BOARD OF EDUCATION APPOINTS TEACHERS

Mason and Wagny Principals at Taneytown

The Board of Education met in regular session on Wednesday, Aug. 17th. The minutes of the July meeting were read and approved and the current bills approved.

Two scholarship appointments were made to Western Maryland College due to vacancies which had occurred since the regular awarding of scholarships earlier in the summer. A one-year tuition scholarship was awarded to Wayne Smith, of New Windsor, from the Freedom District and a one-year tuition scholarship from the Manchester District was awarded to Betty Joy, also of New Windsor.

The Board directed that a policy statement be made in connection with school transportation and that the transportation be organized throughout the county in accordance with this policy.

Policy Statement on the School Transportation

The Board of Education, in session on Aug. 17, 1955, directed that transportation routes for the county schools be operated in generally the same way in 1955-56 as in 1954-55. The superintendent was authorized to reorganize routes where necessary for administrative efficiency.

The Board further announces that it is believed that existing routes cover the county adequately and that no pupils are required to walk more than a mile or a mile and one-quarter to meet busses. Since there exists a general state policy, throughout the state, whereby said distances are not considered unreasonable, the Board directed that no extensions be made to accommodate pupils who are within a mile or a mile and one-quarter of existing bus routes.

Restrictions on funds available for transportation, of course, limit the extent to which transportation equipment can be furnished and bus route extensions be made. In this connection it is observed that many school children living in or near principal towns of the county walk more than a mile to get to school.

In line with this policy the Board directed that a few, if any, adjustments be made in existing routes.

The Board also approved the recommended list of teachers and directed that the county teacher list be made public at this time.

SUMMER CAMP

Boy Scouts Enjoy Summer Outing at Broad Creek

The annual week's summer camp of American Legion Troop 348, Taneytown, held for the 7th consecutive year at Broad Creek Memorial Camps, Whitford, Md., July 30-August 6, was located in the Cody troopstate atop one of the hills in Area II overlooking the creek that nourishes a lake manmade by Baltimore Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, in developing this choice 1200-acre spot. Besides the scoutmaster, Explorer adviser Stanley F. Frock and assistant adviser Robert L. Bowers and Kenneth K. Frock, veterans all of 1949's Daniel Boone encampment, testify to the difference between the earlier cooking over open campfires and the present use of bottled gas and screened-in eating quarters. Harold Slaybaugh, senior crew leader and a 4-year camper, noted the same trend even from his first Broad Creek experience in the Flint Ridge site. The new sophistication is tolerated that a more efficient utilization of the camp's program facilities may be realized.

Explorers and scouts divided naturally into four groups of their choice, and the Stumpjumper, headed by Wilmer Barnes, Jr., included Charles Becker as assistant, David Hopkins, John Myers, Jr., and Richard Sell. The Ubangis, led by George Abrecht and with Philip Garrett second in command, were composed of James Hemler, Jr., Donald Reaver, Scott Rodgers (of Troop 391, Gamber), and Lee Sherman, Jungle Wolves, of whom Donald Sharrer and William Pittinger were leaders. Pittinger talking over completely on Thursday, had James Dunn, III (of Troop 41, Birmingham, Ala.), Ronald Hopkins, Edward Reaver, and Charles Turner III. Francis Nelson led the Fireballs, with Rodney Barnhart assisting, and Grant Harman, Frederick Sherman, and Larry Weishaar were members.

An inter-patrol contest was begun, to culminate in a party after Friday's campfire, judged on inspection, chores, swimming progress, participation in activities, advancement in scout rank, special projects, boating and swimming meets, explorer program, and patrol organization. The Fireballs led comfortably until Friday, but were nosed out by the Ubangis on the last day, largely on tests and swimming, while the Stumpjumper was a close third, and the Jungle Wolves pretty near too, though last.

