COVERED DISH SUPPER

Social Evening Enjoyed at Elementary School

The third annual covered dish supper sponsored by the Taneytown Elementary School PTA was held in the school auditorium Tuesday evening. A capacity number of PTA members, children and guests enjoyed an excellent supper prepared by parents and members of the school staff. Following the invocation of grace by Rev. Edmund Welker, Mrs. Charles Hopkins, PTA President, gave a word of welcome to all present, and introduced the toastmaster for the evening, Rev. Glenn L. Stahl. Invitations had been sent to all past presidents of the Taneytown PTA, and those in attendance, introduced by Rev. Stahl were: Mrs. Margaret Teeter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Frock, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Royer, Mr. and Mrs. Singleton Remsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. George Gunther. Other Past Presidents unable to be present were Mrs. Margaret Elliott, Mrs. Harry Reindollar, Mrs. Elmer Ohler and Mr. Walter Crapster. School officials and other guests introduced included Mr. and Mrs. Douglas West, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hesson, Miss Ruth DeVore, Miss Evelyn Maus, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wargny, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Welker, Rev. Robert Benner, Rev. and Mrs. Glenn L. Stahl and Mr. Samuel Jenness.

The entertainment of the evening included organ music with Mr. Delmar Riffe at the electric organ, group singing led by Rev. Morgan Andreas, a toe dance by Karen Skiles and Bobbie Lynn Hopkins and a tap dance by Mary Henshaw, Cherie Phillips, Mike Wildasin and Billy Henshaw.

A brief report of the founding of PTA 57 years ago and its progress through the years was given by Rev. Stahl. He also made reference to the Oak Tree Emblem on the bulletin board with all PTA families represented on leaves, which was prepared by Miss Ellen Jordan and her fourth grade class.

The speaker for the evening was Rev. Robert Renner, a native of Taneytown, now pastor of the Pine Grove Lutheran Church, Pine Grove, Penna. School days now past, lived again in the hearts of those who remembered the various teachers who served our school, as Rev. Renner, reminiscing, paid tribute to their untiring efforts which served to make better men and women of the children they taught.

Mrs. Hopkins expressed appreciation on behalf of the PTA to Rev. and Mrs. Stahl for their co-operation the past years, and to all the committee workers who helped make it a most enjoyable evening.

ANNUAL BANQUET PLANNED BY
I. O. O. F. LODGE

At the regular meeting of Taney Lodge of the I. O. O. F. last Thursday evening the committee appointed to arrange for the annual banquet reported that as has been the custom for a number of years the one this year will be served by the ladies of Harney Lutheran church in the Parish Hall in Harney, Md., and that the date has been definitely set for March 10. A program of entertainment to follow the meal is being arranged. Each member will be entitled to bring his wife, or his lady friend, or some other guest.

Any former members wishing to re-affiliate in time to participate in this occasion may do so by contacting any member not later than March 1st. The same would apply to anyone not a member wishing to become affiliated with the Order. The same privilege of bringing a guest would apply in both cases, and the Lodge extends to former members and non-members an invitation to become a member of this vast organization, that has membership all over the United States and Canada and practically every free country on the globe, now.

LADIES AUXILIARY HAS MONTHLY MEETING

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Company held their monthly meeting at the Fire Hall February 10, 1955 at 7:30 with 35 members present.

The meeting was opened with presentation of the Flags and pledge of the Flags. The Chaplain then offered the Scripture and prayer.

Nominations of delegates for State and County Convention were named.

At the Firemen's supper which is February 26, 1955 there will be a food sale held by the Ladies Auxiliary.

It was then decided to serve a banquet to the Firemen's on March 10, 1955 at the Fire Hall beginning at 6:30.

Meeting was then closed and refreshments were then served by the social committee for February.

Letters of commendation from the Committee's Joint Chairmen have been received by Miss Naylor and her English teacher, Mrs. Virginia Sanders. They are to be further honored at a luncheon at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, at which time Governor McKeldin will present Miss Naylor with a parchment certificate signed for the President of the United States by the Chairman of the President's Committee to Promote Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

LETTER FROM SENATOR HOFF
Reports Activities of General Assembly

To the Editor

Dear Sir:

The present three months session of the Maryland Legislature is now in full swing. Approximately 500 Bills have been introduced to date and it may be expected that from 700 to 1000 more Bills will be introduced before the end of the session.

Since the first week of the session Committees in both the House of Delegates and Senate have been holding hearings and have been working on the Bills already introduced. As the session progresses the numerous committees will meet morning, afternoon and night to keep up with the volume of Bills anticipated.

As the session progresses I will attempt to review briefly some of the major Bills of general interest and to report on all local Bills that apply to Carroll County only.

Since the passage of the "Home Rule" Amendment, giving municipalities the power to regulate and govern their own affairs, takes out of the hands of the Legislature the power to pass laws pertaining to our towns, there will be few bills relating to our towns. The only power over towns retained by the Legislature is the power to limit a town's tax rate and its bonded indebtedness.

By reason of the increase in taxes necessary to pay for its new sewerage system, Taneytown has requested that its tax limit be raised to 90c on each $100.00 of assessment. A Bill is being prepared to permit this increase, but other than this Bill, no legislation has been introduced relating to our towns.

ROADSIDE CONTROL

H.B.10. For the past 10 or more years advocates of roadside control have been attempting to have passed a law that would permit the State to regulate structures on either side of our principal state highways, H.B.10 is another Bill aimed to accomplish this result.

The Bill is principally directed against bill boards.

Briefly the Bill would

1. Declare all highways having a daily traffic volume of 2000 or more vehicles to be "Roadside Protected Highways".

2. The use of land within 75 feet of such highways could be controlled by regulating and restricting such land for "business or commercial uses or structures" private roads, etc.

NEW LICENSE PLATES FOR MOTOR VEHICLES

Applications for new 1955-56 license plates for passenger cars and motor cycles will be mailed to owners, beginning February 21 and all should be in the mail by February 23, according to Thomas B. R. Mudd, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles. The new plates will be placed on sale Wednesday, February 23, and may be displayed on and after March 1, according to law.

Attention of the motorist is called to the NOTICE enclosed with the application, to please disregard the fees printed on the application. When a $20.00 fee is shown—$15.00 should be remitted, and when a $30.00 fee is shown—$23.00 should be remitted. The applications for motor cycles will show a fee of $8.00, but owners should remit $5.00, the same as last year. A self-addressed envelope will be furnished for the convenience of applying through the mail, which the public is asked to do immediately, in order to avoid the inconvenience of waiting in line.

Two plates will be issued, one to be displayed on the front and one on the rear.

If the address on the application is, for any reason, incorrect, owners are requested to furnish the correct address in the space provided for that purpose.

Applications for trucks and all other classes will not be mailed out until about March 30th.

FATHERS AND SONS DINE
Piney Creek Churchmen
Enjoy Program

The annual Fathers and Sons banquet at Piney Creek Presbyterian Church was held last Monday night. The supper was well attended in spite of dangerous driving on the snow-drifted and icy Harney road.

Norville P. Shoemaker arranged the ham and oyster supper served by 17 ladies of the church. 53 fathers and sons came.

Following the supper, a program was presented. President Roland Harver of the Piney Creek Brotherhood presided. By invitation, a group of Taneytown Presbyterian men also attended. President Harold J. Hamilton of the Taneytown Brotherhood greeted the Piney Creek men. With him came from Taneytown: B. Walter Crapster, Richard Graham, Wilbur Shorb, Clifford Stiffler, Myron Tracey and Thomas H. Tracey.

Rev. Gideon Galambos introduced the speaker: the Rev. John David Tate, Pastor of the Hamilton Presbyterian Church, in Baltimore. Rev. Mr. Tate, a nationally known speaker for youth and men's organizations, gave a very inspiring message on "Today's Back-to-God Movement." In his address, Rev. Tate pointed out the new ideals, the new missions, the new direction which Christian laymen follow, all over our country. We are becoming a more and more spiritual nation with a great amount of Gospel-power the world is in need and our mission is to fill their needs. We can no more escape from this duty. Our government does it. We, Christian laymen cannot neglect the cries of humanity. The majority of American men are Mission-minded. This is why God has favored us while other nations have already gone through horrible trials. There is an increasing number of praying circles for men, in America. Men pray for guidance, for spiritual uplift, for God's power to undertake the Great Mission Enterprise of the Church of Jesus Christ. Prayer is part of the answer. We have such men. More and more laymen, they are new men who understand the teachings of Christ, and who reading the Bible, find there God's plan outlined for this century and for this nation. God reaches down into this world with His Holy Hand. Laymen know what this means. Yes. There is a "Back-to-God Movement."

