SEWER BONDS SOLD

Following Letter Explains the Procedure

July 20, 1954
Mayor and City Council
Taneytown, Maryland
Attention: Mayor Raymond J. Perry
Re: Taneytown
Sanitary Sewerage System
Bond Issue

Gentlemen:
A sealed bid was received by the Mayor and City Council of Taneytown at a special meeting held on Thursday evening July 15, 1954 for the purchase of bonds in the amount of $650,000.00. This bid was submitted by Alexander Brown & Sons as the combined bid of the firms of Alexander Brown & Sons, Mercantile Safe Deposit and Trust Co., Baker Watts & Co., and Stein Bros. & Boyce. The Mayor and City Council accepted this bid and the representative of Alexander Brown & Sons was so notified.

The proceeds from the sale of these bonds are to be used exclusively to provide funds for the construction of the Taneytown Sanitary Sewerage System. Each bond will have a par value of $1,000 and will be numbered consecutively from No. 1 to No. 650, inclusive. Bonds No. 1 to No. 500 totaling $500,000.00 were authorized by the General Assembly of Maryland at its January session in 1953 and Bonds No. 501 to No. 650 totaling $150,000.00 were authorized under the 5% Health Law. The issuance of all the bonds have been approved by the qualified voters of Taneytown.

We have made a complete analysis of the bond bid and are enclosing a summary of this analysis for your information. At a later date we will furnish you with copies of the complete analysis, which analysis will be required by you in setting the tax rate to service this bond issue. It should be noted that the average interest rate as bid for Bonds No. 1 to No. 500 is 3.40% while the average interest rate bid for Bonds No. 501 to No. 650 is 3.75%. The over-all interest rate bid for this $650,000.00 bond issue is 3.52%.

Under the terms of the sale of this bond issue, specified bonds will mature on August 1 of the designated year. Interest on the bonds will be payable semi-annually on February 1 and August 1 of each year during the life of the bond issue.

The bonds are presently being printed and will be delivered to the Mayor and City Council of Taneytown sometime during the early part of the month of August, at which time the bond money will be made available. The $650,000.00 will be placed in The Birnie Trust Company and during the life of the bond issue both the principal and interests of the bonds will be payable at the designated time at The Birnie Trust Company.

Bonds No. 1 to No. 500 will be serviced through a levy of an annual ad valorem tax on all property subject to assessment for taxation in Taneytown. This method of payment is specifically provided for in the Enabling Act. Bonds No. 501 to No. 650 will be serviced through one of three methods as provided in the 5% Health Law, namely, (1) the levy of an annual ad valorem tax; (2) the levy of a front foot assessment; and (3) the levy of a sewer service charge.

It should be noted that the Enabling Act of 1953 specified that the rate of interest could not exceed 4% on the bonds issued under this Act (No. 1 to No. 500) and that the 5% Health Law specified that the interest rate on the bonds issued under this law (No. 501 to No. 650) could not exceed 5%. The interest rates as bid were under the specified rates.

If you have any questions concerning this bond issue we will be available at any time convenient to you to come to Taneytown to discuss any phase of the bond issue with you.

Very truly yours,
WHITMAN, REQUARDT AND ASSOCIATION

TRINITY MISSION CIRCLE ENTERTAINED WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Trinity Mission Circle entertained the Women's Missionary Society on Wednesday, July 14 on the parsonage lawn. The meeting opened with the playing of recorded organ music. Miss Pearl Bollinger read the invocation. The hymns, "This is My Father's World" was sung, led by Miss Hazel Hess. Responsive reading was led by Mrs. Mary Jane Smith; Scripture was led by Mrs. Sterling Snader and the 23rd Psalm was recited by her daughter; Meditation and Prayer was led by Miss Pearl Bollinger, Mrs. Mary Jane Smith, Mrs. Nadine Riffle and Mrs. Dorothy Stahl. The Circle President, Mrs. Stahl welcomed the group and Miss Mary Reindollar expressed thanks for the invitation to meet with the Circle. Mrs. Stahl presented a gift of a necklace and earrings to Mrs. Alma Bair, Past Circle President as a token of appreciation for her service for the past two years. Mrs. Audrey Fair introduced Miss Doris Baker who played several accoridian selections and Johnny Ommert on the trumpet. The closing hymn was "For the Beauty of the Earth".

Refreshments consisting of cake, ice cream, potato chips, nuts and punch were served.

Both groups held short business meetings adjoining for the evening.

LARGE LITTER

David B. Shaum had a Hampshire sow to give birth to sixteen pigs on Tuesday evening. This was the mother hog's first litter.

Taneytown Will Celebrate its 200th Birthday Next Week

Worship Service July 25. Pageant July 27, 28, 30 and 31. Mammoth Parade Saturday, July 31. Many Window Displays

The Executive committee of the Taneytown Bi-Centennial organization met last (Wednesday) evening at the Taneytown Memorial Park for their final meeting before the big week. After meeting each week for 7 months, the group felt that it could not be possible that after all the work and planning that has been done over this period, that finally the time had approached for all their plans to come to life.

Following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, Chairman Edward Reid turned the meeting over to the ticket committee to make its report. Murray Baumgardner, chairman of this committee reported that 60 percent of all the reserved seats had been sold, and that Wednesday night was sold out, as far as reserved seats was concerned. After a survey of the seating area they decided to add 100 more seats to the area for each night's performance. Therefore, instead of 200 there will be 300 reserved seats for each night. Bleachers have been set up, and with the grandstand at the park, will provide seats at general admission prices for 1300 persons. Plenty of parking area has been secured for the automobiles going into the park grounds on the nights of the events down there, but more help is needed to park the cars. Any one that can help with this is asked to call 3214 and offer their services, if only for one or more of the nights next week.

All those ushering on Sunday nights are asked to report to the park at 11:45 AM Sunday morning for rehearsal. At this hour the Bi-Centennial Chorus will also have its final rehearsal.

During the big parade on Saturday, refreshments will be sold along the street and at the fairgrounds when the parade forms, as well as at the park where it ends. The following persons have agreed to manage these stands: Ethel Garber will have a stand at Model Bakery; Mrs. Edgar Hockensmith and Leah at the Memorial Park; Grace Rodgers at the Reformed Church; Mrs. Bernard Utz at the rear of the Hesson Building; Mrs. David Shaum at Mid-Town; Mrs. Mable Smith and Helen Bankard at Middle Street in front of the Wantz property; Mrs. Charles Baker and Mrs. Myron Tracey in front of the Tracey home; Mrs. Eleanor Shoemaker at the area near Taney Inn; Mrs. Grace Putnam in front of the Legion Home; Mrs. Emma Wildasin in front of the home of Mrs. Lola Reid; Mrs. Stanley King in front of her home; Mrs. Percy Putnam at her home and Mr. and Mrs. John Harman at the Fairgrounds. These persons are trying to secure help to aid them in serving the thousands of people that will be in Taneytown that Saturday afternoon, by anyone that feels that they can help with this major undertaking is requested to contact any of the 13 persons in charge of the individual stands, and volunteer their service.

A great many persons will be needed next week to help on different projects such as ushers for seating the spectators at the pageant, building up platforms and working on the seating, moving chairs, selling chairs along the march of parade, selling balloons, on the refreshment stands, parking cars, guards and many other things that will be necessary. The only way this celebration can be a success is for all of the citizens to help in the best way they can. Without a doubt, this is a big undertaking for a town the size of Taneytown, and we should all feel proud to have a part in it. The cooperation thus far has been excellent, and it is inspiring to witness how willing everyone has cooperated thus far. Don't let them down here at the final stages of the show.

FASHION SHOW TICKETS NOW ON SALE

Those who are planning to attend the Fashion Show being held by the Bi-Centennial Organization on Monday afternoon are requested to purchase their tickets as soon as possible, as the committee must know by Sunday afternoon just how many are expecting to attend the show which will be held on the beautiful lawn of the Annans, East Baltimore Street.

SOUVENIR PROGRAMS

Approximately one third of the 3000 Bi-Centennial Programs have been sold. Anyone who wishes to purchase a copy of this fine booklet is advised to not wait until it is too late as the committee feels that the supply will not last until the end of the festivities. Anyone wishing a copy mailed may have it done by contacting Harmon Albaugh or Edward Reid and it will be done—the postage charge is 25 cents.

PAGEANT DRESS REHEARSAL TONIGHT

There will be a dress rehearsal tonight, the only one probably for a number of those in the cast due to the rain on Tuesday night when they were forced to stop when it was less than half through. The entire cast, along with the scenery and construction committee is asked to be present; also the amplification and lighting men. This rehearsal will be the last one before the first performance on next Tuesday night; therefore it must be complete.

