GOV. McKELDIN WILL ATTEND EMMITSBURG'S BI-CENTENNIAL

His Excellency, the Governor of Maryland, the Honorable Theodore R. McKeldin and Mrs. McKeldin will tend the final performance of "Valley Echoes" the feature of Emmitsburg Bi-Centennial Celebration. They will participate in the opening of the bril-liant spectacle and extend greetings to Miss Nancy Valentine, Queen of the celebration.

It is planned to have the Governor present a beautiful miniature crown to Miss Valentine and have him join her in a recessional which they will lead by being drawn in an antique brougham coach.

At the June 25 meeting of the Board of Directors of The Potemac Edison Company held in Frederick, Md., Mr. D. E. Stultz was elected President of the utility organization to succeed Mr. R. Paul Smith who retired from that post. For the past four years Mr. Stultz has been serving as Executive Vice President of his Company and, as a result, brings to his new position broad experience and an intimate knowledge of the chief executive's responsibilities.

Mr. Stultz has been involved practically all phases of the utility business over a period of thirty-eight years. His first employment in this field was in 1919 and in his native town of Frederick, Md. In that year he went to work for the Hagerstown and Frederick Railway Company, a predecessor company of the present Potomac Edison System.

After working in various capa-cities in the electrical department of the railway organization Mr. Stultz was, in 1922, transferred to Berkeley Springs, West Virginia as line foreman for that area. In this situation he demonstrated outstanding ability and initiative which brought recognition in 1924 when he was promoted to the district managership of the Northern Virginia Power Company in Winchester, Va. Eight years later he was again promoted. In December of 1932 Mr. Stultz was named general commercial manager of The Potomac Edison Company and moved to the general offices in Hagerstown. In 1937, after a period of five years,

I felt that they should be right in Pittsburgh rather than in my possession and I wrote to the Historical Society and told them in my latter about the told them in my letter about the story. Those dishes were packed in a barrel with many others in excelsior and the terrific heat plus the fire sur-rounding caused them to be the most outduin pattern just as though it was artistic pattern just as though it was modern art of today. The director then wrote to me and was quite an-xious to get the three pieces which I sent and he said the three relics arsent and he said the three relics ar-rived in good condition and were im-mediately put on display in the main loby where they will remain for the summer. They will be stored then with similar relics for display later at appropriate times. The fire broke out Friday, April 10, 1845 and was started by a wash woman boiling wa-ter on Ferry Street during a dry spell. It burned out 20 city blocks of the business area with a loss of between 2 and 8 million dollars. The fire wiped out about three fourths of the busout about three fourths of the bus-iness area of the city. Philadelphia sent relief. BIG PROFITS-FOR THE RACKETEERS

They need money badly, the shutins, disabled veterans, pensioners, housewives who can't get out to work and even regular job-holders in desperate straits for "a little more", these trusting souls who send $500 million a year to the "homework" swindlers.

They are the suckers, who respond by the millions every year to such ads as: "Wanted: Men and women to work at home, $25-$50 per week. Spare time. Send $1 for information."

Ralph Lee Smith of the National Better Business Bureau reports in the June issue of Readers's Digest how this racket operates-and survivesin spite of the unending efforts of the Post Office, Better Business Bureau,! reputable publishers and the Federal Trade Commission to stamp it out. In his article "How to Beat the 'Homework' Racket", condensed from The Ameircan Legion Magazine, Mr. Smith tells of a show-card painting scheme that lured responses from 2,500 needy people a day and took half a million dollars out of their slender means before it was stopped, another for decorating and selling Christmas cards that brought the promoters $100,000.

Typical of the whole racket was an ad that offered: "$50 a Week-address and mail postcards for us at home. Spare Time. Pen or typed. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope" The Better Business Bureau answered this, received a reply asking one dol-

THE CARROLL RECORD, TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND

LETTER TO THE EDITOR June 11, 1957

After listening to President Eisenhower's two addresses last week and last night, I think that we must take this attitude toward the budget as a whole: We must appropriate money for the foreign aid as he suggested,

The theme of this year's Religion in but that leaves us a tremendous American Life campaign will be "Find amount that could be cut out of the the Strength for Your Life. . . Wor-ship Together This Week." The ing normally and our civilian set-up functioning far better at the present

