MAIL BOX IMPROVEMENT WEEK

To Be Observed Week of May 17th

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced the week beginning May 17th as "Mail Box Improvement Week". This will be the 16th annual campaign to tidy up the official mail receptacles.

Your local postmaster is requesting the rural patrons in this area to repair and beautify their mail box equipment and approaches to help lend brightness to the scenic beauty of the highways, roads and drives.

The Post Office Department is the most important agency in keeping the people of the nation informed. The rural delivery is a post office on wheels and many times these services are taken for granted and not fully appreciated. The carriers are trying to serve patrons promptly with as few mistakes as possible. Errors are sometimes caused by patron's name being omitted on the mail box, especially when a substitute serves the route while the regular carrier is on vacation or sick leave. The substitute is not always acquainted with the route as well as the regular carrier.

Many boxes, which are the highway billboards of the postal service, have become unsightly with rust, unsewerable due to leaky condition, broken doors or no lids, missing signals, no name, supports being bent or rotted and needing replacing, weeds and wild grass grown around the supports and approaches, and in many places the ground is rough and full of chuck holes.

Your postmaster has asked the patrons to cooperate in improving their mail box equipment during this period, May 17th to 24th. He desires that the routes become a source of pride for the patrons, the Post Office Department and the carriers. For those patrons desiring additional information on the proper size and height for their rural box, they may gain this information from the postmaster or the rural carrier.

HISTORY OF TANEYTOWN

As It Appears in the 1894 Files of the Record

Having finished the sketches of the Taneytown churches, before giving a short account of the progress of the town since the war, I want to insert the following description of some of the tracts of land immediately around Taneytown, and the names of the persons who obtained the original grants. It is not connected with this part of the history and should have come in at the beginning, but I did not have it then. It is furnished by Mr. H. C. Wilt, the surveyor.

The tract of land on which Taneytown is built, and which lies around the town on all sides is called "The Resurvey of Brother's Agreement." This tract was originally granted to Edmund Diggs and Raphael Taney, April 24, 1754 for 7900 acres. Another tract called "New London" is situated on both sides of the Middleburg Road, and was granted to John Ross, November 30, 1750 for 1360 acres. Part of this tract is now owned by John J. Crapster, the heirs of John W. Crabb, and Geo. Duttera. Another tract called "Terra Rubra" was granted to Philip Key, Esq., October 11, 1750, for 1685 acres. This tract was afterward resurveyed May 24, 1762 and enlarged to 2790 acres.

A tract called "York", lying on both sides of Piney Creek on the Gettysburg road, was granted to Samuel Read, December 20, 1761, for 165 acres. The largest tract lying near Taneytown is called "The addition to Brooke's discovery on the Rich Lands", it was granted to James Brooke, April 26, 1754, for 9078 acres. Piney Creek church on the Gettysburg road is built on part of this tract, which was obtained by deed dated, February 15, 1771, from Abraham Heyter, who purchased 1000 acres of Brooke's tract in 1760. The oldest original grant within four miles of Taneytown is a tract lying on both sides of Monocacy, on the Bullfrog road, called "Goose Quarter", granted to John Everett, March 18, 1746 for 125 acres. The farm now owned by Uriah Heck containing 40 acres is called "Joseph's Chance" and is one of the smallest original tracts in the neighborhood.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The thick foliage upon the branches of the trees signifies that the house next door will not be visible until next Fall. The country on all sides appears most beautiful from the windows as I gaze out upon the fields from where I am typing this column.

Yesterday while in the big city to secure advertising for the Bi-Centennial stopped by to browse around the "Garden Furniture Department in the May Company". It was positively fascinating and makes one feel as though they desire to dress up the lawn and porch and take the vacation right at home! Your Observer just finished having the porch made into a glamorous affair at the bungalow. It not alone appears glamorous with those "JALOUSIES" but it means so much more comfort and truly another room added to the house—it is a winter-summer affair. The concern does beautiful work to every detail which is called, "The Air-Tite Construction Company" 104 E. Lafayette Ave., Baltimore. You will love that one! If you have a large porch you can have part of it done in this manner. It is to be the coming thing as down South in Florida and it is going over big in Baltimore and surrounding Counties very rapidly. Write them to give you an estimate.

