LIGHTING CONTEST

Awards Made By Taneytown Jaycees

The judging committee for the lighting contest sponsored by the Jr. Chamber of Commerce toured the town more than an hour Saturday night to pick twelve winners from the division lighting contest. The No. 1 grand prize of $50.00 for the winner of the overall contest was awarded to Thomas Phillips. The Phillips' residence with most originality becomes Taneytown's entry for the $5,000.00 Nationwide Christmas decorating contest. Other grand prize winners over the complete contest were Lyle White, $25 for artistic methods of decorating, and Kenneth Hawk and Roland Stitley, $15 for lighting technics. First place division winners were as follows: Kenneth Bair, $25 for door; Mrs. Hazel Lambert, $25 for porch; Neal Powell, $25 for lawn. Second place winners of $10 each were Walter Stonesifer for door, Wm. R. Harver for porch, and Eugene Eyer for lawn. Third place winners of $5 each were Wade Harner for door, Laverne Rittase for porch, and Willard Wimer for lawn. Judges for the contest were Mr. Scott Baer, Westminster; Mr. Chas. O. Fisher, Westminster; and Mr. Donald Becker, Gettysburg. John Myers assumed chairmanship of the contest.

These officers, in addition to the pianists and song leaders to be appointed by the various departmental superintendents, and the corps of teachers, will be installed and consecrated to their work for the new year on January 12th.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM PRESENTED BY GOOD NEWS CLUBS

A special Christmas program was given by the Taneytown Good News Clubs on Sunday evening, Dec. 29 at Grace United Church of Christ at 7:30 p. m. The opening number was "Joy to the World", followed by prayer by the pastor, Rev. Morgan Andrews.

A brief history of the beginning of Good News Club work in Taneytown was given by one of the local teachers. The younger children sang, "Open Up Your Heart", "Running Over", and the "Alphabet Chorus". Mrs. Wm. Airing very ably told the flash-card story of "Miss Bump", a rag doll who belonged to a little missionary girl in China. The older children then sang "The Sunday School Song", "The Books of the Old Testament" and "For God so Loved the World." A memory verse, Luke 2:11 was visualized on the flannelgraph board by Miss Hymiller.

The favorite Christmas carol of children, "Away in the Manger" was sung by the children and the history of the song was portrayed on the flannelgraph board. A brief story of the first Christmas was also given by Mrs. Kenneth Nusbau. Ronnie Airing and Gary Abrecht received the offering while Miss Valerie Nusbau rendered a piano solo.

The offering will be used for the furtherance of Good News Clubs work in a foreign country where the boys and girls have not yet been taught about Jesus. The children sang "Silent Night" and "Jesus Loves Me" for their closing numbers. Miss Maxine Garvin was the pianist for the congregational numbers, and Miss Valerie Nusbau accompanied the children. The teachers are grateful to Rev. Andreas and the church for the opportunity of presenting the program.

BLUE CROSS ASKS RATE INCREASE

State Department of Insurance Reviewing Application

Maryland Hospital Service, Inc. (Blue Cross) has filed an application with the State Department of Insurance requesting permission to increase the subscription rates for its standard hospital care program by an average of 22 per cent.

This increase, if approved, would affect some 810,000 members in Maryland enrolled under the Blue Cross standard (30-day) program, or approximately 80% of the Plan's total state-wide membership of over one million persons. The other 20% of total members are covered under the Plan's special contracts with employers on which rates have already been increased.

According to R. H. Dabney, Blue Cross Director, present rates were established on May 1, 1956 and income from them was estimated at the time to be adequate to meet hospital care costs for a two-year period. Costs have increased slightly more than anticipated, with the result that the Plan will be operating at a deficit and drawing on its reserves in the early months of 1958. Likewise, the proposed new rates are projected for a two-year period which would carry well into 1960. The majority of the requested increase, therefore, represents the additional income estimated to be needed by the Plan to meet rising hospital costs in the future, Mr. Dabney said.

The requested rate adjustments must be approved by the Insurance Department before they can be put into effect, and then Blue Cross must give its subscribers at least 60 days notice of the increase. The Insurance Department has been giving the request intensive study but further study and evaluation is necessary before the Commission can approve or disapprove the request.

Mr. Dabney also pointed out that although no additional benefits will be provided under the higher rates, Blue Cross is planning for the first time to make it possible for group subscribers to have additional coverage at a higher cost. This added coverage would be made available through endorsements which would extend days of hospital care, increase benefits for care in a private room, and provide higher maternity benefits. Additional premiums would be charged for these endorsements which would be available to subscribers in groups which qualified under the Plan's enrollment regulations.

GARDEN CLUB HELD ANNUAL LUNCHEON

The Silver Fancy Garden Club held their annual Christmas luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg on December 19th. Gifts were exchanged and Mrs. A. A. Koswick was in charge of the luncheon and table decorations.

Mrs. MacPherson, President of the club, announced that the Christmas greens and cookies sale held on December 14th in Taneytown, was a great success and wished to thank all the members that worked to make it such.

It was also announced that the club donated to the Hoffman Orphanage several wreaths and table decorations, and for each child, Christmas favors filled with hard candy.

On December 22nd, a "Do it Yourself" Christmas door decoration contest was held with all members participating by decorating their own doors. Mrs. Sebastian, Mrs. Hubbard and Mrs. Elliott, members of the Carroll Garden Club, were judges of the contest. The winners will be announced at the January meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Allen Feeser, Taneytown, with Mrs. Frank Butler and Mrs. Chester Neal as co-hostesses.

KI-WIVES ENTERTAIN

The Ki-Wives club entertained members of the Kiwanis Club and their families at a Christmas dinner at Tane Inn. The affair was in charge of the Program Committee, Mrs. Tamsey Stonesifer, Chairman, Mrs. Naomi Baumgardner and Mrs. Elizabeth Neal. The customary opening for such a meeting was followed by a delicious meal. Christmas carols were sung by the group led by Mrs. Alice Frock with Mrs. Daisy Pearl Reifsnider accompanying on the piano. The president, Mrs. Esther Harner presided at the business meeting at which time announcements of future activities were made. Mr. Edward Howarth, president of the Kiwanis Club, presented a gift to Mrs. Harner, as a token of appreciation for the club for serving it as pianist. A movie, "The Spirit of Christmas", compliments of the Telephone Company, was enjoyed by adults as well as children. Santa made his appearance and presented each child with a gift. Ninety guests attended the meeting. It was hoped that this meeting may become an annual affair.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Baker, Taneytown, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Lou, to John F. Gonder, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gonder, Sr., Union Bridge. An April wedding is being planned.

PRAYER FOR THE YEAR

Lord, we thank Thee for this place in which we dwell;
For the love that united us;
For the peace accorded us this day;
For the hope with which we expect the morrow;
For the health, the work, the food, and the bright skies that make our lives delightful;
For our friends in all parts of the earth.
Give us courage, gaiety, and the quiet mind,
Spare to us our friends, soften to us our enemies.
Bless us, if it may be, in all our innocent endeavors.
If it may not, give us the strength to encounter that which is to come, That we may be brave in peril, Constant in tribulation, temperate in wrath
And in all changes of fortune
And down to the gates of death,
Loyal and loving one to another.
Amen.
—Robert Louis Stevenson.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS SUPPORT CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS

As a part of the organized campaign for funds for the Carroll County General Hospital, the public schools of the county were invited to participate. Notices were issued from the Offices of the Board of Education to the various schools suggesting that the schools have teaching and pupils cooperate in the planning of activities to raise money to be contributed to the hospital fund. This was not an appeal for funds from the pupils themselves or their parents, but an opportunity to have pupils participate in activities of their own, or, class sponsored projects.

Such activities were carried on during the months of November and December, particularly, and the schools have recently reported to the County Office the results of their activities. Pupils who participated will, by recommendation of the school principals, receive token awards in the form of small first-aid kits supplied by Johnson & Johnson, manufacturers, and made available through Snyder & Associates, of Baltimore.

