"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

The trees are putting on their dresses of red and gold and it is Autumn again—the delightful time of the year. The grand plant of Gardenia, I have placed on the kitchen table and there are many buds. The delightful Mums are plentiful of a lovely shade of orchid and add much to the decoration of each room. Many persons, I have heard say, "Autumn is so sad, how could you say it is beautiful?" All seasons have their type of beauty and especially when it is so colorful. It is true it does not last long when it all arrives but we can appreciate while it lasts!

Purchasing the book, "The Heart Has its Reasons" by The Duchess of Windsor and reading several of the chapters made me read on. It is truly the love story of our time and especially of the lady born and reared in Maryland. It is memoirs of history and will delight every reader. There are 32 photographs throughout the book and one especially did I admire was the grandmother of the Duchess! The book starts out with her Baltimore childhood, her school days and the first marriage to the World's most fascinating Aviator. Such Chapters as "I Meet the Prince" and much more will hold your interest from start to finish.

You realize and are convinced that that nice Duke of Windsor was always most independent and never desired to sit on the throne—and that he adored America and Americans! You will appreciate the Duchess so much more and make you stop wondering, "Why?"

This book will be a delightful gift for any lady or gentleman. Don't miss it! Many times we hear an individual say, "That marriage of Grace Kelley and the Prince will not last!" Your Observer will be surprised if it does not for many reasons!

Halloween will be upon us shortly. Why not plan a grand party? Refreshments need not be so extravagant. It is the dressing and games that are so delightful and puts everyone in such a gay mood.

Ladies, much purple is to be worn this winter in coats, afternoon and evening dresses plus the Chapeau! It is always a charming color.

Philadelphia and New York are showing strings of large pearls and one string after another around your throat.

Pointed shoes are positively in and although many ladies may object, they must learn to like it. I have always thought they added oomph to the feet of any lady! Very large bags are being carried and not so much of the alligator as in previous years. A number of the hats are shaped as in the 1920's.

Mrs. Housekeeper, the old-fashioned lace curtain is back again and just as beautiful as yesterday. I have been told that they are really selling fast.

Many restaurants now are serving the crab filled shrimp and that is one of my favorite sea-food dishes. Mmmmmmmmmmm good!

Awaiting to see a patient in the accident ward the other night, a nurse was carrying a little baby from the delivery room to the Maternity and the young father stood next to me as the nurse was crossing the hall. Never will I forget that young father's expression as he looked at his "first born" and never have I seen a little baby just delivered! Precious was the word! Life is wonderful!

All the stores are having Anniversary sales so now is the grand time to shop but be sure and put on the most comfortable shoes you own.

If by chance you are going to have a very special guest in the near future, why not dine in "The Court-yard" in the May Co.? Upon entering you see the ivy covered Trellis, the old carriage lamps and the real colorful flagstone floor. In one corner there is the old-fashioned Philadelphia lamp post (no doubt, Baltimore, too) for on it there is, "Howard Street!" The atmosphere was so quaint with the old store windows and stores of yesterday which stood in Baltimore and many of the Oldsters will recall the names. Brooches, jewelry, Nake's Confectionary successor to Wedde's, 133 Asquith Street, Old Town Apothecary, (just as they looked in Philadelphia years ago) as a drug store was a drug store those days and not a department store.

There is a Barber shop pole 'n' everything, A Dry Goods Store, a Millinery shop where hats were really hats and all made by hand, the John Pickersgill printer selling fine stationary and calling cards, too. The little old fashioned two story home.

You will enjoy the entire atmosphere as you dine of the days of long ago! Betcha, Ladies due to those lace curtains—there will be many certain stretchers sold or you may still have yours up in the attic.

So long, Folks until next week D.V. Have a grand week-end and be most careful when you drive. I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

GET OUT THE VOTE!

Every election year at about this time "Get Out the Vote" campaigns swing into high gear throughout the country. It's a rare citizen indeed who doesn't read and hear that voting is both a privilege and a duty, incumbent upon us all.

