STATE ROADS COMMISS'N Will Improve Carroll County Road

A section of Md. Route 31 in Carroll County will get a face-lifting this summer.

The State Roads Commission this week sent a "notice to proceed" to the contractor for extensive improvements to this highway in and around Manchester.

The project will consist of grading, drainage, widening, relocating and surfacing of Md. 31, from its intersection with Md. 30 in Manchester southwesterly for a distance of 4.3 miles. In addition another short section will be resurfaced—from Park Avenue to Manchester southwesterly for a distance of 3 miles. Both sections, totaling 4.6 miles, will be finished in asphalt pavement.

Contractor on the project is Nello L. Teer Company of Durham, North Carolina whose low bid was $815,602. Six other bidders competed for this job, the highest bid received by the Roads Commission being $971,463.

Money for Scholarship Fund

Progress is being made in the accumulating of money for the Scholarship Fund, Inc., recently organized in Carroll County, according to Mrs. Wm. B. Culwell, newly elected President of the organization. At this date applications for scholarships have been received from a number of qualified persons who have the desire to enter the teaching profession in this county.

Mrs. Culwell stressed the need for contributions from interested individuals as well as from civic and social organizations. Funds are being received through treasurer, Elwood Baumgardner, Taneytown.

Carroll County's faith in its young people has been overwhelmingly demonstrated by the acceptance and support of the Scholarship Fund initiated by the P-T. A. Council.

Approximately 100 new teachers are needed this year to teach in Carroll County schools. Although relief from this shortage will not be immediately realized, a plan has been set in motion to aid those desiring to become teachers who may not otherwise be privileged to do so, with the understanding that upon completion of their training they will return to teach in Carroll County schools for a period of at least two years.

The P-T. A. Council has been concerned about the seriousness of the situation locally and felt that a constructive plan to help alleviate this shortage was necessary. With these facts in mind, the Council voted to enlist the support of all County organizations, P-T. A. groups and individuals.

As president of the Council, Mrs. Culwell selected the following members to work with her on the new organization: Mrs. Urith Shipley, guidance counselor; Betty Day, representing the Teachers Association; Mrs. Horatio Fox and Mrs. John McCormick, delegates from their P-T. A. groups. Together this group effectively completed the necessary groundwork for the drawing up of incorporation papers, which were filed May 14, 1957, in the Court House at Westminster.

The objects of the Scholarship Fund are clearly defined in its Constitution as follows: "To encourage qualified persons to prepare for the teaching profession, to assist deserving students, residents in Carroll County, Maryland, who could not otherwise do so, to enter the teaching profession by grants in aid, to enlist the aid of educational, civic, service and business organizations and private individuals to assist in improving the training of teachers and the quality of teaching in Carroll County, Maryland."

At the first Board of Directors meeting the elected officers were: president, Mrs. Culwell; vice-president, Mrs. Fox; secretary, Mrs. Mary W. Shilling; and treasurer, Elwood Baumgardner. Additional Board members are Samuel M. Jenness, Superintendent of Carroll County Schools, Dr. Joseph Bailor, and Harrieton Merritt, president of Teachers Association.

Vice-Pres., John Myers; Sec., Robert Waddell; Treasurer, Harry Dougherty, Jr. The gavel was then passed from retiring president Sauble to the new president Boone who spoke briefly on the coming year's events and activities to be scheduled by the local chapter. Remarks were heard from State Pres. Fitz Gerald, State Vice-Pres., McColley and Pres. Andy Shaw of the Westminster Chapter. A family picnic will be held at Memorial Park on August 26, '57 (Monday) at 6:30 p. m. for the families and friends of all members. The next regular membership meeting will be on the fourth Monday in September.

The second annual fishing rodeo sponsored by the Taneytown Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Taneytown Rod & Gun Club grounds on Saturday, July 27, 1957, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Transportation will be provided from Mid-Town Electric store at 9 a. m. and again at 12 noon to the grounds for those desiring it. Participants will be divided into two age groups; up to 10 years and from 10 to 14 years. Judging for winners of prizes will be at 3 p. m. with approximately 18 prizes to be awarded to both age-groups. A general or booby prize will be given to each contestant.

A free lunch consisting of a sandwich and milk will be given each child. Other refreshments will be on sale during the event.

