CLEAN-UP WEEK

MARCH 24-31

Carroll County Joins State in Drive

Clean-up Week, scheduled March 24-31, will have a two-fold purpose this year, John Clark, chairman of the Governor's Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful announced today.

"In past years", he said, "Clean-up Week has emphasized the idea of giving our State a quick clean-up, something like a housewife doing her Spring housecleaning."

"We want to achieve that this year, too, because the first move in Keeping Maryland Beautiful will always have to be to pick up the trash and debris that is already there."

"But, in addition, we want to emphasize long range planning for beautifying our State. For example, Keep Maryland Beautiful will work to expand its program for more trash barrels in public places and more litter-bags in automobiles."

"Also, Clean-up Week will be an ideal time for educating people to protect their stake in Maryland's assets and launching community planting projects and other improvements designed to protect and enhance Maryland's natural scenic beauty."

"Clean-up Week is scheduled for a time which marks the opening of the outdoor recreation season in Maryland. With more and more leisure time on their hands, Marylanders will be making greater use of recreation areas."

"None of us wants to find these areas covered with the litter of previous years. If we all get behind Clean-up Week's two pronged attack on the problem, we can soon turn a bad habit into a good habit."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

March 16, 1956

Dear Editor:

Ernest Joiner, the free-wheeling editor of THE RALLS (Tex.) BANNER, has suggested a reform that might well be appropriate in some other communities also. In his column, "It sez Here" Editor Joiner observes: "When Lester Bownd's haystacks caught fire Tuesday, he had no idea how popular he was when he turned in the alarm. The didn't know that 150 automobiles would overrun his property, tie up traffic for an hour, have drivers make fools of themselves."

"But he must have appreciated the interest these 150 people took in leaving their jobs to make such nuisances. We never learned whether the fire truck got through the open-mouthed group or not."

"We do know that when 100 cars answered the fire alarm at the Reese home last week, the building was lost to flames because the fire truck and its firemen couldn't squeeze through traffic to tie hose onto a proper hydrant."

"And for pure excitement, the drivers of about 100 cars gave their families quite a thrill Wednesday night when the fire boys were called to extinguish flames at Roden's grocery."

"You budding pyromaniacs keep on fouling up Firemen's attempts to extinguish fires, and sooner or later the law will be forced to lock you up, or else some responsible citizen will take an elmy club and thrash you within an elmy club and thrash you within work of the Fire Department. And we want pictures of it when it happens."

There's something wrong somewhere when the same sort of horsepower that makes it possible to fight fires more effectively prevents today's highly efficient (and expensive) equipment from getting to the fire. Next thing, we'll have to get decoy fire trucks to lead the 200 hp drivers with 100 goat-power brains to the other side of town when a fire breaks out."

Sincerely,

BOB TAYLOR.

HOW MUCH DOES GOOD FRIDAY MEAN TO TANEYTOWN?

Last week the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce in Frederick announced through the columns of the Frederick News-Post that it had decided to close its stores from 12 noon until 3 p. m. on Good Friday, March 30th.

This announcement was received with pleasure and delight on the part of the Frederick City Ministerium as this city which is in the heart of a large and progressive county of which it is the primary shopping center should recognize Good Friday as a holy day, and as such would close down its mercantile business for the period of time when the world marks Christ's dying hours on the Cross of Calvary.

How much does Good Friday mean to the peaceful and Christian community of Taneytown? If the merchants of a city the size of Frederick can see that such closing is advantageous to its workers and employees, can't the merchants and the business places of Taneytown do likewise? It is far more advantageous to our community people if they can spend the full 3-hours in the congregation of Christian worshippers than to have but a portion of that time to meditate upon the Cross. Those Seven Words from the Cross should not be deliberately ignored by any one nor denied to any who would anxiously give their minds and spirits to them. Can we afford to put our business interests before the interest of the Kingdom? If we are considered Christian the answer is no.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Spring is surely just around the corner and all around the Parsonage the Jonquills are about to burst into bloom. Wherever, I go I pluck a grand Gardenia from the lovely plant in the kitchen and many individuals touch them to feel if they are real!

If you want to read something most interesting, Folks (especially the Ladies) by all means purchase "McCall's" magazine of this month which is the beginning of the real life story of the Duchess of Windsor. The many portraits are sweet and speak for themselves!

Then, too there is the magazine which that nice Ted Mack speaks of on the Amateur Hour called, "Lifetime Living". That one I could not put down and read it until the wee hours of the morning!

Be sure to use "Silcare" for your hands. Mrs. Housewife especially if you have been occupied in anything laborious which would roughen your hands as "Silcare" immediately promotes healing and it is tax free. Ask Doc about that one!