A tentative final report is submitted showing the amount raised in each of the County Public Schools as follows: New Windsor High School, $132.81; New Windsor Elementary School, $98.04; Charles Carroll School, $136.03; Sandymount School, $70.00; Sykesville Elementary School, $123.33; Sykesville High School, $28.65; Hampstead School, $200.00; Westminster High School, $493.72; Freedom District School, $69.64; West End School, $75.00; Mechanicsville School, $59.85; North Carroll School, $205.00; Westminster Elementary School, $42.60; Elmer Wolfe School, $284.22; Taneytown Elementary (approximately) $125.00; Taneytown High School, $632.52; Uniontown School, $34.50; Manchester School, $603.00; Winfield School, $267.79; Mount Airy School, $15.00. The total amount of the school contributions as of December 27 is $4,823.90. Several schools have reported that certain activities have not been terminated and slight changes in the total amount through additional contributions. Gratitude has been expressed by the campaign authorities for the participation of the young people in this project.

COMMUNION SERVICE

A Christmas Eve Communion service was held at Emmanuel (Baust) United Church of Christ. Preceding the service a program "Sing a Song of Christmas" was presented. Customs and traditions of many countries were given and the hymn which was their contribution to hymnology was sung. Appropriate costumes were worn by the readers. The readers were: Austria, Marsha Reifsnider; France, Betty Wantz; Germany, John Myers; England, Lewis Baer, Jr.; Czechoslovakia, Elizabeth Feeser; Sweden, Shirley Wahrhime; The United States, Mary Roop. Soloists were Mrs. Allen Morelock, Mrs. John Hopkins and Sandra Stonesifer. The senior choir rendered several numbers. A baptismal service was held when Stephen Albert, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wantz and Mary Virginia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Humbert were baptized.

FIRE COMPANY AUXILIARY NEWS

The Firemen's Auxiliary held their regular meeting and their annual Christmas party. There was a fine program. Many familiar carols were sung by the group. Santa arrived, giving out gifts to 60 members and guests.

The Auxiliary will serve the refreshments for the Firemen's Carroll County Executive Meeting held Monday evening, Jan. 6, at the fire hall. Those on the committee are Ethel Garber, Ethel Harmon, Ruth Fowler, Catherine Baker, Janet Parish and Flora Leister.

Our next meeting will be Jan. 9, with a covered dish social at 6:30, at the firemen's building. The county officers will be present. Those on the committee in charge are Mollie Crouse, Madeline Reifsnider, Shirley Clem, Baulah Sauble, Mattie Hahn, Valie Fouché, and Mrs. Vaughn. For the covered dish social and entertainment. There will be the installation of officers for 1958 and the regular meeting at 8 p. m.

THANKS EXPRESSED BY WELFARE BOARD

Organizations and Persons Contributed

We would like to express through the medium of your newspaper our thanks, and the thanks of those who have received help this Christmas through contributions of organizations and persons in the community. Contributions of these organizations and persons have once again made Christmas real for the needy and aged groups of our County and provided them with a little holiday cheer which most of them would not otherwise have had. The organizations and persons that have made this possible for this group are as follows:

Westminster Council for Knights of Columbus, Westminster Rotary Club, Carroll County Democratic Club, Jayettes, Junior Department of Taneytown Lutheran Sunday School, Young Adult Group of Uniontown Church of God; Taneytown Lions Club, Venture Club, Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 1381, Hampstead Auxiliary of American Legion, Methodist Student Group of Western Maryland College, Gamma Beta Chi Fraternity, Sigma Sigma Tau Sorority, Iota Gamma Chi Sorority, Meadow Branch 4-H Club, Civitan Club of Westminster, Westminster Kiwanis Club, Westminster 4-H Club, Hampstead Lions Club, Future Homemakers of America, Beta Sigma Phi, Phi Alpha Mu Sorority, Baptist Student Group of Western Maryland College, VFW, and Anonymous.

Contributions of some of these groups consisted of giving baskets of food and clothing to different families. Others contributed toys and had parties for needy children. Still others contributed money that went toward foster children in the community. We feel that the community is a better one as a result of their interest and once again express our appreciation for their support.

Carroll County Welfare Board

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

The annual Christmas party for retarded children was held Saturday afternoon Dec. 28, from 2 to 4 p. m. in the social room of the Trinity Reformed Church, Manchester.

The Sunshine Club of Manchester cooperated with the following committee of the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children in planning this party: Mrs. Fern Smith, Chairman; Mrs. John Carmody and Mr. Ray LeGore.

Ten children from Rosewood attended the party through the sponsorship of the Association for Retarded Children.

The program included carol singing, and games. After showing two film strips which had been obtained through the courtesy of the C. & P. Telephone Company, Rev. Harvey Schlichter led the group in prayer.

Santa then made his appearance with a gifts and orange for each child. Delicious refreshments were served by the Sunshine Club and each child and mother were presented with a very attractive favor made by members of the club.

With the growing realization that approximately thirty of the children they are representing are in residence in the Rosewood State Training School, members of the Carroll County Association for Retarded Children made a special effort to remember them at Christmas. Each of these children was given a canteen card or gift of equal value by the Association.

There was also a collection of gifts from the Association members gathered through the school classes and delivered to Rosewood before Christmas. The children in the Carroll County special classes also made gifts to add to this collection.

C. E. NEWS

Congratulations! Richard Smith, Walkersville, Md., for winning the "Boy of the Year" Contest of the Optimist Clubs of Baltimore. Richard first won the Citizenship Contest of International Christian Endeavor, then the "Boy of the Month" Contest of the Frederick County Optimists. He was the nominee of the Md. C. E. We invite you to join us in the "Cost-For-A-Day" movement in the forward March "For Christ and The Church."

The C. E. Cabinet Meeting will be held in the Mt. Union Lutheran Parish Hall, Tues., Jan. 7 at 8 p. m. All county and society officers are urged to attend. The Linwood Church of the Brethren will serve the Annual Carroll County Christian Endeavor Birthday Banquet, Thurs. evening, Jan. 23 at 6:30 p. m. Committee for this banquet is: Mrs. Claude Bohn, Union Bridge; Mrs. Lyle White, Taneytown; and Mrs. Roger Boone, Uniontown. Final arrangements will be made at the Cabinet Meeting on Tues. evening, concerning this banquet, and announced in next C. E. News.

"SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE"

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Christmas was a different Christmas this year than any before in my entire life! So many things have happened of which I did not expect but remember, folks, I must practice what I preach and that is—This is 1958, and don't look back.

The colored maid of the paragonage had the cute little baby arriving on early Christmas morning and being a boy that delighted her husband, so I hear. Good goods always comes in small packages! A real Christmas gift! It was sad to hear of the little girl working as a waitress because her husband had lost his job and as I sat in that restaurant, she came forward to my table and said, "Look, this is a surprise, someone sent me a ten dollar bill and signed, 'A Friend'!" And then there was a new little bride shedding tears because she burned up the very first dinner she ever cooked for her husband!

The arrival of the most unusual grapefruit I ever tasted and that from Arizona. The dates packed in a small separate box were delightfully moist. Meeting the gentleman for whom I gave a plug in this column for his business and product.

Seeing "Seven Wonders of The World"! And that you don't want to miss for instead of Philadelphia it is being shown right down in Baltimore!

The surprise Christmas pantry shower from one of our former churches by the W.S.C.S.

Spending New Year's in New York by just being somewhere else!

The following—continuation of "I Remember Philadelphia"

I remember when the "Evening Bulletin" was the voice of one cent and Mrs. Gosner, the lady who ran the corner stationery store asked me to take Wilbur's place in delivering the afternoon Bulletin to twenty-five homes. Upon my return, I was given a great big home-made delicious milk ball which was a big scoop of the ice cream served on a white, square, smooth, piece of paper.

Those days, "Jack, The Shoe Slicer" and "Jack, The Ripper" appeared in public places and on the streets slashing shoes and ripping skirts. All women were fearful going out of the homes day or night!

I remember the Walnut Street Theatre and also The Garrick where I saw many fine plays with the prominent actresses and actors of those days. I saw the great Sarah Bernhardt in "Camille" and the lovely Ethel Barrymore. I also saw Mary Manning, Leslie Carter, Blanche Bates, Lenore Ulrich, Ina Claire and many others.