If you do desire to get away for a change this is the time of the year to select rather than the summer when there is "no place like home!"

Have you tasted "Mrs. Smith's Pies?" They are Super-Duper. Demand that brand for they are truly nearest to home baked pies than any I have ever tasted.

Isn't it wonderful how big and strong the babies are today? It sure must be that Pabulum! Eh? A child or infant of four months appears as though he is eight months and such contented babies!

Driving to Winchester last week was riding through Taneytown at 7 A. M. when "Nothing was stirring—not even a mouse!" We noticed all those wonderful Peach Trees at the farm as we passed just 32 of them which my Minister planted next to the Highway and which were bearing—all dug up! How awful! From such a distance he brought them and so carefully he planted them and nursed them until they produced the tiny peaches! Only God Can Make a Tree! As I past the farm "Loves' Retreat" there came a big bump in my throat for that was really home to this City Woman! The wonderful Mountains in the distance are always a bit of Heaven to me!

Ladies, the hair cut or new hair-do is shaped like a heart as a few years ago that is the back of the hair is cut into a point. This is a big feature for a stout person as it takes away the appearance of being stout in the neck and causes you to appear taller. Ask your Beauty Operator about that one on your next visit. Now, that hats are being discarded for the summer do visit your Beauty Salon regularly and never let your hair down and I think you know just what I mean!

See you next week, D.V. Have a grand week-end and be very careful when you drive. I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT TO CONTINUE TO INCREASE

The second article purporting the condition of the school situation in Maryland as outlined by the Maryland State Teachers Association, Inc., follows:

"When will the flood of children into our crowded public schools subside? The answer to this question is: 'Not in the predictable future', according to statistics released by the Maryland State Department of Education. During the past decade of crowded classrooms, double shifts, and teacher shortages, the enrollment of Maryland public schools has shown an increase of 140,000. Another jump of 130,000 pupils is anticipated during the next six years. This means that an average of 22,000 additional students will be added to our swollen school rolls annually through 1960. Thus, during the next six years, the pupil population will be increased at a rate which is more than 50% greater than that of the last decade when we had so many pressing school problems.

How reliable are these predictions in charting prospective enrollments? The State Department of Education has consistently arrived at figures within 1% of the actual school registration. For example, the prediction for this year was 406,234 students and the actual registration was 409,570; in 1952-53, the estimate was 380,248 and the actual count was 380,798; and in 1951-52, when an enrollment of 355,174 was prophesied, 357,004 were enrolled.

This rapid rise in enrollment has been caused primarily by the unprecedented rise in the birth rate since 1952. The birth rate has continued to rise since World War II, despite predictions to the contrary by population experts, and in 1952, there were more resident births in Maryland than in any previous year. The abnormal influx of new residents into the areas surrounding the District of Columbia and into the several counties which have federal installations has placed an added strain on school facilities.

Since World War II, this tremendous increase in student population has been felt primarily at the elementary school level. However, during the next six years, through which enrollment predictions have been made because the children are already born, high school enrollments will increase at a much higher rate as the children are promoted from the crowded elementary schools.

Since 1945-46, when the transition from an eleven- to a twelve-year school system was made, high school enrollments have increased at an average of 7,000 students per year. It is estimated that the annual increase in secondary school enrollments will average 10,000 pupils until 1959-60, when it will jump to 15,000. Meanwhile, elementary school population will continue to expand at an even greater rate than that which has overwhelmed the schools since World War II.

In announcing a five-year legislative program for public education, Milson C. Raver, Executive Secretary of the Maryland State Teachers Association, stated: "If the children of Maryland are to continue to have the educational opportunities they deserve, drastic steps must be taken to provide additional classroom and qualified teachers for the tremendous increase in the school population which we must face during the next six years. We are thinking in terms of the next six years because we can accurately predict enrollment increases during this period, because the children who will be entering school in 1959-60 are already born—and counted.

