NEW ELECTRIC LINE

Additional Line Installed will be Benefit to Taneytown

Potomac Edison crews have now completed construction of a $100,000 transmission line project from Thurmont to Emmitsburg and from Emmitsburg to Taneytown.

In addition, a new substation has been erected in Emmitsburg and new substation equipment was added to substations at Thurmont and Taneytown.

Total cost of the 15 mile line job and substation installations: $150,000.

This work provides a "power loop" for PE customers in the Taneytown-Emmitsburg-Thurmont sections which will provide two-way service. This means that customers will not be dependent on one line as the only source of power.

Current may now be routed, in case of emergency, around the power loop from either side, providing a reliable source of current at all times.

Surveys for the new installations were made in early 1951 but the government refused allocation of necessary material until the first months of '52.

Substation work on this project included the installation of a 1500 kva transformer bank at Emmitsburg and a 34.5 kv oil circuit breaker at Thurmont.

NEW BRIDGE AT KEYMAR PROPOSED

Cost estimates for the construction of a new bridge on Route 71 at the Carroll-Frederick county line to replace the present obsolete "Humpback" bridge were received here by the County Commissioners from Chairman Russell H. McCain, of the State Roads Commission.

The proposed new bridge will be a joint State-Frederick-Carroll county responsibility. It is on a major north-south highway through the county, which leads to Hanover and York, Pa.

Mr. McCain told the commissioners it was estimated that to construct the new bridge according to State standards would cost $140,000.

If Frederick and Carroll counties, by themselves, had decided to build a bridge according to county and not State specifications—which they will not do under the present arrangement—the cost would have been $110,000, according to the letter.

At a meeting held September 15 of officials of the State Roads Commission and the two counties, representatives of the counties said they felt they should pay only 25 per cent of the cost, each, of what a bridge built to county specifications would cost.

The letter indicated the State accepts this theory. It said the cost, therefore, to Frederick county of the proposed new bridge would be $27,500, with a similar charge to Carroll county. The old bridge has been a joint Frederick-Carroll county responsibility.

The remaining 50 per cent of the cost of a $110,000 bridge would be $55,000 and would be allocated to Carroll and Frederick counties by the commission from Federal aid secondary monies.

The difference between a $110,000 bridge and the $140,000 structure which the State will authorize is $30,000, the letter said, and that will be an obligation of the Roads Commission.

Following the meeting here September 15, the Engineering division of the commission was requested to prepare cost estimates on the replacement of the old arch bridge over Pipe Creek. The bridge division has completed these estimates, the letter from Mr. McCain said in giving the figures.

The letter went on to say that it was felt the proposition as outlined was fair and the commissioners were asked to give it careful consideration and advise the Roads Commission of their decision. Since the State highway on the Frederick county side of the bridge is State-maintained, modifications to the approach for the new bridge will be the responsibility of the Roads Commissioners, although the reaction to the letter seemed to be favorable. Once a new bridge is built at the site, it will be taken over for maintenance purposes by the Roads Commission. It is understood that any bridge would be built near the site of the present structure.

The County Commissioners Saturday sent a letter to the State Roads Commission accepting the commission's proposal for construction of a new bridge at the Frederick-Carroll county line on Route 71 to replace the obsolete Humpback bridge.

Under the commission proposal, the cost of the bridge to Frederick county will be $27,500, with a similar charge to Carroll county. The remainder of the cost estimated at $140,000 will come from State and Federal aid secondary funds.

It is understood Carroll county has also accepted the proposal, which, in the case of the latter county, also means some road improvement to the north of the bridge. It is considered unlikely that work can start until next year.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE

There will be a special Thanksgiving Day Program in the Church of God at Prizellburg, Md., on November 27, 1952 at 9:30 a. m. Come out and worship with others whose hearts are full of gratitude for the many blessings of God.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Bids for the Sykesville School Project Resubmitted

The Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting on November 12th at 3 p. m., with all members present. The minutes of the regular meeting of October 21st were read and approved as well as the minutes of the special meeting held on October 24th. The bills as submitted for approval at this meeting were, after consideration, given approval.

A brief report was given to the Board regarding the progress of negotiations with Mr. U. H. Mecke of McSherrystown, Pennsylvania who had submitted the lowest bid for the construction of the Sykesville School building on October 21st. It was reported by the Superintendent that Mr. Mecke had found himself unable to complete the contract for the general work on this construction project and that the legal advice to the Board of Education was that the project should be readvertised. After consideration, a motion was made and passed that the project for the general contract at Sykesville be resubmitted to the contractors for quotation and that new bids be invited to be opened at the regular Board meeting on December 2, at 11:00 o'clock.

Preliminary negotiations with the County Commissioners had indicated their feeling that the proper procedure in this case was the resubmission of the project to the contractors for bids. The Board of Education therefore being unable to accept the low bid, other than that of Mr. Mecke was obliged to take the action indicated in the resubmission of the project. After new bids are received, it is hoped that additional financing will be provided to allow the Board of Education to begin the project promptly and to complete it in time for use in September 1953.

The Superintendent was directed to advise the contractors of this action and to invite them to submit new bids.

Autographed baseballs were given to the boys that asked questions that stumped Mr. MacLean.

Harmon Albaugh will present the program at next Wednesday evening's meeting.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

Population of the Schools Growing Steadily

A series of articles bearing on public education in Carroll County. Prepared by the Superintendent of Schools under authority of the Carroll County Board of Education to be submitted to the County press during November and December 1952. It is hoped that the information given will stimulate interest in public schools, their operation and the problems connected with maintaining adequate educational service for the children of the county now, and in the years to come.

Article 1. Public School Enrollment in Carroll County (November 17, 1952).

School enrollment is increasing in Carroll County at a rate which should cause serious concern on the part of the citizens, parents and others interested in maintaining the county cultural and educational level. Maryland Law provides that: "Every child between seven and sixteen years of age residing in any county of the state shall attend some day school regularly during the entire period of each year except in the cases of children whose mental or physical condition is such as to render its instruction impracticable."

The population of Carroll County has been steadily increasing especially since the end of World War II. Many new residents have moved into the county, many new homes have been built and several new industries have been established. Many people reside within the county borders and are employed in nearby cities and towns, including both Baltimore and Washington. A trend to early marriages has resulted in the establishment of new families. These factors have operated in all sections of the county resulting in a steadily increased school enrollment in all of the county consolidated schools.

