LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dec. 10, 1956

To the Carroll Record

Dear Sirs:

Calling your attention to the picture of the past two weeks in your paper of the school children. In the picture where I have marked the X that happens to be Nellie Slonaker instead of Nellie Shoemaker, which happens to be me as I have the same picture and I was 5 years old at the time that was taken. At a time back it was in the Reid's store window and should of been corrected then. So will you kindly make a mention of it in your next week's issue. Thank you.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

MERRY MERRY CHRISTMAS—

To my dear Readers across the miles!
May this be the very happiest and Blessed Christmas you have ever known! I wish with all my heart that I could stand right there and clasp your hands and greet you!

How well I remember the Christmas-masses at "Loves' Retreat"! When I was a little girl in the big city of Philadelphia as I gazed at pictures of country snow scenes at Christmas time, I used to say, "I wish I lived in the country!"

And to think that I was the only member of a big family who ever had that desire and then have it come true!

It was wonderful when all the members—my three boys, My Minister and my daughter sat down to the big feast on the farm and yet gaze out upon the highway in front of our door and gaze upon the many acres for miles around. I love the snow—that pure white stuff and enjoyed it all the more when it was Christmas time.

I used to light up the doors and windows for the passers-by, just like that famous poem, The House by the Side of the Road! Remember?

I had purchased a coal range for the kitchen and although I had a gas stove too on winter days there was nothing quite as cheerful as coming into that kitchen with the bright red coals giving out the warmth and glow.

You may think that I am old fashioned in many ways as modern as I am but I still like that kind of a stove in the kitchen especially in the country.

Many Farmer's wives to this day make a fresh fire each morning in the coal range—not so with me—I used to bank the stove at night and then upon arising there would be a grand fire facing me in the mornings. I remember my Minister saying to a City girl, "That can't be done!" Sez I, "I'll convince you that it can!"

I then proceeded with having a grand fire burning before retiring and put on about half bucket of coal with the lid partly off after that gas escaped. That I was taught in Domestic Science in Philadelphia. It is so much more convenient and so much less work by doing it in this method. (Especially with a nice modern and up to the very minute coal range). Going up to Philadelphia just for the day by B & O last week was delightful. The stores are positively more glamorous and handsome than any New York store. One must remain a little after dark to see all the lights and the beauty. I think Snel-lenburg's Department store had the most attractive window as it was all done in white but I'll leave it to you. By all means as I stated in my previous column take the children just for the day during the Holidays.

If you visit the "At Water Kent" Museum which is open every day from 9 to 5 and on Sunday 2 to 5—you will desire to remain there all day long. It is located at 15 S. 7th Street.

You will be so interested in about just everything there that you will forget the time and that nice Guide, Mr. Phipps is most accommodating. He can answer all questions that it is amazing. Then, treat the youngsters with those Reading pretzels! There is a man selling them on every corner of the downtown streets.

There, I was walking along, folks the other day (and I do love to be alone at times eating a big pretzel and everyone looking at me.

Now and then, I glanced up at the statue of William Penn as I walked from the Curtis Publishing Company all the way over to Broad Street and those Philadelphia city blocks are very long.

By all means visit the company just to see "The Dream Garden" as you enter the building. It is rendered in Faurelle Glass Mosaic by Louis C. Tiffany from a painting by Mr. Maxwell Parrish.

Across the Street, Independence Square, I walked into the building once again to see the "Liberty Bell" which has been out of the glass case since 1915. Be sure, Ladies you bake a Bohemian Christmas Bread called, "Vanocha" during the holidays. It is a fruit-rich cake for guests and delicious for breakfast.

Be seeing you next week. D.V. Don't eat too much turkey and whatever you do, Mother don't permit the children to over-indulge in sweets at this time. Have a grand Christmas! I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

REPORT OF DRIVE FOR FUNDS FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

Mr. Fern L. Smith, chairman for the recent fund-raising drive for retarded children, reports that the amount of money collected has now passed the $70,000 mark, all districts have not yet reported. Indications are that this second fund raising campaign will be even a greater success than the first.

TRAFFIC POEM

The anonymous poet laureate of the Maine State Police is at it again. His latest offering:

Take it easy, Mister Driver.
Don't insist upon your rights;
Be a little more forbearing—
Give a bit—postpone your rites.

If you want to be sure you will hear the phone ringing while you're upstairs, put the instrument on top of an overturned tin pan.

