Again this year it is recommended that parents take not of the opening and closing house since the school cannot be responsible for children before and after the school hours. Since it is impossible for the school to furnish transportation, it is further recommended that parents consider the possibility of operating car pools.

There will be no registration fee though a free-will offering will be received daily to help defray the cost of the school and to support with a benevolent contribution, the work of the John Milton Society for the blind.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR SANITARY SEWER

Work on Project to Begin in 30 Days

The contract for building the Sanitary Sewer System, Part "A", was awarded to W. F. Wilson & Sons, Inc., by The Mayor & City Council at its meeting Monday night.

Part "A" will take care of 50% of the town and will cost $486,196.00, and will include building the collecting sewers for half of the town and constructing the sewage treatment plant. The remaining portions of the contract of the Wilson firm Part "B" 25% of the town, Part "C" 24% of the town and Part "D" 24% of the town can be awarded during the prosecution of Part "A" or they can be re-advertised at a later date.

Work will begin in about 30 days after all necessary and final papers have been completed and signed and the completion of the "A" project will be about Sept. 1, 1955.

Should the "B", "C", and "D" portions be awarded without asking for other bids, the contractor expects to complete these projects about Jan. 1, 1956, May 1, 1956 and July 1, 1956, respectively.

Although it is indicated that the construction of this project will not be completed until July 1, 1956, it is probable that the construction of the project will take place at a more rapid rate than anticipated by the contractor.

The firm of Whitman, Requardt and Associates has been retained as consulting engineers and on-the-job supervisors.

KEY CLUB MEMBERS WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

The Key Club of Taneytown H. S. will send 2 representatives to Philadelphia to attend the 11th annual convention of Key Club International, July 1-3.

They are: Kenneth Crouse and Wayne Baumgardner. The youngmen will meet with 2,000 other Key Clubbers from 47 states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and six Canadian provinces. During their meetings they will elect 1954-55 officers and plan administrative policies and activities programs for 1,200 clubs in the international high school youth service organization, according to Wayne Baumgardner president, of the local club. Baumgardner also indicated that one of the main topics of discussion will be what Key Clubs throughout North America can do to combat the growing problem of vandalism and juvenile delinquency in their own communities. Clubs and districts in various areas of the country have taken initial steps to devise effective means for youth leaders to assume responsibility for meeting this problem with the cooperation of interested adult groups, he added.

Headquartered in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, the youthful delegates will be treated to an elaborate program of speeches and entertainment. Highlights of the three-day convention include the appearance of Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics and addresses by Miss Betsy Evans, Voice of Democracy contest winner, and H. W. Driver, Trustee of Kiwanis International.

Entertainment on the agenda includes a night ball game between the Athletics and the Washington Senators and a tour of historic places in the city—Independence Hall, the Liberty Bell and other well-known landmarks. In addition, a talent show of topacts from the various clubs will be presented, and the winners of district contests will vie for oratorical honors.

BI-CENTENNIAL

IN TANEYTOWN

Plans Progressing Nicely. Rehearsals Have Begun

On this Saturday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, photographers have made arrangements to be at the Memorial Park to take pictures for the Baltimore Sunday Sun paper. The Hanover Sun and Frederick Post have also been invited to come if they wish to take pictures for their papers. Parts from different scenes will be arranged, with persons in costume and scenery set up for the occasion.

It is urgent that as many as possible of the Whisker Club be on hand in order that pictures may be taken of them.

Several rehearsals were held this week with splendid attendance for each scene scheduled. Arrangements have been made for similar rehearsals for next week. In case of rain on any night of a scheduled rehearsal, those people that are to report to the park will report to the Taneytown High school.

The costume committee has a big job ahead of them to costume the cast for the pageant. Anyone who has any old clothing, shawls, hats or whatever you think could be used in the pageant should get in contact with Miss Eleanor Kiser, Chairman or Mrs. Virginia Burke. They will appreciate hearing of the whereabouts of such items in order to cut down the cost of renting costumes.

It is planned to use many store windows and other available places for the purposes of antique displays during the celebration. Now is the time to start looking over the attics and barns for those pieces of old furniture, dishes, pictures, farm implements, cooking utensils, tools of all kinds, etc.

The Bi-Centennial Organization will have a stand at the Firemen's Carnival at which they will hold their "balloon contest" which will continue to run until the 15th of August. The idea is to sell a balloon and attach to it a card with the name of the person who bought the balloon. Then it will be sent up into the air. There are directions on the card that the finder mail the card back immediately, dropping it in the nearest mail box. The card that comes back from the greatest distance from Taneytown will be the winner of the prize of a $50 dollar War Bond. That is, the person who purchased the card originally, will be the winner—not the one who found it, and mails it back. All funds received from this contest will go towards the expenses of the celebration.

