FUND RAISING CAMPAIGN

An appeal for fund raising campaign volunteers went out today from the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children, Inc. The appeal was made by Col. Joseph R. Hess, who is serving as campaign chairman. Last year almost 500 volunteers participated in the fund raising campaign.

"We hope," Col Hess said, "to have even more than 500 volunteers participating this year in our Thanksgiving Drive. Already many local residents have offered their services."

Volunteers will be asked to participate in a house-to-house solicitation during the Thanksgiving Drive Nov. 17-28. Those wishing to help raise funds for retarded children may call Col. Hess, Mt. Airy 112-R or write to Carroll County Assoc. for Retarded Children, Westminster, Md.

Fern L. Smith gratefully accepted a television set presented to the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children by Loring B. Yingling, president of the Westminster Lions Club at the Thursday meeting of the Lions Club, October 17.

Members of the Lions Club installed the set in the Davis Library classroom the next day. It was a welcomed addition to the school equipment and since social adjustment is one of the major objectives of the program, it should prove very valuable to the teachers in their work with all the children, especially the hyperactive ones.

The Ki-Wives met at Taney Inn Monday evening at 6:30 p. m. The meeting opened with the singing of "America" followed by the pledge to the flag. The invocation was given by Kitty Royer. Mrs. William Airing, Mrs. Elmer Fuss and Miss Marian Hymiller assisted the hostess with the games and refreshments.

SPECIAL POLIO EVALUATION CLINIC

Held Recently in the County Health Department

The Special Polio Evaluation Clinic held Nov. 21, at the County Health Department in Westminster has been hailed by local March of Dimes officials as a complete success. The clinic, jointly sponsored by the Carroll County Health Department and the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, was for the purpose of analyzing the progress toward complete recovery of polio cases from previous years.

Mrs. Gladys Wimer, chairman of the local polio chapter, stressed that this is the remaining big problem in the fight against infantile paralysis. "The basic problem of epidemic polio appears to be finally licked," she said, "But before we can say the job is done we must be sure that every victim of this dread disease has had the opportunity of this his maximum rehabilitation. It would be against the whole philosophy of this fine organization to turn our backs on those for whom the Salk vaccine come too late."

By four o'clock, Monday afternoon a total of 24 patients had been reviewed by the clinic staff of six specialists. Each patient as he arrived at the Health Department was interviewed by a chapter volunteer for basic information on his case history. Therefore, he was examined by either a pediatrician or an internist, depending on his age, by an orthopedist and a physiatrist, with muscle examination being made by two physio-therapists as ordered by the physicians. By and large, those attending were in the younger age group, although one case dating from 1906 was seen and another from 1920.

"It is too early yet, of course, to know about the medical findings of the clinic," Mrs. Wimer noted. What we have determined for our understanding is that a great deal remains to be done for polio patients in Carroll County. Judging from the findings of other clinics elsewhere in Maryland, there is a great backlog of physical rehabilitations that must be worked out. In a sense, we of the National Foundation are spearheading a new approach to this whole field. We are showing, in relation to a single crippling disease, what can be done for their rehabilitation back to a more useful, meaningful life. This will be of obvious benefit not only to the individual polio patient himself but to the community at large.

"We want to express our warm thanks to Dr. George Shokett and to his staff at the Health Department for sponsoring and supervising this medical program for us," Mrs. Wimer concluded. "The continuing problem of polio in Carroll County is now a clear one, and it will be up to us of the March of Dimes to find the answer to it."

JAYCEES' FIRE PREVENTION PROGRAM

Tuesday Nov. 19 the Day Set Aside for the Event

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce was held Monday, Oct. 28 at the American Legion Home with President Bob Boone presiding. The meeting was opened by all members repeating the Jaycee Creed, followed with prayer by James Fair. The Junior Chamber will sponsor a Fire Prevention Week Program on Tuesday, Nov. 19 through the cooperation of The National Board of Fire Underwriters. The Jaycees will be host to representatives of the local volunteer fire company, local business heads and members of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, at a luncheon at the Taney Inn, J. Robert Waddell, chairman of the program stated that with permission granted, inspection with qualified personnel will be made at all business establishments in the community to detect possible fire hazards. Speakers will be provided for meetings of local civic clubs and the schools in Taneytown. All students in the tenth through twelfth grades of the high school are eligible to participate in a "Poster" Contest pertinent to fire prevention week. Winners of this contest will be awarded prizes and will be special guests of the Jaycees at the luncheon. Since this is a state project, the winners from each local chapter will be eligible to compete in the state finals and have an opportunity to appear on television.

