T. H. S. NEWS

Harold Sutphin Reports the Events

On April 13 a card party will be held for the benefit of Taneytown High School. Because of conflicting dates, the time has been changed from the date earlier announced. Plans for the party have been made for some time. There will be many and various types of prizes given to the winners. Don't expect the change in date.

The Key Club will hold a dance on April 10 that should prove to be fun for all. Music will be furnished by Gene Frock's Orchestra, so bring your partner and have a good time at the Bunny Hop.

April 10 is also the day picked by the Senior class to hold a food sale in the Firemen's Hall in the evening after school just before the big Key Club dance. There will be many delicious foods for sale—canned goods, cakes, pies, candy, and many other things.

The spelling bee to decide who is the best speller in the Taneytown High 7th and 8th grades, will be held on April 1, and it is hoped that parents will show their interest in the children and their attainments by their presence.

"The Grapes of Wrath", a movie based on John Steinbeck's novel, was shown to the student body on Wednesday afternoon. The movie was produced by the Key Club and proved to be a timely visual education project for history and English classes.

On Saturday morning at 9:15 a. m. the State Scholarship exams will be given to contesting pupils at the Westminster High School. Taneytown High expects to have several entrants. The ninth grade general education classes are visiting Annapolis today, Friday—this is an annual project of the ninth grade in connection with their study of Maryland.

If you have not been contacted, you can still do your part by calling on Mr. Baumgardner.

SENATOR'S LETTER FROM ANNAPOLIS

Bills of Local Interest Presented to the Legislature

Zoning Bill
A Zoning Law for Carroll County is now in the last stages of preparation. It was hoped that this Bill could have been introduced in the earlier days of present Legislative Session but the difficulties of preparation were greater than anticipated.

Briefly, the Bill provides for a 10-man Planning and Zoning Commission who will be responsible for the initial planning and the establishment of various zones within the county.

The administrative work is to be done by a zoning Commissioner, a full time employee, who will also be the Zoning Engineer who will work for the Planning and Zoning Commission. Appeals from the decisions of the Zoning Commissioner will be taken to a 5-man Board of Zoning Appeals. The Bill will carry a referendum submitting the question of Zoning to the voters of Carroll county at the General Election in 1954.

Bonus for Retired Teachers

Several years ago a local measure was adopted granting to teachers retiring under the old Teachers Retirement System a $25 per month bonus if their retirement pay was less than $100 per month. Numerous hard cases have been brought to the attention of the County Legislators and they have decided to increase county assistance to this group.

H. B. 659 provides for a $50 per month bonus for each teacher receiving less than $125 per month, with the provision that the bonus will be granted only to the extent needed to bring the retirement pay to the $125 level.

Hampstead Limits Extended

H. B. 682 provides for enlarging the corporate limits of the Town of Hampstead. This Bill contains a referendum providing for a special election to be held during the year 1953. Voters in the present town limits and in the area proposed to be annexed will be eligible to vote on the question, "For Enlarging the Town Limits" or "Against Enlarging the Town Limits".

Taneytown Sewer Bill

S. B. 366 provides for a referendum on the question of half-million dollar bond issue for the construction of a sewage system in Taneytown. The voters of Taneytown rejected a similar proposal for a $400,000 bond issue two years ago. The Taneytown authorities now believe that public opinion in Taneytown has changed and that the question will now be voted upon affirmatively.

The special election on this question will be held on a date to be set by the Mayor and Council.

New Windsor Officials

When S. B. 394 becomes law the "Burgess and Commissioners of New Windsor" will afterwards be known as the "Mayor and Common Council of New Windsor".

The Bill also provides that Town elections shall be held on the first Monday of June, every second year, instead of on the first Monday of May. Voter's qualifications are that they shall be 21 years of age, have resided in the Town for one year and shall own real or personal property of a value of at least $500.00.