Increased enrollment increases the need for teaching and other personnel. Increased enrollment adds to the financial budget for books and other materials of instruction thus requiring increased financial support both for current operations and for the building of added school housing facilities.

The basis of the American concept of education is an adequate education for all the children. County school administrators aided by the governing authority must plan for accommodating the increased enrollment and for providing the materials, personnel, and services for an adequate educational program.

The assistance of citizens, parents, civic groups, community leaders and all others must be secured to work together toward the solution of the problems related to a steadily growing school population.

Significant statistics for the past fifteen years of Carroll County school operations will illustrate the seriousness of the problem. The figures given represent the number of pupils enrolled in the schools of Carroll County by year. Interested persons who study them will realize the need for planning ways and means to avoid serious difficulty at the present time and in the future.

Total County Enrollment Month of October 1935-1936 to 1952-53

School Years	1944-45	1952-53
1935-36	6752	6217
1936-37	6877	6440
1937-38	6934	6395
1938-39	6720	6492
1939-40	6720	6773
1940-41	6708	7073
1941-42	6504	7594
1942-43	6334	7872
1943-44	6234	8312

(High School 3328 Elementary 4984)

Existing statistics and census records indicate an annual increase in total enrollment for the county of 450 to 550 pupils per year. Anticipated enrollment which must be accommodated may be shown as follows for a four year period. The boys and girls counted in these statistics have already been born, and their names and residence are known. The statistics do not include any pupils who may move to the county from another area.

BOARD MEETING OF CHILDREN'S AID

New Executive Secretary was the Speaker

A meeting of the Board of Managers of the Carroll County Children's Aid Society was held at the Historical House on Monday, November 17, at 2:00 p. m. A short impressive devotional was conducted by the President, Mrs. R. Howard Reichard.

A report of the recent financial campaign showed that the goal of $9,000 has not yet been reached. Further effort will be exerted to attain this goal. A committee was appointed to purchase a piece of office furniture as a memorial to the late Mr. Harry Ditman. Funds for this purpose has been contributed by Mr. Ditman's neighbors and friends.

The Board approved the appointment of Mrs. David Reedy as public relations chairman. Mrs. Reedy is a member of the Public Relations Board of the Maryland Children's Aid Society. The nominating committee for the coming year was appointed as follows: Mrs. Carroll Shunk, Chairman, Mrs. Samuel Bare and Mrs. Mahlon Peck.

Miss E. Elizabeth Glover, the new Executive Secretary of the Maryland Children's Aid Society and the speaker of the day was introduced by Mrs. Reedy. Miss Glover brings to the Md. Children's Aid Society a wide experience in training and in practice in the field of social work. She came to Maryland directly from a special assignment as consultant-survivor for a large Eastern State-wide child placing agency, undertaken through the Child Welfare League of America of which the Maryland Children's Aid Society is a member.

Miss Glover discussed the objectives of the Maryland Children's Aid Society and their effect on the operation of the local Society. The major goal of the parent organization are: (1) the inauguration of a series of professional meetings for the Social Workers (2) the establishment of a central adoption agency (3) the creation of interest among Board Members.

Officers are as follows: President, Mrs. R. Howard Reichard; Vice-President, Mrs. Ober Herr; Vice-President, Mrs. Frank T. Myers; Secretary, Mrs. Alan Wagaman; Treasurer, Mrs. G. Russell Benson; Director, Mrs. John P. Brooks; Caseworker, Mrs. David Saunders.

Following is the Director's report: On July 1st the Carroll County Children's Aid Society had 39 children under care. During the quarter 1 child was accepted. Two children were returned to their own homes. On Sept. 30, 1952 we had under care 38 children. Of these 31 were in boarding homes; 2 were in free homes; 2 were in wage homes; 2 in homes of parents or relative; 1 self-supporting and living in foster home.

During the month of September the agency was asked to assist in helping clothe the children in four families so they could enter school. As is the custom of the agency these requests were granted.

During the quarter 3 children were given T & A's at the Baltimore Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital.

Five applications to board children were received.

I am very happy to announce that we have employed a full time caseworker, Mrs. David Saunders. She was graduated with B. S. degree in Social Work from the University of Wisconsin in 1952. Mrs. Saunders and her husband, a student in Western Maryland Seminary are living near Westminster.

I have been accepted most graciously by all foster parents and find the group to be most cooperative and willing to accept advice.

ANNUAL THANK-OFFERING SERVICE

The Keysville Evangelical Lutheran Missionary Society will hold its annual public Thank-offering service on Sunday evening, Nov. 30, at 7:45 p. m.

The speaker will be one which I am sure we all will want to hear. She is Mrs. Henry Einspruch, of Baltimore. For ten years she was a Missionary under the Women's Missionary Society assigned to Salem Hebrew Lutheran Mission in Baltimore. Her husband, Dr. Einspruch, has directed a great deal of time and work on the preparation of Christian literature for Jews, in both Yiddish and English. They edited and produced a bilingual hymnal, also published a quarterly magazine, and also The Hebrew Lutheran, a quarterly magazine to inform christian friends of their work. They minister to Christian workers among Jews as far away as Australia, South Africa, Israel, England, etc.

This is just a glimpse of what Dr. and Mrs. Einspruch, are doing toward Christianity.

There will be several selections by the Men's quartet of the Evangelical Reformed Church of Taneytown. We will be favored with special organ music by Miss Hazel Hess, also a duet by Miss Hess and Mrs. Carroll Dougherty. Miss Imogene Waybright will favor us with several solos. Our pastor, Rev. Dixon Yaste, will share a part in the program. Everyone is welcomed, and we hope to see many of you there.

"To Make the Best Better" is the challenging motto of every 4-H'er throughout the nation.

The family circle is the supreme conductor of Christianity.—Henry Drummond.

THIS 'N' THAT

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

It was most interesting to enter the schools in Harford County for the week and actually see what is being accomplished in many of the grades. In one room, I sat down in the seat at the desk of a child and viewed just about everything in the room and especially the teacher with her most unusual quiet manner in her wonderful guidance for each pupil.

I have come to the conclusion that God really makes a teacher as he does a Doctor. If that teaching business is not in you, it simply means you will not be a successful teacher. Furthermore you must love children and be most patient. That one room in particular reminded me of the 4th Grade teacher in the Elementary school around the town.

