"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Sitting on the chair in the 2900 block of Charles Street N. this Columnist surely did get a full bird's eye view of the Easter parade. Even if the wind was chilly, the Sun beamed upon all those dressed in their finery. There were hundreds in the parade walking both youngsters and oldsters. The parade started about 1:30 and continued until a little past four. I still say there are no other more beautiful girls than right down there in old Baltimore and my Mother and Grandmother always said the same thing. Many large hats were worn and the beauties had a difficult time balancing them. (Or it seemed that way to me). The colors of Milady's suits, coats and dresses were striking and most beautifully harmonizing to the rest of their apparel. What was most evident was the corsage—this year so very different with colorful Mums—as in any old-fashioned garden bouquet of flowers.

As the young man and his lady walked along it was just as all down through the years—holding hands and no one seemed to be embarrassed.

Due to the weather being just chilly enough, there were many lovely furs worn in capes, stoles and fur coats both short and long plus the little jacket.

Of course the man on the corner was doing a tremendous business with the balloon trade and this year it meant three small balloons in a huge one and they were selling them fast.

The dog walked along, too and of course I had my Boston Terrier, "Buttons" with her cute Easter Bonnet of last year cocked over one ear and with her brilliant collar—many stopped to snap her picture. She was thrilled sitting there watching the mob and enjoying the excitement.

The automobile meant bumper to bumper which was a bigger line than last year. Of course, there was the old auto—way back when—in full ragala and all its trimming with the ladies wearing the old-fashioned Duster and Goggles 'n' Everything!

By 5 o'clock, the pavements and streets were cleared as though all had evaporated. It was truly a gay crowd while it lasted!

Betcha, that the wedding of that nice Margaret Truman will be of more interest to the American people than the wedding of Grace Kelley's. What a boner the Prince pulled when he stated that "Grace does not like America and prefers to live abroad!"

If you have the March Coronet, Ladies and this to the Gentlemen, too read about "The Blitz" diet and this is it—Eight ounces of fresh creamed cottage cheese; two or three Elberta peach halves and juice. Also if you like, two pieces of Norwegian flat bread (Kavi or Ideal) spread with butter, cinnamon and sugar, toasted under a broiler. Coffee or tea. Breakfast, lunch and dinner just the same for two days of each week and if you like Cottage cheese you are in luck! You will lose five pounds each week!

From Sam Bernardino comes this—85 out there right now! Ladies, if you have freckles or any brown spots on your hands here is a grand one and they will disappear, too in five nights. Ask Doc for "Golden Peacock" bleach cream. Follow the simple rules in the box and you will see them fade in two nights! Many use this cream on their face, too!

If you desire real badly one of those grand organs but hesitate due to the price—why not look this one up—And it is the "Estey" too—A miniature affair with the grandest tone you ever heard—only $50.00 and up.

As I sat down to play this at a swanky luncheon, I was amazed of the beautiful volume which one expects of the big organ. So if there is anyone who has real talent in your house write direct to the company and ask where they can be purchased, "Estey Organ Corp. Brattleboro, Vermont."

What a long vacation for the Kids from school! Not so in all states. Met a lady on Sunday who told me that for a bubble bath she places in the tub any kind of soap powder! That one I would not want to do nor would I suggest it to you.

What a nice Easter basket and a surprise one at that for me—a sweet 3 month's old Cocker Spaniel and I have named her "Silk 'n' Satin". Have a grand week-end, Folks. Be careful when you drive. Hope to see you soon around the town when I hope to make some surprise calls. Until next week. D.V. I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

THE PRINTED WORD

Writing in a journal published by New York University's School of Retailing, Irving Sattel reports that retailers are spending record amounts of money on newspaper advertising—but are chary of the inducements offered by television.

The main reason is that retailers believe that "newspaper advertising still produces the greatest number of customers for every dollar spent."

The printed word is still the best of communication yet devised.—Industrial News Review.

GIRL SCOUT DISTRICT ASSOCIATION DINNER

Girl Scout Volunteer workers, both men and women from all parts of the county, gathered for dinner at Stone Chapel Church on the evening of March 26. The two new members of the membership nominating committee, which is a rotating committee of six members serving three years each, are Mr. Frank Wagny, of Taneytown, and Mrs. LeRoy Campbell, of Westminster.

Several girls members of County Senior Scout Troops were present.

