Invocation was offered by Rev. Glenn L. Stahl, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church.

Following the dinner Mr. Merwyn C. Fuss, president of the Chamber presented the officers and introduced the guests and thirteen new members as follows: Merwyn C. Fuss, G. E. Bixler, Elmer Fuss, C. O. Garner, Harry Haines, Lawrence Foutz, Elsworth Parks, Frank Wagnery, Walton E. Stevens, Vernon C. Reaver, Louis Mischea, Mrs. Grace Smelser, Stuart Widner. The membership roster reached 147 members.

"The Sentimentalists" a quartette from York, Pa., entertained those present with a number of vocal selections with their close harmony.

One of the surprising features of the evening's program was the presentation of silver plaques to President Fuss and Charles R. Arnold, Treasurer of the Chamber, for their service in the organization since its founding twenty-five years. Due to illness Mr. Arnold was unable to be present at the banquet. The presentation was made by David Smith and the plaque will be engraved as follows:

AN EDUCATIONAL TRIP

The two sixth grades from the Taneytown Elementary school took a field trip November 5, to Washington, D. C. We went on the trip at this time because we are now studying the Middle Atlantic States. There were not too many other tourists, and seeing our nation's capital on this brisk November day was a treat to most of us.

Our first stop was at the Washington Cathedral which is being built in the shape of a Latin cross. In it are many chapels which are dedicated in memory of certain people. The Cathedral was begun in 1907 and was opened in 1912 and has had services every day since. When completed it will be one-tenth of a mile long. It is a Protestant Episcopal Cathedral which is being built by gifts from people from all parts of the world.

An interesting place we visited was the capital building itself. It is noted for its great white dome and its many rooms and steps which are built of marble. Some of the rooms are: President's Room, Senate Chamber and Statuary Hall.

After eating our lunch we went to the Library of Congress. In this building there are four hundred and fifteen miles of shelving and there are twenty-three hundred people employed there. Everyone enjoyed seeing the reading room.

We also visited the National Museum of Art. There were statues, fountains in gardens and many beautiful pictures.

Our last stop was at the Washington Monument. During the minute ride up in the elevator we heard over a loud speaker some information about the monument. When we were at the top we looked out the windows. Looking north is the White House, east is the Capitol, south is the Jefferson Memorial and west is the Lincoln Memorial.

Leaving the Monument we passed the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorial. Tired, but happy we reached home safe and sound. Mrs. Ethel Walker, Mrs. Mary Bankert, our two teachers, and also a few mothers accompanied us.

C. of C. WILL MEET

The regular meeting of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday evening, at 6:30 at Taney Inn. This will be a dinner meeting.

BOND ISSUE TO BE VOTED UPON

Special Election Next Monday on Sewer Question

Another opportunity will be given the qualified voters of Taneytown to express their opinion regarding a sanitary Sewer System through the medium of a $500,000 Bond Issue next Monday, November 30th. The polls will be open from 12 noon to 6 p. m. The place of the election will be in the Firemen's Building.

A similar election was held March 28, 1952 for a $400,000 Bond Issue that would have provided for a shallow sewer but was defeated 238 to 190. Some thought that the shallow sewer plan was the cause for the defeat; others were probably influenced by a last minute "Circular" that was passed out shortly before the day for the election. Following the defeat of this Bond Issue vote the City fathers began planning for a more complete and serviceable sewer, a deeper sewer, hence the additional cost.

Some of the benefits that will be derived by the installation of the Sanitary Sewer according to the City Council are: An expanding town due to its progressive attitude; no more filthy storm drains; no more septic tank trouble; new sidewalks where sewer is laid and no more stagnant pools where mosquitoes breed.

Following a sanitary survey in Taneytown in the Spring of 1952 by the Board of Health its findings were reported by Dr. Gordon, Deputy State Health Officers of the Carroll County Health Department as follows:

"Properties surveyed with regard to Sewage Disposal 140; Properties unsatisfactory or doubtful 63 or 45%; of these, 8 are doubtful.

Disposal into abandoned well 6
Effluent from Septic Tank to ground, ditch or street 11
Disposal by Cesspool 26

Total 43
Kitchen wastes disposed of above ground 32.

The above information was given by individual householders during the survey. The sewage disposal system was not inspected by the sanitation making the survey. The Department believes it can be safely assumed that survey. The sewage disposal systems which do not meet State regulations is considerably higher than shown.

In instance, no householder reported that the sewage disposal was run directly into the storm drain. Yet it is known that this is the case with many properties. The Department believes that a complete investigation of each property would show a very high percentage of unsatisfactory systems.

It was a consensus of opinion that the shallow sewer, although costing less, would be very unsatisfactory. One point brought out was the pollution of a stream that flows from the town past or through the land of a farmer that not only makes it unpleasant for the health but quite a hazard to good health.

A representative of the State Department said that if the sewage disposal conditions in Taneytown were not corrected drastic action would have to be taken in the "immediate future."

The above conditions are as prevalent now as when the survey was made.

In a statement outlined by President H. M. Mohney the cost and plans for the new proposed sewer are:

"That in order to amortize the $500,000. worth of bonds necessary to install the sewer, between $22,000 to $28,800 would have to be paid off of a first year on the principal and interest. Forty years is the life of the bonds. Based on the present assessable value of Taneytown, the present tax rate would have to be increased to 90c per $100. The water rents would have to be increased from the minimum of $2.00 per quarter to $3.00 per quarter; the increase would be 50% on all water used.

The increase in the water rates charge is a substitution of the former plan that was to charge each property owner a certain fixed charge per front foot of his property. This plan is offered as a more equitable one, as the cost of operating the sewer is governed by the amount of water that passes through it to the treatment plant.

The City proposes to lay the sewer under the sidewalks on each side of E. Baltimore street to the city limits. On W. Baltimore street the sewer will be laid on the north side of the street, under the sidewalks, but on the South side of this street the sewer will be laid in the alley along the end of the properties of said W. Baltimore street (South side).

The cost of connecting to the sewer by the property owner, from his property to the inside of the curb, was estimated to cost $50 to $75. The town would replace all sidewalks at the town's expense. Every property in Taneytown can be properly sewered by the proposed deep sewer if the plans as outlined by the City Council are consummated.

The overall picture of the proposed sewer will be ¾ of the sewage pumped; the other ¼ will be handled with a gravity flow.

