CHEST X-RAY CAMPAIGN ENDS

Carroll County Survey Exceeds Last Year

Carroll County's community chest X-ray campaign came to an end on May 16th with a record breaking total of 5620 persons X-rayed. This shows an increase of nearly 1000 over that of last year.

Mrs. Eval Lawyer, general chairman of the county X-ray program, stated that statistics on the results of the campaign to find the unknown cases of tuberculosis will be made public as soon as possible. "Radiologists at the Maryland State Department of Health are checking the small film X-rays as quickly as they can, and notices will be sent to those whose X-rays were unsatisfactory.

These persons will be notified and asked to see their family doctors or to call at the Carroll County Health Department for a second, larger X-ray. These, like the small films taken at the X-ray unit, will be made free of charge.

"One of the most important results of this survey has been the education of this community to the facts about TB. I am sure everyone now understands the importance of chest X-rays in fighting TB. It is our hope that every citizen will make it a habit to have a chest X-ray at least once a year," Mrs. Lawyer said.

The X-ray program in which a total of two technicians and 65 volunteer assistants worked for four weeks was sponsored by the Carroll County Tuberculosis Association, the Carroll County Health Department, and the Maryland State Department of Health.

A resolution paying tribute to the public spirited cooperation and hard work of volunteer committee of the tuberculosis association which stated: "The thanks of the whole community are due to the many volunteers who generously gave their time and hard work to making an outstanding success of Carroll County's campaign in this area. The chest X-ray program is one of the finest examples of public spirited cooperation this area has ever seen."

Thanks are due also the newspapers for their fine coverage of the schedule and activities of the program, and to Station WTRR for daily broadcasting the schedule urging citizens to take advantage of this service. Without the interest aroused through this media, the survey could not have succeeded.

MEMORIAL DAY

Taneytown Will Officially Dedicate War Memorial

The Hesson-Snyder Post American Legion of Taneytown are planning the observance of Memorial Day next Thursday afternoon, May 30, 1957. The Legion will have the honor of dedicating the memorial to the war dead, at the entrance of Taneytown's beautiful and spacious park at the West end of town.

A parade will form at the Legion Home at 1 p. m., moving promptly at 1:30 to World War I Memorial for brief but fitting services. From there the parade will proceed to the Memorial Park where the new entrance will be formally dedicated in memory of those who gave their lives for their country in the several wars.

KIWANIS OBSERVES 18th BIRTHDAY

The Kiwanis Club of Taneytown observed its 18th birthday. (Charter Night) on Wednesday evening at Taney Inn.

Resident Edward Howarth presided. Invocation was offered by Wallace Reindollar. Group singing was led by Harry Mohney with Mrs. Geo. L. Harner as pianist.

Guests present were Judge Anderson of the Pikesville Club, Herbert Anders of the Westminster Club, Kenneth Reifsnider and Lt. Governor of Capital District of the Key Clubs Robert Clingan, Jr., members of the T.H.S. Key Club.

Past Lt. Governor Norman Graham introduced present Lt. Governor H. P. Sturdivant of the Westminster Club. Stanley Greenburg, the speaker, who in turn presented the speaker, Stanley Greenburg, Mr. Greenburg, of Passaic, N. J., a senior at Western Maryland College, a partially blind student, having about 10% vision. It is remarkable that this student, though handicapped with traveler's vision, able to distinguish only light from dark and colors, does nearly all his studies in Braille, is graduating from the college with honors.

He talked very interestingly from the standpoint of being handicapped and impressed everyone present that being partially blind can be overcome and life can be important. He is also a student of music and next Fall expects to enter the Eastern School of Music, working toward his Master's Degree.

In his study of music it is necessary that he learns his songs in Braille and memorizing it as it is not possible to read Braille with one hand and play the piano with the other. With his brilliant mind he memorizes a song and then plays the number very professionally as displayed by him at the meeting of the club.

Geo. L. Harner will present the program next Wednesday evening. It is hoped that a 100% attendance will be present for the program.

Tuberculosis has a long, symptomless onset. The way to find unknown or unsuspected cases is to X-ray the chests of apparently healthy people.