That little Irish girl, Carmel Quinn is looking for a little Cherub and all on the Godfrey Show are most enthusiastic.

How sweet it was to attend the "Blue and Gold Dinner Banquet" in the public school of 301 "Cubs"!

Hope you did not miss our President on T.V. Although his voice seemed to be quite powerful, he has aged considerably since the heart attack. He, no doubt states that he will run again just because the public has desired it. His expression appeared a little sad. Eh?

How wonderful to see the Italian Actress, Anna Magnani in the New Theatre in Baltimore as Star for the play, "The Rose Tattoo." Never have I seen finer acting and somehow my thoughts went back to the French actress Sarah Bernhardt. Of course, the Italian Actress shuns any make up for her pictures and even her hair is so unity. The story is interesting because it was the acting that gets under your skin. She is married and has a son although she is separated from her Movie Director husband.

She is the 'gal' who was in love with Roberto Rossellini until Ingrid Bergman came into his life. This Columnist will be surprised if she does not get the "Oscar".

And from California comes this—"I prefer California to Florida because I am just 40 miles from Palm Springs where it is summer and fifteen miles from the wonderful mountains to ski and right now, I am in a real summer rig as it is 80!"

And in Macy's Toy Department there is "Ginger" in New York City. She's the only 8 inch doll with a life like vinyl head with moving eyes and rooted saran hair she wears in a pony tail or a long bob. Hair colors are heavenly blue, fantasy green, pepper-mint pink, platinum, blond and brunette. Ginny walks, sits, stands, even sleeps and rolls her big beautiful eyes! That one would make a grand gift for your little girl especially if a birthday was coming up soon. Many different costumes can be purchased, too. The price for the doll is only $1.98.

Staggering figures—the latest estimate is that there are 200 cocktail parties per day or 78,000 per year in the District of Columbia, according to Harry Lourie, an executive of the National Association of Alcoholic Beverages Importers, Inc.

The Highway is for civil men and not for men who drink because it's only wide enough for people who can think!

Don't forget and it is still the same for years—if you drive, don't drink and if you drink, don't drive! Have a grand week-end, Folks. Go to church—any Denomination will do as long as it is THE HOUSE OF GOD!

See you next week D.V. Until then, I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

"IF CAESAR WAS AMBITIOUS"

We don't know who's right in the dispute, but the unions had better grow in their plans to picket Madison Square Garden when Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus opens its 1956 season in the New York arena on April fourth.

As matters stand, the Teamsters' Union and the American Guild of Variety Artists have announced they will picket the biggest show on earth to protest the management's refusal to sign contracts covering its 900 performers, roustabouts and drivers.

Further, the Guild will seek to prevent various stage, screen and opera stars from performing in the opening benefit show for New York's Police Athletic League.

Executive Director Michael B. Burke says neither union has any members in the circus, but would like him to "deliver" these people who have shown no desire to join up. He says the show will open. The union leaders say it won't.

If Mr. James Hoffa, number two man of the 1,400,000 member Teamsters' Union, and who is taking a personal interest in the matter, now feels he is big enough to close the circus in the faces of America's kids, he is riding to a fall indeed.—U. S. Press Association.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Tuesday was the main sleighing day of the winter.

Postmaster McKinney has discontinued the stationery business in the postoffice room and removed the counter. The case of boxes has been set diagonally, which gives increased space in the rear for handling mail, and a long desk on opposite side gives ample room for the patrons to write letters. The changes represent increased conveniences for all.

Miss Leila Mae Yount, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Yount of Harrisburg, formerly of Taneytown, and Mr. Charles Burton Kephart, of Cleveland, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Kephart, of Taneytown district, were married at the home of the bride, in Harrisburg, on Tuesday, March 20th., only members of the immediate families being present. The bride and groom are both well and favorably known in Taneytown, and all unite in wishing them much happiness and prosperity.

Detour—One half of the steel bridge, or one span, will be put in Saturday, if the weather is favorable. —Peter D. Koons, Wm. C. Miller, and Geo. C. Naylor are moving, to different residences in town.—Last Thursday night, Mrs. Wm. N. Fogle gave a birthday party in honor of Mrs. H. N. Raffensperger and S. G. Kinter. Among those present were Misses Verna Diller, Annie and Rhoda Weant, Mary Waybright, Vallie Shorb, Messrs. Emory Warner, Charles Diller, Spencer Kinter, Harry Raffensperger and Harry Fogle. The evening was spent in playing various games, after which a bounteous birthday lunch was served. All reported "a good time."—Don't forget the oyster supper in the hall, this Saturday night for the benefit of the band.

