CHURCH IS ROBBED

Sneak Thief Removed Money from Pocketbooks

Red Buttons, the television comedian, is right: "Strange things are happening." Climaxing a series of robberies which took place in recent months in the Taneytown High School at the Potomac Edison Co. Garage and at the Baumgardner Bakery there was a pre-meditated case of burglary at Grace Evangelical and Reformed church on Sunday during the hour of the morning Lord's Day Worship.

According to the custom and practice of years the female members of the choir left their handbags and pocketbooks in the Church School room where they put on their choir robes. Upon returning to the room from the upper sanctuary at the conclusion of the worship some of them discovered that some one had tampered with their personal possessions.

Two of the women had rather large sums of money taken and there were other smaller amounts removed. The total combined theft is in the neighborhood of what amounts to grand larceny. There were also several wallet containing highly treasured personal belongings which may be difficult to replace, taken.

Local police and Maryland State Police were notified at once and upon being given all available clues from a neighbor began and are continuing their investigation hoping to crack the case and bring the offenders to trial.

Next to stealing from the blind and starving, stealing from those who are attending church and giving their talents to join in worshipping God is considered about the lowest thing any one can do.

It is sincerely hoped that the culprits, who might have used their time far better by being a part of the worshipping congregation at that time and every Sunday, may be found and the case solved. This may help in solving other recent cases of local robbery.

WOMEN'S GUILD

The regular meeting of the Women's Guild of Grace E. & R. Church was held Thursday evening with the Social Service Committee in charge, Mrs. William Airing, chairman. The topic for the evening was: "The Bible Speaks to Us Today—About Home Missions and Human Rights." Miss Mary Alice Rue was the pianist.

The leader read the Call to Worship followed by the hymn, "Fairer Lord Jesus". She also read the Scripture reading and lead the group in prayer. Miss Nancy Baker played a violin solo, "Minuet" by Paderewski and was accompanied by Miss Sandra Welker.

The leader introduced the topic with a special reading and then called on three members to discuss questions relative to the topic. Miss Helen Bankard gave her viewpoints on the question, "Is our local church serving all the people in its neighborhood?" Mrs. Glenn Martin discussed the question, "Who is responsible for churching our land?" Mrs. Morgan Andreas discussed the question, "Is our church serving its community adequately?" The offering was received and consecrated.

Miss Mary Alice Rue played a piano solo, "Adagio" by Beethoven. All joined in singing the theme hymn for the year, "Word of the Living God." The leader gave a reading on social service followed by the closing prayer by Mrs. William Simpson and all joined in praying the Lord's Prayer. The closing hymn was: "Help Somebody Today."

The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. G. Emerson Rue. It was announced that the guild would have a refreshment stand at the sale of Mrs. Charles A. Baker on Sept. 19th. Mrs. George Harman and Mrs. Ellsworth Lambert were named co-chairmen in charge of the stand.

Our annual public supper will be on October 10th and the president appointed Mrs. Carroll Garber and Mrs. Charles D. Baker as co-chairmen. There will also be a food sale in connection with the supper.

An announcement was made of the Maryland Regional Guild-Meeting to be held in Cavetown on October 14th at which time our guild is asked to have charge of the Worship Service.

The nominating committee gave their report and the secretary cast the ballot for the following officers: President, Mrs. G. Emerson Rue; Vice-President, Mrs. George Motter; Secretary, Mrs. Morgan Andreas; and Treasurer, Mrs. Harry Mohney. These new officers will begin their term of office in January, 1954, for a two year term.

No further business, the meeting adjourned followed by a brief social period to meet in October with the Missionary committee in charge, Mrs. Harold Anders, chairman.

THE MARYLAND SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND

The Maryland school for the Blind will open on Monday, Sept. 14th, with an enrollment of 175 students.

The school, like many others, beginning to feel the increase of pupil population. The increase in blindness is causing great concern to those in the field of special education. Ordinarily one might expect eight to ten children in our kindergarten. However, this year there will be seventeen. This group is an indication of the increase in blindness throughout the state.

The Maryland School for the blind is beginning its one hundred and first year of service to the blind youth of Maryland. It offers a full course of study from kindergarten thru high school, following closely the curriculum of the public schools of Baltimore as the pupils in our eleventh and twelfth grades attend the public high schools of our city. This year there are three boys going to City College and one girl going to Eastern High.

It is interesting to note that the five students who graduated last year are continuing their education. One is going to Towson State Teachers, another will attend Frostburg State Teachers College, the third will enter Loyola, another is going to Strayer's Business College and the fifth will enter St. Peter's College.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE PUBLIC ANNOUNCED FOR STATE ALERT

Instructions to the public on what they should do during "Operation Check-up", the State-wide air raid alert to be held at 2:01 p. m., on Sept. 22, were announced by Shirley Ewing, Maryland Civil Defense Director.

When you hear the RED warning (attack imminent), you should do the following:

In your Automobile: Pull over to the side of the road and stop. Do not block intersections. Turn off your motor. Leave the key in the ignition. Stay off the bridges. Crouch on the floor of your automobile. Refer to instructions to motorists, issued by the Dept. of Motor Vehicles with 1954 license plates.

In Your Home: Pull down windows and blinds. In a real attack this would prevent danger from fire, flying glass and radio activity. You should do everything that you normally do in your home before retiring for the night except, turn your radio on loud and turn off the electrical switch that runs your oil burner. If you have not selected a suitable shelter area in your home, do so and make certain the children know where it is. Go to this shelter until you hear the ALL CLEAR.

Industry and Schools: Follow the usual Civil Defense drill procedures.

NEW RECORD SET BY POTOMAC EDISON CO.

Potomac Edison System customers set a new all-time, one-hour record peak on August 31 when a mark of 194,900 kilowatts was reached, it was announced today by R. Paul Smith, PE President.

According to Mr. Smith, the previous record was hit in December of 1952 when the one-hour demand of 191,200 kilowatts was reached.

It was also announced that on Sept. 1, a new all-time 24 hour load was recorded by the Potomac Edison System, when utility company generators sent out 3,750,800 kwh in a 24 hour period. Last year's record was hit in December when the figure rose to 3,496,800 kwh.

Utility company officials stated that the continued hot, dry spell prior to August 31 brought about the new peak for many air conditioning units were in service at the time as well as electric fans, ventilators and dehumidifiers.

