HOFF

Dear Sir:

HOME RULE FOR TOWNS
In the November, 1954, General
Election the voters of Maryland approved an Amendment to the Maryland Constitution giving Home Rule added to our constitution which is to the towns and cities of the State.

By this Amendment a new article was known as Article 11E.

In brief Article 11E provides

1. That the Legislature shall not pass any laws relating to a particular town or city in the State.

That hereafter every town shall have the power to amend or repeal its existing charter or to adopt a new charter.

3. That such changes may be initiated by either the town council or by the voters of any town.
4. That all such changes must be approved by the voters of the town.

The only powers reserved by the Legislature were the powers to (1) limit the tax rate of any town (2) to limit the amount of bonded indebtedness that any town might have, and (3) to pass general or state-wide laws applicable equally to all towns.

The approval of the Amendment last November meant that the Legislature could pass no local laws relating to towns—but that the Towns had no means of acting under their new powers until some bill is passed establishing the methods and procedures to be followed in exercising such

This Bill, known as the Home Rule, is Senate Bill 5. It deals with the four most important phases of Home Rule, namely (1) Charter Amendments, (2) Annexation (3) Incorporation of New Towns and (4) Taxes and Bonds.

As this Bill is still before the Senate for discussion and has not yet been acted upon by the House the following features of the Bill may be somewhat altered before final passage. I will, however, outline the features of the Bill as recommended by the Senate Sub-Committee that has been working on the measure.

CHARTER AMENDMENTS Charter Amendments can be proposed either by the council of the town or by 20% of the voters of the town, by petition.

If the amendments are initiated by the council they become effective 50 days after publication unless 20% or more of the voters petition for the natter to be placed upon referendum. If such a petition is filed in proper manner then the council is obliged to place the amendment before all of the voters of the town, for approval or disapproval, at either a special election or at the next regular town elec-

If the amendment is initiated by the voters then it must be proposed by at least 20% of the voters. If they file a petition proposing amendments the town council is obliged to place the showed exactly what steps are taken question before the voters of the town in research for the public. Never ask at a special election or the next regular election.

ANNEXATION
The Bill provides that any town may enlarge its boundaries and that the proposal for annexation may be initiated by either the town council or by 25% of the property in the area. If the annexation is proposed by the town officials then either 20% of the voters of the town or 20% of the voters of the area to be annexed can force a referendum on the proposal.

In any referendum on the question of annexation the matter must be approved by a majority of the voters of the town and also by a majority of the voters in the area to be annexed.

INCORPORATION Any area containing 300 or more residents is given the right, by petition to ask for the right to become an incorporated town. The matter must be petitioned by 20% of the voters of the area and 25% of the property owners therein.

If a proper petition is filed with the County Commissioners then this body will be required to hold an election within the area to be incorporated town. Again the majority vote of the persons to be effected will prevail.

TAX AND BOND PROVISIONS The Bill does not alter existing powers of town with respect to the amount of bonds which any town may issue. It does, however, set up certain required procedures for the issurance of authorized bonds, and fixes certain limitations upon time of maturity, rate of interest, sales, advertisement for bids, etc.

The procedures established in the Bill are those years?

Bill are those normally required by municipal bond counsel and are established primarily as a uniform guide to be followed by all municipalities.

SALES OF FIREARMS TO MINORS S.B. 124: The law at present permits the sale of guns, rifles and ammunition to persons of all ages. Only the sale of pistols to persons under 21 is now prohibited. In view of the law that prohibits the sale of firecrackers, sparklers ,roman candles and the like it seems absurd that children should be permitted to buy deadly weapons.

S.B. 124 will prohibit the sale of all firearms and ammunition to children under 18 except with the permission of their parents. Amendments to the Bill will permit supervised use of firearms at gun clubs and for supervised marksmanship instruction. The Bill makes no changes in the present hunting laws.

All the others take notice when this chick walks by—and small wonder. No doubt she uses Ren-O-Sal in the drinking water. Ren-O-Sal, besides promoting growth, gives that extra sheen to the feathers, gives extra color to the beak and shanks that makes a chicken look good. Birds on Ren-O-Sal mature earlier, reach market or laying age sooner. This cuts feed and labor costs. Give your flock Ren-O-Sal and see the difference.