MEETING OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

Plans for New School Near Uniontown Approved

A regular May meeting of the Board of Education was held in the offices of the Board on May 14, 1957, at 2:30 p. m. with all members present. The Board took action to approve the minutes of the regular meeting on April 9 and, at the same time, gave approval to minutes for a special meeting called on April 22 for the purpose of discussion of the problems related to the Sykesville fire. Approval was also given to a special meeting held on May 7 for the purpose of studying sketches on the proposed Francis Scott Key High School, to be erected on the Bark Hill Road near Uniontown. At this meeting the Board had taken formal action to approve the plans of the architect and to direct him to proceed with preliminary and working drawings as rapidly as possible. This action was taken with the hope that the project can be planned and advertised so that construction may begin with a view to completing the project for use in September, 1958. As approved, the project involves the construction of a 24 room senior high school to accommodate grades 9 through 12. This building includes a gymnasium, a combination auditorium, cafeteria, science rooms, home economics rooms, shops, offices, and other auxiliary rooms. At the same special meeting, the Board had approved a recommended plan for the operation of the Sykesville School during 1957-58. This plan involves following the procedure now in operation at Sykesville, through the use of temporary facilities made available by the construction of partitions in the auditorium and cafeteria. In this way the high school pupils can be instructed for one-half day sessions. At the same special meeting, the Board had been advised of the action of the County Commissioners to establish a salary schedule for teachers with Bachelor's degrees, beginning with a salary of $3,500.00 in the first year with a maximum of $5,300.00 for those in the fifteenth year (and beyond) of experience. The Board acted to establish this as the salary scale for use in 1957-58 and directed the superintendent to plan for the staffing of the schools and to make recommendations to the teaching staff at the regular August meeting of the Board.

The Board approved the bills submitted for approval and directed that they be made a part of the minutes of the meeting. Action was taken to approve teaching.

MAYOR PERRY BUYING FIRST POPPY, OPENING NATIONAL POPPY WEEK

Honor the Dead, Aid the Living

Wouldn't it be wonderful if every person would pay tribute to the nations war dead by wearing a poppy this year?

Last year Hesson-Snyder Unit #120, American Legion Auxiliary presented the disabled veterans at Springfield State Hospital with 120 Christmas packages. These gifts were purchased with our Poppy Fund. Let's all strive to make our Poppy Day this year a record breaking one.

"Honor The Dead, Aid The Living" is the national poppy message. The little red flower speaks not only of the dead, but also of those who still live. It is strange that the flower which has caused some of the worst disgrace of mankind, through the opium and heroin produced from it, be chosen to represent heroism and patriotism. But the wild poppies grew so plentiful in the fields of France and Flanders where our dead soldiers fell during World War I, they were immortalized in the famous poem "In Flanders Field".

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

By John McCrae

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.
We are the Dead, short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie,
In Flanders Field.
Take up our quarrel with the foe,
To you from falling hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep though poppies grow
In Flanders Field.

Millions of poppies have bloomed in veteran hospitals since the first poppy was crudely fashioned by trembling hands in 1925.

The Public should feel that by wearing a poppy they are helping bring a disabled veteran back to a useful life, because the most perfect memorial to our dead is to help our living to their rightful place in society.

The bulk of the Poppy Day funds remain in the communities where they are raised. Every dime, quarter or dollar donated on Poppy Day adds to the American Legion Child Welfare and Rehabilitation funds. Every contribution goes to help support the work carried out by the Auxiliary in behalf of disabled veterans and needy children of Veterans.

Why not everyone wear a poppy on Memorial Day, not only to Honor the Dead, but also Aid The Living.

WE'RE A LITTLE ASHAMED

Memorial Day begins, for millions of Americans, the longest week-end in a number of years—from Thursday to the following Monday. And in the light of past experience, we can be sure, unfortunately, that it will not be an unmixed blessing. In spite of the stepped-up warnings via press, radio and TV against reckless driving and heedless cavorting on beach and boat, the news of June third will be grisly reading.

And we may also expect as an aftermath of this extended holiday a trail of trash along our highways and in resort areas from coast to coast and border to border to remind us that the litterbug is still in our midst. But there is some reason to hope for some reduction in its tonnage. As a result of the intensive three years work of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., and the hundreds of civic organizations, both local and national that have joined this crusade against litter, measurable results are showing up in some areas.

In Ohio, highway cleanup costs have been cut from $621,733, in 1953 to $269,787 last year. Connecticut reports: "The litter problem on our highways has improved appreciably in the past two years." And from the state of Washington comes the word that "in the Vancouver area we have 30 per cent less litter to pick up than formerly."