BI-CENTENNIAL KIDDIES PARADE

Thursday evening, July 29, at 7 p. m., the kiddies, up to 12 years of age, will reign supreme in Taneytown. The parade will form at the High School, at 6:30 p. m. and proceed down George street turning right on East Baltimore street to the square, turning right at the square to the Presbyterian church and will disperse in the alley near the parking lot.

A great assortment of costumes, decorative tricycles, bicycles, wagons, etc., are expected to catch the Judges' eyes, and thrill the proud parents. Small children be adequately supervised. Winners of the cash prizes will be awarded after the parade in the parking lot area.

KIDDIES PARADE AND BLOCK PARTY

On Thursday night at 7 o'clock all the kiddies that are in the parade will form at the Taneytown High school play grounds and move out to parade along the following streets: Down George Street to Main Street, up Main Street to the Square, turning there and proceed up York Street as far as the Presbyterian church, then turn right there, ending at the public parking lot. The prizes will be awarded at the parking lot. Following the parade there will be the old-fashioned dance and block party. As many as possible are to wear old time costumes to this block party.

ANTIQUES ON DISPLAY IN STORE WINDOWS IN TANEYTOWN

Hundreds of antiques and other old items of interest are now on display in the store windows as well as in some of the homes in Taneytown, and it makes up a most interesting display. All hours of the day and night, people are roaming the streets of Taneytown to view in the windows the wonderful displays that have been arranged under the direction of Mrs. John Smith, Chairman of the Display Committee for the Taneytown Bi-Centennial Celebration.

During this week-end the town, shops and many homes will be decorated in preparation for home-coming week. This will add to the celebration a great deal.

C. E. BUS TRIP SUNDAY

The Carroll County Unions chartered Blue Ridge Bus will leave Taneytown Sunday, at 12:30 p. m. (sharp) for the World's Christian Endeavor Convention in Washington, D. C. (Please be at bus a few minutes before).

The afternoon session begins at 3 p. m. Since the illness of Dr. "Billy" Graham the Evangelist, Dwight D. Eisenhower will speak briefly; Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Pres. World's C. E. Union; Dr. Graham's team, George Beverly Shea, and Cliff Barrows will have part on the program, as well as the "50 Voice Hawaiian Choir". (Still a few seats on the bus not reserved).

MRS. ROY B. KISER, Chairman.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Resignation of T. H. S. Principal Accepted

The regular meeting of the Board of Education of Carroll County was held in the Board Offices on July 20, 1954, with all members present. The minutes of the June meeting were approved and also the bills which were in order for payment at this time.

New teacher's contracts were approved for Anne Marie Armstrong, John James Armstrong, Robert W. Sizer, Mary L. Wenger, Cornelius Manders, Priscilla M. J. Ernst, Robert Garrett, Joan Owen, Betty L. Eckenrode, Louis J. Pecoraro, Anne L. B. Utz, Betty Flory, Mary Alice McFague.

The Board accepted resignations from the following teachers, resignations to become effective as of August 1st: Clara Stewart, Sandymount School; Willie Alma Mack, Robert Moton School; Marie Mesaros, Westminster High School; Ellis Leatherwood, Sykesville High School; Emma Brown Edwards, Westminster High School; John Manspeaker, Taneytown High School; Dennis Blizard, Elmer Wolfe High School; Delmar Thacker, Mt. Airy Elementary; Joseph Zavarich, Mt. Airy High School; Marjorie Bankert, Taneytown High School; Phyllis Bennett, Sykesville High School; Georgia Oswald, Manchester High School; Bernard Kobosko, Westminster High School; Evelyn P. Shippard, Robert Moton School; Marshall A. Morningstar, Mt. Airy High; Janet Hering, East End Primary School; Wanda Beck, Hampstead High School; Ernest Minka, Westminster High School; and Lena Minka, Manchester High School. Resignations were accepted and it was directed that continued efforts be made to secure a teaching staff for the opening of county schools in September.

The Board was, at this time, given a general report regarding teacher recruitment in Carroll County showing that sixty (60) changes in personnel were necessary during and at the end of the school year, 1953-54, with fifteen (15) to twenty (20) new teachers required because of increased enrollment. The Board was advised that continued effort was being made to contact candidates for teaching positions to fill existing vacancies. It was noted that reductions of program offerings in some high and elementary schools may be necessary due to lack of personnel. It was further noted that causes in personnel included: (A) Higher salaries in other systems; (B) Changes in plans necessitating teachers to move from various communities; (C) Unsatisfactory working conditions due to lack of building facilities.

The Board received with pleasure a number of communications from those to whom scholarships had been granted at the June meeting.

A contract with Charles P. Staley, of Frederick, was approved for the painting of the Westminster High School Auditorium. This project was badly needed because of the wide use of the building by local and county-wide activities.

The Board considered several items related to transportation for the (Continued on Fifth Page)

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's great wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

With the typewriter upon the card table, this Columnist is sitting close up to the edge of the Babbling Brook beside the Bungalow. The day is delightful plus a grand breeze and the birds in the tree above me whistle in return as I try to speak their language to them.

The first of the Gladiolas have been placed as always in the living room and now the blooms are becoming plentiful around the Spruce tree.

The recent rains have helped the lawns and gardens everywhere and everything appears a beautiful green once again.

"Ivory Snow" (one of the three kittens) is being taught by her fond Mother to protect herself and it is fascinating to watch the procedure.

Airplanes are passing quite frequently—no doubt many going vacationing by plane.

Walking along Lexington Street yesterday—what to my wondering eyes to behold—a real "LION" on a leash! It surely was, "BEAUTY AND THE BEAST." Never have I seen more beautiful girl! She was dressed in a long Sequin ice-blue cloak over the same color dress. Photographers were everywhere surrounding her. The picture—the picture of wonders by 20th Century—Fox—color by De Luxe CINEMASCOPE, the title of the picture, "THE EGYPTIAN"—A picture—1500 years before Christ! And that was the advertisement with the lovely girl walking the lion right down in traffic!

The Quill is back again as in Colonial days—the only difference is that they are being made in the New England States instead of across the Sea as in those days. They are being used by Court Lawyers right here in the U.S.A.

Mothers, if your child reads those awful "funnies"—it is time that you read the article in the May issue of The Reader's Digest If you do not possess the May issue—go out this minute and borrow it or send to Pleasantville for it.

Mr. Farmer—this winter there will be "DIAMONDS IN THE ROUGH!" Those big bales of Hay! Betcha!

A Reader writes to ask me who is my favorite T.V. Personality.

The lady is Arlene Francis and the gentleman—you guessed it—LIBERACE!

If someone would ask you who gave the money to build the SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTE would you be able to answer—the Englishman by the name of Smithson?

Visiting the "Kelo Home" in Taneytown when they had "Open House" for the public was surprised to learn that a real Irishman by the name of Kels who resided in Baltimore gave the money to build that home for The Methodist Orphan Girls!

And a Frenchman built the Statue of Liberty! See what all America means when they call this country "The Melting Pot!"

At last, I have tasted the real Cincinnati Bun of Philadelphia in Maryland—sold at the Acme Stores called "The Virginia Lee Sticky Buns" (Which I tried to have that nice Baker Around the Town bake a few years ago) Ummmm Good!

On hot days keep serving Salads—Salmon, Tuna Fish, Crab and just add up green peppers, onion, celer and a few Olives if desired plus Mayo—taste (not Salad Dressing)—the latter is too sweet. As whatever you do, Ladies don't forget to write Mrs. Laura Brtnner 302 Tyson Rd Newton Square, Pa. for those grand Howard Smith selections. The Best Half will think you are the best cook in the world! It is the seasoning, you know everytime.

Here's something different to serve as to a drink that you eat!

Take ice cubes from the refrigerator and chop them real fine in a heavy white small canvas bag with a wood hammer. Fill glasses with the fine and pour lemonade on top or as much as the glass will hold. This is a treat much more so than ice cream and you will feel so much more refreshed! The adults go for it in a way just as much as the Kiddies. (bag and hammer can be purchased any five and dime). Add much water when making the lemonade.

If you have recently purchased a new set of tires be sure you go to the store and have them rotated after a certain amount of miles. You will then be taking the very best care of your tires to make them longer.

Ladies, "The Short Nightie" is much in vogue these times and stores are showing delightful terms.

Don't be bashful about going and let your bare feet during the Let your tired feet—BREATHE! will be singing, "Happy Feet" in time!

If you are papering any of rooms be sure you keep enough paper to line the bureau drawers will appear glamorous each time open them.

