Mr. Davidson, our supply pastor, showed slides and movies of his missionary work in Alaska, and in his very able manner related many of his harrowing experiences while there. He told us how it is necessary to walk four or five days, to reach many of the homes of these people. There are no roads, just a path, and it is not unusual to be confronted by a bear weighing 12 or 15 hundred lbs. They must take with them, all their requirements while away from the mission school. This means carrying a pack, weighing 100 lbs or more; the food is carried in a pouch around the waist which consists of sea weed, and dried bear meat. "The sea weed you may chew on for hours, and believe it or not, you learn to like it."

Mr. Davidson showed the Indian. The honorary totem poles, and what they mean to the Indian. The honorary totem poles, are erected to pay tribute, to tosse who have shared their fortune with the rest of the tribe. There is also the totem pole of ridicule, for example, Mr. Davidson said, three young girls, deserted the tribe, and was gone possibly a year or more, and returned immediately, they erected a pole with three frogs perched on top as a reminder of the disgrace, they brought upon their tribe.

He also had a display of articles which he brought back from Alaska, and in his yeers with the properties of Christ's birth from 1s. 1906 in the properties of the tribe. ### A PART OF CHRISTMAS

Holly branches are part of the Christmas scene. Even before there was a Christmas the ancient Romans found that the shiny, prickly green leaves and red berries of the holly tree were ideal as festive adornment for the halls where they celebrated their feasts of Saturnalia.

Holly came to be considered sacred by many because its beauty was greatest at a time when most other trees were barren. Evil spirits and witches hold powerful sway in the legends and folklore of all peoples and they account for holly's present position as a doorway decoration. It was placed over entryways and windows in the belief that its thorns would ward off these unwanted visitors. Regardless of legendary spirits, one thing is sure, Christmas holly is here to stay as an expression of the friendliness, good will and joy of the season .-Industrial News Review.

The exciting Ford Fairlane 500 Club Victoria (above)-over 17 feet long-is one of two new, bigger Ford sizes this year.

If you think it looks new. wait till you drive it!

... For there's where Ford's newness really pays off

...in melting mountains...in smoothing the bumps

...in straightening the curves

You can see that Ford's longer, lower Sculptured Look makes other cars look downright old-fashioned. But the part you can't see-the new "Inner Ford"-is what shows its stuff when you drive a Ford. It's revolutionary from the wheels up! And it feels it.

Ford's wider frame lets you sit sweet and low. It lets Ford hug the roads because of its lower center of gravity. And Ford's new front suspension, rear springs and new easy handling are part of the scheme to make you think every road is cloud-smooth.

The magic touch of the new Ford power plants makes mountains disappear. What looks like uphill feels like downhill. You get this surging power in a wide choice of new Silver Anniversary V-8 engines. Or you can choose Ford's new, more economical Mileage Maker Six, the most powerful Six ever offered in the low-price field.

There's magic in Ford's price tag, too! You won't believe this big new Ford is still priced Ford-low. But it is. Come in and test the magic of the new kind of Ford. It's a real "Wizard of Ah-h-h-h's!"

Vhat's it Got that Everyone's After?

WE figured folks would go for the '57 Buick and big.

But we sure didn't figure this-the most rousing reception we've ever seen in all our years of selling new Buicks.

We're getting more enthusiastic talk - along with the signed orders-than ever before. And, neighbor, if you want to know why - listen:

This '57 Buick has that sleek low-sweep styling that today's moderns want - and it's here in extra-long measure, in the lowest Buick yet.

It has the room they want - for Buick's new wide-frame chassis permits a sports-car silhouette with more interior roominess than even last year's spacious Buicks.

It has newness everywhere, and newness that's wanted ...

A smart new panoramic windshield. The surety of a new "nested" ride. A brilliant new handling and levelized braking that come of an ingenious new ball-joint suspension. It even has a new Safety-Minder* that watches your miles-perhour for you.

