T. B. ASSOCIATION

Reports Progress to Date of Operations

A total of $8716.67 from 4635 contributors has been received in the Christmas Seal Sale of the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association to date. Returns are still coming in and the full amount needed for the association's 1957 program is expected to be reached by the end of the month.

A goal of $10,000 has been set to carry on this program of tuberculosis detection and control in Carroll County. James C. Stone, Executive Secretary of National Tuberculosis Association, states in a recent article that "it is in the local community that the work to control tuberculosis is going to be carried on and it is going to fail for it is in the local community that the spread of infection can be prevented and new cases found."

Funds from the sale of Christmas seals make it possible for the association to continue to conduct, in cooperation with the Maryland Department of Health, and the Carroll County Department of Health, the Mass Chest X-Ray Survey which will begin this year on April 15 and continue through May 14: to continue to support the Chest X-Ray program at the Carroll County Medical Center where a free chest X-ray can be secured on Mondays and Wednesdays from 8 to 4 p. m., and on Tuesdays from 9 to 10 a. m., and 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.; to continue to support the Chest Clinic conducted on the first and third Fridays of each month at the Medical Center; and to continue a broad program of health education in the schools and communities through the medium of printed materials, lectures and films.

If you are among the 47% receiving Christmas Seals who have not, as yet, sent in a contribution, the association would like to remind you that it will be happy to accept late returns, during the month of January.

Dear Mr. Stonesifer: You certainly give full value for the received! You are most unique in that you haven't gone up three times as every one else has on rates — without the quality being affected, which it hasn't. Thanks, again, for I'd paid the dollar for the sentiment if for nothing more.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)
With all my heart, I wish you every morning Allahabad to the next day's dawn. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Your Observer has traveled "Around The World In 80 Days" since writing the last column! Where and how, I can hear you ask! Down at the Centre Theatre on North Ave. at Charles St., in Baltimore. It was truly from Allahabad to Yokohama and all in a balloon at the turn of a century. It is Todd-AO and that makes it all the more interesting. Edward R. Murrow says "See It Now!" and so sez I!

The picture opens with a swanky Gentlemen's Club in England (where no woman has ever crossed the threshold). It is spring and London in the day of Queen Victoria. A number of gentlemen are sitting around the table playing cards when the discussion arises that it is impossible to go around the world in a balloon in just 80 days. Phileas Fogg (David Niven) tries to convince his friends and they laugh at him until finally a wager is made to the tune of 20,000 pounds that he has on deposit at Baring's Bank. (that it can be done) He tells his friends that it is now Wed., the second day of October and that he will return to the Club on Sat., 21st of Dec. They laugh at him and grin. So with carpet bag in hand, his man servant and the most essentials, he starts off in Paris in the gay colored balloon with many calling out, "Bon Voyage". Of course, he takes along a hamper of food plus the telescope and all of a sudden they are off to other parts of the world.

That is the beginning and it becomes more interesting all the time and of course there is a girl, a real princess who marries Mr. Fogg in the end. There are 47 stars in the cast and there sat Frank Sinatra playing the piano. Of course, there is a plot throughout the story. It is fascinating in Paris, the wonderful scenery and all the places of beauty and interest and it is chucked full of pretty maidens. You will see the actors in Hong Kong riding on an ostrich, the Japanese shrine, through the Indian jungle, bull arena in Spain, the stripping of an old vessel named Henrietta and much more!

Leaving your seat to go out doors on North Ave. will make you wonder if you really have been on such a voyage! I leave the rest to you! The wager is made within the exact time and all ends happily ever after. Shirley MacLaine as Princess Aouda is sweet and winsome and delightful in the array of colors. She plays an excellent part.

On New Year's Day, we were guests with many others in the mansion at Annapolis of Governor and Mrs. Theodore McKeldin. The day was delightful that grand and crispy cold that all northerners enjoy. To me, that quaint little town of Annapolis brought back many (Continued on Eighth Page)

RUINOUS PAPER PRICES

A main reason for suspension and consolidation of so many American publications is found in an announcement a few days ago from Toronto.

The Abitibi Paper Co. Ltd. has announced another price increase of $4 a ton on newsprint. Canada is the principal source of American supply and the record is that when one company goes up the others follow quickly.

The new Abitibi price will be about $134 a ton or just under seven cents a pound. Figure about 75 pages to the pound and it is easy to compute the cost of the newsprint in your daily paper—in some cases more than the price you pay for it.

