RED CROSS LADIES

Present Program to Hospital Patients

The Carroll County Red Cross Gray Ladies brought Christmas to Springfield State Hospital on Tuesday when 900 patients entered into the playing of games and the singing of Christmas carols. The refreshments for the party were especially delightful with the cookies, many varieties, having been made by the gray ladies and other interested persons and by Brownie Scout Troop 595 of Pleasant Valley with Mrs. Norris Hunter, leader, and Mrs. Vernon Houck, assistant leader, and Girl Scout Intermediate Troop 495 with Mrs. Russell Denbroeder, leader, assisted by Mrs. John Arnold and Mrs. Melvin Davis. Oranges and candies completed the refreshments served.

Each month between 40 and 50 gray ladies volunteer their service and regularly leave by the State bus from Red Cross Headquarters, 192 E. Main St., Westminster, to Springfield State Hospital, Sykesville. Also, to Fort Howard Veterans Hospital by Red Cross station wagon on Mondays. At Springfield their duties consist of entertaining patients with games such as bingo, singing folk and early American songs with them, and teaching simple sewing and needlework.

They visit wards, distributing reading material, and chat, bringing a touch of the outside world to each one. This type of program is carried through from October until May with the summer months left free for patients to enjoy outdoor activities. Regular duties at Fort Howard Veterans Hospital include assisting hospital staff with bedmaking, polishing surgical instruments, running errands, sorting and stacking clean linen, feeding patients and moving patients in wheel chairs from wards to therapy headquarters.

CHOIRS TO BROADCAST

Christmas Music to be Presented by Churches

Feeling that the Taneytown Community celebration of Christmas sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce is more and more degenerating from a high and holy and sacred position, which by all justification it has undisputed right to hold, the Taneytown Ministerium has decided to do something about this deplorable condition.

Instead of the recorded, canned and un-Christian music usually played in the center of town and in the business district of our community on the nights immediately preceding Christmas it was decided to have anthems and hymns of genuine praise and adoration fill the air currents for a brief period of four evenings next week.

The choirs of the Protestant church will endeavor to give the real spirit of Christmas to the town's people and to those passing through the community at that time by rendering music befitting the occasion rather than the artificial music with no real spiritual significance or value.

The choirs will meet in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church and will broadcast their music over the amplifying system in the belfry tower of the church. The music will be borne on the atmospheric waves from 7 to 7:30 p. m. The following is the schedule unanimously adopted: Monday, Dec. 20, the Messiah Evangelical United Brethren Church Choir; Tuesday, Dec. 21, the Grace Evangelical & Reformed Church Choir; Wednesday, Dec. 22, the Presbyterian Church Choir, and Thursday, Dec. 23, the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church Choir.

It is sincerely hoped that the Taneytown residents will greatly appreciate the unselfish efforts of the different church choir members.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

This December, the show windows of all the department stores in Baltimore are truly more glamorous than other years. Adults will enjoy it all as much as the Kiddies and it will pay you to make the trip as to all the beauty. And there is the same huge Santa Claus in Hochschild's window laughing that good old hearty laugh as other years! Thinking of Santa—hope you did not miss the real Santa Claus with Bert Parks who stated he had been an Orphan and reared in a home for Orphans. He went to a school way up in Alaska to learn the art of being a Santa Claus and each year he plays that part for the home. When he was asked what he would do with the 1400 dollars he won, he immediately said that he would give it to the Orphan home! So now, I know there is a real Santa Claus!

This time of the year, folks it brings back the hours of real pleasure taking my three Sonny boys to visit Santa in the big stores. The eldest child of 7 finally snuggled up to me as we made the rounds saying, "Mother, you know I don't believe in Santa Claus like these dressed up people. There are too many of them!" And then with the sweetest voice he added "You are the only Santa Claus, I ever knew!" But to hear the voices over and over again, "Are you a good boy? What do you want Santa to bring you and have you been a good boy?"

It is all nice to remember and I still have the same old book "Twas The Night Before Christmas" which I read to the boys around the fire place in my first Parsonage! And last night a long distance call from the middle boy that his German born wife gave birth to twins! That's the nicest Christmas gift of all! Eh?

Have you seen the cute new car, "METROPOLITAN"? It is really a thrifty idea and has all the features of the big car plus the part of forty miles per gallon. Better look into that one as you shop around for a car. Comes in blue, yellow and red. All are very stylish looking with plenty of oomph!

