For the next fifteen minutes the only broadcasting in the nation will be done by standard AM nation will be done by standard AM stations which make up the "Conel-rad" net work for emergency broadcasting. Conclusion of the technical phrase "plan for control of electromagnetic radiation". This is a plan devised by the Air Force, the broadcasting industry and the Federal Communications Commission to per-mit the broadcasting of Civil Defense news and instructions during a national emergency while denying the navi-gational aid of regular broadcast waves to enemy planes. Under the plan, all stations sign off the air when an alert is signaled. Conelrad stations then change their broadcasting frequencies to 640 or 1240 kilocycles and return to the air. Conelrad broadcasting in Maryland will take place in Baltimore, Cumberland, Hagerstown and Leonardtown. Radio stations in Baltimore and Hagerstown plan to broadcast a continuous fifteen minute program. Cum-berland and Leonardtown will broad-cast on an "on-off" basis since only one station in each of these areas is tied into Conelrad.

Civil Defense officials are urging the public to listen to this special broadcast and advise their local Civil Defense Director whether or not they were able to hear Conelrad and if so, how well. The range of Conelrad will provide fair reception for distances up to ten or fifteen miles, according to Federal Civil Defense Officials.

Sherley Ewing, State Civil Defense Director, said that he expected a large percentage of the Maryland public to be unable to hear anything during the test.

She is coy and girlish, Miss Margaret Shreeve. The scene takes place in the church basement and the place in the church basement and the time is any afternoon of any season. There will be a cake, candy, and novelty table. A fishpond will be there for the kiddies. Various types of sandwiches soft drinks, potato chips, and ice cream will be on sale during the evening.

ARE YOU GOING ON VACATION? Then Don't Let An Unpleasant Experience Spoil It

The National Safety Council says you can have a carefree vacation if you will remember these tips:

Before You Leave-

1. Stop milk, newspaper and other deliveries. Ask a neighbor to keep advertising circulars off your porch. 2. Don't lower window shades. Arrange to have your lawn mowed. Prowlers watch for such tip-offs.

 Notify postoffice to hold mail, or arrange delivery to a neighbor.
 Lock windows and doors. Remember basement windows and coal obstact. chute.

5. Shut off gas and water at main valves. Shut off electricity at master switch unless refrigerator or food freezer is to be left on. If current must be left on, disconnect lamps and appliances at wall outlets. If refrig-erator is disconnected, leave door open to prevent mold.

6. Inform police how long house will be vacant and where you can be reached in an emergency.

7. Service car thoroughly with close attention to safety features such as lights, brakes, tires, steering, windshield wipers.
8. Put a first aid kit and flashlight in the car. An inexpensive package of fuses may be a lifesaver if you have trouble along the road.

On the Way-

1. Speed kills—take it easy. Start a little earlier and don't try to cover too great'a distance in a day. 2. Long drives at constant speed make you drowsy. Vary your speed and stop occasionally to stretch your legs.

3. Be sure you understand driving techniques in different localities, such as in the mountains or on superhighways.

ways. 4. Don't be impatient to make time. It's unsafe, and it's not restful driving. Watch your passing. 5. Signs and signals are not uni-form in all states. Read them care-fully when in strange territory. 6. Scenary can be taken in small

6. Scenery can be taken in small doses from a moving car, but if you want to drink deeply of nature's beau-ty, pull off the road and stop. 7. If you leave children alone in the back seat, be sure the doors are

NO LET-UP IN TANEYTOWN EXPLORER ACTIVITIES

Despite the many demands upon Despite the many demands upon their leisure in the busy spring season, there has been no marking time on the part of the homegeneous group of Explorer scouts in Troop 348, Taney-town. In no small measure, perhaps, is this due to the sparking of their in-terest by Robert L. The records show, for instance, that four Republican nominees for the presidency received first-ballot nom-ination twice—Ulysses S. During Carnival week, both Martin and Slaybaugh, as well as Barnes and Fitz, Charles Becker, Jack Bowers, Ditzler, Garrett, Hively and Thomas assisted Taneytown Fire Company by parking cars. It will be staffed by volunteer wo-men who have consented to give their time in order that day camping might be enjoyed by the Girl Scouts of Car-roll county. These women have been taking special training in camp craft, outdoor and campfire activities.