"We must think in terms of building 1,000 new classrooms per year for the next several years and we must provide an average of 3,000 new, qualified teachers annually. This will require additional State aid for school buildings because the local fiscal units, with their limited tax bases, can no longer provide the huge sums needed for construction. An elevation of the State minimum salary scale for teachers is necessary, so that young people, in greatly increasing numbers, will be attracted to teaching as a career."

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

VIRGINIA, MINN., MESABI DAILY NEWS: "That the buyers' market is here is not to be denied. For many years we have been in a sellers' market. What you wanted, you went to a seller to get, and that's all there was to it. Now salesmanship technique is getting attention and the buyer is being sought out. This brings into play those elements in competition to which this nation owes its growth and its achievements."

TWENTYNINE PALMS, CALIF., DESERT TRAIL: "One of the plagues of the small town editor is the remark heard that 'nobody reads the local paper'. If no one does why is it that the editor gets bawled out if he allows a mis-spelled name to get into print. Why do local organizations and persons seek aid of the paper when they have some community project to put over? A community newspaper is an integral part of the family circle."

SENATE CLOAKROOM

by J. Glenn Beall

United States Senator from Maryland

The fall of the valiant little garrison at Dien Bien Phu will add to the problems of the negotiators in Geneva, and here in Washington it will enter into the controversy over the Administration's conduct of our foreign policy, which has taken on a bitter partisan tinge.

During such periods it often appears that only differences of opinion exist, and those differences are portrayed as being vast chasms which cannot be bridged.

The differences in opinion are so violently expressed that one often wonders that there can be any unity among the free world at all, and when the leaders of the opposition party get together in Washington, as they did last week, and bombard the Eisenhower Administration's foreign policy with rich invective, then it looks as if our real problems are with our friends and allies.

Of course, the areas where there are disagreements are always more provoking, and therefore receive more comment, than those points on which there is complete unanimity.

While this reappraisal, or reexamination, of our foreign policy is being conducted we should remember that the thing which causes all the difficulty is international Communism as espoused and agitated by Soviet Russia.

There is complete unanimity of opinion that Soviet Russia must be blocked in its endeavor to dominate Europe and Asia, and the fact that the United States, Britain, France—and Republicans and Democrats—may at times disagree on details as to how to accomplish our objectives does not alter the fact that we are all allied in a common effort to halt Soviet expansion.

Senator Knowland, the Majority Leader, took time out last week to remind us of some significant remarks in 1948 by Sir Winston Churchill. In this address delivered six years ago, Mr. Churchill stated the things the Soviet Union must do if it really wants peace.

Throughout the coming weeks as the controversy on foreign policy develops it might help to keep these words of the Right Honorable Winston Churchill in mind. He said:

Nothing stands between Europe today and complete subjugation to Communist tyranny but the atomic bomb in American possession.

If the Soviet Government wish to see atomic energy internationalized and its military use outlawed, it is not only by verbal or written agreements that they must reassure the world but by actions, which speak louder than words.

Let them release their grip upon the satellite states of Europe.

Let them retire to their own country, which is one-sixth of the land surface of the globe.

Let them liberate by their departure the 11 ancient capitals of Eastern Europe which they now hold in their clutches.

Let them go back to the Curzon line as was agreed upon in the days we were fighting as comrades together.

Let them set free the million or more German and Japanese prisoners they now hold as slaves.

Let them cease to oppress, torment, and exploit the immense part of Germany and Austria which is now in their hands.

We read continually of the blockade of Berlin. The lifting of the blockade at Berlin would be merely the stopping of blackmail. There should be no reward for that.

Let them cease to distract Malaya and Indonesia.

Let them cease to foment the hideous protracted civil war in China.

Let them liberate the Communist-held portion of Korea.

Above all, let them throw open their vast regions on equal terms to the ordinary travel and traffic of mankind.

Let them give others the chance to breathe freely, and let them breathe freely themselves.

No one wants to take anything they have got and that belongs to them away from them. After all, we are asking them to do no more than what the other victorious states have done of their own free will. None of the other allies has tried to add large territories and populations to its domain. Britain, indeed, has gone to the opposite extreme and cast away her empire in the East with both her hands.

