A free movie, "Junior Miss," was shown Tuesday, Nov. 22 to the pupils who sold one or more subscriptions during the recent magazine campaign. Mrs. Homer Myers attended a Carroll County Teacher Association Advisory Council meeting on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 22, at Westminster High School.

Key Club News

Glen Copenhaver and Phil Halter had charge of the Key Club meeting on Nov. 18. Mr. B. K. Price, student teacher from Western Maryland College, spoke on the satisfaction in vocations. Mr. L. C. Livingston was the guest teacher. Lamar Hiltbrink and Jack Mooney attended the weekly Kiwanis meeting. The monthly board meeting will be held at Jack Mooney's home on Nov. 27.

The Key Club served the Thanksgiving dinner to the senior high student body as a club project on Nov. 23. Blessing was asked by Glen Copenhaver. Robert Fuss, accompanied by Connie Arvin at the piano, led the dinner in the "Prayer of Thanksgiving." Records were played throughout the meal.

Thanksgiving Assembly Held

A Thanksgiving Assembly was held Wednesday, Nov. 23, in the school auditorium. Scripture was read by Marion Michea and was followed by the Lord's Prayer and the flag salute. The assembly sang "Come Ye Thankful People, Come." The Rev. Robert Bavender, of the Uniontown Methodist Church, gave a talk on Thanksgiving. The senior high chorus under the direction of Mrs. Meta Smith sang "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Thanksgiving Jingle," and "Green Cathedral." Announcements were made by Mr. Mason, principal, and the assembly was dismissed by Marion Michea. Roberta Garvin, pianist, played the recessional.

Students Enter Contest

Arlene Naylor and Suzanne Lawler were selected by the senior class and a faculty committee to enter the annual Daughters of American Revolution Good Citizenship Essay Contest. All high schools in the county are participating in this contest which is open only to senior girls. Each contestant is required to answer a questionnaire and write a story of a colonial statesman that has contributed much to our American heritage. The county winner will be entered in the state competition for which there is a $100.00 U. S. Savings Bond or a $75.00 scholarship award.

ADVENT MUSICAL

The combined choirs of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church will present to its members and to the public an Advent Musical on Sunday, Dec. 4 at 7:30 p. m. The senior and youth choirs comprising 60 voices are under the direction of Mrs. Wallace Yingling. Miss Hazel Hess, church organist, will be at the console of the organ. Mr. Clyde Mummert, violinist, will accompany.

Appropriate selections will be presented in this season of the Church Year, commemorating the preparation for the Advent or the Coming of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Among these are "Come, Thou Saviour of Our Race"; Behold a Branch Hath Flowered; Praetorius; and "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains." As a final number the combined choirs will sing Handel's ever-glorious, "Hallelujah Chorus." Featured as soloists will be Miss Dorothy Alexander of Taneytown and soloist in the Second Presbyterian Church, Baltimore; and Mrs. Naomi Dodder and Henry Reindollar of Trinity's choir. The public is cordially invited to attend.

MEETING OF CUB SCOUTS

Taneytown Cub Pack #714 will hold its monthly pack meeting at Trinity Lutheran Church, Friday evening, November 29, at 7:30.

Several boys are to be invested as well as receive advancements and awards.

The theme will be "America the Beautiful." Parents of the Cubbers are requested to attend the meeting.

"Whatever be the proper remedy for the farm problem, events have abundantly emphasized that it is not 90 per cent of parity."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Thanksgiving

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION

Among the outstanding expressions of America's faith in God is the annual Day of Thanksgiving observed throughout the land.

We have many reasons for the giving of thanks.

There is peace in the land and our people are blessed with plentiful living, based on sound economy which gives good promise for the future.

Advances in medical science give hope for a healthier and happier people. We have found the ways and means to improve, and are improving the institutions for the care of our ill, our needy, and other unfortunates among us.

Enlightenment, understanding and a sense of brotherhood are on the increase across the length and breadth of our land.

Great organizations of great-hearted people work to extend that brotherhood throughout the world.

Among these are the War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, the Church World Service of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and the United Jewish Appeal of the Synagogue Council of America.

These groups are engaged in the humane endeavor of distributing abroad surplus food and clothing and helping in the reconstruction of distressed lands and the rehabilitation of distressed peoples.

With our many blessings and obligations in mind, and with mankind's debt of gratitude before me, I, Theodore R. McKeldin, Governor, do proclaim Thursday, November 24th, 1955, to be a day for giving thanks to God—for the newswing and strengthening of our faith in His guidance and care—and for holding high the brotherhood of man.

THEODORE R. MCKELDIN.

SPECIAL MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Purpose Was To Request Extension of Route 340

The Taneytown Chamber of Commerce held a special meeting on Monday at the Firemen's Hall with Vice president Carroll Wantz presiding. The vice-president stated the purpose of the meeting and called on Mr. Arch Carpenter, chairman of the Roads Committee to give a progress report of his committee's activities. Mr. Carpenter stated that there were over 60 people present and that there were delegations from West York, West Manchester Township, Spring Grove, Hanover, Littlestown, Pa.; Keymar, Ladiesburg, Walkersville, Taneytown, Md.; Waynesboro, Luray, Front Royal, Va.; Harpers Ferry, W. Va. He stated that all these people were present because they would be interested in seeing that U. S. 340 was extended from Frederick, Md., to the intersection of U. S. 30, west of York, Pa. He called on Jim Payne, secretary of Chamber of Commerce, from Front Royal, Va., to relate the experience of his Chamber of Commerce in Front Royal to get the U. S. route to the Shenandoah Valley. Mr. Payne and his assistants, Mr. E. W. Lock and Mr. Robert Hornsburger, briefly gave an account of the manner in which they had proceeded to solve that problem. They emphasized the fact that the proposed extension of 340 from Frederick to York would need the support of all the localities on that route, on the basis of their experience. They suggested procedures to follow and stated that the first step was to go to the state highway department and discuss with the commission the possibility of such an extension and to get his advice. A question and answer period followed the report. It was agreed by all people present that an organization should be set up between the states involved in the proposed extension and that two members from each locality be selected to serve as representatives on this organization for the purpose of coordinating all efforts toward this undertaking.

ANNUAL THANKOFFERING SERVICE HELD

Trinity Evan. Lutheran Church held its annual Thank Offering Service this past Sunday evening at 7:30. The service was sponsored by the members of the Trinity Mission Circle and the Women's Missionary Society. The senior choir and Ladies Ensemble assisted with the service. Mrs. Benjamin Cutsall, president of the Mission Circle, read the scripture lesson. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Ernest Dunbar. Remarks and introductions were made by Mrs. Carroll Hess, president of the Missionary Society. Mrs. Stanley B. Jennings presented the Thank Offering message which was based upon the thought that every Christian is a missionary. Mrs. Lulu Shirk told of the purpose of Thank Offering after which the annual Thank Offering was received which will be contributed to the mission program of the United Lutheran Church Women. Several guests from the Keysville society attended.

NOTICE

The following pallbearers who served at the funeral of the late Helen Elizabeth Shaum were unintentionally missed in last week's issue of this paper: Curtis Bowers, Harry Dougherty, Melvin Reaver, Charles Robtbaugh, Mervin Feesser and David W. Hemler.

NOMINATIONS

H. S. Alumni Association Names Candidates for Office

Final plans were made for the public Thanksgiving Dance when the Taneytown High School Alumni Association met Monday evening in the High School. The dance will be held tomorrow night (Thanksgiving Nite) in the Taneytown High School Auditorium beginning at 9 p. m. The ticket committee reported that tickets are on sale and will also be on sale that night at the door. It is sincerely hoped that this will be one of the largest dances ever sponsored by the Association. The music will be furnished by "The Esquires", 7 piece band from Frederick and those who have heard them assure patrons of a very enjoyable evening. The decorating committee requests that all Alumni and friends turn out tonight, (Wednesday evening) after 7:30 p. m. to help decorate the auditorium. If enough turn out, this can be an easy and enjoyable chore. Tables will be provided again this year, but none can be reserved in advance.

Reports were heard from the business manager Harry Dougherty on the coming basketball season. He reported that only 3 nights remain unscheduled for the entire season. This will assure the Alumni Boys team a game at home every Wednesday night for the next few months. Since this will give the people of Taneytown at least 12 or 13 games to see this season, season tickets will be sold for $1.00 each. Charles Unger, Jr., was chosen by the players to coach the team. The girls reported difficulty in finding players this year and any Alumni girl willing to play should contact JoAnn Dougherty.

It was decided to make a donation of $5 to the Red Feather United Fund appeal.

Edward Sell gave the report for the nominating committee. After receiving additional nominations from the floor the nominations were closed with the election to be held at the December meeting, which will be Monday, December 19. Nominations were as follows: President, Robert Waddell, Delmont Koons, Jr. and Elwood Baumgardner; Vice-President, Herbert Bowers and Harry Dougherty, Jr.; Secretary, JoAnn Dougherty, Thelma Motter; Treasurer, Alice Frock, Rhoda Graybill, Shirley King, and Phyllis Smith; Historian, Lois Fair and Doris Harner.

Following the meeting delicious refreshments were served by Alice Frock and Mary Lawrence. Refreshments at the December meeting will be in charge of James Sell and Crawford Banks.

GARDEN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Silver Fancy Garden Club, was held Nov. 15 in Taneytown, Md., at the home of Mrs. Frank T. Butler. Mrs. Wm. Frailey and Mrs. Hewitt McPherson were co-hostesses. Tea, coffee and fancy cakes were served.

