OLD GLORY

On June 14th, 1777, the Continental Congress officially declared the Stars and Stripes to be the flag of the United States. One hundred and twenty years later, someone resurrected this significant fact, and Flag Day became a day for annual observance in 1897.

On this 176th anniversary of the original event—which is 35 stars later, and should be 37—seems a good time to recall the words of Woodrow Wilson on an earlier Flag Day.

"...this flag which we honor, and under which we serve is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation. The choice is ours."—National Industries News Service.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CAMERON WISC., BARRON COUNTY LEADER: "This newspaper favors a decrease in taxes (which can be effected by cutting the fat from government); an end to all forms of socialism in this republic; an American foreign policy based on common sense rather than dollar diplomacy; and a re-dedication to that fundamental American concept, 'that nation is best governed which is least governed.'"

COATESVILLE, PA., RECORD: "Despite dire predictions from some prophets of gloom, the lifting of ceilings was not accompanied by skyrocketing prices and an upward churning of the inflationary spiral. The wholesale price level has stayed virtually unchanged and consumer prices are continuing downward."

AZTEC, N.M., INDEPENDENT-REVIEW: "It may be contended that Communism hasn't gotten very far in this country but it hasn't hurt the communist cause to have people think the government should supply us with everything we want."

LAKE WORTH, FLA., HERALD: "The era of citizens living off public funds came into being during the past two decades, it has been a popular sport for many and sundry to climb onto the public feed wagon and not even bother about not letting their feet drag."

SENATE CLOAKROOM

by J. Glenn Beall
United States Senator from Maryland

When the people of the United States voted for a change of Administration one of the things they expected was a reduction in Federal expenditures, to be followed by a reduction in taxes.

The President and the Congress are conscientiously trying to keep that campaign promise, but to do it we must have the cooperation of every citizen of the United States.

For years my mail has contained letters complaining of high taxes, and instances of wasteful spending by the Government. I agreed with those correspondents and told them that as soon as my party became the majority party we were pledged to do something about it.

Since January 20 the Administration and Congress has been diligently working to effect every economy possible in so short a time. Millions and millions have been cut from the budget and the Administration has pledged itself to continue throughout the year to look for further economies which can be made.

As I interpret last November's election returns that is one of the things the people expected us to do.

Now my mail is filled with letters from people wanting cuts in certain budgets restored—many from the same people who for years have said they wanted less spending and less taxes.

This doesn't surprise me, nor disappoint me. But I do think that all of us should do a little serious thinking. First, are we really sincere in thinking that it is economically unsound to continue during periods of business prosperity the practice of high spending and high taxes.

Second, are we prepared to restrain from asking the Federal Government to do things which will increase spending and taxes.

If we answer yes, then each of us before asking the government to favor one of our special projects should practice the same kind of self sacrifice that we do when we see something in a store window which we desire, but which we know that this month we cannot afford.

Nothing is accomplished by having the Administration cut certain items from the budget and then have the Congress restore the funds. Yet that is what everyone in Congress is being asked to do.

To successfully put this nation back on a sound financial basis taxpayers and public officials alike must stop asking the government to do things which either can be delayed or done without.

Since this is the month of graduations many young people will start looking for jobs and thinking about their future careers. Certainly all high school graduates should seriously think about going to college and there are plenty of opportunities in such fields as engineering. But for the high school graduate who decides not to continue his education the government has a publication which might prove interesting.

The pamphlet is entitled "Job Guide for Young Workers" and describes opportunities for employment and advancement in forty different fields. Anyone who wishes a copy may secure one by writing to me.

Professional commentators and panel experts must be looking at their past laurels with sincere concern.

The success of the President's television program proves what everyone has long known, that is, that his tremendous popularity, accompanied by the prestige of his office, gives the President the support of the American people to a degree not known in government for some time.

Future programs may bring the problems of government directly into the American home in a manner never before experienced—all through the miraculous TV, which could make every citizen a member of the President's Cabinet. After seeing the program, every viewer must have been convinced by one of the President's concluding statements. "Government is just people," he said, and I am sure that everyone watching must have realized that what he said was true.

In fact, the entire presentation amplified what President Eisenhower said earlier in a press conference, when he commented on what appears to be differences of opinion among top ranking government leaders.

The fact that government is just people, means that not everyone will be in complete agreement at all times, and President Eisenhower said, "Now, not being a particularly patient man, I share the irritations and the sense of frustration that comes to everybody who is working for what he believes to be a decent purpose, and finds himself balked by what he thinks is the ignorance, or the errors of someone who is otherwise his friend."

"I understand those things, but I will tell you, only patience, only determination, only optimism and a very deep faith, can carry America forward."

"Here at home we have our differences on these things, because we are 160 million people, but I earnestly believe we cannot desert the great purpose for which we are seeking—for which we are working."

All of which is just another way of explaining that in order to get unanimity you must first have differences, discussions, and finally work out an agreement. Unanimity of opinion does not come naturally in a democracy, but only in a totalitarian state where contrary opinions are not tolerated.

The President and his experts in one half hour covered a wide range of government problems from finance to agriculture, and health, education and welfare to internal security. The areas discussed would be too much for the regular panel program, and it would be interesting to know the reaction of the commercial television purveyors of government opinion who have had a monopoly on interviewing government officials.

Undoubtedly they are worriedly watching the newest star who has so competently mastered television as he has whatever he has undertaken.

FIVE COUNTIES NAMED TO BOARD OF ELECTION

Five commissions for Carroll counties have been signed by Gov. Theodore McKeldin and received at the Court House, Westminster, Clerk of the Court Erma A. Shoemaker announced Monday, May 25. The following appointments were listed.

