P.T.A. MEETING

Held in Elementary School Tuesday Evening

The audience that attended the meeting of the Taneytown Elementary P. T. A. was presented a very interesting program. The meeting was held Tuesday evening, October 15, at 8 p. m., in the auditorium, preceded as usual, by the parents-teacher conference in the different rooms of the school. The president, Frank Dunham, opened the meeting, requesting those present to stand for the invocation, singing one verse of our national anthem, and the pledge to the flag. Glenn Bollinger, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, followed by the different reports: treasurer report, Mrs. Lawrence Dunn; membership committee report, Mrs. Ralph Dinterman, and budget committee report by Kenneth Shorb. The budget for the 1957-58 school year was accepted as presented.

The program committee chairman, Rev. Morgan Andreas presented Mr. James Fair, member of the local Jr. Chamber of Commerce, who spoke in the interest of the County Free Public Library with Bookmobile Service. This project is allowed $32,000 from federal funds with state aid being 16 cents per person in the county or approximately $8,000 per year. The Davis Library organization of Westminster would use their building, books, facilities, etc., in the interest of this project. The cost to citizens of this county would be an increase in the tax assessment of 2 cents per $100. Mr. Fair requested that the P.T.A. send a letter to the County Commissioners, recommending their approval of this plan. This was made into a motion, seconded, and voted on affirmatively.

Following this portion of the program, Rev. Andreas introduced Mr. Fern Smith, president of the local chapter of the Retarded Children Association. Mr. Smith, a very interesting speaker, told of the beginning of the Association in Carroll County on November 11, 1954 with 10 people in attendance at the meeting. He told of the needs of a mentally retarded child, such as specialized teachers and training, and especially, the love and understanding of parents. At the present time, there are classes held in Westminster for retarded children, with about 35 in the class and in Mt. Airy there is a class with about 15 children. The children are taught in these classes requirements necessary for them to take their place in society.

The Association is undertaking two projects: summer camps and sheltered workshops. The summer camp would serve as a refresher for the child's mind while the workshop would be for older children to learn, to support themselves to a limited degree, by working in such a manner that would fit their ability.

Under the present arrangements, the local Board of Education pays the teachers and buys the gasoline for transporting these children to and from school, while the Association buys the special equipment, supplies, and furnishes station wagons for transportation. The Retarded Children Association will promote a drive for funds in Taneytown, with Mrs. Catherine Baker as chairman, in the month of November.

Announcement was made that instead of the usual P.T.A. meeting in November the entire time will be given up for extensive parent-teacher conferences. All parents are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to discuss their child's problems with their teacher.

The meeting was adjourned and light refreshments were served.

AN UNUSUAL MEDICAL PROGRAM

Census Count of Infantile Paralysis Cases

On October 21 Carroll County will be the scene of an unusual medical program under the joint auspices of the County Health Department and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The county polio chapter has now completed a census count of all local polio cases without regard to age or date of onset. The second step in this undertaking will be a thorough medical evaluation on all present and past polio patients.

Similar evaluation programs have previously been organized on the Eastern Shore, in Western Maryland and most recently in Montgomery County. A complete staff of polio specialists is being assembled to serve a one-day clinic that will be held at the Health Department in Westminster to review the progress and treatment plans of polio victims in Carroll County.

Mrs. Gladys Wimert, Chairman of the Carroll County National Foundation Chapter, reported, "this program is requiring a tremendous amount of organization but we are happy the March of Dimes can bring valuable service to polio patients. At this clinic we will learn what is still needed for the care of these people so we can make provisions to start them under the National Foundation's new program."

National Foundation officials have found in previous clinics held in Maryland that roughly 1/3 of those attending have not been receiving needed medical assistance. This has been a result of the individual's being unaware of his needs and not knowing that treatment can benefit him. For this reason a special effort is being made by chapter and Health Department personnel to encourage everyone eligible to avail himself of this extraordinary opportunity. Telephone calls, letters and personal visits to the more serious cases are being used to stimulate attendance.

Last year the Carroll County Chapter spent a total of $3364.01 on patient aid, primarily for their rehabilitation. There were 7 new cases of infantile paralysis in the county in 1956 which together with patients stricken in previous years makes a total of 77 cases for which the Carroll County chapter is responsible for financial assistance as needed. Mrs. Wimert estimates that expenditures in this current year will be approximately the same as last. "We must face the fact," she said, "that rehabilitation is a costly, lengthy procedure. But being so close to the final control of polio we want to finish the job properly by making every opportunity for his physical rehabilitation available to the polio patient."

Polio patients throughout Carroll County will shortly receive direct notification of the clinic date and hours. Any patient, regardless of when he had the disease, who is not reached by this way should contact the Health Department, telephone Tilden 8-6900. Those having transportation problems will be assisted in reaching the clinic.

COUNTY-WIDE EVENT PLANNED AT AGRICULTURAL CENTER, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19

Directors of the Carroll County Agricultural Center, Inc., have announced their third annual dinner for benefit of the Center.

The date of this annual dinner is Saturday, October 19th, at 6:30 p. m. and the program will be short but very unusual and entertaining.

Last year around three hundred individuals came to dinner and the committee in charge hopes to increase the number this year.

The menu will be turkey and oysters with all the trimmings all you can consume and will cost $5.00 per plate. No one attending this annual dinner in years past has ever been disappointed either in the dinner or the entertainment.

The response has been wonderful in years past and the Directors feel this is the best way possible for many people to help with liquidating the remaining debt on the wonderful facilities that have been provided for all the people of Carroll County to enjoy through the years ahead.