This year a nation-wide campaign to persuade people to vote is under way - and it goes a long step farther. The American Heritage Foundation, aided by some 130 cooperating organizations representing groups as varied as business executives, union members, actors, lawyers and many others, has come up with this slogan: "Vote - But Don't Vote in the Dark!" William Hard, writing in The Reader's Digest, tells the story under the striking title: "Register! Inform Yourself! Vote!" And the big emphasis is on those two words, "Inform Yourself!" Anyone can mark an X on a ballot or pull the handle of a voting machine. But it takes some extra effort to vote intelligently, with full knowledge of just what the competing candidates stand for.

There is no doubt that intensive campaigns such as the American Heritage Foundation is conducting do bring out the vote. The Foundation waged its first national campaign in 1952, and 63 percent of eligible voters made their choices known, as against 51 percent in 1948. In 1954 the Foundation was busy with other matters and did not conduct a campaign - and the percentage dropped to 52 percent.

Mr. Hard observes that compulsory voting laws are sometimes urged for this country. In countries where failure to vote brings a fine - Belgium and Australia - the turnout customarily runs around 95 percent. But it is obvious that forcing a man to vote does not and cannot make him an informed or thoughtful voter. Also, as Mr. Hard writes, "Legislation to compel the exercise of liberty is a denial of liberty."

Moreover, Europe teaches us that compulsion is not necessary. In recent elections in a lengthy list of non-compulsion countries the turnout ranged from 77 percent in Britain to an amazing 96 percent in Austria. As General Gruenther, head of NATO, wrote the Foundation: "Although I never cease to be proud of being an American, I have been impressed during my five years in Europe by the high percentage of Europeans who go to the polls to vote. Their record is better than ours in this all-important matter of individual participation in government."

From now until election day you will be bombarded with appeals to vote - even loudspeakers at scores of ballparks will broadcast the message.

Finally, Mr. Hard observes that our responsibility as a great world leader demands "that we must read, we must listen, we must study, we must think - and then say at the polls what kind of country and what kind of world we want." - Industrial News Review

KNOW WHAT YOU'RE VOTING FOR

Town Journal has a high regard for the intelligence of the American electorate. The magazine says editorially: "We believe that plenty of politicians bark up the wrong trees when they appeal solely to the immediate self-interest of voters. The great majority of Americans have the common sense to know that 'government money' all comes from somebody's taxes. They know, even though they may not think about it every day, that individual liberty is too precious to be traded for temporary federal favors."

Then Town Journal lists some of the great issues that face the nation:

today: "Is the federal power to be entrenched further with less remaining to state and local governments? Are we following the right policies for assuring peace? What course of action will best improve agriculture's prosperity? How can the cause of 'civil rights' be advanced without aggravating racial tensions? Can government do more to harmonize the common interests of agriculture, labor, industry and consumers? Can spending be reduced, taxes lowered, and payments made on the national debt? Shall the federal government assume new responsibilities in education?"

It is the duty of candidates for high office to make their positions clear on such vital questions as these. It is the duty of the voters to carefully evaluate those positions before marking their ballots. This is not a partisan matter. There are men in both parties whose over-riding goal is to maintain a government which is the servant, not the master, of the people. And there are men in both parties who have succumbed to the lure of all-powerful government - the kind of government which must ultimately destroy human freedom.

Vote! But before you do that, know what you're voting for. E.H.&S

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

SANTA PAULA, CALIF., DAILY CHRONICLE: "The round of labor strikes, settled invariably by granting higher wages, in several major industries has only fed inflation. The big steel strike laid the foundation, as predicted, and with its settlement, new price increases in iron and steel products were immediately announced. Aluminum followed steel, with more increased prices. There is no known way yet devised to increase costs without price increases, so we travel in a circle."

JUNCTION CITY, ORE., TIMES: "Voting is more than just a privilege of our citizens—it's a duty and an obligation. And that's something to remember in these coming pre-election days. As individuals, we don't owe anything to these politicians—our obligation is to secure the highest type of good government, at local, state and national level."

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY., JEFFERSONIAN: "Men and women willing to stem the tide of over-spending should not only be encouraged to run for public office, but should be militantly supported once they decide to make the sacrifice. And a sacrifice is what it really means, to oppose well organized pressure groups that are willing to make demands for legislation for their benefit at the expense of the general taxpaying public."

DUBLIN, GA., COURIER-HERALD: "Perhaps government should not be operated as a business, but there are certain principles of economics that ought to be considered in the operation of any division of government. One principle is that when the outgo exceeds the income, something serious is bound to happen."

