OLD BIBLE CONTEST

Hazel Falloure, of Frizellburg, won first prize, in the Old Bible Contest conducted by the BIBLE RALLY in the Opera House, in Taneytown last week-end, with her Bible of 1844 vintage.

Arthur Slick, of Taneytown, runner up in the contest, entered a beautiful old volume dated 1854. For a time it appeared that Mr. Slick's entry would be the oldest.

Saturday night shortly before the closing deadline of the contest, word was passed to Mr. Purdey, Bible Rally director, that Mrs. Falloure was entering the contest with an ancient Bible she had received a number of years ago from her aunt.

As a prize Mrs. Falloure received a King James version of the Bible complete with concordance, and an abundance of study helps and features appreciated by Bible students and teachers.

A sensation was created early in the contest when Margaret Sauerwein of Rt. 1, Littlestown entered a German volume dated 1728 in Roman numerals. Since the owner could not read German, she was not certain that her entry was a Bible. Later it was identified by Karl Wurstlin, of Taneytown, as a commentary on the New Testament.

A number of residents of Taneytown and neighboring communities received Bibles as special gifts for attending the three meetings of the Bible Rally. Mr. Purdey stated that he is pleased with the deep interest in spiritual things which he found in Taneytown. These Bibles are being distributed will certainly make this a better community, if they are taken home and read regularly," he declared.

In accordance with the aim of the Bible Rally to stimulate greater interest in the study of the Bible in the homes, Mr. Purdey's lectures were designed to create and foster this interest. Motion pictures and colored slides were used each night. A. M. Bartlett, a missionary from Indonesia, gave a graphic account of his visit to the Holy Land and showed the colored pictures he took there. Some expressed special appreciation for the music presented by visiting artists.

This week-end the Bible Rally moves to the I.O.M. Hall in Union Mills where another Old Bible Contest will be conducted and more Bibles will be distributed as a part of the regular program of lectures, music and pictures.

There is as much greatness of mind in acknowledging a good turn, as in doing it.—Seneca.

PLANS FOR SANITARY SEWER PROGRESSING

Bids Are Expected to be Asked for April 1

The regular meeting of The Mayor and City Council was held Monday evening in the Municipal building with all councilmen, M. S. Baumgardner, James Myers, Raymond Davidson, Carl Frock and Harry M. Mohney present. Mayor Raymond Perry and the Clerk, Henry I. Rein-dollar were also present. President Mohney presided at the meeting.

A delegation from Trinity Lutheran asked that restricted parking be observed in front of the church and parsonage. The City Council also considered the drainage situation back of the church and planned to increase the water supply to the new parish house of the church.

Mr. A. B. Collums of the bonding company Alexander Brown & Son of Baltimore was present and outlined a plan to handle the Bond Issue of the proposed Sanitary Sewer System for the town.

The Council accepted the only bid received for the roof improvement for the Municipal building. The bid of $475 was received from the Citizen Oil Company.

A delegation from the town was present complaining of stray dogs roaming streets, damaging property. The Council promised action.

The Chamber of Commerce asked for signs to be erected directing autos to the town's parking lots. The Council agreed to order these signs and erect them upon arrival.

The Council considered the lighting of the streets with Christmas lights during the holidays. In the past this work was done by The Potomac Edison Company.

Improvements to the Park were discussed and it was planned to ask for bids for a new roof on the grandstand in the next two weeks. A number of trees will be planted on the Park grounds. These trees will be secured free, as the government is offering municipalities these trees as a public service.

A few tax payers are delinquent in the payment of their taxes and the Council decided to take action, drastic, if necessary, in the collection of these accounts.

Officer Koontz made his report of 24 parking violations, 11 motor arrests, 1 criminal arrest, 2 juvenile arrests and 6 warnings.

Mayor Perry received a letter this week from the city's engineer regarding the Sanitary Sewer for the town. Besides the "paper work" which will be enormous, the right-of-ways, selection of grade, work and time but the hope of the April 1 date for asking or advertising of bids indicates satisfactory progress. The letter follows:

Gentlemen: This letter is intended to bring the status of the contract plans and specifications for the Taneytown Sewage Treatment Program up to date.

The original contract drawings which we prepared for this project were twenty-two in number. It is necessary that all of the contract drawings be revised to show the "deep" sewers which we have designed. With the relocation of the treatment plant to increase the number of contract drawings to approximately twenty-five. All the necessary field surveys for this project have been completed and have been plotted. We are in the process of working on the contract tracings showing the new work and the revised work. As previously discussed with you, we have set April 1 as the date for advertising this project and it appears at this time that the plans and specifications will be ready so that we can meet this date.

We have run into considerable difficulty in preparing the necessary rights of way for the construction of the outfall sewer from Frederick Street to the treatment plant. Due to discrepancies in some of the deeds, it has been very difficult to fit the various parcels of property together. It will be necessary for us to prepare twelve rights of way in connection with this project. Four of these rights of way have been completed and the remaining eight are in various stages of completion. It appears that within a week or so, these rights of way will all be completed.

We have staked out in the field by means of long stakes and flags, the alignment of the outfall sewer from Frederick Street to the treatment plant so that this alignment can be gone over in the field by the property owners, the Mayor and City Council, and all other interested parties.

In accordance with your request at the last Council meeting which the writer attended, Niles, Barton, Yost and Dankmeyer of the proposed scheduling for advertising this project and the necessary legal work will be undertaken by them so that construction money will be available from the bond issue when required.

Very truly yours,

WHITMAN, REQUARDT AND ASSOCIATES

Membership in former cooperatives has reached a record high, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. The most recent statistics show almost 7.4 million members on the rolls of 10,143 former cooperatives in 1951-52, an increase of about 4 percent over the previous year's membership of 7.1 million.

A LENTEN MEDITATION

The Meaning of Life

How do you define the word "life"? What is its worth to you today? A man's outlook for time and eternity depends upon his present philosophy of life.

There is only one profitable view of life. The Author of the full life brings us face to face with it as he asks this very serious question in St. Matthew 16:26—"For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

Consider the value of all this present world. Would you be willing to exchange it for your chance to live? Would you sacrifice your God-given life which you now possess? Would you now sell your chances for eternal life? Once such a transaction would be completed it would be final. The choice could not be recalled. It would be complete folly. And yet there are multitudes who are doing it today.

