"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

To the Motorist!—By Request.

GOD RIDES WITH ME!

When I drive, I am ever watchful where children play (A nephew of mine was killed in Philadelphia one day) And as the car glides along, I pray That He will direct me every foot of the way! That He will give me wisdom with my hands upon the wheel When I am doing fifty or when I stand still!

I thank God each mile for all the beauty so rare Which many drivers honestly do not share!

And then I wonder at those racing by How much wiser it would be if they would try, To see much of God's beauty while they can And protect a child if he suddenly ran!

As I cover the distance to and fro And arrive back to the Garage and so

I thank Him again for my safe trip because I know, I have obeyed the signs driven carefully and wisely slow!

I then add thankfulness for the years of auto accident free! I am confident through traffic with faith because— He sits beside me!

Irene DeLeon Love.

Don't be a bumper hugger! If another motorist desires to drive by, it may be some kind of an emergency—give him the full road! If a taxi driver blows the horn to pass let him have it for it may be "a blessed event" to the hospital! When you see a child, a dog or a cat on the sidewalk or somewhere near your car—slow down immediately having your foot against the foot brake in case you have to use it for you may have to stop immediately for he or she to make up their mind as to what they may suddenly decide to do. Be most careful of the aged and all children as they have no fear of danger and are much alike in thoughts! If you drink—don't drive and if you drive don't drink! Don't ever start on the yellow light for the other driver on the cross street may do the same thing—then bang! Don't light a cigarette while driving—it is best to pull to the curb and stop! Do not drive with three in the front seat regardless of the width of the seat as every driver needs plenty of arm and foot room! When in doubt any time stop and pull over to the curb and last of all but not least, never drive if you have not had sufficient "shut eye" or if you are tired!

So long, folks. See you next week over the Blue Ridge Mountains! Until then D. V. I am,

Faithfully,

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1954

IF YOU CAN VOTE—DO IT!

The 1954 election campaign for the control of Congress is becoming rather hysterical—so far as the politicians are concerned. But, somehow, their public is yawning. Even Secretary Wilson's bird-dogs and kennel—dogs provided but a temporary diversion. The over-riding issue is Communism, and neither party is in any position to face it.

We have it on the authority of many of the most reliable investigators that while President Eisenhower has lost some glamour since this time two years ago, his personal popularity remains amazingly high. Those who have been disappointed at his Administration, the surveys indicate, absolve the President and blame his "advisors" or the "palace guard" or "those politicians". Mr. Eisenhower, it seems, is never regarded as a "politician."

Thus the President is expected to provide what the GOP hopes will be a whirlwind finish to the campaign. Present plans include a speech in Hartford, Conn., and attendance at an outdoor birthday party for Connecticut's Governor John Davis Lodge. He will speak again in New York the same night and the following night, and, the Republican planners hope, attend a rally in New York, or Brooklyn, or both. The speeches, Vice President Nixon says, will be "non-political". It happens, however, that they will just precede Adlai Stevenson's three-day speech-making siege of New York.

Next, President Eisenhower will entertain Pennsylvania's Republican candidates at his Gettysburg farm, and in the next day or two, will make a frankly political speech, probably in the Washington area. The President will begin the final week of the campaign with an address at the dinner of the National Security Industrial Association in Washington, and on November 1st, election eve, he will make his final appeal for a Republican Congress via radio and television, and from the White House.

How much can be accomplished by this sudden and belated activity is circumscribed by the hard fact that registration will have long since ended. But it is hoped that those who have registered will follow through and vote. And the lighter the Registration, the more vital this becomes. It is for more important to keep the Republican Party alive than for it to win this election. At a time when the two parties are finding it difficult to present any basic, clear-cut differences in philosophy, a light or token Republican vote would give a tremendous push to a one-party movement.