Franklin District Sunday Movies

S. B. 417 provides for a special election for the voters of Franklin District to determine whether or not they shall be permitted to have movies after 9 P. M., on Sundays. This election will be held on the second Monday of June (June 8th) of this year.

As mentioned previously this Bill was introduced at the request of the owners of the outdoor Theatre being erected near Taylorsville on the Liberty Road, which group has also agreed to pay for the expenses of the Election.

Until next week, I am Sincerely,
STANFORD HOFF.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Colonn)
With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The snow fences are coming down on the farms, those Frogs are telling us that the winter is over and the Jonquils are all in full bloom! That is Spring!

That nice song of "I BELIEVE" tops them all which is the theme song of Jane Froman on T.V. every week. Thinking of T.V. What did that nice Arthur Godfrey mean when he said with his eyes cast downward that he is going to be a different man?

How nice it was to see Rocca once again. Some time, Your Observer will interview him. He truly is one Wrestler who sticks to all the rules and is greatly admired by the audience both at home and the ring.

The Commerce Committee of the House of Representatives announced that its hearings to find out what was holding back color television would begin March 24. The C.B.S.—T.V. has authority to proceed with color but manufacturers have complained they were halted by Government controls on materials needed for color sets! Ugh!

Have you ever seen "The Chamber's Gas Range"? It has been on the market, Ladies for many years only that it is improving like all else all the time. A friend of mine who purchased one was so pleased with the small gas bill the following month as it really cooks with the gas turned off! The bell rang and it was from the Gas and Electric Company sending a man up to check the meter to find out what was wrong! My friend replies, "Mr. I have this lovely 'CHAMBERS' and by the way, why is it that you do not send a man when the bill is in four figures?"

These days that "Chain Letter" is around this time asking for a TOWEL! Just ignore them when they arrive otherwise you will be persecuted. When in Philly last broused around in Wanamaker's. How that store has changed! The basement is called, "The Budget Store"! Everything is much more reasonably priced right here in Maryland.

In their Massive Show windows are being shown these glamorous and expensive hats by Mr. John of New York City. Mostly all small affairs and chucked full of style. Many pink hats will be worn and the slogan for that one is, "You will be tickled pink!" And Wow—the price!

For the teen-ager, the Horse's Tail in Hair-dos is still the thing only a very much longer length of a tail!

And this for Philadelphia—for the year of 1952 that city of Brotherly Love won the Cleanest Award of the Nation of all big cities! Chicago was second and Detroit, third! It was really the sixth time that Philly was spruce enough to be given the award—that is for more than 1,000,000 people!

Did you really smile, folks during "NATIONAL SMILE WEEK"? Don't write and say that you did, not have anything to smile about as one Reader of this column really told me?

In Philly many T.V. Screens by "MUNTZ" now 27 inch affairs and they surely are getting bigger and better all the time. Eh?

Rabbit Fur and Velveteen are taking in the line of economy Coronation Robes approved by Queen Elizabeth for her Coronation!

Mickey Rooney in the Movie called "ALL ASHORE" just about blows the roof off the Stanton in Philly. It is a Technicolor Musical Comedy.

Did you know that the stage name of Mme. Nellie Melba belonged to that wonderful Operatic Star from Australia who died in 1931 was Helen Porter Mitchell?

Each March those Clay Pipes of white tied with a green bow come to the front in honor of St. Patrick's Day?

Ask Doc or your drug store in your town for those, "LOVABLES"—every day Greeting Cards with the individuality of your own personality for they do express yourself! They are sweet!

Don't forget, Gentlemen and "Husbands" do plan to take that "Best Half" on a vacation this summer and be sure you go the B & O way. If you are going to remain even for just two weeks you will discover that you have relaxed beautifully by not taking the car along and when you return you will say that it was the best trip you have ever had and you will derive much beneficial affect in more ways than one. These days everyone is turning to B & O for the trains are as comfortable and clean as your own home! That little wife is so deserving and every woman looks upon the little things in life and she will love you all the more! If you can go without the children which will give you the needed change by having someone to come into your home and take over the responsibilities so much the better. And that little wife who stands by your side in your business even in the office or taking interest in the store—she is your partner so do treat her 50-50! A husband is judged in the public eye just how he treats the Mrs.!