The Christmas Money Crop

Pumpkin is the gay deceiver of the canned food world—it is sometimes squash. In the Tri-State area squash is preferred by the canners.

Indeed, the government permits the practice of labeling the golden-fleshed sweet varieties of squash as "pumpkin," but not vice versa, since squash is considered more delicate in taste, texture and coloring. Good cooks know the recipes are interchangeable and that the results, those pumpkin pies, baked squash dishes and so on are delectable no matter what the botanical definition.

With the chore of preparing pumpkin or squash for cooking eliminated by the processed product, demand has risen steadily, which is fitting since the two are as American as sweet corn in origin. The national pack last year was almost 4½ million cases, 6 to 24 cans in a case, compared with less than 2 million cases in 1950. The Tri-State area is a major source, supplying some 9,500,000 cans last year.

Timing of Crop

While such quantities have long since taken the commodity out of any seasonal or holiday connotation, the crop itself carries a kind of "Christmas bonus" meaning for the growers. Planted from June 20 on, after the spring rush is over, harvested in October after the fall rush, the crop brings in its cash return in early December. Gross production cost is low, around $25 per acre, with gross return ranging from $50 to $150.

Large-fruited varieties like Boston Marrow or Golden Hubbard are preferred for processing. They will grow in any well-drained productive soil, doing best at a pH of 6.0 or 6.5, says Dr. Charles H. Nissley, vegetable crops Extension specialist at Rutgers University. Fertilizer needs are moderate; none may be necessary if a heavily fertilized crop like peas precedes the squash.

Dr. Nissley points out that while varieties within a species will cross-pollinate if grown close together, true pumpkin and true squash will not cross with each other nor with cucumber, muskmelons or watermelons.

The crop grows fast. It requires only a limited number of weekly cultivations. Very little labor is necessary and no special equipment. Cover crops, as scarlet clover or rye grass, can be broadcast at the last cultivation.

Avoid Bruising Fruit

Your county agent or canner fieldman will help on any problems. In harvesting, avoid bruising and use of pitchforks. Poor color fruit cannot be processed—rich appetizing color is part of the appeal. Excess yield makes fine stock feed; some hog growers rank it with corn in value.

And if you wonder what becomes of all those seeds, thousands of pounds are sold to candy manufacturers.

ROOP'S MILL

Dr. Lavinia C. Wenger and Elder William E. Roop are delegates, for Meadow Branch Church, to the General Conference of the Church of the Brethren, to be held June 16-20, 1953, at Colorado Springs, Colorado.

After the conference, they will go to the Pacific Slope, and spend part of the summer months in Seattle, Washington. Rev. Roop's son Earl W. Roop and family, have founded a successful mission, in the suburbs of Seattle, known as the Licton Springs mission. They have built one church, and have need for another one. They have one daughter in the Washington University. Another employed in one of the largest Savings Banks in U. S. A., and a third daughter, still in grammar grades.

Elder William E. Roop was feted last Sunday in the Meadow Branch Church of the Brethren. It was his 60th ministerial anniversary; and so printed on the regular printed program for the day. Pastor A. J. Caricof extended congratulations in the name of the congregation, and also gave encouragement, to the large assembly present. This prosperous church stands partly on the land donated by the Roop family. Quoting from a late record 'in 1893 this church asked him to become its pastor'. The attractive bouquet of flowers, presented by Mrs. W. A. Steel for the church service, was given to Rev. Roop, unanimously. Upon his arrival home, a great surprise was in awaiting. His eldest daughter, Dr. Lavinia C. Wenger, with the family, had prepared a most delicious anniversary dinner. During the dessert cake was brought in crowned with six lighted candles. Each one represented ten years; making a total of sixty years, of illumination from the Bible. Twenty-two were present for the dinner. Among them was Pastor A. J. Caricof and wife and son. Their son just graduated from Bridgewater College, Virginia, seven grandchildren with their husbands and wives were present, and five great-grandchildren.

MANN-MEHRING

The wedding of Miss Wanda Mehrling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Mehrling, Taneytown, Md., to Mr. Frederic A. Mann, son of Mrs. Frederic B. Mann and the late Mr. Mann of Phoenix, Arizona, was solemnized Sunday, June 7, 1953, at 3 p. m., in Trinity Lutheran church.

Rev. Glenn L. Stahl performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. George Hanner, organist, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Carol Lee Davis of Baltimore who sang "I Love You Truly," "Through the Years," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gownned in a dress of white satin with sweetheart neck and long pointed sleeves featuring applied bow on long train. Her full length veil of silk illusion was edged in Brussels hand made lace and formed a halo around her face. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, and she carried a

MARINE ARRIVED IN SAN FRANCISCO

Marine Cpl. Byron E. Crouse, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Paul Crouse, Rt. 1, Keymar, Md., was one of 3038 Marine and Navy veterans of the First Marine Division who arrived in San Francisco recently from Korea aboard the U. S. Navy Ship General Nelson M. Walker.

In the next five days, Cpl. Crouse will receive medical and dental examinations, new clothing as required, pay and orders assigning him to a new duty station in the U. S. At the end of this processing period he will be given leave to visit relatives and friends.

A veteran of two years Marine Corps service, Cpl. Crouse recently completed 12 months in Korea where he served as a mechanic with the First Marine Division. For this service, he is entitled to wear the U. N. Service Medal and the Korean Service Medal.

Prior to his enlistment in the Marine Corps for three years at Baltimore, Md., in April 1951, he attended Elmer Wolfe High School at Union Bridge.

colonial bouquet of white rosebuds, orchid and stepha.