Middleburg—Notwithstanding the winter weather and snow-covered ground, people are busy "fitting" to their new homes for the coming year. On Thursday, John Bohn, of near Beaver Dam, moved on one of the Walden farms, formerly known as the Buffington place.—On Thursday, Robert L. Walden returned with his horses from New Orleans where he spent the winter.—On Friday and Saturday evening, March 30th and 31st., the Epworth League of the M. E. church here, will hold an oyster supper in J. N. Miller's store room, on the corner opposite the Lynn Hotel.

INSURANCE

"How can an accident victim collect if he is hit by an uninsured driver?"

One insurance company has come up with what it believes is the answer to that problem: a coverage called Alternative Compensation Insurance. The new coverage, offered by Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company, has just been introduced in Maryland and Delaware.

According to J. Alfred Heltebride, Agent who announced the new coverage, Alternative Compensation will relieve the injured victim of the burden of finding the wrongdoer and proving his negligence, usually in costly court proceedings.

Under its terms, anybody injured in an accident involving an insured vehicle would be given a choice between (1) accepting immediate compensation, regardless of fault and the circumstances of the accident, or (2) pursuing his claim under the laws of negligence. In short, the coverage would offer the claimant a brand new method of recovery—an alternative to the traditional "prove-it-later" method of bodily injury liability insurance.

Heltebride asserted that what the public really needed is a system which all persons injured in auto accidents can be paid without distorting the laws of negligence.

"Our new coverage is such a system," he said. "It means that any member of the general public, injured by any car thus insured, would be offered an immediate settlement, without argument and regardless of fault. The coverage is so broad that it would protect the public even if the car were driven by a thief."

Heltebride said the semi-annual rate for Alternative Compensation is five dollars, which would be in addition to the usual semi-annual liability premium. Alternative Compensation, he emphasized, is designed to be sold only as an adjunct to the standard auto liability insurance policy.

The endorsement provides for death benefits and a daily indemnity as well as medical, hospital and surgical expenses. These would be paid to any insured person in any accident involving the insured vehicle. The policyholder and, while they are members of his household, his wife and relatives of either, get the same benefits.

Specifically, the coverage provides for reasonable expenses, not to exceed $2,000, for medical, dental or surgical treatments, ambulance, hospitalization, professional nursing or prosthetic devices when the need is incurred within one year after the accident.

In addition, the coverage makes these provisions: $4,000 for each person over 18 years of age killed, when death occurs within one year after the accident; $2,000 for each person under 18; disability benefits of $5 a day for persons over 18; and $2.50 a day for persons under 18.

Maximum benefits payable would be $6,900.

Commenting further on the background of the coverage, Heltebride explained:

"We developed Alternative Compensation because we believe the economic loss and social consequences are just as great for the accident victim even if fault cannot be established. We believe there should be an economic remedy independent of legal remedy. At the same time, we feel the injured party should have all his rights under the laws of negligence and should be able to prosecute his claim to the utmost, if he so desires. The choice should be left to the claimant."

God will bless the work of your hearts and hands. —Mary Baker Eddy

When icicles hang on the windows on the sunny side of the house at 10 a. m., its cold. In Florida they are wearing sun-bath dresses while we are wearing boots and fur coats. But what will they be wearing in August? The snow is so pretty and what would the boys and girls of the south give for a chance to play in it.

The VFW Westminster entertained the Gold Star Mothers, Saturday, March 17th. The fathers were also recognized. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marker were among those present. I often heard my mother tell,

When I was but a child;

A tale about the month of March

When winds are bold or mild.

"If March comes like a gentle lamb,

Then a lion, it will go;

But should March like a lion come,

The end—a lamb, we'll know."

Some years, we find the first of March

With days from winter born;

But other years bring days quite mild,

Much like a calm spring morn.

And March has gone with snowfilled clouds,

And winds—a mighty band.

Again March sings a lulling song

While clasping April's hand.

March may be bitter, sharp, and cold,

It may be full of sun;

But new life swells the heart of March

And great things are begun.

—Emma Myers Read.

DETOUR-KEYSVILLE

Quite a number of meetings were called off due to the snow storm on Sunday. The two Christian Endeavor Societies of Keysville Lutheran will meet on Easter Sunday evening at 7:30 April 1. The meeting concerning the building at Keysville Lutheran was called off—I know of no postponement date.

Take time to look at and enjoy the flowers in the windows of the home of Mrs. Jacob Adams in Detour, every window seems crammed full of blooming flowers. There are a lot of "Green-thumbed" ladies in Detour because there are not many homes without a flower in the window to greet the passer-by.

Congratulations to Earl Wilhide of Feesersburg who won a trip to Florida by completing a jingle saying why he liked to listen to WTRR. He and Mrs. Wilhide plan to start for Florida the end of March.