Due to the increased number of girls enrolling in this program each successive year, it was necessary to find a larger camp site. Through the generosity of Mr. John Stevenson, of Spring Mills, a beautiful site of fifty wooded acres has been loaned to the Girl Scouts for their camping. This site, to be known as Steven-son's Spring Mills Girl Scout Camp, is rich in many species of flora and fauna, unusual birds and contains many sparkling springs. Not only will the site be used for day camping, but troops may use it for their overnight camping, or for special outdoor programs. It is centrally located in the county, about a mile and a half out Liberty Street extended. The lane into the camp is on the opposite side of the road from the old Westmin-

YOU CAN'T CLIP A TV PROGRAM

Dorothy Kilgallen, the columnist and television star, recently had something pleasant to say about newspapers as reading matter.

"You can read on a train crossing the desert or on a plane at 17,000 feet above the Atlantic-no static, no blips," says Miss Kilgallen. "You can read in a bathtub or while hanging onto a pole in a crowded bus. You can read as much or as little as you want, as fast or as slowly as you want.

"And if you read something you like, you can tear it out and save it to read again some day. I enjoy radio and television, and I am gainfully employed by both, but I must admit they have their drawbacks. Did you ever try to clip a television program and paste it in your scrapbook?"

Here's why the newspaper holds its dominant place in the homes and hearts of Americans. And here is why-to touch on the world of commerce from which all of us draw our livings-the newspaper remains an unsurpassed means of advertising goods and services .- Industrial News Review.

ment of Radiology, University of Oregon Medical School, who has helped develop a new electronic switch that makes possible X-ray exposures at speeds as short as 1/1000 of a second. This is fast enough, Dr. Dotter explains, to "freeze" the motion of blood within a patient's heart during the X-ray exposure, and compares with a previous X-ray speed of 1/60 to 1/120 of a second provided by most present equipment.

Radiographs or X-ray pictures, taken in sequence with this new highspeed device permit a more accurate study of the blood's flow, and hence give the radiologist new insight into certain heart ailments. Thus Dr. Dotter dreams of making X-ray movies at 500 to 1.000 "frames" per second, which, projected in slow motion, would re-cal hitherto unsuspected facts about the human body. Such equipment, he thinks, might even be used in the diganosis of brain tumors.

Dr. Dotter compares the high voltage tube, that turns the X-ray current on and off with such incredible speed, to the stop-motion stroboscopic camera used in engineering research to examine the action of engine or machine parts operating at high velocities. And he reminds us amateur photographers of the streaky, meaningless films most of us have turned out in trying to shoot an automobile race or a plane in flight with a box camera.

Until now, the radiologist attempting to X-ray the movement of substances in the blood, or the contraction of the heart, says Dr. Dotter, has been just as disappointed as the small boy trying to photograph the carnival high-diver.

So it looks as if the age of science has finally caught up with us-all the way! From here on, we won't be able to keep any secret. And-we should be glad .-- Washington Exchange.

THE CARROLL RECORD, TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND

THE REINDOLLAR REUNION-JULY 8, 1956

The Reindollar family all records say, Was one of prominence in their day; They had 8 children, all of whom were fine, Though the father passed on at 59.

"What a wonderful mother!", people used to say "To educate six boys in that early day." For 100 years as leaders they were classed; And, for generosity have never been surpassed.

John, the eldest son, lived at the north end of the town He was well educated—a farmer of renown. His two sons and daughter, Mary, people say, Have had few equals in any day.

Wm. M., John's second son, many persons say, Has never had a equal up to his day. He made money; but labored not to be rich, they say And those words are on his tombstone today.

To make others happy, with him was a lifelong plan It was said, "He never refused to help any man". Many used to say: "Will has a heart of gold!" But the half he did for others was never told.

Present dwellers in Taneytown shall never know About the things he did to make it grow. Then, too, hard luck stories, people used to tell, So he helped them all in peace to dwell.

Samuel wsa a member of the Legislature in his day But for sake of health took up farming, they say. For 50 years he and John tilled the soil, Without a settlement or a single broil.