Since August 31 was on a Monday, it is further presumed that electric washers, dryers and ironers were in heavy use and water heating equipment was being used for laundry purposes.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Sitting on the Beach in the folding reclining chair in Atlantic City with an umbrella to protect me from the Sun, I gazed upon hundreds lying right there on the sand being BAKED, BROILED AND ROASTED! Just awful! Although, the cities were in the midst of the terrific Heat Wave—there is always a delightful breeze from the Ocean.

The famous "Boardwalk Pigeons" now beg on the Beach also and are getting more tame as the years come on.

Child's now are making a Frozen Custard all their own which is delicious and for the price of 15 cents instead of all other prices of 20 cents. Abbott's ice cream of Philadelphia is really topping all other makes and is Super-Duper! (Except Lady Borden).

Visiting General Motor's Exhibit on the Boardwalk was interesting this year as the only cars now having the Air-Conditioning are the Cadillacs, Olds and Buicks. I really do not know if I would desire that in any car after sitting in one being demonstrated right there.

Whatever you do, Folks plan right now for "The Ice Capades" which will be held in Hershey, Pa., on Feb. 11. That one doesn't miss whatever you do. You will never forget the opening number of "EDISON'S DIAMOND JUBILEE"! It will fascinate you from start to finish with every elaborate detail and grand setting. NOT A DULL MOMENT! Make up Bus parties to attend. It tops all other years!

Hackney's just as crowded as any other year with the Sea Food lovers! There is only one thing that I do not care about in that resort and that is the awful drinking water. One week's vacation there is always enough for me! Next year—1954 is to be the Centennial! You can imagine what that will be!

If you haven't eaten Wakefield's Alaska King Crab there is a grand adventure in store for you. Here is one of the most delicious seafood treats you will ever experience. The meat of the King Crab has a flavor and texture all its own. Gourmets everywhere agree that there is nothing to equal it. Bringing King Crab to you is a story packed with adventure and ingenuity. Perhaps you have read part of it in Time, Fortune and other magazines. Briefly, here are some of the highlights:

The King Crab is a tremendous fellow whose legs may have a tip-toe span approaching six feet and whose weight may be as much as twenty-four pounds. He travels between 120 and 240 feet below the surface of the Bering Sea—off Alaska—one of the most remote and stormy bodies of water in the world. The king Crab reaches maturity from 8 to 9 years but is not unusual to catch a barnacle covered giant who has crawled great distances along the ocean floor for over 30 years. Only the PRIME male crabs are used. The female crabs are all returned to the Sea in order to conserve this valuable species. Each catch of Giant Crabs is cleaned immediately, cooked, quick frozen at 25 below zero and packaged in a matter of minutes all on board ship. Frozen packed shipments are rushed to leading restaurants to maintain sea-freshness and top quality.

The King Crab is now on its way to becoming one of the most popular American shellfish dishes. When you visit Hackney's don't fail to order this very special treat.

And, now, Ladies—its "HOOPS, MY DEAR!" No Earring appears to be too large this summer and I have seen a number of sets which were quite becoming and most glamorous!

"NIAGARA" the deep massage is getting better and better for there is really a Massive living room chair which will make you look and feel younger! The entire family will go for that one. The chair has three motors and it will help your circulation, ease nervous strain, soothe sore muscles and ten minutes before you retire, it will cause you to sleep like a top. It comes in all the desired shades of upholstery. For information about that one—write to Niagara of New Jersey—1407 Boardwalk, Atlantic City, N. J. (Mrs. John Moretti) Before you purchase your next good living room chair be sure and look into that one.

The most elaborate Aquarium I have ever seen as to display is "STANLEY'S" on the Boardwalk. The fish sell for prices from 50 cents a piece to 500 dollars a pair! They are located in Philadelphia in the winter at 32 West Girard Ave. When you go sightseeing don't fail to visit Stanley's Aquarium when in Philly.

The Cow-Fish will amaze you as they have heads exactly as a cow and the most beautiful large expressive eyes you ever saw! People make these fish their hobby and it is most fascinating.

Visited one of the exclusive auctioneers who were selling fabulous diamonds and jewelry for the family of the late Mary S. Drexel and Geo. W. C. Drexel of Philadelphia. To demonstrate a bracelet which cost 35,000 dollars of the late Mary E. Drexel was fastened upon Your Observer's wrist so as the public could see. Think what that amount of money could have done for poor people in any part of the world!

So long, Folks. Have a grand week end. Don't drive if you are tired. It is best to remain right at home. Until next week, D. V., I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

WHY SHOULD THERE BE PROFITS?

You've undoubtedly heard people say that it would be a fine thing if we did away with profits, and used the money to reduce the prices of goods or to pay higher wages.

A leading oil company recently did a good job of pointing out just what would happen if that were done.

First of all, it observed, we Americans can't produce any more with our bare hands than can other people. Yet we enjoy the highest living standards on earth. The reason is that we have more and better tools to work with.

In its own case, the oil company said, each man who works for it has $70,691 worth of "tools" at his disposal. Because of these costly "tools" his productivity of goods has increased 2½ times in the past 25 years. His wage and related benefits have risen from an average of $168 a month to $484. And he works far shorter hours than he did a quarter-century ago.

The "tools" which are responsible for all this were bought by the company's share-owners, and the one and only reason they put their savings into the company was in the hope of making some profit. If that hope is ever blasted, there will be no more investment in "tools"—and our productivity and our living standards will go downhill fast.

Profit creates progress, and a fuller life for all.—Industrial News Review.

TAX TRIMS

Taxes, plenty of them are with us now and will linger a long time. Two wars and world defense have built a momentum of outlays difficult to check. Many thoughtlessly belabor the recent Congress for not reducing taxes. True it did not but neither did it provide increased revenues needed to balance the trimmed budget.

Several indicators point the way to future reductions—Congress reluctantly re-enacted the excess profits tax and did pass a bill to repeal the movie ticket levy that was vetoed by the President.

These and other actions show Congress in a mood to reduce taxes as the expiration dates of Special Korean levies approach. Taxes producing eight billion dollars expire between now and January 1955.

On January 1, next, individual income taxes will get an average cut of 10%, the excess profits tax expires and the corporation tax is reduced—then in April, 1c per pack comes off the cigarette tax, ¼c per gal. off the gas tax, 3% is dropped from the tax on cars and trucks and 30c per fifth is cut from the liquor levy. New Year's Day in 1955 corporations get another reduction in income tax.

