We were younger then;

And now we are busy tired men-Tired with playing a foolish game,

Tired of trying to make a name. "Tomorrow", I say, "I'll call on Jim Just to show I'm thinking still of him!"

But tomorrow comes and tomorrow

And the distance between us grows and grows.

Around the corner yet miles away-"Here's a telegram, Sir, Jim died today!"

And that's what we get and deserve in the end,

Around the corner, a vanished friend!

And so that applies to you, my friend And the little old church around the bend.

Around the corner you see it stand, You often pass by but never attend.

So the weeks and months and the years they go, "And you'll visit the old church that you used to know"! At least to yourself you often say, But somehow or other you stay away.

"Of course next Sunday, I'll surely go"!

But Sunday comes and Sunday goes, And the distance between yougrows and grows

The church around the corner yet miles away Although you pass it day by day

And you often think and you surely know

The struggle they have, they need you so.

But the years pass on and that's about all

Till the old church invites to another roll call.

We trust today when you answer your name

That your love for the old church will still be the same.

And remember wherever you wander or stray

You will always be welcome down our church way,

And we hope and pray at the last Roll Call

That God for Christ's Sake will welcome us all,

To that land that is fairer and bright-

TO ARGUE CALMLY

One of the most hopeful signs we have seen about the younger generation appears in the answers of 1,000 boys and girls in six states to a list of questions on citizenship asked by the Young Women's Christian Association. More than half of these teenagers, it turned out, were interested -among a variety of other subjectsin how to talk "without getting mad". This sort of self-control is a worthy attribute and much needed in discussions of civic affairs. There are a few pointers, some of them rather familiar, after which the individual is pretty much on his own.

A principal point is to avoid personalities and avoid personalizing issues. One can yield more gracefully if pride is not at stake. General propositions make the best subjects.

Another point is to learn that friends can disagree and still respect each other's opinions. In the same line is a reminder not to incur a kind of emotional commitment to convince one's opponent or make him admit he is wrong. Many an argument makes its point long after the discussion is over, and is the more effective for simply resting its case with the good judgment of the listener.

A bit of humor now and then can help to ease a tense situation, but it should be the kind that enables people to laugh with someone, not at some-

SENATE CLOAKROOM by J. Glenn Beall

United States Senator from Maryland

The passing of Easter traditionally indicates the half-way mark of a leg-islative session, and the spurt of activity on the Washington scene makes this year no exception. Between now and adjournment there is much to be accomplished, and in the as if Congress is in a great hurry to pass laws—but the thing to remember is that during the weeks prior to the Easter holiday the preliminary and spade work was being done. This week should see the Senate complete discussions on the wool price support bill, which it is believed will give an indication as to how the Eis-enhower Administration's farm program will fare in Congress. There are some who are endeavor-ing to amend the wool price support bill to cover other basic crops, and it

A veto would mean that next year the flexible price support program favored in part by Secretary Benson would go into effect, since the present vicid mice support program expires rigid price support program expires and under the law would be succeeded by a flexible system permitting lower parity.

Also scheduled for Senate action soon are amendments to the much debated Taft-Hartley Act. House amendments are still in committee, but the Senate cleared its bill for early action, and the discussion should separate the Senate on fairly partisan lines Labor unions, which once called the Taft-Hartley Act a "slave labor act", now contend that they prefer to keep the law as is rather than see it amended. It should also be added that a number of business men, who former-ly argued that Taft-Hartley should be made stronger, likewise favor leaving it unamended.

At this point the only sure thing is must bring to pass a certain result that regardless of what action is tak-

For several weeks now the sports pages have reported on the condition of the players during spring training, and in their own jargon the sports writers have recounted for us the ex-hibition games. All of this arouses our interest, and when a bright sun shines warmly through the window pane we occasionally find ourselves looking longingly from the Senate Office Building toward Griffith Sta-

Baltimore friends begin asking with persistent repetition if we are attending the opening day when the Orioles make their debut in Munici-pal Stadium, and the Baltimore enthusiasm reverberates throughout the state

There is the scramble for hard-toget tickets, the frequent checks with the weather bureau, the turning first to the sports page of the morning paper, but above all there is that strange sense of anticipation which will linger until the first pitch goes over the plate. When it happens—as it did in Washington last Tuesday—that the day could not have been more perfect, nor the ball game more exciting, then it can be easily understood why the First Lady hugged and kissed the 84 year old president of the club, Clark Griffith, and the President shattered precedent by shaking hands with, and congratulating, the hero, Mickey Ver-

Secretary of State Dulles was wrestling with the difficulties of establishing collective security, Illinois was choosing Congressional can-didates for next fall's general election, Capitol Hill was snowed under with thousands of bills demanding attention-but across the land the major interest was baseball. Every day from now to fall, in every ball park, there will be a new hero—it may be Mickey Vernon or Mickey Mantle— but to the young and old he will be the most important person in the country that day.