Uncle "Will" was a Doctor, in his early day, But, for health's sake he too gave up practice, they say. He married "Maggie" Rudisill, an heiress at the time; So, with her, and her money he started to climb. The family had two sons named James, the records say; Because James the 1st soon passed away. But James the 2nd married Ursula Gault, And with her and daughter "Lou" never found a fault. David, after whom I was named, was a model man, No equal had he, people said, in all the land. Not long before he decided to retire, I saw him throw $5000. worth of notes in the fire. Many of the notes were long overdue, He was saving and unobtrusive (so he used to live) In that way his many debtors he would forgive. Uncle Henry, too was a model man, they say For all of the farmers of his day. He was just as unobtrusive as one can be But a firm believer in the "Old Rule of 3". No matter how the tempest might blow Off to school his children had to go. For he did not want them ignoramuses to be In his great Eldorado, "The land of the free". He had 7 children (3 boys and 4 girls, I knew well, And, of whose little antics I delight to tell. Mary Jane Elliot an angel was said to be, So she and Frank had 8 little angels on their family tree. Maggie Englar, another daughter, went to school with me, And, proud of her, Andrew McKinney seemed to be. She was conceded to be the brightest girl up there So she often took the teacher's chair. Of the girls in the family, Elizabeth only I can tell, Being John McKellip's mother, I knew of her quite well, Two finer people, they say, never lived in the town. John, people say, was a man of renown. That is about all of the family I shall say Ed, David's son, was also popular in his day. What he did for town and church, some don't know But let me tell them he stood in "A" row. Henry's sons, too, were lights in their day. Milt, Jake, and Charlie were all bright, they say. Through all of its history it was a family of fame In our prison books you shall not find the name. All the offspring of the Reindollar family today Love God, and try to walk in the narrow way. Many who had Bible names they also say Tried to emulate its heroes in their day. And, that is how God wants all families here to be, For America lights the way to Eternity. It is the doctrine Jesus came to teach,

And a pinnacle all families must reach. Let us not forget what our ancestors used to say, The way they did is the only way. It not only pays big dividends here below, It is a passport to Glory when the time comes to go.

Peachy Sunshine Tortoni

In the hot sultry days of summer, a refreshing dessert is especially pleasing to the palate—particularly when there's not much prepara-tion involved. For warm-weather entertaining, "Peachy Sunshine Tortoni" is a new and imaginative treat. A few minutes in the kitchen are all that's needed for this luscious combination of strained peaches, crushed sugar honey graham cracker crumbs and ice cream. Served 2656 Edmondson Ave., Baltimore 23, Md. with a cooling beverage on an attractively set table, this new delight can supply the important energy "pick-up" your family needs during the lazy summer months. Here's the way to make it: For all Types of Wiring, Call ANGELL'S ELECTRIC Peachy Sunshine Tortoni 1 cup finely crushed Sunshine Sugar Honey Graham Cracker crumbs 1 quart vanilla ice cream 2 4³/₄ oz. jars strained peaches 1 teaspoon almond extract 1/4 mile west of Taneytown, Md. Turn refrigerator to coldest setting. Let ice cream soften slightly. Combine ice cream, strained peaches, almond extract and all but 2 tablespoons of the graham cracker crumbs, in a large bowl. Beat with a rotary beater until just blended. Pour into 6 or 8 4-oz. waxed paper food cups and sprinkle the mixture in the cups with the remaining crumbs. Place the containers in the ice cube compartment of the refrigerator (or in the freezer) and freeze until firm (3 to 4 hours). Makes 6 to 8 servings. > FEESERSBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

Sometimes Mother Nature can be referred to as a tight-fisted lady and rightly so because now and then she chooses to hide the best of her gifts under tons of earth and stone or wrapped up in a shell that requires skill and strength to extricate the hidden treasure. We are not refer-ring to oil or gold but to hard-shelled crabs. This is the season for them and anyone who likes them will testify that separating the shell from the meat is a messy, sticky job but very good eating. There just doesn't seem to be any dignified way of eating crabs except in crabcakes but the real gourmet likes to eat hard-shells and the only way to do this is by hammer, tongs and a giant sized baby-bib, and after the feast a bath with bubble-bath powder and Dial soap. Is it worth all the trouble? We think so. Psychologists as a group are sup-erior persons and have done a very great deal in helping people under stand themselves and each other. But once in awhile one of them goes off the deep end in trying to explain teenage behavior and it becomes increas-ingly apparent that the psychiatrist needs to take a nap on his own couch once just for the fun of it. The way the "rock and roll" music is being lissected and analyzed is really some-Mrs. Harry Cashman and Linda Suffern, spent Thursday at the home of Mrs. Walter Senft. "Blue Suede Shoes" and said it meant that the teenagers were warning people thru the song not to hamper their independence. To a mother of a teenager that sounds like pure nonsense. We never lived through a "blue suede shoe" era but we did go through the "white buck shoe age in fact we are still in the midst of it and when the teens sing about not stepping on their shoes they mean just what they say for they hate pol-ishing shoes, although they would like to wear them spotless providing "mom" does the polishing—otherwise they wear them dirty. Why do they hate to polish shoes? Excuse me. . . . I think I will take a nap on the couch before I answer that. Well, Congress is up to its old tricks