It was the great Belasco who produced "The Heart of Maryland", "The Rose of the Rancho", "The Girl of the Golden West" and "The Darling of the Gods". I can see vividly that grand old man with the snow white hair come out and make curtain bows to the great applause in producing and presenting any of his plays. He also gave Gladys Smith her stage name of Mary Pickford when he first heard her recite a poem and then gave her her first job. His greatest creation was Mrs. Leslie Carter. It was in the show of "The Heart of Maryland", a Civil War drama, when her big moment came when she swung across the stage firmly holding the clapper of a big bell which sounding would have spelled the doom of her Yankee love.

When David Belasco produced Eugene Walter's "The Easiest Way", he chose for his leading lady Frances Starr. In one scene she did not scream loud enough and the great Belasco in a dress rehearsal tip-toed behind her and Miss Starr gave a shriek that stood everybody's hair on end. "That's the effect I have been working for—that's what I want", exclaimed Belasco, throwing the safety pin into the wings!

Belasco was the first man in show business to set the footlights below the level of the stage, concealing them from view. He always wore a clerical garb to which he had no legitimate claim but which played a prominent part in creating the Belasco "Legend". He was a very handsome and most striking figure and a most distinguished personality as he came before footlights with his shiny platinum hair and dark eyes. If it was by "Belasco" there was always a crowded theatre. He produced about 400 plays.

I remember the beautiful Fairmount Park, being driven there many afternoons, out Diamond Street, with my wealthy Aunt Regina—my grandmother's sister who was called by many Philadelphians, "Queen Victoria" of America as the resemblance was striking, always wearing, the little high lace affair on the top of her head which appeared as a tiara.

The two Irish footmen would drive the two handsome thoroughbred horses at the hour of four each afternoon through many of the natural and picturesque paths of the famous natural park. Aunt Regina would all her money to hospitals and charitable institutions.

"I Remember Philadelphia" will be continued in next week's column.

So long until then D.V. Have a grand week end and be careful when you drive, I am,

Faithfully,

YOUR OBSERVER.

BIRD-IN-THE-HAND

A profusion of new farm-relief plans - those hardy political perennials - are being rushed into bloom to greet our returning Congress.

Secretary Benson, who believes in reducing price supports and has fought for full authority to cut the props away entirely if he thought best, has compromised in two directions. He is now willing to establish supports within a range of 60 to 90 percent of parity, and has suggested sharing his authority with a bipartisan commission.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the National Farmers' Union, the National Milk Producers Federation will each present a different 'solution' to the farm problem. The one thing that's certain is that there's still a problem, since the soil bank plan failed to check surplus production, even though it forced tilled acreage down to its lowest point since 1917; and since, despite some improvement, farm prices are approximately 20 percent below 1951. Further, in estimating that it will spend about $3 in various farm subsidies during the current fiscal year, the Department of Agriculture has attracted the eager attention of solons who are seeking fat purses that can be slit to feed the defense kitty.

But there is a source of relief for farmers now in plain sight - even though few of them know anything about it. This is the Davis Bill (HR 4265), which would give income tax credits (equivalent to more income) to co-op members. The bill provides that cooperatives pay Federal income taxes at the same rates as other corporations, and their members receive credit for the amount of tax paid on their respective patronage dividends.

For instance, if a member's share of cooperative income is $100, the co-op would pay $52 in tax and the member would presumably receive the remaining $48 in cash or its equivalent. Then the member would report $100 in income and claim the $52 already paid to the Government as a tax credit. If he were in the 20 percent tax bracket, he would use up $20 of the credit on the $100 reported and could use the remaining $32 excess as a credit against other tax obligations - and if there were none, collect the $32 in cash from the Treasury.

WHY INSURANCE COSTS MUST GO UP

Insurance costs are going up—a fact which provides one more example of how inflation and other dollar-depreciating forces come straight home to us all.

The "why" of the matter can be simply explained.

Since 1950, for instance, the cost of building materials and labor have advanced more than 37 per cent, according to the government-issued Construction Review. This means that every time a fire occurs the cost of making the necessary repairs is far greater than it used to be. Thus, fire insurance rates that once were adequate are no longer so, and rate increases are unavoidable.

That situation is comparable in the case of windstorm insurance. North Atlantic hurricanes alone in 1954-55 produced windstorm losses of over $250 million and 1957 windstorms in the South and West were in greater number than ever before. So higher windstorm insurance rates are needed to offset higher wind loss payments.

Then we come to the automobile. Modern cars with their wrap-around windshields, complex tail-fin assemblies, Christmas tree tail lights, and other such features, become ever more expensive to repair. Juries tend to bring in bigger and bigger verdicts in casualty cases, even for comparatively minor injuries. Hospital and medical care costs are up. This year, the highway death toll may approach or reach 40,000 and there will be more than 1 million injuries. It all adds up to the plain fact that the insurance companies must meet steadily increasing costs—and the only solution is higher rates.

Finally, here's the point to keep in mind. Over the long-pull, we, the policy-holders, make the insurance rates. If losses soar, rates must follow. If losses go down, so do rates. We can help reduce insurance costs in the future by diligently practicing fire prevention in our homes and places of business—and by avoiding excessive speed and all the other accident-producing driving habits.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR PRINTED WORD

Man's appetite for news is enormous. We have to be deprived of it before we fully understand how we crave this form of mental nourishment.

A Reuter's dispatch tells of an ex-American soldier, captured in Korea, who chose to live in Red China with his Chinese wife. The one extravagance in which he indulges is a subscription to a news agency bulletin printed in English. It costs 15 yuan ($6.30) a month—one sixth of his income. He told a reporter: "... he felt he must get news somehow."

Too few persons appreciate a newspaper until it is hard to get. Most Americans take it for granted. The ex-soldier had a radio but he finds nothing takes the place of printed news. —Industrial News Review.

HARMONY, MINN., NEWS: "Since 1939, railroad wages have increased 187.4 per cent, and the price of materials and supplies used by the railroads have gone up 158.18 per cent. But the average revenue received for performing one ton-mile of freight service increased only 42.2 per cent in the same period."

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "... we could call to the attention of all and sundry who think the government can give them something-for-nothing the recent news report that a concern in New York is selling $20 gold pieces for $52—in our current folding money."

WILMINGTON, N. C., STAR: "The latest phase of the (McClellan) committee's probe into the union's affairs involves New York City's $50 million annual garbage-hauling industry. In Teamster tradition, the garbage haulers, belonging to the union, have been charged with squeezing out all other competition, using gangster methods."

HANOVER, KANSAS, NEWS: "Care and caution on the part of drivers and walkers would decrease the death toll greatly. 'Expect the unexpected, and don't walk or drive automatically. Think! After all, you don't want to daydream your life away'."

REYNOLDSVILLE, PA., STAR: "It is hard for the historian not to draw a parallel between us and the Romans. The couch of ease and entertainment slowly cut the ground from under that empire. History has a way of repeating itself. We don't believe we want it to do so at our expense. But the price to prevent it is going to be high ... we are going to have to realize that football scholarships and a hundred thousand fans in stadiums; the biggest consumption of liquor and cosmetics in the world; the drive for a four day week and some more of our luxuries are a little beside the point when there is a possibility that we can lose the whole kit and kaboodle because we are too occupied in bread and circuses."

WOMAN'S WORLD

Make Your Own Raised Doughnuts For Genuine Treat

How long since you've made your own doughnuts? Years? Or never?

There's something wonderfully pleasurable in doughnut making at home. Perhaps it's the fragrance of the dough as it rises or the pleasure you and the children will get out of watching them pop up while frying. Do try it.

Mashed potatoes in the yeast dough will give it wonderful flavor and texture, as this recipe will testify as you work with it:

Raised Doughnuts (Makes 48)

3 medium potatoes
 ¼ cup sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 About 6 cups sifted flour
 1 package or cake yeast, active, dry or compressed
 ¼ cup warm water
 ½ cup soft butter or substitute
 2 eggs
 ½ teaspoon nutmeg
 Peel potatoes and cook in 2 cups boiling, salted water until tender. Drain off water, reserving 1 cup. Pour water in large mixing bowl. Stir in sugar, salt and 1 cup flour. Beat until smooth. Sprinkle or crumble yeast in ¼ cup water Doughnuts are a favorite for Fall, served for friendly get-togethers or as a breakfast or coffee time treat. They're plump, light and spicy with nutmeg, their golden crust coated with sugar.