Let the Russians be content to live on their own and cease to darken the world and prevent its recovery by these endless threats, intrigues, and propaganda.

Senator Knowland pointed out that since Mr. Churchill made that speech in 1948, all of continental China has fallen to the Communists, Korea was invaded and North Korea incorporated into the Communist empire, Russia has developed the atomic bomb—in 1948 it had not—and Communist activities in Indochina have become overtly aggressive.

In any discussion of our foreign policies it is good to keep in mind that the free world is united on the basic issue—and that is Russian cannot be permitted to enlarge its Communist Empire.

IT'S AMERICA'S "BEST SELLER"

Because it's America's Best Buy

Ford has pioneered in bringing the most worth-while things to the most people . . . and more and more people are now buying Fords

FOR A LONG TIME, people have recognized that Ford is the "Worth More" car. And they have been expressing their preference in a great and growing volume of purchases.

The reason is simple. More and more people have found in Ford everything they want and need. They have found that Ford offers exterior beauty that has set the trend for the industry . . . interiors that are so colorful and in such good taste that just sitting in a Ford is fun.

If you're in the market for any new car, you'll be missing something if you don't come in and value-check a Ford point by point. And when you Test Drive a Ford and find out what a brilliant performer it is, you'll really understand why Ford is America's Best Seller and America's Best Buy.

In the first place: Ford offers the two most modern engines in the entire industry: the completely new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 and the outstanding new 115-h.p. I-block Six.

As for comfort—Ford is the only car in its field with Ball-Joint Front Suspension. This amazing new principle provides a degree of handling and riding ease that cannot be equalled in any car without this new suspension system.

Choice, too, is a department where Ford excels. You'll find just exactly the car for you among the 14 body styles and more than 100 body color and upholstery combinations in Ford's three great lines.

And consider these facts, too. Ford is a completely modern car. The advanced fine-car features that make it "Worth More" when you buy it, will also make it "Worth More" to someone else when you sell it.

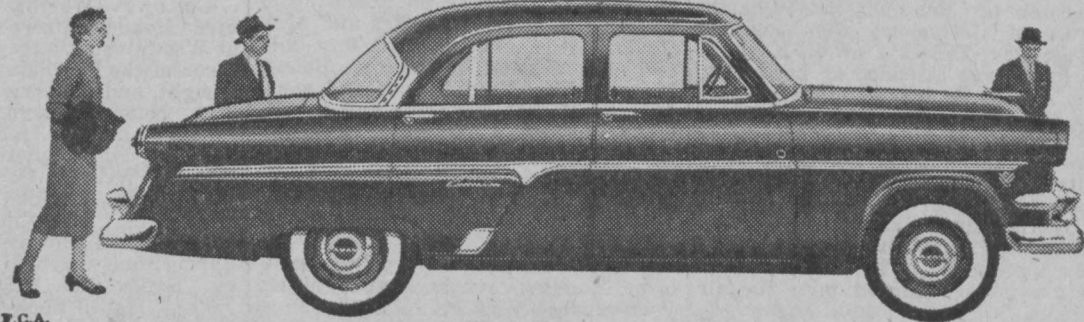

Why not accept our invitation to Test Drive a '54 Ford. We believe that you've never driven a car in Ford's field that is in any way comparable.

FEESERSBURG

The annual May Day program was given last evening (Monday) as a special feature of the Elmer Wolfe PTA. The exercises were held in the school auditorium under the direction of Mrs. George Crammer. As usual the seating capacity was inadequate to seat the interested parents and patrons, which detracts considerably the ability to see and hear the very fine program that is always prepared for this event. It was standing room only and not much of that but needless to say the program made up for all the discomfort. The school orchestra under the direction of Mr. Ferrara played several selections. The Queen, Miss Sally Styers looked every inch a Queen and her attendants were as pretty and fresh looking as buttercups on a spring morning. Nearly every student was represented in the Maypole dances and choruses and other exercises. The teachers who assisted Mrs. Crammer with the program were Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Bankert, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Shaul, Mr. Lockard and Mr. Bubrick. This annual event, began under the leadership of Mrs. Arintha Marsh, now retired and has continued on under the supervision of her daughter, Mrs. George Crammer. This event has become a part of the community tradition and always draws a large public attendance. We hope that in the not too distant future, our school will be given a larger auditorium, which will accommodate all interested spectators to the school events. It is long overdue, and it something that will benefit, not only the students but all persons living in our community. It is a project that everyone should work for and not give up until it is a reality.