So long, folks until next week D. V. Have a grand week-end. I am, Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

DON'T LET THEM FORGET "THE MESS"

At his latest press conference, President Eisenhower reiterated that tax cuts must be deferred until a balanced budget is in sight. He also declared that if the excess profits tax is allowed to die June 30th, as it will under existing law, substitute revenues must be found.

On the same day, hard-fighting Rep. Daniel A. Reed, the New York Republican who is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, gave up his battle for immediate House action on his 11 percent income tax reduction bill. Had he persisted, his bill would have been smothered with crippling amendments, so he will wait until it can be brought on the floor under the "closed rule" requiring consideration as-is, and without amendment.

Still belligerent, however, Reed pointed out that "every candidate for Federal office promised to give the people, if elected, a tax reduction." Failure to act promptly he considered "unfair, dishonest and gaining office under false pretenses." Further, the chairman believes that when Congressmen get home and mingle with their constituents over the Easter recess, they will find most of them insistent on tax relief now, regardless of the budget.

Under our representative government, the people's will is, of course, the right answer. But we question Chairman Reed's prediction. It seems quite possible that a majority of those who voted, irrespective of party, for that "change," will want to go along with the policy President Eisenhower announced during the campaign, making tax reduction a "goal," rather than a promise, with a balanced budget paving the way. We believe they will consider a tax cut now, with more deficit spending to come under an unbalanced budget, as a mirage, a mockery and a deceit. We believe they will cherish their first chance in 20 years to get a balanced budget, that they are convinced there is no other way to curb Government extravagance, or to end the vicious practice of passing more and more of these immoral debts on to their grandchildren, and their grandchildren's grandchildren.

And, in case you have noticed a softening in the Eisenhower "crusade" against our overstuffed bureaucracy, a growing reluctance to move in on Federal waste, duplication and overlapping, tell your Congressman you want the clean-up voted for, balanced budget and all. And that includes tax reduction as soon as it can be real, and not window-dressing.—National Industries News Service.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Few news stories of our time have been given so lavish a treatment as the final illness and death of Stalin. And few events have offered so fruitful a field to commentators and columnists whose business it is to move from the hard ground of fact into the risky air of theory and guess at future events.

Generally speaking, the forecasts of what Stalin's death implies for Russia and the world fell into several diverse channels. One group offered the hope that the whole Bolshevik edifice might come crashing down in ruin now that the strong man was gone. Another speculated concerning the possibility of revolutionary uprisings both within the U.S.S.R. and the satellite countries. A third decided that the chance of World War III had become more remote because the new masters of the regime would have their hands full and then some with domestic problems. A fourth, holding the opposite view, said that World War III might be more imminent on the grounds that Stalin's successors would have to take this grim step in order to unify the Russian people.

But the more general opinion—and the opinion which seems to be held in Administration circles—is that Stalin's passing will not greatly affect, at least for a considerable period of time, the Soviet attitude, or change the Soviet policy of aggression-short-of-world-war.

This opinion has a solid base. First of all, it is extremely unlikely that Russia's rulers would have been unprepared for Stalin's death—the most far-reaching plans and preparations must have been made. It is equally unlikely that Stalin would have permitted men who were in disagreement with his ideas to be in the position of successors—the dead dictator was as ruthless and as efficient a hand at eliminating opposition as the world has ever known. And the past record of the men now at the top—Malenkov, Beria, Molotov, shows them to be Stalinists of the purest hue.