Marylanders know that our state excels in many things-from oysters excels in many things—from oysters to maple syrup—in sports we know that nothing can top the Preakness or the Washington International as far as horse racing goes, and only in-frequently do the Terrapins walk off the gridiron unvictorious—throughout the coming months it will take a lot to persuade us that the Baltimore Orioles are not the best team in the American League—and who knows but perhaps the best in the majors.

A COMMUNITY CHEST

The Carroll County Community Chest has become a reality. This co-operative fund raising agency for the charitable services in the county to number seven or eight, was finally formed at a county wide meeting held Thursday evening at Legion Square. This committee was composed of the president, Quintin Quintal; Sherman E. Flanagan, chair-man, Stanley Tevis, John R. Byers and Ober S. Herr, Jr. Considerable contacting work has been carried on over the past month by the commit-tee in addition to personal visits with service clubs all over the county. Charles O. Fisher, attorney of West-minster, was present to speak on the

As this is written, Bullet BOB TURLEY, the Orioles' six foot, three, 215 pound right hander, has won only two big league ball games, while tasting defeat seven times.

But if this 23-year-old hasn't the makings of a truly great pitcher, these eyes have never seen one!

What a performance he gave in Baltimore's first major league night game! Fourteen strikeoutsa no-hitter for eight and a third innings-and then BOOM! A single by AL ROSEN and a long fly that reached the right field seats off the bat of LARRY DOBY, and Turley and the Birds were beaten, 2-1. It was a game that 43,383 fans won't soon forget.

Turley's pitching has sent the sports reporters scurrying to the record books time and again. No more exciting hurler has entered the majors since the war. In the night loss to the Indians, young Bob was all even with BOB FELLER'S 18 strikeout record as late as the seventh inning. In fact Rapid Robert, the younger, and his illustrious predecessor from Iowa, both started their big league careers with brilliant strikeout marks.

The Oriole star has whiffed 89 hitters in 85 innings of big league ball; Feller fanned 76 in his first 62 innings and 226 in his first two seasons (211 innings). Since entering organized ball in mid-season of 1948, Turley has fanned 710 men in 902 innings, excluding a fantastic two-year service strikeout record . . . You can't keep a good man down for long . . . He'll start getting some base hits be-hind him, and then a goodly share of victories before iong.

SEEN - HEARD - and OVER-HEARD: We talked with Enos Slaughter before the final exhibition game in St. Louis and commented that the home of the Cardinals had been spruced up to become a mighty sharp ball yard. "Yes," old Enos said, "it's great.

I live just a short drive from here and the way things are going now, I've got five more good years of baseball to play right here."

Two hours later, at the conclusion of the game in which the Orioles bumped the Cardinals. "Eno" had been dealt to the New York Yankees.

Wanna have some fun with some baseball buddies? Tell them that they can't name any three players on a given club whose total hits for a game will reach five. More often than not you'll win.

Then try this one: The winning team in a big league ball game will score more runs in one inning than the losing team tallies in the entire game. The majority of times you'll find that this is true.

When DON LARSEN was selected as the opening day pitcher in Detroit by Manager JIMMY DYKES, it marked his first opening assignment in the majors or minors. And Don admitted he was mighty nervous with 47,000 fans watching . . . Movie people have approached first sacker EDDIE WAITKUS about the possibility of doing and "Eddie Waitkus Story" based on his great comeback with the Phillies and Orioles after his near-fatal shooting by a deranged woman fan in Chicago . . . Pitcher JOE COLEMAN is mighty happy to be an Oriole for many reasons. One of these is his craving for sea food. The Arlington, Mass., chuckker thinks nothing of starting a meal with two dozen oysters on the half shell. And speaking of eating, Coleman and pitchers DUANE PIL-LETTE, LOU KRETLOW AND BOB TURLEY have a bet going among themselevs on which of the the four hits for the higher average this season. A steak dinner is the reward. The same bet has been made by the quartet for the fewest strikeouts while batting. Kretlow has an advantage, according to the other three, for they claim he seldom swings.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

PAMPA, TEXAS, DAILY NEWS: "This is the hour of decision. We are at the crossroads. We shall have to determine whether we shall take the road toward freedom, competitive capitalism, sound money and selfgovernment or the road toward in-Mation, destruction of our fiscal system, bigger government, and eventually statism."

