BROTHERHOOD

WEEK

FEBRUARY 15-21

With all my heart, I wish you every morning A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health-life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way-help to bring you happiness!

B rrrrrrrrr its cold! There will be quite a number of such days before Spring arrives! Soups on and the aroma is filling the Parsonage and it is such a good homey smell! It surely was nice to see Mollie Gold-berg or (Mollie Berg as her real name) once again on T.V. It sure did give Uncle Miltie a big boost for his show which this Observer observed was which this Observer observed was sort of getting a little sour! Eh? Late News! That nice man named Stevenson has been dining with his wife! Betcha, there will be a tighter knot in that bow within a year! Just the opposite for O'Dwyer and his wife within the year regardless of the reigion!

The next time you go to the Shoe Cobblers—notice how many shoes are being mended now-a-days! Don't forget, Ladies to stir your powder now and then and instead of a puff, use cotton and you will see the biggest difference in the texture of your skin as it will appear finer.

Here's a cute sign in a store where every salesperson can gaze upon it so many times a day in fact every time they make a sale" IF YOU CAN'T MAKE A SALE—YOU CAN MAKE A FRIEND"! Naw the Alexander Brown estate

A FRIEND"! Now, the Alexander Brown estate of "Mondawin" will be a regular busi-ness thoroughfare! At the junction of Liberty Heights Ave. and Park Heights Ave. where that huge stone wall has been standing many years. Notice "Mamie's Bangs" will be go-ing higher and higher and all through ing higher and higher and all through the suggestion of a smart Beautician. Bangs should not be worn just for style or habit but only if they are very becoming to the individual.

Now here's one which I hope will make us all think! By all means run to your dentist if it takes your last cent. Bad teeth not alone can impair your health as to your digestion but your appearance as well! The following is a true affair of which Your Observer has been observing very closely and with much disgust! A couple with three grown children are actually without teeth which they have been for a few years (even be-fore I knew them) The husband is not overly ambitious and now the wife hot overly ambitious and now the wife has been going out working in a fac-tory. Her gums are frightfully swol-len at all times trying to masticate her food which is an impossibility and to top it off complaining about her stomach paining her! I thought that the very first thing she would do now that she is working and which she that sne is working and which she stated that she would do was to be fitted for Dentures Instead, Folks believe it or not this is what has hap-pened—she has bought a stove, a washing machine, a huge screen T.V. time with the bills facing her! Not alone being without Dentures and ill health but now she is getting pains in the head from worry in facing month-ly the payments that come due. Folks, the last time I saw that little wife and Mother-she had her ears pierced and was wearing glamoorus dangling earrings! See what I mean? Don't forget tomorrow is "Valentine Day" and it is a grand way of saying, "I love you"! to the very special one in your life! Buy a special gift for her no matter the cost it is always the thought behind it all and you know, Gentlemen that the ladies love the little attentions in life. Just start now with this Valentine and you will see the love that shines in her eyes in appreciation! Gentlement, don't you agree that that awful cruel wrestler should be barred from that sport of wrestling-HANS SCHMIDT? He belongs in the class with that Golden Terror! Eh? who realized years ago that it was Gracie who got more laughs than he when they were both struggling come-dians when they were a team act. So being no dope, George switched the act and made Gracie the Commedienne. After four years Burns and Allen hit the big time with a six-year con-tract with RKO theatres. They were married soon after that-on January 7, 1926 in Cleveland and have been happy ever since! Now you see this famous couple every Thursday night on their own T.V. show with the two sponsors Carnation Milk and the B. F. Goodrich company. It has come to pass that our brand new President has caused the aban-don of the High Silk Hat! They say it was slowly dying and now it really is dead! It is a matter of opinion and just what one was accustomed to as to the proper evening dress for man. That custom would never be abolished in England where the men are truly the very height of fashion. When a lady is dress in a lovely evening gown for a verw special occasion , Your Observer quite appproves of the High silk hat for her escort! I will always emember attending the Opera in Philadelphia with my parents and can now see that grand topper upon my Dad's head which appeared as though it belonged right there! So long, Folks. See you next week D.V. Always respect others opinions even if they do not agree with your own. I am,