The pack a day smoker will be $3.65 better off, the $2500.00 car buyer $75.00 to the good and all will have 10% of that income tax left if Congress does nothing. Chances are the legislators will do just that as they are in a tax reduction mood and 1954 is an election year.

They could go farther. There is ample room for cuts on the tax side and more on the spending side of our rambling national budget. Both sides need a good trimming.—Maryland Farm News.

UNCLE SAM GETS LION'S SHARE OF TAX COLLECTIONS

During the 1953 fiscal year, the state governments collected enough taxes to make the per capita share for every man, woman and child in the United States $68.04.

But, in the same period Uncle Sam took in more than $420 per person under the federal government's various forms of taxation.

The total for the 48 states was $10,542,000,000; for the federal government, $65,200,000,000.

These figures, from the U. S. Census Bureau, may form the basis for some studies by the new Commission on Intergovernmental Relations into over-lapping federal and state tax fields. They already are under close scrutiny by Citizens Committees which are working on federal-state problems in more than 24 states under the guidance of the National Chamber of Commerce.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MANSFIELD, OHIO, NEWS-JOURNAL: "Politics is too dirty a game for an honest man to have anything to do with." This remark—expresses one of the most dangerous viewpoints in the United States. If politics, the art of government, is left to the dishonest, our government will be eaten by rotteness, and be replaced by some regime which does not represent the people such as communism.

OSKALOOSA, IOWA, DAILY HERALD: "The Western railroads cooperating with the government's drought relief program put into effect on July 1 a 50 per cent reduction in freight rates on livestock feed to the stricken southwestern states."

ADA, OKLA., TIMES-DEMOCRAT: "Probably the most flagrant sample of destructive and unnecessary socialism has been in the field of government electric power plants. In every case, the service would have been provided by heavily-taxed, publicly-regulated utility companies."

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "A daily industry group has evolved what they call the 'housewife's butter plan' which they believe will—reduce Federal participation in butter purchases and move butter onto the nation's family tables by lowering prices. While this idea certainly isn't any panacea it would be an improvement on the present one."

NEW TRANSMISSION SUBSTATION AND DISPATCHING CENTER

The Potomac Edison System's new $820,000 transmission substation and dispatching center at Marlowe, West Virginia—the largest substation in the Potomac Edison System—is now in service.

The new structure is directly across the Potomac River from the R. Paul Smith Plant in Williamsport, Md., and is the final link in a 132,000 volt transmission triangle connecting company generating stations at Riverton, Va., Cumberland, Md., and Williamsport.

Built to supply adequate transmission facilities for the ever-growing power demand made on the Potomac Edison System, the substation contains terminal and interconnection facilities for the 132,000 volt network. The lines included in this network are Marlowe-Ridgeley, Marlowe-Millville-Double Toll Gate-Riverton and Riverton-Ridgeley.

Interconnection facilities are provided at Marlowe to the R. Paul Smith Station for getting the plant's output into the system network. Provisions have also been made at this substation for future conversion of present transmission lines to Frederick and Reid from 66,000 volts to 132,000 volts.

In building this transmission substation, the latest developments in protective and control equipment were utilized. A 40,000 KVA 132,000/33,000 volts transformer, second only in size to the station output transformer at the big new power station at Albright, West Va., has been installed for transfer of power between the 132 KV and 33 KV buses.

Marlowe will also serve as the operational nerve center for the Potomac Edison System. From here, the chief load dispatchers will supervise and control the transmission of power to all points on company property.

One entire wall of the new structure is taken up by a newly designed board which contains a detailed diagram of the entire transmission system of the four operating companies of the Potomac Edison System. The chief load dispatchers stationed at Marlowe will use this board to keep a continuous record of all operations of the entire transmission system. The board is composed of a number of steel panels which have mounted on them specially designed symbols representing all the components of the transmission network. Through the use of this symbolized diagram, the dispatchers can determine the present operating conditions existing at any point on the company property.

To aid the dispatchers in the control of the flow of power, a telemetering system has been incorporated into the dispatching equipment. This system, by means of a transmitter and receivers, can give an indication of the amount of power coming into company property from the generating stations located at Albright and Lake Lynn.

Because of its position as the center of all load dispatching, Marlowe has become the focal point of the Potomac Edison System's communication system. From here, company telephone lines radiate to all points on the company property. In addition to these, carrier equipment has been installed in the substation building. This carrier equipment can furnish high speed relaying for protection against faulty operations of the transmission lines.

This station is the eastern terminal for a micro-wave link to Ridgeley substation. This micro-wave equipment furnishes five channels for voice communication between Ridgeley and Marlowe. It also furnishes two tele-metering channels to supply load dispatchers with the power flow into the PE System from Lake Lynn and Albright.

In the Hagerstown, Waynesboro and Martinsburg Districts, one channel of this micro-wave is used to control a communication transmitter located on Fairview Mountain. This transmitter is used in supervising PE Line Department work in these districts by means of mobile units in Line Department vehicles. This same type of operation will exist in the Cumberland District through a transmitter located at Dans Rock, Md. The final channel of the micro-wave is reserved for test purposes. Because of nature of micro-wave transmission, relay and amplifying stations have been located at Fairview Mountain, Siding Hill Mountain, and Dans Rock, Md.

The newest and most modern installation on the Potomac Edison System represents another step in the company's program of a continuing policy of supply better regulated and controlled electric service.

THE MARYLAND STATE POLICE BEGIN USING RADAR EQUIPMENT FOR MAKING ARRESTS OF VIOLATORS OF MOTOR VEHICLE LAWS

The Maryland State Police started using radar equipment for the purpose of making arrests of violators of the Motor Vehicle Laws on Tuesday September 8th, operations to start about noon.

While the equipment will be used for making arrests, at the same time, it will be used to educate the public in just how it functions. The equipment will not replace the assignment of patrol officers, but will be used to assist them in their work.

At the present time, the State Police have only one of the radar machines ready for operation, but others will be added from time to time as they are made ready for use. It is hoped that by the time the full number of machines is in use, the motorist public will have become well acquainted with how the equipment works and will have a better understanding of it. Many demonstrations have already been given for members of the press, for magazine publication personnel, etc. It is felt now, that the primary education is finished and it is time to advance to a higher grade.

The use of the radar equipment from now on will be far more convincing as to its efficiency in helping to control traffic throughout the State and by so doing help to save lives that might be sacrificed unnecessarily.