Mrs. William Teeter, Gettysburg, Pa., sister of the bride, served as matron of honor and wore a gown of yellow rice cloth with full skirts, and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds and carnations trimmed with green net and ribbon streamers.

The bridesmaids, wearing matching dresses of green carried colonial bouquets trimmed with yellow ribbon streamers and net, and who wore floral head pieces, were Mrs. Richard Mehrling, Kensington, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Betty Mehrling, Silver Spring, cousin of the bride; Miss Janet Wilcox, of Gaithersburg; Miss Shirley Hoff, New Windsor and Miss Janet Bechtel, Hollywood, Florida, roommates of the bride. The bridegroom had as his bestman, Lt. Robert Ford, Jr., of Annapolis, Md. Dr. Richard S. Mehrling, Kensington, brother of the bride; Mr. William H. Teeter, Gettysburg, Pa., brother-in-law of the bride; Ensign Harry E. Robson, Johnstown, Pa.; Ensign William E. Ramsey, Alexandria, Va., and 2nd Lt. Robert Donnelly, San Diego, Calif., served as ushers attired in dress uniforms and summer formal suits and were Sterling Mehrling, Kensington, and Andrew Teeter, Gettysburg, Pa., nephews of the bride.

Angela Teeter, Gettysburg, Pa., niece of the bride, acted as flower girl and was dressed in a long white organdy dress over yellow taffeta and carried a white basket of yellow roses. A reception held on the lawn of the bride's home for about 225 guests included guests from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Virginia and Maryland.

The bride is a graduate of Taneytown High school, class of 1952 and has completed her first year at the University of Maryland, where she belonged to Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority. She has enrolled at the University of Arizona for the fall.

The groom, a 1953 graduate of the Annapolis Naval Academy, has been commissioned as a 2nd Lt. in the Air Force and will be stationed at Marana Air Base, Tucson, Ariz.

For her traveling ensemble, the bride chose a white and black linen suit with white linen accessories and an orchid corsage. After a brief honeymoon in the Poconos, the newly weds will visit in Taneytown before continuing their wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Canada and to California. They will reside in Tucson, Ariz.

NULL - HESS

The marriage of Miss Estelle Marie Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Hess, Taneytown, to George Daniel Null, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Null, Taneytown, was solemnized at seven o'clock, June 8th, in Trinity Lutheran church, Taneytown.

The Rev. Glenn L. Stahl, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families. Miss Hazel Hess, Taneytown, aunt of the bride, was organist and accompanied the soloist, Miss Barbara Longwell, Baltimore, classmate of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported embroidered organdy over taffeta and a fingertip veil of silk illusion which fell from an organdy cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. George Head, Belair, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and her only attendant. She wore a gown of white organdy over pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath.

The bridegroom chose as bestman, Jack Haines, Taneytown and John Grier, Forest Hill, as usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to the Poconos.

The bride is graduate of The Union Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore. The bridegroom is graduate of Gettysburg College. The couple will reside in Newark, Delaware, where Mr. Null will fill a graduate assistantship in chemistry at the University of Delaware.

Now She Knows

Searching from bar to bar for her errant husband, the lady finally caught up with him at 2 a. m. in "Pete's Place." She marched up to the bar and sampled the drink sitting before him.

"Ugh!" she exclaimed, making a wry face. "Bill Johnson, how can you stand to drink such horrible stuff?" she demanded angrily.

"You see," he said reproachfully. "You thought I was out having fun."

Like Big Things

A young couple were visiting the maternal grandparents of their five-months-old son. After a week had elapsed, it was time to go home.

"Why don't you leave him with us?" said the grandfather. "We'll give him anything his little heart desires."

"It's all right with me," replied the father. "He's crazy about big new shiny automobiles."

Snared

Little boy, who has just let in young man, calls to sister: "The bird-in-hand's here!"

CROSSFIRE

It's Jimmy Durante's story about the ball game being umpired by a runt of a fellow. An enormous player was at the plate and an equally large catcher stood behind him. The count was one and one. The little umpire watching the pitch sizzle across a corner, yelled, "Two!"

"Two what?" snarled the catcher, mashing his mask into the umpire's face.

"Yeah, two what?" growled the batter, raising his hat.

The umpire looked from one brute to the other, and said: "Too close to tell!"

Miss Elizabeth Annan spent from Sunday until Thursday in Bethesda, with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mowbray-Clarke and daughter, Hester. Mrs. Mowbray-Clarke and daughter accompanied Miss Annan home and will spend the week-end. Miss Annan attended the commencement exercises at the National Cathedral School, Washington, D. C.

Reifsnider's store, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Reifsnider in Harney, was recently sold, together with all stock and fixtures to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miller, of Silver Spring, Md. Possession has already been given the purchasers. The sale was made by Robert L. Zentz, local representative for E. A. Strout Realty Agency, Inc., as a result of the large Strout Catalog in which the store was advertised.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hesson, Mr. Chas. B. Kephart and Mr. Wallace Reinhold were present at the Alumni Council dinner of Gettysburg College, on Friday evening, in Huber Hall. On Saturday they and Mrs. Kephart attended the Alumni Collation and Business Session held in the gymnasium. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Hesson were at the 1913 Class Reunion banquet which was in the Seminary Refectory. This class raised $2500 for the College, and is to be known as the 1913 Class Scholarship Fund.

"May Day" surely is just for the kiddies which has convinced Your Observer viewing the affair in the school in Dublin. It was precious!

