SCHOOL NEWS

High School P-T.A. Tuesday Evening, Nov. 9th

On Tuesday, November 9, at 7:30 p. m., Taneytown High's P-T. A. held its second meeting of the year. The main features of the evening's entertainment were a movie "Skippy and the 3 R's" and selections by the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Jodl. At the close of the business meeting, refreshments were served by the sophomore class.

American Education Week was observed at P. H. S. by holding open house for parents and interested persons. Parents were urged to attend classes and see the work of the school in operation. During the fifth period an assembly was presented for the student's and parents' entertainment. The boys' quartet and the orchestra furnished the music. A play, "We But Teach," was also presented by the Thelma Motter, Nancy Baker, Lois Brown, Billy Abrecht, Connie Arvin, Larry Koontz, and Charles Fream. Mr. Andrew Mason, principal of the school, made appropriate remarks to the audience.

Five students and a teacher from the Robert Moton School in Westminster will visit T. H. S. on Friday, Nov. 12 in connection with American Education Week.

Pupils of T. H. S. enjoyed the half-day holidays on Friday, Nov. 5, and Monday, Nov. 8 which were granted as a result of the school census.

Another interesting event at T. H. S. was the distribution of report cards on Tuesday, Nov. 9. This marked the results of the first marking period.

Individual pictures of all high school pupils will be taken on Friday by the Delmar Studios.

By dividing a day into seven periods once a week, it has been possible to have an activities period at T. H. S. This program was instituted on Nov. 4 and will continue until March 31. Each Thursday, a wide selection of teacher-sponsored clubs is available; therefore, almost all students are able to participate in an extracurricular activity of their choice.

On Nov. 12, the Taneytown Key Club will hold a semi-formal dance in the High School auditorium. Come to dance to the music of Bob Kersey's orchestra.

PARENT STUDY GROUP MEETS

The Parent Study Group of the Taneytown Elementary school held its first regular meeting Wednesday afternoon, November 3, in the Teachers Room of the school. Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, Chairman, welcomed the group of about 35 mothers. Miss Evelyn Maus, Supervisor of Pupil Personnel, outlined the duties of the homeroom mother and directed a play, "Scattered Showers", with Mrs. Charles Hopkins, Mrs. Kenneth Nusbaum, and Mrs. Glenn Stahl as the cast. The play was enjoyed by all and described how the behavior of three pre-school children was conditioned by the attitudes and practices of the three respective mothers. A middle-of-the-road approach to disciplining the child, with love and understanding playing the major part, achieved better results than the other two approaches.

A THANK YOU NOTE

Seems there should soon be a substitute word for "Thank You" we use that one so much. Ha. Well the beginning of Oct. I was somewhat indisposed; had to have my doctor visit me in my home and got a few shots of penicillin for a cold and had a case of nerves, but as you can't get around too well without a cane which I have fought but am using it, one of my good friends Man and wife went to Taneytown then to Littlestown and then to Gettysburg, Pa. before they got one and brought it to me as a gift on my 79th birthday, Nov. 4th, 1954, so I want to say that through the month of Oct it was get well cards, food of various kinds, a basket of lovely fruit of various kinds from folks. I never met till June 1953, then fruit salad, cakes, pies, roast chicken, roasted fresh pork, ham, saw a man come up road with a bowl and came to my door said something for your dinner I was so thankful coming from him and good wife. Not every man would do that, but I heard a woman say just before there not a finer man in Harney than G. C. Couldn't mention all the folks who came to see me and sent food but again I say thanks. Then birthday cards started coming and two home-made cakes came from Baltimore, one through the mail, greeting with greenback in 4 or 5 of them. Why shouldn't I be thankful for so many good friends who came to my aid when most needed. So again many thanks for everything and may a reward be waiting you in the next world.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer you.
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The trees surely have put on their dresses of yellow and gold and it is a most picturesque view from the Parsonage window. The huge tree reaching out to my bedroom window is truly a gold one from where I am typing this column. The rain is coming down heavily which will help many of the wells.

Hope you did not miss your vote! Did you know that it was Joseph Daniels who during War I kept the Navy dry and he was a DEMOCRAT?

Be sure to read, Folks this month's Reader's Digest about your Minister on page 47. When you read along the Highway "Tasty Barbecue Submarine Sandwiches!" you will know that one sandwich will be sufficient for two individuals. They truly are whoppers! And don't order one unless you are really very, very hungry!

Ladies short dresses just below the knee are gradually creeping in. Wannabe's in Philly show nothing else in their glamorous windows. Amber beads in many lengths are being shown besides many rope length beads of all descriptions. Cameos are back with us again regardless of the size, but many large ones were being shown. The old-fashioned, "Lover's Knot" pin is in again, too plus the horseshoe pin (plain or with brilliants). Don't forget, Ladies to wash your foundation or corset ever so often which many neglect to do, but they should be as immaculate as your under garments. How about the rolling? One lady stated she gained and then I asked her when I saw her chewing if that was gum. She said that she chews regularly! Don't do that otherwise you will put on a pound or more a day.

