PINEY CREEK 4-H SCORES AGAIN

Piney Creek 4-H Club gave a repeat performance last week when they again won numerous honors at the Carroll County 4-H Fair. They almost duplicated last year's winnings when they won all of the Guernsey classes in which they competed, scored high in the Holstein classes, won the tractor driving contest, and also added to their honors by winning the dairy animal fitting contest, scoring second in the overall dairy showing contest and receiving a first with a rabbit entry. In addition to this, they had a second place in the senior dairy judging and second place in the junior dairy judging and a fourth. A complete list of the winners and their recipients is as follows: in the Guernsey classes, Sr. heifer calf, David Gunther first, Jimmie Koons second, Douglas Gunther third; Jr. yearling, Douglas Gunther first, Donald Gunther second, David Gunther fourth; Sr. yearling Edward Koons first, Douglas Gunther second and Donald Gunther third; two year old cows Donald Gunther first and David Gunther third, Donald Gunther had the Grand Champion and Douglas Gunther the Reserve Champion Guernsey animals. In the Holstein Jr. heifer class John Rinehart was third and Barbara Rinehart was fifth. John Rinehart won the overall fitting contest and Edward Koons placed second in the overall showing contest which earned him the Guernsey award for showing a silver tie clasp. Betty Ann Wolf had the only rabbit from Piney Creek Club but competed against other clubs and won first prize with her market rabbit. Donald Gunther won the tractor driving contest for the second consecutive year and will represent the county in the state event at Timonium. He also will be on the county judging team due to his second placing at Westminster and Douglas Gunther won the second place in the junior dairy judging and John Rinehart fourth. This complete list of their winnings illustrates why Piney Creek 4-H Club is so proud of their exhibitors at the county fair and hope it will be an inducement for the members who did not exhibit to enter the many contests next year. Keep up the good work, 4-H'ers.

PROGRESS IS NOTED IN TRAINING PROGRAM

Retarded Children of Carroll County "Went To School"

Carroll County can be proud that it has been one of the first counties in Maryland to remember its forgotten children. For one month twenty-one retarded children "went to school" at the East End Elementary School in Westminster for a camp training program that proved to be without doubt, the happiest and most meaningful experience of their lives. From 9 a. m. until noon, the children were under the excellent direction of Mrs. J. Allen Clobber, who directed a summer camp for retarded children in Washington County last year and who teaches retarded children during the regular school term; and Miss Louise Bankert of Union Mills, who regularly teaches in the Sandymount Elementary School.

Special recognition goes to Mrs. Arthur Shipley, of Taylorsville and to Mrs. Nellie Brown, of Mt. Airy for extensive volunteer service and to the many civic organizations which contributed in various ways.

Through assisting with the camp program, the mothers gained an education in handling their children from "Miss Betty" (Mrs. Clobber) and "Miss Louise". Each mother had the satisfaction of seeing her child participate in a group—most of them for the first time—and of seeing the progress that he made. Without exception, each child did make progress.

A decade ago this program would not have been possible. These same children would have been rejected, scorned, hidden from an unsympathetic public, and talked of in whispers. Parents have long felt the need of acceptance and training for these children which they love no less for their affliction. This need has found expression through the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children and is being met with community support.

Carroll County will continue to remember its forgotten children! Plans are being made for two regular classes to begin in September—one in Mt. Airy and the other in Westminster.

Through frank expressions by parents revealing the feelings and anxieties which accompany the problem of the retarded child and through the wide circulation of the writings of two noted mothers, Pearl S. Buck and Dale Evans, society is beginning to understand and recognize the rights of the retarded children to life, opportunity, and the pursuit of happiness which is considered a birthright in this great democracy of ours.

BUS LINE OWNERSHIP TRANSFERRED

August 1st will mark the date of transfer of the bus operation of Blue Ridge Lines to the Greyhound Corporation, according to a joint statement issued today by Mr. S. R. Sundstrom, President of Eastern Greyhound Lines and Mr. R. Paul Smith, President of Blue Ridge Lines. Negotiations to this end have been underway for several years, and progress has been reported in this paper from time to time. The fact that Blue Ridge operates in a number of states has made necessary legal and regulatory clearances, from not only federal commissions, but from each state commission as well.

Blue Ridge Lines operates from eastern termini in Baltimore, Maryland and Washington, D. C., through Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, to Cleveland, Ohio, with a number of additional routes serving parts of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio.

Mr. H. P. Brawner, Vice President in Charge of Sales for Eastern Greyhound Lines, stated that schedules, fares and service on all of these lines will not be adversely affected by the transfer. He also stated that the personnel representing Blue Ridge Lines will be retained in very much the same capacities as in the past.

In commenting on the transfer, Mr. Smith, who has been president of Blue Ridge Lines practically since its inception, stated that the operation had been a successful one from its beginnings and had grown rapidly during the past twenty-five years. He said, however, that with modern developments and changes in bus operating methods, the bus business was tending more and more to become a highly specialized field. Under these conditions, it became apparent, after study, that it would be advantageous, both to the public and to the bus operation itself, if it could be divorced from its association with The Potomac Edison Company, an electric utility operation which is also becoming a most highly specialized type of industry.