CAR-TRUCK CRASH TAKES TWO LIVES

Two persons were fatally injured and two others severely hurt in a head-on collision of a small truck and an automobile nearly a mile north of Littlestown on the road to Gettysburg, at 6:50 p. m. Monday.

The dead are: Angelo Bianconi, 30, Harney, Md., formerly of Seneca, N. Y., who died about 20 minutes after the crash of a compound skull fracture.

Mrs. Bernice E. Newcomb, 27, also of Harney, wife of Richard M. Newcomb, a business partner of Bianconi, who died at 10:40 a. m. Tuesday in the Annie M. Warner Hospital. Hospital attaches and the woman suffered fractures of the skull, jaw, the right elbow and both legs and lacerations.

Patients in the Warner Hospital are Bernard L. Clouser, 27, driver of the truck involved in the tragedy, and his 13-year-old brother, Larry, both of Littlestown, R. D. 2.

The hospital announced that Bernard Clouser has a fracture of the left knee, lacerations of the scalp and a lip and several broken teeth. The younger brother suffered a fracture of the right leg, cerebral concussion, lacerations of the knees and a ruptured spleen. Their conditions were given as satisfactory.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Gettysburg, Adams County coroner, said he will hold an inquest in the double fatality. He has fixed no date for the hearing.

State police of the Gettysburg detail said Bernard Clouser, operating a truck owned by Eddie's Cleaners, Littlestown, was driving south not far behind a Greyhound bus.

The bus slowed for a car ahead, which was making a right turn. Police said, Clouser swung out to pass the bus and collided head-on with the northbound car driven by Mrs. Newcomb. Bianconi was a passenger in the Newcomb car.

State Policeman James Treas said Bianconi died in Germany Township while being rushed to the Warner Hospital. The Clouser brothers and Mrs. Newcomb were taken to the Hospital by ambulance.

The Trooper estimated damage to the car at $1,500 and to the truck at $700.

Bianconi and Newcomb, former resident of Portland, Ore., had purchased a store in Harney several weeks ago it was reported.

Mrs. Newcomb was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tourski, Portland. Surviving are the parents, her husband, a sister, Alice, Portland, and a brother, Edmond, with the army. Bianconi is survived by his father, and a brother, who live in Altoona.

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1954

FLY YOUR FLAG

Clean, bright and sparkling, the Stars and Stripes will float over America on June 14th, Flag Day, as never before.

In its all-out drive for "New Glory for Old Glory", The American Legion and its Auxiliary, through their 31,000 Posts and Units from border to border and coast to coast, and supported by the nation's 25,000 dry cleaners, seeks the proper display of every flag we own.

From June 1st to 12, the coopearting cleaners will clean your flag free of charge if you promise to add your colors to what will surely be the most massive display of our National Emblem since Betsy Ross stitched on the thirteenth star! You'll see the Flag Day poster in your cleaner's window—and the local Legion Post is at your service if you need help or advice on proper display.

"Our national ensign belongs to every citizen of the United States", says National Commander Arthur J. Connell in his Flag Day appeal. "It is a symbol of the precious principles of Americanism and of our renewed effort to secure the goal of liberty and justice for all."

"At a time when tyranny and disregard for established institutions have taken hold in wide areas of the world, we need constantly to remind ourselves of the values which unite us as Americans."

In urging us all to join with The Legion in proper flag display and flag etiquette, Commander Connell says: "Help us bring 'New Glory to Old Glory'—so that all the world may know that this remains the land of the free and the home of the brave."

And as we stand proudly beneath the massed colors on June 14th—and again, of course, on July 4th—we might also recite together that pledge, first published in 1892, and now revised to include obeisance to the Almighty:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all"—U. S. Press Association.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

BRIDGEHAMPTON, N. Y., NEWS:

"It's senseless to bewail the actions of misguided youths, per se. Vandalism, lack of morals, irresponsibility, are the effects of causes over which the youngsters have no control, and of which they don't even have a knowledge. In our judgment the basic cause of young delinquency is a breakdown in home training. The moral lesson that this involves is serious. Values that were held in high respect before are now swept aside."

VIRGINIA, MINN., MESABI DAILY NEWS: "Given a favorable political climate, the private enterprise system will meet every challenge."

COALINGA, CALIF., RECORD:

"... some people may have a confused notion that our country, because of its constitutional separation of church and state, is officially divorced from religion. This is not so! The Bill of Rights provision that 'Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion' simply means that no creed—Presbyterian, Catholic, Baptist, Episcopalian nor any other—shall be recognized and favored as a national creed. That is the essence of the religious freedom all Americans enjoy."

LONG ISLAND, N. Y., SUN: "The Fifth Amendment was never meant to be protection for those who would overthrow our government by force".

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Levi D. Reid, James B. Galt and B. S. Miller, are in attendance at the annual meeting of the State Firemen's Association, in Cumberland as delegates from the Taneytown Fire Company.