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS: "The first sign that a nation is entering a period of deterioration is when the people begin to depend on the government for everything. The willingness to do for themselves has been an American tradition, but of late years we have seen the nation, the state, the community look to the government to help in everything."

TOMBSTONE, ARIZ., EPIT'APH: "As always, it's up to the individual. In our great democracy it's the indiwinnal that counts; it's his voice the politician hears, and it's his business ethics and general attitude that can make or break a community."

BELLEVILLE, KAN. TELESCOPE: "That great humanitarian, Herbert Hoover, who never drew his salary as President but left it to charity, the elder statesman who has stood for the highest ideals in our American democracy, made a speech the other day and minimized the probability that this country is in for a in the major leagues. great depression. The Committee on Banking and Currency is continuing to hold hearings on the housing bills in order to permit Senate passage, the necessary House-Senate conferences, and signing by the President.

Following action on the housing bills the committee will launch a full scale investigation into reports that some individuals took advantage of the law to make huge profits-alleg-edly running into millions of dollars. Coming up for action also are appropriations bills providing funds for the operation of government agencies during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954. Appropriation bills are time consuming and ordinarily are the last to receive Congressional action, but so far this session three bills already have become law. The House has finished action on ten, the Senate has six pending in committees, and one as been reported to the floor. Other activities in Congress may be monopolizing the newspaper headlines, the radio and television broadcasts, and attracting spectators by the score, but such spectacular events move no legislation through the Congressional mill and in the meantime the unglamorous, laborious tasks which occupy the time of the great majority of members go on as usual.

There are some national celebrations possessing no governmental recognition which, nevertheless, cap-ture the popular spirit and give grown men something to admire and small boys something to dream about. If this festive holiday falls on a balmy spring day, as it did in Washington last week, and if seemingly impossible and inconceivable events occur—as they also did—then the adults have the satisfaction of witnessing the spectacular, and small boys have seen the stuff that dreams are made of.

All of this means that baseball is back-back with the arrival of spring, and with the famed Baltimore Orioles

It has also been demonstrated that "rubbing posts" treated with insecticide solutions are not only just as effective as the monthly spraying, but the cost of the insecticides is cut in half and there is practically no labor charge.

It appears that total loans to REA electric borrowers will reach between $150 million and $165 million for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1954. By April 1, REA had approved 208 loans for a total of over $106 million, in-cluding more than $18 million for generation and transmission facilities.

Losses to corn borers in 1953 are estimated at 90 million bushels, or $125 million. The loss was equivalent to 3 per cent of the year's corn pro-duction. Heaviest 1953 losses were in Illinois, Iowa and South Dakota.

ORDINARY DUTIES OF A LETTER CARRIER (Recent remarks of Bill Doherty before the Civil Service Post Office com-mittee at Washington, D. C.) The work of a letter carrier is of a two-fold nature although the public very often regards expenditure of physical energy as the only ingre-dient of the carriers' service to the public. The application of a highly developed mentality seems to be eclip-sed by the prominence in which the sed by the prominence in which the carrier bulks forth as a beast of bur-den, namely Uncle Sams Mule, instead of United States Mail.

The Letter Carrier must be gifted with an accurate retentive memory. He must assimulate for instant use the postal rules and regulations which are contained in a book of over 900 pages. In this book are the rates of postage of several classes of mail matter, rules pertaining to registered mail, pension letters, money orders and the characteristic peculiar to the mailing and delivery of each of those kinds of mail. He must know how to detect obscene mail, dunning notices and all other prohibited kinds of mailng matter and to be prepared at all times to answer the quries of the pub-lic. In this capacity such a variety of widely dissimilar questions is constantly directed to the letter carrier that in time he becomes a postal envclopedia.