For the sake of worldly pleasure, physical sin, temporary amusement and financial gain there are those who are selling their souls. America, which has been blessed abundantly by God and spared the ravages of war within its borders, is on a fleeting spree. It is a pleasure-mad, lustful, money-hungry, drinking, gambling, talent-wasting spree. Our souls are in grave danger, and we know not where it will all end.

This is the beginning of the Lenten Season. And perhaps we will take time and listen to the Lord of life. Surely for our own good and welfare we should. Let us in these days listen to our Saviour who laid down his life for all mankind in a most voluntary manner as he speaks—"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

It will mean just that if we would follow him today in our kind of a world. But that is the only way to live. Mentally and spiritually we must go to the place where Jesus Christ was crucified for our sins. We should want to die to selfishness, die to sinfulness, die to greediness, and then experience and sense the resurrection of a new life within ourselves. To sacrifice the things of this hard and harsh world for the sake of Jesus Christ is to enjoy to the fullest the meaning of life here and now, and to know eternal life in the world to come.

During this Lenten Season let us re-dedicate our lives to the service of the Master as we seek anew to dwell in his presence. May each one take time for sincere meditation and earnest prayer. Let us use our time to attend the House of God that we might there worship regularly in spirit and in truth. Let us forsake our sinful pleasures and selfish lusts, and in turn seek the Lord while he may be found and call upon the Lord while he is near. May we find forgiveness of our sins and peace unto our consciences by coming into close communion and fellowship with Christ. Life will then be rich and satisfactory, and living will be an over-flowing experience. For "this is life eternal, that they might know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom Thou hast sent."

(By Rev. Morgan Andreas, Minister of the Evangelical and Reformed Churches at Taneytown and Keysville.)
(Editors Note: It is hoped that our inclusion of something of a spiritual nature during this Lenten Season may prove most helpful to our readers. We cordially invite others of the clergy in the area served by our newspaper to submit meditations during this season for publication in our columns.)

HISTORY OF TANEYTOWN

As It Appears in the 1894 Files of the Record

The "Record" is the third newspaper published in Taneytown. In the spring of 1830, Samuel P. Davidson, son of the reverend gentlemen of that name who was at one time pastor of Piney Creek Church, began the publication of a weekly paper, which has on its first page the title, "The Regulator", and it was known by that name, and on the other three pages the title is "The Regulator and Taneytown Herald". I have a copy which Mr. Daniel Fair found among the effects of Miss Mary Longley after her death. It was so carefully wrapped up and laid away that he thought he was unearthing a treasure. It is dated February 19th., 1831 and the number is 41, Vol. 1. Its motto is, "In proportion as the structure of the government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened."—Washington.

It was published in Church St., adjoining Sebastian Sultz's Tavern Taneytown, Md." Sultz's tavern was the old stone house now kept by Mr. Elliot. The price was two dollars per annum, and in his announcement of terms and charges for advertisements is the notice, "All letters on business to the Editor must be postpaid or they will not be attended to", which carries us back to the time when there were no postage stamps, and it cost anywhere from 5 to 25 cents to send a letter; if the sender of a letter did not prepay the postage, the receiver could refuse to take it out of the office and the government got nothing for carrying it.

The "Regulator" was a five column paper 13x20 inches, and in its make-up exactly like most of the country papers of today, a piece of news and a story on the first page, news and correspondence on the second and third pages and advertisements on the fourth page. A few of the country papers, among which is the "Record", have broken the old custom and print the country and town news on the first page, but most of them continue to follow the traditional method.

Roll-call was answered by each member present giving a sentence with green in 16 members were present. A Happy Birthday to you was sung to the members having Birthdays in the month of March and a lovely gift was given to each one. Several of the members being absent and others taking them along to give to them.

Our next regular meeting will be held at the Lodge Hall, Mrs. Maggie Eyerle being the hostess and it will be the first Tuesday night in April.

Each member also wore something green for St. Patrick's Day and it also was the 18th anniversary of our club. The hostess served lovely refreshments, a special cake with 13 candles, and all decorations were in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. We surely all enjoyed this evening very much. Hope all can be present for Mrs. Maggie Eyerle's meeting the first Tuesday night in April at the Lodge Hall.

The meeting closed by singing Love's Old Sweet Song, followed by the Benediction.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"
(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!
In the distance over the few acres, I see "SUGAR" my Red Cocker Spaniel pet racing toward the Parsonage with her long ears as in the song, "The Wind in Her Hair!" And she truly is the most independent dog, I ever owned.

What a beautiful card arrived—all in gold of a 50th Wedding Anniversary and a "perfect couple" all down through the years! The Artist and her Sculptor husband who visited me at "Loves' Retreat" a few years ago. Remember? Relatives of the famous artist "Eakins". That reminds me thinking of anniversaries—it was nice that Arthur Godfrey and his "Mrs." had a holiday together for their sixteenth wedding anniversary last week.

Have you heard or read of "THE HOWARD SMITH STORY?" "Salt and Pepper" disappear from the American table! No, it is not a third shaker nor has the taste of man changed. A man by the name of Howard Smith had a rather odd hobby—SEASONINGS! After a result of 12 years of research, he has developed a basic all-purpose seasoning to replace salt and pepper. The new seasonings brings out the natural flavor of foods. Ummmmmmgood! It is called S-20. If you want to know more about it contact Mrs. Laura Brunner, 3426 Tyson Rd. New Town Square, Pa. Arrangements can be made for Clubs or the W.S.C.S. or any other organization. These seasonings come in the most attractive containers which are most useful.

Down in Baltimore on North Howard Street there is an exclusive "Maternity Shop". There is a very large picture in the window just of men in the "Maternity Waiting Room"—Here are the characters—Frightened Novice biting his nails as he sits and thinks, the distraught executive walking up and down with clinched fists, the chain smoker of cigarettes, the father of EIGHT sound asleep on the shoulder of the former, the Tragedian with his first clasped on his bowed head, the showy good natured salesman type expecting his family portrait to the expectant father seated next to him, then there is the BELIEVER OF THE WORST, the pacer with hands in pocket and disheveled hair, the earnest parent type reading a book called, "The Parent" and last of all the Magazine Shredder!

