THE SEWER QUESTION

No Progress to Report on the Taneytown Project

Frequently we hear the question "What about the Taneytown Sewer?" and we answer apologetically that we are unable to give any information as to the progress or disposition of this important question. The only information that we can get out of the Mayor & City Council of Taneytown is "NOTHING".

Our neighboring town, Union Bridge, has a similar situation to Taneytown but they have been working Bridge, has a similar situation to Taneytown but they have been working diligently on the problem informing the citizens of that town as to costs, plans, etc. They have been holding public meetings and on Tuesday, Sept. 1, the town will vote "to determine by a referendum vote of the people, whether honds not exceeding in the whether bonds not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of $400,000 shall be issued on the faith and credit of the Town of Union Bridge, for the establishment, installation, operation and maintenance of a municipal sewerage system and sewerage treatment there is just as acute as here. The bond issue is also the same amount as the one proposed for Taneytown, $400,000. The result of the election on Tuesday will be awaited in Taney-town with considerable interest.

ELECTED TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Raymond Baker and Ralph Hess, both of Taneytown, Md., were elected to the board of directors of the Southern States Taneytown Cooperative at the cooperative's annual membership meeting held on August 13, at Taneytown. The men will serve three-year terms on the local board. At the same time Mrs. Martin Zimmerstein and Mrs. Lake Wegnt both merman and Mrs. Lake Weant, both of Taneytown, were chosen for three-year terms on the Taneytown Farm

The meeting featured a showing of Southern States 30th Anniversary movie "WE" which told the story of the cooperative's growth through the life of a typical farmer-member and his family. In addition, a unique "basketball" game was played between teams of men and women, with sporing based on the number of corscoring based on the number of correct answers given by the players to questions about the cooperative, its history, operations, personnel, and facilities. The team in this state making the highest score during the regulation 20-minute period of the game will receive all-expense paid trip for players and coach to the Southern States annual meeting in Players and Varian Navamban Thans Richmond, Va., in November. There the team will compete with winners from other states in the cooperative's territory for the regional champion-

PULLET DERBY

The pullets in the Derby at the Taneytown Grain & Supply Co., are in the "home stretch," Norman Baumgardner, store manager, reported this week. The Sex-linked Hall Cross Pullets, have been in this contest since they were 12 weeks old. Each has been given a number so that farmers and others interested in poultry raising, can watch the progress of the birds.

The pullets have been fed the regular Purina "1028" growing ration which has been developed over a period of many years to build strong and healthy layers with long production

Mr. Baumgardner explained the "1028" description of the formula is based on 1,028 separate tests made by Purina Research. Prizes will be awarded those judging the best pullet in the "big race." Since most pullets, on the program, go into production when they are about twenty weeks old, a winner of the Derby can be expected within the next ten days to two weeks, Mr. Baumgardner said.

As the man was twisting his radio dial, he felt a sudden sharp pain in his back.
"Oh," he cried, "I think I'm getting lumbago!" "Why bother to listen?" asked the wife. You won't be able to understand a word of it."

BIG ORDER

Herbert Hoover is head of a bipartisan commission appointed by President Eisenhower to study reorganization of the executive branch of the government.

Asked what he would seek to accomplish, the former President said he hoped that the commission would "contribute something to lessen what President Eisenhower has aptly described as our 'staggering economic burdens', strengthen private enterprise, reduce the burden of taxation, lessen bureaucratic tyranny over our citizens and generally improve the efficiency of our government."

This is an enormous order. But it is an order that must be filled if we are to be saved from financial ruin as a nation, and from the destruction of freedom which is the tragic and inevitable result of ever-expanding, ever-more-costly government.-Industrial News Review.

NEEDED—BASIC FACTS ON SOCIAL SECURITY

When Congress adjourned without freezing the Social Security tax at 11/2%, a rate that now will jump to 2% on January 1, the National Chamber of Commerce began getting inquiries as to why it did not make an effort to get the tax frozen.

This is the answer:

The Eisenhower Administration has called for a major revision of the Social Security system. The research behind this revision is now being done by a House Ways and Means subcommittee headed by Rep. Curtis (R-Neb.) which will report on December

In principle, the Administration's request was quite similar to the policy established by the National Chamber through referendum in 1952. Chamber policy calls for a complete overhauling of the Social Security system, including a "pay as you go" tax program to support it. Congress has not yet determined what the costs of such a program will be, but the Curtis subcommittee will determine this as a part of its study. Until these findings are reported in December, it is not known whether the tax rate should be 1%, 11/2%, 2% or even more. It is very likely that any action calling for a freeze at 11/2 % during the last sessien of Congress would have to be reversed early in 1954. Furthermore, Congressional leaders did not want to tamper with the program pending the results of the Curtis investigation. One reason was that there were 170 bills in the House Ways and Means Committee calling for all kinds of Social Security benefit liberalization. They were being "held" pending the Curtis report. Any effort on the part of the Ways and Means Committee to consider freezing the tax at 11/2 % would have opened the gate to discussion of these 170 liberalization proposals.