Three of the club members exhibited floral arrangements suitable for Christmas decorations. Mrs. Thomas Frailey and Mrs. Marie Rial had table displays and Mrs. Chas. Shaughnessy had one for the mantle or door.

Plans were made for the Club to have a luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg, Dec. 14, instead of a monthly meeting.

The next regular meeting will be in January. Mrs. Thomas Frailey will be hostess at her home in Emmitsburg, Mrs. Edgar Annan, Jr., and Mrs. Lloyd Crouse will be co-hostesses.

"No union and no job is any more secure than the stability of the industry behind it."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CHRISTMAS MAILING

Postmaster Burke Urges Early Mailing

"It's time to start those Christmas mailings". On the calendar its a month away, but here in the Post Office its Christmas today—and every day until December 25th.

The Post Office has already sent a large quantity of gift packages headed for members of the Armed Forces overseas. Christmas cards for service personnel overseas, can still be delivered in time if they are sent by air mail before December 1st.

Here in the United States smart people are now mailing gifts to friends and relatives living in distant states. Housewives or "The lady of the house" is really in charge of each family's Christmas mailing program. She selects the Christmas Cards, buys most of the gifts and sees to it that the mailing list of friends and loved ones is up-to-date.

"Actually, success in having all Christmas gifts and greeting cards delivered on time is largely a matter of advance planning and preparation which should be done this week."

Get out your Christmas card list and carefully check through it. Make sure that each address includes the full name, street and house number, city, zone and state. Then, pay a visit to the Post Office, stock up on stamps, and ask any questions you may have about mailing regulations. Then on your way home, visit your local stores and pick up a supply of heavy wrapping paper, sturdy empty cartons, and strong cord or twine.

A modest investment in these necessities will pay big dividends in safe delivery of your cherished Christmas gifts.

After your gift wrapping and packing is complete, plan your mailings so that those for the most distant points go first. Try to get all long-distance mailings into the Post Office before December 5th and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 10th. You'll be happy you did, comply to this request, as the mammoth flood of Christmas mail this year, is expected to smash all records.

Postmaster Burke, especially requests that you do not mail all of your Christmas cards, and gifts at the last minute, thus having all your friends and loved ones disappointed by a late arrival of your Christmas greetings.

Your cooperation to the above request, will make a A Merrier Christmas for every one.

FIREMEN REPORT

The executive committee of the Carroll County Firemen's Association held its monthly meeting with the Westminster Fire Company as hosts. President Leo Chrobot presided and the following reports were given:

Westminster had one fire and 37 ambulance calls with 209 man hours, 2030 miles traveled and monthly expense of $2137.91.

Mount Airy had four fire and 21 ambulance calls with 100 man hours, 940 miles traveled and monthly expense of $850.73.

Union Bridge had no fire and 18 ambulance calls with 46 man hours, 1193 miles traveled and monthly expense of $360.76.

Manchester had no fire calls and a monthly expense of $113.19. Members attended the Firemen's ball game in Baltimore.

Pleasant Valley had two fire calls with 24 man hours and monthly expense of $75.53.

New Windsor had no fire calls and a monthly expense of $582.57. The company bought 11 new all weather firemen's coats.

Hampstead had one fire and eight ambulance calls with 54 man hours, 429 miles traveled and monthly expense of $142.06. The company is converting one of its engines into a rescue truck to assist the ambulance crew on automobile accidents. They will entertain the Carroll County Firemen's Association executive committee at its next meeting.

Taneytown had three fire and six ambulance calls with 75 man hours, 1052 miles traveled and monthly expense of $1606.42.

Sykesville had one fire call with seven man hours, 15 miles traveled and monthly expense of $583.96.

Reese had one fire call with 20 man hours and monthly expense of $1199.12. A card party was announced for December 7th and sincere thanks extended to the public for the fine support given the annual firemen's supper.

Lineboro had no report.

WESTMINSTER YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The meeting was called to order by the President, Carl Weant on Nov. 21, at 7:30 in the social hall. There were 14 members present. There were two guests, Richard Baumgardner and Carroll Hahn. There was an election of new officers for the coming year.

The results were: President, Sandra Koons; Vice-President, Carl Weant; Secretary-Treasurer, Shirley Berkemier; Devotional, Walter Plank; Game Committee, Stuart Peterson; Reporters, Clarence Hyser; Refreshments, Mrs. Walter Plank.

The Scripture was read by Walter Plank and discussion followed. The meeting was closed with a prayer. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

"There is only one quality America has that other countries do not have in equal or greater abundance. It is the American enterprise system—the political and social temperament that says a man has freedom of opportunity and freedom of choice."—Kenneth R. Miller, NAM Senior Vice-President.

Happy happy

s giving!
Across the many miles from one County to the other! Somehow, I always think more of "Loves Retreat" at this time of the year and all through the holidays, for I loved it in the winter as much as in the summer being right there on the highway leading to that old Frederick Town.

All the stores in Baltimore are truly decorated for the gala season and there is much shopping being done for Christmas.

Thanksgiving Day is a "Home Day" for all American households yet if you can manage to dine out for the big feast and give that nice little "Mrs." in your house a rest and change by all means do so. There will be a big turkey dinner at the Baust Evangelical and Reformed Church right around the town. What could be any nicer, Mr. Husband? Eh! It's the little things that count and I think you know just what I mean!

Last week visited Bel Air High School and sat in class and listened! That old saying, "Oh, to be a child once more!" is exactly how I felt. On the blackboard in huge lettering was written (and I do hope the teen-agers read this) "Don't be a hermit—Don't be a glutton—Don't break promises—and don't lie." Do be trustworthy, be helpful, be sociable and be truthful!

Did you hear the frogs last week and now they are silent for the winter.

Picked the last flowers at the bungalow before Mr. Frost arrived. The entire grounds was covered with leaves which appear as a yellow carpet. The huge gardenia plant in the biggest pot I have ever seen is thriving beautifully. There was one lonely, last rosebud which is now in the tall, slim, single bud vase right beside me.

Hope you did not miss the lovely paintings by the many novices which were displayed in the windows of the stores in Baltimore during "Art Week". Some of them were excellent and had the quality of the big Masters.

That little Pennsylvania Town of Gettysburg is surely on the map now for good all due to a Five Minute Speech, A Battle and now our President performing his official business in the post office right there. That will make History all down through the years to come! He will be a wise man if he does not run again (and he does not expect him to do so) and start living right now in that lovely remodeled farm home.

Thinking of a man named Stevenson, I predicted he would put his hat in the ring and many who did vote for him will do so again and many who did not will do so this time. He is truly a Public Man and I think you know just what I mean!

If you are contemplating getting a ring for that sweetheart of yours, be sure you ask to see the brilliant Zircrons at "Hochschild Kohn Company" in Baltimore. That old saying that you can get your money out of any diamond any time is not a true one. You can get perhaps one-fourth of what you paid so, Young Man don't ever believe that. "Diamonds are a Girl's Best Friend"! Thinking of jewelry and you have thoughts of purchasing a watch—do ask to see the Triangle shaped (which is now the style) called "Nastrix" from N. Y. The face is of Mother of Pearl. You will like that one, I'm sure.

How interesting it will be to every American and even Foreign Shores if Dan Cupid is working on our former President's nice daughter and the Governor of New Jersey!

Joan Crawford (my favorite Movie Star) was in Baltimore at the Hotel Sheraton Belvedere yesterday. "Queen Bee" the new Movie will be at the Stanley theatre. More about that in a later Column.

Mrs. Housewife, always bake Saurkraut instead of boiling it as it then has a wonderful flavor. And be sure you switch to Hellman's Mayonnaise—nothing to compare with it. When you place your cleaned garments in the storing bags, be most careful so as you do not dig the hook of each garment in the top of the bag as I did accidentally.

Have a grand week-end, Folks. Don't eat too much turkey. Will be seeing you next week. D. V. I am, Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEET

The Pythian Sisters held their regular meeting on Monday evening, November 14, at 7:30 p. m. During the business meeting it was decided to give $10 to the Stottmeyer family who was recently burned out of their home in Hanover, also at the next meeting of November 28th each member is asked to bring a can or jar of some kind of food for this family. There will be Roll-call at the next meeting and a scrap social will be held following the meeting. Anyone desiring more information about the social contact Sister Grace Hahn, who is chairman of the refreshment committee.

HAMPSTEAD YOUTH FOR CHRIST

Mr. Charles E. Wilson, Moody Bible Institute's eastern representative, is listed as speaker November 26th at Hampstead Youth for Christ. Wilson is author of the film "Fall of a Great Nation".

Teenagers "Gospelaires" girls trio from Gettysburg will appear at this 8 o'clock Rally in the Greenmount Church.

The double-feature talent program also bills the YFC Male Chorus, under the direction Charles Pfeffer.

FARM MACHINERY PRICES

One complaint made by farm spokesmen is that prices in general are high, and in some cases are rising, at a time when farm income has declined. Farm machinery has been one of the targets of criticism in this connection.

An informative contribution to the controversy was made in a letter written by the head of one farm equipment manufacturer to Secretary Benson. He said: "Farm prices and farm machinery prices are both affected by long-range trends in general price levels and the general level of economic activity but—in the short run, there is no essential relationship between them. Farm prices are determined largely by world prices, governmental policies, and crop yields. Farm machinery prices, on the other hand, are determined in large part by the prices of iron, steel, rubber, and other industrial commodities, and by wage rates."

He then showed what has happened in the case of his company, which is typical of the industry. Since mid-1950, average hourly earnings of its factory employes have increased by 34.4 per cent in wages alone. In addition, there have been greatly increased costs in fringe benefits. The cost of material, also, has risen substantially.