A very special part of the occasion was the presentation of Certificates of Appreciation. TO HEAD X-RAY PROGRAM

Mrs. Paul Lawyer has been appointed general chairman of the Carroll County chest X-ray program which will be conducted from May 7 to June 1, according to an announcement today by Dr. George Schochet, county health officer, and Dr. Frederick R. Seibel, president of the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association.

Free chest X-rays will be offered to every adult resident of the county 15 years of age and over in an effort to find all unknown cases of tuberculosis in this area.

The X-ray program will be sponsored by the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association in cooperation with the Md. State Department of Health.

In accepting the appointment, Mrs. Lawyer declared that the success of the X-ray program will demand the cooperation of every adult in the county.

"It is important that every adult be X-rayed if a really successful job of searching out hidden tuberculosis here is to be done," she said. "Although tuberculosis has no obvious symptoms in the early stages, the X-ray can show up the slightest damage done to the lungs by the disease."

She expressed confidence that the public spirit of Carroll County citizens would be shown in 100 per cent cooperation with the program to control the spread of tuberculosis.

"This is a community enterprise in which everyone of us has a stake. We all want to be sure that we aren't endangering our own health and that of those near to us. By cooperating in the chest X-ray program we will be protecting the health of the community and striking a blow in the world-wide fight to defeat tuberculosis."

"STARRY GEMS"

A star is beautiful; it affords pleasure, not from what it is to do, or to give, but simply by being what it is.—Thomas Carlyle.

SPRING

King Winter soon shall leave us—
The leaves are on the trees!

The busy bee is humming,
And magnolia scents the breeze!

The rumble of the thunder,
And the blissful April showers

Remind old Mother Nature
That the time has come for flowers!

Saint Patrick's day is nearing;
And the wearing of the green

Will soon be in the fashion,
And, shall everywhere be seen!

Soon the vernal choirs shall greet us,
And their notes so deep and clear

Will make the earth an Eden;
And, fill our hearts with cheer!

Why is it, that all the seasons
Are not like it is to-day,

When Nature starts to singing,
And when children start to play?

It is because we do not see
The things we want when we decree;

The proper thing for us to do
Is to picture skies of blue.

Let us then forget the winter
With its snow, and ice, and chills;

Its sneezing and its coughing,
And the doctor with his pills;

Now is the time for singing!
Look at Nature, in emerald array!

She is wearing many colors,
And the colors all are gay.

So long as we look for sleet and rain,
Inclement weather shall remain,

It is He who make the March winds blow,
Who cause the blizzards and the snow;

In a mental world things which appear
Exist before we see them here

So it is with diseases of every kind;
They all have their origin in mind.

This earth is turned to harmony;
Without it life is drear,

The sap goes down in all the trees,
And we lose all thoughts of cheer

When discord reigns, our hopes grow dim
All life is dull, and then

The vines dry up and wither,
Just as joy withers in the hearts of men.

In spite of what the school books teach,
This is a mental world,

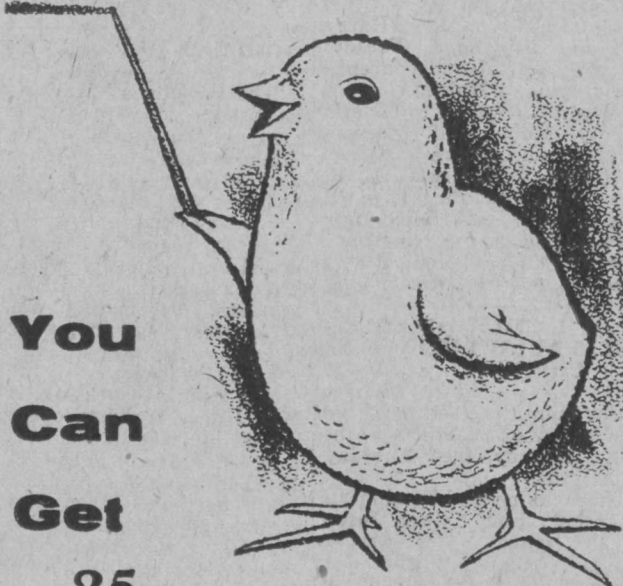

This earth is God's great school-house
O'er which His flag is now unfurled,

We are here to learn some lessons,
All of which to us are new;

But, when we learn those lessons,
Our skies shall all be blue.