The Mt. Union Lutheran Missionary Society held its regular monthly meeting last Monday evening in the parish house. Election of officers was held with the following results: Mrs. Paul Crouse, President; Mrs. Edgar Blair, Vice-President; Mrs. Emmert Biller, Secretary, and Mrs. Paul Leister, Treasurer.

Mr. Cleon Wolfe, who was recently operated on at Church Home and Infirmary Hospital is home and feeling almost as young as a spring lamb. The techniques for surgical operations have undergone such a radical change during the past ten years that a patient isn't in a hospital long enough to learn the names of his nurses or long enough to read his mail. It's all very wonderful, but it's also very puzzling why it takes him so long to learn anything or to accept a change when it is in front of his face so long. Fifteen years ago, I had a patient to get out of bed two days after he was operated on for appendectomy. He did this against orders and while I was out of his room for some medicine. I called the doctor and told him, and both he and I were in a sweat for twenty-four hours fearing the patient would have some ill effects. Needless to say the patient got along fine but no one thought at that time to adopt the "Walk after your operation plan". Another instance when one can be entirely wrong even when they think they are dead right.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Roelke attended a recital at Peabody Sunday evening. Among the students taking part was their daughter, Nancy, who played Danse Lente by Franck.

This is the time of year when weddings and commencements hold the spotlight. Two weeks ago Airmen Third Class Kenneth Keyton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Keyton, of Mr. Union and Miss Geraldine Keyton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerald of Gettysburg were married by the Rev. Ernest Colwell, Keyman. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Arnold Beamer and the best man was the bride's cousin, Airmen Second Class Leslie Cochran. The bride wore a light aqua nylon dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. The ceremony was witnessed by the parents of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Keyton will make their home in New York where the groom is stationed with the air force.

The capacity for being happy attracts everyone to that lucky individual. It is a mysterious charm that some people possess and others would like to find the secret. If there is a secret in being happy it is the ability to accept oneself as is and not try to be some other persons. Many persons waste precious years fretting over some minor defect (often imagined) instead of concentrating on the dozens of good qualities they do have. Not so long ago we met a man who absolutely radiated happiness. It wasn't a front—it was real. Since true happiness is as rare these days as a five cent cup of coffee, we tried to understand why this man was so cheerful. It wasn't because he was endowed with material wealth, or with a fine talent or even with good health. For he had none of these three things that are supposed to be the foundation for happiness. He had to do hard physical labor for a living and a bare living was all he was able to have even with all his hard work. And he was suffering from diabetes and low blood pressure. But he had learned to appreciate himself and his limited ability. There wasn't a drop of envy in his whole body for he had learned long ago that to some people are given certain abilities that are denied to others. No amount of fretting would make him more than he was and so he learned to enjoy those things that were within his reach.

He was a person one loved to talk to, to listen to and to be with. He was a modern Thoreau. He lived in a world that had a radius of twenty miles, but he had that inner glow of contentment that most of us never find no matter how wide the horizon of our world is.

A rabbit and a lion entered a restaurant and parked themselves at the counter. "One head of lettuce", ordered the rabbit, "No dressing", the waiter pointed to the lion. What'll your friend have?" he asked. "Nothing," "What's the matter isn't he hungry?" "The rabbit regarded him squarely in the eye "Look" he said, "if this lion was hungry, do you think I'd be sitting here?"

I would like to take this space to thank the readers of this column who so kindly send me clippings from papers and for magazines which they take the time to mark for me to read.