Reports from Earl Roop who broke his back on March 5th are good. He is in high hopes of coming home from the Gettysburg Hospital soon.

The Union Bridge Girls 4-H Club did not hold its meeting on Monday evening as scheduled.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simmons and family, of Taneytown, were dinner guests of the Carroll Wilhide's on Sunday.

The Haugh's Church Congregation has not had services for the last two Sundays because of redecoration which is now going on.

The United Lutheran Church Women of the Keysville Lutheran Church met on Tuesday, March 13th, with Mrs. Henry Feeser and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide as leaders. The topic was, "Christian Thinking About Daily Living." "Our Director," "Whispering Hope," and "Home Town Band" were the pieces played by Mrs. Gilbert Stine and her daughter Nancy on their trumpets. Mrs. Clyde Wilhide, president, conducted the business meeting. She reminded the members of the Conference to be held on April 18 at Jefferson. The Congress will be held on Saturday, the 21st, at Trinity Church in Hagerstown. The nominating committee report was given by Mrs. Robert Stine. The following were nominated for the coming year: president, Mrs. Carroll Wilhide; vice-president, Mrs. Roy Baumgardner; secretary, Mrs. Mary Devibiss; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Clabaugh; statistical secretary, Mrs. Charles Cluts. FEESERSBURG

(A Voice from Carroll)

For those women who like the scent of orange blossoms in their perfume, this winter has brought disaster to their perfume bottles. In France, where the best perfumes are distilled, the worst winter in memory has about wiped out the bitter orange trees from which the delicate orange blossom perfume is made. Since there is no reserve on hand, not only will the perfume be difficult to obtain but much more expensive. The May rose and fasmine may also be affected by the cold winter, but not until spring arrives will this be known for sure. But cheer up—maybe someone will come up with some peach-blossom perfume. We never heard of it, but real peach blossoms have a fragrance more appealing to men and may have more appeal to women. For a hint of orange blossoms in perfume or make become wary and suspicious and want to take off for lands where the orange blossom is not synonymous with marriage vows.

Just about fifty years ago women began fighting for equal rights with men—especially the right to have a career outside the home. The fight was sometimes very bitter and women suffered great humiliation at times before the battle was won. But it seems that today the young women either accept their many rights of equality with men as an inherited right or are indifferent as to whether they have a career or a husband when they tell what to do and when. Many women who have had successful jobs are more than willing to give them up when Mr. Right comes along. They prefer being a wife and mother. But many men have become adjusted to women working outside the home and confess that they couldn't afford marriage without the woman's salary helping with the expenses. It may be some time before the modern woman can safely understand what her role in the coming years will be. Of course a woman's chief role will always be that of a mother. But will she be a part time mother with a career or will she return to the home and stay there? Politics and economics may take the decision away from her. Competition with Russia in these two fields may force the American Women out of the home entirely with the children being brought up in public nursery schools. One shudders to think of such a thing, but taking our freedoms too much for granted can bring about many unwanted events.

And writing about unwanted events, we are faced with one right now. I am referring to our school system which is going from bad to worse. The causes are many—and the solutions are complicated. It is a difficult problem for any one group to solve, but it must be solved by someone. There has been too much time wasted already with talk and not enough common-sense used in trying to solve the problems. Our educational system has never been given an overhauling from top to bottom to meet the needs of children of the 20th century. The child of today is no more like the child of yesterday than the modern car is like the model T Ford. They think differently and their educational needs are different. The tempo of living has stepped up and the modern child is just plain bored with the present school system, because it moves so slow and it moves so slowly because it is geared to meet the below average child's capacity for learning. Today when any Nation's life is measured by the skillful use of its talents, it is someone's responsibility to find and make use of the intelligence of our children. Educating them in schools designed to meet the learning ability of below average children is not doing justice to two thirds of the Nation's young population. No school system will ever be fair to all groups, but why penalize the majority for the minority? The most ideal set-up would be separate schools for the different groups of learning ability. As far as money is concerned it would be expensive, but this system would mean fewer maladjusted children, more ambitious students, better discipline and more talented boys and girls to carry on the important functions of our Nation.

We will miss Fred Allen for a long time. His kind of humor was a lot of reminder to each of us that we can become too serious about ourselves and with our endeavors. It is good to have at least one in our midst to remind us even humorously that the world spins around on its axis long before we arrived on the scene.

Fifty years ago a woman was reminded to resist any tendency she might feel to serve as valet to her husband. Most wives who do not heed this warning lived to regret it for they picked up and put away their husbands' possessions until the end. As a bride, a friend of mine started out shining her husband's shoes. Thirty years later she is still doing it.