Rev. Tate has certainly left a valuable treasure of thoughts with the fathers and sons who shared this fellowship at Piney Creek.

TANEYTOWN ACCOUNTANTS
HEAR AIRLINE EXECUTIVE

Taneytown accountants who are members of the York Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants met on Wednesday, February 16, 1955 at the Yorktown Hotel in York, Pennsylvania to hear Mr. Stuart B. Goldthorpe, Assistant Comptroller, Capital Airlines, Inc. Washington D. C. discuss "Airline Cost Characteristics as Cost Accounting Problems."

The meeting which was preceded by a fellowship hour at 6 p. m. and dinner at 6:30 p. m. was attended by the following local members: F. W. Westine, E. M. Sprowl, G. W. Naylor, Jr., J. H. Kerchner, and R. W. Klunk.

TEEN-AGE CENTER WILL OPEN

Taneytown's Teen-Age Center will open in the High School auditorium, on Saturday, February 26th and will continue every Saturday evening for about six weeks. Time: 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

The center will have adult supervision and is sponsored by the Taneytown Kiwanis Club, the Taneytown Lions Club and Hesson-Snyder Post American Legion.

MEETING OF
BOARD OF EDUCATION
Taneytown to be Considered in Proposed Building Projects

The regular meeting of the Carroll County Board of Education was held on Tuesday, Feb. 8, at 2 p. m. with all the members present.

The Board approved the minutes of the January meeting and gave approval to the list of bills submitted for payment at this time.

The resignations of Caroline S. Warehime, Westminster High School, and Adrienne Robinson, Manchester High School, were accepted. The Board acted to release from service Earl Hersh, teacher in the Mount Airy School, in order for Mr. Hersh to report for spring baseball training.

The Board approved the appointment of the following persons for assignment to various teaching vacancies at the present time and for the 1955-56 school year: Joseph I. Donovan, of McDonogh, Maryland; Patsy Bohn, Union Bridge; Arlene Zimmerman, Mercersburg, Pa. to replace Adrienne Robinson music teacher at Manchester High School; Mrs. Joan B. Marsh, substitute employment to replace Mrs. Ruth Knouse at the Mechanicsburg Elementary School; Robert Neal, of Taneytown, to replace Jacob Yingling at the Manchester High School; Mrs. Mary Orr Manspeaker, Westminster, to the home economics position at Hampstead High; Mrs. Virginia Barber, Mt. Airy, to replace Mrs. Avis Pfefferkorn at Skylesville High; Mrs. Mary Monaghan of California, for 1955-56; Mr. Joseph Matsko, to replace Mr. Earl Hersh at the Mt. Airy High School.

A brief report was given regarding progress in completing repairs to electric wiring and other electric services. The Board approved a newspaper statement with respect to the issue of teachers' salaries and the 1955-56 school budget. It was directed that this statement be sent to the newspapers for publication to clear up any misunderstandings resulting from earlier publicity regarding this issue.

The Board took action with respect to the building program by acting to approve preliminary plans for the construction of high school facilities at the Mount Airy, and elementary school at Westminster. Included also in the plans were suggested improvements to the Uniontown School in order to afford more complete cafeteria and auditorium facilities, and to improve the heating plant.

The superintendent was directed to proceed to negotiate through various agencies for the securing of the funds to permit these building projects to be expedited as well as approving further exploratory work in connection with the expansion or consolidation of high school facilities for the western part of the county, including the New Windsor - Union Bridge - Taneytown area.

A brief report was given to the Board regarding the state meeting of school boards held on Jan. 21, in Baltimore, which had been attended by 4 members of the Carroll County Board. Discussions at this meeting included the questions of teacher supply, school financing, and the present curriculum in the Maryland high and elementary schools.

The Board considered also a brief report on a professional meeting of the Carroll County teachers which had been held on Jan. 28, with the assistance of consultants from the State Department of Education and other counties of the state. This program was under the direction of Dr. Harold Fox, of George Washington University.

The Board considered the developments in the injunction proceeding related to the distribution of Testaments by the Gideon Society. After consideration the Board approved a plan for the attorney to reply to the complaint with the plea that such distribution be permitted, when it is expected that a hearing of the complaint be held by the Circuit Court Judge at an early date. It is the desire of the Board of Education to permit the distribution to be continued in the school year 1955-56 unless such action be forbidden by court order.

The Board received an announcement regarding the holding of State Scholarship Examinations on March 26 for vacant scholarships existing for Senatorial appointment. These scholarships include 1 for any young woman at Western Maryland, 1 at the Maryland Institute, one at St. Mary's College, 1 tuition scholarship at St. John's College, and several scholarships in the College of Engineering at Johns Hopkins University. The superintendent was authorized to advertise these scholarship examinations.

Consideration was given to several problems connected with the maintenance of water service at several of the schools and assistance was voted to several schools in the purchase of equipment for instruction.

The Board heard a brief report regarding plans for the Pre-School Clinics for prospective first-grade pupils, as well as, some information regarding the health work being carried on in the schools of the county throughout the present school year, including immunization from diphtheria, whooping cough, and other general health work accomplished through the visit of school nurses to the schools.

The Board adjourned at 4:30 p. m.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health-life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The other night at 2 a. m. My Observer noticed the strong light coming into my bedroom from the windows and I knew it was God's Lantern in the Heavens, the full moon upon the snow! I arose and gazed out of the windows going from one window to the other and the more of it I saw, the more I desired to see. The shadows of the huge trees upon the pure white stuff was fascinating in all the beauty.

Trees in Harford County are tremendous in height and width! I doubt if there are any more beautiful in any place. The days now are longer. What a difference two more months will make! As to Spring—it all is most evident right in the stores. Skirts appear slightly shorter as a desired length. Many suits are shown and again Navy seems to be leading. The "Heart" shape hair-do seems to be a popular hair cut. Forsythia has been most evident and placed in the church vases on the pulpit each Sunday!

Word from Florida—the Violets and yellow Jasmine are in full bloom in the gardens!

Never before have I noticed as this year so many men purchasing gifts just before Valentine Day for his Lady Fair! (More lovers in the world than we realize) Eh? And as to hats for the Gentlemen! Wow—Derbies next Fall!

Here's a cute one and a true one and I know that big Coca-Cola concern will love it! Doctors today are ordering that liquid for the babies! (Especially if they have a cold!)

Hope you did not miss Liberate last Sunday! Never has he been so full of pep! I know a little lady of over 80 years who really "Peps up" when you mention his name and he brings much happiness to many with the exception of some husbands!

Thinking of T.V. Have you been watching each Wednesday for "The Fat Wife" reducing on the show of "Strike It Rich"? Each week Warren Hull hands her in bills, the amount she loses and weighs her right on the scale before your eyes!

Another good program by Clare Boothe Luce was a revival of the Show of 1936 which ran so many weeks in New York called, "The Women!"

CHURCH SCHOOL LEADERS
ENJOY SUPPER

The Sunday Church School teachers and officers and their families of the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church met together on Thursday evening for a covered dish supper in the dining room of the parish house. The tables were decorated in the Valentine motif. The invocation of grace was given by Rev. Morgan Andreas after which 60 persons present enjoyed a very tasty and delightful meal which included a variety of everything.

After the group singing of several songs which were led by Mrs. George Motter, the gathering was greeted by Mr. George Motter who served as the toastmaster of the evening. He hoped that with the fine response it might become an annual affair, which was also the sentiments of most all those present.

The following program was presented: Piano solo, Cynthia Andreas; violin solo, Allen Baumgardner; vocal quartet, Sandra Remsburg, Nancy Holter, Vicki Lambert and Jeanne Howarth; piano solo, Faye Martin; readings, Mrs. Harry Mohney; vocal solo, Dennis Baumgardner; trumpet solo, Paul Andreas; piano solo, Nancy Wargny; vocal solo, Mary Alice Rue; Clarinet solo, Ronald Airing, and vocal quartet, George Motter, Delmont Koons, Murray Baumgardner, and Harry Mohney. Mrs. George Motter, Mrs. Murray Baumgardner and Mary Alice Rue served as piano accompanists for the different numbers.

The speaker of the evening was Prof. Harry O. Smith, Walkersville, who is principal of the Libertytown High School. He emphasized the fact that all men should use their talents in whatever their calling, and that to be church school leaders one had to have certain talents. He pointed out that it is a thankless job, but it provides the greatest advantage in Christian service for the layman or lay woman. He indicated that in doing good for other people the leadership of the church school furnishes the reason for the church's being. He challenged his hearers to manifest a spiritual contagion as they would bear in mind that people are most important.