In some ways, one party makes life simpler. As every Russian knows, you only have to vote "yes".—U. S. Press Association.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

George C. Naylor, of Ladiesburg, bought the F. M. Yount property, on Wednesday, for $2600. It is said that Mr. Naylor will engage in business of some kind on April 1st.

The bored well at the pumping station appears to be perfectly satisfactory. At a depth of 102 feet it tests 40 gallons a minute without lowering the water, and 45 gallons with but a slight effect. It is probable that another well will be bored in order to still further increase the supply. Whether the water is soft or hard has not yet been demonstrated.

The Editor of the Record is indebted to S. C. Reaver, Postmaster, for a handsome souvenir paper weight from Niagara Falls, secured while on his wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Reaver returned to Taneytown on Monday evening, and are to home to their many friends.

Jacob Buffington is building two double dwellings on Fairview Avenue, instead of one. That section of town is coming to the front, and in a few years will be one of the nicest residence streets in the town.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Shoemaker left on Monday evening, on a fifteen day's trip to the World's Fair.

George W. Motter has bought back his huckster route from E. F. Smith, and will again engage in the old business.

Judge Thomas drew the jurors for the November term of the Circuit Court for Carroll County, on Thursday. The list is as follows: Taneytown—George A. Mehring, Albert M. Reese, John V. Eckenrode, Geo. R. Sauble. Uniontown—John F. Utermahlen, Michael B. Myerly, David H. Hahn, William P. Englar.

HARNEY—Most of our people are husking corn by the bushel this year; that, we think, is the fairest way to husk. Quite a number are averaging their 100 bushel per day.—Master Luther Valentine beat the record, for a small child; he husked 48 bushels from morning until 3 o'clock not counting short corn. His father thinking that he would overwork himself, persuaded him against his will, to quit.—Samuel D. Snider, one of our popular farmers of Frederick county, spent three days attending the Frederick Fair and visiting his friends.—Geo. Koontz and family visited about Frederick; they also attended the fair.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction

...with Trigger-Torque performance

No matter what you have come to expect in a car, you'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top . . . and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned . . . power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up . . . by power, if you like. There is a tachometer . . . and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. The baggage compartment is ample. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. For here is a car you can drive with assurance and pleasure . . . for business or for recreation.

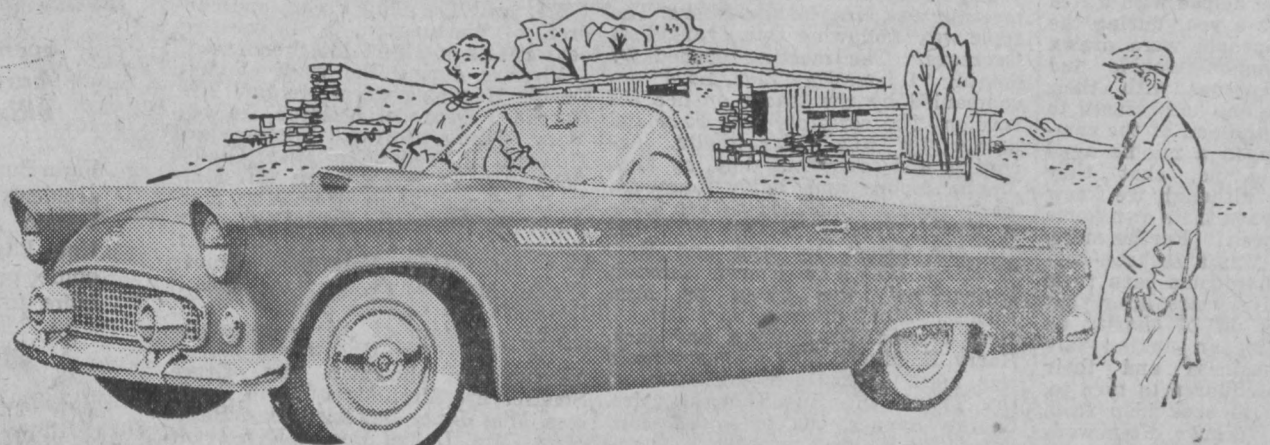

In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response . . . fleet, liquid agility . . . backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand.

Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And to enhance the performance characteristics of this brilliant V-8 engine, the Thunderbird provides special rear axle ratios to match the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Then, in the ride department, Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension really works wonders. It not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability. And when it comes to stopping, brakes are big and powerful.

But, more important is the way the Thunderbird is engineered, designed . . . and built! For it is the product of the same advanced engineering . . . the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

FEESERSBURG

Until last Friday we had often wondered what it would be like to experience a hurricane, but since "Hazel" flitted with Carroll County and the entire Eastern seaboard last week-end we no longer have to imagine what a hurricane is like—we now know. We knew by Thursday evening that Hazel would be a week-end visitor somewhere in Maryland, but just where we did not learn until early Friday morning. Due to the efficient radio service everyone knew where the hurricane was centered from the time she hit the Carolinas until she wore herself out in Canada. We did what we could here on the farm to anchor everything down, but there is a limit to what anyone can do except hope for the best and expect the worst. About ten Friday morning the electricity went off, which threw us into a mild panic. It didn't seem to be much of a storm at that time and we thought if its bad enough to take the power lines down now, what will it be like at 8 p. m. when the eye of the storm was supposed to strike Maryland. Our panic was short lived for in about fifteen minutes the current came back on and stayed on even during the height of Hazel's fury. At five in the afternoon Hazel was really swishing her skirts at Carroll County. The trees on the lawn were bending at a 40 degree angle and our prized Concolor was resisting with all its power and twisting gusts, but it seemed that at any moment Hazel would have her way and our beautiful tree would be gone with the wind. But like a woman, Hazel gave up when victory was within her grasp, and at 6 p. m. a lull came in the wind, and when we went outside the wind had shifted to the northwest and the temperature had dropped 20 degrees. The radio announced the Hazel was in Hagerstown and we knew then that the worst was over for us. The birds seemed to mind the storm worse than we did. The sparrows that normally stay in the barn huddled in the trees on the south side of the house and by their constant nervous twittering disclosed that they were as disturbed as we were. Even Mike, our dog was ill at ease and kept pacing the floor. We tried to take our mind off the sound of the wind by keeping busy, but nothing seemed to keep the sound of Hazel out of one's consciousness. Saturday morning found Carroll County serene and beautiful as ever. The sun was out, the wind calm, and the birds who the day before were twittering with alarm, Saturday morning were chirping like spring birds. Hazel seemed to have left our County without too much damage. Of course trees were uprooted, some roofs gone and T.V. aerials down, but looking at pictures from other sections of the State we can know how lucky we were. We do not want to take away any of Hazel's damaging power but we agree with one person who said that some of the electrical storms we endure through the summer months hold far more terror for me than did Hazel. But on the other hand we are not looking forward to any visit of Hazel's sister or sister-in-law, in the near future. One hurricane in a lifetime is enough to satisfy anyone's curiosity.

No doubt everyone has heard enough about dogs during the past week but one more thought on the subject and we promise to forget the whole thing. People love dogs, they put on the dog, sometimes they are in the dog house and even some people go to the dogs, but the greatest insult to a human being in any language is to compare a human with a dog. Why? Is this some more of our inherited prejudice?