There is another and very important side to this. The dictatorship is now directed by several minds, instead of one—and whether or not a divided dictatorship can hope to succeed is certainly a $64 question. It is perfectly reasonable to assume that the top men, excellent as their relations may seem on the surface, are even now engaged in a quiet war for power—and that each hopes to eventually hold all power and liquidate the others. That is the way Stalin came to the top—the road he took was paved with the bodies of old friends and compatriots. There is good ground for believing that as a long-term proposition a dictatorship has room for only one absolute dictator.

Even so, and despite what eventually may happen behind the thick Kremlin walls, Russia will in all probability continue to present a unified face to the world. For the time being, Stalin's successors will have to work together if only in the interest of self-preservation—the last thing they can afford is an open division with all the internal discord and unrest and weakening that this might involve. It is significant that the best reports we have had from behind the Iron Curtain indicate that as soon as Stalin's illness was announced—and announced in such a way that no one could believe he would recover—the police and military and all the other forces the Kremlin has at its disposal to maintain order and to liquidate opposition were put into a high state of alertness and were ready for anything.—E. Hofer.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

WATERVILLE, WASH., EMPIRE-PRESS: "The priceless ingredient which makes a Republic is its system of public education. Our education system is the basis for establishing a free people who can think, analyze and earn a productive living."

DALLAS, TEXAS, PARK CITIES NEWS: "The most potent force we can have toward combatting Communism is a citizenry aware of the workings and dangers of Communism—By keeping tab of the propaganda line as set forth in the party's known organs, we would be better able to recognize—its more subtle guise."

DENVER, COLO., MINING RECORD: "The events leading up to—the 'Nationalization' of gold—actually amounted to the robbery of a trusting, hard-working people who as a result lost not only their gold but more than half the value of their savings, pensions, life insurance, etc. The government had not one more whit of right to seize gold than it had to seize the steel properties."

GARDEN CITY, N.Y., NEWS: "America is a little like Noah's Ark. It is a sailing some uncharted and dangerous seas. And the passengers have come from every land in the world. For us the promotion of brotherhood is a necessity. With our heterogeneous population we must actively try to be tolerant, to see others' point of view—or we will all be in peril."

did those pickles give one an appetite! Long after I had passed the pickle stage and many years after Mr. Smith closed his store I searched far and wide for a pickle that tasted like the ones that use to tempt us out of the pickle barrel. I never found one. Either the taste bud of youth was different or the pickles had changed. I suspect a little of both was the reason for my unsuccessful search.

How silly can people get? The York County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is going to try and prevent the sale this year of colored baby chicks for the small fry's Easter basket. The members of the Society declare that one-half of the chicks die from being handled. That may or may not be true. But a chicken at the longest has only a life span of two or three years and has to be a mighty egg producer to last that long. It may be that if the Society would consult the chickens it would learn that any bright chick would prefer to live a short glamorous life as a pastel colored Easter chick than to end her life as chicken potpie in someone's dark and dreary coop. Imagine stewing with some gooey dough when one could be dressed in pink, yellow, or blue pastel and sitting in an Easter basket being admired and petted. If you were a chicken which fate would you prefer? We saw this in a want ad column last week: "Wanted, a farm hand to work ten hours a day to replace one who didn't."

Would you have the faith and courage to start a trip around the world with only 80 dollars in your pocket? Bob Christopher did and made it, but he doesn't advise anyone else to try it. At least that is what he told members and guests of the Hanover Dutch Treat Club last week at the Club's monthly meeting. To hear him tell of his experiences though, made the listener wish that he was about 22 and could try the same adventure. The trip was made by Christopher to prove to himself that all over the world people are basically the same and are basically good. He met with a few harrowing experiences like meeting up with dope smugglers in Asia and suffering a sunstroke in the desert. He arrived back in the U. S. with just 4.50 of the original 80 dollars left. He made his way from the West Coast to New York on the 4.50. It was extremely rugged and he warns everyone not to attempt it.

