DEDICATORY SERVICES FOR NEW SANCTUARY

The Rev. Dr. Simpson B. Daugherty, Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, will preside at the dedication services for the new sanctuary of Otterbein Evangelical United Brethren Church, Rt. 1, Newburg, Pa., Sunday afternoon, Dec. 1, at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Roland E. Garvin, pastor, will assist in the services.

A week of services will follow the dedication of the church, with former pastors bringing the messages each evening. Special music will be provided by the local church.

Otterbein Church was organized in 1832, in Franklin County, Pa. In 1845, the congregation erected a one room brick church, with vestibule, which has been used until the present time. Because of overcrowded conditions eight and one half acres of land was purchased across the road from the old church and cemetery for the new church.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held on Sunday, Feb. 26, 1956, and the cornerstone was laid on June 17, 1956. The cost of the building, including land and furnishings, is $108,000. The indebtedness on the building is $45,000, and the present membership of the church is 159 with an average attendance of 180 in the Sunday School. Many hours of labor were donated by the members and friends of the church.

The new church seats 254 in the sanctuary on seats with foam rubber cushions. An overflow room and mothers' room at the back of the sanctuary seats an additional one hundred persons. In the basement there is a stage, a modern kitchen, rest rooms, and a large room which may be divided into class space. A large parking lot is provided for cars, and there is additional land for use as a Lord's acre project and for a future parsonage if the congregation would some day wish to build one.

Mrs. John Hopkins is assisting Mrs. T. Allen Morelock who has a scattered rural area to canvass. Mrs. Hopkins makes many of the numerous telephone calls essential to the success of the project. She recruited solicitors for the Community Gifts division in her area, and makes the first contact with many of the prospects for the Chairman in her section.

"I wish I were able to take a large section and do all of the work myself," she said. "Since I can't, I do what I can." It is both her responsibility and her privilege, she said, to be of whatever service she may in this campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins have a five year old daughter. They consider a local hospital to be of prime importance to growing families throughout the county.

The Rainbow Skating Rink held their annual "Old Timers' Party" in Mid-November. This was a benefit party, the proceeds going to a designated charity.

OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF CARROLL COUNTY

By official action of the Carroll County Teachers' Association Advisory Council and on behalf of the teachers of Carroll County schools, I am requested to write these few words requesting your support for the proposed county library and bookmobile service.

We, as teachers working for the total development of the children of Carroll County, consider a public-supported county library and bookmobile service an important factor in public education and recreation.

Using a county library as a central distributing center, the bookmobile spreads its many kinds of books, magazines, pamphlets, films, recordings, and other materials to the towns, rural communities, neighborhoods, crossroads, stores and schools helping people of all ages and occupations.

The cost of such a program is relatively small and considerably less than the public benefit to be obtained from it.

We urge you to call your county commissioners, expressing your willingness to support this proposed library and bookmobile service. Your influence is urgently needed to make this service a reality available to every citizen of Carroll County.

Sincerely yours,
Harriet Merritt, President
Carroll County Teachers' Association

BULLETIN

President Eisenhower suffered a "slight" brain artery clot on Tuesday. Illness affected his speech. Latest reports are that he is walking around in his home and his speech is improving.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

(Your Chatty Column)

With all my heart, I wish you every morning smile that shall last until the next day's dawning. I wish you health—life's greatest wealth! I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer. Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Thanksgiving is in the air and it all is so invigorating. The very wise farmers across the way from the bungalow bought Steers (with the big white faces) months ago and they are running around in the field as I write this Column and seem quite frisky as they eye my two dogs—Sugar and Buttons. Those dogs have no love for them either and I think their thoughts are that those big animals will hurt me as they bark now and then warning them not to come too near the fence! And when they do come too near, believe it or not those little dogs give them a big chase!

All the leaves are now on the ground since the wind and the cold spell and the lovely farm houses all surrounding are visible once again! There is such a cozy and inviting aroma as the newly washed clothes dry thoroughly since being brought in from outdoors. The riding horses on the hill make a grand sight from here with the sky as the background.

Each year it seems more odd for the Public schools not to close for Armistice Day! Hope you did not forget to put out the grand U. S. Flag!

Last week, I visited the Veteran's Perry Point hospital and I never realized before how many sick men were right there.

Our wonderful Uncle Sam never forgets his nephews long after Wars are OVER! They get the very best of treatment at all times and all for free!

The other night, Your Observer did have a real different kind of an accident right here in the house at 11 o'clock. I was rushing—walking very fast as I always do and I stumbled my little left toe and broke it right! So, now I am around on crutches for about a month. I never knew that a little toe was so necessary! While awaiting my turn in the accident room of a hospital in Baltimore, I observed and learned much. Of course, these other cases had to be attended to before my case as they were all emergencies.

First there was a young man arrived with a number of policemen with him. This teenager was driving and "passed out" at the wheel damaging two other cars which were parked along the curb! Then there was the arrival of a young Mother with a limp two year old in her arms! (And this is for other young Mothers to take heed) the child had swallowed a bottle of ASPIRINS! Awful!

A few minutes passed and an entire family arrived with an elderly father and Mother. The look of anxiety and worry which was on that little woman's face, will linger with me for many days as she looked at me and shook her head. Her husband a great big man had swallowed 19 heart tablets!