Mr. Smith stated that throughout its history, Blue Ridge has worked in close cooperation with the Greyhound Corporation to the extent of using common terminal facilities, ticket agencies, etc. As a result, Greyhound has acquired an excellent working knowledge, not only of Blue Ridge operations, but of the problems involved as well.

The feeling was expressed by Mr. Smith that the fine reputation enjoyed by Greyhound in the transportation field and their long experience made this organization one which could best utilize the valuable assets of Blue Ridge Lines, incorporate its successful operating personnel and retain the good will and public patronage built over the years. He expressed the belief that the transfer was very definitely in the best interests of both the operation and the public.

Mr. Sundstrom, President of Greyhound, joined Mr. Smith in emphasizing the fine relationship which has previously existed. He, too, believes that the transfer is a constructive move and that there will be no serious problems in integrating Blue Ridge operations into the Greyhound system.

GENEVA CONFERENCE A SUCCESS

"Victory Won At the Summit" Says Sen. Butler

Without intending to do so—with-out seeking any propaganda advantage whatsoever—we have just won "at the summit" a victory in the cold war to capture the hearts and minds of all men everywhere. This victory stems from the proposal, offered by President Eisenhower in Geneva last week, for an exchange of military information and aerial inspection between Russia and the United States as a means of establishing world peace and stability.

Quite obviously, the continually smirking Russian officials at the "summit" meeting were unmoved by this proposition which has as its purpose the detection of any preparations for military aggression. This idea certainly is not original. In varying form, during the past ten years, it has been unsuccessfully considered by the disarmament subcommittee of the United Nations. Similar plans have been repeatedly rejected by the Soviets, and the likelihood of another, in this latest instance, is gaining momentum.

Such a proposal, offered as it was in good faith and genuine sincerity, and not for propaganda dividends, captures the imagination, hopes and aspirations of all freedom-loving people. It could well be the vehicle for more productive discussions of the extremely difficult problem of controllable disarmament—an essential precedent to world peace. But, in all these matters, the tangible accomplishments and objectives of the international communist conspiracy must not be discounted. Clothed even in a garment of apparent respectability and seeming friendship, the communist goal of eventual world domination remains unchanged. Accordingly, even for the most notable of ideals, our guard—our defense—must not be permitted to relax, falter or weaken.

While the specific results of this Big Four conference will unfold later, the real accomplishment at this writing, to my mind, has been one of propaganda. Whatever the motivation might have been, the propaganda initiative has been seized from the Russians. The courts of public opinion anxiously await their response to the President's proposal. Only visible and concrete evidence of good-will and peaceful intentions on the part of the masters of the Kremlin will be acceptable.

In the larger sense, measured in the light of the miserable experiences of the 1954 Geneva parley at which Red China was an invited observer, and from the standpoint of propaganda last week's meeting "at the summit" has greatly enhanced the cause of freedom everywhere. The Soviets very definitely are now "on the spot".

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

July 25, 1955

Dear Charlie:

I think it only fitting that I write a few lines for the paper in commemoration of the first anniversary since our big Bi-Centennial last year, so here goes:

It doesn't seem possible that a year has passed since our big celebration in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of Taneytown. Undoubtedly, a great many others, like myself, are reminiscing over the events that took place during not only the week of the celebration, but the months prior in preparation. Consistently I find my mind wandering back over some phase of the activities. We cannot forget the wonderful spirit of cooperation that was had, and the sacrifice of time of so many persons in making the plans and arrangements. Also by those who worked so faithful on costumes, stage settings, seating, parking, tickets, programs, casting for the pageant, music, advertising, solicitation, refreshment stands, the parades, fashion show, writing the history, the block party, whistler club, balloon contest, financing, and many other activities.

As we look back, I firmly believe it did a great deal to publicize Taneytown, and certainly made more people historical minded as to the background and traditions of the town. As years progress, even the legendary traditions of the past will be stronger due to their being established in the history and pageant during this celebration.

As the years roll on I hope that the spirit set forth in the pageant and history of Taneytown, will live on, and each year may add more wonderful facts and traditions to the ever-building history that once little quiet town that is nestled at the foot of the Blue Ridge mountains in beautiful countryside which God has blessed so many times.

Another object of interest was the Federal Prison Alcatraz. The return trip was made by plane from Los Angeles to Asheville by way of Chicago, and Knoxville Non-stop to Chicago.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help you to cheer.

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

"Sailing Down The River" was being played by the "Bialek Quartett" as the boat pulled out of dock in Baltimore for Betterton, Md. There were exactly 1167 individuals in comparison with 2,000 or more last year. What a treat it was to see the newly painted and redecorated boat. Quite glamorous with all the light colors. The exterior of the boat is brilliant yellow and white and the interior of blue, white and yellow. A New York Company bought the Wilson Excursion Line and that name will be changed in a short while.