Next Friday evening, the 17th, the Students of Milton Academy will give one of their famous entertainments in the Opera House, consisting largely of Drills.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Stuller was the scene of a very pretty wedding on June 8th, at 9:30 a. m. The contracting parties were Miss L. Florence Stuller, their youngest daughter, and Mr. Charles E. Mumford of Fairmount, W. Va., formerly of Baltimore. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. L. F. Murray, of Woodsboro. Mr. Edward Stuller, brother of the bride, was bestman, and Miss Jennie Barriek, of Woodsboro, was bridesmaid.

A charming wedding took place in Uniontown, on Thursday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. William Guy Segafosse, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Segafosse, of Uniontown, and Miss Idaleine Pearl McAllister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scott McAllister of Surrey, North Dakota. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. McCullough, of the M. P. church.

The commencement of New Windsor College was held on Wednesday in the college hall.

Nearly every Saturday night there is an accident of some kind, on Baltimore St., due to its crowded condition. All the hitching places from the square to railroad are usually lined with teams, on both sides of the street, and, while there is still room between for teams to pass, it requires careful and sober driving. As a place for "showing off" driving, and unnecessary "running around" it is wholly unfit at all times, and especially so on Saturday evenings.

During the thunder storm which passed over this section last Saturday night, lightning struck at a number of places, but no fires resulted. At Curtis Eckard's, the barn was struck, and a horse killed; at Mr. King's, near Kump, a cow was killed, and at Chas. Hockensmith's, his summer kitchen was struck and a cream separator slightly damaged.

Hay is coming to our market in great quantities, taxing our dealers to their utmost to pack it and get it away fast enough.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

Saves ... and saves ... and saves

It's probably happened to you a lot of times. You've gone into town, or to visit a friend—perhaps at a considerable distance—and returned all the way home before you remembered something you wanted to buy, or a message you wanted to deliver. That's when you're really thankful for a telephone, a real time, step and money saver. In fact, if you stopped to add up all it saves you, you'd probably say, like so many others, "My telephone is worth more to me than it costs."

Pitching in on a picnic

One of the nicest things about living in a small town or in the country is that picnics are so easy to have. You simply call up your friends—Sally brings the potato salad, Edna bakes a cake, Johnny takes care of the stove equipment, and you're off for a grand time. When you think of it, though, it's sharing the work that makes it so much fun. Just like on the party line. When everyone shares and shares alike, service is so much better, more useful for all.

FEESERSBURG

Our city cousins often wonder why we farmers spend so little of our time and money on vacations and amusements. In most cases the adults are too busy with farming or they would rather spend the money they would use for a vacation to fix up things on the farm which will add to the pleasure of their own family and their friends. Most farms can boast of a pond where swimming, boating, and fishing can be enjoyed whenever a member of the family has a few hours without dashing across the country ten or twenty miles. Television has brought good entertainment as well as new ideas to the farm family without the need of going to a large city for good music and plays. Due to modern inventions the farm has ceased to be an isolated haven for rude characters that discarded their shoes in the summer and wore red underwear in the winter. The farmer's daughter is no longer the shy, retiring miss in pigtails and sunbonnet, but most often the most glamorous girl on the college campus. And the farmer's son is no longer considered a hick but is generally a leader among his classmates and a dashing Romeo in the eyes of the fairer sex. Which in a round-about fashion proves that traveling and vacations aren't necessary requirements for a farm family to be happy, successful and abreast of the times.

What is a "Dog's Life?" The common expression, "I lead a dog's life," has nothing to do with our dog Mike. There are many days when I would gladly change my lot with his. For one thing he is never ill. At the first ray of light in the morning he is raring to dash after the cows. I am just turning over for several more hours of sleep and if I am capable of thinking at that time in the morning, it is a dismal thought of getting up and going through another routine day. After Mike has done his chore of bringing in the cows he takes a nice nap until his breakfast is served and if it isn't up to his likes he gives you a reproachful look and you develop a guilt complex and fix him another one according to his likes. Until meal time again he is free to follow his own inclinations which generally include biting all your friends who happen to call and making friends with all the salesmen you don't want to see. All in all Mike has a pretty good life and there are days when I would really like to lead a "Dog's Life."

A pigeon has been sitting on our TV aerial for two days and it wasn't until this morning we learned it is a carrier pigeon resting up from a long flight. We would like to know where he came from and where he is going but of course we would not disturb the band on his leg, even if we could. He sits on his perch as if in a trance and nothing disturbs him—not even other pigeons flying around the barn nor turning the aerial makes him bat an eye or flutter a wing. When he has regained his strength he will take off for his destination, the location, his own personal secret.

The Missionary Society of the Mt. Union church held its annual covered dish supper Monday evening with most members present. This event is always looked forward to by the members as it is a chance to get together for a social evening.

This is the last week of school until September. I wonder who will be the happiest—the teachers, the pupils or the parents? My bet is that the teachers will be, for in about two weeks after school is out, some parents will not know how to cope with their children and the boys and girls will not know how to cope with their parents, but the teachers will have to cope with neither. And may they enjoy their vacation for they honestly earn it.