Of course, I do not know the outcome although I was there for four hours. The Doctors and Nurses were surely on their toes. No Profession is any finer! When you are handed the Diploma—it is for LIFE!

Now, here's to any young man who desires to have his own business even if he is not a farmer's son. Get a little place in the country even a few acres and start raising your own feed for about 2,000 or more of chickens to sell the eggs. So many are going out of the egg business due to the fact that the feed is so high and now that will make the eggs sky high as to prices this winter. But if one raises their feed you will be in the money!

Letters—
A young girl—teen-ager writes this letter:—Dear Observer I never miss your Columns and am wondering if you could help this situation. Please answer as soon as possible. I am 18 years of age and my mother feels that she should tell me what to do not realizing that I am grown up. She even selects my clothes for me (although I must admit she does have fine taste and everyone admires my clothes) but I would like to pick out the things myself. My mother thinks regardless of where a young man takes a young girl that she should be in the house certain hours and this is what I object to. It is impossible to return always at the same time. Signed J. D. S.

Well, J. D. S. be glad you have such a sensible Mother and appreciate her while she is here. You did not state in your letter if you are employed or at school as to buying the clothes. It may mean that the money must reach far places and I think you know just what I mean especially if you are not helping with the income. Listen to your Mother at all times. She is your best friend!

And this—My husband never remembers any anniversaries and it hurts me so much. What would you suggest?—Signed Constant Wife.

Constant Wife—that is a very easy problem as most men are forgetful about such days but don't harp on it just remind him a month or so ahead of time what is coming up soon and I think that will remedy the situation.

Will be seeing you next week, Folks. D.V. Have a grand Thanksgiving Day. Will be thinking of you across the many miles. So long. Next week I will write of "The Sagittarius Sign" from Nov. 20 to Dec. 20. I am Faithfully,
YOUR OBSERVER.

"GRASS ROOTS OPINION"

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., DAILY TIMES: "If a man wanted to lay a pretty good wager, he might go two to one that on that future day when some man-made rocket lands on the moon, the French will be without a government."

CHESTER, S. C., REPORTER: "An article in the current Aviation Week magazine blows the wraps of secrecy off an important long-range radar installation set up in Turkey by the United States to keep watch on Russia's missile program. In an accompanying editorial the magazine's editor justifies this seeming breach of national security by remarking that the radar observation program was a secret from no one but the vast majority of the American people."

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Since its establishment in the United States in 1910, the Boy Scouts of America have touched the lives of 26,000,000 American boys and their adult leaders. . . . Chartered by the Congress of the United States, the organization seeks to promote the ability of boys 'to do things for themselves and others, to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues'."

WINNEMUCCA, NEV., HUM-BOLDT STAR: "By the time a man is fixed for life he has about worried himself to death."

STERLING, ILL., DAILY GAZETTE: "Whether the nation's taxpayers really bit into the seat of government spending or merely came out of the 1957 Federal budget battle with a piece of cloth in their mouths still remains to be seen."

QUINCY, MASS., PATRIOT LEDGER: "The United States as a nation and educators as members of a profession must re-examine their own attitudes towards scientists and the educational process. Mathematics may not be for the millions but more pupils would take it if Americans put greater value upon it. There will always be some 'eggheads' who will study science out of innate curiosity."

BEAVER FALLS, PA., NEWS-TRIBUNE: "When the outlook is steeped in pessimism, Baruch reminds himself, 'Two and two still make four and you can't keep mankind down for long.' It's more than possible that this same sort of thinking will arrest the market slump."

"After all, the fall seems already to have overcompensated for any recognizable weakness in the business boom. . . . In August, retail sales reached a record total of $17.7 billion."

CLEVELAND, O., DAILY TIMES: . . . Wladyslaw Gomulka, Polish leader who in 1956 was a strong reed of resistance to Moscow, this year decided he had to suppress a critical student newspaper and impose other press curbs. The reaction was quick and violent. That the Poles dared to act thus was a measure of their defiant strength. It suggests, too, that the rebellious spirit there and in other satellites is never far beneath the surface."

TOMPKINSVILLE, KY., NEWS: "Some five hundred people will be killed in the next ten days by automobiles in this country. Maybe, if some people knew the victims they would advocate safe and sane driving."

FORT PAYNE, ALA., TIMES NEW-ERA: "In gloating over Russia's achievement in putting the first earth satellite in motion Nikita Khrushchev gives credit therefore to the 'socialist' system of government under which the Soviets operate. He implies, of course, that this 'socialist' or communist system is superior to the capitalistic system that we know in America. For our part, we'll take the good old American way over the totalitarian way of Russia, even if it means that we're later than they in making a spectacular demonstration of our ability to get a 'Sputnik' circulating around the earth. We hope the day will never come in this land of ours when even the most amazing scientific achievement is put ahead of the freedoms we are wont to enjoy."

Building Material Dealers Welcome Handymen

Add the local building-material dealer to the list of places from which the "Men Only" sign is disappearing.

An executive of the Goodman Lumber Co., of San Francisco, says women are taking an ever increasing part in the selection of such materials as roofing, siding, windows, and doors. "Anything that has a role in the appearance of a house."

Jack Pelzner, of the Goodman firm, says the reason is that women today are insisting on more colors and textured materials on the outside of their homes as well as on the inside.

"And we've got more colorful materials to offer these days than ever before," says Pelzner. "For instance, it's pretty rare when a woman can't find the color she's looking for in our rack of paint chips or our display of asphalt shingles."