By LOUIS LUDWIG

IT WOULD be a wonderful thing if blankets lasted for a lifetime. Many people think they do—and act accordingly. But actually they don't, and because of that factor a health problem is involved.

As people grow older they often find that they need more blankets to keep warm. This is usually thought to be "thinning of the blood" or "poor circulation." The real cause is often over-age blankets. Children are often chilled in winter from this cause; so are their parents.

What makes a blanket warm? Still air, of all things. Motionless air is a very poor conductor of heat. The active principle of a good blanket is the motionless air that it traps in its thousands of tiny air pockets.

A high nap on a blanket creates many more of these tiny little pockets, so the manufacturer roughens the blanket's surface by tearing out the ends of its fibres. But this makes a blanket very absorbent of dirt, perspiration and body oils.

As a consequence blankets have to be laundered or dry-cleaned regularly. But washing or dry-cleaning causes shrinkage and felting—the very things that reduce the nap and the warmth-retaining properties of the blanket.

It is because of this loss of nap that the smart homemaker figures on periodic replacement of her blankets. They should be thoroughly inspected at least once a year, preferably in the spring. When the original high nap is lost because of laundering or dry-cleaning, the blanket should be replaced.

Good wool has always been considered the ideal material for blankets. But since it is difficult for the consumer to differentiate between high-grade and low-grade wool, homemakers should buy woolen blankets only at a reliable store.

Cotton blankets, rayon blankets, part wool blankets, while less expensive than the all-wool blankets, give very good service when well made. The best wool-and-cotton blankets contain 25 per cent or more of wool.

Washing of blankets is best undertaken by a reliable commercial laundry. Dry-cleaning is next in order of satisfaction, with home laundering last.

KITCHEN TIPS

If you pack lunch boxes for your children or husband, here are some suggestions that may prove helpful:

1. Put wooden tooth picks into the top of cakes or pies before wrapping them. This will keep waxed paper from sticking to icing or meringue.
2. When packing thermos bottle filled with hot liquids, pre-heat it first with hot water. Pre-cool it before filling with chilled liquids.
3. To give extra flavor to sandwich fillings, cream butter for spreading and add horse radish, minced onion, grated cheese, catsup or chopped parsley.

Cupcakes baked in paper muffin cups stay fresh longer than if they are baked in muffin tins.

Lighting in your home should add decorative touches as well as protect eyesight. Our Home Service Advisors will be glad to give you free assistance in planning and arranging your home lights—both indoors and out. For this free service, just call our local office.

Don't throw away leftover mashed white or sweet potatoes, wrap them in waxed paper, chill or freeze and fry as needed.

Automatic washers may be used to dye fabrics, bath mats and so forth. Our local Home Service Advisor will be glad to advise you about this unique use of a common household appliance.

To re-heat scalloped dishes, add a small amount of water, milk or gravy, toss lightly to re-moisten and place in 350° oven until heated.

ENTERS TWO PUREBRED CATTLE IN SHOW

Petersborough, N. H.—George L. Gunther, Three D's Farm, Taneytown, Md., has entered 2 purebred Guernseys in the 1958 National Guernsey Futurity, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

The 1958 Futurity is the second in an annual series which was recently initiated by the AGCC's executive committee. Estimates say the probable value of the purse for this event will exceed $3500 by judging time.

Animals are entered in a Futurity as heifer calves, and are kept eligible for final competition only as owners pay two additional eligibility fees. They are judged as three-year old cows.

R. D. Stewart, AGCC secretary says the Futurity is a tremendous challenge to the ability of purebred Guernsey breeders to select heifer calves that will develop into top-notch three-year-olds.

Nominations for the 1958 Futurity closed on March 1, 1956. The animals entered by Gunther include: Three D's Merry Lee, Three D's Merry Lass.

IMPORTANT DATE (APRIL 15) FOR CLERGYMEN

April 15, 1956, is a very important date for clergymen who desire to receive credit for their 1955 earnings under social security. Franklin M. Barnes, district manager of the Baltimore (North) social security office announced today.

This is the last date for filing Form 2031 (Waiver Certificate) with the Director of Internal Revenue in order to have 1955 earnings counted for social security protection.

