A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The recent rains have made everything burst into bloom and from the parsonage windows one can really gaze upon the leaves unfurling on the huge trees.

The plowed farms appear most at tractive with the barley here and there. The beautiful and colorful azalea plants almost on every lawn are most picturesque with the creeping phlox, too. It is too bad any plant so colorful is only with us for so short a time. Eh?

It was fascinating driving up to Philly last week. Never have I seen so much traffic in both directions. Upon my return was putting the car in the garage and there I saw a big Possum. Thought it was one of those awful things and you know what. Mrs. E. D. around the town in an swer to your inquiry, it was Jimmy Durante. Hope that is suffice. That reminds me did you see and hear Liberace on the Jimmy Durante Show last week? On the Sunday afternoon grogram of Liberace, a lady writes from a big town that she breaks every engagement just to re-main home and see his programe. Now, I was floored when I saw him dance as that is most unusual for any classical artist.

Thinking of anything theatrical—remember Your Observer stated when June Haver came out of the convent that it would be less than a year when she would appear in pictures. So it will be as she is considering the movie and also another in the making, the former, "My Sister, Ileen". I don't think she had bad health as advertised but she could not face the sacred life of being a nun or sister. One must have real character for that character in this life.

Ladies, a grand book to write for is "Cooking with Condensed Soups" to Anne Marshall, Director of Home Economiqs of the Campbe Soup Company. Follow each recipe carefully each day this summer and you positively won't feel the heat. Your Observer is going to do just that.

Folks, if you are contemplating building a house in the near future be sure and write for the Aladdin Home Catalogue. It shows you that character in this life.

ence House. Have you seen the new Philco re-frigerator, Mrs. Housewife? The door opens from either side which ever position in which you are standing that is more convenient for you. Nice? Betcha that will go over big for any housewife. Many women are really sewing for themselves as to dresses these days of which I was convinced when I entered the department of materials on the bolts. Those old fashioned "dress forms" are in the limelight again,

How cute those little girls appeared on the street with huge hats in the annual Lily Day activity collecting for the Easter Seal Campaign to aid crippled children. Now little minatures of priceless paintings are being shown in Philly and New York at the small price of 98 cents. They sure do look like the real thing. Was caught in the mad rush of the parade in Baltimore on Thursday for "The Orioles". What a mob and what a reception they were given.

Visiting a very old family the other day, a very old will was brought out for me to read. It was written in 1829 and it was simply eloquent. Here is just part of it—"In the name of God! Amen. I, Samuel Harper of Harford County, and State of Maryland heing. County and State of Maryland being weak of body but sound disposing mind, memory and understanding considering is appointed for all men once to die, the better to be prepared for that event whenever it may please Almighty God to call me; hence do make and publish this my last Will and Testament in manner and form following Viz: First and principally, I commit my Soul to Almighty God who gave it and my body to be de-cently buried in the discretion of my Executors herein after named and when my just debts and funeral charges are paid, I give and bequeath and devise as follows: Then the rest of the Will was written in long hand. What a grand Christian Soul that man must have been. I think you can imagine the rest. Have a grand week end, Folks. Be careful if you are going for a drive. Watch out for the Teen-Agers and those whom you think may have had indulged which really is causing all the accidents of this day.

Here's hoping I'll see you at the Winchester Apple Blossom Festival.

SNEEZIN' SEASON?

If you like Subber bedder thad Sprig because your dose starts ruddig with the sap, the chances are you have an allergy-and not a "spring cold."

Dr. Samuel Feinberg, chief of the allergy clinic of Northwestern University has taken a new look at that seasonal ailment that has been generally regarded as a form of the still mysterious "common cold".

In the March issue of the American Medical Association's publication, "Today's Health", Dr. Feinberg says: "If your complaint is sniffling and sneezing and a stuffy nose, there are about seven or eight million others like you-most of the sneezers are seasonal hay fever victims." And the type of allergy most commonly mistaken for a "spring cold" says this authority, is that caused by the pol-Ien of such trees as maple, elm, birch, ash and oak.

Thus, you could no doubt solve your problem by taking a long sea voyage every spring, or camping out in the desert. But Dr. Feinberg offers a simpler and more economical suggestion in pointing out that antihistamines (anahist to you) have proved useful in the treatment of hay fever.

And you do not need to be a sufferer yourself, but merely to know a victim of asthma or hay fever to endorse the Doctor's contention that research on these ailments deserves public support fully as much as on polio and multiple sclerosis.

In fact, the next time the Government decides to go in for "leaf-raking", we hope the great minds in Washington will make it rag-weed digging. -U. S. Press Association.