FEESERSBURG

American history is filled with the names of many great and near great men and women, but the greatest of all is Abraham Lincoln, 16th Presi-dent of the United States. Instead of time dimming the magic of his name, the years seem to add to the lustre of the immortal Lincoln. There are many memorials in different sections of the country to the man, but the one most symbolic of Lincoln is the Lincoln memorial in Washington. Standing before this beautiful statue, one seems to draw from this mass of stone, the very qualities of Lincoln and to gain inspiration just by looking at this kind and compassionate figure carved so realistically from granite. Once, I was fortunate enough to hear Mr. Baukage speak at this memorial, not of Lincoln, but of another great President. Never had the setting and the words been so perfect and I came away feeling that all the understanding, the sorrow, the greatness that was Lincoln had been utttered in that short speech, and that I had exper-ienced and emotional and spiritual quickening that I should never ex-perience again. This week it seems most fitting to write about Lincoln and to quote one part of his famous speech at Gettysburg. "It is for us the living rather to be dedicated here the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so no-bly advanced. It is rather for us to here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave be the last full measure of devotionthe last full measure of devotion— Ash Wednesday evening, Feb. 18, at that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that director Mrs. Blain Broadwater and this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom, and that gov-ernment of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth." As appropriate as these lines were for the occasion at which they were first uttered, they are even more appropriate today. While our sons and brothers are laying down their lives in Korea, we should rededi-University Hospital by Mr. and Mrs. cate ourselves to seeing that they are not dying for a cause of freedom, which we at home are not willing to support earnestly and unselfishly.

I have been asked to write some-thing on sportsmanship. The request came, not from an adult but from sev-enough to allow him to read. eral students at the Elmer Wolfe school. They seem to think that some of the parents are giving our local school a bad name at the basketball games with their overbearing attitude regarding the visiting teams. It is usually of course for parents to lay down the laws of conduct, but when children feel called upon to censure parents' attitude it seems time to do something. The dictionary says a sportsman is a gracious loser and an honest rival. There are times when all of us become so emotional over an episode that we do and say things that we otherwise would not do in a normal state of mind. However, parents set the examples, and should be the leaders in showing a fair and generous attitude toward school. And one's conduct should be even more correct when one goes to a game in other schools. Here ster and A-1-Class Clifford Sullivan, once again is an example that one's Langley Field, Va. personal attitude is not only an indicator of one's own character, but re- len Morelock visited Wednesday at flects upon one's own community and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gartrell, school. The 'flu" bug finally invaded our community. The driver of our milk truck went down with it Monday and on Tuesday at least one member of each family in our area was down and out with the blitz germ. In spite of pains, aches and shifting weather, spring signs continue to arrive. A neighbor reports that her crocuses are blooming on the west side of the house and another neighbor says her orchid bloomed Monday, a sure sign that winter is over. There has certainly been a change. Salesmen are again ringing the farm-er's door bell, which hasn't happened to us for years. BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES IN TANEYTOWN

The January board of review was conducted by Raymond E. Haines, chairman, assisted by troop commit-teemen Bernard E. Elliot (institutional representative), Stanley W. King Francis E. Lookingbill, and Galen K Stonesifer. Scout Robert Fitz was advanced to Second Class; Explorer Larry Martin earned the rank of Star scout; while Life Scout was attained by Robert Bowers, Larry Eckard, and Robert Fuss, who are thus well on the way toward Eagle, the pinnacle of Scouting's ladder of advancement. Merit badge qualifications included physical development by Bowers; athletics, physical development, and wood work by Eckard; Athletics, first aid, Work by Eckard; Athletics, first aid, and forestry by Fuss; safety and wood work by Martin, and Bird study and wood work by John Perry. The March board has tentatively been set for Thursday evening. Feb 26

First aid dominated January's program, leading to a merit badge quiz conducted among explorers by Martin, theme leader for the 19th, with games led by Bowers. Scouts have also concentrated on first aid, and they leave this subject for a time following the conclusion of successful second class examinations passed by LeRoy Barnes, Jr., Grant Harman, Hopkins, William Pittinger, and Schildt. The tests were conduct-by by second class scouts reviewing this work for first class rank, namely George Abrecht, Lee Rock, Harold Slaybaugh, Tracey, and Westine, sup-ervised by Explorer Fuss, Haines and Thomas. The entire group was as-signed the "password" of demonstrating three pressure points for admission to the January 29 meeting.