The Waiver Certificate is effective for a taxable year only if it is filed on or before the due date for filing the income tax report of that year. That means that those ministers or members of religious orders who want to begin earning their social security credits in 1955 must file the certificates on or before April 15, 1956.

Under the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act, duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed clergymen, Christian Science Practitioners, and members of religious orders who have not taken a vow of poverty acquire old-age and survivors insurance protection like that of self-employed persons but on an individual elective basis. This election does not involve the church or institution in any way, Mr. Barnes continued.

These individuals have approximately two years after 1954 or after they have $400 or more of net earnings, any part of which came from religious activities to decide whether or not they wish to participate in the program.

Those who do not elect to become covered by the program within the two-year period cannot later have their earnings from their religious duties covered by the law. Those who do elect to participate cannot later withdraw.

Those who wish to file the Waiver Certificate before filing their income tax return should do so now. Submitting the waiver form promptly insures that 1955 earnings will count toward social security. It also insures against overlooking the waiver form at the time the tax return is filed and thus losing the right to have 1955 earnings credited.

Copies of Form 2031 (Waiver Certificate) are available at the office of the Director of Internal Revenue or from the social security office at 3107 Greenmount Avenue, Baltimore 18, Maryland. Informational pamphlets are also available free of charge at the social security office.

MEADOW BRANCH CHURCH WILL HOLD RE-DEDICATION SERVICES

The Meadow Branch Church of the Brethren will hold a program of re-dedication on Sunday, April 8. The morning worship service led by Rev. A. Joseph Caricofe, pastor of the church, will begin at 10:15 a. m. The congregational music will be led by Mrs. William E. Brown, church chorister. The Church Youth Choir under the direction of Miss Mildred Arbaugh will render special music. Rev. J. Walter Thomas will give the morning prayer. Rev. Forrest U. Groff, the church building counselor from Elgin, Illinois, will preach the sermon on "Discipleship". Lunch will be served at noon at the church to those attending the services.

The service of dedication will be held at 2:30 p. m. with the pastor presiding. Special music will be furnished by the Adult Choir of the Westminster Church of the Brethren under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy LeFevre. Rev. John D. Roop will offer the prayer. Words of greeting will be brought from district and county groups as follows: by Rev. John H. Eberly, alternate moderator of the Eastern Maryland District Church of the Brethren; Rev. Harold R. Hodgson, chairman of the Carroll County Ministerial Association; Dr. Warren D. Bowman, President of Bridgewater College, will give the Dedication sermon on "The Radiant Church"; Henry E. Miller, church builder, will present the keys. Charles W. High, secretary of the Trustee Board, will accept the keys in the name of the church. Rev. George A. Early, Moderator, will lead the Litany of Dedication and the Prayer of Dedication.

The completed building program includes a re-arranged and re-decorated sanctuary; a baptistry; an educational wing to the church including ten new Sunday school rooms, a library, a Ladies' aid room, a new entrance to the church with Narthex and vestibule; a modernized kitchen, and re-decorated fellowship hall. The architect's estimate was $48,000 for the structural work. The finances are being raised over a three-year period. The total amount contributed to date is over $35,000.

The history of the congregation dates back over a century and one-quarter. The church at Meadow Branch began in 1825 as a part of the Pipe Creek Congregation, which was the first Church of the Brethren in Maryland. The early services alternated every eight weeks between the home of Christian Royer in Bachman's Valley and the David Roop home on Meadow Branch.

The first church was built out of rugged stone in the year of 1847 on the present location. It was enlarged in 1876 to care for the growing membership. The stone building was torn down in 1914 and replaced with the present rectangular brick building. The church was organized as a separate congregation on August 3, 1885. Solomon Stoner was the first presiding elder. There were 145 members on the roll. The church was incorporated under the laws of Maryland on February 14, 1891.

According to the early Brethren pattern, the church started services at other places. The following places started by the Meadow Branch Brethren have since developed into organized churches, some of them larger than the parent church: Fulton Avenue (now First Church), Baltimore, Woodbury in Baltimore; Long Green Valley, Reisterstown, and Westminster.