There is an old saying that if you want to buy a man's farm, talk to him in March. A bad March can make most farmers wish that they had never seen a farm. But this March is not one of them. This March has begun in a way that starts with calm and deliberate, with the green replacing the brown on fields, the moss on rocks turning bright emerald and birds replacing the alarm clock early in the morning in a subtle manner. Never harsh or alarming nor evidence that there is need for hurry. As indeed there is none; for nature follows a plan that cannot be hurried or delayed. Nature has a mature wisdom derived from seeing so many seasons come and go and return again. If March sometimes seems not to have a hand nor to know its own mind; blowing hot and cold in the same breath, this year it seems mature and ready to stop playing its childish pranks.

I heard a man say the other day he never argues with his wife any more because all he ever got out of it was indigestion. Wise man. The giant redwood trees of California and Oregon are one of the wonders of nature. Some of them have been standing ever since the birth of Christ. The man that cuts one of them down must feel very small and humble. Indeed I doubt very much that any man with poetry and imagination in his heart could bring himself to cause one of these giants to fall to the earth.

This is the period when the Christian world observes Lent. This is the time when the Christian is supposed to take an inventory on himself; to find out what spiritual and social security he has stockpiled within himself. For most of us the stockpile is too low for mental comfort. Too many of us only give lip service to our christian ideals and become opportunists in our daily living. For instance; we say we have love for our neighbors and we are willing to support one when it comes along. During this period of Lent we owe it to ourselves and to our children to take a firm stand against any future war whether we are the victim of an aggressor or the aggressor.

Gandhi was not a member of the Christian faith, but he was wise enough to know the utility of war. He advocated no retaliation by a victorious power in war; non-violent resistance to aggression or to a conqueror at the cost of being killed rather than killing and an open honest diplomacy between nations without the military pressures that creates fears, tensions, and hatreds. After living through two wars and seeing the results of both, I am convinced Gandhi was right. "What doth it profit my brethren, though a man say he has faith and have not works?" —James 2:14. No problem is beyond solving when men will face it instead of fighting about it.

SENATE CLOAKROOM
By J. Glenn Beall

The voice of America has been very strongly criticized for what appears to be good and sufficient cause.

A broadcast in French, for French listeners, supposedly for the purpose of giving the French a better understanding of the United States recently included the following statement:

"Miss Ferber knows the Texans well, whatever they may say to the contrary. The men drink bourbon by the gallon and the women are nitwits who talk but say practically nothing. And there are also the Mexican peons who work in the ranches and homes as servants and who live simple, harsh and difficult lives."

Michael G. Horneffer, a State Department employee, told a Senate committee that the above statement was made as part of a review of Edna Ferber's new novel, "The Giant". Many Senators are curious as to what type of American propaganda such statements can be. You may be sure the State Department will quickly change the type of broadcasts which have been made in the past.

Hearings will be held very shortly on a bill of which I am a co-sponsor for the purpose of establishing standby controls. The Senate Banking and Currency Committee, of which I am a member, has heard Secretary of State Dulles, and Secretary of the Treasury, Humphrey, give the administration's views on economic controls. Following these hearings, which were held in executive session, I joined Senator Capehart in sponsoring a bill providing standby controls which could be invoked by the President in the event of a national emergency.

The bill provides for controls for a period not exceeding 90 days and would freeze prices, wages and rents. During the 90 days period of temporary controls the Congress would have an opportunity to study whatever permanent controls might be needed.

Each Tuesday new Senators are luncheon with Cabinet Officers for the purpose of becoming better acquainted and to exchange information. We have met with John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, and this week we will have as our guest, Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture.

Governor McKeldin has designated this week, March 1 to 7, as Maryland's "Save Your Vision Week." I urge everyone in Maryland to observe this week which is set aside for the purpose of educating the public in the fundamentals of eye care.

People trying to promote Federal control of the Tidelands have given the impression that money from tideland oil leases would pay for the operation of public schools throughout the United States.