Why was I born? Perhaps to write a poem. Perhaps to take a safe place in the hand and lead him to a safe place in society. Perhaps to prevent a medicine to save someone's life. Perhaps to be kind to someone who never knew kindness before. Certainly not to contribute one tear to humanity nor add one pound to the aching back of mankind.—Ruth Roelke.

IN MEMORIAM

VALENTINE—Sacred to the beloved memory of my devoted parents, HENRY ALBERT VALENTINE who passed away February 20, 1946, and MARY LUCRETIA VALENTINE who passed away, March 28, 1946.

Memories are treasures, no one can steal.

Death leaves heartaches, nothing can heal.

Some have forgotten, now that you are gone.

But I shall remember, no matter how long.

Parents who gave me the best of their life—

Who cherished my secrets, my sorrows, my strife

Who taught me to love, who taught me to pray,

Parents in Heaven, God bless you today.

Daughter VERGIE.

T.H.S. STUDENT WINS AWARD

The County Good Citizen, winner of the D.A.R. Good Citizens' contest, is Miss Arlene Naylor from the Taneytown High School. This announcement was made March 9th at the meeting of the William Winchester Chapter D.A.R. held at the Carroll County Historical House with Mrs. W. A. Pickens, Regent conducting the meeting. Following a prayer by the Chaplain, Miss M. Louise Matthews, the minutes were read by the Sec. Mrs. Frank T. Parish and the treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. Harry C. Reese, Jr. Mrs. Frank B. Hurt read the President General's message from the National D.A.R. magazine and Mrs. James T. Pickens, Regent presented Good Citizens pins to the contestants and each will receive a certificate of award from the National Society. At graduation, Miss Naylor was also given a D.A.R. gold anniversary spoon from the chapter.

Dr. John D. Makosky and Professor D. W. Hendrickson, of the English Department of Western Maryland College, were judges of the contest. Carroll County High schools have provided six State winners and two second place contestants since the program was begun. The William Winchester Chapter D.A.R. wishes to express its sincere appreciation to the judges, to the faculty members of the High schools, and to the members of the student body for their co-operation and interest in the Good Citizenship project.

THE NEW EARTH—

The "new earth", like man, celestial shall be
At the end of Time, through eternity;
It shall bring its own light to light the way
For all who walk in the endless day.

Then God shall be King, and we all shall know
What is right, and the right way to go;
Now, the laws and doctrines concocted by man
Often conflict with His great plan.

A crook in that day will be hard to find,
For God, Himself, has no axes to grind;
He owns the earth; and shall know
That blessings abound wherever they go.

Accidents and worries, of every kind,
Will be things of the past, never brought to mind
When perfection exists on every hand,
And God is Ruler over all the land.

Disappointments—the cares and worries of our day
Like a morning fog, shall roll away—
When you learn to know God as He knows you
Your skies will be forever blue.

The old law: "A tooth for a tooth, an eye for an eye"
Had its origin here, was not made on high;
For Jesus condemned it when He was here,
And made His words to all quite clear.

There are millions of things we must do
To renovate earth, and make things new;
But love, justice, and truth you shall find
Will cause all men to change their mind.

What a wonderful change on earth there will be
When men learn the meaning of charity;
Wars and trouble of all kinds shall cease,
All peoples be happy, and live in peace.

The Bible says "All things shall be new",
And the atom alone will have much to do
In making this earth a fitting place
For the new-born sons of every race.

The day is coming, not far away
When things shall be changed in every way;
And, in every place shall plenty abound,
Both on the tree and on the ground.

When the atom by man is well understood
There is no way of telling how much good
It will bring to the peoples of that day,
And lessen their labors in every way.

The horse, especially, shall rejoice
When he hears the Self-binder's voice;
And the wild beasts of the forest you shall find
Will become man's pets because he is kind.

Just imagine how wonderful it shall be
When this earth from pests and worry is free!
With machines to do what was once a grind
And labor is made easy of every kind!

God has promised to make our Paradise home
A place of beauty over which to roam,
With enchantments existing on every hand
Because of the Wonders He has planned.

That home is a gift, but we all must be
Like God (bear His image) to get it free;
As the tree in the acorn an oak must be,
Just so it is with God and humanity.

BIBLE SPEAK—Plunkett 2-1
Background Scripture: Luke 23:1-56.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53.

Christ Suffered

Lesson for March 25, 1956

WHENEVER we ask, Why? about anything that happens, we can mean the question in either one of two ways. Sometimes we mean both. Perhaps we mean to ask, "What were the events that led up to this one? What were the causes or forces back of this event, pushing it, so to speak, out of the Not-Yet into the Now-and-Here?" Or perhaps we mean to ask, "For what purpose did this event take place? If it was a means to an end, what was the end? Did any man, or did God, have a purpose in bringing this event to pass?"

