrill out of trees. Besides, there's that little summer home of his just outside of town. I'd much prefer to live there where I can entertain my friends and make some good use of his money."

It was rather an elaborate wedding. Martha's mother, who called her daughter extremely fortunate at making such a catch, went the limit. She didn't want Larry to think Martha was hopelessly poor.

The couple spent a two weeks' honeymoon on Long Island and returned to Larry's summer home in

"Larry, darling," she said, "please let me stay."

Albany in late September. All during the boat ride up the Hudson, Larry talked of the woods and their glory in autumn. That night he said:

"Better get your packing done, honey. We're leaving early."

Martha arched her brows in surprise. "My packing! Why, Larry, dear, you don't expect me to accompany you into the wilderness!"

Larry looked at her in bewilderment. He saw the whiteness about her lips, and knew suddenly that she had never intended to go with him. There was a quality in his voice when he replied that frightened her. "So that's how it is? I'm the season's outstanding sucker, eh?" He shrugged. "Tomorrow I'm leaving for the woods and you're going with me—whether you like it or not."

They departed by train the next morning. At Saranac they shifted to a power boat, and for hours drove steadily in the wilderness. At the head of the last chain of lakes they disembarked. The power boat swung away. Martha and Larry were left alone, standing on a narrow strip of wilderness that projected out into the lake. There was a log cabin, a canoe and nothing else.

Martha felt afraid and very much alone. Larry had been painfully formal during the entire trip. The mountains, the stillness, the vast solitude awed and frightened her. She stood quite still until the last faint put-put-put of the power launch had faded. Then she turned and entered the cabin that was to be her home.

IN spite of herself Martha could not help enjoying her new existence. For the first time in her life she knew sheer joy at just being alive. The cabin was comfortable and home-like. There were books. There was work to be done.

Larry made no effort to assist her about the cabin. His eyes still held the same cold glint that had frightened her on the night before their departure. He seldom spoke, was away from the cabin a good deal and spent his evenings bent over drawings and reports.

It was a month before Larry let down the barrier. He came up from behind Martha as she stood alone on a bluff overlooking the lake. She turned at his step and looked into his eyes. The cold glint was gone.

"The power launch is due back tomorrow," he said. "You may go back with the driver if you like. I—guess I made a mistake."

Martha felt a lump in her throat and swallowed hard.

"Larry, darling, please let me stay. I—I've been selfish. Can't you forgive me?"

Larry's head jerked up. For one brief moment he stared.

"Martha, Martha, I—hoped, —I wanted you to—love the woods as I do. I brought you here for that purpose, and thought I'd failed."

Martha pulled his face down and kissed it. "Let's forget the past, Larry, sweetheart, and start all over again. I really don't feel as if I've had a real honeymoon. Let's begin over again. Now! Here!"

Far, far down the lake they heard the put-put-put of the returning power launch.

The Crowd Cheered

Although Andrew Jackson's father died several days before he was born, his mother reared and educated him and his two brothers to such good effect that, at the age of 12, he was studying Latin, and at 20 passed his bar examinations in North Carolina. A year later he was appointed U.S. prosecuting attorney.

In his first political campaign, Jackson's knowledge of Latin proved useful. In campaign speeches in backwoods settlements, a member of his entourage always would cry, "They want to hear your Latin, Andy." Mr. Jackson would solemnly declare "E pluribus unum, ne plus ultra, sine qua non," and the crowd invariably broke into a hearty cheer.

Economical

"Pop, if I save you a dollar would you give me 50 cents of it?"

"Yes, I guess so, son."

"Well, I saved it for you. You told me you would give me a dollar if I passed in arithmetic and I didn't pass."

NOT EGO

Franklin, when ambassador to France, being at a meeting of a literary society, and not well understanding the French when declaimed, determined to applaud when he saw a lady of his acquaintance express satisfaction.

When they had ceased, a little child, who understood the French, said to him, "But, grandpapa, you always applauded the loudest when they were praising you!"

Franklin laughed heartily and explained the matter.

Scant Subject

The contestant on the Bob Hawk show revealed that he was writing short stories in his spare time.

"Right now," he added, "I'm working on one in which the main character is a burlesque queen."

"In that case," said Hawk, "you won't need much material."

GOOD SPORT

While a shooting party was out for a day's sport a raw young sportsman was observed taking aim at a pheasant funning along the ground.

As it is unsportsmanlike to shoot a bird while it is on the ground, a companion shouted: "Hi, there, never shoot a running bird!"

"What do you take me for, you idiot?" came the reply. "Can't you see I'm waiting till it stops?"

Nothing Temporary?