(warm, not hot for active, dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Stir until dissolved, then beat into batter. Cover with cloth and let rise in a warm place, free from a draft, until bubbly. Meanwhile, mash hot potatoes in pan in which they were cooked. Measure 1 cup and place in mixing bowl. Beat in butter, eggs and nutmeg. When batter is full of bubbles, stir in potato mixture and remaining flour, enough to make a stiff dough.

Kneading: Turn dough out on a floured board and knead 8 to 10 minutes or until dough is smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl and brush top of dough with soft or melted shortening. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough, cover bowl and store in refrigerator. Two hours before serving time, remove dough from refrigerator.

Before Frying: Cut dough in half. Roll each half ¼-inch thick on floured board. Cut with doughnut cutter, place on floured board, cover with cloth and let rise in a warm place until light and doubled in bulk. Slip doughnuts into hot deep fat (365°F.). As soon as they rise to the top, turn with long handled fork to brown other side. Drain on absorbent paper. Coat with granulated sugar, shaking a few at a time in a paper bag.

All Skin Care Needs Cleanliness

Whether you're six or sixty, there's one basic rule which applies to keeping your skin attractive and that's cleanliness. No matter whether the skin is fresh and glowing or whether it's dry and tends to wrinkling, it still must be kept clean.

There's nothing hard about keeping the skin clean. It's just a matter of doing it daily or twice daily or as often as it needs it. Do it in the bath tub, shower or wash basin, but do clean it.

One of the best ways to clean the face thoroughly without any fussing is to splash fairly warm water over it, make-up and all. Then while the skin is still moist, put cleansing cream on the face and go over it thoroughly.

Massage Helpful

When you're cleaning the face with cream, you're also giving it a gentle massage which is very beneficial to the circulation of the skin. This stimulation helps the blood to remove any impurities that may be clogging the pores.

As circulation is stimulated, then also is color and skin tone, because you start the work on the inside, within the system, to help the skin.

If the face is very soiled and you have heavy makeup, the first creaming should not be massaged much. Simply wipe over the face and remove with tissues. The second application of cream can then be massaged, as the surface impurities will not be worked into the pores where they may start creating difficulty.

CURRENT EVENTS FIFTY YEARS AGO

At last we are to get rid of the mud on our streets, as the town is being given a very much needed coating of pike.

A thunder storm between Christmas and New Year is a novelty in this section, but we had one, on Monday evening followed by fairer and cooler weather.

The Week of Prayer begins Sunday evening January 5th in the Taneytown churches, services each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Teeter-Roop.—On Dec. 25, 1907, at the home of the bride, by Elder John H. Utz, John S. Teeter, of Jacksonville, Florida, and Miss Margaret A. Roop, of Taneytown, were married.

Mayberry.—Watch meeting services were held on New Year's eve at the Bethel.—We extend the heartiest congratulations to Mr. Chas. Foglesong and bride. A reception was tendered to the happy couple on Friday 3rd, by Mr. Foglesong's parents.—Those on the sick list are Benj. Fleagle, Charles Fleagle, Calvin Slonaker and William Yingling.

Harney.—Everything passed off quietly during the holiday week and very little worthy of special mention occurred. Of course we had the long accustomed New Year bombardment and from early in the evening until after midnight the sound of fire crackers and rattles of muskets kept things lively; everything passing off pleasantly and no one was harmed.—On Thursday Mr. Josiah Wantz, moved back to his farm and his son, Harry, moved to where Mr. Wantz lived.—Some of our sporting people have been enjoying themselves, sucker fishing, during this mild weather, and some very fine suckers have been caught.

Bridgeport.—Mrs. Harry Baker and daughter, Pauline, and Miss Grace Cornell, spent part of this week with the family of Mr. Meade Fuss.—Roy Sharrer of Waynesboro, Pa., spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sharrer.—The following were the guests of Mrs. J. Hockensmith last Sunday, Mrs. Martin, of Deerfield, Robert Hockensmith and wife of Keyville, Jacob Ohler, Miss Grace Cornell, Pauline and Jones Baker.

MCMP COOPERATIVE TO HOLD DISTRICT MEETING TUESDAY

The annual meeting of the Carroll County members of the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc., will be held next Tuesday (January 7) at the Carroll County Agricultural Center in Westminster. It will get underway with a noon luncheon, to be followed by the business meeting. Guest speaker will be Dr. G. M. Beal of the University of Maryland, who will talk about the efforts of dairy farmer cooperatives towards performing more of the marketing services between the production of milk and its sale to consumers.

All MCMP members residing in Carroll County (District 3) are urged to attend the meeting, of importance because they will nominate a director, to be elected at the organization's annual meeting in Baltimore on Saturday, Feb. 22. C. H. Shaw of Westminster, R. D. 6 is the incumbent.

Also on the agenda is a report by the Cooperative's Manager and Secretary-Treasurer W. P. Sadler to the more than 500 Carroll County members, who in 1957 received some $5,000,000 in milk checks through the Cooperative. Mr. Sadler will discuss activities of the past year and plans for the coming year. President Edgar G. Enrich of Emmitsburg will preside.

The Victoria Falls are in Southern Rhodesia.

Carl Akeley, the American explorer, was buried on Mount Mikeno in Belgian Congo, Africa.

The famous Homestead mine is located at Lead City, S. D., and produces gold.

Delaware, the first state to join the union, ratified the Constitution on December 7, 1787.

What Would We Do Without Trucks?

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

DID YOU EVER STOP to consider how much our American economy depends upon trucks? Most of us take for granted the services of the ten million trucks in the United States which transport our necessities for everyday living and working.

But let's look at it this way. What would most mothers do without milk, laundry and delivery trucks? How would the modern housewife prepare her daily meals without refrigerated trucks which help supply her with fresh fruits, vegetables, meats and fish? Or how would she perform her many errands in the family car without gasoline and fuel oil transported to service stations by tank trucks?

According to the American Trucking Association, no other country in the world has as efficient a truck transportation system as ours. Here are just a few statistics, which indicate how much we depend upon trucks and the drivers who pilot them:

—The trucking industry, employing more than 7,000,000 wage earners, is the nation's second largest employer.

—Trucks transport — from farm to supermarkets and produce stands — 99.9 per cent of all poultry, 52 per cent of fresh fruits, 93.7 per cent of eggs, 79 per cent of all livestock and 68 per cent of our butter.

—All milk deliveries in the nation's 75 largest cities are made by truck.

—Ninety per cent of all household goods are moved by van-type trucks, 80 per cent of all new cars are shipped by truck, as is 75 per cent of all sand and gravel for highway construction.

—Trucks provide the only land transportation serving at least 25,000 of the nation's towns and villages.

—United States farmers use 7,000,000 trucks and tractors.

—To keep the daily mail moving, the U. S. Post Office owns about 19,000 trucks and has another 3,500 under annual contract; 63 per cent of the U. S. Post Office branches receive and deliver all mail by truck.

As these statistics reveal, trucks, and their safe, efficient drivers, keep our American economy rolling.

Remember these facts the next time you become impatient when delayed by one on the highway or on a narrow city street.

Sally's thank-you letter speaks volumes and points up a well-known problem.

Children's tastes and sizes change so fast that it's practically impossible for well-meaning Santa Claus to keep track of them — particularly when Santa lives thousands of miles away.

If this is your Christmas problem, here's a gift suggestion that will solve it for you. Send your favorite small-fry a Series E U. S. Savings Bond. It's a gift that's bound to be appropriate. It will increase in value and reflect your love and thoughtfulness for many years to come. And will be appreciated by child and parents alike.

Or, if your nieces and nephews and grandchildren are too numerous to make this practical, how about giving U. S. Savings Stamps? They're available at 10¢, 25¢ and up, at all post offices, along with free albums to keep them in.

Savings Bonds are easy to give... easy to buy. Just stop in at your Bank and ask for a Bond in any denomination you choose. Your shopping will take only minutes. Your Bonds will come in special gift envelopes. No need to tussle with fancy wrapping paper or bows.