Dr. Foreman

If we ask, Why did Christ suffer? We can mean it in the first way mentioned just now. In that case, the answer is very easy to see, or the answers rather, for there was no one reason why he was crucified. Jesus suffered because Pilate was a coward; if the governor had stood up for what he knew was right, Jesus might have been saved from an unjust sentence. Jesus suffered because the Pharisees were jealous and had found no other way of getting rid of their most troublesome critic. He suffered because he was courageous; if Christ himself had been timid, he could have avoided Calvary simply by keeping quiet and leaving the country.

He Died for Our Sins

All such reasons it is the business of history to ferret out, and it is of some importance to know them. But the other question is not so easy. No historian, as a historian, can see it. Only the eye of faith, (which may indeed belong to historians too) can see the great pattern into which this dreadful event fits, this dreadful event of the death by torture of the best person who ever walked this earth. We could not have guessed it. We need God's Word to tell us what it means. What purpose did God have in mind? What was Jesus' own intention? We know what Jesus said the night before, to his disciples as he gave them the cup: This, he said, was the cup of the New Covenant, "in my blood," poured out "for you." We know what he had said months before (Mark 10:45), that he came to "give his life a ransom for many." Now the Bible tells of a Christ who was totally, from his soul's core, at one with God the Father. What Christ intended, God intended. Christ's death was for a purpose which God had had (as the Bible expresses it) from before the foundation of the world. It was not for his own sake, it was for the sake of his friends. Even more, it was for many who were not his friends. "While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us," Paul says (Rom. 5:8). "He is the expiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but for the sins of the whole world," John says (I John 2:2).

How Can This Be?

Many people fight shy of this great truth. Sometimes they are slow to believe it just because it seems too much to believe. Here I am, a single human being on a small planet. Would the Creator of the Universe actually go—not to trouble only, but to agony and defeat, for my sake? Well, if a person thinks that way, we must admit to him that it is indeed a miracle, the greatest conceivable. But there is another reason why people are shy about believing that Christ could have died for our sins, for anybody's sin. How can one man's suffering atone for another man's sins? There are two answers to that, which are part of one answer. One is that Christ was not just a man, he was the Godman, "God-made-man." The other is that he identified himself with sinners, with the worst and weakest, the race of man.

His Death Was in Character

Jesus' death at Calvary was not out of line with his life. If there he "took the rap for sinners" as Dr. Hordern puts it, this was not a new and sudden shift in his life-purpose. From the beginning of his service in this world he had been so closely identified with sinning men that he was called in scorn "friend of sinners" and indeed at last executed as a criminal. No wonder Paul can say, "He who knew no sin was made to be sin for us." Yet this remains all over our heads unless we too identify our own selves with him. To say "He is the Savior of the world" is not enough. The final step is to discover, "He is my Savior. For He took my place."

SAVE BY BUYING

By LOUIS LUDWIG

IT HAS been estimated by the American Medical Association that about three-quarters of all patients in doctors' offices today are women and that at least one-half of their illnesses are psychosomatic, or imaginary.

It is not difficult to find the reason for all this self-imposed illness by women. Housework, for all the thousand-and-one details it involves, is a lonely way of life. For a few hours a day, perhaps, there may be shopping and visiting, but the greater part of the day is spent alone, at routine, often boring work.

Under such circumstances, it is easy for a woman to "let herself down." It becomes the accepted thing to forget to apply makeup and to wear some weary excuse for a house dress. No wonder so many women are so unhappy with their lot!

Naturally, a fresh makeup and a bright, practical house dress will not solve the many problems confronting women today, but they can help considerably by substituting a cheerful, happy attitude for one of bored resentment.

When buying a house dress intended for the multitude of chores about a home, the Bureau of Home

Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests the following points to consider:

The fabric best for housework is a medium-weight cotton that can be worn without a slip. Smooth, slick-surfaced fabrics collect soil less readily than those with nap.

The neckline should be large enough to permit pulling the dress over the head easily.

Sleeves are most comfortable and safest when they are short and cannot tangle on pan handles or slip down into dishwater.

Blouse backs should have plenty of "give" for reaching.

Waist bands should fit easily to help make the dress cool. There should be no dangling bows, loose ties or belt ends at the front where they can contact the kitchen range and catch fire.

Skirts must be wide enough at the bottom for climbing, but fitted enough about the hips to stay in place.

Fastenings should be as few as possible and easy to reach.