All over the nation legislatures are debating—and passing or strengthening—anti-litter laws, while enforcement is being stepped up. But it is reasonable to believe that the results noted are largely due to pricking the public conscience, and to the availability of litterbags for cars, and receptacles into which they may be emptied.

However, the national rubbish problem still retains the proportions of a national disgrace. Trash removal from primary highways alone still costs 50 million dollars a year. The cost to towns, parks and beaches is still beyond estimating. Litter thrown on the roads—that figured in 1,000 fatal crashes in a single year—is still being tossed gaily out of car windows.

Normally self-respecting citizens, however, are gradually recognizing the virtue of carrying a litterbag in the car, as well as their personal responsibility for disposing of their own refuse. In fact, the litterbag is fast becoming a mark of good citizenship—with today's travellers carrying a variety of types including home-made devices, plain grocery bags or boxes and numerous patented commercial products. They find, incidentally, this also makes for neatness in the car.

If "Cleanliness is next to Godliness", it is surely on the side of safety, too. And in time we may expect this growing attitude of responsibility to be reflected in the highway casualty figures.—U. S. Press Association.

HOW ABOUT AID FOR US?

In bringing to the public over the air waves his plea for support of his spending policies—support, in short, of his 73.3 billion dollar budget (less the 520 millions he said Thursday might be cut from foreign aid) President Eisenhower is asking the people to decide the foreign and domestic policies of the United States.

The President is asking, in effect, whether you think it is more to this country's advantage to continue economic support of wobbly nations who might otherwise be bought over by the Kremlin, or to strengthen our own precarious financial structure.

The President is asking whether you want to enlarge a bureaucracy of 2,500,000 civil employees; whether you want the Federal government to move further into control of state and local functions—specifically, at this time, whether you want Washington commissars to build your schools for you, when, where and as they dictate.

You are asked to approve or condemn what Virginia's Senator Harry Flood Byrd has described as "a luxury budget on a global basis". It is a precariously balanced budget, as Senator Byrd points out in his analysis in the May 11th issue of National Review, dependent for its balance on the passage of postal rate increases "and further inflation of income"—It comes at a time when, as the Senator says:

"This country is mortgaged to the hilt. The $275 billion Federal debt is the equivalent of the assessed value of all the land, buildings, mines, machinery, factories, livestock—everything of tangible value in the United States." And it comes at a time when: "The equivalent of 33 cents out of every dollar people of the United States earn . . . goes for taxes of some kind. And we owe so much money that it takes ten percent of our taxes just to pay the interest."

And lest we blame the size of the budget on military spending, Senator Byrd reminds us that these items total two billion less than in fiscal 1954! But it provides for "14 new state aid programs, 67 in all". Domestic-civilian activities, he says, account for $28.9 billions of the budget!

The six billions that Senator Byrd insists can be cut from the budget "without harm to any essential federal function" could start us on the road back to fiscal stability for this country. It could even be the beginning of tax relief.

But the President is asking what you think. Can we afford to continue our global transfusion? Do we want a socialistic managed state? Tell him.—U. S. Press Association.

The annual statement of the Corporation of Taneytown appears in another column, and will be found interesting, from various points of view. In general, the finances of the town are in good condition, and in reality there is no good reason why the town should not proceed to establish a lighting plant. It would not be an additional tax burden, but ultimately would pay for itself, like the water plant. The two should be operated together.

Program for Memorial Day. Taneytown proposes to observe Memorial Day, this year, in an old-time form, by holding a parade, decoration of graves and a program of appropriate services, all of which will be in charge of the various fraternal orders of the town. The members are requested to meet at the Hall, at 12:30 sharp, as the parade will move at 1 o'clock. Old Soldiers and children with flowers will meet at the public school house. Each child in the parade will be given a small American flag. The following will be the order of parade, Taneytown Band, old Soldiers, children with flowers, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Pleasant Valley Band, Patriotic Order Sons of America, Fire Company. The program will be given at the Opera House, and will be in charge of Rev. Wm. E. Wheeler; Music, Taneytown Band; Singing; Prayer, Rev. J. E. B. Rice; Address Rev. Wm. E. Wheeler; Music, Pleasant Valley Band; Oration, Rev. J. Stewart Hartman; Singing, Benediction, Rev. D. J. Wolf.

Mayberry—Mr. Charles Rodkey, wife and two children, visited in Mayberry, last Sunday. The Mayberry band will give a concert in Mayberry, this Saturday evening.—The Mayberry band will hold a festival, on June 1st and 8th, in Marker's grove.—Addison Humbert is building a piece to his residence.