So—Vote your sentiments next Monday, November 30th.

Sergeant: "When I say 'fire,' I want all of you to fire at will."

Just then a recruit leaped to his feet and disappeared like a scared rabbit.

Sarge: "What was that?"

Another recruit: "That was Will."

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Just two pounds of sweetness arrived at the Parsonage in the form of a Honey Colored Cocker Spaniel just six weeks old which I have named, "Sugar" and now I am on the look out for a black one which I will call "Spice". So there you have it right after this Column!

Ladies, those Box Handbags are going over very big in all the stores in all colors, the expensive and the inexpensive ones and as for Milday's Chapeau! Well, "WHITE IS RIGHT" plus all pastel shades for the winter!

On T.V. the funniest actress and I mean a real Comedienne is Martha Raye. She sure can win the laughs from the audience with her vast skill which is not forced or labored. She is never vulgar although boisterous. A scene of love-making with Cesar Romero on a sofa was a wrestling match which was truly a scream! It was good to see Irene Dunne right there on the same program. That grand lady never seems to change in appearance or looks as the years come on. Our former President's daughter (who is really loved by everyone) made her debut as a dramatic Actress on the Paul Winchell show. Miss Truman playing the role of a blind woman trapped in her home by an insane killer in a seven minute sketch. Miss Truman is now 29 years old and her voice in music brings her $60,000 a year!

How fast Paul Winchell has risen in show business with his "Dummy" Jerry. I recall the very first time I saw him on the Amateur show as a try out and he has surely been going places ever since!

As for Dennis James as M.C. for the Telethon for Palsy Victims was a huge success as there were 60,000 phone pledges!

In Washington last week, Nov. 16 an exhibit of the Manuscript scores of John Philip Sousa which were given to the Library of Congress last Spring by the "March Kings" family was opened at a ceremony in the Great Hall on the 1st floor of the Main Library building at 4 p. m. An important recent addition to the collection, the composer's full band score of "The Stars and Stripes, Forever" was among the more than 50 Manuscripts in the exhibit. The 80 piece U. S. Marine Band under the direction of Lt. Wm. F. Stantelmann played some of Sousa's Compositions during the ceremony. His two daughters from New York State were present at the exhibit along with relatives and friends. When you next go to visit the buildings in Washington, you will note the original "STARS AND STRIPES, FOREVER" right there in the show case!

Mother if you have a daughter who you think is a real Tom Boy—don't worry as Tom Boy Girls always make the best wives! Just check on this one!

This time of the year when the two Post Offices in Carroll County of around the town and Keymar get real busy, I always think of those attending the public and how very kind and patient they are! Those days are beginning right now again!

This letter No. 2—for the small "Fry",

Hello, Little Friend:

I am writing you from the town of Santa Claus

My Elves are so busy there's no time to pause.

They work night and day making all kinds of toys

For Santa to give to good girls and boys.

We're all preparing for that magic day When I'll harness the reindeer and board my sleigh.

And away we'll fly thru the swirling snow

To the house—of all good children, I know.

I'll stop on your roof top; squeeze down your chimney,

And leave toys you'll like, I will by Jimmy!

Then away, I'll go as quiet as a mouse To spread joy and gladness thru everyone's house!

Your Jolly Friend, Santa Claus. Have a grand week-end, Folks. Happy Thanksgiving! So long until next week and don't eat too much turkey. I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

WORDS TO REMEMBER:

The name of the man or woman who first wrote the words may be long forgotten—but the words themselves are not. They are:

"I shall pass through this world but once. Any good thing, therefore, that I can do to any human being, let me do it now. For I shall not pass this way again."

THANKFULNESS

Always it seems to me odd, (Also it seems to me sad)—People so seldom say 'God' Publicly save when they're mad. Or, in a panic, afraid, Muttering under their breath, They will call God to their aid, Facing a danger, or death. Why not say God when you're glad? Say His name joyously, loud, Thank Him for happiness had, Even if you're in a crowd.

DON'T COOK YOUR GOOSE BEFORE CHRISTMAS

In all Christian lands, Christmas is a time for feasting—but don't cook your goose before Christmas!

Every yuletide hundreds of lives are snuffed out or ruined by careless accidents. Some of these occur in preparation for the joyous season—falls while putting up decorations, or burns incurred while cooking. But the greatest toll takes place on the nation's highways, while the victims are bound to or from the get-togethers that are so much a part of Christmas.

The National Safety Council has found that traffic accident deaths on both Christmas eve and Christmas day are about twice as high as the annual daily average. Family gatherings and other festivities bring the peak travel of the winter. And when more cars are on the move there is more chance of an accident.

Early darkness plus bad weather add up to poor visibility. Fogged windshields also make it difficult to see and avoid accident situations.

Rain, snow and ice mean slippery streets and highways, but thousands of holiday drivers fail to adjust their speed to hazardous conditions.

The good fellowship of the season stimulates more drinking—and too often the celebrants clink glasses with death.

Seven hundred and forty persons died as the result of accidents during the Christmas holidays last year—and the toll of 556 killed in traffic accidents was the highest on record.

For a merry Christmas this year, be wary.

Don't cook your goose before Christmas!

—National Safety Council.

BLOCK THE SOCIAL SECURITY TAX INCREASE

In a recent syndicated column, Robert S. Allen states that President Eisenhower strongly desires to block the automatic jump in the social security tax that is scheduled for the first of the year, and that Chairman Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee has pledged cooperation.

That tax increase, should it come, would offset the prospective income tax reductions for every couple with an income of $3600 a year or less. And there is no need whatsoever for a higher social security tax—the system's reserves are enormous and are still growing.

The American people want and have been promised tax cuts at the earliest possible time. The President's position on the social security levy is 100 per cent sound.—Industrial News Review.

DISARMING—AND REARMING

Vice-President Richard Nixon, who has displayed exceptional moral courage on more than one occasion, is now a hero, senior grade, in our book.

In an address to 700 Japanese leaders in Tokyo the other day, our hero calmly announced that "the US had made a mistake" in ordering Japan disarmed in 1946. And if that were not enough, he went on to say that "We misjudged the intentions of the Soviet leaders", at the end of the war. That we rearm "because we want peace" and we want Japan to rearm to help us achieve it. "If we want peace, we must be militarily stronger than the Communist nations", he said.