Attention all Santa Clauses: Solve your Christmas shopping problems the easy and practical way by buying U. S. Savings Bonds today.

FFEESEBURG
(A Voice from Carroll)

When you read this column, the brand new year 1958 will be with us. All last week one of the major TV networks requested that its listeners send to the station their hopes and desires for the new year. The network will this week share these thoughts with the listening audience. We have no idea what others want from the future but we would like to hear four statements more often from everyone. They are: "I'm proud of you"; "How kind you are"; "It will be more fun if you are here"; "I can't do without you". Why are these phrases so important? Because they express our feelings for our friends although we seldom express them out loud. We just take for granted that they can read our thoughts. But people cannot read minds—at least not yet. Until they can we should use our lips to communicate more with each other. The world does not need more guns, more money, or more of anything except more ways of letting each other know how important one is to the other.

Maybe it's because we are growing older but it seems to use that the small fry give up believing in Santa Claus long before they should. Some educators think that the myth should never be fostered on any child but we can't agree. Children live in a world of fantasy anyway for the first ten years of their lives and Santa is a charming mythical figure who does no harm but brings an abundance of happiness. It is true, business has made a mockery of him and his downgraded him in the eyes of children and adults alike, but never-the-less what would Christmas be without him and the spirit he represents? One can talk about the baser aspects of Santa all they please but it takes just one three year old boy or girl gazing at a make-believe Santa which awe and delight to make an adult feel pretty small to go about slandering dear old fat and jolly Santa.

Did you hear about the Texan who gave his son a chemistry set for a Christmas present? Yes, he gave him the DuPont Company.

We attended the candlelight service at Winter's Church Christmas Eve and thought the program very beautiful. The choir sang all the familiar carols and the church bedecked with pines and candles glowed with Christmas fire. But there were two things missing. There weren't enough teenagers present and there was no place on the program for young children. We have noticed for a long time that in the small churches "there is no room" for young people just like there was no room for Christ when he was born outside the inn. It isn't the middle-aged and the older people that need the church as much as the young, and yet they are brushed aside by the elders and made to feel either unwanted or unnecessary. What the teenage group want is some responsibility in church affairs and not just a sermon once over so often on how delinquent they are.

Our dog Mike enjoyed Christmas too, especially the lighted tree on the lawn. At every opportunity he took a nap under it and he didn't bite Santa either, although he was four days late.

The T.V. programs Sunday afternoon were terrific on all major networks. If America was listening it knows by this time that the year '58 is going to be both exciting and eventful. The Russian Sputniks has turned the world inside out and although it will still revolve on its axis, the people on it will little care. They will be so busy adjusting to the thousands and one changes they will not concern themselves with such trivial matter. The biggest jolt to our ego is to face the truth that we do not know it all and that to survive, our educational system must be overhauled from top to bottom. It will come as a shock to many that brains from now on will be the prime necessity for survival. And even then we may not live too long, unless we get some bold leadership with courage enough to put new ideas into action. Fear seems to have paralyzed Washington and both political parties act like they don't know where to lead or how to lead. It almost seems like the time in our history when the depression had most everyone scared out of their wits. Then it was fear of losing one's life; now it's fear of losing one's life. Out of the depths of despair emerged F.D.R. Let us hope that once again America will be fortunate enough to find a great leader to lead us out of our false illusions and away from our past mistakes. Certainly we cannot expect any dynamic leadership from our tired and ailing president or from our stagnating secretary of State. But surely somewhere in this great land of ours there must be someone with the vision and courage of a Lincoln or a Franklin Roosevelt. They say in time of great peril, great leaders are born or made. Our country could certainly make use of one right now.

The Christmas seal sale in our county is short of its goal of nine thousand dollars. Total amount of sales at the present time is $5300 Maryland ranks sixth in the nation for the number of deaths from tuberculosis during the past year.

The postal workers deserve something better than a nat on Christmas time. How they manage to get the mountains of cards and parcels, many of them incorrectly addressed is a modern miracle. I have said this before but it is worth repeating, if a government workers were as conscientious as the postoffice worker then our nation would be in sa-hands and no one need have one sleepless night.

Friends of ours who spent their winters in Florida, came home for the holidays. They said when they got into Maryland they knew it without reading the road signs. The beautifully decorated towns gave it away. In the south they do not put up fancy lights nor decorate their homes for Christmas like we do here. It's time to write something about the new year. All we can think of is the hope 1958 will make all of us grow up; that we won't lose faith in ourselves or each other; that we will accept change and new ideas; that we will bend with the times and thus survive.—Ruth Roelke.

Friends may call at the funeral home this (Thursday) evening.

Dividend Printing

There is one kind of printing that you want—printing that pays a dividend on the investment.

A letterhead with right sort of type properly balanced is a real business asset. It wins the approval of the person receiving your letter, and while he is in this frame of mind your letter is read.

The same reasoning applies to any other job of printing. Neatness, the right weight and kind of paper, the color of the ink, the selection of the type, all play an important part in the production of dividend printing.

We are equipped to give you that kind of printing. Let us prove it to you.

WE GUARANTEE

to produce a letterhead, a statement, a handbill or whatever kind of printing you wish done, in a manner that will prove entirely satisfactory to you.

Give us your next work and see how hard we work to insure your satisfaction

The Best We Can Do

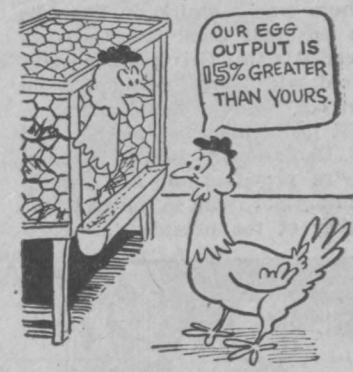

Caging Hens May Not Be Best Idea

Costs Are High and Results Inconclusive

A University of Wyoming poultry scientist cautions poultrymen to "think long and hard" before trying a caged-hen type of operation. Experiments under way in Wyoming are not complete enough to brand the cage system "unsatisfactory," but they and tests in other states show that caging can cut egg output.

Early reports from trials at the Afton experimental substation show that pullets running loose in floor pens were outlaying caged pullets by 15 percent and were increasing the margin every month. Caged pullets also ate more feed.

Although caged birds had higher survival rate, tests indicated floor pullets were better layers.

The Afton trials are showing one slight advantage of cages. Of every 100 pullets started, one more of the caged birds was alive at the end of 24 weeks.

George T. Davis poultry scientist, says these early results generally agree with recent reports from other states.

Experiments in other places also show larger eggs from caged pullets but a higher percentage of clean eggs and fewer blood and meat spots from pullets on the floor. The Wyoming trial results, when complete, will include these factors.

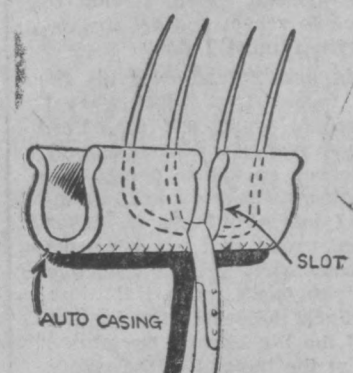

Cobalt Helps in Search For New Cotton Uses

Radioactive cobalt (Cobalt 60) will soon be used by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to speed up their investigations into new uses for cotton and other crops. Future research calls also for radiation treatments to help create useful new products from pine gum, tung oil, and castor oil, the Department says.

Dr. Jett C. Arthur, Jr., of USDA's Southern Utilization Research and Development Division in New Orleans is in charge of the new research project. He has been, specially trained and licensed by the Atomic Energy Commission to use radioactive materials. A two-ounce supply of Cobalt 60 has recently been received by Dr. Arthur's group. It is one of the largest single supplies of this material outside of the AEC installation at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Cotton is the first commodity scheduled for radiation study. In the past few years, agricultural researchers have made much progress toward increasing the demand for cotton through physical and chemical modification of cotton cellulose. The scientists believe that Cobalt 60 will now provide them with a faster and more accurate means of determining how various modifications affect the chemical reactivity and physical properties of cotton. It will also be used to measure the absorption and adhesion of cotton dyes, and to obtain other information about the behavior of the cotton fiber under varying conditions.