Pressure for stopping arterial bleed-ing was also included in an emergency problem which Harman, Hopkins, Nelson, and Schildt treated before the Taneytown Lions Club on Jan. 27th, where Scouts Fitz, Harman, Hopkins, Nelson, Pittinger, Schildt, Tracey and Westine were present for dinner as a feature of the approaching anniversary of the scouting movement. Reports of the Fight Against Infantile Paralysis

The year 1952 has been a dramatic period in the fight against infantile paralysis.. It has been a year in which polio made its most devastating attack upon man, and man achieved his most significant victory over polio. It has been a year in which the pace of this entire effort increased by leaps and bounds, as the cumulative results of years of scientific research began to pay off rapidly in spectacular developments that point the way to ultimate conquest over this crippling epidemic disease. And it has been a year in which these great scientific victories were fought against a background of the worst polio epidemic of all time.

You who have given to the March of Dimes have a right to ask, "What part has the March of Dimes played in these dramatic events? How does the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis figure in the moving story of polio that has poured out from all parts of the country during 1952"? The answer is simple. Your National Foundation has been the backbone of the nation's resistance to the devastating forces of epidemic. It has been the lifeblood of the mammoth research program that last year brought about, for the first time, the scientific prevention of paralytic polio in a small group of human beings. It has been the nervous system that responds to the needs of the nation's stricken in their time of trial. Nowhere, and at no time in history, has there been such an organization so equipped, so capable, so dedicated to the conquest of a terrible disease. Nowhere has there been a voluntary agency that has taken so much within its scope, and accomplished such significant gains

You are an active part of this great organization. You who have contrib-uted to the March of Dimes made it possible for the National Foundation's 3,100 Chapters to meet the full force of the polio epidemic of 1952 and give assistance to all who needed help. Of the more than 55,000 men, women and children who were hit by polio in the past year, four out of every five found it necessary to obtain direct financial help from the March of Dimes. Another 46,000 patients, victime of other wore wore still be victims of other years, were still be-ing assisted during the year. In other words, your March of Dimes contributions paid for patient care for some 90,000 persons throughout 1952, at an expenditure of $28,000,000.

You were the activating force that furnished the iron lungs in answer to 2,175 emergency calls for respirators in a year during which the lives of at meet the urgent and almost over-whelming demands of the epidemic by recruiting nurses and physical therap-ists to reenforce the overtaxed medi-cal personnel of hard-hit polio areas. Your March of Dimes money disseminated knowledge of the disease and treatment techniques throughout the nation, assisting the physician in his fight against the distance of the selection for the week of bray 18-23. At a later date the winners and prizes will be announced in this colfight against the destructive powers of the virus. You have helped save team intensive scientific research pling disease. And because you have sustained this effort, science last year was able to announce that it had successfully stepped from the laboratory into the field of human trials, and in field tests with 55,000 children, had demonstrated the effectiveness of a substance called gamma globulin in temporarily protecting the human by body against paralytic polio. Although we know that this is not the final answer to polio, although we know that the search must be continued and intensified to make available to all Americans a safe and effective vaccine, we know that man is not far from his ultimate goal-because you have made it possible. We stand now at the most critical moment in the entire fight against infantile paralysis. As we draw closer to the day of final victory, we find our most important work-our most difficult tasks-still ahead of us. We cannot pause now. We cannot rest for a moment. Rather, we must increase the pressure, increase our efforts, and put everything we have into these cru-cial months that lie ahead. The children of tomorrow look to us today for protection from infantile paraly-sis. The thousands of youngsters already crippled will continue to look to us for assistance long after the disease has been conquered. Your help is needed now, as never before. Please join the 1953 March of Dimes.