TAKE A BOW, DOC!

If anybody in the community works harder or longer than the editor, it is the druggist. His week, like our own, is seven days long. His store is open early and late and he is on tap for emergencies around the clock.

"Drug store" is hardly the term for his establishment. Actually, it is more of a community center, first-aid station, and bureau of information, advice, and sympathy which also provides pills and pacifiers, tonics for the interior, the hair or the mind; alarm clocks and "malt" and zinc ointment. And, in addition, there is the baffling category of pharmaceuticals that grows larger each day, and which can only be dispensed or compounded by a highly-trained, registered pharmacist—who must also be able to read doctors' prescriptions!

Thus, we are happy to announce that this year, the druggist has received some public and nationwide recognition for his devotion and professional usefulness to his community. This year, he has participated, through his state pharmaceutical association, in awarding a four year scholarship in pharmacy to the high school senior considered most deserving. Under the Pepsodent Presidential Scholarship Awards—so-called because the winner is nominated by the state association president, and the awards financed by Lever Brothers—the prospective pharmacist receives $100 a year for each of the first three years of study and $200 at the beginning of the fourth year.

As we think of the importance of our druggist friends to the health and comfort of any community, and speculate on what we would do without them, these scholarship awards assume the proportions of a tremendous service to the state and the nation. As they are carried on, year after year, they serve not just one deserving young man or woman in state, but stimulate a wider interest in pharmacy, and a wider recognition of the fact that the druggist, in his professional attainments and responsibility, ranks with the doctor, the minister and the lawyer.

In fact, if the Presidential Scholarship Awards continue long enough, perhaps the weary and shopworn druggist can achieve retirement—while the used-up, beaten-down, corrugated editor goes on and on.—U. S. Press Association.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MANTORVILLE, MINN., EXPRESS: "The reason you sometimes hear more 'news' on the street corner than you see in the newspaper is because the newspaper has to stand behind what it prints for all to read."

BOONE, IOWA, NEWS-REPUBLICAN: "Now the general election is over for another four years. And after a few days of rest the politicians will be back at work campaigning for the next."

SISSETON, S.D., COURIER: "William H. Pringle, national president of the Izaak Walton League,—maintains that potholes and wetlands are an asset to farming, and that farmers are piling up probable trouble in years ahead by too much drainage. 'A farmer who drains his surface water lowers the water table and loses the humidity in the air,' he said on a visit to Walton groups in Wisconsin. 'All he has to do is go out to Arizona to see what happens without surface water. Any piece of land that will hold water for three months of summer ought to be kept.'"

ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "It makes dismal reading that for the second successive year the Nobel peace prize committee meeting in Norway has been unable to find anyone worthy of its cherished awards. In many corners of the earth leaders in varying walks of life are striving desperately to accomplish it. Despite their efforts, the Nobel committee had to say sadly: 'None of these will do.' And as the committee returns to the search for another year, the explosive events of Europe and the Middle East underscore their trials."

BUFFALO, MINN., WRIGHT County JOURNAL-PRESS: "When he was younger, admits Richard May-er, Jr., of the North Vernon (Ind.) Sun, his ambition was to write a book exposing women. 'But darn it, he says, 'these designers of modern-day dresses beat us to it.'"

THE DAY CHRIST WAS BORN

Jim Bishop, writing from notes he made on the spot in Bethlehem, masterfully retells the Christmas story. With remarkable realism, Bishop, recreates the journey of Mary and Joseph, the birth of Christ and the appearance of the angels. Don't miss this inspiring story in December 23rd issue of

ONE THING MORE

Thou that hast given so much to me,
Give one thing more, a grateful heart,
Not thankful when it pleaseth me,
As if thy blessings had spare days;
But such a heart, whose pulse may be thy praise.
—George Herbert.

COUNTLESS BLESSINGS

For the quiet of the forest
And the grandeur of the hills,
For the glory of the sunsets,
And the music of the rills,
For the flowers that bloom so sweetly
Along the woodland ways
For these, and countless blessings,
Dear Lord, we render praise.
—A. Rossiter.

MIGHTY THANKFUL

Mighty thankful that I'm needed
To be useful while I'm here;
Mighty glad if I've succeeded
Spreading just a bit of cheer;
Mighty glad to learn life's lessons
From the Teacher up above;
Mighty thankful for God's blessings—
And the greatest one is love.
—J. Hungerford.