When you can't sleep at midnight, just turn on "NOCTURNE"—WBAL on the radio and listen to Charles Purcell and that grand organist! You will love that one.

Did you see and hear Mario Lanza on TV from Hollywood for the Chrysler organization? It was a real "Comeback" on C.B.S. "Shower of Stars" His number included an aria from the Opera "Tosca" and the song "Some Day" from the "Vagabond King". All thanks to Chrysler! Now, husbands are having domestic troubles with their wives and here's the story on that one! The husband desires to look at football or baseball and the "wive" desires their favorite, (and mine, too) LIBERACE!

Did you see, Mrs. Housewife those grand books in the American store? Excellent offer—Encyclopedia—first volume was 25 cents and thereafter one dollar apiece. Well, worth it for your school child! Here is one, too for you to make the garbage can clean and to keep it that way. When you shop and bring home one of those huge bags after emptying out the groceries, tear it about a foot down the side and fit it in the garbage pail. That pail will be as clean as one of your cook pots. Of course, you must wash the pail with a good sudsy water each time you throw away the bag. While in Philadelphia noticed along Market street in a nice restaurant, "All the coffee free you want to drink!"

Visited that grand store of J. E. Caldwell & Co. on Chestnut Street which truly is the one and only "Institution" that has not changed since 1839! The Vice-President was most kind (of the Old School) and showed me around the grand place. No other store can compare! They are Jewelers, Silversmiths and Stationers.

James E. Caldwell, the founder of the business came from Poughkeepsie, N.Y. in 1836 which still bears his name. The location was opened in 1916 at Chestnut and Juniper Streets due to the growth of the city with constant expansion of business interests. This store is located on the site of the old Historic Philadelphia Mint. The main floor is 200 feet long and 60 feet wide and is decorated and furnished in French Regence style under the supervision of a famous architect and is considered a masterpiece. Many world travelers have pronounced it the finest store interior of its kind in existence. Only by a personal visit can the harmony and beauty of the interior be appreciated. From the very beginning only merchandise of known merit has been offered to patrons and the successors of James E. Caldwell have persistently carried on his principles of integrity, responsibility and truth! The next time you in Philly be sure and visit this unusual store by leisurely browsing around. You will see articles you have never seen before which not alone being rare but a delightful interest will give you much enjoyment.

Until next week, D.V. Have a grand week-end. I am,
Faithfully,

COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

I am a country newspaper.
I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends; I speak to the home in the evening of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of the winter's lamp.

I help to make this evening's hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.

I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of man's existence.

I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.

I am the lives of my readers.
I am the country newspaper.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

HILLSBORO, ORE., ARGUS: 'Just how absurd can one get? In a recent speech a gubernatorial candidate ... charged that 'selfish interests, mostly malefactors of great wealth, are for destroying the independence that prosperity gives the farmer.' Such a statement is ridiculous for in the final analysis various segments of the economy are complementary and dependent on the other. Anyone would be nothing less than foolish to want to see any part of the population lose prosperity because of the interdependence. In the long run he would also be the loser.'

WESTMINSTER, MD., TIMES: 'The less we demand from our government, the fewer liberties we shall have to relinquish.'

FORT PIERCE, FLA. NEWS-TRIBUNE: 'There's no doubt about it, when government agencies—whether they be federal, state or local—go behind closed doors to conduct business, the people's interests are likely to suffer. So-called 'executive' sessions should be a danger signal to freedom-loving Americans. Many of our international failures and troubles, our graft and abuses have their source in governmental secrecy. The people's business, whatever and wherever it be, should be conducted out in the open, above board and without fear of consequences'

TIFTON, GA., DAILY GAZETTE: 'The U. S. Army, it seems, has found itself much overstocked on an item it calls a 'staff study'. To quote a recent news dispatch, the Army 'makes so many staff studies it cannot keep track of them all. Sometime two or more staffs are making the same study at the same time.' This would be very hilarious, except for one little point; It is costing the folks who pay taxes some $5,000,000 a year. This is how much could be saved, it said, by installing a new central filing system.'

Life has a value only when it has something valuable as its object.—Hegel.

Before storing your gladiolus corms for the winter, dust them with End-O-Pest Arc Chloridane Dust to kill thrips. Let the corms dry in a fairly warm place for about three weeks; then store them in a cool dry place over the winter.

Nothing prevents our being natural so much as the desire to appear so.—La Rochefoucauld.

'Bone meal for bulbs' is old but not good advice. Commercial bulb growers in the Pacific Northwest have found that complete plant food gives them better results than bone meal. Remember this when setting out your fall bulbs.

When neither their property nor their honor is touched, the majority of men live content.—Machiavelli.

As soon as leaves fall, deciduous trees except flowering dogwood, birch, magnolia, tulip trees and sweetgum, may be moved. Keep them well watered until the ground freezes and stake and tie them thoroughly to prevent winter winds from loosening the roots and soil. No plant food should be applied now, but an early spring Vigoro application will be helpful in getting them established.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: Proverbs 11:24-28; 13:7; 15:13-17; 16:8, 16; 20:11-12; 22:1-5, 9; 28:6-28

Devotional Reading: Matthew 6:24-33.