Program started off with church services on Sunday, the afternoon being devoted to organization and recreation, ending with a humorous campfire, fire conducted by the area staff. Monday there was an unusually exciting snipe hunt, chiefly for the benefit of Donald Reaver, Rodgers, Sell, and Lee Sherman; throughout the week several softball contests were engaged in before dusk, archery and mosquito target practice were popular, and considerable boating was done. Stunts for Wednesday's troop campfire turned out well, with a ceremonial Indian opening handled by the ambitious Fireballs, and the singing was good. Projects included signs by the Ubangis and Fireballs, work on showers by individuals from all but Jungle Wolves on camp garage cleaning by one from each group, plus an extra Ubangis, and Ground Observer Corps stunts by Frederick Sherman and Weishaar. The painted "Cody" entrance marker by the Fireballs deserves special mention.

Explorer members, and those age 14 who desired, saw a brilliant fire-fighting demonstration after a simulated air crash at Aberdeen Proving Grounds—Barnes, Becker, Abrecht, Garrett, Pittinger, Nelson, Barnhart, Harman, and Frederick Sherman made this trip. The canoe trip up the Susquehanna over Thursday night night was a rewarding excursion for Abrecht, Barnes, Garrett, and Nelson, the first two of whom had to extend themselves to pass the difficult swimmer test before being eligible. On it they also completed Canoeing merit badge.

On the waterfront the swimmers were Barnes, David Hopkins, Abrecht, Garrett, Ronald Hopkins, Turner, and Nelson, while next as beginners were Becker, Myers, Sell, Hemler, Donald Reaver, Lee Sherman, Sharrer, Pittinger, Dunn, Edward Reaver, Harman, Frederick Sherman, and Weishaar.

In the Skill-mill Thursday afternoon, out of a possible 11 challenges in such skills as archery, first aid, axemanhip, etc., Slaybaugh, Becker, and Harman succeeded at 10 of them, earning a special ice cream prize besides their emblematic bits of colored yarn.

The boating meet Thursday evening saw Ronald Hopkins and Turner place second in the Canoe in-and-out race among that half of the 30 or so troops which comprised Area II. In this, at several whistle signal intervals, each of the 21 men jumps from canoe into water and scrambles back again. Second place in the hand-padded rowboat tug-of-war was earned for Cody by Dunn, Hemler, David Hop-

A FAREWELL SHOWER

A surprise farewell shower was given Mrs. James Myers at the home of her parents on Sunday evening, August 14th. Mrs. Myers before her recent marriage was Miss Gwynn Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Myers, of Mayberry. She will be leaving Wednesday to join her husband who is in the service and is stationed in Texas. After opening the many beautiful and useful gifts which she received, refreshments of cake, potato chips, mints, nuts and lemonade were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Myers, Frizellburg; Mr. and Mrs. George Selby, George, Jr. and Sandra Selby, Harney; Mrs. Richard Arvin, Miss Connie Arvin, Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. James Corbin, Doris and Ronnie Corbin; Mr. and Mrs. Stoner Fleagle, Peggy and Philip Fleagle, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Anderson, Miss Mamie Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Preston Myers, John and James Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Myers, Myrna Mae and Nancy Myers, Brent Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Putman, children Joyce, James, Johnny and Jeanne, Mrs. William Lawyer, Miss Jeanne Myers, Mrs. Henry Raether, Mrs. Edgar Fleagle, Mrs. Zelma Kunkle, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Myers, Carol and Jack Myers and Mrs. James Myers, all of Mayberry.

kins, Ronald Hopkins, Turner, and Weishaar.

Cody walked off with first place in the swimming meet Friday afternoon, however, to maintain a fine tradition. Ronald Hopkins won in the 25-yard breast stroke, Hemler in the beginners' 25-yard free style, while the 100-yard medley was also copped with David Hopkins doing backstroke, Hemler the side, Ronald Hopkins breast, and Turner free style. Donald Reaver, placing third in the non-swimmers' race, completed the meet scoring for Taneytown.

Tenderfoot tests were finished by David Hopkins and Frederick Sherman. Various second class tests were earned by Garrett, Barnhart, Edward Reaver, Becker, David Hopkins, and Sell, with Becker completing this rank. Several first class tests were earned by Hemler, Pittinger, and Dunn, the last-named completing first class rank. In view of his expected long absence from his home troop, a special board of review was convened by the senior leaders, Messrs. Stanley Frock, Bowers, Kenneth Frock, Thomas, and Slaybaugh, and he passed with great credit. In merit badges, cooking was completed by Becker and Pittinger; canoeing by Abrecht, Barnes, Garrett, and Nelson; all but 3 lunar observations by Messrs. Bowers and Slaybaugh for astronomy, while progress in bird study and insect life by Slaybaugh was recorded, these last groups to be finished up in meetings and special trips at home, where Edward Reaver is also close to second class rank.