Ladies, the Tea Wagon seems to be coming into the light again which meant much when Milady entertained and that before World War I. They are most convenient especially if you purchase a large size which opens up to a good size round table to seat four very comfortably. That a nice gift, Mr. Husband for the lady in your life. It adds much to a living or dining room and as to the small apartment—that would be it which will answer for many problems in the every day living. It can take place of a dining room and as to the small apartment—that would be it which will answer for many problems in the every day living. It can take the place of a dining table when there are just two to serve!

When next you purchase nail polish be sure and select "Windsor Rose" by Helen Neushaefer. It is just the proper shade. That awful deep red is out!

Mrs. Housewife, if you buy powdered coffee be sure it is "MAXWELL"! There is positively a difference to that one. I did not care for it in any brand until the other night when Maxwell was served and I repeat just as they say Theodore Roosevelt did, "GOOD TO THE LAST DROP!" Frankly, I did not know it was powdered coffee!

A lovely letter arrived today from that nice Arthur Godfrey in reply to a previous letter plus a beautiful cup and saucer which was painted with daisies so realistic by my friend in Baltimore that one would imagine the daisies pressed into the China! I do hope he sips "Lipton's" from it on a Monday Night!

Ladies, have you seen the "Exquisite" Bra that is on the market today and going over big? It is really the most substantial one I have ever examined and appears glamorous under any or evening wear! Ask for it in any store in the corset department.

If you want to read the most unusual short, short story be sure and buy the Dec. issue of The Reader's Digest and turn to page 100. Drama in Real Life which is called, "The Gold and Ivory Tablecloth" by Rev. Howard C. Schade.

And if you are getting a dog for Christmas be sure and read in the same issue on page 83, "Twenty Most Common Questions Asked About Dogs!"

Did you see and hear the ten year old child on The Jackie Gleason Show play the Hammond Organ? If your child or you are talented and can read notes by all means investigate the Hammond Organ for the home.

Did you ever hear anyone say, "GOD LOVE YOU!" Just like Bishop Sheen?

Was in a dentist's office today and suddenly the door opened and three powerfully built young men came bursting in and the young man in a uniform smiled from ear to ear (from a boat) and said to the Dentist, "These two young men must immediately have teeth extracted. This young man has one tooth to be extracted and the one must have two!" Everyone in the room laughed heartily as the two men were led back to the extraction room! Nuff Sed!

So long, folks until next week. D. V. when I will be seeing you. Have a grand week-end and do try to avoid accidents upon the highways. That life you save may be your own! That slogan is always nice to remember! I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "With vigilance and understanding in mind, a grass roots discussion movement called Freedom Agenda has been launched. This movement is designed to stimulate discussions of civil liberties and democratic government, both in theory and practice, at the community level. Discussion, even if it provokes disagreements, can lead to understanding, which is the best defense of freedom."

LEWISTOWN, PA., SENTINEL: "America is the leading producer of goods and services because we, the customers, are free to make known our desires in the world's freest economy."

ANAHEIM, CAL., BULLETIN: "It cost YOU $699 last year for government operations on all levels—federal, state and local. The total came to a neat $111 billion with Uncle Sam doing most of the spending and with defense needs accounting for nearly half the grand total. On a per capita basis the defense costs were $319. Education in various forms including Federal educational benefits to veterans was the next largest item and ran around $10 billion. Even the sky must have a limit—or has it?"

MOUNT OLIVE, N.C., TRIBUNE: "I will give you all the land you can walk around by sunset for this nugget of gold," said the landholder to the returned prospector. He put his hat down on the ground. "You must be at this hat before the sun sets over that hill." The prospector began to run, trying to get as much land as possible. He went too far. He exhausted himself. With all his strength he drove himself to get back before the sunset. He did, just as the sun went behind the hill. But he fell dead upon the hat. Life is not all getting. Greed makes us its slave—kills us at the end. "He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house." (Proverb 15:27.)

BEACH HAVEN, N.J., TIMES: "Last year Postmaster General Summerfield let down the bars. He changed the regulations on third-class mail so that unaddressed, non-subscription, 100 per cent advertising circulars can be delivered to everyone served by carriers or post office boxes at third-class rates. He said it would save money for clerks would not have to sort this mail by name and address; but it has actually resulted in a huge increase of volume in a money-losing branch of the postal service."