In the interest of Christian Education, the Sunday School was started early. For the Meadow Branch congregation the movement began in the Westminster Church in 1880. The pioneer leaders were: Dr. Lewis K. Woodward, David D. Bonsack, and Uriah Bixler. A Sunday school was organized in the Meadow Branch House on March 29, 1892. The Daily Vacation Bible School began at Meadow Branch in 1921 and has continually except for 1955 during the present building program. The presiding elders (now called moderator) who have served Meadow Branch Church from 1885 until the present time are: Solomon Stoner, Amos Caylor, David D. Bonsack, Ephraim W. Stoner, Uriah Bixler, William E. Roop, J. Walter Thomas, Elmer Schilt, and George A. Early.

The entire building program has been directed by the Church Planning Committee. The committee members are as follows: Mildred Arbaugh, Samuel D. Bare, L. Albert Beaver, Gerald E. Boone, George A. Early, Scott Y. Garner, Rosa Geiman, Chas. W. High, Arthur B. Naill, Herbert J. Petry, Sr., Anna K. Petry, Elizabeth M. Plunkert, Lavinia C. Wenger, and Maurice V. Wolfe. Members of the construction committee were: Charles W. High, Herbert J. Petry, Sr., and Maurice V. Wolfe.

The Meadow Branch Church acknowledges its debt of gratitude to all members and friends, living and dead, who have given of their time, talent, equipment, and untiring energy in the supervision, work, and care of this church, to all contributors, a numberless company, whose gifts, large and small, made possible the completion of this project; to all committees, builders, craftsmen, and laborers whose thought and to have created this House of God. A "Book of Remembrance" containing special and memorial gifts is placed in the library of the church.

Members and friends of the church are invited to the re-dedication services.

FEESBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

After a week of bone-chilling weather it was a real Easter present to have Sunday so delightfully spring-like. It looked like everyone took advantage of it. The churches overflowed with people and the roads were over crowded with cars. While the flowers were not visible in the gardens they seemed to blossom on every woman's coat or suit and nodded gaily from every picture window. While the females paraded their Easter finery, the males got out their fishing tackle, golf sticks and two-toned convertibles. The small fry gloated over the Easter baskets and on Monday morning wished that their chocolate eggs were back in their baskets instead of in their tummies. All in all it was a delightful Easter though it seemed more subdued and somber than past Eas- ters. No doubt this was brought about by less commercialism. While Easter is supposed to be a day of rejoicing, it should not be a rejoicing over worldly goods.

We are sorry to learn that more and more of Maryland's oyster houses are closing down due to a price squeeze. Our State and oysters are always mentioned in the same breath by visitors and anything affecting the oyster industry effects the prestige of our state.

I wouldn't believe it if I didn't see it—but Men's caps are coming back in style, even with buckles in the back. They seem to make every man that wears one look like a leering wolf or a half-witted T.V. comedian. But if they are comfortable—and they do look comfortable perched on a man's head like a woman's old-fashioned dust cap with don't them with all possible speed. Men will put on anything in the name of comfort just like women will wear anything in the name of style.

There is a book just recently published titled, "The Shadow of My Hand" by Holger Cahill. It is most reading for every farmer although I doubt very much if many farmers will take the time to read it. But he would better understand what is going to happen to him before too long, if he did. For the farmer is about to be swallowed by "Bigness" just as the small storekeeper and the small producer has been gobbled up or shut up with unfair competition. Our government has spent billions to break up the large landowners in Europe and Asia, while here at home the trend is toward larger and larger farms, squeezing family farm owner into extinction. The consumer too will not be left out of this change of events. For when the small farmer has been replaced with bigness, the consumer is going to pay more for food. For the big operators are, to begin with, practical business men, who will not produce unless they get a profit and they will set the price of what they produce—not the hit and miss method the farmer operates under now. Who is to blame for this change that is taking place? Most of it can be put on the farmer's themselves. They refuse even now with the hand-writing on the wall to organize into one competent and efficient organization. The government has offered them some realistic plans to help get rid of surpluses and they will not cooperate. The land bank plan is one of the best yet, providing the government pays enough per acre. But how many farmers will study it and know how it works and how many will honestly comply with it if Congress passes it. In Frederick county five young progressive farmers quit the farm this spring because they are disgusted with the entire setup and the old-fashioned approach to the present farm tragedy by the farm organizations. None are so blind that will not see and the farmer is surely blind who will not understand that the method of farming must change.