Don't forget, Mr. Gasoline Station Master to wipe the car windshield of your next customer. It pays to be courteous and obliging! Remember about the Flies, Sugar and Vinegar? The little woman does more than 90 % of the buying in any home so do try to please her at all times. The other day, Your Observer had a sudden tire puncture which made it necessary to purchase a tire immediately. The little businessman was so obliging, kind and thoughtful and accommodating that I drove away with two tires instead of the one purchase!

A letter arrived from a Constant Reader of this column asking me if I like women more than I do men? After all, Sir, women are my own sex and I fully understand them as you know all down through the years man's big alibi is that he does not understand the female sex! So much has been written about, "What is a Girl?", "What is a Boy?" so in next week's column you will read, "What is a Woman?" by Your Observer.

Here is the Pisces sign for which you asked which is from Feb. 20 to March 20th, inclusive. These people, both men and women, have very fine characters, always speaking the truth and disliking anyone who handles the truth carelessly. They are very fine and cultured and love the fine things in life. They use very high in music and many of them are teachers. At times they appear abrupt which fault they should try to overcome. They are usually big and strong individuals and live to a very old age, the only trouble having in their life is their feet. They must always purchase the best shoes that are made. They lack confidence because they are always so very modest.

Have a grand week end, Folks, and if you "Drink, don't drive and if you drive don't drink!" And remember always, "to be careful that your opinion of others is not theirs of you. Adios. Until next week D. V., I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

FARMERS MEET

The Taneytown Farm Bureau Planning Group met on Friday, Feb. 26, at 8 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haines.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Ellsworth Feester. Two songs, "Faith of Our Fathers", and "The Old Rugged Cross" were sung. The minutes were read and approved; plans were made for the next meeting to be held in the United Brethren church social room, at which time the Uniontown Planning Group has been invited to meet with us.

The treasurer's report was read and bills paid.

The discussion topic was "Should the voting age be changed from 21 to 18?" Our group opposed the change. Games were played, and delicious refreshments were served.

Everyone had a delightful evening.

Branches and limbs that have been pruned from apple and peach orchards and placed in a pile outside the orchard make a good home for bark beetles. If the brush is left in a pile too long before burning, the beetles may move into the orchard.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PARENTS OF TEEN AGERS

Many American families have found that a good way to keep their teenagers happy and at home is to provide a room of their own where they can entertain their guests.

And surprisingly enough a room of their own is relatively inexpensive and extremely easy to create.

Finding space presents practically no problem in many cases. The attic which was formerly relegated to storage of year-old newspapers, discarded magazines, and old clothes can be made into an ideal party room.

Nor is making this room gay, bright and cheerful any serious problem. For modern American industry has come up with the answer. The same gaily colored prefinished wall paneling that mother uses on her kitchen and bath room ceilings and walls is readily adaptable for use in the teenager's room.

Prefinished wallpanels come in large wall-sized pieces up to four feet by twelve feet in dimension. This means that fewer joints are needed on walls and ceilings and this thin rugged hard board material fits readily into metal or matching moldings to make a continuous moisture and dirt resistant covering for these surfaces. The wide variety of colors and patterns available makes prefinished wallpanels an ideal surfacing material. (The panels come to the job ready to install with easy-to-clean baked enamel finishes applied at the factory.)

Many an attic lends itself to remodeling into extra bedrooms, extra bath and teenager game room headquarters, too.—Hill and Knowlton.

THE DEADLIEST KILLER

Every American was horrified at the ghastly death toll of the Korean War.

Yet last year alone accidental deaths accounted for three times as many victims as that war. Some 95,000 people died unnecessarily—traffic accidents being the No. 1 killer with 38,000—and 9,600,000 were injured. The economic cost to the nation is estimated at more than $9,000,000,000.

The president of the National Safety Council made a memorable commentary: "We do not believe that any civilized nation can long endure this tragic and disgraceful waste of manpower and resources from accidents that are avoidable."—Industrial News Review.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "In an effort to expedite deliveries, postal authorities are urging business firms to deposit their out-going mail two or three times a day. Postal authorities insist it is as important to send out mail frequently as to collect it several times a day."

WALDOBORO, ME., PRESS: "A Kansas City Grand Jury complained that union officials were 'carrying guns, blackjacks and other weapons and the employment of bodyguards'. When one considers that a group may be allowed to use such weapons, it is easily understandable how membership may be increased through use of force."

DAWSON, MINN., SENTINEL: "One of the things we admire in President Eisenhower is his tenacious adherence to the principle that government should refrain from trying to plan and run the lives of its citizens, but rather stand ready to help out whenever and wherever its citizens are unable to carry on alone. We, as a nation, must put our trust in God and not in a golden calf."

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., NEWS: "Raymond Moley has been a student of government for many years. Of late, he has been paying particular attention to government's socialistic activities. Here's what he had to say about them in one of his Newsweek columns: 'Government in business, except in a limited number of common services and in rare emergencies, is expensive and inefficient and unnecessary.' That tells the story."

United States Senator from Maryland

March 15th is near at hand and in addition to the tax which must be paid—that alone is disturbing enough—the income tax return itself appears an almost insurmountable maze of blanks, squares to be checked, and arithmetical problems confusing to an electronic computing monster.

The average taxpayer wants, expects—and will get—a reduction in personal income tax, but would also greatly appreciate a simplified system of informing the government of what he earned and how much tax he pays.

When the Eisenhower Administration took office and started making changes in Washington one of the first things looked into was the possibilities of simplifying the forms used in filing returns.

Some 35 million people will be pleased to learn that after this year they may not have to file a return with the Federal Government each March 15th. Internal Revenue has discovered that by obtaining a little more information on the W-4 (that slip of paper your employer has to compute your withholding tax) 35 million citizens would have their tax accurately computed and the government could tell at a glance whether they deserved a refund or a bill for more money.

Proposals to accomplish this will be shortly submitted to Congress and will surely enjoy almost unanimous approval. Internal Revenue says the "new W-4 will be a junior size 1040"—a glance at one page of a current Form 1040 shows approximately 50 blanks, squares, or dotted lines, all complicated by instructions to "add amounts shown in items 2 and 3, and enter total here," or "enter your tax from table on page 4, or from line 13, page 3."

There is something wrong when a small taxpayer feels it is necessary to surround himself with a small army of lawyers and certified public accountants in order to determine how much he should pay the government.