Each entry is reminded to bring their own fishing gear and bait. Pony rides and a casting exhibition are also additional features during the rodeo.

Each participant is again reminded to bring with him a signed registration certificate which must be presented in order to enter the rodeo. The local Boy Scout Explorer Post will man a first-aid tent and patrol the water to avoid any accidents. However, it must be understood that the Boy Scouts Jaycees, or the Rod and Gun Club can not be held responsible for any accidents.

It is hoped that there will be "good fishing" for the participants. To help this situation the Jaycees, under the supervision of the Rod and Gun Club officials, seined several farm ponds and moved the fish to the club pond a few weeks ago. As always, there is no admission charge or registration fees, and parents, friends, or interested people are welcome.

There will be splendid prizes awarded to the winners and each and every youngster will receive a small gift for participating. No participant will be eligible for more than one prize. A prize will be awarded to the first boy and to the first girl to catch a fish. Prizes will also be given to the girl and the boy catching the most fish, and to the girl and boy each catching the smallest fish. Prizes will include rods, reels, and lines complete, casting reels, tackle boxes, bait boxes, landing nets, fish bags, stringers and floats.

Summer Camp for Retarded Children Closed

The penny carnival held Friday afternoon as the closing project for the third summer day camp for retarded children was a huge success.

Immediately preceding the carnival, an apron fashion show was the highlight of a closing program. With soft music in the background and with Miss Nancy Coyner, Miss Ann Russell, and Miss Ann Norris in charge, the older girls modeled aprons which they had made with assistance during the camp period.

The younger children sang several songs and presented two rhythm band numbers under the direction of Mrs. Ray LeGore and Mrs. Roger Burdette with Miss Bonnie LeGore at the piano.

Mrs. Mary Myers, director of the camp, thanked all who had helped with the camp program and presented a gift to each of the volunteer teenage assistants in appreciation for their time and effort.

Each child was presented a certificate of appreciation by one of the teachers, Mrs. Crawford Coyner.

It was announced that according to Mrs. Robert E. Adkins, Red Cross Swimming Instructor, the following children qualified for a beginners Red Cross certificate: Billy Barksdale, Bobby Roop, and Gwyn Coyner. Mrs. Adkins presented a certificate of progress to the other children who had participated in the swimming program.

DRIVE CONTINUES FOR FUNDS

Plans for Uniforming High School Band

The weekly meeting of the Parents Committee for the Band Uniform Fund sponsored by our High School P-T.A. held its weekly meeting, July 23, at 8:30 in the band room of the High School. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mr. John Hottinger.

The group of parents is busy arranging activities. The light bulb campaign will take place the week of Aug. 6, with children and parents in the community selling bulbs. If your house is in need of a good bulb, and one that is easier on the eye, will out last other bulbs. We are sure you will be interested in buying a supply of these "C-EZ" bulbs. Remember your investment in these bulbs is for a worthy cause.

A very encouraging return in contributions was received from Alumni, places of business, and individual citizens in our town. We are most grateful for your help—large or small.

Let us all remember Parents, Alumni and citizens of our community, this is not alone a high school project, but one that belongs to everyone who claims to belong to Taneytown. You are invited to come to our meetings. Any interested person. We need your assistance and we need it now if we are to attain our goal. There is still $1865.00 needed. We have the promise of four uniforms that will be contributed by four of Taneytown's businessmen. Surely we shall all be happy if by Fall we may see our boys and girls of Taneytown High marching down the streets in maroon uniforms. But only by a united effort can we realize this amount.

Another big event is our festival to be held August 24 at the Memorial Park. There will be fun, entertainment and good food for all. Our Band will play a two hour concert during the evening. Committees are busy arranging many fine things for this event. If we should have a rainy evening, the whole program will be held in the fire hall. Please plan on coming out to be with us on the 24th of August and bring along your friends.

Our next meeting will be held July 30, at 8:30 in the Band room. Come out and plan with us.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning a smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer.

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness! There are dozens of gardenias now in full bloom and I just placed five in the long green log and the entire first floor has the delightful aroma. The gladiolas were saved from the last storm which did much damage as they were broken and laying flat on the ground. I quickly sawed some small sticks and tied each one to a stick and they are now budding beautifully.

It is so warm outdoors that "Sugar" and "Buttons" asked to come in for their morning nap.