Mr. William H. Johnston will be the after dinner speaker who will not only amuse the audience but will give some real sound fundamental principles for more gracious living.

Mr. Johnston comes highly recommended as a finished after dinner speaker and entertainer whom the directors are sure all people in attendance will enjoy.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)
With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.

I wish you health—life's greatest wealth I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer

Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

What a wild night it was with the rain and a terrific wind blowing last Sunday night a week ago. Yet, we were cozy and warm in the bungalow as I had installed the storm windows and doors just the day before.

The open fireplace was burning brightly and the gate leg table was set before it with our evening meal. And, folks what do you think I had burning for lighting due to the electric switched off? The wonderful Aladdin Lamp which I bought about ten years ago at a sale from 'around the town' which Mr. Bowers had.

Now, the colorful Mums of Orchid are plentiful at the front steps which are always so welcome at this time of the year. The bulbs of Tulips have been planted around the Oak tree. All the baskets are filled with the fire place wood and covered over to keep them dry.

Somehow, since childhood, I always had great admiration for the Squirrel as he always prepared for winter far ahead and I have adopted his grand system. Such impressions registered with me at an early age.

It was nice to have the Episcopal Minister plant a small Magnolia tree for me which I bought from Sears and I named it right there and then—The Father Rudisill Magnolia Tree!

It was really learning much from "The Deep Wells"—those 80 years old ladies at the birthday luncheon of one which is a yearly affair. Aged people are wonderful and I love to be around them. God Bless All of them who write me now and then that they read the Column!

Attending a wedding—the Groom—a Member of my late Minister's said when I wished him much happiness, "I think that I should have a kiss from my Minister's wife!" Cute?

What a grand letter from our own Governor McKeldin!

Teaching "Sugar" new tricks (my precious Cocker Spaniel) and she learning quickly.

Have you seen the new Edsel, Folks? They are super-super!

Ask Mr. Krouse about that one! Had a grand ride in the fabulous Mercury and everything is exactly as Ed Sullivan always stated! WOW!!! Nothing could be finer.

Hope you did not miss Rocca on the show last week. He was more active than ever and the audience was thrilled! Eh?

Remember, folks way back when I had 35 chickens and I got that many eggs daily and a number of farmers called to see the "City Lady" and those chickens? Well, Your Observer now has 31 chickens and they, too are laying beautifully but it is the care that does it every time. Just like "Nellie" the cow I loved and fed her on Purina and how she thrived in no time at all. And this sure did hurt—a big sting from the size right now as I type this Column. And that BIG WASP greeted me as I opened the chicken house door to feed the chickens!

Here is one that will almost floor you and especially these Modern days—Believe it or not "THE PLAYER PIANO" is back again! Ugh!

Hope you did not miss last week's "This is Your Life!" Seeing all those glamorous Florenz Ziegfeld girls of yester-year right there. How old they appeared but Father Time does eventually catch up with everyone.

The following is the sign of "LIBRA" which is "The Scales" from September 20 to October 20th inclusive.

Venus is the ruling planet of this sign and people born under her influence are most fond of beauty and luxury. As students they are much interested in music, poetry and dramatic art and the study of languages and usually excel in mathematics. Libra meaning the Scales, thus these people are given to balancing and comparing—looking on both sides of any thing—which gives them honest judgment. The highly educated are real born leaders of anything they have mapped out in their lives. They seldom overestimate their qualities or capacities almost being too modest for their own benefit. They are most original in anything and are far advanced in operations of any sort than the other fellow and he should do as he thinks best at all times without consulting another individual. There are no kinder hearted people than the "Libra" sign and that goes for both sexes. They always admire personality in another individual than any social position. This is truly an excellent sign which is one of sympathy for the other fellow.

Be most careful when you drive, Folks. Will be seeing you D.V. next week at the Tyson Street Open House. Until then, I am,

YOUR OBSERVER,
Faithfully

Hook, Chairman of the Armco Steel Corporation is National Chairman and serving with him as his Honorary Vice Chairmen (representing the three major faiths) are: James A. In today's world—a world confused, tense and floundering—more and more of us find that the Bible provides the true solace and understanding of life and our fellow men. It is in the Bible that we find fundamental laws that govern the right way of living and the pathway to everlasting Peace. The Bible is not just another book—it is, always has been, and always will be the greatest Book of all. It is the Book we must acknowledge as being always a part of us—TODAY, TOMORROW, FOREVER. — Industrial News Review.

PUT AWAY THAT BUGGY-WHIP

The engineering formula for measuring that much abused automotive claim of "gasoline mileage" is most simply stated as follows: "How many miles will a gallon of gas shove a ton of automobile at a given speed?"

In 1930, the average for all makes was about 28½ miles at 40 mph. In 1935, it was about 33½ miles at the same speed; in 1940, 36½ miles; in 1950, 43 miles. By 1956 the distance was about 46 miles, or more than double the ton-miles per gallon of 1930. Thus, in terms of what-it-does, gasoline is actually cheaper today than a quarter-century ago—in spite of present day gas taxes which average approximately 30 per cent!

This is about as good a way as we can think of to explain progress in the oil business, and why we should pay some heed and perhaps even give a cheer for oil progress week from October 13 to 19.

For another thing, the oil people are getting out what they call "a glove compartment manual" that explains no less than fifteen different ways in which you may be able to increase your own gasoline mileage—or, in other words, buy less of their gas! They'll be distributed by the billions during O.P.W., we hear, to plug the 1957 theme: "With today's gasoline, you're driving a bargain."