In this field the Administration is making great strides and the Congress, through the House Ways and Means Committee, is continuing to look into possible tax reductions and exemptions.

Simplified tax return forms would be helpful not only to the individual but to the government as well.

Of the 60 million returns filed, some 15 million, or one out of four, are erroneous—mistakes not intended to defraud the government of any money due.

Certainly no one is going to look forward to March 15th as a holiday but the agony of filing a return can be reduced, and it may be that some 35 million of us will approach future March 15ths with greater peace of mind.

Thanks, Mr. Farmer!

It's been said that farmers and planters made possible the life of today. Once farmers had learned how to bring forth a steady food supply, men could build towns and set up industries. These industries, in turn, helped the farmer turn out even more food by providing him with tools and transportation. And one of these tools is the telephone, which saves the farmer time, trouble and money—so much in fact that many farmers say, "Telephone service is the biggest bargain I buy today!"

Elbow grease... and co-operation

When it comes time to wash the family car, the job is over and done much faster if everyone pitches in. That kind of co-operation works mighty well on the telephone party line, too. Considerate party line neighbors hang up gently and try again a little later when they find the line in use. And they free the line reasonably soon when they realize others are waiting to use it. Consideration for others and good old-fashioned courtesy make good party line service even better!

FEESERSBURG

The older one grows the more sentimental about the past one becomes. Through the kindness of Mr. William Main, we were able this week to literally turn the pages back seventy years and read what was happening in our community at that time. Mr. Main has a copy of the Union Bridge Index published Feb. 21, 1884 which he has loaned to me and I know some of the readers of this paper will be interested in some of the items too. The motto of the paper was: Independent in all things; Neutral in nothing. The editor was B. A. Richardson.

The paper carried an unusually large number of advertisements from Baltimore stores and if some of the ads had pictures too large for the regular space, they were published sideways which no doubt made the reader notice them more quickly. One firm on Gay Street advertised the following prices: Men's Suits, $4.50 up; Men's overcoats, $3.00 and boy's knee pants, $0.40.

The dentist in Union Bridge at that time was Dr. S. R. Wright and L. W. Smith bored out old wells. Joseph Wolfe was a contractor and L. H. Reiser besides selling grain, lumber and coal also specialized in pure cider vinegar. A Millinery Establishment seemed to be the most popular career for an ambitious lady 70 years ago for Union Bridge boasted two. One was owned by Miss Lizzie Bean and the other by Mrs. Kate Wright on Elger St.

Farm sales must not have been as common then as now for only one sale is listed in the old paper and that was in the name of S. Shepherd along the Union Bridge-Mt. Union road. Ads for all kinds of medicine to cure everything from frostbite to diphtheria appears so evidently people were searching for health back in 1884 as they are in 1954.

Liberty had a copper mine for ore was being hauled into Union Bridge from it according to the news items. Also Union Bridge had a band which played for carnivals in Frederick and the roads were hub deep in mud. Reuben Saylor shot a bald eagle which was stuffed by Daniel Wolfe. But the item which sent chills up this reporter's spine was this: A. G. Boyd, being offended at a newspaper article attempted to cowhide Ira W. Hays, of the Globe but got the worst of the bargain. It seems that in 1884 they took the news a little more seriously than they do in 1954.

We hope you have enjoyed this little visit back into the news of 70 years ago although I doubt if a half a dozen readers can remember the names and places in person. Most of us, like Topsy hadn't been born yet. Gordon Strong died last week at the age of 84. To those who have visited Sugarloaf mountain in Frederick County, Mr. Strong is no stranger for he bought a mountain and spent one million dollars fixing it so the public could enjoy it. Some Sundays as many as six thousand persons visited Sugarloaf and enjoyed the patchwork view of farm and wood land stretching out in every direction. Mr. Strong was buried at the foot of Sugarloaf beside his wife Louise who died in 1949.

The students of the Elmer Wolfe School, responsible for the school's newspaper "The Wolfe's Tale", are to be congratulated upon the latest issue which came out last week. It has improved fifty percent in subject matter and news reports. We especially liked the editorial on school spirit, which translated into grown up language means loyalty. This human ingredient is becoming so scarce that it is more precious than diamonds. Not only is it timely to call the students' attention to loyalty, but parents could do with a lecture on it, too. For just last week our people were so shocked by the lack of this human element in our Nation's capital that for a few days some of us were wondering if after all "It could happen here." Sometimes I think our children are so far ahead of us in ideas and human relationships that I wonder why we don't give them more responsibility in public affairs. They couldn't possibly do any worse than their parents in messing up the world, and I have a firm conviction they would do a great deal better.

About every dairy farmer from our district attended the Cooperative Dairyman's lunch and business meeting at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, on Saturday. Every available seat was filled and we are wondering whether it was the lovely day or the proposed cut in dairy support price by Mr. Benson that brought them out or was it the fine meal that is always served by the hotel the real reason?

Mr. and Mrs. Lynnwood Celdon of Silver Spring were callers at Merry Knoll last week. Mr. Celdon is editor of The Three State Farmer, a new publication that was launched last month.

The stained window in the Mt. Union Church that was broken in an accident has been repaired and restored to the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williar gave a skating party Sunday for their daughter Judy in honor of her 14th birthday. The invited guests included Carolyn Myers, Geraldine Graham, Eleanor Baker, Nancy Roelke and Frances Bohn.

Lent began this Wednesday with the observance of Ash Wednesday. Each of us according to our personal belief will keep the Lenten season. The real purpose of Lent as I see it is the practice of self denial and to discipline oneself. If ever a Nation's people needed discipline, it is ours.

Indians from 15 States descended on Washington this week to protest the Administration's plan to take away their treaty rights. One reporter asked an Indian chief what he thought was wrong with the world. The Indian thought for a minute and then replied: "Everybody smokes the Pipe of peace, but nobody inhales."

Nothing flatters a mother so much as when her teen age daughter asks to borrow some of her clothes. Its a sure indication that daughter approves of mother's style sense.—Ruth Roelke.

UNIONTOWN

Miss Miraud Nusbaum and Mrs. George Banker, of Union Mills, were callers to Miss Carrie Myers, on Saturday afternoon.