In 1933 newsprint cost $41 a ton. The consumers' price index has about doubled since that period but the cost of newsprint has been inflated to three and a quarter times its 1933 price, with newsprint industry profits setting records.

Newsprint expense runs from a fourth to a third of the total cost of producing a newspaper and the remaining costs, in which labor is the largest item, have considerably more than doubled in the period in question.

Circulation and advertising prices also have increased, but at a lower ratio, and the resultant squeeze has put many publications out of business. This process continues, progressively silencing newspapers and magazines to which Americans have traditionally looked for news and interpretation of public affairs.

The Senate commerce committee has been investigating the newsprint industry and the Federal Trade Commission is checking the possibility of antitrust action. Both are limited in scope of authority because the mills are in Canada.

A joint survey by the American and Canadian governments has been suggested and this would seem to be in the Canadian interest as well as ours. A price policy which forces increasing numbers of its customers to quit business certainly limits the long-term prospects of this important Canadian industry.

The 9-passenger Country Squire

The 6-passenger Country Sedan

The 9-passenger Country Sedan

The Del Rio Ranch Wagon

The Ranch Wagon

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big station wagon news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine-car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

Under the front-hinged hood you'll find new power—Six power!—V-8 power!—proved-in-action power.

Inside you'll find more usable loadspace. And the wrap-around liftgate gives you greater loading ease.

If your choice is the 9-passenger Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its smartly distinctive wood-like trim.

If your needs call for a 6-passenger station wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. When you fold the rear seat into the floor, you'll find there's almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9-passenger room. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, for fans of Ford's celebrated Ranch Wagon.

This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, the last word in modern decor. And when it comes to quiet, there's no wagon like Ford wagons!

In the wonderful way that Ford can take a fine thing and make it even finer, the Del Rio Ranch Wagon goes a step beyond the Ranch Wagon in style, fabrics and trim. It brings you 2-door, 6-passenger wagon-life at its best.

Better see for yourself—and soon. Take a Ford wagon for a spin. You'll agree that for styling it's a sweetheart... for work and power, it's a nimble, obedient slave!

New '57 Fords have toughest shakedown cruise in history!

The '57 Ford broke 458 national and international records from 1 kilometer to 50,000 miles at Bonneville, Utah, in the most savage test in automotive history. For 50,000 miles, two '57 Fords averaged over 107 and 108 mph respectively. This time included all pit stops... the greatest endurance feat of all time!

Top Click of the New Car Season

WANT TO GET your New Year off to a rollicking start?

Want to take the wheel of the car that's winning raves from Coast to Coast and back again?

Then take the wheel of a 1957 Buick and try the sparkling-est new performance team in all autodom.

We mean the team with the highest-powered V8 engine ever to ginger a Buick — and an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Here, with just a judicious touch of foot to treadle, you get response so obediently instant, so liquid smooth, and so full range in "Drive"—that you've never in your life felt anything like it.

SAFETY REMINDER
In fast-moving traffic on turnpikes, parkways and freeways, keep a good distance from the car in front—and a little more from the car behind you. That way you, and every driver behind you, get a bigger margin of safety for braking action.
PASS IT ALONG

It's sports-car going in a full-sized traveler that's sheer delight from start to finish.

Know what else?

Folks like the way this new kind of performance comes dressed in sleek and glamorous styling that's fresher than tomorrow's news.

They like the new roominess inside these low-sweep Buicks and the new luxury of their "nested" ride.

They like the new ease of handling, the new steadiness of cornering, the way stops are always on the level no matter how quickly you use the brakes.

Fact is, folks like everything about the newest Buick yet—the car that's fast becoming the biggest hit of the new car year—and you will, too. Come on in and try it this week. We'll have the red carpet out for you.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

CORRESPONDENCE

We desire correspondence to reach our office on Wednesday, if at all possible. It will be necessary, therefore, for most letters to be mailed on Tuesday morning. Letters mailed on Wednesday may not reach us in time.

FEESBURG (A Voice from Carroll)

All during the holidays the children wished for snow but not until the morning that school opened did nature decide to feather her nest with the crystal flakes. I bet this morning more children have their minds on sleds and snow-balls than they do on spelling and arithmetic. Sometimes we have to wonder whether nature is for or against us for she does some contrary tricks with the weather when we least want her to. The kids that received sleds and skates for Christmas must be blessing Santa for not bringing snow along with the gifts, so that they could have used them for the two weeks of freedom from school.