As we figure it, they just don't want you going back to the horse-and-buggy.—U. S. Press Association.

WORTH REPEATING

"It may seem like harping on an old subject. But the problem of continually declining corporate profits is one of the most serious afflicting the nation's economy today. It stems from inflation and the effects of excessive taxation.

"When corporations fail to make a fair profit on their investments they are deprived of the capital needed for development and expansion. They are also unable to pay their shareholders the dividends they are entitled to get. The result is a drying up of investment capital and impeding of economic progress. It is a process that could, if not reversed, jeopardize every job and the well-being of every man who labors for a living."

—Williamsport, Pa., Grit.

"It is an obvious fact that the federal government can only spend money which it has first taken from the people and the enterprises of the states. It is also a fact that a substantial proportion of that money is absorbed by federal administrative overhead—and that in most instances the states would get more concrete return out of each dollar if they did the work themselves."—Elmer N. J. Times.

"Actually, without economic freedom all the other freedoms would be doomed. They are all part of the same philosophy of life and they will or die together. That's why the communists are always denouncing this 'People's Capital' of ours. If it ever fails, the road to world communism will be straight and wide and easy."—Milford, Del., Chronicle.

OIL PROGRESS WEEK

You'll be hearing a lot about oil during the October 13-19 period. That is when the 1957 Oil Progress Week will be observed, and the oil men will make their report to the nation they serve.

We live in a nation on wheels—and oil makes all those wheels turn. There is a car for every three Americans, and today there are more than 181,700 service stations to meet the vast need of motoring America. And gasoline is a real bargain. Since 1925, its cost has risen only 12.1 per cent—far less than for most commodities. On top of that, quality has markedly improved, to the point where today's premium gasoline is comparable to the aviation fuels used in World War II.

In agriculture, oil has been a spark-plug of a revolution that has transformed the arts of tilling the soil. A century ago, when oil-powered machinery didn't exist, one farmer could produce enough to feed five people. Now he can produce enough to feed 19.

The list of valuable products in daily use that derive from oil literally runs into the thousands. The gamut is extraordinarily varied—from cosmetics to medicines to synthetics and so on. New ones are constantly being found in the research laboratories. And every time that happens, life in this country becomes a little richer, a little pleasanter, a little more comfortable.

Facts such as these will be stressed during the Week. They're worth reading. —Industrial News Review

"GRASS ROOTS OPINION"

BROOKVILLE, PA., AMERICAN: "Senator Goldwater believes that high tax rates are actually a major source of inflation, because they are 'a limiting factor on personal and business savings, and thus result in excessive pressure on the banking system for capital which should have come from current income'."

FREDERICK, S. D., NEWS: "..... many Americans do not know what makes our economic system work. When a person is free to dream dreams, and free to make his dreams come true, he encounters in America a stimulating factor: competition."

DELTA, COLO., INDEPENDENT: "..... Fire Prevention Week behooves each of us to know and study situations which may save our lives someday. . . . If fire has cut off all escape routes from the upstairs room, don't jump out of the window. You may hurt yourself needlessly. Open the window slightly and wait there for rescue. Breathe the fresh outside air. If it becomes necessary to jump, throw out your mattress to land on."

RUNGE, TEXAS, NEWS: "The greatest trouble with this modern living is to keep our ambitions pinned down to our salaries."

FOLEY, ALA., ONLOOKER: "The number of children who have fallen into open wells throughout the country recently has become alarming. It seems that wells are now in the class of abandoned ice boxes as a threat to the lives of the nation's children."

BURR OAK, KANS., HERALD: "Fifty hundredths, a half second, to take your foot from the accelerator to the brake is good. Sixty hundredths is too slow. Your life might hang on that ten hundredths of a second difference."

SISSON, S. D., COURIER: "A nation-wide poll on the question of 'right-to-work' laws reveals that in every section of the country, the public generally approves of them while union members are against them."

NORTHPORT, N. Y., OBSERVER: "..... a free press is essential to political freedom and conversely, governments which do not allow freedom can not permit a free press. Today in over half of the world: in Russia, in China, in Egypt, in Hungary, wherever dictatorships rule, the press is muzzled. In such places only good news—news favorable to those in command—is printed, and no editorial criticism is allowed."

ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "You get the impression sometimes that mosquitoes are looking for oil."

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "Our population is increasing at an extraordinary rate. We should begin thinking more seriously about conserving our resources."

"One facet of the matter is highlighted by the 1957 Municipal Year Book, which reports that the great majority of American cities of over 5,000 population dispose of garbage . . . and only 34 use salvage methods . . . The time will come, and probably not a decade hence, when failure to make good use of this valuable organic matter will be regarded as unforgivable waste"

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., LEADER: "Business men loudly demand that 'the government get out of business,' but they welcome Uncle Sam into business when he comes with money in his hand."

TAYLORVILLE, ILL., DAILY BREEZE-COURIER: "It is good that we have for the time resolved the federal-aid-to-education problem back into our hands but there is a need for a warning even in the face of the virtue of governing ourselves and this comes in the form of meeting the call to responsibility of caring for our own problems ourselves."

LIBERAL, KAN., DAILY NEWS: "Awareness of the lack of water supply in the U. S. today is in about everybody's mind. However, if you think we have troubles now, take a look on down the road, say two decades hence. It is estimated that by then America's water supply will have to be doubled."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We need badly a reorganization of some phases of the government. I think the present method of selecting members to the Supreme Court was outmoded before it began. The power of appointment is in the President's hands, and he wants judges on the bench who will agree with his ideas of how the government should be run. This is not the function of the Supreme Court.