So many little chores to be done which I have always learned to do myself. Just finished cementing the clothes poles in the ground and repairing two big leaks in the garden hose.

As I type this column the very beautiful hymn, "Alone" is being played and sung by my daughter.

Have you wondered this past year what really became of Al Ross of W. B. A. L.? That station did not pay him what he was worth and he is now located in Washington, D. C., getting many thousands a year more! More power to him! Eh? And thinking about people—here are just a few more. As I was, being waited on by a most unusual looking girl in the Chinese "White Rice Inn" on Park Ave., in Baltimore, she interested me very much. I knew she was "just different" and I said to her, "Are you from across the Sea?" She quickly replied, "Oh, no I am a real American from Oklahoma!" "She must be of Indian blood," I thought and we both smiled. "Oh, I see—you are more American than I!" She told me her name was Hiawatha but when the Indian travels Eastward he immediately takes The White Man's Name. So she took the name of Irene Duncan!

Then, I talked with a little lady of 82 years weighing much more than her years and she told me when she was born she weighed just 2 pounds and in those days they did not have the incubators so they placed her in cotton in a Soup Tureen placing the lid on and the only air which could get to her was from the hole in the lid at the edge where the big ladle fitted! Then, they placed her at the back of the coal range! How times have changed!

I talked with a young father who thought he was telling me a good story and here it is. "My wife asked my two little girls ages 5 and 7 which one was going to empty the waste after the evening meal into the garbage pail and the eldest one said she would do so if her Mother paid her! Just imagine how the Kids are today?"

I looked at that 30 year old father and said, "Well, now that was your turn. What did you say?" "Oh, I did not say anything for I left my wife handle it and she emptied the waste herself!" "Don't you think as a father you could have helped much to avoid mistakes like that in the future?" Of course, he looked surprised and asked me, "HOW?" To which I quickly replied by you saying to those children, "You heard what your Mother told you to do and now you do as she asked!"

Then, a Mother with two children (two sweet little girls) called to see me one evening and the smallest of four years lifted up a very old doll and started to swing it around by the arms! I thought it would be broken any second so quickly took the child in my lap and placing the doll on the table beside me said in a very low tone, "Don't you know, dear that if you swing a doll by the arms what it would mean, she would not have any arms? You would not want that to happen. Would you?" She quickly looked at her Mother and climbed on her lap. Before that child went home, she came to me and hugging me tightly said, "Won't you please come to see us soon?" Now, you see, folks the ending of that little story for that taught the child respect—yet the Mother did not attempt to correct her.

Gentlemen, what did you think of that awful Hans Schmidt on the Wrestling Mat on T.V.? I was delighted as was the audience that the nice Frenchman won.

Now, be sure when you go to Atlantic City not to miss the wonderful boat ride in the evening at 8:30. It is a cruise along the beachfront of Atlantic City and back through the Yacht Basin via the inland waterway to view the scenic splendor of the harbor and all its magnetic activities. There is a fine Italian on Board who plays delightful music on a guitar and everyone joins the singing of the old and new numbers. You will love that one especially if it is a Moonlight night.

So long until next week D. V. Have a grand week end and be careful about Jr driving the car. I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

MEETING OF BOARD OF KI-WIVES

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Taneytown is baseball "daffy". We now have two uniformed clubs, and two or three more of various ages and sizes ready to jump into a game at any time, without counting the "has beens".

The new wheat is coming in just fair—some badly mixed with garlic, some with cheat, and some tough. It is thought, however, that there is a large amount of excellent wheat in the neighborhood.

Mr. Edward Classon, of Taneytown, and Miss Lulu Haus, of Baltimore, were married at the latter place, on Wednesday, and after a brief honeymoon will reside in Taneytown, where Mr. Classon is now building a large dwelling. The couple have the best wishes of their many friends.

Baker—Harman. At the Lutheran parsonage, Taneytown, on Thursday evening, July 25th, by Rev. Wm. E. Wheeler, Miss Blanche L. Harman and George William Baker, both of Taneytown district were married.

Englar—Gilbert. On July 25, 1907, by Rev. Edgar T. Read at the home of the bride, Union Bridge, Mr. John Urner Englar and Miss Myrtle Marie Gilbert were married.