The letter carrier upon his entry into the postal service as a substitute, is used interchangeably in the capacities of clerk and carrier, and must memorize the clerk's primary scheme of distribution in order to perform his clerical work. When he becomes a regular carrier he also performs work of a clerical nature. He must arrange his mail in order of sequence for delivery. He must learn the scheme or distribution for his route, which consists in memorizing upwards of severad thousands of names of patrons of the postal service and as-sociating those names with the labeled pigeon-holes in the post office distributing case and and thus his mail will be arranged for orderly, expedidone with infinite accuracy because the carrier is the last link in the chain of the post office system of handling mail and he is the man who is penal-ized for all errors of distribution. He must memorize the names of patrons, who formerly resided on his route so that he will know instantaneously what mail is no longer deliverable on his route in order that it may be transferred by the carrier to the route which it now belongs. The carrier must keep a log book in which are recorded the removal addresses of former patrons of his route. When-ever a letter is received by him of one who removed from his to the who removed from his route it is the carrier duty to cross out the postoffice address and inscribe there-on the new address of the addressee. The log book contains hundreds of names and the letter carrier is required to memorize the forwarding addresses so that he can write on the envelope without recourse to the log book, the new address.

In office building routes the car-rier must memorize the room numbers of the different firms so that the mail can be delivered without the delay in-cident making reference to the building directory. In some of the larger buildings there are 10,000 persons receiving mail and seldom is the room address on the envelope.

The letter carrier is a sort of secret service man. He is frequently called the minutes of the presbytery of Carlisle; the minutes of the General Assembly, and various books and arfull account of the church is given by Dr. Simonton from 1761. It is entirely too long for newspaper pub-lication, and although all of it is ineresting, I can only condense it for this series of articles.

The first record of Presbyterian preaching in this neighborhood is that the Presbytery of Donegal appointed the Rev. Robert McMordic to supply "Monokasy", on the second Sabbath of September, 1760. The precise lo-cality indicated by "Monokasy" is not known but it was almost certainly within the limits of the Piney Creek or Emmitsburg congregations, these churches having been intimately con nected ever since their foundation and being for a long time under one pas-

The Presbytery being in session, "at Mr. Duffield's meeting house in Car-lisle", April 27th, 1761, "a supplication", for supplies was presented from Pipe Creek. The Presbytery appoint-ed Rev. John Beard to preach at Pipe Creek on the 4th Sabbath of Septem-ber. It is not certain why the name Pipe Creek was used, nor is it sur that this appointment was at the place where Piney Creek church now stands, but it was within the bounds of the congregation and is in all probability either a mistake or a misspelling of the word, for in another place on the records it is called Pine Creek, and after that always Piney Creek. It is called Piney Creek not because it is near the creek of that name, for it is nearer Monocacy or Alloways, but because it was situated in "Piney Creek Hundred". What we call districts were then called hundred, following an old English custom naming subdivisions of counties. In 1761 Rev. Robert McMordie was appointed, to supply Pipe Creek once a month, in the months of December, February and April. In 1762, it was ordered that Rev. Samuel Thomson supply at Pipe Creek on the first Sab-bath of December. On the 13th, of April, 1783, Pipe Creek asked leave to the Presbytery of New apply Brunswick for a young man to supply the people. The answer to the re-quest is not recorded, but the Rev. Robert McMordie was appointed to preach at Pine Creek on the fourth Sabbath of April. From this time the name of Pipe Creek disappears and in the following year the church is called Piney Creek, and it has continued to bear that name. From this date also beings the existence of Piney Creek as a regularly organized congregation; whether it changed its place of worship at the same time is not known. During the year 1764 Piney Creek was supplied by Wm. Edmeston and John Siemons, licentiates of Donegal Presbytery, by Wm. Magaw, Licentiate of the Presbytery of Philadelphia and by Rev. Robert

The Presbyterian churches nearest to Piney Creek church were Tom's Creek (now Emmitsburg), Lower Marsh Creek, and Upper Marsh Creek (Cottuburg) A controvery prose (Gettysburg). A controversv arose between the three first named as to between the three first named as to the boundary lines between their re-spective congregations. The Pres-bytery decided "That a line being drawn straight from Marsh Creek, meeting house to that of Toms Creek, in the conduct of Wm. Emmit, in in-of the conduct of Wm. Emmit, in in-house built upon it to the trustees. It house built upon it to the trustees. It was given for a consideration of 5 shillings, by Abraham Heyter of Frederick county, province of Mary-land, to Patrick Watson, James Galt and John McCorkle, of the same coun-ty and province, and James Barr and James Hunter of York County, pro-vince of Pennsylvania, in trust for a vince of Pennsylvania, in trust for a church and burying ground. The grant contained two acres of land and the use of a spring of water contigious thereto, on the S. E. side of the land, and was situated in Piney Creek Hundred, Frederick county. In shape it was a parallelogram with lines running north and south 20 perches, east and west 16 perches. The grantor restricted the use and privilege of the land to "a congrega-tion of people called Presbyterians, who shall hold or continue to hold, that system of doctrine contained in the Westminster confession of Faith, Catechisms and Directory, as the same principles are now professed and embraced by the Synods of New York and Philadelphia to which they are now united." The first church built at Pinye Creek was a plain log building. It stood until the year 1818 when the present brick church was erected, which was remodeled and modernized during Mr. Patterson's pastorate in