Yet, since mid-1950, the prices of the machines it sells (including an increase posted very recently) have risen but 25.1 per cent—much less than the wage increase alone.

In other words, to quote him again, "the cost of making farm machines—has gone up further and faster than the prices of farm machines". That fact should be emphasized in any discussion of farm prices and farm costs. So should the fact that the newer machines are more efficient and productive—which in itself is a major economy to the farmer.—Industrial News Review.

NEW UNION GOALS

"Labor unions, just now totting up fat 1955 gains, already are cooking up a batch of husky demands for the 1956 bargaining season," writes Angus Deming in the Wall Street Journal.

He goes on to describe some of the objectives various big unions want. Higher wages is one. A shorter work week—perhaps as short as 32 hours—is another. So is the guaranteed annual wage or something resembling it. So is the closed shop.

Time will tell about all this. But the top union leaders might be wise to wonder where the everlasting campaign for more money and other benefits for less work and less production will lead to. This has promoted inflation in the past—inflation that hits working people hard, and makes their dollar less and less valuable. And there can be no doubt that union demands will spur automation and other labor-saving techniques.

Most important is the closed shop issue. If it becomes the general rule that a man must join and pay dues to any organization before he has the privilege of working, we can talk about American freedom in the past tense. It will be gone. The right to work is the most basic of all rights. Long ago, and rightly so, outraged public opinions brought about tough laws to prevent employers from black-balling and refusing to hire members of unions. Now the shoe is on the other foot. It is the unions which want dictatorial and tyrannical power.—E. Hofer & Sons.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

BUFFALO, S.D., TIMES-HERALD: "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away" could be paraphrased to read 'the government giveth and the government taketh away'. The main point of difference, however, is that the Lord giveth out of the bounty of His goodness, while the government can, only 'giveth' back part of what it 'taketh' away."

KETCHIKAN, ALASKA, DAILY NEWS: "The Paternalistic attitude exercised by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) over commercial airlines is more often a handicap than a benefit. . . . The CAB arbitrarily decides what routes airlines must run and what companies may operate. To our way of thinking . . . airlines should have the same right as other concerns to operate where they pleased as long as they maintained safety standards set by the CAB."

SALEM, O., FARM AND DAIRY: "Farming is no longer a matter of getting up with the chickens and going to bed with the sun. It is paper-work, pencil-work, using long words like blend-price and aureomycin correctly and effectively. You have to be a combination of Einstein, Shakespeare and Diamond Jim Brady to be a success as a farmer any more, and it doesn't hurt if you throw in a little P. T. Barnum, either. That's an exaggeration. But it is far harder to be a good farmer nowadays than it used to be."

How Advertising helps you

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

Time to Spare

AN ADVERTISING man, interested in farming, was talking to the head of the agricultural college of his state about some new methods and reforms in farming which had been discovered and which, put into use, would greatly increase farm production.

"How long do you think it will take the majority of farmers to adopt these improved methods?" he asked the college president.

"I should say at least twelve years, more often twenty," was the reply.

***
This lag between the production of knowledge and its distribution, as the advertising man pointed out in discussing this incident, is not confined to farming. It exists everywhere.

It exists everywhere, that is, except where advertising is applied.

Take an example. A manufacturer, after long and costly research, discovers a way to improve his product. One current development is the use of chlorophyll. It didn't take a dozen or twenty years for you to discover the advantages of chlorophyll.

Advertising brought you the exciting news of this new discovery by science overnight, and within hours after you heard it you were enjoying its advantages.

This points up one other advantage of advertising which may not have occurred to you: it enables you to live longer by cutting down the time-lag between a new idea and its entry into your life.

Every time you pick up your newspaper, some advertiser is telling you about something new or different or improved that has been developed to help you.

In the days when America was young such news traveled by word of mouth. Then it took several years for new ideas or new products to reach coast to coast.

***
Now it takes only days. And because of the way advertising has minimized this element of time, you live a fuller life, a richer life, a more interesting life.

***
If it's new, if it's improved, if it's to your advantage you will find it advertised in the newspaper, which thus becomes the carrier of good tidings for every consumer.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Harry A. Reindollar, who recently had a very serious and delicate surgical operation performed on his eyes, is reported to be doing finely and expects permanent relief.

Samuel H. Little bought the lot on the corner of Middle St. and Fairview Ave., and Geo. H. Birnie the adjoining lot on Middle St., both having been owned by The Birnie Trust Co.

Major Rogers Birnie, of the U. S. Army, is here on a visit to his brothers and sister. Major Birnie has been connected with the ordnance branch of the army service for a good many years.

H. Clay Englar, who is now in St. Louis, has been ill at Washington University Hospital, for about two weeks, with typhoid fever, but is now convalescent and expects soon to be discharged.

Married-Crabbs-Hawn. — On Nov. 22, 1905, at the home of the bride's father, Clayton Hawn, near Uniontown, by Elder W. P. Englar, Mr. Maurice Crabbs and Miss Bertha Viola Hawn.

Frizzellburg. . . . Some of our farmers are husking corn yet, while others are making sausage and doing their fall plowing.—Mrs. Samuel Warehime has been seriously ill the past few days, but shows some signs of improvement again.—The sewing circle will hold its annual oyster supper in the hall, on Friday and Saturday night, Dec 1st and 2nd. Several quilts will be disposed of. Everybody is invited.

Pleasant Valley . . . . The report of the Uniontown public school was very gratifying to all interested in the schools of our county. The people of our community are still more gratified to know that our school did just a little better, twenty-four of our fifty-five not having missed a day last term, while the general average was forty-eight. The names of pupils not missing are as follows: Charles Helwig, Willie Yingling, David Feeser, Byers Unger, Charles Bankard, Vernon Black, Ralph Helwig, Evan Zepp, Wilbur Wantz, Nettie Myers, Goldie Myers, Margaret Yingling, Ruth Hahn, Goldie Leppo, Ruth Anna Wantz, Bernetta Myers, Maud Study, Bessie Yingling, Mabel Helwig, Rachel Devilbiss, Miriam Sheets, Mildred Devilbiss, Malba Zepp, Hattie Wantz.

FAIRVIEW

We sure were greeted with a big surprise on Saturday morning when we awoke to find the ground covered with snow, and it was still coming down, and continued most of the day, but there is not much left this morning.

Visitors the past week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl were: Mr. and Mrs. William Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Levine Carbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blacksten, Mrs. Norman Heiner, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Carl and son, James; Robert Frock and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frock, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adkins and daughters.

This sure is a busy time for a lot of people, with the hunting season in, and Thanksgiving coming up which means butchering for a lot of folks. There's a three-some of "ations" that deserves consideration: Recreation, re-creation and wreck-reaction. The first may be over done, the second is the all important, the third should never be engaged in.

Here's hoping and wishing each and everyone a happy and bountiful Thanksgiving, and a wonderful week-end to all.

Just a Little
A very egotistic young man said that he could play a little on almost any instrument. A child heard and innocently bought a violin. After the young man had scraped a few sad tones on it, the child remarked "you can't play but just a little, can you?" the young man never was known to repeat the boastful remark.

about all sold. It was decided to make more cookies but to set a date when no more orders could be promised to be filled. Mrs. Ethel Wilhite reported on the President's meeting which was held in Westminster at the Agricultural Center, and which she attended because her mother, Mrs. Erb, was unable to go. There are several things Mrs. Wilhite learned at the meeting which would be of public interest. The 26th Homemakers Club of Carroll County has been organized at Hampstead, the Carroll County Homemakers Council won third prize on its booth at Timonium Fair, $95.00, on Nov. 29th in the evening a demonstration on Christmas decorations will be given at the Agricultural Center—anyone and everyone is invited to this, the Homemakers Club are looking for a new project to donate to instead of the Health Fund. Keysville-Detour Homemakers seem to be in favor of making the Agricultural Center their project—Mrs. Robert Stine and Mrs. Joseph Coshun were appointed to be the ones to help other Homemakers of the County to make some kind of Christmas decoration for the patients at the Hendrickson T. B. Hospital, Mrs. Coshun and Mrs. Stine are on the Art Committee. It was voted to give $2.50 to the Retarded Children Drive. Mrs. Marian Austin gave some interesting information concerning the writing of "America, The Beautiful". The nominating committee, Mrs. Mark Baumgardner, Mrs. Robert Stine, Mrs. Carl Wilhite, gave its report as follows: president, Mrs. Marie Erb; vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Priest; secretary, Mrs. Gilbert Stine; and treasurer, Mrs. Mark Baumgardner. The report was accepted and these officers who served last year were re-elected for 1956. The Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mark Baumgardner on Wednesday, Dec. 7 with Mrs. Gilbert Stine as the co-hostess. Names were drawn for gifts. Each person is to bring a Christmas suggestion to the next meeting. Mrs. Erb and Mrs. Wilhite served refreshments of ice cream and pumpkin pie and coffee.

Mr. Gertrude Warner celebrated her 76th birthday on Nov. 10. Mrs. Warner is better after having been on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fry, Sandy, Jan, Mike and Luide of Baltimore and Mrs. Maurice Wilhite of Detour were dinner and supper guests of Mrs. Fry's brother, Clyde and family, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baumgardner were host and hostess at a 25th wedding anniversary celebration for their brother, Luther Clabaugh and Mrs. Clabaugh. This took place at the Baumgardner home on Sunday evening. The honored guests received many nice gifts. May they have many more anniversaries.

Don't forget the Used Clothing Drive for the New Windsor Center. Put the clothes in the Keysville Lutheran Church and they will be taken care of.