The radar equipment is delicate and must be handled with care. The Maryland State Police therefore, have trained men especially for the purpose. These men are trained not only in how to operate the machine but in its care when not in use, how to set it up and how to pack it away.

The policy in the use of the machine will be the same over the entire State and strictly adhered to. It will not be used on any particular section of road, or from any particular point on any particular road. It will be moved from one location to another frequently. Permanent signs indicating its use will be erected throughout the State, but portable signs will be used, also. These portable signs will be used only when the permanent signs are at a distance greater than four miles from the point at which the machine will be used.

Although members of the International Association of Chiefs of Police have reported for those states where the equipment has been used already, that it is the one piece of police equipment which has met with total acceptance and that there has never been an appeal carried through, the Maryland State Police intend to use it carefully so that there will be no question about arrests made through the aid of the machine; they intend that each such arrest will be a "good arrest."

The machine works on the theory that moving targets in the path of radio waves cause a shift in length that can be measured. Any person can get the feel of what is meant by listening to the sound of a train whistle. It is loud when close and fades to nothing as it travels away from the ear. The theory is called the Doppler principle.

The development of microwave radar, using frequencies from 1,000 to 10,000 megacycles a second, provided a tool for measurement of the Doppler frequency produced by vehicular speeds in a range of frequencies that can be accurately measured and translated into miles per hour.

Radar, developed in World War II, to track planes, ships, etc., has been modified and calibrated to register speed in miles per hour.

The development of the radar equipment for checking motor vehicle speed was accomplished by the Automatic Signal Division of Eastern Industries Inc., Norwalk, Conn. and was initiated by John Barker, formerly of Cumberland, Md. It has taken the guesswork out of speed measurement and thus becomes almost the ideal for police work.

The graphic recorder which is part of the equipment provides a permanent record of speeds. The speed checking portion is manufactured to provide an accuracy of plus or minus 2 MPH throughout a range of zero to 100 MPH. In actual tests it has never been found to be out by so much as 1 MPH. Unlike so many other electrically powered instruments, the speed-check machine functions only on the required power. Any change, up or down, of that power will cause the machine to cease functioning entirely. The height of the transmitter-receiver unit governs the field of view. Any improper placement of it will result in a recording slightly in favor of the motorist. It is not limited to measuring vehicles moving in any one direction; it measures the speed of vehicles moving in either direction across its waves.

In World War II, the Armed Forces used several million yards of flame-proofed cotton. These fabrics were used in tents, truck and boat covers, tarpaulins, and many other products.

Approximately 4,200 bales of cotton are used annually in the manufacture of flags.

Calico was first made at Calicut, India, where it was handprinted with wooden blocks.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Chestnuts, shellbarks and nuts of various kinds are said to be very plentiful, which is a sign—good when it hits—that we will have a severe winter.

At a session of the Carroll County Teachers' Association, held in Westminster, Thursday afternoon, the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Geo. F. Morelock; Vice-President, E. Lee Erb; Secretary, Ulysses H. Shipley; Treasurer, Miss Ada L. Trump; Editor, Miss Mattie E. Gillis.

The Md. Collegiate Institute of Union Bridge held its fourth formal opening, Tuesday, Sept. 8th. The number of students M. C. I. has enrolled is 105, and many more anticipate joining these, in the near future.

Thursday, Sept. 3rd, the day set for the annual outing of the Middleburg Farmers Club, being an ideal day for boating, fishing and feasting, found about seventy men, women and children on the banks of Big Pipe Creek in the bottom of Luther T. Sharetts.

The German Baptist Brethren's annual love-feast was celebrated in their Piney Creek church house, on Saturday last. Elders present were Edgar Miller and Joseph Price, of Black Rock, Geo. K. Sappington, of Beaver Dam, and John S. Weybright, Monocacy congregation. This congregation is in good working condition and is not yet ten years old. This church is in charge of Elder John Utz, as Bishop, and Elders E. A. Snader and Geo. W. Bowers as co-workers.

T. H. Eckenrode, tax collector for this district, reports that about two-thirds of the taxes for this year have already been paid. This is an indication of plenty of money.

A birthday surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Slonaker, Uniontown, on Monday evening in honor of their second daughter, Miss Nora.

Tyrone—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Welk and two children, Edna and Walter; Mrs. Mollie Segafosse, Mrs. Mary Heltebride, Maud and Esther Maus, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marker and two sons, Howard and Walter, spent Sunday with George E. Marker's family, near Westminster.

The Scot was heatedly contesting the amount of his fare with the train conductor. Out of patience, the conductor snatched up the Scot's suitcase and tossed it off just as the train was crossing a bridge. The case landed with a splash.

"Hoot mon!" screamed MacTavish. "First you try to rob me and now you have drowned me boy!"

A Madison Avenue bus was unusually crowded one morning. A passenger sitting next to the window suddenly buried his head in his arms. The man next to him said, "Are you sick or something? Can I do anything for you?" "It's nothing like that," the other assured him, "I just hate to see old ladies standing."

Two motorists met on a bridge too narrow for two cars to pass.

"I never back up for an idiot!" yelled one driver.

"That's all right," said the other as he shifted into reverse, "I always do."

"How was the applause after your speech?" asked the fond wife when her husband returned after an evening engagement.

"Terrible," he moaned. "It sounded like a caterpillar in sneakers romping over a Persian rug."

"A Beautiful Day!" on 25th Anniversary

"It's a beau-ti-ful day in Chicago!"

Although his famous greeting isn't as old as the program, farm commentator Everett Mitchell celebrates the 25th anniversary broadcast of the National Farm and Home Hour on the coast-to-coast NBC radio network Saturday, September 12.

Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson joins Mitchell in observing the anniversary of America's oldest network farm radio program, which is celebrating 25 years of service to agriculture.

Broadcast continuously since 1928 and produced in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the National Farm and Home Hour reaches the largest farm audience in broadcasting history. It has aired on-the-spot coverage of hundreds of major agricultural events at home and abroad and provided entertainment and information to rural and city audiences alike.

Many of today's big names in radio, including Fibber McGee and Molly and Fran Allison, appeared on the program in the early days of Chicago radio. Mitchell, a pioneer in the field of farm radio and known to millions of farmers through his many cross-country tours and speaking engagements, has been m.c. of the program since 1930.

THE JOY OF BEING AN EDITOR

Getting out this paper is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly.