It was decided that the Jaycees would sell Christmas trees this year; a stand will be set up later as the season approaches. The Jr. Chamber will also sponsor the annual lighting and home decorating contest again this Christmas season. It was voted to give larger prizes to winners this year than in the past in an effort to encourage more home decorating and Xmas lighting. Details regarding this contest will be announced later. The Chapter unanimously endorsed the project to establish a Carroll County Public Library.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor Carroll Record,
I note that on Wednesday, October 23, there will be initial hearings before the Public Service Commission, at which time the C. & P. Telephone Co., will be given an opportunity to present its case for wider calling privileges and rate adjustments.

The original letter to subscribers of the C. & P. gave the impression that the proposed rates would be put into effect and that the subscribers had no choice but to accept them.

The Public Service Commission is your representative that must approve such rate increases. It is your duty and privilege to inform them of your wishes.

The proposed rate increase calls for increases for the lowest type of service of $1.40 or 46% and the highest service of $4.20 or 70%. I believe that the extended calling area is of little or no value to the average subscriber and the Phone company has failed to prove otherwise.

This proposal means that those who do not call Westminster and Union Bridge to the extent of costing $1.40 to $4.20 in toll charges per month depending on the type of service they have, will be paying for those few who use this service to the extent that at present is costing them more than these amounts in toll charges. Under the new rates those who use the toll calls would pay less than at present and the rest will pay from 46% to 70% more.

You may express your opinion by writing the Public Service Commission, Munsey, Building, Baltimore, Md.

Dear Editor,
Our Oklahoma City friend, Editor Clarence Achigill of the OKLAHOMA LIVE STOCK NEWS, has sent us a clipping of an editorial from his Oct. 10th issue headed "ARE NEWSPAPERS TO BE FORCED INTO THE GROCERY BUSINESS?" - and which we think every other editor in America will want to read.

"There was an era somewhere between the horse and buggy days and the modern interplanetary 'Sputnik' times," he writes, "that the nation's grocery stores went from the country type of 'general store' to a specialized business. "During that interim the grocery stores discarded their funeral ser-

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

"God Save That Queen" And that is what all of America said about the most popular Queen—ever! We all learned much of the patience and sacrifice of Her Majesty on this visit and we loved the noble character of her husband.

Have you been reading the story, the big seller in the Baltimore News-Post, "Where did you go?" "Out!" "And what did you do?" "Nothing!" I remember very well in childhood saying just that. Don't you?

The first big beautiful gardenia appeared since bringing that huge potted plant indoors and this time, I placed plant-tubs in the soil and added the special soil from the five and dime just for house plants. Of course, in the very first two weeks, the leaves dried up and fell to the floor but I was not worried as I realized it was the big change in atmosphere and it would soon come to life again.

The big colorful petunias at the entrance of the bungalow are thriving beautifully and also the nasturtiums. The potted geraniums at the kitchen window have the deep pink blooms on them. Many would have thrown those plants away seeing the condition after bringing them in from outdoors.

Well, folks, those chickens are doing beautifully and I started them on "Southern States" food entirely—in the morning the laying Super Mash and plenty of that and in the evening, the cracked corn. There are just 31 New Hampshire Reds—six months old pullets and each day means now almost than many eggs and such big brown eggs, too. Southern States really treats the customer right. Believe it or not, Mr. Farmer, these chickens wait in line to get into those nests! There are only six nests and that company has the grandest six nest galvanized set you ever saw. When they delivered that to me today, the gentleman will install it for me. Such little favors to please the purchaser! Eh?

And thinking of nice things. Your Observer suddenly had a real "blow-out" (first one ever) and there I stood on Route 1 praying for a kind individual to stop. Who stopped to offer a helping hand? A young man driving a truck and a real Christian, too, of whom I knew previously.