From another practical standpoint, it was quite obvious that there wasn't the slightest chance of getting a tax freeze enacted between the time the President proposed it, on May 19, and the adjournment of Congress on August 4. The Ways and Means Committee was fully occupied with other matters during that time. Chairman Reed announced on July 30 that there was not enough evidence to enable his committee to decide whether the tax rate was right or wrong.

The revision of the Social Security program to a sound and workable basis is one of the best things that can happen to all our citizens and to all business. Now that basic studies can proceed without the interference of crippling amendments, business interests can take positive steps to help bring about proper legislative action in the next session of Con-

The National Chamber of Commerce recommends that you inform yourself as to the principal points in the Chamber's policy on social security and take steps to acquaint colleagues on these matters. An informed public opinion is essential if we are to secure intelligent legislative action. You should visit with your Senators and Representatives about this between now and January 1, 1954.

MOUNT OLIVE, N.C., TRIBUNE: 'An unusual event occurred recently in Haddam, Connecticut. Tax Collector Edward Weiss-explained that his salary was-out of proportion to that of other municipal officials and should be reduced. We would add one comment. It is our hope that the example of Weiss in Connecticut is carried to all corners of the country and emulated by all officials who are receiving too much money.'

ALBANY, OREGON, DEMOCRAT-HERALD: "A needed change in the constitution of the United States is one that will permit the President to veto a single item of an appropriation bill. Under present rules he either must swallow objectionable items or veto the whole bill."

ACCIDENT FACTS

The first 25 miles away from home are the most hazardous when you're driving an automobile.

"Accident Facts", the National Safety Council's new statistical year-book, shows that 61 per cent of the drivers involved in the 33,000 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred, 21 per cent lived elsewhere in the state, and 18 per cent out of the state.

Seventy-three per cent of the drivers involved in all motor vehicle ac-cidents also lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred. Seventeen per cent lived elsewhere in the state, and 10 per cent outside the

FEESERSBURG

The following satire was sent to me last week. I found it delightful, though your reaction may be somewhat different. "Three monkeys sitting in a cocoanut tree, discussing things as they're said to be, said one to the others: "Now listen, you two, there's a certain rumor that can't be true—that man has descended from our noble race. Why the very idea is a rank disgrace! No monkey ever de-serted his wife, starved his children, and ruined his life; and you've never known a mother monk to give her babies to others to bunk; or pass them on from one to another until they scarcely knew which one was their mother. And another thing you'l never see is a monk putting a fence around a coconut tree and letting the coconuts go to waste while forbidding all other monkeys a taste. And another thing a monk won't do is to go out at night and get on a stew, and take a gun, a club or knife to take another monkey's life. Yes, man's descended, the onery cuss, but brother he didn't descend from us!

At long last the dairy industry has come to the conclusion that they must resort to some slick advertisement to compete with oleo manufactors. This should have been apparent a year ago, but for some reason (call it stubborness) farmers are reluctant to change in a hurry. But since the housewife buys certain products simply because it's done up in a cute package, or a free coupon is attached or because their favorite T. V. personality sponsors it, the dairy industry has decided to try this means of getting its products into millions of kitchens. Farmers are hoping that they haven't waited too long to use the modern art of advertising for it will really be a miracle if butter and milk ever become as popular with the public as oleo, beer and coco cola

Among other chickens she has a deflated ego, but around animals and humans she is around animals and humans she is around animals and humans she is spent a day last week with her sister, bushend and family, of Manchester, aggressive and even has the traits of a dictator. 'Operation Check-up" is to take place sometime during the week of September 20th. It was announced in June by Governor McKeldin. The exercise is designed to educate the public about what to do when they receive the red warning.