If we don't they say we are too serious. If we stick close to the office all day, We ought to be around hunting material.

If we go out and try to hustle, We ought to be on the job in the office. If we don't print contributions, We don't appreciate genius;

And if we do print them, the paper is filled with junk!

If we edit the other fellow's write-up, we're too critical;

If we don't, we're asleep. If we clip things from other papers, We are too lazy to write them ourselves.

If we don't, we are stuck on our own stuff.

Now, like as not, some guy will say We swiped this from some magazine!

*We did!

Now it's September, bright and cool, And the children are going back to school.

Along every path, in every street, There's a laugh, a shout, a clatter of feet.

The sound of the children's voices pours Like a living tide through the school house doors;

And grown-ups smile and wish that they Were going back to school today.

FEESERSBURG

A new idea has caught the farmer's fancy here in Carroll county. It is artificial rainfall by way of irrigation.

After a season such as the farmers have experienced this year it is no wonder they are looking for means to save their crops other than trusting to nature to send them rain when needed. But before investing in expensive irrigating equipment it would be wise to investigate the State's water-right laws to see if they are legally entitled to the water they plan to use.

Every state has such laws. In the western states where to survive one must irrigate, lawsuits over water rights are not uncommon. Here in the east where irrigation is practically unknown, the state laws have never been put to a test. But once two or three farmers start to tap the water streams for irrigation purposes, the fight will be on. So before a farmer ties up $5000 in an irrigation system he should find out if he will be able to use the water to his advantage.

The first wedding in the new Church of the Brethren took place on Sunday at 2:30 p. m. when Miss Shirley Reop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Reop and Mr. Sherill Cheeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cheeks, were married in a single ring ceremony by Rev. H. Bomberger. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white taffeta, and an illusion veil which fell from a Juliet cap of lace. Her sisters, Patricia and Elaine, dressed in blue taffeta were her only attendants. Mr. Warner Cheeks served as his brother's best man and the ushers were Paul Cheeks and Gilman Willard. Following the ceremony a reception for relatives and close friends was held in the social rooms of the church. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Cheeks will make their home at Bridgeville, Va.

Miss Mary Lou Jackson will leave Monday for the Church Home and Infirmary Hospital where she has enrolled as a student nurse.

The public schools in Carroll county opened today (Tuesday) and with few exceptions the boys and girls were glad to return to a school schedule.

Like adults they soon learn that killing on a prolonged vacation gets monotonous and boring. Leading a busy life can be endured far easier than a life lived with nothing.

Four inches of rain fell over the week-end. It was badly needed and I believe the grass will be an inch in two days to show how much it appreciated a good drink. The corn perked up and so did the farmer's spirit. Stretching the feed this winter for farm stock is going to be a major problem with most dairy farmers.

Never brag to your husband that you are mechanically inclined and that you love working with a hammer and saw. Not too long ago I boasted that I was going to buy one of those kits and be my own carpenter, plumber and painter. I made my boast good and this summer I painted two rooms, laid carpet, fixed two leaky faucets and put a new cord in a lamp. Did my husband resent me doing a man's job? The payoff came when he suggested I had become so efficient I could finish painting the outside of the house. This was just too much. I lost my tool kit and burned the book and am back knitting an afghan.

When you are peeling potatoes for supper do your children ask for a raw potato and proceed to eat it with relish they don't show at meal time? If they do give them all they want for a raw vegetable is good for them. I believe every child goes through the raw potato stage.

Animals are as finicky about eating habits as children. Cows don't like their salt blocks close to their water supply. They prefer salt with their food. Tests have shown that cows lick salt blocks as long as seven hours after they have taken a drink of water. Place salt blocks in the pasture fields and incidentally hogs will not lick a salt block. His supply must be served in his food.

Labor Day visitors at Merry Knoll were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gordon, of Baltimore.

Don't part with your dreams. For when they have gone you will continue to exist, but the taste for living will have departed with them. Ruth Roelke.

The Smiling Sunbeams of the Mt. Union church will hold their meeting Tuesday, Sept. 15th in the parish house at 8 p. m. A special program has been arranged to which the public is cordially invited. Miss Dorothy Crabbs who spent this summer in Europe visiting eight countries will show her collection of colored slides which she took of her trip.

Miss Anna Sanders is a teacher in the Littleton High school and her commentary on her travels should prove interesting. A social period will follow the special program and refreshments will be on sale.

SOUTH MOUNTAIN COMMUNITY AND FAIR ASSOCIATION

Upwards of 100,000 farm exhibits and "million dollar" display of commercial articles are scheduled for the 30th annual South Mountain Fair to be held September 8 through 12 near Arendtsville.

Joe Louis, former world's heavyweight champion, "The Three Suns", famous recording artists head the entertainment provided for the Fair.

Other entertainers are also scheduled for the revue held as part of the fair, but its primary attractions are the farm and home products put on display by thousands of Adams countyans. The exhibits range from thousands of flowers to the finest of corn, grain, vegetables, fruit, home-made dresses, hemstitching, crocheting and similar products of the farm home. Also on display are farm horses and dairy cattle and swine.

Located in the midst of the Adams County fruit belt, the fair annually produces one of the finest exhibits of the products of orchards seen anywhere in the state.

Future Farmers of America from Adams and Franklin Counties will take part in a tractor driving contest that annually attracts much attention. In addition, the farm youths will participate in judging events during the fair.

The final day of the fair will feature a horse show, which usually attracts from 80 to 90 leading show horses from Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Started in 1922 as "the showcase of Adams County agriculture", the fair has kept that basic character since, adding through the years, Broadway revue type of entertainment, a midway, the commercial exhibits and hundreds of other activities and events. The fair missed one year in the past 31 years when wartime restrictions caused fair officials to abandon plans for that year.

YORK INTERSTATE FAIR

Still the greatest entertainment bargain after more than a century of providing top notch thrills and pleasure for county fair patrons, the York Interstate Fair has scheduled another all-star array of attractions for the week beginning Tuesday, September 15 and continuing daily afternoon and evening through Saturday, September 19.

The same low, economical prices which have prevailed for so many years, will again be in effect. This in spite of rising costs and an ever increasing demand on the part of the public for bigger and better attractions.

Heading the group of outstanding artists which Samuel S. Lewis, president and manager of the Fair, has booked, are two of the current big "names" in the recording field, Vaughn Monroe and Les Paul and Mary Ford.