Hope you did not forget to set your clock last Sunday night before you went to bed. Betcha, many did! Seems so nice to have S.T.

This coming week, I'll pick a real fig from the tree growing in Forest Hill!

Mr. Smoker, won't you please be careful about that cigarette when you flip it out of the car window or any place as due to so many leaves on the ground now, you know what that would mean.

Don't be frightened if you get the Flu for there are the remedies of today that we did not have years ago and it is the fright that is frightening!

There is a grand box of chocolates now on the market for the little price of $1.00 a full pound box. It is made by Miller & Hollis in Boston, Mass., and is called Haviland. Ummm good!

Hope you are not miss that brilliant and charming youngster who is going to be a minister on the T.V. show of "Name That Tune!" Each time his grandfather comes along with him. (He, too, is a minister.)

Here is the sign of Scorpio. If your birthday is from the 20th of Oct. to the 20th of Nov. you are a Scorpio. These people—both sexes—are most courageous and the most persevering type of the entire Zodiac. The one big thing, they never start out for anything without finishing it and that is a great big thing in life. (Wish there were more Scorpians!) They have great determination and remarkable will power in anything and everything they do. They are always sure and their minds always active, their perception keen and their intuition is most wonderful. These people give one the impression that there is a secret in their lives and this causes the stranger to become fascinated with the Scorpio immediately. They are very dignified even after they become aged. They carry themselves kingly and queenly all throughout life. They are very proud. They are most refined and are always wonderful musicians, artists and singers. This sign in childhood should be encouraged at a very early age. Scorpio is truly a gifted sign all around!

Have a grand week end. Be careful when you drive and if your teenager is speed minded—do not attempt to turn the wheel over to him or her. Think of the many youngsters now who have stepped on the accelerator and what the tragic outcome was. See you next week. D.V. I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

THE CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Each year, as the Christmas season approaches, the National Tuberculosis Association carries on its annual Christmas Seal campaign. And it would be hard indeed to find a cause more worthy of public interest and support.

Great strides have been made in fighting tuberculosis—due in no small part to the work of the Association, and to the financial success past sales have achieved. But a great deal more remains to be done and must be done. The latest estimates indicate that 250,000 Americans have active TB, 100,000 of them unknown to health authorities. In addition, there are 1,750,000 people with inactive TB, and 550,000 of them are still in need of medical supervision or public health follow-up. And an estimated 55,000,000 Americans—a third of the population—are infected with the germs that cause TB. Some 2,700,000 of this huge group will develop TB in their lifetimes, if the present rate of development of disease from infection continues.

Early diagnosis and immediate treatment are essential in the control of TB. Education of the public and continued research are other vital weapons in this war. The Christmas Seal Sale supports the work of the 3,000 voluntary tuberculosis associations in this country and its possessions. Significantly, of the money raised each year in local communities, 94 per cent remains within the state. The campaign begins November 15 and will continue through December. Do your part by buying seals.

"GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS"

LAKEWOOD, N.J., CITIZEN: "It has been suggested that the reason there were fewer wrecks in the horse and buggy days was because the driver didn't depend wholly on his own intelligence."

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "Lebanon is a small, attractive country, militarily weak but with a now ingrained Western cultural influence. Intellectually, it can play a rôle in Arab affairs far beyond its size or strength. And its pro-Western intellectuals are a force and a factor in this situation. It has survived, and democratically, an assault similar in intention to that which nearly toppled Hussein. The Eisenhower Doctrine was but one factor in the election. More deep was the healthy influence of Western culture."

BLAIRSVILLE, PA., DISPATCH: "Publicly supported schools lose more students than the private colleges. But it is maintained by the University of Kansas, that it would not be wise to reduce dropouts by limiting admissions. In a graduating class of 1,006 students, 208 scored below average in tests given their freshmen year. Had they not been admitted, the loss would have included 40 teachers, 22 engineers, seven lawyers, seven doctors and seven pharmacists. Most of the graduates entered professions in which they were badly needed."