The function of the Supreme Court is to decide cases entirely on the basis of the Constitution of the United States. The President usually selects politicians whether they are in the Senate, or whether they are Attorneys General, or some other special pet to whom he feels an obligation. Of course, this is the entirely wrong concept of a Supreme Court. We want men on the Supreme Court who are outstanding in their judicial capacities, rather than men who will carry out the President's order. A man with outstanding judicial capacity will judge the cases that come before him according to the Constitution of the United States, rather than make laws of his own, which has been done in recent months. The Legislative bodies consisting of the House of Representatives and the Senate are the ones according to our constitution which should make and enact the laws.

Taking all these things into consideration, the President should be deprived of naming anyone to the Supreme Court, which would get this matter completely out of politics. The man named to fill a vacancy should be named by members of the Supreme Courts in each state of the union, based on his outstanding judicial abilities. Then, the Senate should ratify the selection of this man. This method would clear up all chances of a politician being on the Supreme Court to carry out the dictation of the President, as in the case when Roosevelt tried to pack the Supreme Court, and the case of the present Supreme Court, which has nullified the Smith Act and condoned the action of party or parties that would do all in their power to overthrow our government. All the communists in prison for these charges were pardoned as not guilty of any crime. These communists came from underground, infiltrated our churches, labor organizations, civic organizations and every other phase of American life. They're in our schools teaching our children communism. If you, my fellow American, are in favor of this, I am not. I can assure you that the present method of infiltration has caused the downfall of all the countries that have turned to communism. Your Supreme Court condones this action as the proper thing.

If you desire any action taken by your Senator or Congressman during this next term, let them know your feelings, because lack of action may be fatal to all of us. An amendment to the constitution can be made and adopted whereby our Supreme Court members will be men of judicial capacity and not just politicians.

The communists have declared that they will take over the United States, and they will do just that unless you act to demand an amendment to the constitution whereby the Supreme Court cannot free all communists and permit them unlimited infiltration. So, act before it is too late!

Signed:

B. THROCKMORTON TALLY, M.D.

Clay Hahn, who is employed on the Carroll Wilhide farm, is still having to go to the Doctor in Gettysburg for his eye ailment, but he is very much improved.

Rally Day at the Keysville Lutheran Sunday School was well attended. Mr. Ealy, of Littlestown used his hobby of collecting pencils as a basis for a talk on the living of a good Christian life. Those who did not attend missed an excellent speaker. Here's hoping Mr. Ealy comes back with more messages. Carroll Kiser is Superintendent of the Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coshun of Detour, their daughter, Mrs. James Unglesbee and Mr. Unglesbee and children Dennis and Gail were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun and family. The Unglesbee family had been guests at her parents home on the week-end. I understand that the Unglesbee family has changed its residence in Frederick.

One of the persons pictured on "The Lutheran" this week is Richard Sutcliffe. I believe Mr. Sutcliffe is the son of a former Pastor of Taneytown Trinity Lutheran Church, the late Rev. Sutcliffe. I understand Mr. Sutcliffe is heard on Saturday mornings over WTR in the broadcasting of religious news. Mrs. Sutcliffe is on the Executive Board of the United Lutheran Church Women of America.

The Carroll Wilhides have received several letters from Mr. Yas Eeo, the Japanese teacher who spent about three weeks with them. Here are a little from each of his letters ("July 6") I had many precious experiences at Detour, e.g. talking with your family, your relatives, neighbors and church members, observing home life, rural life, farming, dairy, church meetings, wedding party and the trips to Washington, Baltimore, the dam and to the Church World Service Office. My understanding of Americans and the U.S.A. have increased very much owing to you. Enclosed seeds are "hechima". I guess these are better than those I gave you there." Sept. 25 "After summer session of my college, I attended three conferences. One of them is Lutheran World Federation Assembly at Minneapolis where I met Dr. Henry O. Yoder. Martins and vespers at the Assembly were wonderful. I met many representatives from New Guinea, Madagascar, Liberia, Ethiopia, Tanganyika, India, Indonesia, Malaysia, Hongkong, China, Western and Eastern Germany, Hungary, Austria, Russia, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Norway, Italy, France, Great Britain, British Guiana, Peru, Chile, Argentina, Panama, Honduras and Mexico. It was very interesting to talk about their own countries and churches. I enjoyed so much everything at your home and in Maryland." I might say it was a wonderful experience for the Carroll Wilhide family, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers, Jr., have returned from a vacation and a view of Autumn glory. Points of interest included the Grand Canyon of Pa., the Corning Glass Center, Corning, N. Y., the National Baseball Hall of Fame, Cooperstown, N. Y., the scenic Mohawk Valley, N. Y., the Green Mountains of Vt., the Burkhshires of Mass., and returned via the Pocono Mountains of Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle Culberson and family spent the past week with relatives and friends in Ciler City and Liberty, N. C.

Do the costly things bring joy into life.

And drive out from our heart all pain and strife?

Must you seek contentment in some far-off land,

Or mingle with those on some distant strand?

Methin' there is joy in the laughing brook,

As it winds its way into each tiny nook.

If you think you must visit the Emer-

erald isle,

To search for scenery that is worth while,

Go view from your window the setting sun

When night shadows gather and day is done,

Or view the green forests, the glamorous trees,

The birds, and flowers, and humming bees.

There is music, too, in the pattering rain.

As it beats upon your window pane.