Monroe, who will appear with Ray McKinley's popular orchestra on Wednesday afternoon and evening, recently disbanded his own orchestra in answer to pleas for his appearance as a "single." Paul and his wife, whose distinctive recordings have sold more than 6,000,000 copies, will be heard both Thursday afternoon and evening.

Ferko's Mummer's String Band will be featured afternoon and evening on Tuesday, while Carman Miranda, Latin American bombshell, and movie star Mickey Rooney are teamed for laughs on Friday's afternoon and evening program. Midget auto racing a Saturday fixture, will be held in the afternoon, to be followed by an auto thrill show in the evening.

Harness and running races will be presented in the afternoon, Tuesday through Friday, and Frank Wirth's colorful Broadway revue, "Gags 'N' Gals" is scheduled for presentation evenings only on the big all-weather covered stage.

STATE NATIONAL GUARD IN STATE-WIDE AIR RAID ALERT

All civilian and military personnel in the Maryland National Guard have received orders to participate in the State-wide Air Raid Alert to be held on September 22nd, according to Civil Defense officials.

All personnel on military installations will "seek shelter" at the sounding of the RED warning, according to the instructions issued by Lt. Col. Benjamin F. Cassell, Administrative Assistant to the Adjutant General.

The test will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 22, at 2:01 p. m. The general public is being asked to cooperate during "Operation Check-up" by "taking cover" and traffic is expected to stop.

The alert will affect the public for about six minutes.

WELL-TRAVELED MARYLANDER

Mrs. Richard Shepherd, learns at the Maryland State Fair, Timonium, that can openers cut a distance equal to three-and-a-half times around the world opening the 504,734,000 cans of food consumed each year in Maryland. Explaining this is R. C. Wrightson, manager of American Can Company's "Maryland" plant in Baltimore. He said that every time a Maryland housewife opens an average-sized can of food she cuts through 10.8 inches of metal. "Altogether," he said, "the can-openers used by Free State housewives travel through 414 miles a distance of 86,029 miles a year. This averages out to about 709 feet per housewife."

C. C. A. SOCIETY ANNUAL DRIVE FOR FUNDS

The Carroll County Children's Aid Society will conduct its annual drive for funds October 1st to 15th. A goal of $13,000.00 is to be reached and Mr. Scott S. Bair will serve as campaign chairman. The "Kick-off" dinner for members, district campaign chairmen and workers will be held in the Social Hall of Grace Lutheran church, Westminster, September 28, at 6:30 p. m. Mrs. R. Howard Reichard is President of the organization and Mrs. John P. Brooks is county executive.

"ACCIDENT FACTS"

The straight and narrow path can lead to trouble!

Seventy-seven per cent of the fatal motor vehicle accidents last year occurred on straight roads, according to the 1953 edition of "Accident Facts", the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook. Unfavorable road conditions, such as a wet, muddy, snowy or icy surface, were reported in only one out of five fatal accidents.

The Reporter Says...

Asia and the U.N.: It is certainly a sound principle for one of the permanent seats in the Security Council to be held by a major Asian power. Nationalist China is no longer in this category. Communist China has clearly disqualified itself by waging open warfare against the U.N. Fortunately, there is another nation that is very well qualified to serve. It has a democratic form of government. It now acts as the conscience of Asia. It is in the free world but sufficiently independent in its foreign policy to have stayed clear of formal alliances with either of the major groups of powers. This nation is India. India is now policing the truce in Korea—an assignment that probably could not have been given, with the agreement of all concerned, to any other nation on earth. The United Nations would benefit if India were one of the Big Five in the Security Council.

Paper-backs: Despite TV and 3D, Americans, because of the paper-backs, are buying and reading almost three times as many books as before. Annual paper-back sales of around $250 million, almost ninety percent fiction, have been added to hard-cover sales of some $200 million.

83rd Congress: The unkindest thing about its first session has been said by the Administration's closest friends: like got nearly everything he asked for. The other side of that coin is "nothing ventured, nothing gained."

The Trigger: Berlin: According to Isaac Deutscher, the Germans who surged into the streets meeting Russian tanks with a hail of stones did in fact bring about an upheaval; but the upheaval took place in Moscow, not in Berlin. Beria fell.

Corn Cover Crops Are Soil Savers

Wide Variety Grasses And Legumes Used

More and more farmers in different sections of the country are finding it pays to plant cover crops in corn.

These farmers believe seeding cover crops in corn improves the soil, increases yield by improving soil, prevents erosion and gives many livestock men late fall and early spring pasture.

They are broadcasting seed at last cultivation and even using airplanes when the corn is taller.

A wide variety of legumes, grasses and mixtures are being used.

Dr. J. L. Haynes of the Ohio Experiment Station says a successful cover crop must: (a) put nitrogen in soil for following crop; (b) improve soil structure; (c) control erosion, if it's a hazard.

More and more farmers in different sections of the country are experimenting with cover crops in corn. They are trying to find the answers for increased production and improved soil structure. This type agriculture may be the answer.

He adds: "We feel we should have about three or four more years of experimental work to take out more of the 'bugs' before green manure interplanting is recommended as a general practice."

However, farmers in New York and Wisconsin, the south and far west, are experimenting with cover crops in corn in an effort to solve their local problems and to increase yields.

Farm Bureau Asks Cut in Federal Aid

The American Farm Bureau Federation's official news letter recently asserted that federal funds appropriated for agricultural conservation should be allocated on the basis of conservation needs.

Federal spending should be cut, the letter stated, and agriculture should bear its share of the reduction.

However, the periodical explained, some research and service activities are essential, so an "across the board" reduction is impractical. That makes it necessary to impose relatively heavy cuts in direct payments to farmers.

"Appropriated funds for the Agricultural Conservation Program should be allocated on the basis of conservation needs. Payments for practices which have become a normal and accepted part of farming operations of the area in which a farm is located, should be discontinued," the Bureau said.

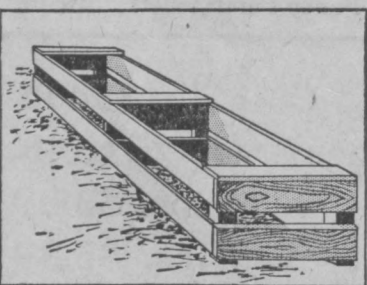

"Payments due individuals should not be increased after practices have been performed, as has sometimes been done to use up available funds. Unused funds should be returned to the Treasury without penalty to the county in the next year's allocation."