BRIDGEPORT, ILL., LEADER: "There is to be a shortage of lawyers. Enrollment in the law schools of the nation has dropped to below the 1920 level even though the population has increased many millions and legal work has increased substantially. This information is being released by Albert J. Harno, retiring after 35 years as head of the University of Illinois College of Law."

PILGER, NEBRASKA, ENTERPRISE: "The products of American industry—undreamed of luxuries a century ago—could not be distributed until advertising created new demands. . . . The early communist government in Russia considered advertising to be an economic waste. However, the Russians found that people accustomed to doing without would not buy even necessities once they became available without advertising. Today, consumer advertising is common in Russia."

PLAINFIELD, IND., MESSENGER: "There was a time, we grant you, when factories were obnoxious because of their smoke belching chimneys, their unattractive buildings and grounds and their untidiness but that day has long since past. Present day firms which construct new plants make them as attractive as parks with landscaped grounds and neat and attractive buildings of the latest design, air conditioned with every facility to make the worker comfortable and neat. They are a credit to any community and certainly don't hurt the assessment valuation on which tax rates are based."

CLOVER, S. C., HERALD: "Each and every citizen . . . should contribute some amount, whether small or large, to the United Fund Drive."

TIFTON, GA., GAZETTE: "America's growing labor force needs thoughtful leadership bent upon serving its legitimate needs in an era of swift change. What it can do without is the kind of irresponsible leadership that simply dangles bigger bunches of bigger carrots in front of the workers each time major negotiations come up."

ALTAMONT, KAN., JOURNAL: "Through research, conservation, education, electrification and mechanization, farmers have increased their efficiency in production and marketing. About 70 per cent of all crop acreage in 1954 was planted to varieties not even in existence on a commercial scale 20 years earlier."

WINNEMUCCA, NEV., HUMBOLDT STAR: "The news from Johns Hopkins that Dr. Winston H. Price has come up with the first successful vaccine against one of the principal viruses causing the common cold deserves to be hailed widely—and it will be. . . . Amid the cheering, however, a few sad notes will be struck. When the common cold begins to go, along with it will go the best copper-riveted excuse for sleeping in that was ever devised by man."

FACTS AND OPINIONS

It is costing California some $700,000 a year to clean up after "litterbugs"—the people who strew all manner of trash along the highways and in scenic areas. In an attempt to improve matters, the state has passed laws under which these depositors are subject to a $500 fine and a six months term in jail.

Writing in Fortune, Herbert Sollow argues that "Colleges are Too Cheap". Tuition fee, high as they are, fall far short of meeting the costs. The present three-million student body and $3 billion teaching budget are both due to double by 1970. The need, in his view, is for more gifts, more efficiency, and still higher fees.

Those queried in a recent survey made by the American Institute of Public Opinion favored right-to-work laws by a two-to-one margin. In the highly industrialized East, sentiment against the closed shop ran to 70 per cent, with 22 per cent in favor and the remainder undecided.

The Tax Foundation estimates that new spending appropriations were $6.1 billion under the President's budget request. It attributes this to "strong grass-roots economy demand" and urges more of the same.

Last year, total U. S. foreign trade came to $29 billion. It accounts for 7 per cent of our gross national product, which is the total value of all the goods and services we produce.

Traffic Safety reports that in urban areas about half of the fatal motor vehicle accidents involve pedestrians. In rural areas the ratio is one in 10.

U. S. News & World Report finds that dealers had about 800,000 1957 automobiles still in stock on September—a record number for so late in the year.

The 25 companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange with the largest federal income tax bills in 1956 paid out in taxes the equivalent of nearly $25 for every man, woman and child in this country. Only three of the 25 paid more money in dividends to their stockholders than in taxes to the government.

From Editor & Publisher: "Three hundred employees—about 5% of the total working force—succeeded in blacking out Boston newspapers for about three weeks. About half that number—2-1/2% of the working force—blacked out all the Detroit newspapers for a week. There is something radically wrong with a system that permits a handful of people to decide that millions of people cannot read their daily newspapers until their own conditions are satisfied."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

vice parlors, clothing section and settled down to a specialty line—food for the family.