Admission that we are capable of mistakes is refreshing—and reassuring too.—U. S. Press Association.

DON'T FORGET LOCAL GOVERNMENT

When we talk of taxes, most of us think of the federal government. That's natural—for federal taxation constitutes our greatest tax burden.

But we will make a bad mistake if we overlook government at the other levels. During the last fiscal year, says the Tax Review, state tax collections broke all previous records, reaching high of $10,452,000,000. And local tax collections also scaled a new peak, estimated at $10,200,000,000. This means that the combined state-local tax load came to $133.16 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The moral is plain. We must fight against wasteful and excessively costly government everywhere—not just in Washington, D.C.—Industrial News Review.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ASHLAND, NEB., GAZETTE: "Your weekly newspaper is the nerve center of a community, and without it that same community would soon begin to lose its identity. It is one of the great bulwarks of a free America. Thousands of weekly newspapers throughout the United States represent the best read printed matter in general circulation today."

FOWLER, MICH. POST: "In these days of high taxation, a person has to take advantage of all the good breaks to keep from going broke. But remember, any free handout is just a false solution to the basic difficulty. The day you find yourself believing that government gifts are the cure to all economic evils, that's the day you slipped into socialistic and communistic thinking."

BALTIMORE, MD., DAILY RECORD: "The power of Labor, when used to further the legitimate interests of the working men, is an asset to our economy, but when the power of Labor is exercised in ways that are obviously against the public interest then that power becomes a menace."

BASSETT, NEB. LEADER: "In addition to being the most richly productive, America's economic system does a better job of 'sharing the wealth' produced than any other system the world has ever tried."

WHAT DOES IT PROFIT A MAN?

In 1923, a group of the world's most successful financiers met at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. Present were:

The president of the largest independent steel company;

The president of the largest utility company;

The greatest wheat speculator;

The president of the New York Stock Exchange;

A member of the President's Cabinet;

The greatest "bear" in Wall Street;

The president of the Bank of International Settlements;

The head of the world's greatest monopoly.

These men controlled more wealth than there is in the United States Treasury. Newspapers and magazines printed their success stories and urged the youth of the nation to follow their examples. Twenty-five years later let us see what happened to these men. The president of the largest independent steel company—Charles Schwab, died a bankrupt and lived on borrowed money for five years before his death.

The president of the greatest utility company—Samuel Insull, died a fugitive from justice and penniless in a foreign land.

The greatest wheat speculator—Arthur Cutten, died abroad insolvent.

The president of the New York Stock Exchange—Richard Whitney has been released from Sing Sing Penitentiary.

The member of the President's Cabinet—Albert Fall, was pardoned from prison so he could die at home.

The greatest "bear" in Wall Street—Jesse Livermore, died a suicide.

The president of the Bank of International Settlements—Leon Frazer, died a suicide.

The head of the greatest monopoly—Ivar Krueger, died a suicide.

All of these men learned well the art of making money, but not one of them learned how to live.—Cypress Temple News.

No greater happiness is won than through a deed for others done.

The funny thing about trouble is that it often starts out being fun.

Accepting government aid is like taking drugs—pleasant at first, habit-forming later, damning at last.

A man who has reformed himself has contributed his full share toward the reformation of his neighbor.

You might say that the H-bomb was the invention to end all inventions.

"A gossip's a person who will never tell a lie if the truth will do as much damage."—Galen Drake.

"It's every American's duty to support his government, but not necessarily in the style to which it has become accustomed."—Tom Clifford.

"Let us be alert not to talk or predict ourselves into a depression; rather let us look to the future with great expectation and plan for it."—Charles R. Sligh, Jr., NAM president.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Now that the holidays are approaching, a good many economical housewives—especially those who are not the fortunate proprietors of a poultry yard—are concerned over the abnormally high price of eggs. Thirty cents a dozen, retail, will undoubtedly have a discouraging effect on the manufacture of Christmas delicacies; but, those who have the fruit to sell are not worrying a bit, except in the way of censuring the stingy hens for not "delivering the goods" more rapidly.

From our advertising columns, it will be seen that D. W. Garner is about to enter the general Farming Implement business, in this place, in connection with Dairy Machinery.

Pleasant Valley—The public school of this place will hold an oyster supper and fair this Saturday night; oysters will be served in all the different styles. Music by Pleasant Valley band. Proceeds to be used for an Organ to be placed in the school room.

Mayberry—Chas. R. Babylon, whose barn was destroyed by fire last Sept., has finished rebuilding with lumber bought of Reindollar & Co., of Taneytown; the work was done by John Spangler and brother, and both work and lumber are of the best quality. Wm. Rodkey is building a new house, near his present residence. Samuel Crouse is the contractor. John E. Smith, of York, Pa., spent a few days with H. E. Fleagle, and both were engaged in reducing the partridge and rabbit population.

Harney—Quite a number of our citizens used Thanksgiving day for butchering. We suppose they had a right to celebrate the day in that manner, if they choose; who wouldn't be thankful for a nice lot of pork with plenty of fresh sausage and pudding?

J. Newcomer is off on a trip in the interest of his cigar business. John D. Hesson, our green grocer and confectioner, accompanied him. Jacob Yealy, one of our cigarmakers, who has been working on the farm since last April, has started to work again for Mr. Newcomer.

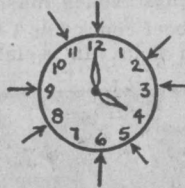

The expenses of the election in this county have been paid by the County Commissioners, the amount being over $6000. This means that the cost of each vote counted amounted to about 90 cents.