To accomplish even the above meager outline of program and advancement the superbly done job of cooking and stewardship by Mr. Bowers meant much, and his right hand was Slaybaugh. Mr. Kenneth Frock supervised the waterfront activities, and meets, and all three were prime movers in the athletic program, which was a Slaybaugh responsibility; nor must the ropeclimbing be forgotten, which LeRoy Frock popularized, or the baseball which was enjoyed with our negro neighbors. Thomas handled the scout tests. Slaybaugh also acted as safekeeper of the boys' banked funds, while Mr. Stanley Frock was invaluable in the days he was able to be present at the encouragement of water foot activity, representing the troop at closing campfire, as life-guard, and in supervising the election to the Order of the Area of Grant Harman and Francis Nelson, who will undergo their Ordeal this week-end at Broad Creek.

Special appreciation in the transport to and from camp goes to Mrs. James B. Dunn, Jr., and to Messrs. Wilmer L. Barnes, Robert L. Bowers, Stanley F. Frock, Philip R. Lawyer, F. Leroy Sherman, Wilbur O. Thomas, and Charles B. Turner, Jr.

Troop activities resume at home, meanwhile, with scouts meeting Wednesday and explorers Thursdays, both groups frequently taking advantage of the all-too-short swimming season while it remains. Explorers last week

HESS-BUSHEY REUNION

One hundred and twenty members of the Hess-Bushey Clan met at Big Pipe Creek Park at noon, Sunday, August 14, for their annual picnic lunch and reunion. The meeting was called to order at 2:15 p. m. by Richard Waybright, president. The group sang "America" led by Miss Hazel Hess and accompanied by Miss Edith Hess. The scripture was read by Loy Hess followed by a prayer by Roy Hess.

The program consisted of a vocal number, Whispering Hope, by Sara, Mary, Betty Angell and Margaret Baker accompanied by their mother. Carol Smith gave a recitation "The Mud Pie". "The Garden of Tomorrow" and "The Lilac Tree" were sung by Sandra Shorb accompanied by her mother. Prizes were given to the following: oldest present, Mr. John Bushey; youngest present, Bradley Smith; coming the farthest, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hess from Purcellville, Va.; married the longest, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fair; most recently married, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker; and the largest family present, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Waybright.

Mrs. Margaret Alexander, historian, reported ten births, two deaths, five marriages and one graduation during the past year. Officers for next year were elected with Claude Slagle as president. The meeting was brought to a close by the group singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds", led by Miss Hazel Hess and accompanied by Miss Edith Hess.

THE WITHEROW REUNION

The annual reunion of the David Witherow clan was held on Saturday, Aug. 13, 1955 in the Parish Hall, Harrey, Md. Forty-eight members and one guest were present, about half the usual attendance. Hurricane Connie and its accompanying torrential rain were responsible for the change from the usual place of meeting at Pine-Mar grove. The sincere appreciation of the clan is extended to the Parish congregation for their courtesy in making the hall available.

An outstanding feature of the meeting was the presentation by Mrs. Raymond Wantz, of the new genealogy of the clan. This publication of 30 pages contains the names of all descendants of David and Nancy Walker Witherow, numbering approximately 725, together with the Revolutionary Ancestor, John Witherow and his immediate descendants other than David. Members of the family who have not received copies may secure them from Mrs. Wantz, Taneytown, Md.

There was the usual bountiful basket luncheon followed by the business meeting and only a brief program since some of the participating talent failed to arrive. This permitted, however, more time for general conversation and visiting together, one of the main sources of enjoyment of these happy occasions.

The Pine Mar Grove, Taneytown, Md., has been engaged for the meeting on the second Saturday of August, 1956.