Frizzellburg—Rev. Martin Schweitzer of Union Bridge, will address the order here in the chapel, on Sunday night, June 2.—Last Sunday, Noah Babylon was surprised to see a large black snake emerge from the foundation wall of his dwelling house. He procured his gun and killed it. Very soon he noticed another and shot it too. The longer measured 5 ft. 6 in., and the shorter 4 ft. 9 in.

Harvey E. Went returned home from his Texas trip, on Wednesday.

FEESERSBURG

(A Voice from Carroll)

On Friday evening the Junior class of the Elmer Wolfe school gave the traditional prom for the Seniors. It was the highlights of the school's social season. After months of secret planning and a weeks work of decorating, the juniors succeeded in turning the auditorium into a desert oasis using the mythical "Kismet" as the decor theme. Mr. Kersey's orchestra furnished the dance music which was as danceable as Lawrence Welk's music. At least some parents and teachers thought so. The prom ended at midnight but following the ending of the festivities at the school the parents of the juniors and seniors gave them a breakfast at the Banker's restaurant in Littlestown, Pa. It has become a custom in most communities for service clubs and parents to sponsor some kind of entertainment at a club or restaurant following the prom to keep the girls and boys from scattering in all directions. So far, all sections of the county have said the plan has succeeded in its purpose—that is of keeping the prom-goers near home with something to do until they are ready to go home and to bed. The parents and teachers were especially pleased with the manner in which the boys and girls conducted the prom this year and delighted with the poise and dignity each one displayed in public. Each one was a credit to the school, the parents, the teachers and to himself.

Children Day services will be held at Mt. Union Church, June 2nd at 11 a. m. The public is invited. The program will be presented by the junior choir and the young children of the Sunday school.

For its campaign against litter-bugs last year the state of Maryland is receiving National recognition. By almost everyone cooperating to keep "Maryland Beautiful" the budget for keeping our State clean was cut by 50 per cent. So much has been done already but there can be no let up in the effort to make everyone take pride in their state. Be sure and place a bag in the family car as a place to put trash. This is the time of year when picnicking is popular, but be sure not to leave part of your picnic behind in the form of garbage. Strawberry shortcake time is with us again, and for those cooks who like to improve upon old recipes here is a new way to make a shortcake: Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt and one fourth cup of sugar. Add 2 teaspoons of grated lemon rind. Mix well. Cut in one-third cup butter or margerine preferably butter, until mixture is crumbly. Combine 1 beaten egg and one-half cup milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to moisten flour. Turn out on floured board. Knead gently, thirty seconds. Roll out one-half inch thick. Cut with a three inch biscuit cutter. Bake on ungreased sheet in hot oven 425 degrees about 15 minutes. Serve with sweetened strawberries and whipped cream. White elephant sales are not only a poor man's way of raising money for charity but it is high society's way too. The only difference being in the type of white elephants. The other day at a swanky sale the following items were offered: A sword, one of Joe Martin's neckties, a crystal swan bowl, and a painting which looked like a pair of pigeons had walked across it with yellow paint on their feet. One cannot account for some people's taste in art. At a recent sale here in our county, a friend, knowing that I collect plates insisted that I bid on one that was being sold. To please her I did, although the plate did not ring the bell with my idea of a collectors item. Nevertheless thanks to my friends discerning eye, I now possess a plate worth twenty-five times in money what it cost me, but I still think its hideous and hang it behind the door to keep it out of sight. I just don't appreciate modern art. It will always be a white elephant to me and will probably wind up at another sale.

The Union Bridge Firemen are making plans for an interesting Carnival next week and trust the weatherman will be kind and give them some warm dry nights. If there is any one event to which the public should respond whole-heartedly and with open purse it is the Firemen's annual carnival. By this time every responsible citizen must know that when they contribute to the firemen they are really contributing to their own protection and safety. The members of the Volunteer Fire Company are conscientious public servants. They respond willingly and promptly to every call made upon them from putting out fires to delivering a patient to a hospital. Never in all their years of service have we heard of one instance when they refused a call to duty. Supporting their carnival is a very small way to repay such service but that is all the Firemen ever ask of the community. Match their service with your support. If every citizen does this much, the carnival will be a whale of a success. This Sunday has been set aside as a day to honor rural life. It is a little late to be honoring a way of American life that is fast disappearing. Country living is changing so fast that it is almost unbelievable to those who have lived on a family farm for the past 30 years. For one thing the community with so much building going on. Another reason is Mr. Benson who with his conflicting farm plans has every farmer so bewildered that he doesn't know from one week to the next what he can do with his own land. Many farmers have concluded that the only thing to do is to get off the land and do something else. But what? Business has no place for him; he is too old to learn a new profession so many farmers conclude that like a captain on a ship in distress, they will stick with the farm even if it means financial disaster. It is a long furrow that has no turning and many farmers believe that sooner or later the land rewards its keepers. You never know how quickly a human voice can change until you hear a woman interrupt an argument with her husband to answer the telephone. No longer in the spring does a young man's fancy turn to thoughts of love. It turns instead to thoughts of a fancy sport car—Ruth Roelke.

