JUNIOR C. OF C.

Urge Polio Shots and Report of Bicycle Rodeo

Members of the Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce will soon distribute to residents of the community literature explaining details of the new polio vaccine and a card on which to record the family's polio shots. It is very important to vaccinate before it is too late. The Salk vaccine will not prevent paralysis after a person gets polio. Nor will the immunity of other vaccinated people protect your family. Remember, adults need polio vaccine as well as children. Severe cases occur among those aged 20 to 40 years and over. It takes at least eight months to complete a series of three shots. Start now with two shots, spaced two to six weeks apart. Then get your third (or booster) shot seven months to a year after the second. To find out where to get your vaccinations, ask your doctor, health officer or local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Play safe, get your polio shots now.

The Special Activities Committee of the Jaycees report a success of the first Bicycle Safety Rodeo held recently. The winners were as follows: Outstanding entry was Nancy Wargny who received a trophy; winners of age group 6 to 11 were: first, Karl Nussbaum, who received a trophy; 2nd, Darold Stonesifer, who received a bicycle light; and third, Martie Harman, who received a signal light. Winners of the 11 to 16 age group were: first, Robert Leister, awarded a trophy; second, Ronnie Putman, awarded a bicycle light; and third, Merle Eckard, awarded a signal light. The winners of the stock race was Lewis Bohn and Wayne Putman who received speed-o-meters. Mayor Raymond Perry presented the awards.

The next membership meeting of the organization will be a picnic which is to be held at Memorial Park on Monday, June 24 at 7 p. m., an hour earlier than regular meetings. Due to election of officers full attendance is desired.

After returning to the United States in 1946, Colonel Miller served on the staff of General Dwight D. Eisenhower who was then Chief of Staff in the Pentagon.

After obtaining his discharge from the Army in 1949 the Colonel served two years as special advisor to a Committee of the House of Representatives in Washington, D. C.

EMMITSBURG'S BI-CENTENNIAL

Schedule of Events from June 22 thru 29th

The Senior Senator from Maryland, the Honorable J. Glenn Beall will crown "Miss Emmitsburg", Queen of the Bi-Centennial Celebration, on the opening night of "Valley Echoes" at the Civic Grounds in Emmitsburg, Md., at 9 p. m. D.S.T., Saturday, June 22nd.

Until the Senator arrives on stage, amid a setting of a royal court, pages, trumpeters, horsemen and Jackies, Cadets, Flag Bearers, and a Guard of Honor, no one in the audience or cast will know who is the Queen. Not even the Queen herself.

The Coronation Ceremony will feature the prize winning Blue Angels Drum and Bugle Corps from Victory Post American Legion, Westernport, Md., which, although not planned as such, could well be construed as a special Corps of Honor for the Senator from Western Maryland.

When Senator Beall crowns the Queen an elegant horse drawn brougham will enter the field stage with pomp and fanfare. The royal carriage will convey the Senator and the Queen offstage as they head the dazzling recessional. The Horse n' Buggy Museum of Gettysburg is supplying the brougham as well as other historical carriages for the Pageant "Valley Echoes".

The Coronation will be followed by a fast moving portrayal of Emmitsburg's 200 years of history. Humor and pathos, battles and tears will be interwoven into a saga of life from the new America of the Revolutionary War to the old America of today symbolized by the actual shooting of a simulated Atomic Bomb.

The bitter fighting of the Civil War will be reenacted in a sham battle; laughs will ring out in the Gay 90's; "Twenty-Three-Skiddoo" will change to "Oh, you kid" in the Twenties; The Charleston will blend with "White Lightning" and Model T's. The depression will stop the wheels—but not for long—World War I and II will be relived and a finale of thrill. A half hour gigantic fire works display will follow each showing of "Valley Echoes".

For those who don't like their history served with flavor and a punch, (Continued on eighth page)

MEETING OF PARENTS COMMITTEE FOR H. S. BAND

The Taneytown High School Parents Band Committee held a meeting on Tuesday, June 18th in the Band Room. The following members of this committee were present: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dom, Mrs. Robert Clingan, Mr. Carroll Weishaar, Mr. and Mrs. John Hottinger, Mrs. Claude Nussbaum, Dr. Charles Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jester, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reeve, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Shealer, Mrs. Robert Rinehart, Mr. Ralph Minnick, and Mr. Andrew Mason.

The officers of this newly organized committee are: chairman, Mr. John Hottinger; co-chairman, Mr. Glenn Reeve; secretary, Mrs. Robert Clingan; and treasurer, Mrs. Robert Rinehart.

This Parents Band Committee was formed with the sanction of the P.T.A. for the purpose of raising the sum of $2700 for the purchase of uniforms for the High School Band. Mr. Glenn Reeve, co-chairman, reported that $618.05 has been raised thus far by virtue of a booth at the carnival and contributions of interested citizens. Mr. John Hottinger, chairman, stated that this represented approximately one fifth of the amount needed and that every effort should be expended by the group to raise the balance which is needed. Various projects were discussed and considered.

The Parents Band Committee will meet again next Tuesday, June 25, at 8:30 p. m. in the Band Room. All parents are cordially invited to attend.

CERTAIN PROOF REQUIRED FOR SOCIAL SECURITY CLAIMS

Many persons who are filing claims for social security benefits are overlooking the requirement that certain proofs must be submitted before their claims can be certified for payment, according to L. J. Gillespie, Field Representative of the Baltimore (North) Social Security District Office.

Mr. Gillespie said that failure to present the necessary proofs at the time the claim is filed causes the claimant to have to make one or more additional trips to the social security district office. As a result of these extra trips, people have to wait longer to the interviewed, the processing of claims is slowed up and claimants have to wait longer before they receive their first monthly check.

The representatives explained that in most cases the claimant must submit proof of his date of birth. He said that although the best proof is a birth certificate, if one is not available, other proofs, such as a baptismal certificate, a family Bible or an old life insurance policy are generally acceptable. He added that farmers should not overlook bringing along copies of their 1955 and 1956 Federal Income Tax returns and evidence to show the returns were actually filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue. Such evidence may be a cancelled check, money order stub, or a cashier's check receipt.