Trimnings should be flat, and of the same material as the rest of the dress, to facilitate washing and ironing.

Reinforcements should be present at all points of strain.

How Advertising helps you

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

No Advertising in Russia

IF YOU were living in Russia, you wouldn't have to "worry" about advertising. There isn't any there. And the reason for that is simple; advertising is the great voice of free men and freedom, and in Russia there is neither. So if you were in Russia, you would buy only those products which were specified by the dictators. You would have no choice. You could take it or leave it, like it or lump it. And you would pay more for inferior goods than you pay in America for superior goods.

In Russia, however, you would be exposed to a continuous blare of propaganda, to the effect that the leaders of the country were providing you with the best life, while those hateful capitalists and imperialists in America were keeping their poor people down!

As long as there is advertising in America, there will be freedom in America; as long as America lives under the free enterprise system, there will be peace and prosperity in America.

Maybe you have never looked on advertising as a defender of your freedom. But it is. You see, advertising is the expression of a free man. It can only exist in a country where men are permitted to express themselves and their ideas freely.

The next time you pick up your newspaper and read the ads, which to many readers are just as significant and interesting as the editorial parts of the paper, you are witnessing the current expression of one of the tenets of America's founding fathers—freedom of speech.

As long as he tells the truth about his goods, any American business man can say anything about them that he likes.

It is no small thing to know that in a world, half of which is living in the slavery called Communism, that you have the freedom of choice which the ads in your newspaper give you.

As you read these ads, as you study the different goods and ideas which are being advertised, be grateful, first that the men who founded this country granted you freedom, and that those who came later fought to perpetuate it. And be grateful you are not in Russia, for if you were, you wouldn't be reading the ads!

SUDSY SPORT LEADS TO BEAUTY

When life is mostly "froth and bubbles," faces shine without much trouble.

A LASSIE'S FACE AND SMILE MAY BECOME HER FORTUNE, but only if kept bright and clean. Fortunately, cleanliness—the basis of feminine beauty—can be fun, even at an early age. Try making a game of soap and water by letting your little girl imitate grown up beauties—with special beauty "tools."

If she has her own body brush, nail brush, bath mitt, and a soft complexion brush or sponge, she's sure to keep arms and elbows, hands, nails, and face shining clean. A novelty toothbrush is good insurance for after-each-meal brushing.

Such extras add fun to bathtime and wash-up time, but soap bubbles themselves are also enchanting "toys." It's fascinating for any youngster to blow soap bubbles right off her lips. Show her how to smear soapsuds across her mouth and exhale gently. She'll soon be creating streams of bubbles—incidentally getting her face clean as a whistle.

But no "gimmick" will succeed unless mother sets a good grooming example. Do that, and your child will develop worthwhile soap-and-water beauty habits that last a lifetime. (ANS)

The Easter Seal season is here! Did you know that the Easter Seal Society, now 35 years old is the oldest and largest voluntary agency serving the crippled in the United States. Your dollars keep your society going and help with this work.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority is making final plans for a Lily Parade so let's all cooperate and wear our lily petals. Miss LaRue Crowl heads this committee and will announce date of distribution in the near future.

Girl Scout Troop #494 under the leadership of Mrs. Mildred Campbell will distribute the Easter Seal window stickers and posters to business establishments in Westminster.

The Carroll and State Theatres in Westminster and the Rendezvous Theatre in Hampstead will show a short movie relating to the work being done by the Easter Seal Society. Seal letters are being mailed to contributors throughout the county. Of the money contributed over 90% is used for work in Maryland Centers. Easter Seal Societies maintain more than 1,000 centers and programs for giving care and treatment to crippled children and adults.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, with Norman Green Chairman is supporting the campaign by distributing the collecting boxes. Once again Carroll Countians have an opportunity to support this vital work of helping crippled children. Rehabilitation of these children continues to be more costly each year. The number of children needing care and treatment increases as our population grows. Complicity has no place in this vital appeal. Physically handicapped individuals must have an opportunity to realize their full potentialities.

Sororities of Western Maryland College recognize the need for help and are backing the campaign with full support under the leadership of Miss Shirley Gootie, President of Interscholastic Council.

The Committee for the County is: Mr. E. Elwood Baumgardner, Mrs. T. E. Robbins, Mrs. John W. Bankert.