There's a sense of warmth 'round your family hearth.

When the howling winds sweep over the earth.

Just to be at home there is rest and peace,

It's a sheltering rock, and your worries cease.

In this simple life there are joys untold,

Which cannot be bought with silver and gold.

Be content with that which you find on your way,

Your work, our friends that you meet each day.

And there's fullness of joy all along the way.

If with others you share the delights of the day.

This poem was written by an anonymous writer in Sunshine Magazine, is the Editor's favorite poem for the month, and mine. Hope you like it too.

FEESERSBURG

(A Voice from Carroll)

The Maryland State Teacher's Association held its annual convention last week in Baltimore. Already the controversy by snubbing Governor McKeldin when the members failed to invite him to address the convention. Instead, they invited Senator John Kennedy. It seemed the 14 thousand school-teachers who make up the Association were in no mood to hear any comments from Maryland's Governor who vetoed the pay bill passed by the legislature and has constantly opposed state aid to the schools. Since 1951, when Mr. McKeldin became Governor, he has vetoed every state wide bill concerning public education, including several minor bills to change the retirement system. . . . with one exception: to provide social security for all state employees and teachers. The teachers were within their rights when they invited Mr. Kennedy to be their speaker. It was a good way to impress upon the Governor that they didn't like the way he has used the teachers and schools for political haying.

I read the other day that Americans have gone off their rockers. This bit of news in no way startling since all evidence has pointed to that conclusion long ago. But when I read on a little further and learned the author was referring to chairs and not to our mental processes I was indeed startled to know that all the rockers we possess, the number being nine, will soon be headed for the county trash disposal. It must be reported though that in some areas the rocking chair is making a come-back. Not in the size and shape that grandma knew, but more modern and disguised as an over-stuffed barrel. We attempted to test it and almost got tossed on the floor for it reared and rolled like an unbroken filly. Rockers, once so typically American that credit for inventing them was given to Benjamin Franklin, are now no longer made in the U. S., but imported from Denmark. Years ago a rocking chair was a necessity to put the baby to sleep, to make grandma forget her arthritis, a place for grandpa to catnap in and a place to put the family cat. Maybe Americans should once again use the old fashion rockers instead of tranquilizers.

When school begins so does the breakfast blues. In case you don't know what breakfast blues are its the period every morning when you attempt to get your children to eat a good breakfast before they depart for school. We try all the tricks we know but we always end up behind the untouched orange juice, bacon and eggs and milk. No amount of lectures sweet talk or threats makes the least impression. The one stock answer to all our propaganda is: "I am not hungry at 7 a. m."

We do not of course know exactly how much our lives will be changed by Sputnik, but already we know millions and millions the wide world over use the word "sputnik" as if they have heard it all their lives. The nice thing about people today is that they accept something new without the quiver of an eyelash. It proves, that except in Washington no one is allergic to change. Children are having the time of their lives over the satellite for thanks to comic books they have been space conscious for the past twenty years. Here we parents have been fussing about comic books being unsuitable for children, and of course many are, but the ones dealing with science fiction have prepared our children better for the Russian sputnik than some of our officials in the armed forces and in government. Maybe they should read more comic-books. That is the officials should do the reading.

Letter from a reader: "In this crazy mixed-up world the most intelligent, logical statement I've heard in some time was the recent remark of my six-year-old nephew who, when asked how he liked school replied: I wanted to go to school to learn to read and write but all we do is color pictures. I could do that at home and have more time to play. And this pithy remark sums up some of the so-called 'progressive' phases of the modern school system. K. E. S.

October has come to Carroll County. The trees are changing their colors as often as a chorus girl changes her costume. The crazy, dewey mornings are as stimulating as a toast from a champagne bottle and one wishes the

Mrs. Keppel, a soprano, will be accompanied by Oliver Case Spangler of the faculty of Western Maryland College. Her program includes a scene from the second act of "Tosca" by Puccini. Also, "Come Back to Sorrento" by De Curtis, "Daddy Boy" Old Irish, "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" by Kern and "Will You Remember" by Romberg. Mrs. Keppel has appeared with the Metropolitan Opera Company in "Macbeth", "Midsummer Night's Dream" and as Donna Anna in "Don Giovanni". She also appeared for 2 seasons with New Opera, Teatro Municipal, Rio de Janeiro. The "Opera News" magazine of the Metropolitan Opera Guild, says, "With all the typically American qualities of her sturdy youth, Florence Kirk still seems to wear a bit of the mantle of greatness, something of the dignity, high seriousness and smoldering fire of an operatic prima donna in the grand manner." Dr. Fred Eyster, President of Potomac Synod, will be the guest speaker. The toastmaster will be Mr. Wilbur Long.

BABY SHOWER

Mrs. Wayne Crum was given a surprise baby shower by her friend, Mrs. Tilden Cushing, of Baltimore, Sunday afternoon, at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Crum's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Austin.

The refreshments were served buffet style. For the table centerpiece there was a colored print diaper shaped centerpiece filled with flowers, and matching color small diaper filled with candy for favors for all. Also there was a three tier cake made by Mrs. Cushing. A stork was perched on the top of the cake and around it were very tiny babies and rattlers.

"Insure with Confidence"

Building Starts Early

By Jane Ashley

In little ways and in many homemaking tasks, the child of today may get valuable early training in the home. Children love to take part in doing regular household jobs and much of their play may reflect the interesting activities of adults around them. This is play to this young homemaker-to-be but it is a lesson in good grooming too. She wants her doll's dress to be as neat and crisply starched and ironed as her own.