"Since World War II, as all of us have realized, the trend is now back to the 'general store' idea and the big chains that are leading the conversion have even gone into the cattle-feeding and slaughtering business and some have their own canning factories.

"Latest gimmick, presumably a drawing card or goodwill promotion, is that of competing with the newspapers on a classified ad basis.

"One local grocer has a mechanical gadget where customers write out their own advertising display cards for things that are for sale or services that are available. The display keeps rotating these cards around for viewing by the public.

"Still another grocer prints his own handbills and invites any and all to advertise free in his throw-away.

"Is there any enterprise that the grocers do not plan to invade?"

"In order to compete must the clothing stores enter the food business, along with the hardware, gas stations, drug stores, and now the newspapers?"

"And to think that the Government wants to cling to the idea that packers can do nothing but slaughter and process meats!"

Perhaps Mr. Achgill is right in suggesting that the newspapers must now add groceries as a side-line. But considering that the grocers mentioned provide their customers with advertising for free, the same public will no doubt expect to get its entreatments from the newspaper office on the same basis. This might be awkward to arrange, since—as we understand it—there are times when nutritional procurement is a bit of a problem for the editor himself.

We hope Mr. Achgill will keep an eye on this situation and report on it further from time to time. But while we are waiting, we will hazard the guess that customers who go to the grocery to read the ads will disappoint the grocer, and these who go to restock the larder will disappoint the advertisers. The only proper job for advertising in a grocery store is to point to products that are right there on the shelf for mama to grab. And she'll do a lot more grabbing if an advertisement in the newspaper tells her in advance that the produce will make her prettier, make wash-day a romp, give the baby rosier cheeks, get her husband a raise or impress the neighbors.

STATEMENT OF POLICY ON SCHOOL INTEGRATION

The Carroll County Board of Education has since 1954 issued periodic statements relating to its policies in compliance with Supreme Court opinion of May 17, 1954 and subsequent state policies of 1955. It is deemed wise to again issue a statement as of October 1957 to clarify the issues as they are related to Carroll County. For this reason the following review of county policy is presented:

(a) In compliance with the Supreme Court order and with the policy of the State Board of Education, the governor of the state, and the attorney general the Carroll County Board of Education instituted a policy of integration in Sept. 1955 accepting the applications and approving a transfer of pupils to all schools for which applications were submitted during a designated period prior to the opening of school in August-September 1955.

(b) In compliance with the policies and directives mentioned in (a) a period was set aside in June 1956 for new and additional applications. All applications submitted were again approved and transfers ordered for school year 1956-57.

(c) Identical policy and procedure was followed in June 1957 during which a period for applications for transfer, was set aside. Applications received during this period were approved and transfers ordered for 1957-58.

(d) The Board of Education proposes to continue for an indefinite period the existing policy as described—setting aside appropriate days near the end of the year on which applications for transfer may be made and approving such transfers for the following school year.

The county education authorities propose further:

(a) To continue to maintain and operate existing schools in present locations for as long as need for such facilities continues.

(b) To continue school transportation over present route to existing schools for as long a period as need for such transportation continues to exist.

The continued cooperation of parents, pupils and citizens in the issue of school integration is urged. It seems reasonable to expect that in accordance with above policies integration of pupils will occur in any Carroll County schools for which applications in good order are properly submitted to the executive officials of the school system.

Mr. Loring Yinling, president of the Westminster Lions Club, presented a $3,000 pledge for the hospital to Senator Sherman E. Flanagan, Chairman of the Clubs and Organizations Division of the Carroll County General Hospital Fund Campaign, in September.

"Management has the responsibility of knowing what is going on in the world, and of seeing that the noise of socialistic restraint isn't slipped about our economic neck."—Charles R. Sligh, Jr.

The properties of John W. Stuffer, Ernest Bankard and Charles E. Clark, at the end of George Street, have recently been improved by the laying of concrete pavements and gutters. The same improvements are showing themselves elsewhere in the town, the probability being that before many years brick pavements will largely disappear, especially before new buildings.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do set apart Thursday, the 28th day of November as a day of general Thanksgiving and prayer, and on that day I recommend that the people shall cease from their daily work and in their homes or in their churches meet devoutly to thank the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received in the past.