Visited a real "TURKEY FARM" the other day. Saw the machine where off comes his head, then the plucking machine and then the continued process for dressing and then right there and as the door was opened to this room—there they were hundred of wrapped frozen turkeys all ready for the purchaser with the weight marked on each package!

Dozens of cars stop by daily to pick up the turkey in this new and modern method!

Well, folks Abagail and David arrived at the Parsonage—two fine goats and here's to that nice Realtor around the town or any Realtor! When a city prospect comes to look at the farm but hesitates in purchasing it due to so many weeds of the ground which they do not desire to use just suggest a couple of goats to them. And did you know that GOATS ARE FRIGHTFULLY SCARCE and expensive, too? That's a real idea for someone—just start a goat farm!

Whatever you do, Ladies when you buy Gelatine next time be sure it is only "ROYAL" for there is the biggest difference in the flavor and aroma than any other brand. Your Observer would not take a substitute since learning recently about this brand.

It comes in all flavors and it is the best dessert instead of having the oven going in the hot summer. Here's a new one, too of "ROYAL" Instant pudding desserts which are HOME GENIZING! To prepare is so simple and that is what we desire the most plus attractive and tasty dishes. Be sure it is only "ROYAL". You will never buy any other.

Now, here's a nice one for the State Roads! Along the main highway under trees, place a table and benches every five miles or so for the out of State cars—a little back off the road and have a sign, "WELCOME—for your convenience"! That will mean real hospitality for the out of state individuals from the State of Maryland! THEN IT MAY MEAN, too, giving a rest to the tired driver and aid in preventing accidents!

That wonderful "LANE CHESAPEAKE BAY BRIDGE" is surely rolling in the dough, rae, me! Eh?

In Philly there are WROUGHT IRON tables now for T.V. sets which means you won't have to invest in that extra table for the television. They sell for only $8.00. To the Teen-agers! As school is out this week be sure and secure a position immediately. It will really mean a grand foundation for you until school starts again.

Don't forget next week is Father's Day!

Have a grand week end. Be careful as you drive along and if a speeder wants the road—give him all of it! Until next week D. V.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES AS SEEN THROUGH THE EYES OF A PUPIL

At 8 p. m. on Sunday, May 31, in an atmosphere of solemnity and dignity, the Baccalaureate service was held in the high school auditorium. The program began with the traditional processional, "Praise Ye The Father" by Gounod, followed by the invocation and Lord's Prayer offered by the Rev. G. E. Galambos. The remainder of the program consisted of: a hymn, "Beautiful Saviour"; responsive reading led by the Rev. Edmund Welker; a special musical rendition by the boys' sextette; scripture reading and prayer by the Rev. Morgan Andrews. "Send Out Thy Light" rendered by the mixed chorus; an inspiring, as well as interesting, sermon by the Rev. Glenn L. Stahl; the closing hymn, "Now The Day Is Over"; and the benediction offered by the Rev. Edmund Welker followed by a choral response.

"The Toast of Taneytown", an imitation television show, was presented by the members of the class of '53 on Tuesday night, June 2, at 8 p. m. Harry Dougherty and Nancy Pennington were featured as the announcer and mistress of ceremonies, respectively. Three short plays were presented as the main attraction, viz., "Alice's Blue Gown", a comedy, featuring Phyllis Salley, Mary Jo Robb, Dorothy Fogelson, Julia Humbert, Jo Ann Wolf, Barbara Simpson, Mildred Weant, and Ruth Ridinger; "Murder at the Class Reunion", presented by Billy Gillespie, David Reifsnider, Donald Carl, Fern Bachman, Delmont Koons, and Dean Brown; and "All On A Summer's Day", Georgia Ingram, Dottie Hartsock, Jane Gilds, and Shirley Forsythe participating. Interspersed between these plays were short skits, namely, "A Dairy Scene with the Treble Clefs and Harold Sutphin. "Personal Rights" presented by Joseph Sharrer and Larry Davidson, and "Lolly-todum" featuring Kitty Dale, Janet Rodkey, Blanche Shorb, Joan Baumgardner, Elizabeth Miller, Evelyn Baumgardner, Genevieve Baumgardner, Caroline DeLawder, Gloria Kearney, Rhoda Rohrbaugh, and Betty Koons depicting an American folk-dance. The program ended with the presentation of the gift to the school by Joan Baumgardner and Yvonne Foreman, the presentation of the key to the Junior Class, and the "Aloha", accompanied by Betty Bankert on the guitar.

On Thursday night, the high school days of thirty-six seniors terminated with the commencement exercises. In accordance with tradition the seniors marched into the auditorium to the processional, "Praise Ye The Father". The invocation was offered by the Reverend Miles Reifsnider, and greetings were extended by Mr. S. M. Jennings, Superintendent of Education in Carroll County. Dr. Earl Ferguson, Professor of Homeletics at Westminster Seminary, presented the address of the evening. Diplomas were awarded to the members of the graduating class by Mr. Clyde Hesson, Vice-president of the Carroll County Board of Education. A number of awards were presented to deserving students by Mr. Francis Lookingbill, Post Commander of the American Legion; Mr. George Sauble, President of the Alumni Association, and Mr. Elwood Baumgardner, President of the PTA.

Special musical presentations were rendered throughout the program by the orchestra, a brass ensemble, the mixed chorus and the boys' chorus. The benediction was offered by the Reverend Miles Reifsnider.

The Reverend Glenn L. Stahl was the guest speaker at the weekly Key Club meeting on Tuesday, June 2.

On Monday, June 1, the eleventh grade along with Mrs. Sanders and Mr. Norman motored to Mt. Vernon. Following their visit there they visited the Shakespearean Library and the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. This trip was a history and an English project.