There were most interesting pictures—subjects that were beneficial in every way for the child—one large affair was called, "Handle With Care" colored pictures from magazines under that title were Motor, Machinery, Animals, Electric wires, Weapons, Stairways, Cuts and Wounds, Water Sports and Fire!

There were pictures of Wild Life and those two precious poems by Alan Beck called, "What is a Boy?" and "What is a Girl?" with lovely photographs of a boy and a girl. There was an interesting subject done by a child who gladly showed her art to your Observer which was of Clay with the back ground of a regular store box. Then came the important school papers of each child and the lovely portraits in Sepia from Childhood to Grandmother. There were Holiday subjects and a Chart showing the real photographs of schools in Arabia. I liked the Duties Mapped out on the Blackboard which immediately made me realize the grand system of this very special teacher as it read—Duties, Flag, inspection, safety, dusting, flowers, lavatory, bookcases, windows, sinks, windows, walks, blackboards, stray things!

And the very pronounced affair that took my eye was the following with the title—"To Enjoy Our School Life and to Gain Much From It!" We—Have desks, blackboards, lockers, bookcases, etc. in general good order. Use spare time for doing something useful without disturbing others! Keep play things out of sight during working and listening periods. Never forget courteous expressions and actions. Use halls when necessary and in an orderly way. Talk in low tones in the Cafeteria, halls and lavatories and in the class room at free times. During activity periods speak in very low tones or whisper or work without conversation! When instructions are being given be perfectly quiet and at attention! Follow instructions exactly unless an emergency arises. Wait our turn to speak. Do our work at the right time. Have work or materials ready for use at proper times. Attend the assigned duties. During discussions or listening periods show that you are listening or participating with all your attention. Keep on the subject or give a reason for changing. Use safe and correct positions in the class room. When the bell rings and play time is over be quiet and go to your class immediately. (That would make a perfect scholar!) Eh?

That would all mean adjustment for your child and give room for much thought consequently building grand characters. A teacher does more for a pupil than she herself may realize at the time. There are many things which register upon the child's mind in years to come regardless of the grade being taught. A child has much respect for a strict teacher!

How glad Your Observer was to learn that the teacher's salary was to be raised! And I think of all the Sisters who work endlessly without a cent of pay but the love of their religion and the love of the child! That teaching business is just about the most important job in the world! God Bless all the Teachers everywhere for the grand big job confronting them daily in all their efforts and the wonderful guidance!

Have a grand week-end, folks and try to be friendly with the teacher of your child for you must remember that she has your child most of his life! Until next week D.V. I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER

ANNUAL VISITATION OF LODGE TO BE HELD

The Francis Scott Key Council No. 107 of Taneytown will hold their annual visitation on Friday, Nov. 28, at 7:30 p. m. Quite a few councils from Baltimore and one of Annapolis are expected to attend. About one hundred persons in all will visit the local council. This is an unusually large number, but this is due to the fact that each member of the local council donates cakes, pies, canned goods, etc., and an auction is held at the close of the meeting. One of the visitors acts as an auctioneer and good prices are realized plus lots of fun for all.

UNDERWENT MAJOR SURGERY

Mr. Millard Roelke, Merry Knoll Farm, near Keymar underwent major surgery at the Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore, on Tuesday.

His many friends will be glad to hear that he came through the operation with "flying colors".

LETTERS FROM HOME

American soldiers in Korea, interviewed as to what they would like for Christmas, have asked for all the things one would expect; camera film, food, candy, reading matter—even for a spaghetti dinner and a popular movie actress. But quite a few of them have asked for—letters from home.

If ever a man needs to feel "wanted" it is when, separated from family and old friends, confronting desperate danger or dull routine, passing long days in a strange world isolated from all the familiar joys of home and country, he feels himself reduced to being a very small, expendable cog in a very large, impersonal machine.

Actually he is never that, and many a man has found himself more fully under those unpromising conditions than when surrounded by all the comforts and complacencies of the familiar. Yet for everyone sent out into the barbarism of war the need for love is great—and the need to feel that he still "belongs" in a more normal world. That is why letters from home can mean so much more than any other gift. They help to give a man back to himself.—Christian Science Monitor.

THE MEANING OF THE ELECTION

General Eisenhower's landslide victory, in the face of all the political advantages held by a party which had been in power for 20 years, was a remarkable expression of faith his fellow-citizens have in him. It also was much more than that. It was a clear-cut demand by the American people for a return to certain simple, fundamental ideas—ideas which the President-elect emphasized time and time again during the campaign.

The Democrats put their best foot forward. Governor Stevenson is an admirable and attractive figure, who lost with honor. It is to be hoped that he will continue to devote his high abilities to the public service. But, unavoidably, he was the inheritor of a philosophy of government which the election vigorously disavowed.

That philosophy holds that it is the duty of government to provide the people with alleged "security" from the cradle to the grave. It holds that, in various fields, it is proper for the government to go into commercial business to the partial exclusion of free enterprise, which is socialism. It is a philosophy that must forever result in greater and greater taxation, and more and more waste and extravagance and corruption, regardless of how high-minded the men at the top may be. Most important of all, it is a philosophy that must result in less and less freedom and opportunity for enterprise and individuals alike.

It is said that President-elect Eisenhower offered copy-book maxims. Whatever they may be called, those maxims have been the source of this nation's strength, freedom, and spiritual and material progress. The President-elect did not hesitate to passionately assert his faith in thrift, honesty, the dignity and responsibility of the individual, the rights and obligations of the states, the vigor of a free enterprise economy—nor to point to the menace of super-government. These were the principles he stood for—these are the principles the American people endorsed on November 4, and on which this nation was founded.—Industrial News Review.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, DESERET NEWS: "The Utah Tax Commission expects that the total assessed value of all taxable property in Utah will run just about a billion dollars for 1952. The national debt at the latest accounting was 263 billion dollars. On a per capita basis, Utah's share of the Federal debt is about $1,227,300,000. In other words, the people of Utah are in hook to a point 25 per cent greater than the total assessed value of all the taxable property of the state."

SOMERSET, PA., DAILY AMERICAN: "There is no law, human or divine that requires any man to provide a job for another, nor is there any law which requires any man to work for another. This nation was built upon the idea that the individual is free and all men are equal."