In 1780 Rev. James Martin accepted a call to Piney Creek church. The salary promised was "four hundred bushels of wheat per year, or the current price thereof in money, and as much more as the circumstances of the con-gregation would admit". In October 1788 he applied to the Presbytery for a release from the charge, and in Arril 1780 the Presbytery granted his A pril 1789 the Presbytery granted his request. He was pastor for 8½ years. In October 1801 Piney Creek, having been vacant since the resignation of Mr. Martin in April 1789, extended a call to Rev. Patrick Davidson, who was then pastor of Tom's Creek church. Tom's Creek agreeing to the proposition the two churches were again united under one pastor, Piney Creek promising Mr. Davidson £87, 10s for for one-half of his services. The union then established continued until the autumn of 1890, when Taneytown and Piney Creek were united in one charge and Emmitsburg was in one charge and Emmitsburg was made a charge alone. Dr. Simonton, who had been pastor of the three churches retaining Emmitsburg, while Piney Creek and Taneytown in the spring of 1891 called Rev. P. Rioseco. Mr. Davidson, continued to be pro-

Mr. Davidson continued to be pas-tor of the two churches until Sep-tember 1810. At the same Presbyterial meeting, which dissolved the pastoral relation between Mr. David-son and the churches of the charge, Wm. Emmit brought charges against him, which are interesting both in nim, which are interesting both in substance and wording; two of them were: 5th of cruel and unchristian conduct in ejecting George Hocken-smith, wife and children, with bed and furniture, under a heavy rain, despite all said Hockensmith's entreaties to give him two or three days, for which he would pay him two dollars, and in refusing to give him time for his chilrefusing to give him time for his chil-dren to eat a mouthful of breakfast, though it was provided for them and ready on the table. 6th, of a breach of the Sabbath in June 1805, in dealing with Solomon Kephart for his har-past liquors. Mr. Grier was very punctual in fill-ing all his engagements, and was, believe, never known to be late at He was a man of very decidchurch. ed opinions, and as is always the case with such men, had very warm friends and made some enemies. His people were all devoted to him, his likeness

One extract from the Emmitsburg sessional records, says, "As an illustration of his in-trepid fidelity, we may mention the fact they many years before the sys tem of slavery appeard to the eyes of the church and the nation as it now appears, and although he resided in a state where the system was legalized, he openly opposed it as a crime against God and man". Mr. Grier was buried in Toms Creek burying ground. His Tombstone bears the following in-"Rev. Robert S. Grier. died scription. scription. "Rev. "He that goeth forth with weeping, bearing precious seed shall doubtless come again rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him". Ps. 126:6. "I shall be sat-this appropriate inscription, "Rev. Robert S. Grier born May 11th, 1790, died December 28th, 1865. 52 years he was pastor of this church preaching here during the whole per-iod of his public ministry. Clear and decided in his opinions, he was an honest man, a true hearted friend, a genial companion, a sincere christian, and a clear earnest and instructive preacher. He being dead yet speak-eth". then a licentiate, afterward pastor of Black River Falls, church, Wisconsin, In the summer of 1866 Toms Creek and Piney Creek united in a call to Rev. Isaac M. Patterson. He began his labors here in August and was in-stalled at Piney Creek, Nov. 13, 1866. Mr. Patterson's ministry lasted 7 years. The churches prospered under his care; a parsonage was purchased, enlarged and improved at a cost of $4650; both churches were remodeled and refurnished involving a further expense of $3250; and a stone wall was built around Piney Creek grave-yard, cost $1000. In the line of the spiritual the churches also prospered. In March 1869 the Taneytown church, having become vacant by the resignation of Rev. W. B. Scarboro, was united in one charge with Pinev Creek and Emmitsburg, Taneytown getting preaching every alternate Sunday afternoon. This arrangement was continued until Dr. Simonton re-signed in 1890. Mr. Patterson resigned his charge in the summer of 1873, and took charge of a church in Milford, N. J.; from there he went to Blooms-burg, Pa., where he is now located.