BAY SHORE, N.Y., SUFFOLK-EVERY-WEEK: "People always grouse about paying taxes. They seldom exert pressure to make their wishes felt. Certainly, they do little to lay their case before the elected officials who are in charge of the pursestrings. They become the victims of their own apathy."

SANTA STARTS ANNUAL TRIP

North Pole, N. Y.—Santa Claus is still using his faithful reindeer and sleigh as his elfs, gnomes and other helpers load up this year's toys at Santa's Workshop here in the Adirondack Mountains. However, he will use faster transportation in the form of a C-46 airplane on his annual delivery of toys to underprivileged children. More than 35,000 toys, valued at nearly $50,000, will be given by Santa, visitors to his workshop and his business associates. They are for orphans and other underprivileged children in New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and two Provinces in Canada. Santa's airplane is loaned to him by Esso Standard Oil Company.

Music Gift Ideas

If you like music, you can have it this season in most anything you choose—dress, drapery and upholstery fabrics, lamps, wall accessories—even furniture and toys.

Pictured are just a few of many you'll see, like the lamp designed with music flowing from the horn. And the famous easy-to-play chord organ you'll play in less than 30 minutes. Above the organ are amusing 3-D mobiles with music motif.

In the gaily wrapped packages might be favorite records for all the family, a silver lapel pin in the shape of a music note for a young lady, a tiny radio for brother's room, and a mouth harp for a tot to blow on. And all well within your Christmas budget because the organ, too, is yours from your Hammond dealer on his easy under-the-tree plan.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Sleighbing, skating and ice harvesting, are seasonable pastimes—also, trying to cut stars on icy pavements. The Copperville Farmer's Club will hold their annual oyster supper, on Tuesday afternoon, the 20th, at the home of Wm. H. Flickinger.

G. W. Baumgardner, of this district and Edward Shorb, of Keysville, will leave next week on a Southern trip, to Florida, Georgia and other states. They will be gone several weeks.

Everybody's invited to be present at the reception tendered to Santa Claus, at Oregon School-house, which will be given Dec. 23rd.

The Western Md. Telephone Co., is having holes dug, preparatory to re-building its line between Taneytown and Westminster. This is good news long deferred, as the service has been anything but satisfactory for a long time.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. E. Wheeler are now costily ensconced in the Lutheran parsonage, having had their "fitting" from Woodsboro, on Tuesday. The parsonage is now one of the most comfortable homes in town; having just been equipped with a hot-water heating plant and partly repainted and re-painted. Rev. Wheeler will hold regular services on Sunday and thereafter.

Scarcity of Water Everywhere—Throughout this section of the State there is general complaint of scarcity of water, many wells being dry. Should the severe weather continue, without a thaw or rain, the drought will in all probability be severely felt before Spring, especially with those who have many cattle.

Stonesifer-Grimm.—On Dec. 14th, 1904, at the Reformed parsonage, Taneytown, by Rev. D. J. Wolf, Mr. Clarence G. Stonesifer and Miss Mary Grimm were married.

Superstition is a funny and unexplainable trait of every human being. It began no doubt when man first started to think for himself. When he couldn't find the logical answers to some of the things that happened to him, his imagination furnished him with illogical ones and from these the thousand and one superstitions grew. As man progressed in wisdom, he discarded some of the outmoded ones but manufactured others to take their place. Superstition is found not only among the ignorant but among the intellectuals as well. While the natives of Africa may paint their faces into all kinds of horrible looking masks to ward off the evil eye, some highly educated natives of America carry certain charms to bring good luck. During the war there were few service men that didn't have some sort of article with them which they considered brought them a feeling of having a guardian angel looking after their safety. It is difficult to explain the age-old feeling of superstition except to write it off as a fear of the unknown. Most people tend to laugh off the little things they do to ward off bad luck. Knocking on wood, refusing to use a match to light three cigarettes in a row, or walking under a ladder are the common superstitions which most people avoid doing. But there are many personal ones that only the individual that performs these acts knows about. All of us have them. Taxicab drivers seem to have the most interesting. They have all sorts of charms in their cabs from toy dolls to horse-shoes. Doctors, too, are a superstitious group, especially surgeons. Gamblers probably lead all others in their belief in good and bad luck with sailors next. But none of us can truthfully say that we don't have a pet superstition. Mine drives my family almost out of the house because I will not kill a spider nor let anyone else if I am around. Why my concern with spiders? Well, it's a long story and very personal. Sometime I may tell it but not now. In the meantime, what is your favorite superstition and why?