But even more important, this rakish sweep of automobile has a new kind of instant responseand that's the biggest reason for the soaring popularity of the newest Buick yet.

For here is performance-smooth as spun silkunleashed by a totally new V8 engine 364 cubic inches big, and with the highest compression, torque and horsepower in Buick annals.

And here, to deliver that might, is the powerpitch action of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.* A Dynaflow of such instantaneous obedience, such smooth and versatile control in "Drive" - the need for "Low" is virtually ended.

In all truth, you've never bossed a car so keenly alive, so smooth in motion, so solid in feel. It's ahead of its time, ahead of the industry-even ahead of your great expectations.

Come check up on all this. Come drive this shoulder-high sweetheart-today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century-optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Minder standard on Roadmaster, optional other Series.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Morelock are happy over the arrival of a little grandson, Jay Robert, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waddell, Sunday night at the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. Jerry Waddell is spending this week with his grandparents pa-tiently awaiting the arrival of his new baby brother home. What is more lovely than a new baby in the home at Christmas.

Regular services at Baust E & R Church this Sunday: Church School, at 9:30; Morning Worship at 10:30. Christmas pageant in the evening at 7:30, entitled "O Come Let us Adore Him". Rev. M. S. Reifsnider, week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Black were happy to have their son Sp2 Charles F. Black home on Sunday. He returned back to Fort Dix, N. J. Sunday night; he will get his mustering out papers on Wednesday, he will then re-turn home after being overseas for the past 2 years. To be home Christmas means so much for both parents and son. And it would be so nice if all the boys in the service could spend Christmas with their home folks.

The women of St. Mary's Lutheran church, Silver Run served a turkey banquet and all the trimmings to 64 members and guests of the Never Weary Class of Emmanuel Baust Lutheran church, on Saturday evening Dec. 8. Mrs. George Sanner was toastmistress and opened the program with a quiz game in keeping with the Christmas season. After the exchange of gifts, a short business meeting was conducted by Kenneth Lambert; he also read Why Newspapers are like women. During the program the Little Jewels of Hampstead delighted the audience with the following songs, "Get on Board Lit-tle Children", "The Christmas Rose," "Behold that Star", "Come All Ye People", "Silent Night" and "When you get the Love of Jesus in Your Heart." They were Heart." They were accompanied by Mrs. Donald McIntosh. Everyone joined in singing Christmas Carols and adjourned with the closing pray-was given in memory of the late Cal-vin Starner, by his wife.

Mrs. Florence Welk had the misfortune to fall in the bath tub at the home of Mrs. Clarence Myers, Monday afternoon. She was lucky to escape with cuts and bruises. She was taken to the doctor's office for treatment. It required several stitches to close the gash in the back of her head. Florence you will have to say an extra prayer for you were lucky. We are told that more people die each year from falling in the tub than from any other accident in the home. So please be careful. Before your gifts are all wrapped up

And gayly ribbon tied, Oh, please remember to tuck in A lot of love inside. The gift itself may be quite small, But love tucked in with care Can change it to a wondrous thing, An offering rich and rare.

The gift itself may be quite small,
Its usefulness be past, But always you can be quite sure That love tucked in will last!

FEESERSBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

Time is being counted this month by how many days left to shop for Xmas. There are just 15 at this writing but don't be alarmed if you haven't even started to get ready for St. Nick. You will have plenty of time as the merchants in the local towns are keeping the stores open every week-day night until Christmas eve and have stocked their shelves with gifts that will please even the most discriminating and value-wise person. The city shops, of course, are lovely, but the small town stores have much to offer besides merchandise. They offer leisurely shopping, no pushing, discourteous crowds and easy park-ing spaces. Just as the small family farm is a necessity for our Nation's future so are the small town shops ecessary for our economic system. Small business will only survive if the customers want them to and buy 16 at the Parish Hall, at 2:30. from them whenever possible. Many times one drives fifty miles to a city, bucking traffic all the way, losing one's temper jostling crowds, and spending money on gas, parking in a parage and eating lunch that could be saved by staving home and buy-ing from the local stores. Many times the person returns from the city and finds in the local stores the very same merchandise he bought in the city and for the same price. The difference being frayed nerves, high blood pressure and a sense of frustra-tion about Christmas, because of the their good points but for those who like to get the most out of gift-giv-ing shop at the small town stores.