Those New Yorkers sure did fix up that boat for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Baltimore. There are all new and comfortable chairs, so many big desk chairs as you would see on any yacht. On the first deck one can hire a real "Ocean Liner" chair for $1.00 for the trip down and back. They are heavily padded in green. The Quartett surprised all not alone with the catchy numbers but the loud speakers on every deck so one did not have to be right down on the dance floor to enjoy it all.

Mr. Richard Foley, quite a handsome guy, sang appropriate numbers with his beautiful voice. He is the Director of the Music and is most talented. He did much for the Mothers entertaining the big number of children calling out the dances for the youngsters. There was the "Bunny Hop" (and there were adults doing that one, too) although it was supposed to be a children's dance. Many of the new dances were called out and always the appropriate selections. The Quartette sounded as though there were many more string instruments than just a Guitar, Saxophone, Cello and Accordion. The Celloist sang several numbers, too. They were most accommodating throughout the entire trip up and back. Going to Betterton really is the most delightful boat trip on any water for the hours and relaxing all the way. You should put that on your list for the entire family before the summer has gone. How proud we should be of the Chesapeake Bay! After the boat pulled near Fort McHenry and our grand National Anthem was played every one jumped to their feet. Real Americans and it was thrilling to look around and see the deep expressions on the many faces. (Many so very serious).

Then as we landed, there was the dinner bell at the "Rigby" where we always dine and the sound of the bell is such a welcome one. The meals vary as you can order sea food, fowl or meat and it is a full course meal. The waitress is always a girl "working her way through college"! Almost forgot to mention the dance called "The Hokey-Pokey"—when I was a little girl that was something good to eat, ice cream and just like velvet!

And whatever you do, don't miss Gregory Peck in the "Purple Plain". It is truly a man's story but, then, every woman will enjoy that one, I am sure! It was exciting to the last and will hold your interest deeply.

Don't forget to give "Fido" a fresh drink of water many times during the day. He will be most grateful!

As I am typing this column, that smart Mr. Farmer across the field is starting the huge sprinkling system. He knows just about everything as to farming and he is from way out west. The big pond he placed on his farm is a delightful sight from the bungalow.

And that reminds me, Mr. Farmer, if you have a pond be sure of those little "Cherubs" running around the place!

Mrs. Housewife, these hot days why not cook a "Pot Roast" which means you won't have to stand and cook and the roast will be cooking while you perform so many other duties. When it comes to thickening the gravy, don't use flour but corn starch. Place the potatoes in at the same time as the meat and with a green vegetable, (frozen one if possible) a salad & dessert, you will have the entire meal. Be sure you make light desserts and use "Royal" as it is sweeter and has a most delightful aroma and as to mayonnaise nothing as fine as "Hellman's".

So long until next week, D. V. Keep cool and comfortable. I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ANTONITO, COLO., LEDGER-NEWS: "Perhaps the automobile industry can deliver its new 'package' to its workers and the same package, at the same price, to its customers. But certainly there are not many industries that can boost the payroll and not the price tag".

ARCATA, CALIF., UNION: "Certainly we shall not be worthy of those who founded our Nation unless we strive to emulate the spirit of independence which motivated them. This means standing on our own feet, saving for our future, and not looking primarily to government, relatives, or friends for our well being. It means facing up to our local, state, and national problems".

GLENCOE, MINN., ENTERPRISE: "The seven billion dollars' worth of surplus wheat, corn, rice, butter, cheese and dry milk stored away safe from the open market is poor business for the U. S. Government. You and I every American taxpayer pays for these surplus food. We go right on spending billions to keep the agricultural clock turned back instead of allowing free enterprise to prevail."

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Monocacy Lodge of Free Masons was instituted in Taneytown, last Friday night, by Grand Lecturer Dukehart, with a small membership. A number of applications were received. About twenty visiting members from Woodboro, Thurmont, Union Bridge, and Westminster were present. The Lodge will meet on the first and third Monday night each month.

The annual Catholic Pic-nic will be held on Wednesday, August 9th, in E. E. Reindollar's grove on the Emmitsburg road. A first-class orchestra will furnish dance music and all the usual features will be supplied, including dinner and refreshments.

Judge and Mrs. Clabaugh, and Miss Katherine, are enjoying their Antrim home, following a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Lamberton, at Schenectady, N. Y. and to Mrs. Clabaugh, Sr. at Spring Lake Beach, N. J. They will be here several months.

The Mehring brothers continue to improve the Central Hotel building, and in course of time will have it in first-class trim inside and out.

(Advertisements) All Roads lead to J. T. Koontz's. Everything in the grocery line at the lowest prices. 8 lbs. large soup beans, 25c; 10 lbs. rice, 25c; 1 qt. bottle washing blue, 10c; 4 cakes Sunshine soap, 5c.

Union Mills—Quite a pretty wedding was solemnized at the Reformed parsonage, Silver Run, by Rev. Stewart Hartman, on Thursday evening, July 13. The contracting parties having been Mr. Paul Masonheimer and Miss Mary Rider. A reception was given them at the groom's home and an old-fashioned serenade followed.