A film relating to the Sunday School lesson will be shown this Sunday in the basement of the Keysville Lutheran Church after the Sunday School period. Everyone is invited to stay.

Fred Stonesifer of Keysville has been able to resume his studies at Western Maryland College in Westminster.

Rev. Dixon Yaste, Carroll Wilhite and Edward Coshun enjoyed last Wednesday hunting at Redland. Rev. Yaste, Carroll Wilhite and wife and Beth were guests that day for dinner with the Edward Coshuns.

Ernest Myers of near Detour is a patient at the Frederick Memorial Hospital.

UNIONTOWN

The Bethany Circle of the Church of God, Uniontown, met in the basement, Thursday evening, Nov. 17, 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Elizabeth Corbin had a Thanksgiving topic for the devotion. After the business part of the meeting, a wedding shower was given by the Circle for Mr. and Mrs. William Doble of Taneytown and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carl of Fairview.

IN MEMORIAM

BAKER—In Loving Memory of our dear husband and father, Charles A. Baker, who passed away, three years ago, November 27, 1952.

Just a line of sweet remembrance
Just a memory fond and true
Just a token of love's devotion
That our hearts still long for you.

Three years have passed since that sad day,
When the one we loved was called away.

God took him home it was his will,
Within our hearts he liveth still.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear dad,
Its sweet to breathe thy name,
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.

By his loving WIFE and CHILDREN
In loving memory of our beloved father and grandfather, JAMES CLEVELAND WEISHAAR, who departed this life 2 years ago, Nov. 28, 1953.

Two years have passed since that sad day,
When you left without saying, "Good-bye."

For you were taken so quickly away
And we know not how or why.

Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without a farewell.

To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.

Because God knew your work was never over,
Your children taught and grown,
He called you Dad to come and dwell,
Where no more work is done.

When the golden sun doth never set,
And the sky's forever blue,
It's there we hope in God's good time
Dear Dad to be with you.

Sadly missed by daughter,
HELEN and CHILDREN.

FORMAL OPENING OF BRIDGE NEAR FREDERICK

Formal opening of the first bridge over the Frederick By-Pass, which eventually will run for 14 miles around the town, was Monday, Nov. 21, at 2:30 p. m.

In the presence of State and local officials Governor McKeldin cut ribbons opening to traffic the bridge just completed where U. S. 240 crosses the Baltimore National Pike, just south of Frederick.

The bridge ceremonies highlighted a day of travel by State Roads Commission officials through Howard, Carroll and Frederick Counties, inspecting road projects under construction. Included in the party which was by chartered bus, were members of the Legislature, local officials and the Press.

The Frederick By-Pass from U. S. route 40 at the Monocacy river east of Frederick to the same national highway west of Frederick is about 50% completed and is scheduled for opening to the public next year. It will move circumferentially around Frederick on the south, west and north. Eventually it will be extended north of U. S. 40 to a junction with U. S. Route 15. In addition to diverting through traffic from the streets of Frederick, the By-Pass will connect with such important North-south thoroughfares as the Washington National Pike running south from Frederick toward Washington, U. S. Route 15 running into Virginia and U. S. Route 340 to Harpers Ferry and the South.

The entire road is dual-lane limited access with 50-ft. median strips and is on a par with the finest roads being built by the State today. There are 12 major bridges in the project to take care of the interchange areas and grade separations.

The bridge dedicated on Monday is a four-span steel beam structure 186-ft. in length with two 5-ft. sidewalks. The project has been built by T. Edgier Russell of Frederick at a low bid of $224,808.

The Governor's address:

The bridge we dedicate today is important as a part of a much larger project—this dual-lane superhighway around one of Maryland's famous cities.

The Frederick By-Pass looms large in our twelve-year program of road rehabilitation because it fits into the modern pattern of carrying the main roads around—and not through—our congested sections. Even as our State is now building a harbor tunnel flanked by 15 miles of approach roads to go around our Number One city, so also are we trying to meet the demands of today in by-passing principal towns and cities.

The by-pass of Frederick is important not only to our State, but to the Nation. It provides a major relocation of U. S. Route 40, one of America's transcontinental highways, which starts at Atlantic City and ends at the Golden Gate of San Francisco.

Of all the traffic now moving East-West in the heart of Frederick, State Roads engineers advise that 31 percent of it is through-traffic—trucks and motor cars that will use the By-Pass when completed.

Think what this will mean to interstate traffic in the saving of time and stops. Think also what this will mean to the City of Frederick when nearly one-third of Patrick Street traffic is eliminated.

When finished, this will be one of the monumental projects of our State. It will run for 14 miles around the City of Frederick on three sides and will include twelve major bridges, three trumpet-type interchanges, five modified cloverleaf interchanges and three full cloverleaf interchanges. It will be of the limited-access type with two 24-foot pavements, plus a 10-foot shoulder on the right and a 50-foot median between the two lanes. This wide grassy strip will provide not only a space for planting but also an opportunity for future expansion to a six-lane highway when needed.

The eventual plans calls for the By-Pass to skirt the northwest limit of the city and terminate at U. S. Route 15 near Tuscarora Creek.

Vast as is this highway improvement serving the people of City, State and Nation, it is but one of many which are under way or programmed in every section of our State.

The 12-year program, now almost two years old, is really moving into high gear. In this section of Maryland, that is the counties of Frederick, Carroll and Howard which comprise the Roads Commission's District No. 7, approximately seventy million dollars is programmed for a thorough rehabilitation of the State Roads system. This means that in these three counties alone approximately 12 percent of the overall funds of the 12-year program will be expended to give our citizens the roads demanded by modern-day traffic.

It is with pleasure that I open this bridge, one of a dozen on the Frederick By-Pass and one of a hundred or so being built or programmed throughout the State. It is also with satisfaction that I report that our road-building program is now moving forward on a schedule of about four million dollars a month including right-of-way purchases and is maintaining what the State Roads Commission considers is a reasonable and desirable pace.

HOPE AND JOY

Artificial optimism alienates more friends than it makes.—F. C. Aspley.

A happy man or woman is a radiant focus of good will, and their entrance into a room is as though another candle has been lighted.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Nearly 750,000 species of insects have been classified, says Alan Devoe in the current Reader's Digest. About 4000 new varieties are found every year. Some are so tiny and so specialized that they live on the tongues of horse flies. One type of beetle thrives in red pepper. Certain insects have neither mouths nor stomachs and never eat at all.

The Herald was the first newspaper in New York to give detailed descriptions of the gowns worn by women at social affairs.

ROBERT M. MEUNIER WINS WITH RECREATION & RURAL ARTS RECORD

Robert E. Meunier, 18-year old Carroll County 4-H'er, is state winner with his recreation and rural arts record.

"Teaching recreation amounts to more enjoyment for me possibly than for those who participate, since it teaches me to talk to people, explain my point of view and express my ideas," Robert says. He adds that after his 10 years in 4-H rural arts and recreation, he now feels that "being in front of a microphone now is like shaking hands with a friend."

Robert began his work in Vermont when his family lived there and he attended Hardwick Academy. He became interested in helping plan the programs and carrying 4-H projects. He was only 12 when he was asked to represent his club at the Vermont state camp. His club was the honor club of the county. Robert was a recreational leader when he was 12, and continued to be in charge of recreation at all county meetings.

When his family moved to Taneytown, Md., Robert once again followed his interest in helping others with his leadership, to relax from their daily tasks and chores. All in all, he has "called" some 212 square dances and has been in charge of 60 complete programs. In addition to his 4-H recreational duties, he helps out with the Grange, FFA and Farm Bureau activities.

His club is the Taneytown Agricultural 4-H Club and his local leaders are Hubert Null and Robert Meunier. Showing a wide interest in projects, Robert has carried dairy, poultry, safety, home arts, woodworking and gardening. He was in the top 10 in Vermont poultry judging contest in 1949; champion Ayrshire showman and third in all breeds in Maryland in 1954; and state gardening achievement winner.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Meunier, this 4-H'er is now a Dairy Herd Improvement Association supervisor in Frederick county.

"BOLTS AND NUTS"

The 3-act farce-comedy play being sponsored by the P.T.A. of the Taneytown Elementary School will be presented in the auditorium of the school Thursday and Friday nights of next week at 8 o'clock.

Several persons were asked why they felt the people of the community would want to support "Bolts and Nuts" with their attendance. The following are their replies:

"The purchaser of a ticket to 'Bolts and Nuts' will receive for his money more than a night's entertainment. He will have the satisfaction of knowing that his money will be used to provide happiness for hundreds of children, as the profit of the play will go toward purchasing library books for the children of the school. The need for such books is more evident every day."

"The greatest proof of this need is the fact that during a school year the school borrows about 300 books from the Department of Library Extension. This helps to meet the needs of teachers and pupils, but the supply is still inadequate. These borrowed books present two disadvantages: 1. They often are not here when they are needed; and 2. There is a time limit on their stay at one school."

"There is evidence of much pupil interest in the library. If you could visit the library some Monday morning and see the line of children that have come to return books, you would quickly realize that a great number of children passed away many hours reading books over the week-end."

"The library wants to help children to be well informed. This can be done only if there are books to answer the millions of questions in a child's mind. The library wants to stimulate learning. This means that the kind of books we have is important. But most of all, the library wants to help children to be happy by providing book friends that will please their day dreams, their spirits of adventure, and their constant search for knowledge."

—Mrs. Frances Crawford.