FEESERSBURG

During a lifetime, every person buys a great many pairs of shoes and among the pairs are a few that turns up with squeaks. This is very annoy-ing for the squeaks don't appear until the shoes have been worn a few times and cannot be returned to the store. Also the squeaks makes the wearer noticeable and self-conscious. There are only two things to do. Either get rid of the squeaks or the shoes, and anyone will tell you who has had experiences of this sort that its much easier to get rid of the shoes. But squeaks can be squeaked out if one has the patience. Squeaking in shoes is usually caused by the rubbing together of the different layers of material composing the soles. The squeaking can be removed temporarily by soaking the shoes in water to a depth of about three-fourths of the thickness of the soles. Cobblers take the squeaks out permanently by driv-ing pegs into the soles, or by insert-ing felt between the soles. Only once can we remember when squeaky shoes were fashionable and that was during the second world war. At that time noisy shoes were popular in England. For the shoemakers were forced to use poor grades of leather and more and more people were compelled to wear shoes with built in noise makers. Squeaky shoes were popular then because it was patriotic. So much for squeaky shoes!

Enclosed with the new license plate this year was a white and blue pamphlet from our Governor asking each of us to help stamp out a creeping. growing, ugly, man-made blight called "Highway Litter." For the past several years this column has urged the people of the community to keep Carroll County as beautiful as nature Mrs. Betty Bowers.

intended it to be and one way was to more and more people are urging the same thing and now the Governor has endorsed the campaign. Last year, Maryland and its taxpayers spent 100 thousand dollars just to pick up trash atong the highways. Not only are litter bugs costly but a shamefully discressing merace to safety and an eyesore to ... cicacia in their community. Maryland has an anti-litter law and persons dumping trash on other property can be-prosecuted. But we hope personal pride in one's own countryside will prevail and there will be no need for anyone to resort to law. We know that trash accumulates fast and must be gotten rid of in some way. Most towns now have garbage collections and a place where trash can be discarded. There is no excuse for anyone to use the highways and public parks as garbage dumps. It may not be the Eisenhower Administration's desire to put the farm-er fully out of business but the many policies so far advocated are slowly but surely making it impossible for him to long continue in business. Last week Attorney General Brownell said mis department would investigate the milk market in Washington because of the sale last August of Embassy Dairy to the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association. There seems to be nothing illegal about the sale. We can't help wondering if this isn't just another way of attacking the Cooperatives, which in the past has been under attack from other agencies of the present administra-

A generation ago the big thinkers were urging us all to live dangerous-ly, but if an orator pulled that one on the kids of today they'd ask him what other way there is. Spring came to Maryland officially Monday and the spring rains came right along. About two inches fell in 24 hours bringing the creeks up out of their beds in a hurry after slumbering for many months. This time not only were the farmers glad to get the rains but the city dweller too, for the past year has taught everyone when it doesn't rain the grass doesn't get green nor the new car washed. Even with the temperature on the cool side this morning the birds were out taking a bath in the puddles in the road.

Popularity contests may come and go but Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has won the Gallup Administrat poll for eight straight years

Are you among the women who look glamorous while cleaning the kitchen sink or taking out the ashes? If so, you are among the minority for one of the chief complaints against wives and mothers by about everyone in the family is that they look like a hangover from a rummage sale while doing the housework. The complaints are just fied but who wants to scrub floors dressed like a movie star. We would much rather look like our teenager dressed in faded blue jeans and an old white shirt discarded by Dad a few years ago. If mother has become sloppd its only because daughter taught her how comfortable it is to dress like Huckleberry Finn. This isn't meant as sarcasm either. Just a tribute to the good judgment of the teenagers. If you grow house plants you are an optimist for as the writer points out no one can grow plants without some measure of optimism. And speaking of plants I guess its time to And start those seeds growing now that one wants to set out early in May.

drive safely on the highways

There is a legion of living men and women who walk with the dead. They are the Death Jockey drivers who have slaughtered human beings with their cars. In a moment of careless driving YOU could become one of them. You're never free of the person you kill or maim. He's with you always. We urge you: drive thoughtfully. It's not just your life that's in your hands. Help make March 20 to 26 Deathless Week on Maryland Highways.