FALL MEETING OF DAR

Mrs. Wesley A. Pickens, Regent of the William Winchester Chapter D. A. R., conducted the first fall meeting of the chapter on Friday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Nicholas Metcalfe, New Windsor. The meeting was opened with a prayer by the chaplain followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, led by Mrs. Arthur G. Turner, State President of the Maryland State Society C. A. R. The minutes of the May meeting were read by Mrs. Frank T. Parish, Rec. Secretary and Mrs. Harry C. Reese, Jr., gave the treasurers report. National Defense news from the D. A. R. magazine was presented by Mrs. Parish.

Mrs. James Marsh was appointed chairman of the Budget Committee which includes: Mrs. Harry C. Reese, Jr., Mrs. Frank T. Parish and Mrs. Wesley A. Pickens. Mrs. Allen Feeser presented her resignation as chairman of the Good Citizens Committee and Mrs. Samuel L. Bare, Jr., has been appointed to fill this vacancy. It is under this committee that the Good Citizen contest is conducted in the senior high schools throughout the county. Under Mrs. Feeser's guidance these annual competitive contests have been both interesting and stimulating. A senior from Robert Motor school will be included in the Good Citizen Contest this year. Mrs. Edgar G. Barnes reported on the State Chairman's Meeting at Washington College, in September. The place of meeting was one of particular interest this year due to the celebration of Chestertown's 250th birthday. Mrs. Arthur G. Turner, State President, C. A. R., reported on the C. A. R. dance in Cadoa Hall in Baltimore.

Mrs. Wilbur Shreeve, Chr. of Approved Schools asked that member bring clothing and other articles for the school to her by November 15th. Christmas gifts should be brought to the December meeting. "Not Gift Wrapped." Mrs. Robert Gist, Chairman of American Indians Committee asked that the articles for St. Mary's School for Indian Girls be sent to her by November 15th.

Miss M. Louise Matthews, Chaplain conducted memorial services for two deceased members, Mrs. Lyman D. Oberlin and Mrs. Arthur S. Kidwell.

SHORT STORY

Little Larceny

By H. N. Ferguson

OLD John Bronski's disposition matched the weather as he made his way down the street this June morning. Scudding black clouds were shooting occasional bursts of rain at the earth as they passed overhead.

If someone had asked Old John what was wrong he probably couldn't have told them. Maybe it stemmed from the verbal going over his wife, Molly, had given him a few moments before. She had her heart set on a new living room suite and he just couldn't afford to buy it. He had beat a hasty retreat to escape her barbed remarks.

For thirty years Old John, who was a carpenter, had built houses for Amos Frisioe. In all that time he had never managed to get ahead not even a little bit. Didn't even own the house he and Molly lived in. It was enough to drive him into a black mood every time he allowed himself to think about other men he knew who were able to have nice homes, take trips and do all the things he could only dream about.

Mr. Frisioe had stopped by last night, bringing along the blueprints for a new house he wanted John to build.

"I'm going to have to be out of town for a couple of months or so," he had said. "You go ahead with the construction as usual John, while I'm gone. I've placed $12,000 in your account at the bank to buy materials."

Old John headed across the rain swept street to the lumber yard and placed an order for the items he wanted delivered to the building site the first of the week.

His black mood persisted over the weekend, aided by Molly's continued reminders of the living room suite.

By Monday morning he had made up his mind. Never before in his life had he done such a thing but this one time he was going to cut the corners on his construction. He would stick the difference in his pocket and no one would be the wiser.

He started with the concrete work for the foundation. By shorting the mixture a few bags of cement he saved money. The floor joists were set farther apart than they should have been and an inferior grade of timber was used. This netted a profit both in the cheaper cost and in the fewer pieces required. But who would ever know the difference? In every way he could think of during the days of construction he either omitted things entirely or used inferior quality material. Everything that was unseen in the building was unseen in the building was shoddy stuff.

Finally the house was completed and the slipshod workmanship and second-rate materials were camouflaged with a coating of cheap paint.

It was a beautiful house when the workmen were all done. No one, looking at it, would suspect that it was anything but a perfectly built house.

A couple of night after the house was finished Old John and Molly were sitting in their living room when they heard a knock at the door. Molly opened it and in walked Mr. Frisioe.