President Eisenhower stated that all these bureaus the people wanted set up would take the exact amount that was listed in the budget for each bu-reau, if not more, but I do not remember nor do I think you do at any time or date that the people have had a chance to vote for these bureaus. Under the present expansion plan each bureau is demanding more monev than it cost the entire government before the first world war! Practically all these bureaus were demanded by Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower. The Senate and the House voted to give the power to set up these bureaus by the present demand. The execu-tive Branch of the government is now all powerful. The government at the present time controls all banks in the United States, all railroads, all telephone communications and utilities, priceless heritage to the point that all natural gas, in fact, controls every person in the United States through taxation or by some of these bureaus. The goveriment is in business combeting with private enterprise, and at the present time they own 200 bil-lon dollars worth of business. The business competing with private en-terprise could be sold and the money paid on the national debt and, as the Hoover Committee reported on bud-geting and accounting, 4 billion could be saved. If some of these bureaus were cut out, the government could function a great deal better. The Hoover Committee also stated that if our military was put on a sound business basis we could easily save 2 billion there and have a much greater

My fellow Americans what are you going to do about this? Continue penses down the road to socialism or communism, which will destroy all incentive for accomplishment under our democratic form of government of free enterprise? America has become great and by far the most pow-erful nation in all the world's history, but if we stop fighting now it is very doubtful whether the people will be willing to try again. We cannot have total security, freedom and liberty with the government looking after us from the cradle to the grave, as for me, as Patrick Henry said, "GIVE ME LIBERTY OR GIVE ME DEATH." This should be our password as we fight to throw off the yoke of government control over us, and demand that the government adhere strictly to the Constitution, the Bill of Rights. and the American Creed. Your Con gressmen and Senators can control the encroachment of the Executive Department on your and my personal liberties.

Please write your Senator and Con-gressman again at the earliest possible date.

Your sincerely, BAILEY T. TALLY, M. D

WHAT

I represent a variety of Insurance Companies (Stock and Non-Assessable Mutuals.) I show a person the difference with printed facts and figures, make my recommendations to him, then let him de-cide for himself just what he wants.

My customers know what they are buying, because I do not believe in hiding any facts, then they tell their friends and neighbors the dif-ference, that is how my business has been built.

Let him help you check your insurable values at todays prices, then show you what insurance you should buy and why.

NEW HIGH IN CHURCH AT-TENDANCE REPORTED

Church attendance in the United States during 1957 is off to a record start. The most recent Gallup Poll reported 52,586,610 Americans attending churches and synagogues regularly compared with 49,600,000 in late 1955. Adult attendance at worship services has increased 11 per cent in the last 7 years according to the survey.

The increase is partially credited to the Religion in American Life movement which was organized in 1950 to emphasize the importance of religion in personal and community life. It is sponsored by a laymen's committee composed of members of the major faiths and is supported by 24 national religious bodies. RIAL campaigns are held annually in thousands of American communities under local sponsorship. Each year since RIAL began its work, church attendance has steadily grown.

vice-presidency four years ago. In addition to his operating experi-ence, many of Mr. Stultz' activities have been concerned with the com-mercial and residential loadbuilding phases of Potomac Edison's program. The success of his efforts in these fields is indicated by the increased use of electricity of Potomac Edison cus-tomers. This figure is now well in excess of the national average, whereas at the time he took over the commercial reins, it was considerably below the national average. Wherever he has been located Mr. Stultz has taken a leading role in community activities. A former pres-ident of the Hagerstown and Wash-ington County Community Chest, he also headed a successful fund camalso headed a successful fund cam-paign for that organization and is now a member of its board of directors. electricity was for street railway purposes. However, as more and more applications for electricity were de-veloped, many trolley companies such as the Hagerstown and Frederick Railway Company, successor to the Washington, Frederick and Gettys-burg Railroad, found that residential and commercial uses of electricity were rapidly outstripping transpor-tation needs.