The Farmer's Picnic. The Farmers picnic opened on Thursday, the attendance being smaller than last year, on account of the lateness of the harvest season. The leading new feature present is the exhibit of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, which is housed in a hastily constructed building. Mr. E. O. Garner acted as master of ceremonies. Hon. Jas. A. Goulden, of New York, a member of Taneytown Grange No. 184 and an old Carroll County boy made an address.

Harney—Mr. Mervin Bishop purchased a new buggy this week, of Jas. H. Reindollar, in Taneytown, so the girls of this locality can look out for buggy rides. - Don't forget the P. O. S. of A. picnic on Saturday; all have worked and a little recreation will be beneficial at this stage of the game. - Our ball team has been doing a little practicing this week, but there is still plenty of room for improvement.

Gardening Days Are Salad Days

If you're a home gardener, surely nothing's more satisfying than being able to enjoy the products of your green thumb. Gather in the "fixings" for a crisp, cool salad bowl, and you'll be well rewarded for your gardening efforts.

Fill a basket with your choicest garden lettuce, vine-ripened tomatoes, cucumbers, scallions and radishes. Wash and chill these garden treasures, then toss together lightly with a perfectly seasoned dressing.

One of our favorites is the Tomato Soup Dressing, given below. It has a tantalizing flavor that lends real zest and sparkle to garden-fresh salads. This dressing is easy on the calories, too, for it's made with the non-caloric sweetener, Sucaryl, rather than with sugar. Simply by the use of this sweetener, calories have been slashed from 45 calories to just 28 calories per tablespoonful. Best part is, you just can't taste the difference. For, without adding a single calorie, this sweetener gives cooked and baked foods a naturally sweet, sugar-like flavor.

Whether you're weight-watching or not, we think you'll enjoy this sweet yet tangy dressing:

TOMATO SOUP DRESSING (Low-Calorie)

½ cup salad oil	2 teaspoons Sucaryl solution
1 cup vinegar	or 16 tablets, crushed
1 can (10½ ounces) tomato soup	2 tablespoons chopped onion
	½ teaspoon garlic salt

Combine all ingredients and blend well.

Makes 2½ cups or 44 tablespoons. Each tablespoon contains 28 CALORIES; 0.1 gram protein; 2.6 grams fat; 1.1 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each tablespoon would contain 45 CALORIES.

Why Ford is the "only-est" wagon of 'em all!

FORD is America's best-selling station wagon and your best buy, because for so little money Ford is:

- ... the only wagon with wrap-around liftgate to give you greater visibility and wider loading space
- ... the only wagon with a liftgate that gives itself a "lift"
- ... the only wagon with a liftgate that "holds" in any position and can be released with one hand!
- ... the only wagon with sturdy support arms that hold tailgate solidly in open position and, at the same time, give full load support.
- ... the only wagon with 2-stage front door checks and spring assists that help you open and close rear doors
- ... the only wagon with 6 steel roof braces for extra rugged strength
- ... the only wagon with swept-back ball-joint suspension that "rolls" with the punch when you hit a bump
- ... the only wagon to bring you the Thunderbird's own V-8 power
- ... the only wagon that offers you a truly modern short-stroke six cylinder engine!

That list of "onlys" on the left gives a lot of reasons why Ford tops the "tote 'em" poll. Take Ford's sculptured styling. No other wagon at any price can match it. And Ford is the only wagon that sports this sculptured look.

The all-new "Inner Ford" is America's No. 1 construction job. Its wide-base frame lets you ride safer within the massive frame side rails. Under the hood, you get a famous Ford engine. Whether you choose the Mileage Maker Six or the Thunderbird's own V-8, you'll love the smooth performance. Yet, in spite of all these "onlys," Ford wagons are still the lowest priced* of the low-price three!

Keep cool with Ford Air Conditioning... at low Ford prices!

PLANT YOUR TREES CORRECTLY

To everyone who plants a tree correctly, the results justify the expense and labor in many ways.

During the summer months trees provide shade which keeps the house cooler, and a haven of rest beneath its branches. The value of any property is increased if trees are present for more enjoyable living.

Correct planting and proper tree selection is the key to the pleasure trees will afford.

There is an old saying, very true, but also very true, that sums up the main point in successful planting. "It is better to plant a 50c tree in a $5.00 hole, than to plant a $5.00 tree in a 50c hole."

Roots of a tree must not be crowded, therefore, when doing excavation work, be sure the hole is large enough. It should be at least 8 to 12 inches wider than the spread of the roots, or the ball of earth holding the roots.