Go to church this Sunday—regardless of the Denomination and never think any Denomination is prior for after all, Folks we all be, "UNITED BRETHREN" UP THERE!

Will see you next week. D.V. then have a grand week-end. slowly so you can see more and longer! I am,

JUST PIECES OF PAPER

Pieces of paper are one of the reasons why the cost of government has reached a statistical stratosphere. The paper in question consists of government records.

According to a Hoover Commission report, each year $9,800,000,000 pieces of paper are produced or accumulated by the federal government. Salaries and material costs for an estimated 485,000 clerical persons doing the producing and accumulating come to $2,800,000,000. To house the records, some 3,000,000 filing cabinets would be required. And it is estimated that as many as 250,000 clerks may be engaged in classifying, filing and searching these current records, at a cost of $1,170,000,000.

The Commission has established a new Task Force to deal with the problem of reducing the volume of pieces of paper so created.

The point is that, when it comes to trying to cut down government waste and non-essentials, even seemingly small things can be almighty important in the aggregate.—Industrial News Review.

MUST ONE RETIRE?

This newspaper a number of times has objected to provisions of the Social Security Act (as now repeatedly amended, which tend both to push people into retirement and then to limit their productiveness. We have ventured, also that there ought to be some areas of the national economy where people could be allowed to take responsibility for their own financial security.

Is there not some way to permit voluntary participation or non-participation in old-age insurance at least by some categories of workers or of self-employed? The experts say "no" because of what they call "adverse selection." That is, many would tend to remain out of the system during their younger years when they would be contributing to the necessary reserves but decide to come in later when the problems of age appeared more imminent.

The fact that old-age benefits now are paid at flat rates instead of being based partly on length of coverage moves any incentive to start participation early. In this framework the Social Security staff sees no middle course between compulsory coverage and complete exclusion.

In the case of the medical profession, its spokesmen have convinced the House of Representatives that physicians and surgeons should be exempted entirely on the grounds that they seldom retire from practice and hence would reap relatively limited benefits from inclusion. The Washington office of the Christian Science Committee on Publication has pointed out that this is equally true of Christian Science practitioners and is asked their exemption from compulsory coverage.

There are other professional people whose services grow in value with experience and whose greatest usefulness may be realized after the conventional retirement age of 65. This includes architects, lawyers, ministers, educators, and writers, and true of many in skilled trades as well.

The extension of coverage pending before the Senate Finance Committee would work a hardship on these people because it would force them to retire—often forfeiting years of greatest usefulness—or to forego benefits for which they had been compelled to pay. Social Security is in need of review to discover ways of encouraging rather than discouraging usefulness in longevity. That is achieved, some are obliged to request omission rather than coverage in seeking to make their greatest contribution to society.

CHURCH BOOM

Experts in the U. S. Census Bureau estimate that by 1975 our nation will have attained a population of 200 million—a 43 million increase over 1952.

The impact of this population increase is being felt by all—particularly Churches, Schools and Industry. All are faced with a common problem; that of expanding facilities at a rate required to service the needs of a greater population.

In an article published in the Christian Herald, Warren J. Taussig, Church-Industry Relations Director of the National Association of Manufacturers, has analyzed what the population increase can mean to our churches.

Mr. Taussig estimated that by 1975 there will be 120 million people attending church—28 million more than in 1952.

To service this vastly expanded enrollment, Mr. Taussig estimated that our churches must:

1. Train from 50,000 to 100,000 more clergymen by 1975.
2. Develop Sunday School and other facilities for 32 million more children.
3. Build and equip 105,000 more churches.

It will take an estimated $7.5 billion alone to build the added churches that a 28 million increase in church enrollment requires.

While these figures are national it can be recognized that they refer to this community and every church here.

These needs can only be met by the dedicated participation of the laymen. Church leaders and administrators can only blueprint and organize.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ELMER, N. J., TIMES: "One way of judging what the future may bring is to look at the record of the past. The story of American achievement under the individual enterprise system is clear and undisputed."

BELLINGHAM, WASH., HERALD: "The National Editorial Association—has protested at its Baltimore convention against what it calls a 'flagrant regulation—that which makes the mailman a delivery boy for handbills. A ruling permits local post offices to deliver pieces of mail addressed simply 'Boxholder, Route—'. Everyone on the route receives a copy. As a result, mail boxes are jammed with unwanted advertising letters and pamphlets."

MANSFIELD, PA., ADVERTISER: "Just as people are able to do better by reviewing their past and avoiding some of the errors they have made, so can we as a self-governing people profit by reviewing the history of our nation."

DAWSON, MINN., SENTINEL: "We can't reduce taxes unless we reduce expenditures, and we cannot reduce expenditures as long as politicians can get votes by promising more government benefits."

MANSFIELD, OHIO, NEWS-JOURNAL: "The citizen, including the farmer, pays to keep food prices high, to buy surplus foods and to keep them in storage."

INTERNATIONAL FALLS MINN., DAILY JOURNAL: "With the summer recreation season here we should all try to keep our roads and beaches clean. One solution is for every motorist to carry a litterbag in the car and use it as he would a wastebasket at home. Don't be a litterbug."

TOWN JOURNAL MAGAZINE: "The home-town paper is about the best friend a town ever had. Year in and year out its columns report the achievements, the good times, the gains and the tragedies of the home folks. Each issue does something to cement individuals into a community."

GREAT FALLS, MONTANA, LEADER: "For nearly 40 years, Sweden has had a rationing system for liquor, the theory being that rationing would check excessive use. Recently the Riksdag voted to abolish the system as of next Oct. 1, the Finance Minister (who incidentally is a teetotaler) saying that the benefits of the system were not sufficient to justify the red tape involved. Sweden would have to rely, he said, on education and enlightenment to combat the abuse of alcohol. Since Sweden is one of the countries with a semi-Socialist government which tends to believe in regulating everything, the change may be significant."

WEYMOUTH, MASS., GAZETTE & TRANSCRIPT: "... the trend in America toward socialistic reliance on Big Government will destroy the fundamentals of the individual enterprise system which has given us so much in the past."

SENATE CLOAKROOM
 By J. Glenn Beall
 United States Senator from Maryland

With adjournment of the 83rd Congress anticipated at the end of his month it is only natural that attention will be directed to the work of Congress and the record of the Eisenhower Administration.

There are a few major legislative matters remaining such as the farm program, extension of social security benefits, and conference reports on housing legislation, and the tax revision and reduction bill.

This Congress has made an impressive record for handling its work expeditiously, orderly, and for cooperating with President Eisenhower. The Administration's record demonstrates very clearly that the United States can enjoy peace and prosperity simultaneously—something that the gloom and doom boys tried to tell the American people was not possible.

The Republican Administration achieved a truce in Korea, is skillfully handling the Geneva Conference where endeavor to effect an end to the Indo-China fighting is in progress. At the same time our economy remains sound and progressive, and while the New-Fair Dealers were predicting economic disaster the facts showed U. S. production had hit a new record in 1953 and that during the first five months of 1954 personal income was running at $285 billion—slightly higher than the same period the year before.

At the close of a session I usually do a little checking to see how the bills I personally introduced have fared, and the result was pleasing. Also the bills sponsored by the committees of which I am a member showed careful study and were favorably received by the Congress and the President.

Altogether I introduced a total of 69 bills, 20 of which have been enacted by Presidential signature into public laws, and it looks as if 6 others will become law before adjournment.

These bills vary from those granting citizenship to individuals who otherwise would be ineligible to conforming laws in the District of Columbia with those in Maryland and Virginia.

Of a more general character was one to return the Constellation to its home port of Baltimore, and Congress passed a similar one introduced by Congressman Devereux and it is now awaiting the President's signature.

In conjunction with a number of other Senators I co-sponsored a bill to revitalize the nation's fishing industry by authorizing research and encouragement of the distribution of fishery products. The bill enjoyed bi-partisan support and is now a public law.

After Congress adjourns I shall look forward to giving Marylanders a detailed report during my visits with them throughout the State.

"ACCIDENT FACTS"

Who are the best drivers—men or women?

The ladies may be gratified to learn that the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts" just off the press, reveals that 10 times as many men as women drivers are involved in fatal accidents.

But just a minute, ladies "Accident Facts" goes on to say that while 41,700 men and only 4,100 women were mixed up in fatal accidents last year, more than twice as many men were driving, they drove farther per driver, and they drove more in all kinds of weather and conditions than the women.

"So," the Council says with evident relief, "no one can really tell who's the best driver, a man or a woman."