THE BEST MEMORY SYSTEM

Forget each kindness that you do s soon as you have done it; Forget the praise that falls to you the moment you have won it; Forget the slander that you hear before you can repeat it; Forget each slight, each spite, each sneer, wherever you may have met it; Remember every kindness done to you whate'er its measure;

Remember praise by others won and pass it on with pleasure;

Remember every promise made and keep it to the letter;
Remember those who lend you aid and be a greater debtor;
Remember all the happiness that comes your way in living; Forget each worry and distress, be hopeful and forgiving; Remember good, remember truth, cemember heaven's above you;

And you will find, through age and youth, that many hearts will love you. -Author Unknown-Exchange

WHO IS AT FAULT? The following paragraph is clipped from an Exchange: "A man failed to remove his hat when he entered a church, and was presently sighted by a horrified deacon, who quietly called the man's attention to his apparent forgetfulness.

The man explained that he had been worshipping in that church for three years without anyone speaking to him, and he thought the hat might do the trick."

A FRIEND

When things don't come out righthe comes right in. When none of your dreams come true-he is. He never looks for your moneyxcept when you've lost it. He never gets in your way—except to clear it for you. Nothing is more important to him than making you important.

He is in your corner when you are He turns up when you get turn-

All he wants in return for his helping hand is your handshake.

He never insists on seeing you—except when nobody else wants to. The only way he sponges off you is absorb some of your troubles.

THE BETTER WAY

I'd rather see a sermon than hear one any day; I'd rather one should walk with me than merely show the way.

The eye's a better pupil and more willing than the ear; Fine counsel is confusing, but example's always clear;
And the best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds,

For to see the good in action is what everybody needs.

For I may misunderstand you and the high advice you give. But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live. -Author Unknown Lady (turning around): Does the long feather in my hat bother you?

Man (directly behind): It did until I cut it off. Here it is; I thought perhaps you might want it back. "Are you the young man who jumped in the river and saved my son from drowning when he fell through

"Yes. ma'am," replied the man "Where are his mittens?"

Leaders

Lesson for August 30, 1953

A "classless society" there can never be, for various reasons. One of the plainest reasons is that there always have to be leaders in any society that is not a sheer mob—and even mobs have to be led. No group rises higher or goes faster than its leaders. This is true of bad societies like gangs of murderers, useless societies like some the reader can mention, and also of the most important and best groups in the world. The church of God is no exception. No church is better or more progressive than its leaders. The aged Apostle Paul in his letters to his young friend Dr. Foreman Timothy laid down some principles for Christian leaders which have been tested by time and found always to be good.

Not All Good People Make Good Leaders

Leaders do not spring up out of nowhere. They have to be selected and trained. What is true of the ministers of the church, the "clergy" as they are sometimes called, is just as true of the "lay" leadership, deacons, stewards, wardens or what not, and in general the kind of people you meet at a "Workers' Council" in any type of church. Now nearly everybody knows, sometimes from sad evperience, that not everybody makes a good minister. Good intentions won't do it, religious devotion won't do it-though both of these are just as necessary for the effective Sunday school superintendent as for the pastor. Even the feeling, "I have been called to this work," is not enough; for experience has often shown how mistaken such a feeling can be.

How Can You Tell? How can you tell whether you or any one else has the qualities needed for leadership? One of the best ways is the simplest: try it out. Paul speaks, for instance, of the religious leader being "apt to teach." The best way to see whether some one will make a good teacher is to let him try it a while. Some church executives make the mistake of not letting young people try their wings because they are "too young." If you will look around the average church you will see some good old saint who has been, let us say, the teacher of a certain class for thirty or forty years. Everybody says, "We don't need young sprouts, we need teachers of long experience like old Mrs. Whatzis." Yes, but when did Mrs. Whatzis get her start? The records will very likely show that she started out teaching when she was little Sadie Whozis, aged about sixteen, and it is safe to say that the greybeards in the church fifty years ago shook their heads and said little Sadie was much too young to teach! . . .

The Habit Of Command There is one point which Saint Paul insists on strongly. It is that the church leader must have a strong personal character. He must have a good reputation, of course, but character is far deeper. Among other personal points of strength Paul singles out the ability to control himself and others. He must be able to get things done. He must be able to persuade people to do right things. A leader without force of character just can't lead-it's a contradiction in terms. And Paul suggests two practical tests for this quality. One is: Can the man control himself? A person who falls easily into temptation, who is wishy-washy, who has a vile temper, who lets emotions run away with him, will never make a good leader. The other test, for a grown man, is: How does he manage his family? If he manages that badly,

The Bible And Leadership

he is a poor prospect for a church

Another matter often overlooked, but not overlooked by Paul, is this: The Christian leader must know his Bible, love it and be guided by it. When a church is electing officers, how often this is forgotten! A man will be elected to the official board because he is a prominent citizen or because it is hoped that he will be generous in his gifts, or because he is genial and friendly; but is the question asked: Can we elect as leader of God's people a person who is ignorant of God's Word?