The depth of the hole should be sufficient to allow the tree to be on the same level at which it formerly grew. In clay-like soils, the soil removed should be replaced with a good grade of loam. The addition of peat humus will do much to improve the soil.

Use no manure within the hole, as it may have a toxic effect on a young tree.

Our next step is to wet the loose soil, this will prevent settling after the tree is planted. Now place the tree, making sure the roots are well spread, in the hole. Fill in the rest of the hole with soil, tamping lightly to prevent air pockets.

A new sapling needs support to prevent weaving in the loose soil, giving the root system a chance to establish itself quickly. A stake should be placed about six inches from the tree. Pieces of rubber hose should be used to protect the tree from the guy wires.

After the tree is staked, it should be watered thoroughly again. A mulch of straw or some similar material should be placed around the base. This will prevent the roots from drying out in the summer, and freezing in the winter. The mulch should be retained at least two years.

Water the tree thoroughly once a week during dry weather.

Transplanting a tree embodies a shock to it that can be likened to a surgical operation on a human being, so do it carefully.

Your tree will be a source of comfort for many years to come. By all means plant a tree, but plant it right.

"A degree ought to be required of all automobile drivers—a degree of caution!"—J. W. Berry.

1.7 Millions in Social Security Payments

$1,719,684.00 in monthly social security payments were made to 3145 Carroll County beneficiaries in 1956. More than 1,862 retired workers in Carroll County were getting monthly social security insurance payments totalling $104,941.00 at the end of 1956. This compares with 1,612 old-age beneficiaries receiving $88,933.00 monthly in the same county a year earlier, Franklin M. Barnes, Social Security Administration district manager in Baltimore, declared today. At the end of 1956, monthly benefit payments were going to 559 wives or aged dependent husbands of old-age beneficiaries and to 348 mothers, aged widows or dependent aged widowers and parents in Carroll County. The 12-month increase in aged beneficiaries is due partly to the lowering from 65 to 62 of the age at which a woman without an entitled child in her care may qualify for benefits, Barnes said. The lowering of the retirement age for women was one of the provisions of the 1956 Amendments to the Social Security Act and became effective last November. It applies to retired women workers, wives or old-age dependent mothers of deceased insured workers. Many women who would have had to wait up to three years before starting to get benefits under the old law became entitled to benefits in the last two months of 1956.

Noting the OASI coverage has taken hold rapidly in recent years, Barnes pointed out that three-fourths of the men becoming 65 this year will be eligible for social security benefits. Of all people over 65 years of age, 62 per cent are now drawing benefits or will be entitled to draw them when their income from work stops.

In December 1956, 276 children in Carroll County were being paid a total of $14,174.00 monthly. These were largely minor children of a deceased insured parent; a smaller number were children under 18 whose insured father or mother had retired. All of these were unmarried children under 18. While child's benefits ordinarily terminate to a recent change in the law which makes payments possible for a child over 18, based on the insured account of a retired or deceased parent, if the child became totally disabled before reaching 18. Payments will be made also to the mother who has the disabled child in her care. This provision did not become effective until January 1957; consequently, disabled child beneficiaries are not included in the total given above. If the child of a retired or deceased person is entitled to monthly payments, the child's mother may also be entitled to benefits, regardless of her age.

Commenting on the growth of the social security insurance in the 20 years of its operation, Barnes recalled that the original law covered about 26 million workers; as of March 1957, approximately 55.5 million people were in work covered by the law, and more than 9 out of every 10 persons who work for a living and 9 out of 10 mothers and children have a stake in the social security insurance program.

late Frederick and Sarah Fritz Ecker. His wife died 11 years ago.

Surviving are four children, Sterling Ecker, Mrs. Paul Wilhelm and Mrs. Curtis Barnes, New Windsor, and Mrs. Paul Fritz, Westminster; 11 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and a brother, Emory Ecker, near New Windsor.

Funeral services will be held at the New Windsor funeral home of D. D. Hartzler and Sons today (Thursday) at 10:30 a. m. The Rev. Lewis Robson will officiate. Burial will be in Pipe Creek cemetery.

SHORT ITEMS

Home Air Conditioning Needed, Wives Agree

The Federal Housing and Home Financing Agency's detailed publication on the Women's Housing Congress shows that seven out of every ten housewives who attended believe that central air conditioning is a necessity rather than a luxury and want provisions made for it in their future homes.