I THANK YOU

Thank you, Lord, for daily work
Home, school, and the kirk,
Friends, neighbors, favors shown;
That I in a brother's love have grown.

Thank thee, Lord, for daily bread,
And for good books I've read;
For the beauty everywhere,
And the music on the air.

For strength from day to day,
For light to see my way;
For the seasons, yes, for all,
From lovely spring to tinted fall.

Whether dark, drear, glad, or gay,
I thank thee, anyway;
For rosy path, or path of stone,
I know I travel not alone.

Whatever lot of life is mine,
I know is also thine;
That where I am, Thou wilt be,
Therefore, I lift my praise to Thee.
—E. Johnson.

CURRENT EVENTS
FIFTY YEARS AGO

The past week has been a very busy one with local merchants. The roads leading to town, notwithstanding their bad condition, have been alive with teams, the most of which carried purchasers for Christmas supplies.

Rural Mail Carriers will serve their routes as usual on Christmas Day. Postoffice will be open from 7:00 till 10:30 a. m. and from 3:30 till 6 p. m.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Matthew Henry Galt to Miss Bertha May Hansell, at Springfield, Missouri, on January 1st. The many friends of "Mat" in Taneytown unite in wishing "Happy New Year" and all future years to himself and bride.

Myers—Martin.—On Dec. 20, 1906, at the Reformed parsonage, Carroll Place, by Rev. J. B. Stonestifer, Mr. J. Calvin Myers, of Pleasant Valley, and Miss Ada V. Martin, of Taneytown were married.

The Christmas Tree

Now it may be effectively and inexpensively decorated. Wise mothers save all the brilliant fancy ornaments from one Christmas to another, and, allowing for breakage, there are always enough to make a start on. Then get a roll each of pink, blue, white and rich red crepe paper, a can of gilt paint, some cotton batting and a few ounces of diamond dust, a pot of mucilage and some narrow ribbon.

Empty spools gilded and hung in festoons or bunches are pretty. Oranges and apples add their rich colors, and little gauze bags hold bright candies. If the tree is large, it can be decorated with stars, half-moons, hearts, arrows, animals and dolls which may be cut from cardboard. Dolls cut this way may be dressed very quickly with the crepe paper by the aid of mucilage.

Little round cakes for the tree are frosted and then have features marked up them by chocolate icing and a frill of crepe paper.

The candles for lighting the tree should be put on by a man. Women have never yet understood distances, the science of heat and art of precaution.

FROM "LIFE IN THESE UNITED STATES"

Several salesmen friends were with me aboard my fishing boat cruising down the New Jersey coast when we noticed a small craft in which a solitary fisherman was dishing. That gave me an idea. I put on my Aquilung, slipped over the far side of my boat, and swam under water to the man's line. I attached by business card to his hook and swam back. We all enjoyed watching his amusement when he reeled in the line and found the card.

Several days later in my office, I received a telephone call from a stranger. He placed a large order with me. At the end he said, "Catch many other suckers with that Aquilung, son?"

FROM THE LIGHTER SIDE OF THE READER'S DIGEST

When we moved from an old house in the city to a brand new house in a small suburban town, our youngsters were intrigued by all the modern conveniences and mechanical marvels. The eight-year-old took particular notice of the new and shiny telephone. "What's that?" he asked.

"Why, that's the telephone," his mother said, surprised at the question.

"But it hasn't any numbers on it or a dial like our phone. How does it work?"

"You just lift the receiver and a woman answers, and you tell her what number you want."

The boy's eyes widened in astonishment. "Boy!" he exclaimed. "How easy! Is everything modern out here!"

Kenny Foundation Broadens Work
In Treatment, Research Fields

Minneapolis, Minn.—Scientists, professors and department heads of leading medical schools across the country are cooperating in the expanding medical program of the Elizabeth Kenny foundation, according to Marvin L. Kline, national executive director.

KLINE

The program, he explained, includes medical research, and the sponsoring of fellows and medical seminars and scholarship grants. The medical research program which the Kenny foundation is sponsoring at its own treatment centers and a number of universities across the country is not limited to the field of polio, but includes other neuromuscular disorders of various kinds, he asserted.