The speaker said that the job of Christians is to get the program of the church to hit the people and to "beat the devil" in having good to triumph over evil. There is a great need for sincerity in this job as men and women hope to see the kingdom established, and share surpluses with the poverty stricken people of the world. Many in our own homeland are spiritually poor without the church school reaching them. He also encouraged his audience to stand for what they believe. The church leaders must subscribe to the teachings of Christ and then stand firmly for them. Honorable living and Christian fortitude are very important matters in this program. He concluded his inspirational address by saying "we must use what we have to do what we can with what the Lord gave us."

Mrs. Smith was presented to the group and heartily received, after which all joined in the praying of the Lords Prayer.

WAGES, CONSUMERS AND WORKERS

When the Fair Labor Standards Act (which establishes minimum wages among other things) was enacted in 1938 retailing, and various other enterprises were exempted. This exemption has been continued ever since, on the sound grounds that retailing is primarily local in character. On top of that, it would be administratively impractical to police the 1,700,000 retail establishments in this country.

Now, however, it is proposed in some quarters that the retail exemption be eliminated, and that the minimum wage be raised from the present 75-cents-an-hour level. And the potential effects of this on the country should be thoroughly understood both by Congress and the public.

First of all, consumer and producer would be adversely affected. If one category of wages is increased, the other and higher categories inevitably are increased too, in order to maintain reasonable differentials. In addition, stores would be burdened with other costly regulations. The consumer would have to pay the bill, in the form of higher prices for foods and other goods. And when prices are forced up, the market for producers shrinks.

On top of that, this change in the law would undoubtedly reduce employment. Retailers would have no choice but to employ the smallest possible number of unskilled marginal workers—the legal wage would be more than they were worth to the store. So such people would look for jobs in vain, and would lose the opportunity to acquire training that qualifies them for better-paying positions.

In short, the proposal may look good on the surface. But it won't stand logical and objective analysis.—Industrial News-Review.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ORANGE GROVE, TEXAS, OBSERVER: "The need and the desire to serve have always been and always will be a major motivating force of business. Neighbor competes with neighbor—but nearly always to the end of giving the consumer more and better products, superior service, higher value. This is the American tradition."

BRODHEAD, WIS., INDEPENDENT-REGISTER: "From less than a million in use in the early 1930's, there are today more than 4,000,000 tractors on American farms—pulling everything from plows and harrows to cultivators and harvesters. They mean more man-power output, fewer backaches, and arise in farm production of more than 40 per cent in the last 20 years."

SEATTLE WASH., POST-INTELLIGENCER: "There's just one difference between so-called public ownership and so-called private ownership whether it's ferries, trees or power. In private ownership the company gets the lumps when they come. In public ownership—with so few exceptions that they shine out—YOU get the lumps when they come."

DENTON, MD., COUNTY RECORD: "Tax inequalities should be rooted out of our federal fiscal system—particularly so when they violate the cardinal principle of fairness and justice to all alike."

A native of Mt. Savage, Md., Miss Ewald received her education at the University of West Virginia, the University of Maryland and at Western Reserve University in Cleveland. Prior to her association with Potomac Edison, she taught home economics at Beall High School in Frostburg from 1914 to 1926.

She joined the local utility company in 1929 as home service representative in Keyser, W. Va. She subsequently worked in this capacity in Winchester, Cumberland, Martinsburg, and Waynesboro and in 1935 she was transferred to Hagerstown as director of the home lighting department and the home service department. In 1936 when these two departments were merged, Miss Ewald assumed the duties of home service director.

Miss Ewald's successor, Mrs. Catharine T. Mutchner, has been associated with Potomac Edison since 1953 and served as home service advisor for the Taneytown—Mt. Airy sections of the Frederick District. She is a native of Frederick county, Md. and a graduate of the University of Maryland. Prior to her association with Potomac Edison, she held the post of home economist for nine years with the Gas and Electric Company in Baltimore.

Mrs. Mutchner took over the duties of home service director on February 1, and is planning to take up residence in Hagerstown.

Miss Ewald will continue to reside at 1010 Oak Hill Avenue in Hagerstown.

My name is Germex, the clean-up hitter. Watch me bring these chicks home and clear the bases. That's the way Germex, the disinfectant operates. After poultry quarters and equipment have been scrubbed, an application of Germex kills germs, neutralizes odors and makes things sanitary for the chickens. Germex is powerful yet odorless and nonirritating. Use Germex for your disinfecting and "bring your chicks home safe."

...AND THERE I WAS, IN THE BASEMENT!

"Last month, my husband came home early one Monday, and there I was, in the basement, doing my regular weekly wash.

"Of course, there was water all over the place, wet clothes were piled in the baskets and I was looking like anything but a sweet young housewife.

"Well, after he saw what I went through every week, I asked him to carry the clothes up the steps and out to the line—just like I usually have to do. That did it!

"Next day we saw the new electric washers and dryers, and the following Monday I used them to do my laundry.

"What a blessing! Try to get your husband to come home early some washday . . . maybe he'll understand then why you dread Mondays and get you a wonderful automatic washer and an electric dryer."

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

The Band festival will begin in the Opera House, on Saturday night, and will continue every night next week except Monday night. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of new uniforms, and, as the band does not often ask for assistance from the town, this effort should be liberally patronized. The Mayberry Band will be present on Tuesday evening.

A largely attended cakewalk and dance was held by the colored folks, in the Opera House, on Thursday night. The first prize was won by George A. Frealing, of Taneytown, and Mrs. Gertrude Downey, of Emmitsburg.

Harner-Hyser—On February 16, 1905, at the United Brethren parsonage, Taneytown, by Rev. E. C. B. Castle, Mr. John E. Harner was married to Mabel Hyser, both of near Harney.

Mr. M. Bates Stephens, State Superintendent of Public Schools, has issued a pamphlet giving suggestive programmes for the observance of Washington's Birthday, Maryland Day (March 25) and Arbor and Bird Day. Get a proved V-8

NOW

Built by the world's greatest builder of V-8's

Ford has built more V-8's than all other manufacturers combined . . . over 14,000,000! This tremendous V-8 experience has enabled Ford in '55 to turn out in quantity the finest V-8's in the low-price field. So why wait? Get a proved Ford V-8 . . . and start enjoying brilliant new performance, and new-car dependability now!

Enjoy Ford's new

Trigger-Torque Power

For '55, Ford offers two advanced V-8's: the brilliant-performing new Y-block V-8 and the even more powerful Y-block Special V-8. Both of these mighty engines deliver Trigger-Torque power, which means you get the power you want when you want it, throughout the entire driving range of your car. With new Trigger-Torque Power you can have split-second starts . . . faster passing ability for a greater feeling of security . . . the topnotch response at all speeds that makes driving a true delight. And with Ford's high-compression, low-friction design and deep-block construction, you can enjoy smooth performance and long engine life.

Relax in the smooth comfort of new Angle-Poised Ride

Ball-Joint Front Suspension, which Ford introduced in its field last year, has proved itself over billions of miles to be one of the greatest contributions ever made to easier riding and handling. And now, for '55 it is still better. Springs are set at an angle so they absorb road shock from the front as well as straight up.

This provides delicate responsiveness to cushion tiny bumps as well as husky "muscle" to flatten the big bumps.

Take your pick from 16

brilliant new Ford Models

This year, you get Thunderbird-inspired styling in any Ford model you choose. You'll find there's a variety of exciting new single and two-tone body colors with charmingly color-keyed Luxury Lounge Interiors.

Come in for a Trigger-Torque Test Drive!

Do good to thy friend to keep him, to thy enemy to gain him.—Sunshine

FEESERSBURG

Last Thursday more than 500 dairy farmers from Carroll, Frederick and Washington counties and from many Eastern Shore counties too, descended on Annapolis by bus to visit the House of Delegates Chamber in support of a bill to remove Public Service Commission control over shipment of milk into Baltimore. The bill, if passed would end the franchise system under which 27 carriers haul all milk into Baltimore at rates set by the Public Service Commission. Spokesmen for the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers claimed these rates are 5 to 20 cents per hundredweight higher than for milk shipped over the same distance to Washington. The PSC has no control over shipments of milk to any place other than Baltimore. Right now the dairy farmer is caught in a price squeeze and needs the advantage competition in hauling his milk into Baltimore would bring him. For competition would result in lower rates. So far, at this writing, the House of Delegates endorsed their Judiciary Committee's favorable report on the bill. When 500 hundred farmers get together on any issue that in itself is big news.