-trying to squeeze another penny out of the letter writer. If they pass a law increasing the postal rates for first class mail it will just be another reason for reluctant letter-writers not to write at all. Personal letters are becoming the future collector's items they are becoming so rare. It is getting so bad that we look forward the first of the month when the bills come in just to get a letter. But we shouldn't complain for we are in the same rut ourselves. Instead of penning a line we just use the telephone.

According to one of the County papers a group of Carroll's citizens are interested in opening a private day school in Westminster. The school would, if sponsored by enough par-ents take in all grades from kinder-garten to High School. No county can have too many good schools and Car-roll County could no doubt support a private school, but education comes pretty high for the average family. It seems at times the cost of sending a boy or girl to public schools is too high for any low income families and even for average incomes. We wonder just how many parents would take advantage of a private school if it was available. Many parents may day with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cole and feel that public schooling is the democratic way that a child gains much in attending a public school that he misses by going to a private school. For one thing he meets all kinds and learns how to adjust to different environments. It may be though that if our lawmakers keep delaying action on aid to education the answer to the crisis confronting our public schools will be private

The menu in a hotel in Reyjavik, Iceland, was in English except for a line of Icelandic across the bottom. Curious, I asked the waiter what it meant. "Oh, that's Icelandic," he said, starting away.

"I know," I said, "but what does it mean?"

Reluctantly he translated, "Ten percent will be added to your check for service. No tipping, please."

Miss Shirley Rhoten, of Boring, Md., is spending this week with her grandmother, Mrs. George Rhoten.

Farming continues to be a dangerous occupation. Our neighbor, Samuel Keyton had several ribs broken last week while trying to educate a heifer to milkers. If the city consumer of milk could visit a barn and see the trouble and danger of placing milkers on a young cow for the first time the consumer wouldn't complain about paying the farmer a fair price for the milk. This month here at Merry Knoll 14 heifers were educated to milkers and some of them were de-termined not to be educated. It took a lot of patience and plenty of acro batic dexterity on the part of the teacher before the heifers changed their minds. In spite of T.V. and radio Americans still read books. Seventeen per cent of our population enjoy a good now and then which makes us the fourth readingest English speak ing nation. Great Britain is first with 55 per cent of her population liking books well enough to read them.

Ronnie Keyton is recovering from trip to Gettysburg hospital where ne had his tonsils removed, about a week ago.

We enjoy watching T.V. (at times) but John Crosby column commenting about the things he sees on the set is always enjoyable. He seems to have an utter contempt for much of the things he views and nine times out of ten one has to agree with what he writes. Two weeks ago he panned out the 65 thousand dollar question or rather the persons that answer the questions or try to. Hal March, however received a good word from Mr. Crosby. Anyone that watches the show knows that Mr. March makes the 64 thousand dollar question. Without him, it would just be another quiz program. The one fault of Mr. Crosby is that he thinks everything one does should have a purpose. He can't seem to understand that often one does things just for the enjoyment of doing them. Sometimes we feel that John didn't have much fun as a boy and no one has ever referred to him as Johnny.

Women have one thing in common and that is the desire to build their own particular dream house. Very few are ever able to realize their dream but most women can achieve a home out of any ordinary dwelling. That seems to be the one creative instinct born in every woman. Keep your heart open to receive

A HOT WARNING

It was the candidate's first great speech, and he wanted to make it tell, and wished to end with a warning. He could have couched his warning in the old proverb about locking the stable door after the horse was stolen, but that was too commonplace. He wanted something original. He quickly thought of something better. Then he should of something "Don't, fellow countrymen and citi-zens, I beg you-don't wait till the house takes fire before you summon the firemen."