A SURPRISE PARTY

Va., on Saturday morning August 20, 1955, which will be parked in front of the local post office at 9:22 a. m. for approximately twenty minutes.

elect a merit badge program on which to work, while scouts swam at Crouse's Mill and began a study of Indian sign language initiated by Philip R. Lawyer, assistant. Messrs. Bowers, Lawyer, and Thomas will have charge of the younger group this Wednesday, August 17, a swim and corn bake being set for Natural Dam, in a change of scene. A full fall program, tentatively suggested by Bowers and Thomas, will need the ideas and approval of boy scout junior leaders at a special Sunday outing for the same place at 1 p. m. on August 28. Thursday meetings probably will be in order for scouts, too, beginning September 1st.

Your word may be your bond, but it won't buy the groceries after you retire. You'll need United States Savings Bonds for that.

A MELLOWER, HAPPIER VIEW

In public life Herbert Hoover had the reputation of being austere, at times sharp. But he has always possessed a warm, humorous, human side, which has been increasingly coming into play. It never showed to better advantage than in his graceful, evocative reminiscences at the dedication cative reminiscences at the dedication Oregon.

There are still millions of Americans who can call up memories to match his pictures of the making of pear butter, of that voracious, ever-empty wood box, and of woodland wonders. "There were no limits on the fish you could catch. No warden demanded to see your license." Even the younger generation may understand a little why those who knew the pioneer freedoms—and virtues—will fight to preserve as much as possible of them in a changing world.

The Hoover philosophy of government is better explained by his boyhood experiences than by the bitter political battles of his presidency. And it is worth noting that both Mr. Hoover and many of his opponents today take a kindlier, broadervisioned view of the issues. In this talk he paid his respects to "the fuzzy-minded totalitarian liberals" among the critics of America. But it was a passing reference, and he included himself among the critics, recognizing that dissatisfaction is not synonymous with disloyalty.

The issue which has chiefly concerned Mr. Hoover—centralization of government—is still a vital one. Congress and the people have not yet by any means come to grips with the proposals of the two Hoover commissions for reducing federal functions. But happily some of the bitterness has gone out of the battle. Today even Mr. Hoover's opponents applaud his services and perceive some of the values he defends. And he, as his Oregon talk indicated, takes a mellow, happier view of the struggle and of the nation's post-New Deal position.—The Christian Science Monitor.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

WILMINGTON, N.C., MORNING STAR: "When the price of security, even security with luxury is the surrender of individual freedom, nature abhors the deal. That is true of mankind and dumb animals, too. It is, in fact, a universal truth. Even plant life thrives more abundantly in the wild-wood than in the cultivated plot."

WOODBURN, OREGON, INDEPENDENT: "Our American system of production and distribution of goods and services is based on private rather than public ownership. . . . and this incentive system has made the nation the greatest producer of goods, services and jobs. Therefore there can be no sound or fundamental reason why the production of the power requirements . . . should not be met by the same methods. It is high time that our representatives put the economic welfare . . . ahead of petty power politics."

EMPORIA, KAN., GAZETTE: "Some folk are considerate enough to come and ask for the privilege of fishing or swimming on private property; more go in without permission. It is always a mystery why people who would not think of entering a house in town without knocking and being admitted, will enter private property to fish or swim. And perhaps walk or drive over growing crops to do so. There is no doubt that those who ask and get permission enjoy their recreation more than those who trespass."

UNSATISFIED LONGINGS

Unsatisfied longings are dreams of people who want to be something or to do something or to know something or to say something or to go somewhere. In unsatisfied longings there is a desire to get away from what or where one is, to move forward. Adventures, discoveries, and inventions, are the results of such longings.

We frequently hear it said that when a man makes one dollar he isn't satisfied until he makes another. Why should he be? As progress means going forward. Complacency leads to staidness. It begets inactivity. The effect of complacency upon an individual group, or organization, is that of sleeping pills. Perhaps that is the idea suggested in the cynical verse of Thomas Hardy:

Peace upon earth was said, we sing it,
 And pay a million priests to bring it.
 After two thousand years of mass,
 We've got as far as poison gas.

The Red Man was contented with his blanket and wigwam, but not the White Man. He wants land, stores, factories, mansions, and 'modern' conveniences. He strives for what he wants. He reaches out his hands to grasp it. They who have few wants have many needs. And where there is no vision the people perish. This observation has been true since the creation of man. People who have no vision are complacent. And complacency is slow death.