WHAT IS DISCIPLINE?

When you hear the word "discapline," do you immediately think of punishment?

In past years authority and penalty were used to discipline, says family life specialist Jeanne Moehn, University of Maryland Extension Service. But today less control is used, and there is more of a swing toward freedom for the child.

Mrs. Moehn suggests that there should possibly be more medium between the older authorative type of discipline and today's freedom. Think of discipline as meaning guidance with punishment of some sort necessary for discipline is definitely nec-

Each individual has to learn to discipline self as he grows. That is, if he is accepted by other people livang in his society. Society places cerexpectations on each individual, and learning to conform in a desirable manner isn't easy.

We might think of child discipline as day by day living with the child and helping to guide him into acceptable behavior, says Mrs. Moehn. Self discipline is a result of slow growth and development under guidance that is measonable and consistant.

The many times the adult punishes to relieve his own angry emotions. He may not be consistant, but will punish today for some thing the child was allowed to do yesterday.

The child normally thinks only of himself and his wants. If he is allowed to grow into adulthood always doing the things he wishes and getting the things he wants, he will not be accepted by society. As parents, you have the job of helping children and youth grow into happy individuals, says the specialist. This is much more possible if the child learns gradually to discipline himself. Discipline isn't only necessary for ense to be accepted by others, but for the protection of the child. "No" must be said when necessary and must be meant. A small child doesn't understand the danger of running into the street. As he grows older he will understand, but until then "no" must -WDR-Gen. be meant.

Life lived just to satisfy yourself never satisfies anybody.

FEESERSBURG

It's spring again— and thousands of pint-sized baseball players are setting their sights on a miniature stadium at Williamsport, Pa. Here, eight teams, comprised of players eight to 12, will compete in the Little League World Series late in August. Little leaguers make up 11,488 teams and 2,800 leagues throughout the U.S., Canada, Cuba, Dutch East Indies and the Philippine Islands. They wear duplicates of big league uniforms, and play games scaled to their physical and emotional capacities. It all started in 1939 when a young man named Carl Stot, decided small boys had just as much right to play organized baseball as their older brothers. His dream has become a reality. And a dream of some boys of the 8th grade in the Union Bridge area has also become a reality for they will have both a Lit-tle League team and a Babe Ruth team this year in Union Bridge. While the 8th graders at the Elmer Wolfe school planted the seed of the idea, the organization and development of the idea has been taken over by adults of the community and through the combined interest and generosity of all organizations and leading citizens of the Union Bridge area the two leagues are about ready to begin playing ball. At the moment the officers of the two clubs are appealing to citizens for uniforms for the two teams. Last Friday evening 65 boys from the town and surrounding communities registered to play with the 2 leagues which shows how much interest is being taken in baseball. From all indications every one is going to have a lot of fun playing and working with the two clubs, this year.

In these days when there is so much argument over what school children earn, if anything, it would be hazardous to say that every schoolboy knows or indeed that any schoolboy knows who William E. Gladstone was. Well, he is the man who once said that our Constitution is the most wonderful work ever struck off at one time by the brain and purpose of man. It is possible that Senator McCarthy studed American history and therefore is acquainted with both Mr. Gladstone and our Constitution, but evidently the Senator fails to agree with Mr Gladstone's opinion on the Constitu-For the past several years the Senator has done everything within his power to tear up the Bill of Rights and toss it into the waste basket. Next week over T.V. the American people will be able to see Mr. McCarthy try to smear the U.S. Army. How well he succeeds or fails depend entiely upon the intelligence of the bride. Harry Dougherty, Taney-tuther Schwartz, Gettysburg R. D. 1, and Purcell Ecker, Carlisle R. D. 6, Senator has done everything within depend entiely upon the intelli-gence of the T.V. audience. I believe that Mr. Gladstone was correct in saying that our Constitution is the greatest document ever conceived by man, but the men who wrote the Con-stitution are dead, and can not defend it against small minds which seem to be in the majority at the present moment. But as the poet said, "Truth crushed to earth shall rise again" and so maybe it is a waste of time to write about the Senator from Wisconsin. For phony people given enough time reveal their phoniness and as Abe Lincoln once said "You can fool part of the people all the time; some of the people part of the time, but you can't fool all the people all of the time." If birds could read I would believe they read the ad in the paper concerning two bird houses for rent. For this week Merry Knoll was swamped with birds of all species and they seemed to be out bidding each other for a place to begin housekeeping. Even the cats don't seem to bother them, for the birds just give them a glance and keep on chirping. Maybe they know the cats are too fat and lazy to climb a tree. April may have started out with a hangover from March but she pulled herself together and gave us one of the warmest Easter Sundays we can remember for a long time. People took advantage of it by filling the churches and highways. Traffic was very heavy but drivers seemed to be on good behavior. Do you know who invented the rocking chair? I don't either and I am not particularly interested, but the thing that is interesting is that some years back the rocker went out of style, and now everyone that comes to visit and seeing all the rocking chairs through-