When we look at the world in a narrow way How small and narrow it seems! When we look at the world in a cynical way How futile are all our dreams! But when we look up with friendly eyes And with thoughts that are kind and forgiving, Our hearts are filled with joy and surprise At the good world in which we are living.

MY FARM (A poem to be considered during Soil Conservation Week) My farm, to me, is not just land Where bare, unpainted buildings stand To me, my farm is nothing less Than all created loveliness. My farm is not where I must toil My hands with endless dreary toil; But, where, through seed and swelling pod I've learned to walk and talk with God.

My farm, to me, is not a place Outmoded by a modern race; I like to think I just see less Of evil, greed and selfishness. My farm's not lonely, for all day, I hear my children shout and play. And, here, when age comes—free from cares I'll live again, long joyous years. My farm is Heaven—here dwells rest, Security and Happiness. What ere befalls the world outside Here faith and hope and love abide. And so, by farm is not just land Where bare, unpainted buildings stand; To me, my farm is nothing less Than all God's hoarded loveliness.

MARYLAND CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY EXTENDS SERVICES THROUGHOUT STATE

Services to children and parents provided by the Maryland Children's Aid Society will be extended to all counties in Maryland as of June 1.

Robert Scott, President of the Carroll County Branch of the parent organization, announced. The Carroll County Branch Board of the Maryland Children's Aid Society voted to dissolve the local organization in order to have one operation in the Northwestern counties of the state.

For the first time in some twenty-five years, the Maryland Children's Aid Society is again offering services on a state wide basis. This reorganization will allow the Maryland Children's Aid Society through local citizen participation and district staffs to provide services which are needed from the private agency on a much broader scale.

The Children's Aid Society will continue to serve Carroll County as it has in the past. It will offer short-term foster care, service to unwed parents, adoption service and counseling for parents in relation to problems with their children.

The Western District Office of the Maryland Children's Aid Society will be located after June 15 at 21 Court Street, Westminster, Md. Another office may be opened later in the year in Hagerstown, Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, and Carroll Counties comprise the Western District.

The majority of the present members of the Carroll Board of the Children's Aid Society will continue to work with the agency either as members of the District Council or as members of the County Committee.

Mrs. Scott explained that the reorganization of the Maryland Children's Aid Society will give more persons in the state an opportunity for participating in the agency's program; and the society is expecting its old friends to continue to support it while it will be making many new friends.

Mrs. Helen S. Brooks, who has been Executive of the Carroll County Branch of the Maryland Children's Aid Society, will become the Acting District Supervisor of the Western District Office. Miss Grace Trautman, who has been a worker on the staff of the Carroll Branch, will continue on the agency's District Office staff.

Mrs. Charlene Phillips, office secretary and bookkeeper in the local branch, will also continue on the District staff.

Farm Production Hike Predicted

Population Increase To Expand Market

In sizing up the production job ahead of farmers during the next 20 years, economists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture point out that sizable adjustments may be needed to balance farm output with changing market demand.

The magnitude and nature of the job is analyzed by Dr. Glen T. Barton and Dr. Robert O. Rogers, agricultural economists of USDA's Agricultural Research Service, in the publication Farm Output—Past Changes and Projected Needs.

There probably will be about 210 million persons in the U.S. to feed and clothe in 1975—a fourth more than the 165 million in mid-1955.

Economists predict a bigger market for farm products in the years ahead.

Based on that and other assumptions, the USDA economists see a need for one-third more agricultural products in 1975 than in 1951-53. They say the past record of farmers would indicate that future needs can be met relatively easily.