Wives' Help Sought

The Goodman firm, one of the largest building-material dealers in the San Francisco area, encourages husbands to bring their wives when they buy building materials.

"As a team," says Pelzner, "the man and wife can decide more quickly what they want, and they're more likely to be satisfied."

"The husband usually is looking for quality and a product that will be easy to apply or install, while the wife generally is concerned only with appearance. She wants materials that come in colors, or which can be painted to suit her tastes and harmonize with the decor of her home."

Pelzner described one instance in which a man and wife were shopping for new roofing for their home.

Woman Was Right

"The husband took a liking to a soft, green blend of asphalt shingles in a deep tone, but his wife explained that a dark-color roof on their ranch style home would make it look smaller, while a light color would give the house an appearance of height. They selected a light beige and later the husband came back and told me she was right, that the house does seem larger with its new light roof."

Most building-material dealers are welcoming the feminine invasion of their yards and buildings, Pelzner says, and are stocking more and more items appealing to women.

These include shutters and lower doors of ponderosa pine which add texture to home decor, and greater varieties of pine panel doors and wood windows which can be painted or stained to suit the housewives' tastes.

Paint departments have been expanded, wallpaper lines have been added, and many dealers now carry a line of light, specially-designed tools for the home handyman.

Storytown Toys Delight Children

The advent of toys that not only tell stories but also permit children to put the stories together has given parents an answer to the often heard question, "What can I do now?"

These toys, called Storytown USA, because they are based on well loved nursery rhymes, are made of gaily colored molded polystyrene. Favorites such as "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe" and "Three Men in a Tub" are but two of many which can now be obtained from department stores and toy stores. The prices are most reasonable. They sell for $1.00 and $1.29.

Quiet play periods are good for children and mothers too. On days when it rains or a child is convalescent "Goosey Gander's Castle" may help keep a child calm and happy.

For those who are looking for gifts, Storytown Toys can be the answer. Many may wish to have one or more of these toys on hand to entertain young visitors. Also, they can serve as permanent room decorations if the pieces are put together with plastic cement. Some of the older children may want to repaint the little figures.

HUNTING IN TANEYTOWN TO RESULT IN ARRESTS

At the regular meeting of the Mayor and City Council Monday evening the City Council instructed Chief of Police G. Emory Hahn to arrest any one who hunts or discharges firearms within the city limits.

Each year complaints have been made during the small game season, and the city fathers have decided to end hunting within the town. After investigation in each case reported prosecution will be brought under the ordinance #145 prohibiting the discharge of firearms within Taneytown.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Last Sunday, with its mixture of snow and rain, from early morning until night, closed a week of dampness such as is rarely experienced at this season of the year. The ground is perhaps more completely saturated with water than it has been for years.

From the appearance of our streets, it is pretty unanimous opinion that coating them with crushed stone cannot be much longer delayed. Baltimore St., specially needs a coating of stone from curb to curb.

Holiday Arrangement

With Fall definitely here and the holiday season almost upon us, thoughts turn to the decoration of the home and the giving of gifts. Perhaps no other gift is more welcome than flowers—particularly a floral arrangement—or gives more warmth and beauty to your home. Alyn Wayne, official stylist for the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, using chrysanthemums, pumpkins, fresh grapes and a few sheaves of wheat, has created an ideal holiday arrangement to send or wire to friends and business associates here or overseas. Chrysanthemums, and the many varieties of pumpkins are plentiful and inexpensive this time of year, so take advantage of their crisp, lush beauty next time you visit or call your favorite FTD florist. Remember too that they are unusually durable flowers and stay fresh and beautiful for at least a week or ten days.

LEST WE FORGET HOW TO SMILE

Two young men were invited out to dinner one evening by their employer. Their host steered the conversation into channels a bit too deep for them.

"Do you care for Omar Khayyam?" asked the employer seeking to learn of their literary tastes.

"Pretty well," said one, "but I prefer Chianti."

No more was said on the subject, but on the way home the other said to his pal:

"Why don't you admit it when you don't know something?" Omar Khayyam isn't a wine, it's a sort of cheese."

POST HASTE

A professor at an Eastern university driving to the West Coast had been invited to stop enroute at the homes of several of his former students. A methodical gentleman who prided himself on efficiency, he wrote all his thank-you notes beforehand. He sealed, addressed and stamped the letters, bundled them up with a rubber band and put them in his bag.

His first stop was in Buffalo. The following night, unpacking in a hotel room about 30 miles farther west, he discovered the thank-you notes were missing. Telephoning his Buffalo host, he asked with a studied casualness, "Did you by any chance find a bundle of letters in the guest room?"

"Why, yes," said his friend, "I mailed them for you this morning."

FROM "LIFE IS IN THESE UNITED STATES"

Togged out in gay gypsy rags, I was the fortune teller at our church bazaar. Business was brisk as people I knew came in to hear the outlandish things I predicted for them. My last customer, a man, was a stranger to me. Trying to sound particularly mysterious and convincing, I intoned in a deep voice, "I see a buried treasure."

"Oh, I know all about that," the man interrupted testily. "My wife's first husband."

FROM THE LIGHTER SIDE OF THE READER'S DIGEST

The cry of the Army nurses who gave hypo injections in the hospital wards was "Buttons up." One popular nurse's patients chipped in at Christmas time to buy her a present, which they tagged: "To the best rear gunner in the outfit."