MOTOR CLUB ADVISES OWNERS TO LOCK CARS; IGNORE HITCHHIKERS

A reminder by the Automobile Club of Maryland for motorists to lock their cars when leaving them was backed up today by Chief G. Man J. Edgar Hoover, who said that careless motorists who leave their cars unlocked are contributing to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

"It might take a few moments to roll the glass up in windows and lock the doors—especially when hot weather results in all the windows being opened," Mr. Robert L. Leese, Westminster Branch Manager of the A. A. A. said, "but the added protection is well worth the time."

Mr. Leese said that one of the nation's largest police departments found that 90 per cent of all cars stolen were left with the keys in the ignition, or the switch unlocked.

"Motorists can also help keep down delinquency of a not-entirely-junvenile nature by refusing to pick up hitchhikers," the motor club official advised. "More and more of them are on the roads this time of year, and while it is sometimes hard to pass them up, it is better to be heartless than lifeless where hitch-hikers are concerned."

FARM FILLERS

Brucellosis used to cost $100 million a year and still costs about half that much. But thanks to testing programs and vaccinations, losses are being pared down. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that more cattle were tested for brucellosis last year than any year since the program began in 1934. The northern States which once had a high brucellosis rate now has a lower percentage of infection than any other area. No wonder—they've tested more than twice as many cattle and vaccinated more than twice as many calves as any other area.

The more eggs each hen in a flock lays, the better are the chances of making a profit, according to a recent report from the Alabama Experiment Station. In a study of 130 commercial egg-producing farms in Alabama, 23 flocks, averaging less than 150 eggs per year lost 10 cents a dozen. A group of 53 flocks, averaging 179 eggs per hen, returned a profit of 4 cents a dozen. The highest producing group, over 200 eggs per layer, returned a profit of 14 cents a dozen.

Several times each summer, stories are heard of children drowning in stock water tanks. It is a good safety practice to keep the tank covered so children won't be attracted by the prospects of playing in cool water.

Make Coffee Whip In An Instant

Everybody likes coffee desserts like this elegant beauty. Once they were a chore to make. Double strength coffee had to be brewed before one could begin to cook with coffee. But now Nescafé adds coffee flavor instantly to any dessert recipe. And did you know that you can add this excellent coffee dry with the other dry ingredients in a recipe? Coffee flavor is that simple to achieve with Nescafé.

There are few desserts as classic as Coffee Jelly served with whipped cream, so we're giving you the recipe for that as well as for Coffee Whip. Don't forget to serve steaming cups of Nescafé with these wonderful desserts.

Coffee Jelly
 (Makes 6 servings)
 1 envelope unflavored gelatine ¼ cup sugar
 ¼ cup cold water 2 cups boiling water
 1 tablespoon Nescafé
 Soften gelatine in cold water. Add Nescafé and sugar. Add boiling water and stir until all ingredients are dissolved and liquid is clear. Pour into mold or into six individual molds. Chill until set.

Coffee Whip
 Follow recipe for Coffee Jelly. Before pouring into mold, chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat with rotary egg beater until frothy. Beat 2 egg whites stiff; fold in. Pour into mold. Chill until set. Garnish with whipped cream and semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Makes 8 servings.

MARYLAND WILDLIFE

Prepared by the MARYLAND GAME & INLAND FISH COMMISSION

OPOSSUM

(Didelphis virginiana. Derivation, "didelphis" from the Greek meaning two wombed, and the Latin "virginianus," meaning of Virginia.)

RANGE: Common in wooded areas of Maryland where dens may be established in hollow trees or stumps and food is convenient.

BREEDING: From 5 to 14 young born 12-13 days after mating; each smaller than honeybee—a tablespoon will hold more than twenty; crawl to brood sac or pouch, where they are nourished and kept for about 6 or 8 weeks, then shift for selves. Breeds at one year. 1-2 litters yearly. Only North American marsupial (mother carries young in pouch.) Life span 8 years.

HABITS: Feigns death when disturbed—this accounts for expression "playing 'possum." Nests in hollow trees; sleeps during day; active throughout year, mostly at night.

MANAGEMENT: Eats most anything; eggs and persimmons favorite food; important part consists of insects of various kinds, ground-nesting birds, mice, moles and young rabbits. Preservation of den trees and hollow logs are important management practices.

VALUE: Enjoyed as food by some persons. Undoubtedly a pest to poultrymen but provides sport for hunters and destroys mice and many insects. Fur of low quality. Important source of food for foxes.

CURRENT EVENTS

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Joshua Koutz and Mrs. Mary Harnish have roofed their dwellings with slate. Very few shingle roofs are now being put on in Taneytown, a fact which adds greatly to the safety of the town.

As was announced last week, Rev. A. B. Fastnacht, D. D., will preach in the Lutheran church on Sunday, and regularly thereafter, taking the place of Rev. P. S. Hooper who left, on Thursday.

Harney—C. F. Shryock, our thresherman, had the misfortune to break the large master wheel of his engine, consequently a trip to Waynesboro for repairs, was necessary. Our farmers are busy making hay, plowing corn and cutting oats. Our Sunday Schools have commenced practice for the union picnic which will be held at the regular time in George I. Shriver's grove.

Pleasant Valley—Master J. Lawyer Leister spent several days in Baltimore this week. Harry Myers, wife and two children spent Saturday evening and Sunday with Mrs. Myers' brother, John Baker, of New Windsor. A beautiful iron fence has been placed along the front of the cemetery which adds greatly to the appearance. Over the entrance is a large arch in which is placed in large white letters, "Pleasant Valley Cemetery 1904." The cost of the fence amounted to $211.00. Edward P. Zepp will give a concert at the Pleasant Valley Sunday School picnic, on July 30, with his new improved talking machine.

Marker's Mill—Wm. Marker and wife gave a harvest treat to some of their neighbors and friends last Saturday evening. Those present were: William H. Marker and wife, Nelson A. Brown and wife, Wm. I. Babylon and wife, Jesse Halter and wife, James L. Unger and wife, Jacob H. Marker and wife, Misses Bessie, Clara and Mary Brown, Grace Wiest, Cora Halter, Miriam and Savilla Unger; Jacob Hahn, Charles Haines, Wm., Charles, Harry and George Brown, and George Smith, of New Windsor.

CARROLL COUNTY CRAFT SHOW

The first outdoor Craft Show ever held in Carroll County will take place from September 10-12 in Westminster.

This unique show, sponsored by Miss Jane Griffin, long a devotee to the arts and folk craft of Carroll County, will feature a variety of native products.

The exhibit will be displayed on the lawns and pavements at 164 W. Main Street, and will include demonstrations of weaving, quilting and toleware painting.

Carroll county has long been noted for its native crafts, but only recently has the excellence of the products begun to attract attention elsewhere in the country. It is hoped that this first outdoor Craft Show will help rank Carroll county crafts with those of the Carolina and Tennessee Smoky Mountain country.

Oldest exhibitor will be Mrs. A. L. Shriver, who at 83 has begun to "paint from memory". Unlike Grandma Moses, she is not a primitive. Her paintings have a "self-learned" technique that compares favorably with work of those academically trained.

The owners of the famed McKinstry Mills, Mildred and Dorothy Zumbrum, descendants of the great American Sculptor, William H. Rinehart, will exhibit and demonstrate their toleware art. Another specializing in this craft will be Mary Cunningham, Westminster, whose Pennsylvania Dutch Toleware creations are said to rank with the best in America.

A young Korean widow, Mrs. Anna M. Miller, of Marbeth Hill, will display work in silk-screening which has won her a growing fame.

In addition, there will be displays of woodwork, ceramics, weaving, knitting, quilting and costume jewelry from Carroll County crafters.

A number of local artists, including Mrs. Allan Moulton, will exhibit their paintings.

The show, which will be an annual affair, was dreamed up by Miss Griffin in the belief that native folk art was being neglected. It is her purpose to encourage and foster the crafts which have, in many instances, been handed down from generation to generation. Inquiries are invited.

In the event of inclement weather the show will take place the following week-end. Visitors will be permitted to purchase examples of the various crafts.

SHORT STORY

Chicken And Dumplings

By Norman Disher

MR. WINKLE had been a bachelor for forty years but his landlady, Mrs. Emily Lumley, widow of two husbands, intended to put an end to it. Her last husband had passed away over a year ago and Emily was beginning to feel the need of companionship. Mr. Winkle was a small, but good looking man, and he had a fine job in the downtown bank. He was what Mrs. Lumley termed, "responsible and secure."

Emily knew Mr. Winkle's ideas on marriage were negative but she intended to remedy that. One morning when she met Mr. Winkle at the bottom of the stairs she started her campaign. He'd just told her about his latest promotion.