Youth dream dreams and older men see visions. However, significant visions are not the ones seen but the ones experienced. Air castles are built by the young. Older men place foundations under them. Men of experience see possibilities which the untrained eye cannot detect, which the untrained eye cannot detect, which the unskilled hand cannot sense.

Dale Carnegie's book "How to Win Friends and Influence People", is read by thousands who wish to succeed.

Walter B. Pitkin's volume, "Careers after Forty", strengthens determination in the ambitious, and offers a new lease on life to a host ineligible for "old age" pension, who are qualified to continue actively employed, but whom society has laid off the shelf of inactivity.

Will the foregoing and similar books be read by those who have no unsatisfied longings lingering in their hearts? They who want something for nothing would not turn a page.

HUMILITY

Humility, like darkness, reveals the heavenly lights.—Henry David Thoreau.

Meekness heightens immortal attributes only by removing the dust that dims them.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The humility of hypocrites is, of all pride, the greatest and most haughty.—Martin Luther.

ACCIDENT FACTS

About 25,000 office workers suffer disabling injuries each year, according to the 1955 edition of "Accident Facts", the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, just off the press. Nondisabling injuries probably run to hundreds of thousands.

However, the injury rate for office workers is not high. Among nearly 200 separate work classifications, injury rates for office workers are among the lowest.

The Council said the injury total is large because there are so many office workers—about 8,000,000.

FROM "LIFE IN THIS WIDE WORLD"

Driving through a sleepy little Sussex (England) village one evening our headlights suddenly picked out the figure of a woman—running for all she was worth down the road. Close behind her followed a man who appeared to be gaining at every step. We screeched to a halt and, leaping out, I asked the woman if I could be of assistance.

"Oh, no, thanks," she panted. "My husband and I always race home like this from the cinema. Last one in does the supper dishes."

PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE

Miz Tolliver told us about the cat that ate the cheese then waited by the mouse hole with baited breath.

If your garden is growing well, you have a "green thumb." If your future looks rosy, you probably have a backlog of United States Savings Bonds. Either way, green is a favorite color.

If absence really made the heart grow fonder, a lot of people would miss church more than any place in the world.

Approximately two-thirds of all American households own at least one car, and 8 per cent own two or more.

What's wrong about that $1 that used to buy three times as much may be that you didn't have it.

"Here today—gone tomorrow." But it won't be if you put part of your earnings in United States Savings Bonds.

Uniontown Clinton Rouston and wife, and Harry Rouston, of Baltimore, spent several days with their mother, Mrs. Missouri Rouston.—A pleasant social event occurred at the M. P. parsonage on Tuesday evening, 11th. Rev. C. E. McCullough entertained a number of the young people of the church. With conversation, games and music the evening passed quickly away. The rooms were decorated with bouquets of cut flowers; the dining room was especially attractive with the table decorated with green and white flowers and the refreshments consisting of ice cream, peaches, cakes, coffee, lemonade and fruit. Bananas, plums and apples were not the least of the attractions. Straw rides are the order of the day. Morrison Smith took a straw-ride party of 18 persons to New Windsor on Saturday evening to attend the Presbyterian fete, and another party of 15 to Union Bridge on Tuesday evening. Both rides were very much enjoyed. Don't forget the lawn fete at the M. P. parsonage, on Saturday evening, 26th. The Taneytown Band will be present to enliven the occasion.

I haven't taken the time to just "Stop and Look" at the improvements made at the Arthur Clabaugh home in Detour but I intend to. That big old tree stump certainly caused a lot of disruption and work and probably a lot of dirt. New concrete walks, stone road into the garage and the covering around the foundation of the house all look so nice and adds very much to the appearance of the whole place.

The Board gave consideration to various elements connected with the problem of negro integration and after consideration directed that a statement be issued.

STATEMENT ON INTEGRATION

The Board of Education of Carroll County, at its meeting on August 17, approved a policy in connection with integration of negro pupils to be operative for the school year 1955-56 as follows:

(1) Transportation to the Robert Moton and Johnsville Schools will be continued as in 1954-55 and a complete staff of teachers will be assigned to these schools.