A long-term, low-interest rate loans program was suggested as a substitute for the present ACP program.

Christian Courage

Lesson for Sept. 13, 1953

NOBODY loves a coward. But Christian courage is a very special kind. A brave man may be a mean one; a brave man may be a selfish and cruel man too. But not a brave Christian! Christian courage is not something unconnected with the rest of life. Christian courage is one of a chain of virtues, not a loose jewel by itself. The courage of a Christian is (like that of others) sometimes of the body, sometimes of the mind and spirit. It is different from ordinary courage both in the why and the how.

Why Courage?

Some persons who do not understand Christianity have called this way of life "a slave - morality." Perhaps we Christians are to blame for this, because we have sometimes rated humility as the top virtue, and also because we have not always set the example of a courageous life. But Dr. Foreman a true Christian is not a dish-rag sort of person, a worm without backbone. He finds need for bravery quite as much as any hero in the world. First of all he needs courage for his tasks, as Paul pointed out to his young friend Timothy. The everyday tasks, of course; but Paul meant something specially Christian. Paul was an experienced missionary, and a very brave one; Timothy was a much younger missionary, and apparently not a naturally brave man. The work to which Timothy had been called is, after all, the same to which all Christians are called. Let us name two items: personal witness to Christ, and sharing the gospel with the world. Isn't it just these two tasks that scare the "average" Christian to death? Most church members would rather do almost anything else but go out and make calls on strangers inviting them to unite with Christ.

Lashes and Laughter

The Christian has other needs for courage, as Paul pointed out. One is in order to endure hardship, the other is to endure ridicule. It is tough to be a real Christian. The toughness is not felt always here in comfortable America; but in other lands it can be very tough indeed. There are Mohammedan villages in India where any one who openly becomes a Christian is denied even the use of the public well, and if he is not assassinated he will be left to starve to death or forced to seek a beggar's living in strange villages. There are places in Africa where to be known as a Christian and friend of white missionaries means constant danger of torture and death at the hands of murderous heathen mobs. There are places under the hammer-and-sickle where to be known as a Christian is to be cut off from normal ways of making a living. These things are not done to Christians in America—yet; but there is another weapon many Christians have to face—the saw-edged dagger of laughter. Christians are told by some highly-educated and impressive atheists that all religion is "infantilism," that no one can call himself mature if he leans on a God or even believes in one, that all religion including Christianity is a relic of superstitious ignorance. It takes a certain amount of iron in the blood to stand up against this sort of belittling. It takes inner courage to say as Paul did often: "I am not ashamed."

How Courage Comes

Paul would not have helped Timothy if all he had said was: Be brave! He goes on to show him how. He points to himself as an example—not by way of conceit but simply to demonstrate that he knew whereof he spoke. First he says "I know him . . . I am persuaded that he is able . . ." Christian courage is based on God, not ourselves. As John expressed it, "Greater is he that is in you than he that is in the world." Then Paul urges Timothy to look to God, not to man, for final approval. This always works. On the other hand, Christian courage is not hoping God will do it all. We have to combine faith with action. "Stir to a flame," says Paul, "the gift that is in you." God endows us with ability to do all we need to do and to be all we need to be; but it is up to us.

Let's Think

by
G. H. ENFIELD

A host of children should be pitied today instead of condemned.

A fellow who puts in more licks during the day will need less kicks at its close.

A bed is to sleep in, not to roll and toss in.

It is as impossible to serve God and mammon as it is to travel north and south at the same time.

Husband: Isn't it wonderful to be alone in our own house?

Wife: It surely is.
Husband: I don't care whether I ever see you again.

Mosquitoes are so out of place in Salem Oregon, that a man slapped at a lone intruder in church Sunday night; he missed it.

Up the ladder to the plane of success Requires diligent work, I must confess What is worth doing is worth doing well,

"Of all the geese the world ever saw, the featherless goose is the most ridiculous."—Sam Jones.

"Behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be."—Rev. 22:12.

Heaven is just beyond the largest battlefield known to man—the world of sin.

It was the Fourth of July. A small, unkempt lad was standing on the platform at the railroad station when an old lady stopped to ask: "Boy, why are you so dirty? Don't you ever wash?"

"Yes, mam," the tot replied. "I'm waiting for my Sunday School teacher now. Every time it's the Fourth of July, he puts us all on the train, and we go swimmin'—and when we get to the river, I get clean."

"Even at that, you had better get cleaned up. If I were your Sunday School teacher, I'd be ashamed to take you. How did you ever get so dirty?" she asked.

"Well," said the tot, "last year, I missed the train."

A woman went to a doctor to complain about her husband's delusion. "It's terrible, Doctor," she said. "All the time he thinks he's a refrigerator."

"Well," consoled the medical man, "that isn't too bad. Quite a harmless delusion, I'd say."

"The delusion I don't mind, Doctor. But when he sleeps with his mouth open, the little light keeps me awake!"

Anyone who thinks chemical warfare is new doesn't know much about perfume.

An Irishman entered a barber shop for a shave. After he was seated and the lather applied, the barber was called to the adjoining room, where he was detained.

The barber had a pet monkey in the shop which was in the habit of imitating its master. As soon as the barber had quitted the room the monkey seized the shaving brush, dipped it in the lather, and proceeded to apply it to the Irishman's face.

When the operation was finished to the monkey's satisfaction, the little animal picked up a razor, and, after stropping it, turned to Pat to shave him.

"Stop that!" cried Pat, firmly, sitting erect. "Ye can tuck the towel in me neck and put the soap on me face, but begorra, yer father's got to shave me!"

Let the thought of self pass in, and the beauty of a great action is gone like the bloom from a soiled flower.—James A. Froude.

It's commendable to get in and dig, but be careful where you throw the dirt.

There is more power in the open hand than in the clenched fist.

The cannibal looked at the missionary. "Shall we boil this one?" he asked.
"No," replied the other. "He's a friar."

Shopper: "I notice you have your window full of musical instruments and pistols. Isn't that an odd combination?"

Pawnbroker: "No, it's good business. Somebody buys a musical instrument, and a day later some of the neighbors come in for pistols."

WASHING—No more backaches for you, Mrs. Housewife. Now you can toss soiled clothes into your electric washer, set the dial, and your automatic electric washer will take over all the work. Deep-down dirt is washed out and rinsed away. Then all the rinse water is spun out and your washer turns itself off. All this time, you're relaxing.