Sometime we think the world is growing worse but it may be that the news and radio coverage is better .-

Not a day goes by but we come across an article in a newspaper or magazine titled "How to Stop Worrying". I read them all and the more I read the more I worry. Is worry a bed thing? Not if you worry about bad thing? Not if you worry about the right things. I doubt very much if any progress along scientific or so-cial reform would have happened if some one hadn't done considerable worrying.

We know a father who came home from work last week tired to the bones and all he wanted was a hour of quiet and relaxation, but the house seemed over run with children. They were playing cops and robbers and the noise was terrific. Finally father couldn't stand it any longer. He yelled that it was time the kids went home where they belonged. For a moment silence was king until one brave kid spoke up. But Daddy, he said in tears, "we belong here—we're Yours"

Idealism may be unpopular at the present, but it is not dead. There are still men and women in this country who believe in certain truths and who would risk their life and property to stand by those truths. They can not be intimidated nor ridiculed out of those beliefs.—Ruth Roelke.

association between the Reformed and Presbyterian congregations for the building of a union church. From that time to the coming of Mr. Fritchey in 1853, the records seem to have been lost, so that the history of the church during that time will be imperfect.

Before the year 1820, most of the protestant preaching in Taneytown was in the German language. About that time a contest arose between the young people who wanted English and the older people who wanted German preaching; it finally ended, as all contests in the United States have sooner or later ended, in a victory for the English. The house in which the Reformed congregation worshipped at that time was known as "The Yellow Church"; it was, I believe, a Union church, and stood where the Reformed cemetery now is. The dilapidated condition of this church is set forth in the prescrible to the arrigles of association. the preamble to the articles of asso-ciation between the Reformed and Presbyterian congregations; it is as follows: "Owing to the ruinous condition of the Reformed church, the members, both of the Presbyterian and Reformed congregations, do hereby form an association, and agree to erect a Union church, and to be governed by the following articles of as-

1st. These articles of association entered into this 30th day of November 1820, by and between the members of the German Reformed church of Taneytown, Frederick County, Md., on the one part, also of the members of the Presbyterian church on the other part, witness that for the rights and privileges held forth and granted in the following articles of association, we the members of the aforesaid churches, do hereby mutually agree to unite ourselves in the brotherly love which characterizes the humble christian, and assist each other in the erection of a new church.

The members of the association do hereby grant a privilege to every ordained or licensed preacher the gosepl in said church, when not occupied by either of the aforesaid congregations, unless the trustees that he of enjoyen the the is a mon of shall be of opinion that he is a man of infamous character or in the habit of preaching anti-christian doctrine. 4th. Six trustees shall be elected annually, three for each church. These trustees shall within a month elect a president of the board of trustees. 5th. Every one who shall have subscribed $1.00 to the support of the ministry shall be entitled to vote in an election of trustees.

6th. If practicable, the members of the association shall have one clergyman for the English and German churches, but in case such cannot be procured, either or each congregation may employ a clergyman and have use of the church accord-

The following persons were elected trustees, Clotworthy Birnie, George Crabbs and John Darby for the Presbyterians; George B. Shriner, John Hiner and Jonas Spangler for the Reformed congregation. The building committee was Nicholas Snider, William B. Hibberd, George Shriner, Abram Linn, and Samuel S. Forney. This committee bought of Elizabeth Hughes, widow of John Hughes, lots No. 78 and 80, situate in Taneytown, No. 78 and 80, situate in Taneytown, ied if for the sum of $89.681/2. These lots place were conveyed to the persons composing said committee by Elizabeth gregations of the charge extended a Hughes and nine others who appear unanimous call to the Rev. P. A. Long to have been heirs of John Hughes, by a deed executed on the 7th. of June, 1821, to be held by them in trust for the German Reformed and Presbyterian congregations, until such time when said congregations may become laying Hess daughter of Mr. A. N. Long, promising him salary as follows: Taneytown $355., Haugh's $115, Mt. Union $100., Baust's $200. Mr. Long was pastor of the church for 11 years; in November 1874, he married Miss when said congregations may become corporate bodies, and thus by law authorized to have and hold the same by their trustees. This deed was re-corded among the land records of Frederick county, August 20th, 1821.