Last week which was "Maryland Clean Up Week" I saw the men who work for the County Road Commission out picking up trash along the highways. I hope the litter bugs passed by and saw the men cleaning up their trash for it would have filled them with shame. (I hope.) And I also hope the taxpayers happened by too for it should have made them furious to learn that their money had to be spent to clean up some careless and thoughtless citizen's garbage. I hope some of the litter bugs are taxpayers too. It will teach them that they have to pay for their bad house-keeping along with the innocent. And maybe the County Commissioners will learn that in the long run it would be cheaper to provide garbage dumps in every district.

Congratulations are in order for several groups. To the Union Bridge Chairman and her committee of the police drive a word of appreciation for the excellent work they did. I believe the amount of money collected this year for polio was the largest in the history of the drives conducted in Union Bridge. Congratulation a job well done. Also to the citizens around Mt. Airy who fought for their democratic rights and won over a much disputed road. Sometimes the public appears apathetic to what is happening, but when something concerns them enough they can put up a whale of a fight in a democratic way.

Last week we wrote a paragraph on fate. To those who say "A Night to Remember" on television last week you saw how fate can play around and exact a terrible price sometimes. The story of the sinking of the Titanic was the most thrilling thing I have ever seen on T.V. The thing that shook one's soul was that man's supreme confidence in his ability to be master of his fate was shattered because fate turned against him not just once but five times. It will be a long time before we forget Kraft's presentation of the sinking of the great ship. By a demand from the public Kraft is going to repeat it on T.V. If you missed the first show, by all means see the next showing. It is a breath-taking hour—not of entertainment but of a reverend viewing of a brilliant past.

A young freshman at college sent his mother the following wire: Please send food package at once. All they serve here is breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Not so long ago a church congregation got rid of its minister and imported a new one. After the new minister's first sermon one of the church members turned to another with surprise and said: "But I thought we got rid of our former pastor because he said we were all going to Hell if we didn't mend our ways, yet the new minister tells us the same thing." "That's true," agreed the other, "but the old one acted like he was glad."

Come, April - your bustling winds anew
Bring now, to sweep the earth and sky,
Strip gray cloud blankets from the blue
And roll them up and put them by
Behind the hills, still starkly brown
Above the red roofs of the town;
Come, whisk your broom through wood and field
Up the streets and down the lanes—
Whip stubborn ices until they yield
Clear streams again—and please take pains
With nooks where flowers plan to greet
The tapping of May's dancing feet.
Come, hasten, April, for Nature's clock
Ticks toward the golden hour, once more,
Of Springtime's long-awaited knock—
So brush about the World's great door
And wide, expectant, set it ope
To greening hills—new life, fresh hope.

—Jane Kjerner.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 3

Don't Pay Tax on Wrong Income

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Maryland Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

You may think that listing your income is the easiest part of tax filing. Actually, according to the Internal Revenue Service, this is where taxpayers make the greatest number of errors.

Not all the money that may have come to you during 1955 needs to be reported on your tax form.

For example you may have received "dividends" on an insurance policy. Don't list them as dividends, because they are considered merely a refund of part of the premium you paid.

Don't include Social Security benefits, Railroad Retirement Act benefits, or payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.

Don't list gifts you received, although the giver may have to pay a gift tax. However, tips and other compensation for services must be reported.

Do not report inheritances and bequests. The estate may be taxed but not the recipient.

Personal Damages Not Taxed

Damages received for personal injuries are not considered taxable income, whether awarded by a court or settled out of court.

When listing your income you can also forget about government benefits to veterans and their families, except non-disability retirement pay and the interest on terminal leave bonds.

The interest on state and municipal bonds is also tax exempt.

Although compensation for services is generally taxable, whether paid in money or otherwise, the law specifically exempts the rental value of a parsonage furnished to a minister or the rental allowance expended by him for this purpose.

Prizes and Awards

There is an interesting rule on prizes — they are only taxable if you worked for them. Even the slightest action on your part to earn the prize — such as appearing on a quiz program or writing a slogan — makes it taxable income. But prizes awarded for scientific, literary or other achievements without any action by you to bring about your selection would be regarded as gifts to you rather than taxable income.

Some income, such as limited amounts of "sick pay" and the first $50 of certain dividends, must be explained in the tax return but are not taxed.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

Our Mission

Lesson for April 8, 1956

WHEN a great bomber sets off on a military mission, or when a plane loaded with leaflets takes off for a propaganda mission, no matter how good the plane is otherwise, the mission will be a failure without three essentials for success. One is gas enough to reach the target. The second is an engine that will not "conk out" going or returning, an engine that can be relied on to function under all weather conditions. The third essential is a crew that will follow instructions, competent to fly the plane and to deliver its load at the right time, at the right place.