Instead of the groundhog predicting spring, February 2nd, he must have gotten his signals mixed for even though he didn't see his shadow he must have thought he did. Anyway we have been having the kind of winter weather, grandfather use to talk about. Last Friday night traffic came to a stand still in our county, and for once people were forced to endure the company of their own family, by their own fireside. It must have been a rough ordeal for the teenagers as Friday night is basket ball night in most schools and right now basket ball is about all some boys and girls live for. Like the sports-writer Shirley Povich, my opinion of a basket ball game is so low that a midget could make a basket, but no one asked for my opinion so let's change the subject.

The homemakers should feel very proud of themselves for their sales resistance have brought another dip in coffee prices. Of course the coffee dealers don't want to admit it but the President of a chain of grocery stores said last week that regardless of what anyone says that truth of the drop in coffee prices is that the housewives of the U. S. wouldn't buy coffee after it went over a dollar a pound, and thus forced the price down.

What worries some retailers is whether coffee drinkers finding they can do without the beverage will resume drinking it again. One coffee drinker I know used to drink about eight cups per day, but when the price soared, cut down to two. This person will never drink eight cups again no matter if coffee drops to 25 cents per pound.

Did you ever happen to wonder what happens to the government bonds that you own and cash in? You would never guess that they are repulsed and made into material used to insulate large high tension motors and generators. In a way this is a fitting end to bonds that are supposed to insulate the original owners against a rainy day.

Ten years ago it would have interested dairy farmers to know that every man, woman and child in the U.S. consumes 15 quarts of ice cream per year, but then years ago ice cream was made out of milk and cream. Today some of it never sees an ounce of milk and tastes like foamy shaving cream. Not all of it, some brands still taste like ice cream.

Most of us hear too often the warning that we must face up to reality and pay the piper when he is due instead of putting it off until tomorrow. Well, last week all Marylanders were forced to face reality when Governor McKeldin asked the Legislature for more than $35 million new tax money. He proposed sales and income tax hikes to the tune of 2 to 3 cents on the dollar for sales tax and 50 percent increase on income taxes. It is apparent now to even the most naive citizen that the policy of the former Governor Lane was a sound one and if it had been followed and not scuttled for political expediency our State would not find itself in the budget mess it is now floundering in.

The Union Bridge Chamber of Commerce held its annual dinner in the Firemen's social hall Monday evening. There were about forty members and guests present including some from Taneytown and Hagerstown. Dr. Thomas Legg was toastmaster and introduced the two speakers of the evening, Mr. Raymond Wilson and Mr. L. B. Milton. Mr. Wilson talked on the future expansion of the Lehigh Company and answered questions put to him by members of the audience pertaining to the benefits the community could expect from the enlarged plant.

Mr. Milton, a representative of the Potomac Edison Company talked on the attitude of his company to the expansion of the local cement plant and pointed out the company's desire to furnish all the electric power needed in the development of the expansion program of the Lehigh company in Union Bridge. The talks by both speakers were in an informal and humorous vein, which proved both informative and entertaining to the audience. The meeting proved to be one of the most interesting that the Chamber of Commerce has had recently. The ladies of the Firemen's Auxiliary served their usual interesting and tasty dinner. Miss Gretchen Reese, talented pianist, gave an hour recital of popular and classical music.

Mr. M. H. Rakestraw, president of the Chamber of Commerce made a few brief remarks on the future activities of the organization.

The P-T. A. meeting of the Elmer Wolfe School scheduled for Monday night was postponed because of bad weather and so much illness among the children.

Vexed as I am at times by our teenagers untiring effort to exhort from us more spending-money, more glamorous clothes and more social life, I was partly repaid the other day from the constant ordeal of saying "NO" when our reasonable facsimile of "Penny" said that the trouble with her parents is that they are as smart as a teenager.

UNIONTOWN

Mrs. John Heltibridge spent a few days in Baltimore visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinder, returning home on Sunday.

Visitors of Mrs. Orville Hamburg were Mrs. Guy Formwalt, Mrs. Alva Long, Mr. Warren Goblright, Mr. Wm. Corbin, Miss Emily Lee Devilbiss and Mr. William Davis.

The family of Mr. Maurice Carr has our deepest sympathy.

A number of folks of town enjoyed an afternoon of sledding on Sunday.

DIED

MAE M. SANDERS

Mae M. Sanders, aged 65 years, died suddenly at her home E. Baltimore Street, at 4:45 Wednesday afternoon from coronary occlusion.

She was the daughter of the late Charles E. and Annie Myers Sanders and was born in Bonneauville, Pa., coming to Taneytown about 39 years ago. Miss Sanders was employed by the C. & P. Telephone Company about 36 years serving as office manager and chief operator before the dial system was inaugurated in Taneytown. In the last few years she was employed part-time, in the office of The Spinning Wheel.

She is survived by two brothers, Guy S. Sanders, Gettysburg #5, and Joseph R. Sanders, McSherrystown, two sisters, Mrs. Eugene Melhorn, Gettysburg, and Sister Grace Dolores, of Philadelphia.

Miss Sanders was a member of St. Joseph's Church, Taneytown, and the Sodality of the Church. She was also member of the Auxiliary of the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company.

Funeral services will be held Saturday. Mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock by Rev. Charles Walker in St. Joseph's church. Interment will be in St. Joseph's church cemetery, Bonneauville, Pa.

Friends may call at the Fuss Funeral Home, Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Members of the Sodality will gather at the Funeral Home to recite the Rosary at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Frank Leslie Coleman, 57, Union Bridge, died Tuesday at 1:40 p. m. in Memorial Hospital, Frederick. He had been ill three weeks. Born in Frederick county, he was a son of Mrs. Daisy Angell Coleman and the late William E. Coleman. Mr. Coleman had been employed as a miller by the Lehigh Portland Cement Company the past 30 years. He was a member of Union Bridge Church of the Brethren.

Surviving besides his mother are his wife, G. Louise Toms Coleman; three children by a former marriage, Charles C. Coleman, Rochester, N. Y.; Donald E. Coleman, U.S. Army,

VALENTINE PARTY

The Intermediate and Senior Department of Trinity Lutheran Sunday School enjoyed a Valentine party on Monday evening at the church. Despite the inclement weather there were approximately 35 teachers and pupils present. The room was attractively decorated in red and white for this special occasion.

The program opened with prayer by Pastor Stahl, followed by group singing. Robert Clingan sang a solo accompanied by Miss Dorothy Rohrbach. A piano solo was rendered by Miss Doris Bollinger; a radio skit was presented by the Luther Leaguers.

Games and stunts were enjoyed by all, under the direction of Miss Jean Luckenbaugh, Miss Dorothy Rohrbach and John Reeve.

Delicious refreshments were served by the committee. The party closed with a friendship circle.

The program and games were planned and presented by the Luther League of the church, Miss Arlene Naylor, President.

Robert De Vore

Robert De Vore, Atlantic district manager of the Du Pont Company's Extension Division, will address Taneytown, Md., Lions Club on February 22.

The theme of his talk will be that America can continue to progress only by producing more of the necessities and comforts which are the real basis of wealth and that progress in this direction cannot be taken for granted. This position will be documented by recent examples of achievements by industrial research and technology.

Mr. De Vore, a former Washington, D.C., newspaper and magazine correspondent, joined Du Pont in 1947 as a member of the staff of its Public Relations Department. He acted as public relations advisor to several Du Pont manufacturing departments prior to his present assignment as a speaker on industry.

During his 17 years in the newspaper and magazine field, he reported Washington news developments and wrote articles for Collier's, was a member of the national news staff and assistant city editor of the Washington Post, and a reporter on the Toledo, Ohio, Times.

He is a native of Toledo and a 1927 graduate of the University of Michigan. His present headquarters are in the administrative offices of the Du Pont Company, in Wilmington, Del.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. C. L. Stonesifer
Carroll Record
Taneytown, Md.

Dear Mr. Stonesifer:
Please accept from us this expression and sincere thankfulness of the 35,000 Scout families in this area for the splendid publicity given the 45th Anniversary of Scouting in America. The Press is our finest medium for educating people to the value and effectiveness of Scouting in dealing with young people, and for that reason we are mighty thankful that you find it possible to publicize Scouting activities that are reasonably newsworthy. Sincerely yours,

BOB HEISTAND,
Scout Executive.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

Shelley Winters, Paulette Goddard, Mary Astor, Nancy Olsen, Mary Boland, Valerie Bettis, Cathleen Nesbitt and Bibi Osterwald. It was in three acts. It was the story of women who reach Reno but seem to be undecided about the divorce when they get there. The story told of the unhappiness brought about by gossip of the so-called "Best Friends"? However, it all ended happily ever after and the T. V. picture lasted exactly one and a half hours! It was excellent acting to every character. How nice it was for the wife and two children winning the big Sweepstakes of the Bert Parks Show last Sunday night the sum of $3,400 dollars and to think they were leaving for Paris to remain with the husband and father who is a nephew of Uncle Sam's!