As the song says, it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas. The cities and small towns have their outside decorations up and the stores are crammed full of beautiful things to buy. The church choirs are rehearsing the old familiar Christmas songs and carols, and all kinds of programs are in the process of being finished and presented. Some door-to-door and wind-downs already reflect the holiday spirit of the people within. The smell of fruit cake baking, is in the kitchen and the attic door is kept locked from an overly anxious teenager. The spirit of Christmas is in the air and in the mail box, too, for Christmas cards are arriving daily. This morning a card arrived with an unusual and beautiful message. It brought so much pleasure to us that we want to share the message with you. Here it is: "Be one with peace, be one with joy, Nor let the yesteryear annoy; The Mind that made the utmost star, Repeats its mind in what you are, In every splendid thing you do, The will of God is coming true; Co-workers with the Master Mind, Rejoice! And leave the past behind."

How would the lady of the house like to find beneath the Christmas tree a scrub-bucket all done up in lace and rose buds? Think I'm fooling? I saw one in a fashionable store in Baltimore and I wouldn't have believed it if the sales girl hadn't confirmed it. But she added "It isn't a serious gift . . . just what you call a fun gift."

And speaking of gifts never, never have we seen the stores stocked with such beautiful things and many of them are imported. Fragile china from Japan and England; brass and copper from Italy; glass from Sweden; linens from Ireland and perfume and gloves from France. One marvels often at the results produced by man's brain and hands.

Isn't it strange that few people dream of a white Christmas anymore? When the first snow flake starts to fall people become panicky. They call the weather bureau to find out how long before the sun will peep out again; they anxiously look out the window every half an hour to see how thick the flakes are accumulating and they wonder if the snow plows are going to keep the roads open so that they can attend that all important meeting. Even the children are not as enthusiastic about snow as they once were. For with modern high-ways and the laws that compel one to keep the snow off of sidewalks, there just isn't any place to use a sled. Even the child living in the country are anti-snowists. For quite often snow means extra work around the barn, failure of electric power, and the demobilization of farm equipment. In other words when we must choose between comfort and beauty, most of us prefer physical comfort.

The annual Christmas program of the Union Bridge School P.T.A. was presented Monday evening in the school auditorium to a large and responsive audience. The music department of the school under the able direction of Miss Long, music teacher at Elmer Wolfe, presented the program. The first, second and third grades made up the Primary choir and they sang "Silent Night," "Away in a Manger." The Intermediate Choir consisting of the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grades sang "We Three Kings," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" and "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus." The Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth grades made up the Junior choir and they sang "The First Noel," "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" and "O Come All ye Faithful." The Girls' Chorus sang, "There's a Song in the Air," "Angels we have Heard on High" and "Joy to the World." The Octet sang "Winter Wonderland" and was composed of the following students: Beverly Bostian, Shirley Sipes, Rebecca Freeman, Nina Sherman, Shirley Fox, Patty Blume, Mary Ellen Snyder and Doris Cartzenadner. The Junior and Senior Chorus sang "White Christmas." "A Merry Christmas," the concluding song was sung by a double quartette made up of the following students: Gordon Cheeks, John Hood, Ernest Colwell, Eddie Staley, Nina Sherman, Eleanor Baker, Doris Cartzenadner, and Alice Booher. During the singing of the songs the Christmas story was retold in pantomime on the stage by the following cast: Mary portrayed by Susan Crumpacker; Joseph, Earl Wetzel, Angel, Betty Barnes; Wisemen, Jerry Wetzel, Douglas Bostian, Orville Shiffer; Shepherds, Roy Pool, Richard Leight, Leroy Few. Miss Gretchen Reese served as accompanist, Nancy Roelke was soloist and Neil Bohn and Glenn Yingling were in charge of lighting. Miss Nancy Long was the director. Preceding the music program Rev. Colwell gave a moving talk on the Christmas story which added the right thoughts to the lovely singing by the boys and girls. Many thanks to all who participated in giving the Christmas season.

There's nothing so welcoming to a home-coming family on a cold winter night as the delicious smell of dinner baking in the oven. There is no aroma quite like a bowl stuffed to the neck with favorite dressing roasting in the oven unless it's home-made bread. No matter how old I get, I shall never forget my mother's home-made bread baking in the oven as I came home from school.—Ruth Roelke.

Taneytown, Md.

Dear Sir,
I have wanted for some time to express my pleasure and delight over the Carroll Record for I get it whenever I can, the I am not a resident or a subscriber, but I have always known and loved it.