As a result of this situation, the H&F Railway Company established a separate department to handle this business and Mr. Smith was appointed as its first head in 1914. Thus began the first phase of the principal work to which the remainder of his entire business life would be devoted. Early in 1922 growth and mergers brought a change in company names and individual responsibilities. The H&F Railway became the Potomac Public Service Company and R. Paul Smith became its general manager It is interesting to note that in this same year the Potomac Public Service Company was serving some 19,000 Company was serving some 19,000 customers and selling approximately 80 million kilowatt hours annually. It was in the following year, 1923, that the present Potomac Edison Company was formed and the first unit of what is now the R. Paul Smith Power Sta-tion at Williamsport, Md., was install-ed of the growing operation. It was in September of 1932 that Mr. Smith became president of the utility then serving 46,000 customers and selling them 180 million kilwatt-hours of electricity annually. About the same time, the bus operations of the entire West Penn Electric System, comprising White Star Lines, and Penn Bus Lines were turned over to The Potomac Edison and Blue Ridge Transportation Co. organizations for Transportation Co. organizations for operation. Mr. Smith became presi-dent of these bus companies and remained such until they were sold two years ago, thus being the only presi-dent Blue Ridge ever had. This bus system operation was very extensive and successful for many years. Under the Smith administration the growth of the Potomac Edison System has been rapid. Approximately 155,000 customers now depend on the local utility for services, and in the last twelve months, they have con-sumed nearly a billion and a quar-ter kilowatthours of electricity. During Mr. Smith's tenure of office residential customers have seen a re-markable reduction in the cost of electricity. It has dropped from an average cost of approximately 6½ cents per kilowatthour to 2 3/4 cents per kilowatthour—a reduction of almost 60% in the face of steadily rising prices for practically every commod-ity. In this same period the investment in the Company's plant has ap-proximately quadrupled and now rep-resents about 100 million dollars.

He has presided over the gradual elimination of most of the Company's non-electric operations, biggest single transaction having been the sale in 1955 of Potomac Edison bus sub-sidiary, Blue Ridge Lines, to Grey-hound Lines. Only recently he com-pleted negotiations for the sale of the Hargerstown with the sole of the

Visits were made to Spain, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Sardinia, Crete, Rhodes, Malta, Gibraltar and Leb-Franklin M. Barnes, district manager of the Baltimore (N) district office stated today that a social security representative will be in Westminster on Saturday, June 29, between the hours of 9 a.m. and noon at the Room 3 Post Office. It should be noted that five-day. the representative will not be at the Louise Employment Security Office which is Avenue, his usual place of contact. day eve

This special Saturday schedule of office hours will enable the Social Se-curity Administration to accept last ninute applications from severely disabled people who may be eligible for social security disability protection. Mr. Barnes pointed out that people who have been disabled and unable to work for a long time must apply be-fore June 30 for disability benefits or to have their earnings records "frozen". Otherwise, they may, in some cases, lose their rights to disability payments and also their own and their family's rights to old-age and survivors insurance payments. Any severely disabled person who has worked under social security for has worked under social security for at least-5 years and has been disabled for 6 months or more should get in touch with the Baltimore (N) district office right away. If he is between 50 and 65, he may be eligible for monthly disability payments. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to pro-tect his future right to disability pay-ments as well as the rights of himself and his family to old-age and surived most and his family to old-age and sur-insurance benefits at age 50 or over, for to have your social security record frozen," said Mr. Barnes, "you must have social security credit for at least 5 years of work in the 10 years before you became disabled. At least a year and a half of that credit must be for work during the 2 years in the for work during the 3 years just before =

"In addition, you must have a dis-ability which, in the words of the law, makes you unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity. It must be the kind of physical or mental con-dition which will show up in a medical examination or tests, and it must have lasted for at least 6 months and be expected to continue for a long and Monday at indefinite time.' Mr. Barnes emphasized that any disabled person who feels that he might qualify under these provisions of the Social Security Act should get in touch with the social security dis-trict office before June 30 by letter, phone, or in person. If he is not able to do so himself, someone else may make the contact for him.

In the seventeenth century, it was not unusual to see a "bread and cake eating lady" at English fairs. One such performer ate 12 pounds of cake and bread in a half hour at each of six daily appearances.

watch her face light up as she discovers a set of lovely colorful towels! Beautifully packed and ribbon-tied, with a glowing "rose" to fasten to her bed jacket.

Indeed, with towels you give a useful gift that will bring day-in-day-out pleasure to almost any sick-abed. You'll be thanked so profusely that you'll wonder why you hadn't thought of such an original gift before this.