DRYING—When the clothes come out of the washer, into the dryer they go—not up endless stairs to the clothesline. No more lugging soggy, wet clothes . . . no more up-and-down, up-and-down bending from basket to line. And, you're not worrying about rain, snow or heavy winds for your electric dryer is doing the job indoors, anytime.

IRONING—Not the bending, pushing, pulling, lifting kind of ironing—but automatic ironing that lets you sit comfortably while you simply guide clothes through the smooth-ironing automatic ironer. SCHOOL OPENED SEPTEMBER 8 school opening and the assignment of teachers to specific positions.

On Tuesday, September 1, a general meeting was held for all new teachers and all principals. Teachers were introduced to the principals and other staff members, as well as to the representatives of the Blue Cross Hospitalization and the Washington National Insurance Company. By courtesy of the Carroll county branch of the American Association of University Women a "Coffee Hour" was held during part of the program. Miss Dorothy Shires, State Supervisor of Pupil Personnel Services, spoke to the group very effectively on "The Social Climate of the Classroom." Group meetings were held later in the day with certain of the county teachers participating as chairmen of the groups. First grade teachers were in charge of Mrs. Margaret Brillhart, principal Uniontown school; second grade teachers, Mrs. Marian Royer, West End school; third grade teachers, Mrs. Madeline Bankert, West End school; fourth grade teachers, Mrs. Christine Myers, Westminster Elementary school; fifth grade teachers, Mrs. Frances Free, Mount Airy school; sixth grade teachers, Mrs. Bernice Brillhart, Westminster elementary school. The new high school teachers were also addressed by Mr. John F. Wooden, Jr. and Mr. Gerald Richter, Supervisors of High Schools.

The first general meeting for all county teachers was held Wednesday, Sept. 2, in the Westminster High School auditorium. Reverend Harold R. Hodgson, Pastor of the Westminster Methodist church, delivered the invocation and Mr. Philip Royer, Carroll County Music Supervisor, was in charge of group singing. Mr. S. M. Jenness, Superintendent of Schools, gave the opening remarks and introduced Mr. Paul M. Niswander, President of the Board of Education. Mr. Niswander spoke briefly to the teachers expressing the hope that their experience in the county would be pleasant. The entire group was addressed on the subject "Learning Through Reading" by Dr. Laura Zirbes, Professor of Education Ohio State University. Dr. Zirbes spoke at both the morning and afternoon sessions and her enthusiasm and philosophy seemed to be very inspiring to the teacher group. High school teachers were addressed later in the day by Miss Loretta Antl, special consultant in the field of reading. Elementary teachers met in groups under the following chairmen: grade one, Mrs. Betty Jenkins, Manchester school; grade two, Mrs. Della Rickell, Elmer Wolfe school; grade three, Miss Margaret Murray, Westminster elementary school; grade four, Mrs. Belle Sprinkle, Hampstead school; grade five, Mrs. Bertie Houck, Hampstead school; grade six, Mr. Lionel Yohn, Winfield school.

Another general session for all teachers was held on Thursday, Sept. 3. The meeting was opened by the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by Miss Janet Hering, teacher in the Westminster Elementary school. The principal address of the day was made by Dr. James Harold Fox, Dean of the School of Education in the George Washington University, Washington, D. C. Dr. Fox spoke to the entire group in the morning on the subject "Teamwork in Education." His address was pronounced one of the most inspiring to be given in recent years. Dr. Fox spoke to a smaller group in the afternoon on the subject "The Group Process versus Traditional Procedures." Others assisting in the programs during the day from outside the county were Miss Antl, Reading Consultant; Mrs. Grace Dorsey, State Supervisor of Elementary schools; Mr. Chauncey Tatum, C & P Telephone Company; Miss Beth Peterson, Home Economist from the Dupont Company; Dr. Rose Smith, Towson State Teacher's College; Miss Gladys Hopkins, State Supervisor of Curriculum State Department of Education. County teachers serving as chairmen for groups during the day were: Mr. Philip Royer, Supervisor of Music; Mr. Grayson Shank, Industrial Arts teacher at Elmer Wolfe; Miss Emma Myers, West End school, chairman for Grade one; Mrs. Louise Spittell, Westminster Elementary school chairman for Grades two and three; Mrs. Pearl Bellison, Mount Airy school; Chairman for Grade four; Mrs. Thelma Rice, Westminster Elementary, Chairman for Grade five; Mr. Kenneth Mays, Sandymount school, chairman for Grade six. The meeting ended with refreshments during which time a special meeting of the Carroll County Teachers Association was held with Mr. Stephen Lerda, President, in charge. Reports were heard from teachers who represented the county at the N.E.A. Conference in Florida during the summer. These reports were given by Miss Margaret Murray, Westminster Elementary school; Mrs. Urith A. Shipley, Taneytown High school; Mrs. Ernest Mink, Manchester Elementary school. Mr. Henry Kanowicz, Mount Airy School, spoke briefly to the teachers on the establishment of the Teachers' Credit Union. Mr. Milson C. Reever, Executive Secretary of the Md. State Teachers Association, also addressed the group. The meetings were held in extremely hot weather but the excellent program and the full cooperation of all teachers made the meetings a distinct success.

A group of eighth grade students from the Westminster High school participated in the Thursday afternoon program as a demonstration class in charge of Miss Loretta Antl, Reading Specialist. The names of the pupils participating were: Ann Russell, Delores Sell, Leon Robert, Sydney Palmer, Guy Mowers, Virginia Rugemer, Charles Stoner, Donna Stoner, Nancy Shutter, Evelyn Zepp, Barbara Yingling, Boyer Stoner, Richard Havens, Robert Houck, Patricia Hill, Betty Austin, Shirley Bauerlein, Joan Blauvelt, Jean Blauvelt, Frances Haines, Thomas Graft, Wayne Hoffman, Douglas Miller, Nancy Noel, Ruby Strine, Neal Smith and Judy Wagner.

ANSWERS

Q. What's an easy way to control poultry lice?

A. The best way I know is, use Dr. Salsbury's Vapo-Roost. All you have to do is spread it on the perches and see that all birds go to roost. Vapo-Roost doesn't stain the feathers or taint flesh or eggs, because it contains benzene hexachloride. Use Vapo-Roost regularly to delouse your flock -- it pays! Ask for Vapo-Roost this week.