I particularly like the way you show bravery and forward vision in using Mary B. Eddy's gems of literary thought, for instance, Thought I would have a chance to "drop in" to tell you of some of these things, but so far it hasn't happened, as I live some distance away.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Rena Fleagle Kennedy

HAMPSTEAD YOUTH FOR CHRIST

"Not a barber shop meeting, a popcorn meeting." That's what Charlie Pfeiffer, our song leader suggested after our Director announced "testimony time" last week. And that's just what it was, with one after another popping up all over the audience, representing all ages and many denominations, but disclosing in a few words that all had the same spiritual foundation in Christ. Charlie suggested that we "put on the cap" and close "testimony time" with the chorus "For God so Loved the World."

Hampstead Y.F.C. launched out with a new Bible Club in Westminster High School. When 33 kids gathered last Thursday night for their first meeting, we knew that we had set afoot a club that would be on its own in no time.

This means, there will be four teams on the platform next Saturday night for the High School Bible Club Quiz on John chapters one thru seven—Hampstead (one time winners), Reisterstown, Towson and Westminster. Incidentally, Westminster was the winning team for the season last year and competition will be strong as they battle to answer 20 questions unseen by the team members or their coaches next Saturday evening.

Editor of the "Builders", a youth weekly publication of the EUB church Dr. Raymond Veh will be speaking next week. Rev. Veh has proven to be an excellent speaker in the past.

Along with the Quiz and Dr. Veh speaking, Glenn and Mabel Shearer of York, Pa., will be singing duet and solos alternately with congregational singing.

Keep Christmas evening from 8:00-9:00 open for Y.F.C. and hear Alan McGill, recording artist, in person. McGill is on contract with Sacred Records of Hollywood, California. About twenty young people who have gone to colleges from the Rally will also be taking part in the Rally.

Lum Selwig, who taught over to the high school since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary, is retiring to his farm. He's named it "After Math."

in the altar vases. Both services took place amidst the glow of many candles. The effect of the soft candlelight added to the sacredness of the occasion. Mrs. Earl Roop and Mrs. Ralph Shoemaker gathered in white lighted the candles. A reading, "Annie and Willies" Prayer was given by Mrs. Carroll Dougherty. A solo "Holy Night" was sung by Mrs. Dixon Yaste. During the presentation of gifts an angel, Mrs. Mark Baumgardner stood near the manger. Following the missionary benediction all wended their way to the social room where the hostesses, Mrs. Mark Bamgardner, Mrs. Gilbert Stine and Mrs. Edward Coshun served punch and cookies of all descriptions. The tables were very pretty. The decorations were in keeping with angels and carollers and nativity scenes placed on white table cloths throughout the long table. Candles and holly were the other decorations. The favors of white cups on red card board with springs of holly attached were very attractive. Genuine fellowship reigned around the tables, which is so necessary to get off in the direction of the true Christmas spirit. The gifts will be sent to Konnarock.

THE LADIES AID OF HARNEY ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Lutheran Dec. 7, at 7:30 o'clock, met Tuesday Dec. 7, at 7:30 o'clock in the Parish Hall in the form of a Christmas Party with 63 members and guests present.

The hall was gaily decorated for the occasion by the committee with the Christmas tree and all the trimmings. The meeting was called to order by the Pres. Mrs. Wilbur Reifsnider with the singing of several selections followed by the Bible reading by our Pastor's wife, Mrs. Chas. E. Held with the prayer led by Mrs. Earlington Shriver.

The minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary Mrs. Lake Ringer. Followed by roll-call and collecting of dues.

The business of the meeting was the two banquets in the month of Nov. One on the 9th of Nov. the other the regular turkey supper on Saturday before Thanksgiving which was very much of a success. The net proceeds of the turkey banquet goes to the driveway in the cemetery.

The table that was the Primary Department sponsored was a great success.

After the business meeting the President chose committees for the next meeting which will be held the first Tuesday of January at 7:30 in the evening.

Bible, Mrs. Armour Leatherman; Prayer, Mrs. Chas. Bridger; program, Mrs. Chas. Held, Mrs. William Hoffman, Mrs. Luther Harner.

CHRISTMAS DINNER

The Brotherhood of the Taneytown Presbyterian Church was entertained at an elaborate Christmas dinner by the Berean Circle, Wednesday evening in the manse. Rev. Galambos, the minister, made a gracious host.