Did You Ever Wonder—

Why a baby carriage isn't known as a cradle? Why it is so much easier to be wrong than to be President? Why so many of our coming men seem to be handicapped from the start? Why some people manage to talk a great deal without saying anything? Why a girl seldom objects when a young man steal something from under her nose? Why the average man invariably makes a fool of himself every time he tries to act up? Why men are nearly always embarrassed when they propose—either financially or otherwise? Why so many men who are anxious to work when sick are just as anxious to avoid it when well? Why some men are not as black as they are painted and some are not as white as they are whitewashed.

KITCHEN TIPS

The Potomac Edison System Home Service advisors hope the following home-making suggestions will be of help:

If you're doing some inside painting this summer, your air conditioner will speed up the drying process and remove the paint odor.

The next time you prepare French fried onion rings, try slicing the onion without peeling off the outside skin. This will save trouble—and tears. Then, slip the skins off before dipping them in batter.

Unexpected guests? No need to worry about meals for them if you've a supply of all ready prepared foods in the freezer . . . some easily prepared items you can freeze include baked potatoes, sandwiches, pastries and fruits.

To skin peaches quickly, dip one at a time in rapidly boiling water for 10 seconds, remove and place in ice water.

Tests prove clothes wear out less and fade less in an electric dryer than when dried in the sun.

For a free booklet on home freezing, write Home Service Dept., POTOMAC EDISON CO., Taneytown, Md.

FEESERSBURG

Last week, a reader of this column wrote and asked if I had ever noticed that birds never sing on the ground. This I had never thought about before, but a bird expert tells me that virtually all song birds utter their particular song while perched on an elevated tree, post or shrub. There are exceptions of course. Shore birds known as turnstones sing from the ground. Also certain species of American field sparrows are fond of singing while perched on the ground. There are probably others too, but most birds do prefer to sing high in the air.

We saw one of the cutest sights yesterday that ever crossed our vision. A mother duck with fifteen baby ducklings stretched out in single file behind her was heading for a pond across the meadow. The white line of moving ducks across the green grass was a picture of confidence and security. The mother duck kept straight across the meadow, never looking back until she reached the pond and the baby ducklings spaced a foot apart followed on until they reached their mother's destination. Then they all took to the water, dipping and swimming in a gay time.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bohn and son Doug, are vacationing at Atlantic City.

Miss Anne Carr, of Manchester, England who has been visiting in the United States for six weeks called on Mrs. Scott Clemon last Sunday and was shown what a model dairy barn and dairy consists of and how much it costs to produce high grade milk. Miss Carr was amazed at the elaborate setup and all the rigid health requirements to ship milk into a large city. She was also interested in all our farm problems here and expressed the belief that England's problems are almost the same as ours. There is a shortage of farm labor in England too, because of the competition of industry. American women help out on the farm more than English women.

Just why this is true we weren't able to learn.

Nearly every magazine one reads these days carries an article about farmers wanting to keep their independence and freedom. Being a farmer's wife myself I am beginning to wonder what these writers mean when they say "freedom" and "independence". Do they mean freedom to raise crops at a loss? Do they mean by independence the necessity of working 16 hours a day to make ends meet? The sooner these writers and the farmers themselves awake to the fact that no one has any freedom any more or independence either the better off every one will be. In our economic system today we sold our freedom for social security. Every one knows this except the poor self-declared farmer, who until a year ago wasn't even included in social security. I am not trying to belittle the farmer's desire to be a rugged individualist. It is a noble idea if one can get away with it. But the fact is, that an individualist of any kind is not going to survive long in our present economic setup. Freedom and independence as the farmer once knew it is nothing but a figure of speech now and a fond, fond memory.

The present hot weather is hard on humans but even more so on flowers. Nothing depresses us so much as to see the roses and dahlias we cared for so lovingly, wilt and turn brown.

We try using the hose and water bucket but nothing can take the place of a gentle rain from heaven.

The great men have met and departed from Geneva. What will be the result of this meeting no one knows for certain. But even the most simple person understands that if the great men can't or won't compromise their differences, there will not long be a summit to hold a meeting on.

The Russian farmers finally arrived in Iowa and everyone seems quite happy about their visit. Their arrival was so important to the people of Iowa that the Geneva conference was forgotten. Indeed more get-togethers between the small people of every country would do more to cement friendly relations than a dozen summit meetings. One day not too far distant each of us will understand that man no matter where or how he is born, has a common need and a common purpose in life. Each of us need food and shelter and a little fun out of living. Basically we are all the same whether we live in America, Russia, England or China. If any gulf separates us it is the gulf of misunderstanding.

Mrs. John Dintamen, of Brunswick, is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Roelke for several weeks.

Most of the world's population prefer a temperature of 80 degrees and a relative humidity of 50 per cent. Even Eskimos and Arabs prefer this kind weather. Just where, right now would anyone find a spot so heavenly? Why, California and Hawaii of course.