"Why Mr. Winkle, that's twice now in three months, I think it's wonderful!"

"Yes it is," Mr. Winkle replied, "but not wholly undeserved. I've introduced several new shortcuts in the system for handling accounts and statements. One must use his head, you know."

"Yes, yes, that's true," Emily answered thinking how nice it would be to have such a confident

"Chicken and dumplings!" he exclaimed. "Wonderful, wonderful!"

man for a husband. Her last two husbands had been small men in their fields. "Why haven't you married? Now that you have such a good position you ought to have a home."

"My dear Mrs. Lumley," Winkle assured her, "I have never in my forty years found a woman capable of fulfilling the virtues of domestic and mental qualities that I admire in womankind. Until then I am content to live alone."

Later in the day when Emily thought about their conversation she decided that she knew a way to ensnare Mr. Winkle. "After all," she remarked to herself, "I've been through this before and there's one sure way of convincing him about married life."

Emily intercepted Mr. Winkle when he returned from work and invited him to have dinner with her on Friday evening. Mr. Winkle readily accepted.

Friday evening Mr. Winkle appeared at Mrs. Lumley's door.

"Come in, come in," Emily beamed at him.

Mr. Winkle entered into a neat, modern living room. He mentally checked his list of domestic virtues on the good side. Dinner was waiting on the table.

"Chicken and dumplings!" he exclaimed. "Wonderful, wonderful!"

They sat down and ate in silence (another good check on the list) while some light dinner music tinkled in from the phonograph in the front room.

"Mrs. Lumley," he rejoiced, "this dinner is exquisite. It's my favorite dish. Wonderful indeed!"

"Well, thank you, Mr. Winkle."

After they had finished their desert and had discussed the banking business, which surprised Mr. Winkle no end since he'd always contended women knew nothing about banking. Mr. Winkle started to leave. It had been over an hour since he'd checked the last item on his mental list and he'd been so overcome by the easy manner of Mrs. Lumley that he'd forgotten to look further. Now it was time to go.

"Thank you, Emily, the dinner was excellent."

"You're quite welcome, Robert. We'll have to do this again soon. Goodnight," Emily smiled.

"Goodnight," Mr. Winkle answered feeling exuberant.

She let him eat out for two weeks and then one evening there came a knock on her door.

"Emily," he practically shouted, "Emily, you must marry me, you just must!"

"Well goodness gracious, you don't have to shout. Of course I will."

"When?"

"As soon as you want."

Emily never did show her husband the book of matches he'd dropped the day she had spoken to him at the bottom of the stairs. The cover advertised:

"Come to THE NEST-CAFE, the best Chicken and Dumplings in Town."

FEESERSBURG

Taneytown is about ready to celebrate its 200th anniversary. For several months almost the entire population of this historic town has been preparing for this momentous event which will begin July 25th with vesper service in the town's Memorial Park. Each day and evening thereafter, some feature will take place including a fashion show, and a pageant depicting in fifteen scenes the history of Taneytown. The climax of the celebration will take place Saturday at 4 p. m. with a huge parade. The citizens have spared neither time, talent or expense to make this project a worthwhile event to attend. Many thousands of visitors are expected and plans have been perfected to see that each visitor is well taken care of in regards to eats and comfort. Chairs will be placed along the line of the parade and will be rented at a small fee. This thoughtful bit of planning has already received favorable comment from an out of state visitor. In fact he was so impressed with the idea that he wired his city about it and this fall they will adopt the same plan at their centennial. Nothing has been overlooked to make the portrayal of the historic figures in the pageant realistic even to growing ten inch beards. About two dozen men have taken on this task and with the hot weather to contend with they are to be congratulated upon their endurance for history's sake. Their wives are also to be commended for putting up with something out of a history book for so many weeks.

Rumor has it that Arthur Godfrey will not return to the air this fall. This will make a great many people sad but a few quite glad. There comes a time when even the most talented must say "Goodbye, folks." "Maybe Godfrey figures that it is time he spoke those three little words."

Miss Barbara King is recovering from a tonsilectomy operation which was performed at the Gettysburg Hospital last week. Her only complaint is that her throat is sore, but up to now the doctors have found no way to perform an operation without some discomfort to the patient. Give them time though, and they will.

It makes little difference to a woman how hot the weather may be if she is determined to journey to the city to buy new clothes, she will go even if the thermometer reads one hundred. Why must a woman have a new dress or hat on a certain day and if she doesn't get it she is miserable and so is her whole family—she sees to that. A man never seems to care if he has to wear the same suit year after year or even generation after generation. In fact some men have to be threatened with everything from a visit from their mother-in-law to getting their own meals before they will part with an old suit for a new one. What a new outfit can do to the morale of a woman will always remain a mystery to most males.

The Farm bill is still being kicked around in Washington. If the farmers and the consumers had to wait for a meal until congress made up its mind to do something everyone would have starved to death long ago. There is just one question that I would like to have answered intelligently and it is this—Why are subsidies so harmful for farmers and small business and yet for big business they work so nicely?

Something different: "Car sickness" is the feeling you get every morning when the payment falls due. The years a woman subtracts from her age are not lost—they are added to the age of some other woman.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Strickler and daughter, Marlin, of Baltimore, were Sunday visitors at Merry Knoll. A new picture window has been added to the front of Grovedale, home of Mrs. Lowell Birely and Blaine Broadwaters. It is very attractive and adds a great deal to the lovely old house.

Each time the government tries to help the American people ease the cost of being sick the American Medical Association cries "Socialized Medicine". Last week the President's reinsurance bill was defeated and in no way could this bill be labeled socialized medicine. The defeat of this bill will certainly not help the medical profession. It will only rob the American people of much needed medical care, and in the end hasten the day when some form of socialized medicine will be demanded by the millions of Americans that cannot afford to pay the present doctor's fees and hospital bills, without the help of insurance. There are some doctors already aware that the burden of being ill for long is more than the average family can weather without health insurance. Just recently a friend paid out 25 hundred dollars for hospital and doctor's fees for a three weeks illness. He had two kinds of insurance, but the two together only paid about half the bill. The medical profession being composed of better than average intelligent people certainly should have more to offer the American people than the cry of "Socialized Medicine" every time some constructive plan is offered by the government.

The Women's Democratic Club of Carroll County held a picnic at Pipe Creek Park Wednesday evening. It was a social get-together—no politics.

Two new fads are slowly emerging on the scene. Women have started to smoke pipes due to all the talk about cigarettes causing lung cancer and men are donning shorts for street wear. I can't make up my mind which I like the least. Women smoking pipes! As Indian would say—ugh! Men wearing shorts on the street! As a full blooded American woman I would say—sissy.

Have you seen the Little League and Babe Ruth ball teams of Union Bridge in action. If not, you should for they are as interesting as a big league team. These two teams have given the community a much needed interest, and the young boys a healthy form of recreation. The officers of these two teams have endeavored to stress sportsmanship instead of winning and have laid down seven basic rules. For the benefit of the public we are listing them here: Develop a strong, clean, healthy body, mind and soul. Develop a strong urge for sportsman-like conduct. Develop understanding of and respect for the rules. Develop courage in defeat, tolerance and modesty in victory. Develop control over emotions and speech. Develop spirit of cooperation and team play. Develop into real, true Americans. These are the rules which govern the Little League and Babe Ruth ball teams. They are good rules for everyone to follow—the spectators as well as the boys who play on the teams. By obeying them everyone concerned will enjoy the game to the fullest extent.—Ruth Roelke.

AVERITTE — DEVILBISS

Miss Marlene Snyder Devilbiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis B. Devilbiss, of Union Bridge, Md., became the bride of Mr. Clarence McCayden Averitte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tew, of Fayetteville, North Carolina, in a double ring lawn ceremony, Sunday, July 18, 1954, at 2:00 p. m., at Hobson Grove, Taneytown, Md.

A white trellis, entwined with ivy and pink and white roses, with a prayer bench inside, formed the altar on the lawn of the bride's parents' summer home. Palms and baskets of pink and white roses banked the trellis. The seats were marked with white satin ribbons with nosegays of roses attached. "At Dawning" and the traditional wedding march were furnished by recordings.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore a street length coat dress of imported Venice lace over a shark skin sheath, with tiny self-covered buttons, a boat neckline, and cap sleeves. Her picture hat was made of the same material as her dress, and her shoes were white linen opera pumps. A single strand of pearls belonging to the bride's mother was her only jewelry. Her arm bouquet was of white roses with a white orchid corsage in the center and long white ribbon pom-pom decorated streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Jerry Pauley of Charleston, W. Va., a friend of the bride, wore a street length dress of lavender antique taffeta. The dress had a V shape halter neckline and an empire-styled bodice ending in a flared skirt. She wore matching shoes and picture hat of horse hair with matching ribbon and carried a bouquet of yellow roses on a heart-shaped background of white nylon tulle which was designed by the bride.