Sunday visitors of Miss Carrie Myers were: Mrs. Lorne Shaffer, of Taneytown; Mrs. Maud Haines, Mrs. Maudie Wantz and Mrs. R. Martney, of Hester, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Putnam and family, entertained to dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. William Dickenson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Flickinger, son, Junior and Marvin and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lambert, daughter Patsy, of Taneytown.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Yingling, called on Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fox and Shirley, Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Myers, of Union Bridge, Sunday. Mr. Myers has been ill with virus for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hamburg, of town, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eckenrode and children, of York, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Swartz, daughter, Debbie, of Dover, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pentz, daughter, Carol Ann, of Hagerstown, Md., Mrs. Charles Long, children, Pamela and Barry, of Hagerstown; Mrs. Norman Barrie, daughter, Connie; Mrs. Harry Saylor, daughters, Lois Ann, Frances and Sandra; Mr. Harry Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ralston all of Rocky Ridge; Mr. Leonard Fink, New Midway; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clem, Jr., daughter, Linda of Thurmont, and Mr. Grant of York, visited Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clem, of Rocky Ridge, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland E. Zepp, sons, Eugene and Jerry, of Pleasant Valley, visited Sunday evening with Mr. Zepp's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Levine Zepp, and children.

Miss Emily Lee Devilbiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Devilbiss is ill at this writing, also Mr. Orville Hamburg is ill.

FAIRVIEW

Oh what a day Monday was. March sure came in like a lion with the wind blowing a gale and the rain pouring down and beating in wherever it could get through. We hope it goes like a lamb.

Mr. Albert A. Frock, of Gettysburg, spent last week-end in the home of his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock and daughter, Mary. Sunday visitors in the same home were, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins and daughter, Pfc. Charles Frock and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frock and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock and daughter accompanied Pfc. Charles Frock and wife to Washington, D. C. where Pfc. Frock took a plane out to Seattle, Washington, on Monday night. He will fly from Seattle on a cab to Camp at Big Delta, Alaska.

FLOWERS OR WEEDS

I must not interfere with my child, I have been told.

To bend his will to mine, or try to shape him through some mold. Of thought. Naturally, as a flower, he must unfold.

Yet flowers have the discipline of wind and rain; And, though I know it gives the gardener pain,

I've seen him use his pruning shears to gain Strength and beauty for blossoms rare.

Thus he tends what's in his care, Like the Master-florist fashions his lilies fair,

I do not know, yet it seems to me That only weeds are left to unfold naturally! —Sunshine

Mr. Davidson published "The Regulator" for two years and then sold it to Col. John K. Longwell, now of Westminster, who changed the name to the "Maryland Recorder", and only published it for one year; on the passage of the bill, creating Carroll county, (in May, 1833), Mr. Longwell removed to Westminster, and issued the "Carrolltonian", in support of the bill, which was left to the voters of Frederick, Carroll, and part of Baltimore counties. The bill required a majority of the voters of each county, and was defeated by a small majority in Baltimore county, in the fall of 1833, but was finally passed in 1837.

The Hon. Abram Thomson, who learned the printing business in the office of the "Regulator", is now publishing a daily and weekly paper in Delaware, Ohio. He is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Thomson and a brother of Joseph M. and Thomas D. Thomson, now of Taneytown.

In those days they had original poets in Taneytown; the paper contains two productions, one is a hymn, the other is entitled "Intemperance" and signed "A Young Man". I give it in full.

"What makes the young man wildly rove,
What makes him sighs his bosom move,
And cheats him of the joys above?"
"Tis Whiskey"

"What makes him love to sport so well
And makes his heart of curses swell
And love the very gate of Hell?"
"Tis Whiskey"

"Once he was young and pleasant too;
His cheeks did bloom in youthful glee,
But ah!—alas too found he grew
Of Whiskey"

"He often to the tavern went,
And all his living there he spent;
His Appetite he could not quench
With Whiskey"

"Behold him reeling, staggering home,
His hapless fate there to bemoan,
And wonder why so fond he's grown
Of Whiskey"

"Once were his prospects bright and fair,
His heart was free from every care,
At length he fell into the snare
Of Whiskey"

"Oh whiskey! bane of true delight,
Thou enemy to virtue bright,
Millions have sunk to endless night,
By Whiskey."

While cannot say that this poetry indicates much genius, and I am sure if some of our young men of this day would exert themselves, they could equal, if not exceed, this effort, still it is in the right direction and shows that in that day as in the present whiskey did a great deal of harm.

On the second page of the "Regulator" is the news from Europe, by packet ships Canada and Napoleon, up to January 4th from London, and January 5th from Liverpool. The date of the paper being the 19th, it took about 6 weeks to get the news from Europe; we get the same news now in a few hours, it comes across the ocean in a fraction of a second, and is printed in the papers a few hours afterwards. On this page also is the only joke in the paper. There is no difficulty in seeing the point, and if it required a joke like this to get through the heads of our worthy forerunners in Taneytown, their heads must have been as thick as stone said a Scotchman's was, viz: "That it required a surgical operation to get a joke into it." Here it is: A powerful preacher, "Ah sir," exclaimed an elder, in the tone of pathetic recollection, "our late minister was the man; he was a powerful preacher, for in the short time he delivered the word among us, he knocked three pulpits to pieces, and banged the guts out of five Bibles."

On the third page is a diatribe against the legislature, signed "Mifflin" so full of allusions to ancient mythology and the Constitution of England, that it must have been written by a "Silver-plated Whig", and would not appeal with much force to a voter of the present day. Then comes a paragraph signed "Mary" suggesting the placing of a letter-box at the Post-Office. This is copied from the "Baltimore American", "The official census have been published in the 'Baltimore American', from which it appears there are 446,913 souls in Md., 291,093 free whites, 52,942 colored, 102,878 slaves", also this "The population of Pennsylvania is 1,049,450, an increase in ten years of 306,782. Then comes appointments by the Governor and council for Frederick county; among those appointed for the Levy court are, Jacob Shriver and Abram Jones; among the coroners Alexander McIlenny. Then comes a long list of magistrates with some familiar names, for instance, John Baumgardner, Robert Dadds, Isaac Durn, Louis Kemp, Wm. Knox, A. Lichtenwalter, Lewis Motter, Chas. Devilliss, John Erb of P., Nimrod Frizzle, James Fisher, Jacob Hahn, John H. Hoppe, a long list of Joneses, Andrew Shriver, several Smiths and Sullivan, W. Van Bibber, Abr. Wampler, J. M. A. Zollieckoff. Then comes a notice that the Rev. Daniel Zollieckoff will preach, by Divine permission, on Sunday the 20th, inst. at the house of Mr. Lloyd M. Morris at 10 o'clock, a. m.; also a notice of a meeting of the Taneytown Bible Society in the Union church.