Besides the membership of the two organization, the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stifler, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baker and Mrs. Carrie Wagner.

A long table which extended the length of the rooms was decorated with lighted candles and attractive favors. A lighted tree added to the festivity.

Mr. Roy Baker showed moving pictures for the entertainment of the group.

Later in the evening the gifts of the Friendship Sisters were exchanged.

Music of Christmas

Lesson for December 19, 1954

NO OTHER festival of the year is so full of music and of song as the festival of Christmas. Like all good and beautiful things, this too can be made a weariness to heart and mind. When we have to listen to some "popular" Christmas song, by some songsmith on Broadway who knows more about rhythm than religion, over the radio for six weeks on end; or when a loudspeaker on the courthouse square with its tireless Dr. Foreman electronic throat keeps battering the ears of Christmas shoppers with "Silent Night," we wish the night were silent. We almost wish the angels had not set such an example.

Music of Praise

But it was not this nor any of this that the angels meant when they sang their Gloria. The right music of Christmas is the music of praise, of glory to God. It is not a thing to fill up time on a disc-jockey's program, not something to be produced by a machine. It is music of praise, for the heart, from the heart. On a lonely road in the countryside there is a tiny lighted church. On a noisy boulevard in a distant, grimy city there is a great church, its rose-windows gleaming. In both of these there is singing tonight. To the passerby in mud or on the pavement, it may seem that these people sing alone. The frozen world around the country church makes no sign; there in the jangling city street there is no echo of the Hallelujah chorus in the great sanctuary. Nature and man seem out of tune with the Christmas music. But to the listening ear, the hearing heart, come many other voices.

Music of Creation

The poet-prophet of the 148th Psalm—one might almost think he had written these lines for a Christmas hymn—heard these voices. Like a descendant which above the music of a hymn weaves a new beauty, so these other voices, which only a poet's ear can hear, add to the chorus of glory to God. With him we hear all God's angels, we hear the stars of light. This tiny planet carries many voices, but God's creation is vast. In realms of bliss pure spirits unsullied by sin sing their "Glory to God"; and throughout our universe, where some can perceive only the frightening spaces between the stars, where others can see only sightless flames endlessly whirling, the poet hears the morning stars singing together, praising God by being what they are, witnessing to the majesty of his creation. And on this little planet too are songs unheard by man: "fruitful trees and all cedars; beasts and all cattle..." Where Christ has come, truly come, and men have not cast him out, all living things have reason to praise God.

Music for All Men

The music of Christmas is for all. It is for "kings of the earth"—the men of power and place. Wherever there is a land that can be called Christian, it is known that there is one King of kings, one Lord of lords. When Queen Elizabeth was crowned, it was by the Church of Christ and in the name of Christ. When President Eisenhower was inaugurated, his first public act was a personal prayer. There are no human beings too highly placed to need God; none so busy and important they have no time to praise him. "Old men and children" too are summoned to join the chorus. Old men, sitting by the fire or in the sun, old men done with life; children playing in the sun or by the fire, children who do not yet know what life means; old men and children, who have to be cared for, who make no decisions for other people—the small and the insignificant, all those on the outer fringes of life, let these too join in praise. For God came down that first Christmas night not in silence but to the music of a great singing. And when God broke the news for which man long had waited, the news men are still slow to hear, slow to believe, the news of Immanuel, the news that God is with us—this did not come as a whisper in the void. It came on the wings of a mighty song, borne by the voice of stars and angels—made known first not to the kings of the earth but to humble shepherds of whom none but God had ever heard.

MEETING TO BE HELD BY JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

A delegation of fifty-two Jehovah's witnesses and interested persons from the Taneytown area are expected to attend the three-day assembly for Pennsylvania Circuit #5, to be held at the Valencia, 144 North George Street, York, Pa., December 17, 18 and 19. G. F. Myers spokesman for the group here, announced today. A total of twelve congregations make up Circuit #5 and will assemble to receive Bible instruction and engage in preaching the good news of God's kingdom.

The sessions will begin Friday evening at 7 p. m. and will be opened by G. E. Smith of Chambersburg congregation. Anton Koerber, traveling minister and Circuit supervisor will deliver the "Welcome" address. An interesting feature of the assembly will be the showing on Saturday evening of the color film, "The New World Society in Action". The highlight of the three-day gathering will be the public lecture, "Does God Really Care?" at 3 p. m. Sunday afternoon by R. L. Anderson, district supervisor from the New York headquarters of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society. All sessions are free and open to the public.