Six out of ten agreed that these provisions should include insulation in walls and ceilings. Research has shown that a thick heat barrier of mineral wool—six inches in ceilings, four inches in walls, and two inches in an unheated floor—makes smaller, less expensive air-conditioning systems possible and greatly reduces operating costs. The house will be more comfortable in winter, too.

BARBECUE GOES FAST

An outdoor barbecue can be built in less than an hour with cinder blocks and fire bricks. The cinder blocks are stacked without mortar leaving a U-shaped opening at the top which is lined with the fire-resistant bricks. Top the finished job with an iron grate.

PAINT-SAVING TIP

Paint will not form a surface crust while stored if a small amount of mineral spirits or turpentine is poured on top of the paint before the can is re-sealed. Care should be taken not to shake the can when it is put away.

CHAIR SEAT WOVEN

Plastic clothesline in white or colors makes an ideal textured seat for a chair. The clothesline is laced from front to back across the seat, then woven from side to side. Ends are tacked to underside of rungs.

PROTECT SCREEN DOOR

The screen in a screen door won't be bulged out by young children pushing against it if a piece of fencing with half-inch-square holes is tacked over the lower inside area of the screen.

BALL EASES PAINTING

A sponge rubber ball fitted over the handle of a paint brush makes painting less tiring by providing a larger, pliable grip. Hole is cut in the ball with a sharp, pointed knife.

Idols Old And New

Lesson for July 28, 1957

IF ANY of the readers of this paper had seen the pillar of Baal that the hero Gideon pulled down, they might not have noticed it at all. It may have been nothing more impressive than a post or pole of some kind, with or without some other image close beside it. Standing up or knocked over, it wouldn't seem to amount to much. And yet Gideon was accounted a hero for destroying it; a hero, because there were many people in the place who thought that tearing down that pillar was nothing short of sacrilege. For to them it was sacred, the most sacred object in the village. When Gideon tore it down, he actually risked his life at the hands of his fanatical neighbors.

Dr. Foreman

Idols Overseas

There is hardly any kind of thing, no matter how ugly, ridiculous or disgusting, that has not become an object of worship somewhere, some time. American Christian travelers to India are generally shocked by the "gods" of Hindu temples. Aside from the unmentionables, there are absurd things like Ganesh, a fat little god with an elephant's head; or little stone bulls on whose heads garlands of yellow flowers will be laid as a tribute. Elsewhere there are great fat Buddhas, plated with gold or carved out of stone sitting out beside a mountain road, before whom offerings are placed, of money, food or drink. There are mountains, lakes and waterfalls and trees, local sights for the tourist, which are regarded with superstition. We, not an hour goes by, on this planet of ours, without some sort of honor—prayer, gifts, sacrifice—being offered to things which "having eyes see not, having ears hear not"—sometimes in human shape, sometimes beastlike, sometimes very hard to classify!

Idols in America

Why do people do such silly things? Perhaps it is for the same reason that Americans worship their idols. Yes, we do have idols in our enlightened land, though they are seldom called by that name. Whatever a man hangs his heart on and depends on, as Luther said, that is his god. And if what we hang our heart on and depend on is the true God, then worshipping him and serving him is true religion. But if what we hang our heart on and depend on is not the true God, then whatever we worship, it is an idol, and worshipping it and serving it is not only nonsense, it is sin. Here in America the name of one idol is The Public. Politicians fall down and worship this idol; so do actors and advertisers. Keep the Public happy and carefree, for once you lose its favor, you are lost. Another idol is called The Majority. If most people do a thing (or don't do it, as the case may be), then that is the Last Word. Some people would no more think of going against the majority view than they would think of going against God. Indeed for such people the Majority, to all intents and purposes, might as well be God. For they don't listen to God with half the eagerness with which they always want to know what "everybody" does or thinks, before they will decide for themselves.

Only the Brave Break Idols

It took courage, moral and physical, for Gideon to destroy the idol of Baal. It always takes courage to tear down idols. It takes even greater courage to destroy idols oneself has made and worshipped. People who do not follow popular idols are regarded as little queer, if not more than a little sour. Idol-breakers, people who "buck" popular opinions and prejudices, not only have to get over their fear of what people will think, they have to get over their fear of the idol itself. Whether it is the primitive African, afraid of the volcano he worships, or the ordinary American idolater, a worshipper of money or popularity, it takes courage to break, or to break with, an idol of any kind. But once the break is made, once a man's trust is placed in the true God alone, he can smile at the idol whose crawling slave he used to be.