The wedding ring on a woman's finger is a symbol of the woman of her husband. And when she twists that ring around her finger, it is still a symbol of her husband.

Whenever my teenage daughter brings her school mates home to spend the night I grow ten years younger just by listening to their chatter. Fourteen is such an interesting age for there are so many things to look forward to, so much to giggle about and so much to dream about in just a few short years. Watching teenagers grow into adulthood is like watching a fragrant rose bud slowly open to the glance of the morning sun and the kiss of the early dew.

A farm sign was seen in one of the western states with the following in clear black letters: "Anybody I see trespassing on my land at night will still be there in the morning."

Last week six men were asked "What is your most helpful verse in the Bible?" Each one of the six picked a different part or verse and one of them picked my favorite. It is the twenty-third Psalm. One man selected "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." He said he picked this one because to him it was the main theory of the Christian religion.

A backwoods community had a reputation for not keeping its ministers more than three or four months. Finally, the Bishop sent a young preacher, and after two whole years he was still on the job. Surprised, but pleased, the young minister pressed the board chairman for an explanation. When he could avoid it no longer the chairman explained: "Well, I'd rather not tell you, but if you insist, here's the reason—we folks out here don't really want any preacher at all and you're the closest we've come to it."

The farmer's prayer: "Dear Lord, grant that it may rain a little each week so that I do not see all my hard work fail for lack of a little moisture. Please see that the bugs only get a fair share of my crops, say about one tenth, and leave the rest for the kind people that have advanced me credit. Send enough sunshine to benefit the crops but not enough to burn them up. Send the winds but not in such force that they blow my buildings down and uproot my orchards. Make my land fertile and my cows productive. But dear Father, if you should not see fit to grant me these things then I ask at least, give me the faith and courage to keep on farming in the face of all adversities. Thank You.—Ruth Roelke.

NEW BUSINESS INVITED TO LOCATE HERE

The area served by the Potomac Edison Company is being publicized in a series of advertisements appearing in many nationally known newspapers and magazines as a desirable one for the location of industrial plants.

The ads are being sponsored by the West Penn Electric System of which the Potomac Edison Company is a part and are run in cooperation with the Area Development Department of that company.

One ad which recently appeared in three large West Coast newspapers carries a reproduction of a testimonial letter from Mr. Ralph Pryne, President of Pryne Company, Inc.

Mr. Pryne's company operates its parent plant in Pomona, California and recently opened an Eastern branch plant in Keyser, W. Va.

The letter says in part, "In order to expand our facilities our company was seeking a new location for its Eastern branch plant. We made a very thorough investigation of the possibilities over a wide area and in the course of these investigations availed ourselves of the area development services of the Potomac Edison System."

"This organization made available information which led us to the city of Keyser, West Virginia. Because of the fine and effective cooperation we received I feel that other West Coast manufacturers will find it advantageous to seek the help of the same people."

The other current advertisements feature the favorable labor market and market conditions of this area and emphasize the availability of buildings, factory sites, transportation facilities and manufacturing raw material sources of supply.

The Potomac Edison Company through its Area Development Department is constantly cooperating with many community and industrial groups and other organizations in an effort to actively aid the industrial growth of this area.

In the past year, 1953, eighteen new industries located in the four-state area served by the Potomac Edison System. Many of these came here through the cooperation of local organizations and the Potomac Edison Company.

The Area Development Department of the local utility company is carrying through a continuing program designed to interest manufacturers through a continuing program designed to interest manufacturers in the potential of the area they serve.

In addition to the nationally published advertisements, the company is sending mailing pieces directed to manufacturers over the entire United States. Interested persons are personally helping in locating what they need and much detailed information essential to such business is developed for them.

BASIC CAUSES OF HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

The Director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Highways has listed the following basic cause of traffic accidents:

1. The "rugged individualism" of the average American.
2. An unhealthy disrespect for law on the part of so many people.
3. The lack of skill of a high percentage of operators, both young and old.
4. A lack of regard for human life—perhaps a by-product of our three major wars in the past 35 years.
5. The fact that our young men have faced extreme dangers in military service. It causes many of them to regard traffic hazards as of minor importance.
6. A peculiar kind of hypocrisy which impels even some highway safety officials to violate the very traffic laws they try to get others to observe.
7. The "fixing" of traffic cases.
8. Worthlessness of the old-fashioned coroner system. In Pennsylvania, the director points out, not one operator in 25 involved in traffic deaths ever faces a judge and jury.
9. A lack of understanding by many of our judges of the vital need for strict, unbiased judgment in cases involving serious traffic offenses, especially where there has been loss of life.
10. The failure of various groups in the field of safety to accurately pinpoint current traffic problems, and to advocate the proper remedies.
11. The failure of most states to set up an adequate motor vehicle inspection system.
12. The flat refusal of certain groups of "experts" to recognize the terrible menace of speed and of driving too fast for conditions.