A marked increase in the need for livestock production is the dominating feature of the future production pattern. About 45 per cent more livestock production than in 1951-53 will be needed. Production of cattle and calves may need to be increased by about 50 per cent, hogs about 40 per cent, and sheep and lambs about 25 per cent.

Be Sure to Use Proper Fertilizer

A Michigan State University soil scientist says that some of the new fertilizers on the market don't let phosphorus become available to plants quickly enough.

Some fertilizers, which include phosphates only slightly soluble in water, are being granulated to make them easier to handle. Some high analysis fertilizers also have phosphates of low water solubility.

Soil Scientist Kirk Lawton points out that as a consequence the phosphorus availability in some of the new fertilizers is being reduced to a critical level.

Lawton asserts that studies, both in the greenhouse and field, have shown that granulated fertilizers with a high proportion of their phosphorus soluble in water are best for developing vigorous young sugar beet and corn plants.

Farmers, he suggests, would do well to learn the various kinds of phosphates in fertilizer, some of which are soluble in water and some insoluble. Under the law, phosphates are classified as soluble if they break down in a certain acid but not in water.

Foot scrapers for the dairy barn, milk house or the back door of the farm home can be made by cutting 12-in. lengths from an older mower sickle and driving them into lengths of 2 x 6-in. stock.

  - 4 to 5 medium cooked sweet potatoes
  - 1 12-ounce can luncheon meat
  - 3 tablespoons butter
  - 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
  - 1/4 cup brown sugar

Vary Breakfast With Hot Breads

There's nothing like a fragrant breakfast on a nippy morning to get you started in the right groove. A well-balanced breakfast is not only an important aspect of health but also a good way to feel energetic all morning.

If you serve a nice hot bread for this first meal, the folks will be certain to take time to eat a good breakfast including a citrus fruit or juice, cereal with milk and sugar, eggs and breakfast meat.

Here's a quickly made cake with a delicious crumbly topping:

Caramel Coffee Cake (Makes 9 large squares)

- 3 tablespoons shortening
  - 1/2 cup milk
  - 1 cake or package of yeast
  - 1/2 cup granulated sugar
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1 egg
  - 2 cups sifted all purpose flour
- Topping:
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
  - 1/4 cup flour
  - 1/4 cup butter
  - 1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Combine shortening and milk. Heat to scalding. Cool to lukewarm and stir in crumbled yeast. Add sugar, salt, cinnamon and lightly beaten egg. Blend in half of flour and beat until smooth. Blend in remaining flour. Spread half of dough in bottom of greased 8-inch pan. Sprinkle with half of topping mixture. Drop remaining dough over first layer by teaspoonfuls and spread to cover. Sprinkle with remaining topping. Let rise in warm place 1 1/2 hours. Bake in hot (400° F.) oven 30 to 35 minutes. Cut into squares and serve hot. To make topping, blend sugar, flour and butter until crumbly. Stir in walnuts.

Here's another hot bread quick to prepare:

Almond Honey Toast (Makes 1 cup spread)

  - 3 tablespoons butter
  - 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1/4 cup ground, roasted unblanched almonds

WHY PEOPLE GROW OLD—(Part 1)

Age is not a matter of years! It is a state of mind; So do not pine for the years left behind! Babies, born in the year 2000, will have 200 years to go, And there are many reasons why that is so.

If I only had Life to live over! We hear oldsters say; How often we hear it said in this our day! The truth is, you can, if you go God's way; And do not listen to what mortals say.

Men of 100, they tell us, in some future day Shall not be cripples, and old and gray; Those centenarians shall only be in their prime Because Life is not measured by flight of time.

Even now, some reach reach the age of 152— At 120, they say, they feel like they are new; All their days they had lived on a simple fare; But modern living caused death and despair.

An Arab, one Solo Abu Musa, now at 105 Is cutting his 3d set of teeth; and, much alive! And, there are many others like him, they say, Who ignore modern doctrine and go the old way.

We plant posts, called years, to make flight of Time (Each year we plant one, as older we climb) Not knowing we are marking a channel, they say For our arch enemy Age to come our way.

There was once an old city in Italy, they say Which could only be so reached in that early day So they planted posts to find their way; But pulled they up, when sea rovers drew near they say.

And, that is how we should do in our day— Pull up the posts! Don't let Age come your way! God sent you here to become like Him, they say So, you are always safe, if you go His way.

Here is how we find things on earth to-day; Three Luciferian Churches in France, they say; Their members worship Satan; and, go his way Because they all fear him, the papers say.