TRAPPED!

Two ministers were walking along a country road. One of them took a cigar out of his pocket, lit it, and be-gan to smoke. Whereupon the other remarked, "Brother, I see you smoke. I am amazed at you. Do you know that it is a vile habit? Why, even a pig won't smoke." They walked on in silence for a few minutes and even a pig won't smoke." They walked on in silence for a few minutes and then the smoker said, "Brother, I've been thinking about what you said just now about a pig not smoking, and I infer that you mean to suggest some subtle resemblance between me and the pig. But, my dear brother, inas-much as you do not smoke it appears much as you do not smoke, it appears to me that there is a greater resem-blance between you and the pig than between me and the pig."

MORATORIUM

A Negro was walking down the street mumbling to himself, when he met his pastor.

ROBIN HOOD-MEET STEVE!

Steven Fisher (left) of Cheverly Manor, Md., meets Robin Hood, the beautiful thoroughbred pony at the Enchanted Forest, on Route 40, near Baltimore. Gordon Tittsworth is handling the pony.

Robin Hood will be awarded to the visitor who takes the most interesting black and white snapshot of any subject in the Forest during the summer, ending August 31. Weekly prizes of a box camera and film also go to the best black and white photo submitted each week. Judging is on the basis of originality and human inter-est, not on skill or finishing, and color snapshots are not eligible.

The Enchanted Forest has just opened a large snack bar and gift shop in "Robin Hood's Barn", a new feature located in the upper edge of the park, near its newly enlarged picnic and playground area. Another new attraction is the luscious-looking Gingerbread House, now open for catered parties.

"Children", from 3 to 83, are always returning to the story-book land where fairy tales come true . . . the amazing Enchanted Forest.

Through 4-H projects and ac-tivities, club members in all 48 states are correcting hazards which are responsible for an annual toll of 14,000 lives and 1,200,000 serious injuries among farm residents, and an economic loss estimated to be a billionand-a-half dollars.

4-H'ers conduct surveys to locate hazards, and then correct unsafe conditions. They present demonstrations on a wide variety of topics pertaining to farm, home and highway safety, and members give talks over radio and television and before group meetings. In addition, club members build booths and displays for exhibiting at fairs and in pie belongs to you?

How much of this $40,000,000,000

• THIS YEAR is the 15th anniversary of U. S. Savings Bonds, the greatest financial success story the world has ever seen.

Since May, 1941, 40,000,000 Americans have saved $40,000,000,000 in Savings Bonds. That's an average of $1,000 per investor. Do you own your share?

If not, you're missing out on a real money-making opportunity. For every $1.00 invested in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds will pay you back $1.80 in 19 years and 8 months. What's more, every dollar invested in Savings Bonds is absolutely safe, not subject to market fluctuation. And every dollar invested in Bonds earns you 3% interest, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity (9 years and 8 mouths). Plus the same good interest rate for an additional 10 years, should you so desire.

Look ahead to the next 10 or 15 years and see what a regular investment in Savings Bonds will mean to you. A new home. A college education for your son. A retirement income.

You owe it to yourself to start investing in Savings Bonds today - either on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or at your bank. The bigger the slice of this $40,000,000,000 pie that is yours - the better off you'll be.

what is so But from the standpoint of this letter to the Hebrews, indeed from the standpoint of Jesus himself, accuracy of belief and completeness of understanding are not the last word in what makes a Christian. Faith, in the way the word meets us in the famous 11th chapter of Hebrews, is not voting "aye" to a set of propositions. Faith is doing something for man and God. It can be expressed in the slogan, "Expect great things from God; attempt great things for God." Faith of this rousing, robust kind is more than thinking, it is doing. It is thinking too; faith certainly is no substitute for thought. Reading the stories of the men and women the writer to the Hebrews lists in his roll-call of faith, one finds them planning ahead, working, fighting, never blindly but with the determination that comes from a thinking faith. Heroes think, plan, believe; but also heroes DO. It is the doing that makes them heroic. So the Great Company is a marching, fighting company, marching at God's orders, fighting God's war.

Supermen?