OLYMPIA, WASH., DAILY OLYMPIAN: "What causes inflation? You'll never get the answer from the politicians who are responsible for it. With a flair for demagoguery, they invariably seek out a scapegoat—and the one they never have any trouble finding is 'big business.' The fact is that inflation primarily comes from big government—government which does not pay its way and resorts to a dilution of the currency to cover up its deficits."

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "Senator Pat McCarran has called on every labor union in the United States to oust any Communist or pro-Communist from its official staff. Russian Communists do not permit labor to organize for its own benefit, and there is no reason to believe that the Communist Party in this country has any use for labor unions except to further its own purpose. We think that labor unions would do well, indeed, to follow the advice of the Nevada senator and throw out their Communist-line bosses."

CARROLL COUNTY TEACHERS CONVENED

Eighty-seven delegates representing 16 of Carroll County's schools attended the second meeting of the Carroll County Council of Parents and Teachers held in the Auditorium of the Elmer Wolfe School, Union Bridge, Md., on Wednesday, Nov. 12, with the Elmer Wolfe P. T. A. members acting as hosts.

Mrs. Victor J. Ruby, President of the Council presided and the opening prayer was by Rev. Joel Cook of the Church of God, Westminster. Guest speakers were Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools; Samuel M. Jenness, Superintendent of Schools for Carroll County; Milton C. Raver, Executive Secretary, Maryland State Teachers' Association; Clyde L. Hesson, Member of the Board of Education; Walter V. Bennett, President of the Board of County Commissioners, and Jesse L. Starkey, President of the Carroll County Teachers' Association. All spoke on the problems facing those in charge of educational matters today, the need for more and better qualified teachers; salaries for both present and future teachers commensurate with their duties; and the need for more and better school buildings to take care of the ever increasing population. Mr. Jenness pointed out that in 1946 there were 6000 children enrolled in the schools in the county; in September of this year there were 8312, and that by September 1955 there would be 10,000, this latter figure being based solely on vital statistic records, and not including those from families who may later move into the county from elsewhere. Mr. Raver stated in connection with teachers salaries that the State pays a starting salary of slightly over $3000 to teachers working with abnormal children in schools such as Rosewood, Montrose and Springfield, whereas the starting salary of teachers working with the perfectly normal child in the county is $2200. Dr. Pullen explained the need for State financial aid to counties so that each and every child could receive the same type of education regardless of whether they lived in a county which, due to its geographic location, was rich or poor economically. This he stated is known as the Equalization Plan. He stated further that it was up to the people to decide what kind of schools they wanted for their children. He pointed out that those in the business of education could do little unless they knew they had the support of the people behind them and urged them to make their voices heard, one of the best mediums being through their P.T.A.'s.

STATE AND NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF CO. AGRICULTURAL AGENTS VOTES DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

The National Association of Agricultural Extension Agents' Annual Conference will be held in Chicago, Illinois, on December 1, 2 and 3. At this conference, Mr. Landon C. Burns will receive the award known as the Distinguished Service Award for services during the past twenty-five years.

Mr. Burns came to Carroll County, September 1, 1927 as County Agricultural Agent, and has served in that capacity since that time. Prior to that he was instructor of Vocational Agriculture in Thurmont, Md., where he organized the department and served as its department head for four years.

Mr. Burns is a graduate of the University of Maryland, the class of 1923. His graduate work was taken at Columbia University in the field of Rural Sociology.

A Virginian by birth, he spent the first 21 years of his life on a large farm in Virginia, before entering the University of Maryland, where he became thoroughly familiar with farming in a practical way.

Believing that organized agriculture is the chief hope of the American farmer, he is at the present time still devoting his undivided attention to the promotion of the agricultural industries of Carroll county.

With a most pleasing personality, affable in manner, approachable by all who have agricultural problems about which they may wish to consult him, Mr. Burns has proven himself as an ideal County Agent, and has confidence of all who have learned to know him.

Thanksgiving Bounty Year 'Round

(14th Article in a Series)

There are big differences between Thanksgiving feasting today and the first Thanksgiving in the autumn of 1621.

When Governor Bradford of the Plymouth Colony recommended a Day for a Festival and giving of thanks to God, he spoke for people to whom the harvest had been vital. They had known hunger during that first terrible winter. In fact, the success or failure of the Plymouth venture balanced as much on a reserve of food as it did on human courage.

In contrast, today our harvests are so bountiful that they sometimes create a surplus problem.

When bumper harvests are required as they were during the last World War, we can produce enough for us to share with much of the rest of the world and still not go short ourselves.

Our Thanksgiving, then, is evoked by habitual plenty, not by the uncertainties and fear of famine experienced by the Pilgrim Fathers.

For them, too, there was the problem of preserving as much of their food as possible to last through the next winter and the long gaps between ships. They were at least two centuries too early for the advent of food processing as we have come to know it.

Today—any day—the American housewife can walk into her nearest food store and buy the makings of a Thanksgiving dinner, from basic turkey to what were once in-season-only delicacies—oysters, cranberry sauce, pumpkin for her pies and so on.

This, too, we are fortunate enough to be able to take for granted. Yet Thanksgiving is a time to give a thought to the cooperation between growers, Federal and state governments, agricultural schools, canners, wholesalers and retailers, which put those foods within everyday reach.

It's a cooperation involving research and practices in soil conservation, testing and fertilizing; development of hybrid seeds and improved varieties; and planned harvesting. It also includes greater mechanization in the field and in canning plants for more efficient, economical and sanitary handling of the crops, constant effort to better quality, and improvements in the modern mass distribution network which brings the foods to the public.

Let's Think

by

WHO'S TO BLAME?

A very old question, indeed. This question has been asked or suggested from the days of Adam until now. It frequently is asked to throw responsibility away from one's self as well as to shun responsibility. It appears to be human to avoid responsibility, especially when the matter involves or is displeasing to one or more other persons.

When God said to Adam in the Garden of Eden: "Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat?" Adam's answer was: "The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat." And the woman also had an answer: "The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat." Someone has said, misery likes company.

Now, since the Republican landslide, the question again is asked, Who's to blame? Various answers are given. Those who do any thinking for themselves have reasoned the matter through intelligently, others have parroted reasons.