Bridesmaids were Miss Hazel Tew, of Fayetteville, N. C., sister of the groom, Miss Elaine Knox, of Union Bridge, Md., and Miss Mary Harper, of Naples, N. Y.

All of the dresses were street-length designed of antique taffeta and had halter neck with inset scallops, and empire bodices ending in flared skirts. Miss Tew was attired in peacock brown, Miss Knox wore gold and Miss Harper wore peacock blue. All wore white picture hats of horsehair braid with matching ribbons and shoes. Their bouquets were of yellow roses and made on the same heart design as the maid of honor.

Kenneth Downes, of Thurmont, Md., friend of the groom, served as best man.

Ushers were: Leslie Cheeks, of West Chester, Pa., Billy Creech, West Chester, Pa., and Otis B. Devilbiss, Jr., of Union Bridge, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the scene of the wedding.

For traveling to the Poconos Mountains the bride chose a beige dress of embroidered Irish linen with green accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon the return from their trip the couple will reside near West Chester, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of Sullins College, Bristol, Va. and attended Syracuse University majoring in home economics. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. The groom is a Korean veteran and is employed by the Nello L. Teer Construction Company, presently employed near West Chester, Pa.

Out-of-town guests were present from Baltimore, Westminster, Annapolis, Frederick, Gettysburg, Hanover, Walkersville, West Chester, Pa., York, Fayetteville, N. C., and Thurmont, Md.

SOUTHERN STATES COOPERATIVE WILL HOLD MEETING

Members of the Southern States Taneytown Advisory Board and the Southern States Farm Home Advisory committee, their wives, and husbands will meet July 29, at 7 p. m. DST in Taney Inn, Taneytown, to make plans for their local 1954 Southern States Cooperative annual membership meeting and to nominate persons to fill vacancies occurring this year on the Board and Advisory committees. Elections will take place at the membership meeting to be held later this year. One of the questions to be decided at this session will be whether or not to hold farm talent round up contest as the highlight of the annual meeting. If such a contest is held, the winner will have the opportunity to appear in a district elimination contest to be held later this fall. District eliminations will be judged by a member of Ted Mack's Original Amateur hour staff from New York.

Members of the local advisory board are Fred Waybright, chairman; Luther Angell, David Hess, Allen Bollinger and Otis Shoemaker all of Taneytown, Jesse Slick, Littlestown, Pa.

Members of the Farm Home Advisory committee are Mrs. E. P. Shriver, chairman; Mrs. Marlin Six, Mrs. Allen Bollinger, and Mrs. David Hess, all of Taneytown; Mrs. Mervin Benner, and Mrs. Allen Walker, both of Gettysburg, Pa.

Charles A. Miller, Manager of Miller's General Store, local Southern States Agency and J. A. Silver, Southern States District Manager, will also attend the meeting.

DIED

VICTOR H. ZEPP

Victor H. Zepp, 72, of 15 Chase Street, Westminster, died Saturday in Washington Sanatorium, Takoma Park, Md., after an illness of three weeks. He was retired government employee in Washington. He was the son of the late Thomas and Elizabeth Devilbiss Zepp.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Frances Buffington Zepp and the following brothers and sisters: Arthur C. Spokane, Wash.; James F. Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Nettie G. Grumbine and Mrs. Leeds K. Billingslea, both of Westminster.

MRS. CHARLES E. BOWERS

Mrs. Maggie K. Bowers, 86, widow of Charles E. Bowers, 58 Liberty St., Westminster, died at 3:05 a. m. Wednesday at the Hanover General Hospital where she had been admitted last Friday for treatment of a fractured hip received in a fall earlier in the day. She was a daughter of the late Peter and Katherine Houck Fowle and a member of Grace Lutheran Church, Westminster. Her husband preceded her in death 8 years ago. Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. A. Clarence Manger, Mrs. Frank Crouse and Mrs. William Crabbs, all of Westminster, and Mrs. Edward Morelock, Taneytown; nine grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Noah Miller, Westminster. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m., tomorrow (Friday) at the J. E. Myers, Jr. funeral home, Westminster. Her pastor, the Rev. Dr. Elwood S. Falkenstein, will officiate. Burial will be in Kreidler's Church Cemetery.

BOYD—In loving memory of my dear sister, ALICE MAY, who passed away one year ago, July 25, 1953.

One year has passed since that sad day
The one we loved was called away
God took her home it was his will
But in our hearts she liveth still.

Just a line of fond remembrance
Just a memory, fond and true
Just a token of loves devotion
That our hearts still longs for you.

Her sister,

MRS. WILLIAM M. ANDERS

and niece, BEULAH R. ANDERS.

IN MEMORIAM

BOYD—In loving memory of my dear Sister MAY, who passed away one year ago, July 25, 1953.

Deep in my life is a lonely spot
Your bright face used to fill
But nothing can move your memory,
That shines there and always will.

Loving Sister ANNIE DEBERRY
Bro-in-law, HARRY DEBERRY.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

school year 1954-55 and approved contracts for transportation with a number of bus operators.

The appointment of Henry Kanowicz, high school teacher in the Mt. Airy School, to the principalship of the Elmer Wolfe High and Elementary School was approved. The Board also approved the appointment of Andrew W. Mason, teacher in the Westminster High School, to the position of principal in the Taneytown High School. Mr. Kanowicz is a graduate of Mt. St. Mary's College and has done graduate study in administration toward supervision at Bucknell University, and Johns Hopkins University. Mr. Mason is a graduate of the University of Richmond and has done graduate work in this institution as well as the University of Wisconsin, Dale Carnegie Institute, and Western Maryland College.

Bids were opened during the Board meeting at 11 a. m. on the proposed building of the North Carroll High school to be located near Greenmount and to serve the Manchester-Hampstead School Districts. Bids on general contract were as follows: Edward E. Stuller, Taneytown, $395,955.00; O. H. Hostetter, Hanover, $398,835.00; Chesapeake Contractors, Inc., Baltimore, $420,677.00; Allen F. Feiser, Taneytown, $436,277.00. Bids on electrical contract were as follows: J. E. Shaeffer, Reisterstown, $34,000.00; Emory Dull, Greenmount, $35,692.11; Mid-Town Electric Co., Taneytown, $47,539.00; Swan Electric Co., Hanover, $41,000.00; H. N. Bange, Hanover, $45,790.00. Plumbing and heating contractors submitting bids as follows: Westminster Hardware Co., Westminster, $82,324; J. H. Allender Sons & Co., Hampstead, $83,784.00; Manchester Hardware Co., Manchester, $89,640.00; George L. Harner, Taneytown, $83,989.00; Charles T. King Co., Inc., Baltimore, $90,392.00; Fridinger & Co., Hagerstown, $99,200.00; Poole & Kent Co., Baltimore, $96,774.00; Geo. H. Schuman Co., Inc., Baltimore, $117,940.00. After consideration of the bids submitted it was directed that negotiations proceed for assurance that sufficient funds would be available to complete the contract and that if satisfactory arrangements can be made the Board will hold a special meeting for the purpose of approving contracts. It is hoped that such negotiations can be expedited and that work can proceed on the building without too great delay. It was directed that a special meeting of the Board be held as becomes necessary to make decision regarding this contract.

The Board was given information regarding progress on the Freedom District School building and on the maintenance work which is being done in the county schools during the summer months.

The Board adjourned at 12:30 p. m. Members of the Board of Education at this time are: Paul Niswander, Union Bridge, President; Clyde L. Hesson, Vice-President, Sykesville; Mrs. DeVries R. Herine, Sykesville; Mrs. Charles Bankert, Hampstead; Albert Lawyer Silver Run; and Elmer E. Pfoutz, Westminster.

HARNEY 4-H EMERGENCY MEETING

On the evening of July 14, 1954, a special meeting was held at Robert and Lee Rock's home. This meeting was called to take care of a small item that came up—the Carroll County 4-H Fair, to be held on July 20, 21, 22 at Westminster.

After some deep thinking and constant nagging, the names of the boys going to the fair were put on paper. The boys giving demonstrations at the fair are as follows: Lee Rock and Ted Williams will try their luck on "threading pipe"; Clyde Weant will blast away on his topic of "Welding"; Walter Plank and Merle "carrot top" Weant will do a few tricks on "rope splicing"; Robert Rock and Jack Mooney will go back to the good old days of tractor maintenance, and "adjust the front wheel bearings of a tractor."