A wise woman will wait until her laughter-in-law has made her a grandmother before making a prolonged visit. As every one knows grandmothers are more popular than mothers-in-law.

Everyone in our community had a bumper potato crop except those few who didn't plant any which includes his farmer's wife.

Often in our reading we run across a phrase that stick in our mind and refuses to leave. Here is one that you may not get rid of either: "Courage is fear that has said its prayers." —Ruth Roelke.

FORMER MARYLAND MINISTER TO BE HONORED

Rev. Ernest R. Ryan used airplane for World Wide Parish. "The World was his charge and the airplane was his steed" said Wilton Boswell chairman of a 4 County committee arranging a program for Aug. 7 at Maryland's 4 County Parris Spring to honor the late Dr. Ernest R. Ryan who was pastor at the Rockville Md. Christian church at the time of his unexpected death at 46 last December.

Dr. Ryan one time president of the Maryland Christian Endeavor union succeeded the well known Radio minister Dan Poling as President of the International Christian Endeavor Union and as secretary of the World C. E. Union he used the airplane extensively in flying to conferences of Young People on all continents. At another C. E. Rally held at Parris Spring with Gov. McKeldin as speaker, Dr. Ryan flew from Honolulu to present the Governor with a Hawaiian lei, it's flowers still fresh. He flew 23,000 miles around the world to attend Youth Conferences and his untimely death was a shock to friends on every continent.

The memorial to Dr. Ryan at Parris Spring will precede a talk by R. G. LeTourneau known as "God's Business Man" who like Dr. Ryan uses the airplane to fly about the U. S. speaking at religious gatherings.

A choir consisting of singers from Carroll, Howard, Frederick and Montgomery counties is being organized by Jimmie Spring of Boyds to sing at the Parris Spring 4 county rally.

In fond remembrance of
who passed away Nov. 30th, 1954

The month of July once more is here, To us the saddest of all the year, Because it took from us away, Our husband and father one year ago today.

We do not need a special day, To bring him to our mind, The days we do not think of him, Are very hard to find.

You bade no one a last farewell, You said Good-bye to none, Your weary heart just ceased to beat, And suddenly you were gone.

Sadly missed by wife, ALICE, daughters, PANSY, HAZEL, MILDRED and FAMILIES.

KEEP MARYLAND BEAUTIFUL. The Maryland State Police are participating "100 per cent all the way" in Keep Maryland Beautiful's campaign to stop motorists from littering highways with debris.

Major W. H. Weber at Police Headquarters in Pikesville said Troopers and other personnel of the State force have been alerted by the teletype and informational directives to be on the lookout for those who toss trash, bottles or cans out the car window instead of waiting until they find a suitable disposal container.

In some instances, he added, an examination of dumping areas along roads has turned up evidence sufficient for getting in touch with the parties responsible. A number of motorists have gotten in touch with us to report flagrant violations. If they give us the license tag number of the violator, we write a letter to the automobile tag's owner urging him to cooperate in the State clean up and beautification program," the Major added.

Weber said the State Police were anxious to cooperate in the KMB effort, adding the "clean highways make safer highways and safety is our most important objective."

WOMAN'S WORLD

Groom Yourself Now To Bring Forth Real Beauty

FEW women are born beautiful, but good care and careful grooming can make most women beautiful or at least so attractive that people will think of them as beautiful.

The time to start putting yourself in shape for the newer, lighter fashions is right now. Winter may have worked havoc with your skin, your hair style may no longer be becoming and your figure may need a bit of reforming.

Grooming is not achieved overnight, but it is the sum total of many small habits worked at daily. Let them become a habit with you, and within a few weeks they won't be any kind of an effort at all.

Skin and Hair
As the days become longer and sunnier, murky complexions will look even worse. The remedy? Try extra cleansings and plenty of rich creams or oils to get rid of winter dryness and scaling. The same goes for body skin, especially elbows, legs and hands which may have chapped and roughened during the cold weather.

Put the accent on plenty of green salads, fresh fruits and milk to help build beauty from within as

Protect your skin against water, soap, detergents and weather by regular applications of a good lotion. Just as important as the use of a lotion is the careful drying of hands after they have been in water.

well as without. Vitamins in fruits and vegetables are very beneficial to skin care.

Nightly sessions with a bath brush on shoulders, scaly arms and legs, followed by a glossing with silk-smooth lotion will get you ready for those days when you go houseless and in sunbaked dresses.

Select a new hair style now so that within a month you will know how to manage it easily and be ready for the season.

Use Single Recipe For Three Cookies

Cookie baking is simplified and the family's desire for variety satisfied with a single basic cookie recipe which may be varied very easily in three different, delicious ways.

This is a crisp cookie with fresh orange juice and grated peel for flavoring. You may divide the dough into three parts, then add spices to one part and fill another part with fruit mixture or jam.