The Mission of the Church

One of the last words Jesus uttered before his Ascension was "Go." But what is a going church? Sometimes all that is meant by that expression is simply a church that has meetings once in a while. But that is not the idea Christ had in mind. The original Christian church had meetings, and good ones they were; but it began to go after the meetings were over and the disciples scattered everywhere, bringing the Word, the good news of God's love, the good news about Jesus. The church was going when it was growing; going when it took the message to new places and to people who had never heard it before. A going church, in short, is a missionary church. Some people don't like the word "missions." It seems to carry or suggest the idea of superiority. Not at all! We do have a superior article, the Christian faith and life. But we do not have to be conceited about it. Does a salesman have to be conceited if he is selling the best line on the market? Does a doctor have to be conceited about prescribing the best drugs yet invented? We did not invent our religion. God gave it to us. He gave it to us to keep and to share; and if we do not share it we shall hardly keep it.

Power of the Spirit

Going back to that airplane a moment: Enough gas, plus an efficient engine, spells POWER. No matter how important the mission is, no matter how good the intentions are, without the power everything collapses. So it is with the church. Our mission has been set by God himself. But when the church takes off with its tanks empty, and some home-made do-it-yourself tinkered-up sewing machine in place of a good engine, it will never accomplish its mission no matter how good it is. Wanting to reach the target is not enough. Don't we all pray, "Thy Kingdom come on earth . . . ?" That is a missionary prayer. Don't most churches offer prayer for missions, and even take up offerings for missions? Yet any one who knows the church will tell you that the church's missionary responsibility is shirked and slackened. We play at missions, we leave millions on millions without a ray of Gospel. The record of many a congregation, if you looked at it, would never suggest that that church knew much or cared much about what Jesus said on his church in his solemn last words: "Go—into all the world!" The trouble is that the Church does not have the power. It could have the same power the first Christians had, the power of the Holy Spirit. Only a Spirit-filled church is going to be much of a missionary church.

Power of Testimony

The other necessity of the plane on a "mission" is personnel. Power alone is not enough. There must be men who are prepared to use that power. Now Christians individually, or the church at large cannot "use" the Holy Spirit, for no one can use God. But God's power is not poured out on just anybody (as many stories in the Bible show). His power comes to those who devote themselves to him and his cause. The early church waited for the Spirit, waited for power; but once they had received it they proceeded to carry out Jesus' directive: Go into all the world! A Christian, or a church, that wants God's power for selfish reasons, will not be given it. A Christian, or a church, that prays for God's power so as to be able to witness for him, so as to win others for him, will find that prayer answered. The power will come. If the church today is making too feeble a mark on one world, is it because the church does not seek true spiritual power for true spiritual service? OUR DAILY BREAD

Psalms Thirty-one
Psalms thirty-one is an expression of grief and sorrow in literary form. The psalm is a lament of a godly individual occasioned by ungodly enemies. The Psalmist intimates and catalogues many things which these enemies are doing to cause his suffering and anxiety:

Take me out of net which is hidden for me,
for thou art my refuge.
Thou hatest those who pay regard to vain idols;
but I trust in the Lord.

I am the scorn of all my adversaries,
a horror to my neighbors,
An object of dread to my acquaintances;
those who see me in the street flee from me.

I have passed out of mind like one who is dead;

I have become like a broken vessel.
Yea, I hear the whispering of many—terror on every side!
As they scheme together against me,
as they plot to take my life.

The effect of the doing of his enemies manifests itself in the Psalmist's physical condition as portrayed in verses 9, 10, 12 of the psalm.

Be gracious to me, O Lord, for I am in distress;

My eye is wasted from grief,
my soul and my body also.
For my life is spent with sorrow,
and my years with sighing;
my strength fails because of my misery,
and my bones waste away.

I have passed out of mind like one who is dead;
I have become like a broken vessel.

The Psalmist seeks refuge in the Lord, "for thou art my refuge." God is man's only permanent refuge, his only secure hiding place. Inner conflicts and outer strife cannot endure in God's presence. Those who trust little are they who live little in the conscious presence of God.

