CUTTING COSTS ON THE FARM

A mid-western advertising executive, who was raised on a farm and has been in close touch with the world of agriculture all his life, recently said that there is one thing the American farmer has learned: "Efficient production is essential. That means he must be a man not only of the soil, but a man of the machine shop, a businessman, and a student of weather, insect pests, seed, world trade, labor and politics."

He then related this to mechanization of farming. In industry an expensive machine will be thrown out because a new one can save a few cents on each unit produced. A similar process takes place in modern farming. As he put it, "American farmers have learned—and other world farmers are learning—a new farm tractor or machine that cuts cost more than a previous model is a necessary and wise investment."

American agriculture produced record crops last year—and did it with less human and animal labor in any other year. Mechanization—the ever-increasing use of more and better farm equipment of many kinds—was the reason.

The Farm Equipment Institute recently reported: "Farmers are putting into use new machines and methods for increasing farm production at a fascinating rate. Farmers have sizable backlogs of purchasing power, their credit is good, and they are continuing to mechanize to gain efficiency and cut costs." We hear much of current and temporary agricultural setbacks. We should hear more of the great long-range gains that agriculture is making—gains that over the years will be of tremendous service to the consumers as well as the producers of our food and fiber.—Industrial News Review.

THE BIG LOSERS

So far, of the many contestants who have appeared on the country's most popular TV program, "The $64,000 Question," only two have taken the risk of trying for the top prize. The others have stopped at $32,000, $16,000, or still lower levels.

One reason for this is obvious enough—the terrific bite that the progressive income tax takes out of large incomes or winnings. For example, if a single man with other income of $4,000 were to actually clear $64,000, after taxes, the prize would have to be an incredible $448,711!

That's tough on individuals—it's far tougher on the country at large. This is the all-important point made by the Akron Beacon-Journal when it says: "Many a businessman has asked himself this $64,000 question: Shall I invest, expand, create more jobs with the hope of making more money? And after studying the tax rates, he, too, has often decided to quit while he was safely ahead. The big losers from such decisions are not the businessmen—nor the television contestants—but the small taxpayer and Uncle Sam."

—Industrial News Review

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

WASHINGTON, IOWA, EVENING JOURNAL: "When it becomes harder to sell than to buy, look for a price sag. When it's harder to buy than to sell, look for prices to climb. This seems to apply to every type of merchandise sold, and the only way to change it is to turn everything we have over to the government and let the experts handle all supplies and all demands. Most of us, we hope, still prefer to face the occasional uncertainties of the market than to put all our trust in politicians and economists."

PERRIS, CAL., PROGRESS: "Certainly, the highway problem is a pressing and complicated one. Whether it can best be solved by the old formula of 'let the federal government do it' is a question a good many people are pondering very seriously."

CALGARY, CANADA, HERALD: "No one wants to impede civil defense. At the same time handing sweeping powers to the government, any government, is dangerous and totally unnecessary. Parliament must be the arbiter of what is right, not some official who was granted the powers and won't have to answer for them because he was given them by an act which was not necessary."

ABLENE, KAN., REFLECTOR-CHRONICLE. "A recession is a period when you tighten your belt. In a depression you have no belt to tighten. When you have no pants to hold up it's a panic."

Grow your calves when the growing is easy!

Size in a cow means MILK to you and size in a calf is easiest to get when that cow's a calf!

At no time in the life of a cow does she grow like she does when she's a calf. That's when Nature gives her that ingrown "want" to grow which, through proper feeding and management on your part, lets a calf triple... sometimes quadruple... her weight in four short months.

Purina's calf Chow teammates... Nursing Chow and Calf Startena, have what it takes to help calves grow to half their breeding weight in four months' time.

Purina Nursing Chow, a top milk replacer, supplies a baby calf's milk needs during her all-important first 30 days and provides growth-stimulating, disease-preventing vitamins, minerals and antibiotics as well.

Purina Calf Startena, a complete calf Chow, has been developed by years of laboratory research and on-the-farm testing to provide carefully-blended nutrients for strong bones, deep bodies and healthful vigor.

Raise your calves the Purina way with Purina Nursing Chow and Calf Startena. Let these famous calf Chows help you grow big calves today... for big cows tomorrow!

The Man of 100 Years Ago

There are quite a good many centenarians scattered throughout the county, and such have lived through the most marvelous era of progress the world has ever seen.

The Scranton Republican is reminded of this fact by the observations of an exchange which remarks that "one hundred years ago a man could not take a ride on a steamboat" had "never dreamed of an electric car" could not send a telegram", or "Talk through a telephone" nor "ride on a bicycle". Neither could he dictate a letter to a stenographer, had not heard of the germ theory, "Never heard a phonograph talk or saw a kineoscope turn out a prize fight", had not heard of the Roentgen ray, "never rode in a elevator," "had never seen his wife use a sewing machine," and in all his life "had never struck a match." Furthermore, he had to grin and bear it when he had a leg cut off, for there were no anaesthetics, "he had never seen a reaper or self binding harvester" and had never known what it was to cross an iron bridge.

As a matter of fact the man of a hundred years ago was not in it the least little bit, and if he were to be brought back to life to-day, no matter how smart he would be the greatest mossback on earth.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF CARROLL COUNTY HOLDS MEETING

The meeting of the Historical Society of Carroll County on Thursday evening, January 12, was largely attended. The retiring president, Harry J. Koller, introduced his successor Dr. Theodore M. Whitfield, head of the History Department, Western Maryland College. After Dr. Whitfield had expressed satisfaction over the progress made by the Society during the sixteen years of its existence, he suggested ideas for future development and laid special stress on the current need for more file workers and the future need for more storage space for valuable items.