When one you care for has departed, And you sit alone and brokenhearted. There's something in a kindred mind, That always leaves a sense behind Of true companionship I know The pain it was to see her go, who loved you sadly miss you; who held you very dear

And in lonely hours of thinking, Often feel your presence near Though Gbd has taken you away You are with me every day

I'll remember you dear, while there's life in my heart Altho, God in his wisdom has torn us

apart;

In your home up in heaven you must_ know that I'm true, To the love and esteem that was only for you, And I pray that when life for me

comes to an end I will meet you in Heaven, my own dearest friend,

My wife and my sweetheart my one

dearest love

God keep you and guard you in Heaven above.

against the boys, using only their experience to oppose the scouts' recent study. Scoutmaster Thomas also presented Tracey and Westine in a wigwag Morse code demonstration of transmitting a message provided by Lion President Singleton E. Remsberg. While Robert Fitz stood up front and tied the decorative, but baffling, Turks' head know, articles of craft-work were handed around for inspection, including a lanyard made Pittinger, some beadwork fashioned by Perry, and a bracelet by Westine. After this program the scouts were able to finish covering the town with the Mothers' march on polio leaflets, the distribution of which had been begun by Explorers Eckard, Martin, Perry, and Thomas at the request of Legion Commander Lookingbill.

At Thursday's meeting scouts Ronald Hopkins and John Myers, Jr., were inducted into candidate rank. The hall was heated by Explorer Haines, who has often been helpful in this good turn for the younger group. Games were supervised by Fuss and Haines, a new one called "Spies" finding some favor, but the familiar "Horse and rider" selected by Pittinger proving the more exciting. Fitz was nominated leader of the Raccoons, the following patrol get-togethers and the first aid study and exams, a closing feature was the playing of recorded bird calls. Donald Sharrer was presented for the first time, another Raccoon recruit, who thereupon finished the major part of candidate rank, while Hopkins did all of his tenderfoot test.

The law provides further that the failure of any such minor operator (persons under twenty-one years of age) to exhibit proper evidence of insurance to any magistrate, motor ve-hicle inspector, peace officer, or state ncie inspector, peace onder, or state policeman, shall be presumptive evi-dence that the vehicle or the operator does not have proper insurance cover-age as required by law.. The Insurance Companies will dis-tribute identification cards to all pol-

The cards will fundamentally contain the following in-formation, although there may be some deviation in the arrangement and exact language employed therein: Name of the insurance company

Name of the insured

Policy number Expiration date of the policy Description of the vehicle by year, make and engine number.

Insurance companies authorized to do business in this State have agreed that they will issue no identification card to a New York resident policy-holder unless the policy has minimum limits sufficient to comply with this law. As a result, identification cards issued to New York resident policyholders should be accepted by enforcement officers as evidence of proper insurance coverage, even though no policy limits are indicated thereon, on the premise that the card would not have been issued unless proper cov-erage existed. The cards, however, persons having claims against the should not be honored where no policy number is contained thereon, or the policy is no longer in force ..

The following may serve as a guide to enforcement officers:

- The law applies to both residents and non-residents who are under twenty-one years of age and who operate motor vehicles and motor cycles upon the highways and streets of New York State.
- If a minor is operating a family vehicle, the card should be in the name of the adult owner and should agree with the registration certificate for that vehicle
- If the minor operator is insured to drive other vehicles in addition to the adult-owner's vehicle, a card in the name of the minor op-erator should be honored. The NOBODY loves a "teacher's pet. No teacher should have one; just as no father or mother should have a "pet" child. We all feel that everybody should be treated alike. And yet, strange to say, when it comes to religion, many a person who wouldn't be a teacher's pet for anything, will believe and hope that he is one of God's pets. All of us have this wish at times. We like to feel that God won't deal with us strictly, that he will let down the rules for us a little. We like to think of ourselves as special cases, we like to feel we have the inside track, or the "pipeline to God." But it won't do. God has no special favorites.