He was in high good humor and shook John warmly by the hand. "Just got back today," he said. "See you got the house finished, John. Everything go all right?"

"Reckon so," replied John brusquely. "Well," boomed Mr. Frisioe, jovially, "I've got to be running along. Just wanted to stop by for a minute." He turned toward the door. "Oh, by the way," he said, pausing. "I've got something for you." He pulled an envelope from his pocket and handed it to John. "What's this?" inquired Old John suspiciously.

"It's this way, John," said Mr. Frisioe, serious now. "You've worked for me for thirty years. Always done a good job, too. I've wanted to do something for you to show my appreciation, and this is it. In that envelope you'll find a deed to the house you just built. It's all yours."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Stevenson's Thoughtlessness

To the Editor of The Carroll Record:

Mr. Stevenson, recognizing the fact that practically all of us earnestly desire and hope for the time when all of the nations of the world can lay down their arms and live in peace, is attempting to gain votes by proposing that we discontinue the draft and the development of the H-Bomb. This sounds very good, if that were possible. But Mr. Stevenson apparently has forgotten that, before this campaign ever started, President Eisenhower made an earnest appeal to the nations of the world for disarmament, but that appeal was rejected by Communist Russia, who is today fully armed and is actively engaged in the development of the H-Bomb.

Surely, Mr. Stevenson does not want to make the people of the United States the helpless victims of a people whom the Congress of the United States has declared to be dedicated, "to the proposition that the present constitutional Government of the United States ultimately must be brought to ruin by any available means, including resort to force and violence."

While other nations are armed, is it not better for us to observe the advice of George Washington that the best way to preserve peace is to be prepared for war.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Rev. E. C. B. Castle, pastor of the Taneytown U. B. charge, has been assigned to Mechanicsburg, Pa., and will be succeeded by Rev. J. E. B. Rice. Mr. Castle and family have made many warm friends while here, who will be sorry to learn of their going into another field. Although the transfer to Mechanicsburg is decidedly in the nature of promotion, it was entirely unsought and therefore stands as a compliment to Rev. Castle's ability as preacher and pastor. There is but one large congregation to serve, the salary is liberal, and the educational advantages of the town are first-class. The family will remove from Taneytown, next week, and Rev. Rice will move here at once.

THINGS I REMEMBER

When I was a lad, the "tallow candle" furnished light
For all kinds of labor done by night;
And, even fifteen years later, up on the farm,
It gave to the kitchen table its charm.

People were slow in those early days—
Before the advent of buggies and sleighs;
Either on foot or horseback they went—
Many a whole life, in that way, was spent.

Even money did not come till 1839,
But, when it did, people thought it was fine;
I still have two notes issued at that time,
One for a quarter, the other for a dime.

The Lucifer match was a great innovation;
Its fame spread quickly all over the nation;
For years and years the candle furnished light;
It was the only lubricant at night.

We got the kerosene lamp in 1868;
It, too, many persons seemed to elate;
Some, it was said, could not wait till night
To light the wick and make the home bright.

The horse and buggy, many persons say,
Changed country life in every way;
In every farm-yard a buggy would stand,
And, gold-mounted harness was the talk of the land.

They had beautiful horses in those days
When people traveled in buggies and sleighs;
Five hundred used to buy the rigs
In which the boys took the girls to jigs.

But, eight years later, up in Philadelphia, in 1876,
A new horizon men started to fix;
They raised the old one many miles high,
And a new panorama greeted each eye.

That event took place 80 years ago—
(What it did for America, we all know!)
Right on its heels things started to go,
And all of her cities began to grow.

Old Horace Greeley, along with the rest,
Shouted: "Young men! Young men, go west!
They took his advice; and today they say,
The West is a model in every way.

For 100 years this great land of ours
Was more or less subject to all the powers;
But, the flourishing East and golden West,
Of all other nations, have made her the best.

From 1874 to 1914, this wonderland of ours
Grew to be the mightiest of all the powers,
Because it is a part of God's great plan
To make it a model home for man.

To-day, no matter where you may go,
Except for road markings, we do not know
If we are in Pennsylvania or Maryland;
Just so, you find it on every hand.

And, on no other spot do you see the faces
Of the people of so many different races.
A modern "tower of Babel" she seems to be;
For, into her, all peoples yearly flee.