And speaking of freedom from school the Carroll County children had more vacation days than did Baltimore city boys and girls. There was a howl of dismay from some of them when they learned that school in our county opened five days after the schools in the city did. Some said they were going to move to Carroll.

Governor McKeldin had something to say this week pertaining to the schools too. He is opposed to an increase in teachers pay at the state level and thinks that the responsibility rests with the counties. He said Sunday that the counties could finance a raise for teachers by a five-cent-a-pack tax on cigarettes. It sounds to me as if like everyone else in authority, the Governor is for better education if it isn't going to cost anything. Lip service is mighty cheap and that is all anyone has been giving the drive for better schools and more teachers, from the President on down the line to the county commissioners. Everyone wants someone else to pay for it and in the end the owners of real-estate foots the bill. The proposal for another tax on cigarettes is grossly unfair. Each time that the legislature wants new tax revenue, instead of acting courageous and putting taxation where it belongs, they just add another burden to the things many people call luxuries. I have been told not to criticize unless one has a plan to offer that could solve the problem. Not being an aspirant for the Governorship I can offer a realistic solution to the school and teacher problem. It is very simple, fair, and it will secure all the money needed to build school and pay the teachers a dignified salary. Here it is: Add a one per cent sales tax on everything but the grocery bill and set the collected revenue aside to be used only for the improvement of our school system. This is the only way to distribute fairly the cost of educating our children. I can hear right now the anguished cries from the Governor and delegates, and the taxpayers. Of course its going to hurt some people but remember all of us have been hurling the word "liberty" right and left during the past few months and if we are to make that word mean something more than a seven letter noun we had better make some sacrifices to improve our educational system by which liberty can be preserved for succeeding generations of Americans. We are about to spend billions in money and maybe many lives to keep the oil pipe-lines flowing through the middle-east, so let us spend a few millions to keep ideas flowing through the minds of our children, by skilled, competent teachers.

What we thought was cute strategy didn't work. We sent our teen-ager to the garage with the family car to have it serviced. While there, she fell in love with a '57 model and for days all we heard were the many reasons why we just had to have a new car. So finally we persuaded her to shine up our old one and see how nice it would look. All was well until she drove into the city on Saturday and saw dozens of bright new two tone '57s. She came home really put out and when we tried to console her she discouragously said, "Oh, mother you are just too old to understand what a new car would do for my ego." I am afraid her ego will just have to survive on the old car but I can well understand how so many parents get trapped into being foolish by their emotions. When your son or daughter has that "I can't live without it" look in their face one's heart and reason does a flip-flop and all that stands in the way of granting their request is the deflated budget.

Mr. Louis Dielman, of New Windsor will celebrate his 93rd birthday January 16th. He was born in 1864. It is difficult for one to understand fully what a span of time 93 years is until one counts the many changes that have occurred in those years. If one takes into account the startling events that have shaken the world; the struggle of nations for peace by constant wars; the fantastic inventions; the brilliant new ideas born and the brilliant old ones buried; and all the other one hundred and one things that have plagued or blessed man then one can understand in a small degree the meaning of being 93 years old. But the most astounding thing of all is that a person can live through all of these things and remain healthy, wise and with a reserve of strength to enjoy it all and ask for more. Truly man is remarkable, which isn't an original observation but never-the-less true. His mind adjusts to change as does his body, and his spirit rides the hills and valleys of life with the unbroken belief that living is good no matter under what terms. Mr. Dielman has symbolized these traits of man. He has found all of his 93 years fun for he accepted the world and its mortals as they are and didn't waste his talent and energy in trying to change either one. If you would like to live to be a hundred try his philosophy. I will never make it myself for I am always wasting my energy on lost causes and never having the sense to know when they are lost. Show me a man who cannot bother to do little things and I'll show you a man who cannot be trusted to do big things.—Lawrence D. Bell. Advice to the young: "Learn from other's mistakes—You haven't time to make them all yourself."—Ruth Roelke.

On Thursday the 3rd of January, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zimmerman, of near Detour, visited with the Fraileys of Emmitsburg. They also called on Mrs. Seiss and visited with her and other members of her family.

Recently, Mrs. Gregg Kiser of near Keysville, assisted Mrs. Gilbert Stine, Chairman of the Christian Life Committee of the Keysville United Lutheran Church Women, by taking the used clothing which had been collected at the Keysville Lutheran Church to the Church World Service Center.