I do read all I receive and if they doubt this come and call at Merry Knoll and see all my housework that is left undone. I am always grateful to people who attempt to change my opinion on certain subjects for I hope that I shall always be susceptible to change. If the day ever comes when I am not, then my usefulness as a human being will be over.—Ruth Roelke.

COMMISSIONER ASPIRANT

R. S. Farley, Sr., who migrated up north several decades ago and acquired a farm in Carroll county, is one of the Democratic candidates for a berth on the County Commissioner bench.

Mr. Farley espouses better schools, better fire protection and more and better roads.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Farley declared "many of my friends have asked me to be a candidate for the position of County Commissioner and I feel that perhaps my wide experience in business and running a successful dairy farm in some way might enable me to serve the people of Carroll county."

Mr. Farley lives on a 200-acre farm near Finksburg. In 1946 he began to put into operation a dream he had had for some time. Beginning with five goats, he has built up the largest commercial goat dairy farm in the State.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the flowers, cards and gifts while a patient at the University Hospital.

TANEYTOWN SINCE THE WAR

From the close of the war to 1871 Taneytown did not increase much in population, nor did it extend its borders. In the latter part of the summer of that year, the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad reached here, and from that time to the present, there has been some increase in the number of inhabitants and about 65 buildings have been put up, most of them dwelling houses. They have been for the most part built by people from the surrounding country. In addition to this, several of the houses in the older portion of the town have been replaced by new and handsome buildings.

The largest of these are the Eckenrode building on the western corner of the public square, and the building erected by N. B. Hagan on the site of the old Good tavern. In this portion of the town there are also 4 churches, which have been built in that time, three of them, the Catholic, Lutheran and Reformed, to replace older churches, and one, the Presbyterian, on a new site. In the new portion of the town, there has also been a new church built, the United Brethren. The largest residences in this part of the town are those of The Misses Galt, Messrs. James Reindollar, W. Jesse Roberts, John McKellip and Mrs. Long. In it have also been built a number of stores, three warehouses, a steam flour mill and the railroad station.

Before the year 1870, the town proper only extended to the alley southeast of the square, and there were no houses on that side of the town south-east of Frederick Street. The land between the alley and the railroad and north-east of the Westminster road was bought from Mr. Gambrell who then owned the "Antrim" property, by Dr. Wm. Reindollar and Samuel Smith. The land on the opposite side of the Westminster road from the alley to about 175 feet beyond the railroad was bought from Mr. Gambrell by T. H. Eckenrode, who at the same time bought 42 acres from Mr. Gambrell on the north-east side of the Westminster road, extending from the railroad for some distance S. E. All of the first two tracts of land and part of the third were laid off into building lots and most of them have been sold, only a few remaining in the hands of the original owners. Mr. H. M. Clabaugh a few years ago also surveyed and laid off into lots another part of the Antrim property on the south side of the Westminster road and extending from the railroad to within about 150 yards of the dwelling house on that property. All the addition to Taneytown, on the south-east side, where almost all the building has been done, was from the Antrim Property now owned by H. M. Clabaugh.

The first building erected in this portion of the town was, I believe, the warehouse now occupied by Reindollar & Co. It was built by T. H. Eckenrode in 1870, and about the same time, I think, dwelling houses were built on the same street by James Davidson and the Misses Galt.

While there has not at any time been any boom in Taneytown it has made steady advance since 1870. In 1880 the population was 519, 1890 566, in 1895 the population within the corporate limits is 650, and taking in those who are living immediately outside of it and virtually in the town it is about 700. Taneytown does a large business in grain, hay, coal, lumber, phosphates, etc. Besides the stores generally kept in villages of its size, it has three cigar factories, a carriage maker shop, two warehouses and a steam flour mill; we also have two banks, the private banking house of Geo. H. Birnie & Co., and the Savings Bank, both of which are prosperous, although before either was established, many of our citizens would not believe that the town could support one bank.

The coming of the railroad to the town not only increased the amount of business done here, but has enabled the farmers to get lime within easy hauling distance and at a reasonable price; most of them have taken advantage of it, and a great deal of lime is sold every year. The country around the town has improved very much.