Study in Values

Lesson for November 14, 1954

IS IT a sin to be rich? The Bible does not say so. A poor man may be better or worse than a rich man. It is not the property of a man that is most important; it is his personality. The Bible does warn us about the dangers of wealth; and since in our time (as back yonder too) nearly everybody thinks it would be wonderful to be rich and that money is the answer to most problems, the Bible's warnings are almost the only ones we can ever hear.

Dr. Foreman answer to most problems, the Bible's warnings are almost the only ones we can ever hear.

When Money Comes First

There is one special danger that runs through all the others: the danger of putting money first. We say "What is so-and-so worth?" when we ought to say "How much money does he have?" A worthless rascal may be very rich. The United States has found it necessary to deport men who could buy you out, dear reader, and me too. If we put money first, we measure men by a crooked yardstick. Then if we think of money as the most desirable thing in life—or property of any sort, not money alone—we shall cut corners to get it. If it were true that money is the principal thing, then we would lie and steal to get it—just as many persons do. Think of the lies told every day in the business world, recall the wealthy men who have been convicted of evading their taxes. Once think of money as Value Number One, and you will begin excusing all the sins, provided a man has a big enough pile.

Fancy Front

You could have an interesting time collecting the lies that are connected in one way or another with money. Proverbs points out that some rich men pretend to be poor and some poor men pretend to be rich. That sounds funny but it's a fact. On every street in the more exclusive residential sections of cities there live families who are trying to give the impression of being better off than they are. The house is bigger than they can afford, they really keep themselves in debt pretending not to be in debt! And then there are the rich who pretend to be poor. These are not Texas millionaires trying to look like cow-hands. When the church (for instance) takes its every-member canvass and approaches some one who is known to be wealthy though not generous and who may have just bought an expensive car, how familiar is the response: "I'd be glad to increase my pledge but I can't afford it!"

Treasure and Trouble

Pastors of wealthy congregations, lawyers and doctors too, can tell you they know people who would be able to shed their troubles, or most of them, if they just could lose their money. The reader can verify this by reading any newspaper for a few weeks and checking up on head-lined tales of people in trouble. Not always, but often, the trouble started either because the person involved had too much money, or because he wanted money too much. Alcoholism, for instance: who are the alcoholics you know? Are most of them busy people in moderate circumstances, or are they people with more time and money on their hands than they know quite what to do with? Or take the divorce stories. At the time this column is being written the story is being headlined of a nationally notorious divorce. Readers are led to believe that neither the marriage nor the divorce would have taken place if the young man had been, say, a school teacher or a plasterer. His millions were bait—as any one could have guessed!

A Good Name Is Better

When some smart Alec (or Alice) asks you, "If money isn't the best thing there is, name me something better," you can quote Proverbs right away: "A good name is better than riches." (This isn't the only better thing, but it is one.) It is not always necessary to choose between the good name and the money; but ask the man who has both, which he would rather have. He will tell you, his good name, of course. When a business is sold, the "good will" sometimes comes at a higher figure than the place and all its fixtures and inventory. For what people think of you is far more important to you.

You could need them tomorrow

Could you meet the bills for medical-surgical care without hurting your savings or budget?

The hard fact is one in three Maryland families will need hospital care this year. And most will have to face medical or surgical bills at the same time. Like everything else, this care costs more than it once did.

That's why it's so important to your peace of mind to know you could meet medical-surgical-maternity expense without crippling your savings or your family budget. BLUE SHIELD is providing protection to more than a quarter-million Maryland families... and can protect you, too.

Operated strictly not-for-profit, BLUE SHIELD gives BLUE CROSS members the lowest way to broad protection against medical-surgical-hospital expenses. Except for minimum administrative expense, every dollar paid in goes to provide protection.

Here's how BLUE SHIELD protects you and your family!

You select your own doctor or surgeon. When you require hospital care, you'll have doctors' bills to pay, too, and you may require a surgeon. That's where BLUE SHIELD rounds out your protection. The doctors of your own choice are paid liberal, stated amounts for care... for any of a long list of surgical operations... for medical care... for maternity care. In many cases, BLUE SHIELD will pay the entire bill. Participating doctors and surgeons have agreed to accept the BLUE SHIELD allowances as payment in full for those of moderate means.

BLUE SHIELD offers its broad coverage—its hard-to-match protection—through sponsorship of practicing physicians and surgeons in Maryland. And the same liberal allowances are paid for doctors' care anywhere outside Maryland. That means you can have this protection against unexpected bills wherever you live and work.

BLUE SHIELD is easy to join. The added peace of mind which comes with complete protection is available to members of BLUE CROSS—the not-for-profit plan to pre-pay hospital bills. When you have the protection of both plans, you know you need never face hospital-medical-surgical expenses unaided. Ask your employer about it if there is a BLUE CROSS group where you work. Phone your nearest BLUE SHIELD office—listed in the classified telephone directory. Or write for your copy of booklet giving full details. Address BLUE SHIELD, Department 1114, 200 West Baltimore Street, Baltimore 1, Maryland.