While at the Center Mrs. Kiser discovered the gift shop there. Here things are sold, things which have been made in all parts of the world. Mrs. Kiser gave a glowing account of this little shop, she urges all to take time to visit and shop there.

Janet Stambaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stambaugh near Detour, and Audrey Wilhide were Saturday guests of the Glenn Kiser family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zimmerman entertained their friends, Mr. and Mrs. White, of Littlestown, Pa., on Dec. 29th.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mimick, of Union Bridge were Friday supper guests of their niece, Mrs. John S. Harner and family, Taneytown.

This probably should have been put into the Date Clearance Calendar—Most every Tuesday and every Friday night from now until late in Feb.—there will be basketball being played. It is no use to plan anything else for most of the young people on these nights. This is county wide. I understand, and I am unhappy about it, and don't know as anything can be done about it, that the basketball tournament is scheduled for Feb. 26 and March 1st. In the Westminster area all Lutherans and their families are supposed to be in Church—it is the week of Evangelism Mission. The first night of the Tournament, Feb. 22, doesn't interfere.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Luther Houck and her family of near Detour in the death of her mother Mrs. Robert A. Wenschhof, of Gettysburg, Pa. Mrs. Wenschhof has been ill for the past 5 years, she had been confined to her home for the past several years. Mrs. Wenschhof died on Sunday morning.

Visitors during the week with the William Weishaar, of near Detour, were Mr. Weishaar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Weishaar, Mrs. Edward Weishaar, Mr. Elwood Hobbs, Jerry Clingan, Mrs. Margaret Hann and family, Miss Lois Hamburg, Charlie Myers and Mrs. Mary T. Plaine.

Glenn Yingling, Jack Fortney, Jimmie Yingling, Russell Williams and Ned Eichman were recent Sunday visitors with Richard Wilhide at his home on the Key-De-Blue Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weishaar and family were among those who helped his parents, the Wm. F. Weishaars of Hapes Mill road, celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday December 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zimmerman, of near Detour, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Neal Powell of Taneytown, on Dec. 27th. At the same time Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sprowl, of Westminster, visited with the Powells. Holidays are especially nice when mutual friends are brought together in a visit.

Rejoicing in the John Young home, Charles arrived at Friendship Airport on Saturday evening, there he was met by his parents and Betty Shibley. Charles expects to stay here until the 17th of January and then he is to report to his new base in the state of Oregon.

A recent communication from Mrs. John Green, of Ormond, Florida, formerly of Union Bridge, reveals that her son Shellman and Robert Sells, son of a former Union Bridge Parish Pastor, Rev. C. C. Sellers, have been going to school together. The boys just happened to learn that they both at one time lived in Union Bridge. Further investigation showed that the two families live about 50 miles apart in Florida.

The Junior Christian Endeavor of Keysville was entertained at the home of the Clyde Wilhides on Sunday evening at a Christmas party. A good time was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bentz (the former Miss Rosalie Sharrer) called at the Carroll Wilhide home on Sunday. They had spent some time and had Christmas (belated) dinner with his parents and were planning on spending the afternoon with her parents. They were to return to Chincoteague, Va., Sunday evening. Raymond and Rosie have their home right on the base at the Naval Air Station at Chincoteague.

Mrs. LaVerne Keilholtz took her place as organist at the Keysville Lutheran Church on Sunday. Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh is assistant organist and choir director. Mrs. Gregg Kiser, who has been a faithful organist at Keysville for years, recently resigned. Mrs. Kiser also resigned from the teaching of the Intermediate Sunday School class.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Priest and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simmons and family were visitors at the Carroll Wilhide home on Wednesday evening Jan. 2nd.

Sunday evening supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun and family were Mr. and Mrs. James Coshun, Mr. and Mrs. James Unglesbee, Gail and Dennie, Cindy Lescalette and LeRoy Coshun.

A lot of used stamps have been turned in—but if you have a lot from your Christmas cards, let us have them. I am wondering how close we can come to the 10,000 goal.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilhide and Douglas are expected to arrive at the home of Mr. Wilhide's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide, Keysville, in time for Fred's birthday, the 18th of Jan. Fred either has been by now or will be in a few days discharged from the Air Force.