Speaking on "The Problems of the World", Edward Hardcastle, district manager of the National Federation of Independent Business, told members of the Taneytown Lions Club at their regular meeting April 13 held at Taney Inn that the only sure way to solve problems in our Demo-cracy, is for the citizens themselves to widen their sense of responsibility

Merwyn C. Fuss introduced the speaker who used as his theme "The Problems of the World" stating that the problems of the world today were presented as "hunger, disease and ignorance and the attack against them cannot be successful by breaking the world into small groups, or by dividing nations—and even cities—into sections of fear, tension and hate. Pointing out that the United States

-and its citizens—have the greatest opportunity of all times to establish a plan for the peoples of the world that will guide them out of a dark and unknown future, Mr. Hardcastle said said

"Such a plan cannot be based entirely on materialism. A plan to out-produce and to outfight any other nation, or group of people, is weak", the speaker added. He then said that the nation has been watching the plan in action for years-a plan that has resulted in our one-time friends becom-ing our enemies and our one-time enemies becoming our friends.

Emphasizing the weakness of such a plan, the speaker cited the Bible story of Sampson, who was great in physical strength, but this very strength destroyed him when he be-came blind. Mr. Hardcastle then pointed out that the communists were preaching a doctrine of 'Independence, Bread and Peace" and although it was folded destring it was one of great a false doctrine, it was one of great appeal to those countries in which thousands upon thousands of people are going hungry. In conclusion, Mr. Hardcastle had this to say:

"The only sure way to solve prob-lems in our Democracy is for the citizens themselves to widen their sense of responsibility. Every true citizen must grow beyond his imme-liete currenged by word the sense of the diate surroundings. You must choose whether you are in a world for a better world, or just for yourself. If you choose a better world community, you can reach only one conclusion lav, an activ

And that the division line between Marsh Creek congregation and that of Piney Creek shall be midway between the meeting houses of said congregations". This definitely settled the boundaries of Marsh Creek and Toms Creek but not between Toms Creek and Piney Creek The Toms Creek church claimed Mo nocacy as the nautral boundary, while the Piney Creek church claimed a right to all the "families residing between the Monocacy and a certain stony ridge, crossing Marsh Creek at James Hall's plantation, and cross-ing Monocacy bteween Widow Wil-son's and Wm. Russell's". The Pres-bytery in 1771 rendered a decision which esticfied all narties Between which satisfied all parties. Between 1765 and 1770 Piney Creek and Toms Creek were supplied by ministers appointed by the Presbytery among them were Andrew Bay, John Sle-mons, John Craighead, Hezekiah James Balch, Samuel Thomson and Robert Cooper. In October 1770, Piney Creek asked for the appointment of Rev. Joseph Rhea "in particular as supply, and asked that some member of the Presbytery be deputed to assist in the preparation of a call to Rev. Mr. Rhea. The commissioners from Piney Creek were Patrick Watson and Matthew Galt. They stated that sub-scriptions amounting to L110 or *L112 had been secured for Mr. Rhea's sup port; that if he became pastor, they proposed to maintain his family for the first year in addition to his salary and that this agreement had been en-tered on record in their "Book of congregational affairs". A commit-tee was appointed by the Presbytery which met at Toms Creek on the 4th Tuesday of June, 1771. This com-mittee dissolved the union between Toms Creek and Piney Creek and placed the gell from Piney Creek and placed the call from Piney Creek in Mr. Rhea's hands. He accepted it and was shortly after installed and entered on his duties as pastor.

Pinev Creek had now for the first time a settled pastor. Mr. Rhea tendered his resignation in April 1776. Soon afterwards the Presbytery dissolved the pastoral re-lation. Mr. Rhea died September 30, 1777 and was buried in Piney Creek 1777, and was buried in Piney Creek grave yard. Last spring when I was in Baltimore, a minister Rev. Mr. Vance, of Tennessee, who is pastor of a Presbyterian church in Baltimore, asked me about his grave, and said he was a descendant of Mr. Rhea's of the fourth generation.

Nathan Grier, he was born at Brandywine Manor, Chester Co., Pa. His father was pas-tor of the Presbyterian church, of the Forks of the Brandywine. He gradu-ated at Dickinson College, studied ated at Dickinson College, studied divinity under his father's instruction and was licensed by the Presbytery of New Castle, September 1812, taken under the care of the Carlisle Pres-bytery April 1814, and the same day accepted a call to the churches of Toms Creek and Piney Creek, each church promising him a salary of church promising him a salary of $300. He was ordained at a meeting of the Presbytery held at Carlisle September 28th, 1814, and instilled by Rev. Messrs. Paxton and McConaughy, November 14th. 1814.