Some come here to get rich and be free
But that is not the only reason they flee;
Here all peoples are taught to know
How to serve God, and the right way to go.

Some ask: "Why did God hide this wonderland of ours
With its silver and gold, and beautiful flowers?"
Why He did it, it is not hard to see:
It is a "City of Refuge" for His great family.

God knew what it is to be an emigrant;
As a boy, many years in Egypt, He spent;
So He made this Great El Dorado—"The land of the free"
A refuge for all who tyranny flee.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test
on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B.C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES:

New 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 is standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.

SHOEMAKER REUNION

The fourth annual Shoemaker reunion was held in the Harney Recreation Center on Sunday with forty members present.

Following lunch, a short business meeting was conducted by President James Bushey. Historian, Emmitt Shank, gave a short resume on history of the Shoemaker family. It is hoped that more history will be secured and presented next year, when the group will reunite, on the second Sunday of October at the same place.

The same officers were re-elected to serve. The group enjoyed the following entertainment: a vocal selection by the Hull sisters from Westminster; John Ridinger showed and narrated slides on Japan; clarinet duet by Laura and Stuart Dorn and several piano solos by Elizabeth Ann Hull.

After refreshments of ice cream and cake the group disbanded. Those in attendance were from Baltimore, Sykesville, Westminster, Damascus, and Harney.

THOUGHTS FOR THOUGHT

One's inner world and outer world are really not alien in character.

Habits woven by convention are not always to the best interest of the individual.

Friendship developed through many years, some will sacrifice on account of greediness.

Every well-regulated life is produced and maintained by observing certain discipline.

Every man is the leading character in the cast of his life's drama.

Man must guard himself lest his life be molded wholly by his environment.

Rewards without merit make for lack of feeling of responsibility.

Ever giving without requiring tends to delinquency, and kills the will to do.

The person who slings mud dirties his own hands.

To enjoy the feeling of usefulness leads to a happy life.

The Department of Defense cannot guarantee the security that moral strength offers.

Too many people in America feel comfortable in idleness.

FORD TRUCKS COST LESS

...less to own...less to run...last longer, too!

Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value: what you get and what it costs. You'll like what you see.

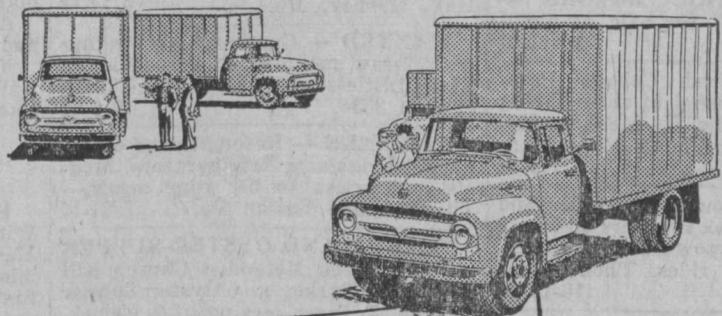

Look at the costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Ford's Short Stroke engines are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life. And a 10-million truck study proves Ford trucks last longer.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more for your money in a Ford. For example, only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power in every truck, V-8 or Six. Sodium-cooled exhaust valves in Heavy Duty engines run up to 225° cooler, last longer. More comfort with a Driverized Cab. More safety with Ford's exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully... consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.

The Paths of God

Lesson for October 28, 1956

WITH a poem, the best thing to do is not to listen to a professor analyzing it. This may be of some help if the poem is an obscure one. But where the words are simple, you don't need a professor. What you need to do is to listen to someone read it who knows how to read and who loves poetry, or to read it aloud to yourself, for poetry is not intended for the eye but for the ear. Let the poem itself speak to you. If it is not too long, let it literally become a part of you.

Dr. Foreman

God the Shepherd

No commentary can improve on it, and this column does not pretend to do anything but set down a footnote or two to an inspired masterpiece. The first footnote is on this picture of God as a Shepherd. One thing this brings out is the vast difference between God and ourselves. The shepherd can get along by himself; the sheep cannot. The sheep knows only what is just a few feet in front of him. He has a poor memory and very poor judgment. The Shepherd has to think ahead all the time. There are notions of religion that speak of God as the "man upstairs" and similar familiar expressions. There are notions about God that put him down on a sort of buddy-buddy basis with ourselves. How silly! Some people even think that if they just pray hard enough, that is, if they want something enough and keep nagging God long enough, he is bound to see it their way and let them have what they ask.