The T. H. S. baseball team, without one single defeat, has been declared the Champion high school baseball team in Carroll County.

Would You Believe It?

Dishwater used in one year by a housewife would float a boat.

If all the dishes she washes yearly were made into one big dish, it would support her home.

Dishes washed in one year by a housewife would tower many times over New York's glass skyscraper, Lever House.

If Dishes Were Wishes, They'd Always Be Clean

We can't wish dishes clean, so the next best solution is to follow a simple plan of action, as worked out by dishwashing laboratory experts. First in your recipe to save time and motion is... Teamwork. Even dishwashing is more fun when you do it with someone. Comfortable clothing is next for a good job well done. Sleeves up, on with an apron. A tray to carry in stacks of dishes at one time (particularly after a party). Scrape food and grease off plates, sudsing with the new, economical Lux Liquid Detergent (one can will wash 2,000 dishes). Sorting makes for greater efficiency, too. First glassware into the dishpan, then silver, china, and utensils, in that order. Soaking pots and pans clean is accomplished while you dine. Just fill with hot water and pour in a few drops of detergent from the can, to dissolve the grease. Rinsing under the faucet, with a spray, or in a pan of hot water, leaves dishes and glassware sparkling... pots and pans shining clean. Dishwashing is never a picnic, but it can be a lot easier with the systematic efficiency of your new seven point program.

Plowing Back the Profits

THERE is no record in the Gospels that Christ Jesus had a regular income, but there is abundant proof that he never lacked. He was able to feed not only himself but multitudes when the need arose. When he had to pay a tax, money was found in a fish's mouth, adequate not only for himself, but also for Peter. The fact is, Christ Jesus was always about his Father's business, and in that spiritual activity his human needs were met.

The power he so readily commanded he used to free himself and others from human limitations that the Father's business might be furthered. One might say that he plowed back the increase into his Father's business.

... It is a business of Christly living, of understanding God, His goodness and omnipotence, and practicing what we understand. It is a business of loving God supremely and our neighbor as ourselves. It means demonstrating progressive dominion over material limitations, in order that the man of God's creating may appear. It means putting spiritual things first.

In the pursuit of this business our human need is taken care of because we stop believing in the reality of materiality, and so become more independent of it. We discover that our understanding of God is true substance, and our thought becomes receptive to hitherto unrecognized spiritual resources. When demonstrate not money or houses or cars, but an increasing freedom from cramping limitations. We gain a sense of abundance that cannot be restrained from giving, an understanding trust that God can and does take care of us and all mankind.

In her book "Miscellaneous Writings" Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, writes (p. 307): "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and in turn, they give you daily supplies. Never ask for tomorrow: it is enough that divine Love is an ever-present help; and if you wait, never doubting, you will have all you need every moment. What a glorious inheritance is given to us through the understanding of omnipresent Love!"... Christ Jesus said (Luke 12:29-31): "Seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you."

We must be sure that we welcome "all these things" as something to make us less dependent on matter, not more so. We welcome them as servants, never as masters. We plow back all profits into the Father's business. In this way we increase in spiritual freedom, riches, and understanding. In this way we find happiness, success, and a true and unshakable peace of mind.

We read in the Bible this message from God (Jeremiah 9:23, 24): "Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Q. Can both cecal and intestinal coccidiosis occur at once?

A. Yes, they can. But if they occur singly or together, use Dr. Salsbury's Sulquin for control. This drug-product treats both cecal and intestinal types of coccidiosis. Use Sulquin Liquid in drinking water, or Sulquin Soluble Powder in feed or water. Save costly "coxy" losses by using Sulquin. Also for checking losses from acute fowl cholera.

RECORD-BREAKING GAS MILEAGE

for the driving YOU do!

This year's Chevrolet brings you the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And it's the kind of everyday economy that saves you money wherever and however you drive!

Inch along through heavy traffic. Roll up the miles in steady highway cruising. Long trips or short errands, byroads or boulevards, you get far more miles per gallon in this great new Chevrolet.

New high-compression power is the reason: Both the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models—and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine in gearshift models—deliver more power on less gasoline. Acceleration and hill-climbing ability are greater, fuel consumption is lower!

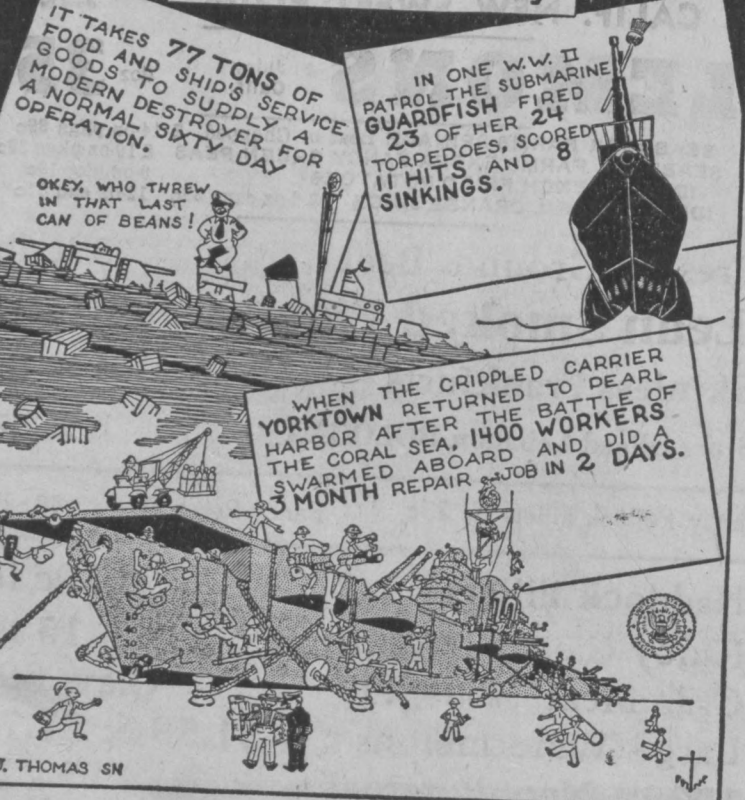

This is the kind of economy that counts the most—important gasoline savings for the driving you do, together with lower over-all costs of upkeep. And along with it, you enjoy all the other advantages that only the new Chevrolet offers you. Come in and see for yourself!