Whether you give towels in a "flower box" or any other attractive set, you'll find them surprisingly easy on the budget. In fact, The Cannon Homemaking Institute points out, a towel gift set often costs far less and lasts much longer than flowers, food dainties or perfume. Plentiful Eggs for Meadless Days

Use plentiful eggs for meatless menus. Today's recipe for Baked

Use plentiful eggs for meatless menus. Today's recipe for Baked Eggs is a nourishing and economical supper dish that is so simple to prepare. Contributing to the ease of preparation is the quickie cheese sauce which is made with instant nonfat dry milk. "The Heart of Milk", instant Starlac nonfat dry milk is a rich source of protein, calcium and riboflavin. It mixes immediately, even in ice water, and it is important in all ways that milk is used in the home—drinking, cooking and baking. It comes in three handy economical packages: 1. The family-size package which makes 12 quarts of nonfat milk for as little as seven cents a quart; 2. The one-pound package which makes five quarts of nonfat milk; and 3. The pre-measured package which contains three individual envelopes, each making one quart of nonfat milk. three individual envelopes, each making one quart of nonfat milk.

Melt butter in small skillet. Saute vegetables until just tender. Pour liquefied instant Starlac nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle combined flour and seasonings over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Cook, stirring constantly, over hot water until thickened. Stir in cheese and Worcestershire sauce; cook, stirring constantly, until cheese melts. Slice hard cooked eggs; place 1½ eggs in each of four individual casseroles. Ton each with vegetable mixture. Pour cheese sauce over veget Top each with vegetable mixture. Pour cheese sauce over vege-tables. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. If desired, garnish with egg slices topped with paprika.

Cherry Pie -- A Family Favorite

Cheers will be loud and long when Ma bakes the family's favorite dessert, Cherry Pie, and if she uses quick-cooking tapioca as the pie thickener, she will feel mighty pleased at the ease with which she made it. Quick-cooking tapioca, you know, requires no special blend-ing. Furthermore, it permits only the true fruit flavor and color to come through. al.	.1/2	cup cherry juice Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie	11 100 10	< -/

1 tablespoon butter Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, cherries and juice. Roll half the pastry ½ inch thick. Line 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge of rim. Roll remaining pastry ½ inch thick and cut several 2-inch slits or a fancy design near center. Fill pie shell with cherry mixture. Dot with butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust.

To adjust top crust, fold pastry in half or roll loosely on rolling pin; center on filling. Open slits with a knife. (Well-opened slits are important to permit escape of steam during baking.) Trim top crust, allowing it to extend ½ inch over rim. To seal, press top and bottom crust together on rim. Then fold edge of top crust under bottom crust and flute. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 55 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

*Cherries packed in syrup may be used. Decrease sugar to ¾ cup.

The Open Mind

Great men have their prejudices, no doubt; what human being is entirely free of them? But a great man is capable of living above his prejudices. He can revise his opinions. Neither the man who is forever changing his mind, nor the man who can never change it, is likely to achieve greatness. When Joseph's first son was born, he called him by a name which means "making-to-fo.get." "God," said he. "has made me forget . . . all my father's house." Joseph at that time, and for years before and after that time, had no communication with his home back in Palestine. To be sure, his family could neither read nor write; but Joseph could easily have sent a message telling them he was alive and doing very well indeed. On the contrary, he seems to have been quite content to be cut off from home. Very likely he thought the less he had to do with his rascally brothers, the better. But when the famine time came, he got acquainted with his brothers again; discovered in one of them, at least, a noble spirit; and he so far revised his attitude that he invited the whole family into Egypt near him.

The Wide Heart

Joseph's treatment of his brothers showed more than a willingness to reconsider his prejudices. He had a heart willing to forget the past, willing to return good for evil. To men who had been as mean to him as they could possibly be, he was as good and generous as he could possibly be. Most of us think we are mighty virtuous if in return for a dirty deal we do just a tiny grudging act of kindness. That is better than vengeance and mean dealing in return; but the great man is far above measuring what he gives by what has been given him. True greatness includes more than justice; it includes forgiveness and mercy. Voltaire used to say about God, "He will forgive-that's his business."