The Community Chest Drive is in its second week. By this time everyone should understand the purpose of the drive and the benefits the community derives from the money collected. Not many people refuse to contribute and even those who do refuse probably have never stopped to consider that some time in the future circumstances will force them to seek help from some of the agencies that receive their funds from the Community chest. Whenever a person closes his heart and purse to a less fortunate brother that person parts with something of greater value than the money he could have given. He loses contact with the human race. It is only by identifying ourselves with our fellowmen both in happiness and trouble that we actually become part of the human race. There are cynics who are not particularly concerned about belonging to any race until trouble hits them. Some years ago we helped with a Red Cross drive. It was a year during the war, when most people were drawn together in a common trouble and naturally were generous with their contributions. No one had refused to give until toward the end of the campaign we called upon a middle aged couple. They said no, that they couldn't afford it, although we knew better for they owned their own home and a small business. Furthermore, they said charity was a racket—anybody that wanted to could earn their own way. Just five years later that couple was living off of charity as they called it. By an unkind fate they lost their business and their home. Having no children to turn to, they were forced to seek help from public agencies. We have often wondered since if they ever remember refusing help to others, and if they know where the money came from when they so desperately needed shelter and food. It came from hundreds of average families that said "Yes, I will give to the Community Chest". This is a true story. A story that doesn't happen too often, but it can happen because it did happen once to people just like your neighbors.

The members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Mt. Union Church gave a one act comed-Tuesday evening in the parish house. Every seat was filled with many forced to stand. The play was fast moving and the players had many funny lines which they delivered effectively. The cast included Bobby Royer, Neil Bohn, Tommy Lambert, Nancy Roelke, Deanne Crouse, Mary Royer and Linda Miller. Mrs. Claude Bohn directed the play. Richard Willide of Keyville showed movies of the Taneytown Bi-Centennial and several comedy shorts which were enjoyed. Mrs. Study put on an Edgar Bergen and Charley McCarthy act and Mrs. Petry gave several readings. Refreshments were sold by the Smiling Sunbeam Class.

Ingathering and Harvest Home Service will be held Sunday morning at Mt. Union Church at 10:30 a. m. This is the annual service held for the Home for the Aged to which are brought gifts of canned fruits and vegetables and any gifts that can be used at the Home in Washington.

Give us this day to live and use in such a way that we would choose to live tomorrow just the same—without regret, without acclaim.—Ruth Roelke.

"They Went Thataway" is a laugh crammed action-packed western comedy hit in three acts to be held Nov. 5, at 8 o'clock in the parish hall of St. Paul's Lutheran church presented by the Sparks Class. Charlotte Peham, (Anna Marie Devilbiss) is our wistful, appealing heroine. She is a city girl who has inherited a Rocky Mountain ranch, the Bar-B-2, from her late uncle, with her side-kick, Lil Bower (Elsie Baust), Charlotte decides to go into the dude ranch business, but, operating on a shoestring, they find the sledding very rough indeed. Then into Charlotte's life comes an impetuous master of ceremonies, who talks her into hiring him as a cowboy, a job for which he has no qualifications whatever. The duds start arriving, including Elмира Spring (Lettie Cartzendafner) and heiress from the East; Wavy and Slug (Charles Devilbiss and Bub Smith), a couple of "tired" business men, and Sue Castle, (Janet Devilbiss) a Hollywood glamour girl, the Indian characters, Joe Chuckwagon (Floyd Devilbiss) and his wife, Princess One Blossom. (Frances Leatherman) will have you howling with laughter, too. Sheriff Jackson, (Kenneth Baust) is kept busy trying to keep the ranch on a up and up business standing. All sorts of skulduggery takes place until finally, Freddy Buck emerges as the saviour of the ranch—to everyone's in feigned amazement and wins Charlotte's heart and boot. Here's a comedy you'll all love. So let's all go "Western."

A Gallon a Day PER 100 BIRDS MAY STOP AN EGG SLUMP

Purina Booster Checkers are EXTRA HIGH in proteins, vitamins and minerals birds may need while laying at their peak. You may feed only 1 gallon (6 lbs.) per 100 pullets on top of any mash until pullets are 10 months old. This easy, low-cost operation may save you a costly neck molt or egg slump. Start right now—today if possible—before something happens.

These same checkers are so high in vitamins they often improve production and hatchability of breeder hens. Try them.