"Included on the medical advisory committee and planning committee set up by the Kenny foundation to help provide greater service," Kline said, "are doctors who are affiliated with the various departments of the following schools:

"University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.; Stanford university, Palo Alto, Calif.; University of California, Los Angeles, Calif.; New York university, New York City, N.Y.; Columbia university, New York City, N.Y.; Ohio State university, Columbus, Ohio; Baylor university (hospital), Dallas, Texas; Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn.; College of Medical Evangelists, Los Angeles, Calif.; McGill university, Montreal, Canada; Washington university, St. Louis, Mo.; University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.; University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.; University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.; Herman hospital, Houston, Texas, and Marquette university, Milwaukee, Wis.

"The Kenny foundation's expanding rehabilitation program offers help to persons of all ages who have nerve, muscle or joint disabilities which our medical staff believes may be lessened by such treatment."

The program of the Kenny foundation is made possible through funds contributed by the public.

FEESBURG

(A Voice from Carroll)

Christmas: And the angel said unto them, "Fear not: For, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in Bethlehem, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord." Almost two thousand years ago, the world sick with strife and frustration heard these words for the first time. The people believed that a great king was coming to deliver them from their folly. Instead it was a babe in a manger, and for many this was a bitter disappointment. But after the child grew up to manhood and began preaching his philosophy many of the disappointed took heart again and became His most ardent followers. Today the teachings of Christ are familiar to everyone. His theme of love and brotherhood have weathered the years of scoffing and cynicism, and even the most anti-religious have learned that His philosophy is the only way to a happy fruitful life. In this year of '56, when the world seems to be in the same frantic search for stability as it did the year Christ was born, it would be wise to give the words He taught a second hearing. "Beware ye one another's burdens" seems most appropriate at this Christmas season and a message people everywhere can understand. For the highest and lowest have burdens to bear which seem overpowering if carried alone, but if shared with one seems not half so wearisome. The greatest gift to give one's self this year is a promise to put into practice the ideal of sharing not only material gifts but sharing one's time, thoughts, hopes and dreams with others.

The annual Christmas program was given at the Mt. Union Lutheran church, Sunday evening. The Junior and Senior choirs under the direction of Mrs. Blaine Broadwater sang the traditional carols and songs of the holiday season. Miss Caroline Baker, Nancy Roelke and Mrs. Lee Fink were the soloists. Mrs. Russell Bohn and Miss Patsy Bohn sang a duet. The small children under the direction of Mrs. Paul Leister and assisted by Mrs. Scott Crabbs, Mrs. Emmert Miller and Mrs. Nelson gave their usual lovable performance. Children are unpredictable—part angel, part pixie they sometimes stun the audience with their impromptu portrayal of their role but nevertheless they get away with it because they are children. The church was decorated with pine, poinsettias and red candles burning in holly holders. A lighted tree at the altar was very effective in its simplicity. Pastor Warnefeltz spoke briefly, saying that many old times when snow drifted as high as the fence tops and churches were filled to the rafters. Last night he couldn't boast about the snow but he could say something about the church being filled, because there wasn't even standing room. If the church had rafters, people surely would have been hanging from them. It is always pleasing to see a church filled and its too bad that it takes a Christmas to bring out so many people. It should happen more often.

Children have a keen imagination, but it must make them wonder if there is really a Santa after seeing him in every department store and on every street corner. A child doesn't have to be very old before he starts asking questions such as: Why are there so many Santas; how can he come down the chimney when we don't have a chimney; why is he so fat and shouldn't he go on a diet like daddy does to get rid of his tummy and so on and on. Maybe the Santa Claus myth will not last much longer due to the over commercialism of the poor guy. But if and when he goes something wonderful will be lost to childhood.

The thoughtfulness of a reader of this column is responsible for this poem: "While children eagerly await, The twenty-fifth's arrival, . . . Parents eye the twenty-sixth . . . And hope for their survival."

The annual Christmas program of the Elmer Wolfe P.T.A. was given Monday evening in the school auditorium. An appreciative audience heard the senior High mixed chorus lead the Christmas music through different variations and themes. Something interesting was added to the program this year when Mrs. Yaste directed her French class in singing "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," in French, and also "Silent Night." Miss Fairy Frock directed the chorus and Miss Patricia Roop was the accompanist. Miss Diane Gouge served as narrator and Miss Nancy Roelke student director.

What is Christmas without cookies, especially the old-fashioned ones? We confess we are too lazy to bake any ourselves, but we enjoy our friends very much indeed. But we do bake our own fruit cakes which makes up for our lack of cookie preparedness.