Lloyd Wilhide, Lay Chairman of the Evangelism Mission at Keysville Lutheran is preparing to get this program into high gear. A meeting for the lay visiting committee headed by C. E. Priest has been called for this Thursday, Jan. 10, 7:30. Mr. Wilhide recently received a letter from Rev. James K. Hilton who will be the Missioner at Keysville. Mr. Wilhide had requested information concerning Rev. Hilton for publicity purposes. I shall quote from his letter, "I was born in Altamont, N. Y., May 28, 1925. Graduated from Altamont High School: Spent from Sept. 1943 to April 1946 in the Army (a year and a half of that in Europe with the 10th Armored Division). After this I attended Union College in Schenectady, N. Y., graduating in August 1949. Then I worked for four years for the General Motors Acceptance Corporation. After this we pulled up roots in Sept. 1953 and entered Gettysburg Seminary, and graduated May 1956. I was ordained in May 31, 1956 in the United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England and accepted the Call to this church (Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church) taking up my duties on June 24th." Bethany Church is in Central Bridge, N.Y.

Mrs. Carroll Dougherty, President of the United Lutheran Church Women of Keysville, reports that a large number of gifts were received at the Christmas Service on Dec. 23rd. These gifts have been sent to the Rocky Boy Indian Mission at Box Elder, Montana.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

to-time with respect to the cost of public education and the comparative costs of various educational services in Carroll County and the other counties of the state.

The state report is for the school year 1954-55 and it is believed the analysis submitted in the following paragraphs may be helpful to those interested in public education; its problems and its support. It is believed to be of helpfulness to interested citizens, parents, and the general public. Personnel of the school system and county is available if discussion groups desire to have the benefit of further information.

During the 1954-55 school year the schools of Carroll County were open for 181 days, which is one day above the state average for days of school in session. The highest number of days in session for this particular year was in Worcester County with 182.7 days.

During the 1954-55 school year Carroll County enrolled a total of 9,488 pupils in twenty-one schools of the county. The average number belonging to the schools of the County during the year at any one particular time was 9,018.1 pupils.

During the 1954-55 school year the expenditure of public funds for school library books was analyzed. The state average in this area was 99 cents with an average for the counties of the state at $1.02. In this particular year the expenditure in Carroll County was 80 cents per pupil. Only seven counties in the state spent less for pupils for library books than Carroll County.

During the 1954-55 school year no expenditures were made by Carroll County for the operation of junior colleges. This move has been made in a number of the counties and has in the approval of a great many citizens who believe that the opportunity for the first two years of college education should be made available to young people unable to attend college. Carroll County has yet to face and meet the problem of providing post high school experience in the junior college for those pupils qualified for this type of training.

A study was made regarding the assessable wealth existing in each of the counties of Maryland for each public school pupil belonging to the schools. In this analysis it is disclosed that Carroll County had an assessed valuation of $9,209.00 for each public school pupil enrolled. This placed Carroll County fourteenth from the top in the amount of taxable wealth existing per pupil belonging.

During the 1954-55 school year Carroll County appropriated 47.7% of its total tax revenue for the support of public schools. This placed Carroll County fourteenth from the top in the percentage of public funds devoted for this purpose which was significantly below the average for the counties of Maryland, where the average appropriation was 53%.

During the 1954-55 school year the tax rate devoted to public school purposes was $1.20 and during the same year the state average was $1.32. Carroll County was sixth from the bottom in this study of public school revenues as compared to the tax rate. Only five counties, during 1954-55, levied less than Carroll for public school purposes percentage-wise.

During the 1954-55 school year Carroll County transported its pupils at an average cost of $28.91. This placed Carroll fourth from the bottom in cost per pupil. Nineteen counties had a cost higher than Carroll for public school transportation per pupil. Carroll was significantly below the state average cost which was $31.79.

During 1954-55 the average salary per teacher, as given in the state report, in Carroll County was $3685.00. The state average salary was $4163.00 and the average salary for the counties of Maryland was $3909.00. Only five counties in the state, Somerset, St. Mary's, Garrett, Charles, and Calvert, spent less in average salary per teacher.

During 1954-55 Carroll County's average cost per pupil belonging to public high schools was $248.08. Only four of the counties of the state had a lower cost per pupil, namely, Wicomico, Frederick, Garrett and Anne Arundel. The state average cost was $270.46 and the average for the counties was $260.41 per pupil.

During 1954-55 Carroll County had an average per pupil cost in the elementary school of $168.53. Only one county showed a lower cost per pupil in the elementary school. The state average was $202.72 and the average for the counties was $200.26.