But Satan is a nonentity, the savants all say; So, why be a bird, and fear a scarecrow like they? At the very beginning, a scapegoat he was meant to be To bear man's iniquities; and from mortals flee.

Living cells taken from dead bodies, they say, When properly fed live on and on from day to day— Not only that! They grow, experts now say; And continue to live, after one has passed away.

Single cell animals never die a natural death; They live on and on until crushed out of breath; So, scientists are now asking each other—why Multi cellular animals like man really need to die?

Age and Death are not stages of existence they say— (That is the consensus of great doctors to-day); Man shall always have a body, biologists say, Because God intends he shall be that way.

The body we see goes to dust, they all say; But, the man who lived in it goes on his way; That is why we make so many trips to earth, they say, Man must build a body which shall not decay.

40 years ago, Ponce de Lean sought the Fountain of Youth, When, it was right within himself, had he known the truth; That is a secret we all shall know When we learn to know God, and the right way to go.

What is responsible for youth and age? Here is the answer as told by a sage; Youth looks forward for something better some day, Age looks back, and sees only death and decay.

The whole transaction is a mental state they say; So, until we learn who we are, we go the old way; That is how God teaches both you and me; And, that is how we are made fit for eternity.

Youth pictures a body full of pep, they say; Age sees a critter getting old and grey; We have been trained to expect such things, they say; And, the thing we fear always comes our way.

At the age of 40 or 50 we all cease to climb, Because we think we are long past our prime; Man never even dreams that he is destined to be In future ages, a god among gods in Eternity.

But that is why God sent you this way He wants you to be perfect in the endless day; Like Jesus, you too, shall someday walk on the sea When a man like Jesus you turn out to be.

Man of Peace

Lesson for May 26, 1957

In a hospital for the insane, the patients may think the doctors are crazy. In a land of three-legged men, a man with only two legs would look deformed. Maybe that is why in the world today people who speak a good word for Peace are looked on as somewhat "touched in the head." This is a warring world. It is a fact that the heathen ancestors of most readers of this column followed a religion in which heaven was thought to be a place where fighting went on all day and drinking all night. But north-Europeans

Dr. Foreman are not the only fighters of the world. Wars and fights, large and small, have been going on in all parts of the world since cave-man times. This Twentieth Century is the bloodiest of all, with fewer wars than formerly, but far more serious ones.

Surrender

Isaac, second son of Abraham, is known as a man of peace. But he must have seemed to be a rather odd man, around Gerar where he lived. He did not seem quite normal. He was willing, even eager, to make peace; but what lessons he endured in the making of peace? In the famous story of the Wells of Gerar, which is in our Scripture this week, we see Isaac giving up his comforts, his profits and even his rights, in order to keep peace. He moved farther and farther into the wilderness; he got no return on all the labor put in on the wells; and he actually gave up what he had a perfect right to keep—the wells themselves. It is very likely that a man or a nation that is going to stay at peace with the rest of the world, will, like Isaac, have to surrender some comforts, some profits, even some rights. A nation, or an individual, unwilling to make any concessions, yield any points or lower their profits, is headed for a fight. And the fight will cost more than what they fought to keep.

Sons of God

Nevertheless, peacemakers shall be called sons of God. So Jesus tells us; let it be noted that he said peacemakers, not peace-wishers, peace-praisers. This means that peacemakers are like God, they belong to his family. It means that the peacemaker is in line with the purposes of God. Consider Isaac again. What became of all the nations whose battles reddened the earth, whose wars were the big news, whose generals were famous men, whose conquests made history? The nations of that day are now dead, so dead that until recently—we know better now—there were some who thought the Bible's references to them must be fiction. Only university professors know about the Gergashites, the Philistines and all the rest, and they don't much care. But what became of Isaac? His name is immortal; the family descended from him is found everywhere in the world. The sons of Isaac are the most indestructible folk of history. When God sent his Son into the world, it was to the sons of Isaac that he first came, not to the children of the Philistines.

Witness of History

Sometimes the most peaceful men or nations are forced to fight. But the truly great are not those who keep the fight going on for years and years, but those who bind up the wounds they have made. Germany, at the time these lines are being written, shows an example. That nation was conquered by America and Russia, along with other nations. Today America and Russia are the two principal powers occupying Germany with their armies. But the part controlled by Russia is being systematically bled. The great Russian war memorial in east Berlin is lined with inscriptions (quoted from Stalin) insulting the German people; most prominent in East Berlin are great ruined empty buildings. In the west zone, controlled by the United States, there is comparative prosperity; this country is devoting immense sums to the upbuilding of our former enemies; most prominent in west Berlin is the rising new city built on the ruins of the old. It cannot be said that Germans love to be occupied by foreign armies. But they know the vast difference between a former enemy who turns as quickly as possible to the ways of peace, and an enemy that never knows the war is over.