While she is still in the stage of "helping mother," healthful habits of work and attitudes are formed. She will learn from her father's hug of love and appreciation the inherent value of always looking crisp and clean. From observing her mother and then from play in her own way, she will start using modern products, such as Niagara Instant Cold Water Starch to give crispness to dresses.

THE INTRODUCTORY POEM—GOD AND MAN—

The poems in this book differ, some say,
From the many writings of yesterday;
They tell of the past, the present—a future day
When, Love—not Hate, shall hold full sway.

Many wonderful tales about the past are told,
When, travel was slow, and people were bold;
But, this book tells about "God and Man";
And, gives a slight hint of His great plan.

So, the right thing for every mortal to do,—
(Since God is now making all things new)
Is to search the Scriptures from day to day;
And, to put in practice, what they say.

There was a time when men did not know
About our Great God, nor how to go;
But, as the Bible says, "Knowledge has been increased"
So, from all false beliefs, we are now released.

There are many things we still do not know
About our Great God, nor how to go;
So, since this book is called "God and Man",
The right thing to do, is to study His plan.

The book was written for both young and old;
(It has many secrets to unfold!)—
It tells about things many never knew;
And, its doctrine, experts say, is true.

The book is a mixture of poetry and prose;
And, every line is intended for those
Who would like to know God; and, study His plan,
Which includes this earth as well as man.

After making a careful study of the book,
Things shall assume a different look;
For, Love and Nature, when combined,
Shall form a picture of God in your mind.

God is not a will-o-the-whisp floating on air—
He is real! His physical body is seen everywhere!
If the average man knew what He has done
To make earth a Paradise for everyone.

Present conditions would change our night;
And, to serve Him, it would be a great delight;
All the peoples on earth would shout and sing!
Hallelujas would make the welkin ring!

Nature is God's physical body which we see;
He lives in all things, as in you and me;
They speak; but, we do not understand,
Because the five senses are in command.

The chemist can make a grain of wheat
Which resembles the ones we daily eat;
But, if you plant it, it will not grow,
For God is not in it, to make it do so.

At one place on earth do God's face I see
As in a Rose or a beautiful Tree;
It just seems like He is speaking to me—
The likeness is so great which I see.

The poems tell of the rivers, the brooks, and the seas,
The mountains, the flowers, and the beautiful trees;
They tell of what Nature is doing for man,
Even give a slight hint of God's great plan.

They tell about Jesus, our wonderful God,
Who made this earth; and, on it once trod;
He told about a hereafter which no one knew,
And of many things which we ought to do.

Before Jesus came mortal man did not know
From whence he came, or, whither he shall go;
So, He lighted the way through the "Valley of Death",
Through which, we all must pass, at our final breath.

The poems tell of this country, the land of our birth,
Why God made it the greatest place on earth—
A great haven of refuge where all who roam
May come; and, make for themselves a home.

From the flourishing East to the Golden West
Every square inch of our soil is blest;
They tell us, both the "Early and Latter rain"
Drives Famine from this vast domain.

It just seems as though God, Himself stands here
To feed all who hunger from year to year;
None are ever refused a helping hand
When Famine or Pestilence visits their land.

God knew what it is to be an emigrant;
As a child, many years, in Egypt He spent;
So He made this great "El-Dorado", the Land of the Free,
A refuge for all who from tyranny flee.

Just try to imagine the wisdom it took
To lay out the course of the Babbling Brook;
It flows through valleys; but, mountains as well;
And, tells of God's mercy, wherever men dwell.

Our God is not like the ancients have said;
He is a God of the Living, not a God of the dead;
He, the Scriptures tell us, is like the real man;
So, some day, we all shall learn of His plan.

What some people call Nature, I call God;
And, to prove He is, on earth He once trod;
So, the 33 years He spent with us here
Should prove to all peoples that He is near.

God, Himself, is like the real you;
So, to make us all happy, He knows what to do;
Who but He could flavor the fruit on the tree
And give them the colors we delight to see?

Who but He would have done what He did for man
Just to let us all know of His great plan?
Even the earth shook when He went away,
And the Heavens too frowned the scriptures say.

Such is the God of whom I delight to tell—
The God who once came to earth to dwell!
He is the Life of everything we see;
Not only man, but each rose and the tree.

When the storm clouds gather, and the billows roll,
I know He has them under full control;
So, I never fear, as men did of old,
Because, of His Love and Power, I have been told.

When men learn to know God they never fear;
For they know He is always with us down here;
He now lives in your body, and, He lives in me;
For, our life and our health He is said to be.

Then, let us give thanks to the God we adore
Who still guards our country as in days of yore;
And, let all people, in every land,
Give thanks for the blessings from His hand.

Background Scripture: I Corinthians 9.
Devotional Reading: Acts 28:12-23.

Minister

Lesson for October 20, 1957

THE man has various titles. He may himself prefer to be called by the simple democratic "Mister." But he is also Pastor John Doe, and the Reverend John Doe, and maybe Doctor Doe, besides. Some call him the preacher. But the title that binds him closest, perhaps, to the Lord Jesus, is the word "Minister." Jesus said: "The Son of man came not to be served but to serve." The Latin word for "serve" in that verse (Mark 10:45) is the word from which our English word "minister" is derived. It is the most inclusive of all the titles; it means in general one who is of service to others, and in particular one who serves in the name of Christ.