God Cares for Me

It has been found that one good way to read this Psalm is to read it aloud, emphasizing the personal pronouns. The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. . . I shall fear no evil, for Thou art with me. . . Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me. . . Religion has to be in the first person singular or it isn't real. You can go all your life knowing this Shepherd Psalm by heart, and thinking what a lovely picture this is, of God the Shepherd of his people. But then one day you make the psalm your own, not in mind only but in heart—the Lord is MY Shepherd!—and then it simply comes alive. It helps, too, to remember the difference between a shepherd in David's time (and still, in that country) and a sheep-herder today. A farmer, in Kentucky for instance, who raises sheep just has them in a big pasture well fenced in. He has to keep his eye on them, all right, but then he can go to town or do other things. In a big green pasture a sheep can't do itself too much damage. But in Palestine, with no big green pasture, only little narrow strips of green along creek beds in rocky ravines, with jackals and other animals all ways on the prowl on the wild unfenced hillsides, the shepherd simply has to be there protecting and guiding each sheep personally or they will be ruined. So God the Shepherd cares for me, individually, he protects me, fights for me, he does not intend that I should be lost.

The Paths of God

Some kinds of religion, even some kinds of the Christian religion, think of God as living in some sublime heaven, watching man as he toils along his low and winding trail. The picture in this beloved Psalm is quite different. The Shepherd travels with his sheep, from one pasture to another. When one stream or water hole dries up, the Shepherd knows where another is, and leads the flock there. So the Bible reveals to us a God who, hard as this may be to believe, actually shares our afflictions, is close beside us at every step. So the paths the flock of God follow are his paths, not because he laid them out but because they are the paths where he goes. They are not easy. The peace of God is not freedom from danger. The paths of God go by cliffs where falling rocks threaten; they lead to springs and streams that will die in summer's heat, they descend among the shadows of death, they are within sight of God's enemies and ours. But since they are God's paths, we walk secure, knowing His choice is always best.

"It is true what they say about Georgie"

GOVERNOR WM. PRESTON LANE, JR. (DEM.)

(In Full Page Ad in "SUN", Sept. 10, 1950)

"Mahoney sent one of his gumshoe investigators down to the Eastern Shore Hospital and had him take some phony pictures. One showed a man drinking out of a tin cup. But what he didn't show you was that the picture was cut so as not to show the dispenser of paper cups less than a foot away! 'Another picture showed what they said were flies all over a ham. There were no flies there; the picture had been retouched. And, what do you think the little black specks were? CLOVES!'"

REPRESENTATIVE LANSDALE G. SASSER (DEM.)

(Baltimore Sun, May 8, 1952)

"I think it is time that Mr. Mahoney's tactics be exposed for what they are—a complete fraud and a hoax. In the first place, he has hired professional performers to dramatize events which never happened, just to delude television audiences. These actors tell a story about housing in St. Mary's County, using photographs taken at Great Mills, and telling the public they were taken at Lexington Park."

(Baltimore Sun, May 5, 1952)

Sasser said that the pattern of Mahoney's campaign had been "vilification, innuendoes and statements uttered without any regard for truth, accuracy or fairness . . ."

E. BROOKE LEE (DEMOCRAT)

(Baltimore SUN, June 22, 1954)

Lee said, "The advertising boys always built up Mahoney as a fighting man. Some 500,000 Maryland men managed to get into World Wars I and II. Mahoney was old enough for the first and young enough for the second and also rich enough to serve without hardship in the second. Yet Fighting George did not connect with either World War. He just took no notice of either. Now the publicity boys have a veterans committee working for this phony Mahoney."

DR. "CURLEY" BYRD (DEM.)

(Baltimore SUN, June 17, 1954)

Dr. Byrd called George P. Mahoney a "political character assassin" who "twists up and misrepresents" facts.