The Psalmist entrusts himself to the Lord for he has confidence in His power, righteousness, integrity, and love. Such trust comes through faith and experience. The Psalmist has more confidence in the Lord than he had faith in himself and in his own loyalty. Confidence must always precede trust. "Into thy hand I commit my spirit." The commitment is based on confidence in the Lord.

"One loving spirit sets another on fire" was an observation made by Saint Augustine many centuries ago. This observation is true in connection with the present psalm, for the personal faith of the Psalmist is undergirded by the faith of the congregation, and in turn his testimony for the Lord encourages, deepens, strengthens, and enriches the spirit, attitude, and hope of the congregation.

That's Germex—it's the latest, one of the most modern disinfectants available. No longer must disinfecting be a smelly, irritating job. Germex is odorless, nonirritating, noncaustic. Yet Germex is one of the most concentrated of the quaternary ammonium disinfectants. Use Germex for disinfecting the brooder house after a good cleaning. You can also use Germex for swine, dairy or even household sanitizing. You'll like disinfecting the modern way.

SYMBOLIZE U. S.-CANADA

GOOD WILL

Kiwanis clubs of both countries have spotted these "monuments of good neighborliness" from coast to coast.

BUSINESS LEADERS OF BOTH NATIONS LAUD U. S.-CANADA GOOD WILL WEEK

The presidents of the U.S. and Canadian Chambers of Commerce have joined in applauding the community leaders spearheading the 35th annual observance of U. S.-Canada Good Will Week. The observance in Taneytown, which is set for April 22-28, is being led by the local Kiwanis club. The last day of U. S.-Canada Good Will Week, April 28th, is the 138th anniversary of the signing of the Rush-Bagot Agreement, an informal treaty which demilitarized the 3,000 mile frontier between the two great North American countries.

The two Chamber of Commerce heads represent U.S. and Canadian businesses which find each other their mutual "best customers," in the field of international trade.

In speaking of U.S.-Canada Good Will Week, Mr. J. G. Crean, President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce said:

"I like to think that the 3,000-mile border between Canada and the United States joins us rather than separates us, because nowhere in the world is there a greater international community of interest.

"Our countries are growing closer together all the time in knowledge of each other. Politically, of course, we stand independent of each other, but there is a great bond—that of respect for each other's independence and character. We uphold the same fundamental principles, free democratic government, justice and liberty, religious tolerance and religious equality. We come together with a mutual regard that is stronger than written contracts, and with common interests and objectives that are more enduring than formal alliances.

"For our relationship to remain static would be unfortunate, for it to deteriorate would be fatal to both countries and a blow to other free nations. It is clear that international good will cannot be achieved unless we work steadily and constructively at its development. For this reason I can have nothing but praise for the constructive work being done by Kiwanis International in fostering international friendship and understanding through the observance of U.S.-Canada Good Will Week, April 22-28."

Mr. Boyd Campbell, President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, said: "Recognizing the growing economic interdependence of Canada and the United States, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has maintained jointly with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce since 1933, a Canadian-U.S. Committee of representative businessmen from both countries. Its objective is to foster common defense efforts, solutions to trade and investment problems, development and efficient use of continental resources, and commercial relationships based on mutual respect, trust, and understanding.

"The friendship of Canada and the United States stands as a worthy example of interdependence and cooperation created by common interests and realized by common effort. While the principles held in common and our underlying solidarity are immensely more important than any issues which would divide us, continued cooperation and trust cannot be left to chance or allowed to deteriorate through neglect.

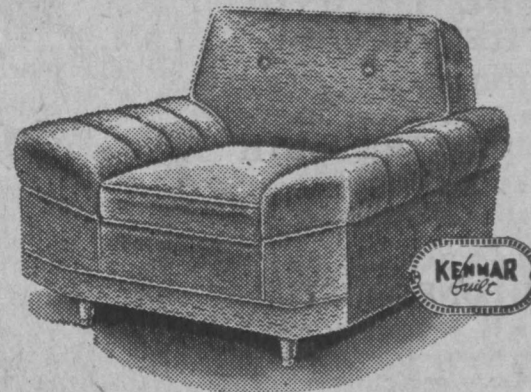

"Kiwanis International is to be commended for its vigilance in this regard by affording us all an opportunity to observe United States-Canada Good Will Week."