Did you know that the Nation really can thank a Philadelphia woman for Thanksgiving Day? A "day of thanksgiving" was prosoped here in 1864 by Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, "editress" of Godey's Lady Book. President Lincoln liked the idea and he made it a national observance by proclamation! The State of Pennsylvania now has adopted the slogan of Mr. Paul Burke, "SLOW UP AND LIVE!" of our State of Maryland.

Did you ever try to entertain "A Queen for a Day"—not a glamorous young girl but an aged lady? Take time out for this very special day. Ladies and you will receive big Dividends. You can learn much from a "Deep Well"! Try it every now and then and you will see what I mean. It not alone will bring happiness to the aged one but even more so for you.

You will find that you are happier doing for others! The other day, I called upon one of "The Queens" and it was a joy to this Columnist for one full hour! She is anticipating the day in May when I entertain five "Queens for a Day"! at luncheon in the bungalow! (Such little things in life!)

If you have any doubts about Research and just where your money goes be sure and look in one C I B A—T.V. which comes right from the laboratories in Summit, N. J. explaining in much detail about Research of and for the different ailments. You will never begrudge one dollar you ever give and you will desire to give more! "SERVING TO THE WELL BEING OF ALL PEOPLE!" So long, folks. Have a grand weekend. Be careful when you drive! See you next week. D.V. I am, Faithfully, trances, and "detriments to the preservation of natural scenery".

YOUR OBSERVER.

3. Control over these 75 foot strips would be placed in the hands of the State Roads Commission.

4. "Agricultural structures", except for set-back lines of new structures, and the use of the land by the owner for the sale of his homegrown products, would not be effected.

Forever Bills of this nature provided for 20 feet strips of controlled land, instead of 75 feet, and were otherwise more restrictive in effect. Whether this watered-down version will stand a better chance of passage than its predecessors is anyone's guess.

MILK HAULING

H.B.58 & H.B.60. For many years the hauling of fluid milk has been regulated by the Public Service Commission of Maryland and by reason of the franchise granted to milk haulers, giving them exclusive rights to haul over particular routes, their business has been non-competitive.

Dissatisfaction over this arrangement has led milk producers from the entire state to back these two Bills that would take milk hauling out of the control of the Public Service Commission and would permit the producers to contract with any hauler for the shipment of their milk.

A similar Bill was defeated in a recent session, but, with the support of farm organizations and the Maryland Milk Producers Association, it is almost certain that these two Bills will pass this year.

With appreciation for the courtesy of this paper in permitting me the use of its columns to present information relating to Legislative activities, I am, Sincerely,

STANFORD HOFF,
State Senator for Carroll County

Sierra Redwoods Grew on Site Of Nevada Desert

LOS ANGELES—Nevada desert was once covered with Sierra Redwoods and there were many active volcanoes in the region, says Dr. Daniel Axelrod, University of California geologist who has made a geological survey of the area.

Like flowers pressed between pages of a book, plant leaves pressed between masses of rock tell the story. From these fossil plants and the rocks in which they are found Dr. Axelrod has pieced together an account of Nevada's distant past.

This was about 14,000,000 years before the Sierra range pushed its granite peaks skyward.

At that time the Pacific Northwest was covered with hardwood forests like those of the Mississippi Valley today. Coastal southern California was covered with subtropical forests, and today's southern deserts were oak and pine woodlands. During this era Nevada had vegetation similar to that now found on the southwestern flank of the Sierra Nevada where redwood and pines mingle with oaks and chaparral. The region had an annual rainfall of 25-30 inches. Drainage was westward to the ocean. Today most of Nevada drains into low areas within the state.

After the Sierra was formed, moist, westerly winds, which carried rain to the Nevada area, were blocked. This and other factors caused the forests to die out and the region became desert.

Red Tag Warns Cotton Handlers

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—"Watch this cotton bale—it could ruin you." By flashing this warning to ginners, warehousemen, and cotton haulers, red "fire-bale" tags save the cotton industry countless thousands of dollars.

The National Cotton Council, in cooperation with various state ginner associations, distributes the red tags to all ginners in the Cotton Belt.

A "fire-bale" is one which harbors smoldering lint ignited by a spark during the ginning process. The tightly packed lint will sometimes smoulder for days before bursting into flame to ignite neighboring bales in a warehouse or railway boxcar and cause disaster.

Red fire tags enable the ginner to label those suspected bales and set them aside—well away from all other cotton—for a period of 72 hours or more until all danger is passed. The recommended procedure calls for tagging the bale preceding the suspected bale and also the one that follows. After 72 hours these two are released into regular market channels and the suspected bale held as long as the ginner thinks necessary.

Bone Found by Hunters May Be From Mastadon

GREENVILLE, Miss.—The giant jawbone of an animal found by two hunters near here may have come from an animal that became extinct 20,000 years ago.

Charles Thomas and Robert Fulmer said they found the fossil on a Mississippi River sandbar about 15 miles north of Greenville. It weighed nearly fifty pounds.

Three molars, still intact, measured four inches, while the ancient bone measured twenty-six inches long, a foot high and six inches across.

The Smithsonian Institution at Washington said the animal probably belonged to a species of mastadon, an elephant-like beast that came to North America 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 years ago.

Mastadons were once common in North America, particularly in Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

New Army 'Barc' Hauls 120 Tons Equipment

NEW YORK—The Army Transportation Corps is developing a huge amphibious "truck" capable of transporting a locomotive over water or desert.

To be known as a "Barc" the heavy truck is intended to bring higher mobility to heavy war gear in beach-head operations.

The truck is made largely of steel and is said to be capable of hauling up to 120 tons in weight. It is equipped with 10-foot tires and has an overall length of 61 feet. In the water, it is driven by twin screws, but can be steered by its engines if the rudder fails.

Experts say that, despite its tremendous proportions, the Barc is a highly maneuverable vehicle and requires only a single operator, whether on land or sea.

Big Game Making Strong Comeback In America

WASHINGTON—North American caribou, moose and buffalo, once apparently headed for extinction, are roaming the wilds in growing numbers, having won their fight for survival.

Stricter hunting laws and better control of fires, wolves and other predators are the tools man has used to reverse the trend of destruction started more than 150 years ago.

The Caribou is a sort of American reindeer, sometimes known as "the cattle of the far north." Eskimos, Indians and settlers in Canada, and Alaska, depend upon them for food and clothing. Forest fires, wolves and hunters once diminished their numbers at an alarming rate. Now, they're making a comeback.

The slaughter of the American bison, or buffalo, began early in the 19th century and by 1889 an estimated 60 million in the United States had dwindled to less than 600.

Now national refugees in both Canada and the United States and private ranchers own 35,000 head. This is probably as high as the bison population will go, since range land for these animals is limited.

Largest herds are at Wood Buffalo Park in Canada and National Bison Range in Montana.

Moose, once fading fast from northern forests, came back in such great numbers that hunting controls were relaxed to avert overpopulation. Forest fires, mortal enemy of the caribou and other animals, are a boon to moose. The burning of spruce and pine forests encourages growth of willow, birch and aspen, favorite foods of the moose.

Milk of Kindness Travels by Rail

LONDON, England—A hungry baby, a distraught mother and an anxious father recently were the recipients of the milk of human kindness, British Railways style.

Mrs. Peter Baines and 15-month old Susan of Wakefield, England, set off by train for London, but in the last minute rush and excitement forgot to take the baby's milk.

Peter Baines, returning home after seeing his family safely on the train, found the all-important bottle of milk on the kitchen table, and worrying about the welfare of his young heir, phoned the station master for help.

By the time the train arrived in Grantham, 70 miles away, mother and child were met by a retinue consisting of a ticket collector flourishing a baby's feeding bottle, a female station attendant with a jug of warm milk and one porter carrying one diaper.

Later, Baines wrote to British Railways offering to pay any bill and stating, "You are often criticized, but I am most impressed by your efficiency."

The pithy and official reply, "Thanks. All in a day's work. Diaper and milk on the house."

Big Traffic Toll Shown in Death Claims

NEW YORK—Motor vehicle fatalities accounted for 20,000 life insurance death claims in the first half of this year, representing aggregate payments of $39,000,000, the Institute of Life Insurance says.

This compares with 18,000 claims for $37,000,000 in the first six months of 1953. The increase stemmed more from the greater number of insured persons rather than from any rise in fatality rate, the latter appearing to be running somewhat lower than the year before.