FEESERSBURG

No doubt the D. A. R. will not care for the following bit of information but the truth of the matter is the first Thanksgiving Day set aside by the Pilgrims was not in pious thankfulness for a good year by their Creator but rather as a day of thanksgiving that they had been victorious over their enemy—the Indians. The Pilgrims had just succeeded in killing Phillip, chief of the Wampanoag Indian tribe and either killed or sold into slavery the remainder of Phillip's people, and they were in a gleeful mood. So much so, that they felt like celebrating. About seventy-five years later they set aside another Thanksgiving Day. In fact, it was the year 1692 that the Plymouth General Court met once more and in its final act set aside the last Wednesday of August "to be kept as a day of solemn fasting and humiliation." This is the Thanksgiving Day that the writers and historians prefer to remember. When one goes through the few papers and letters left by the first immigrants on the first Mayflower one learns that the Pilgrims were not meek and pious at all. They knew how to take care of themselves very well, and although it is a harsh thing to say about the Pilgrims they were well versed in dirty politics too. The following is a quote from an historical paper: "The first precept in their Politics is to defame the man at whom they aim, and then he is a holy Israelite in their opinions who can spread the fame broadest". Doesn't that have a familiar ring to it? It often gives one a feeling of balance to dig into history that has not been glorified by writers with too much imagination and not enough facts. For it teaches us that our ancestors were not plaster saints, but rather red-blooded men and women who lived life as they found it, and made plenty of errors while living. Comparing the past with the present, I am always convinced that the human race is forever improving and steadily plodding toward eventual freedom from tyranny. Some where along the path of five or ten thousand years man will shed the last of his animal instincts and at that period of his development he can really celebrate a Thanksgiving Day.

The most bewildering thing about man is his idea about work and the amount of work he imposes upon himself, or rather civilization has imposed upon him. Did you ever happen to think that man is the only working animals? The remainder of nature's creatures loaf. Why does man work? Because he has to, for with the progress of civilization life gets incredibly more complex. Watch a bird sometime, or a rabbit, or any wild animal, and notice if any one of them seem to be worrying about where their next meal is coming from. Of course a man's meal is a lot more complicated than a bird's, for before he can sit down to a table with three items on the menu a thousand man-hours have gone into producing, cultivating, merchandising and transporting it. With the exception of a few horses, even domestic pets don't have to work. Watch dogs never do any watching any more and the house cat thinks all mice are related to Mickey and should be allowed to live. Man has so civilized himself that not only must he spend all his life toiling to feed himself but he must also toil to feed the rest of Nature's creatures. Civilization is largely a matter of seeking food, while progress is that development which makes food more and more difficult to get. This constant rush for progress must certainly some day reach a point when man will be pretty tired of it all, and will begin to take stock of his conquests in the material world. Culture and ideas have moved in cycles and it may be in the not too distant future man will return to a more lazy temperament. It may be that when America finally catches its breath it will return to the philosophy of Whitman and Thoreau.

If the Dupre incident should do anything it should teach a reading public not to believe all the confession stories that seem to fill the papers and magazines these days. There seems to be too many people willing to sell their life story for money. The radio and T.V. programs are so filled with these sob stories that one hates to turn either one on. People with deep emotional experiences rarely talk about them and persons with any pride just don't sell their true life story for a deep freeze or a trip to Florida.

The 1953 Christmas Seals arrived this week. It is a very cheerful seal this year with the picture of a happy faced child singing a Christmas carol and the familiar double-barred cross on the right. These seals are the chief means of financial support for the fight against tuberculosis in the State and in Carroll County. Not only do the seals help in a great fight but they bring added pleasure to a card or letter. Whenever a message comes to our house with one of the seals on its side, there is an extra warmth glowing from it even before the message is read. For the seal indicates that the sender has compassion and kindness in his heart or he would never have purchased the seals.

Mrs. Truman Myers underwent surgery Monday morning at the St. Agnes Hospital, Baltimore. She is recovering nicely from the operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Pfoutz with their sons Bobby and Tommy spent this week at their hunting lodge in Pennsylvania.

Miss Margaret Roelke, Union Bridge, is spending several weeks at Merry Knoll.

Thankoffering service will be held at the Mt. Union Church Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. There will be a special program with the young people taking part. The public is invited to attend.

A nationwide survey (here we go again) says the favorite hymn of Americans is "The Old Rugged Cross". Due either to contrariness or because too many organists made a funeral dirge out of it, my favorite hymn is not the one the survey picked but "Abide With Me."

Get out the ingredients and the cake pans for its time to make the Christmas fruit cakes. This year at the suggestion of a friend I am going to bake mine in long bread pans instead of the regular round tube pans. She says they are easier to cut and keep just as well, if baked in bread pans. The only way I can keep any cake from my family is to hide it.

Carroll County dairy farmers know by this time whether they like the Louisville plan for their first seasonal adjustment showed up on their check this month. Just for curiosity we asked six dairymen for their reaction after they received their checks. Four were satisfied with the plan—two were not. If you are a dairy operator, what is your reaction? Write and tell me if you are satisfied or not. It looks as though the farmers will have to solve their own problems for they can expect no planning from Washington.

So before the dairymen are caught like the cattlemen they had better get together and STICK together upon some workable plan to aid the consumer and themselves.

The wonder drugs called "antibiotics" are always in the news. It would be well, then, to get acquainted with the word "antibiotic." It comes from two Greek words anti and bios, meaning "against life." It is a fitting name because the antibiotics act, not by chemical destruction of germs, but by interfering with their normal growth.

It can be fun sometimes to help the children with their homework. Sometimes we learn that our old brain isn't so rusty after all and then again we learn that our children can teach us a lot. Last night we were doing percent and fractions and making out all right, but then we tried the science assignment and couldn't find our way through one page.

Another spell of Indian summer to lull us into believing that the old-fashioned winters are out of date. But we will again be caught with one loaf of bread and with the country's snow plows in moth balls. Maybe its never too old to learn, but we seem to have to be taught the same lessons over and over.—Ruth Roelke.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, CHARLES A. BAKER, who passed away 1 year ago Nov. 27, 1952

The stars are shining brightly, Upon a silent grave, In it lies a precious one, We loved but could not save.

He bade no one a last farewell, He said good-bye to none, His loving heart just ceased to beat, And suddenly he was gone.

Though his smile is gone forever, And his face we cannot touch, We will never lose sweet memories, Of the one we loved so much.

Missed by his loving wife, LILLIAN and children, FRANKLIN, DONALD & CHARLOTTE.

Out in a lonely cemetery, Which seems so far away, They laid our dear grandfather, One year ago today.

By his grandchildren, NANCY BAKER, DONALD and DENNIS BOLLINGER.

CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely thank neighbors and friends for the many acts of kindness during the illness and after the death of James C. Sanders, also for the many expressions of sympathy.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Yams Are In Season;
They Add Vitamins
To Your Mealtime

BAKED yams are one of the easiest and, at the same time, most delicious vegetables you can serve. Furthermore, they're in season now, and this makes them readily available at economical prices.

Yams contain such important vitamins as A, B₁, B₂, and C, and most people like their mellow sweet flavor, too.