MARRIED

HAGGERTY — TEETER

Miss Margaret Virginia Teeter, daughter of Mrs. John S. Teeter, Willow Brook Farm, Taneytown, Md., and Richard Haggerty, Venice, Fla., were married at 5 p. m., Monday, June 7, at the home of the bride's brother, John D. Teeter, Gettysburg. The ceremony was performed by Judge W. C. Sheely. The bride is a graduate of Hood College, Frederick, and Johns Hopkins Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore. She recently resigned from the social service department of the Montrose School for Girls, Reisterstown, Md., and had served on the staff of Visiting Nurses in New York City and on the hygiene staff of the Department of Health in Maryland. Mr. Haggerty, a graduate of Boston and Harvard Universities, is a symphonic conductor and composer and organizer and conductor of the Boston University Symphony, the Brighton-Allston Community Chorus and Orchestra and the Boston String Orchestra and co-organizer and assistant conductor of the Boston Young Peoples Symphony. He also founded several musical groups in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Haggerty will reside after July 1 at Greenwich, Conn.

MEETING OF SOUTHERN STATES

Members of the Southern States Taneytown Advisory Board and the Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee, their wives, and husbands will meet June 15 at 7 P. M. DST in Taney Inn, Taneytown, to make plans for their local 1954 Southern States Cooperative annual membership meeting and to nominate persons to fill vacancies occurring this year on the Board and Advisory committees. Elections will take place at the membership meeting to be held later this year.

One of the questions to be decided at this session will be whether or not to hold a Farm Talent Round Up Contest as the highlight of the annual meeting. If such a contest is held, the winner will have the opportunity to appear in a district elimination contest to be held later this fall. District eliminations will be judged by a member of Ted Mack's Original Amateur staff from New York.

Members of the local advisory board are Fred Waybright, Chm.; Luther Angell, David Hess, Allen Bollinger, and Otis Shoemaker, Taneytown, Md.; Jesse Slick, Littlestown, Pa.

Members of the farm home advisory committee are Mrs. E. P. Shriver, chairman; Mrs. Marlin Six, Mrs. Allen Bollinger and Mrs. David Hess, Taneytown; Mrs. Mervin Benner, and Mrs. Allen Walker, Gettysburg, Pa.

Charles A. Miller, manager of Miller's General Store local Southern States Agency and James A. Silver, will also attend the meeting.

MEMORIAL DAY AND ITS MEANING

What does Memorial Day mean to you? It has a meaning all its own. That meaning was responsible for its origin. Its origin is rooted in love, gratitude, sympathy, and memories.

In 1868 General John A. Logan, who was National Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued the order for a formal observance of the day. However, with the passing of time the manner of observing the Day has changed in many respects. Like too many of our holidays, the spirit of the day is becoming lost, in that the occasion is becoming more or less commercialized. The services and sacrifices of the deathless dead are forgotten in the avaricious activities of the living. In some communities Memorial Day observance resembles a carnival or a county fair. Such program begins early in the day and continues late at night. Usually there is a parade to the cemetery, followed by a short address-features which still have a semblance of memorial observances. These do not always suggest the solemnity of the occasion. Often the flowers are placed on the graves the day before. In these communities many do not even go to the cemetery for they are interested in the events of a more sensational nature.

The dead have a message for us as well as the living have a duty in keeping alive the memory of those who nobly lived and died to obtain and to preserve the freedoms which you and I enjoy, and the democracy of which we can boast.

Our soldiers and sailors, marines and airmen, dead, might say, we fought, bled, and died on American soil in the War between the States, we crossed the oceans under the most difficult compulsion, we severed home ties, gave up friends and loved ones, opportunities of an education, and of a career, and said good-bye to ease, comfort, and fortune; we faced hardships in battle and greater hardships in concentration camps, we braved perils, and finally went to our rendezvous with death in the North and in the South, in the Argonne Forest, in the fields of Flanders, in the South Pacific, and in Korea, that freedom, and democracy with its ideals and privileges might not perish from the earth.

They might also say, in the face of what we have done, do you have a pint of blood to give to help save the lives of men wounded, and others now bleeding in the death-struggle with a stubborn and indomitable enemy who would rob America of her glorious heritage?

Americanism is more than an inheritance. It is a trust. And it being a trust, we are to preserve it, give an account of our stewardship, and pass it on to succeeding generations unimpaired, strengthened, enhanced, and glorified.

Memorial Day, therefore, is more than a memory; it is also a dedication. It is more than a parade of those who cherish hallowed memories. It is a living participation.

Let not the appeal of the dead from Gettysburg, from the poppy-fields of France, from Korea, and all other war zones where freedom was at stake, be in vain! Our dead will not have died in vain when the American people recognize and observe the essential significance of Memorial Day.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE: The advantage of being bald is when you expect callers, all you have to do is straighten your necktie.