Three-Way Cookies
¾ cup butter
¾ cup sugar
2 cups flour
¼ teaspoon soda
2 tablespoons grated orange peel
¼ cup orange juice

Cream together butter and sugar. Add flour that has been sifted with soda, alternately with orange juice. Blend in orange peel. Mix until smooth. Use for the following:

Spiced Cookies
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Mix above ingredients and work into one part of three-way cookie dough. Roll out on slightly floured board ¼" thick. Cut into 2-inch circles and place on greased baking sheet. Press blanched almond halves around edges, if desired. Use small piece of candied orange peel for center. Bake in a hot (400°F.) oven for 10 to 12 minutes. When cool, brush with frosting made of ¼ cup confectioners' sugar and 2 teaspoons orange juice.

Filled Cookies
Roll three-way cookie dough thin. Cut into desired shapes. Place 1 tablespoon fruit filling or jam on centers of half the cookies. Cover with other half of cookies and press edges together with fork. Bake in a moderate (375°F.) oven for 8 to 10 minutes.

FROM EGGSHELLS TO EASTERTULIPS

Oh SO carefully, cut those breakfast eggs in half every morning—they are going to become lovely Easter tulips! For, cupped within bright crepe paper petals, they can be turned into charming decorative place cards to adorn your Easter table, or any Spring dinner party.

YOU'LL NEED: crepe paper, the Duplex kind in American beauty and pink. You'll need narrow light green ribbon, some paste, eggshell halves and laundry bead-bluing for a most unusual decoration.

HERE IS WHAT YOU DO:

1. Cut a strip of Duplex crepe 3¼" with the grain x 6" long.
2. Cut one edge into petals 1½" with the grain x 1" wide.
3. Now, starting at the petal points, measure across the strip 2¼" and mark. At this line, gather with needle and thread, drawing tightly together, and fasten.
4. Curve the petal tips outward over a knife or scissor blade. Paste the lower section of the tulip to one end of a place card.
5. Brush edges of each petal with Easter-blue (just mix to a suds a cup of laundry bead-bluing with a quarter cup of water) and let dry.
6. Tie the ribbon around the "waist" of the tulip... paste the half egg shell in the center, most unusual nut cup you've ever seen! (ANS)

OUT OF GODFREY'S TEABAG

They have applause meters in record shops, too. They call 'em cash registers.

Definition of mixed emotions: Watching your mother-in-law drive off a cliff in your brand new Cadillac.

You know the old Irish proverb—There's no such thing as strong drink: there's only weak men.

Did you ever spend the afternoon in your doctor's office waiting to see him? Friend of mine ran into that problem the other day and finally left—and left a note for the doctor, too. It read: "I've gone home to die a natural death."

By the way, you know the difference between an invention and a discovery? When a guy comes home late, he's gotta invent a story so his wife shouldn't discover where he's been.

HISTORY OF HARNEY

On the 25th. of July, 1852, an informal meeting was convened on a spot of ground belonging to Mr. Jacob Mairing, Sr., on the road leading from Gettysburg to Taneytown, proposed as the location of an Evangelical Lutheran Church edifice. The persons present were Rev. S. Sentman, Rev. J. P. Smeltzer, and Messrs John Mairing, Jacob Mairing, Abraham Weybright, John Eyler, Samuel Reck, Henry Clutz, Christian Shriver, Jesse Sharetts, John Hankey, and John N. Hoffman.

These brethren having met upon the spot proposed as the site of said church, and reviewed it, Rev. S. Sentman proposed that the blessing of God be invoked upon the proceedings, and therefore led in prayer. The meeting was then organized by calling Mr. John Mairing to the chair and appointing Rev. Sentman, secretary, after having adjourned to the house of Mr. Robert McKinney. A committee was appointed to draft a report and resolutions for the consideration of the meeting. This committee consisted of Messrs. A. Waybright, Samuel Reck and John N. Hoffman. Rev. J. P. Smeltzer was appointed secretary to the committee. After a short absence they reported the following resolutions.

Resolved, That in behalf of the members of the Evangelical Lutheran church in this vicinity, that in order to enjoy the means of grace more fully and conveniently, we deem it necessary to build a house of public worship on the site proposed.

Resolved, That said edifice be built of brick, and be fifty feet long and forty wide.

Resolved, That the following person, viz—John Mairing, Samuel Reck, Abraham Waybright, John Hankey and John N. Hoffman be appointed a building committee whose duty it shall be to solicit subscriptions and take such other means as they may deem necessary to carry out the object of this meeting.

Resolved, That the committee report progress to an adjourned meeting to be held on the site of the contemplated church, on Saturday, 9th. of August next at 2 o'clock p. m., and that at the same time, an address be delivered, and such other exercises held, as may tend to awaken an interest in this enterprise.

The Resolutions were discussed, and unanimously adopted; the meeting then adjourned to meet again at the time specified in the fourth resolution. Prayer by Rev. J. P. Smeltzer.

August 9th, 1851, an adjourned meeting was held in accordance with the fourth resolution above recorded, and after an address, and other religious exercises, conducted by Rev. S. Sentman, the committee reported that they obtained subscription to the amount of $780.00 and that they were otherwise encouraged to go forward with the work. Whereupon Jacob Mairing, Jr., was appointed treasurer of the association, and various other preliminary arrangements made with a view to furthering the interests of the enterprise. The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the same place in two weeks, that is on Saturday, August 23rd, at 2 o'clock p. m.