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, onepiece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field - the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p "Thrift-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response —right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide* A lot finer performance on a let less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

And it's the lowest-priced line A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

Fertilizer Makes Top Alfalfa Yield One and Half Tons Produced to Acre

Lime and fertilizer made the difference between the two fields pictured below, at the Experimental Field at Columbus, Kansas.

The unfertilized field (1) has about one alfalfa plant per square yard. The plants are small and spindly. With no stand, the plot produced no yield, reports V. E. Peterson, superintendent of the

The fertilized field, (2) made 11/2 tons of alfalfa per acre, even with a poor growing season and

These two fields are graphic examples of what fertilizer will do for a crop when applied in the correct amount and at the right time. The lower field produced 11/2 tons of alfalfa per late freezes. Lime, fertilizer and manure were added.

The test was part of a sequence of crops trial running up to 30

Peterson reports the fertilized alfalfa made appreciable differences in the soil's internal drainage. Organic matter left by the decomposed alfalfa roots helped make the soil more porous.

Peterson says the fertilized field dried to workable condition much faster than did the unfertilized plot. Morever, the fertilized alfalfa plot was easier to work. It took less effort to pull a plow through the fertilized alfalfa plot than through the tight, untreated this year looks much better for poultry farmers than last year turned out to be.

This Year Looks Better for Poultrymen According to farm economists

Last year farmers sold more poultry and eggs than any year on record, but at the same time feed costs were high most of the year and farmers got comparative low prices for eggs and turkeys. As a general rule they did not net nearly so much as they had netted the preceding year.

This year, however, farmers are likely to take in more from eggs and poultry than they did in 1951. Egg prices during the important spring months have been at record-high levels on most markets and feed costs have been about the same as they were in 1951.

But more important, farm economists report, is the fact that high egg prices have not induced farmers to increase numbers of early-hatched pullets.

Increases are expected in latehatched chicks, but the increase for the season as a whole will run considerably below what might have been expected.

Wire Anchor

Many farmers find it difficult to fence property where there are gullies and low spots. A good way to hold wire down as illustrated above is to hook to a deadman of rock or posts. Heavy rock weights will do it if you are in a hurry. The dead man should be buried several feet and if a heavy post is used it should be at least three feet

COST OF CAR OPERATION UP OVER 5 PER CENT, MOTOR CLUB ADVISES

Like just about everything else hese past few years, the cost of oprating your automobile has gone up, Robert L. Leese, Manager of the Automobile Club of Maryland said ere today. On the basis of a new report on ost of car operation preparey by the American Automobile Association, the notor club official said that it is costng the average motorist between 5 and 6 per cent more to own and drive his car today than it did a little over years ago.

"If you, like the average American car owner, drive your auto about 10,000 miles a year, it will have cost you in the neighborhood of $908 by the time this year is out," stated Mr. Leese. The average total of car op-eration costs in 1951 was $861, he

Mr. Leese said a comparison between the latest operating cost re-ported by the AAA and those report-ed in January, 1951, show boosts in all cost items, from gasoline and oil to insurance.

A breakdown of this new national average cost, applicable to cars in the low-priced class, indicates that costs of such fixed items as fire and theft insurance, property damage and liability insurance, license fees and de-preciation for autos driven under 18,000 miles annually now average $560, as against $533 in 1951. Costs of gasoline, oil, maintenance and tires amount to about $348 for and thres amount to about $548 for the average motorist, in comparison with about $328 in 1951.

The AAA's new survey incorporates the following formula for computing car costs: Allow $1.55 a day for every day the car is driven PLUS 3.5 cents a mile for every mile it is driven.

The formula, worked up from data supplied the nationwide motoring organization by Runzheimer & Co., Chicago cost accounting firm, rounds out national average fixed and variable costs which appear in the fol-lowing table:

	195	•	1951
Variable Costs:		e
Gasoline and Oil Tires			cents
Maintenance	.51	.46
Maintenance	.74	.68

owner."
The AAA cites, in its report, a special depreciation adjustment of $10.56 for each 1,000 miles driven over 18,000 miles annually.
Also included in the new AAA report are a guide to vacation budgeting for the motor traveler and estimates of the increased cost of driving in congested areas. Copies of the report are available at the Automobile port are available at the Automobile Club of Maryland.