(Baltimore SUN, June 23, 1956)

Dr. Byrd accused Mahoney of using "misrepresentation" and "political trickery" with the race question. He said that Mahoney is "preaching the doctrine" to Negroes in Baltimore that he (Dr. Byrd) is prejudiced against the Negro race. He added that Mahoney supporters mailed out literature to five rural counties, purporting to show that he (Dr. Byrd) is "working too strongly for Negroes."

(Baltimore Sun, June 25, 1954)

Dr. Byrd added that it is impossible in a fight with Mr. Mahoney to "discuss the real problems of Maryland's state government because he and his advisors seem convinced that his best chance—perhaps his only one—is to indulge in mud-slinging and smears and downright misrepresentation."

MAYOR THOMAS D'ALESSANDRO (Democrat)

(Baltimore SUN, May 1, 1952)

Mayor D'Alessandro told members of the Young Men's Bohemian Democratic Club that George P. Mahoney is a "party wrecker". He said that Mahoney "is trying to wreck the Democratic Party". He accused Mahoney of trying to smear Representative Sasser. He said that Mahoney had padded the Office of Price Administration "with four of his relatives", and was using it for political purposes.

BALTIMORE "SUN" (Editorial, April 29, 1956)

" . . . But in all of these years of persistent politicking he (Mr. Mahoney) has failed to offer a single valid reason why he should represent this State in the United States Senate, or any indication that he has the capacity to cope with the fateful issues which that body must deal with. Such comments as he has made from time to time on public questions have carried no conviction, nor even given the impression that he knows what he is talking about."

BALTIMORE "SUN" EDITORIAL (August 23, 1956)

"Mr. Mahoney, so far as the public record is concerned, is devoid of political principles and in no way equal to the demands of the position of Senator."

BUT--Maryland points with pride to Sen. Butler's Record

"John Marshall Butler has been consistently attentive to his duties as a Senator of the United States, and constantly aware of his obligations to the State of Maryland and its citizens. While well-versed in the broad fields of national and international affairs, he never has lost sight of the opportunities to advance the proper interests of Maryland. As a member of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, he is in an advantageous position to give the best possible representation to this maritime State. He has used this advantage wisely and effectively.

In the interests of our great harbor facilities, the future of Friendship International Airport, our overland commerce by rail and highway, the general economy of this rapidly growing State and the prosperity of all its citizens, the people of Maryland will serve themselves best by re-electing Senator John Marshall Butler.

QUESTIONS

For Against
Question No. 1

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

A constitutional amendment which proposes that Councils of Counties having a charter form of government, instead of sitting not more than one month in a year for the enacting of legislation, shall have the right to sit not more than 45 days, which need not be consecutive, and legislation may be enacted during those designated days.

For Against
Question No. 2

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

A constitutional amendment which proposes to change the present method of introduction of bills in the General Assembly. The present law contemplates that during the last 10 days of the session bills may originate in either House here. The proposed change would limit the introduction of bills, under the same voting rules, during the last 10 calendar days of even-numbered year 30-day sessions and the last 20 calendar days of odd-numbered year 30-day sessions.

For Against
Question No. 3

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

A constitutional amendment which proposes to change the Constitution's method of confirming or rejecting gubernatorial appointments made while the Senate is recessed, from the present system of submitting such recess appointments to the Senate within thirty days after the next meeting of the Legislature to a system whereby the recess appointments are submitted to the Senate for adoption or rejection on the first day of the next regular session of the Senate.

For Against
Question No. 4

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

A constitutional amendment which proposes to change budget procedure which now provides for the Governor to submit the budget to the General Assembly within twenty days after its session, but allows a newly elected Governor thirty days for such budget submission. The amendment, if approved, would remove the exception for newly elected Governors and cause the twenty-day provision for odd-numbered years to apply to all Governors.

For Against
Question No. 5

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

An Act to propose amendments to or repeal certain sections of the Constitution of Maryland, to wit: "Elective Franchising"; "Executive Department"; "Judiciary Department"; "General and State's Attorneys"; "Public Works"; "Recreation"; "Constitution"; "Questioning"; "Labor and Military Affairs"; "Labor and Culture"; removing from the State Constitution, and no-named

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run... Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah... it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

We wanted them to prove to you—in action—the stamina and performance we had built into them. No words of ours could speak with equal conviction.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world... a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

We feel that by their deeds, you shall know the '57 Ford cars. Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy... and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car—buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

goes
First.