"A corporation is taxed so much on its business, it immediately passes that tax on to the consumer by adding the tax to the price of its products, making it clearly a sales tax. The same principle applies to all taxes levied on business, so that any tax reduction on business, large or small, is a direct benefit to all purchasers."

Round-the-world wonder at a wonderful price

Proved and approved
around the world
The 58 Ford is the first car ever to use the whole world as its test track.

One ride in the 58 Ford and you'll wonder how such a fine car could cost so little

Most people guess way too high on the 58 Ford's price. Can't blame 'em, though. There's never been a Ford like this before. Yet, it's priced with the very lowest.

A brand-new look. There's nothing newer in the world of fashion than Ford's new Honeycombed grille, new Slipstream roof, new Safety-Twin lights front and rear, new sculptured rear deck. Expect to be envied in this new world of styling!

New Interceptor V-8 power. The world's leading V-8 maker brings you a unique, new V-8 for 58. And Precision Fuel Induction makes the powerful difference.

It's a totally new system of carburetion, fuel feeding and combustion that gives you smoother power, more power and far better gas mileage. It's the most important V-8 improvement in 25 years.

New! Overdrive economy. Ford's new, optional Cruise-O-Matic Drive is a real penny pincher. It uses a gas-saving rear axle ratio for overdrive economy. Just how much can you save on gas? Up to 15% when you team Cruise-O-Matic with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine.

You ride on air. New, optional Ford-Aire Suspension has four air "pillows"—one at each wheel—instead of metal springs. No matter how many passengers get in or out, and no matter how much baggage you put in the trunk, Ford-Aire automatically relieves the car to proper riding height.

You'll steer almost as easy as pointing with Ford's new Magic-Circle steering. Steering effort is transmitted through free-rolling balls for far less friction... much easier handling.

Pay more, what for? Ford brings you the biggest new-car news for 58... at low, low Ford prices. Come in and drive the fine car at half the fine-car price.

Feb. 21, 1958—World Day of Prayer
The older girls of the Union Bridge 4-H Club are urged not to forget the cooking class which is scheduled at the home of the leader, Mrs. Paul Bowman, Union Bridge, at 1:30 this Friday, the 29th.

Yesterday, Monday, Nov. 25, the mother of Carroll Dougherty, Detour, was just as ill as she could be. I have heard no report today, Tuesday.

The Keyville-Detour Homemakers Club met on Nov. 21 at the home of Mrs. Byron Stull at Bridgeport at 1:30. Fourteen members and four visitors—Mrs. Wm. and Mrs. Daniel Naill, Mrs. Henrietta Koons and Mrs. Birely—were present. Mrs. Luther Ressler of Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., who does not attend every meeting, but does keep up her interest in this her former neighborhood group, and comes whenever she can, was present. Mrs. Ressler is our "long-distance" member. Miss Langdale, the Associate Home Demonstration Agent, gave a demonstration on the combining of old and new furniture. The president, Mrs. Harold Thomas, conducted the business. The roll call was answered by telling of a gift that a fellow club member could give. Because these member exchange gifts it was thought this roll call answer would assist each one to choose the right gift. Mrs. Thomas asked that arrangements be made for one (or two) of the Union Bridge 4-H girls give a demonstration at one of the Club meetings. It was announced that the Christmas Ideas meeting which was to have been held at the Potomac Edison building in Taneytown on Nov. 13, has been rescheduled for Dec. 4 at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited to this meeting. Mrs. Thomas announced that there will be a joint meeting of this Club with New Windsor and Union Bridge at the Brethren Church in Union Bridge on the first Tuesday in March. New Windsor and Keyville-Detour will be the hostess Clubs. Husbands are invited. It was voted to pay the ten dollars which had been pledged to the hospital fund. Mrs. Robert Stine has been digging up facts concerning the formation and the first years of the Keyville-Detour Club. I am sure that she will be glad for any information concerning this subject which anyone can give her. The meeting in January will be held at the home of Miss Vallie Shorb in Detour and will be in charge of Mrs. Maynard Ausherman and Mrs. Robert Stine. The Christmas meeting will be held on Dec. 13 at the home of Mrs. Loren Austin in Detour. Mrs. Stull served delightful afternoon refreshments of coffee, punch, varicolored and flavored ice cream, cookies and nuts.

Mrs. Howard Franklin and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide attended the P-T. A. executive committee meeting of the Elmer A. Wolfe school on Monday evening.

Maynard Ausherman of the Forest and Stream Club road near Detour was tendered a birthday celebration on his birthday, Nov. 20. Those present besides his family were Mr. and Mrs. William Amos, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Motter, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Amos and children, Wayne and Karen Lee.

Mrs. William Weishaar has again been on the sick list. She believes that she has had another attack of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cosden of Willey's Mill near Detour expected to visit with their son in New York State for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayhoff, residents of the former Schildt home in Detour, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter. I understand the Dayhoffs have one other child.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Durborow of Gettysburg visited with Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide on Sunday afternoon.

Elgie DeBerry of Forest and Stream Club road near Detour received a very serious leg injury last week while gathering wood for butchering.

Sunday visitors with the Maynard Ausherman family were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Etzler of Walkersville.