In 1954-55 when high and elementary school costs per pupils is considered together Carroll County's cost was $208.07. This was next to the lowest for the counties of Maryland; only one other county having a lower cost per pupil. The state average was $236.13 and the average for the counties was $231.04.

During 1954-55 cost per pupil belonging in Carroll County for administrative costs was $3.65. This was the lowest cost per pupil for administration in the state. The state average cost for administration was $6.03 and the average cost of the counties was $5.46.

During the 1954-55 school year 52% of the cost of school operations was borne by the State and Federal government in Carroll County. During the 1954-55 school year the cost per pupil for textbooks in Carroll County was $2.75. This represents the purchase of about 1 1/2 textbooks for each pupil at current prices. The cost per pupil for materials of instruction was $3.08. The cost per pupil for teachers' and supervisors' salaries was $154.68. It cost $6.04 per pupil to keep the buildings clean and provide personnel and materials. It cost $7.31 per pupil to heat and light the buildings and $6.08 per pupil to keep the buildings in repair and maintain this investment in capital structures for the county schools.

Further statistics related to comparative costs are available to any interested citizen or taxpayer who may wish to discuss the issue in the offices of the Board of Education.

He has a good number of nieces and nephews great ones and great, great ones scattered through Md. and Pa. but out of the 50 or more only one of them talks to him in Sign language and that is his niece, Mrs. Isabel (Eckenrode) Kalfbleisch, of Baltimore.

Miss Ruth says its too slow, his brothers and sisters had sign for all animal and things being together on farm before he entered the school 10 years what they can't tell him by their language they write to him. He goes to St. Paul's Church and S. School each Sunday and if he can't hear a word, he claims everybody should go to S. S. and church.

Tempted We Are

Lesson for January 13, 1957

EVERYBODY is a sinner yet not everybody is tempted to the same sins. But being tempted is not a sign of sin. The church believes that the same Jesus who "in every respect has been tempted as we are" (Hebrews 4:15) nevertheless was tempted without sinning. It would be a mistake to suppose that in order to be tempted as we are, Jesus would have to have been tempted to all the sins there are. What this means is simply that the way he was tempted is the way we are tempted.

Dr. Foreman

At Highest Moments

One thing we can learn from Christ's temptations is that it is not possible in this life to be guaranteed freedom from temptation. In the first place, it can be said that only serious-minded high-principled people know what real temptation is. Weak, flabby, frivolous persons feel no pull or push; they drop into sin like a stone into water. You can't feel temptation without resisting. Low-minded people do what they feel like doing without thinking. They aren't even aware they have sinned. They are like dirty little boys who can't see the sense in washing — they feel clean enough! It is the clean person who is conscious of dirt on his hands or clothes. So only the person with real convictions and ideals can feel the tug of temptation. It is only people with consciences who can be tempted to go against their conscience. Now high-minded people, people who really want to please God, often wish they could reach a stage in life where they wouldn't have to struggle to be good and to do right. But the story of Jesus shows that this is a false hope. Jesus had just been baptized when his great temptations came. If ever there was a consecrated, holy person, conscious of God's approval, it was Jesus at that time. If ever there was a person filled with the Holy Spirit, it was he. Yet Matthew tells us that Jesus was led by the Spirit to be tempted! In life's highest and holiest moments one is tempted to say, Now I am safe. But that may be the very moment the great struggle begins.

Tempted to Do Good

Again, the story of Jesus shows that sin may not always be something evil in itself. The three temptations of Jesus illustrate three levels of sin. Falling down and worshipping Satan is obviously the sin of sins. Jumping off a temple roof isn't so much wicked as it is foolish; but playing the fool is still sin. (If the President of the United States rolled his Secretary of State down Pennsylvania Avenue in a wheel-barrel, it might not be wicked, but for him it would be very wrong indeed.) But turning stones into bread —? That would be a helpful thing in a country full of poor people. Nothing was said about Jesus using the bread for himself alone. And if he could turn stones into bread he could turn them into medicine, into meat, mansions . . . Not wicked, not foolish. But still wrong; because Jesus was commissioned to do something more profound, more radical than supplying people with bread. He came to change men from the inside, to feed their souls. So we, like the Master, are sometimes tempted to do what is good, when what is better is possible. "To choose a lesser good," said Prof. W. M. Urban, "in the presence of a greater, is the essence of wrong."