Everyone is so busy wanting things for Christmas, that I wonder how many of us ever think about what we don't want. High on the list of "Do Not's" comes illness in the family. Nothing is so depressing and morale killing as to have a member of the family seriously ill at Christmas time. Twice we have faced this situation and we know first hand of what we speak. Christmas should be a time of joy and gaiety, but for many it will not be. Be extra thoughtful of those who are ill at Christmas.

Decorating the house for the holidays is one of the nicest tasks we do for we begin by going to our woods and cutting the pine with cones attached and gathering the red berries from wild barberry. The fragrance of pine follows one from the woods to the house and there is no smell quite as exhilarating as that of the pine tree. It lingers through the rooms long after the Christmas season—along with the needles from the tree.

Once again it is time to wish our readers a Merry Christmas and to hope that for each of them some of the merriest and goodness of the holiday will spill over into each day of the coming year.

Christmas

Deck the tree with silver light
Sing happy carols; be gay and bright
Place the gifts in a festive pile
And remember with love the Bethlehem child.—Ruth Roelke.

This year there has been some one taking a lot of time to do some good reporting in the Pilot for the Elmer A. Wolfe School. Thanks from this parent. If the other parents appreciate this good effort they should say so to some one—probably the Principal, Henry Kanowicz.

Then, too, at Elmer Wolfe "The Wolfe's Tale" has grown longer—I believe it now numbers ten pages.

Friends and parents support this little school paper—see and appreciate the good news writing efforts of these Elmer Wolfe children as well as increase your knowledge of your school, your children or your relative's children—or maybe they are just the children of YOUR COMMUNITY.

To the Editor and his Staff I wish for all a healthy, happy and a christian Christmas. You will love this poem taken from Sunshine and written by Charlotte Ella Neuls.

Let us be merry this Christmas Eve,
Loveliest night of the year!
In these magic hours memory dwells
On all that the heart holds dear.
We look up in wonder at starlit skies
Remembering one special Star;
We whisper a prayer that it, too, will
Guide us
As it once did Three Kings from afar.
In quiet assurance of peace and good-

We turn then to home and sweet things,
The fireside circle of family and friends,
The glow that each Yuletide brings;
For Christmas is rapture and mystery
And joy,
Translated to happy living.
And when it is shared with an answering heart,
Christmas is loving and giving.

But Once a Year
"Christmas comes but once a year"
Is an old-familiar phrase
But what do you do with Christmas
Through all the other days?
With Christmas trees and Santa Claus
And tinsel shining bright,
Many often fail to see
The star that shone that night
Oh, truly Christmas is a time
For joy and much good cheer,
And a lot that goes with Christmas
Should come but once a year.
But the true meaning of Christmas
Is the love the Christ child brought
This should not just once a year,
But all your days be sought.
Please carry through the year to come
The truths Christ came to say—
And you will find within your heart
It's Christmas every day!

CARROLL COUNTY P.T.A. COUNCIL MEETS

The Executive Committee of the Carroll County Council of Parents and Teachers met recently. Following routine reports from the various committees, the first item of business stemmed from a motion made at the October meeting stating that the Council recommend to the Board of Education that the sale of magazines, seeds and pictures be discontinued in the schools.

Evan Bowers, speaking for the principals of the Carroll County Schools, supported the motion. A committee of 3 principals had made a study of the fund raising activities—how much is needed to buy things not provided by the School Board, how it is raised and what it is used for. They had facts and figures at hand to show that the extra money needed amounted to approximately four dollars per high school student and two dollars per elementary pupil.

On a county wide basis, $30,000 added to the school budget would make it possible to eliminate the various sales campaigns. It would also make for more efficiency in management and instruction.

One member noted that not only did fund raising activities take time out from classes, but it also ran competition with the local merchants in the community. For example—the gross gains from the magazine campaign from only 2 schools in the county amounted to $13,000, that not only went out of the county, but out of the state as well.

The committee voted unanimously to approach the County Commissioners with the recommendation that $30,000 be added to the budget to eliminate the sales campaign.

The council also voted unanimously to recommend that Carroll County teachers be increased above the state minimum to an amount comparable to that of Frederick County. (Condensed from The Frederick Post).

The human heart pumps every day about 3000 gallons of blood through thousands of miles of blood vessels in the body, states Robert Wallace in the current Reader's Digest.