The pastoral relation thus happily constituted was unusually harmonio and prolonged. Mr. Grier continued to discharge his ministerial and pastoral duties, in these congregations until within a short time before his death, which occurred at his residence in Emmitsburg, a few minutes after 12 o'clock, on the morning of Decem-ber 29th, 1865, in the 76th year of his age, and the 52nd of his pastorate. Mr. Grier lived for a large part of his ministry on his farm, in Pennsylvania, 3 miles north of Emmitsburg. He was a genial man with a good deal of hu mor. One incident I have heard he used to tell with a good deal of amusement. Early Monday morning he went to the tavern to perform the ceremony, but found that neither of them could speak English, and as he could not speak German they were in a dilemma. It was finally arranged that the tavern keeper who spoke both languages should act as interpreter. Before beginning the ceremony the groom asked him, "How much are you going to charge me? When the Presbytery divided the charge, he remained pastor of the Emmitsburg church, leaving Taneytown and Piney Creek as a separate charge. He is be-loved and respected by all his parishioners, and the churches have proposed under his care; new houses of wor-ship were built at Emmitsburg and Taneytown, and Piney Creek church was painted and papered. All these improvements were paid for, the churches are all free from debt and able to meet their financial obliga-

He was ordained and installed in June of that year, and is still pastor of the churches. The present membership of Piney Creek is 90. The ruling elders are Messrs. He supplied the church at Bedford, Pa., for some months, and in May 1833 became first pastor of a new church organized at chellsburg, Pa. In October 1833 Mr Breckenridge and his wife came to visit their relations in Maryland. They were both taken ill with typhoid fever; he died Nov. 1, 1833, and his wife Nov. 19, 1833. Thew are both buried in the Pinev Creek graveyard. Rev. Sterling M. Galt, son of the late Sterling Galt, was born Feb. 28, 1837, graduated at Princeton college and seminary, was licensed by the Presbytery of New Brunswick in 1851, ordained by the Presbytery of New Castle in 1862, and became pastor of the churches of Newark and Red Clay Creek, Delaware. More than one writer in later times used the same standard formula for this Jeroboam. He is called "Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin." That is a terrible tag to hang on a man; that he is the cause of a nation's sin. But it was true of this man. What in particular had Jeroboam done, as King of Israel, to "make Israel to sin''? His great sins were two, but they were part of the same policy. It will be remembered that this was shortly after the time of Solomon, and the great temple which Solomon built was still the center of the religious life of all the twelve tribes. When Jeroboam engineered his revolution, he felt it to be a dangerous thing for the temple to be in the hands of the Kingdom of Judah up there in Jerusalem. So he organized two other religious centers, at convenient locations, Bethel in the south, Dan in the north; and in these newly appointed "shrine cities" he set up gold-plated calves and other animals as the gods of his people. In two ways among others, this was ruinous to right religion, and led to the decay of the nation.

God Is Not Mocked

making religion a department of the government. As King, Jeroboam attempted to dictate (and only too successfully) where and how his people should worship. The priests in his shrine cities were political appointees. Religion was subsidized by the state. But worse than that: Jeroboam tied the people down to a crude and cheap kind of religion. For the great in-visible God of heaven and earth (see Solomon's prayer in I Kings 8) Jeroboam substituted gold-plated statues of bulls and he-goats. Debasing religion, he debased his people. Cheap and bad religion will ruin a nation faster than fire or famine.

Part "E" of the proposal covers the construction of sanitary collecting Part "E" of the proposal covers the construction of sanitary collecting sewers and house connections to serve an area just southeast of the corporate limits in the county. We suggest that the Mayor and City Council not con-sider the construction of the work included under Part "E". This will reduce the value of the work to serve the entire Town to $632,122.00. To complete all work included under Proposals "A" thru "D", inclusive, including engi-neering, legal, rights of way and contingencies, we estimate that $700,000 will be required. This amount exceeds the bond issue money by $200,000. The Mayor and City Council have three alternatives in connection with this work:

(1) An additional authorization for a bond issue to cover the deficient funds may be obtained in one of three ways:
(a) There is an existing law commonly referred to as the 5% Pub-lic Health Law (1939 Code, Section 395 or 1927 Code, Chapter 641) under which the Mayor and City Council may, with the consent of the people, sell up to 5% of the assessed valuation of the Town $5,250,000.) to supplement the existing $500,000 bond issue. This would have to be put to a referendum and if the vote were favor-able, funds in the amount of $251,250 could be made available through a supplemental bond issue. We understand that the May-or and City Council have on deposit approximately $50,000 which could be used for the construction of the sewage treatment procould be used for the construction of the sewage treatment pro-gram, and if this were done, funds in the amount of $150,000 would gram, and if this were done, funds in the amount of $150,000 would have to be furnished through this supplemental bond issue, which amount is approximately 3% of the total assessed valuation.