Sword of the Spirit

Another way in which the Christian can learn from Christ's temptations is by observing how he met them. He did not play around with them. He did not say, "Well, there is something in what you say." He did not debate what for him was not debatable. And he met each temptation with a word from God's Word. Each of the quotations he makes, ("It is written") came from the same book of the Old Testament, Deuteronomy. If Jesus could find help, in time of temptation, in his Bible, surely the Christian of today is cutting himself off from a major source of strength if when temptation comes the best he can think of is, "I am sure there is a verse in the Bible about this somewhere, but I can't think what it is." The best way to have the Bible ready for daily help is not to have it on a shelf, but to have it as a treasure in the mind.

GOD AND THE TREE

God knows man better than man knows himself—
Of his many likes, and his love of self;
So, when He thought to give him a deli-ca-cy,
The first thing He did was to make a tree,
A thing which, to him, would be a delight;
And, still be a home, for the birds, at night.

When I look at the trees so stately and tall,
I think of Him who made them all;
And, I say to myself, "How good was He,
To ever have thought, lest to make a tree."
The one great thing which puzzles me
Is, that we know so little about the tree.

God has made thousands; but, we do not know
Even their names, or the place where they grow;
Through every age the tree has stood;
And been a symbol of all that is good;
It dispenses plenty over all the land;
And, acts, as though it were God's hand.

There are times, as the farmers all know,
When the grass is short, and the wheat stands low;
It was just for such an e-mer-gen-cy
That God decided to give the tree;
It is one of His angels who always stands
Holding a basket of fruit in her hands.

There are thousands of things which we do not know
About the countless things which grow,
Especially about the trees and the flowers
Of which one might sit and write for hours;
God foresaw that man from Him would flee;
So, through compassion, He made the tree.

He made them, not only to beautify—
To scent the air, and attract the eye;
But, He did it so that we all might eat;
And to serve, as it were, mankind with meat;
He knew that too stupid man would be
To till the ground until he was free.

Never since the earth and our world began,
Never since the creation and memory of man,
Has such erudition been known to be
As God expressed when He made the tree;
She speaks, but her words cannot be heard
By those whose senses have been blurred.

The words of a tree, like the words of a bird,
Through the physical ear are never heard;
They only come to the real you and I
Whose natural abode is in the sky;
It is a language new to mortal man;
But God has spoken since time began.

The universe is governed by laws; but the law of sound
Shall not be found by him who puts an ear on the ground;
Your conscience, the real you, speaks, but your ear
Does not catch the words you so plainly hear;
God has used this law since Time began;
It is His way of speaking to man.

What a wonderful world this would be
If we all were as generous as the tree;
No man was ever seen hungry to be
Who stood in the shade of a lovely fruit tree;
So, I say to all peoples, both great and small;
"God put the trees on earth for us all."

The trees are God's storehouses throughout the land;
They stand where they are by His command;
No man should hold a title to a tree,
Since God put them here for His great family;
For ages, it is said, man's chief "bill of fare"
Consisted of viands he got from the air.

No matter if a man does own a plot of ground
His title to a tree should be unsound;
For it gets its life from out of the air;
And it is God's property everywhere;
He helps it to face the winds which blow
And gives it inward heat to stand in the snow.

The pastel colors which which look so grand
Have all been copied, come second hand;
"From the blossoms on the peach and apple tree,"
Says the chemist, they have come to me;
There is no beauty which, on earth, one sees
That can cope with the blossoms on those trees.

Of the apple trees there are 2000 kinds;
Apples to please the most finicky minds,
God has made them both sauer and sweet
In order that they your taste may meet;
Such luscious viands nowhere can be found
As are one the trees which covers the ground.

He gave us the apricot, the plum, and the peach—
Thousands of bushels; and bushels of each;
If they all were wert put on a single pile;
That pile would reach for many a mile;
In our markets, they make a gorgeous display
Since they tell of perfection in every way.

He gave us the fig, the mulberry, the cherry trees,
Their fruit, too, is luscious, and tastes good to me,
Orange and lemon trees also abound;
And, in many tropical countries are found,
To all of the people who live in the East
They are the chief aid in giving a feast.

It is said the grapefruit is a powerful tree;
In our country, it has much popularity;
To hold its huge fruit God makes it strong;
And on its branches the birds sing a song;
To bear so much weight, it must surely be
A Hercules in the form of a tree.

The pear tree is in the limelight to-day;
Its succulent fruit is delicious, men say,
It is seen on the tables of both high and low
And seems to be relished wherever you go,
Because of distinction, the peach, apple, and pear
Seem to hold priority everywhere.