(2) Professional meetings on the county level and social affairs of the Carroll County Teachers' Association will continue to include all teaching personnel, white and negro.

(3) An integrated county-wide program for inter-school athletics will be operative throughout the school year 1955-56, and thereafter.

(4) The county-wide music events will be integrated and will include both white and negro participants. The separate festivals in music for the negro pupils will be discontinued.

(5) All schools will be invited to participate in the spring dance festival for elementary schools.

(6) Efforts will continue to be made by the county administration to work out plans for solving any other problems connected with integration.

(7) Wherever necessary, in the judgment of the county school administration, negro and white children will be transported on the same busses.

(8) Requests for transfer or admission to different schools on the part of all pupils will be made by the parents of pupils direct to the county superintendent and each case will be judged separately with due consideration being given to adequacy of school facilities, overcrowding, etc.

(9) All decisions made in connection with transfer of pupils will be evaluated on the basis of individual pupils welfare and educational progress.

(10) No further action in connection with integration is contemplated until after the report is received from a citizens' committee recently constituted. It is expected that this report will be made within the next three months. Other major changes for 1955-56 are not contemplated at this time.

HISTORY OF HARNEY

PART XI

The members of the congregation met on January 31st, 1880 and after singing "Blest be the tie that binds", and having prayer and scripture reading by the pastor, Dr. Bush made the motion that Rev. Beard be called to the chair, and the object of the meeting stated, viz: to consider the resolution of the council in reference to the erection of a parsonage and other necessary buildings.

The subject was thoroughly discussed, and a vote taken which resulted as follows: 54 in favor, and 22 against. After which, a committee of five was appointed with instructions to give the dimensions of the house, and the kind of material to be used, to an architect, and ascertain the cost of the building.

Said committee was to determine the amount of money to be subscribed, before the subscriptions should be binding, and then report the same, together with the dimensions and material of the house, to the members of the congregation, for their consideration, and approval or disapproval.

March 2nd, 1880, the committee reported that the house could be built for $1100 and it was also suggested that $900, be raised before any subscription be binding, also that the subscriptions could be paid in three instalments, with the privilege of paying all at once if they so desired.

An L shaped house, was also recommended, but it was afterwards decided that the full amount necessary to build the house, with an additional amount of $300, for other buildings, should all be subscribed before any subscription be considered binding, or before they proceed to build. It was also decided by motion of S. D. Reck, to build a house 24 by 44 and James A. Weikert and S. D. Reck were appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions. The required amount was raised, and the parsonage, with all the other necessary buildings, were built near the church.

Rev. M. L. Beard resigned as pastor of the congregation about this time, having discharged his duties faithfully for nearly three years. During this time he made many warm friends in the congregation, and the community in general, but, having now accepted a call at Burkettville, Frederick County, Md., he preached his farewell sermon on February 27, 1881.

On March 28th, 1881, the Rev. J. U. Asper was elected as a supply. He said "In the Providence of God this the Mt. Joy charge, is my first field of labor in the gospel ministry of Christ. As I had no acquaintance with this people, and no knowledge of the charge, except its name, and as I did not seek, but was sought by this people, I take the humble encouragement and pleasing satisfaction, that this, for the present, is the place assigned me by God".

He preached his first sermon in this church on the 13th day of March 1881, from Phil. 3:8, subject "Excellency of the knowledge of Christ". From this date he preached regularly every two weeks, as a supply, until he became the regular pastor of the charge. On Saturday, April 23rd, he held preparatory services and on Sunday morning, April 24th, assisted by Dr. E. J. Wolf of the seminary at Gettysburg, administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The number that communed on this day was 175. It was one of the most beautiful of April days and the house was crowded.

An election for pastor was duly announced and held on the 8th day of May which resulted as follows: 85 for, and 1 against, but was afterwards made unanimous. Rev. Asper received a call, accepted, and became the regular pastor on July 1st, 1881. After a minister of nearly six years, Rev. J. U. Asper resigned the Mt. Joy charge on the 13th day of March, 1887, resignation to take effect May 1st, 1887. During these three years the church enjoyed great prosperity, financially, numerically, and, it is to be hoped, spiritually. A comfortable parsonage had been completed at a cost of about $1900, including other improvements.