SHORT STORY

Anniversary Surprise

By B. C. McAfee

THE building seemed to shake with music and applause, as the popular TV star pranced on-stage. Lynn Hall turned to her husband, blue eyes twinkling with excitement.

"You're a dear—dragging me along to New York on your business trip and finding time to entertain me, besides."

Ed patted her hand, smiling wistfully. He wondered what his lovely wife would say if he told her they were really celebrating their First Wedding Anniversary. Some joke, he thought wryly. It's always the man who's supposed to forget—never the woman. Of course, maybe Lynn didn't want to remember. "Let's face it," Ed told himself for the millionth time. "She only married you as a second choice. She may forget her Wedding Anniversary, but she'll never forget Dever Bowes—the man she loved and lost." As the music and laughter whirled on around him, Ed sat quietly absorbed in his own thoughts.

As far back as he could remember, he'd been hopelessly in love

3-Minute Fiction

"Here's a gal who carries an old love letter."

with Lynn—but to her, Ed had been merely the boy next-door. One Valentine's Day, he got up enough courage to pour all his unrequited love into a letter, which he carefully wrote in the shape of a heart. He never mailed it. He was afraid Lynn would laugh.

The following summer his mother wrote that Dever Bowes had been killed in a plane crash. Ed came home then, knowing Lynn needed a friend to lean on—someone who knew her well and understood how she felt. Lynn seemed grateful for his companionship. They were married a year ago, this week. Ed never kidded himself, though. He realized Lynn might never love him as he loved her.

A sudden blast of music and applause jolted Ed out of his reverie. Beside him, Lynn was laughing heartily.

"Oh!" she gasped. "I haven't laughed so hard in years."

Ed smiled, joining in the applause. The master-of-ceremonies held up both hands for attention.

"And now, folks—we're going to stroll through the audience with our portable mike and award some valuable cash prizes! We have fifty dollars for the first lady who can find an old love letter in her purse! Speak up, ladies... who—"

"I have one!" an excited voice cried out. Ed realized with a shock, the voice belonged to Lynn. He wasn't surprised that she had one of Dever's old love letters in her purse, but how could she humiliate him so in public? A loud buzz swept the crowd, as necks craned in their direction. Ed wanted to slide under the seat. The grinning announcer was coming up the aisle.

"Here we are!" he bellowed. "Here's a sentimental gal who carries an old love letter around with her. Would you tell us your name, please?"

"Mrs. Edward Hall" said Lynn. "Of Chicago."

"Now, about this love letter, Mrs. Hall—" the announcer lowered his voice in mock conspiracy. "Did your husband write it—we hope?" Howls of glee from the audience, as a damp chill hit the back of Ed's neck.

"As a matter of fact," came Lynn's clear voice, "my husband did write this long before we were married, but he never mailed it. His mother found it weeks later and secretly gave it to me. I've always treasured it."

Ed couldn't believe his ears, much less his eyes. Lynn was proudly displaying the heart-shaped Valentine letter written by Ed so long ago. The beaming announcer held it up for the delighted crowd to see, and then returned it to Lynn with her fifty dollar award.

"Mrs. Hall—" said the announcer, "tell us what you plan to do with your fifty dollars."

"Well," said Lynn with a smile in her voice, "like most husbands, mine has forgotten that today is our Wedding Anniversary, so I think I'll buy us a nice gift, just to remind him."

THE RESURRECTION OF THE BODY—

Of the Resurrection of the body, much is said. But, one thing we know, it does not concern the dead; In a living body one must surely be To prepare to live through eternity.

As the tree which stands in the storm clouds path Must train its roots to encounter its wrath, So man must prepare in every way To weather the storms of the "Thousand Year Day".

The resurrection of the body shall not take place On a certain day; or, in a dead body of any race "God is a God of the living, not a God of the dead"; This truth is backed by the Scriptures, it is said.

The million of bodies in our cemeteries to-day Are only the houses in which people used to stay; And, those who dwell in them, experts say, Are now building bodies which shall not decay.