month ago Mr. Norman Kahl of Washington, D. C., sold his home at Uniontown along with the furniture to Mr. and Mrs. A. Millard Roelke. Last Saturday the Roelkes sold the furnishings at public sale and were pleased with the net proceeds. There were many unusual articles, some so old that no one knew what they had been used for. No doubt they had once belonged to the Hiteshew family. The house dates back to 1830 and account books found on the attic dates back to 1854. In one book there is a record of a baseball team organized in Uniontown, April 1, 1854 along with a list of the members. Most of the names are still familiar family names around Uniontown. It is absolutely true that every American has mortgaged his future and part of his hereafter. Every man, woman and child in the United States is in debt to the tune of $800 through either short term notes or real estate mortgages. Like Frank R. Kent, who has one favorite topic to write about, the Roosevelts, mine happens to be the schools. We have often thought about the drab and cheerless class-rooms that most students must occupy six hours a day. Most children come from cheerful homes decorated in bright colors and the effect of prisonlike class-rooms must have some effect on students. Johns Hopkins University made a survey on 2500 Baltimore children and learned that after a year in attractively colored classrooms, the pupils boosted their average grade nine percent and their attendance 13 percent. Children are no different from adults. Everyone has heard a woman say that she works better in a cheery kitchen and there is a tendency for family life to go smoother in a house furnished in bright colors then one in dark, drab walls and furnishings. Even hospitals are being decorated in warm and stimulating colors because the doc-tors have learned that patients respond to treatment better in pleasant, home-like surroundings. New schools are being given the beauty treat-ment but there are thousands of old class-rooms which should be made to look less like Sing-Sing or a retreat for Trappist monks.

A rat in the barn is one thing but a rat in the house is something else. He is more or less expected in the barn but when he does the rock and roll on the kitchen linoleum at mid-night and climbs the stairs and plays like a burglar under the bed in the wee small hours of the morning its time to sit up and take notice. This is what happened at our neighbors house last week. But Mr. Rat went too far so organized resistance was planned and in less than 24 hours the rat was caught in a trap and executed. A just warning to rats to stay in their place and not get socially ambitious.

The drive to help retarded children is underway and we know of no other project that deserves public support as does this marvelous organization. Our county has 1200 retarded children and adults and most of them can be helped to lead happy and useful lives. It is amazing what transformation can be achieved with specialized aid, especially among the children. Our county has been among the pioneers in this work and the men and women responsible for this wonderful undertaking should be aided in every way. We surely are our brother's keeper and especially does Last Sunday, the flowers on the altar in Emmanuel Baust Lutheran church were in honor of the 44th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Myers. The church bulletin the Christmas spirit show. For if you reability. This is one way to let the Christmas spirit show. For if you remember the least and the littlest, you have honored the One for whom Christmas is celebrated.

Many people contend that the most unpopular gift at Christmas is a book. We will not dispute this after seeing some of the finest books published sell for a dime at the sale Saturday, but there are still a few persons left that do believe a book is to be read and not something to use to fill up the empty space between book-ends. For that small minority, two books are out by authors that should be known personally here in Carroll County. One by Claire Mc-Cardell and the other by Mrs. Guy Proutz. Both have been given good reviews. Miss McCardell has written about fashions and Mrs. Proutz on the question of segregation. Her book is titled "The Whipping Boy" and is the story of a small Negro child facing the ordeal of integration. Read it with sympathy and be a wiser, more tolerant citizen.