POTOMAC SYNOD

Representatives of Reformed Churches at Hood College

The annual legislative meeting of the Potomac Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church was held last week on the campus of Hood College in Frederick with Rev. Morgan Andreas and Mr. William Fouché in attendance.

High-lighting the sessions were the thought-provoking and deeply-inspiring meditations before each period. They were presented by Dr. Arthur Newell, Richmond, Va. Also very well received by the ministers and lay delegates was the message from the General Council brought by Dr. Alfred Gosner, Milwaukee, Wis.

At the worship of Holy Communion two young men recently graduated from the seminary were licensed to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ. There were 10 other young people under the care of synod last year as they pursued their college and seminary training. And at the meeting of synod 8 new young people, including 2 women, also a high school teacher and a doctor of philosophy graduate, who will this fall begin their training for full-time service in the Church of Jesus Christ.

On Wednesday evening the members of synod attended open house at the synodical parsonage and were the guests of Dr. Fred Eyster, full-time president of the synod, and his wife.

The committee on Town and Country Church recommended that rural charges give every consideration to meeting at least the minimum salary of $4000 established by General Synod as the rural church seems to lose much of its good leadership because of the inadequate salaries paid. The committee on Stewardship strongly urged that more church members give serious thought to the practice of tithing.

The Christian Social Action Committee reported that one of the charges is contributing financially to a Negro Nursery for working mothers. It was interesting to note that about 10 days ago 25 heifers were sent to Austria by the churches of the Shenandoah Valley after their dedication on the fairgrounds of Woodstock, Va. One of the pastors accompanied them on their journey over the sea.

The director of Camping announced that because of the increasing interest in camping 61 Juniors had to be turned down and that only a few more Senior High registrations could be received before the quota for all the camps would be filled.

Representatives from the educational institutions in the area and the superintendents of the benevolent institutions gave reports of their year just concluded, which in most cases were most encouraging.

Fraternal delegates from the Congregational-Christian Churches were warmly welcomed and given opportunity to speak before the delegates.

CHURCH MERGER TO TAKE PLACE

The official merger of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational-Christian Churches will take place next week in Cleveland, Ohio, as together they form the United Church of Christ.

The uniting synod which convenes on Tuesday evening will be made up of 714 delegates, 357 from either denomination entering into the merger. After the official union a commission of 30 will be elected to draft a constitution, which will come into force when it is ratified by a two-thirds vote.

Late action will merge the Board of International Missions of the E & R Church with the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of the C-C Churches. Home missionary agencies of the two communions will be unified into a Board for Home Missions of the United Church of Christ.

Church school curriculum work is being planned jointly. Student work has been united since 1948 in the United Student Fellowship. Close contacts have been established between brotherhoods and women's guilds.

This merger marks the first union in the United States or Europe since the Reformation of two major Protestant denominations with differing backgrounds, practices and forms of church government.

INCOME TAX DISTRIBUTION

State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes announced today that the Income Tax Division of his office had mailed to the counties and incorporated cities and towns of Maryland, checks totaling $15,581,452.91 which represents their share of income tax collected during the State's fiscal year which will end on June 30, 1957, from income tax returns filed for the calendar year, 1956.

Mr. Tawes stated that this was the largest distribution of income tax revenue ever made, exceeding by more than a million dollars the amount distributed last year from the 1955 returns. He also said that there would be another distribution from the 1956 return just as soon as all of the returns for that year had been fully processed.

The Comptroller pointed out that the subdivisions receive 34 per cent of the tax paid by their residents. Baltimore City receives the full 34 per cent of tax paid by its residents as does Baltimore County and Howard County, the latter two counties having no incorporated cities or towns. The other Maryland counties must share their distribution with their incorporated cities and towns with respect to the tax paid by residents of such incorporated cities and towns. "Maryland has distributed a share of its income tax to its subdivisions since 1939," Mr. Tawes concluded, "and with the distribution now being made a total of $106,298,573.00 will have been paid to them."

This year in addition to Baltimore City and the 23 Counties, 158 incorporated cities and towns share in the distribution.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning dawning. A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

This Column will be mainly to a Soldier and also to other Soldiers of the U.S. in lands far away.

It is in an answer to a beautiful letter from a Soldier near or not too far from "Around the Town."

First, I want to thank you for the kind words in describing and stating how much you enjoy my Column even if you do get them when they are two weeks old!

No, I have never been in Germany and perhaps that is the only reason I do not write anything about that country although I do know positively all work that is turned out by a German man is perfect in every detail no matter what the line may be.

Please, please don't feel badly about being in the Service!

Be most proud that you are one of Uncle Sam's nephews for all men who are under his Service means that they are protecting all of America—people like me for instance who always Thank God for such men as you even if they do not mention it, deep down in their hearts they feel just as I do. Each day, as I proudly place the huge flag out on the lawn, I say to myself, "Thank God, I am an American!"

If you are just a High School student, your wonderful letter was more like a College graduate and I do feel that Uncle Sam is teaching you lots.

Do you know the only time I ever wished that I was a man—was when any War broke out that I could serve as men were doing!

I will save your letter as long as I live for it was eloquent. Thank you again! Now, this is part of a letter from the first war which I have saved all these years and from my precious brother. I thought you would like to read just how he felt being with Uncle Sam.

"This Saturday and Sunday, I have to work being a mess man all this week. We have to serve the meals and wash the dishes. It is not such a bad job although it does keep us busy most of the day. Two fellows have charge of a table seating 40 men. I have been out three nights this week something very unusual for the Base (Bensonhurst—Brooklyn, N.Y.) You see each messhall allows two men to go on liberty each night and I was lucky enough to get off three of the evenings. I bought a Liberty Bond on the $1.00 a week plan, paying 50 consecutive weeks. Of course, it is taken out of one's pay so when the War is over, I'll have 50 dollars anyway! We are allowed $60 dollars worth of clothes but a full bag comes to $90, or so. As I am $23 or $25, over my $60, I will not get any pay next time and a short pay the one after! The 10th and 25th of each month are pay days. So far, I have not been able to get on a boat and don't think I will for at least another month. I was in a Crew that has gone out but when it was time to ship, they found they had eight seamen instead of 7 so I was ditched! It is very nice here at the base and I have no kick coming so far, so I think I'll like the Service to the END! The eats are fine and the life great, the only objection being that we do not get enough real training. This base is a training station where they gather the men together so they can get men at a very short notice for ships of all types."