A soldier in a National Guard unit learned that he would be called up for active service on Monday morning, so on Saturday afternoon he impulsively proposed to the lovely maid with whom he had been "going steady." The minister could not cooperate, however. "You'll have to wait until Monday, my young friends," he pointed out, "in order to get the necessary license and medical permit."

"Gee, Parson," said the soldier impulsively, "can't you cook up a little mumbo-jumbo just to tide us over the week end?"

QUITE A ROAD HAZARD

They were driving slowly along the country lane; he with his arm about his sweetie pie. Coyly, she asked: "Don't you think it's dangerous . . . driving with one arm?"

After thinking a minute, he pulled the arm back and put both hands on the wheel. "Aw, honey," she sulked, "I was only foolin'."

"Yeah," he replied, "but I just thought about all the poor guys who, driving with one arm, finally run into a church!"

Sharp Shopper

The butcher was busy waiting on a customer when a woman rushed in, pushed herself to the front of the counter and cried: "Give me a pound of cat food quick."

Turning to the other customer whom she had pushed aside, she said, "I hope you don't mind my getting waited on before you."

"Not if you're that hungry," the other woman retorted.

Chicago Feeder Sale Nets Over $1 Million

257 Carloads Feeder Calves Are Exhibited

A record 257 carloads of feeder calves sold for well over a million dollars at the 7th annual Chicago Feeder Cattle Show and Sale, held at the Chicago Stock Yards.

Largest feeder cattle event in the nation, the expanding show and sale entry list exceeded last year's record by over a hundred carloads. It also pointed up the expanding beef industry and the interest in improved breeding.

The grand champion carload of feeder calves in the show were exhibited by veteran cattleman Fred

Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeBerard pose with their blocky Hereford calves that were judged grand champion carload of the Chicago Feeder Cattle Show and Sale.

C. DeBerard of Kremmling, Col. A. Wanstah, Indiana, cattle feeder, bought DeBerard's blocky prize-winning Herefords for $85 per cwt. The grand champion calves averaged 423 pounds.

The auction brought an average of $42.11 per cwt. for 257 loads of cattle, $4.69 per cwt. higher than last year's average. The average weight was 485 pounds. Sales totaled $1,050,633.

Steer calves, numbering 132 loads, averaged $46.48 per cwt. while 50 carloads of heifer calves averaged $44.15 per cwt.

Americans May Eat More Meat in Next 12 Months

The average American may eat even more meat and poultry in 1952 than in 1951, if advance production figures are any indication.

According to a forecast of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, meat production this year may be large enough to provide an average of 144 pounds per person as compared with 141 pounds in 1951.

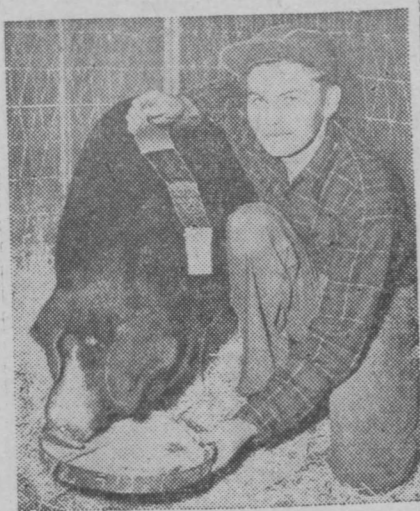

Most of the meat increase will be in beef and veal. Much of the step-up in beef will be in medium and lower grades, although some of it probably will be in the better grades of grain-fed cattle.

The amount of lamb and mutton eaten by the average American is expected to go up slightly. Last year consumption of lamb and mutton was the lowest on record—only slightly over 3 pounds per person.

A little more pork may be on the market in the first seven or eight months of 1952 than in 1951, but production for the last part of the year may be somewhat smaller.

Americans will also probably eat more chicken and turkey. Production of turkeys for 1952 may exceed the record-high 1951 level, but output of chicken is expected to be about the same.

Champion Barrow

Experts Forecast Greater Cattle Slaughter in 1952

In the outlook for meat animals, 1952 may be a pivotal year when new or modified trends in meat production take place, experts report. The present low slaughter rate and large farm inventories are setting the stage for a substantial increase in slaughter in future years. The big question is how soon and what its price effect will be? In all probability cattle slaughter will increase in 1952 for the first time in five years.

Hard-to-Transplant Trees Are Moved Best in Spring

Certain trees are more difficult to transplant than others, and should be moved only in the spring.

The flowering dogwood is perhaps the most common lawn tree that prefers springtime transplanting. This is because of its inherent inability to become established in a new site unless it has a chance to make immediate root growth—something it couldn't do if moved in the fall.

Other trees that should be moved principally in the spring are the American holly, American beech, sweetgum, blackgum, yellowwood, birch, magnolia, mountainash, red-bud, red maple and walnut.