Fatal Mistake

It is a fatal mistake to think that God is bound to look out for ME, no matter what. In the time of Jesus, the leaders of his people thought God was just bound to g i v e them the front seats in his kingdom. For one thing, those Jewish leaders were proud of their ancestors. On their family tree were men like Abraham, S a mu e l,

Dr. Foreman Moses, David and countless other good and noble people. The aristocrats of Jesus' time thought; Since we belong to the same family as those who have served God so well, surely God will show US special favors! But God does not grant special privileges merely on account of a family tree. There are people today who will tell you: "Yes, my people for three generations have belonged to this church. My greatgrandfather helped to build it. My, good old mother just about wore her Bible out-I could show you if I could find it around somewhere."

But Jesus did not hold out any hope that you can secure a seat by the Throne on Abraham's ticket, or your dear old grandmother's, or any one else who happens to be high on your family tree. Then for another thing, those stuffed-shirt Pharisees thought God owed them something because of the positions they held. They had the front seats in the synagogues; every one got up when they came in. They seem to have got the idea that even God would get up when they arrived in heaven. But Jesus gave no encouragement to that notion either.

Promises "If-"

Another reason why these prominent men thought they had a sort of first mortgage on the Kingdom of Heaven was that they misunderstood the promises of God. Many promises of blessings, wonderful blessings, had been made to the people of Israel by prophet after prophet. These promises are still to be read in the Old Testament. Where the chief priests and all that crowd made their mistake was at two points. One: they supposed that these were promises "no matter what;" promises without conditions, without any strings attached. God would give Israel all these blessings, they reasoned; they belonged to Israel, therefore they would share the blessings.

Not at all; Jesus tells them straight out that the kingdom is to be taken away from them and given to a "nation producing the fruits of it." What nation? That promise is still good, but no nation, group or people or race or church can claim it absolutely and finally. The "kingdom," with God's highest blessings, can belong to England or Japan or the United States or Ethiopia—IF. They are offered and promised to any nation that will produce the fruits. Does ours?

Christ or Chaos

Again these men were mistaken in supposing they could claim God's blessings and yet reject God's Son. The basic trouble with those big men of Jerusalem, and the people they influenced, was that they did not want Jesus. They did not want him, his ideas, his leadership; they had no notion at all of his sacrifice. Living or dying they had no use for him . . . and so they perished. Those who reject the living Grace of God have to suffer the consequences. Christ is still the test of community and nation. The people who welcome him, live by him, have enduring life. The kind of people who turn him away and try to destroy what he gave his life for, will themselves be destroyed. The epitaph of all wrecked nations could well be the same: Here lie the wretched remains of a people that had no use for God. To reject Christ is to choose chaos.

Tips on Valentine Flowers

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY finds millions of men racking their brains for ingenious ways to quicken the pulses of sweethearts and wives. Warming the heart of lovely Connie Towers, NBC-TV star, is this gorgeous Valentine arrangement by Alyn Wayne, official flower stylist of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. A center of rich red roses contrasts with a white border of delicate lilacs. The entire design is anchored firmly in a shallow vase filled with white styrofoam and topped with a heart of gold. Alyn Wayne is the official designer for the 9,500 florists who will be sending orders for flowers-by-wire on Valentine's Day all, over the world. (ANS)

In an effort to par-tially eliminate this abuse the Carroll County Delegates have introduced H. B. 204. This Bill would require one B. 204. Westminster

Two bills have been introduced re-lating to taxation in Westminster. One bill provides that the City may levy up to 10c for the support of the West-minster Fire Department. The West-minster firemen have been in financial difficulty for some years and the City's help is required to purchase new equipment and to maintain the Department.

The other bill gives the City the right to levy up to 2c for the benefit of the Davis Library. We have been informed that the Library has an in-debtedness of about $20,000 that it is unable to pay off without financial assistance.

Query to the Library Board: Have you considered making a public appeal for donations to help pay off this in-debtedness? Many of our citizens would prefer to make voluntary con-tributions to the Library, rather than have the charge put on their tax bill. Until next week, I am