The second letter was from France and here it is—"I just got in Port and your letter was here waiting for me with your picture. Thank you! We had a very nice trip although the sea was rather rough and many rainy days making our duties unpleasant. It is very interesting being on a transport, taking troops over and bringing the wounded back. I spent many pleasant hours talking with the soldiers, of course, the wounded holding my interest far more than the fellows going over. Our ship is said to be the pride of the transport fleet and this is easy to believe when I tell you that we took Secretary Baker over to France. It's a cinch, he's picking out the best. We have movies on board when we are under way and there is a canteen at which we can buy eats, etc., so you see they try to make things pleasant for us although, of course, in everything there are always drawbacks in life which one must expect. It is often 2 and 3 days before we are able to get a bucket of fresh water and then it's a case of washing up and then washing your clothes in the same water. When we don't get water, we either do with or do without washing or washing in salt water and I believe I'd rather not wash. They use us pretty hard when we are under way for we stand four hours on and off duty and when we're off, we have to work during the day. I now sleep in a hammock for the first time since I've been in the Navy. This is really best in rough weather and warm, too, but it's almost a case of laying in one position!"

So, think, Soldier Boy in the Army so far away from home. Don't get too homesick that you will marry one of those girls across the sea. There are so many wonderful girls right here in this grand U. S. A. Many a soldier did just that and was so sorry as soon as he put his feet once again on American soil. I wish you would write to me again and the next time, I'll address it right there to you. Good luck! I am,

Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

WHERE ADVERTISING IS WELCOMED

An impressive evaluation of the merits of newspaper advertising has been provided by Robert J. McBride, director of Research for the Detroit Free Press. He says: "People watch television because of the entertainment—commercials actually are intruders. A survey of Northwestern University shows that 61% of housewives would prefer TV without commercials.

"At the same time, advertising is an integral part of the newspaper. Readers buy the paper for the ads as much as for the editorial matter. Both men and women readers plan their shopping from the newspaper. The Northwestern survey shows that 92% of the respondents want their newspapers with advertising."

This brings Mr. McBride to his completely logical conclusion, "The advertising gets the best results when his message is welcomed and desired."—Industrial News Review.

FACTS AND OPINIONS

A writer in the Journal of the American Medical Association has this to say about weight-reducing drugs: "No known drug or compound may safely be taken without medical advice to cause loss of weight. The word 'safely' deserves emphasis, since some drugs, which have succeeded in taking off pounds, have had the disadvantage of making some people blind and killing others."

U.S. News & World Report observes that U.S. demand for foreign automobiles is growing "at a surprising rate". These imports—consisting mostly of small, extremely economical machines—accounted for only 0.6 per cent of the U. S. car market in 1954. This year the figure is expected to be about 3 per cent.

Inflation note: The Wall Street Journal reports that a company decided to tear down an unused smokestack built in 1921. The original cost of the structure was $8,740—but it cost $13,470 to dismantle it.

From Prime Minister MacMillan of Great Britain: "There is no difference between Socialism and Communism except this: Socialism is soft, Communism is hard; Socialism is pink, Communism is red. Socialism gets you down bit by bit by a kind of enervating process. It might be called mercy-killing. Communism—just knocks you on the head."

According to the Associated Press, the gas utilities pipeline companies have so far spent $500 million on holes in the ground. These holes amount to warehouses, in which gas is stored in the warm season for delivery when winter sends demand soaring.

Companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange paid their common share owners $2,124,608,430 in cash dividends during the first quarter of 1957—a record high for any past comparable period.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Representative Whitten of Mississippi recently engaged in a rather heated debate on farm policy. It ended, however, in a lighter note. Secretary Benson: "When we get on the other side, if you and I meet, we will probably still discuss the farm problem". Mr. Whitten: "Mr. Secretary, where I hope to go and I trust you will go, I understand there are no problems."

No priority for the purchase of federal electric power should be given to any local governmental agency, in the view of Harold B. Say, of Portland, Oregon, Chamber of Commerce. He told a House subcommittee that there is no logic in a preference clause which says "those citizens who choose to obtain their power from public utility districts should be favored."

A McGraw-Hill survey finds that American manufacturers will spend $7,300,000,000 on research this year, for an all-time record.

"... DOCTOR - LAWYER - INDIAN CHIEF"

If you are eighteen—or so—about to graduate from high school and figuratively counting your mental buttons for guidance in what to do next, you are doubtless on the receiving end of bundles of advice.

Advice, of course, is a fine thing. In later life you will probably be paying a lot of money for it from time to time. The trouble with it right now—is human nature. Older people genuinely want to help. They have a right to feel that their experience is superior. But sometimes they mistake years for wisdom. Instead of evaluating you as an individual, older people are inclined to put themselves in your place. They look wistfully back at the threshold of adult life and see not you, but themselves as faring forth again. And they want to protect you from their mistakes. Experience should tell them you'll make your own, regardless.

No matter how politely and appreciative you listen to others, the decision you make must be your own, for you have got to live with it. You must weigh your own virtues and weaknesses, your talents and tastes, the things that excite you and those that leave you cold. And you must include in your consideration many kinds of jobs that didn't exist in earlier days. One that is not thought of too often is that of x-ray technician. A high school graduate can prepare himself for this highly specialized job in two years at any of 500 approved x-ray training schools—or continue for four to earn a college degree. When he has passed the exam of the American Registry of X-Ray Technicians, he is certified as a Registered Technician.