"For me that question has many answers. First of all, I have read the play and know that it is tops in the field of entertainment. It will provide anything that anyone could possibly expect from a play. It has comedy—and I really mean side-splitting laughs—not only in the plot and the lines, but in the unusual characterizations that are portrayed. Also contained within this play one can find romance and a most intriguing plot that doesn't relax the suspense until the last minute."

"Then, too, I have attended several rehearsals and I've always come home bubbling with enthusiasm and feeling very much refreshed after seeing our cast in action. We have in our cast all experienced actors and actresses and I have no doubt that this play is going to proclaim community renown for each and every one of them. They have all made great sacrifices in order that they might be a part of providing our community with a memorable night's entertainment and also that they might be able to help in providing our children with greater learning opportunities through new library books."

"Last, but not least, we feel that we have been most fortunate to have Mrs. Keppel as our directress. She is trying her very best to give Taneytown an "Amateur" Broadway Production. So, don't forget the time—Dec. 1 and 2; and the place, Taneytown Elementary School for an evening's entertainment that our town will long remember." Mrs. Deanne Reindollar.

"In these days there is so much seriousness to live that it is good for one to seek such amusement which helps to relieve life's tension in an uplifting and wholesome manner. In "Bolts and Nuts" we hope to find an entertainment which will help us forget some of life's worrisome headaches through agreeable refreshment. But over and beyond such a selfish reason for seeing "Bolts and Nuts" there is the benefit it will bring to the future citizens and leaders of our community. One of the finest things we can do for our children is to help them so that they may recognize books as being very important in their list of best friends."

Since our elementary school library has a limited number of books and the children have such a strong desire for more books which they might read for the increase of general information and specific knowledge or just as a profitable pastime, we should here recognize a privilege and opportunity in which all may share.

"Books can make children happy and satisfied when nothing else will be acceptable. In attending and witnessing "Bolts and Nuts", the derived profits of which are to be used in securing helpful and worthwhile books for the school library, we shall be establishing, as it were, an ever-renewing reservoir and revolving source of contentment and pleasure for all the boys and girls of our school. For this they will be very thankful and we should be eternally grateful."—Rev. Morgan Andrews.

The story of this play by Jay Tobias is very interesting. When the masterful Miss Rebecca Bolt, whose hobby is psychoanalysis, inherits a spooky old mansion from an eccentric brother, she turns it into a sanitarium for patients with phobias and nervous diseases, much to the dismay of her niece. Whereupon, the nuts start to pour in, and fun begins in earnest.

Lutie Spinks, who hates men, has a nervous habit of flinching that gets her into trouble with flirtatious men patients. Gertie Glossop has a contagion-phobia and all but asphyxiates everybody else with her various spraying machines. Mr. Clippy has a cat-phobia and is frightened nearly out of his wits by the pet cat of malicious little Wilbur. Miss Figg suffers from fear of being in limited spaces, Miss Grubb fairly wallows in melancholy, and Mr. Plunkett, the foxy family lawyer, develops a persecution complex while the porter harbors a natural fear of lunatics and all their works. Mr. Starr, who is taboed in his romance for Benita, joins the company of nuts in disguise, parading an acute case of delusion, in hopes of finding a chance to soften the hard heart of Rebecca. Hilarious situations develop with the arrival of Dr. Joy who undertakes to cure the patients. Complications multiply as Rebecca searches for her deceased brother's money, which he has left hidden about the house, providing in a freak will that a portion of it is to go to anyone who happens to find it. It soon becomes apparent that most of the patients are faking their various phobias in order to search for it. Its final discovery, through the ingenuity of Mr. Starr, forms a fitting climax for this speed-crazy farce of many laughs.

The play is cast in a health resort somewhere in Missouri and the following play the indicated roles. Rebecca Bolt, manager of the Bolt Sanitarium for Mental Hygiene, Mrs. Nadine Riffle; Benita Bolt, Rebecca's niece, Mrs. Betty Wantz; Lutie Spinks, the maid who winks, Mrs. Frances Hottinger; Henry Goober, the Negro porter afraid of lunatics, Mr. Theodore Jester; Martha Grubb, a melancholia cook, Mrs. Ruthanne Airing; Prunella Figg, a patient with claustrophobia, Mrs. Marian Rue; Gertie Glossop, a patient who fears contamination, Mrs. Alma Bair; Wilbur Glossop, her darling problem child, David Bair; Twink Star, Benita's fiancé with delusions of grandeur, Mr. Henry Alexander; Dr. Hippocrates Joy, a psychiatrist, Mr. Neal Powell; Phineas Plunkett, a lawyer with humility complex, Mr. Kenneth Stonesifer; Jack Gordon, a young interne, Mr. Frank Dunham, and Cadweller Clippy, a patient who fears felines, Mr. Wilbur Thomas.

MEETING AT CHINQUAPIN HILL

The eight Senior High Schools in Carroll County will again participate in the good citizens contest sponsored by the William Winchester chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The contest will be conducted as in previous years with two senior girls who are selected by the faculty and student body, participating as county contestants. Papers of the winning contestant will be entered in the State finals and each State winner will receive a $100 Bond from the National Society, D.A.R. Mrs. Allen Feeser is Chairman of the Good Citizens' Committee.

The November meeting of the chapter was held at Chinquapin Hill, Union Mills, the home of Mrs. James M. Shriver, on Friday, Nov. 11 at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Wesley A. Pickens, conducting. Following the prayer by the chaplain the members repeated in unison the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the D.A.R. pledge perpetuate the spirit of America. Miss M. Louise Matthews, Chaplain, conducted a memorial service for the late Mrs. Grace E. Miller, mother of Mrs. F. Donald Shriver.

During the past month the papers of four members have been approved by the Board of Management N.S.D. A.R. The members are Miss Anna Shriver, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Sherwood Kay, Westminster; Mrs. Peter McIver, Finksburg; and Miss

M. Suzanne Shower, Taneytown. Miss Shriver and Mrs. Kay were present and were welcomed into the Society by the regent, Mrs. Pickens. Mrs. Frank B. Hurt read the President General's message from the National Magazine in which Miss Carroway urged that we "Protect America's future thru Patriotic Education". Mrs. Pickens presented an article commemorating Veterans' Day. To maintain Honor Roll status it is necessary for 20% of the membership to subscribe to the National Magazine and members are asked to send new subscriptions or to renew old ones as their subscriptions expire. Miss M. Louise Matthews is Magazine chairman.

Mrs. Arthur G. Turner, Senior President, Terra Rubra Society, C.A. R. invited D.A.R. members to attend the next meeting of the Society which will be held at Chinquapin Hill on Saturday, Dec. 3 at 1:15 p. m.

Mrs. James M. Shriver, Ways and Means Committee reported that Gwyn Oak Park day sponsored by the Maryland State Society D.A.R. would be June 28th. Card parties are held at the State Chapter House, Roland Ave. Baltimore, on the 2nd Tuesday of each month and all members and their friends are asked to participate in these activities. Gifts for the bazaar are needed at all times. These projects supply the funds necessary for the maintenance of the State Chapter House and present pleasant entertainment for those who attend. Members were reminded to bring gifts to the December meeting for the approved school Christmas box. This meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Allen Feeser, Taneytown. Used clothing for St. Mary's School for Indian girls may be taken to the home of Mrs. LaMotte Smith, Green St.; Mrs. Robert Gist is chairman. Clothing of the approved schools box may be delivered to Mrs. Wilbur Shreeve. The business meeting adjourned at 3 p. m.

Mrs. David H. Taylor introduced the guest soloist, Mrs. Paul Keppel, the former Florence Kirk, soprano, Metropolitan Opera star. Mrs. Keppel presented a delightful program of vocal selections varying in style and theme from a solo from the opera Tannhauser by Richard Wagner to an amusing bit of an old nursery rhyme, Sing A Song of Sixpence. Included in the program were three German selections by Brahms, a Greek folk tune arranged by a modern composer and a group of English songs; Wild Geese by James Rogers, Little Shepherds Song by Water Watts and At The Well by Richard Waganan. Mrs. David H. Taylor accompanied Mrs. Keppel. Mr. and Mrs. Keppel now reside on Stone Road near Mayberry, Md.

Guests were Mrs. Russell Benson; Mrs. Frank Smith, San Antonio, Texas; Miss Elsie Thomas and Mrs. James M. Shriver, Jr. Following the program tea was served by the hostess with Mrs. F. Donald Shriver and Mrs. James Shriver, Jr., presiding at the table.

Rev. Joel W. Cock, Chairman of the 1955 Christmas Seal Sale Campaign, delivering bundles of Christmas Seal letters to Postmaster Frank P. Myers, Westminster.

BUY T. B. CHRISTMAS SEALS

Postmen throughout the county have now delivered over 11,000 Christmas Seal letters to the homes of residents from the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association. "The letters constitute the only appeal made for funds to support the association's fight against tuberculosis," explained Rev. Joel W. Cock, Chairman of the 1955 Christmas Seal Sale Campaign.

"Our post office is proud to handle the Christmas Seal letters," said Postmaster Myers. "We hope people will read them carefully and decide to increase their regular contribution to the tuberculosis association."

He pointed out that great advance in medical science in recent years have made the eradication of tuberculosis a real possibility for the future.

"Part of the money we give every year for Christmas Seals goes into medical research to find out more about the disease, the germ that causes it, and the way our bodies react to it," he said. "Even now some scientists may be coming close to a fact that will lead to a simple means of controlling tuberculosis. Tuberculosis research must be speeded up to end the terrible cost of TB in money and human lives. Your Christmas Seal dollars will help."