Hearings on Senate Joint Resolution 13, which affirms and establishes the titles of the States to such lands, have ended, and the resolution will undoubtedly be favorably reported out of committee, and personally, I believe it will be passed by the Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

Because of the very effective propaganda put out by the proponents of Federal control, however, I think the public is entitled to more complete information.

The Truman Administration and his followers have said that the revenues from tideland oil leases could be used to aid the State's public education system. They used this idea because it sounds attractive—provided you don't look too closely.

Maryland for the current year is spending over $35,000,000 for public education. What would our state receive if the Federal government distributed the revenues from tideland oil leases?

The total amount of all such revenues received by the three states of Texas, Louisiana, and California over thirty years is $77,292,000—or about twice the amount Maryland is spending on education in this one year alone.

Now, if the Federal government during that thirty year period had distributed the $77,292,000 to the 48 states each individual state would have received a total of $1,610,000. As the Federal contribution to Maryland's educational system, we would have received roughly $53,666.00 for the current year.

That is exactly how cheaply these land grabbers had hoped to buy control of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. Marylanders will never consent to Federal control of its fishing industry for such a trivial sum.

This is one of the reasons which has convinced me to vote for the passage of Senate Joint Resolution 13.

Residents on State Highway 120 in Montgomery County will be pleased to learn that the Post Office Department has approved their request that rural delivery service be extended out of Gaithersburg on Rural Route 1.

It was a pleasure to welcome the members of Prince Georges County Republican Women's Club, who with their president, Mrs. Laura Muller, visited my office and that of Congressman Frank Small.

Recently in looking through a magazine I ran across an advertisement headed "Why I got mad and wrote my Congressman". For a Senator and a former Congressman that was a most compelling statement.

What impressed me immediately was the difference between this headline and the mail which arrives in my office daily. I can't remember the first time I received a letter from anyone in Maryland which was intemperate in language or which indicated that the writer was greatly displeased.

All of which leads to discussion of what does the daily mail of a Senator contain. Generally people write because they want information on some particular subject or they have a problem with a governmental agency.

We do our best to see that the request is filled and we occasionally receive a generous letter of thanks as we did last week from the Ellersie Volunteer Fire Department in Allegany county.

The volunteer firemen have been troubled with a shortage of water during dry seasons and my office is endeavoring to obtain storage tanks for them.

I look upon my office as being a service organization. All of us realize (Continued on next page)

The miles that come in cans

Not too long ago, you took "pot luck" when you bought oil for your car. It all came out of a big drum. Whether you got the right weight and grade was often a matter of luck. Today, there are hundreds of different lubricants. Each is engineered to do a specific job in your car. Each is identified clearly for you in an attractive, tamper-proof can.

Oil, of course, isn't the only automotive product that comes in cans today. There are anti-freezes, windshield cleaners, tire-repair kits, nuts and bolts for minor repair jobs. Also waxes and car wash. These are just a few of the products that fill the millions of cans used in Maryland every year.

All are important contributions to the miles of happy motoring you enjoy. Moreover, they bring to American life economic benefits you probably never even thought of. Thousands of jobs, for example, are created. Purchasing power is increased. New businesses are able to get started.

It's true of any business in America—people working together make miracles happen. Consumers, workers and investors have made it possible for the American Can Company to do great things in the past, and to promise even greater ones for the future.

Why Did Jesus Die?

Lesson for March 29, 1953

AS Good Friday approaches we are all made aware—whether we belong to a church or not, whether we are "orthodox" or not—that this Friday commemorates the death of Jesus more than 19 centuries ago. It is a fact that no other death in the world's history has been so vividly remembered. Few biographies in the world's libraries give as large a part of their space to the death of their heroes as the Gospels do to the death of Christ. It is plain that the church sees in the death of Christ something quite different from the simple statement that has to go into every man's record: "He died."

It is something much more than an item in the vital statistics of the old Roman Empire. The deeper significance of the Cross comes out when we ask the simple question: Why did Jesus die?