The fact is, the majority of the American people is the reason for the Republican landslide. They had grown weary and anxious because of the dilly-dallying in Washington while thousands of young Americans are being slaughtered, wounded, and lost in Korea; also the graft and corruption in Government had driven them mad. They see their hard earned dollars and meagre savings diminishing before their eyes because of high prices and cheap money. Then taxes had been gnawing at their very vitals for years until in their extremity, the American people cried out: "It Is Time for a Change." They want the things to be different. In a change they have hope; and in their hope they see a change.

A change of personalities in the Government just had to come. It was inherent in the conduct of governmental affairs. It couldn't have been otherwise, and the American people remain true Americans to their heritage.

Who's responsible! Why, true, just, honest, intelligent, wide-awake, god-fearing Americans. They had seen the handwriting on the wall, and had read its premonitory message—a message of doom.

Conditions at home and abroad were the occasion for the change, loyal, patriotic Americans were agents of the change. And while high government officials, partisan politicians, those who had been given much for little, and a few color-blind newspaper reporters and commentators by their distortions and sinister reports, tried desperately to defeat the wishes of the mass of the people, and to cause them to alter their opinion, they only added fagots to the fire of determination for a change. And so came the landslide. The opposition party need not to lament that it might have been different had they been better organized. Nothing but vast changes in policies—both at home and abroad, in methods of execution, and in officials, men in whose hands the trust of money and of power was a privilege and not an opportunity.

Yes, for the good of America, and for the welfare of the world, a change was inevitable. But faith and hope in the change will never be vital and alive until each of us put them to work.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

A resignation was received and accepted from Mrs. Dorothy Paulson, music teacher in the Westminster High school. Appointments were made as follows: Mrs. Greta Sardo in the Mechanicsville Elementary school; Mrs. Ollie Eberly in the Hampstead High school. The Board also approved the transfer of Mrs. Katherine Seibel from Mechanicsville to Mount Airy and Mrs. Martha Ramsey from the Hampstead High School to the Westminster High School.

The Superintendent reported briefly to the Board on probable legislative action to be taken in connection with the problem of teachers' salaries and school buildings in the 1953 session of the Maryland Legislature. It is anticipated that within a short time a report of the commission appointed for the study of educational organization and support in the state will be available and will receive the consideration of the Maryland Legislators during the coming session. It is further hoped that the report will assist the entire state in solving the problem of teacher personnel and other financial problems relating to the successful operation of schools.

The Board considered the annual report for the school year 1951-52 which had been prepared for distribution. This report was given approval and the Superintendent was directed to see that it was circulated as widely as possible among citizens, P. T. A. officials and others interested in the progress of education.

A brief report was given to the Board regarding progress on the installation of a water supply in the Union Bridge School and some consideration was given to certain insurance problems with which the Board is confronted at this time.

The Board approved the graduation dates for the high schools of the county in June 1953 as follows: June 4, Elmer Wolfe High School, Taneytown High School; June 5, Westminster High School; June 6, Mt. Airy High School; June 8, Manchester High School; June 9, Sykesville High School; June 10, Charles Carroll High School, New Windsor High School.

The Board approved the appointment of Nathaniel Garrett to the position of janitor at the Sandymount Elementary School.

The Superintendent was directed by the Board at this meeting to prepare a series of articles for submission to the County press. The articles will appear weekly during the next several weeks should the editors of the local papers see fit to publish them. The titles of the articles will be: (1) School Enrollment (2) School Buildings and Facilities (3) School Services (4) School Transportation (5) School Teachers-Supply-Salary-Qualifications (6) School Curriculum (7) School Organization (8) School Financing. The articles will be prepared and distributed from the offices of the Carroll County Board of Education and citizens are urged to read the articles and discuss questions related to them with the Superintendent of Schools or the members of the Board of Education.

The Board adjourned at 4:45 p. m.

Clifton W. Enfield, of Salem, Oregon, spent a week in early October in the military school at Fort Benning, Georgia. During this time Mrs. Enfield and son, Douglas, spent with her sister and family in Childersburg, Alabama. Upon leaving Childersburg, the Enfields made brief visits with relatives and friends in Charlottesville, Roanoke, and Alexandria, Va., Washington, D. C., Taneytown, Md., with Clifton's father, the Rev. G. H. Enfield, of Harrisville, Pa., and with relatives in Hubbard, Ohio. An aunt of Mrs. Enfield from Hubbard accompanied them to Salem for a few days visit after which she will continue to Carlsbad, California, where she will spend some time with a niece and family. The tourists were to arrive in Salem, Oregon, Thursday, Nov. 6.

Fun and profit in BACKLOT FARMING

Roast Duck Dinner — A Treat But No Trick

"Roast Duck" may be featured on many high priced menus in some of the nation's swankiest restaurants, but to the backlot farmer, ducks can be a lot of profitable fun as well as a delightful dinner.

Duck growing as a commercial project is centered around Long Island, where the ducks acquired their nickname, but farm ducks are raised all over the country in small flocks, as few as a dozen being practical, particularly for the backlot farmer.

The White Pekin duck has proven itself on commercial duck farms and its type and appearance seem to best meet the requirements for the market. All of which makes the White Pekin duck a good breed for the farmer raising only a few for home use.

The Pekins are hardy and do not fly; they lay well and mature rapidly in confinement. Besides this, they have white feathers which makes a premium on the market, the sale of which represents another profit factor from the duck project, irrespective of how small it might be.

When the ducks are nine to ten weeks old, a selection may be made of the choicest birds for breeders, to keep the flock expanding. At this age the ducks are ready for the market, having reached the approximate peak of growth.

On the Purina Research Farm, it was found that ducks may be successfully raised on dry ground but when it is convenient, a small concrete pool is usually provided for swimming so the ducks may wash themselves and keep cleaner and more comfortable.

Ducks grow rapidly and soon crowd their quarters. For this reason, it is well to determine how much space is available before the backlot farmer starts his flock.

The ducks should be permitted to get outdoors when they are a few weeks old, providing of course, the weather is pleasant.