I do not know how long the two churches continued to have a joint board of trustees, but I find in the Reformed church records the following entry: January 3rd, 1836, at a meeting of the German Reformed and Presbyterian churches, the following ersons were elected trustees, for the Reformed congregation, Daniel Frock, Jr., Israel Hiteshue and Michael Helman; for the Presbyterian congrega-tion, Philip Hann, William Shaw, and Dr. William B. Hibberd. Israel Hiteshue was president of this meeting and Rogers Birnie secretary. Mr. Mc-Kinney in his history says, "From persons conversant with the circumstances, we gather the following in regard to the building of the church."

The corner stone was laid on the 5th. or 6th. of September, 1821. The Rev. John Winebrenner preached the sermon, from Zechariah 4:7. "Before

After a notice in the Reformed church book, of the death of Mr. Graves, appears the following without date: "The congregation being vacant

Hiner, Rev. Mr. Feet, Rev. Mr. Wolf and Rev. Mr. Jamison. I cannot find that anyone remembers the pastorate of Mr. Feet or Mr. Jamison, further than the fact that they were here; they were both probably in Taneytown for but a short time. The Rev. Elias Hiner was from this neighborhood and belonged to the same family which is still living here He was quite a prominent man in the church, became, I think, a D. D. and had a church in Baltimore. He is now dead.

The Rev Mr. Wolf was here from sometime in the forties until 1851. Many people remember him quite well; toward the latter part of his pastorate here he became quite eccentric, and did not, I believe, preach much after leaving this place. During his term of service here the parsonage was built. After him came the Rev. Mr. Jamison who was here but for a short time, and was succeeded in 1853 by the Rev. John G. Fritchey, Mr. Fritchey had charge of Baust's church and Haugh's church. On November 10th, 1858, Mt. Union congregation was organized with 50 members, Rocky Hill had been -organized in 1854 and Emanuel church was organized in 1859 or 1860. Rev. Mr. Fritchey's resignation took effect April 1st, 1865. A record in the church book says: "He was a faithful pastor and luring his ministry, the work in all the above churches went on prosper ously, members increasing in a both in numbers and spiritually Very many persons can remember Mr Fritchey as a genial kindly man with a very pleasant family. He lived to a good old age, and died not many years ago, but I do not know the exact date of his death.

On the 15th of March, 1865, a con On the 15th of March, 1865, a congregational meeting passed resolutions giving a unanimous call to Rev. N. E. Gilds. They agreed to give him $500 salary, of which Taneytown, was to pay $202, Baust $102, Mt. Union $62, and Rocky Hill $52. On the fourth of March 1867, Rev. Mr. Gilds resigned the charge and on the 15th of ed the charge, and on the 15th of April, 1867, Rocky Hill was detached from the charge, which then consisted of Taneytown, Baust's, Mt. Union and

On the same day the congregations composing the charge extended a call to the Rev. Jesse Steiner, promising to pay him a salary of $650 of which Taneytown was to pay $270.84, Bausts $162.50, Haugh's $108.30, Mt. Union

At a meeting of the Classis in May 1867, at Emmitsburg, the action of the congregation in dismissing the Rocky Hill congregation was confirmed. In June, 1868, Mr. Steiner tendered his resignation but it was not accepted; shortly after this he held revival ser-vices at which quite a number were brought into the church. In October 1871, Mr. Steiner again offered which was then accepted. An entry in the church book says it was done "through great respect and deep sympathy for our persecuted pastor". The explanation of this entry I suppose to that charges were brought against Mr. Steiner of "conduct unbecoming a minister". He was tried by the classis and acquitted. The entry showed that his council believed in his innocence and that the charges were unfounded.

The next pastor was the Rev. Mr Lantz. I have not been able to find out the date of his election and installation but he was here for only a short time; he died in February 1873, and the records say he was "faithful dur-ing his brief ministry". He was buried in the Reformed cemetery this

On September 27th., 1873, the con-Lavinia Hess, daughter of Mr. A. N. Hess. He resigned the charge November 3, 1884, and went shortly afterwards to Chambersburg, Pa., where he had charge of the churches at Marion Sciences and Festival III. Marion, Solomon's and Fayetteville. He died there very suddenly on the 8th, of April 1891, and was buried in the Reformed cemetery in Taneytown, where his widow has erected a hand-some monument to his memory.

In May 1885, the Maryland Classis of the Reformed church met in Taneytown and divided the charge, constituting Taneytown a charge by it-self, with Keysville as a preaching station, and Mt. Union, Haugh's and Baust's in another charge. After the building of the Reformed church in Union Bridge, Mt. Union united with that congregation.