MEETING JUNE 11th

Indian dance pageant practice will take place Friday, June 11, at 8 p. m., in Taneytown Recreation Park, with the weekly Scout meeting to precede it, in the form of swimming at Crouse's Mill, leaving the Scout hall promptly at 7 p. m. Scouts are asked to be at the hall by 8 a. m. Saturday morning, June 12th, for the first paper drive listed above. Rain of course would force postponement.

A Midwestern magistrate was hearing a case which involved a collision where both drivers had been "under the influence" when the mishap occurred.

Said the judge: "I wish to commend you two drinking drivers for running into each other instead of some innocent person. If this sort of thing can be encouraged, I think we may have hit upon the solution of a serious problem."

The woman tourist posed for a snapshot in front of the ruins of an ancient temple in Greece. "Don't get the car in the picture," she cautioned, or my husband will surely think I ran into the place."

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

conversation she stated she was from Elkton and knew the dear little aged Deaconess—Miss Ford all her life. The Hostess stated that the sister of Miss Ford was her third grade school teacher and she would never forget her and this is the story—the ink wells those days were in a compartment in the desk in the right hand corner and accidentally she slung her coat across emptying the well and it spilled on her coat. She was given two demerits from Miss Ford but the coat was taken home by that teacher and the ink removed! Would a teacher do that today? Such little things to make a child happy! Those type of habits build characters.

Years ago everything in the auto line and a great fad was the "Rumble Seat Roadster"—today it is "The Station Wagon" regardless of the make. The finest one in this line and which is really Super-Duper is the Mercury! Your Observer has looked over all and this is surely tops even if you pay a little more in the long run.

Ladies, there really is a difference in the CAKE MIX—just ask for "SWANSDOWN" the next time! Nothing quite as fine! Ummm good! The visit to unique and picturesque Tyson Street last Saturday in the 900 block was a charming one. The cream of Baltimore was out in full swing donating their dollars for the benefit of "GREENTOP" the summer camp for crippled children. Tyson Street runs southwest from the 800 block of Park Avenue. Each house has its own individual color scheme; no two roofs show exactly the same size and shape. The interiors are as varied as their exteriors with numbers of rooms ranging from four to ten and decor going all the way from earliest American to latest modern.

Although the oldest ground rents are dated 1810 and it is thought that a number of the houses were built ten to twenty years before that, there is evidence of even earlier habitation for Indian relics have been dug out of the cellar of number 910. Edward Rosenfeld (whom I met at his home), a well known Baltimore artist is credited with inspiring the restoration of Tyson Street. In 1946, he bought 913, cleaned and painted the house, cleared and planted the garden. Others, during that time of housing shortage, saw what Mr. Rosenfeld had done, liked it and followed suit. Today, the quaint old street with its pastel houses reminding one of storybook setting, is sometimes called Baltimore's "ARTISTS COLONY"—although residents of Tyson Street represent the businesses, crafts and professions as well as arts. There a house boasts of a fish pond in the back yard and a small Willow tree! There was the old shoe scraper at the front entrance, the red, fringed table cloth of yester-year, the colorful Homespun bedspread, a hanging oil lamp electrified, Knotty Pine just about everything and as tiny as some of the rooms were—there was oodles of closet room. The compact kitchens were adorable with every modern device. The trays of uncooked vegetables on the tables for centre decoration were displayed beautifully. Much Wedgewood was displayed in one of the homes.

The home of Mrs. C. Wyatt Tiffany was beautifully and costly furnished and all in mahogany. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Leopold had two stairways. Then on the front door of the home of two bachelors was the following which was printed in Williamsburg, Va. "Notice to all patrons, I have been obliged through the sheer weight of fatigue to quit my Profit and repair to my Dwelling—house until I have recovered my usual Composure!"

Then, what a surprise, Your Observer had upon entering the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Aisenberg! They had just moved on Tyson street in March. A young couple who met on a Blind Date and the Dr. said, "This is it!" His father and mother I have known many years—the Father is Dean of The Maryland University of Dentistry. I must say that I would not want to have missed "OPEN HOUSE" on Tyson Street for a pretty penny!

So long, folks. Until next week D. V. and as you drive along for a nice week end be sure you do not become a "LITTERBUG!"

ACCEPTED AS MEMBER OF H-F ASS'N

John S. Teeter & Sons, Inc., Taneytown, Md., have been accepted as members of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America by action of the Board of Directors at their recent meeting in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The association is the world's largest dairy cattle breeders' registry organization, with approximately 45,000 members throughout the nation.

"Didn't you hear me yelling at you to stop?" asked the irate cop.
"Yes, I did hear someone yelling," the woman driver replied.
"Then why in heaven's name didn't you stop?" asked the cop.
"Why," she said innocently, "I thought it was someone I had run over."