The marriage notices are headed "Hymeneal" in capital letters. Then follows this verse of poetry, which shows that the Editor was romantic, if he was old-fashioned.

"Happy they, the happiest of their kind,
Whom gentler stars unite,
And in one fate, their hearts,
Their fortunes, and their beings blend."

Two of these notices will recall well known people,—On Tuesday, last, by Rev. Mr. Greer, Mr. Benjamin Shunk to Mrs. Rebecca Greason, both of this county.—In the evening of the same day, by the Rev. John N. Hoffman, Mr. Senary Leader, Printer, to Miss Maria Jennings, both of this place; also a notice of the death of Mr. Adam Snook on the 4th ult.

There is also a great deal of information for farmers under the head of "Farmers Apartment."

The advertisements in the copy of the Taneytown "Regulator", on which I made some comments are worth noticing. In some things they differ a little from the advertisements of today, and they will recall old names and scenes to the older citizens of Taneytown.

The Proprietor of the "Regulator" advertises a "method of preserving butter as sweet and clean from rancidity or strong taste as when first churned by covering it with a composition, that is very cheap." In order to draw attention to the notice he puts it in the paper upside down; he proposes soon to have the process patented, and makes the modest claim, that for this discovery he ought to receive a small remuneration from every individual. He thinks the sum of 12½ cents from every family would be enough, wants some one to canvass for him, and promises that "the profits of any person that understands the business, for the states east of the Potomac, will be very great, if a purchase be made soon." Of course the discovery was not of any value, and it is not likely that they had the same ability to swindle people with wonderful patents that we have at present. In several places in the paper he gives notice that cash will be given for clean linen rags.

John Null advertises some personal property at public sale, at his residence on the road leading from Taneytown to Littlestown about half a mile from the former place, adjoining the tan yard of Mr. James McKellip. Mr. Daniel Null now owns the property, and I suppose it was his grandfather who made the sale. The terms are the same as at present except all sums under $4.00 are cash.

Henry Shiner, Jr., also has a sale advertised at his residence on the road from Taneytown to Gettysburg, 1½ miles from Taneytown. E. B. Hebbard, notifies the public that he has removed his headquarters, to the central stand, No. 1, East Market space, formerly occupied by the late Daniel Boyle, Esquire. He advertises a general stock of goods, and signs himself as all the merchants do, "The public's most obedient servant." "No. 1 East Market space" is the store now occupied by the Haughs.

Hugh Shaw, Jr., begs leave to inform the citizens of Taneytown and its vicinity, that he has removed to the house recently occupied by Mr. David Sheets and directly opposite S. Sultzer Hotel, and that he has just returned from the city, and is able to show a much larger and more general assortment than he has heretofore kept." Henry Swope advertises groceries, queensware, hardware, medicines, oils, paints, confectionery &c., all of which he is disposed to sell on moderate terms." In a postscript he adds, "He has on hand a variety of spinning wheels of good quality, and reels."

The Editor advertises books, and mentions only three: "The Works of Flavius Josephus, the great Jewish Historian"; "The United States Reader, Nos. 1—2—3; also 'a few copies of the Portraiture of Methodism, consisting of their belief, and the doctrine which they preach, and containing a summary account of the life and travel of John Wesley'. This list of books would not attract much attention in these days of penny dreadful and dime novels, but it was a good deal more substantial food for the mind.

The Bank of Westminster notifies its stockholders that "The President and Directors of this Bank have this day declared a dividend of 3½ per cent, on the Capital Stock, for the half year ending the 18th. inst.,—by order, John Fisher, Cashier." This bank is still doing business in Westminster as the Union National Bank of Westminster, and Col. John K. Longwell, who bought the Regulator, has been its president for many years.

Abner Campbell "Tenders to his friends and fellow citizens his acknowledgment for their liberal support at the late election, and offers himself as a candidate for their suffrages at the next election for sheriff of Frederick county." There is a notice of creditors of Daniel Boyle, late of Frederick Co., deceased, signed by John B. Boyle and John Swope, Executors.

A notice headed Fire Company! reads thus, "The Washington Engine Company will meet at Sebastian Sultzer's Hotel, this evening at half past 6 o'clock, for the transaction of business. Punctual attendance is requested, by order, Wm. B. Gwinn, Sec'y." I am told that the town once owned a fire engine; about the year 1824 a fire broke out at the property now owned by Mr. Hagan, then occupied by a family named Koons; the citizens succeeded in getting it out after it had burned down the back building. Soon after that they subscribed money and bought an old-fashioned engine that had to be pumped by hand. I believe they never had occasion to use it at a fire, although it afforded the young men much amusement when the Company got it out to drill. The public well furnished the water on such occasions. It was kept for about 20 years, when the citizens got an act of the Legislature enabling them to sell it; I do not know to what use the money was put.

Two of the men connected with the "Regulator" have reached prominent positions in the communities in which they live; I hope those who are now managing and printing the "Record" may be equally successful. Col. John K. Longwell is too well known in this community to need any lengthy notice; for a long time he successfully edited the Carrolltonian, and has filled many positions of trust, always faithfully and honestly; he is today one of our oldest and most respected citizens; he has been State Senator, County Commissioner, School Commissioner, one of the directors of the W.M.R.R. and of other companies and is at this time President of the Union National Bank, the oldest bank in Carroll County.