From here on he is prepared for a professional position of respect and security, in medicine, in industry (where health examinations and x-ray inspections are being increasingly employed), in Government and in public health agencies.

In the medical world, he becomes "the Radiologist's right hand", actually taking x-ray films, processing them in the dark room and generally assisting the radiologist—who is a graduate physician who has prepared himself through years of further study as an x-ray specialist. And the technician who takes further training is equipped to assist the radiologist in the actual administering of x-ray therapy.

If you'd like to know more about these approved x-ray training schools, write The American Society of X-Ray Technicians, 16 Fourteenth St., Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. But, whatever you do, dope out your own future yourself. Don't take anybody's advice—not even ours!—U. S. Press Association.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor or who it may concern: Altho it is not so important I really got a big kick on seeing the Bruceville school picture in your paper. As I do not know many around Taneytown I do not get your paper, but some of my friends made sure I got a picture as I am one of the group. I am on the picture Florence Strine, now what I want to do is make some corrections, first the picture was taken late fall of 1905.

I recall this as my father the late Charles C. Strine moved from New Windsor to the farm of Luther Sharretts in April of 1905. I am real sure of this because I had a brother born the 31 of May 1905, and my brother whose first name was Charles on the first row in the picture just started to school that fall, his birth date being Nov. 6, born 1889. Now the boy on the back row after Roy Knott is a Renner, but do not remember his first name, same way with the one in front of him which is called Strine on the picture he is a Renner, the boy looking over his shoulder is Strine, he is John C. Strine now here in New Windsor has a store near the Railroad, J. C. Strine & Sons.

It really was fun to see all these faces and how well I remember lots of them and often wonder how many have passed on. My brother on front row, joined the Marines and was drowned in Santiago, D. R. on Dec. 8, 1920. He and several of his friends went swimming and he got in what they call a sand hole and drowned before he could be gotten out. His body was sent home arriving in New Windsor Jan. 1, 1921, a day I cannot forget.

Now I am not criticizing anyone on dates or names on this picture, but knowing it could not be 1904, because we were not up there until 1905. And another thing I was credited with to many brothers. Ha! Ha! I would like to see some more pictures like that. I am

"The taxpayers' latest proposal should receive the support of every individual interested in this vital subject. If every citizen declared: 'I'll take less from government—if government takes less from me' and, if that sentiment were reiterated enough in writing to our Representatives and Senators, the idea might get across". —Belmont, N.Y., Dispatch.

Don't ask for a candid opinion if what you really want is a "candied" one.

THE SONS OF GOD—

The being you are is not the person we know;
He is only God's Son in Embryo;
He came here some lessons to learn;
And, when that is finished, he shall return.

The physical body is only the home
Of one of God's Sons in which to roam;
He is God's mouth, His eyes, His hands—
It is he who executes all of His plans.

So, for him, God has what we call a fixed plan
To make him a perfect man;
He would never be satisfied here to be
For he knows he shall live through Eternity.

This Earth is God's school house—Don't you see,
Where man is trained to live in Eternity;
God has thousands of things for him to do
When his pilgrimage here is through.

The various bodies in which we live here
Are only new homes in which we appear;
Like the rivers, we must come and go
Till all of Life's secrets we shall know.

It is here Life's lessons we must learn,
Here is where the fires of hell still burn!
Here we are taught how man must be
Else he could not live through Eternity.

Many great Souls of the far distant past
Among the immortals by men now are classed;
But God sends them back to show us the way
Our bodies must be in the endless day.

Every time a new born child comes to visit earth
Many persons imagine it is a new birth;
But, that is only a part of God's great plan
To make of him a perfect man.

This is not your first visit to Mother Earth,
It is only another try through another birth;
And, so it shall be till God in man we see
And we are made fit for Eternity.

These are things every mortal should know;
And, he must learn them here below;
God is too good and too wise to take us away;
And, to let us suffer from day to day.

In your last incarnation you came a different way
In order to learn a different lesson, they say;
And, so it shall be with both you and me
Till we go from Time to Eternity.

There are 12 attributes which, in man, we must see
Before he becomes like Jesus of Galilee;
And, those traits must be seen in every man,
Because it is a part of God's great plan.

These visitations are made by the same people, they say,
Only they came in a different way;
And, just so it shall be with you and with me
Until we go from Time to Eternity.

There are many lessons which man must learn—
(That is why the fires of hell still burn!);
It is a sin to say God made a hell;
And sends His children there to dwell.

It is always the same being who comes and goes—
(He keeps coming and going till Life's secret he knows);
These bodies of ours could not survive the endless day,
So, man must be perfect, in every way.

God and man live together—Don't you see?
(That is why man in a perfect body must be!)
Man must learn to be like Him in every way
Else he could not live in the endless day.

Our "God is Love", the scriptures say;
And, Nature proves it from day to day;
It is "He Who declares to man what is his thought";
So, all our inventions by Him are wrought.

Without God and His love mortal man could not be;
For, He is his Life, through Time and Eternity;
God is even with us in the hell we make;
And, puts out the fire, just for our sake.

Such love and mercy has never been known
As God to His foolish children has shown;
And the reason He does so is not hard to see;
He is preparing them to live through Eternity.

I can't tell you how; but, let me here say,
God shall make this earth a heaven some day;
"There shall be no more night"; and, we all shall see
The blazing lights of Eternity.

FEEBERSBURG
(A Voice from Carroll)

The hot weather is the chief topic of conversation this week. This time people are trying to do something about it—that is—trying to keep cool if possible. There is one way of beating the heat and its easy. Just keep occupied and don't think about the weather. Most people have to do that anyway because life must go on no matter what the weatherman wishes upon us. Some people are having floods and tornadoes and they some how manage, so we no doubt will get through the heat wave too. The people in the cities who do not own a shade tree or a backyard to catch a wayward breeze in has our sympathy. Of course man has invented the air-conditioning system and the electric fan to take the place of cool breezes but this week in New York City so many fans and cooling systems were being used that the city ran out of electric power. Nature has built a cooling system in our own body if we have sense enough to use it. This system needs plenty of fluids during extreme hot weather and a slower pace while doing our work. Americans have never learned that it is sometimes necessary to live their life in keeping with nature. People who constantly live in hot climate have learned to stop work in the hottest part of the day and take a rest or a nap. They have also learned to live at a slower pace. If we had to live the year round in temperatures like the past week we too would change some of our habits.