Last year, the 12-month aggregate of motor vehicle death claims was 40,000 for $76,000,000.

Motor vehicle accidents have become one of the important causes of death, the death rate from them last year exceeding the combined toll from stomach ulcers, influenza, communicable diseases of childhood, gastritis and homicides.

Thefts Laid to Man Supposedly in Jail

OCALA, Florida — Sheriff Don McLeod accused a prisoner of burglarizing four homes while supposedly sharing the hospitality of the law.

The sheriff said Samuel Thomas admitted after he was caught that he slipped out of the road camp after a prisoner check, rode a bicycle two miles to town for a burglary, and got back in time for the next prisoner check.

Ought to Know

DETROIT — William J. Smith, 79, and his wife, Anna, 77, recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. Mr. Smith who should be an expert, had some advice for newlyweds.

"When you get into a spat with the wife, start counting," he says. "But don't stop at 10. Keep right on counting. Pretty soon you'll be more interested in counting than listening to your wife."

Find New Hope For Stored Eggs

Thermostabilization May Hold Up Quality

One of the egg industry's biggest problems has been the matter of storing shell eggs and at the same time holding up quality. Thermostabilization of eggs may be the answer to the problem.

The process is relatively simple. Eggs are subjected to a hot liquid bath controlled as to temperature and time. Two of the liquids which can be used are light weight oil and water. There are a number of temperature and time variations which can be used. Object of the treatment is to bring the internal egg temperature up to 124-129 degrees F. Researchers point out that many temperatures and time ratios may be used. One process consists of giving eggs an oil bath for 16 minutes at 134 degrees F. Three lots of eggs were used in one research test. One lot received no treatment other than cleaning, grading and candling. A second group was oil treated by the standard oil dipping process and the third lot was thermostabilized. All eggs were U.S. Grade A at the beginning of the test.

New storage process involving hot liquid bath may solve one of egg industry's biggest problems—that of retaining quality of stored shell eggs.

The three lots were stored at 30 degrees F for 7½ months. The results were: natural eggs had only 2½ per cent A's; the oil processed eggs 38 per cent A's; and the thermo eggs had 85 per cent Grade A's remaining.

Thermostabilization stabilizes the white so the thick white does not break down to thin white as rapidly as in an untreated egg; it destroys the germ cell in fertile eggs; has the action of pasteurizing the shell; and cooks a very thin layer of the outer white which forms an additional barrier against the loss of moisture and carbon dioxide from the egg.

Chemical Extenders Keep Spray Deadly

Addition of chemical "extenders" to some insecticide sprays greatly increases the time they remain lethal against insects, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In comparative tests carried out by chemists and entomologists, DDT oil solution sprayed on the foliage of spruce and pine trees was effective against flies for less than 15 days. However, when methyl ethyl ketone was used instead of oil as solvent for DDT, spray residues on the foliage killed flies for 60 and more days. Similarly, the lasting effectiveness of other insecticides, such as aldrin and lindane, was improved by addition of chlorinated terphenyls (a resin-like material) to the spray. When used as normal oil or emulsion sprays, aldrin and lindane retain their fly-killing ability less than 10 days under outdoor weather conditions. In combination with the chemical extender, they provided nearly perfect fly control for more than 102 days.

Applied as an oil-base spray, DDT does not form long-lasting residues on foliage because the oil-carrying the DDT—penetrates into the leaf. However, when a highly volatile solvent such as methyl ethyl ketone is substituted for the oil in DDT sprays, it quickly vaporizes when sprayed so that only a residue of DDT remains on the foliage surface.

Dr. Garth Volk, chairman of Ohio's State University's agronomy department says that every dollar a farmer invests in fertilizer returns him $3 in increased crop value from higher yields. He reports that Ohio farmers last year bought about $50 million worth of fertilizer and estimates that this outlay returned $150 million to Ohio farms.

FREIGHTER, scheduled for February production on TV's distinguished dramatic series, the United States Steel Hour, is one of the hottest properties acquired for television presentation in the past year.

A powerful story of conflict, its all-male cast of 15 is headed by Thomas Mitchell, James Daly, Henry Hull and Pat O'Malley. It calls for construction of a complete engine room, captain's bridge, forecastle deck and cabins, the entire setting mounted on rockers to give the effect of a ship at sea in bad weather. Should bring more laurels to TV's ranking dramatic program.

FOR SOME TIME the talk of the music world has been the forthcoming debut at the Metropolitan Opera of Renata Tebaldi and her appearance on the Telephone Hour just a week later—giving all America an opportunity to hear this young Italian soprano, who has sung with sensational success in the great opera houses of Europe and South America. Miss Tebaldi's engagement makes February a notable month on this famous NBC Radio program, with Lily Pons singing the following Monday, then George London, bass-baritone, and Grant Johannesen, pianist.

WHAT HAPPENS to people who unexpectedly receive one million dollars, not knowing who the donor is, with the stipulation that they must tell no one, except a husband or wife, about receiving the money? "The Millionaire," the new dramatic program on CBS-TV each Wednesday night presents a different story based on this idea. Mr. John Beresford Tipton, a billionaire who gives the money, is heard but never seen; his secretary, played by Marvin Miller, is the intermediary and narrator for each weekly fictional story.

Kitchen of Tomorrow

The kitchen of tomorrow, it is predicted by many builders, will have a ceiling of acoustical tile to deaden the noise of electrical appliances and the clatter of utensils. Sonofacel tile has a colorful plastic film facing that can easily be wiped clean around air conditioning vents, over stoves or wherever dirt gathers.

broadcasts and plows under fertilizer, in addition to applying it with his planter attachment in the spring.

Tests in Minnesota and other Midwestern states bear this out.

Back in 1950, fertilizer was put on some Minnesota hay fields in the summer; also on neighboring fields in the fall and on other hay fields the following spring. Three treatments were used; phosphate alone; phosphate-potash; and nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

The soils men spread the same fertilizer on oats and corn plowing in the fall. Then they repeated the job on other fields next spring. At harvest the next autumn, yield increases were about the same on all fields.

Minnesota agronomists repeated the process in the summer of 1952 and the spring of 1953. Altogether, they had seven fields of hay, seven of oats and seven of corn. And in the 1953 harvest, says McGregor, "it didn't seem to make any difference in yields whether we had put on the fertilizer in the fall or in the spring."

Vaccine Available Against Bluetongue

American veterinarians now have available an effective new vaccine for combating bluetongue, a disease principally of sheep.

The vaccine was developed co-operatively by the Agricultural Research Service, the State of California, and private industry. Started on the basis of earlier work in South Africa, the vaccine was tested for ability to immunize and for innocuity, approved, and licensed by ARS. Four laboratories are making and distributing the vaccine commercially.

Bluetongue was first identified in Africa, where it has probably existed as long as sheep farming has been carried on there. It was first diagnosed in the United States early in 1953 by tests conducted in South Africa on material collected from diseased United States sheep.

Probably present here for a number of years, bluetongue has been officially diagnosed in Arizona, California, and Texas and reported in New Mexico and Utah. It probably has been present in some other western states.

In Remembrance

Lesson for February 20, 1955

THE words printed on this page are not like the things they refer to, they are not the same size, color or shape. Yet every one who can read these black marks on white paper is reminded at once of what they stand for. A flag is not the same color or size as the country; yet every child in school knows what the flag means. So it is with those two simple observations of the Christian church, baptism and the Lord's Supper. Some Dr. Foreman churches call these "ordinances"; most call them "sacraments." Quarrels over the right way to perform these, quarrels about their precise meaning, make up one of the darkest chapters of church history. Yet in every church these two symbols remain. Christians everywhere share the experience of baptism. If you, reading these lines, are a Christian, then no doubt some time or other you have been baptized. Baptism is the Ceremony of Initiation, the Lord's Supper is the Ceremony of Remembrance.

—Of His Death

Leaving the quarrels aside, what is it the church universal believes about the Lord's Supper? The least that can be said of it is that it is "in remembrance" of Christ. (For that matter, so is baptism; but there is scarcely room here to speak of both of these.) We remember the death of Christ, first of all. "Ye do show the Lord's death..." How often Christians have heard those solemn words! For the bread is not neatly sliced, it is broken. The wine is not bottled up, it is poured out. Broken bread and poured out wine take the worshipper back to a certain night in an upper room in Palestine, when around the table 12 anxious men heard for the first time those immortal words, "This is my body, broken for you..." This do in remembrance of me." They take us back to the afternoon of the first Good Friday, when upon the stones of the place called Golgotha dripped the lifeblood of one who was pouring out his life "a ransom for many."