UNION BRIDGE GIRLS 4-H NEWS

Thanks to the C. and M. Appliance Store of Union Bridge for giving window space for the Union Bridge Girls to show some of their projects as one way of celebrating 4-H Week. The girls decorated the window last Saturday and they hope many persons will take time to look at it. Mrs. Paul Bowman, leader of the Club, assisted several girls with their sewing project at her home on Saturday. Rev. Chester Rill and the Methodist Congregation warmly welcomed the following 4-H persons: Evelyn Cochran, Mary Sue Albright, Ann Jarvis, Andrea Hoy, Mary Margaret Bowman, Peggy Frock, Betty Shibley, Lois Priest, Marian Priest, Mary Helen Shibley, Edith Wilhide, Jane Wilhide, Rebecca Houck, Joan Kiser, Nancy Frock, Mary Houck, Rose Marie Grabill and Sandra Weishaar to the worship service at Middleburg on Sunday. Rev. Rill had part of his sermon beamed directly at the 4-H group. The Union Bridge girls have planned a tumbling act with the aid of Mr. Jack Bubrick as their contribution to the district meeting to be held in Taneytown on March 6. We are sorry that more of the parents have not realized that this meeting is for them as well as for the 4-H members.

FASHION MUSICAL AND BRIDAL PAGEANT

"Crinoline and Lace" is the title chosen for the forthcoming fashion musical and bridal pageant to be held at the Westminster High school on Saturday, April 14, 1956, at 8 p. m.

This program will feature some of the most outstanding talent from Hampstead, Manchester, New Windsor, Union Bridge, Taneytown, Frizellburg, Pleasant Valley and Westminster. Approximately two dozen girls from all these communities will be modeling their wedding gowns. We hope to have their attendants in their attire, also.

The proceeds of this program will be divided between the Frizellburg and Westminster Homemakers Clubs. The one-half belonging to the Frizellburg will be credited to the Community Project Fund. The other one-half will be given to the Agriculture Center.

All Homemakers, 4-H Clubs and Farm groups are urged to attend this program and make it a success, as the Agr. Center is their home for all their activities. We feel that this is a good way for all of us to pitch in and help lower the debt. So when you see "Crinoline and Lace" on posters, in the papers, and hear it over the radio, do not forget to mark the date of Apr. 14th in red on your calendar.

MEETING OF HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Historical Society of Carroll County met at 8 p. m. on Thursday, March 8, at the Historical House, Westminster, following a dinner at Hoffman's Inn, at which the speaker of the evening, Dr. James W. Foster, and Mrs. Foster, were guests of honor. Other guests at the dinner included: Mrs. Edgar Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Carpenter, Mrs. Carlyle, Mrs. Edwin Dowell, Rev. J. E. Harrison, Col. T. K. Harrison, Dr. and Mrs. Howard L. Knight, Miss Edith Rill, Mr. and Mrs. A. Earl Shipley, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Tracey, and their daughter, Dr. Grace L. Tracey.

Following a brief business meeting, the President of the Society, Dr. Theodore M. Whitfield, of Western Maryland College, introduced the speaker, Dr. Foster, who is Director of the Maryland Historical Society, and who took "History is Big Business" as the subject of his talk. He first paid tribute to past and present historians of Carroll County, both amateur and professional, and gave an account of the acquisition of the original manuscript of the "Star Spangled Banner", now the most prized possession of the Maryland Historical Society and preserved by it in a hermetically sealed case filled with helium gas. Passing from local to state-wide subjects, he told of the recent growth of interest in history throughout the state; sixteen of the twenty-four counties now have flourishing historical societies, as against only eight a few years ago; old buildings noted for historical and artistic interest have been saved from destruction in the name of progress, restored and refurbished; the famous old ship constellation has been returned to Maryland and is being restored, preparatory to finding its final berth at Fort Mifflin, and cooperation is being given to the State Roads Commission in placing historical markers, which are being added to at the rate of twelve per year. In closing, Dr. Foster read a nice and obviously sincere letter of appreciation written by a third grade pupil after viewing an exhibit of historical matter, saying that there were "some things I didn't know!"

The meeting was followed by a social hour, when refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. A. H. Carpenter, Mrs. Edwin Dowell, Mrs. A. Earl Shipley and Mrs. James M. Shriver.

THE BEST

I speak plain and advertise strong, but I have checked finances, rates, policies, facts and figures of most all companies in the business.

I advertise "No Other Insurance Agent has as good a Group of Companies as I Have." Get your present policy out and make me prove this statement. I feel if an Agent has the Best, he should tell the people about it. I write for:

THE STRONGEST COMPANY IN THE NATION

THE STRONGEST MUTUAL AGENCY COMPANY IN THE NATION

THE COMPANY WITH THE LOWEST NON-ASSESSABLE RATES IN MARYLAND

I have not asked the Banker, but even though he has insurance to sell, I feel sure he would want you to be a good business man and buy your insurance wherever you can get the best for your money. To stand on your own two feet and figure things out for yourself, certainly should strengthen your credit and create more confidence in you.