The White Gift service to be held at the Keyville Lutheran Church on Dec. 1 at 7:45 by the United Lutheran Church Women is open to the public. Everyone is invited to attend. Mrs. Gilbert Stine, chairman of the Christian Service Committee, has been in charge of preparing the program. Those who have part in this program are reminded of the practice scheduled for this Friday evening at the church. Gifts will be given to the Rocky Boy Indian Mission at Box Elder, Montana.

A young man who formerly lived at their home, surprised Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coshun with a visit one night last week. This was Jim Cole. He brought along his wife, Betty, who is a native of Jacksonville, Fla., and his young son, Jim, Jr. Jim is a dental assistant in the Navy and is stationed at Bethesda, now. The Coles have an apartment in Westminster but are looking for one in Rockville or vicinity.

The United Lutheran Church Women will have their regular meeting at the Keyville Church on Dec. 2. Mrs. Carroll Dougherty and Mrs. Gilbert Stine are in charge. This meeting is scheduled for 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schnappinger and Garry returned Beth Wilhide to her home, the Key-De-Blue Farm in Sunday. Beth had spent a week in Baltimore. The Schnappingers were dinner and supper guests of the Carroll Wilhides.

The Union Bridge Parish Brotherhood, Edward Coshun, chairman, met at the Keyville Lutheran Church on Nov. 20. Richard Stultz was the leader. Refreshments were served in the basement. At this time Rev. Boyer of The Mission Church in Frederick showed slides concerning the newly purchased ground for the Maryland Synod Campsite, near Doubts, Md. Rev. Boyer gave a lot of information about the plans for development of this Campsite. Mrs. Gilbert Stine gave a reading concerning a little girl's prayer to be changed into a boy. Mrs. Walter Houck represented the ULCW and the Luther League of the Union Bridge Church, Miss Jean Stonieser represented the Luther League of Keyville. Mrs. Edward Coshun, Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Mrs. Gilbert Stine, Mrs. Lloyd Wilhide and Mrs. Steve Dendis are all members of the Keyville ULCW and represented that group at this meeting. I understand that the Brotherhood will not meet until in January, two months time.

Mrs. Maurice Wilhide remains in the Gettysburg Hospital and seems to be getting along well. She is using the walker now. I understand that her knee cap is fractured and not broken.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds and family of Richmond, Va., spent a long week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minnick, in Union Bridge. Mrs. Minnick had returned to her home after having spent some time in the Reynolds home taking care of the children. Mr. Reynolds' father died recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boone were back in Keyville Lutheran Church on Sunday after a safe honeymoon trip to Florida.

Marian Priest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Priest, was the leader at the Luther League at Keyville on Sunday evening. Her topic had to do with the story of Ruth. Mrs. C. E. Priest was the helping, visiting mother. Two new faces, Dickie Bowers and Jerry Keeney. Names for Christmas gifts were exchanged. Eileen Kiser, with the help of her sister Joan, served the refreshments. Jean Stonieser is the leader of this group.

Mrs. Clyde and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide visited with their mother at the Walter Gill home at White Hall, Md., on Wednesday, Nov. 20.

Mrs. Edward Coshun, Georgia Asbury, Mary Helen and Betty Shibley visited in Annapolis on Saturday.

The Carroll Wilhide recently received a nice letter, with a photo of the 3 year old daughter, from Mrs. Yas Eto in Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilhide, Beth and Jane visited with Mr. Wilhide's cousin, Luther Clabaugh and family on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. Fry and family of Baltimore visited on Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Charles Minnick and Mr. Minnick of Union Bridge. They paid Mrs. Fry's mother, Mrs. Maurice Wilhide, a visit at the Gettysburg Hospital.

FEESERSBURG
(A Voice from Carroll)

Thursday we celebrate "Thanksgiving Day" once again and since eating is the American way of celebrating anything and everything, we have been searching for a new way to prepare Mr. or Mrs. Gobbler for the place of honor on the dining table. We found a new way after asking some expert cooks, and maybe you might like to try it, too. This is a simple way to roast an unstuffed turkey. Rub the dressed bird with a good grade cooking oil and sprinkle lightly with salt. Rub the turkey inside with one teaspoon of salt to each five pounds of meat. Put in a large paper bag, roll the ends tightly and place on roasting pan. Set the oven at 300 degrees. Do not open the bag to baste. The length of time for roasting depends, of course, on the size of the bird. A ten to fifteen pound turkey takes 20 minutes per pound. Less than ten pounds 10 minutes per pound. When the turkey is done remove from oven and allow it to stand five or ten minutes. Then cut up of bag and lift out the golden brown bird. In the bottom of the bag there will be plenty of rich stock for making gravy. The giblets should be cooked separately. Dressing should be made and baked separately.

Here is an item which should interest all persons in Carroll County who do not believe we need a hospital of our own to take care of our own citizens. "Four Washington hospitals have been ordered to discontinue admission of indigent patients until they can keep within District repayment allowances, it was disclosed last week." If this can happen in Washington it could happen in other cities. We have depended too long on other communities for hospitalization. They have had to sacrifice in many ways to build their own institutions and it is pure selfishness and short-sightedness on the part of Carroll Countians to keep relying on others for what they can do for themselves. We hear so many persons complain that our county does not attract more doctors. If we had a hospital more doctors would settle in the rural communities. In the last few years we knew three doctors left our county because there was no hospital closer than twenty miles. That is just too far away when a person suffers a heart attack or an accident. When one is enjoying good health Baltimore, Frederick or Gettysburg seems very near, but when one has to measure one's life by minutes then they seem as far away as the moon. We can be very complacent when it comes to the other person's health but when illness and tragedy strikes home then we want action, attention, doctors, nurses and hospitals. When they aren't available we blame everyone but ourselves. The time is right here when each can do something and if you don't, well, you and only you must live with your conscience.