On March 26th, the Mt. Joy council upon accepting Rev. Asper's resignation, adopted resolutions of respect and regret, at the separation as pastor and people, also a resolution highly recommending him to Salem charge near Westminster, Md., as a pastor eminently worthy of their highest regard.

Rev. H. M. Heilman became the next pastor of the congregation. During his pastorate, on March 2nd, 1889, just at the opening of preaching services, it was discovered that the church was on fire. Rev. Heilman calmly picked up the Bible, and walked out of the church and the members saved a considerable amount of the church furniture by hard work.

Strange to say, the congregation was to meet on Monday to decide whether they would repair the old church, or tear it down and build a new one. It is supposed that there would have been some difficulty in deciding this question, and some hard feelings might have been caused among the members, but the hand of Providence comes and with burning flames settles the matter.

The congregation at once began to make preparations to rebuild, and in the fall of 1890, all had a right to be proud of the new handsome and comfortable church, which had been erected. During all this time, Rev. Heilman was not an idle man, but was kept busy looking after the work as it progressed at Mt. Joy and Harney.

While the congregation was building, they used Rock Creek Methodist chapel as a place of worship. Rev. Heilman, after a pastorate of six years, resigned July 3th, 1893, resignation to take effect Sept. 1st, 1893. For several months the congregation was supplied from Gettysburg, when Rev. W. G. Minnick was given a call; he accepted and commenced his regular pastoral work December 1st, 1893. Rev. Minnick, the present pastor, has faithfully served the congregation for nearly two years.

Mt. Joy has a large cemetery connected with the church, which contains several hundred graves. Several of the oldest were buried before the church was completed.

John N. Hoffman is the only one of the charter members living today, and has arrived at a good old age. Everything connected with the church is in perfect condition, and all things seem to be working harmoniously together for the glory of God.

(With this instalment, the History of Harney and neighborhood closes. The citizens of the section have every reason to feel satisfied with the work, and the RECORD extends its hearty thanks to Mr. Reck for his labors, and to the many subscribers at Harney for their continued support.—Ed.)

Promises of God

Lesson for August 21, 1955

MANY Christians today become confused when they read the prophecies of the Old Testament. They do not seem to be either plain or profitable, because they are written in a strange style and the reader has no way of knowing, without help, just where and why and when and to whom these words were first spoken or written. This column is much to short a space for straightening out the tangles in even one chapter. The thing to bear in mind is that there is enough in Scripture that is plain to any man, enough to give him all he needs to know about God and his will for us. This column this week will consider one general thought: the promises of God, as they are found in the pages of the prophets particularly.

Dr. Foreman

The Prophet

The promises of God are never made directly, as by a loudspeaker in the sky. The same promise may be made to many persons; but not all at once. The message first takes shape under the skull of one man, a holy, sensitive man, with spiritual insight, generally with great courage and persistence: in short, a prophet. We do not know for certain just what the process is by which a divine truth gets into the human mind of the prophet; but when first the divine truth enters the human sphere, it comes as an idea, a thought, in some prophet's mind. Sometimes more than one prophet may say the same thing, as when Isaiah, Jeremiah and Ezekiel were all predicting the return of the Jews to Jerusalem. Sometimes the prophet stands entirely alone. But the prophet is like the lookout in the crow's nest of a ship, sighting the dim landfall before any one on deck can see it.

The Promise

Sometimes the signal the prophet's keen spirit caught from on high spelled disaster; sometimes it was like "news behind news," a commentary on the why of events in past or present. But often, indeed more often than anything else, the message of the prophet is a promise. You can sum up all the promises there are into one sentence: God is good; he desires the good of all his children; and he will bring good to pass. One writer in the New Testament suggests that the prophets did not always understand their own messages; they were like radio receivers crossed by static. Be that as it may, we know from reading the Gospels that the people who read the prophets, even the professional interpreters, did not always understand what they read. The promises were set in obscure language, often in poetry. One feature however is clear. The focus and center of the prophet's hope and dream was the Messiah. It is true, their descriptions were so misread that when Jesus Christ came, most of his fellow-countrymen, measuring him by the literal words of these promises, did not recognize him. But there were those who did. The Christian discovers that all the best good that God desires for his children is summed up in Christ and what he does for men.