Women who insist on wearing the pants frequently find some other woman is wearing the mink.

Ti Tolliver was bragging about being a self-made man when one of the group suggested he'd knocked off work too soon.

Speaking of automobile drivers and school kids, there a traffic sign in Kane, Pa., we could use hereabouts: "Use your Eyes—Save the Pupils!"

It always seems the less you have to do the harder it is to find the time to do it.

Action was taken to approve the plans of the superintendent for the purchase of janitors' supplies and fuel for 1957-58.

Action was taken to direct the superintendent to plan for receiving an increased enrollment in many of the county schools in September, 1957, giving special to the housing problems at the New Windsor School. It was directed that plans be made to use double sessions for a part of the New Windsor School during 1957-58, since the existing building will probably be unable to handle the enrollment of all pupils through the day.

The Board took action to name B. E. Starr as the architect in charge of planning the reconstruction of the school building at Sykesville. Approval was given for a plan for this construction which involves replacing classroom facilities at the Sykesville location to house in September, 1958, if possible, the junior high and senior high enrollment, using to the fullest extent possible the income from insurance to support the project. This action is taken with the understanding that the building constructed will eventually be used as an elementary junior high building and that the Board will plan, as soon as possible to erect a senior high building in the district at a more central location. Efforts are to be made to promote the planning of this project since there is every indication that it will be needed within a period of three to four years.

The Board took action to re-examine its approval of the plans worked out through a citizens' committee for the Francis Scott Key High School and directed that every effort be made to expedite the immediate planning of this project.

A number of communications from individuals and groups requesting assistance and improvements in school buildings and school grounds were considered by the Board. Action was undertaken to approve as many of the requests as can be financially supported.

The Board considered a number of letters from schools and Parent-Teacher Associations advising the Board regarding the use of special funds made available for the purpose of eliminating school sales. The Board directed that plans for the use of these funds be worked out jointly by the superintendent and principals.

The Board endorsed the plan of the Westminster Radio Station WTRR to assist through public appeal in raising funds to restore the Sykesville Library books which were destroyed by the fire of April 18.

Graduation dates were approved as follows: Taneytown High School, June 5; Elmer Wolfe High School and Mt. Airy High School, June 6; Westminster High School and Robert Moton High School, June 7; North Carroll High School, June 10; Sykesville High School and New Windsor High School, June 11. The hope was expressed that as many as possible of the Board Members attend the graduation exercises when 422 pupils will terminate the high school education.

The Board directed the superintendent to continue through the use of all possible agencies, to keep the public aware of the serious problems confronting the County at present and likely to continue for several years including: finances, school enrollment, and school buildings. It is hoped that citizens and patrons will be sympathetic and patient with the educational authorities in their effort to solve these problems as rapidly as possible. Growth in school population, teacher supply costs of materials and wages, make the problem of school operation extremely arduous and difficult. Veto of the teachers' salary bill made necessary the use of special funds in order that teacher personnel be secured and retained, reducing, probably, the funds available for current expense operation and program expansion.

Action was taken by the Board to designate the dates of June 3, 4 and 5, as dates on which application for transfer within the County may be made. Parents desiring to enter pupils in a school, other than the one they are now attending, are directed to make application at the Office of the Superintendent of Schools on either of these dates. This does not apply to the regular transfer of pupils from one grade to another or from a separate elementary building to a consolidated high school. This is in line with the practice followed in connection with transfers of negro pupils since 1955.

The Board adjourned at 5:15 p. m.

FIRE INSURANCE

Just advertising Fire Insurance does not mean very much, but there is a lot of difference in Fire Insurance. I represent three non-assessable companies, the rates of each company being entirely different. I believe in showing my customers the facts, letting them know exactly what they are buying.

Years ago people just took whatever an agent gave them, good or bad, they did not attempt to do any figuring. This is 1957, I'll give you a pencil free, then give you facts and figures that you can check with any agent in the insurance business, if you face the facts, I am sure you will buy from me.

Know what you are buying.