We Were There

"Were you there when they crucified my Lord?" asks the well-known song. The answer is yes, always yes. It is said that when the barbarian fighter Clovis first heard the story of the crucifixion, he rose in anger: "If I and my men had been there, Jesus would not have been killed."

Dr. Foreman

But Clovis was mistaken. Soldiers were there, not barbarians either; well-disciplined troops, trained to uphold law and order. And the soldiers killed Jesus. Not a sword was raised for him.

There were doubtless hoodlums there, they swarm to such scenes; but the hoodlums did not kill Jesus. He was killed by order of a high court. The leaders of society, of business, of politics, joined in hounding him to death. The soldiers were carrying out the orders which were given because "everybody" (so Governor Pilate thought) demanded it. The respectable people who read this newspaper had their "opposite numbers" at Calvary.

Jesus died because human beings are the way they are. Jesus died because sinners are uneasy, even angry, in the presence of the good. Jesus died because the world being the kind of world it is, it was bound to crucify the Son of God. Jesus died because of sin, and we must not make the mistake of thinking it would have been different if we had been there.

For Our Sins

Jesus died for our sins. Paul writes to the Corinthians when he is putting the Gospel in a nutshell (1 Cor. 15:3). Partly that means because of our sins, as has just been said. But the word Paul uses (in the Greek in which he always wrote) has the startling meaning of "on behalf of, for the benefit of..."

It is true, the sin of man brought Jesus to the cross. But Jesus' death was not a matter of being beaten by sin. The Christian church has always looked on the cross as a sign of triumph, not defeat. Not our triumph, but God's triumph. Call it a paradox if you like, but God turned apparent defeat into victory.

Good Friday

Why is it that the Christian church calls it "Good" Friday and not "Bad" Friday? It is because the Christian church has experienced something strange: that men and women who have come close to the Cross and understood it in its deeper meaning, men and women who discovered in it the measure of God's love for us, have had their lives transformed. Other religions tell of gods who do not care much what men do. Other religions tell of gods who condemn sin and curse sinners. But only the religion of the New Testament tells about the true and only God, the God whose love is shown in sacrifice.

It is a sad mistake to think that what happened at the Cross was that Jesus mercifully stepped between us and an angry God. That is not the New Testament picture. What happened there was that "while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." And what that showed, Paul writes (Romans 5:8) is not first of all the merciful heart of Jesus but the loving heart of God. For the heart of Jesus was the heart of God.

SENATE CLOAKROOM

that as long as the Federal Government has such a direct influence on our daily lives then individuals will have problems with bureaucratic agencies. We accept it as our duty to assist the people of Maryland in adjusting their grievances. This is an obligation equal to that of acting on legislation—as Federal controls are eliminated then perhaps Senators can spend more time actually legislating.

If you need our help, write to us—and if you are mad write to us, too. Under the Dome

A delegation from the John R. Webb Post No. 3285, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Frederick, presented President Eisenhower this week with a gold plated membership in the post of club.

The club is only twenty minutes away from the presidential mountain retreat Shangri-la. Accompanying me on the visit to the White House were: Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., James B. Willard, Commander of VFW Post, Charles Roelke, Martin Gallbart, Ralph Knode.

March 15th is now passed. Your income tax has undoubtedly been paid, albeit reluctantly, your savings account has probably been considerably reduced and I am sure you are now wondering what Congress will do about reducing taxes.

It is trite but true that most legislators are in favor of all tax reduction bills and all appropriation bills. The cynical claim this is a sure way to be reelected.

What is an honest answer to the possibilities of tax reduction? A completely frank reply would be that for the immediate future it is not good, but, barring a great emergency, the outlook for the next couple of years is much brighter.

President Eisenhower has stated that the budget must be balanced before taxes are reduced, but added, "which doesn't mean you may not reform taxes."

The President's desire to have a balanced budget is, in my opinion, very sound. An unbalanced budget leads to inflation and a cheapening of money which always results in higher prices and more inflation. A sound economy is always based on a balanced budget.