The local association carries on a four point program of health, education, case finding, patient services and rehabilitation and medical research. 69% of all funds received remains in the county to promote the development of programs for tuberculosis control and to the service of the community.

"It is due to the play of free enterprise that the United States has prospered above all nations."

SHORT STORY

Cozy Chowder

By Hal Borden

MARK LOWRY knew the taxi would be a luxury but if he tried walking to the station with his bundle of oil paintings and suitcase he'd miss his train.

He was tall and broad shouldered with hair that was sun-bleached from hours spent sketching on the sand dunes. He felt a sense of freedom over the fact that he was giving up trying to earn a living painting. Eight productive but unrewarding months were behind him. Now he was getting out.

He tossed the last shirt into his suitcase just as the taxi horn sounded. He heard it's wheels grating on the driveway.

"Goodbye," he said softly. But he knew he was saying it as much to himself as to the room.

"Stow the gear in back." The cabby's voice was high and soft. She was one of the most gorgeous girls Mark had ever seen.

"Headed home?" she asked when Mark was seated beside her.

"Yeh," Mark grunted. "Didn't stick it out very long did you?"

Mark lit a cigarette before answering. "How would you know?" he asked.

"I live here, mister. I see them come and go!"

Mark reddened. "I'm not running away," he said quickly. "I'm just moving on."

"Toward what?"

"Something with a future. A pay-check maybe." His frown deepened. "You enjoy the money from your taxi business don't you?" he asked.

"With no extra charge for analyzing customers," she replied.

She turned into a parking stall and got out Mark glanced quickly at his wristwatch. "Hey, I've got to meet a train, remember?"

"Plenty of time," she said. "I missed lunch."

Mark contemplated the train ride ahead of him. "So'd I," he said.

Moustachioed 'Frenchy,' owner, chef and waiter greeted them. He called Mark's cabby, Lois. Mark liked the name.

"It has to be fish chowder," she told him and Mark noticed her amused smile. "That's all Frenchy serves."

She turned to the owner and spoke softly. "A going away chowder for the gentleman. He's number twenty thousand and eighteen to depart defeated."

Frenchy's head jerked up sharply. "What's this foolishness about leaving? A joke?"

Frenchy's bow tie waggled as he shook his head in dismay.

"But no one just tries to paint, monsieur Lowry," he said. "One either paints or one doesn't paint. Agreed?"

Mark toyed with a cracker, then crushed it to bits. "But I'm not able to make a living," he repeated. Then he looked up. "But you knew my name."

"But of course. You were in the summer exhibit. 'And good too.'"

"Oh that," Mark said.

"Yes, that!" Frenchy exclaimed. "The impatience of youth," he spoke leaning across the table.

"Do you think Lois was always the promising illustrator she is today. Coming up fast?" His eyes narrowed in reminiscence. "I remember her days of 'No sales' and no credit anywhere. 'She was living on one bowl of my chowder a day until I found her out.'"

Mark looked across at Lois but she was staring at the napkin in front of her.

Frenchy was emphatic. "Then the taxi idea hit her. The genius in her was beginning to come out." The restaurateur's voice softened with meaning as he straightened up. "It would hurt some people's pride to work and paint at the same time."

"That's what I needed," Mark said, taking a whiff of the delectable chowder, but his eyes were on Lois.

"I could use a reliable and patient busboy," he heard Frenchy say. That's when he thought he saw the bare resemblance of a wink pass between the beautiful cabby and the philosophical chef.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Cleaning Will Add Life and Sparkle To Window Shades

YOU DON'T HAVE to replace window shades when they become soiled because many of them can be treated to home cleaning methods.

It is important that you know just what the material of the shades with which you're dealing is, as different types requires different cleaning methods.

Before you actually get to washing shades, make certain they're dusted.

Washing Shades

Holland cloth, painted fabric or pyroxilin-impregnated cloth, as well as plastic, are all washable. Take the shades down, one at a time, and dust thoroughly. Place on a flat surface and scrub with a soft brush or sponge, using mild suds and a small amount of water.

Rinse off the shades with clear water, using as little as possible

Shades of Robinhood! Small fry will welcome bed time in these pajamas which are so delightfully styled for young fry, right out of the story book. Sanforized, they're guaranteed to wash repeatedly without shrinking out of fit.

and then wipe dry. Turn the shade and repeat the process.

Don't Soak Chintz

There are pyroxilin-impregnated shades which are faced with glazed chintz, the latter side of which cannot be washed with water. The backing, however, may be washed as directed above, taking care that the chintz side is not soaked with any of the water.

When shades are particularly decorative and very elegant, and may, perhaps, contain several different kinds of material, some of which are not washable, they should be professionally cleaned.

Renovating Shades

Shades will last longer, too, if the shade is reversed top to bottom since all parts will then receive equal wear.

Rollers will last a long time, averaging from 10 to 15 years, and these may be replaced when they need it.

Versatile Waffle Right for Any Meal

ONE OF THE most versatile of the quick, hot breads, waffles will do nicely for any of your meals. You undoubtedly know of the hit they make at breakfast, but what about the others?

With creamed chicken or vegetables, they do nicely for luncheon or supper, too, with applesauce or other fruit sauces, you can even make dessert out of them for these meals.

Light Soda Waffles

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1/4 cup vinegar
1 1/4 cup sweet milk
1/2 cup melted shortening

Sift together flour, soda, sugar and salt. Beat egg yolks, vinegar and milk. Add dry ingredients and melted shortening. Stir until batter is smooth. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry and fold into batter. Pour batter on heated iron to about one-inch of the edge. Bake 3 to 4 minutes or until waffles stop steaming.

Cream waffles are a nice variation, especially when you're wondering what to do with soured cream. No shortening is needed because of the fat in the cream.

Cream Waffles

(Makes 6)
2 cups sifted, all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon cornmeal
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
2 cups soured cream
Sift together flour, cornmeal, soda, and salt. Beat egg yolks and add cream. Add sifted dry ingredients and mix well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake on a hot waffle iron.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

There were 1,500 at the dedication of the Museum of "Lovely Lane" Methodist Church on St. Paul Street in Baltimore last Sunday, November 6, 1955. "Lovely Lane" is truly a historic spot. The Church was organized in 1784 and the present one was designed by Stanford White which was completed in 1886. It is supposed to be the "Mother Church" of Methodism in the United States. They claim there were more than 1,500 who visited the dedication and many were shown the entire building before and after the dedication. The Museum was made possible by members, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Leitch who presented that gift. The brilliant Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam took charge of the service.

The very beginning of Lovely Lane Church were both modest and momentous. A little band of worshippers was organized as a Methodist Society in old Baltimore Town in 1772. Two years later, Francis Asbury laid the cornerstone of a small meeting house on a street called Lovely Lane at a spot which is now in the heart of Baltimore's downtown business and financial district. This unpretentious building was utterly devoid of architectural ornament. One could hardly imagine a greater contrast to the present imposing structure. Yet it was in that "house that sixty energetic and aggressive young circuit riders met in convention in the year of 1784 and engaged in a great act of creation.

America had won its political independence from Great Britain by the terms of a treaty of peace signed the preceding year and these Methodist Ministers were determined to have an independent American Church.

In Lovely Lane Chapel Frances Asbury the "Prophet of the Long Road" knelt to receive ordination at the hands of Thomas Coke and was elected General Superintendent by the Conference and was consecrated by Thomas Coke. Thus Asbury and Coke became Methodism's first Bishops.

Within two years Lovely Lane Chapel was superseded by a larger building located where today, Redwood Street crosses Light Street. For many years this church continued to be the most prominent in American Methodism. It was there that Asbury made his quarters as the Parsonage and Sunday School building were right there, too.

In 1784 there were about 15,000 Methodists in the United States. In a quarter of a Century this number had increased many fold reaching a total of 160,000. In less than a century the number was reckoned in Millions. In 1872 the Light Street congregation moved to a building on Charles Street at the corner of Fayette Street purchased from the Congregation which at that time erected the present Mt. Vernon Place Church. In 1880 the present massive church building was erected. The move from way down town to St. Paul and 22nd was an act of great daring as this location at that time was way out in the country and many members objected to the move. Dr. John F. Goucher had been appointed pastor of the Church who was a man of great faith and creative vision and who gave unsparingly of his time, his strength and his wealth to provide a great church for the growing city, a church building worthy of the congregation's past and equal to its opportunities. The tower of Lovely Lane was copied from churches in Italy by Stanford White. No longer 'in the country' Lovely Lane is now a down-town Church, carrying its silent but eloquent message to the city throughs which pass it every day of the year!

As impressive to the visitor, perhaps as the structure itself are the priceless treasures of early Methodist history which is displayed in the huge glass compartments. There are Wesley and Asbury manuscript letters, Bishop Asbury's ordination credentials signed by Bishop Coke, John Wesley book, called, "Imitation of Christ" which is considered next to the Bible. There hangs the lovely portrait of Francis Asbury which was lost for a time and which was done by the great artist named Polk in the year of 1794 in Baltimore.

There is a hand-hewn oak pulpit used nearly two hundred years ago by Robert Strawbridge. There is a prayer book used by Wesley's wife. There are many letters between Wesley and Asbury and numerous other important papers.

There were a number of Guides (members of the church) who led the groups through the church and explained every detail to them. There were two very special young men, Fred and John who appeared as professional guides therefore making it all the more interesting.

The chairs in the church are what one might call the types as in the theatres of today—individual affairs and are so much more comfortable than the pews.