William Girard little suspected when he entered the U.S. Army that obeying orders and carrying out the duties of a soldier he would one day find himself denied his constitutional rights and turned over to a foreign country to be tried in their courts. Maybe the average citizen does not understand what the Girard case signifies, but they should. No one in our government has the right to take away a citizen's constitutional rights. Not even the President. If William Girard, serving his country as a soldier can be denied his rights as a citizen how soon will it be before others are deprived too for saying or doing something that displeases the government. Doesn't this begin to sound like a country behind a curtain. Once the constitution is ignored for one reason it can and will be ignored for any reason. If our foreign policy is built on such a flimsy foundation that we have to appease our former enemy by sacrificing our soldiers and our constitution it is time to change both our policy and our secretary of state. If our soldiers are so unpopular with the countries we are trying to help then it must be because someone in authority is making some serious mistakes. Our soldiers don't make our policies. They merely carry out orders. If William Girard is allowed to be tried by the Japanese, what is going to happen to the morale of our army. If the country they have sworn to protect will not stand up for members of the armed forces then indeed has this country sunk to a new low. Even communist countries have a deeper respect for their soldiers than that which we have shown toward ours.

It looks like this June is really going to be the month of weddings. Already a number of invitations are out and last week Mr. and Mrs. Paul Leister of Pleasant Valley issued invitations to the wedding of Mrs. Leister's daughter, Miss Caroline Baker and Mr. George Morgan. The ceremony will take place June 29th at 3 p. m. in the Baust Lutheran Church, at Tyrone and will be followed by a reception in the church social hall. Miss Baker is a graduate of Elmer Wolfe School and attended the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore. She taught school last year in Baltimore county. The Taneytown Firemen enjoyed a successful Carnival last week. The affair drew so many people Thursday and Friday and Saturday evenings that it was difficult to walk around. There were many more concession stands this year or so it seemed to me. And if you don't think our population is growing by leaps and bounds just visit a carnival and see all the teenagers and subteens in the crowd. No wonder there is a building boom for more and more houses. If our population keeps multiplying at the present rate where will it all end? Not only will we have to have bigger spaces for carnivals but we will have to have more space period.

Two highway accidents last week took the lives of almost 50 migratory workers including small children and a tiny baby. The reason for the high toll of life was because the workers were loaded on trucks like cattle. There were 25 men, women and children on one truck. Unless one lives in a community where this kind of worker is used the news about the accidents didn't mean much. Our county does use migratory labor and more so now than ever. Few people ever concern themselves as to how they live and are treated but we should. Some writers have studied their living conditions and have written some lurid stories and articles. Not many people like to be told that there is still slavery in this country but there is. Migratory workers are no more than slave labor although it is called a more polite name. One summer my vacation trip was ruined because my route to the seashore ran past a camp where migratory farm labor was housed. The sight of human beings living under conditions that farmers in Carroll would not keep their animals so enraged me that when I returned home I swore that that part of Maryland wouldn't ever see me again. Of course this childish outburst did not remedy the situation one bit but it did keep me from seeing again man's inhumanity to man and the indignity one segment of society heaps upon another. We wonder if ever the time will come that each of us will understand that the search for dignity and the hopes for a kinder world rests in the soul and mind of every human being regardless of color or ancestry. Until that time does come I believe that man will search for contentment and happiness in vain.

None are so brave as the anonymous letter writer.—Ruth Roelke.

TWO MEN KILLED WHEN CAR
HITS POLE

Two Emmitsburg men were killed at 8:30 Tuesday night when their car crashed into a utility pole along the Taneytown road about 1½ miles east of Emmitsburg.

Pinned in the wreckage of the demolished car, the victims were David Lee Neighbours, 30, operator of the Emmitsburg Tire Center, and Charles Roland Hubbard, 37, an employee. It took rescuers two hours before they could remove both bodies, from the wreckage because "hot" wires had fallen over the car and hampered rescue operations.

Trooper William Morgan, who investigated, stated that Neighbours apparently was driving the 1955 model car at an excessive rate of speed and lost control on a curve. The car struck the utility pole, breaking it off at the bottom and snapping off the top.

Neighbours' fatal injuries included a fractured skull and crushed chest. Hubbard suffered a crushed face, chest and skull and both thighs were broken.

Livestock Profits

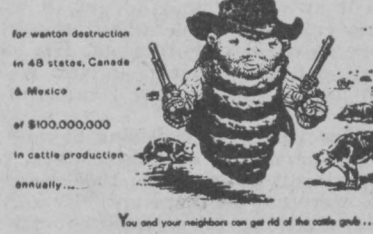

Lost to Robber

Cattle Grub Gets More Than His Share

The big question for American livestock farmers is worth more than $64—it adds up to $100,000,000 plus; and one little insect—the cattle grub, is responsible for it all. That's why the Livestock Conservation, Inc., asks why the industry tolerates the insidious insect that scientists long ago proved could be controlled, if not exterminated.

The pest travels under various aliases such as the Ox Warble or Heel Fly, wreaking a loss that eventually is borne by the cattle

wanted ... ROBB GRUB

The lowly cattle grub takes a big share of profits away from careless livestock producers.

raised in reduced income from sale of his cattle.

Here's what happens when Robb Grub is at work:

The cattleman finds that his cattle aren't doing as well as they should if he is a feeder, or if he is a dairyman, milk production isn't quite as good as it should be.

The tanner sees numerous holes in the hide too smooth and often too large to have been made by bird shot. Also he has to trim and discard for glue stock the most valuable part of 30, 40, 50 and at certain seasons as high as 60 per cent of the hides he tans.