EXPLORER AND BOY SCOUT PLAN

What seemed at first a slow-starting session of Troop 348 Explorer Scouts last Monday soon got up steam after the opening by Senior crew leader, Harold Slaybaugh. Preliminary remarks by Adviser Robert L. Bowers on the fine results of the paper collection brought a modest show of hands by those who had participated, a choice of swimming nights was voted, and while George Abrecht's fire was generating a few more B.T. U's, the game period was turned over to Secretary Carroll Hively. At Slaybaugh's suggestion he chose a highly competitive round of horse and rider that served as a good warm-up, with all participants in the end thankfully settling down to a further business moment and introduction of the theme, effectively handled by "the Master," Mr. Bowers.

This consisted of separate compass trails, with recorded degrees and paces, to be laid by each group under leaders Philip Garrett of Crew 1 and George Abrecht of Crew 2. At some future meeting each route will be followed by the other crew, the prize to be a cache of food at the finish. In the announcement interval, Garrett was presented his Crew leader's insignia and Robert Fitz that of Deputy senior crew leader, Carroll Hively, and Slaybaugh had already received the emblems of their office. Adviser Bowers introduced Larry Barnhart, no stranger, whom we hope will stick with us to be an officer of some sort, a fate which is similarly wished for William Abrecht, who had also arrived. Donald Sharrer piped up to remind us he had returned to the fold, and Charles Turner from the Boy Scouts was accepted as a promising recruit for Crew 1. Incidentally Larry Martin is also of age to be Assistant adviser, and the scoutmaster is hopeful that Slaybaugh will sign us as Assistant in the Boy Scouts as well. The refreshment committee headed by Garrett got a few suggestions and put together their final outline for this phase of the Christmas party set for Monday, Dec. 24. Fitz closed the meeting with the usual benediction, and a discussion on a series of winter dances had been the principal subject of a short Green-Bar confab among the senior leaders while the crews were away from the hall carrying out the theme.

Patrol leader Grant Harman led games of balloon, volleyball and mounted football at the Boy Scout meeting last Thursday while Turner was passing First Aid men's badge to the scoutmaster. The Panthers under Harman and Edward Reaver, patrol leader and assistant, have planned an overnight to Natural Dam on their own for the coming week-end, all but Roger Blanchard being of Explorer age, and Senior patrol leader Nelson is also one of the ringleaders on this, as well as a future aspirant for First Aid merit badge. The scoutmaster's theme sent each patrol in two or three to perform the Second class requirement of measuring, but the gap to be measured in closing the pre-arranged triangular course was fairly wide of the calculated distance, ascribable to striding and compass-reading in accuracies. James Hemler and Ronald Hopkins had assisted by laying off a 1/4 mile foot course for testing pace in preparation for this event. Results are to be announced tonight, which is pretty close to the official start of the patrol contest. One item agreed upon at the Green-Bar meeting Saturday before scattering to the dance and other rendezvous was use of the rear approaches to the Scout hall in an effort to minimize the cacophony of shrill young voices. Bugling, handled last week by David Hopkins, was competently done December 6 by Roy Chapman, likewise a Raccoon. Tonight's theme will be the province of Nelson, and Larry Hively will select the games, with Slaybaugh as overall director.

WHAT ARE YOU GIVING FOR CHRISTMAS?

WHAT ARE YOU GIVING FOR CHRISTMAS?

Christmas gifts should always be gifts that are compatible with the meaning of Christmas! Unfortunately, however, there are those who will give a bottle of whiskey to be placed under the Christmas tree. To celebrate the birth of the Saviour of Mankind by giving that which has destroyed so many men in PERVERSION if ever there was such a thing. Liquor advertising is at a high during the Christmas Season. The following article recently appeared in a daily paper of the Princeton Council of Churches. It was called "The Other Side of the Alcohol Ads."

"We wish we had a picture to show you of some of the people you see in advertisements happily drinking alcoholic beverages afterwards!

"In all too many cases it would not be nearly so pretty as the picture the advertisers want you to see. It would not be a picture they would dare to print.

"It would be a picture of 3,000,000 alcoholics in America. It would be a picture of 3,000,000 more problem drinkers, most of them on their way to alcoholism.

"It would be a picture of 10,000 to 15,000 mangled bodies—the 20 to 40% of the accidents on our roads yearly in which alcohol is involved. It would include the stories you read in newspapers of soldiers drowned, of women raped and slain, of homes broken, of children brutally treated!