There are thousands of people on earth to-day Who claim they were here only yesterday; They have intimations of having lived before; That, too, is something we should not ignore!

Nature seems perfection, so does spiritual man; So, the evils of the past, the new races shall ban; Just so it shall be on the "new earth" of ours With its cultural peoples, its trees, and its flowers.

The Ragamuffin shall not always be a bum, Though to-day God's face is not seen on some; They, too, are God's children who have gone astray, But, they shall learn to know Him some future day.

Such dissolute beings, they say, do not go to hell There forever to simmer and dwell; God lets them sow "wild oats", so they may see What fools earth can make of humanity.

Not one who has lived shall ever be lost, Regardless of what his salvation may cost; For, God has devised a marvelous plan; And don't need a hell fire to make a perfect man.

Reincarnation is the way, it is said, By which God is raising all the dead; For, in a perfect body we all must be; Since, in it, we shall spend Eternity.

A single life span too short would be To learn how to live in Eternity— In a land where a "thousand years are as one day" One must have a body which shall not decay.

To go there like many good people to-day Would be to enter an eternal hell, some say; For a land of cripples it would turn out to be In which we would live through Eternity.

But, our God is too good to permit such a curse; So, He has planned, to make it the reverse; Before we leave here, He shows us the way Our bodies must be in the endless day.

Death is only a transition; it is not the end Of your existence, you may depend, God has many things for you to do When your itinerary on earth is through.

Man was not made to come here and die; The source of his being is in the sky; He only comes here certain lessons to learn; And, when that is finished he shall return.

Death is not an enemy! It is a friend, Since to worry and pain it puts an end; To all who are ready, it opens the door To a world of enchantments not known before.

Many of the Hebrews who left Egypt, they say In new bodies entered Canaan the very same way— A type of man's pilgrimage (don't you see)? On his journey from Time to Eternity.

The "Promised Land" was only 30 miles away; But, it took them 40 years to reach it, men say; So it is with all mortals here below; Our journey to Paradise is also slow.

Perfection is man's goal; for, perfect he must be; From mundane teachings, he must flee! Like Pilate, he must wash his hands When forced to do what earth demands.

These lines the Spirit of Truth hath revealed to man, They tell how God works, not the way men plan; The Bible says, you are God's hands; so, it is through you That He is making all things new.

This earth is not yet what God wants it to be; And, the same may be said of you and me; So, like the rivers, you and I must come and go Till we make it a Paradise here below.

The Bible is a closed book, the Savants say, To those who believe the Ancients, and go their way; For, they all thought the earth was flat, So they based all their arguments on that.

They thought the Sun and the Moon which shone Were only made for this earth alone; But, God made them heat and light to give To eight other planets that they too might live.

They all pictured God as they would do If they had a similar job to put through; But, "we must be born again"—(there is no other way) To prepare to live in the endless day.

The God of Israel is the Father of us all Who make their home on this great round ball; And, it is because of evolution that mortal man Is now beginning to learn of His plan.

Tea For You, Too

Summer is here at last bringing soft summer breezes and Iced Tea! Tall, cool and refreshing! Ice tea at its finest means careful brewing. First of all, choose a good quality tea. For variety try some of the mint, spiced or flower teas. Be sure that the water used is brought to a full bubbling boil and poured immediately over the tea leaves. Brew for not more than 5 minutes.

For six tall glasses of ice tea use:
6 teaspoons of tea
1 quart of boiling water

Place tea in pot and pour over it boiling water from this attractive Revere Copper Tea Kettle. Let the tea steep for 5 minutes. Strain and cool the tea. Fill six 12 ounce glasses with ice cubes. Pour tea over the ice. Serve with a clove studded orange or lemon slice. Make it festive with a sprig of mint, gaily colored straws, a maraschino cherry, a thin slice of cucumber or add a nasturtium flower and leaf.

For larger parties try a tea based punch. Freeze some flowers from the garden in ice in a ring mold for the punch bowl. Add a can of frozen lemonade and a can of frozen orange juice and two quarts of gingerale to the tea recipe above. It's pretty and good! Serve in punch cups with dainty cakes.

Humility leads to strength. It is the highest form of self respect to admit mistakes, and make amends for them.

He who stands high in his own estimation is still a long way from the top.

When success turns a man's head, it always leaves him looking in the wrong direction.