Handy Rack

Sections cut from old auto casings make handy holder for forks, shovels and rakes when nailed to the wall. Two or three nails in back side and slot cut in front is all that needs to be done to make these handy holders.

SHORT STORY

Happy Homecoming

By Anna Yarbrough

THE first thing that Jack Ballard saw when he stepped off the train was his father's long black car with Harold at the wheel. A little twinge of disappointment twisted in Jack. Why hadn't his mother and father come to meet him?

Harold's greeting, "How's the sports goods business?" carried an undertone of scorn.

The muscles in Jack's neck tightened but he managed to keep his voice steady. "No good for me, Harold. I had to sell out."

Harold raised his thin, light brows. "Indeed? I was of the impression my little brother went broke."

Jack bit down on his underlip, then said, "I sold out but I had to take a loss."

The big car crawled out of the station drive into Cedar Street.

There was a smirk on Harold's thin lips that Jack knew always preceded something unpleasant. Harold said, "Jack, why don't you clear out? Coming home a failure, you'll just embarrass Mother and Dad. Dad's always been a success. They're proud of me but there's definitely not room in the bank for another of the president's sons."

Mr. Ballard was sitting in a large, overstuffed chair.

As the car rolled along, Jack thought: Maybe Harold's right? He's much older than I am, maybe, he knows best. Maybe, I should take the money I have left, and plunge into another business.

Suddenly Jack remembered the day he fell off the swing at the school yard. He remembered his father's comforting words, "Don't be afraid, Jack. I'm right with you, that's where a Dad wants to be when his son needs him."

Aloud Jack said, "Harold, a father wants to be by his son's side when he needs him."

"Of course," Harold said with a shrug of his thin shoulders. "If you want to come squalling home for help."

When Harold drove up the drive to the Ballard's large, white, Colonial home, Mrs. Ballard, a small blond woman, came running to meet them. "Oh, Jack," she was saying, "I'm so glad you're home. I suppose, Harold told you that Dad has sprained his ankle and I hated to leave him, that's why we didn't meet the train."

Mr. Ballard was sitting in a large, overstuffed chair with his bandaged foot on a hassock. His handsome dark face—so like Jack's—was lighted with a big smile. "Well, Son, when I sprained that ankle I wasn't brave like you were when you broke your arm. I yelled."

"Oh, Henry," Mrs. Ballard patted her husband's shoulder. "I thought you did real well."

Then Mr. Ballard looked straight at Jack. "Son, put that chin up, and spill out anything that's worrying you."

Jack tried to smile as he said, "Dad, I've lost most of the money that I saved up in service."

His father nodded. "Go on."

Harold cut in, "Dad, if it's about giving him a job in the bank—you know, there's no place in the bank for both of us."

Mr. Ballard held up a hand to quiet Harold. "Go on, Jack, what was it you wanted to ask me?"

Jack grinned. "Dad, I want to go back to school and get my degree. What must I do?"

A big grin spread over his father's face. "That's just what I was hoping you'd ask me. Yes, Boy, you weren't old enough or experienced enough to plunge into the business world and keep swimming. I tell you, Jack, it makes me real proud that my son asks me about what to do. Don't be afraid you won't make it."

As Jack followed his mother toward the big kitchen, he smiled inside at the thought of the safety of his good home. He was glad he came home. He'd go to school and prepare himself to meet the world and compete in the business world, then he'd win and his parents would be proud of him. Harold would be proud of him too. Harold was all right, just a little selfish.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Table Settings Should Express Your Ingenuity

EVEN the simplest meal you serve can become one of great pleasure and joy if you've spent a few minutes thinking out an attractive table scheme.

Interesting effects on the table can be created in all sorts of ways. If your tableware is of an elaborate pattern, use a simple cloth and napkins. Plain tableware can be combined with solid or print cloths and is very effective when contrasting colored cloth and napkins are used, especially when they harmonize with the dinnerware.

Antique accessories can be combined with some modern ones for interesting effect. For example, an antique pair of candlesticks can look very well with a modern bowl of flowers.

Sectional dinner plates as well as plain ones in a variety of sizes, colors and designs can eliminate the dishwashing problem when you're entertaining, as long as they're made of sturdy paper. Many are plastic-coated to prevent food soaking in them.

Small tables call for small centerpieces, naturally. If you're using flowers, do pick those without too heavy a scent. When candles are used, make certain they're straight. Refrigerate them if the weather is warm to insure this.

Special Effects

A sweet sixteen birthday, or any of the teen birthdays, for that matter looks effective when pastel cloth and napkins are used. A special floral effect can be used by way of fresh artificial flower corsages, one for each guest, massed in the center or along the side of the table if it's buffet style.

Younger birthdays can take on more picturesque decorations. Use a gayly striped cloth, with napkins to match one of the stripes. Pile the presents in a giant drum (cardboard decorated to simulate one).

Make Snack Special With Raisin Cookies

Few kitchen smells are sweeter than the wonderful fragrance of freshly-baked cookies. Now that the weather is cooler, it should be no job to keep the cookie jar full.

Chewy, meaty raisins give cookies a good texture and even better flavor. You'll like the refrigerator type as well as these made with chocolate bits:

Raisin Specialty Cookies
(Makes 48 medium cookies)
1 cup light or dark raisins
6 to 8 ounces semi-sweet chocolate
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup melted butter or substitute
1½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder

Rinse and drain raisins. Beat eggs well. Stir in sugar and vanilla. Cool butter slightly and add to egg-sugar mixture. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder and add to batter. Blend in raisins and chocolate bits. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 15 to 18 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

Raisin Refrigerator Cookies
(Makes 4½ dozen)
1 cup raisins
½ cup butter or substitute
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
3 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Rinse raisins, drain and chop. Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Sift flour with salt and soda. Blend into creamed mixture alternately with milk. Stir in raisins and vanilla. Shape into rolls, wrap in waxed paper and chill thoroughly. Cut in thin slices with a sharp knife and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot (400°F.) oven, 8 to 10 minutes.

WHERE HEAVEN SHALL BE—MAN'S FUTURE HOME—

God foresaw, exactly, how things would be,
Long before He created either you or me,
But, He sent you here to try your plan
To make of yourself a perfect man.

In these physical bodies in which we dwell
We learn the secret of heaven and hell;
So, the ones who create them are you and me,
Since the devil, the five senses, is said to be.

God also sent you here to learn of His plan
To make of you a perfect man,
So, He gave you "free will" to train you to be,
A god among gods in Eternity.

So, after many incarnations, the records say,
Man learns to know God and goes His way;
Reincarnation, many experts now say,
Is the way God raises the dead in our days.

That eliminates Satan, critics all say;
For, to train His Sons, that is God's way;
So, here we learn to know Him and His plan;
And, here, He makes of you a perfect man.

Man once told of how and where heaven shall be;
At the end of Time; and, through all Eternity;
But, the things they dreamed of do not agree
With the way God intends heaven shall be.

Heaven is not a place high up in the air—
(According to the Bible, it is everywhere!);
For, where God is, heaven must surely be—
Not only in Time, but in Eternity.

Such talk does not click with God's plan;
For He lives in the body of every man;
In two billion bodies, on earth, He is said to be;
So He rules all the earth, through you and me.

Your physical body is God's body—don't you see?
So, where God is, heaven surely must be;
God plants Himself in us all at birth!
So, He is our personal God here on earth.

God is a Spirit Being like the real man;
So, the thing to do is to follow His plan;
He differs from physical man in every way;
So, do not listen to what men say.

There are countless things we do not know—
(Not only about God, but how to go!);
So, here God trains us, from day to day,
Till we finally learn to do things His way.

Here is a trick all people must learn to know,
God is with us every place we go;
He now lives in the body of both you and me;
And, just so, in Eternity, things shall be.

Remember this; God is the seed in everything you see;
We see Him in the apple, the peach on the tree;
I am telling you this because, I want you to know
That, "God is all in all", down here below.

So, watch your step, whoever you may be;
God lives not only in you and me;
He puts Himself in each cherry on the tree
That the fruit we love forever shall be.

Without the seed we would have no tree;
And the same is true of you and me;
That is how God works, in all the region of space—
Every place we go, we can see His face.