The Hon. Abram Thomson, of Delaware, Ohio, was a Taneytown boy. The following account of his life is condensed from a pamphlet published by the Biographical Publishing Company of Mansfield, Ohio, and entitled "Portrait Gallery of prominent persons of Delaware county, Ohio, with Biographical narratives." He was born in Taneytown, Oct. 15th, 1814, and was the second son of Hugh Thomson; he was born while his father was absent with his command during the war of 1812, from which he returned wounded afterward. Mr. Abram Thomson's opportunities for early education were poor, there were then no Public Schools in Maryland, and the private schools were scarce and poor. He was very fond of reading, and was naturally drawn to the printing office. He worked in the office in Taneytown, beginning when he was 15 years old, went with the proprietor to Frederick and then to Westminster where he worked a short time for Col. Longwell. At the age of 18 he went to New York, where he was employed as a compositor in some of the leading printing offices among others that of Gen. James W. Webb's daily "Courier and Enquirer" which was then the leading commercial newspaper of the country and is now the New York World. He was a very expert workman, being often given the most difficult manuscripts to deal with, among others those of Horace Greeley who was then the leading spirit of the "New Yorker" the lineal predecessor of the "New York Tribune"; Mr. Greeley's writing was fearful and wonderful, as any one knows who has seen a facsimile of it.

In 1834 Mr. Thomson went to Ohio and became a partner of Mr. Geo. W. Sharp, who had sold his printing office in Frederick. Together they bought the "Columbian Advocate and Franklin Chronicle." Mr. Thomson soon bought out his partner's interest and changed the name of the paper to the Delaware Gazette" which he has been publishing and editing ever since, and it is safe to say there is not in the United States any one who is now editor and proprietor of a paper to which he bore the same relation so far back as 1834. In politics Mr. Thomson was first, a whig, then a republican, he was elected to the lower house of the legislature of Ohio in 1848, and to the State Senate in 1850. As Senator he was chairman of the committee of Public Printing and rendered good service in discovering and putting a stop to speculations by those having it in charge. In 1860 he was a presidential elector and voted for Abraham Lincoln, served two terms as postmaster of the city of Delaware, being appointed by Mr. Lincoln; has at various times held office in the city and township, and in 1869, Mr. Hayes appointed him a member of the first board of trustees for the State Industrial School for Girls. Among his colleagues were Hon. Stanley Matthews, Prof. Merrick and Gen. Leggett.

Mr. Thomson is very fond of the cultivation of fruits and flowers and has been very successful; the Delaware grape owes its discovery and development to him. He was struck by the superior quality of a very ordinary looking grape he saw for sale on the street; hunting it up he found two very poorly cultivated vines which were said to have been brought from the Bonaparte garden at Bordentown, New Jersey. Obtaining some cuttings he planted and developed them, got a prize from the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in 1855 and thus introduced them to Horticulturists. They have since become noted in this country and Europe as an unsurpassed hardy variety.

I have given a full account of the "Regulator" because it belongs to the past history of Taneytown, about which the present generation knows very little. The history of the "Searchlight", which was recently published by Mr. Joseph Forward, and of the "Record" which made its first appearance on the 7th of July of this year, is too well-known to receive more than a passing notice in this history.

YOUR Social Security ?
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

In cooperation with Mr. L. J. Gillespie, Field Representative of the Baltimore (North) Social Security Office, The Carroll Record has arranged to bring you the fourth in a series of question and answer columns explaining the OASI program.

The questions have been selected from those most frequently asked by persons who have made inquiries at the field office.

If you have a question that you would like answered, address your letter to the Social Security Office, 5227 York Road, Baltimore 12, Maryland. That office will reply directly to you.

QUESTION: Why can't a widow get all of her deceased husband's monthly benefit instead of three-fourths?

ANSWER: The OASI program, like all annuity programs, must consider costs of benefits. The widow's rights to benefits are based on the wage record of her deceased husband. Although it would be desirable to pay higher amounts, it is necessary to pay reduced amounts to auxiliary beneficiaries to conserve the Trust Fund.

QUESTION: I supported my father who died in January 1952 and provided a home for him. Why should the lump sum be paid to his brother just because he paid the burial expenses?

ANSWER: The 1950 amendments provided a lump sum payment in nearly every case where the wage earner was insured for payment to a spouse, or, if none to the person or persons paying burial expenses.

QUESTION: Why can't I use my social security card and number for identification purposes?

ANSWER: A social security card is not good identification. Thousands of cards are lost each year. It would be very easy for such cards to be misused by the finder.

QUESTION: Nearly every person has a social security card. I'm not going to work but can I get one anyway?

ANSWER: You shouldn't get a card unless you are going to work. It would be like opening a bank account and telling the cashier you are not going to make any deposit.

QUESTION: Is it true that my claim will be pushed through faster if I belong to the right political party?

ANSWER: Certainly not. All claims are handled impartially and in order of receipt.

MULTIPLE-MANAGEMENT PLAN TO BE DISCUSSED

The Western Maryland Branch of the American Personnel and Guidance Association will meet in the auditorium of the Westminster High School Tuesday, March 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Ronald Ayer and Mr. Gerber of the Human Relations department McCormick and Company, Inc., Baltimore, Maryland will discuss the Multiple Management Plan. A colored film outlining the philosophy of McCormick and Company, Inc., working with their employees for the mutual benefit of all will be shown in conjunction with the talk.

All Guidance Counselors and business personnel of Carroll and Frederick counties are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Mrs. Mabel Price, Miss Virginia Troxell, Counselors at the Westminster Jr.-Sr. High, and Mrs. Urith Shipley Counselor at Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High are in charge of the program.

ADOPTION SERVICES AVAILABLE THROUGH CARROLL COUNTY WELFARE BOARD

The Carroll County Welfare Board, during its Feb. Meeting, reviewed the efficiency and over all work of the staff. The Board members felt that the work of the agency during 1953 had been satisfactory. A report of expenditures was made to the Board: During Jan., 1954 the total expenditures for assistance were $13,246.89 and total number of people helped was 305.

The agency decided to keep the people of Carroll County aware of what it is doing and the kinds of services that it gives by monthly reports to the newspapers and by an annual report.

One of the services the agency gives in Carroll County is offered to couples who wish to adopt a child and to mothers who wish to place their children for adoption. Adoptions carried out through social agencies usually turn out better than those that are casually and haphazardly made. This agency has the opportunity and facility to study the mental and physical health of the children, and can assure adopting parents that the children will always be theirs legally. Then too, a mother placing her child through this agency can be assured that the child will never be mistreated or neglected. The feelings of the child's own mother, who is often very unhappy and bewildered, are always considered and help offered her in making her decision either to keep or give up her child.