Rev. Henry Ditzler entered upon his pastoral work here August 16th, 1885. He came here from the Theological Seminary and remained 8 years, preaching his farewell sermon August 20th, 1893. During his pastorate the 20th, 1893. During his pastorate the church was remodeled and handsomely furnished at a cost of $8250. The old church, built in 1821, was held by the Reformed and Presbyterian churches in common, each congregation occupying it every alternate Sundays until the Presbyterian church was built in 1882. At that time the

Rev. John Winebrenner preached the sermon, from Zechariah 4:7. "Before Zerubabel thou shalt become a plain; and she shall bring forth the head stone with shoutings, crying, Grace, Grace, unto, it". The Rev. Mr. Reily preached on the same day from Isaiah 66th chapter, latter clause of the 1st verse, "Where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest". Special hymns were prepared for the occasion; the first verse of one of them is:

"To-day we lay the corner stone, In hopes that we shall build thereon A house for God, who loves to dwell Where'er His people worship well". The building must have progressed slowly, as it was not dedicated until the Autumn of 1882. The Presbyterian element, during the interval between 1822 and 1828 worshipped with the Reformed congregation, which, during that time, was served by the following pastors: Rev. Jacob Helfenstein, Rev. Mr. Aurand, and for a short time by the Rev. Deatrick Graves.

After a notice in the Reformed church book, of the death of Mr. Graves, appears the following without date: "The congregation being vacant for some time, called the Rev. Mr.

Revolution

Lesson for April 25, 1954

VERY few people in America can logically say they believe that revolution by force is invariably wrong. On the contrary, some of the most distinguished and respected Americans, both men and women, are proud of the letters "S. A. R." and "D. A. R.," Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution. If revolution was always wrong, then our country started on the wrong track to begin with, and we should be still a part of the British Empire. (The question might be asked, whether that Empire would have gone as far as it did and been as strong as it was, if it had not learned the lessons Dr. Foreman which only the American Revolution gave it. But that is another story.) The Bible tells the story of a revolution which had the full approval of a prophet of God. In fact, one of the prophets gave the chief revolutionists the idea.

Preacher Meets Rebel

Prophets in ancient times were something like preachers of these times, with two important differences. Prophet and preacher both speak for God to men. But the modern preacher has a church; the prophets had no established church, no chapel. They could not so much as rent a school-room or a theatre as preachers sometimes have to do. The prophets had to say their say wherever and whenever they could. There was no 'regular eleven o'clock service." The other difference was that while the modern preacher likes to have a large church full of people to preach to, the prophet of olden times did not always (perhaps not usually) try for large crowds, but rather picked their listeners very carefully. They would be content with an audience of one, provided the one man was the right man. So the prophet Ahijah met a young man named Jeroboam alone one day, and gave him the idea that changed the lives of a whole nation. Tearing his long cloak into a dozen strips ("Is the man crazy?" Jeroboam must have thought, for the cloak was brand new), he invited the younger man to take ten of the pieces. The ten strips were ten "tribes" of Israel, and putting them into Jeroboam's hand meant that he was to be the leader of the revolution and secession which would tear those tribes away from the then united nation. The preacher, in short, was inviting and inciting rebellion and revo-

When Is Revolution Necessary?

It is not the first time that preachers have been on the side of the revolutionist. In the American revolution some churches, among them the Presbyterian, were so active in promoting that revolution that when British soldiers searched the houses of citizens suspected of revolutionary tendencies, if they found in the house a copy of the Presbyterian hymn book or catechism, the evidence was considered sufficient to make arrests on the spot. This raises a serious question. Why is it that churches and preachers, which are generally conservative and teach and preach patriotism as a Christian attitude,—why is it that they have ever supported revolution, even by violence? Over in England a famous convention of preachers and other religious leaders in the year 1648 wrote it into their creed that "it is the duty of people to pray for magistrates (they meant the government in all its branches), to honour their persons, to obey their lawful commands, and to be subject to their authority . . ." Yet in the very next year, 1649, some of those same religious men took off the head of King Charles I. How can men who believe that obeying laws and authority is a Christian duty, also become revolutionists?

For the People Revolution is not something for every day or every generation. It is a desperate last resort. But as in the days of Ahijah, so since then it is true that a government which ceases to be of the people, for the people and by the people, has forfeited its right to respect. The reader of I Kings will discover a gem of wisdom in what the old counselors said to the young Rehoboam: "If you will be a servant to this people today and serve them . . . then they will be your servants forever." Rehoboam turned his back on this wisdom, looked on his royal power as a means of tyranny; and so Jeroboam's revolution had an easy