The chemist can make a grain of wheat
Which resembles the ones we daily eat;
But, if you plant it, it will not grow;
For, God is not in it, to make it do so.

I have mentioned that truth several times before;
And, I shall mention it, many times more;
For, I want all peoples on earth to know
That God is the Life of all things which grow.

I am telling you this because the Scriptures say
Our God, Jehovah, never changes His way;
He sees at the beginning how things shall be
When time shall end in Eternity.

There are many secrets in God's great plan
To make a perfect Earth and a perfect man;
So, as things are now in the future they shall be
Till we all are made fit for Eternity.

God is not a will-o-the-wisp floating on air
His physical body is seen everywhere;
So, some day, the peoples on earth shall know
More about Him, and the right way to go.

God and man shall always together be,
Not only in Time, but in Eternity;
For man, the Scriptures tell us, is God's hands;
Through Him, He carries out all of His plans.

God said, Himself, some day, mortal man shall know
More about Me, and the right way to go;
So, it is all a part of His great plan
To make a perfect earth and a perfect man.

God figured that all out before He made man;
So, some day, man shall know of His plan;
And, when he does, the "New Earth" his home shall be
Through all the long years of Eternity.

If I were a prophet, I would tell more
About the countless things God has in store
For all who love Him; and, do things right,
Till the time comes to enter the "Day without night".

God never changes the Scriptures say;
So follow Jesus; and, do things His way;
And, try to learn of His wonderful plan
To make the whole earth a heaven for man.

Jesus always called God Father; so shall mortal man
When he learns who he is and about God's plan;
Such love and devotion never has been known
As, to God by His children, shall be shown.

Men shall tell of His goodness every place they go
For our whole life's story, we then shall know;
In our sub-conscious mind a record is kept
Of what we did each time before we slept.

As from a ledger whose pages are blurred
The accounts to another book are transferred,
So it is with man; a record of what he has done
Is stored in the body of every one.

Your sub-conscious mind is the real you;
It is He who tells us all how and what to do;
Men call him their conscience—they don't understand
That, to him, God has given full command.

But, God also gave to mortal man "free will";
That is why the sub-conscious has a hard job to fill,
The Spiritual I is wiser in both you and me;
That is why with each other we fail to agree.

Through you the sub-conscious is building a home,
A perfect body in which to roam;
For, it must be perfect in every way
To weather the storms of a "Thousand year day".

As I have said before, the real you is wiser in you and me;
For, it is He who shall have through Eternity.
From the very beginning you have been God's son—
That statement is true of everyone.

But, you must have a body in which to dwell—
(That is one thing we know quite well!);
God not only lives in man, man is His hands
So, he must have a body to carry out His plan.

These are things we all must learn to know
Before to Paradise God permits us to go;
So back to earth we must all return;
For Eternal Life we all must earn.

God has made great preparation for mortal man;
So, the thing to do is to study His plan
To make his earth an empyrian Earth to be
Where, in us, He shall reign through Eternity.

That, alone, is proof of God's love for man;
All the very beginning it was His plan
To make, our home, the Planet Earth
Where, He would teach and train us, birth after birth.

Only God could have seen how man some day shall be
When he is made fit to live in Eternity;
So, because He is transcendent, it was His plan
To make the whole earth a heaven for man.

The True Church

Lesson for January 5, 1958

DISGRACEFUL as it is to have to admit it, the fact is that the one question about which churches quarrel most, is the simple one: What is the Church? One thing all agree on: the Church is not brick and stone, it is not organization by itself. The Church is people. The question is, Under what conditions has a group of people, large or small, the right to call itself a Christian church, or a part of the Christian Church? If we go back to New Testament times, when there was only one church (though many congregations of course), and that one church was without doubt the true church, we can get a clue toward answering our question.

Dr. Foreman

Christ the Builder

Jesus often spoke of the Church, although he seldom used the word. He spoke of his friends, his disciples, believers. He chose men to be with him and to send out in his name to do his work. It is such people who make the Church everywhere; persons who have made contact with Christ, who believe in Him, who follow Him, who learn from Him, who in His name set out to do His work. Once and only once He used the expression "my Church" according to the records we have. Simon Peter had just said, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." Jesus told him in reply, "On this rock I will build my Church." Theologians have argued a long time about what Jesus meant by "this rock." Some think He meant Peter himself, but the New Testament church did not think so; nowhere in it is Simon Peter called the foundation of the Church. A more likely explanation is that Jesus meant he would build his Church on the foundation of the faith which Peter had just expressed, and on men and women who have this faith. Wherever there is a fellowship of persons bound together by loyalty to Christ as Son of the living God, there is the true Church.

Christ the Cornerstone

In St. Paul's earlier letters he writes about "churches" but in his later days he wrote of "the Church," which is truly one, in spite of its many apparent differences. Indeed it is not only interesting but important that the more churches there were, the more Paul emphasizes "The Church, not one among others, but as including all believers. He uses various figures of speech to describe the all-important fact that Christ is central in the true Church. One is this picture of a temple built of stone. The foundation is the apostles (note that he makes no special mention of Peter) and the prophets. The foundations of the Church go down into the Old Testament; apostles and prophets are different sections of the same foundation. But Christ is the cornerstone. In Paul's time a cornerstone was not a souvenir-thing, it was a great solid stone that carried the weight of the building, and indeed set the lines of the walls. Prophets and apostles are the foundation so far as, and because, they are lined up with Christ. The true Church is one that carries on the spirit and the work of apostles and prophets down through the ages.

Christ the Head

Another Bible figure of speech for the Church, is that of a body, with Christ the head. The true Church is one of which Christ is the head; that is, He directs the Church, He is the final and highest authority in the Church. Of course head and body need each other; but the head controls the body, not the other way around. Christ is Number One in the true Church. No book, no creed, no organization, no bishop, no pope, can be the head of the Church in the unique and special and all-important way in which Christ is head of the Church. How can we tell whether Christ is the head of the Church? It is not just by what the Church says about Him. Jesus himself said: "Why do you call me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" Correct theology does not by itself make a true Church. Does the Church do the things Jesus says? Do its members take His teachings seriously and try to live by them? Does the Church hold up Jesus as a living example for Christian lives? Is the teaching of the Church in line with His? If not, calling Him "head" means very little.

Afraid Of Love

By Maud Welch

WHEN Larry Brent told Penny Edwards that he was afraid after all, he wasn't cut out for marriage, Penny took his ring from her finger, laid it in his hand and folded away her dream of love in some distant corner of her heart. She'd had it. She'd never believe in love again.

She had her job as secretary to elderly Judge Scott, a lawyer, who had been a good friend of her father's. She made up her mind she'd give all her time and thought to her work. In time she'd find it a compensation for all the other things she had missed.

But good old sister Fate always has a few tricks up her sleeve. Judge Scott became ill and had to retire. A young man came to take his place. His name was Steve Deering, and he said he would be very happy if Penny would stay on, and she agreed. She really had no other place to go.

She found Steve to be kind and thoughtful about the work, but rather quiet and restrained. They said good-morning to each other and good night, but little else except for business matters. This was exactly the way Penny wanted it to be.

They spoke little, except for business matters.

Then one day Elaine, Steve's niece, came in the office. She was just out of college and she and Penny became friends. They lunched together, went to movies, took long walks.

Surprisingly one afternoon late Elaine told Penny that her Uncle Steve said he would take them to a drive-in and right away Penny said, "I'm sorry. I can't go."

It was Saturday night and Penny and Elaine were having a meal in an uptown hotel when Steve walked in. Elaine asked if he'd take them dancing upstairs in the ball room, where the music had already started, and Steve agreed.

Penny was on a spot. She couldn't refuse this time. It turned out that Elaine met several of her friends and this left Penny and Steve alone. They danced once or twice, and it was strange how well their steps matched. There was enchantment here, Penny knew. "This mustn't happen again. It mustn't," she told herself tearfully after she'd gone home.

A week later Steve sent Elaine to Florida to stay with an elderly relative. A few days later Steve was disturbed. He called Penny into his office. "Penny I sent Elaine away so she'd forget Tommy Durwin. Now he's followed her, and she says they're going to get married." Steve face hardened. "I want you to fly down there and stop it, Penny. You're the only one who can." "Elaine knows nothing about love," he added.