(b) The Maryland State Board of Health may deem that the absence of collecting sewers and a sewage treatment plant is a menace to public health and may issue an order requiring the Mayor and City Council to construct the necessary sanitary facilities. Since the funds for doing the complete project are not available, the Mayor and City Council would so state to the Board of Health and the Board of Health may issue a 3% permit by which the Mayor or and City Council could sell supplemental bonds in the amount of 3% of the assessed valuation, or approximately $150,000. The bond issue could be sold without the consent of the people, however, we believe that the Mayor and City Council intend to only sell a supplemental bond issue with the consent of the people. This method would in addition to the $50,000 on deposit, provide the er, we believe that the Mayor and City Council intend to only self a supplemental bond issue with the consent of the people. This method would, in addition to the $50,000 on deposit, provide the Mayor and City Council with the necessary $200,000 to proceed with the construction of this project in its entirety. (c) The Mayor and City Council could go to the Maryland Legis-lature at the next meeting and request additional legislation to raise the limit of the present authorized bond issue from $500,000 to $700.000. This method would result in the delay of the constructo $700.000. This method would result in the delay of the construc-tion of this project for approximately two years, until the next meeting of the Maryland Legislature. Under the specifications the low bid can only be held until June 10, 1954 and if this method were resorted to, it would result in the rejection of all bids, and the re-advertising of the contract after the additional funds have been made available.

(2) The present specifications are set up in five parts. The first four, namely Parts "A" thru "D", inclusive, will provide sewers for the entire Town and will build the necessary sewage treatment plant and pumping station. Under the specifications the Mayor and City Counpumping station. Under the specifications the Mayor and City Coun-cil reserve the right to award any part of the contract. It would be possible at the present time to award Part "A" of the proposal in the amount of $486,196.00 to the Contractor, which part includes building the collecting sewers for 50% of the Town and constructing the sewage treatment plant. The remaining portions of the contract could be awarded during the prosecution of Part "A", when additional funds are available, or they could be re-advertised at a later date when addi-tional funds, are made available. tional funds are made available.

(3) All bids received could be rejected and perhaps within a period of six months or a year, the entire project could be re-advertised for new bids, with the probability that the new bids may be higher than those received on April 26, 1954.

We suggest that the Mayor and City Council consider the award of the entire contract at this time and that the additional funds be obtained as out-lined in sub-paragraph (a) under Alternate (1) above. We understand that a public election will be held during the early part of June, and we suggest that the people at this election determine whether or not they are willing to proceed with the construction of the sewerage facilities to serve the entire Town. This decision must be made prior to the June 10, 1954 date, since after this date the low bid can only be held by the consent of W. F. Wilson & Son, Anc

We have informed your bond attorneys, Niles, Barton, Yost, and Dank-meyer, of the status of this project and have suggested that they do no furth-er work towards the preparation of the resolution by which the bond issue for financing this project will be advertised for public sale. If the people vote in favor of an additional bond issue, the bond attorneys will include in the reso-lution the amount of the additional bond issue lution the amount of the additional bond issue.

W. F. Wilson & Sons, Inc. have indicated in their bid that if the contract is awarded immediately, construction on this project would begin on May 17, 1954, and the completion of the various parts of the work in the proposal would be as follows:

Part "D"-July 1, 1956 Although it is indicated that the construction of this project will not be completed until July 1, 1956, it is very probable that the construction of the project will take place at a more rapid rate than anticipated by the Con-tractor. If the contract is not awarded immediately, the dates bid for comple-tion will be adjusted accordingly, that is, if the contract is not awarded for one month, all completion dates will be pushed back one month, and the pro-ject would not be completed until August 1, 1956. We are currently reviewing the plans and specifications and are in con-tact with W. F. Wilson & Sons, Inc. in an effort to determine if by any means, the cost of this project can be materially reduced, without reducing the effi-ciency of the project as designed.