The Present

What can a Christian today do with the promises passed on by the prophets? Some of them refer no doubt to events long since past, as when Ezekiel and Jeremiah predict the destruction of Babylon. The Christian can take such promises to support his faith that God does rule in the history of men; that his decrees are certain, his foreknowledge sure. Some of the promises are still unfulfilled, as when a prophet predicts the utter destruction of evil from this earth and the coming of a time of universal peace. A Christian can live by such hope even when (just as in the prophet's own days) the hope seems out of reach entirely. Where the prophet speaks of God's Servant the Coming One, we can use such promises to deepen our understanding of what Christ is to mean to the world. But every once in a while, in reading the prophets, one discovers that spans past, present and future. It was a promise made good long ago; it will come true in centuries to come; it is true this present hour. Such a promise is to be found, for instance, in Isaiah 55:6-7.

'Don't lose your tools'

APPRENTICES in the building trades are sometimes reminded by experienced workmen, or journeymen, "Don't lose your tools." The experienced artisans know that without the tools of their trade, workers are of little value. A carpenter, for example, may have a splendid background of construction knowledge and great skill, but without such fundamental tools as a hammer, a saw, and a square he would be hopelessly unable to build a satisfactory house.

The most accomplished builder of all time was Christ Jesus, who progressed from the carpenter bench to the great work of helping men build good lives. His instructions in true building will remain for all generations, for they will never become outmoded or impractical.

We are all workers in the great activity of life, laboring to construct in one way or another a better sense of existence for ourselves and others. It is important that we should not lose the tools with which we build. What are these tools? Christian Science reveals them to be qualities of Spirit, God, for nothing less can provide the power and stability that must be ours if our building is to be permanent. Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of this Science, declares in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 199): "We learn somewhat of the qualities of the divine Mind through the human Jesus. The power of his transcendent goodness is manifest in the control it gave him over the qualities opposed to Spirit which mortals name matter."

The tools Jesus used and recommended for all who wished to build as he did do not appeal to the worldly-minded. Humility, purity, love—these were the tools of the Master's trade. He said (Matthew 5:8): "Blessed are the meek. . . . Blessed are the pure in heart. . . . Blessed are the merciful. . . . Blessed are the meekness, mercifulness, and purity the God-derived qualities the world so greatly needs today? All of our material accomplishments and boasted possessions are helpless to deliver men from the fears and false beliefs that culminate in suffering, sin, and sorrow. What can build lives of confidence, joy, and serenity but such tools as Jesus used so effectively? . . .

Our mental tools, the qualities of God, become practical to us only as we identify ourselves as the reflection of God and therefore always in possession of these qualities in all their perfection. Since God is Truth, we have the tool of truthfulness with which to build a sound, squarely-based character that is founded on integrity, not on the sands of intrigue and deceit. Since God is Principle, we have the tool of spiritual law by which to erect an unshakable trust in God, good, which cannot be cast down by the storms of adversity. Since God is Love, we have the tool of pure, unselfed affection with which to crown our lives with a nobility of purpose that will tower high above petty desires and false ambitions.

A student was about to make a purchase of a very desirable item on which a substantial reduction in price had been offered him. When the sale slip was made out, the agent with whom he was dealing explained that in order to sell the item at the reduced price he would have to show on the sale slip that another item had been accepted as a trade-in, although such was not the fact. Although the student greatly desired the item and was pleased at the prospect of having it at a reduced price, he saw that its acquisition was of far less importance to him than was his need to make certain that strict honesty was not being compromised.

The agent assured him that the deal would be ethical in every respect. Upon delivery of the item no mention was made of a need to show that a trade-in had been made, although the price remained the same.

How worthless would be anything obtained at the expense of moral righteousness. To trade away spiritual qualities of character would be equivalent to a workman losing his tools. No further building could take place until they were regained. The tools we need in our daily experience are beyond price. They are constituted of divinely mental qualities, which help us to build truly satisfying lives. Our great necessity is to acquire these tools, learn to use them, and then make certain that we do not lose them. . . .—The Christian Science Monitor.