"We hesitate to mention some of these things because they sound like the ravings of a blue-nosed crank. Yet the evidence for these things appears under the headlines of the very papers which print the ads which tell you 'beer belongs,' it's polite and respectable to drink,' it marks you as a man of distinction."

"It is often argued that the majority of people drink in moderation, and that the alcohol advertisers are interested only in moderate use of their product. That may be true.

"Yet every alcoholic started as a 'moderate drinker.' Every accident on the road, every crime, every broken home due to alcohol, came from some one who started drinking 'in moderation.'

"The alcohol advertisers are interested only in showing the pleasant atmosphere in which drinking begins. For the sake of honesty we want you to see the same picture when it has reached its end—often a dead end.

"It is not a happy picture. It is a picture the alcohol and tavern business is afraid to advertise."

A man in anticipation of death bought the finest casket available, for delivery at the appropriate time. He told a friend what he had done, describing the gold fittings, teakwood carving and other features, and mentioning the cost of the casket. His friend expressed horror and urged him to cancel the deal.

"Do you realize that for only a few hundred dollars more you could be buried in a Cadillac?"

On a dark night two safe-breakers entered a bank. One approached the safe, sat down on the floor, took off his shoes and socks, and started to turn the dial of the safe with his toes.

"What's the matter?" asked his pal, "let's open this thing and get out of here."

"Now, this'll only take a minute longer and we'll drive the first fingerprint experts nuts."

When God Came

Lesson for December 23, 1956

ONCE upon a time, so runs a modern legend, there came a rumor to the ears of all the angels that God himself was going to visit a district in his dominions known as the Earth. Some of the angels had never before heard of the place, but others had been on errands thither, and in its affairs. So there was much talk and many opinions, for it is with angels as with men, that not being possessed of infinite wisdom, they do not all see eye to eye.

Dr. Foreman

Why Should God Come to Earth?

"The earth is too small," said one angel. "I have seen the place and it could be lost in a corner of heaven. Why should the Almighty trouble himself about the place?" "It is more than small," said another angel. "It is wicked."

"What is 'wicked'?" said an angel who had never seen sin.

"It is hard to explain," said the wiser angel. "You will not believe me, but there are beings on that place called Earth who do not our Lord's will. They do not even wish to do it. Some there are who doubt even that he exists. And some hate him and call him stupid and cruel."

"I do not believe it," said the young angel.

"It is true none the less," said the older one.

"Then the Lord will descend in flame and destroy that evil place," said the young angel. "Amen," said many others together.

"It has come to my ears," said one who had not spoken, "that this visit is not in wrath but in mercy. God is going to win back to himself those who have rebelled."

"But how shall he do this?" came the chorus. "He has tried before, these many times," said one who remembered. He has sent messages by us his angels, he has spoken by poets and preachers and heroes and saints. He has shown men what is good, and if men will not believe Moses and the prophets, would they listen to the voice of the very God?"

How Shall the Lord High Come to Man?

"And if he came in his infinite glory, how would they endure the sight?" asked another. "Angels veil their faces before him; how shall sinful man look upon the face of God and live?"

"I have heard," said one, "that he is to go as a man. I do not know how this can be, but this I have heard."

"What manner of man?" said some. "And how will he come?" asked others. One spoke: "Surely he will be born in a king's palace. Men find it not easy to believe, at best. If God appears in lower than the highest human place, there will be none to believe it is He. If they cannot bow to him as a man they will never kneel to him as God."

"Nay," said another angel, "men are oppressed by their kings. If he comes from a royal place they will take him for another tyrant. What men respect is wisdom. He must be born to learning, he must be acquainted with all the books wise men have written, he must be a son of the schools, a philosopher."

"Not so," said others. "Scholars are tedious to most people. Human beings are like children. If God is to have their eye and ear he must win them by amazement. Let him drop from a golden cloud at dawn, let him work almighty miracles, let him turn stones into bread and sand into silver. Let him be richest of men, dispensing wealth to all. Then they may believe."

The Word Became Flesh

But God, who had not sought counsel of his angels, took his own strange way. He came not in a golden cloud but in darkness with only a star for light. He came not to palace or university but to a woman untaught, unknown; not to a home of wealth but to a couple so poor they could not pay for a room in a village. He summoned no crowds to witness his coming. If certain poor shepherds heard of it, and if a few wise men from a far land came to see, it was not the mother who told the news. There are many doors into human life, and some of them are deep in shadows. And what the angels did not know, the Lord on High knew: that men who live in a darkened world would never be saved by a God who feared to walk in shadowed ways.