Here's why it happens: Cattle-men are reluctant to spend the few dollars and the time and trouble it takes to spray or dust at an unfavorable time of year when they can see no immediate profit therefrom. Yet, it's a safe bet that over a given area a premium of at least $5.00 per head could be secured for cattle certified to be "grub-free."

Too Much Nitrate
Can Affect Cattle

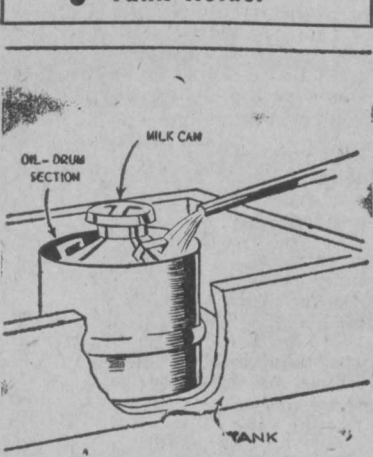

Excessive nitrate content of certain plants on which livestock graze is an increasingly important cause of poisoning in farm animals, according to a report to the American Veterinary Medical Association.

"Forage plants such as oats, sorghums, corn, and certain weeds have long been known to cause losses, especially in cattle, because of nitrate concentration in the plant during adverse growing conditions," Dr. Arthur Case of the School of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Missouri, reported.

The combination of heavy fertilization of these crops and drought conditions brought about many cases of poisoning by plants usually considered safe for forage. Dr. Case reported. Corn has caused heavy losses of cattle which grazed in drought-stricken fields, he said. Symptoms of this type of poisoning vary from abortion and decreased production to severe intoxications that soon end in death. Severity of symptoms depends upon the amount of nitrate in the ration, as well as the quality of the entire ration.

To prevent losses, Dr. Case said the entire soil fertilization program should be re-evaluated and if possible.

Tank Holder

To keep milk cans from overturning when set in cooling tank, one farmer sets his cans in a section cut from an oil drum. The drum section is set directly under the water-supply pipe so that the can of milk is submerged long before the cooling tank is filled. Drum keeps the can from tilting more than a few degrees.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

teachers to be assigned to positions for 1957-58 as follows: Mr. Dale Leese, Mr. Bill G. Hiatt, Mrs. Virginia Houck, Mrs. Marjorie Shower, Mrs. Peggy Herring, Mr. Charles Luttrell, Mrs. Elizabeth Robson, Mrs. Beverly Raver, Mrs. Margaret Snyder, Mr. Gordon Breighner, and Mrs. Evelyn Shriver. The Board approved the contracts for the teachers mentioned and directed that continued effort be made to secure personnel to fill the vacancies created by resignation and by new assignments.

The Board gave consideration to the applications for district scholarships to Western Maryland and, after consideration, the existing scholarship vacancies from the election districts of the County were filled as follows: Constance Arvin, Taneytown District, 1957-61; Susan Singer, Uniontown District, 1957-61; Joan Hesson, Myers District, 1957-58; Ann Weller, Myers District, 1957-58; Nancy L. Brown, Woolery's District, 1957-60; Melvina Wagner, Manchester District, 1957-61; Lawrence M. Beyer, Freedom District, 1957-61; Patricia Krebs, Westminster District, 1957-61; Donald L. Hale, Hampstead District, 1957-61; James G. Shank, Freedom District, 1957-58; Rachael Sies, Franklin District, 1957-58; Richard Stonesifer, Middleburg District, 1957-61; Robert Mott, New Windsor District, 1957-60; and Kenneth Mohlenrich, Berrett District, 1957-Dec. 1960.

In considering the scholarship appointments the Board was advised that a number of the pupils of the Carroll Schools had qualified and received scholarship appointments for the coming school year. A partial list of these scholarships is as follows: Daniel Krimgold, Mt. Airy High School, Johns Hopkins School of Engineering; Marsha Reifsnider, Senatorial appointment Western Maryland College; Richard Null, Taneytown High School and Ronald Phillips, Hampstead High School, partial Senatorial scholarship appointments to Western Maryland College; James R. Barnes, Westminster High School, Senatorial scholarship appointment to Washington College; Ann Samuel and Loretta Hughes, Robert Mott School, Senatorial appointment Morgan State Teachers College; Shelia Bixler, Westminster High School, Senatorial appointment Peabody Institute; Barbara H. Leight, North Carroll, Senatorial appointment Maryland Institute; Elizabeth Shower, Westminster High School, Saint John's Female Seminary; Craig Forthman, Sykesville High School, Charlotte Hall appointment. The Board was advised that the following had qualified for appointment to the recently established teacher-education scholarships at Western Maryland College; Winifred Walsh, John Hamilton, Joseph Shilling, Elizabeth Cairns, and Sylvia Ford.

A number of items connected with school buildings and maintenance were considered and plans for a number of these were approved. The Board gave approval to the transfers of pupils who had made application for transfer in accordance with the plan set up by prior decision of the Board.

Approval was given for the use of the Sykesville School grounds for the holding of the Firemen's Carnival. The Board was furnished with copies of the enrollment report for the month of May.

Partial decision was made regarding the purchase of coal and fuel oil for 1957-58.

The Board took action to continue membership and participation in the Pilot Life Insurance Company plan for pupil insurance.

A report was read regarding progress in the planning for the replacement of the school facilities at Sykesville with Mr. Bernard E. Starr handling the architectural work.

The Board received and accepted the resignation of George W. DeVries as custodian of the Freedom building.

Some time was devoted to discussion of the problems confronting the Board for the coming school year and a brief report was heard in connection with the recruitment of teachers to fill the vacancies. The superintendent was directed to proceed with planning in this area, making every effort to see that schools may open in September 1957 with a full staff of teachers and with other services properly provided.

The Board was advised that progress was being made in the preparation of the working drawings for the Francis Scott Key School and that it was anticipated that requests for bids on this construction would be made about the middle of July.

The Board gave approval to possible revision in the plans for operation of school at New Windsor for the coming year, hoping that through modification of the curriculum, it may be possible to eliminate half-day sessions. The Board directed that planning be continued in this area with this objective in mind.