There seemed no way for Penny to get out of going, so she caught a plane. Elaine was delighted to see her. She lost no time in introducing Tommy and telling Penny of their plans. Then she said, "I wish you and Uncle Steve could recognize real love when you see it. I think you're both afraid."

Penny left on the next plane. When she got to the office, she wrote out her resignation and laid it on Steve's desk.

"What's this about?" he demanded when he'd read it.

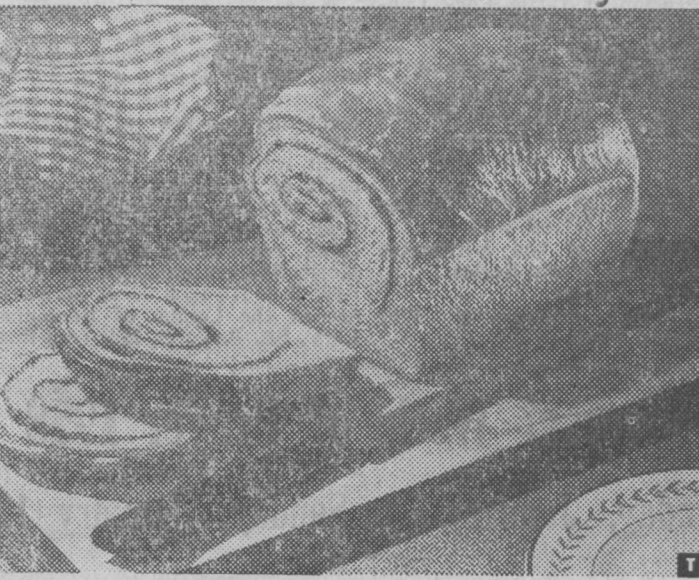

"You can't count on my loyalty. I didn't try to influence Elaine. I knew she and Tommy had found real love and that they have courage and faith and are not—not afraid."

Steve moved nearer her desk. "We're the ones who are afraid, aren't we, Penny?" he said surprisingly. "A girl hurt me once. I made up my mind I'd never fall in love again. But I have, Penny. I love you." He stopped a moment, then said, "We could find a straight, shining path together, darling."

She looked up in his face, happy tears suddenly glimmering in her eyes. "I'm not afraid any longer, Steve."

Quite suddenly Penny knew the truth. Larry Brent was just a man she'd been silly enough to dream about, but Steve's love was a thing of reality, substance and beauty.

SUGAR & SPICE MAKE BREAD A TREAT

Marie Antoinette must have had this Cinnamon Loaf in mind when she said "Let Them Eat Cake." It's a rich yeast-raised bread with a swirl of aromatic cinnamon all sugar coated. It's just the thing to serve thinly sliced and buttered for a tea party, with fruit for dessert, but best of all, any time at all, toasted.

CINNAMON LOAF

1 cup milk
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed

1/4 cup warm, not hot water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
1 egg, beaten
4 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
Melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cinnamon

Scald milk. Add butter or margarine, 1/4 cup sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle or crumble yeast into water (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Add the egg, then half the flour. Beat until smooth. Add remaining flour. Turn dough onto a lightly floured board. Knead. Place dough in greased bowl. Brush top lightly with melted shortening. Cover with cloth. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into an oblong about 8" x 10". Brush each lightly with melted butter or margarine. Mix together 1/2 cup sugar and the cinnamon. Sprinkle half of the mixture on each oblong of dough. Roll up each piece tightly crosswise as for jelly roll. Place in greased bread pans 8 1/2" x 4 1/4" x 2 1/2". Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake at 350 degrees about 40 minutes. Ice top white hot with *Plain Icing. Makes 2 loaves.

*Plain Icing—Combine 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar with 2 teaspoons milk and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract and beat until smooth.

Use Leftover Turkey In Salad

For a different, distinctive second-day dish, combine leftover turkey with cooked rice, celery, grapes or kumquats and pecans for a truly exotic salad. Then bring flavors together in happy union with a spirited dressing—one made by combining mayonnaise with a special herb dressing blended from a salad dressing mix.

Turkey Salad De Luxe

1 package Good Seasons Salad Dressing Mix (any flavor)
Vinegar, water, oil
1 1/2 cups diced cooked turkey
1 cup diced celery
1 1/2 cups halved and seeded grapes or 1 cup chopped spiced kumquats
1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans
3 cups cooked rice

Combine salad dressing mix, vinegar, water and oil as directed on the bottle or package. Blend 1/2 cup of the dressing, mayonnaise, salt, and pepper, mixing well. Combine turkey, celery, grapes, and pecans in bowl. Stir in mayonnaise mixture. Then add rice and mix lightly with a fork. Chill at least 1 hour. Serve on crisp lettuce. Makes about 6 cups, or 4 to 6 servings luncheon or entrée salad.

A "Fun To Eat" Dessert

Festive for all occasions is this fluffy-light and creamy dessert, beautifully garnished with canned cling peach slices and mint leaves. Made with quick-cooking tapioca, it's a "cinch" to make and fun to eat.

Peach Tapioca Cream

1 egg white
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg yolk
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca

1/8 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Canned cling peaches, sliced

Beat the egg white until foamy. Add 2 tablespoons sugar and continue beating with egg beater until meringue stands in soft peaks. Set aside.

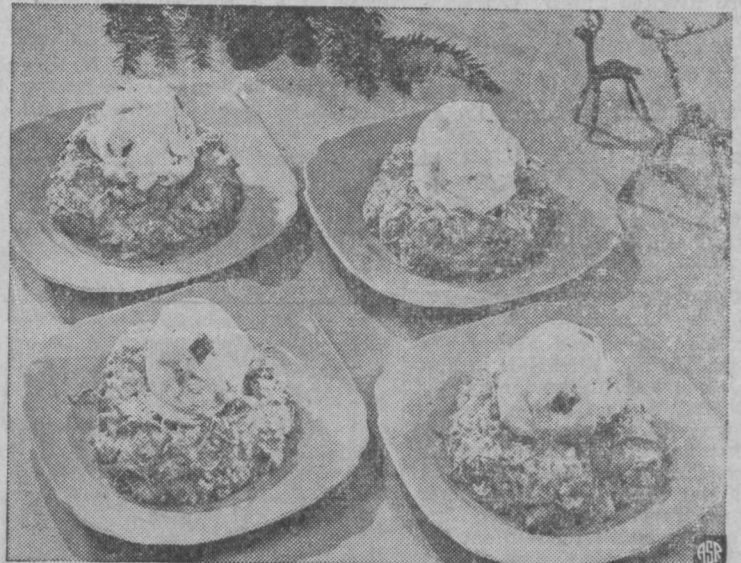

Mix egg yolk, milk, quick-cooking tapioca, salt, and 2 tablespoons sugar in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil (5 to 8 minutes). Pour a small amount of hot mixture gradually into meringue, blending well. Quickly stir in remaining tapioca mixture. Add vanilla. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes; stir. Serve warm or cold. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Arrange sliced cling peaches in sherbet glasses; cover with quick-cooking tapioca. Garnish with additional peach slices.

SURVIVAL IS NOT ENOUGH!

Quick And Versatile Holiday Dessert

During the coming holiday season when sweets are in the spotlight, these light and airy Macaroni Rings will serve a myriad of purposes.

Quickly made with egg whites, sugar, Corn Flakes, nutmeats and coconut, they are perfect to serve as a luncheon or dinner dessert, or as a refreshment when Christmas guests come calling. They may be filled with either fresh fruit, ice cream or other appropriate filling.

Corn Flakes Macaroni Rings

2 egg whites
1 cup brown or granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
2 cups Kellogg's Corn Flakes
1/2 cup chopped nutmeats
1 cup shredded coconut

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold in sugar, vanilla, Corn Flakes, nutmeats and coconut. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased baking sheet and shape into rings about 3 1/2 inches in outside diameter. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 15 minutes until lightly browned. Remove immediately from baking sheet. Serve with fresh fruit or ice cream in center of each ring.

Yield: 6 rings, 3 1/2 inches in diameter.