Here's a hearty and nutritious dinner all in one dish, a beef pie with a topping of fluted yams:

Louisiana Yam Beef Pie

(Serves 6)

- 1½ pounds beef chuck
- ¼ cup all-purpose flour
- 3 tablespoons fat
- 2 cups water
- 12 small white onions
- 2 medium-sized carrots, sliced
- 1 cup canned tomatoes
- ½ cup chopped celery
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- Dash of thyme
- ¼ cup all-purpose flour
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ recipe plain pastry
- 2 cups cooked mashed yams

Cut beef chuck into 1-inch cubes; roll in flour. In a large, heavy

Mashed Louisiana yams top this old-fashioned beef pie with carrots, onions, celery and tomatoes in a rich gravy, thus making a perfect autumn main dish. Squares of warm cornbread are delicious served with the pie.

saucepan, melt fat over low heat; add beef and brown well. Add 2 cups water; cover and cook over low heat for 40 to 50 minutes, or until meat is tender. Add onions, carrots, tomatoes, celery, salt, pepper and thyme; continue cooking for about 30 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Combine ¼ cup flour with ¼ cup water and Worcestershire sauce. Add to meat mixture and cook, stirring, until thickened.

On a lightly floured board, roll pastry to ¼-inch thickness. Line a 1½-quart casserole with pastry. Pour beef-vegetable mixture into casserole. Arrange mashed yams over meat mixture, fluting through a pastry bag, if desired. Bake in a hot (400°) 40 minutes or until pastry is lightly browned.

Proper Iron Heat
Gets Best Results

Have you ever put a hot iron on acetate fabric and seen it melt at the first touch? Or, have you scorched wool by neglecting to set the dial on your iron?

These are expensive mistakes to make and should make everyone who irons extremely cautious about her ironing techniques. This becomes more true every day as more and more synthetic fabrics reach the market.

Labels are a good guide as to both washing and ironing care, and should be saved in a file box or folder to aid you. Here are some other general guides to help you.

Use Low Heat

Wool, at its best, retains some of its natural moisture even after pressing, and it should be pressed with a very low heat plus a pressing cloth. Use on the wrong side to prevent shine and scorching.

Silk is being extensively used for clothing now. It will require an ironing temperature slightly lower than wool (about 300°), and best results appear when the wrong side is pressed. If the right side must be pressed, use a pressing cloth between the iron and fabric.

Light Pressing

Nylon, acrilan, dynel and orlon, all synthetic fibers, require only light pressing, and this, with an iron barely warm.

Pressing cloths are recommended for acrilan, dynel and orlon. Nylon, if it needs it, is beset with steam pressing.

Colored nylon garments should be pressed on the wrong side, but nylon seersuckers should not be pressed at all.

If you're in doubt about what fabric is made of, or have lost the label which would give this information, always test an unexposed piece of material first with the iron. If the material is a synthetic, start with the lowest setting on your iron and increase only gradually.

THE WINNAH!

The final session of a musical competition was drawing to a close when the secretary, perturbed at the non-arrival of a number of the trophies, approached the chairman and informed him of the predicament.

Summoning his chauffeur, the chairman gave him instructions to drive home and ask the butler to give him half a dozen cups off the sideboard. The cups were duly delivered, and the presentation of prizes proceeded according to program.

The conductor of the winning band was handed a beautiful trophy; another was presented to the winning tenor. When the leading soprano received her cup, however, she glanced at the inscription and faintly read: "Open competition for the best pig in the show."

GONE WITH THE WIND

The talkative workman was holding forth to an audience in the village store. He was explaining that even in his job, which people might think dull enough, there was sometimes quite a lot of excitement.

"Why, I can remember once when a gas explosion tore up a main street where I was working," "And what did you do?" asked one of the customers.

"Ah," replied the workman, "I tore up a side street."

SURPRISE

A farmer took the pig to town and sold it. With the proceeds he bought a suit, a hat, a pair of shoes, and then he tucked the bundle under the seat and said: "Giddap, Oriole, let's get home and surprise my wife." On his way home he stopped at the river, took off all his old clothes and threw them in and they sunk. Then he looked under the seat for his new outfit. It was gone. So he got in the buggy and said, "Giddap, Oriole, we'll surprise her anyway."

Top Production Lowers Food Cost Food Bill Could Be One-Third Greater

American families would have to pay at least a third more for their food than at present, if farmers didn't have any fertilizer for their crops, reports Dr. Herrell DeGraff, Cornell University food scientist.

Dr. DeGraff said that without chemical fertilizers and what they add directly to our supplies of food, "we could not possibly have both our present high-quality diet and all the other advantages of the average level of living we enjoy today."

"If we had to devote more effort to producing food, not only would food be less plentiful and more expensive, but also we would not be able to produce other goods and services as we do at present."

Without fertilizer, American farmers would maintain fewer livestock and our agriculture would be less balanced, Dr. DeGraff

Food scientists report that the nation's high-quality diet would be impossible without top yields per acre from American farms. And they would cost one-third more, too.

pointed out. In place of meat, people would have to consume more direct crops such as beans, corn and wheat. As a result, our diet would be of lower nutritive quality.

Farm Magazine Article Hits Acreage Controls

A recent issue of the Illinois Agricultural Association Record contained an article which states history has shown that acreage controls, of the type now being considered, won't work in curbing surpluses of agricultural commodities.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has indicated that controls may be placed on cotton and corn in 1954 because of large stocks already on hand and prospects of a bumper crop this year.

"Historically, acreage controls have failed to limit production," the article says. "When acreage controls were placed on potatoes some years ago, total production actually was higher than it would have been without controls."

The article recalls that experience with acreage controls on corn and wheat in the 1930's indicated that very heavy cuts are required to get a reduction in total production.

"Farm Bureau believes that expansion of foreign trade is a better answer to the surplus problem than acreage controls," the article concludes.

This problem will be the big question, no doubt, during the next session of congress.

Farm Output Increases

Farm output per man-hour of labor on farms in the United States is now nearly 2½ times what it was 40 years ago, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Most of this gain has taken place in the past 15 years. Farmers have made fast progress in mechanizing their work and have adopted improved farming practices to get big increases in total farm output while spending fewer man hours in farm work.