A similar meeting was held by the circuit last June in Hagerstown, Md., where the attendance reached 1040. Approximately 1200 are expected to attend the York assembly.

To the Editor:

Among the many false statements about Jehovah's Witnesses, a recent item published in the Carroll Record has reached the height of absurdity, when it said, in brief, that Jehovah's witnesses believe there are only 454 seats left in heaven. To refute this false statement the witnesses say they have never believed or officially said any such thing and they refer you to the Bible for the basis of their belief. Mt. 24:13, Rev. 17:14, 1 Cor. 12:18, Rev. 14:1-3, Rev. 7:4-9, Mt. 5:5, Ps. 37:29, 2 Pet. 3:13. Any of Jehovah's witnesses will be glad to give further explanation of their beliefs.

JOHN M. WILHIDE, Minister

We should give as we would receive, cheerfully, quickly, and without hesitation; for there is no grace in a benefit that sticks to the fingers. —Lucius Seneca

Congratulations to all of these winners and a "thank you" to all who entered our recent contest. From the sincerity of the over 6,000 answers as to why "I think the modern electric way is the best way to cook..." it's plain to see why nearly 60,000 housewives in this area now prefer to cook electrically.

Let's Think

by
G. H. ENFIELD

WHO SAYS WHAT?

Psalm Fourteen

One person of the psalm will be considered rather than the psalm as a whole. What a person says or does places him in a certain category. He who says "There is no God," the Psalmist calls a "fool." The fool says, "He says many things. And many of these things are as foolish as he is. The fool speaks what he does not know. Sometimes he speaks more wisely than he knows."

The fool says in his heart, "There is no God." The heart is the source of love, affection, tenderness, sympathy, emotions, impulses. Sometimes it fosters hate, malice, spite, grudge, jealousy. "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." "The mouth of fools pour-eth out foolishness." "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh," said Jesus. "As he think-eth in his heart so is he."

To say there is no God one must possess knowledge of all things for what he does not know may be God.

The fool also says, Eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we die. The modern version is: I am going to have a good time while I live. That is all one gets in this life anyway. He wants a good time on earth for the fool has little prospect of another life. All his possessions are material, tangible, temporal, perishable. He exists for time and this world. His horizon is low, his outlook narrow, his sunrise obscure, and his sunset knows no glory. He buries his dead without hope, for in his life there is no resurrection. His children are born, live, and die, and for the man who knows no God this is the end.

What an existence! What a failure for one created to bear the likeness and image of God! For him each succeeding day is just another day. He eats at a bountiful table and does not recognize the hand that sustains him. He basks in God's sunshine and has the effrontery to say "There is no God." God waters his fields and he curses the heavenly Benefactor who increases his harvest of golden grain. He leaves the earth that fed him, clothed him, sheltered him, unwep, unhonored, and unsung. The place which once knew him now knows him no more forever.

WHO WANTS TO BE A FOOL! THOUGHTS FOR THOUGHT

A successful man does not found his importance upon sternness.

A smile is a passport to any situation.

Popularity is not the yardstick by which to measure worth. Too frequently popularity is the measure of the wrong crowd.

It is elevating to look up to another rather than to look down on some one else.

Slang is a sign of a deficient vocabulary. Profanity is an indication of moral weakness.

A preacher is likely to break under the load of a riding congregation.

The person who wears an habitual scowl never wins a soul for Heaven.

If you want to deepen your thinking reach for the sky.

Today's Chuckle

One sweet young thing to another: "He not only lied to me about the size of his yacht, but he made me do the rowing."

And I hear from the outgoing ship in the bay

The song of the sailors in glee; So I think of the luminous footprints that bore

The comfort o'er dark Galilee, And wait for the signal to go to the shore,

To the ship that is waiting for me. —Brete Harte

GENEROSITY

A man there was, they called him mad; the more he gave, the more he had. —John Bunyan

He who is afraid of being too generous has lost the power of being magnanimous. —Mary Baker Eddy

Ever play one o' cat? Well, in Springfield, Ill., it's okay to play it, but don't throw the cat out. The law clearly states that it's illegal to abandon a cat for any reason in that city.

But you often wanted to get even with your dentist. So... go ahead, unless you happen to live in Yukon, Okla., because in that town a patient is forbidden to turn the tables by pulling his dentist's tooth.