Adjournment was at 1:30 p. m.

A game was played between the Kiwanis Club of Taneytown and the H. S. Key Club on Wednesday evening at Memorial Park, resulting in a 3-1 score, in favor of the Key Club.

Two "near casualties" marred the game when the umpire, Fred Shank, was struck by a pitched ball. The ball had force enough to knock out the arbitrator for a couple of minutes but the game was resumed under his watchful eye as umpire. "Andy" Mason, while batting "strained" the cloth in his trousers resulting in a long tear and a quick change in his wardrobe. The highlights of the game were the fast ball of Pitcher Simpson of the Key Club and the "unknown" quality of the pitches of "Smoky" Morelock and "Bob" Koonz of the Kiwanis Club.

Refreshments were served following the game.

THE SUPERVISORS OF ELECTIONS FOR CARROLL COUNTY MARYLAND ELECTED OFFICERS AND MADE APPOINTMENTS

The Supervisors of Elections received their Commissions from the Governor of Maryland, which took effect the first of June 1957 and run for two years, the Board then met on Tuesday, June 11th, and elected the following officers: J. Thomas Anders, President; Harman G. Albaugh, Vice-President; Francis J. Crawford, Sec'y-Treasurer.

The substitute Supervisors appointed by the Governor are: Earnest D. Myers, Marcus Shriver, Jr.

The Board then met for business and made the following appointments, L. Pearce Bowls, Attorney; Miss Mary E. Hull, Clerk.

The Board will have their office at the Court House, open every Saturday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. to accommodate any who wish to register, to give transfers, to change names or affiliations, or issue voters certificates, they hope the public will avail themselves of this service.

How does the Board of Supervisors of Election function in years in which there are no elections to supervise?

A good question that and, believe it or not, the Carroll Board finds much to do in off years—that is in years when there is no election.

Persons by the hundreds move to and from Carroll County requiring transfers and removals; the grim reaper calls many voters to their eternal reward; the task of removing deceased persons from the voting books is a continuing and never ending task.

Folks by the hundreds are moving into the county and youngsters are attaining their majority—it all adds up to a stupendous chore with which the Board of Election Supervisors endeavors to keep abreast by keeping their office in the basement of the Court House in Westminster open one day a week.

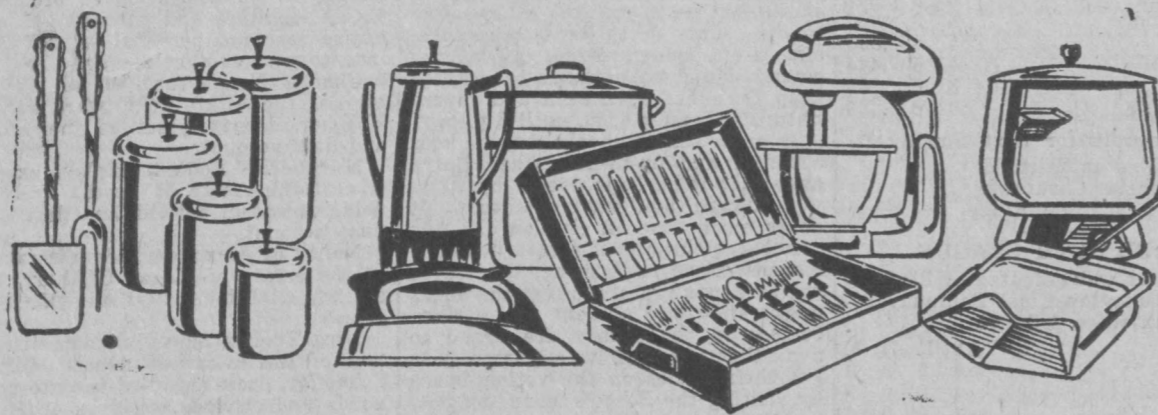

To accommodate all persons having business of any kind with the Board, whether it be to register a newcomer to the county or to hand a removal slip to one contemplating leaving the county, Messrs. Anders and Crawford keep the office open each and every Saturday from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

In order that its books may be kept accurate and up-to-date, the Board asks that it be kept posted by those who change their marital status. It saves much time on election day the members point out, if a voter who has married since registering, advises of her new name in order that the books might show her present name. Newcomers to the county are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity to get their names on the voting books by visiting the Board's office any Saturday.

Complying with the provision of the law which requires the removal from the registration lists of a voter who has not voted for five years, is also a chore which requires much time and

GIFT VARIETY IN ELECTRIC HOUSEWARES

Give a bride her wish, and likely as not she'll take electric housewares.

Either as a shower or a wedding gift, nothing delights the heart of the prospective homemaker half so much as an electric appliance. There's a vacuum cleaner or portable television or vibrator.

In the kitchen her coffee maker will turn out perfect coffee for her very first breakfast in the new home. Her electric mixer and waffle iron insures waffles just the way he likes them. No burnt toast will pop from the automatic toaster; the orange juice is just right aerated in the blender.

But the perfect first breakfast will be followed by a perfect dinner if she has been given an automatic skillet with controlled heat, a broiler, a rotisserie, a pressure cooker.

Then there are shredders, juice extractors, deep fat fryers, egg cookers, food mixers, ice cream freezers, ice crushers, knife sharpeners, meat grinders, roasters, sandwich grills, hand mixers—all designed to let the inexperienced bride serve meals that look and taste like an expert's. With such first rate help constantly assisting her, how would she miss?

Other wonderful features of the many electric housewares available to help the bride keep house: They're easy to take care of, stay lovely forever and are a constant reminder of the donor.

PICTURE POINTER

Most photographers take pictures of the church decorations, house and bridal table before the ceremony. You'll need the clergyman's permission to take pictures during the ceremony itself.

Usually the professional photographer takes the formal pictures of the bride in her wedding dress either at the store during the final fitting or at the bride's home after the dress has been delivered, a few days before the wedding.

FOR THE RIGHT FLOWERS

After the bride has consulted her clergyman about church regulations dealing with decorations, she can take her problem to a florist who will do the rest.