Thinking about such things, and such men, has put iron into the blood of many weaker men and women, struggling through their own battles on this earth. But it has a discouraging side, too. These men-Abraham, Moses, all the rest, and all the others that Christian history can name-these heroes of faith were supermen, we feel. Quite out of our class. In such a company, many a humble Christian feels like a boy who can't do simple arithmetic being elected by accident to a Mathematical Society, or a boy twelve years old suddenly finding himself in the middle of a football game between Notre Dame and Texas. It's embarrassing. But no-that is a mistake. The men named to that Roll-Call of Faith were not really supermen. Indeed some of them felt so small that they tried to resign before God elected them. By themselves they would have been no more remarkable 'than ourselves. For after all, it was not their faith, or their character, or their power, that made them; it was the God in whom they had that faith, who made them. And God still makes men!

after calving

If you're not feeding your dry cows a good dry cow ration, you'll probably help yourself two ways by feeding Purina D & F Chow for 60 days before calving.

1. Cows will be in better condition ... will calve and clean easier with less udder cake.

2. The extra condition will make up to 2,000 lbs. more milk per cow in the next lactation.

If you don't have grain, feed the complete D & F Chow. If you have oats, feed D & F Supplement half and half with ground oats

Why not it cost that cereal manufacturer to save that money, distribute it advertise his product? Much less among the poor and needy? than you think-only 3/10 of a cent . . .

Anyone who has given even a moment's thought to the process called American advertising can see how silly such arguments are. The fact is advertising does not cost money; it pays for itself.

This sounds like a paradox until you read its explanation. Which is this: By making mass production possible, advertising cuts the cost of everything you buy. Take a package of cereal, for instance. It costs 20 cents.

How much do you think it would cost you to produce and put on your breakfast table a cereal equal in nourishment and delicious taste? To begin with, you couldn't actually duplicate such a cereal, a better friend than-advertising.

per package. The advertising cost of other items is similarly low. To advertise a nationally-known brand of bread, for example, costs less than the wrapper costs. To advertise gasoline is less than 1/5 of a cent per gallon.

What it comes to is this: Every time you read the ads your newspaper, every time you buy in response to them, you are putting money into your pocket. First, you know what you are getting; second, you are getting it for less than you could if it were not advertised.

Borrowing Money Sometimes Wise Some Farmers Much Too Conservative

A Michigan State University farm economist says that borrowing money to buy fertilizer and other profit-building production items can be good business in the present farm cost-price squeeze. John Doneth, of the university's agricultural economics staff, says many farmers are too conservative about the use of credit. Some farmers, he reports, are using makeshift operations when they are actually in position to get a loan and go on to bigger and more efficient operations.

Credit is playing an ever-increasingly important role in farm production, yet some economic experts believe the average farmer exercises too much caution in carrying on makeshift operations rather than borrow money needed to establish a profit-building production system. Being too conservative is as faulty a policy as overestimating future income or underestimating expenses.

He cites the case of one Michigan farmer who has greatly increased his profits the past several years by going into debt to buy fertilizer.

Three years ago, says Doneth, this farmer spent only $500 for fertilizer on 250 acres of crop land. Soil tests indicated this was not enough.

The farmer doubled his use of plant food the following year. Then last year, he spent $2,000 of borrowed money for fertilizer. This investment not only paid for itself but gave extra returns per acre.

Doneth suggests these precaution, however, for farmers considering the use of more credit: 1-Don't overestimate your future income; 2-Don't underestimate your expenses; 3-Make sure you allow enough leeway for poor crop years and low prices.

Industry's New Wonder Batiery Is Button-Size

ELGIN, Ill. - Industry has claimed development of a buttonsize, expandable battery, said to be the first ever made that will not leak, swell or gas.

It is believed the new "microcell" will open up vast new possibilities in providing a highly dependable source of electrical energy for hearing aids and other small, portable, personal devices, and that it will probably have important military and industrial applications.

The present cell, made for an electronic watch now under development, is so small it occupies about the volume of a penny, yet packs enough energy to operate specialized minature devices at virtually constant voltage for two years. This is at least 25 per cent more capacity than any other comparable sealed battery yet developed.

Moreover, the battery is claimed to allow high current drainage without danger of "polarization," a commonplace chemical action in most cells whereby energy is blocked and the voltage drops suddenly.