Installation services were held for Pastor J. F. Callahan, Uniontown Lutheran Parish at Baust's church, Sunday at 2:30. The following ministers participated: Dr. J. Frank Fife, President of United Lutheran Synod of Maryland; Dr. Harry Baughman, president of Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, Pa.; Dr. Harvey Hoover, Professor Emeritus, Lutheran Seminary, Gettysburg, Pa.; Pastor Carl Prater, Buffalo, New York; Pastor Carroll Boyer, Frederick, Md. The acolyte was Kenneth Weishaar. An organ prelude was played by Mrs. John Buffington. The Parish Choir, directed by Mrs. Blaine Broadwater sang for the service. Holy Communion service will be given December 1, at Mt. Union at 9:30 a. m.

If ignorance is bliss, why aren't there more happy people.

Ode or something to the mailman: "We used to get our mail at ten—when mailmen had to walk—but with the speedy mailsters now, it comes at 2 o'clock. E. H.

You don't know how well off you are—is all I've got to say—cause our way it comes at three—or on some other day." W. M. O.C.

Before enjoying this 1957 Thanksgiving Day in our own way we should pause for a few minutes and think about our ancestors who originated this day. As the years pass we have a habit of glorifying figures of history as almost human gods and forget that they too were once flesh, bones and blood endowed also with passion, hatred, bigotry and all the other emotions that bless and plague man. What were the pilgrims really like? According to George F. Willison, noted writer and historian, they were weavers, smiths, carpenters, printers, tailors and such—with not a drop of blue blood among them. The first Thanksgiving day was set aside for the beginning of revenge upon their enemy—the enemy being the Indians. And indeed the pilgrims took their revenge by killing and selling into slavery all the Indians they could find; even the ones that had helped them. The pilgrims came to this country mostly for religious freedom but they tolerated no other religion than their own in the colonies. Some of the pilgrims were very greedy for land and gold, and were as materialistic as we are today. In deed the Pilgrims would laugh at all our monuments, poems and words to praise to them from succeeding generations for they were never ones for smugness and ceremony. They had no use for precedent and tradition. They were revolutionaries and were never restrained by the dead hand of the past. They were interested in the immediate scene about them and trying to make it better even at the cost of their own lives. They had no time for ancestor worship, no taste for monuments.

Rather, they had the supreme human qualities: an intelligent awareness of the things about them; a sensitive desire to do something; to bring them closer to their heart's desire, and an absolutely indomitable spirit in pursuing their own high purpose. The present age would have suited them admirably and the present times could use all of their good and bad traits. For the pilgrims were a combination of saints and sinners. Aren't we all?

Give thanks on Thursday for all the blessings you have and give an extra thanks for all the hard knocks life has dealt you. For without them you would have no courage or character.—Ruth Roleke.

MRS. HARRY SPRANKLE

Although the move was only 800 feet, Reader's Digest reports it took five months planning and 182 persons to move five billion dollars worth of valuables held by the United States Trust Company of New York from 45 Wall Street to 37 Broad Street last June 3. Sixty-one insurance companies underwrote the move.

The circuit rider was asking a hill-billy girl if he could speak to her father.

"Now sir," said the girl. "Daddy's in the pen."

"Well, then," said the minister, "What about your mother?"

"Mamma's in the county sanatorium," said the girl, "she was seen' things."

"Perhaps I could speak to your brother," said the minister.

"Now," said the girl, "he's away at Harvard."

"Ah," said the minister brightening. "That's fine. What is he studying?"

"He ain't studying nothin'," said the girl. "They're studin' him."—Copy.

BOY SCOUTS ADVANCING

In a surge of test pasing with the boost given it by Senior patrol leader, Grant Harman at Broad Creek, the Boy Scouts of the troop have participated in two Troop boards of review at which, under the respective chairmanships of John E. Myers and Francis E. Lookingbill, the following boys were advanced to Second class rank: Stuart Dom, Arthur Eyer, Donald Koontz, Charles Mason, Harold Raab, Robert Shaffer, Larry Six, and Gerald Tracey. To this should be added the Candidate tests of Samuel Bower and Terry Riffle, and the completion of Tenderfoot rank by Ronald Bowers, Ralph Hoffman, Bernard Knox, George Rue, Wayne Staley, Carroll Stauffer, and Charles Welk. The next board has been tentatively set for Dec. 12 after Dec. 5's scheduled swim in the Frederick "Y".

Themes of compass by S.P.L. Harman, mapping symbols and dramatic stunts by Assistant scoutmaster Robert J. Rock, a new one on lashing by Assistant scoutmaster Harold W. Slaybaugh, and of plant identification, silent signals, First Aid, Morse code pantomiming, and a knotted rescue relay by the scoutmaster have formed the meat of the younger lads' meetings, and games of grab the bacon (both regular, on one foot, and on horseback), cockfight, crows and cranes, and pony rider have been selected not only by the senior leaders, but also by Scouts themselves, namely Patrol leader Larry Hively; David Hopkins, Donald Koontz, and Wayne Staley, as well as a memorable moonlit round of Capture the flag organized by Explorer adviser Bob Bowers.