Amos on Alcohol

Lesson for June 13, 1954

THE prophets of Israel are singularly up-to-date. They lived thousands of miles away from here, thousands of years ago. Yet the problems of mankind are much the same then as now. The prophet's inspired eyes could see what was wrong with the world around him, and he would say bluntly what it was. But few prophets often used that blanket word "sin." Nobody's in favor of sin. What the prophet always did was to name certain particular sins. These habits, these acts, these customs, he would say—these are what our country is dying from. These things are fatal. So it was in 800 B.C., so it is in 1954 A.D.

Liquor Is Not Alone

It is only fanatics who believe that some one sin is by itself destroying the country. No sin, in fact, exists by itself. Also it is true that when a country is destroyed, it dies of more than one disease. The prophet Amos named a number of evils which were eating into the vitality of his nation and people. The consumption of liquor was one of these. But Amos never said that liquor was the only thing wrong with his country. He associates it with selfishness, greed, indifference to real problems, adultery, dishonesty and other sins. One of the bad features of liquor is that it attaches itself to other evils and makes them worse. There would be speeding on the highways even if everyone were always cold sober; but drinking drivers make the problem worse and the accidents more often fatal. (There really can't be such a thing as a drunken driver—a drunk can't drive at all. It's the drinking drivers who make the trouble.) There would be murders if whiskey had never been heard from. But every day murders are reported in the papers that would no doubt never have been committed if everyone concerned had been sober at the time. Rape and seduction are not unheard of by any means, in Mohammedan countries where alcoholic drinks are completely forbidden. But liquor pushes many young people over the edge who without it could retain their self-control and self-respect, but with it in them, lose both.

'The Best People'

In the time of Amos he took note of some quite "respectable" people who were drinkers. Church-goers he mentions first of all, people who drink wine "in the house of their god." (This of course has nothing whatsoever to do with the communion service, a sacrament instituted by Christ.) He condemns these church-goers more than he does the riff-raff. It is worse for some people to drink than it is for others; and perhaps worst of all for church people. After all is said and done, people who know little and may care less about what is right and what is wrong, will think that anything a church member does must be all right. One church member who is known to drink, even if he is very temperate about it, can do more harm than a dozen alcoholics. Another respectable class Amos mentions are the women of wealth and social position. Amos is not exactly respectful to these ladies; on the contrary he calls them cattle, "kine of Bashan"—a specially fat kind of cattle of these days. Again, the use of liquor by wives of successful men, women who are leaders in their communities, does more harm than all the drinking down in the poolrooms. The harm done to others by the drinker is often greater than what he does to himself.

Amos Saw It Coming

Amos predicted that his country would soon fall because of its sins, and fall it did. No doubt the drinkers of his day thought their liquor drinking helped them to escape from their troubles; Amos could see that it only brought on more troubles. The truth about liquor is seldom to be had from people who are its victims, more seldom still from those who make money by it. Ministers, doctors, welfare workers, see the situation from the standpoint of those who have to try to patch up the wrecks. Do you want a strong America? Strong countries, like strong people, are not made so by strong drink.

AUTOIST WARNED TO WATCH CHILDREN

School vacations are coming up and "children at play" will be in grave danger, Keystone Automobile Club warns, unless mothers and fathers exercise more than usual vigilance in the months their children are released from school discipline and the daily lessons in safety practices.

Motorists are urged by the Club not to "take chances" where children are concerned. The Club statement, issued by August G. Detlof, Manager of the Club in Maryland, said:

"It should be recognized by motorists and parents that the hazard to children is greater in the summer months when they are freed from the restraints and safety lessons in the classrooms. Therefore, the duty devolves upon drivers to be doubly careful and upon parents to apply the cautionary measures essential to safety."

In an appeal to school children, the Club official calls upon pupils to keep before them during vacation the Safety Squad slogan: "Always alert; never hurt."

"To protect your lives and prevent serious injuries," he said, "it will be necessary for you to practice the safety rules you have learned in school during the year. This does not mean you must give up your opportunities to play and enjoy yourselves. It does mean that obedience to the safety rules while you are playing is necessary for your protection."

HISTORICAL NOTES

Much local historical data is to be found in the County and State newspapers given to the Historical Society of Carroll County. One of the rare issues on file is the true American Vol. 1, No. 35, New Windsor, Md., June 29, 1855, R. Bartholow and H. C. Geaty, Editors and Publishers. The editorial was the final one written by R. Bartholow, who severed his connection with the paper. One item of special interest to Carroll countians at that time: "The amount of the assessment comprised in property was $3,044,390. The amount of tax on the same for the year 1855 amounted to the sum of $20,118.18. And for the use of the State after deducting Bank and other stocks, the amount of State tax consisted of $11,510.06 being an increase over the assessment of last year, and a decrease of the expenditures."

Contract for building a bridge: "The Commissioners for Carroll County have entered into a contract with Jesse Brown for building a bridge over the Patapsco Falls, near the farm of George Richards, in this county, for the sum of $200."