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission available on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models only.

Free Christians

Lesson for June 14, 1953

WHEN Paul speaks of Christians as "dead to the law" or "free from the law" he is not thinking of what we call the law of the land. Paul was very careful to observe the laws of his own Roman Empire, as well as all local laws. Furthermore, when Paul speaks of Christians' freedom from law he does not mean that a Christian can afford to turn his back on the Ten Commandments, even though when he says "law" he is usually thinking about those Ten Commandments and all they involve. Let us see what is meant by saying Christians are dead to the law.

Dr. Foreman

Law As A Curse

Paul speaks more than once of the "curse" of the law, as for example in Gal. 3:13—Christ "redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us." Now it may seem odd and even perverse to think of law as a curse, especially a good law. And particularly the law of God; how can that possibly be a curse? To understand this we have to think our way back into Old Testament times. There were certainly some people, like the unknown poet who wrote the 119th Psalm, who loved the Law and found joy in studying and keeping it. But for every such man there must have been numberless others who found the law just what Paul at one time in his life had found: a sort of standing threat on God's part. "Do this or else—; don't do that or else—." Don't we know people in our times who think of God as keeping a sort of record book full of black marks, — who think of God as keeping up with us just in order to take down everything bad we say or do or think? A person who is not very conscientious may think gaily, "I'll get by;" but a conscientious person who realizes what a high standard the law calls for, may live in terror lest God demand vengeance for every broken law, great or small. Now the Christian can breathe freely; he is free from such terrors because whatever curse there may be in the law, Christ has taken upon himself.

Law As A Condition

Then the Christian is free from the law as a condition of God's favor. "When shall I be good enough for God to love me?" is a question no one ought to ask. The Christian is one who has discovered that God's love does not wait for our obedience. A mother does not wait till her baby is old enough to understand her and obey her before she will love him. And even when he is old enough to understand, if he disobeys she may disapprove and punish him, but she will not stop loving him. If God had waited to love us till we were good enough to love, he would be waiting yet. It is God's gracious love that produces what goodness we have, not the other way around. Doing what God wants done is absolutely right and we should try our best every day to do just that.

But it is absurd to think that God's love is like a thermometer that goes up and down with the temperature of our obedience. We can't earn our way into God's favor. As we were noticing last week, the smile of God is not for sale.

Law As A Cage

Again, law for some people is a kind of cage. Inside its narrow pattern they carefully live. They do what they must, what the law compels; but beyond that they will not go. They are only as good as they have to be. Now the Christian is free from the law as a cage, just as he is free from it as a curse and as a condition. The Christian loves by faith, hope and love; and these take him clear beyond the limits of law.

A husband who does for his wife and family only what the law requires will be a poor husband. A citizen who will do no more for his country and community than just not to break any laws, is not the best type of citizen. A soldier who will not go beyond the line of duty will deserve no medals. A "Christian" who does no more than barely try to keep from breaking the Ten Commandments is never the high-level Christian. A Christian is free. He is law-abiding; but he does not live "under" law, he lives under Grace. It is a different atmosphere.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

the tuition scholarships at Western Maryland College from the various districts of the county. The Board awarded four year scholarships as follows: Taneytown District, Ruth Ridinger 1953 graduate of the Taneytown High School; Woolery's District Patricia Patterson, Finksburg graduate of the Westminster High School; Mary Lee, 1952 graduate of the New Windsor High School, 4 year scholarship from the New Windsor District; Nancy Lindsay, 1953 graduate of the New Windsor High School; Westminster District, 4 year scholarship to Patricia Richter, 1953 graduate of the Westminster High School. One year scholarship appointments were made as follows from the various districts: Myers district, Nancy Lou Pennington, Taneytown High School; Freedom District, John Kauffman, Westminster High School; Manchester District, William Humbert, Westminster High School; Dean Griffin, Westminster; Hampstead District, Shelley, Myers, Westminster; Franklin District, Shirley Woodruff, Westminster; Joan Halter, Westminster; Middleburg District, Gertrude Banker, Westminster No. 5; Jean Staub, Westminster; Union Bridge District, Ralph Close, Westminster; Marilyn Seemer, Westminster; Mount Airy District, Donald Erb, Taneytown; Berrett District, Jane Gilds, Taneytown. If scholarship vacancies in Western Maryland occur later in the summer they will be filled at a future meeting of the Board of Education.

The Board considered several problems relating to teaching personnel in the various schools of the county and the superintendent was instructed to continue the efforts to secure a competent and adequate teaching staff for the schools in September.

A brief report was given regarding negotiations and progress connected with the securing of additional funds for school construction during the coming year. The Board had some assurance of increased funds for buildings and directed the superintendent to proceed as rapidly as possible in the planning of proposed buildings. Immediate building problems confronting the Board are: (1) Completion of the Sykesville building (2) Erection of elementary school facilities in the Freedom District (3) Erection of high school facilities for Hampstead and Manchester District (4) Improvement and additions to elementary and junior high school in Westminster.