58 FORD
COMING
NOV. 7

Nothing newer

AROUND THE WORLD

The 58 Ford has been proved around the world. This is the most dramatic and most grueling test ever given a new car before its public announcement.

The whole world was used as a test track for the 58 Ford. The car drove through England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Malaya, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, and finally back to the place it started—Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A.

The Ford powered over the great mountain ranges of three continents: from the Alps to the Himalayas and the Rockies. It crossed the great rivers of history: the Thames, the Seine, the Tiber, the Arno, the Tigris, the Euphrates, the Indus, the Ganges.

This car stood at Buckingham Palace, rolled up the Champs Elysees to the Arc de Triomphe, and paused at the Eiffel Tower. It was greeted by the great Paris couturiers at the famous fashion salons where its "sculptured in steel" styling was applauded by the most style-conscious audience in the world.

The 58 Ford rode smoothly down the rugged, beautiful seacoast of Tito's country, to a festival in Dubrovnik, and into Greece to Athens, where this newest classic met such ancient classics as the Parthenon and the Temple of Poseidon.

Into Turkey: and the 58 Ford passed the great white lacework palaces of the Sultans along the Bosphorus and the Golden Horn. Then the Ford went where few but nomads travel, up into the hot days and chill nights of the ancient mountains of Afghanistan. And thence along the route Alexander the Great followed with his chariots to cross the historic Indus river.

On and on the Ford moved, down into the heat of mysterious India, through New Delhi to the Taj Mahal, and to the great pink palace of the Maharajah of Jaipur.

This great new car met the challenge of the monsoons—rains that for centuries have stopped all road movement throughout Indo-China, but didn't stop the 58 Ford. It drove on to Penang in Malaya, and then north to Bangkok.

Further on came Saigon, the Paris of the Orient, at the farthest tip of Southeast Asia. Finally, it powered across the great Rockies and plains of North America and back, at long last, to Detroit, Michigan.

The 58 Ford . . . has been proved and approved around the world. A natural question arises. Why did Ford go to such great lengths with its 1958 model? Why spend so much money and time and go through all the problems of negotiations, customs, border transit, diplomacy in so many countries?

The answer: in the competitive automobile market of today, only the best in all-around value can survive. And this round-the-world test is the most decisive possible demonstration of the best.

The 1958 Ford is value: hard-dollar value. It is also style, power, performance, and a dozen great new features. But above all, it is value.

This is the car you've been waiting for. See it November 7—there's nothing newer in the world than the 58 Ford!

Except by B. I. Michael You may have great wealth and wisdom, and fame, But always, you must be fed And you know your health and your life depends Each day on your daily bread. And back of the loaf is the snowy Flour, and back of the flour is the grain; While back of the grain is the goodly earth. The sunshine, the wind and rain. Now all may labor and plant good seed And so carefully till the sod. But all their labor would be in vain, Except for the gifts of God! What a change there would be in the head lines of our daily newspapers if everyone could be made to believe and practice Proverbs 14:34. Quite a number of people in and around our community is or has been ill with what is called the gripe. We are glad it is not the Asian Flu, and we wish for each one a speedy recovery.

In Worship

Lesson for November 3, 1957

WHY do people go to church? There are very poor reasons, such as showing off a new hat, or keeping up a respectable front. There are reasons which are only middling-good, such as enjoying the music, or going to please your wife. There are also very good reasons; the best of these is simply to worship God.

Dr. Foreman

There are different ways Christian churches use in worshipping God, and it is rarely that one particular service makes use of one way alone. Hymns are one way, and prayer is another, and offering is another. But the way of worship which most churches feel to be most sacred is the observance known by the names of Eucharist, Lord's Supper, Holy Communion.