The grass on the lawn is so green and the grain fields so spring-like in color that it seems like April instead of December. A woman makes a terrible mistake to put a dishwasher in her kitchen for then she never has an excuse to lure her husband into the kitchen to dry the dishes and have one of those friendly heart-to-heart talks which is the backbone of every happy marriage. -Ruth Roelke

SING WHILE YOU DRIVE At 45 miles per hour, sing Highways Are Happy Ways.
At 55 miles, sing I'm but a Stranger
Here, Heaven Is My Home.
At 65 miles, sing, Nearer My God

To Thee. At 75 miles, sing, When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There.
At 85 miles, sing, Lord, I'm Coming Home.

Let us take a lesson from this advice. Fast living may be as fatal as fast driving. The unrepentant sinner is a stranger to Heaven and Him that he will meet there when the roll is called up yonder. Make Christ's way your way, today.

Way of Love

Lesson for December 16, 1956

THERE are many ways of living in this world. There is the way of ruthless pride, with the motto: "The world is my orange and I intend to squeeze it." There is the way of the fool, who never thinks beyond today and is always surprised to discover that what he sowed came up and what he didn't plant did not come up. There is the way of the lazy man who can't be bothered, and who always takes the easiest way no matter what. There is even the way of hate, the way of bitterness and suspicion, going always downhill Dr. Foreman among dead trees without leaf or fruit. Everybody knows that these are none of them Christian ways. Even those who are not Christians know that the way of Christ is the way of love.

Other Ways of Love

But what is the Christian way of love? There are more ways than one to use the word "love." There are ways of love, so called, which are not the Christian way. For instance, there is something called love, which consists really of fondness for things or people that are lovable. For example, a young woman stands at an altar and promises to take a man "for better for worse, for richer for poorer, in sickness and in health." But she does not really hear the vow she makes. And if the man turns out to be poorer or worse than she thought, she looks up a divorce lawyer. The way of Christian love does not demand lovableness first; on the contrary, Christian love can make an unlovely and unloving person lovable. Some love is all for one's own benefit; "I love you" can mean no more than "I want you for my exclusive use." Christian love "does not insist on its own way." It does not ask, "What can you do for me?" but "What may I do for you?"

Blessing the Universe

Another way of love, sometimes mistaken for the Christian way, is no better than sheer sloppy sentimentality. Sometimes it consists in a vague feeling that everything is very nice in a very happy world. A minister once preached on the text. "Ye that love the Lord, hate evil." After the sermon a lady told him she didn't like that sermon at all. She had been brought up to believe that love was always right and hate always wrong. Love is always right, yes; but that does not mean we can feel free to love what is evil. If we love the good, we shall not love what destroys good. Sometimes this substitute for Christian love takes the form of a general feeling of good will toward the world in general. A well-known American wrote shortly before his death, "I bless the universe." Now it is certainly better to bless the universe than to curse it. But blessing the universe seems a curious sort of thing to do. Are you really blessing all of it, sir? Cholera and polio, stars and atoms and typhoons and germs, criminal and judge, saints and sinners, miracles, and murderers? We have to be careful that we don't love the universe in such a way that whatever happens seems exactly right!

The Christian Way The Christian way of love is not totally different from these other ways; but it is vitally different. It is inspired by God in the first place and it mirrors his love. It goes beyond the lovable, it is more than an exchange of love. It even goes out to one's enemies. American history gives us two striking illustrations of the actual power of love, in two men on opposite sides of the American civil war. The two enemies, as they once were, are now honored more perhaps than any other two in that tragic conflict: Lincoln and Lee. Each was a man who could do nothing else but stand by his convictions and fight even when other men were ready to give up. Their love was not the child of indifference, selfishness or cowardice. But it was Lincoln who coined the phrase, "charity toward all and malice toward none," - and he meant every word of it. It was Lee who later as president of a college refused to let any one in his presence speak evil of his former enemies. It is not the men who are the best haters, but those who show what Christian love is, who have greatest power over the hearts of man-