The Board approved the use of the newly completed Civilian Defense Manual for the schools of the county during the school year 1953-54. The superintendent was directed to distribute the bulletin and to bring about reasonable adherence to the recommended practices.

Announcement was made of the various graduations in the high schools throughout the county and the Board was given copies of the list of graduates for all of the county high schools. Graduation exercises will conclude on Wednesday, June 10 with the New Windsor and Charles Carroll graduations.

The Board considered briefly some of the problems studied during the recent conference of all school board members in the state; this conference having been held in Baltimore under the direction of the State Superintendent, Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr.

Action was taken on several problems connected with water supply and other details connected with summer work and improvement of buildings. The Board also approved negotiations for the purchase of additional school lands at several county locations.

The attention of the Board was called to the number of retarded children now being accommodated in regular classes in the county and the Board was advised that a definite need for special and remedial instruction existed. The superintendent was directed to take whatever action was necessary to improve this condition and to secure funds and personnel for increased services in this area.

The Board made several appointments connected with custodial and clerical service in the county office and in some of the county schools.

Resignations of the following were accepted, Robert Kersey, instrumental music teacher; William Stonesifer, Westminster High School; Bina Carbaugh, Westminster East End School; Mrs. Nancy Molesworth, Westminster High School; Louis Halter, Sykesville High School; Mrs. Barbara Lynch, Charles Carroll Elementary School; Mrs. Margaret Golliday, janitress at the Sykesville School, Miss Mildred Grossnickle, Hampstead Elementary school.

The Board granted an official leave of absence to Joseph Wagner, Mount Airy School, to study in the field of higher education during the coming year.

The Board considered several requests for the use of buildings and grounds during the summer and made decisions regarding the conditions under which buildings and grounds may be used. Some time was given to the consideration of insurance for the county schools and after consideration action was taken to instruct the insurance supervisor to proceed with the preparation of policies as is required.

The Board approved a list of new teachers who had been employed for assignment to various positions throughout the county and it was ordered that the list be published. Final announcement of teaching assignments in all of the county schools will be made after recommendations are approved in early August.

Appointment of forty-five new teachers for 1953-54 approved by the Board of Education June 9, 1953.

Ruth Adams, Trenton, N. J., from Wilson College; Edward Wilcox, Westminster, from Princeton University; Joseph Zigler, Brownsburg, Va., Virginia Polytechnic; Virginia Yohn, New Windsor, from Juniata College.

The Board considered several communications from the county schools and directed that appropriate action be taken as is possible with present financial support.

It is hoped that reasonable rapid progress can be made in beginning the planning of additional school buildings where the need for additional housing exists.

Mr. Herbert Anders visited the Board meeting and some time was given to the discussion of insurance problems.

The Board adjourned at 12:30 p. m.

MAJOR LEGISLATION OF PLANNING SIGNIFICANCE REPORTED FOR MARYLAND

For the convenience of county and municipal agencies concerned with planning problems, the State Planning Commission has prepared a special report on "Major Legislation of Planning Significance", enacted by the 1953 General Assembly and signed by the Governor. Divided into seven sections, the report covers the following subjects:

1. State Public Works.
2. State Finance.
3. Local Planning, Zoning, and Re-development.
4. Local Finance (borrowing powers; taxing powers and exemptions).
5. Local Public Works (water, sewerage, and other sanitary facilities; electric utilities; streets, highways, and off-street parking; public buildings; schools; recreation).
6. Local Boundary Changes.
7. New Municipalities.

Copies of the report are available for limited distribution. Requests should be addressed to Mr. I. Alvin Passerow, Director, Maryland State Planning Commission, 100 Equitable Building, Baltimore 2, Maryland.

Order is Heaven's first law.—Alexander Pope.

T. H. S. BASEBALL TEAM COMES TO END OF WINNING STREAK

Chuck Ecker's Taneytown High School baseballers came to the end of their winning ways Friday afternoon, May 29, 1953, when the Tigers bowed 3-1, to Thurmont High School in Frederick County. It was the first defeat for the Carroll Countians who had won six straight, including a previous 10-3 victory over Thurmont.

All the scoring was done in the 1st inning in the well-played contest marred by only two errors, both by Taneytown. The Ecker-men moved on top in their half of the session, tallying when Wayne Baumgardner tripled, scoring Marvin Copenhaver, who had walked. Baumgardner was left stranded at third. Thurmont scored its runs in the home half of the inning.

Larry Eckard started on the mound for Taneytown, pitched two innings before giving way to Harry Dougherty. Each moundsman gave two hits but Thurmont managed to combine the brace off Eckard for its runs. Taneytown got but two hits, Baumgardner's three-ply sock and a single by Dean Nussbaum.

Still unbeaten by Carroll County foes, Taneytown, will close out its season meeting Mt. Airy June 2, 1953 in the afternoon in Mt. Airy.

SHORT STORY

People Are Funny

By MAUDE NORMAN

LINDA pushed back the pile of papers she was correcting as the large figure of Mrs. Trumball bore down upon her.

"Miss Collins," Mrs. Trumball's voice matched her form. "I trust I have been misinformed. In fact I said so most emphatically."

"Oh, no," I said, "I am positive Miss Collins would not do such a thing, but I came to hear you deny it yourself."

"And what did Dorothy Mae tell you?"

"That you had given the part of Miss America, in the Christmas festival, to a foreigner."

"Rosa is not a foreigner," Linda looked directly into the face of the angry woman. "Her parents are naturalized and Rosa was born in this town."