CATER TO THE CATERER

If you're giving a reception in a private home, you'll find it easier to call in a caterer than to try to do it all yourself. A caterer relieves the bride's mother of many tiresome responsibilities and insures a carefree, happy time for the bride.

HELPING HAND

The bridal consultant at your favorite store will be glad to advise you about your wedding gown, bridesmaids' dresses, trousseau, etiquette—any problem, in fact. Her years of experience will be a big help to you.

RING HISTORY

The history of the wedding ring reaches far back into prehistoric days. The early woman was supposed to have sat before her cave displaying a circlet of rushes around her wrist or ankle. Later, her ever-loving spouse replaced the rushes with a band of iron—in these days it would probably be steel—to signify the enduring nature of the relationship. (The circle was an early pagan symbol of eternal life). The band eventually wound up on the third finger of the left hand.

INVITING INVITATIONS

When the bride and her mother have completed their invitation and announcement lists they should go to a stationer and settle on a style from his samples of engraving. And remember to allow him plenty of time to deliver.

BRIDAL BOUQUET

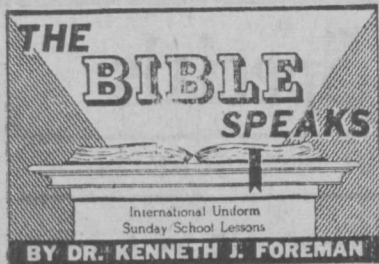

The groom always buys the bridal bouquet, although the bride selects it. It will be either all white or of delicate pastel flowers to match a pastel wedding gown.

Your florist will be glad to make a bouquet with a detachable corsage in the center. You can take it out to pin to your going-away suit before tossing the bouquet to your attendants.

FRIENDSHIP. YOUR GUIDE TO GIVING

Unless you are invited to both wedding and reception, only the strength of your friendship with either bride or groom can tell you whether you should give a wedding present.

If either of the couple is a fairly close relative or a dear friend, it is customary to send a gift even if you are unable to attend the festivities.

God Remembers

Lesson for June 23, 1957

DID God become God of love recently, or was he always that? This point has bothered some readers of the Bible, for in the New Testament it is made plain that God is love, but in the Old Testament very little is said about this. —Or so it used to be thought. Now that we have the Revised Standard Version, we can see that the Old Testament likewise speaks often of God's "steadfast love," an expression translating a Hebrew word which used to be translated "mercy" or "grace." God's steadfast love is the root and reason of his mercy and his grace.

Dr. Foreman

Happy Endings?

"If God were all-powerful he could keep evil from happening, and if he were all-loving he would not let it happen. But evil happens, so there cannot be a god." So runs an old objection to religion. But it never bothered the writers of the Bible. Their faith was of a stouter sort. Some people cannot believe in God unless he writes, so to speak, a happy ending for every one's story. Now the Hebrew people loved stories with happy endings, and perhaps Joseph's is such a story. In one way it has a happy ending.—Joseph the slave-boy becomes the Grand Vizier of Egypt. Joseph, the boy, his brothers were going to murder, becomes their unknown benefactor. And yet—in its setting it is not quite happy. The same book of Genesis which begins with "In the beginning, God—" ends with the stark expression, "In a coffin in Egypt." Not very hopeful! Further, when you think of all the other stories tied in with that of Joseph, you will admit that not all the threads of this story are neatly tied off in bow-knots of happy endings. What became of Potiphar's wife? the Midianite slave-traders? the baker who made a dinner for the birds? the free Egyptian people who became slaves of the king? Not all true-life stories end just as we might wish.

Sin and Freedom

It can be said that the stories of good people come out well and the stories of bad people come out badly. There is some truth in that. There is this much truth at any rate: God has never yet abolished sin, and he permits sin's effects to continue to be terrible. The only way to abolish sin outright would be to destroy freedom; for sin is simply man's misuse of the freedom God has given him. God could, no doubt, have made the human race so that they could be wound up like clocks to run right no matter what. But he made men, not machines. And the tragic fact of sin is a fact. Thus every man's story is spoiled more or less. Indeed there are no perfect stories. God is God of love; but he is not the kind of God who would force all men to do right, regardless; nor is he the kind of God who will see to it that no matter what a man does, he is bound to be happy ever after. It is not only that men are affected by the results of their own sins. Worse than this are the injustices, the tragedies, caused for the innocent by the sins of others.

But God Remembers

Nevertheless, God does not forget. He is not careless nor powerless. Among the many truths which the story of Joseph suggests is the doctrine called Providence. Put into simple words, this means that God thinks of things beforehand. In ways we do not understand, for it is his doing and not ours, God works, both in spite of and because of the worst that sinful men can do, works to bring good out of evil. Joseph's brothers and Potiphar's wife were sinners; yet God used their sins, in his providence, to bring good into the lives of countless people. Two questions not cleared up in the Old Testament have more light cast on them by the New. Will evil and good go on side by side forever? The story of Joseph does not look so far ahead. The New Testament shows clearly, No; God will one day make a final separation of good from evil. And then what about those good persons whose lives end in tragedy? The New Testament reminds us that we never see the real end of any one's story in this world; coffins—in Egypt or elsewhere—end chapters, but no coffin ends a Last Chapter!

An associate county agent has been named to fill the vacancy left by William Allenberg, who recently resigned his position in the Carroll County extension office. The new agent, who will work with County Agent L. C. Burns in adult agricultural extension work, is Robert L. Jones.

The transfer of Mr. Jones will be effective July 1, according to Paul E. Nystrom, Director of the University of Maryland Extension Service, who made the appointment.

Mr. Jones served the last two years as assistant county agent in Prince George's County, until called to serve two years as a first lieutenant in the Air Force during the Korean conflict.

After his military service, he returned to the University of Maryland, where he had received his B. S. degree in general agriculture to secure an MS degree in agronomy. He participated in pasture research work while getting his advanced degree and was co-author of an Experiment Station publication on the subject. He also has attended summer school at the University of Wisconsin and Cornell University.