These games, contests, and advancements, as well as attendance, uniform, dues, and special activity participation, all count in the inter-patrol contest now nearing its finish, with the long-leading Flaming arrows of Robert Shaffer, patrol leader and Wayne Putman, assistant, being at the moment outpaced 192 to 191 by the Foxes under Patrol leader Larry Six and James Tracey, assistant. Third-place Raccoons, led by Patrol leader John Myers, have 167, with some catching up to do if they are to see the hockey game at Hershey which every unit has agreed to as a fitting prize.

Explorer Pursuits and Plans

Explorer scouts, too, have themes and contests among the crews, besides those aimed at the Maine trip, and the one of Nov. 11 conceived by Senior crew leader Harold "Peewee" Slaybaugh, consisted of sending and receiving messages containing letters found in the first half of the Morse code alphabet. All were pretty close, but that comprising Advisor "Rabbi", Assistant Larry Barnhart, and Wilbur Thomas nosed out the one of Assistant advisor Bill Abrecht, Slaybaugh, and Bill Snyder, as well as the speedy sender Jack Bowers, with Bob Fitz and Carroll Hively.

Last Monday night some Tenderfoot and Pioneering merit badge knots were reviewed by Bob Bowers and Bill Abrecht, especially for candidate "Mo" Snyder, but the principal business was with the new series of Friday night Record Hops to be inaugurated week of November 22 in the Taneytown Opera House under Explorer scout auspices. Running from 8 to 11 p. m., they are designed to raise additional funds, besides Scout paper collections, to facilitate financing a new meeting place by the Explorer contingent of Troop 348.

The group gave an impromptu farewell party to one of their number, Larry Martin, who expects to move south shortly and will be sorely missed. "Rabbi" also took the occasion to honor him with his fourth 100% attendance bar, a much coveted award.

YOUR SURVIVAL—

WHO WILL HELP THE EVACUEES WHEN THEY GET ON THE ROAD?

Many people live more than 15 or 20 miles from the center of a target city. They might have to care for hundreds or thousands of evacuees fleeing from a threatened city.

The first group of people to be planned for will be those in cars who will be guided off one-way out going roads at places where those roads narrow down, perhaps from four lanes to two. This is called a holding area and will prevent a bottleneck from backing the traffic up way down into the city.

This place will be far enough out to be presumed safe from blast, and will be chosen where there are side roads for parking, or fields high enough not to be too muddy for cars in wet weather.

People who live near these holding areas will need to plan now how they can share what they have and help the refugees take care of themselves. Only in this way can they avoid facing an undirected mob instead of an orderly evacuation crowd.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Background Scripture: Philippians 1:3-11.
Devotional Reading: Philippians 1:3-11.

Full Courage

Lesson for December 1, 1957

SOME of the best of the Bible was written in jail. In fact, the Bible was mostly written not only about, but by and for, people in trouble. When Saint Paul wrote his famous little letter to the church at Philippi, he had been in a Roman prison for some time. If his trial went against him, he had nothing to expect but a death sentence. He was well along in years, too; just at the time of life when a man welcomes comforts, Paul had to get along without them. Paul needed the prayers of Dr. Foreman his friends, the help of the Holy Spirit. But he was also confident that with this help, he would honor Christ "with full courage," whether in living or in dying.

Never Easy

It is almost never easy to stand up and be counted as a Christian. Easy enough when nothing is involved; but when being a Christian gets one into trouble, or even laughed at, that's different. The people these days who need our prayers and deserve our honor are the Christians in countries behind the iron curtain. We sometimes may think they are not as good Christians as they ought to be, but they are better than some of us would be in their circumstances. Take a high school boy in East Germany, for example. If he goes to church on Sunday, he will have to cut a youth meeting, set by the government at church time, on purpose. His absence will go on record; and when he applies for a job, or wants to go to college, he will find doors closed against him, because he was loyal to the church and not the government. "You might think that going to church once a week is not much of a 'witness for Christ,' but in a situation like that, it is nothing short of heroic.

Everything Against Him

"Joining the church" calls for some stiffness of backbone, even in America. Young people who do it know that on the fence there is a gathering of vultures waiting for them to make their first mistake, commit their first sin as church members,—waiting for the chance to make fun, to say "I told you so." But it takes even more courage to confess Christ in a country where Christians are thought to be unpatriotic, and Christianity a "foreigners' religion." It takes much courage of all in a fanatic world where a person who becomes a Christian runs a risk of being killed for it.

Paul would understand this, for he had everything to discourage him. On the outside of his jail there were some "Christians" preachers who had their knives out for him, character-assassins as they were. And inside the prison, all the company Paul would have were other prisoners and Roman soldiers,—no very sympathetic congregation! Yet Paul went right on being a Christian and speaking a good word for Jesus. It was a situation that had everything to dishearten him. Many another in the same fix would have thought: What a glorious testimony I can give when I get out of here!

God Brings the Best

We know (from Romans) that Paul had wanted very much to visit Rome and preach there. But he hadn't the slightest ambition to go to jail there. He was eager to give a Christian witness; but it hadn't occurred to him that God would provide for him a very small church and a mighty unpromising congregation: a church house no bigger than a jail cell, a congregation mostly criminals and prison guards. And yet,—faced with this, he made the brave best of it, and was actually happy over it. God knows best; he brings the best out of the worst situations, the least likely people.