—Of His Coming

If the Lord's Supper is in memory of the past, it is also a reminder of the future. "Till He Come" — the words are heard at communion everywhere in the Christian world. What do they mean? The least they can mean is that Christians look forward as well as back. The world will not go on and on and on forever and ever just the same. The hope of Christians that "the kingdoms of the world will become the kingdoms of our Lord and his Christ" will not always be only a hope. Christ has died for men; that is the memory the church keeps alive. Christ will reign over men from a throne of life; that is the hope the church will not give up. Christians have differed and will keep on differing as to just how this hope is going to be fulfilled. But the church believes with all her heart—Christ will win! He is not doomed to lose forever. And every communion gives testimony to this hope—"till he come."

—Of His Living Progress

The churches of the world, more the city, are so far from agreeing about what the communion of our Lord's Supper means, that even in a great gathering like that of the World Council of Churches, not every one feels free to take communion with all the others. Nevertheless, with all the differences, in every form of the Lord's Supper, in every church, there is the conviction that Christ is more than a memory, more than a hope. He is real; he is here. Clear at the heart of the Christian conviction about the meaning of the Lord's Supper is the feeling that in this simple rite He is really present. Across all the centuries he comes to be with those who love him. Past, present, future, all unite in the burning moment. The open heart receives the unseen Guest, and peace comes as never the world gives peace, to hush the fears and heal the sorrows of the soul. Theologians may go on debating as to how it is, how it can be true. But the simple Christian does not need to study many books for some explanation of what in his heart he has learned is true. If some one asks who was at communion this morning, the first thing the remembering heart can say is not, I was there, or my neighbor was there; but—he was there. And he has come home with me!

Psalm Sixteen

This is a Psalm of trust. The Psalmist takes refuge in God because he trusts God. God is the source of his supreme goodness. Because of his intimate knowledge of the Lord, the Psalmist finds delight and satisfaction in fellowship with God's people. He values them for what they are. "As for the saints in the land, they are the noble."

In whom is all my delight." The Psalmist's observation of the devotees of other gods only makes Jehovah and his worshippers more precious to him. To trust in the genuine is to find a difference in life's expressions and manifestations.

"Those who choose another god multiply their sorrows; Their libations of blood I will not pour out Or take their names upon my lips."

"The Lord is my chosen portion and my cup; Thou holdest my lot. Thou hast fallen for me in pleasant places; Yea, I have a goodly heritage."

The true worshipper will cherish his heritage because it is goodly. The nearness of the Lord means stability and strength.

"Because he is a my right hand, I shall not be moved." There is fullness of joy in the presence of the Lord. And the path of life is seen by God's people.

"Thou dost show me the path of life."

TEACHERS' SALARIES AGAIN

The Carroll County Board of Education recently released a statement regarding salaries of Carroll county public school teachers for 1955-56. Certain impressions were given or implied in county newspapers which may have created some misunderstanding of the teachers' salary issue and the facts related thereto during the coming school year. It, therefore, seems wise and appropriate to issue the following statements so that no misunderstandings will exist.

1. By reason of changes in state school laws, the state minimum salary is changed for the school year 1955-56. State scale for degree teachers during 1954-55 and 1953-54 began with a minimum of $2500. This same legislation provided for increase of $300 in state minimum salary for 1955-56 to a beginning salary of $2800 and maximum of $4600 after 19 years of experience.

2. During the school year 1954-55, Carroll County government, by its fiscal authority, appropriated and permitted payment of salaries beginning with $2850 in the first year of experience ranging to $4450 in the 16th year of experience and thereafter on an excess salary of $350.

3. The Board of Education requested in December 1954 that the county authorities appropriate for and permit payment of degree salaries beginning with $3250 and ranging over 19 years to a maximum of $5050 or an excess salary of $450 for each teacher. Budget approval was granted by county authorities for an excess salary of $200 at each step over a nineteen year interval permitting a beginning salary of $3000 a maximum of $4800. Thus, the county support of excess salaries is $200 per teacher in 1955-56 rather than $350 as in 1954-55. The assumption that teachers will receive an increase from the county is therefore erroneous and should be corrected.

4. It is appropriate to note that the legislation of 1953 providing for increasing teachers salaries in 1953-54 and 1954-55 provided also for an increase in the required levy from county sources from 65c to 75c per $100 of assessed valuation. Building fund requirements continue to need major appropriations and the 1955 levy included $175,000 for this purpose. It should, therefore, be emphasized that the tax rate increase which has been publicized is due not to county teacher salary increases but to building fund appropriations and an increase in required levy to qualify for a share in state equalization funds.

5. It is hoped by the Carroll County Board of Education that continued consideration will be given by county authorities to the problem of teacher salaries for 1955-56 thus enabling the local school system to meet the challenge presented by the salary scales for Frederick, Baltimore, Harford, Washington, Montgomery, and Anne Arundel Counties. The members of the Board of Education believe such consideration to be of major importance in maintaining educational efficiency in Carroll County Schools and will continue to work toward the end that teachers' salaries in our county compare favorably with those paid in comparable and adjoining counties.

TV HOUSE PARTY

The Red Cross story will be dramatized by means of a TV House Party Saturday, Feb. 19, from 5:30 to 5:55 p. m., Channel 2, WMAR-TV. Sunday, Feb. 27, from 1:30 to 1:45 p. m. Radio Station WTTR will give Carroll County Chapter, American Red Cross, 15 minutes devoted to the local county-wide program. District chairmen, captains, solicitors will be interested and assisted by both programs.

The Post Office Department affects all of our citizens in its daily operations.

It is a great business-type enterprise within the Government, requiring the use of the most modern methods, practices, and policies so that the American people may receive the best possible service at the most economical cost.

Your Post Office Department is now being operated on a pre-war price level and a post-war cost level. Consequently, it is now losing money at the rate of at least a million dollars every working day.

Since World War II, during a period of unprecedented national prosperity, the Post Office Department has operated at a total loss of more than $4 billion. The interest alone on this portion of the national debt is now costing American taxpayers more than $100 million a year.

Despite recent economies and greater efficiency, the Post Office Department operated at a loss of $399.5 million in the fiscal year of 1954. This loss does not include pending wage increases and other employee benefits that will cost at least $166 million more per year.

The mailing charges in the United States for a letter, a magazine, or a book have been frequently called "the biggest bargains on earth."

Most other countries, including our neighbor Canada, run their mail service on a break-even or profit basis. New postal revenue is needed now to meet increased costs; to provide facilities to keep pace with growing mail volume; to improve service.

Raising postal rates is quite understandably not a popular issue. But American always face up to financial necessities—when they understand them.

The American people are adult enough to know they only deceive themselves by keeping postal rates artificially low, and taxing themselves to pay the difference.

Traditionally, they prefer a pay-as-you-go basis—with the user of a service paying his way.

The recent Gallup Poll results published on January 23, 1955, showing that the majority opinion today favors raising the rate on first-class mail from 3c to 4c, confirms this conclusion as do other surveys made on the same subject.

Obviously, somebody has to pay for postal services. Low postage rates are misleading when the difference is paid by the taxpayer. Isn't it fairer to charge those who receive the direct benefit rather than transfer a large part of the cost to the general taxpayer?

With these views in mind, the Post Office Department has proposed to Congress moderate increases on first, second, and third class mail.

It has also recommended the establishment of a permanent Postal Rate Commission to provide a continuous flexible system of scientific rate adjustments under policy guidance of the Congress.

The creation of the proposed Postal Rate Commission would materially aid in the formulation of a sound long-range fiscal policy for the Post Office Department.

President Eisenhower, in his January 11 message to the Congress, stated that "approval of this program will be in the public interest for it will further assure efficient service by the Post Office Department."

Here are some brief facts about rates and costs of first, second, and third class mail:

The 3c letter rate for first-class mail has been aptly termed the "Orphan Annie" of the post-war inflationary period.

In fact, most Americans do not realize that postage rates on 3c first-class letters are the same today, 3c for the first ounce, as they were in 1932.

They haven't understood, either, that Post Office Department costs have almost doubled since 1932.

They know, however, that their own ability to pay has more than doubled, measured in terms of the increase in per capita disposable income since 1932.

They realize also that the cost of practically everything they buy or use has practically doubled since 1932 as shown by the 97 per cent increase in the consumer's price index.

Since 1932, there have been five general wage increases for postal employees and another may be imminent. There have also been two increases in rates paid to railroads for carrying the mails.

First-class mail service under present rates does not carry its fair share of postal costs.

In 1954 the cost of handling the average first-class letter was 3.12c and it will be substantially higher in 1955—possibly up to 3.35c. This is in contrast to a cost of 1.89c in 1932.