The Living World

Lesson for March 27, 1955

T SHOULDN'T seem singular that we are all born plural. We can't be born at all without the consent of two people we never saw before, and we can't be legally born without the consent of a great many more. We live in a world of people, by the help of many people. We cannot achieve health, wealth or happiness all by ourselves. And when we die the reason why we are not missed very long is that there are so many other people ready to take our place.

Now the Christian like all other men Dr. Foreman lives in a world of men. His religion ought to give him some clue, at least, as to how he should live in this human world, this immense complex wheels-withinwheels thing we call Society. Is the right Christian thing to do to run away from the world and hide? Hermits have tried it. Is it the right Christian thing to do to adopt the slogan, "If you can't lick 'em, jine 'em''? Shall Christians just accept the world and its ways? Worldly "Christians" have tried that.

Salt and Light

But neither the Christian hermit nor the "worldly Christian" has helped the world. The world is no better for either of them, and on the other hand both hermit and worldling have ended by being no better than a caricature of a true Christian. The Christian's relation to the world around him

. wait just a minute. We are going too fast, aren't we? "The world"-what do we mean by that? For the purposes of these present thoughts, the "world" means all the realms and ramifications of such variegated human arrangements as sports, politics, education, business, industry, agriculture, international affairs; all human institutions and relationships on a large scale or small. The "world" here means human beings, not in separate capsules but tied in innumerable ways to one another, affecting one another, inseparable from birth to death. The Christian's relation to this world is not like that of a pin stuck into a pin-cushion. The world is not merely the place where he has to be. Jesus put it into those two little thumb-nail parables of Salt and Light. The Christian is to be different, to be separate; but as a pin is different from its The pin does nothing whatever for the cushion; but salt and light do something, something valuable and needed, to whatever it is with which they make contact. Christians are expected to apply themselves and their Christianity to every relationship of life—that's a dull way to put it, but doing it is never dull.

Love Is Concern

Jesus and Paul both made it clear that the one law of life that sums up all other laws is Love. Not romantic love, not sloppy slippery sentimentality, but genuine heart-concern, intelligent concern, for the welfare of others. We all know that this is the law that transforms family life from a kind of jungle, or a cage at best, into something very close to heaven. We haven't all discovered that this is the law that can transform public life, yes, politics, business, all the rest of it. It's harder to do out there because the larger the circles the less co-operation you are going to find. Nevertheless, it is a fact that civilizations, nations, businesses, that have learned something from the Christian Gospel are better for the people that live there and work there than where Christianity has never had a chance. Yet ours is still a pagan civilization. When a manufacturer writes that the principle of his business has always been to make money for the stockholders, he has not got hold of the Christian idea. When an industrialist says that his business is making citizens and he is using a cotton mill for that purpose, he has got hold of the Christian idea.

To the End of Time

But suppose the H-bomb gets us all? Suppose, for lack of enough strength Christians, the hate-all, grab-all way of the world has brought us to the edge of doom, what can Christians do? Sit down and wait for the end? The Apostle Peter did not think so. Neither did any other early Christian leader. They felt themselves in a world on fire-and indeed so it

CORPORATION TAX RETURNS DUE MARCH 15th

T. Coleman Andrews said today confusion apparently exists in some districts as to the due date for filing corporation tax returns. There seem to be considerable belief that this date was moved forward to April 15, the same as for individuals, which is not true of course. In view of circumstances, and on basis of a finding of fact that reasonable cause does exist, reasonable cause shall be presumist, reasonable cause shall be presumed for late filing if tentative return is filed by March 28, 1955 accompanied by 50 per cent of tax liability. In such cases interest will be imposed from March 15 on first installment only, and second installment of 50 per cent may be made on June 15 without interest.

L. A. Chamberlin, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, said today, corporations that have not filed as yet should do so immediately and attach affidavit, exmediately and attach affidavit, explaining reason for not filing by March