The Grabbers

Lesson for May 16, 1954

ONCE there was a little boy who went to a party. His sister Annie was invited but she was sick and couldn't go. When the party was over the lady of the house gave each little guest a sack of chocolates. The little boy got two, one for himself and one for his sister, just alike. On the way home he stumped his toe, fell down, and when he fell one of the paper sacks broke and the chocolates spilled into the road. "Poor Annie!" he said. We are all like that little boy. There is something in each of us that wants more than half of everything. If anybody is going to take a loss, let it be some one else! One car will pass another and perhaps the driver of the car being passed (if he has no manners) will yell out of the window: "Road Hog!" As a matter of fact, isn't a road hog just a person who takes the wide share of the road you'd like to have yourself?

Dr. Foreman

Greed and Deceit

You might think the little boy in the story would be less of a grabber when he grows up; but he may be worse by that time. You might think people could be cured of being greedy by giving everybody just exactly the same; but there would be any number of schemers figuring how to get their share increased. You might think people could be cured of the grab-habit by letting them have all they want; but that seldom works, because some of the greediest people in history have been people who had more than any of their neighbors. The Bible story of Ahab and the vineyard of Naboth is a case in point. It isn't a story of the poor stealing from the rich, it is the story of the rich stealing from the poor, which after all is a rather common occurrence. The story of Ahab also illustrates some notable facts about this thing called Greed. One is that greed and deceit go hand in hand. Ahab told some terrific lies, and got others to do the same, all because he wanted Naboth's vineyard. When Hitler was on the rise, he made the solemn statement that all he wanted was the little area of the Sudetenland; what he really wanted was all of Europe, only it would never have suited his schemes to say so. When a poor man gets into the clutches of a loan shark, he is never told at first what the rate of interest is. When the St. Louis Post-Dispatch back in 1898 justly accused some prominent citizens of having accepted a quarter of a million dollars in bribes, of course those gentlemen denied the whole thing. Your greedy man—or for that matter the greedy corporation—all the way from the simple robber who pretends to be the night watchman, up to the monopoly that overcharges the public—never likes the light of truth on the operation.

Greed and Murder

When a murder has been committed, almost the first question the police ask is: "Who stands to make money by this crime?" Murders are about as common in the country as in the city, in proportion to the population. What is the story back of killings in the farmlands? Very often it is some quarrel about a boundary line, about some stock, about the price of land or produce. Not all murders are for the sake of gain; but if a man is greedy enough, he will not stop at murder. Penitentiaries contain many a "lifer" who would not be there today if he had not been a greedy man.

The Prophetic Spirit

There must have been thousands of Israelite citizens who knew Ahab was a greedy murderous scoundrel. But it took the prophet Elijah to come out with the truth in plain language. Prophets are not always wild figures in hair-cloth robes. They are not always even preachers. A newspaper can have the prophetic spirit. That St. Louis paper, for instance, broke the Teapot Dome scandal; it exposed a half-million dollar "slush fund" spent by a utility company to bribe a legislature; it defeated a Democrat for governor who had tried to steal the election; and it defeated a Republican by showing that his party was tied up with those number-one Grabbers, the big-time gamblers. The spirit of Elijah is not dead; otherwise the grabbers might inherit the earth. # Plymouth is your "best buy"

in the lowest-price
field!

Recently a 1954 Plymouth and current models of the other two best-known low-price cars were taken apart by Plymouth engineers and compared, part by part. Standard "stock" models were used. We've listed some typical findings below.

Plymouth is "best buy" in many ways. Here are just a few!

Front Wheel Brakes

Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth stops without "grabbing." The other two low-price cars have only one.

Seat Springs

Plymouth uses coil seat springs, for longer lasting support. The "other two" have a zigzag platform type. Also, Plymouth's "springs-on-springs" design adds more comfort.

Piston Rings

Plymouth has four rings on each piston; the "other two" have three. Result: decreased carbon deposit, more consistent power output. Increased oil economy, too!

Micronic Oil Filter

Standard on most Plymouth models. Keeps abrasive dirt out of the engine, reducing wear and achieving greater oil economy. Extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!