It is significant that whereas the cost of handling the average first-class letter has increased about one and one-half cents over what it was in 1932, the rate increase now proposed is for only one cent.

If the letter rate was fair in 1932, it is obviously too low now.

In terms of increases in the general price level, the 3c stamp would cost 6c today.

During the fiscal year 1954, first-class mail accounted for 51.9 per cent of total pieces, 6.8 per cent of total weight, 39.3 per cent of total postal revenue.

Since at least three-fourths of all letter mail originates with commercial users of the mails an increase of one cent on the first ounce of first-class mail would cost the average U. S. family only 4c 10c more a month.

The proposed 4c letter rate will still be a big bargain. Compare it to the 5c mailing costs paid in Canada; the 8.5c in Sweden; the 9.6c in Germany; the 4.17c in England.

The legislation proposed on January 24, 1955 would increase the postage on first-class letters by one cent on the first ounce only. This would increase revenue by $237 million and go a long way toward eliminating the deficit.

The proposals of January 24, 1955, would also increase the postage on domestic air mail by one cent on the first ounce only. This proposed increase would maintain a consistent relationship with regular letter rates and would yield approximately $14 million in additional revenue.

Moderate rate increases are also proposed for second-class mail which consists principally of magazines and newspapers.

In the fiscal 1954 second-class mail represented 12.3 per cent of the total pieces, of mail handled by the post Office Department 22.5 per cent of total weight, 2.4 per cent of postal revenue.

Second-class rates are substantially the same today as they were in 1932, despite three recent 10 per cent increases.

In the fiscal year 1954, second-class mail costs were $51.6 million more than in 1950. Increased rates since 1950, including the full effect of the three annual 10 per cent increases, produced $12.8 million of new revenue, a sum less than one-fourth of increased costs.

No rate changes are recommended in the legislation proposed on January 24, 1955 for within county rates, including free-in-city mailing privileges.

Rates will remain the same for non-profit religious, educational, scientific, philanthropic, agricultural, labor, veterans' or fraternal organizations. Also, publications specifically designed for school and religious instruction classes will continue paying the same small token rate.

The legislation proposed on January 24, 1955 would increase publishers' second-class mail rates by about 15 per cent per year for two successive years and provide additional revenues of about $10 million the first year and $7.5 million the second year or a total of $17.5 million in the two years.

Third-class mail consists primarily of circulars, advertising matter, miscellaneous material, and merchandise weighing eight ounces or less.

In the fiscal 1954, third-class mail accounted for 26.6 per cent of the total pieces handled by the Post Office Department; 7.4 per cent of total weight; 10.9 per cent of total revenue.

In the fiscal year 1954, third-class mail costs were $108 million more than in 1950. Increased rates since 1950 produced $41 million in new revenue, a sum less than one-half of increased costs.

The legislation proposed on January 24, 1955 would increase revenues from third-class mail by approximately $73 million a year.

In the foregoing facts are found the reasons why, in the public interest, our postal revenues should be brought more nearly in line with our present postal costs.

Hard common sense indicates there is only one way to solve this dilemma—namely to increase postal rates equitably so that the Post Office Department may operate on as nearly a pay-as-you-go basis as is practical—with the actual users of the mails paying a larger share of the costs instead of transferring this financial burden to the shoulders of American taxpayers.

FREE FOREST TREE SEEDLINGS

The Department of Forests and Parks is furnishing free forest tree seedlings to landowners of the state again this year. White and loblolly pines, Norway spruce and a limited supply of other species are available for planting in March and April. These seedlings are available for reforestation, soil and water conservation purposes only and may be obtained only after examination and approval of the planting site by a forester.

Landowners in Carroll County planted 160,000 trees or 22% of all trees distributed by the Department of Forests and Parks in District #4 in 1954 according to William A. Parr, District Forester. This district is comprised of Carroll, Baltimore, Harford, Cecil, Kent and Queen Anne's counties.

All interested persons should contact Gerald H. Williams, Assistant District Forester by writing to Box #326, Westminster, Md., or by phoning Westminster 1350J.

"BUILD WHILE YOU LIVE"

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Feb. 12, 1955

Dear Sir:

I am writing to let you know I am being transferred to another duty station, therefore I would like for you to discontinue sending a copy of "Record".

I would at this time like to thank you very much for being so kind in sending me the Record. It's very nice to be many miles from home and still know what is going on at home. I have written a little poem which I think is a fairly good description of the Record and I have given it the title of "It's in the Record". Again I thank you very much.

Sincerely,
F. B. McNAIR, EM3/c

"IT'S IN THE RECORD"

First Bill got married
Then my friend Joe
You ask me
How do I know
It's in the Record.

There's news of various Clubs
News of different things in our school
There is even news
Of someone who bought a bull.

It tells of our dear friends
Who have gone to the land of Rest
Also which families
With babies, have been blessed.

There is news about men in the Army
And men who wear Navy Blue
There is News
From the "Observer" too.

Some of my friends
On vacation do go
You ask me
How do I know
It's in the Record.

Mr. Andrew Mason, principal of Taneytown Jr.-Sr. High School, plans to leave on Saturday morning, February 19, to attend the 39th Annual Convention of the National Association of Secondary School Principals. This convention, in co-operation with the New Jersey Secondary-School Principals Association, will be held in the spacious Atlantic Convention Hall, beginning Saturday morning, February 19 and closing Wednesday afternoon, February 23, 1955.

It has just been announced by Gov. McKeldin's Committee to Promote Employment of the Physically Handicapped that Miss Arlene Naylor, 11A, of Taneytown High School is the 1955 winner of the fifth prize in a statewide essay contest conducted by this committee annually. Miss Naylor's award will be presented to her by Governor McKeldin at a luncheon on Tuesday, March 8, 1955, at 12:30 p. m., at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore, Md.

Mr. Willis White, State Supervisor of High Schools, and Mr. Gerald Richter, County Supervisor, visited Taneytown High School on Monday, February 14. Mr. White and Mr. Richter observed many of the afternoon classes, after which they attended the regular meeting of the faculty.

Because of the inclement weather, the "Sweetheart Hop" which was to be held on Saturday, February 12, has been postponed to Saturday, February 19th.

Mr. Clyde Lewis, Forest Patrol, Maryland Department of Forests and Parks, showed a movie on forest conservation to the Junior High School students, Monday morning during first period classes.

The basketball game which was scheduled with Mt. Airy for February 11, 1955, was postponed because of the snow storm. The date for this game has been tentatively set for February 23.

On February 15, Taneytown girls met Elmer Wolfe girls on the Elmer Wolfe floor. At 7:30 p. m. on the aforesaid date the Varsity played the Quinsey Orphanage on the Taneytown High floor.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALES

The Executive Board of the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association met on Wednesday at the Carroll County Medical Center, Westminster, to discuss the program for the coming year. The extent of the activities against tuberculosis in Carroll County depends upon the final receipts of the Christmas Seal sale. To date $7,090.40 has been received.

Reminder letters were sent to former contributors last week and many hastened to send in their contributions in order to share with others the work the Christmas Seals do.

A letter received from one contributor states: "I'd like to take this opportunity to say thanks for the very nice way in which you checked us. I had an X-ray taken at our doctor's request and the clinic ran a series of tests on my husband. At all times everyone was kind and courteous. It is such a good work you are doing and I wish more people might realize the value of it."

Letters have been received from some persons receiving reminder letters to advise that their contributions had already been sent in. The Association would like to explain that this money was not lost but an error had been made in recording and regrets that these persons have received reminder letters.

FARM BUREAU PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

George B. John and Carroll Little have been selected as co-chairmen to head the Membership Committee of the Carroll County Farm Bureau this year. The goal is 1,050 farm families as members. Carroll County ranks second highest in membership in the state and leads the state in the number of Planning Groups formed which meet monthly.

Farm Bureau is the largest and most effective farm organization in the world, because it accurately translates into action the policies favored by the greater majority of farmers.

The kick-off luncheon meeting will be held at Krider's Reformed church, Wednesday, February 23, when plans will be made for the membership drive by the President Earl Beard. Each district has two captains. They are as follows: District 1 Hampstead and Manchester, Edgar Sellers and Robert Basler; District #2 Westminster and Woolery's, Carroll Little and C. Walter Wagner; District #3 Franklin, Mt. Airy, Freedom and Berrett, Francis C. Crawford and James Bushey; District #4 New Windsor, Uniontown, Randall Spoonlein and Guy Cookson, Jr.; District #5 Union Bridge, Taneytown, Myers and Middleburg, Carroll Wilhite and Hubert Null.