For one thing, the Gospel had made its way, only a beginning, but still a real start, in circles that would have been very hard to crash from the outside. The Praetorian Guard was made of hard men; but they were beginning to catch on to the Gospel. Timid Christians, one suspects outside the jail as well as in, were lifting their heads, catching the contagion of Paul's courage. And suppose the death-cell is ahead? Paul is not afraid. In death as in life, Paul says, "I shall not be at all ashamed."

THE RETARDED CHILD

Meet Billy.....a handsome, nine year old chap with sparkling eyes and a winsome smile.

At the age of two, Billy was the pride and joy of his parents. He had discovered the wonder of using words, and he kept Mother busy, as all two year olds do, progressing normally through his 'age of discovery.' Then came that tragic night. Billy's temperature soared to 105 degrees throwing him into convulsions. When he came out of it, Billy could no longer talk, he could not walk; he was no longer toilet trained. A brain injury resulting from his high fever had doomed him to eternal childhood. He had to start all over again with a very limited ability to master speech, the art of walking, and the discovery of the world in which he found himself.

A few decades ago Billy would have found his world unkind and relatively unexciting about him and his kind. Assuming that nothing could be done for him, he would have been branded as hopeless and worthless and hidden away to live out a completely wasted life. His parents, helpless and alone but loving their afflicted child, would have been condemned by society to live a life of misery and shame. The shame of having borne a retarded child would have always been with them.

Billy was fortunate. He was born at a time when there was a great surge forward to help these "forgotten children." He was born to very open-minded parents who felt no shame seeing his affliction for the accident that it was.

In 1954 they were among the first to join with other parents here in Carroll County to form the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children. Through the efforts of this organization, the cooperation of the Board of Education, and the heart-warming support of Carroll Countians, Billy now goes to school. He has a reason for getting up in the morning. He has found companionship, love, and a sense of belonging.

Billy will never master the three R's, but he will be taught self-care, acceptable social behavior, and a limited amount of vocational and academic work.

This great movement on behalf of retarded children has not been just local. Special classes have mushroomed over the entire nation through the efforts of the 500 member units of the National Association for Retarded Children. Definite progress is being made through research in discovering the causes and prevention. Causes include some 70 known or suspected diseases or mishaps occurring either before or during birth, or in childhood, as in Billy's case.

Some of the causes for mental retardation before birth are German measles and other infections occurring in the mother during pregnancy; incompatible blood between mother and child such as the Rh factor; glandular disorders, toxic chemicals; X-rays; genetic variations.

Some of the causes for mental retardation during birth are long, difficult or very rapid delivery; hemorrhage; complications causing injury or oxygen deprivation to the brain.

Some causes for mental retardation after birth are inflammation of the brain resulting from complications with many childhood diseases; glandular abnormalities; and brain tissue damage resulting from accidents.

It has been learned that every parent is vulnerable—regardless of economic status, educational background, race, color, or religion.

Though it is almost unbelievable, there are about 5,000,000 mentally retarded children and adults in the U. S.; 300 are born every day.....9,000 each month.

The most important fact that has been learned is that retarded children can be helped. An estimated 75 out of 100 mentally retarded children can find a job and be at least partially self-supporting if they have proper help from childhood on.

Here in Carroll County the question has been asked repeatedly. Now that the Board of Education has taken over the four special classes, is there a need for further solicitation of funds? A quick look at statistics makes the answer to this question very evident.

It is estimated that 3% of the population are retarded which means that in Carroll County there are approximately 1500 retarded children and adults. To date the efforts of the Association for Retarded Children have been focused on establishing special classes which serve only 50 of these 1500 retardates.

These 1500 retardates may be divided into three groups. The dependent group (Approximately 50 in Carroll County) the semi-dependent group (450), and the Marginal independent group (1000).

Some of these in the dependent group cannot walk some cannot talk and most need constant supervision at home or in residence centers.

The semi-dependent children found in our four special classes develop at less than half the rate of the normal child. Educators refer to them as "trainables."

The marginal dependent group is sufficiently retarded to need special education to prepare them for adult living. The children of school age in this group are in the public schools where the need for meeting their special needs is recognized by the School Board, but necessary space and personnel is lacking. At present there are only two of these classes.

We cannot help but wonder what will happen to Billy when his school days are over—or where all the Billies are who missed the chance to go to school because they were born too early. Many of them could do useful work and lead richer fuller lives under sheltered conditions—but a sheltered workshop is a costly venture and can only become a reality with community support.

The pre-school children need training to aid them in adjusting to school life. Few of them have opportunities for socialization at home.

Many residence centers with homelike atmosphere are being established in other communities for temporary care in case of family illness, and for constant care for children needing custodial care.

Other communities are also recognizing the value of clinics offering diagnostic, evaluation, and counseling services; the need for speech therapy and religious training programs.

Research in mental retardation must be continued and expanded. Just as polio, small pox and other dreaded diseases have been conquered, perhaps many children of future generations can be spared Billy's tragic affliction.

Yes, without doubt there is a need for future solicitation of funds.

Billy's future is in your hands. He needs your support, but even more he needs your understanding and acceptance.