CHRISTMAS

Rejoice! Rejoice! Let us all rejoice!
Let the billions behind the veil rejoice!
For this is the day when our God became man,
When He came to tell of His marvelous plan.
Let us lift our horizon; and, lift it high!
Let not this celebration go lightly by!
What happened this day means a lot to you
Who dwell beneath these skies of blue.

Before Jesus came men lived in doubt and fear,
They could not imagine why they were here;
So Jesus came to show us the way
To prepare to live through the endless day.

Then let us be jubilant! We have a right to be!
For, back of it all is Eternity!
We now know there are other things to do
When our work on earth is through.

I have said, rejoice! but, let us do more—
Let us sing praises, let all men adore
Our Wonderful God, our Savior, our King!
Let hallelujas make the welkin ring!

Before His advent, the earth was dark;
It was He who came to kindle the spark
Which lights the way through the valley of death
When man has taken his final breath.

He came to show us death is not the end
When a few short years on earth we spend;
Take up thy cross, said He, and follow me!
I will be your Guide, through eternity!

How low had man fallen? How cruel was he?
As to hang his Redeemer on a tree?
That men crucified Him of Royal birth
Is the blackest page in the annals of earth.

The pages which tell of that horrible crime
Give a hint why Jesus came at that time;
A few years later man made his home
In the caves of the earth like the beasts which roam.

Jesus told us how wonderful it shall be
When man turns to God, and from Satan flee;
Earth has many wonders; but, nothing before
Can equal the wonders which God has in store.

He told us the story of the "Prodigal Son",
To show how the Father greets everyone,
Who tires of Earth's folly, and longs to roam
Over the fields of His Paradise home.

He told of the woman at Jacob's well—
How the woman made haste, His words to tell;
"God is spirit; He fills all space;
So, you can worship Him in any place."

He told of the wonders on the other side,
When we cross over Jordan, and with Him abide,
Of that, and a million other things,
Of how it shall be when all men are king.

He said, "It is a part of God's great plan
To make a God among Gods of every man;
He told us that man like Him must be
To live through the years of eternity."

With one eye on the devil and the other on Him,
Man is out on a dangerous limb;
For, one of the two he must choose,
So, one He shall win, and the other lose.

Jesus walked the earth three full years
Pouring Truth in the people's ears;
And, we must all try to do the same,
To do our duty, and escape all blame.

This is a story about Jesus, our King;
So, I say, once again, let the welkin ring!
Let us hallow His name on this great festal day,
And do Him honor in every way.

The gift of a
U.S. Savings Bond is always in good taste

(always welcome too!)

Part of every gift is the thought that went into its selection.

And here's what thoughtful people know about U.S. Savings Bonds. Their value increases—never diminishes. They are one of the world's safest, surest investments. The principal is guaranteed safe—up to any amount—and the rate of interest is guaranteed sure, by the United States Government.

Thoughtful people consider, too, the lift the gift of a Bond is to that young married couple... that graduate... so many people you know and care about.

Next time you have a gift to select, why not give the present with a future... a United States Series E Savings Bond. It's easy to buy Savings Bonds where you regularly bank.

GOOD CITIZEN'S CONTEST

Good citizens, who were chosen by the members of the faculty of each high school in the county, have submitted questionnaires to be judged in the annual Good Citizen's contest sponsored by the William Winchester Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Miss Addie Belle Robb, Dr. Theodore Whitfield and Dr. Reuben Holthaus of Western Maryland College are judging the questionnaires to determine the county winner who will be named the county good citizen. The winning paper will be sent to the State Chairman and judged in the state contest.

Again this year there are eight schools participating in this program. Elmer Wolfe H. S. at Union Bridge; Mount Airy H. S.; North Carroll H. S.; New Windsor H. S.; Robert Moton H. S.; Sykesville H. S.; Taneytown H. S. and Westminster H. S.

Details of the contest have been arranged by Mrs. Samuel L. Bare assisted by Mrs. Garrett Weersing and Mrs. Frank B. Hurt. The names of all Good Citizens will be withheld until after the county judging is completed.

THE TRUTH HURTS

Wife: "What tense is 'I am beautiful'?"
Husband: "Past."

One thing about not planting tomatoes is that if it's a good year your neighbor will proudly give you some from his surplus and if it's a bad year you wouldn't have any anyway.