Tractor Radio

Developed especially for farmers, whose work takes them far from communications, a new tractor radio is now available nationally. Easily attached to tractors, it is equipped with extra high audio output and can be heard over engine noise. Waterproof, dustproof and cushioned against shock, it will keep farmers in constant touch with weather and market reports, sports events and entertainment while going about their field duties.

$12,000 CASH GIFT IS DONATED TO SOCIETY

Elder William E. Roop, Westminster, has donated a cash gift of $12,000 to the Ladies Aid Society and trustees of Meadow Branch Church of the Brethren, one of many personal contributions to the church in recent years.

The money will be used in the erection of a two-story addition to the present church edifice. An architect from Illinois has been engaged to prepare plans for this addition with local contractors assisting in its construction. The first floor is to be designed for the Aid Society and the second floor will have a baptistry inset and more room will be provided for the pulpit. This was made necessary since the new highway has separated the church from the present outdoor baptistry.

To the rear of the rostrum, two other rooms are being designed to house the library of Elder Roop with provision for Sunday School classes.

Last year Elder Roop and his late wife, who died last December, presented new pulpit furniture to the congregation when the Roops were recognized for 60 years service in the ministry. Several years ago the Roops presented Sunview Club House, the present home of the Aid Society, to their granddaughter, Joyce Rinehart. This structure is reported in the path of the proposed new highway by-passing Westminster.

Members of the building committee co-operating are John D. Roop, chairman; Elder George A. Early, secretary, and Arthur Naile, treasurer, and Pastor A. J. Caricofe.

BANK DEPOSITS

Total bank deposits in the United States last year amounted to more than 170 billion dollars the American Peoples Encyclopedia Yearbook for 1953 reports.

According to Mr. C. Ray Fogle, Carroll County Savings Bonds Chairman, sales of U. S. Savings Bonds during Oct. were $5,165,887 for Maryland, which is the second month in which sales have passed the five million mark during 1953.

State H Bond sales during October of $422,500, is the maximum amount achieved during any month since June 1952, when H Bonds first became available.

Mr. Fogle stated that sales of E and H Bonds through October of $635,153 placed Carroll County in 10th place, with 71.2% achieved in reaching the county's 1953 quota of $892,000.

Harford County ranks first in the state with 90.5% of objective achieved; Washington county is 2nd with 87.2%; Somerset 3rd, with 79.6%; Baltimore City 4th, with 78.7%; Worcester 5th, with 76%; and Cecil is 6th, with 75% achievement.

MARINES PROMOTED

Among those promoted to Private First Class upon successful completion of 10 weeks of intensive training at Parris Island, S. C., an East Coast Marine Corps Recruit Depot were Richard J. Logue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Logue of 425 East Main st., and Ronald J. Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Weaver of 164 Liberty st., all of Westminster, Md.

The job of transferring the recruits into Marines necessitates many hours of field training and classroom lectures. In addition to their training, the recruits are also given various aptitude tests to determine the type of duty for which they are best suited.

EXAMINATION FOR STATE TROOPERS

Examination for Troopers will be held in the Hagerstown High School, Hagerstown, Md., Dec. 5, 1953, at 9 a. m., and in the Eastern High School, 33rd St., and Lock Raven Road, Baltimore, Dec. 10, 1953, at 6 p. m.

The Maryland State Police is a rewarding career for the young men who qualify. Their responsibilities and duties are many and varied; they are well-respected in the eyes of the public—and their standards are high.

This is what is needed to meet the basic standards! 21-31 years old; Minimum height—5' 10" (without shoes); Weight in proportion to height and age; U. S. citizen and a bona fide resident of Maryland for at least 6 months prior to taking test; High school graduate or equivalent; Possession of valid Maryland motor vehicle operator's permit; Excellent physical condition; Good moral character, and either single or married.

Most of a Trooper's time is spent on traffic work—patrolling the road to prevent violations and to arrest violators. He investigates highway accidents, directs traffic, transports victims to hospitals, gives first aid, as well as numerous other things connected with traffic work.

But traffic work seldom completes a Trooper's day. During the day he will be faced with many other problems that test his energy, his courage, his patience, and his ingenuity. In an emergency, he might have to deliver a baby. A suspect in a murder or a breaking-and-entering case may have to be finger printed and photographed. A Trooper might have to relieve at desk duty in the barrack, handling the communications. When a Trooper makes an arrest, he must present his cases in court honestly and impartially. He will receive many inquiries on road conditions, directions, and the law. Or he might have to go to another part of the state in case of a serious disaster or disturbance.

Much of this might occur during one day—and provides a very interesting and satisfying career.

All appointees are trained in basic state police work for 6 months. Completion of this course is one of the necessary prerequisites of permanent employment. During the training period, a recruit lives at the school, located in Pikesville, and he is housed and clothed by the department while he is being trained. Salary and subsistence allowance are paid during the training period.

The day of a Trooper in training begins at 6:30 each day, Monday through Friday. He is taught the laws of the State of Maryland and their application; the basic procedures and policies of the Maryland State Police; the use and care of his equipment—his revolver, motorcycle, car, radio, typewriter, and teletype. He is taught first aid, photography, files and reports, emergency obstetrics, fingerprints, and criminal identification. Classes in basic patrol techniques, direction of pedestrian and vehicular traffic, issuing warnings and summons are followed by practical demonstrations of what the student has learned. The recruit is taught how to defend himself mentally and physically against criminals.

If a student's grades and conduct are satisfactory, he is permitted to take week-end leave beginning after the last class on Friday, and continuing until 'lights out' time on Sunday.

When he successfully completes this training course, a probationer takes the oath of office and the Superintendent presents him with his diploma and badges of authority.

After being graduated from the Training School, a Trooper is assigned to duty at one of the Maryland State Police's nine barracks. Here he continues his training in company with experienced troopers, and later he is permitted to patrol alone.

A Trooper sleeps at the barracks and eats most of his meals there. When he becomes an experienced Trooper, he is eligible to be placed on "assignment" where he is permitted to work from his home and live with his family.

The starting salary of a probationer Trooper is $2450 the first year; $2550 the second; and $2650 when he becomes a permanent Trooper at the end of 2 years. Thereafter, there is a 5% increase for each 3 years of service, up to 24 years.

Troopers are paid semi-monthly, and in addition to salary receive $3.50 per day subsistence allowance.

Individuals eligible for training under V.A. regulations, receive an additional subsistence allowance during the training period.