In 1935, Your Observer was presented with three most valuable books published in 1816 and 1826 in England by a Rev. W. Hoagland—a Baptist Minister then 79 years of age. I use to sit with his aged invalid wife while he made his numerous calls daily around the country on foot! He said to me, "I want to give you these three Methodist books which I think should belong to you instead of me!"

As I glanced quickly through them, I saw where there were 43 Sermons by John Wesley and in one book a copy of his Will and Last Testament. I immediately realized their value and now I will present them to the Museum of Lovely Lane Church. The poor little Will would make any individual weep!

Two of the books, Number 5 and 6 of ten Volumes are "The Works of the Rev. John Wesley." The third book is titled "The Duty of a Christian" or "Directions for the Daily Communion with God!" This showing how to begin, how to spend, and how to close every day with God to which are added instructions and helps for the right receiving of the Lord's Supper! This book by the Rev. Matthew Henry. Published in London 1816. And as I read these books over again, I realize more and more about the Episcopal Minister who said to me, "I am sorry the Methodists left the Episcopal Church for when they did they took the fire with them!"

A visit to "Lovely Lane" would be really worth while. Manage to plan groups for the trip down to Baltimore as this Observer observed that you and you will enjoy every minute of it. Until next week D. V. Have a grand week-end. Plan something unusual for Thanksgiving. Go to church regardless of the denomination and whatever you do don't let the rain keep you away on any Sunday! I am, Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

MAGIC CANDY For Hallowe'en

A DISH OF HOMEMADE candy never goes begging when the small fry are around. It's an easy matter to tempt a young sweet-tooth with apricot coconut balls. You can whip them up like magic in a few minutes since they are made with sweetened condensed milk. This creamy rich ingredient is a blend of whole milk and pure cane sugar that assures failure-proof results every time. The recipe is so simple even the kiddies can whip up a batch of Hallowe'en candy in a jiffy.

APRICOT COCONUT BALLS
1 1/2 cups dried apricots, ground
2 cups shredded coconut
3/4 cups (1/2 can) sweetened condensed milk
Confectioners' sugar

Combine apricots and coconut. Add sweetened condensed milk; blend well. Shape into balls. Roll in confectioners' sugar. Let stand until firm.

Poultry pests can't get away when you spray Pest Spray in the laying house. Pest Spray penetrates every cranny where mites and bugs hide—kills them surely and continues to kill for weeks. You can get the lice on layers, also, by spraying Pest Spray over the birds. Or, use Roost Spread to kill lice and the feather mite. Just apply to roosts—fumes, spreading upward, kill the parasites. Reduce losses and get more eggs by using Pest Spray and Roost Spread.

Separated by TB

Tuberculosis separates this mother from her baby. Yet TB can be prevented. For funds to support year-round program of TB prevention and control, the 3,000 tuberculosis associations are now conducting their annual Christmas Seal Sale.

MARYLAND WILDLIFE

Prepared by the MARYLAND GAME &amp; INLAND FISH COMMISSION

BALTIMORE ORIOLE

(Icterus galbula.)

RANGE. Breeds throughout north-east Canada and Atlantic Coast states; and as far south as Georgia; winters in Mexico and Central America.

DESCRIPTION: Head, neck and throat and upper part of back, black; breast, lower back, and lesser wing coverts deep rich reddish orange; wings black with the outer margin of the greater coverts edged with white. The Baltimore Oriole is the official bird of Maryland, so designated by the Legislature of 1947. Length about 8 inches.

BREEDING: Nests in tops of fine-twigged trees like elms; nest is a work of art, beautifully woven, hanging from branch tips; known as "tailor bird" in some places; if strands of various colored strings are placed nearby in conspicuous places, the orioles will weave them in the nest. Eggs 4 to 6, white with streaks or dots of brown. Nests so strong will last through the blasts of winter or four winters. The female builds the nest.

HABITS: Feeds mostly on insects gleaned from tree tops; some plant foods which, unfortunately includes grapes, bunches of which are ruined for market purposes.

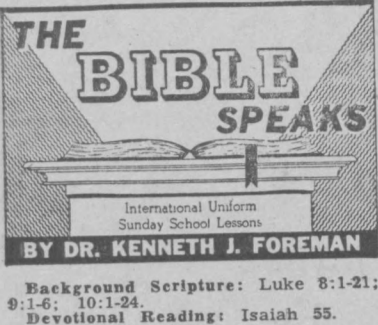

MANAGEMENT: Numbers probably decreasing, but little if anything can be done by way of management of such a migratory bird.

VALUE: A valued protector of trees from certain insects; it's nest a marvel of workmanship, the bird a thing of beauty—a delight to both our eyes and ears.

Christmas With TB

This is Christmas? A crib in a hospital ward? Lorelei has tuberculosis. She caught TB from an adult who had the disease without knowing it. Efforts to find the unknown cases of TB are supported by funds raised in the Christmas Seal Sale now being carried on by the 3,000 tuberculosis associations in the United States.

The Good News

Lesson for November 27, 1955

THERE is no such thing as the Christian religion, except in human beings. There is no such thing as the growth of Christianity, unless it grows in people. So how does Christianity spread? Only by one way: people who are Christians must win people who are not Christians. People who know Jesus Christ must introduce other people to him. The church has a word for this: it is called Evangelism. Anybody who thinks Dr. Foreman he doesn't believe in evangelism is really saying that he doesn't care whether there are any new Christians or not. He is saying (though perhaps without realizing it) that what he calls his "faith" is not worth talking about, or recommending to any one else.

Dr. Foreman

Preaching and Bringing—

Our rather technical word "Gospel" means simply "Good News." That is what it is called in the New Testament. Not good advice, or good answers to philosophers' riddles; just good news—about God, about Jesus, about destiny. Luke gives us some interesting and valuable hints about how this Good News was broadcast in Jesus' own time and by his direction. One is in three words (Luke 8:1): Jesus came "preaching and bringing"—the good news of the kingdom of God. The Gospel is not something just for talk. A tape-recorder can give out a sermon; but a tape-recorder cannot be a preacher of the Gospel. A minister who preaches on Sunday and disappears the rest of the week (if such there be) may be preaching the Gospel but he is not bringing it. Jesus lived by what he preached. The good news can be told by a clever tongue; but it can be brought only by a consecrated life. What would be thought of a grocery store where, if you went in, you would see only empty shelves, and a flock of clerks who would button-hole you and tell you all about the wonderful groceries—that aren't there! And what can one think of a church where all you can find out about the love of God is just talk, and nobody brings the Gospel? The Gospel can't be brought in a little parcel you can tuck under your arm like a prayer-book. It has to be brought in a man-sized package, a live sample. After a few months you can buy a "demonstrator" car or tractor cheap; but a "demonstrator" Christian is beyond price.

Seed and Soils

You would think that if we could only get Jesus Christ in person, as he was in Galilee, into our church, we could convert everybody. Well, he didn't. No one ever brought or preached the Gospel better than he; but he did not meet with 100% success. He gave a reason for this that any farmer or gardener can understand. Preaching the Gospel is like sowing seed, he said. Sometimes when you look at two fields you may find it hard to believe that the same seed was sown in both; but so it was. The difference is in the soils. In Hutchinson, Kansas, there is a grain elevator with a capacity of ten million bushels of wheat. Every bushel in the hundreds of bins can be traced back to the area where it grew. On the wall in the testing-laboratory of that elevator there is a map of Kansas, county by county; and the kind of wheat each county is producing, this year, is marked there. The same seed wheat, in different counties or in different parts of the same county, may have different protein content or vary in number of bushels to the acre. So some people are better Gospel-soil than others.

To Preach and to Heal

When Jesus sent out his disciples to preach, he sent them to heal too. Health is the church's business. Whatever affects man's health of body, mind or soul, that is the church's affair. When she preaches and brings the Gospel, she has no right to say, "What we preach is only for your soul." The good news about God has transformed whole communities, it has changed the world for women, for children, for slaves, for downtrodden minorities. A gospel which is only for souls is not the Gospel Jesus preached and brought.

PSALM THIRTY A SONG OF THANKSGIVING FOR RECOVERY FROM A SEVERE ILLNESS

The Psalm is a song of thanksgiving called forth by the Psalmist for his recovery from a severe illness which threatened his life. His restoration to health also inspires the congregation to unite with him in the thanksgiving.

Sing praises to the Lord, O you his saints, and give thanks to his holy name.
The worshippers' response was in a festive joy with singing and dancing.
The first part of the Psalm (verses 1-5) sounds forth praise for the composer's recovery. The following section (verses 6-9) relates to his troubles and anxiety. In his anxiety he asks:

What profit is there in my death,
if I go down to the Pit?
Will the dust praise thee?
Will it tell of my faithfulness?
And then as in moment of apparent despair, the Psalmist cried out this prayer (verse 10):

Hear, O Lord, and be gracious to me!
O Lord, be thou my helper!

The final verses (11, 12) of the Psalm offer additional thanksgiving. A closer look at few of the things in the Psalm:

The Singer was thankful that the Lord, lifted, raised, drawn him up from sickness. Also He had brought up his soul from the grave, from Sheol, from the Pit, from the state of the dead.

Because Thou didst hide Thy face, my self-confidence was shaken, and I came to put my entire dependence on Thee. Thou gavest me stability as a strong mountain.

God's favor is for a lifetime in contrast with His anger which is but for a moment.

In the Old Testament the future holds a small place in religious thought (v. 9).

Will the dust—my dead body—praise Thee?

But a transformation has been wrought in the Psalmist's outlook so that now he can say:

Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing;
thou hast loosed my sackcloth and girded me with gladness.

My garb of sadness has been exchanged for a garment of gladness. Therefore my soul shall praise Thee and not be silent. Weeping may tarry for the night as a weeping stranger but joy comes with the morning.