The boys taking animals to the fair to show are: Merl Weant will show his Guernsey heifer; Clyde Weant, Jack Mooney, Earl Angell and Albert Angell will each show Swine; John Mooney, Gene Angell and Earl Angell will show rabbits; Albert Angell will show poultry; Earl Angell will also show ducks.

The club will have its "Club Scrap Book" entered in the fair also.

The next meeting will be held on July 27th.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Professional Tips
Aid in Decorating
Your Dining Room

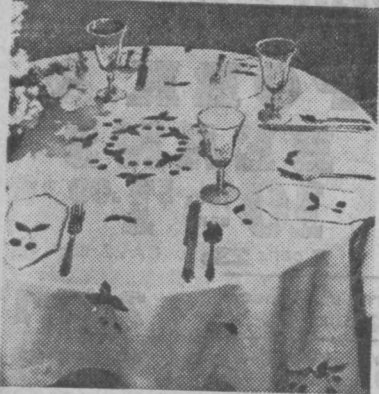

WHEN you use the pointers which professional decorators employ in doing your dining room, then your room will look better and give you more of the satisfied feeling that comes from pleasing decor.

Light is essential in the dining room because you want to keep a sunshiny feeling in the room. If, for example, your windows number several, but are rather long and tall divided by a minimum amount of wall space, then do curtain or drapery them as a single window. If these are to be drawn at night, then the effect will be pleasing, too.

The type of material to be used depends on the room and its location. You may want a cheerful drapery to hang at the sides while sheer material is used for the larger window area. Perhaps the sheer material will be sufficient.

Have Full Curtains

You may use organdie, the synthetic fabrics, net, marquisette or sheer rayon glass; curtains. Whatever the material, and no matter how inexpensive, have the curtains as full as possible to add a luxurious note to the room.

New decorative stitching techniques now being demonstrated at sewing centers lend themselves to table linens. Here is a handsome setting with embroidered clusters of cherries and leaves done with a spiral stitch on the sewing machine without the use of attachments.

In formal rooms, the curtains can fall to the floor, just barely to touch it. In informal rooms, hang them against the glass and just escape the window sill. On shallow windows they just cover the sill or frame.

Patterned Carpet

Dining rooms do wonderfully with a patterned carpet since they do not show crumbs, usage or pots as readily as plain carpeting. Other good choices for the dining room are self tone weaves, twisted weaves and the two and three-tone homespun weaves.

If you have scatter rugs in the dining room, make certain they're safe for plenty of walking. You can anchor them with materials to prevent slipping, and this is a safety precaution which it's wise to take.

Sideboard Reveals Style

What to put on the sideboard? Place something there which is in keeping with the style of the room, be it Colonial, Early American, Modern or whatever period decor you use in the room.

The sideboard should never be cluttered. Limit it to a few items like a pair of candlesticks and a fruit bowl, an interesting piece of pottery for modern rooms or a silver bowl and candlesticks in an 18th century room.

Chocolate Cake
Made Quickly

If you've looked for an easy recipe for chocolate cake when you want one on a moment's notice, then here's the recipe for which you've been searching.

There's no chocolate to melt because the cake uses cocoa, sweet milk rather than the soured variety. Furthermore, to make it simplicity itself, you can ice with powdered or confectioners' sugar lifted over a lace doily.

Easy Chocolate Cake
(Serves 9-16)

1½ cups sifted cake flour
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
6 tablespoons cocoa
¾ cup shortening
¾ cup milk
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup chopped pecans

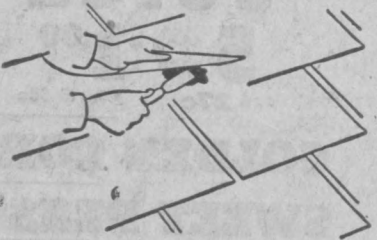

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and cocoa. Stir shortening and about one-half cup milk, until mixture is smooth. Add eggs and remaining milk. At well. Add vanilla extract and chopped pecans. Pour batter into 11-greased heat-resistant square cake dish, 8-inch size.

Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for about 40 minutes. Let cake cool. For an attractive top, lay a lace-paper doily lightly on cake. Sprinkle confectioners' sugar over top of doily, then remove doily carefully so design is left on cake.

HOME OWNERS
QUESTION BOX

Q—I recently bought, and am remodeling, an old house in the country, where there is little natural protection from the wind. The house needs to be reroofed, and what can I do to make the roofing material more wind-resistant?

A—Proper application is the only way to protect roofing against high winds. For farm homes and other buildings in high wind areas, cementing down of asphalt shingle tabs with quick-setting asphalt cement is recommended. Also suggested are interlocking asphalt shingles, which are made to lock together tightly. Every shingle is held down by the shingles on both sides of it as well as by nails.

Q—How can I repair a crack in a garden pool made of concrete?

A—The crack can be filled with a mixture of one part of portland cement and three parts of sand with enough water to make a stiff paste. Clean out the crack and undercut the sides so that they slope in toward the top.

Q—Is there a way to keep nailheads from showing through a thin coat of plaster?

A—Yes. Nailheads show because rust forms on them, and the trick is to prevent the rusting. To do this, coat the nailheads with shellac and let it dry before plastering the wall.

Q—How can grass be kept from growing between stones in a flagstone terrace?

A—Make a strong solution of rock salt in water and wet the earth between stones. The liquid can be poured from a can or a pitcher or sprinkled from a watering can.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the Almighty God and Heavenly Father of us all has so richly blessed and preserved us, and

The faith of our Lord Jesus Christ has played such a vital role in the establishment and growth of the neighborhood life of our citizenry, and

Whereas the industry of agricultural pursuit has especially progressed and prospered in this very fertile and rich soil-area of America, and

Our community is the oldest village in Carroll County, and Our forefathers who originally settled in this area sacrificed greatly and we have merely entered upon the fruits of their labors, and

Whereas General Meade did at his headquarters in our community make his plans to head off Lee's Army, which plans were the final ones to fight the battle of Gettysburg, and

Our community has in the past two centuries contributed its share of men and women to fight the wars of time, many of whom never returned to their native town, and

Whereas our citizenry has kept pace with the mechanical progress and the material advancement of times, and

The inhabitants of our town have faithfully borne their responsibilities in all the humanitarian and benevolent causes, and

Whereas we can go forward only by correcting the errors and mistakes of the past, and

Whereas the present generation and the future descendants must build upon the firm foundation laid by the ancestry of the yester-years,

Therefore, I Raymond J. Perry, Mayor of Taneytown, do hereby proclaim the period of July 25 to July 31 as Bi-centennial Celebration Week in Taneytown and urge every individual citizen and establishment of business and corporation of industry to co-operate in this demonstration of our memory and respect of those who have blazed the trail and of our loyalty and allegiance to our neighborly community, that we may be possessed with a strong heart and a fearless hope in a disrupted world.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of Taneytown to be affixed this 13th day of July in the year of our Lord, 1954.

RAYMOND J. PERRY, Mayor.

PURINA BULKY LAS

When pastures wilt in the summer heat, Most Dairy Cows don't want to eat.

But here's an answer, plain as day, Feed those cows the PURINA WAY.

When hot sun burns away the grass, That's the time for BULKY LAS.

It's a great big bag of bulky feed, With all the things that your cow needs

MOLASSES makes it taste just right, Your cows will clean it up on sight.

Don't let your summer profits pass, JUST FEED YOUR COWS on BULKY LAS.

GET MORE MILK FROM PASTURE

In hot weather, pastures dry up. There's less feed to eat. And cows stay in the shade and switch flies instead of grazing. Then it's time for the bulky, tasty pasture supplement,

PURINA BULKY-LAS.

Feed it on top of regular grain ration. Costs no more per bushel than good oats... but it does wonders to keep up cow condition and milk.

Growing by Prayer

Lesson for July 25, 1954

IT IS TRUE that we can grow spiritually through prayer; but it is not true that we can grow by just any prayers. Out in Tibet and other parts of the Orient they have these prayer-wheels or prayer flags. A prayer has been inscribed on the wheel or the flag, and every time the flag flaps in the breeze, or every time the wheel turns over, the prayer is supposed to rise. Is a Tibetan who puts out one of those things the most spiritually mature person in any religion? Of course he is not. Jesus told a story about a Pharisee and a tax-collector, both of whom prayed in the same temple to the same God. But the tax-collector grew by his prayer, while the Pharisee certainly did not. When God said to the Israelites, "Though you make many prayers I will not listen," they were surely not growing by the prayers they had made.