The department furnishes uniforms and equipment without cost to the individual, except such items as underwear, gloves, etc.

Troopers are subject to 24-hour call. They are granted 96 days leave per year, as well as 15 days vacation. Thirty days sick leave is permitted annually; and if this is not used during the year, it may be accumulated up to 100 days.

A liberal pension allowance is granted to all State Policemen. A member may voluntarily retire when he is 55, but he must retire when he is 64.

Group medical insurance plans are also available to all members.

State Policing is a career and members are always encouraged to prepare for promotion. A trooper is promoted on the basis of his ability—the ability to do his present job and the potential ability to do the work of the higher rank. He must have completed his probation before he can be promoted.

Many troopers with special aptitude and experience are given the opportunity of attending specialized training courses.

In the near future, there will be a number of vacancies in the State Police. If you are interested, it is suggested that you file an application as soon as possible. You will be notified when the written examination will be held.

You can file application for the position of Trooper by contacting the Maryland State Police Headquarters or one of the nine barracks. Applications can also be obtained from the Department of State Employment, 31 Light Street, Baltimore 2, Maryland.

Chance For All

Lesson for November 29, 1953

AN INTELLIGENT traveler in Spain writes to an American friend in 1953: "We have just returned from a six-day trip to Franco's paradise. Madrid is a modern city of beautiful parks, squares and circles with fountains playing, a modern university campus and splendid buildings. Alongside these modern structures one finds people living in caves dug back into clay banks; sometimes a wooden door has been fitted into the mouth of the cave and a pane of glass put in the door for light. The more elegant of these residences have the door white-washed. As soon as the fields begin at the city's edge one sees men reaping wheat and barley with hand reap-hooks such as Dr. Foreman used in the days of Ruth and Boaz. . . . We were told that there is nothing worth while outside Madrid. Nothing but 20 million people living in ignorance and economic slavery!" One has to see such a country to appreciate how in America we enjoy what is a heritage and a teaching of true Christianity.

Dr. Foreman used in the days of Ruth and Boaz

Men Are Not Equal, But—

The crushing of the poor by the rich is one of the sins specially set down in the Bible as hated by God. (See the Scripture for the week.) The crushing of the weak by the strong is a problem always with us; but in our country we do at least try to keep the doors of opportunity open for every one. Our Declaration of Independence says that all men are created equal; which is not a fact, we feel. It is our belief, however—and let it be remembered, a belief taught by the Bible—that every child born within our borders shall have a fair chance to develop every gift and capacity he has, to go as far as he can go and to do as much as he can do for his family and community. "Democracy" is a word of many good meanings; and the basic meaning is equality of opportunity.

For one thing, we try, at least in part, to see that no child shall be penalized in his education for being born where he was and not somewhere else. As a matter of fact, of course, not all schools are equally good. Some states have such poor schools, or such poor school laws, that children from there are handicapped in competition with children from states with better schools. But even where this is true, it is widely felt that this ought not to be. Educational leaders are not complacent about this state of things. Further, many states have equalized their school funds so that children born in remote sections will have just as well-equipped and well-staffed schools within reach, as children in the larger cities.

Fair Chance At Jobs

Another angle of equality of opportunity is a fair chance at jobs. Some one is sure to ask: What has religion got to do with this? Well, look at the Bible. Paul said that a man who will not work shall not eat—that was his rule. We all know the commandment, "Six days shalt thou labor," and we all have observed how important it is for the development of personality that a man or woman shall have work that suits his capacity and gives him a chance to be a producing member of society. So if men are cut off from the chance to work, or not allowed to compete for the kind of work for which they are fitted, religion says: This is wrong, whenever one of God's children is barred from a God-given right.

Fair Chance At Religion

There is another kind of equality of opportunity even more important than what has been mentioned. That is equality of opportunity in religion. "Freedom of Worship," as it is often called, is not just the legal right to worship under any church roof one pleases. It is the right to be faced with the choice God offers us in Christ and to share in his fellowship everywhere. It is not enough that your community has (as it does, no doubt) a variety of churches. The question is: Is every one in your community equally welcome in all these churches? Are there persons in your community who never come to church, because they have never been asked?

Let's Think

by G. H. ENFIELD

THOUGHTS FOR THOUGHT

A man must be bigger than his business else his business will fail on account of his smallness.

One quality, at least, you should possess when you appear at the Gate of Saint Peter is COURTESY.

Indifference is a fearful foe:
An enemy to a friend,
A friend to a foe.

The Self-Righteous fail to see anything wrong in themselves, or anything right in others.

Do as you please,
But like what you do!
As you measure to your neighbor
He will measure back to you;
For to take of your own medicine
May taste bitter to you

A person guilty of an offense both looks guilty and acts guilty in the presence of the one offended.

One of two men walking down a street together in Pittsburgh, Nov. 12, said to the other:

"I like to live well and dress well."

The fiancée is wise who settles for the moonlight of the man who offers her the stars.

Colonel Humphrey Flack of TV says: "My pledge is as good as my word." Whose isn't!

"Women's hat makers don't never make the same mistake twice—they always make a different mistake!" —Olin Miller.

We all fade like a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away." —Isaiah 64:6 (RSV).

The Rev. Harold Z. Bomberger, Westminster, will serve as chairman of the committee, assisted by the Rev. Willis R. Brennenman, the Rev. Joseph A. Ablett and the Rev. Harvey Schlichter.

ERUPTING VOLCANOES

Two new volcanoes appeared in recent months, according to the American Peoples Encyclopedia. One of these, El Boqueron, broke out on San Benedicto Island, 250 miles off the tip of Lower California. Within a few weeks it attained a height of 1,250 feet, with a crater a half mile wide and 300 feet deep. The other volcano, Didicas, rose 250 feet above sea level to form a 600-acre island off the north coast of Luzon, Philippine Islands.

LETTER CARRIERS MARCH FOR MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

The United States letter carriers, those dependable, persevering, hard-working public servants, deserve a vote of gratitude from the American people for their proposed errand of mercy on behalf of the hundreds of thousands of unfortunate victims of muscular dystrophy. Uncle Sam's men in blue-grey uniforms are preparing to go on a mission which takes them far beyond the call of duty.