During warm weather, shade should also be provided.

you haven't read it, well, here it is: "We receive the Sunday American and News Post regularly, and I always read 'In the Mailbox.' I read with interest the story of the Aaron Werner and Thomas E. Jolly, Sr., families and feel sure that both beated. My father and mother (both deceased, my mother having passed away last Christmas Eve) raised 14 children, as follows, and here is the family total, all living: Daughters, 13; sons, 1; sons-in-law, 13; daughter-in-law, 1; grandchildren, 29; great-grandchildren, 20. Total, 77. We have a family reunion once a year, always get along well together, and all-in-all are in fairly good health. We all live in Carroll County, with the exception of one living in California." (Congratulations, Edith and although your mother has passed away, we still want to say, Hats off to a wonderful mother.)

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Clyde Hesson planned a small family birthday dinner-party for her husband, Clyde Hesson for Tuesday evening at Taney Inn. The small birthday party, as Clyde expected, turned out to be a big surprise for him, for there were in all thirty-two guests. He was told there was a supper meeting of some sort scheduled for the same evening. These gathered at 6:30 p. m., and the small family group came at 6:45. After the second group was seated Mrs. Doty Robb went to the piano and played "Happy Birthday." All in the room joined in the singing of Happy Birthday. Each in turn came up to Mr. Hesson, shook hands with him, and expressed congratulations and wished him many more birthdays. The ice was then broken, and all seated themselves at tables arranged forming an "L." The tables were very attractive with lighted candles and chrysanthemums.

A delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served. Mr. Norman Hesson asked the blessing. At dessert time a large decorated, lighted birthday cake was brought in, and this was cut by Mr. Hesson.

The guests included the First National Bank Directors and employees and wives or husbands, and a number of friends.

Those present in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Hesson were: Mr. and Mrs. Norville Shoemaker, Mr. David Hahn, Mrs. Martin Koons, Mr. Norman Hesson, Miss Catherine Hesson, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baumgardner, Mr. Merle Baumgardner, Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cluts, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stuller, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sauble, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dougherty, Mr. Ralph Hoffman, the attorney for the bank, and Mrs. Hoffman, of Westminster; Miss Pearl Bollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lambert, Marlin Rittase, Mr. and Mrs. Doty Robb, Miss Mary Fringer, Mrs. Abbie Angell, Lt. Comm. and Mrs. Charles Hesson, of Silver Spring.

Mr. Norville Shoemaker, representing the Directors, presented Mr. Hesson with a travelling case. The employees gave him a Schaffer desk pen. He also received many other gifts. Mr. Hesson rose and responded with an appropriate expression of appreciation of their gifts and their friendship. It was a very happy affair, and all gave vent to their emotions through group singing. Games were played, and as usual when good friends get together there was much conversation.

RELIGIOUS PICTURE

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, at 7:30 p. m., an interesting missionary program will be experienced in the Taneytown E. U. B. church. The program will consist of the showing of a sound-color picture of work in Africa and it is named, "Heathens Redeemed." This picture is a sequel to the picture of "Heathens Raged," which was shown some months previous. There will accompany the picture a returned missionary from Africa whose name is Miss Kay Smith.

Miss Smith, Executive Secretary of United World Mission, has been on the inside story of mission work, both at home and on the foreign fields, for some years. She has visited Cuba several times and has been to Mexico. She has just recently returned from Europe (visiting Spain, France and Switzerland) and Africa. She was in Spain last spring during the recent flare-up of renewed persecution of the Protestants of Spain. She interviewed one of the Spanish Protestant pastors who had suffered in ignominy at the hand of the State Church. She heard his appeal for the Protestants of America to pray for the people that they might be free to marry. She also interviewed one of the outstanding leaders of the Protestant churches in Spain and heard his fervent statement, "If America will not help us, then we are lost." She met Paul Freed, sent to Spain by the President of the United States, in the interest of religious freedom for Protestants. She saw with her own eyes more than one church of Spain with padlocks on the doors. She saw the garbage caravan of Madrid, visited the cave people of Granada, and spent Holy Week in old Seville photographing the religious processions. Her story of Spain is enlightening and is outstanding for its truthful presentation of conditions there. Her visit to Africa was of short duration due to the fact that she became seriously ill with two tropical diseases at one time. God, however, spared her life to return to the States to tell her story. Her presentation has touched hearts as she delves intimately into the life of the missionary as she saw it—the personal message that so often the missionary himself hesitates to tell.

The Taneytown High School Parent Teachers' Association held a most interesting and educational meeting on Monday, Nov. 17, at 8 p. m.

The meeting opened by singing America followed by the invocation by Mr. Doty Robb.

Excerpts from the operaetta H. M. S. Pinafore gave the members a long-sing desire to see the entire production on Friday, Nov. 21, at 8 p. m.

A playlet, depicting the opportunities which are offered in a high school education, was well done by the students of the various classes.

The business meeting was in charge of the president, Elwood Baumgardner. After the regular procedure of minutes and reports Mrs. Harvey Dickinson, gave some of the highlights of the State P.T.A. convention which was held in Baltimore, in October. She was also represented at the County Council, which was held at Union Bridge. From this came the report of the most urgent need for the teachers salaries to be raised, so that Carroll County can both keep and procure the best of teachers in the county.

It was accepted by the group for each family to donate 50c to cover all donations the school is called on to help with throughout the school year. This will be divided equally among the various organizations asking for donations; namely, Children's Aid, Red Cross, and "The March of Dimes."

SHORT STORY

Cigarette Trick

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

JOE Frazer finished his dinner, pushed back his chair and produced a cigarette. Extending his left hand horizontally, palm down, he placed the cigarette thereon, struck his left wrist sharply with his right hand and opened his mouth. The cigarette bounded into the air, somersaulted and missed popping into Joe's mouth by a hair. Joe giggled good-naturedly and repeated the operation. On the fifth try his lips caught the somersaulting cigarette in mid-air and held on. Joe gurgled triumphantly and struck a match.

Watching this performance from across the table, Bess, Joe's wife, considered screaming hysterically, but controlled herself. Instead she decided on another course . . .

A year before they were married, when Joe and Bess first met, Bess had thought it was cute. Like all of Joe's ways. The first time it happened they had dined at a tiny country inn. After the meal Joe had produced a cigarette, tried four times to successfully perform his trick, and succeeded on the fifth attempt.

Joe was clever at other things, but the cigarette trick was his special achievement.

Joe was clever at other things, too.

But the cigarette gag was his special achievement. During the year that elapsed before they were married Bess must have seen him perform it a hundred times.

After the first hundred, Bess began to weary of the cigarette trick a little. She didn't say so, of course, because Joe was pretty proud of his achievement.