August 23rd, 1851, a considerable number of persons assembled according to adjournment and after a discourse, and other religious exercises conducted by Rev. S. Sentman, about forty persons handed in their names as willing in the enterprise. A congregation was then organized, a constitution adopted and suitable persons nominated officers of the same, and September 7th, 1851, immediately after preaching at Greenbush school house, was the time appointed for holding the first election for officers of this new congregation. After the transaction of some other business of minor importance the meeting adjourned.

The constitution and charter of the church are interesting documents and a copy will be given at the close of the history.

On September 7th, 1857, after a sermon preached at Greenbush school house, by Rev. S. Sentman, the qualified members of the congregation proceeded in accordance with the provisions of the constitution to elect the following officers: Elders, Samuel Reck to serve two years and John N. Hoffman to serve one year; deacons, Jesse Sharetts to serve two years and Arthur McGuigan to serve one year; trustees, John Eyler to serve two years and Christian Shriver to serve one year, and until the election and installation of their respective successors. These brethren were the same day regularly installed and instructed to enter at once upon the duties of their respective offices.

During the inter regular religious exercises were held at Greenbush school house by the pastor, and the building committee went forward with the work assigned them, procuring subscriptions and providing materials, thus making preparations to proceed with the building early in the spring. The various parts of the work were put under contract, and other necessary preparations were made. The bricks were hauled from John Hanky's on sleds during the winter. The lumber was bought at Wrightsville, and hauled from there on wagons, and also hauled from there.

As soon as the weather allowed in the spring, the work was commenced, on the 27th. day of April, A. D. 1852, the corner stone was laid with appropriate solemnities, Rev. S. S. Schmucker, D. D., and Rev. P. Anstadt, assisted the pastor on this occasion; the former delivered a discourse in the English language, read the service, and performed the ceremony of laying the corner stone which was placed in the brick wall about five feet above the ground, and the latter delivered an address in the German language. The Emmitsburg choir also favored the congregation with their presence and assistance.

After this, the work was pushed as rapidly as possible, and on October 24, 1852, this church edifice was solemnly dedicated to the service of the Triune God by the name, style and title of the Mt. Joy Evangelical Lutheran church. Rev. H. L. Baugher, D. D., assisted the pastor on this joyful occasion.

casation. The day was fine and the attendance very large.

The exact cost of the church we are unable to ascertain. Rev. S. Sentman was pastor of this congregation from its organization until June 2th, 1858, and it was owing very much to his active, energetic and untiring zeal, that it was brought into existence. He labored faithfully in endeavoring to win souls to Christ, giving to both saint and sinner their portion in due season. But by the guidance of Divine Inspiration, he saw fit to disconnect his pastoral relations with this charge, to accept a call from Barren Hill charge, Philadelphia Co., Pa. After this Rev. L. T. Williams became pastor and entered upon his new field of labor at once.

On October 2nd, 1861, the following resolution was passed: "RESOLVED, That all persons who are not regular members of the congregation, or who do not contribute regularly toward defraying the expenses of the church, shall be required to pay not less than two, no more than ten dollars, for the privilege of burying in the grave yard, unless in the opinion of the council they are too poor to pay anything." The above resolution was afterwards changed and made to read as follows: "All persons who are not members of the church shall be required to pay for the privilege of burying in the grave yard. The amount to be paid for each grave shall not be less than one dollar, nor more than three dollars, amount to be determined by the church council."

Thy Will Be Done

Lesson for July 31, 1955

THEY were a sorry lot, the people left behind after the last invasion. The puppet-king Zedekiah had asked the Egyptians to pull his strings . . . but the smart Babylonians got wind of it, and that was the end of Zedekiah. Jerusalem, Solomon's Temple, the nation of Judah. After a two years' siege the city fell, was sacked and burned, and anybody that was anybody was either killed or deported. Jeremiah, the city's most famous citizen, was offered a chance to go to Babylon as a free man; but he declined. He preferred to stay with his own people, he said, and his own land. But they were a sorry lot, the dregs of the populace for the most part.

Dr. Foreman

Vows, Good and Bad
They were glad enough to have Jeremiah with them. They seemed to recognize him at last as a true prophet. He had told them so often just what would happen—and it did. So they began to look up to him and come to him with their problems. One day they came up with a very important decision they wanted him to help them make. Should they go to Egypt or not? This was not as if they were going down there like tourists into Florida. This was for keeps, a full-scale emigration. A sort of Exodus in reverse, with Jeremiah the new Moses to lead them back into Egypt. (Why they wanted to go can be read in detail, in Jeremiah.) They put this up to him: Find out what God wants us to do. You are a prophet and you should know. "Whether it is good or evil, we will obey the voice of the Lord God," they solemnly promised. But they did not mean it. Their minds were made up to go. When Jeremiah after ten days knew that the Lord did not want them to go to Egypt, he told the people so. But they paid no attention; on the contrary they bundled him up and took him along, an unwilling prisoner on their forbidden road. So they broke their good vow. Some time later down in Egypt they bragged to Jeremiah that they were keeping their promises now. They had vowed to make sacrifices to the star-gods and goddesses—and sacrifice they did, to the "Queen of heaven" and a lot more.