Dr. Foreman

The Minister's Call

Consider three points about ministers, which the people in the pews often overlook. One is the minister's call. What he does is a "calling" rather than a "position." How does a minister come to be pastor of a particular church? That varies from one denomination to another, though not very much. But how does the minister come to be in the first place? That is always the same, whether he is a Roman Catholic priest or a Protestant minister: he is a minister of Christ because he believes, he was called by the Lord to do and be just that. Could he be mistaken? Indeed he can. There are men in the ministry who have no business there. The problem of how to be sure about one's call to the ministry is a problem for ministers, not for most of the people who read these lines. What we need to do, when we "call" a minister, is to be sure we get a man who among other strong points has this: he is God's man first of all; ours only because he was God's first.

The Minister's Salary

Some churches do not have salaried ministers. Most of the churches in America, however, do have salaried ministers. One thing that many church members do not realize is that the salary of a minister is positively not the same thing as a weekly wage paid to a farm hand, or a business man's return on an investment in stocks, or a fee paid to a lawyer. If you hire a man, he is your man. If you don't like what he is doing, you can fire him. But the minister is not a hired man. He is God's man, at your service, but not under your thumb. The business man wants to get rich, or richer; his income builds up his fortune. But the minister's salary never grows to a fortune. The lawyer has a stated set of fees, and if he is like some lawyers, he charges what the traffic will bear, i.e. he charges the wealthy more than the poor. In the Protestant church there is no scale of fees; most of what the minister does is free. Progressive ministers are today doing away with the wedding fee, for example, marrying only their own people and doing this as a part of the church's service to its people. Furthermore, and this is most important, the minister's salary, unlike professional fees, is NOT payment for services rendered. If the minister is any account, his services are beyond price. (How much is it worth, in cash, to be comforted in sorrow, strengthened in temptation, illumined in spirit?) The salary is a subsidy enabling him to work without a salary!

The Minister's Ambition

Paul made it clear that he had a right to a salary; though he preferred not to use that right but to earn a living as he went along. But even if he had been "paid," the salary could never have been the main thing with him. "That I may WIN some people"—not to build a kind of private empire, not to win people for himself, but for Christ. Only God saves men; but he saves men through men. And what price can be named which is a fair "payment" for saving a man's soul?

All dedicated men set the doing of their work above the paycheck in importance. Their real heart's ambition is not for more pay. Their ambition is greater effectiveness—a closer approach to perfection, whether their work is art, teaching, bridge-building or whatever else it may be. So the true minister's secret ambition is not a bigger congregation, more salary, more prestige; it is more souls won.

SAFETY FACTS

CHICAGO—The economic loss from accidents in the United States in 1956 would have built about 224 Empire State Buildings, the National Safety Council said today. And that's almost 23,000 floors!

The 1957 edition of "Accident Facts", the Council's statistical yearbook, just off the press, lists the nation's loss from all accidents in 1956 at 11 billion dollars.

Motor vehicle accidents during the year cost 5 billion dollars, and work accidents nearly 4 billion, the booklet states.

NEW FORM OF SERIES E SAVINGS BONDS

An old favorite with 40 million Americans—the 16-year old Series E Savings Bond—is finally feeling the effects of this electronic age. That familiar instrument of savings, so well known by the man-in-the-street, no longer will appear on that paper that crinkles so nicely in your hand. The E bond of the future, beginning Oct. 1, will be punch card form.

In some respects, it will be kind of sad to see the old bond go. It brings back many memories to all Americans old enough to remember the grim days of 1941-45. To millions and millions of them, the E bond is the symbol of that patriotic spirit of cooperation, so typical of our people when trouble brews.

But the E bond also inspires another vivid mental picture for this who bought regularly and systematically over the years, both during and after the war. That picture mirrors a more recent development—the redemption of some of these bonds to meet such urgent needs as higher education for the children, a down payment on a home, or a foundation stone for retirement.

Now, progress must be served and the old gives way to the new. In this case, however, the product of the mechanical era needs no apology. The new E bond will be on cardboard stock, and slightly smaller in size, but it'll carry that same inspiring appearance that simply exudes confidence.

And it'll have other definite advantages, too. The banks and large corporations that issue most of the E bonds will be able to save time and increase accuracy by using their modern equipment. And the Treasury can modernize its fabulous record-keeping ability that makes every Savings Bond "absolutely indestructible."

You, as an individual, will get a break too. The new punch card bond will be handier to carry in a man's coat pocket or a woman's purse. Furthermore, as a taxpayer, you'll share in a half-a-million-dollar-a-year saving in printing costs.

So, hail to the little fellow who is making his debut this month! Don't you wish you had a million of 'em?

Every day has 24 hours in any one of which we could remember to learn something new. What a pity if time is used only in forgetting what we have already learned.

Experience has long been known as the world's best teacher. Reason: she makes you learn.

It isn't what younger girls know that bothers parents. It's how they found out!—Copy.

Neat Home In Top Repair Sells Faster

Put yourself in the position of a prospective buyer if you plan to sell your home in today's highly competitive "older house" market.

Make a careful inspection tour of the house from basement to attic, and the lot from border to border, just as a house-hunting family would. Chances are good that if you, in effect, would "buy your own house," you can put up a "For Sale" sign with reasonable confidence.

A good place to start, according to many experienced real estate brokers, is at the curb, where a prospect gets his first impression. Are the lawn, shrubbery, and flower beds in good shape? If not, prospective buyers might not even stop to look.

Check Roof Carefully

Next, check the exterior of the house, paying special attention to the roof. Faded paint or a cracked piece of siding may not ruin a sale, but an old, shabby roof often will send a prospect scurrying back to his car.