And so they were married. They went to Maine for a week's honeymoon, and Bess saw the cigarette trick performed, without variation, 21 times. They came back to Worcester and began housekeeping. Joe resumed work and was gone all day. Dinner was the only meal he ate at home, and so Bess had to watch the cigarette trick only once on week days and three times on Sunday. But that was enough—enough to drive her almost mad. After six months of it she found herself waiting at the end of each meal for sight of Joe reaching for his cigarette, for sound of his gurgling laugh, for the vision of his triumphant grin. She felt like the condemned man who awaits the first shock of current.

She took measures to absent herself at the ritual, but they failed. Joe required an audience and he always waited patiently for her return. He expected her smile of approval.

Bess realized Joe thought the cigarette trick a noteworthy accomplishment. He was vain. It wouldn't do to ask him to stop. His ego couldn't stand the gaff. No, she had to think of some other way and think of it quickly, before the funny wagon backed up to their door one day and took her away . . .

JOE applied the match to his cigarette, inhaled deeply and exhaled contentedly. His look was the look of a man of smugness, complacency, superiority. Joe was clever. Joe knew it. He was the life of every party, because he knew so many cute tricks.

Bess reached for the cigarette box. She drew forth a cigarette. She extended her left hand outward horizontally, palm down. She placed the cigarette thereon. She suspended her right hand above the wrist of her left and smiled at Joe.

Joe's idle interest quickened. He was amused. Poor Bess.

"Try it," Joe urged patronizingly. "Go ahead and try it. See how you make out."

Bess tried it. She smacked her left wrist sharply. Up bounded the cigarette, somersaulted. Bess' mouth opened. Her head remained stationary. The white cylinder, as if responding to a magnet, darted toward her lips. She caught it and hung on.

Joe's jaw dropped. His eyes bulged. He gaped.

Bess gurgled triumphantly and struck a match. "The first try," she chortled. "No four out of five for me."

Joe Frazer no longer performs his cigarette trick for the entertainment of wife and friends. Bess is happy. She hopes Joe won't develop any more cute tricks. It takes too much time and patience to perfect them. Two hours every day for two months.

Thanking God

Lesson for November 23, 1952

IT IS hard to imagine Jesus observing exactly one day in the year, no more, as a Thanksgiving day. This is not to say that the idea of a Thanksgiving Day is a bad one. The Jews of ancient times, whose religious observances Jesus closely kept, had a whole week of celebrations in the fall, corresponding somewhat to our Thanksgiving day. But Jesus' heart of gratitude was not to be limited by the calendar.

Mistakes About Thanksgiving

There are at least three mistakes which are commonly made with reference to Thanksgiving day. We Christian people make the mistake of limiting our thoughts of gratitude to one day. We count our blessings on this one day of all the year; we go on a kind of "binge" of gratitude.

Another sort of mistake, made by a great many, even of those who are called Christians, is to use the day for purposes that have nothing at all to do with it. Instead of worshipful gratitude to God for his blessings of the year past, the day is commonly used by many for eating too much or for getting drunk at football games.

Retail stores use the day to usher in the Christmas season. In fact, not so many years ago the country were successful in pushing the day back a whole week just in order to have a longer season in which to sell "Christmas" merchandise.

But the purpose of the day is not to make money or to win football games or to get stuffed with turkey.

Grace Before Shakespeare

A third mistake is to be thankful for only one kind of thing: namely, material blessings such as food, security, good crops and good business. Now our Lord was grateful for such things. More than once we read of his taking bread and giving thanks for it. But as he knew that man does not live by bread alone, so man should not give thanks for bread alone. Most of Jesus' prayers of thanksgiving are for other and higher blessings.

Some well-known writer once commented on our custom of saying "Grace before meat"—the old expression for what is now often called "asking the blessing" at the table. Has God no other blessings for us?

When a person sits down with a great play (say by Shakespeare) in his hand, why not a "Grace before Shakespeare?" How many of us have a little prayer of thanksgiving before reading a book of poetry or going out to look up at the starry sky on a clear night, or before opening a letter from an old friend or before going to the hospital or the dentist? (Yes, indeed; the dentist may not seem like a blessing, but try to stand a toothache all by yourself, or try to imagine going to his office, or to the hospital, before the days of modern medicine, surgery, X-rays, anesthetics and sanitation!)

Blessings of the Spirit

Jesus' prayer of thanksgiving, which our lesson Scripture records, however, is on a higher plane still. The particular blessing for which he thanks the Lord of heaven and earth is in the first place a spiritual one, and in the second place it is not something that came to him but to some one else. He thanks God that a spiritual light has been seen by his most humble friends.

Can we say that many of our prayers are on this high level? Many of us never get beyond the "Gimme" stage. And even among those who do rise to the level of real thanksgiving, it is rare enough to find those who are grateful not only for their own blessings but for those received by others; and how seldom does God hear any note of praise for blessings of the spirit!

This is a high plane, to be reached only by high souls, those who have been intimate enough with Christ to absorb his spirit and attitude. Stupid people, who do not have very good minds, cannot be expected to appreciate blessings of the mind; and people with small and wizened souls cannot feel blessings of the spirit. And only those who practice the Golden Rule every day, so as to put themselves into others' places, and who cultivate the gift of sympathy so as to "rejoice with those that rejoice and weep with those that weep," can have the heart to be thankful when others receive the highest blessings of heaven.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

When the alarm sounds

The volunteer fire department is a great lesson in co-operation. When the alarm sounds, men all over town drop whatever they are doing and race for the engine house. This type of neighborliness also is important on the party-line telephone. In emergency—such as fire or sickness—people usually reach for their telephones to summon aid. In such emergencies, anyone using the line will hang up quickly. This act of courtesy increases the value of everyone's party-line telephone.

Whoops! ➡

Every day engineers of Western Electric, supply unit of the Bell System, test the new telephones turned out by the factory. In the picture, telephones are being dropped onto a hardwood surface from 16 different positions. In other tests, receivers are hung up 22,000 times—equivalent to 4 years' average use; dials are turned repeatedly; bases of telephones are checked to make sure they won't scratch or stain furniture. All this is done to make certain telephone customers get the best possible service. Your telephone company seeks out trouble before it troubles you.