A. P. Barton, general manager of Elgin National Watch Company's electronics division said that unlike other batteries the new cell has maintained full strength without deterioration in storage tests running more than a year thus far.

Secret of the development, he explained, is the use of indium as an anode. This is a soft, silvery metal whose value as a battery element had not previously been discovered.

Geiger Counter From Car Radio

LOS ANGELES-You can convert your car radio into a Geiger counter with the addition of a few pieces of inexpensive equipment.

So says Frank C. Strebe of the Atomic Energy Project on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, who has assembled such a unit.

The equipment consists of a Geiger-Mueller tube and a few associated components, and can be purchased for approximately $30. However, an expert technican is required to assemble and install it properly.

Radiation is indicated in two ways: (1) by telltale clicks on the speaker of the car radio, or (2) by the movement of a needle on a dashboard-mounted meter. In normal driving, a motorist would probably listen to the speaker. In case of atomic warfare, the speaker could be used to receive instructions from civil defense auTHE CARROLL RECORD, TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND

In an effort to further expand and speed up dairy research, the University of Minnesota Dairy Department is seeking additional identical twin and triplet calves of good dairy breeding.

By using identical twins and triplets the University is able to carry on more experiments with fewer animals. One pair of identical twins, for example, will give as much valuable information as 20 ordinary cattle and one pair of identical triplets as much as 60 ordinary cattle.

Since Minnesota introduced this research method to the U.S. in 1947, 7 sets of triplets and 89 sets of identical twins have been used.

Dairymen having identical twins or triplets man contact the Dairy Husbandry Department, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul. They should include information on date of birth, sex and breed. The University will purchase either grades or purebreds.

Strong Toes Save Man Falling From Roof

BOSTON - George A. Lacasse, 26, owes his life to strong toes and the sound of falling gravel.

Neighbors investigating a strange noise early in the morning found Lacasse suspended by his toes from the roof of a fivestory apartment.

Police arrived on the scene and Lacasse was pulled onto the top of the roof seconds before he collasped from exhaustion and shock.

Lacasse said he went up to the roof for some fresh air, but stumbled and slid down the slope. He broke his fall by holding onto the edge by his feet.

Captured Eagle Proves Bothersome Guest

ARCHER, Neb. - Kenketh and Dick Luebbe and Stanley Sinsel captured a bald eagle with a lasso after it was wounded. Then their troubles began.

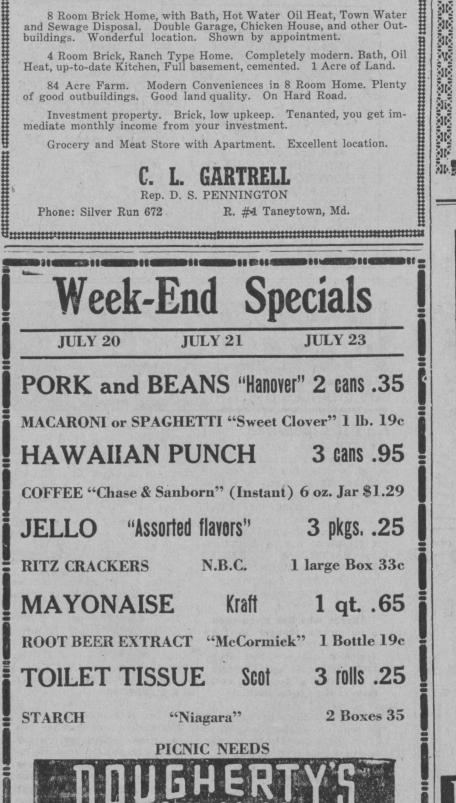

The boys found they couldn't keep up with eagle's rabbit-a-day appetite, couldn't kill it because of a $1,000 fine imposed to protect the prototype of the national emblem, and couldn't let it go because it would prey on small farm animals.

Nebraska's Game Commission finally took the bird for zoo purposes.

True Bravery

LONG BEACH, N. Y .- Patrolman William Miller is a brave man. While walking his beat along the beachfront, he saw his wife, Joanne, park the family car and hurry off to go swimming with their children. He put a ticket on the car, since she had parked right in the middle of a restricted zone.

"She's going to pay the fine too," Miller declared.