O Lord my God, I will give thanks to thee for ever.

A mosquito's wings can beat more than 300 times a second, the November Digest says. The high thin whine of a midge is the sound of wings beating 1000 times a second.

Sow radishes and leaf lettuce now. Both do well in the cool fall weather and provide the last chance for you to enjoy homegrown, garden fresh vegetables for this year.

Electric Brake For Farm Trailers Runs From System Of Towing Vehicle

The latest step toward modernization of farm equipment is the growing use of small-size electric brakes on farm utility trailers and wagons.

The electric trailer brakes range in size from 12 by 1 3/4 inches to 14 by 2 inches. This size range will accommodate most farm trailers and wagons having a gross load of up to 5,500 pounds.

The growing use of the new brakes came as a result of many states instituting legislation requiring the use of a separate braking system on any farm trailers or wagons which were used to any extent in "over the highway" operations.

The trailer or wagon brakes are controlled from the truck or tractor by means of a hand control mounted on the steering column. The operator can apply his trailer brakes simultaneously with his truck or tractor brakes or either system can be used by itself in emergency.

Whether you pull your farm trailers by truck, car, or tractor, it's dangerous if the trailer has no braking facilities. New electric brakes for trailers or wagons, which may be operated from steering post of towing vehicle, are latest safety feature.

The simplicity and fast stopping power of the electric brakes should make them increasingly popular. The electric trailer brakes operate from the electrical system of the towing vehicle. To connect them, the farmer simply inserts a plug into the system socket, similar to plugging a lamp into an outlet in your own home.

Phosphate Insecticide May Replace Rotenone

A new phosphate-type insecticide holds promise for better control of cattle grubs that cost the livestock industry an estimated $175 million annually in meat losses and damaged hides.

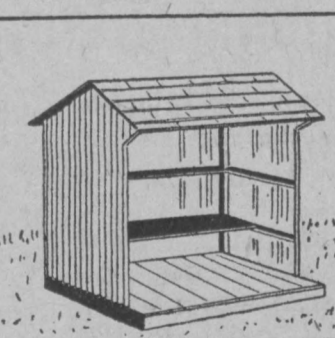

The material under test by USDA researchers at Corvallis, Oregon, has proved more effective than the standard rotenone spray against this destructive parasite of cattle. Rotenone, the standby grub spray in recent years, is a plant product imported chiefly from the Far East.

Entomologists report 100 per cent kill with the phosphate spray in preliminary trials a few months ago. They explained, however, that livestock men should continue to depend upon rotenone until more is learned of the possible toxic effects of the new spray to cattle.

The material is designated for simplicity as 21/199. It was found that one part of the chemical mixed with 200 parts of water, applied to the backs of nine grubby cattle, killed all grubs—245 of them—in less than one week. In comparable tests, rotenone sprays killed 84 per cent of the grubs the first week; 91 per cent by the end of the second week.

The phosphate spray apparently kills grubs by direct contact. It also gave complete control when applied as washes to the backs of infested cattle.

Bus Shelter

One farmer who got tired of seeing his children wait in the rain for a schoolbus constructed the simple shelter shown above to keep them out of the weather. The shelter may be erected at a nominal cost by using 2" x 4" and aluminum siding—both of which are usually surplus items around the average farm.

Sugar Is Most Plentiful Compound Nature Gives Us

WASHINGTON—Sugar, one of man's basic foods, made big news twice during the past year—scientists learned how to duplicate it, and the world agreed on how to trade it.

Yet so commonplace is sugar that even such headlines are lost. A natural bounty known and sought for thousands of years, it has grown and produced in present form only in comparatively recent times, now ranking as the most abundant pure chemical compound man takes from nature.

Sugar is essential to life. Every green leaf touched by sunlight turns water from the ground and carbon dioxide from the air into sugar and oxygen. Any animal without sugar in its blood will soon drop dead.

Honey, fruits and succulent grasses satisfied the ancients' sweet tooth. The origin of sugar cane is lost in the past, somewhere in the Orient. Probably it was first grown by man in India, where ancient legends and then the army of Alexander the Great in 327 B.C. spoke of the "honey-bearing reed."

Today the world produces nearly 40,000,000 tons of sugar in a year, 65 per cent from cane and 35 per cent from sugar beets. Americans alone consume over 8,000,000 tons. For 30-odd years, per capita consumption in this country has remained nearly constant, averaging a hundred-pound bag per person per year.

Only in late 1953, however, after centuries of trying, did science succeed in making sugar in the laboratory from simpler compounds. And this year 40 countries put into effect an international agreement stabilizing sugar production and world prices.

Unique Treaty Calls Indians Back

FRANKFORT, Ky.—One of the most unique treaties ever signed by the Indians and white men is commemorated once each year in the little eastern Kentucky town of Barbourville.

Under terms of the agreement, the Cherokee Indians are entitled to take all the cane they want from the Knox County breaks which they use in making baskets and articles at their tribal school in Cherokee, North Carolina. In return for this privilege, the Indians agree to return once each year—all expenses paid—to visit their Barbourville friends. In October of each year, their return marks the beginning of two days festivities known as the Daniel Boone Festival.

Daniel Boone is honored because the trail he blazed into the Kentucky country from Virginia passed through Barbourville... the Cherokees because of tribal claims owned the area until 1775 when Boone and Richard Henderson bought all of that part of Kentucky south of the Kentucky River from the Cherokees.

Potash Mine to Have Longest Conveyor Belt

STAMFORD, Conn. — A potash mine in Carlsbad, N. M., will soon be equipped with the longest conveyor system in the United States, extending seven and one-quarter miles underground.

The longest conveyor system now in operation is in a western Pennsylvania coal mine, measuring five and one-half miles.

The new, record-length "rubber railroad" will operate 1,000 feet down in a potash ore seam about four feet thick. Continuous mining machines will extract the potash ore from the working face of the mine and deposit it on shuttle type conveyors known as Mine-aveys, which automatically transfer it by intermediate belts to the main line or "mother" belts. From there the potash will be carried more than five miles to a 3,000-ton underground storage picket from which it will be withdrawn as needed.

'Destitute' Refugee Loaded Down With Cash

BRAMPTON, Ont. — An apparently destitute refugee from Hurricane Hazel applied for admission to the Old People's Home.

Then in an old leather purse among her belongings, an official noticed a bulge in the lining.

The refugee, Mrs. Alice Barlow, said, "It's just some stuffing I sewed in."

The stuffing proved to be $16,000 in $100 bills. Also, there was a bank book showing more than $4,000 deposits.

"I was saving for my old age and for a trip to England," the 78-year-old Mrs. Barlow said, "but I didn't think I had enough money."

Pup Has Big Ears

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — A puppy got his head stuck in the hub hole of a discarded automobile wheel. Mrs. Eleanor Rowe and her four children couldn't get it out.

Sgt. L. C. Earnest of the sheriff's force folded the pup's ears back close and pulled it out by the tail. The ears (Cocker spaniel type) had trapped it.

By LOUIS LUDWIG

HOW often should children's shoes be changed?

A good many of our readers are bound to answer this question by saying, "When their old ones are worn out or can't be repaired."

Actually, this is a very dangerous policy from the standpoint of a child's health. Children's feet grow very rapidly and their shoes must therefore be changed frequently. It is poor economy to insist that a child wear shoes because they still look new on the outside even though they have long ceased to be comfortable.

For this reason, too, children's shoes should not be resoled or otherwise repaired; their feet grow so rapidly that the chances are that when the soles have gone it is time for replacement.

Some mothers, in an effort to get more mileage out of children's shoes, insist on buying several sizes too large for present use. This, too, is impractical because a shoe which is too large is almost as uncomfortable and awkward for a child to wear as one which is too small.

Some mothers also save their children's shoes, to hand them down to younger children. Unfortunately, shoes, particularly children's shoes, have to be fitted and no two children have exactly the same feet. Besides, leather dries out after a while—even if stored in a shoe box—so that even new-looking shoes become curled up and wrinkled on the inside after a while.

These are some of the things you should know about children's shoes:

Because children's feet grow so rapidly, their shoes should be checked every two to four months. Buy only minimum quantities and buy fairly good shoes when you do; poor shoes seldom keep their shape.

When measuring a child for shoes, have him stand with his full weight on both feet. Pull the stockings at the toes to make sure the toes are not curled up.

There should be at least 1/2 inch from the tip of the longest toe to the end of the shoe when the child is standing.

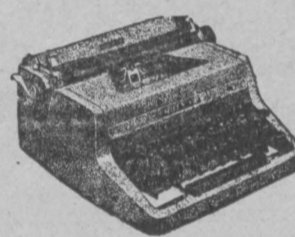

The shoe should be wide enough for comfortable walking.

The heel should fit snugly so it won't rub in walking.

NEW INSURANCE COVERAGE

A new package policy covering all the insurance needs of the average home-owner has been put on the market by the Nationwide Mutual Fire Insurance Company, it was announced today by J. Alfred Heltebride, local representative.

Called the home-owners' multi-protection policy, it provides for fire, windstorm, hail, and theft insurance as well as protection against liability claims. It costs less than the total price of its major coverages heretofore sold separately, he said.

The package is unique, he pointed out, in that the company has added without additional charge four coverages not previously contained in basic personal liability policies. Added liability provisions cover the policyholder for mishaps to people visiting the site of the house he's building, injuries to persons at his place of employment, and accidents to visitors in a school, studio or office contained within his home.

A fourth coverage provides medical payments to go with each of the others.