The administration believes it can present a balanced budget to the Congress next year.

Now where are the possibilities of tax reforms? This is a field in which I believe the Congress can be of great service to the people. A good place to start would be by eliminating some of the inequities in the income tax law.

The average family figures its own tax and most of them can claim only personal exemptions. When they write in only $600 as a personal exemption they undoubtedly feel that it is ridiculously low.

The wage earner who deducts only $600 immediately recalls reading of "depletion allowances", capital-gains tax", and of the expense account deductions enjoyed by many businesses. It is only natural that the "little fellow" becomes slightly paranoid on March 15th and suffers a feeling of persecution.

In studying tax reduction I think the Congress might do well to consider increasing the exemption to a more realistic figure, say $1,000, than an across-the-board cut. A percentage cut is a small cut to the small taxpayer and a big cut for the big taxpayer.

Study also should be given to permitting employed persons to deduct some business expenses. A widow who works in order to support her children should be entitled to deduct something for the expense of a servant or nursery which cares for the children while she is working.

My efforts toward tax reduction will be in those directions.

GUILTY... of causing housewives' fatigue and hereby sentenced to oblivion!

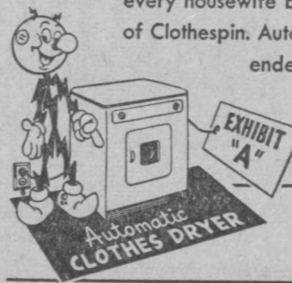

A jury of housewives has found Clothespin guilty of causing women untold fatigue. No need to go into the details of this sordid story—you know it all too well—the stooping, bending and lifting that Clothespin has made necessary for so many years.

But now his reign is over. No longer must every housewife be a slave to the demands of Clothespin. Automatic electric dryers have ended his washday domination forever. Today's modern housewife tosses her clothes in the electric dryer, sets the controls for the degree of dryness she wants—just right damp for ironing, or sunshine soft and fluffy for storing—and goes blithely on her way regardless of outdoor weather.

No wonder every woman is cheering Judge Reddy in imposing on Clothespin the well deserved sentence of "oblivion."

Drop in at your appliance dealer's and see Exhibit A in this trial—the electric dryer that exposed Clothespin's guilt and brought about his conviction.

Advertisement for lawn care products featuring a man sitting on a lawn and a speech bubble asking 'Is yours the dream lawn that didn't come true?'.

Yes—your lawn needs more than good soil, the best seed, faithful watering, hard work

Here are four new, easy ways to keep it green and healthy:

1) Easy All-Around Lawn Care! Only ORTHO Lawn Groom in one application: a) Feeds your lawn; b) Controls lawn insects; c) Kills weeds. It's easy to apply with ORTHO Lawn Spreader.

2) Easy Way to Kill Insects. New improved ISOTOX Garden Spray kills harmful lawn insects such as grubs and sod webworm (which become lawn moths) as well as chiggers, ticks, ants, flies, mosquitoes and many other irritating pests around lawn and dwelling areas. When you apply with ORTHO Lawn Sprayer attached to your garden hose, it's simple as watering!

3) A Balanced Fertilizer—So Easy to Apply. Wonderful Liquid Plant Food, ORTHO-GRO, will serve as a complete fertilizer for your lawn—as well as flowers, trees and shrubs. Contains organic fish in balanced fertilizer and gives your lawn the nitrogen it so badly needs. It's easy to use ORTHO-GRO—just apply with ORTHO Lawn Sprayer or sprinkling can.

4) Easy to Keep Your Lawn Weed-Free. For broad-leaved weeds spray with improved WEED-B-GON—won't harm hardy grasses. Also controls poison oak and poison ivy and certain other bushy growths. Apply with sprayer or sprinkling can.

Destroy weeds in patios, driveways, etc., with TRIOX. Sterilizes the soil and prevents all plant growth for 1 to 2 years. Note Label Cautions.