"New Windsor Academy for Young Ladies, board and tuition, $100 per annum; Music, $8 per quarter; Day Scholars, $3 to $6 per quarter; "Books and Stationery furnished at moderate prices. For particulars apply to Theodore Blume."

Advertising in this issue: Jonas Ecker, General Store; Wm. Henry Haines, Wakefield Emporium; Jacob Roop, General Store; New Windsor Foundry and Machine Shop; Mrs. Sarah Ann Belt, Confectionery Store; Hoffman and Englar, General Store; Jacob Reese and Sons, Westminster; J. McKellip, Taneytown.

The first newspaper published within the limits of what is now Carroll County was published in Uniontown. It was named The Engine of Liberty and Uniontown Advertiser, September 1813, Charles Sower, publisher, who afterward published The Star of Federalism, April, 1816. The office of this paper was removed to Frederick in December, 1816. The next paper published in Uniontown was the Enterprise issued on the first Saturday of each month; Charles A. Gosnell, publisher, Jacob Christ, editor, October, 1859. This paper continued about six months when it yielded to the demand for a larger paper, The Weekly Press; Jacob Christ, editor and proprietor, February, 1861. Despite the general depression of business, the interruption of the mails and demand for daily news at that time, the paper continued for nearly 3 years.

Are there any issues of these early County papers to add to the growing files of County newspapers at the Society? Visiting hours at the home of the Society, 2 to 5 p. m. Monday through Saturday, Miss Lillian Shipley, resident hostess.

DOROTHY ELDERDICE, Publicity Chairman Historical Society of Carroll County.

OUR DAILY BREAD

Who hasn't gone to the Psalms for inspiration! Leaders of devotions—in the home and in public invariably resort to the Psalms as the primary and natural source for thought and inspiration. The one hundred fifty Psalms in the Old Testament are acknowledged as the richest and deepest literature of devotion known to man. They are the outpouring of the human spirit to God. They express the hopes, desires, and longings of man. They lay open the human heart with all its moods and emotions before the Lord, the God of Israel. They also express the feelings and aspirations of the Nation of Israel.

The Psalms were intended to be sung. They were the hymns of the ancient church. They were set to music. They were played on various instruments. Some were played on string instruments as the lyre and the harp, some on wind instruments such as the trumpet and the pipe, and some on percussion instruments as the timbrel and the cymbal.

Psalms are sung today in certain Protestant Churches. Sunday School children commit to memory whole or portions of Psalms. They have an important place in funeral services. Psalms are read to comfort the sick, and to console the bereaved. Their reading tends to dispel clouds of sorrow, to put the sun back into darkened skies, and to still troubled waters.

As the Psalms express the spirit of the Psalmist, so every reader will discover in them something that will meet the need of his spiritual state.

They are as varied as human experiences and as comprehensive as the soul.

Let not the distance of the goal retard your approximation to it.

HOW TO BUILD A PORTABLE BARBECUE

To build this grill, you'll need steel pipe and an 18-inch, narrow disk, which can be found at most scrap yards. Assemble the firebox by welding or riveting sheet iron to two flat steel rings and covering the top with a grid of heavy steel mesh. Also weld three pipe caps to underside of narrow-disk pan to take legs of 1/2-in. pipe. A steel-mesh grate, about 12-in. in diameter is placed in bottom of fire pan.

Raymond Wilson discussed the value and facts concerning membership in the Community Chest and Council of America. There are over 1200 members in the national association which serves as a clearing house for ideas, policies and techniques, and provides the tools to assist all communities in planning and fund raising. Available is the national publicity on radio, TV, newspapers, churches, schools, etc., and entitles persons to use the national services of the Red Feather in "Give the United Way".

Mr. Wilson was asked to get more information on the subject and the matter of dues and bring it to the next meeting for further discussion.

CIVIL DEFENSE ADVICE—"STAY HOME JUNE 14"

Travelling salesmen are in for a rough time on June 14th if they travel too far.

Col. Arthur L. Shreve, Deputy Director of the State Civil Defense Agency, said today that traffic will be stopped at varying times all over the nation on Monday.

Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York will stop traffic at an announced time, he said.

Delaware will have an alert at 10 a. m., but will cooperate with Maryland in stopping traffic at 8 p. m.

The Northern Virginia section will sound sirens at 10 a. m., but West Virginia has made plans for 8 p. m. Maryland's alert will be held at 8 p. m. in all counties except Montgomery, Prince George's, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's, which will cooperate with Washington, D. C., at 10 a. m.

"We don't like inconveniencing the public by having more than one test during the day, but we just have to cooperate with neighboring States," Shreve said.

The State Civil Defense Agency is merely insisting that traffic stop during the alert and that the public "take cover."

"County or City Civil Defense Directors may elaborate considerably on these instructions to the public," he said.