Dr. Howard Knight, the speaker of the evening was presented, as an editor of The Experiment Station Record, a journal issued by the Department of Agriculture in Washington. "Pre county days as revealed by The Carrolltonian" was the theme of Dr. Knight's very ably prepared paper. After reminding his audience that The Carrolltonian was Westminster's first weekly, he stressed the fact that it was started for the specific purpose of bringing the proposed county into being. In order to reach the voters as completely and persistently as possible, a dynamic young man who had been editing The Taneytown Recorder was engaged to promote vigorous campaign work through the columns of the new weekly. Col. John K. Longwell thus began publication of The Carrolltonian June 28, 1833. It was a 4-page weekly, twenty by twelve and a half inches in size, which six columns to the page. The subscription price was two dollars, payable at any time during the year. Wood, if delivered promptly, might be accepted in payment. The motto of the new papers was "Be just and fear not—let all the ends thou aimst at be thy Country's, thy God's and Truth's."

The fifteen issues which came out before the voting on the proposed new county contained about 60 columns or 80,000 words of promotional material, taking the form of editorials and communications from readers arguing pro and con. Dr. Knight believes that, "nothing in the whole history of the area has ever received such voluminous discussion. Everybody had his chance to say his say and many said plenty." Because the local Historical Society believes Dr. Knight's analysis of the important role played by The Carrolltonian deserves wide publicity, plans for the publication of his paper in the near future are under way.

The picture exhibit of prize winning horses which belonged to the Bowling Brook estate, Middleburg, attracted much interest. Now the property of the Maryland Historical Society, the oil paintings have been loaned to the Carroll County Historical Society for the month of January. Included in the loan is a huge silver punch bowl engraved with a panoramic view of the fabulous 1800-acre Walden estate. Depicted in bas relief on the sides of the bowl are the Walden stables, garden, and track at Bowling Brook, while on the base five thoroughbreds are shown in a race on the Walden 5-furlong track.

The following hostess committee presided over the famous Punch Bowl during the social hour: Mrs. Roy E. Baumgardner of Keymar, Mrs. Rusk-in B. Warren, and Miss Lillian Shipley of Westminster.

PERFORMANCE

made it the Largest Selling "8" in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

	Car Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,241,742
Car C—V-8	634,376607,366
Car P—V-8	262,870978,872
Car C—Six	845,153396,589
Car P—Six	334,540907,202

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package!

And to a world record extent!

Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than bought the two other low-priced competitive eights combined! They even bought 396,589 more Ford V-8's than the next competitive Six!

Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that.

And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet... by a country mile!

Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up! Sossier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!

And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end.

So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby.

Come in... try it today!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Background Scripture: Luke 15:1-32.
 Devotional Reading: John 3:1-11.

Lure of Life

Lesson for January 29, 1956

A coin, a sheep, a man—what do these three have in common? Jesus told a triple story using these three so different objects to bring out the same point. What the coin, the sheep, the man had in common was that each was lost. They were out of place, useless, in fact doing more harm than good. But the young man who went to a far country was different in an important way. He knew what he was doing, or thought he knew. He wanted life, and he got it, only it was the wrong sort. If you had asked him at first why he was going away, he would have said, "I want to live!" But he ended in a pig-pen.

Dr. Foreman

The Lost Are All Around
 Men and women get lost today for the same reason. They look for life in the wrong place. Victims of narcotics, or of alcohol, wanted something more out of life than they had, and they thought drink or drugs would help them. Every patient in an alcoholic ward is missing somewhere,—missing from payrolls, from homes they had or might have had, missing from the ports they might have reached if they had not made shipwreck of themselves. And for every patient in some alcoholic ward there are a great many others who, though they may not have gone so far, are just as lost. What ought a Christian's attitude to be, toward such people? Surely if Jesus taught anything plainly, it is that God does not despise or hate lost persons; he loves them and does not want them to stay lost. So the Christian who shares the mind of Christ will neither hate nor despise the lost people all around us today.

Prevention Is Better
 One of the commonest ways of getting lost is through drink. Everything is done in advertising and in other ways to make it appear that you haven't really lived till you use "our old famous brand" of expensive alcohol. Young people need to have the other side of it shown to them, not in Don'ts but in Do's. Educator H. H. Hill (as adapted in "Listen") has put it something like this. What do you want from life? Topnotch health? You can't have it if you drink. A serene, satisfying, law-abiding life? Not with liquor for your companion! Life on the highest moral level? Not for drinkers and dopers. Do you want to wake up every morning with a clear head? Do you want uninterrupted success in a profession? Do you want to save money? To be a good driver? To form the habit of meeting your problems squarely without a fuzzy mind? Do you want to be able to enjoy a good time without the danger of flirting with a habit-forming drug? Do you want guaranteed immunity to one of America's four most damaging diseases? Do you want to be an example of good and not evil, for the young people in your community? All right,—that's living, and you can't have that kind of living and the alcohol habit too.

Testimonials
 Maybe the main reason why the prodigal son went wrong was that he listened to the wrong people. Men can always be found who can be paid to pose in liquor ads. How about listening to some free testimonials on the other side? Ezra Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, says: "Knowing the infinite joy and peace of mind which result from never having used narcotics, smoked cigarette, or taken a drink of liquor . . . or knowingly profaning the name of Deity, I can sincerely recommend such a course to all." Dr. Kate Newcomb, written up in the Reader's Digest in June, 1954, says: "Naturally I do not use intoxicants. Why start a habit so many people must break?" Lewis Hoad of tennis fame speaks for many another athlete: "It is hard enough to get anywhere in life, without liquor or tobacco hindering one's chances for the future." Gil Dodds, the track star, says: "God has given me a body which I should not defile." Do you want to live? Such people know how.