Certainly adoption is a difficult and delicate task; best handled by persons trained and experienced for such a task. Many people ask about "red tape". It is not so much "red tape" as it is necessary investigation of prospective parents and into the background of the child, his personality and abilities. Time is also needed to settle any legal questions as it is far better to clear up consents and so forth before a child is placed in his new home.

Facing Death

Lesson for March 7, 1954

KING EYOKAKOLI of Lukolela in Africa changed his name every day for twenty-four years. He thought this would keep the angel of death from finding him. But death knew his name—knew his last name, which was all that mattered. Death knows every one's name, and will call it. The one prediction that is certain to come true, and the only one, is this: You will die. Death rides every highway; he rides too on every country road and backwoods trail, he rides the seven seas. Wherever your road may take you, at the last you will come face to face with death. It is only an illusion to think you can ride away from death. You are always coming nearer. You will face it, no question of that. The question is, How will you face it?

With Frankness

The Christian looks for his answer to Jesus himself. He too faced death, both of his friends and of himself. We call him, and rightly "Lord of Life," "I am the Resurrection and the Life," he said. But the blaze of light in which his spirit moved did not blind him to the dark fact of death. He faced death, first of all with frankness. He did not try to avoid mentioning it. He said to his friends quite simply, "Lazarus is dead." It would be funny, if it were not so pathetic, to see how many ways people find of avoiding saying "He is dead." He is deceased, or demised, or passed away, or gone on—anything but dead. At funerals the corpse is rigged up to look as lifelike as possible. At the grave everything is done to keep it from looking like a grave. Death is a subject dodged in polite conversation. But why not face it? Jesus certainly believed in immortality, more firmly than we do indeed; but still he was frank about death.

With Sympathy

Jesus' tears were shed on only one recorded occasion, when Lazarus died. Could he have been weeping for Lazarus? That is hardly possible. If he believed half what we believe about immortality, he could not have wept for a man who had gone beyond these shadows to the light of God's presence. Or if he did not believe in immortality (let us suppose just for a moment that he did not), then why should he weep for a man who was within the hour to be restored to full life again? The one explanation that accounts for Jesus' tears on that day is to see them as tears of sympathy. The hearts of Mary and Martha were torn, and his own was torn in sympathy. Perhaps it was not altogether because they were for a time lonely and bereft. Jesus could see something beneath their loneliness—he could see that they did not understand death itself. To their minds Lazarus had as good as ceased to exist. He would be "raised up" at some future day; but on that day, four days after his death what had become of him? All they could see was the black shadow into which their brother had disappeared. It was for their hopelessness, their misunderstanding, as much as for their sorrow, that Jesus wept.

With Faith

People who have had little experience in such things sometimes wonder what to say when they visit a house of sorrow. If only we could bring back the dead to life, as Jesus did! If only we could break into moving poetry such as might have come from a Tennyson or a Dante! If only we could say some magic thing that would dissolve death in ashes and make life bloom again! Instead we are shy and blundering and we are afraid we say the wrong thing in spite of ourselves. Two things need to be remembered at such times. One is that what we say is far less important than our attitude. If we ourselves have an attitude of fear, of doubt, of hopelessness, anything hopeful we say is belied by our evident despair. But if in ourselves there is a strong faith, this will make the simplest words glow with hope.

The other thing is recall that Jesus reminded Martha and Mary of himself. "I am the Resurrection and the Life." When we think of Jesus we think of Life—so all his friends have felt. How can we help it? So in the presence of sorrow the best word we can say is some word that points to Jesus. But of course the better time to say that word is before sorrow comes.

200-Horsepower Performance and priced far below it

Illustrated is the rakish Buick CENTURY Riviera "hardtop" model.

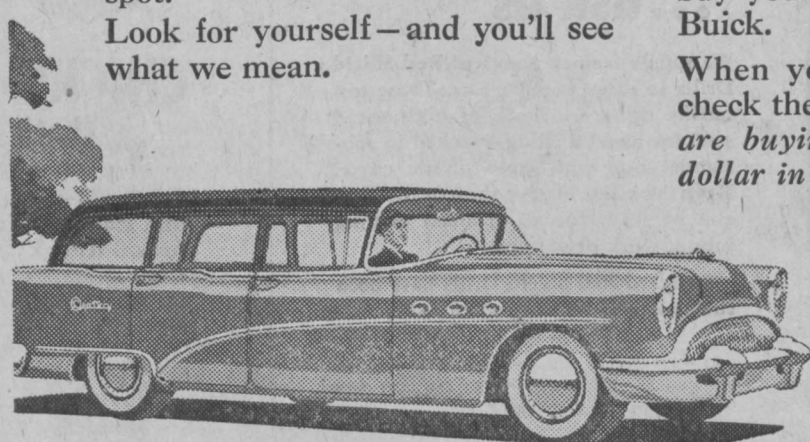

The Look of Tomorrow is in every '54 BUICK Today
With completely new "years-away" styling —keynoted by the dream-car design of the panoramic sweep-back windshield.

Come drive the CENTURY biggest horsepower bargain of 1954!

The invitation you see headlined There calls for action — and comparison.

For you have to see and drive the 200-horsepower CENTURY—and check its local delivered price—to know how it puts other automobiles in this Buick's dollar class on the spot.

Look for yourself—and you'll see what we mean.

Look at styling, new-day features, visibility, interior modernity, ride comfort, handling ease—we believe you will find nothing on the automotive horizon to equal the CENTURY on all counts.

But what will prove to be the most eye-opening news of all is the power buy you make in this spectacular Buick.

When you compare—when you check the facts—you find that you are buying more horsepower per dollar in a CENTURY than you get in any other standard-production American automobile, bar none.

And it is horsepower that gives you brilliant performance, greater economy, new safety—for here you get the highest power-to-weight ratio in all Buick history.

Why not come in and see the whole story come alive when you take the wheel of a Buick CENTURY?

We know of no better way to prove to you that this gorgeous, glamorous sweep of automobile is the power buy of the year—by far.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture turkey advisory committee warns that present intentions to produce turkeys in 1954 will result in over supply. Intentions are to grow 6 percent more heavy breeds and 9 percent more light breeds this year than in 1953. The committee advises "production of heavy birds no larger than in 1953 and no more light breeds than can be profitably marketed through normal commercial channels."