If You Knew God's Will . . .

Before condemning those people too quickly, let the reader translate the story into the 20th century. Don't we all pray, "Thy will be done?" Have we not all asked God more than once to show us what to do? When we pray "Thy will be done" we are making an implied promise, that we will cooperate. What we mean is, of course, not "Thy will be done in spite of everything I do to stop it," but "Thy will be done, and let me know if I can help." This raises two questions. One is: How can we know God's will? Can we know God's will without a guaranteed prophet to help us out? Well, we have the Gospels, we have the Word of God. We surely can know a great deal about God's will. We at least know this much, that any scheme, plan or intention which is out of line with the great teachings of the Bible is out of line with God, and doomed to final failure.

Would You Do It?

The other question raised by that prayer-vow, Thy will be done, is this: If you knew the will of God, would you do it? Those ancient men of Judah scorned God's will, and scorned his prophet, although they had been pleading for light and direction. We had better be sure we are without sin before we cast at them the first stone. We often feel that God does not give us enough light. We pray earnestly for his will to be made known to us, and we are inclined to grumble at the silence of God. The trouble is we do not follow the light he has given us. A great American preacher called attention to Saul's request of the Witch of Endor, "Bring me up Samuel." The thing is—he had had Samuel. For a long time Samuel had been telling Saul where he was wrong, but the king had paid no attention. A man who will not listen to Samuel living will not listen to his ghost. So with us. "Thy will be done" suggests sadly many a broken vow. How can we hope to persuade God that we will follow his will, if he will show it to us, when we have not followed his will when he did show it to us? We might make a humbler vow: O God, help me to go back and pick up some of the promises I have broken!

THE INTRODUCTION OF THE ROSE TO OREGON

You may have concluded already that the Rose Festival of Portland is not an ordinary affair. It is utterly all that it is claimed to be—a Floral Parade Pageantry.

The beginning of the rose festival goes back to rose culture in Oregon more than a century ago.

The first rose bush to reach the Northwest was brought around the Horn (Cape Horn) in 1837 and presented to Anna Marian Pittman the day she became the bride of Jason Lee at Lee's Mission at Champoe. She planted it but it is doubtful if she ever saw the soft pink bloom with the light yellow center which characterizes the "Mission rose," for she died the next year and soon after the mission was destroyed by fire, the site abandoned and the rose forgotten.

Years later, one John Minto found the bush growing in a wheat field near the site of Lee's cabin. He dug it up carefully, transplanted it to his own ground and there the rose flourished. Slips given to friends and neighbors around the countryside soon brightened many an early Oregon home.

Cuttings from this historic bush bloom today in Champoe state park, on the Willamette university campus in Salem and in the Pioneer Rose Garden in Portland.

Gradually through the long years it became increasingly evident to horticulturists that all varieties of roses flourished in Western Oregon, due, of course, in no small part to favorable factors of soil and climate. Thus in time Portland became known as the "city of roses."

Holding its first show in a tent in 1889, the Portland Rose Society was formed. In 1904 began what was then called a "festa" in connection with the annual exhibit. In 1905 Mayor Harry Lane, in an address at the Lewis and Clark exposition, suggested the need of Portland for a "festival of roses." In 1907 the first rose festival was held, it being more or less a direct outgrowth of the activities of the first rose society in America and one whose consistent program has been devoted and dedicated to the beauty of the rose and the sponsorship of the Festival of the Roses.

JASON LEE AND THE OREGON COUNTRY. Jason Lee, an American Methodist pioneer missionary in Oregon was born in Stanstead, Quebec, 28 June 1803, and died there 12 March 1845. In a city park in Salem, near the capital building, is a statue of Jason Lee wearing heavy, high top boots, Bible in hand, astride his horse, representing the Methodist Circuit Rider. There is a Methodist Church in the city, bearing the name Jason Lee, whose pulpit the writer supplied on Sunday morning, three years ago, in the absence of the pastor.

In 1834, as head of the Methodist mission to the Indians, Jason Lee settled in the fertile Willamette River Valley. He co-operated in drawing up a petition for territorial government, and in 1838 went to Washington, D. C. and presented to Congress the petition for Oregon's admittance to the Union as a Territory. A similar petition was presented by Marcus Whitman in 1843. After his return to Oregon, Lee devoted himself increasingly to promotion of civic, business and educational interests.

Willamette University, a Methodist co-educational institution of higher learning at Salem, Oregon, was founded by Lee as an Indian mission school in 1834. It became a school for white children in 1842, and established as the present university in 1853. It is said to be the oldest institution of higher learning on the Pacific Coast.