This is because families looking for an older house today generally come forewarned with a list of things to look out for, and a weathered, worn-out roof is one of them. The prospect knows an old roof may be a leaky roof.

A new roof of asphalt shingles in one of many colors available is an excellent selling point for an older home. Besides assuring the prospective owner long lasting protection from weather, the new asphalt shingles add color and beauty to the entire house.

Neatness Important

Inside, real estate men say, good housekeeping is essential when a house is up for sale. Clean, neat rooms reflect the habits of the owners which in turn indicate the type of care the house has received.

If painted walls or wallpaper are shabby, interior redecoration probably is in order. A small expenditure for paint, plus some week-end labor with brush and roller can add immeasurably to the resale value of a house.

The plumbing and heating systems should be in good working order, and windows and doors should operate smoothly. A good thing to keep in mind is that the prospective buyer of an older home does not expect everything to be shiny and new, but he does want a house to be in sound, livable condition.

SERVE YOURSELF SANDWICH SKYSCRAPERS

Easy to make sandwiches on yeast-raised bread with assorted salads, relishes and long cold drinks make admirable fare for informal summer gatherings. Here's a new and imposing way to serve a sandwich smorgasbord for your guests. It's the Skyscraper Sandwich containing a fabulous assortment of fillings in just one many-decker structure.

To assemble a Skyscraper: Select a variety of thinly sliced yeast-raised breads (they should all be the same shape) and a variety of popular fillings such as ham, salami, Swiss cheese, Cheddar cheese, chicken, corned beef. Spread the bread with margarine or butter and, if you like, a little mustard or mayonnaise. Place a generous portion of one of the fillings on each piece of bread. Pile up the prepared bread to make an 8-story sandwich. One Skyscraper should serve about three people. Guests help themselves to one, two or more layers as appetites dictate.

These sandwiches are appropriate for a picnic as well as an at-home gathering. Wrap them in aluminum foil or waxed paper to keep them fresh, and carry in insulated containers.

ASK THE MAN WHO KNOWS THE ANSWERS!

CHARLES VAN DOREN
Explains why U. S. Savings Bonds are even better investments now than ever before.

- Q: What two new benefits have been added to the U. S. Savings Bonds Program during 1957?
- Mr. Van Doren: Every Series E Savings Bond bought since February 1, 1957 pays a new, higher interest—3½% when held to maturity. It also reaches maturity faster—in only 8 years and 11 months.
- Q: What should every Bond owner do about his older Savings Bonds?
- Mr. Van Doren: Just hold 'em on to them. The rate of interest a Savings Bond pays increases with each year an owner holds it, until maturity. Therefore, the best idea is to buy the new—and hold the old.
- Q: Why are Savings Bonds better than cash?
- Mr. Van Doren: Because cash lost, stolen or destroyed is gone forever. But the U. S. Treasury will replace Savings Bonds, including interest earned, without cost to you.
- Q: What is the average investment in U. S. Savings Bonds per Bond owner?
- Mr. Van Doren: Over 40,000,000 Americans now own more than $41,000,000,000 worth of series E and H Savings Bonds—with an average investment of more than $1,000 per Bond owner.
- Q: What is the safest and surest way for a U. S. citizen to guarantee his own and his country's future financial security?
- Mr. Van Doren: By investing regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds—either on the Payroll Savings Plan where he works or by regular Bond purchases at his bank.

People who know the answers know the value of investing in U. S. Savings Bonds. So sign up for Payroll Savings where you work. Or buy Bonds regularly where you bank.

Following a social hour in the cafeteria, a program, featuring a panel discussion composed of seniors, will be given in the auditorium. Robert Clingan will represent Taneytown on the panel. Parents of seniors are invited to attend.

Girls to Take Betty Crocker Test

Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow Test will be given to interested senior girls on December 3. This test will deal with all phases of homemaking and will give new understanding of and appreciation for the vital role of homemaker of the future. The state winner will receive a fifteen hundred dollar scholarship and will compete in the national contest held in Washington, D. C., April 12, 1958. The girl who ranks second in the state will be given a five hundred dollar scholarship. Four national winners will receive scholarships ranging from five to two thousand dollars.

PENSIONERS WARNED TO REPORT INCOME CHANGE THAT TAKES THEM OVER THE LIMIT

Veterans receiving VA pensions, and widows and children of deceased veterans who are receiving pensions, are reminded that they should immediately report to VA any change in income that takes them over the statutory limit of income for pension purposes. Pensions are monthly benefits paid for non-service connected reasons. There is no income limit applicable to persons receiving compensation, which is awarded because of disability or death adjudged due to service.

Pensioners who fail to report income changes that take them over the limit ($1400 without dependents, $2700 with wife or one or more minor children) can suffer inconvenience and loss of money by much failure, VA reports. Those who go over the limit and don't notify VA until the annual January check-up may have to pay back the full year's pension. Those who notify VA at the time of the income change may have the pension stopped as of that time, instead of refunding all pension received earlier in the year.

GI-TYPE EDUCATION AID FOR CHILDREN OF DECEASED VETS GOING TO COLLEGE

New high school graduates going to college this fall, or taking advanced technical training after high school, should be reminded that—if they lost a parent due to wartime military service—there is a GI-type educational assistance available to them from the Federal government. A youngster is basically eligible if VA recognizes that a parent died of wartime service-connected causes. Such youngsters, planning after-high-school educational programs, should contact their local Legion service officer or an office of the Veterans Administration, and inquire about benefits under the War Orphans Education Act.