Most of the maples, red and scarlet oaks, sycamore, European linden, honey locust, willow, hawthorne and apple trees—including flowering crabapples—can be successfully transplanted by the average tree owner spring or fall.

The evergreens can be moved at any time of the year if their roots are not damaged and do not dry out.

Transplanting a tree is like performing an operation; it shocks the patient. The older the tree and larger it is, the greater is the shock. For that reason trees to be transplanted should be in vigorous health. Larger trees should be root pruned the year before moving and then fed so that they will develop a more compact root system with new hair-roots.

Finger Nail Colors

The Moors used henna fingernail dye at the height of their culture (about 950 A.D.). This ancient version of modern red nail polish was sold "along with camel's liver and flat acorn cakes by merchants squatting on straw mats in the market place."

Russian Settlers

Beginning about 1715, crude river boats crossing the open sea brought black-bearded Russians to Spitsbergen. Wintering in darkness and misery in thousands of huts dotting coastline and interior, they hunted Arctic fox, polar bears, walrus, seals and eider ducks.

Second Part

Montreal is one of the great ports of the world, even though ice closes it from December to April. Standing at the head of deepwater navigation on the St. Lawrence river, it is second only to New York in North American port facilities.

Takes the Pledge

In St. Petersburg, Fla., a 90-year-old man won suspension of a $15 fine for drunkenness, after pleading, "I'm swearing off liquor for the rest of my life. I'm old enough to have known better."

Spectator Pumps

Fashion's favorite, the spectator pump, is with us again, but they're fancier than usual with the leather cut out more than usual to give a decorative look. Bags to go with the pumps are smooth white leather with smooth dark leather trim.

Needs Creation

"Freedom is not now, any more than at any other time, something to be preserved; it is something to be created. Freedom cannot be protected; it can only be extended."—David Smith.

Egg Layers

Auks and murrelets lay but a single egg; hummingbirds, two; robins, three to five; grouse, eight to 15. The number is probably an adaptation to the dangers to which the eggs and young are subjected.

Average Alcoholic

An alcoholic is, on the average, 40 years old, married and living with his wife and is gainfully employed, according to the Yale University center of alcoholic studies.

Good Company?

There is just one thing of which you can be sure along with death and taxes—the one person you'll spend your whole lifetime with is yourself.

Wow!

Valentine's Day is tame now, compared to what it used to be. Nowadays young people exchange lacy bits of paper or maybe work up to candy and flowers, but in medieval days the idea was to kiss the first person you saw who appealed to you on that day, thus making him or her your special sweetheart for the year.

Better Living

There is something about rubber that goes with better living. The better we live—the more rubber we use. Perhaps it has something to do with the properties of rubber—elastic, springy, compressible, soft—that make it play an important part in our ever higher and more comfortable standard of living.

Cool Off the Young

When the small fry are just too hot, pat their moist bodies with dusting powder applied with a huge puff. The six-year-olds—and up—are more willing to take a bath if they are permitted to "play" with the puff themselves when they pop out of the tub.

LOCAL WELFARE DIRECTOR ATTENDS CONFERENCE IN PHILADELPHIA

During the monthly meeting of the Carroll County Welfare Board on October 14, 1952 William H. Koelber, the Director, described his attendance at the regional meeting of the American Public Welfare Association in Philadelphia as a delegate from Maryland. During the three day conference, Mr. Koelber attended sessions on Child Welfare, Social Work Training, Relative's Support Laws, and Administration.

He related the salient points of these meetings and how he believed they applied to Carroll County both in training the staff and in giving service to the community. The Board felt that the attendance of the Director was valuable to our Public Welfare Program here in the county. During the past month the cost of Old Age Assistance dropped about 1% due to the increase in Social Security benefits. Two cases were closed because these benefits now meet the need of the recipients. The number of Old Age recipients who also receive Social Security is small because their average is 70 years old and these people had little opportunity to work prior to 1935 when Social Security was set up.

The Board studied the proposed changes in the maximum amounts of grants. The Board agreed that it was right to remove the $55.00 a month ceiling so that a lone person could receive enough money to pay for his food, shelter, etc., according to the agency standards, which would be about $59.00. This would mean that a wife's needs could be included in her husband's check. This proposal will cause an increase in a number of grants above $55.00 a month. The total cost of these increases will be $270.00 a month.

The Board announced that during the last quarter the Agency has spent $41,392.88. This is $769.00 over the previous quarter. The increase has come mainly from Aid to Dependent Children in which a number of new cases have been added where temporary assistance was needed for large families.

Assistance payments so far this year by quarter have been as follows: First Quarter (January, February, March) $40,588.50; Second Quarter (April, May, June) $40,623.72; Third Quarter (July, August, September) $41,392.88.