Be Still and Wait

The trouble is that so many prayers are just variations on the one theme, "Gimme." They are selfish through and through, and selfishness never fails to shrink the soul. Then some people in praying do all the talking and never listen to see if God is saying anything to them. "They that wait on the Lord shall renew their strength," the prophet says,—not those who talk loudest and longest. "Be still and know" is as true as it ever was. For the laws of prayer have not changed since man and God first spoke with each other. The prayer by which we grow is not just a one-way thing, a kind of telephone line on which we have only a transmitter and God only a receiver. There is such a thing as being too noisy with our desires and demands.

'In Everything...

There is another side to this. We ought never to feel shy about asking God's help at any time. Paul says to his friends at Philippi, no doubt from his own experience, "have no anxiety about anything, but in everything . . . let your requests be made known to God." Paul knew very well that God does not say "Yes" to all our requests. He was in jail at the time he wrote those words. Is it likely he had never prayed to get out? We do know that before this time he had prayed to God earnestly to have a "thorn in the flesh" removed. We do not know what that "thorn" was, perhaps a pain or a disease that could not be cured. Perhaps Paul hoped for some miracle to cure him. But God did not send the miracle; he sent something much better. Paul learned that God's strength is made perfect in weakness, something he would not have known had he not been weak. So while we have every right to offer God our desires in prayer, we have to remember that he knows what is best, and not we ourselves.

'The Throne of Grace'

In conversation, one of the best simple rules is: "Remember to whom you are speaking." This is just as true when we are talking with God as when we are talking with other people. That great phrase in Hebrews, the "throne of grace," expresses two vital truths. One is that our prayers are going to a Throne. God is the sovereign of this universe; his throne is Power itself. There is nothing too hard for the God of the Throne. It is a throne of judgment too; and God knows very well whether we ought to have our prayers answered the way we want them, or not. We have access through Christ to come before God with boldness; but it is to a throne we come, and we must not forget that. We can never dictate to the throne. But it is the throne of Grace. More than mere power sits in control of all things. The true God is a God of love and grace and mercy. "He knoweth our frame, he remembereth that we are dust." God is actually more interested in our welfare than we are in our own. God is more eager to help us than we are to be helped. Our prayers do not so much change God's mind and induce him to do something for us, as they release the divine purpose on our behalf. This is why it is so important to grow, as Christians, into the stature of Christ; for only as we grow Christlike can we become aware of what God's gracious will is, and so be able to pray as Christ himself would pray.

OUR DAILY BREAD

PSALM 2 (Standard Revised Version)
Nations still conspire and peoples still plot against one another. Kings are bent on their ways and rulers form alliances to break the bonds of democratic nations and of peoples who believe in man's freedom. The democratic nations recognize the divinity in man and wish to give him his rightful place in the world, and appreciate a sense of justice for all man-kind.

The opposition of feeble-man—even when strengthened by organization and alliances—against the Creator, occasions laughter on the part of Him who sits and is established in the heavens. The Lord of the universe holds all their resistance against Him and His Kingdom in contempt, and His enemies in derision.

After a season of laughter at the feeble efforts of man to break the cords that bind the creature to the Creator, the Lord speaks in a more serious voice, and makes known to His opponents how exalted He is.

To the potentates of earth, He says: "I have set my king on Zion, my holy hill."

Then follows the decree of the Lord: He said to me, "You are my son, today I have begotten you."

Ask of me, and I will make the nations your heritage, and the ends of the earth your possession.

You shall break them with a rod of iron, and dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel."

"Begotten you" in that I have given you all authority in heaven and on earth.

In their conspiracies and plots, rulers of the world feed their ego. God permits men, for a little time, to toy with His plan and purpose in the universe that mankind may come to learn or to discover what the Divine plan and purpose are. There are potentates who like to make themselves believe that they are monarchs of all they survey. Such a spirit and philosophy lead to imperialism, war, and bloodshed. That is the attitude that tends to shake a muffled fist in the face of rulers of more peaceful nations.

The Lord is the rightful ruler of the universe. His will is to be done. His is a universal justice. He rules with a strong arm. Man's function is to discover and to execute the will of God. Part of the decree of the Lord to His son was:

"You shall break them with a rod of iron, and dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel."

Now, that the Divine Lord has given assurance that He is the King of kings and Lord of lords. He calls upon earthly kings and rulers to set themselves straight in respect to their relationship to Him and the affairs of the universe:

"Now therefore, O kings, be wise; Be warned, O rulers of the earth. Serve the Lord with fear,

With trembling kiss his feet".

As a consolation for him who might believe that He is a harsh, unmerciful God, the Psalmist concludes by saying:

"Blessed are all who take refuge in him".

The end is not as bad as the way might suggest. The goal is worth every step taken to reach it. There is day between sunrise and sunset. Darkness belongs to them who have no sun in their sky.

Title I Loans Near Record

During the first eight months of 1953, the Federal Housing Administration insured more than $735,000,000 worth of property improvement loans, making certain that the year will be the biggest ever for the Title I program.

The eight-month total is already larger than any other full year except 1952, and the 1952 figure of $848,000,000 is expected to be exceeded by the time October loans have been compiled.

Under the Title I program, a home-owner borrows money from a bank or other private lending institution and the government insures repayment. No down payment is necessary for such improvements as reroofing a home with asphalt shingles.

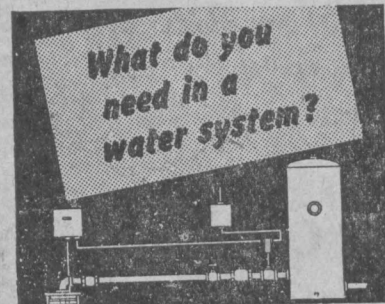

Repayment of a loan can be spread over a three-year period. The maximum amount the FHA will insure is $2,500.

Renew Linoleum With Floor Enamel

Old linoleum can be given a fresh look by painting it with floor enamel.

Before applying the enamel, scrub the linoleum to make sure it is free of all dirt and wax. The enamel will not adhere to a waxy spot.

After the base coat of brush-applied enamel has dried, the floor can be stippled with a special stippling sponge. This gives a marbled effect that will not show dirt marks as readily as a solid color will.

SUMO SUBMERSIBLES WILL DO A BETTER JOB AT LESS COST!

We Can Know the Way

AS HE ate the Passover with his disciples on the eve of the crucifixion, Christ Jesus told them (John 14:4), "Whither I go ye know, and the way ye know." Thomas protested that they did not know where he was going, and asked how they could know the way. Jesus replied, "I am the way, the truth, and the life."

It was his understanding of God and of man's relationship to Him that enabled Christ Jesus to perform what appeared to human eyes as marvelous works. Actually he saw perfection as the normal state of man. He recognized an infinitely intelligent creator and man as His manifestation or expression. Jesus acknowledged no power or presence apart from all-harmonious, self-existent Spirit and its manifestation, man, expressing the dominion, peace, poise, wisdom, joy, and freedom of his source.

Of this recognition Mary Baker Eddy writes in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures (pp. 476-477): "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick."

Three days after the crucifixion two of Jesus' disciples were on their way to Emmaus, a small town not far from Jerusalem. As they walked along talking sadly of all that had happened in the city, they were joined by a stranger who asked the cause of their sorrow. Upon hearing their account of the crucifixion he began to expound the Scriptures to them, reminding them of Scriptural prophecy and fulfillment and chiding them gently for their unbelief in the prophecies concerning Christ. When he was about to leave them they urged him to remain at the village with them for the night. While they were eating the evening meal the stranger took the bread, blessed and broke it, and handed it to them. Then the disciples recognized Jesus, and with this joyful recognition the Master's loving mission was accomplished. As a personal leader he disappeared from their midst to reappear to the other disciples gathered at Jerusalem with the same comforting proof of indestructible individuality.

As we recognize the Christ as ever present and indestructible, we shall discern and demonstrate the truth of being. We too may share the bread of Life, the substance of imperishable spiritual truth, with our fellow men—never with motives of self-aggrandizement, self-interest, or selfish demands, but ever with the desire to spread abroad the joy of spiritual living and communion with God.

We learn the way as the false sense of self with its wants and its will, its won'ts and its can'ts, is silenced and is replaced with spiritual listening and obedience. Christ Jesus said (John 8:26), "He that sent me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Henry's First

As spring plowing gets underway on farms across the nation, none of the more than 4 million farm tractors in use will resemble this one. Henry Ford's first farm tractor, built in 1907, long since has been retired to a place of honor in the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich. The 24-horsepower vehicle, which Mr. Ford called his "Automobile Plow," sports an engine with copper water jackets. Its rear wheels were taken from a binder. Despite its early vintage, it still runs.