Homes Needed

Lesson for October 24, 1954

THE wonderful thing we know as the "Christian home" is never described directly in the Bible, and certainly not in the Old Testament, for you cannot have a Christian home without Christians, and there were no Christians when the Proverbs were being written. Nevertheless the Christian home has its roots in the Old Testament. Dr. Foreman home, and the book of Proverbs has many things to say about homes without ever using the word. (The very word "home" in its full meaning is a Christian discovery.)

Homes Are Needed

The most scientific students of humanity are telling us what Christians knew all the time: that good homes are the foundation of a good community and nation. The chief probation officer of the city of Louisville, Ky., has said that in his experience he has seen delinquent children and youths from every kind of home—rich, poor, educated, illiterate, every kind you can think of, except one. He has never seen juvenile delinquents coming out of homes where the father and mother lived a life of harmony together. Psychiatrists who deal with emotional disorders, those sicknesses of the personality which can be so devastating in middle life, have found that in probing for the causes of disturbance, they always have to inquire into the kind of home in which this person grew up. For security and stability of character and personality, what is most needed are Christian homes. Further, homes are needed for training in that most difficult and "tricky" of all arts, the art of living with other people. We get a successful democracy about as fast as we get citizens who have been learning democracy as they have lived in their homes growing up,—not much faster.

What Makes a Home?

The Proverbs give many valuable hints and directions showing what is needed for successful home life. One thing, spelled out in chapters 6 and 7, is fidelity between husband and wife. Christians know that this is not the whole story. We have all seen "homes" where there was no question of infidelity involved, no ground for divorce as the church sees it, and yet where the marriage was unsuccessful and the home no home at all. For all that, fidelity lies at the base of the successful home. The wife can't cheat the husband, nor the husband the wife, without damaging all their relationships together. As the Proverbs point out, the unfaithful one hurts himself even more than he hurts his partner. Another thing needed is peace. A home that is full of quarrels is not a home but a madhouse. For some reason the Proverbs refer often to quarreling wives, seldom to quarreling husbands. Some one has said that "It takes two to make a quarrel" isn't true. One nagging person can make enough quarrels alone and unassisted, to break up any home. The man who "deserts" his wife, or the other way around, may turn out not to be a deserter but a refugee, as one of them said. A third thing that makes a home, as Prov. 31 shows, is work. Homes do not run themselves. "Goldilocks, Goldilocks, wilt thou be mine? Thou shalt not wash dishes nor yet feed the swine; But sit upon cushions and sew a fine seam, And feed upon strawberries, sugar and cream." So runs the nursery rhyme. But it is safe to say that Goldilocks and her husband would never make a happy home with that no-work program.

Who Makes a Home?

What the Proverbs say has been tested many thousand times, and is true: the home is made successful by father, mother and children, all of them. One good mother working against a husband who doesn't care and children who never cooperate, can maybe keep the home from the rocks but it will never be what it might have been. We hear so much about "home and mother" that we get the notion that one good mother is all a home needs for success. Many a sad mother could tell you this is not true. Then sometimes sentimental people say that "love" is all that is needed. That is false or true depending on what you mean.

See What the PURINA CALF PLAN DID!

4-month Holstein fed on 2 gallons of whole milk a day for two months, plus all the grain she would eat. Weight, 250 lbs. She equaled Morrison's standard for milk-fed heifers.

4-month Holstein fed 25 pounds of Purina Nursing Chow milk replacer, plus Purina Calf Startena. Weight, 320 lbs.—70 lbs. more. Feed cost was several dollars less.

Your dairy farmers who are looking for easier, better and cheaper ways to do things will really go for the PURINA CALF PLAN. Here's why • EASIER—You feed Nursing Chow gruel for one month only. No milk at all. Also calves are self-fed block salt and Purina Calf Startena. Hay after 2 months.

• BETTER—The Purina Plan raised bigger calves than milk and grain do. And these calves make better milkers because they have more frame and size.

• CHEAPER—It costs several dollars less to raise calves on the Purina Plan than on milk and grain at present prices.