"She is still a foreigner. How could you give such an important part to a person like that?"

"Like Dorothy Mae?" queried Linda. "Well, I was hoping she would be given the part. After all, why not? Her father served overseas. He was a major," her voice implying that settled the matter.

"Rosa's brother was killed on Iwo Jima," Linda answered softly.

"So were plenty of other men," retorted Mrs. Trumball. "I am sorry to be so insistent, Miss Collins, but Dorothy Mae has her heart set on being Miss America. This little foreign child will never appreciate it as she will."

"I am sorry," Linda answered firmly, "but I am afraid Rosa keeps the part. She has the songs learned and sings them beautifully."

"Indeed! Then all I can say, Miss Collins, is that you have not heard the last of this matter."

Linda laid her head on the desk. She knew how much influence Mrs. Trumball had and how she used it to gain her own ends. She wondered what she would say to the principal.

SHE RAISED her head, dabbing at her eyes as the door opened. "I suppose you have heard I am unfit to teach our dear little children," she said shakily.

Mark Clemens smiled. "I am also unfit to be principal. I suppose you have a perfectly good reason for giving the part to this other child."

"It means so much to Rosa," Linda said slowly. "When we give the pledge to the flag, you can see she means every word of it. But when I discovered she was saving her pennies to burn a candle in church so her prayer would be answered, I decided such faith should be rewarded. I think she would make a lovely Miss America."

Linda heard a lot the next few weeks about what was supposed to happen. The rest of the teachers were with her whole-hearted, but the night of the Festival found her nervous and worried.

The different scenes from the Allied countries, the songs and dances of the children were generously applauded. But Linda felt a tenseness in the air. When the time came for the final scene, America singing her song of welcome and comfort to the rest of the nations, Linda knew whatever was brewing would now come to a head.

"This is not on the program," he began, "but I wanted to say a few words while they are changing the scenery. I do not believe in a lot of flag-waving and talk about democracy while forgetting the principles underlying that word. That is why I think it is very appropriate that tonight Miss America is portrayed by a child, born in this country of parents who came here to seek the freedom we take for granted, and who gave a son to defend that freedom. Ladies and Gentlemen, little Rosa Campus a true American."

The curtain rose to show Rosa, her dark eyes glowing, holding aloft the flag, as the rest of the nations gathered around her.

"How about a celebration?" Mark asked, meeting Linda in the hall. "Do you think Mrs. Trumball will make troubles for us?"

"Not now," Linda answered merrily. "Believe it or not, I saw her shaking hands with Mrs. Campus and she actually kissed Rosa. Then she told me she knew she hadn't made any mistake when she insisted I be put in charge of the Festival."

"People are funny," Mark grinned, "but they are also nice."

He Foxed 'Em

Russell Sage, the railway magnate, was extremely cautious. Once, in anticipation of a lawsuit, he summoned his attorneys and presented the case.

"We can't lose," they assured him. "The facts are all in our favor."

"You're sure?" asked the millionaire.

"In that event," said Sage, "we had better drop the case. I just presented my opponent's side to you."

Get It Straight

The driver and his helper decided to go hunting. In the deep woods, they were sprung on by a bobcat. The helper jumped for a tree and the bobcat and the driver went 'round and 'round. "Do you want me to come down and help you hold him?" he yelled from his perch. "No," yelled back the driver, "but you can come down and help me let go of him!"

Evidence There

Nurse: "Doctor, I don't understand why you always ask the patients what they had for dinner. Surely that doesn't always help you to diagnose a case."

Doctor: "No, but it certainly helps to diagnose a purse."

KING'S REWARD

A French peasant once presented to his monarch, Louis XI, an enormous turnip which he had grown in his garden. Louis was so impressed he gave the peasant 1,000 crowns.

Upon hearing of this, a shrewd nobleman decided that he, too, would cash in on the king's generosity. If the monarch set so much store by a turnip, what value would he place on a prize horse? The following day he presented the king with a magnificent thoroughbred horse.

The monarch thanked him. Then, observing that the other was waiting expectantly, he said:

"I have a reward for you." The other's heart leaped. "I want you to have this prize turnip. It cost me 1,000 crowns."

All Gone

Most people back from vacation can't feel any change.

AIN'T TALKING

The late Paul Armstrong, a famous playwright a generation ago by virtue of his "The Deep Purple" and "Alias Jimmy Valentine," had more trouble with his producers than Bette Davis encountered 40 years later with her studio.

When "The Deep Purple" wowed an opening-night audience, George M. Cohan told Armstrong, "It's great, kid. You ought to thank George Tyler and the entire cast."

"I'm not speaking to them," snapped Armstrong.

"Then thank Hugh Ford for his direction," urged Cohan.

"I'm not speaking to him either," said Armstrong.

Later Cohan was asked why Armstrong hadn't made a curtain speech. "Didn't you know?" grinned Cohan. "He's not speaking to the audience."

JUST REWARD

Farmer Cullman wrote to a poultry dealer, "Sir! The crate you shipped those hens in was so dilapidated, it fell apart while I was bringing it home from the railroad depot, and all the hens escaped. I only rounded up 10 of them. Kindly send refund."

Back came a letter reading, "Congratulations on your vigilance. There were only six hens in the crate. Bill for additional hens is inclosed."

You Can Say That Again!

On a bus, two girls were overheard discussing the art of conversation. "Take 'I'll say' and 'I'll tell the world' away from some people," said one, "and you cut their conversation practically to zero." To which her companion rejoined, "I hope to tell you! Ain't it the truth!"

Go Ahead

Wife to husband at party: "Ray, tell them that story I always finish for you."