After Thanksgiving, each of these public servants, 100,000 members of the National Association of Letter Carriers, supported by their national president, William C. Doherty, will take on the added burden of re-walking his route—to pick up contributions to aid victims of muscular dystrophy, a fatal disease. These funds are vitally needed to find a treatment and cure to save the lives of those afflicted by this dread crippling and fatal malady. Victims of this mysterious killer are principally children.

GIFTS TO SERVICE MEN

Gifts to be distributed to servicemen who must spend Christmas Day at sea will be mailed by the Carroll County Chapter, American Red Cross, Mrs. Stuart Widener, chapter Service Groups chairman, said recently.

The Red Cross has carried on this Christmas on the High Seas program for many years, and the men receiving the presents have been most grateful. After Christmas last year, one wrote: "Just a line to express my thanks for the wonderful Christmas package that I received today on board the USNS Sultan on my way overseas. It was very nice of you people to take up your time and money to give us men on board ship a touch of Christmas. It may have touched me more than some of the men for this is the first Christmas I have been away from my family. I have a wife and three children. I really appreciated the package and once more I want to thank you."

Red Cross volunteers will wrap the gifts in Christmas decorated paper, and they will be sent to a selected port of embarkation to be placed on ships which will be en route overseas on Christmas Day. The packages will be given to troops in transit and members of ships' crews.

The Potomac Edison System, of which the Potomac Edison Company here is a part, has been named second place winner in the National Fleet Safety Contest sponsored by the National Safety Council.

A part of the continuing program of on-the-job safety, this contest is among utility companies over the entire nation and deals with the operation of company vehicles, cars and trucks.

The Potomac Edison System is entered in Group I which is composed of 35 other public utilities from coast to coast operating comparable sized fleets.

In winning the second place award, drivers of the Potomac Edison System operated 310 vehicles over a total of 2,803,000 miles. During this period the utility company drivers recorded only 19 accidents or .68 accidents for every 100,000 miles operated.

President R. Paul Smith, in accepting the award for his company, stated that it is a tribute to the skills of every company driver that culminate in the winning of such an award. President Smith added further that all communities served by the Potomac Edison System benefit by having safe and courteous driver operating large vehicles over such a volume of miles with a far below average of accidents.

The winning company in this year's competition was The West Texas Utilities Company of Abilene, Texas, which performs much of its service in far less congested areas than that served the Potomac Edison System.

Gratitude and Thanksgiving

What is gratitude? First, it is recognition of blessings received, appreciation of God's good bestowals. Secondly, it is thanksgiving for them, acknowledging God as the Giver of all good, the source of all blessings.

True thanksgiving is not a routine act, not forced, not conventional. It is an upsurging of thanks springing from gratitude in the heart. It is the spontaneous praising and glorifying of God, good. It pours out—just like the song of a bird or the scent of a flower—and nothing can stop its flow.

In studying the records of the life of Christ Jesus we find that he was conspicuously grateful. Often he gave thanks to God even before the completed demonstration was humanly visible. There is, for example, the instance of his feeding the four thousand, as recorded in the fifteenth chapter of Matthew. There were only seven loaves and a few little fishes to feed this great number, yet Jesus gave thanks to God. He knew that God, Spirit, is the source of all supply, and so there was enough for all, and seven baskets were filled with the fragments that were left.

Then there was the case of Lazarus of Bethany, a friend of Jesus, who had been sick and died. So sure was Jesus that man reflects the eternal Life which is God that even as he stood at his friend's tomb he could say (John 11:41), "Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me." Then he commanded Lazarus to come forth, and he did so, raised from the dead.

The multitudes flocked to Jesus, bringing with them the sick, lame, deaf, deformed, blind, dumb, and insane, all of whom he healed.

Christ Jesus knew that what seems to be a sick, lame, blind, sinning, or dead person is not the truth of man, but merely the false evidence of material sense. He beheld man forever spiritual, the perfect child of the perfect Father-Mother God. . . .

It is not just when things are going well that we should be grateful and give thanks to God.

Many have found that when the way seems dark and difficult there is healing power in being grateful and giving thanks to God. When thought is lifted above the problem and we turn to God, acknowledging His blessings, affirming His ever-presence, magnifying His goodness, glorifying His name, or nature, and praising His all-power, this communion with our Father often brings the needed healing, guidance, protection, deliverance, or comfort.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 3): "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more." . . .

ALUMNI MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR DANCE

President George Sauble presided at the regular meeting of the Taneytown High School Alumni Association held Monday eve, Nov. 16, in the High School. Minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report given and accepted.

Reports of committees for the 6th annual Thanksgiving Dance were heard. The dance will be held in the High School auditorium, on Thursday night, Nov. 26, from 9 till 12 p. m. Mr. James Fair, chairman of the publicity committee reported that advertising arrangements are nearly complete and that the committee has been striving for a near-complete coverage of this and nearby communities. Mr. Sauble explained that "The Clefts-men" were hired to furnish the music this year on the basis of their fine talent and popularity. They feature Don Bollinger on the vocals and trombone, Bob Finlay on the saxophone and clarinet, Charlie Pentz on trumpet, Phil McGuire at the piano, Johnny McGarvey on the bass fiddle and Wayne Fleds as drummer. This group has appeared at many dances and clubs above the Mason-Dixon line and have been very well received by many of our Taneytown people. They have recently completed a long and successful stand at the Waynesboro Eagles. Several cake-walks and other features will add variety to the affair. A report from the chairman of the decorating committee, Miss Caroline Shriner was given. All Alumni are cordially invited to help decorate the auditorium next Wednesday evening, November 25. Tickets are now on sale at only $1 each and it is hoped that there will be good response to the advance ticket sales. A great deal of extra money, time, and effort has been spent this year to go "all out" to make this the biggest and best dance ever held in Taneytown. It is hoped that it is not all in vain, and that the auditorium will be filled to capacity.

Plans for the coming basketball season were discussed. Robert Waddell and John Harner were appointed business managers for the boys team. No coach was selected at this time. Mrs. Audrey Fair and Miss Janet Royer will act as business managers for the girls team with Mrs. Virginia Sanders as coach. A game with the high school boys has been scheduled for Tuesday, January 19, 1955. Mrs. Doris Harner, Miss Pearl Bollinger and Mr. Donald Carl volunteered their services as time and scorekeepers. Prospects for teams look very good this year and it is hoped that a challenging schedule can be arranged. Any Alumni interested in playing are urged to get in contact immediately with any of the business managers.