November is a good month to —

Give thanks for a bountiful harvest and our other many blessings... Go to the polls... Pick out turkey breeding stock to save for next year... Give sheep extra feed if pastures are short... Winterize the engine on the combine and forage harvester... Put some electric heating tape or cable on exposed water pipes to prevent freezing... Governor McKeldin is shown above cutting a pair of black-and-gold ribbons at last Friday's dedication of a new five-mile section of the Baltimore National Pike—U. S. Route 40—between Morgan Road and Ridgeville. At the left is Russel H. McCain, chairman of the State Roads Commission, while State Senator C. Ferdinand Sybert, of Howard County, stands at the right. The dedication ceremony, watched by a crowd of several hundred, took place near the eastern end of the new section. In a brief speech after the ribbon-cutting ceremony, Chairman McCain told the crowd that contracts to extend the divided highway westward as far as Monocacy River are in the Commission's program for next year.

PINAFORE AT TANEYTOWN HIGH

The first musical production of the year by the Glee and Dramatic Clubs is going into its final stage of completion for Friday night, Nov. 21, 1952, at the High School Auditorium, at 8 o'clock.

This two-act operetta by Gilbert and Sullivan portrays the love affair between a simple sailor lad and the Captain's daughter. The plans of the Captain to marry his daughter to the First Lord of the Admiralty are unsuccessful because the lass, who loves a sailor below her station, finds him unafraid to speak at the right moment.

Little Buttercup, a peddler woman, falls in love with the Captain and warns him that a change is in store for him. Little does he suspect that in his early youth he and Ralph, the common sailor, were mixed in identity and that each is not what he pretends to be at present.

Sir Joseph soon rejects the hand of the Captain's daughter and is comforted in his old age by his cousin Hebe.

The able Seamen, the Boatswain's mate and the carpenter's mate throughout the performance lend comedy and pathos to the more serious parts played by the first mentioned characters.

This musical production is under the direction of Mrs. Wallace Yingling, music; Mrs. Edward L. Shipley, dramatics; Mrs. Edward Wright, art; Mrs. David Flora, industrial art work; Donald Carl and Glenn Copenhaver, lighting; Mrs. Tobias Brown, wardrobe; Mrs. Homer Myers, tickets.

The cast includes: James Wantz, First Lord of the Admiralty; Robert Royer, Commander of the H. M. S. Pinafore; David Reifsnider, able Seaman; Merritt Copenhaver, Able Seaman; Wayne Baumgardner, Boatswain's Mate; Kenneth Reifsnider, Carpenter's Mate; Jane Gilds, Captain's daughter; Georgia Ingram, Sir Joseph's First Cousin; Nancy Pennington, a Portsmouth Bumboat woman.

These leads are ably supported by a fifty voice chorus of sailors, sisters, aunts, and cousins. These female relatives of Sir Joseph constantly attend him in his pursuit for a wife.

Special dances will be executed by Elizabeth Shower, a student of the seventh grade, and two guest dancers, Susan Crumbacker and Connie Nicholson.

The scene occurs on the deck of H. M. S. Pinafore off the Portsmouth Harbor, England. Act one takes place at noon followed by act two the same night.

Tickets may be bought from any student of the high school or at the box office the night of the performance.

LEARNING BY SEEING

Our nation's capital on a perfect fall day is a wonderful and beautiful place. Such was the opinion of thirty interested and eager sixth graders last Thursday, Nov. 13, on what was, for most of them, their first visit to Washington, D. C. The 6Y class of Taneytown Elementary school was indeed privileged to make the trip, not only at the precise time of its study in the social studies unit of the Middle Atlantic States, but at a time when the city was not overcrowded with tourists.

For preliminary work the class, by special reports, showing pictures, post cards, and the like, learned as much about the city as possible. Articles such as have recently appeared in Holiday and the National Geographic were reviewed. The day following the trip the pupils were shown a movie, "Washington, Shrine of American Patriotism", which not only reviewed the previous day's itinerary but gave them still another view of the many more wonderful places to be seen when next such an opportunity presents itself. The writing of another report on the actual trip culminated the activity.

But let the pupils speak for themselves:

Last Thursday, Nov. 13, we took our first class trip to Washington, D. C. We had studied and often read and heard about the beautiful and interesting things to be seen but seeing them was so much better! We shall never forget the huge Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul which was our first stop. Most people call it The Washington Cathedral. It was started 45 years ago and no one knows when it will be finished but it will be one of the ten largest in the world. It is built only as people give so that there will be no debt upon it. It is made in the shape of a cross and will be one-tenth of a mile long. A guide showed us through and described everything to us. We heard the great Organ play, we saw the beautiful Rose window, the many chapels, the tombs of many famous men who are buried right there in the Cathedral. All people are welcome, there is no regular membership as in our churches, and ministers of every denomination are invited to preach there. When we left this beautiful place we felt we had seen almost enough for one day.

Next, we rode to the Washington Monument, passing the White House and many other important government buildings which we did not have time to stop and see. In a little over a minute we were all taken to the top of the monument in the elevator. Through windows at the top we could see all over Washington. Most of us walked down the 898 steps and most of us said, "Never again!"

We got into the bus again and rode over to the Lincoln Memorial. There we saw the huge seated statue of Abraham Lincoln facing the Washington Monument. Carved on two tablets on the walls are Lincoln's Gettysburg address and his second Inaugural Address. Between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial there is a very long pool of water called the Reflecting Pool which is very beautiful.

We drove to Haine's Point to eat our lunch, and saw airplanes come into the airport across the river, about one every two minutes.

The Capital building was our next stop. We could not go up all the front steps and enter by the main door because the Inaugural Platform is now being built. It was a wonderful sight—looked like a lumber yard.

Our guide here was especially good. She told us so many historical facts as she showed us the House and Senate Chambers, the Rotunda, the President's Room, Statuary Hall and all the beautiful works of art.

We spent about an hour in the Smithsonian Institute seeing such things as the Wright Brothers first airplane, old automobiles, coins, stamps, guns, clothes, and many other interesting things. Across the street in the Museum of Natural History we saw skeletons of extinct animals and also stuffed animals such as are living today.

That was our last stop and we started for home. We were all very tired, but we really enjoyed ourselves and learned a lot. We hope to go again some day.

Mr. Stahl, our principal, Mrs. Lieb, a mother of one of the girls, and Mrs. Welker, our teacher, went with us.