Long Years, Wide Road

What is the right spirit of worship? In particular, how can we make the most of Communion? Saint Paul offers us some plain and valuable hints in the letter he wrote to the church at Corinth. That church needed some plain-spoken help, for two reasons. For one thing, the Christian religion was hardly thirty years old. There was no long tradition, no prayer-book, no New Testament to go by. For another thing, many of the Corinthians Christians had been outright pagans till recently, and pagans had some very odd notions about how to worship their gods, such as getting drunk in their temples. So Paul had to make some things clear. One is that the worshippers at the Lord's Table are not alone; there is a tradition behind them, there are hosts of other churches also at worship in this way. We worship best when we are mindful of the whole church of Christ. We are travelers on a road stretching through two thousand years now, not thirty years only—a road wide enough to take in worshippers from every country in the world. Remembering this, we shall be solemnly grateful that we too can share in this age-old Remembrance of Christ.

"In Remembrance of Me"

For this Lord's Supper is a rite of remembrance. How shall we best approach it? To come carelessly, thoughtlessly, is to cut ourselves off from its meaning and its blessing. We should come to it remembering the One in whose Name it is celebrated. But how shall we remember him? There is something more here than simple memory. We do not well remember a good mother's birthday by getting drunk, or by polishing off a shady deal, or by being hateful to members of our family. We best remember Washington not by making speeches about him but by being patriots ourselves. So we can best remember Christ not by being suddenly reminded of him by seeing that this is Communion Sunday not by merely recalling that once such a Man lived and died. We come and worship in his name rightly when we come remembering, and praying for, his spirit in our lives. Those who get most out of Communion are usually those who have been keeping closest to their Lord.

Remembering Others

Protestant churches take seriously another thought in Paul's lines about the Lord's Supper. That is, that this is not something we can best do alone. There is room for private worship of God, and a necessity for it. But there is also room and necessity for the public worship of God, and the Holy Communion is public, social, communal, corporate, rather than private and individualistic. That is the way theologians would put it. For the plain worshipper, the point is this: In coming to this sacred high-point of worship, we shall get the most out of it if we give thought to others not less than to ourselves. We need to remember the Church in whose company this feast is kept. We need to remember the Body—not only the broken body of Christ, but the Church which Paul (in the very next chapter) calls the body of Christ. We need also to remember those who are in need. Most congregations use the Communion-time for special offerings for the poor or otherwise needy. So again, the right way to approach this hour of worship is to come already in the spirit of unselfishness. It is a poor sort of Christian who has to wait for the Communion service to remind him to love his neighbor as himself.

CHURCH PLANS DEVELOPING PROGRAM

Piney Creek Church of the Brethren is planning a development program. The fund raising program director is William Copenhaver, serving as General Chairman is Lloyd Bowers, Robert Rinehart is Chairman of Leadership Gifts, Resources and Proposal chairman is Harry Bowers and Spiritual Emphasis Chairman is Norman Utz. The church plans call for remodeling of both the interior of the sanctuary and also the basement.

Improvements for the auditorium include a new worship center with rooms on each side which will provide additional rooms for church school activities, a new ceiling, and improved lighting facilities.

Basement improvements will consist of relocation of the furnace which will allow additional space for group activities, and a new floor.

A new parsonage is also in the plans. The exact location has not been selected but will be conveniently located in the community.

YOUR SURVIVAL—WHAT ARE THE CIVIL DEFENSE SIGNALS?

There are 2 and only 2 Civil Defense public warning signals, the Alert and Take Cover.

If you hear a long steady siren tone, 3 to 5 minutes, that is the Alert Warning Signal. It means that our Air Force believes we have at least one hour to prepare for a threatened enemy attack.

When you hear a rising and falling wailing siren, that is the Take Cover, and it means exactly that, and at once wherever you are take the best cover you can.

Suppose you hear a lot of siren noises. How can you tell that it isn't fire engines or rescue apparatus, or just testing? You will know by getting to a radio quickly and turning your dial to 640 or 1240. Only 640 or 1240 will be on the air to give you advice. All other TV and radio frequencies will be silent.

There is a reason for this. The big TV and radio beams could be a guide for enemy planes so when the alert sounds they will all go off the air and Conelrad, your Civil Defense radio, takes over to give you, news and advice. By using low power and switching from station to station Conelrad is not helping an enemy plane to reach you.

Learn to recognize the difference between the steady tone of the Alert Warning and the rising and falling wailing of the Take Cover signal.