The apple, the peach, and cherry tree
When covered with blossoms are a sight to see;
They tell of the Paradise God is making for man,
For that is also a part of His plan;
When all the fruits are perfect which we see
Earth will be the place God wants it to be.

There are apple trees of which I know
Which differ from any trees which grow;
The apples are half sour and half sweet;
So, to suit some tastes, they should be complete
God knew some people are hard to please
So to suit their taste He gave them these.

In the far east there many beautiful trees,
Trees which attract the birds and the bees;
Thousands of fireflies furnish them light
So they look like Christmas trees at night;
Wherever such gorgeous trees abound,
Birds of every wing are found.

But there is a giant palm, the talipot tree
From which the birds are said to flee;
When it flowers a noise like a canon is heard;
The tremendous explosion frightens every bird,
It is just like God to make all kinds of trees
So that all peoples He may please.

The Cream of Tartar is another big tree;
Its fruit is used in cul-i-na-ary.
Because of its perfume, they like it best
The almond, banana and coconut trees
Furnish the home with its deli-a-cies.

Many tales are told of the nutmeg tree;
On its branches the birds often spree;
Its fumes, intoxicating, and many are found
Either dead or drunk on the ground
The taste of the nutmeg is pleasing to me
But it plays havoc with birds on the tree.

The trees are "fee simple"—no matter where they stand;
They belong to God, who owns all the land;
There are millions! They are a part of His plan
To furnish food for the birds and man;
In time of famine when land crops fail,
They see that hunger shall not prevail.

One might sit and write for hours
Telling of God, the trees, and the flowers;
For such imagery only to God is known,
Never, by man, has it been shown;
So unto Him let our promises be;
"For only God can make a tree!"

The noble tree which in Eden stood
God planted there as a symbol of good—
Even the leaves were said to be
A cure for the ills of humanity;
God put it there so all might see
Just how perfect one must be.

WANTED MEN AND WOMEN WITH IDEAS

Do you have any advertising ideas?

We're looking for an advertisement that will tell everyone just how wonderful electric cooking is. If you think you can make up an ad like this, send it along and if we like your idea we'll use it in 30 newspapers of this area.

In addition to giving you credit in the ad for your idea, we'll select the advertisement we think best and send its originator his choice of a toaster, table lamp, electric clock, or hand iron.

You don't have to be an artist . . . just make up any sort of rough drawing . . . cut pictures out of magazines or newspapers if you wish . . . then write the reasons why you like to use electric cooking. That's all there is to it.

Hints: Most housewives prefer to cook electrically because it's (1) Clean, there's no smoke, soot or fumes; (2) Fast, heat is applied directly to the cooking utensil; (3) Safe; (4) Economical. You don't have to use these features, however, in your ad. We want your ideas, so use your own imagination.

All entries must be received by January 31, 1957
and become the property of the Potomac Edison
System Advertising Department.

If you want to become an ad writer, just send your idea to: Advertising Department, The Potomac Edison Co., Hagerstown, Md.

grand memories, having been entertained so much a few years back by my cousins who resided there and held positions in the Naval Academy. Somehow, I love the old brick pavements and as we parked the car, the familiar streets came into view of which I knew so well. The guests in the mansion were most friendly and everyone seemed to know who's who which made everyone feel very much at home.

The pictures of Mrs. McKeldin never do her justice. This was the first time I met "The First Lady" of Maryland and she was indeed most gracious!

Each time I visit Annapolis (and it was two years ago) I still am fascinated with that quaint and charming little town where each home has its own personality. No two alike!

If you have a new puppy in your house be sure and keep him very warm especially at night for he will miss the warmth of his mother. Never allow him to remain outdoors in the cold weather for any length of time regardless of the breed. If he cries at night, give him some warm milk and cover him up again and if he continues to cry because he is lonely, clap your hands as if scolding him and he will understand for the first month is the hardest on any little puppy to become accustomed to being without his mother.

Kittens become more accustomed to new surroundings than dogs, so patience is the word!

Mr. Teen-ager, if you have been fortunate enough to get that car for your Christmas, graduation or birthday gift, do try and be sensible about it and never attempt to speed no matter who is in the car with you. In a recent paper, it stated the frightful percentage of teen-agers causing deaths upon the highways. The motto of that nice Paul Burke is "Slow Down and Live!"

Be seeing you next week D. V. Have a grand week end. I am,

Faithfully
